School Shoes

Past experience has proved to hundreds of parents that our School Shoes wear about twice as long as other shoes sold at the same price. The reason is that we personally select the material used in the manufacture of our shoes. Our profits, it is true, are small on a single pair, but by shoeing half of the school children, it pays us in the end.

WAS WISE AND SENSIBLE STEP

Chamberlain's Decision to Visit South Africa Meets General Approval.

His Presence Will be Welcomed in the New Colonies—Will Guard His Tongue.

London, Nov. 1.—Mr. Chamberlain's determination to visit South Africa has not been met with the general approval of a general chorus of approval. It is a bold, sensible step to depart from the present and to take the present circumstances of the case. It dislocates the constitutional machine by temporarily removing a Secretary of State from his office and from Parliament for the House of Commons will almost certainly sit through next month, if not till Christmas. The session of 1903, though it may be postponed, is pretty sure to begin before the month of March.

But the dislocation of the machine of what Corbett used to call, "the thing," is of very small importance, when compared with the peace and prosperity of South Africa, and the practical inconvenience in England will be very small. Any Secretary of State is by law enabled to perform the functions of any other. While Lord John Russell was attending the Vienna conference, in 1855, he held the same office that Mr. Chamberlain holds now, and his duties were discharged by the present Secretary, Sir Geo. Grey. Lord Onslow represents the Colonial Office in the Lords at the present time, and there is, of course, the Permanent Under Secretary of State, Mr. Montague Ommanney, who is responsible for the routine work of the department.

Mr. Chamberlain's presence will, undoubtedly be welcomed in the Transvaal and Orange Colony. There Lord Milner's power is practically absolute, and his exercise of it has not given universal satisfaction. He may be entirely right and his critics utterly wrong, but it is in any case desirable that his administration should be brought under the direct personal review of his immediate official superior. It is a proof of the High Commissioner's good sense and conscious rectitude of purpose that he should welcome the proposal of the Colonial Secretary.

In Cape Colony and Natal, however, the situation is altogether different, and the same arguments do not apply. Mr. Chamberlain is, through Lord Milner, the Governor-General of South Africa. They are in the position of "Crown colonies," whereas the Cape of Good Hope and Natal are self-governing communities, with parliaments and ministers of their own. Their governors act, by the advice of the respective cabinets, not by instructions from Downing street. The power of the Governor-General in the Colonies is thus limited to the exercise of a veto upon the acts of the Local Legislature on clear and definite grounds of broad general policy, such as in the nature of things, it is very seldom arise. The High Commissioner has nothing whatever to do with the Cape of Natal.

As the guest of Sir Walter Hely-Hutcheon and Sir Henry McCallum, Mr. Chamberlain will be received with the honor due his official rank, but his own friends in the press have warned him that if he makes speeches he may do mischief. He has earned the gratitude of all who value the colonial system of Great Britain by refusing to introduce a bill suspending the constitution of Cape Colony because the Dutch inhabitants outnumbered the British. The result has simply strengthened his refusal, the Africaner Bond supporting on all main questions of government, with Sir Gordon Sprigg, who himself was a warm supporter of the war. They opposed the act of indemnity for martial law, with the accompanying irregularities without a division, and have since joined in raising the contributions by the colony to the maintenance of the British fleet. But party feelings ran high at Cape Town, and an injudicious word from Mr. Chamberlain might kindle the flame of race hatred to an extremely dangerous point. Happily, no one knows that better than Mr. Chamberlain, and it may, therefore, be expected that he will set a watch upon his tongue.

DENSE DARKNESS FOR 53 HOURS.

New York, Nov. 1.—A despatch from the City of Mexico says that telegraphic communication has been restored from Tapachula, at the extreme southern corner of the State of Chiapas, near the volcano of Anahuac, in Guatemala. Midnight darkness prevailed there fifty-three hours, causing an indescribable panic among the residents, who knelt in the streets and prayed for mercy.

Earthquakes caused the collapse of several houses. The German steamer Luxor, at Port San Benito, Soconusco, was covered with ashes. The captain put to sea to escape danger. The darkness at noon was so complete that night signals were necessary. The Tacoma volcano, a few miles from Tapachula, shows no signs of eruption.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Walker of Dresden, were visiting the former's sister and niece on Queen street, Saturday and Sunday.

WITHDRAWING TROOPS

Tamagua, Pa., Nov. 1.—Brigadier-General Schall, in command of the troops now in the anthracite region, issued an order to-day, relieving the Thirtieth Regiment, the Second City Troop and the Governor's Troop from duty.

The First City Troop, the Sheridan Troop, the First Regiment, Sixteenth Regiment and a battalion of the Sixth Regiment will be kept in the field in anticipation of a possible outbreak in the lower Luzern region and the Panther Creek Valley, where much dissatisfaction is being manifested among the mine employees.

MESSAGES OF CONGRATULATION

On the Completion of Pacific Cable From the Mother Country.

And Far-off Colonies to the Dominion of Canada—Message Sent Round the Globe.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—The following despatches have been received from the Governor-General's secretary for the press:—

"Mr. Chamberlain to the Earl of Minto."

"London, Oct. 31.—His Majesty's government send cordial congratulations to your government on the completion of the Pacific cable and the new facilities for inter-imperial communication which it will afford. They feel confident that the spirit of co-operation between the mother country and the colonies which it has initiated the enterprise will gather additional strength from its successful accomplishment." (Signed) Chamberlain."

"The Earl of Minto to Mr. Chamberlain."

"Ottawa, Nov. 1.—On behalf of my government I thank His Majesty's government for their congratulations on the occasion of the completion of the Pacific cable, which is heartily reciprocated. Canada rejoices in the new link binding the mother country and her colonies in one great Empire." (Signed) Minto."

"Austrian Governor-General (Austria) to Governor-General."

"Melbourne, Nov. 1.—On behalf of myself and Australia, I beg to congratulate you on the completion of the Pacific cable, which is another bond of unity between Canada and Australia." (Signed) Tennyson."

"The Earl of Minto to Lord Tennyson."

"Ottawa, Nov. 1.—In thanking you for your kindly expressed cable, Canada hails with heartfelt satisfaction the completion of the Pacific cable, bringing her into still closer touch with her great sister colony, Australia." (Signed) Minto."

"Governor of Fiji to the Governor-General."

"Suva, Nov. 1.—People of Fiji rejoice that the Pacific cable forms a link in the great all-British line through the Dominion, and fervently hope that closer intercourse may strengthen the ties already formed by a community of interests and our common allegiance to the throne and Empire." (Signed) Governor of Fiji."

