ANOTHER ZEPPELIN MEETS ITS DOOM; HUNS CONTINUE DRIVE AT BRITISH

Thrust at British Line Succeeds in One Point, but Germans Immediately Driven Out—Intense Artillery Duel on All Sections of Allied Front in the West—Russians Defeat Turks in Two Days' Engagement.

BOOMBARDMENT NEAR DEAD MAN'S HILL ONLY EVENT OF IMPORTANCE IN REGION OF VERDUN—FRENCH REPULSE THRUST SOUTH OF ROYE, WHILE BERLIN CLAIMS FRENCH HAND GRENADE AT HILL 304 WAS UNSUCCESSFUL.

London, May 14.—The British official statement of the campaign in the western zone, issued tonight, reads:

"After a heavy bombardment last night against our trenches between the river Somme and Maricourt the enemy made three attacks, one of which succeeded in getting into our trenches, but was at once driven out. Some dead Germans were observed on our wire entanglements and one prisoner was taken. We lost one prisoner.

"On the rest of the front there have been artillery and trench mortar actions at various points, the heaviest firing taking place about Hebuterne, Souchez, Garenzy, the Hohenzollern cester and the area about St. Eloi.

"There has been mining activity on the part of the enemy near Mauquissait and northwest of Wythchaete."

Paris, May 14.—French positions near Dead Man's Hill on the Verdun front, were bombarded violently last night but there was no infantry attack. A German thrust south of Roye was repulsed, the war office statement of this afternoon says. The announcement follows:

"South of Roye, we repulsed an attack on one of our trenches in the wood of Loges.

"In the region of Verdun there was no event of importance during the night, with the exception of a violent bombardment in the vicinity of Dead Man's Hill.

"Elsewhere on the front the night passed quietly."

Berlin Report.

Berlin, via Sayville, May 13.—The repulse of a French attack with hand grenades on German positions in the vicinity of Hill 204, on the Verdun front is announced in the report of today from general headquarters.

Another Raider Gone.

London, May 14, 5.45 p. m.—The destruction of another Zeppelin is reported in an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen. It is reported that the Zeppelin was brought down off the west coast of Norway and that three British destroyers went in pursuit of it.

Germany on Offensive in East Africa.

London, May 13.—The German forces in German East Africa have been on the offensive against the British expeditionary force under Gen. Jan Christian Smuts there, but according to an official statement issued tonight the German attacks were beaten off, the attacking forces losing heavily.

"The official statement says:

"Telegraphing on May 12th, Lt. Gen. Smuts reports that the enemy, having effected a concentrated force under the personal command of Von Lettow-Vorbeck (commander of the German imperial troops in German East Africa), in the vicinity of Kilimatinde, made a considerable display of activity in the direction of Kondoa and Irangi since May 6th. An attack at the latter place, preceded by a heavy bombardment, was attempted during the night of May 9-10, and was driven off with severe losses.

"The enemy persisted in his offensive during the 10-11, and after sunset on the latter day made an effort against the British lines, which was repulsed. During the 12th there were no enemy attacks. Our losses were inconsiderable.

"A report received, but not yet confirmed, is that Belgian forces in Ruanda have proceeded to Kilindi, after encountering slight opposition.

CELEBRATED JEWISH WRITER DEAD IN NEW YORK.

New York, May 13.—Sholem Aleichem, the celebrated Jewish writer and humorist, died suddenly this morning in New York.

Sholem Aleichem (Shrabmanovides) was born in Russia and came to America a year-and-a-half ago, but his translated writings were known long before that to a large number of readers throughout the world, and he had acquired the reputation of being the Jewish Mark Twain.

NFLD WORRIED OVER DECISION OF THE PORTUGUESE GOV'T

St. Johns, Nfld., May 14.—Uneasiness was felt in fishing circles here today upon the receipt of information that the Portuguese government had intervened to fix maximum prices for food purchased in that country. The rates announced for fish are much less than the selling price of cod recently shipped to Portugal. Dealers claim that the stocks now held, and intended for shipment to Portugal in the near future will have to be sold at a heavy loss and that the effect of this situation reacting on the general fish-ery prices will tend to a reduction all around.

AN EXECUTIVE COUNCIL OF IRISHMEN MAY BE THE OUTCOME OF ASQUITH'S VISIT

Premier Feeling Pulse of Country to Ascertain System of rule which will Best Meet Wishes of People Under Present Conditions—May Propose to Incorporate the Nationalist and Unionist Volunteers into Auxiliary Troops of the Imperial Army—Will Also Visit Belfast.

Dublin, May 14.—General Maxwell, commanding the British forces in Ireland today issued a proclamation forbidding all parades and political or athletic meetings without written police authority.

A marked relaxation in the enforcement of martial law in Dublin has been observed since the arrival of Premier Asquith. An order issued today permits the people to be on the streets until midnight and as early as four o'clock in the morning, giving them many more hours of freedom at night. This concession is generally attributed to a suggestion from Mr. Asquith.

Mr. Asquith's chief occupation since his arrival has consisted in seeking a method for the adjustment of the Irish crisis, and in ascertaining whether it would be advisable to return to the former system of government or adopt a change of rule more in accordance with the wishes of the people. The premier has also given some attention to minor factors, these having to do with the disposal of the remaining rebel prisoners and compensation for the material damage done in Dublin.

Neither of these questions has yet been solved, but Mr. Asquith had an opportunity to see and question a number of rebels in the detention barracks and today again visited the ruins of the buildings destroyed in various sections of the city. The information he thus obtained is of great service to him when the subject is brought before the cabinet on his return to London, which is expected at an early date.

"Is Ireland's salvation to be the outcome of the recent blood letting? Is the question occupying the thoughts of most Irishmen today. Nationalist and Unionist circles alike have discussed tentative suggestions respecting the future government of the country, with hope, but without certainty, that a change for the better would be brought about. Mr. Asquith's presence here has lent color to the belief that the prime minister had some project in mind, and that his study of conditions on the spot would help him formulate a definite plan to place before parliament.

IRISH WAR EXECUTIVE.

London, May 14.—A Central News despatch from Dublin says that Premier Asquith desires to establish immediately an Irish war executive council, partly administrative and partly deliberative and responsible for Irish affairs for the duration of the war. The council supposedly will be representative of all parties, with the chief secretary for Ireland as its spokesman in parliament.

Will Go To Belfast.

Belfast, May 15.—It is announced that Premier Asquith will visit Belfast on Monday.

STR. GALGATE WAS TORPEDOED

Hun Pirates Made no Provision for Crew, Thirteen of Whom Have Likely Perished.

London, May 14.—The British ship Galgate, sunk on May 6th, was sent to the bottom by a torpedo from a German submarine, according to a British admiralty statement issued last night. The submarine did not provide for the safety of the crew, the statement declared, and 15 men who were in one of the Galgate's boats were landed in a life-raft. Another boat, with thirteen men, is still missing. According to the mate's deposition the ship's boats were sent to abandon ship. The submarine made no provision for the safety of the crew, which was compelled to embark in boats, and exposed to great risk from high seas.

Despatches on May 8th from Brest, France, reported the sinking of the Galgate by a submarine and the arrival of 12 members of the crew at the French port. The Galgate, a vessel of 2,631 tons, was last reported as having arrived at St. Michaels on April 24th.

FRENCH AIR SQUADRON RAIDS HUN POSITIONS

Railway Stations at Nantillois and Briuelles Bombed with Disastrous Results to Germans.

Paris, May 13 (10.45 p. m.)—The following official statement was issued by the war office tonight:

"In Champagne there was intense artillery activity on both sides at St. Hilaire Le Grand.

"On the left bank of the Meuse the bombardment diminished in intensity in the course of the day. We repulsed an attack against our positions to the west of Hill 304, on the slope northeast of Le Monthomme and a sudden attack by the enemy completely failed.

"On the right bank, and in the Woivre, the day was relatively calm.

"There is no event to report on the rest of the front, except the usual cannonading."

"Aviation—Last night our squadron, composed of ten aeroplanes, dropped forty-three shells on the railway stations at Nantillois and Briuelles, and on bivouacs in the region of Montfaucou and Romagne. The same night one of our aeroplanes dropped seven shells on the dirigibles hanger at Melz-Prescault."

Belgian communication: "The day was calm on the Belgian front. Some artillery action occurred in the region to the north of St. Fontaine."

Austrians Again Using Explosive Projectiles.

Rome, via London, May 13.—The official statement issued today by the British Admiralty they placed themselves in a pitiful position. Crushed and beaten and out-manoeuvred at every turn they betook themselves to abuse, the last resort of the defeated party tripartite.

But to begin at the end, D.D. McKenzie, Cape Breton, N., moved a resolution on Saturday calling upon the government to investigate the sale of rifle ammunition to the admiralty. He and the other Liberal orators did not put it that way. They said it was sold to Col. J. Wesley Allison who sold it to the Vickers Maxim Company and that concern sold it again to the admiralty. They charged a rake-off during the process.

They were so little acquainted with the trend of events that they did not know that an inquiry into this matter was on foot, in fact it had been going on all day and was actually in progress while they were asking for one. When the Premier announced that the very thing they were asking for was under way before they had even asked for it they looked very silly. Then they became angry and started to throw stones at Sir Charles Davidson and the war contracts counsel Mr. John Thompson, K. C.

