Why It Came

Scene: "Slater Shoe Store," prior to 1899.

Customer: "Can't you give me a pair of Rubbers to fit my shoes? It seems impossible to get a Rubber that won't pinch or be loose on my foot. You know, I have a peculiar shaped foot, and have to wear one of the 'Slater' special shapes. Now, why don't you people make special rubbers to fit these shapes?"

"Slater Shoe" agents had so many customers who wanted rubbers to fit "Slater Shoes" that the "Slater Shoe" makers decided to meet their wishes, and,

Last year "The Slater Shoe Rubber" made its appearance. It fits all shapes of "Slater" and other shoes.

A FATAL FIGHT.

Kid O'Brien Meets Death in the Prize Ring Through Concussion of the Brain.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 7. — Michael Goldman, known in sporting circles as "Kid" O'Brien, died at St. Mary's hospital at 3.45 this morning, of concussion of the brain, caused by striking the back of his head on the padded floor, the result of a knockout blow delivered by Bernard Carroll at the Light Guard armory last night. The unfortunate affair occurred in the seventh round, after one minute and thirty-five seconds of fighting. Police Lieutenant Horbirtz had Carroll take him to the police headquarters, and took the names of the seconds and promoters of the fight.

THE LATEST FIGURES.

Government Majority May Reach 40--
The Returns for Kent.

HOW THEY STAND.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—The city papers are all varied. The Mail gives: Ontario—Cons. 53, Lib. 35; Quebec 7, 57; N.B. 5, 9; P.E. 1, 1, 4; N.S. 6, 14; N.W.T. 1, 3; B.C. 2, 1; Man. 3, 2. Total: Conservatives 78, Liberals 125. Independents in Ontario 2; in British Columbia 1; in Manitoba 2. Elections to be heard 4; and Algoma to be heard from.

The Globe claims 54 majority over all, or 58 over the Conservatives alone. The Mail concedes 47 majority and the World 29.

Although no full returns for Kent could be secured last night, as soon as the city figures were announced it was generally conceded that Stephens was elected. However, the early returns from outside were not so favorable to the Reform candidate and it was not until about eight o'clock that his triumph was considered beyond doubt. Then the local Liberals began to enthrone and King street was soon the scene of a wild, seething mob. On the buildings opposite the Hotel Garner a white canvas had been spread, on which the election returns were shown. Here the people most did congregate and here the cheering, yelling crowd made the greatest noise. The usual villainous tin horns and trumpets made the night miserable for everyone. Besides the tin horns and cow-bells many of the youthful population appeared in red coats and Turkish attire. The young Liberals, however, of the city were the noisiest celebrators. They secured a corner on all the cannon fire crackers. The crowd was smaller than on the night of the C. W. A. meet, but the din was five times worse. The crowd simply went wild.

About nine o'clock a torch light procession was organized and the youth of the city of every color and every political persuasion, joined in and enjoyed carrying the torches. The City Band spent a good part of the night parading the streets. They serenaded Ald. Stephens.

All the Liberal leaders in the city were jubilant, but they said that the result was only what they had expected.

ALD. STEPHENS THANK.

As soon as it was definitely known that Ald. Stephens was elected, he appeared on the balcony of the Garner House to thank his supporters. He announced the defeat of the Conservative leaders and declared the country was assured of five years more of Liberal rule. Mr. Stephens' remarks were greeted with cheers.

WHEATLEY THEY SAY.

"I have nothing to say as to the manner in which the present campaign was conducted," said President Scullard, of the Conservative Association. "As nearly as I know it was a fair contest, the result of which no doubt is owing to the vote through registration. A large number of the voters had no political issue at stake, and were in the particular case to which way their vote was cast."

Said Ald. Sulman:—"The Conservatives of Kent endeavored to conduct a clean campaign, but the city was flooded with a barrel of money, and as money makes the mare go, hence the result. In every division where the voters and property holders lived in the city our candidate increased the normal Conservative majority, and the losses were made in divisions where there was a floating vote. That tells the tale.

Mayor Smith in an interview said he was neither disheartened nor surprised at the result. He attributed Ald. Stephens' victory to the free use of money by the Liberals.

Good material and poor workmanship don't make reliable shoes. Neither do poor material and good workmen.

Good material, good workmen, and honesty of purpose is the trinity of perfect shoe value. It is the rule of three, that cannot be broken, if absolute satisfaction is wanted.

Our shoes come from the best Canadian and American makers. If you are not buying your shoes here you are not getting the best for your money.

OUT IN BOTHWELL

The Total Figures are not Available but Clancy is all Right.

