MYSTERY AT THE CAPITAL

Anna Morrison the Victim of a Foul Murder—One Blow was Sufficient.

Had Death Been Caused by a Fall the Skull Would in all Likelihood Have Been Fractured.

Ottawa, July 20.—The more the river mystery is probed the more evident it appears that Anna Della Morrison was the victim of a murder most foul. Her relatives confidently assert that her life was blameless and she was of a cheerful disposition. It now remains to follow up the clues and discover how the girl came to her terrible death. Dr. Mayhew and Coroner Bapiste, who made the post-mortem, are positive Miss Morrison was dead before her body reached the water. There is hardly a chance in a thousand that she could have gone to the cliff and thrown herself over and got into the river and thus drowned herself. All the facts point to her having been brutally murdered and her body dragged to the cliff and thrown into the river. The doctors say the blow on the head with a blunt instrument was sufficient to cause death. Had death been caused by falling over the cliff the skull would in all probability have been fractured. There are many circumstances all confirming the theory and none pointing to any other solution. The detectives are hard at work on the various clues this morning. What appeared to be large clots of blood were found on the rocks at the foot of the cliff, where Miss Morrison was thrown or threw herself into the river. These have been analyzed, and are pronounced to be human. The doctors have added to the information respecting the post-mortem on Miss Morrison's body, previously given out, that the stomach was empty. As she was known to have taken her usual supper the night of her disappearance, a considerable time must have elapsed between the supper hour and her death.

BAND CONCERT EXCURSION.

Over 400 people from Chatham and about 200 from Ridgeway attended the band concert at the East last evening. The music by the band was the best yet furnished. One of the half-way officials, jokingly remarked afterwards that the 24th Regimental band is becoming far too popular. They certainly deserve a great deal of credit for the playing last evening. A number of pieces including "The Grotto," and "The Battle of the Waves," were played for the first time. These pieces are played by over 2,000 bands in the United States, and it speaks well for the 24th band to be able to play them at sight so perfectly. The train was an hour late in returning home.

UNINTENTIONAL

The Ignorance of a Lad Causes Court Charge of Cruelty to Animals.

William Martin, Chatham Township, appeared before Judge Houston yesterday in the County Court charged with cruelty to animals.

William Hackney, Taylor Ave., put his horse out to pasture on Mr. Martin's farm on Tuesday. Wednesday he went out and found the shoulders of the horse badly used. The horse was a driver and unaccustomed to a collar. Mr. Hackney was very angry that his horse had been even worked, but more angry when he saw the way it had been abused. He at once laid a charge of cruelty to animals against Martin. The latter proved that the horse had been worked by a lad named Rice while the defendant was away from home. The case against Martin was dismissed. A charge of cruelty to animals would have been laid against the lad Rice, only it was proven that the boy had no intention of wrong-doing, and Dr. Hackney said that the animal was not seriously injured and would soon recover. Mr. Martin made monetary amends for the damage done the horse.

ROSEBERRY'S LAST APPEAL

If Liberals Cannot Undertake a Stern Task Another Party Will be Formed.

But he has not yet lost hope of seeing the Liberal Party Purged of its Anti-National Element.

London, July 20.—Speaking at the City Liberal Club, Lord Rosebery remarked that his recent manifesto, in which he said the Liberal party could not exist under the present conditions, had been followed by such an extraordinary hullabaloo that he felt convinced he had expressed in this manifesto the clear and exact truth in respect to the situation, and that not one of his allegations had been disproved or challenged. The speaker said he wrote the manifesto because, after the meetings in Queen's Hall and at the Reform Club, unless some clear repudiation of the statement regarding the war was made, it was impossible for the Liberal party to continue to exist as a sound force, appealing to the highest sympathies of the country. On the question of the war, his Lordship said his starting point was that, in spite of the Jameson raid; and in spite of the South African Committee, the Boers had invaded the dominions of the late Queen, and from that moment, although he had criticised the methods of the Government, yet on the main issue, to carry the war to a triumph.

HEWED LANE ALL THROUGH

British Guns Belched Case Shot at the Boers—Fate of the Train Wreckers.

Thought Armored Train had Been Disabled and Rushed Within Ten Yards of 3 g Guns.

Cape Town, July 20.—According to details which have been received here of the Boer attack on the blockhouses at Brugspruit on June 20, it appears that the enemy consisted of 200 men of Viljoen's commando, who were attempting to cross the railway northwards. They attacked with great determination, and one blockhouse fell, but the other resisted until the arrival of an armored train, which was partly derailed by the explosion of a mine laid by the Boers. The enemy, thinking the train was wrecked, made a rush for it, but when they were within ten yards, its guns fired case shot, making a lane through the Boers, who fled terror-stricken. They lost heavily in killed and wounded, and abandoned part of their transport.

PRETORIUS WOUNDED.