In doing so they were unaware that the auditor general, who has been appearing very prominently in these inquiries and was a Liberal appointee, had expressed himself as perfectly satisfied with the work of the Davidson Commission.

However, it need hardly be said that the government did not sit silent and allow Mr. Carson and others to throw abuse and untruths unchallenged. As the Minister of Justice observed, the Davidson Commission has put two members of parliament out of public life, it has put a Regina man in the penitentiary and a fourth is under surveillance in the United States awaiting extradition. ## GRIT MUCK-RAKERS HAVE HAD BAD WEEK AT OTTAWA

The Evidence at the Meredith-Duff Commission Not to the Liking of Carvell and His Partizan Associates—Crushed, Beaten and Out-manoeuvred at Every Turn—The "Dirty Work" in New York.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, May 14.—The week which has just closed will be a memorable one in Canadian politics. It has seen the old Liberal party commit political suicide and it has seen the methods of the lower class of Liberal politicians exposed, as they have never been exposed before. The week opened disastrously for them. It became known that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had definitely stated to his followers that he would support the bi-lingual resolution and when he did so on the floor of the House it was found that the Liberal party was split in twain. This disaster was succeeded by failures on the part of F. B. Carvell and the other Liberal lawyers to make good their charges before the Meredith-Duff Commission and when the last explosion of the week on Saturday took place over the sale of small arms ammunition to the British Admiralty they placed themselves in a pitiful position. Crushed and beaten and out-manoeuvred at every turn they betook themselves to abuse, the last resort of the defeated party tripartite.

But to begin at the end, D.D. McKenzie, Cape Breton, N., moved a resolution on Saturday calling upon the government to investigate the sale of rifle ammunition to the admiralty. He and the other Liberal orators did not put it that way. They said it was sold to Col. J. Wesley Allison who sold it to the Vickers Maxim Company and that concern sold it again to the admiralty. They charged a rake-off during the process.

The Facts of the Case.

The truth about the condemned small arms ammunition as brought out at the inquiry on Saturday is that it was sold to the Admiralty through Vickers, the Admiralty agents, at cost price for testing purposes in order to save the good ammunition for service at the front. Allison is the New York representative of Vickers. No commission or any rake-off was paid. General Hughes did not forget to pay some attention to Mr. Carvell and on one occasion threw out the following: "I do not personate people in New York or hire dirty blackguards to steal papers."

The shot had reference to a visit paid to New York by Mr. Carvell and the allegation had reference to some papers which were being lost at the time of the inquiry. Three times the Premier had to tell Mr. Carvell that his statement regarding the matter of an order-in-council had "no foundation whatsoever."

Another of General Hughes' striking statements regarding Mr. Carvell was: "When the matter is all cleared up I will have no cause to blush for any of my actions, and if Mr. Carvell does not blush it will be because he has a rhinoceros hide on him."

He intimated that when he reached New York the first news he got was of a plant which had been put up and that he intended to expose it at the Meredith-Duff inquiry.

The facts brought out by the Meredith-Duff inquiry are that the commission paid Allison, and others was not by the shell committee or anyone connected with it but by T. B. Cadwallan, an American multi-millionaire, who got a contract for fuses. He did not pay out Canadian money or British money but he paid out his own money. The best testimony to his honesty is that he was not brought here by subpoena. He was asked by Mr. Hellmuth, the government counsel, if he would come and he said he would gladly. He had nothing to hide—and it should be remarked here that it has been Mr. Hellmuth, the government counsel, who has brought out all the facts so far. The Liberal counsel has not succeeded in making good a single charge laid by Mr. Kite. Two of the charges have been abandoned, peric acid and the Edwards valve. The others were against the International Arms and Fuse Company and the American Ammunition Company. The former has been a fiasco. Not a shadow of wrong

MONCTON VISITED BY ONE OF WORST CONFLAGRATIONS SINCE I. C. R. FIRE IN 1906

Large Warehouses with Valuable Contents Owned by F. W. Sumner Co. and Reed Co. Wiped Out by Fire Early Sunday Morning, Causing Loss Estimated in Vicinity of $125,000—Twelve Hours Before Fire was Completely Extinguished.

Moncton, May 14.—From the standpoint of property loss Moncton was this morning visited by the most disastrous fire since the million dollar conflagration that wiped out the greater portion of the I. C. R. shops in 1906, and apart from the I. C. R. fire this morning's fire caused the biggest property loss in the history of the city. As a result of the conflagration several large warehouses full of goods and owned by the two leading wholesale firms in the city were wiped out and the loss placed at $125,000 with insurances about seventy-five per cent. of the loss. The warehouses burned were owned by Sumner Co. wholesale and retail hardware merchants, and the Reed Co., wholesale grocers, and were situated on the river front along the wharf track. The buildings were located between Mechanic and Duke streets. The fire broke out about four o'clock this morning and as near as can be ascertained started in a very narrow alleyway between the Sumner Co. and Reed Co. buildings, and was well started in both warehouses when discovered.

Although the fire department made a quick response considering the hour it was apparent when they arrived that the wooden structures with all contents were doomed. By hard fighting the Reed Co. brick building containing offices and warehouse, immediately adjoining the burned wooden structure, was saved. The firemen worked for nearly twelve hours steadily before the fire in the burning embers was completely extinguished. The Sumner Co.'s wooden warehouses consisted of four or five buildings adjoining each other, the two largest of which were 140x44 and 50x28 feet in size. All the buildings were stocked full of all kinds of hardware. The buildings were valued at $12,000 with $6,000 insurance and the stock which, as stated is a total loss was valued at $85,000, covered by insurance to the extent of about seventy-five per cent. Sumner Co.'s loss over and above insurance will be considerable. The goods in stock today could not be replaced today for $30,000 more than the amount of the value at which they have been placed. The Reed Co. lost three wooden buildings, the largest being 75x30 and 100x25. The Reed Co. place their loss in buildings and stock at $22,000, with insurance of about ninety per cent. of loss.

The insurance losses are divided among a number of companies.

NEWCASTLE MAN HEAVY LOSER IN FIRE

J. D. Paulin's Warehouse Destroyed and Valuable Horse and Contents of Building Burned.

Newcastle, May 13.—Shortly after midnight this morning fire was discovered in J. D. Paulin's warehouse on Jane street. It was destroyed. A valuable horse and a quantity of hay, oats and seeds were burned. The total loss of Mr. Paulin was almost $50, on which he had no insurance. The building belonged to Mrs. Robt. Maclellan. It was insured.

A NEW C. P. R. FOLDER.

"Acadia" is the name of a new folder gotten out by the C. P. R.—the most delicate and alluring of the new summer series. The description of the apple blossoms in Acadia might well rank as literature. It is so aloof from all thought of advertising that one might expect to come across it in a poetic study of the immortal theme of "Longfellow." It is a prose-poem. "The apple blossom might well be the emblem of the land. There is nothing cloying about its perfume. Neither is there anything heady, portly, unwise to be advertised on. Evangelists could have worn apple blossoms above her peaceful heart. Carmen would have withered them, just as the best seller heroine of today would despise them, lacking a florist's name.

"Evangelists sprang from the soil of Acadia as naturally as peace steals into the heart of the nowadays visitor. To be sure, she never lived in mere concreteness of seventeenth century. But the fact that she is a logical, institutional and inspirational expression of Acadia accounts for the fact that among the descendants of those Acadians who really lived there is no one so beloved as this gentle cousin who presents the entire cable plant in idyllic form of the time—a plant representing a cost approximately $2,500,000 shut down, so to speak, for sweeping-out purposes, six hours a day.

Major O'Meara, in a paper on the new Squier method, read before the Royal Engineers' Society of London, states that "two transatlantic cables can now do the work of three, representing a saving in initial cost of a plant of over $2,500,000, to say nothing of savings in operation of the third cable.

REMARKABLE IMPROVEMENT IN CABLE SIGNALLING

Permits of Higher Voltage in Transmission, Making Range Greater and Two Cables Can do Work of Three.

Colonel George O. Squier, United States military attaché in London, made a really important improvement in cable signalling according to a writer in The Electrical Review and Western Electrician. The new system uses the Morse alphabet, but for the dots and dashes are substituted, respectively, single and triple strokes, each taking up only the same space as the ordinary dot. The record is read with ease by a novice, and there is a great saving of time. The current from which it is made does not fluctuate, but is continuous. Higher voltages can be used in transmission, making the range greater, and it is claimed that two Atlantic cables can now do the work of three.

In a paper presented before The Physical Society of London, Colonel Squier describes his novel method of attaching the cable problem along lines of electric power transmission. By substituting for the time-honored make-and-break battery-current transmitter a low-frequency single-phase sine-wave alternator, the single time element for the dot and dash, he achieves simplicity and economies which are truly astonishing.