There was a report in circulation this morning that Bothwell was still in doubt, but there seems to be no reason for doubting Mr. Clancy's return. The isolated returns which are coming in, nearly all seem to favor returns coming in nearly all seem to favor him by a good majority. Chatham Township, particularly, did well, as the following figures show:

At Louisville Clancy got 48 majority. At McKerrall's Clancy received 15 majority.

On the 11th concession Clancy led by 11.

At Tupperville Clancy's majority was 42.

At McCarron's Gordon was 28 behind Clancy.

At Hurley's Clancy also had 28 to the good.

At Keith's Gordon lead by three.

At Eberts Gordon's majority was 31.

No. returns have been received from No. 6.

These figures give Clancy a majority in Chatham township of 136, exclusive of No. 6.

PRISON-MADE BINDER TWINE IN THE U. S.

N. Y. Post: Minnesota's binder twine plant, established in the State Penitentiary, is as much of a success as the like institution in Kansas. By this means the problem of convict labor has been solved in these two States to the satisfaction of about everyone concerned, including the labor unions. Members of the latter are gratified, as well as satisfied, as penitentiary-made twine is a direct slap at a trust. The farmers, too, are happy, as they get their binding twine at from three to five cents less per pound than is charged for the product of the State. The only complaint in each State is that the penitentiary plants are not large enough to supply the demand. In Minnesota the output has grown to 9,000,000 pounds a year, which is something more than half of the amount consumed in the State. This output was produced at a net profit to the State in 1897 and 1898 of more than $130,000, after crediting the prison labor at fifty cents a day, and making due allowance for the depreciation of machinery.

RUSSIA REACHING OUT TOWARDS PERSIA.

A letter from St. Petersburg to a London daily says that a new railroad soon to be opened will give an immense impetus to the development of trade between Russia and Persia. The first part of a system of railways uniting the two countries was opened last year. This was the railway connecting Tiflis, Alexandropol and Kars. As soon as traffic began on this line an official order was given for its continuation through Erivan and Nakhichevan to Djoula, on the Persian frontier. This line as far as Erivan is now complete, and it is hoped that the entire section will be ready by 1902. As the Trans-Caspian railway is already joined to the Imperial system, in two years' time Moscow, St. Petersburg, and, indeed, the whole of Russia will be in uninterrupted railway communication with Persia. On this line the journey from Moscow to the Persian frontier will be accomplished in five days, and that from St. Petersburg in six days. Merchandise will, of course, move more slowly—taking about ten or twelve days—but even this will be much more rapid than the transit as now carried on across the Caspian Sea. Another proposed railway—the Trans-Caspian—is of equal importance, commercially and strategically. It will be a direct continuation of the Petrovsk-Baku line, which was opened last year, and will provide the shortest route to Persia. It will run along the shore of the Caspian Sea, and near Akkatis will cross the steppes of Mungden to Astara, thus joining the Russian and Persian frontiers. Already there are projects to continue the roads across Persia to Turkey, with ultimate extensions to Batum and Trebizond.

NEWFOUNDLAND ELECTION.

The practice of conceding public land and money to speculators is one to which the British communities on this continent have yielded with surprising readiness. In Newfoundland at all events there seems to be a record. The general elections will take place to-day, and the issue is whether a scheme of R. G. Reid, a millionaire contractor, to float his concessions on the London market will be permitted without forcing him to return to the colony a part. By what is known as the "Reid deal," effected in 1898, the colonial railway and all the public franchises for mails, telegraphs, traffic and steam communication were granted to Reid together with four million acres of the best public lands. For this Reid paid a million and a half and has since expended a million and a half in improvements. He now proposes to incorporate a company in Newfoundland, to convey his concessions and privileges to the company and to float the whole in England for $25,000,000. The Bondholders or political opponents of Reid will not grant incorporation unless the colony is enabled to regain a part of these prodigious gifts. The fight has been a determined one. To drag on public opinion Reid at one stage suspended all his development work, discharged hundreds of employees, sold his lands and steamers to corporations made up of himself and his sons and nearly created a financial panic by shutting his purse. His next move was to create a political party, at the head of which he put his solicitor named Morris, and he has put forward as his candidates his own shipmasters, surveyors, printer, tailor, and others having intimate business relations with him. His success will make him dictator in the colony and enable him, his opponents allege, to amend and perfect his schemes. Although Canadians have long deplored the political power of these selfish concessionaires, they have not had to contend with an open and flagrant attack on the political liberty of the people such as this seems to be. Still, the open and and avowed enemy is perhaps less dangerous. If marvellous were any longer, a word for proper use in speaking of the discoveries and performances of surgeons and others of the medical profession, it might be said that nothing more marvellous had been given to the world by them than the practice and results of spinal anesthesia, which just now is receiving profound attention from the profession of two continents. Last year word came over the water that in Germany and in France practitioners had dared to penetrate the sacred precincts of the spinal canal, and had by injecting cocaine there been able to produce complete insensibility to pain in all parts of the body below the point of entrance of the injection.