Edenburg, July 20.—Some days ago a squadron of Rimington's Guides attacked Pretorius' commando, which was about 200 strong, and held an exceedingly difficult position near Kotsepoort. Fighting, which was carried on among the bushes and rocks at close quarters, lasted ant close they would have his warm support. The failings of the Government should be the opportunity for the Opposition. If the Liberals could not undertake the task, another party would be created for the purpose. Lord Rosebery said, however, that he did not despair of seeing the Liberal party purged of all its anti-national elements, that the country was ripe for a domestic program, and that he believed the revolutionized Liberals would yet breathe life into the dry bones of public office.

As to the statement that he would not voluntarily return to the political arena, Lord Rosebery explained that that had been his attitude since his resignation. His Lordship concluded by saying that at present he must proceed alone and plough his furrow alone; but that before he got to the end of his furrow, it was possible he might find himself not alone. Lord Rosebery said the vote of confidence in Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, passed at the Reform Club meeting, was in the "sanitized hypocrisy," and that his reason for disturbing the Olympian repose created by a vote of confidence was that the position was as perilous to the party as to the present Government, and there was no impartial observer to remember any Government which had crowded such a frightful assemblage of error, weakness and wholesale blunders into its administration.

CRICKET TOUR

The Local Gents are Making Preparations for an Extended Trip—Will Play Many Matches.

The splendid successes which have been attained by the Maple City cricket club in their series of matches so far this season, have proved a big impetus to the proposal to make a tour during next month, playing in all the leading cricket centres throughout Ontario.

The project is now assuming definite shape. Eight of the players to form the eleven have been selected and have expressed their willingness to devote two weeks to the trip. J. W. Aitken is in receipt of a communication from a member of the Gordon-McKay club of Toronto, which played here recently, extending the most cordial hospitality to the local club when they visit the Queen City. And other clubs are similarly anxious for a visit from their Chatham colleagues.

A meeting will shortly be held to make definite arrangements for the tour. It should meet with every encouragement from the citizens.

SAVED FROM DEATH

Kitchener Commutes the Sentence Passed on 34 Prisoners of War

London, July 20.—A despatch says: Cape Town, July 19.—Lord Kitchener has commuted the sentence of death passed on 34 prisoners of war to penal servitude for life at Bermuda.

Cecil Rhodes and Dr. Jameson landed at Southampton this afternoon from Cape Colony. They were met by Alfred Beit, the financier, and B. A. Hawkesley, counsel for the British Chartered South Africa Co., and other friends. Messrs. Rhodes and Jameson declined to discuss South Africa, saying they were no longer public men.

THE CORONATION

The Colonies to be Represented in the Royal Procession.

London, July 20.—Much interest is aroused by the statement that the gathering at the coronation may have important results for the Empire. It is practically certain that the precedent of the jubilee demonstration will be followed to the extent that representatives of all the colonial governments will be asked to take part in the procession, and the prime ministers of the different colonial states will likely be invited. There will probably be a conference and a number of questions of general interest, especially concerning the commercial relations between Great Britain and her various dependencies.

GERRYMANDER.

Toronto, July 19.—James Clancy, Conservative M. P. for Bothwell, who was in the city to-day, expressed the opinion that the redistribution following upon the census would wipe out his constituency. The Liberals were pledged to return to county lines. "John Bell, you know, who died the other day," he said, "expected soon to be out of politics, anyway. I expect those Quebec fellows will pad out their population for all they are worth, and the Liberals, in reducing Ontario's, will combine some of those Eastern Ontario ridings, and Addington and Lennox will probably be combined." Mr. Clancy had a talk with Mr. Foster during his stay.

The Planet.

S. STEPHENSON - Proprietor.

OURSELVES.

The past two weeks have been sincerely satisfactory to The Planet. During that time this great family journal and leading advertising medium has added very materially to its subscription list, every day bringing its quota of new patrons. It has, too, been the recipient of scores of kind and encouraging commendations upon the unrivalled local news service it has found it a pleasure and a profit to give.

These evidences of endorsement The Planet sincerely appreciates. It will endeavor to prove increasingly worthy of them. The resources of enterprise and further facilities will be utilized in the effort to place each evening in the homes of our many patrons a type of the finest in clean and up-to-date Canadian journalism.

Meanwhile, we extend hearty thanks for the practical encouragement and commendation extended.

ATHLETICISM.

"The battle of Waterloo," quoth the Iron Duke, "was won on the football fields at Rugby."

There is nothing more conducive to the welfare of the young men of a community than healthy and moral athletics.

The Maple City possesses a high brand of youthful brawn and muscle in field sports. The week now closing has given practical demonstration of the fact. Our young men have been seen holding their own in the lacrosse arena and winning upon the cricket field. And the sight was good.