"The Governor-General to Governor of Fiji."

"Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Canada warmly reciprocates sentiments of people of Fiji expressed in your telegram and trusts that the new cable may be the means of drawing still closer the relations between Fiji and Canada." (Signed) Minto."

"Sir Sandford Fleming to the Governor-General."

"Ottawa, Nov. 1.—(Via Commercial Eastern Australia and Pacific cables) Receive globe-encircling message via England, South Africa, Australia and Pacific cable congratulating Canada and the Empire on completion of the first segment of state-controlled electric girdle, the harbinger of incalculable advantages, national and general." (Signed) Sandford Fleming."

"The Earl of Minto to Mr. Chamberlain."

"Ottawa, Nov. 1.—I have this morning received cable from Sir Sandford Fleming, congratulating on completion of Pacific cable. His message sent from Ottawa to me at Ottawa round the world, via England, South Africa, Australia and Pacific Cables took 10 hours and 24 minutes to complete circuit of globe." (Signed) Minto."

"Sir Sandford Fleming to the Earl of Minto."

"Nov. 1.—Congratulations follow the sun around the globe, via Australia, South Africa and England, on completion of Pacific cable, initiating new era of freest intercourse and cheap telegraph service throughout the Empire." (Signed) Sandford Fleming."

"Ottawa, Ont., via Vancouver, 31st Oct."

Mrs. Edward Green was walking on the sidewalk on St. Clair street last evening near Dr. McKeough's residence when she was run into by a cyclist and knocked down. Mrs. Green is 77 years old and the force of the collision threw her into the ditch. Fortunately, beyond a bad shaking up, she escaped serious injury, but that was no fault of the cyclist, who didn't even stop to see if the aged lady was hurt but rode right on.

ROSEBERRY AND THE LIBERALS

He Sees no Prospects of Their Coming Into Power—Still Opposed to Home Rule.

Duty of Liberal Party to Disabuse the Minds of Irish Independent Parliament.

Edinburgh, Scotland, Nov. 1.—Lord Roseberry, speaking at a crowded meeting here to-day, welcomed the Liberal leaders. He said he was willing to promote to the utmost in his power the success of such a proposal, he, however, reiterated his abnegation of home rule, and said he did not see any prospect of the Liberals coming into power in the near future. He believed that as a matter of policy the Government might give the Boers more money, and he declared that if he had been Premier he would have made Lord Kitchener Secretary of State for War.

Lord Roseberry further said it was the duty of the Liberals to remove any possible belief from the minds of the Irish that any independent Parliament or anything leading up thereto could be entertained by Great Britain. He was willing to admit that it would be well if there could be developed from the basis of local bodies a scheme applicable to England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales, which would relieve Parliament of business relating to purely domestic concerns. Mr. Roseberry's recent announcement that in future the settlement of the Irish land problem must take precedence over home rule, said Lord Roseberry, had quite changed the character of the Irish question. A hopeful sign, he added, was that Ireland seems to have progressed towards the idea of a conference between landlords and tenants.

SCAVENGER SYSTEM

"What we need most in this city, and what the press should advocate, is a complete scavenger system," said G. J. Peace, the popular shoe merchant, to The Planet this morning.

"This is something I have thought of for some time," continued he, "and I have often wondered that the council have not taken this matter up, gone fully into the details, and arranged a new and satisfactory system of gathering garbage and refuse from our houses, stores and streets. It would be a good thing for the municipality candidates to express opinions on."

"A good system of this kind would not cost the city an unreasonable amount of money and I think that money put into a scheme of this kind would be well spent."

"It would be a boon to the merchants on King street, and would remove a lot of worry and trouble. As it is now we have a lot of waste which we cannot burn, as it is against the by-law, and if we had a man to call for it regularly it would save a lot of trouble in getting rid of it."

"It would also, I think, keep the city in a far better sanitary condition—no more rats, and it is needed even more than good roads. Other places the size of Chatham have good working scavenger systems and I can't see any reason why Chatham should not be up with the best regulated cities in the province."

Invitations have been received in Chatham for the marriage of Miss Madeline Beatrice Holmes, to Frank K. Bellow, Miss Holmes is the second daughter of David Holmes, of this city, and for the past three years she has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. John K. Holmes, Archer, Iowa. The wedding will take place in that place on Wednesday, the 5th of Nov., at the residence of the aunt.

The "Arch-Support of a "Dorothy Dodd" SAVE THE FATIGUE

When your foot is tired from long walking or standing, you rest it mostly by holding it in your hand and compressing it firmly around and beneath the instep. That is exactly what the "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe does for you all the time. It is like a soft band firmly grasping the 'waist' of the foot and supporting the arch. You will never realize how much of your daily fatigue can be relieved until you try a "Dorothy Dodd." A "Dorothy Dodd" retains its arched shape and sets closely up to the foot after it has been worn for months. No other shoe is made like it. Other shoes bend at every step you take. Thus the foot becomes tired. Is it worth while when the remedy is so simple.

LOST AND FOUND

Two little boys, twins, got lost on Saturday. The lads came into the city with their mother, Mrs. Generan, of Blenheim, and they stopped at the Garner Hotel. The twins went down stairs to get a drink then decided to venture out to see the world as depicted on the streets of Chatham on a busy market day. Wandering down King street the boys suddenly found themselves lost and their countenances soon gave wet traces of their predicament. They couldn't tell where they belonged too, so a kind hearted spectator of their woe took them into John McCorvie's store. There the lads were fed candy and things and they began to think that getting lost wasn't such a bad thing after all. The mother, when she missed the boys, notified the police and they were located in the McCorvie store by P. C. Dodson, after they had been missing about an hour.

MANY AFTER IT

It is Rumored That Several Applications are in for Position of County Treasurer.

The majority of the county councillors were in the city bright and early this morning. There were here for the purpose of attending the special meeting this afternoon to deal with the recent developments in the county treasurer's office.

Already there are a number of candidates in the field for the position. The persons named as possible candidates for the position were:—County Clerk J. C. Fleming, Archie McArthur, clerk of Chatham Tp., G. M. Baird, clerk of Harwich Tp., Warden W. A. Mills, Chatham Tp., James Blackburn, Township of Camden, and Peter Crawford, Dover. Indications this morning were that the present county Clerk would get the position of treasurer, but it was impossible to get a line on the possible successor to Mr. Fleming. It is scarcely possible that the appointment will be made to-day. The wardens will explain his reasons for calling the special meeting, and Auditor Macpherson will tell what he knows. This will probably take up the greater part of the afternoon. It is reported that the Wallaceburg friends of Mr. Shambhoo know how much he is short, and that the amount is about $12,000.