N. VER WITHOUT BEER.

Nineteen Centuries B. C. the Making of Beer Was Taught.

When the Romans first invaded Germany they found that they beverage of the people was a liquor produced from barley. But that was at a time comparatively modern. From the earliest times and in every clime man has had to resort to some stimulating and exhilarating beverages prepared by fermenting the juices, or extracts from fruits, grains or plants. It is said that Odalis as early as 1900 B. C. taught the process of extracting the juices from barley and fermenting it, while the Greeks learned how to brew and ferment from the Egyptians, who, 300 B. C., had established a number of manufactories at Pelusium on the Nile. Xenophon, 400 B. C., refers to a fermented drink from barley, and it is alluded to by Aristotle, Strabo and others, under the name of zythos. Pliny mentions a kind of beer called "cerasura," and Ennenmes in A. D. 296, says that Britain produced such an abundance of corn that it was sufficient to supply not only bread, but a liquid comparable with wine. In the seventh century beer had become so general a beverage in England, that Ina, king of Wessex, levied tax to be paid in ale, and early in the fifteenth century a brewer's company was formed in London. Up to the sixteenth century English beer was very poor, only flavored with broom, bay berries, or ivy berries, but in 1542 the cultivation of the hop plant was begun in England, and from that time a great change was made in the quality of the beer manufactured. In 1610 the first brewery was established at Burton-on-Trent, and by the end of the seventeenth century beer had become the national drink.

Among its many peculiarities South Africa includes the "sneezewood" tree, which takes its name from the fact that one cannot cut it with a saw without sneezing, as the fine dust has exactly the effect of snuff. Even in planing the wood it will sometimes cause sneezing. No insect worm or bark-eater will touch it. It is very bitter to the taste, and its specific gravity is heavier than water. The color is light brown, the grain very close and hard. It is a nice-looking wood, and takes a good polish. For dock work, pier or jetty it is a useful timber, lasting a long while under water. There died in extreme want in Fulham Infirmary, recently, George Dolby, once private secretary to Charles Dickens. When Dickens traveled about the country giving readings, Dolby went with him as manager. He Boswellized the novelist, and the tour, too, in a very readable volume. But poor Dolby in some points resembled Harold Skimpole. He was imprudent, careless of money, indolent, fond of building castles in the air. In his old age, despite generous friends, he sank steadily in the social scale.

Frozen Meat From Australia.

The exports of frozen meat from Australia, including frozen rabbits, game and fish, amounted in 1899 in value to more than $16,000,000. The great bulk of the exports went to the United Kingdom. This industry is assuming large proportions in Australia. In New Zealand there are packing houses, where 300 heads of cattle and 1,500 sheep are slaughtered and prepared for export every day.

The Devil's Brewery.

Not long ago, at Church Parade, in Hyde Park, a very pretty woman dropped an ivory and gold pocket watch before it could be picked up by a passer-by had trodden upon it. With an exclamation of regret he bent down and discovered a gentle stream of excellent brandy flowing from between its decorative covers. He looked up. The lady had vanished. These little volumes are now, asserts the Onlooker, usually called books of uncommon prayer.

A Cycle Funeral.

At Bari, in Calabria, the other day, young Ubaldo Sibillo came a fatal header from his bicycle, and his sorrowing associates, says the Corriere di Napoli, determined that there should be a cycle funeral, worthy of the best which obtain in Southern Italy. To the number of several hundred, all awoke, they cycled poor Ubaldo to the grave, and behind the coffin, like a fallen warrior's charger, they trundled the dead man's bike.

The White Man's Big Sleep.

Western aborigines call Sunday "the white man's big sleep." A local Anglican Bishop is the authority for this, and if the blacks inverted the figure it is the nearest thing to a proverbial thought that, asserts the Sydney Mail, has been cited in their favor yet.

From Manila to Melbourne. From Manila, to Australia is like going down a river, for one is out of sight of land for only two days. The voyage lasts 21 days, but the route is through the South Sea Islands, which accounts for its resemblance to river navigation.

The Oldest Paper Dies.