One of the best features, too, was the bringing into prominence of the beginners—the "colts," and they have testified that they will soon hold their own with seasoned competitors in the athletic arena. In the lacrosse game such players as Sawyer, McLeod, Angus and Summers shouldered their sticks for the first time in a struggle and proved themselves worthy of the annals of the game. In the cricket contest Mr. W. B. Wells gave opportunity to Robert, Hutchinson and others of the juniors to stick their metal in a match, and the manner in which they embraced it must have proven keenly satisfactory to the enthusiastic veterans.

The Planet congratulates the young men on their excellent showing and wishes them further success—a success that can only be attained by earnest preparation and practice.

And, by-the-by, when is some Good Samaritan going to inaugurate the movement to build a club house and gymnasium?

HOW TO DO IT.

If anyone wants to learn how not to frame legislation dealing with the assessment of the property of franchise corporations, the best text-book for him to consult is the Ontario statute book, says the Hamilton Herald, Independent Liberal. There he will find legislation so "kettly" concocted that nobody can say with confidence what it means, and even the judges cannot agree upon its meaning. Even the amending legislation introduced to clarify the obscure assessment legislation, is itself so vague that it must be submitted to the courts to get its meaning interpreted.

Contrast this sort of legislation with the following assessment plank in the platform adopted by the Ohio Democratic convention the other day:

Steam and electric railroads and the property of other corporations possessing public franchises shall be assessed in proportion to their saleable value as are farms and city real estate.

There is no mistaking the meaning of this definite, clear-cut proposition. And there is no trouble in so framing Ontario assessment legislation as to make the meaning so clear that it cannot be misinterpreted even by High Court judges. It is to be feared that, in some cases, when such legislation is obscure, it has been purposely made obscure.

AND THE MERCURY ABOVE NINE- TY.

Unless this strike business stops right short a great calamity will befall the city of Chicago, for its two million inhabitants will be forced of circumstances to be compelled to resort to water as a thirst slaker, comments the Hamilton Spectator. What a surprise it will give the Chicago stomach. And seventy men are responsible for all the suffering that must follow. Those seventy men shovelled the coal into the furnaces that run the engines connected with the thirty-two large breweries in the Windy City. These firemen came to the conclusion that the brewers were making colossal fortunes while they had to work underground for ten or twelve mortal hours, day and night, for paltry wages. They made a demand for an eight-hour day and $2 wages. The master brewers are willing to concedes the $2, but to shorten the hours would entail greater expense in making beer. Unless the brewers yield at once there will be a beer famine in Chicago, and 3,000 men will be forced into idleness till the firemen have demands satisfied. In the meantime the people of Chicago will be put on half rations of beer as long as the stock on hand holds out, and then it will be water or dying from thirst. Think what those horrid firemen are doing.

Rheumatism

IN THE FRONT RANK.

Hamilton Spectator.

It is proposed to call one of the Duke of Cornwall's sons the Prince of Canada. He will then rank with this great family journal, which is one of the Prints of Canada.

IN THE SWIM.

Toronto Telegram.

Cables tell of President Steyn "capering in his shirt sleeves," and thus indicate that the Boer patriot is going in for the shirt waist habit.

WHAT ANNOYS THEM.

Hamilton Times.

Some Ottawa dentists are annoyed because members of the profession advertise. The secret of the annoyance is found in the fact that the advertisers get the work.

MEANS HIS HAT PROBABLY.

Kingston Whig.

Mayor Morris, of Ottawa, is out with a new scheme. It is the organization of municipal coal yards "in order to meet and overcome the combine." If he keeps on he will get into something that is over his head.

THE CANADIAN AMBASSADOR.

Toronto Telegram.

Canada is well served in London by Lord Strathcona, but no one man can promote the commerce of the country and at the same time do justice to the semi-diplomatic and social side of his duties. Lord Strathcona is, beyond his duties, the right man for high commissioner. He should be left as he is and where he is, but the country needs an agent general in London to take hold of business opportunities and to stimulate emigration.

AN ANECDOTE OF DISRAELI.

M. H. P.

I heard a delightful anecdote of Disraeli the other day. An old friend met him after the election of 1874, when for the first time in his life he commanded a majority in the House of Commons, and when for the second time he had become Prime Minister. "Well," said the friend, "I never expected to see you Prime Minister the second time." Disraeli looked mysterious, and then said, with an air of indescribable comicality, "God is great, greater than ever!"

"They Level all Roads."

ACCOUNTED FOR.

Toronto Telegram.

The rumor that a shirt waist man was refused a meal in an Ottawa hotel arouses a suspicion that the unfortunate man had left his pocket-book in his coat.

STRIKE WHEN THE WEATHER'S HOT.

Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

The steel workers have shown good judgment in timing their strike. A man needn't be very enthusiastic in the cause of unionism to be induced to throw up his job with the thermometer 100 in the shade.

MAN'S INHUMANITY TO MAN.

Belleville Intelligencer.