DEVASTATED

Main Portion of St. Pierre, Mich., Again in Ashes—Loss Half a Million.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 2.—The town of St. Pierre, Michoulin, has been devastated by fire.

A destructive conflagration started last night and swept the main portion of the town. The Governor's house, the Government building, the court house, the building occupied by the Ministry of Marine, the Roman Catholic cathedral, the Presbytery, the schools and a number of other buildings were destroyed. It has not yet been learned how the fire originated. There was no wind last night also the entire town would probably have been completely obliterated. Even as it is the extent of the disaster is very far-reaching, and the financial loss will probably reach half a million dollars.

There was no loss of life or serious accident. The rapid spread of the conflagration was due to the trifling water supply and to the fact that St. Pierre has no adequate fire fighting apparatus.

The town of St. Pierre has been partly burned down three times before—in 1865, 1867 and 1879.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 3.

THOSE WHO MAY VOTE.

Section 3 of the Ontario Liquor Act makes plain those who may vote at the approaching referendum. It amounts to this, that those who voted in the general election of May 29 last are entitled to vote on the referendum, on Dec. 4, providing they have been residents of the province ever since. The section reads:

"The persons entitled to vote upon the said question shall be all persons whose names shall appear on the voters' lists used, or which would have been used had a poll been held, at the next general election of members to serve in the Legislative Assembly, held after the passing of this Act, as entitled to vote, and who were entitled to vote at the said election, and who shall have been from the date of the said general election, and until the date of voting on said question, residents and domiciled in the Province of Ontario, and whose names are duly entered in the poll books to be used for the purpose of the voting under this Act."

WOOD MEASUREMENT.

The public interest which has been centered on fuel purchases recently has brought one abuse in connection with the wood business into prominence, comments the Ottawa Citizen, that is the very elastic interpretation given to the word "cord" as a term of quantity by wholesale and retail dealers in wood.

A cord is 128 cubic feet of piled wood. If a pile of wood does not contain that number of cubic feet it is not a cord, any more than a "gallon" of liquid which contains only three quarts would be a gallon. In the good old days when a cord of wood was a cord it was customary to cut the wood in four-foot lengths and pile it four feet high and eight feet long. From recent experiences it would appear that wood contractors and wood dealers have guilelessly assumed that any sort of a pile of wood which meets the specification of being eight feet long and four feet high is a "cord," no matter whether it is 24, 36 or 40 inches thick. We have not noticed any instances where they offered piles 50 or 60 inches thick as "cords" under the same guileless impression that a cord was a cord so long as it presented a surface measurement on one side of 32 square feet.

The city fuel committee has, in its dealings with contractors, apparently recognized the legitimacy of the practice of calling almost anything a "cord" of wood so long as the dealer called it a "cord." The committee announced that it had purchased "1,000 cords" of wood from a local dealer at $3.40 a cord. This sounded very reasonable until further inquiry elicited the fact that by a pleasant euphemism the cords, so-called, were "short cords," which being further translated meant half cords. They were to be eight feet long and four feet high, but only two feet thick. According to Ald. Askwith, the wood purchased from the South Indian dealer was only 33 inches long, so that the city in that case bought "cords" that were really less than three-quarters of a cord.

The abuse of the term "cord" is likely to result in serious loss to consumers. If a grocer sells 12 ounces of sugar for a pound the transaction is not regarded as legitimate. If a dry goods merchant sold 30 inches of calico and called it a yard his conduct would be open to reproach. A cord is a recognized measure of 128 cubic feet, and if 64 cubic feet or 96 cubic feet or any other number of cubic feet can legitimately be sold as a cord, the term cord as a standard of measurement ceases to have any significance.

As in the case of the wholesale fruit dealers, a law should be passed making it a misdemeanor for wood dealers to sell anything but 128 cubic

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

The thing to do is to help the system discharge the humors, and strengthen it against their return.

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. G. Hines, Franka, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time; and Miss Alvina Walter, Box 212, Algona, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. There are more testimonials in favor of this great medicine than can be published.

feet of wood as a cord. Many illiterate people among the poorer classes do not know what amount of wood a cord should contain and if dealers are to be allowed a poetic license in the use of the term for any quantity they see fit to deliver the consumers are certainly not likely to get any the best of it.

SHOPPING OUT-OF-TOWN.

The London News aptly says in regard to out-of-town shopping:

The Toronto Star points out that although Hamilton is much nearer, the Ambitious City does not buy as many goods in Toronto proportionately as do Guelph or Brantford, or Peterborough. It appears from this that the reason people trade outside their own town is because they cannot get what they want at the home stores. Hamilton merchants, like those in London, supply every thing at as cheap a price as do the big departmental stores of Toronto. Consequently we hear no murmuring from either of these places regarding Toronto competition and out-of-town purchasing. Of course, some mail order business is done by London with Toronto, but it is absolutely unnecessary. Take a look at the News advertising columns, and you'll find what you want right here in London and at a reasonable price too. Toronto can boast of no more up-to-date stores than can the Forest City, and it is patriotic besides to buy at home.

What the News says about London applies equally to Chatham. Why should people go to Detroit to make purchases, or send to Toronto, when they can do just as well in Chatham and save money? To those who are addicted to out of town shopping, the Planet offers a suggestion which, if acted on, will be a money saver for the person in whose behalf the advice is given. This is the suggestion. Before going or sending to other cities to make purchases, study the advertising columns of this G. H. J.

merchants have the very articles you want and you can purchase just as cheap in Chatham as you can elsewhere without the added expense of railroad fare or express charges. When you have done this and made your purchase, you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have spent your money in the city where you became possessed of it, and that you have helped, even in some slight degree, to increase the business of your home city, and you have not aided the commerce of a foreign city. What the outside place has lost in losing your trade, your home town has gained—be it ever so little—and will be just that much more prosperous. Even if your purchases are small, don't despise them. The Maple City merchants are just as grateful for the little expenditures you make with them as they are for the large ones. Many small cash sales during a day mount up at night to quite a large sum, and your little helps.

A party of Chatham girls were met one day this summer jaunting through Belle Isle. They were asked why they weren't over in the city making purchases. "Oh, we make all

"YOU CANNOT GATHER FIGS FROM THISTLES."

It costs as much to make a $2.50 Goodyear process shoe, as a $3.50, or a $5.00 grade.

It costs as much to sell it to the Wearer!