The oldest newspaper in the world died unlamented on August 10 last, after an uninterrupted career extending over a period of something like 300 years.

IN GOOD HEALTH.

Arrival of Ex-President Kruger at Tiberius—His Eyes Still Affected.

London, Nov. 7.—A despatch from Jibutit, in French Africa, says the Dutch warship Gelderland, with ex-President Kruger aboard, arrived there to-day. The former chief magistrate of the Transvaal is in excellent health, though his eyes are still affected.

When the cruiser arrived Mr. Kruger was on deck, smoking. When told that the Boers were still fighting, he said: "May they fight unceasingly." The Gelderland will remain at Jibutit three days.

WHAT POWER BEHIND HIM?

General Belief That Kruger Did not Act on His Own Initiative.

Paris, Nov. 7.—The French Consul at Pretoria has informed M. Delcasse, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, that Generals Botha, Delarey, and De Wet and President Steyn referred the question of ex-President Kruger's trip to Europe to the burghers, who consented thereto.

A strong belief is growing in Paris that President Kruger did not act

BREVITIES

PERSONALITIES.

One of Admiral Sampson's biographers says that when a boy he never played or sought amusement.

Mr. Gallinger, of New Hampshire, is the only regular physician in the United States senate. Mr. Kyle, of South Dakota, is the only preacher.

The most constant companion of General Nelson A. Miles is his Gordon setter Rex. The general is very fond of him and the dog is most intelligent. Henry Labouchere is described as careless and untidy in dress and a smoker of poor cigarettes. He is fond of home life, and devoted to his wife and daughter.

Governor Sadler, of Nevada, wears an 18 1/2 collar and gloves and boots to correspond. These, as well as his hats, are made to his special order by Chicago concerns.

Senator Platt, of New York, reads all the newspapers on which he can lay hands and has several shelves of scrapbooks filled with clippings dealing with his own career.

Mr. Talbert, of South Carolina, votes louder than any other member of congress. He has a voice like a callop, and the clerk of the house has never been compelled to call his name twice.

Governor Sayers, of Texas, is fond of deep sea fishing. He is a frequent visitor at Rockport, on the gulf coast of Texas, and a famous resort for fishermen. The governor holds the record for big tarpon.

Senator Jones, of Nevada, is a strong believer in a diet which he himself devised. His breakfast never varies. It is always eaten at 8 o'clock, and invariably consists only of one cup of black coffee and a large piece of cinnamon bun.

Governor Rollins, of New Hampshire, has a warm place in the hearts of church-going people of his state. He is an Episcopalian himself, but tolerant of all creeds and denominations and gives much of his time and thought to religious work.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has the religious characteristics of the family, and, as are his sisters, is a Sunday school teacher in the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, New York. He has a class of 93, and in the three years he has been a teacher has missed not more than three or four Sundays.

The next generation will see the Gould fortune pretty well cut up, there being so many heirs. The richest of these will be Kingston, George Gould's eldest child. His father bequeathed at $20,000,000. Kingston, though a mere child, speaks German and French, and has picked up a surprising knowledge of yachting.

WEDDING SUPERSTITIONS.

The bride who finds a spider on her wedding dress may consider herself blessed.

The bride who dreams of fairies the night before her marriage will be thrice blessed.

If the bridegroom carries a miniature horseshoe in his pocket he will always have good luck.

Ship marriages are considered anything but lucky. Get married on land, or don't get married at all.

No bride or groom should be given a telegram while on the way to church. It is positively a sign of evil.

If the wedding ring be dropped during the ceremony the bride may as well wish herself unborn, for she will always have ill luck.

Kiss a bride after the ceremony, and before the newly made husband has a chance to do so, and you will have excellent luck throughout the year.

Maidens eager to wed should give dishwater heated to the boiling point a wide berth. It means that they will not marry for a long time if they attempt to cleanse dishes in water so hot.

Should a bride perchance see a coffin while being driven to the railway station prior to departing upon her honeymoon, she should order the driver to turn back and start over again, or else she will surely meet with bad luck.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Next to Gibraltar, Malta is the strongest fortress in the world.

A cald in Morocco who does not furnish the sultan's officer the expected amount of tribute is promptly sent to prison and his place disposed of by auction to the highest bidder.

All the soap in Paraguay is made from cocoa oil. Cows eat the pulp from the nuts, leaving the hull inclosing the kernel clean and smooth. A cow will clean 40 or 50 nuts per night.

Mansour, the horse that ran third in the Grand Prix of Paris in 1894 and came in only a length and a half behind Matchbox, which sold for $75,000, is now pulling a public cab in the streets of the gay capital.