The proprietor of the Russell House, Ottawa, refused to admit a guest to the dining room who was clad in a shirt waist. What rot! Why shouldn't a man be comfortable, as well as a woman?

DISHING UP HOT STUFF.

Belleville Intelligencer.

The hot weather appears to stimulate the news liar. Not long ago there came out a story from the southern states that lightning had struck a negro on the head and glanced off, merely jarring him slightly.

A MAN OF PRAYER.

He has the wise and merry heart. His laugh is real, his jest is glad. In quietness he does his part, If gay or sad.

He walks beside you in the street. His watchful eyes look out on men. And all whom he may chance to meet Love him again.

He does not talk of that he feels. But in his secret soul he knows How powerful is the faith that heals And brings repose.

He does not spend a day alone, For God is with him everywhere, And by his spirit he is known A man of prayer.

The storms may beat above his head, And the thick darkness shroud his way, But he is not uncomfortable, For he can pray.

He has two lives; and one he gives To daily duties as they come; The other tranquilly he lives With God at home.

And he is happy every day, Although the world is full of care, Because his heart through all life's way, Finds rest in prayer.

FIFTY TIMES THE PRICE

Montreal Hotel-Keep's Idea of the Value of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The monetary price of a good thing does not by any means express its worth. If an article is of genuine use to a man or woman he wouldn't take many times its actual cost and be without it.

Such was, no doubt, the idea of Mr. William Bogie, the well-known proprietor of the popular Waverley House, Victoria Square, Montreal, when he said Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets were worth fifty times the price asked.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold at 50¢ a box. At Mr. Bogie's valuation, this would bring the price up to twenty-five dollars a box. Is this high? Does twenty-five sound much? How many a man would sacrifice his wife's fortune to get back a good sound digestion.

Twenty-five dollars is not an uncommon price, to pay in doctor's bills in the effort to cure Dyspepsia. It is an unnecessary price, because Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold at fifty cents a box and are the finest treatment for dyspepsia on earth. But there is no doubt that a man on being cured of Dyspepsia by a box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets has got a full twenty-five dollars' worth for his fifty cents.

Mr. Bogie, of the Waverley House, thinks so. One box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cured him. He acknowledges that the service was worth fifty times what he paid for it.

King St.AYLMER MEETS
FIRST DEFEATLocal Cricketers Continue Their Victorious Record.Magnificent Work by Chatham's Colts —Won the Match Quite Handily.

After luncheon—in yesterday's cricket match—Chatham went to bat and it looked very much as if the small score of 51, made by Aylmer in the morning, would not be overcome, when the first wicket went down only two runs had been made. When two men were out things looked slightly better as 14 runs had been made, but the third wicket went down for only 17 runs. Miller and Kenney then piled the score up to 38 before the fourth wicket fell and made matters look brighter. Thence there was hardly a doubt of the result. When the fifth man was out the score was 10 higher, and when the sixth was out 51 runs had been scored and the game was a tie. When the winning run was scored there was much jollification among the spectators as the suspense was over, 7 were out for 79, 8 for 86, 9 for 87. Then some one said they would like to see the three figures reached. This looked difficult at first, but through the phenomenal batting of Dr. Nicholls and a colt the score was piled to 110 runs.

The batting of the home team was splendid as no one made a "goose egg," although some did not exceed that point very much. Several exceeded the 10 runs mark. Richards made 11, Miller made 16, Dr. Nicholls made the highest on the Chatham side, viz., 21. Hutchinson in his first game made 12 runs and the longest drive of the day for 4.

The fielding of the Aylmer was of a very high order, especially that of Dr. Smith, who made some very nominal stops and did not let a ball go by him within reach. In Aylmer's second innings only eight men went to bat as the others had left for home. Robert and Hutchinson were put out to bowl and the Aylmer men, not being used to slow breaks, were soon put out, Robert getting 4 wickets for 5 runs and Hutchinson 4 wickets for 7 runs, there being only 1 bye. The score only reached the sum of 13 runs.

The following is the official score: CHATHAM.

LEG BYES.

The bowling was good.

Richards bats cleanly and well.

What's the matter with Wells' colts?

Horstead made 178 runs on the tour.That proposed tour ought to be a success.That long hit of Hutch's was loudly applauded.The wicket was a little hard on the Aylmer swift bowlers.Well, this is the fourth game of the season and not a defeat has been registered.This was the only game Aylmer lost on their tour but they all seem to meet their Waterloo here."Johnie" Horstead played in hard luck yesterday, not getting a run, but he did get something. It was that crack the ball gave him on the head.

Treatment is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

In this age of keen competition, when the struggle for life, for wealth, for position requires so much worry and over-exertion, it has become quite common to see about us the physical wrecks of persons whose nervous systems broke down under the strain. Some are partially paralyzed and have lost the use of certain parts of their body, which is a more than a dead mass to them. Others are victims to locomotor ataxia, and can no longer properly control their arms or legs. What a touching sight it is to see such persons going about among their fellows, an object of pity and a warning to all who do not look well to their health.