It costs more to finish it, so that it will resemble some inferior $3.50 shoes!

The dollar difference thus comes out of the leather—out of the very life of the shoe.

No shoe which sells for less than $3.50 can possess wear enough to justify the cost of fine finish, and no finish can justify the absence of wear.

No shoe, but "The Slater Shoe" for men and women, is sold to Consumers at a price fixed by the Makers to protect Wearers against over charge.

our purchases in Chatham, where we live, so there was no use for us to pass this warm day in Detroit stores" was the reply. The girl who spoke was the daughter of one of Kent's richest business men, and the remark was well worthy of the girl. Her practice should be imitated by every resident of the Maple City, especially by those who wish to see Chatham prosper. Every resident should do all they can to make the home town prosper, for as it prospers each and every resident may be assured that a share of that prosperity will be theirs. That is perhaps the strongest reason for urging loyalty to the home town.

GREAT FUTURE

Hon. A. G. Blair Says the Northwest is Fast Filling up—Many Americans.

Montreal, Nov. 2.—Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, who has just returned from an official trip through the Northwest as far as the Pacific Coast, announced today that four more railroads were required to take charge of the emigration, wheat and general traffic, adding that "there is a great future before a Government railway in that country. As a result of my visit I hope, as Minister of Railways, to show Parliament the necessity of a Government railway through the west. The future of the Dominion lies greatly in the district beyond the great lakes."

Mr. Blair declared that Canada's Northwest is rapidly filling up, adding: "The Americans are coming in to Canada to make their homes in Canada. In a generation I think it will be impossible to tell the American settler from the Canadian stock. I visited the chief centres of the western states to see what were the chances of a still greater number finding their way into this country. I prophesied that next year at least 100,000 Americans will settle in the Northwest. They are a great people to realize what is a good thing when they see it, and they have found that they can get excellent land at a fair price. And this is only the beginning, as the movement will go increasing all the time."

MEN AND WOMEN

Could we read the hearts of every man and woman, what a host of sorrows and regrets would be disclosed. Indiscretions and Blood Diseases have caused more physical and mental trouble than all other causes combined. They strike at the foundation of manhood; they sap the vitality; they undermine the system, and not only do they often disfigure the body, but they may even exhaust the system, and leave a man or woman a mere shadow of their former selves. If you have been a victim of early and late indiscretions, the seed is sown, and sooner or later you will reap a harvest. If your blood has been diseased from any cause, do not risk a return later on. Our New Method Treatment will positively cure you, and you need never fear any return of the disease. THE BANFF BUFFALO

GOVERNMENTS AND CITIZENS SAVING PRAIRIE MONARCHS.

How the Work of Saving the Buffalo is Being Done—Access Attendant Upon the Efforts Put Forth—Thirty-One Now at Banff and Forty-Five at Silver Heights—The Conrad and Yellowstone Herds.

The buffalo have not all disappeared from the face of the earth, though it is frequently supposed that such is the case. The buffalo ranch of the Canadian Government at the Banff National Park, and that at Silver Heights, near Winnipeg, the property of Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, are according to recent advices, both in a flourishing condition. The animals are in splendid shape, and, notwithstanding their semi-captivity, they thrive well, and are multiplying and increasing. The original twenty at Banff, thirteen of which were donated by Lord Strathcona, have increased to thirty-one, while the ranch at Silver Heights new numbers over forty-five head, the property of the High Commissioner. These are valued at $1,000 a head, and Lord Strathcona has recently been offered as high as $1,500 a head.

The Conrad ranch in Montana, is one of world-wide fame, is owned by Mr. C. E. Conrad, father of C. E. Conrad, Jr., of Vancouver, B. C., and the herd is said to be the finest in the world. When it is known that 500 is a fair estimate of the number of buffalo on the continent, it will be seen that Mr. Conrad's herd of 37 fine specimens of that animal once so numerous, now nearly extinct, is an important collection. Early in 1897, wholesale slaughter of the buffalo was tending to exterminate the valuable animal. Mr. Conrad commenced to collect as many good specimens as possible, and resolved to start a ranch in Montana. The first stock there belonged to some Indians who crossed the Rocky Mountains into Flathead Valley, with half a dozen buffalo calves, which in twenty years increased to a herd of over 150. When the Indian chief died some years ago, Mr. Conrad purchased of the widow her share of the herd, and placed them on his ranch south of Kallispell. He now has 47 in a two hundred acre field and has been offered large sums by the managers of Zoological gardens, either for his herd as a whole, or for one or more of his thirty-seven, but instead of parting with any, Mr. Conrad is on the lookout for fine specimens. The best care is given the animals and they appear contented. However, buffalo raised in captivity, Mr. Conrad says, fail to develop as finely as in their wild state, and although they may not seem to droop or pine for the freedom of the plains if they are given a fairly extensive stretch of country over which to roam, still the restrictions of civilization leave their marks upon the animals accustomed for centuries to unlimited freedom. The most striking difference is in the body between the wild and the domesticated. The animals raised in captivity display a shortness of body and a lack of muscle which, but poorly resemble the splendid proportions of their ancestors.

The wildest and probably the largest herd of buffalo on the American continent is that which roams at will through the vast expanse of territory, the Yellowstone National Park, in Wyoming, much of which is rarely ever visited by man. This herd, once so numerous, has been sadly decreased in number until now it is not thought that it numbers more than fifty. They range in the remote corners of the park, where no one but sportsmen and hunters see them, and it is, of course, impossible to keep accurate count of them. On rare occasions, however, the herd wanders down the road, which outside of the hotels is the only thing in the great wilderness not made by nature. On one occasion in the season of 1890, the herd emerged from the woods on a hillside not far from the Lower Geyser Basin, and becoming alarmed at a stage coach, which happened along, dashed down the hillside, scattering the horses, which overturned the coach. This herd of buffalo formerly ranged mostly in Hayden Valley, and a few years ago a huge corral was constructed there and hay cut and stacked in the hope that some of them might become corralled and become smooth, tamed, domesticated, but the experiment utterly failed. Very few buffalo were even seen, but the elk, which are very plentiful in the very wide domain of the park, reaped a rich harvest and devoured all the hay.