The telegraph poles along the Savannah and Stateboro railway in Georgia are growing. They are made of typhus and must have been planted with the roots. They are sprouting at the top and serve a double purpose. They are shade trees as well as a support for the wires.

THE ELECTIONS MAY YET HAVE GOOD RESULTS.

The returns from the Dominion show a peculiar state of public feeling. We practically find that Quebec and the east is ranged against Ontario and the west. This is very unfortunate, and is no doubt largely due to the race cry raised by Laurier and Tarte.

It is to be regretted that the people of Quebec can have their hatred stirred up by such infernal methods. Ontario does not like Tarte, but Tarte is not all French Canada. There is no race feeling here. A candidate in Ontario who appealed for support on anti-French-Canadian grounds, would receive mighty poor encouragement.

As for the result in the Maritime Provinces it is quite apparent due to the fact that the people down there have been bribed with their own money. Then, again, there is no possible doubt but that the present government is the creature of the railroad corporations. Yet in New Brunswick Blair raised the cry that the C. P. R. was opposing him because he had been cutting into it. The cry was absurd, but it answered its purpose.

Taken all in all the general election is barren of result as far as shattering the strength of the Laurier administration is concerned. But it will have some good effect. The ministerial candidates have passed through an uncomfortable ordeal in meeting the charges levelled against the government. They have in most cases promised, all kinds of reform if only given another chance. It is altogether likely, therefore, that some pressure will be brought to bear on the administration to curb the Tarteite extravagance which is so rapidly running up the country's debt and taxation. And if the protests of these men, men like John Charlton, should be successful, the general election of 1900 will not have been fought by the Conservative party in vain.

THE KENT CONTEST.

The returns from the county, which are yet incomplete, indicate that Mr. Stephens, the Liberal candidate in Kent, will have a majority of over 200. This is not a large majority and can wholly be accounted for by the change in Dover and the registration vote in Chatham. It will be noticed in the city returns that the Conservative candidate ran behind wherever the Ross Government's liquor machine had a pull. Where the substantial vote of the citizens was cast it went largely in Mayor Smith's favor.

However, Mr. Stephens is elected, and although The Planet regrets it on principle, personally it has nothing but congratulations to offer that gentleman on his success. He showed himself throughout the campaign a vigorous worker and good canvasser, and his majority is no doubt largely due to his own individual efforts.

While we think that the electors of Kent have made a mistake, that is for them to say, and all good citizens will bow to the will of the majority. That Mr. Stephens will make a courteous and obliging representative and will place himself in his representative capacity at all times at the service of his constituents, irrespective of party, we feel assured. Barring the support he will give the Laurier Government the general feeling is that Mr. Stephens will make a good member.

SHOT HIS WIFE.

Portland Man Was so Quarrelsome His Wife Quit Him.

Portland, Me., Nov. 7.—Chas. Davis, aged about 30 years, shot and killed his wife at their home here at noon today and then attempted to take his own life. He has a bullet wound in head, but may recover. Davis is a foster. His wife was about 25 years old.

The story of the affair, as gathered by the police, shows that, owing to the quarrelsome disposition of Davis, his wife had refused to live with him and the couple almost immediately became engaged in an altercation. The shooting occurred without any warning.

HAD TO SWEAR HIS VOTE IN.

The Conservatives in Windsor are trying to show the Magistrate Bartlett acted illegally in voting after the Conservative scoundrel had challenged his vote. The ballot cast by him was laid aside to be adjudicated upon by the judge in case of a recount. The majority is so big that a recount will never be asked for, but the Conservatives may keep the matter alive to stir up the magistrates of large cities from Dominion elections, and among these is that of magistrates of cities of over 30,000 population. Magistrate Bartlett insists that the law prevents the magistrates of large cities from voting, but not of cities under 30,000. The Conservatives maintain that he is wrong as to the law, while the Liberals say that the Conservatives made a mistake in printing their instructions in a manner which would disfranchise the magistrates. The challenging was done by Arthur Kirby, whose two brothers, Will and Edwin, were themselves challenged by the Conservatives prior to that.

A Halifax despatch to the Globe states that "Sir Herbert Tupper will probably squeeze in in Picton."

AT THE THEATRE.

The plan for "The Fadettes" ladies orchestra at the Grand on Saturday will open Friday morning at 10 o'clock. It will be open to the general public Saturday morning. Seats will not be reserved for the special matinee at 2 p. m.