When you get nervous and irritable, suffer with headache and dizziness, have lost the usual energy and ambition, cannot sleep well at night and feel tired and worn-out, you may know that your nerves are becoming exhausted, and that you are on the way which leads to nervous prostration, paralysis and locomotor ataxia. The slightest indications of nervousness should be sufficient to arouse you to the importance of a prompt use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the only nerve restorative that has been strongly endorsed by physicians and by scores of thousands of cured ones, many of whom were on the verge of nervous collapse. It is easy to delay treatment, but every day makes you so much weaker and makes recovery so much harder to bring about. The restorative action of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food puts a stop to the wasting of nervousness and by the building-up process makes gradual, thorough and permanent cures.

"Mrs. Chas. H. Jones, Piercetown, Que., writes: 'For years I have been a great sufferer with my heart and nerves. I would take shaking spells and a dizzy, swimming feeling would come over me. Night after night I would never fall to sleep, and my head would ache as though it would burst. At last I had to keep to my bed, and, though my doctor attended me from fall until spring, his medicine did not help me.'

"I have now taken five boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I have done me more good than I ever believed a medicine could do. Would I fail to express my gratitude for the wonderful cure brought about by this treatment."

STORY OF THE OLD GUNBOAT

Sketch of Historical Incidents Which Surround it in History.

Views of the Ancient Warrior.

The recent recovery from the bottom of the River Thames at a point near Chatham, of the British gunboat General Myers, sunk there during the war of 1812-15, recalls an interesting episode in Canadian history. Close students of the war in question will recall how, after the surrender of Detroit in 1813 to the gallant Brock, that officer put General Proctor in charge and started off hastily for Niagara. Some months later, in September, 1813, Proctor, who had been continually calling for reinforcements, and had shown considerable hesitation about striking a blow for himself, sent his fleet of gunboats into action—the action that stands alone in the annals of British seamanship as an occasion when a British fleet surrendered.

camped on Traxler's farm, four miles above Chatham, where at noon the kind-hearted housewives had been baking bread for their hungry, disheartened defenders. Traxler's fifteen-acre field of ripe corn and small herd of cattle formed the evening meal for 1,500 hungry Yankee horsemen. His little grandson, Wm. McGarvin, saw the burning vessels, and lived to a ripe old age, and was able to tell some interesting facts of the stirring day of his boyhood. But such is the prodigality of the imagination that if all the old settlers' stories were believed, there are five hundred vessels and five hundred cannon sunk in the river between Chatham and Louisville.

Two miles below Moraviantown, and twenty miles from Chatham, Proctor and Tecumseh took up a splendid position on the morning of October 6th. The day before the Americans had crossed the river at the rapids at Arnold's mills and upon since the day of Nelson. The lines of the boat are declared by experts to be beautiful. Her keel and keelson are tremendous sticks of oak; her ribs are set so close together that they touch; her stem is the root of an immense walnut tree. She was a two-master, built for strength and speed, intended to handle the light, rapid work around a fleet.

The tannic acid of her oak, mingling with the iron of the water of the Thames, turned to a sort of ink, and the wood of the boat is now like bog-oak, but tough as whalebone.

The relics consist of about two tons of cannon balls, of various kinds and sizes, 12-lb. shells, 24, 8, 6 and 2-lb. solid shot, grape and cannister. A number of bayonets and old flintlocks of American origin, captured at Detroit; an old Indian Chief piece, some buttons and other odds and ends.

Since she went home—
The robin's note has touched a minor strain
The old glad songs breathe a sad refrain
And laughter sobs with hidden, bitter pain

Since she went home—
How still the empty rooms her presence blessed;
Untouched the pillow that her dear head pressed;
My lonely heart hath nowhere for its rest.

Since she went home—
The long, long days have crept away,
Like years
The sunlight has been dimmed with
Lonely tears.

Since she went home—
And the dark nights have rained in
Lonely tears.

As The Old Warrior Rests on Tecumseh Park.

After Commodore Perry's victory on Lake Erie, Proctor hastily evacuated Forts Malden, Amherstburg and Detroit, and taking a small schooner and four gunboats, set off for the Thames. The brave and reluctant Tecumseh went with him to his doom. Hearing of Proctor's flight, the American general, Tippecanoe Harrison, with General Cass and Commodore Perry, and a force of three thousand Kentucky backwoodsmen, pursued. At the first farm above Chatham they found in flames a large vessel loaded with ordnance and military stores; two miles further up they found two others in a similar state, and six miles further captured the other two. General Harrison, in a lengthy and most interesting report of the affair, says that Proctor must have been possessed of the wildest intonation. He burned no ordnance up gave battle. They were received with two volleys of musketry from the 1st Regiment, but the three men charged and broke the first line, the second line immediately gave way, and a cannon planted in the middle of the road was never fired. The Indians in a swamp on the right put up a stubborn fight, but were soon discouraged and overcame. Proctor provided for himself and fled as the fight began. Tecumseh was slain, and his Indian followers scattered, and the soldiers of the unfortunate 1st Regiment were taken prisoners to Kentucky. The American generals live in famous memory. Harrison and his grandson after him have been presidents of the United States. The grandson has now passed to his mother earth, but the half of the staunch old boat that his grandfather saw burn that October day in the wilderness comes in the surface to-day with her scars and warlike contents, and tells the peaceful, prosperous people of Kent of that bitter struggle long ago.