The dot is a single stroke, the dash a triple stroke, but covering the same length of paper as the dot or space. The same with which this record is read is most striking. Here at once the Squier method does away with the need of specially trained, highly paid cable-readers. The veriest novice can translate such tape with accuracy at present unknown over long cables. Again, the abolition of the siphon-recorder permits the use of cheap paper tape, a trifling consideration until one realizes that the annual bill for siphon recording-tape of the Eastern Cable Company amounts to thousands of pounds sterling. This novel alphabet, moreover, permits relaying directly from cable to land wires, or vice versa, for it is "universal"—can be employed equally well and with like economies for both.

By use of the sine wave at the transmitter a relatively much larger percentage of transmitted power is received at the distant station. With the unbroken, pure sine wave, higher average potentials can be safely employed with a correspondingly increased energy delivered at the receiver. Practically would this advantage be applicable to the first 100 or 200 miles of a submarine cable were made of higher insulation than would be necessary for the deeper portions.

Undoubtedly the most important of all advantages achieved by the Squier method is the economy of time effected. As sample comparative records show, from 50 to 100 per cent more letters per minute can be transmitted than with the old method and old alphabet. With the make-and-break methods, the transmitting end of the cable must be connected to the earth after each signal, to clear out the excess charge which was thereby unavoidably put in. In other words, at present the entire cable plant is idle for 25 per cent of the time—a plant representing a cost approximately $2,500,000 shut down, so to speak, for sweeping-out purposes, six hours a day.

Wheatstones or other rapid-transmission methods are employed, we need in this field the same revolution in change. When telegraph engineers also will adopt the sine-wave base of an uninterrupted alternating current for signalling purposes, not only will it be relatively simple to cut out the induction from such currents, but they will find a simplicity of operation and economies of time quite impossible so long as interrupted direct currents are employed. Surely America, with its pressing telegraph needs, its long lines, and its present freedom from bureaucratic restrictions, is the logical place for the evolution of the fruitful ideas which Colonel Squier has given us.

GERMAN SIDELIGHTS.

A Professor of Moderation. A very interesting letter has been sent to Professor Lorentz of Haarlem, by Dr. Max Planck, Professor of Physics and permanent secretary to the Berlin Academy of Sciences. In this letter Professor Planck recalls the remarkable letter addressed to the civilized world in August, 1914, by 93 German scholars and artists and in which these representatives of German Kultur not only defended the conduct of their own government, but, in language of remarkable extravagance denounced the action of the Allies. Dr. Planck himself was one of the 93 signatories. Dr. Planck now admits that the form in which the letter was written led to regrettable misunderstandings of the real sentiments of the signatories. In his opinion, and it is an opinion shared, he says, by his colleagues Harnack, Norn, Waldeyer, Wilmowitz-Mollendorf, that letter of appeal was written and signed in the patriotic exuberance of the first weeks of the war.

It must not be taken for granted, says Herr Planck, that at the present time anything like a specific judgment can be formed with regard to the great questions of the historical present. The question as to who bears the main responsibility for the rupture of the pre-war negotiations, and for all the consequent human misery flowing from this rupture, is a question which will be decided later by an all-sided objective investigation. "But what I wish to impress on you," he writes to Dr. Lorentz, "is that notwithstanding the awful events around us I have come to the firm conviction that there are moral and intellectual regions which lie beyond this war of nations, and that honorable co-operation, the cultivation of international values, and personal respect for the citizens of an enemy State are perfectly compatible with glowing love and intense work for one's own country."

Commemorating the Dead.

In the German press much space is devoted to discussing the best form which the home monuments to dead soldiers will take. There seems to be a general aversion to the system followed after the war of 1870-71. Every town, important, or insignificant, secured its "Krieger Denkmal," or its statue of Wilhelm I, or Bismarck or Motke, hardly one of which has any pretence to artistic merit. But they were all big and bulky, with much stone and bronze, much gruesome ornamentation. They were stuck up in market squares or public gardens all over the empire, and in hardly a single case was there a vestige of inspiration or real feeling. A writer in the "Deutsche Tageszeitung" is sick of them all, and remarks that were they all taken down from their ridiculous pedestals, now that copper is so scarce and melted into guns and munitions they would serve a far better purpose than they serve now. With regard to the future, the most popular proposal for commemorating the dead is the formation of a "Hain," or grove, to be called the "Heldenhain," or Heroes' Grove.

what these new conditions Belgium, and Poland will call thousands of tons of mare-construction. Russia, or 110,000,000 people, 85% are following the process of sure, has been almost wholly deon Germany for her manufacproduct. Italy is struggling to dominantly the domination of ustrial life by German inter-these countries will offer German orders—and our own with such important markets other countries, Austria, Italy, and South Africa, will call for plus products in almost every merchandise we can produce.
OUR PRESENT POSITION
we stepped for one moment to ow much it will mean to us that ducts of Canada will be prefer-all these countries against the
of our great natural com-the United States, who has material of the war, made manufac-life or money, and whose people unblinking faces are watching material prosperity which may come.
WHAT WILL CANADA DO? is the moment to pause, to to plan, to organize. Are we of it? Will the Government and consummate a plan which ordinate and bring to bear the of the nation? Will the Doto meet this unprecedented nity? Will the manufacturers ada come together to meet the of the nation? Will the com-organized in the United States
ng in, spend millions of dollars organizing the allied markets and ing their trade? Will the trans-ompanies of Canada join to provide facilities and to carry ducts of the Dominion at favorable to friendly markets? Will riored banks of Canada establish a national bank in co-operation to provide special ways for the financing of important business from reliable sources?
are the practical measures must be taken now. In short, face the conditions which are unprecedented. We have a nationally a strategic position greatest importance. It must be lined national. Individual effort lost. Shall we, through lack of allow it to slip from our or will we, by united effort, combine our resources and meet these conditions?
Which may possibly for us
re-estimated, but which are all ally necessary?
Export Association of Canada
do a start. The United States
Montreal, London, Mexico
(Australia) and Auckland (Zealand), and has sent its representative to personally visit the markets of the Allied is. Through these offices it is to be re-estimated. Individual Canadian manufacturers. The of its work and the corresponding business from reliable sources specially increased with the supply all the leading Canadian manufacturers, and the co-operation of all important Canadian interests.
NO TIME TO LOSE.
population? Yes. There is good reason why Canada should belong to her shores, but let us provide machinery which will en-employment to our returning soldiers. The agricultural areas and ports of Canada must always be feared and constant attention; but not separate for one moment the unity of our farms from the well-of our cities. The growing towns, ties of Canada are after all the market of the Canadian farmer, he industrial opportunity which is without doubt the greatest lost urgent which has ever been to any young nation in the history of the world.
us be wise. Every day counts.
a common sense without a delay, lest we be too late, the situation of property."
Prime Minister of Canada will for Great Britain to con-the heads of the various por-of the Empire on this great quesof co-ordination and consistency taneously the work of organizashould begin at home. If immedi-minister makes the following is the leading representative of governments, the Legislative Assents, the transportation companies, banks, the farmers, and the manufacturers, I feel sure that we can depend on the integrity of our business men to formulate plans which will large the name of Canada in come, as her soldiers have written it,

Under the auspices of the Junior Branch of the Lancaster Red Cross Society a lady Daisy tea was held on Saturday afternoon at the residence of Miss Maria Cowan, 223 King St., West Side. In the drawing room were a number of tables for afternoon tea prettily decorated with daisies, the tea table, at which Mrs. J. V. Anglin presided, also had a centre piece of the same flowers. Upstairs a home-cooking table in charge of Miss B. Cameron and Miss Eileen Colson was well patronized as was also a candy table with dainty yellow and white boxes of home-made confectionery in charge of Miss A. Donovan and Miss E. Allan. Miss Daisy Ramsay was cashier and Miss Vivian Freeze presided over the fortune telling booth, where a SPY (Miss Hilda Shaw) told fortunes. ### Women's Canadian Club.

The Women's Canadian Club has just received intimation from Dr. Mary Crawford, an American lady who has been for several months nursing in French hospitals, that she will be able to accept the club's invitation to address them. She will be in New Brunswick for two other addresses in the week after next, but details have not yet been confirmed.

At the final meeting for the season on Thursday evening, the Women's Canadian Club, St. Andrews, held a flower guessing contest. The gentlemen's first prize, a set of military brushes, was won by Mr. E. A. Smith of this city. Mrs. Geo. W. Rabbutt, St. Andrews, won the ladies' first prize, a flowering plant.

The Young Women's Patriotic Association will be in charge of the contest at the Soldiers' Club for Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

How Royalty Spend Their Time

The Queen spent the early days of the week in visiting various centres of philanthropic endeavour, and on Friday afternoon she took Princess Mary, Prince Henry and Prince George to the Drury Lane matinee in aid of the Young Women's Christian Association fund for clubs, rest-rooms and canteens for women workers. The programme of the admirable nature usual on such occasions was keenly enjoyed by the members of the Royal Party and a notable audience.

Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria met Queen Amelia at luncheon at the Princess Royal's house on Wednesday, and took her with them to the children's work shown by the Royal Drawing Society at the Guildhall. Princess Louise Duchess of Argyll visited the exhibition later in the day. Princess Arthur of Connaught is to have an unusual guard of honor—members of the Women Signalers' Territorial Corps—when she opens the British Women Workers' Exhibition at Prince's Rink in May. It ought to be very effective.