Stetson's big "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Co. reached town this morning and put on a very creditable parade at noon. The company is the largest that has ever played this piece here and has received the best of notices in Hamilton, London, St. Catharines and other points where it has played during the past fortnight.

The Mendelssohn Male Quartette who delighted last night's audience at the Grand will open the public library board's concert course in Wallaceburg to-night. They then go to Toronto.

A notable event in the early bookings at the Grand is Miss Margaret Wilkes in Charles Coghlan's great comedy, "The Girl from Calcutta."

Subscribers to the Lyceum course of entertainments who have not yet received their tickets for all the evening tickets may get them at the Central Drug Store.

IN NORTH ESSEX.

The Liberals Sweep the Constituency by a Large Majority.

The election was a landslide in North Essex yesterday R. F. Sutherland, the Liberal candidate, led all the way. He carried the city of Windsor by 288 majority and in the other municipalities this large lead was added to. Sandwich town gave a majority of 118 for Sutherland, a figure which was never reached by a candidate in any former campaign. There are a number of places in the county which were not heard of last night, but it is estimated that Sutherland's total majority will be over 600. Rochester gave Sutherland a majority of 121, according to the latest returns.

There is No Monopoly

Of the brains, capital, machinery and material essential to the production of a good carpet. That there are many makers who excel in some particular weave is not denied, but that there are differences of opinion as to which excels must also be admitted. In the minds of many of Canada's largest and best carpet buyers the names of Henderson, Hughes and Templeton are held above all others as producers of perfect carpetings and the greatest value for your money. We have found that the intelligence of the purchasing public demands more than a firm's label attached to convince them of the superiority of any goods.

The magic key of money which unlocks any door in the world's markets of merchandise is as powerful in our hands as in the possession of others, so we buy where and what we believe to be the best. If you wish comparison, in this store, side by side you can see not only Crossley's or Hughs', but the productions of many of the world's best manufacturers. When choosing a Carpet you may have the benefit of our knowledge, experimental and practical, in determining by manufacturers test the quality of each. Add to this the fact that we are selling our entire Carpet stock at a reduction of from 15 to 50 per cent on regular cash prices, and you will readily realize why our carpet men are crowded with orders for English Wiltons at $1.20 per yd., English Tapestry Velvets, Crossley's and others equally as good at $1.00 per yd. THE FADETTES OF BOSTON.

Caroline B. Nichols' Orchestra Warmly Received Last Evening.

The Hamilton Herald of yesterday says:—Notwithstanding the great excitement on the streets, to say nothing of the threatening condition of the weather, the Faddettes Orchestra, of Boston, which appeared in Association Hall last evening in connection with the Metropolitan Course, was greeted by an audience which almost completely taxed the seating capacity of the auditorium. It was 9.30, however, before Mrs. Caroline B. Nichols raised her baton to conduct her clever organization of women players through the opening number, and consequently it was long past the hour of 11 before the delightful program was concluded. The orchestra is composed of a score of young women, who were arrayed in robes as varied in color as the most magnificent rainbow that ever adorned a midsummer sky, and they played in a manner which, to say the least, was indicative of careful training and diligent rehearsal.

Weber's splendid overture to Der Fieschütz was admirably rendered, and in response to a vigorous encore the orchestra struck a "vibrant chord in the hearts of the audience by playing Soldiers of the Queen. Responding to another encore to The Dance of The Hours, a catchy two-step was played. The two-lettered number for strings only was one of the most charming features of the program.

Miss Bertha Webb, the violin soloist, displayed remarkable dexterity in Wieniawski's allegro movement from Second Concerto, and the tone revealed, though small, was pure and sweet. On being recalled she played that favorite selection among violin soloists, Annie Laurie.

Miss Charlotte Lynn, who accompanied the orchestra as a vocal soloist, has a prepossessing appearance and a voice of good quality and wide range. If the remaining six concerts in the course approach the standard of excellence of last evening's entertainment the subscribers will have reason to compliment themselves on their investment.

A BOER DELILAH.

The Fascinating Woman Who Was Kruger's Spy.

And had no Trouble in Worming Valuable Information Out of British Officers.

One of the most fascinating stories of the war that have as yet found their way into print was told in the Daily News by that journal's brilliant war correspondent, Mr. A. G. Hales.

It is the story of a woman whose remarkable personality, and still more remarkable cunning enabled her to play the part of Kruger's spy to perfection, and to entrap British officers into parting with precious military secrets, the knowledge of which by the Boers was the direct cause of some of our greatest disasters.