Adventure With an Angry Eagle.
Frank Begg, of Messrs. Wood, Valance, Leggett & Co., the Cordova street hardware firm, had a rather exciting experience at Buccaneer Bay yesterday. On Sunday last, in company with Jack Garden, of Thurlow street, Mr. Begg took in the excursion to Buccaneer Bay, and while strolling about the shore lost a $20 gold piece. He did not learn of his loss until he reached home. Monday morning he left on the Cassiar for the bay to look for his lost gold. After about half an hour's careful search he found the coin, and then proceeded to return about the place until the arrival of the stagecoach. Commenced en route to Vancouver. He was passing through a thicket when suddenly he was startled by a strange noise above him and upon looking up saw an immense eagle swooping down upon him. Mr. Begg picked up a stick and dealt the bird a blow over the head, but it had little or no effect. The eagle came at him again. A second blow made the eagle more wary, but it circled about him for some time. Mr. Begg believes that he was near the eagle's nest. He is telling his friends about his experience to-day, and says he would not go through it again even for a $20 gold piece.—Vancouver World.

BOTANY.

The members of the choir met in the St. John's Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening and presented their organist, Miss Thilo E. Jenner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jenner, with a beautiful gold watch and the following address:

Dear Miss Jenner.—We, a few of your friends and co-workers with you in the Master's vineyard, being now met together, deem it a fitting opportunity of showing to you in a humble manner our appreciation of the faithful and efficient service you have rendered our church. In looking back over the years we have been associated together we have always found you ready to assist in every good work. As a member of our choir, of the Christian Endeavor Society, and for the past year, as organist of our church, you have by your kindness and devotion to duty won our respect, our confidence and warmest love. We now ask you to accept this watch as a slight token of our gratitude and good will. We pray that your future may be a bright one and that God will abundantly bless you and keep you as His.

Signed on behalf of the congregation and choir of St. John's Presbyterian Church.

AN AWFUL MISTAKE

Physician Prescribes Nuxvomica for a Kingston Lady With the Result That She is Paralyzed.

A Thrilling Experience Resulting From a Doctor's Blunder—Fortunately She Recovered and Tells the Story of the Whole Incident.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 3.—(Special).—That Mrs. E. Lake, of 112 Clarence street, this city, is alive to-day, is a matter of wonder. She says:

"My sickness was brought about by an overdose of Strychnine prescribed by a physician. It brought on Paralysis affecting my left side, brain, arm, and limbs. I was perfectly helpless and it was impossible for me to raise my left limb or open my fingers. I got no sleep, and when I dozed my eyes remained open. I had not the power to close my eyelids. I suffered almost continually with headache."

"My brain felt as though it was too large for the skull. My appetite failed and I became very emaciated, indeed, I was nothing but skin and bones."

"I was three years under treatment, many physicians having me under their care, but without avail. At last I became discouraged and gave up all treatment."

"While reading a paper one day I noticed a testimony of one who was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"My sister procured me a box of the pills and I started on the pills three times a day. I soon began to experience a change for the better which continued until I regained the use of my arm, hand and limb. My headache also ceased and my appetite returned."

"From this I soon picked up flesh and strength until I was as well as ever."

"I thank God and Dodd's Kidney Pills for my health for by prayer and this wonderful remedy, I was cured and have remained in good health ever since, although this was over five years ago."

The Economist.
He purchased his wife a sealskin sack
And from an explorer he bought a suit
Of the thickest kind of fur;
He ordered some muffs and boots and
The finest that he could find.

Till his friends were alarmed for his sanity
They thought he had lost his mind.
He lined the house with polar bear rugs
And slept upon cakes of ice.

And the neighbors declared he should be Locked up.
But his wife overlooked their advice.
For his madness had method, as he explained:

"We're not going to search for the pole.
We're going to keep warm this winter;
This plan
Is cheaper than buying coal."

THE SONG OF THE SHIRT.

With fingers weary and worn,
With eyelids heavy and red,
A woman sat in an armchair,
Plying her needle and thread—
Sew! Sew! Sew!

In poverty, hunger and dirt,
And still with a voice of dolorous pitch
She sang the "Song of the Shirt!"

"O men, with sisters dear!
O men, with mothers and wives!
It is not linen you're wearing out,
But human creatures' lives!"

Sew! Sew! Sew!
In poverty, hunger and dirt,
Sewing at once with a double thread,
A shroud as well as a shirt.

"Work—work—work!"
My labor never flags;
And what are its wages? A bed of straw,
A crust of bread—and rags.

That shatter'd roof—and this naked floor—
A table—a broken chair—
And a wall so blank, my shadow I thank
For sometimes falling there!

"Oh! but for one short hour!
A respite, however brief!"
No blessing leisure for love or hope,
But only time for grief!

A little weeping would ease my heart,
But in their lethargy
My tears must stop for every drop
Hinders needle and thread.

FAMOUS BROOKFIELD STABLE.

The Great Stables of Baroness Burdett-Guthrie
Countess Seen by a Canadian.

In my last letter I wrote of the visit of some of the Canadian Ministers to Holly Lodge, the residence of Sir and the Baroness Burdett-Guthrie, near London, where the famous Brookfield stud is kept. Highgate is close to Hampstead Heath, famous in all the annals of London life, and the public owe to the host at Holly Lodge the successful issue of what is known as the "Hampstead Death Act," by which Parliament Hill and an additional three hundred acres of land became a public recreation ground in 1885.

The lunch concluded, the majority of the guests strolled down to the stud stables, which are situated at the foot of the hill, which was once the scene of a curious stampede of rebels, who had taken up this high point of vantage to watch for the destruction of the Parliament buildings by Guy Fawkes. Our host led the way down a shaded path between great banks of holly and rhododendron, with his Indian Highness, Sir Porter Singh, who, one day, was almost courtly of Imperial Highnesses to be found in the group of distinguished men sent to the coronation of King Edward. It is very clearly to be seen that this Indian Prince has never walked when it is possible to ride. He has the gait of the cavalryman, and the smartest of patent leather footgear, which looked curiously out of keeping with the tight, grey trousers which clung to the legs of the English of neither extremities and still more out of keeping with the low-collared frock coat of fine dark cloth which reached below the knees, and the magnificent turban of delicate moist puggaree, which was wrapped about his dark face in a most becoming fashion. I wonder if in my last letter I spoke of the Chinese Ambassador and his wife, and little girl of about eight, one of whose attendants accompanied her parents everywhere, dressed in the quaint garb of her country, and evidently "taking in" the "topsy-turvy" world which her Chinese master must have thought exists in this part of the globe. Not a little bored, I expect, by the lonely position she is forced to occupy, is this rather large-eyed and not at all unprepossessing little Chinese girl. Her mother has the most charmingly genial face, a great contrast to the grave lord and master, who is a good-looking type of Li Hung Chang. Evidently there were no more keenly interested spectators of the beautiful horse show we were treated to than the Chinese and the Indians of Mr. Burdett-Guthrie. And what of the horses and grooms and jockeys which were brought out by the staff grooms and stablemen for our inspection as we sat sheltered from the sun watching the moving pictures, which had for a background, the stable walls where the Brookfield stud is kept?