Organizer of Moonlight Schools. Through the efforts of Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, moonlight schools are held on moonlight Autumn nights in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky. Mrs. Stewart, as superintendent of the schools in Rowan County, realized that illiteracy and feud and crimes go hand in hand, and she decided to hold school sessions in the fields of such sections as most needed it. Men and women from eighteen to eighty years filled the benches at the first session of the school. Some of these were receiving their first lesson in reading and writing. A little newspaper dealing with the interests of the county is edited by Mrs. Stewart and this paper is the text book by this unique school.

Storm windows which keep out winter cold in the north may be made to do double duty if they are taken of the residence early and used as sash for hotbed frames. The frames may be built at trifling expense, light lumber being used and the boards held together temporarily by stakes driven

A Versatile Young Woman. Miss Ellen Lane Spencer, although only twenty-three years old has been a telephone operator, stenographer, head of a department, correspondent, ad writer, traveling saleswoman, secretary, fiction editor for publishing house, newspaper reporter, free lance writer, model for advertising photos and an authoress.

Bids For Paderevski as Bridge Partner. A group of women recently gathered around a raised dais on which Mr. Ignace Paderevski stood at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel and bid for him as a partner in a bridge tournament given into the ground. The size, of course, should be that of the storm windows, which fit snugly over the tops of the frames, shielding the seedlings started beneath.

HATS.

The sport hat is quite distinctive this year. One rarely sees just a plain Panama with colored band. There are tropical-looking straws, but the weave is often very ornamental. There are varieties in shape, too, although the old Panama still holds on the matter of shape. The "cane-seat" weave is new and gives the semitropical brim. Hat bands are brilliant and pleasing, coming in a variety of color combinations that go well with the silk sweaters.

But hat bands, in themselves, are not new. The most manufacturers can do is to change the style of weave or color. Something that ignores the hat band and is therefore entirely new is the idea of embroidering the decoration directly on to the hat. Birds, ranging all the way from the poor, tired, overworked little blue bird to the noisy, screaming parrot, are worked flat with silks of various shades. One rarely sees an all-blue bird but the effect is blue; the stitches are in white and blue silk. The narrow commanders all colors to itself. Flowers are also embroidered in the same way but nothing else is used. Generally the embroidery extends onto both the crown and brim, on one side only, along this same line is the painted decoration. A lady appeared recently, with a dark brown hat of unusual weave and the sole trimming what appeared to be three or four golden yellow and light blue panicles "done to nature" and hung carelessly against crown and brim on one side. Three rows of green were painted round the crown and were supposed to be stems although panicles do not have either long or pliable stems. This was a sport hat, pure and simple and entirely out of place with a tailored suit. The mother's heart is the child's school-room.

—Henry Ward Beecher.

FASHION PARAGRAPHS.

Steel buttons for trimming are used on blouses. Lace and founcing of all kinds will be used on the summer frocks. There is little doubt about the presence of distended hips in the new fashions.

for the benefit of the Polish Fund of which Mr. Paderevski is head. The bidding opened at $100 and grew rapidly to a figure which is said to have reached or exceeded $1,000, when Mr. Paderevski was "knocked down" to Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, who outdistanced the others in her generosity.

Just what the sum was that Mr. Paderevski brought no one would tell, but it was a generous one, it is understood, quite approaching the amount of money he is sometimes paid for a concert, says the New York Herald.

At the tournament among others were Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Guinness, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Mrs. Foxhall Keene, Mrs. Jennie H. Kilder, Mr. Chesley Richardson and Prince Paul Troubetzkoy; Mrs. Paderevski, Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, the Hon. Mrs. Alfred Anson, Miss Elsie de Wolfe, Mr. Robert Tittle McKee, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Putnam, Mrs. Adolph Ladesburg, Mr. Edmund Curley, Mrs. Fletcher Ryer, Miss Doris Ryer and Mr. and Mrs. James Speyer.

Clean-up Week.

"Keep your property clear of broken glass."

"Keep your boulevard, your backlane and your backyard free from rubbish."

"Incite respect for property into the children of the city."

"Let the city council enforce its spitting-by-law."

"Let receptacles for debris be placed conveniently on street corners."

"Let city schools have a half-holiday in clean-up week that boys may gather up waste paper on vacant lots and report nuisances."

These are a few of the suggestions thrown out by the clean-up campaign committee of the Women's Civic League.

Each Miss Nelgor's Keeper. If receptacles covered and carefully kept, were placed on street corners the committee thinks a great deal of the waste paper nuisance would be abolished with very little effort.

The clean-up campaigners expect the citizens to be responsible for perfect cleanliness and sanitation on and around their property. That includes, not only the yard, back and front, but lane and boulevard as well, with a fatherly eye to any closely adjacent vacant property.

This article is taken from The Manitoba Free Press, but the advice is surely needed in St. John.

Splendid motto for the Blue Cross Society from an old-fashioned poet. One all-extending, all preserving soul Connects each being, greatest with least; Made beast in aid of man and man of beast All served, all serving; Nothing stands alone The chain holds on, and where it ends unknown.

TODAY'S LITTLE JOKE.

While Alec sat playing on the hearthrug with his toys, father and mother sat thoughtfully discussing the increased cost of living. The small boy took it all in, although they did not know. A week or so later his father called on him. "Look here, Alec!" he said, proudly. "Isn't this a lovely little sister that mother has given you?" Alec looked at the infant, but said nothing. "Don't you like her?" asked his father. "Oh, I s'pose she's all right!" said the small boy, unappetized. "But there were lots of things we wanted more."

EXTRACTS FROM THE MAIL BAG.

Wants Uncle Dick's Birthday Date. Fredericton Jct., N. B.

My Dear Uncle Dick:— Just a few lines to thank you for the lovely prize. I have read half of it already. I should have written before, but have been away for my Easter holidays, and have also been sick. I am now entering the next contest, and hope I shall be lucky again. I am expecting to come to St. John this summer and I shall take the pleasure of calling on you. Well I must close now, with best wishes to you and the Corner.

Interesting Letter.

Campbellton, N. B.

My Dear Uncle Dick:— As this is the first contest I have tried, I hope it will be all right. I have read the Standard and I like it. The ice has all gone out of the river. It went out earlier this year than last year, and the ferry is going to cross the river now every day. I am going across on it sometime. The grass is growing lovely, will close now.

Your niece, Geraldine.

Standard Best Paper, Says Myrna.

Sussex, N. B.

My dear Uncle Dick:— I was more than pleased to see my story published in The Standard. I will enclose my sentence contest which will be as follows: "The St. John Standard is the best paper, because it has the best editor, best reporter, best news, best politics and best of all is Uncle Dick, the best friend to the children." I did not try the contest last week, as I was very busy with my exams.

Your niece, Myrna Smith.

All children attending the Unique Theatre Saturday afternoon received a Charles Chaplin book mark.

The Lyric Theatre will be given up Wednesday night to a programme in charge of the 15th Battalion and for the funds of that unit. Two shows will be given and vaudeville as well as pictures.

A beautiful photograph has been received from the Fox Corporation showing a scene from the Million Dollar Amigo Kellerman Picture. The photograph shows a huge room in a palace, with a large statue of a man on either side. A swimmer is in the pool in front of the throne and in the foreground are fair maidens and palace attendants in graceful attitudes. Peacocks, baskets of fruit and flowers, give a contrast to the marble walls of the magnificent building.

Mr. L. Rosenfeld from Toronto, is the new manager of the Famous Players Theatre in St. John. Mr. Rosenfeld arrived in this city Thursday. Mr. L. Rosenfeld, who has been in charge will return to Toronto the latter part of this week.

Actors' Fund.

An interesting meeting of the Actors' Fund was held in New York recently. It was the thirty-fifth annual meeting. There have been $346,445 in the Actors' Fund; the receipts $85,550. In his address the second vice president, F. F. Mackay, commented on the treasurer's report, which for the first time in a long period showed a small balance, $55,650 having been taken in and $1,830.39 paid out. The burial account was $2,044. The expenditures went to help 8,346 applicants. The cost of administration amounted to twelve cents on each dollar disbursed, less it was stated than the case of any other charitable institution. Besides the applicants helped the thirty-eight members of the Home were taken care of from the disbursements. The total number cared for by the fund averages 200 a week.

Several members of the Mutual Corporation of Canada's staff of employees are doing patriotic service "somewhere in France," says Real Life.

These patriotic volunteers to the service are writing interesting letters home of their exploits and experiences in the great war. Real Life is conspicuously mentioned in some of them. It is with a considerable thrill of pride that it each week is "going to the front."

Among the first to volunteer was R. A. Delhaye, cashier of the Mutual Film Corporation office in Regina, and who for a number of years previously was employed at the Winnipeg office of this corporation.

Mr. Delhaye volunteered with the Royal Flying Corps, took a course of training at Reading, in England, and before going into service was commissioned a second lieutenant.

William Moffatt, former booker at the Winnipeg office of the Mutual Film Corporation, is seeing service with the Canadian Artillery Brigade in France, and has often been under fire.

They call him "Bill," both in Canada and in the trenches. His zood humor is irrepresible. When word of the Mutual-Chaplin contract reached him he got a letter through to Manager DeBothe, of the Winnipeg branch, declaring: "I would like to end this row and come home to book Chaplins."