So far no cannon have been recovered. Harrison captured only eight, but said that others were in the river. The Americans had control of the western peninsula for a year after the event, and it is most probable that they raised the cannon. It appears that some of these cannon were trophies of the Saratoga affair of 1777, and if now procured would be of great historic interest. One or two of the eight Harrison secured were of this class, but he was unfortunate enough to have his boats wrecked on Lake St. Clair, and lost them.

The other two boats have been located. One of them is upside down, and two-thirds of her is under a bank fifteen feet high, on which an immense tree has grown. The old settler, his grandfather saw burn that October day in the wilderness comes in the surface to-day with her scars and warlike contents, and tells the peaceful, prosperous people of Kent of that bitter struggle long ago.

bridges and took no precautions to delay pursuit. At Chatham the Americans were fairly upon the retreating force of 600 regulars and 800 Indians. Their little fleet was becalmed in the forest-clad Thames, their heavy field pieces were stuck in the impassable roads. General Proctor was twenty miles ahead with the women and the baggage. Tecumseh wanted to fight at the forks at Chatham, but Colonel Warburton, who was in command had no instructions, and the men were disheartened and weary. Proctor was hastily summoned, but no preparation could then be made, as the whole American force had arrived. The blockhouse, at Chatham, with a store of muskets, was burned; the bridges over McGregor Creek were set on fire, but the flames were extinguished by the pursuers; the three lagging vessels were abandoned, and the flames that consumed their decks, masts and sails vied with the glory of the autumn foliage.

The British promptly joined the Indians, who had crossed the river at Chatham. That night the Americans

HEARTY PRAISE FROM QUÉBEC

A Racine Man Expresses Himself Strongly for Dodd's Kidney Pills.

His Letter is Typical of Hundreds of Others.

Racine, Que., July 19.—(Special).—It is a very strange thing; but lately through this province, the people have been talking in a straight downright way about the medicine, Dodd's Kidney Pills. Never before has a remedy made so many warm, outspoken friends for itself. Whatever part of Quebec one chances to be in, the mentioning of Dodd's Kidney Pills is always enough to bring forth the grateful story of an experience with this most remarkable remedy from one of the listeners.

These experiences include nearly all the fatal non-contagious diseases. Diabetes, Bright's Disease, dropsy, rheumatism, bladder and urinary disorders, female trouble, heart trouble, blood diseases, nervous complaints, are all emphatically declared to have been entirely cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. But more than any other complaint, backache counts oftener.

Emile Couture, of this town, says they cured him of backache and other kidney trouble, and writes a letter for publication in this paper to that effect.

"I am going to say a word concerning Dodd's Kidney Pills," he writes. "I can not do otherwise than praise this wonderful medicine heartily, for I am now, owing to Dodd's Kidney Pills, in perfect health. For some time I have not felt the slightest pain in the back. My kidneys are working properly. When I go to bed I find rest, whereas, before using Dodd's Kidney Pills I got up more fatigued than the night before. I had pain in the back and headache which broke my sleep."

"I have taken only three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and cannot help but credit them with my cure. I have been free from my trouble since taking Dodd's Kidney Pills."

LONGING AND LABOR.
If wishing were being, we'd all be beautiful.
Healthy and wealthy, wise and dutiful.
If wishing were having—what pleasure 'd be.
With a heartful of joy and a purseful of gold!
But wishes, alas! are but empty bubbles,
And the longing heart would team with troubles.
So idle wishing is vain, forsooth,
As the endless search for the fountain of youth.

But work that holds wealth may be had for the taking.
Though it may not bring health 'tis a balm for heart-aching.
And study makes wise, and love, people gay.
Gives the beauty that's truest, which lasts for aye.

Then away with longing, and hot for labor!
And hot for love—each one for his neighbor!
For a life of labor and study and love
Is the life that fits for the joy above.

—Emma C. Dowd.

MOTHER SOLD BABY BOY

Rich Farmer Agreed to pay New York Woman $300 a Year for her Title to Her Little Son.

Poor Woman Consented and here is no Law to Reach the "Traffickers in a Human Soul" in the empire State.