Here is Mr. Hales' description of this South African witch:—

"She was a woman of about 30 years of age. Madame was of German or Swedish nationality, married to a Boer civil engineer. She was not a beauty, but her face was full of charm, her eyes had the gift of eloquence, and she could say more without opening her mouth than most women can impart who possess a tireless tongue. She could be gay or sad, pathetic, pleading, or imperious at will.

Her hands were shapely, soft, and white, and had the trick of clinging caressingly to masculine fingers when the humor suited the dame, and men who knew her well and who later came under her spell, have told me that there was a magnetism in her touch which drew men to her as moonlight draws the sea—something dainty, like the scent of the wattle flower at the dawn in the nostrils of the bushman.

"Her waist would fit the crook of a man's arm, her bust was fashioned on a model designed by the gods. When she reclined upon a settee she looked like a tigress basking in the sun, so full of lissom grace and vitality did she seem, and when she walked, her body undulated like the ripples on a running river."

HER WAY OF WORKING.

Her first mission was among the Boer women in the Free State and Natal.

"When she left Johannesburg on her frequent trips she was not wasting her time, as folks fancied. From town to town, from farm to farm, she went with restless activity, organizing a system of spies in the Boer women."

It was Madame who arranged that when our troops arrived anywhere in Natal or the Free State the wives of the farmers and the best-looking daughters should visit our lines with fresh eggs, fresh butter, and other little luxuries. She instructed them to take note of the number of men in each camp, the number of guns, and the quantity and condition of our horses. Each was advised to send all information so gleaned promptly to the nearest commando, and a right well they obeyed her when the time came for action."

Presently she presented herself at Cape Town in a sweet, secluded villa, and looked very pathetic in her long dress. Among others who fell under the spell of her fascination was a certain British officer, of the bluest blood—a man with a pretty face, soft blue eyes and a brain to match. Mr. Hales describes him as a potpourri in war, and a simpleton in all else. He was the witch's shadow.

"He thought he was fooling the green-grass widow, but she 'knew' she was squeezing him dry. All that she gathered from him went rapidly, either by trusty messenger or by code prearranged, to Delagoa Bay. From there it soon found its way into the hands of the Boer leaders, who laughed heartily around their mess-tables at the dog's in the 'little nest' at Cape Town."

"At first the noble one had Madame to himself, but as his information petted out she snared others, and he had many rivals, and from each she gathered something of use to her and her Boer friends. Like a skillful angler, she played them all, varying her play to suit her fish."

From one she gleaned how many men were with a certain general; from another she learnt how many guns he had; from another she found out how many mounted infantry men were with him; from another she got a good inkling of his intentions, and the route he intended to pursue, not asking too much from anyone, for fear of arousing suspicion, but gleaming a little from each."

"And all the time our generals at the front, battling for a nation's honor and a nation's trust, wondered how the Boer commanders always forestalled them in every important move."

SHE FEARED KITCHENER.

But Delilah met her match in Kitchener.

"She ran her eyes over the tall, gaunt figure, the rugged, ugly face. She looked into the prominent, all-seeing eyes, and knew at a glance that she was face to face with a magnetism stronger than her own, and nothing would induce her to go near him again."

"That is the most dangerous man in Britain," she said. "I feel as if I were within the shadow of death when I am near him. He is a man for men to conquer. No woman can reach him to use him; he would read me like an open book in an hour, and I believe he would shoot me as he would shoot a Kaffir if he caught me red-handed. I will try all other men, but not that living death's head. No wonder he conquered in Egypt. I think he would conquer in Hades."

By-and-by this extraordinary creature began to feel she was suspected. So she went up-country for a change of air.

"Wherever she went she was welcomed by our officers, and it was a noticeable fact that disaster to our arms followed her friendship. A time at last arrived when she found it absolutely necessary to co-operate with the Boer leaders. She had our whole military system at her fingers' ends, the gist of things she had sent to her friends, and full details could only be conveyed by word of mouth. So she determined to make the effort. Dying here as black as the inside of a camel's nose, she was transfigured as a Kaffir woman, and it was then that the glorious figure stood her in good

A BICYCLE COMBINE.

The Two Big Corporations in Canada Propose to Amalgamate.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—Negotiations have been proceeding for some time toward the amalgamation of the two large bicycle corporations which were incorporated a year ago—the Canada Cycle and Motor Company (limited) and the National Cycle and Automobile Company (limited). J. N. Shearstone, general manager of the former, when seen to-day, said that the negotiations were still pending, and it would be impossible to predict the outcome. If the matter is carried through the new corporation will practically control the bicycle business in Canada. It is understood that the existing factories would be maintained from the outset, and increased in size if the outlook warranted. The Canada Cycle and Motor Company is incorporated at $2,500,000, and the National at $2,000,000.