The most recent Mutual addition to the Canadian contingent is Walter Wilson, censor man and shipper of the Winnipeg branch. Mr. Wilson's detachment will sail for England in a short time. Real Life will follow him to the front.

Sambo Believed in Signs.

While out on a "location" Director Lloyd of the Morocco film studios, engaged a colored boy to deliver an important message to the office of the plant. The necessity of speed and a prompt reply was impressed upon the chocolate-hued youngster, who sped away as fast as his feet would carry him. An hour later the messenger returned and rushing to the director in the middle of a scene exclaimed:

ALICE FAIRWEATHER.

"Heah's you dahn message, ah don't want no moh smallpox." Making a hasty retreat the boy left Director Lloyd staring at his unopened envelope. The cause for the non-delivery of the message was due to a prop "Smallpox" sign on a hospital set which had been built in front of the Morocco studio set.

The fire crew at the Rolfe-Metro studio has been awarded first prize by the New York fire inspectors. Daniel Hogan, head property man at the studio, is chief of the department.

Peggy Hyland, the British picture star, will make her first appearance on the Paramount program in the Famous Players' adaptation of Henry Arthur Jones' play, "Saints and Sinners."

In the two-reel comedy-drama, "Shoes," which Lois Weber is producing at Universal City, a number of scenes take place in a five and ten-cent store.

Miss Weber tried to have these scenes made in one of the five and ten-cent stores in Los Angeles, but found that the use of the store could not be had until night, and that it would take two or three nights to make the scenes required. As it was essential to complete the photoplay within a certain time, it was decided to set up the store on the main stage at the picture city, after Assistant Director Arthur Fox had succeeded in making arrangements to borrow $5,000 worth of stock from the Los Angeles store for use in the scenes.

Manager John Hazza, of the Empress Theatre, Edmonton, Alberta, recently brought to a successful conclusion a particularly successful piece of publicity work, which not only advertised the house among a large class of people, but made many friends as well. Some time ago Mr. Hazza offered a large silver cup, known as the "Empress Theatre Cup," for a competition among the various companies of military battalions stationed in Edmonton, for proficiency in miniature target practice.

Considerable rivalry was aroused, and "B" Company, of the 51st Regiment, was finally announced as the winner.

Baby Elephant Joins Baby Parade.

Upon the invitation of J. Harry Larson, chairman of the parade committee for Baby Week, "Ching Ching," the baby elephant at the Hippodrome and her mother Jennie will lead the Baby Parade up Fifth Avenue on May 11th, from Washington Square to Fifty-ninth street.

Miss Iva Shepard had to go without shoes and stockings—for an entire week while playing the part of Nettie Lea, the fisher maiden, in Gaumont's "The Tale of Love."

THE OPPOSITION CAMPAIGN.

The campaign now being waged by the opposition managers in this province is being conducted purely on misrepresentation and distortion of the facts. Some months ago the managers of the opposition made allegations against the administration of certain provincial departments. The Government appointed a commissioner to investigate the charges, but the men who had the scandal campaign in charge were unable to bring to his attention any semblance of wrongdoing on the part of any member of the Government or any official. The most they could show were a few irregularities principally in one of the northern counties of the province and for which no one save those directly involved was responsible, unless indeed it be one of their own number who unfortunately at that time enjoyed the confidence of the Government but who, since, and fortunately for the country has found his level in their ranks.

This is the gist of the whole opposition campaign and on the strength of it they seek to blind the people of the province to the actual condition of affairs and, if possible, to persuade them to exchange the wise and honest administration they are now enjoying for what they might expect from a government in which Mr. Edward S. Carter and Mr. Peter J. Veniot would undoubtedly occupy prominent positions.

These gentlemen and the newspapers supporting them seek to make the people believe that the present Government is doomed to destruction and that it will be succeeded by men of their own stripe who will give the province an honest administration of public affairs. Messrs. Carter and Veniot must indeed have a poor opinion of the intelligence of the people of New Brunswick if they imagine for a minute that the electors will be moved by such self-evident misrepresentation, or influenced by tactics which savor more of those of the thug and the assassin than of those recognized by reputable and honorable men in the conduct of public business.

If these gentlemen desire to call attention to abuses which have existed in connection with the Government of the province they might turn their attention to a consideration of what transpired when the old government, whose every act they endorse, were in power. It does not serve their purpose to do this, however, and it might be well to refresh their memories in this particular for they may be assured that the people have not forgotten.

For instance, do they suppose that the people forget the fact that in the year 1895, Hon. L. J. Tweedie, then Surveyor-General, "borrowed" a draft of $12,686, given to the Crown Land office by one of the lumber operators for stumpage due from him and applied the same to his own use, and that it was not until the present Government came into power and demanded the return of this $12,686 that Mr. Tweedie, then Lieutenant-Governor, disgorged it? Will the people overlook the fact that having deprived the province of the use of this money for thirteen years, Mr. Tweedie refused and still refuses to pay the interest on it, which with discounts and other charges amounts to over $8,000?

Do they think the people have forgotten that when Hon. Mr. Pugsley went out of office in this province he walked off with $4,331 of provincial moneys which he had never thought of returning until the defeat of his party suggested to him that discovery was imminent. Certain it is that his party would never have "embarrassed" him by asking him to return it. Do the people forget that while these two gentlemen were respectively Provincial Secretary and Attorney General of this province they were appointed ex-officio directors of the Central Railway for the express purpose of safeguarding the public interest in the expenditure of the money voted for the construction of the railway, and that during their directorate no less than $124,095 of these moneys disappeared, "was misappropriated" by the Royal Commission which investigated the matter said, "and diverted from its proper and legitimate channel." The people will compare this record with that of the present government which is building the Valley Railway and concerning which another Royal Commission reported after the fullest investigation that the money voted for the road was being properly spent and the opposition charges that portions of it had been diverted to the ground, and this finding after the doors of the enquiry had been thrown open to the widest extent to allow the opposition to do their worst.

Do they think further that the people have forgotten that a respected official preferred to take his life rather than face the ordeal of examination as to the juggling with the Crown Land finances and the exposure that would involve so many of his friends that he would be compelled to make?

Do they think that the people have forgotten that under the late government, officials of the various departments were allowed to keep provincial money in banking accounts in their own names and withdrawable on their own cheques and that no check on their action in this respect was possible? And, further, that these officials were allowed to overdraw their accounts and the province stand as their security? Have the people forgotten the numerous suspense accounts in which many thousands of dollars that had been received and spent were hidden away out of the public ken?

Have the people forgotten that the present Auditor General declared that there were hundreds of thousands of dollars of expenditures which never came under his examination and of which he could get no trace?

Have the people forgotten that thousands upon thousands of dollars were paid away year after year to road and bridge superintendents who never made any returns as to what they had done with it or what the province had to show for it or whether or not it had ever been used at all for any public purpose?

Have the people forgotten that those Crown Land licensees who were supposed to be made just what stumpage returns they thought fit, and to pay just whatever stumpage they felt inclined to pay, irrespective of their cut? Have the people forgotten that the first year the present Government came into power and a proper scale of the lumber cut by the operators was ordered, the result was the prompt payment by these operators of some $150,000 of previously unpaid stumpage, an amount they would never have paid or been called upon to pay had the old government remained in power.

Is it possible that the rump of an opposition which now exists can seriously imagine that the people would turn out the present administration in order that they might be superseded by the men who connived at, endorsed and applauded the very serious systems of wrongdoing referred to? Not all the efforts of a dozen of such so-called organizers as they now employ will convince the intelligent electors that New Brunswick would be safer in the hands of a party led by Messrs. Edward S. Carter and Peter J. Veniot than in the hands of the present administration. Experience dictates very much the reverse. That the opposition party—or what there is left of it—is still as reckless as ever over the expenditure of public money as it was in the days prior to 1908 is shown by their insistent demand that the Government should sanction the wholly unnecessary expenditure of more than $3,000,000 to say nothing of the annual outgo for interest, etc., of $155,000 which such expenditure would entail. In order to carry the Valley Railway into the City of St. John by the East Side route when it can be done with infinitely more expedition and without that expenditure by the West side route—a route moreover which is wholly justified by conditions and approved of by hard headed and astute business men everywhere. Utter recklessness and a criminal disregard for the value of money was one of the leading characteristics of the late government and dishonesty in dealing with it was another. In this instance it is not a case of "other men, other manners"; but it is the same men and the same manner. The same criminal extravagance and careless dealings with the public funds would result if the opposition party were to be allowed to get into power again and the people know and realize this full well, and will govern themselves accordingly.

Besides the people like to know something of the leaders of a party that seeks their suffrages, and they are looking around to find the leader of the opposition, but looking in vain. They have seen one gentleman accept the position and then throw it up in disgust and they have no fancy for the kind of "Progress" that the only other leader the party has expressed any predilection for.

THE KYTE CHARGES.

In the hope of arousing political prejudice Opposition newspapers continue to misrepresent or suppress the evidence being brought before the Meredith-Duff Commission in Ottawa, and to draw improper and unwarranted inferences from the biased reports they publish. For instance, at Wednesday's session, Mr. E. B. Cadwell, of the American Ammunition Company, was on the stand, and in the course of his evidence told of an agreement for the division of profits from shell and fuse contracts with R. F. Yoakum and E. W. Bessick, such division to be made after the profits had been earned.