Ransomville, New York, July 18.—Jacob Schleswing, a wealthy farmer residing five miles northwest of this village, is proud of a bright, sturdy little two-year old boy whose mother has sold and transferred to him all her rights, title and custody. The mother is a widow and her name is kept secret. Her transfer of the boy was made to insure an adequate income for her herself, a good home and kind foster parents for her only child, as well as a generous endowment for the boy when he attains his majority.

While visiting friends in Pittsburgh recently Mr. and Mrs. Schleswing became acquainted with the mother of the babe. The woman was in rather straitened circumstances. Having no children of their own, the Schleswings became much attached to the little tot, and invited its mother to visit them at their home near Ransomville. The invitation was accepted, and 10 days ago the mother and child were at the Schleswing household.

A few days after their arrival Schleswing proposed that he be permitted to adopt the little fellow. The mother objected at first, but when she was assured that the boy would be given a good education and ultimately receive a large share of the Schles-wing estate, she took the matter into consideration, in addition to this the mother was to receive an annuity of $300 during her lifetime and that she might spend several months each year with the child. It was stipulated that the boy should be enabled him to earn in business for himself if he desired to do so.

The mother reserves the right to reclaim her son should Schleswing neglect to fulfill any part of his agreement. After signing the assignment, or bill of sale as it might more properly be called, the mother became hysterical. As the first instalment of the annuity was paid to her, she was informed that she might revoke the agreement if she then desired. She replied that it would be best for her boy to let it stand. She has returned to Pittsburgh.

The little tot, whose present name is Roy Schleswing, is a bright, blue-eyed, golden-haired, chap. Attired in blue jeans overalls and high-topped boots, he struts about the barnyard, throws sticks and stones at the chickens and is the acknowledged foreman of the farm.

She is as pretty as a ghost.
As pale as a lily. A matter of pride? Certainly not. Strangely colored? Endurance! That's what every woman wants. Good digestion, perfect assimilation. Bouquancy and vim is the right of every woman. ## NO HOLIDAY

Merchant Submits That, After all its Protests, the Boiler-plate Paper Did Not Close Thursday Afternoon.

To the Editor of The Planet: Dear Sir,—I see by the Banner-News of last evening that it is claiming credit for starting the Thursday half holiday, and that by an announcement a few nights ago that all of their employees would be free to take a holiday, and the inference to the public was, that this would all be done at the expense of the Banner-News.

Yesterday I had occasion to go into the office late in the afternoon, and I found many of the men at work, in fact the establishment was open until the usual time of closing, notwithstanding the Banner-News signed the agreement to close. Such "faking" as this does not take with a Canadian public, and if the Banner-News can treat with impunity its employees, although this is not the case, what can those who honestly fulfilled their part of the contract think of such a gross fraud, on the very first opportunity. Perhaps the Banner-News can explain.

Yours truly,
MERCHANT.

DID NOT CLOSE

To the Editor of The Planet: Will you permit me to correct a wrong impression and insert the enclosed that I clipped from last night's Banner-News.

J. H. Gordon, manager of Thornton & Douglas, said: "The half holiday was strictly observed by those who were on the list," was Mr. Gordon's statement. "It was more closely observed than a public holiday and the movement to spread to other lines of business, as well. The city was practically dead, so far as business was concerned," continued Mr. Gordon, "and all progressive merchants are adopting the half holiday arrangement."

Surely this gentleman is not correctly reported, or he must have been out of the city. Every sign of a petition closed except the Banner-News, whose men did not get the holiday. And the paper told its readers in big type what it was doing for its employees.

Yours, etc.,
WORKMAN.

SLIGHTLY INCONSISTENT.

"Practice what you preach," is a motto turned to the wall in the Banner-News office. It opened a crusade with a tremendous flourish of trumpets about the advantages of personal, social and national which would flow by giving the young men a half holiday every Thursday. So far as their own delectable establishment was involved, this respect from toil would benefit a family population of over 200. Sequel: employees of Banner-News mostly all had their noses to news grindstone just as usual, 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday. "Consistency thou art," etc. "Do as I say, not as I do."—Market Guide.

GET READY FOR HAY FEVER.

Powley's Liquefied Ozone will be found invaluable for hay fever sufferers on account of its positive and definite action in all catarrhal and inflammatory conditions of the mucous membrane.

Take it internally three or four times a day, a dessert-spoonful in water after meals; use it well diluted as a spray or douche; it will sterilize the parts and prove a prompt relief. It will greatly assist in "staving off" the attack of hay fever. Read this testimony as to its value in hay fever.

I took Ozone for a severe attack of hay fever and was very pleased to find myself quite free from this annoying trouble on the second day after taking the remedy. No one should be without a bottle of Ozone in his house for many diseases from which human beings suffer, as it purifies the blood, and it is from impure blood that all diseases arise. E. LEWELLYN, 807 Bathurst St., Toronto.