NEVER TOO LATE

To Try a Good Thing.

"I am fifty-two years old, and for forty years of this life I have been a chronic catarrh sufferer, says Mr. James Gieshing, of Allegheny City, with every change of weather my head and throat would be stuffed up with catarrhal mucus."

I could not breathe naturally through the nostrils for months together and much of the time I suffered from catarrh of the stomach. Finally my hearing began to fail and I realized something must be done."

I tried inhalers and sprays and salves which gave me temporary relief, and my physician advised me to spray or douche with Peroxide of Hydrogen. But the catarrh would speedily return in a few days and I became thoroughly discouraged."

I had always been prejudiced against patent medicines, but as everything else had failed, I felt justified in at least making a trial."

Our good old family physician, Dr. Ramsdell, laughed at me a little, but said that if I was determined to try patent medicines, he would advise me to begin with Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, because he knew what they contained and had heard of several remarkable cures resulting from their use, and furthermore that they were perfectly safe, containing no cocaine or opiates."

The next day I bought a fifty-cent box at a drug store, carried it in my pocket, and four or five times a day I would take a tablet, in less than a week I felt a marked improvement which continued until at this time I am entirely free from any trace of catarrh."

My head is clear, my throat free from irritation, my hearing is as good as it ever was and I feel that I cannot say enough in praise of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets."

The tablets contain extract of Eucalyptus bark, Gualiac, blood root and other valuable anti-septic combined in pleasant tablet form, in less than a week I feel a marked improvement which continued until at this time I am entirely free from any trace of catarrh."

A PAPAL ENCYCLICAL.

The Pope Exhorts the World to Seek the Redeemer.

Rome, Nov. 7.—The Pope has addressed to the bishops an encyclical, dated Nov. 1, on the Redeemer. The Pontiff says he rejoices at the assemblage of Catholics from all parts of the world in Rome during holy year, which, he adds, demonstrates the people are marching towards Christ. He exhorts the world to seek the Redeemer, which, the Pontiff points out, is the road to truth and life, adding: "As Christ's coming to the world reformed society, so the latter, in turning to Christ, will become better and be saved by following His doctrine and divine law, by discountenancing revolt against the constituted powers and avoiding conflicts." If the people acted so, the encyclical continues, they would all love one another as brothers and obey peacefully their superiors. Neglect of God, the Pontiff further asserts, has led to so many disorders that the people are oppressed with incessant fears and anguish. He concludes with urging the bishops to make known to the entire world that the Redeemer and Saviour of mankind alone can bring salvation and peace.

Men's Fashionable Overcoats

The overcoat, a good heavy one at that is no mere adjunct to dress anywhere in Canada.

Might as well have one that will keep you on good terms with yourself—one of our new fashionable beavers, cheviots, naps or curls, straight from our own factory, with a reputation and our guarantee behind it, and the last after thought in style and long service ahead of it.

OUR FINEST LINES

Men's Fly Front Overcoats, made from extra fine quality of black and blue beaver, raised seams, farmer's satin linings, silk velvet collars, extra well made, and up-to-date in every particular, size 34 to 44.....$10.00
Men's Single Breasted Fly Front Coat Overcoats, in the new shade of gray, a rich stylish coat, fine farmer's satin linings, silk serge facings, equal to custom made $18 or $20, our price.....$12.00

We know that, with the man who seeks style and fit, price is not the first consideration but he don't feel bad to get both at a factory price, and he knows that poor goods are never in style no matter the style or fit.

STEYN STILL SCRAPPY

The Ex-President is Managing to Mislead the Burgers on Kruger's Visit.

London, Nov. 7.—Lord Roberts cables the War Office that ex-President Steyn, of the Orange Free State, is making speeches to the burgers and doing his utmost to encourage them. He is misleading them by stating that Gen. De Wet has seized the bridge over the Orange river at Norval's point, that 5,000 Dutchmen have been sent back to Cape Colony to renew the fighting there, and that ex-President Kruger, of the Transvaal, has gone to Europe to secure intervention, failing which the Transvaal will be sold to the highest bidder.

Indigestion, that menace to human happiness, piles in its assaults, and no respect of persons, has met its conqueror in South America. Nervine. This great stomach and nerve remedy stimulates digestion, tones the nerves, aids circulation, drives out impurities, dispels constipation, brings back the glow of perfect health. Cures hundreds of "chronics," that have baffled physicians.—Sole Sold by J. W. McLaren, Chatham.