Opposition newspapers misrepresent this agreement, and some of them go so far as to say that the gentlemen concerned in it were not shell manufacturers but promoters and middlemen who had no right to profit at all. In fact the Telegraph refers to them as "promoters," while the blundering Times says "the men who divided it were not fuse manufacturers" and again "they had no plant."

To expose the falsity of the contention of the Telegraph and Times it is only necessary to read the evidence submitted at the sessions of the Montreal and Ottawa newspapers, not as sent to the Maritime Provinces by the measure, and oft times partisan services supplied by the Canadian Press.

For instance, the Liberal Ottawa Free Press of Thursday last, in reporting that day's session of the Meredith-Duff commission has this report of Mr. Cadwell's evidence, which was carefully suppressed by the Telegraph and Times, and was not sent to the Standard by the press service:

"Long before the contract with the Shell Committee he was interested in munition production. The company was The Standard Screw Company which had the first munition contract let by the Allies, and which obtained these contracts from agents of the Allies other than the Canadian Shell Committee. BEFORE THE SHELL COMMITTEE ORDER HIS COMPANY WAS PRODUCING BOTH GRAZE AND TIME FUSES AND DELIVERING THEM."

This does not look very much as if Mr. Cadwell, one of the parties to the division, was not an experienced fuse manufacturer. On the contrary it establishes that his company had made and delivered fuses long before the Canadian order was obtained. The company had the plant and the experienced workmen and, consequently, was in a position to make delivery of the fuses ordered, even though there was some delay. After the fuses were finished, delivered, and sold at a lower price than the British agent was willing to pay the division of profits provided for in the agreement took place. Surely this was a legitimate proceeding.

The Standard adheres to its previous statement that the Kyte charges have not been proven. This statement is borne out by the sworn testimony submitted at the Meredith-Duff enquiry and represents the truth. No matter how ingeniously the Telegraph and Times may attempt to distort the evidence and draw from it unwarranted conclusions, the facts will stand, and upon them the people of Canada will base their judgment. The Borden Government, and the Conservative party need no other vindication.

OF MOTHER'S DAY IN
WATERLOO ST. CHURCH
 Memorial Tablet to Men of Congregation who Have Donned Khaki Unveiled with Appropriate Ceremony

Mother's Day was most impressively observed yesterday by the Waterloo street United Baptist church, by the unveiling of a beautiful tablet in honor of the young men in the church who are now at the front or under arms in Canada.
 "Mothers, nothing you suffer for your child is useless or forgotten," said Rev. T. H. Westworth in the course of his sermon "A Mother and Her Boy," before a large and influential audience, among which wives and mothers of those whose names appeared on the memorial tablet.
 "A sword shall pierce thine own soul."
 "The war," said the reverend gentleman, "stands for a large sword. The sword is to pierce the soul and not the body."
 "Everything that happened of a sorrowing nature to the Divine Son of Mary was like a sword piercing her soul."

"I suppose nobody in all the world suffers as a good mother in the suffering of her children. She suffers to give them birth and she suffers in all their pains and woes.
 "Not a mother or wife, two years ago, dreamed that her son would be a soldier, and though they bear up bravely, they know what it may mean, and they suffer."
 "We have read," followed the speaker, "that many German women say they will refuse to bear children if they are to be fed the hungry mouths of guns."
 "But our boys have not gone forth in that spirit. They were not born military men. They are men who have answered the high call to save the Empire in the hour of peril."
 "Mothers, nothing you suffer for your child is useless or forgotten—your pains are chains of gold in the boy's fondest hours, that bind you together eternally. And if you suffer because your boy suffers, remember that this mutual suffering means a blessing to the world."
 At the conclusion of the sermon Miss Florence Keirstead recited "My Mother" and two girls from the Girls' Guilds rendered a duet, all the members of the society joining in the chorus.
 Miss Arline Greene, whose brother is now at the front, then unveiled the memorial tablet, beautifully decorated in red, white and blue colors.
 At the unveiling the congregation arose and sang the National Anthem. Jacob Smith, clerk of the church, read the following names inscribed upon the tablet: Chas. H. Coggin, Harold J. Smith, Leon G. Greene, Harold Akerley, Ernest DeMille, Ernest W. Case, Cyrus Parlee and Spurgeon Alby. Deacon Thos. Robinson offered prayer, and Deacon Duval recited a poem composed by himself on the "Boys at the Front." Deacon J. Peterson paid an eloquent and feeling tribute to the great-hearted women of the Empire, who suffer in silence and bear the burden of sacrifice that bind the cause of the Allies may triumph in this great struggle.
 The Girl Guides then presented each mother and wife present whose son or husband's name was upon the honor roll, with a carnation, the symbol of parental love and fidelity.

THE MYSTERY OF
VON DER GOLTZ' DEATH

Amsterdam, May 10.—According to a Berlin official telegram, Field-Marshal von der Goltz died of spotted fever on April 19, at the headquarters of his Turkish army, after an illness lasting ten days.—Reuter.
 Another version comes from Rome, through the Wireless Press, according to which von der Goltz died before Kut-el-Amara, where, it is stated, "epidemics are making horrible ravages in the ranks of the Turkish troops."—Reuter.

Amsterdam, April 23.—The death of von der Goltz is the subject of extensive comment in Germany, where it is generally admitted that the Field-Marshal, though he was an admirable theorist, was unable in the present war to put into practice his strategic capabilities.
 "The 'Echo Belge,' which comments on the subject, wonders whether von der Goltz really died of typhus, as his death by a curious coincidence occurred immediately after the fall of Trebizond, for which he had formerly been responsible. The writer proceeds to say: "Remember the deaths under similar circumstances of Colonel von Leipzig, the German Military Attaché at Constantinople, and the Turkish High-Presumptive." It is considered probably that F.-M. Limand von Sanders will succeed von der Goltz.—Exchange.
 The Field-Marshal's Career.

Field-Marshal Baron von der Goltz was, for some years after the death of Moltke, regarded as Germany's greatest soldier. Though he had retired from active service in 1912, he rejoined the army when war broke out, and after the invasion of Belgium he was appointed "time governor of the conquered territory." Afterwards he returned to Turkey, where he had formerly reorganized the forces of the Sultan.
 The Baron was 73 years of age, and 65 of these had been spent in the German army. He came of an old Prussian family, tracing his ancestral line to a Goltz who was ennobled and made a marshal of France by Louis XIV. He entered the army in 1861, and owing to his brilliant services with the Prussian General Staff he was appointed to a post of command in the Second Army. He gained a good deal of reputation during the brief campaign, which was enhanced by his writings on military topics.
 Suspected of Socialism.

He published three volumes on the war, and one of his most important works was "Leon Gambetta and His Army." In this work, published in 1877, he advocated the reduction of the five-year period of military service to two years, a reform which was naturally supported by the advanced political parties. Being suspected of Socialistic tendencies von der Goltz was removed from the staff and transferred to a line regiment. Nevertheless, his book and his thesis obtained wide support, and the two years' service was ultimately adopted.
 Von der Goltz was a firm apostle of the theory that arms and war are the sole source of German greatness, and his best known work, "A Nation in Decay," is a brilliant essay in advocacy of compulsory military service. His long connection with the Turkish army began in 1883, when he went to Constantinople as an officer of engineers. In 1890 he returned to Germany, but he had no time to rest, for the Ottoman troops from a disorganized body of raw fighting men into an army. When he returned to Germany he left Turkey in possession of a complete military organization. The infantry and artillery had been re-armed, and there was a complete plan of campaign for every contingency expected that which actually happened 17 years later.

Explaining Away Defeat.
 When in 1900 the revolution placed power in the hands of the Young Turks, von der Goltz was invited to return and reorganize the new army. He declined then, but in the following year he revisited the country and came away with the impression that Turkish military destinies were in competent hands. The result of the Balkan War of 1912 must have been a bitter disappointment to him. The Turkish troops crumbled before Bulgaria, Serbia, Greece and Montenegro, and von der Goltz hastened to explain that the Turks were not prepared for a serious and general war on their European frontiers, and that the Sultan had never tolerated any field service training or manoeuvres. The army placed in the field against the Balkan States was but an army of recruits," he said.
 After von der Goltz retired from the Governorship of Belgium he was dispatched by the Kaiser to organize

GEN. TOWNSEND LOSES HIS CLAIM TO TITLE
 London, May 13.—Major General Charles Townsend, commander of the British forces which surrendered at Kut-el-Amara, as co-adjutant of the Marquis of Londonderry, who was heir presumptive to the Marquis' estate, today lost his claim to the title. A son and heir was born to the Marquis and Marchioness Townsend, who hitherto have had no children.

DEMAND FOR VESSELS.
 Such is the demand for vessels to load Britain that in the absence of the larger sized crafts that are now employed in the off shore trade, fishing schooners, and small ones at that, are being sent across at prices that will pay their owners better money than they can make had they been employed in the off shore trade. One of the latest vessels taken is the 99 ton fishing schooner N. W. White, built in 1878, which has been chartered to carry lumber from St. John, N. B., to the British Isles at the record figure of 300c, a standard. When it is considered that before the war 32s. 8d. a standard was the going figure and will be readily seen what a tremendous increase in freight rates the present scarcity of tonnage is causing.—Portland Argus.