Possibly not a more beautiful scene in the animal kingdom is to be witnessed than one of those well-bred and splendidly groomed mares, with her healthy young progeny close to her side. There was a splendid quiver of excitement and pride in the attitude of each famous mare as she brought with her before the audience assembled, what her owner's heart held for her was the reproduction, and often the reproduction made perfect of her own magnificent personality. Rosa Bonheur or Lady Butler would have simply delighted in these pictures, which pass all too quickly before us. There is no class of horse-breeding which could appeal with greater charm to the artistic sense than this hackney strain, which in truth represents the very best form which "horsemanship" can assume. A well-ordered establishment, a comfortable country home, seen nothing without a few well-bred horses for general utility purposes as an accompaniment. Race horses may lead to undesirable connections, and hunters are to those who do not follow the hounds a selfish luxury, but the delights and comforts of country life, the most sane and wholesome type of life in Great Britain, and, indeed, in the whole world, are those which we connect with the possession of well-bred and carefully-bred horses of the types which were represented by the stables at Brookfield. The relationship which exists between the human being and the docile and well-trained inhabitants of well-kept home stables is a very charming one, and the assurance that is given to the buyer at such stables as we were invited to inspect is one which makes it vastly easier for the majority of people to purchase without too great expenditure of thought and anxiety.—Lally Bérard, in Toronto Globe.

When it comes to football, I believe the sportsmen furnish the majority of the bawls.

Who shoots all the ducks that from sportsmen are bringing in from Erieau?

I wonder if the new Minister of Public Works will give the improvements that Tarte promised at Erieau.

It has been discovered that men of talent live long. This explains the low death rate around The Planet office.

Who says advertising doesn't pay? The city advertised for wood, and now the dealers have to pay a double price.

November started auspiciously with September weather. Saturday was as nice a day as we could look for, and Sunday was no better.

The Chatham football club was given the game on Saturday, but as the colored man would say, "that was de fault of Wallaceburg."

The W. C. T. U. are going to pray for the editors; but it has been the man with a penchant for free notices who has preyed on editors ever since papers were first started.

It was a bright Maple City student, who when the teacher asked for an example of the quality heat has of expanding and the quality cold has of contracting, replied that we had the longest days in summer and the shortest days in winter.

The great Maple City Club debated on Saturday evening the old, old topic, resolved that Shelly's "Cloud" is a greater poem than Tennyson's "Bryok." Tennyson in his poem on the Brook remarks something about Men may come and men may go, but the Brook goes on forever. Lord Alfred never knew the Macaulay Club, or he would have said the same thing about their subject.

NO OPPOSITION

Montreal, Oct. 31.—Mr. Tarte has a rather remarkable article in the Patrie to-night. It has generally been understood that the appointment of Mr. Prefontaine as Mr. Tarte's successor would not be palatable to the ex-Minister or his friends, as Mr. Prefontaine has been one of Mr. Tarte's strongest opponents. From the tone of to-night's article, it would seem as if the ex-Minister was inclined to take a broader view of such matters than some of his opponents have given him credit for. "Who will be Minister of Public Works?" asks Mr. Tarte. "Mr. Prefontaine, authorized by the statement that he would have to decline the Speakership if it were offered him. That would seem to indicate that Mr. Prefontaine might be the right to the portfolio left vacant by the retirement of Mr. Tarte. La Patrie does not know, neither have we ever sought to know the intentions of the Prime Minister. Whatever conclusion he reaches, or whatever choice he makes, La Patrie will not make that unreasonable and very often ferocious opposition, to which Mr. Tarte was exposed to the public man who becomes Minister of Public Works."

CUSTOMS FEES

A. E. Pilkey, of the Customs Department, reports the following collections for the month of October at the different customs stations in this district:

Ridgetown, $844.95.
Blenheim, $596.37.
Glencoe, $68.68.
Tilbury, $104.35.
Ranney, $96.
Rondeau, $1,285.00.
Chatham, $8,551.61.

The collections in Chatham during October of last year were $9,788.67, so that there is a decrease this year in October of $1,237.66. This is a big decrease, but it is largely owing to the good corn crop last year and the poor one this year. Last year's collections for October were largely on corn harvesters, which were shipped here in large numbers. This year of course owing to the failure of the corn crop there are very few harvesters being shipped in.

Rondeau has shown up well this year with $1,285.00 in collections. This is far in excess of any previous month's collections there, and is directly due to the duty on the coal shipped in by the Lake Erie. Now that the new coal hoist is completed and working, Rondeau will no doubt develop into a lively customs port.

A PARK DOCK

Commodore Mills, of Detroit, returned home on Saturday on his yacht the Cynthia, after visiting his Maple City friends. The Commodore is well known in the city and is always a welcome visitor. His yacht is one of the finest on the lakes and is always the subject of much admiration wherever he goes.

"There is one great drawback to pleasure yachts coming to Chatham," said W. N. Morley, a great friend of the Commodore's, Saturday. "and that is that we have no good dock for them to tie up to. Mr. Mills said that if we had a good landing here he knew of several Detroit peo-

The general health of a woman is inseparably related to the local womanly health. When the delicately womanly organism is diseased, the body loses plumpness, the cheeks lose their roses, and a nervous and fretful condition becomes habitual.

Thousands of sick women who have been cured of diseases peculiar to the sex by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have testified to the restoration of the general health when the local disease was cured.

"Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I used four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' writes Mrs. Elmer B. Shearer, of Mount Pleasant, Pa., and can say that I am cured of that dread disease, uterine trouble. Am in better health than ever before. Everyone who knows me is surprised to see me look so well. In June when I wrote to you, I was so poor in health that at times I could not walk. You answered my letter and told me what to do. I followed your advice, and today am cured. I tell everybody that with God's help Dr. Pierce's medicines cured me. If these few words are any use to you, you are welcome to use them. They might help some other poor suffering woman."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 large pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps, to pay expense of customers and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ple who would like nothing better than a trip up to Chatham. The Commodore himself likes Chatham very much and enjoys his visits here. I myself would like to see the old park dock overhauled and fixed up as a landing for excursion parties. Green sod steps could be made in the bank from the dock to the top and it would not only be very useful for a landing but it would also beautify that point of the park and make a very pretty view from the Fifth street bridge. This point has always been an eyecore in our otherwise picturesque city and I think it is a matter which the council might well deal with."