For all catarrhal states, throat and nose, stomach, bowels, etc., Powley's Liquefied Ozone will surprise you by its speedy curative action. It is a new method of using nature's curative powers.

Bett r try Powley's Liquefied Ozone at once: one experience with it will make it your household necessity.

Druggists have it: 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Booklet about it free.

International Bible Lesson for Tomorrow—"Noah saved in the Ark"—Gen. viii., 15-22.

Golden Text—"Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord."

Noah's day was the darkest our world has yet seen. God found only one faithful man left of all earth's millions. Is the knowledge of God to perish? No, but neglectors and despisers must perish and Noah and his family be saved, while the race receives a check and a lesson never forgotten, for traditions of this deluge of destruction, from which only one family escaped, are found in nearly every race on earth. Like Enoch, Noah "walked with God," and all who do so find grace in His sight,—not as a mere matter of choice on His part, of obedience to Him on our part. A similar crisis in the history of man is reached at the Lord's coming. Be ye also ready.—Matt. 24, 37.

Church Notes.

The pastor, Rev. W. E. Knowles, will occupy the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church both morning and evening to-morrow.

Rev. F. E. Malott, B. A., B. D., will preach on both occasions in the Park St. Methodist Church to-morrow. In the morning the subject will be, "Christ's Name for the Holy Spirit." Evening subject, "What is the Chief Good?"

Clean Germless Clothing

This is not meant to be an alarmist talk, but we want to point out some facts. That, you know, is what an advertisement is for.

Our province has passed through a light but widely diffused visitation of the worst diseases known to northern climates. Happily the malady is now pretty well stamped out, but great care will be needed to prevent its recurrence.

Have you ever thought of the risks that attach to buying and wearing sweatshop clothing? In every town and city there is clothing for sale that has been made in airless slum cellars by unhappy people whose very breath is laden with the germs of chronic diseases. And you cannot distinguish these garments at sight. They are not labelled "sweatshop."

We do not for a moment pretend to be the only dealers in clean, wholesome clothing. What we point out is that if you wish to be safe this is a place where you can incur no possible danger. The clothing we buy is as carefully looked after as what we make ourselves.

The William St. Baptist Sunday School will meet at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than in all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for anyone to fail to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

THE SOLE OF COMFORT

YOUR foot sole is curved and soft.
Your shoe sole is flat and hard.
Walking with such a foot sole on such a shoe sole, is like sleeping on a plank, instead of on a mattress.
Cut open an old shoe at its most comfortable stage, and you will find its insole shaped by wear, to ball and heel, great toe, and outer edge.

You will also find it burnt up and eaten, through accumulated sweat, which must have gnawed the foot, when it so ate the leather.

The Resilia Sole, is placed between insole and outsole, instead of the usual scrap leather filling.

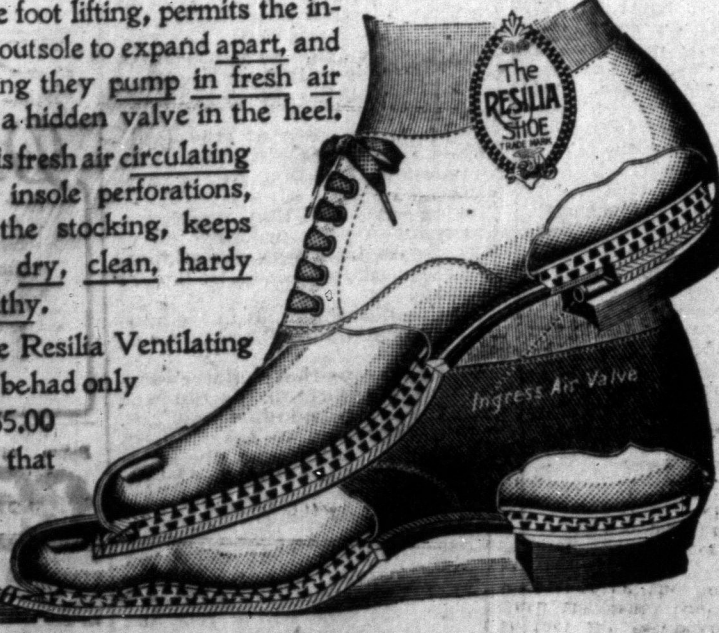

It is an elastic spring centresole, which collapses and shapes up round foot-curves like an old shoe, the first moment it is borne upon.

The foot sinking into the sole, at the very time the ball of the foot spreads, makes the shoe a size larger inside, when the foot needs most room.

The foot lifting, permits the insole and outsole to expand apart, and in so doing they pump in fresh air through a hidden valve in the heel.

This fresh air circulating through insole perforations, around the stocking, keeps the foot dry, clean, hardy and healthy.

The Resilia Ventilating Sole can be had only in the $5.00 grade of that Good-year Welter leader.