London, May 13.—For the thirteenth time in the club's career and for the third year in succession, the famous Celtic Soccer Club gained the Scottish League championship, and in doing so hung up two new records in British football. During the season, the team put together the largest number of goals ever scored, totalling 116, which beat the previous best of 103 gained by Falkirk in 1907-8. The other record was secured by scoring 67 points, beating their former highest of 65. The club had a wonderful string of successes, for since their last defeat for the trophy on Nov. 15th, they picked up no fewer than 49 points out of a possible 52.

 Louisville, Ky., May 13.—With Star Hawk, A. K. Macomber's English bred colt, half a length back, and gaining at every stride, George Smith, a three-year-old Reache-Consuelo II, colt, running with the colors of John Stanford, of Amsterdam, N. Y., won the forty-second annual running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs today. With 117 pounds up, the black colt covered the mile and a quarter in 2:04. He was third choice in the betting, $2 winning parimutuel tickets paying slightly better than four to one.
 The fast striking Franklin J. S. Ward's son of Jim Gaffney, after having set the pace part of the day, lasted to within third money by a head from his stable mate, Dodge. The other five starters were strung out for an eighth of a mile.
 Star Hawk's performance was sensational. Apparently unacquainted with American post usage, the English colt was almost left, and trailed the field by many lengths, passing the grandstand the first time. He did not seem to strike his stride until half of the race had been run, when he came with a terrific rush, overtaking the field one by one, except the winner.

CLIPS 3.10 SECONDS OFF WORLD RECORD FOR THE HALF MILE
 Philadelphia, May 14.—Running his last race in a dual college event on the field yesterday Ted Meredith, Penna's champion, passing the world record in winning a half mile race in the track meet with Cornell. The Penna's won the meet in easy fashion by $3 14, 33 34 points.
 Meredith's time was 1 minute 62.5 seconds, lowering the world record of 1:52.2 made by him in the Olympic games at Stockholm in 1912, when he won the 800 metres championship and kept on running to the half mile mark for a world's record.

WOULD WAKE UP WITH SMOTHERING SPELLS.
 There is nothing that brings with it such a fear of impending death as to wake up in the night with that awful sense of smothering. The terrible smothering, choking up and sinking feeling is caused by the heart and nerves being in a deranged condition, and calls for prompt relief.
 Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the only remedy that can give prompt relief and effect a complete cure in all cases of such severity.
 They strengthen and invigorate the heart, tone up the nervous system, and the trouble which is the cause of so much fear and anxiety becomes a thing of the past.
 Wm. McMillan, Temperance Vale, N.B., writes: "I am not much of a believer in medicines, but I must say Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are all right. Some years ago I was troubled with smothering spells. In the night I would be sound asleep, but would wake up with my breath in my nose, and think I would never get it back again. I was taking a friend of my trouble, and he advised me to use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. He also gave me a box which I tried, and I had only taken a few of them when I could sleep all night without any trouble. I did not feel the box until some years later, when I felt my trouble coming back. I took the rest and they have cured me entirely."
 Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c per box, 9 boxes for $4.25, at all dealers or mailed direct by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

STEAMERS LEAVING.
 There has been a distinct clearing of steamers from the port this week. Most of the liners are free now, but the total for the month of May is still a good deal ahead of that of May of 1915.

 New Castle, Ind.—"From the time I was eleven years old until I was seventeen I suffered each month so I had to be in bed. I had headache, backache and such pains I would cramp double every month. ## MAIMAN U.N.B.'S BEST ATHLETE Soldier Graduate Wins Medal—Atwood Budge, St. John Shows up well in Track Meet.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, N. B., May 14.—C. E. Maiman of the class of 1916, and now a member of 58th Howitzer Battery, in training here for overseas service, won the medal offered by Sir Frederic Williams-Taylor, of Montreal, for the best all-around athlete at the University of New Brunswick in the annual varsity track and field sports at College Field on Saturday. Maiman was captain of the 1915 football team and star goal-tender of the hockey team and has married since enlisting a few weeks ago.

One of the features of the events was the form shown by Atwood Budge, son of Dr. H. S. Bridges of St. John, who cleaned up honors in sprints and would doubtless have established a new record had weather conditions been favorable. However, heavy wind retarded the runners, but Budge was within a fraction of a second of breaking two of the records. The summary is: 100 yds. dash—1st, A. Bridges; 2nd, Gilbert; 3rd, Wallace. Time 11 sec.; record 10.25 sec. Binney '13 and P. L. Kuhring '13.

Running high jump—1st G. Bridges, McGillivray, Somers, Maiman (tied for first place), height five feet. Record 5 ft. 6 in. Vince '98. Shot put—1st, Maiman; 2nd, A. Bridges; 3rd, Brewer. Distance thirty feet six inches. Record 37 ft. 9 1/2 in. by Baird in 1908.

440 yds. dash—1st, Wallace; 2nd, Maiman; 3rd, Gilbert. Time, 58.15 sec. Record 53 sec. Johnston '13. Standing broad jump—1st, A. Bridges; 2nd, G. Bridges; 3rd, Wallace. Distance 9 ft. 3/4 in. Record 10 ft. 4 in. McKenzie '02.

Pole vault—1st, Maiman; 2nd, Wallace; 3rd, McGillivray. Height 7 ft. 11 in. Record 10 ft. 2 1/2 in. P. L. Kuhring '13. Running broad jump—1st, A. Bridges; 2nd, Carney; 3rd, Somers. Distance 18 ft. 5 1/2 in. Record 21 ft. 8 1/2 in. Baird '08.

220 yds. dash—1st, Gilbert; 2nd, Wallace; 3rd, Maiman. Time 26 sec. Record 24 sec. Binney '13. Running hop, step and jump—1st, A. Bridges; 2nd, Maiman; 3rd, McGillivray. Distance 41 ft. 7 in. Record 45 ft. 9 1/2 in. Ryan '04.

1 mile run—1st, Maiman; 2nd, Bennett; 3rd, Kilburn. Time 5 min. 38 sec. Record 4 min. 54.5 sec. Melrose '14. High School broad jump—1st, Marr, P. N. S.; 2nd, Copp, P. N. S. Distance 15 ft. 9 1/2 in. Record 20 ft. 2 1/4 in. Carson, Robassy.

High School 220 yds. dash—1st, Copp, P. N. S.; 2nd, Murray, P. N. S. Time 28 sec. Record 24 1/2 sec. McDonald, Fredericton High School. The officials were as follows: Judges and timers—Dr. H. V. B. Bridges, George E. Howie, Starter—G. Fred Baird. Judges—Dr. Cameron and Prof. R. B. Miller. Clerk—Dr. Cameron.

Earning Power of Canadian Industries Has Attracted Widespread Attention
EXCEEDS HOPES OF MOST OPTIMISTS
Steel Trade Prosperity self a Good Basis for Upward Movement.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, Que., May 13.—The old earning power developed in Canadian industries, shares of which are widely scattered throughout the Dominion and in other parts of the United States, has attracted such widespread attention that the buying movement in stocks has developed along a new line. In fact, it is believed a few months ago that the most ardent optimists would have considered it a mere possibility that the steel trade could be developed even though the fundamental conditions were of a character to warrant it. Notwithstanding the big rise in share prices which has arrived and the result has been an advance in share prices consistent with the industrial records which have been made from month to month, more substantial basis could be expected for any upward movement of the prosperity of the steel trade in the present time. This is phenomenal according to careful observers, and in the near future to discontinue at the end of the war. It is not that the conditions brought about by the war have had a great deal to do with the demand for steel and products of all kinds, and have interested industries a start on the road at a time when a start badly needed, but it is claimed the conditions have been cumulative and rapidly so, to the extent that business is in sight for a long time to come at prices which insure a breaking and phenomenal profit all the Canadian companies and practically all classes and sections of the metal's industry. Speculation comes in waves of enthusiasm and each tide reaches its new level according to the spirit displayed by the traders. This week has witnessed one of the biggest waves experienced with the consequence that new records in prices have been numerous. In this connection steel group stands out conspicuously. Steel of Canada rallied to the vicinity of its current record. On Steel has been strong at 42; Ductive at 64; Car 70 1/2, while Smelt a new object of bullish enthusiasm rose to 47 1/2. New records in other directions were also frequent. Steel Power was a significant advance, touching 246; Quebec rail bonds improved to 70, while the common stock crossed 30. In the metal group Cootner touched a high at 49 1/2; Cement 67 1/2; Tea 85, while others generally displayed strength, trading being carried close to former high levels. Scotia rose to 120; Iron to 55 1/2.