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA

A CURE FOR ALL

Not a Patent Cure-all, Nor a Modern Miracle, but Simply a Rational Cure for Dyspepsia.

In these days of humbuggery and deception, the manufacturers of patent medicines, will not sell unless they claim that it will cure every disease under the sun. And they never think of leaving out dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They are sure to claim that their nostrum is absolutely certain to cure every dyspepsia and he need look no further.

In the time of those absurd claims it is refreshing to note that the proprietors of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have carefully refrained from making any undue claims or false representations regarding the merits of this most excellent remedy for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They make but one claim for it, and that is, that for indigestion and various stomach troubles, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a radical cure. They go no further than this and any man or woman suffering from indigestion, chronic or nervous dyspepsia, who will give the remedy a trial, will find that nothing is claimed for it that the facts will not fully sustain.

It is a modern discovery, composed of harmless vegetable ingredients acceptable to the weakest or most delicate stomach. Its great success in curing stomach troubles is due to the fact that the medical properties are such that it will digest whatever wholesome food is taken into the stomach, no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not. It rests the overworked organ and replenishes the body, the blood, the nerves, creating a healthy appetite, gives refreshing sleep and the blessings which always accompany a good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

In using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets no dieting is required. Simply eat plenty of wholesome food and take one of these tablets at each meal thus assisting and resting the stomach which rapidly regains its proper digestive powers, when the tablets will be no longer required.

Nervous dyspepsia is simply a condition in which some portion or portions of the nervous system are not properly nourished. Good digestion invigorates the nervous system and every organ in the body.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at 50 cts. per package.

The Wesley Bicentenary.

Worldwide Methodism is beginning to interest itself in the bicentenary of the birth of John Wesley, which event will occur in June of next year, says The London Telegraph. On the other side of the Atlantic, where Methodism is remarkably strong, extensive arrangements are being made for its due observance. No definite steps have yet been taken by the parent body in this country (England), but it is likely to come before the conference, which meets soon in Manchester. It will be interesting to many to learn that the journals and letters of John Wesley are to be brought out in a new, enlarged and specially edited form, under the direction of the Wesleyan book-room, in the near future. They will be a suitable memorial to the famous evangelist who nearly 200 years ago first saw the light at Epworth rectory.

Theatrical

WHEN WE WERE TWENTY-ONE.

"When We Were Twenty-one," at the Grand to-night.

The following is a clipping from to-day's London Free Press, where "When We Were Twenty-one" Co played at the new Grand on Saturday night last:

The love scene in the last act of "When We Were Twenty-one" is worth alone the price of admission. There is imparted to it a warmth of natural coloring that is original and absorbing, and it comes as a very pleasing conclusion to a production in which interest never wanes. Phyllis Ericson (Meta Rogers), the lovely girl whom Carewe would unselfishly have married to his ward, the "Imp," and Carewe (Walter Walker), the bachelor of middle age, who wished himself ten years younger, discover each to be in love with the other in a way that does not call for any stretch of ordinary sentimental incident, and that at the same time has been managed with consummate dramatic skill. Mr. Walker gave a strong characterization, with touches of comedy that were very artistic. Miss Rogers brings to her aid a personal charm of manner that is indispensable. Robert Robson is soldierly, with the confident demeanor of an officer in the role of Col. Miles Graham, and as Terrence McGrath, the doctor, George Ferguson showed a happy mastery of the brogue. Much of the success of the play depends upon the ward and the woman of the world, and both parts were satisfactorily sustained. In the latter character Marie Hunt made a favorable impression. As the ward, William Wagner gave an intelligent representation of the youth who has lost his head rather than his heart to the wiles of a scheming, beautiful woman, but who finally comes to an understanding of who are his friends. Introduced into "When We Were Twenty-one" are some dashes of dialogue that brighten with wit and humor. The tone of the romance is altogether clean and wholesome.

GYPSY JACK.

Willis Granger in the melodramatic success, "Gypsy Jack," will be the attraction at the Grand on Thursday evening, Nov. 6. This production comes to us heralded by the most favorable accounts, and seems to be winning quite an enviable reputation as a money getter.

The play relates the story of a boy who has been adopted by the hand of gypsies that stole him, and who is told on the death-bed of the queen of the tribe, that he is the son of a rich nobleman. He starts out to find his father and prove his right to the title of heir to the name and estates of his father. He is supposed to be dead, and his cousin, Dorothy Dexter, as next of kin, is looked upon as the heir to the property when Sir John Dexter dies. The son of Sir John's solicitor, named Skinner, seeks the hand of Dorothy, in order that he may be possessed of the estates when the Earl dies. He had previously been secretly married to a young gypsy girl who now stands in the way of his project. He determines to get rid of her, and accordingly entices her into a wood, where he murders her. Jack is arrested by young Skinner as a poacher, and two later endures a fasten the murder on the gypsy. Jack, after a series of hard trials, manages to prove his identity, and through his efforts the solicitor's son is convicted of the murder. The story is well told, and in the hands of a capable company.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—10 a. m.—Fresh to strong northwest shifting to southwest winds; fair and slightly cooler. Tuesday, fresh to strong southerly winds, mostly fair, and a little milder again.

THE LOCAL BUDGET

C. I. Star Course reserve seat sale begins on Tuesday.

Dr. Mason sang "The Holy City" in the Park St. Methodist Church last evening.

Harvey McCrae, of Wallaceburg, who has been ill for some time, returned home Saturday evening.

J. W. Kenny's stationary store is undergoing a few improvements including a metallic ceiling, electric lighting and a new front.

Miss Lucy McKellar sang a solo very acceptably in the First Presbyterian Church last evening. With Mrs. Bogart, she also sang a duet.

The chateleine bag, which was advertised in Saturday's issue, was left at this office this morning. Planet advertisements bring quick returns.

NEW INDUSTRY

Chairman Ald. Geo. W. Cowan, of the Industrial Committee, has been doing a little industrial work on his own hook of late. He has been in communication with an eastern firm in the iron industry and has persuaded them that Chatham will be an excellent spot to locate. The capital of the company will be from $150,000 to $200,000 and will the first year erect buildings 240 by 60 feet, one storey of concrete and steel, and will employ from 40 to 60 hands, mostly skilled mechanics. In a couple of years from their location here they will make large increases to their plant and probably employ from 200 to 300 skilled mechanics and Mechanical experts. Their communications say that what Chatham intends doing in the matter needs to be done quickly and that they don't go begging nor anything like that.