Earning Power of Canadian Industries Has Attracted Widespread Attention EXCEEDS HOPES OF MOST OPTIMISTIC

Steel Trade Prosperity in itself a Good Basis for Any Upward Movement.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, Que., May 13.—The splendid earning power developed by important Canadian industries, and shares of which are widely scattered throughout the Dominion and to some extent in the United States and abroad, has attracted such widespread attention that the buying movement in stocks has developed along abnormal lines. In fact it is doubtful whether the most ardent optimist believed a few months ago that such an active market could be developed, even though the fundamental conditions were of a character to warrant it. Notwithstanding the big market has arrived and the result has been an advance in share prices consonant with the industrial records which are being made from month to month. No more substantial basis could be devised for any upward movement than the prosperity of the steel trade of the country. In the present instance this prosperity is phenomenal and, according to careful observers, is no less in the pan likely to dissolve at the end of the war. It is not denied that the conditions brought about by the war have had a great deal to do with the demand for steel and steel products of all kinds, and gave the interested industries a start on the road at a time when a starter was badly needed, but it is claimed that the conditions have been cumulative and rapidly so, to the extent that the business is in sight for a long time to come at prices which insure record-breaking and phenomenal profits for all the Canadian companies engaged in practically all classes and conditions of the metal's industry. Speculation comes in waves of enthusiasm and each tide reaches its new high level according to the spirit displayed by the traders. This week has witnessed one of the biggest waves experienced with the consequence that new records in prices have been numerous. In this connection the steel group stands out conspicuously. ## REVISION OF THE ANTE-WAR MINIMUM RESTRICTIONS

Changes Discussed at Annual Meeting of the Montreal Stock Exchange on Friday Likely to be Adopted.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, May 13.—At the annual meeting of the members of the Montreal Stock Exchange held yesterday afternoon, the chief topic under discussion was the revision of the minimum restrictions adopted just after the outbreak of the war. The changes proposed were submitted to the members and afterwards referred back to the committee, in whose hands the matter now rests, and as the old committee was all re-elected there is little doubt but that the changes recommended will all be put into effect. It is understood, however, that nothing further will be done regarding changes before Wednesday.

They are to be of a very large type and the value of the order is reported in excess of $1,000,000. ## CLOSING LETTER OF N. Y. MARKET BY E. & C. RANDOLPH

(McDOUGALL & COWANS.) New York, May 13.—The market continued to be led by the specialties, the automobile shares being the feature of the short session. There were advances in the munition stocks on the strength of the more favorable attitude being taken by congress to the question of preparedness. In the standard issues there was little doing and the trading gave no indication that would lead to a change of our opinion that liquidation is going on under cover of pool operations in certain of the specialties. There was no news outside of additional weekly earnings' statements for some of the railroads, showing continued increase in gross business. Attention of the financial community was diverted to a great demonstration of the preparedness parade. Sales $17,000. Bonds $1,735,000. E. & C. RANDOLPH.

NEWS LETTER FROM MONTREAL EXCHANGE

Montreal, May 13.—Considering the active advancing market we have had for the last few days, there was bound to be profit-taking, which the market stood very well. Steel of Canada was very well bought on their earnings. Cedar Rapids was the strongest on the list today. Buying of this stock was very good, and it is expected to advance along with Montreal Power when the merge of these companies is announced. The New York market went through the same process as we did today and closed strong and active. There still continues to be a big demand for the Dominion Loan.

And thus, in much haste, I escaped a flight of worn stone steps the churchyard, and so-by a way tombs and graves-came at last the great square church-tower, which I was incontinently thrust, there very securely locked up.

CHAPTER XLIV

The Bow Street Runners.
It was toward evening of the day that the door of my prison opened, and two men entered. First was a tall, cadaverous-looking individual of a melancholy cast of face, who, despite the season, was wrapped in a long frieze coat reaching almost to his heels, from the top of which projected a short or truncheon. He came forward, his hands in his pockets, and his chin on his breast, looking at me under the brim of a somewhat weather-beaten hat-that is to say, he looked at my feet and my hands and throat and my chin, but never seemed to get any higher.

His companion, on the contrary, tied forward, and, tapping me familiarly on the shoulder, looked me over with a bright, appraising eye.

"Help me, Jeremy!" said he, addressing his saturnine friend, "help if I ever see a pore misfortunate cove more to my mind an' fancy-nice tall an' straight-legged-twelve stone-if a pound-a five-foot drop now-say five foot six, an' 'e'll go off sweet as a bird; ah! you'll never see my cove-not a twinge; a leetle fish round the windpipe, p'raps, but, Lord, it's soon over. You're lovin' a bit pale round the gills, you cove, but, Lord! that's only nature." Here he produced from the depths of a capacious pocket something that glittered beneath his fingers. "And 'ow might be your eral 'ealth, young cove?" he went on, "hobblish, I 'ope-fair an' 'obblish!" As he spoke, with a sudden dexterous motion, he snatched something upon my wrist, so quick that, at the contact of the cold steel, I started, and as I did so, something flung faintly.

"There!" he exclaimed, clapping on the shoulder again, but at the same time casting a sharp glance at my shackled wrists-"there-now we've all 'appy an' comfortable! I see you're a cove as takes things nice quiet, an'-so long as you do-I'm your friend-Bob's my name, an' 'obblish, my natur'. Lord!-the way I've seen misfortunate coves take on at sight them 'bracelets' is something out-er-er!" But you-way, you're a dim-went kidney-you're my kind, you are-what do you say, Jeremy?"

"Don't like 'is eye!" growled the individual.

"Don't mind Jeremy," winked the other; "as just 'is per-worsement, Lord! 'e is the per-worsest coveger I ever see! Why, 'e finds fault wi' the Pope o' Rome, jest because 'e's in the habit o' lettin' coves kiss 'is toe-I 'eard Jeremy work 'isself up over the Pope an' a pint o' porter, till you 'ave thought --"

"Ain't we never a-goin' to start inquired Jeremy, staring out of the window, with his back to us.

"And where?" said I, "where might you be taking me?"

"Why, since you ax, my cove, we a-takin' you where you'll be took on, where you'll feel well, and a justice done on you-trust us for that. Though, to be sure, I'm sorry to tal you from such proper quarters as these 'ere-nice and airy-er, Jeremy?"

"Ah!-an' wi' a fine view o' the graves!" growled Jeremy, leading the way out.

In the street stood a chaise at four, surrounded by a pushing, jostling throng of men, women, and children who, catching sight of me between the Bow Street Runners, forgot to push and jostle, and stared at me with every eye and tooth they possessed, until I was hidden in the chaise.

"Right away!" growled Jeremy, shutting the door with a bang.

"Whoa!" roared a voice, and a greasy golden head was thrust in at the window, and a hand reached down and grasped mine.

"A pipe an' 'baccy, Peter-from me; a flask o' rum-Simon's best, from Simon; an' chicken-sang-widges, from my Prue." This as he passed in each article through the window. "An' were to say, Peter, as we are all w you-ever an' ever, an' I were like wise to tell 'ee as 'ow Prue 'll pray for 'ee often-er than before, an'-good!" he broke off, the tears running down his face, "there were a lot more but I've forgot it all, only, Peter, an' an' Simon be goin' to get a lawyer chap for 'ee, an'-oh, man, Peter, say the word, an' I'll have 'ee out o' this in a twinklin'-an' we'll run for it--"

But, even as I shook my head, the postboy's whip cracked, and the horse plunged forward.

"Good-by, George!" I cried, "good-by, dear fellow!" and the last I saw of him was as he stood rubbing his tears away with one fist and shaking the other after the chaise.

CHAPTER XLV

Which Concerns Itself, Among Other Matters, With the Boots of the Saturnine Jeremy.

"A Bottle o' rum!" said the man Bob and taking it up, very abstracted of eye, he removed the cork, sniffed at it, took a gulp, and handed it over to the companion, who also looked at, sniffed at, and tasted it. "And what d'ye make o' that, Jeremy?"

"Tasted better afore now!" growled Jeremy, and immediately took another gulp.

"Sang-widges, too!" pursued the man Bob, in a rummating tone. "an' I always was partial to chicken!" and, forthwith, opening the dainty parcel,

Wearing of Appropriate Blossoms was also General—Services in Honor of Mothers

Yesterday was celebrated as mothers' day all over the American continent. Special sermons were preached in many of the local churches dealing with the subject. The custom of flower wearing was also observed in a white flower being worn in memory of a deceased mother, and a red flower for a living one.

In this city one service in practically every church was devoted to the subject of mother, and the wearing of flowers in her honor was generally carried out. In the Central Baptist church the pastor, Rev. D. J. MacPherson had as his subject "Your Mother." He based his remarks on Romans 13-7: "Render therefore to all their due. Tribute to whom tribute is due."

Maxim Lining Satin

Maxim Satin is a lining satin marking a new era, so much so that it is in a fair way to revolutionize the lining business. The construction of the cloth is the idealization of the most ambitious efforts striving for perfection.

The combining of the finest and most precious raw material has produced the Maxim Satin, typifying excellence, elegance, endurance—excellence in construction, elegance in appearance, endurance in wear.

Maxim Satin combines the excellence and the elegance of the pure dye-silk, as well as the endurance of a silk and cotton mixture. Maxim Satin is superior to both, as it combines the advantage claimed by cloth, since it looks like an all-silk, pure dye lining, and is superior in wear to a silk and cotton lining.

We offer Maxim Satin in Ivory, old rose, Emerald, royal blue, purple, Copenhagen, light grey, dark grey, navy, golden brown, seal brown, dark reeds, wistaria, black.