Mr. Cowan has called a meeting of the Industrial committee for three o'clock this afternoon and the matter will come up at the council meeting to-night.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS

A union Sunday school meeting was held in the First Presbyterian Sunday school room last evening to hear the reports from the Chatham delegates who attended the Provincial Sunday school convention recently held at St. Thomas.

The chair was taken by Fred Stone and short reports were read by Rev. J. H. Osterhout, B. A., and Warren Martin. Rev. Mr. Cobbedick and others also took part in the meeting. The reports read were very interesting and thankfully received.

A resolution was introduced, and passed by the meeting that a joint meeting of the different churches be held and appoint from them a united committee to act in concert with the Provincial Association. The meeting last evening lasted for over an hour.

HONORED HIM

Dr. A. W. Thornton, of this city, Appointed Professor at Ontario Dental College.

Dr. A. W. Thornton is receiving the congratulations of his friends to-day over his appointment to a professor's chair in the Ontario Dental College, Toronto.

Two weeks ago Dr. Thornton received a letter from one of the directors of the Royal College of Dental Surgeons telling him that the chair for crown and bridge work was vacant, and asking him to accept the position. The doctor replied that on account of his practice here it would be impossible for him to accept the position at present, but offered to give a course of 20 lectures in the college after the new year, one lecture to be given each day.

The board met last Friday, when the position was awarded to Dr. Thornton on his own terms. This will not necessitate his leaving Chatham, although he will be away from his office for that length of time. The doctor is certainly to be congratulated on the honor he has received in securing the position, being chosen from all of the doctors in the Ontario Dental Society. In order to secure his services the directors of the college have postponed the lectures at the doctor's request until the beginning of the new year. These lectures were heretofore given before Christmas.

A GOOD WORKER

Jack Austin, one of the most enthusiastic sportsmen in the Maple City, left yesterday for the Northwest where he will spend the winter. Mr. Austin has done much in the way of encouraging sport in Chatham this summer, both in baseball and football. His last day in Chatham was spent in selling badges for the football game on Saturday. It was found when he handed in his returns to Mr. Sissons, that he had sold 146. The football club are very grateful to him for his assistance and are exceedingly sorry to see him leave the city.

SUCCESSFUL ANNIVERSARY

Excellent Sermons and Splendid Music at William St. Baptist Church.

Rev. William Steward, D. D., Occupied the Pulpit and Delivered Eloquent Discourses.

The anniversary services of William street Baptist church were held yesterday and were very well attended. Rev. William Steward, D. D., principal of the Bible Training school, Toronto, preached at both services, and in the afternoon lectured on "Jesus is Coming."

The music rendered during the services, under the direction of the choir leader and organist, Miss Hayne, was of a very high order and well rendered. The program of the day was as follows:

Morning.

Opening chorus—"All Hail," by full choir.

"Jubilate in D," by Thicksten.

Solo—"The Saint and the Sinner"—S. N. Gardiner.

Evening.

Thou wilt keep Him in perfect peace—Anthem—"Te Deum"—Thicksten.

Duet by Misses Oldenham and C. Jordan; solo, Mr. Carnovsky.

"Pilgrim's Song"—Prother.

Solo—"When the day is Over"—Mrs. R. V. Bray.

In the afternoon Miss Belle Riddell sang "Face to Face."

The discourses of Mr. Steward were very much enjoyed and very interesting.

In the evening he took his text from the fifth chapter of John and the 29th verse, "Search the Scriptures."

Before the sermon Mr. Steward read a letter he had received from a former pastor of the church, Mr. Campbell, who was pastor from 1867 to 1875. Mr. Campbell stated in the letter that he was glad Mr. Steward was coming to Chatham and wished the church and its members much success.

Mr. Campbell is one of the most successful American Baptist preachers.

Beginning his sermon Mr. Steward said: The Bible is the oldest and best book in the world. It is the prime of all books and will never have a successor. It is more copied and more fiercely attacked than any other book and yet it comes out every time unscathed and all the world's greatest empires, was sworn to his duties on the Bible, amid the most pompous and pagan ceremonies the world has ever seen.

"Be" continued Mr. Steward, "it is not here for me to make a eulogy on the Bible, it is like an attempt to paint the lily. What I wish to do is to bring before you reasons why we should search the scriptures. It was Jesus who used the words search the scriptures, and he was talking to the Jews at the time. Who would not believe He was the Messiah? He showed them the testimony of John who, He said, was their greatest prophet and had said He was the Messiah. Jesus also pointed out his own works and what God had said, 'This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased.' Lastly he told them to search their own scriptures.

There are other books so-called Bibles and at the Chicago World's Exposition there was a carnival of religions, most of them had Bibles of their own which were altogether different from our Bible. In every case showed the testimony of John who, He said, was their greatest prophet and had said He was the Messiah. Jesus also pointed out his own works and what God had said, 'This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased.' Lastly he told them to search their own scriptures.

The Bible is made up of 66 little books written by 40 different authors, and it took from 1400 to 1500 years to complete the book. The writer's consist of kings and peasants, learned and unlearned, poets and humble men. Every book of the 39 of the Old Testament speaks of Jesus.

In continuing Mr. Steward took the different books of the Old Testament, explaining in what connection they mentioned Jesus Christ.

He spoke of the Bible as more precious than gold, and next to it, "Pilgrim's Progress," Bunyan's great book, had done the most good.

In conclusion he spoke of how Sir Walter Scott had asked for it on his death bed and what a great help it was at all times of trouble.

The informal tea at the church to-night is free to all who wish to go.

Graham Wafers

We have sold Graham Wafers for years, and in that time have tried a great many different firms, but have at last decided that we have found a Biscuit firm, although not the most noted one for Biscuits. We think they do—and our customers will back us up that they do—make the best Graham Wafer on the market. We have just received a fresh supply of these Graham Wafers, in 1 and 2-lb. boxes, and we will guarantee that if you are fond of Graham Wafers that these will more than satisfy you; so much so that you will always ask for this make.

WORLD OF SPORT

FOOTBALL

The Wallaceburg football team did not come to Chatham on Saturday, and hundreds of spectators were disappointed. All the local boys were out in uniform ready for the fray which did not come.

John Piggott, Sr., announced from the band-stand that Wallaceburg at the last moment had sent a telephone message to the effect that they could not come. Mr. Piggott said this was a very snappy trick, especially as they had sent a communication in a couple of days before saying they would be here. They refused to last night two weeks ago with only a few hours' notice. It was not sportsman-like and he thought Wallaceburg should be put out of the league.

Shock Stuart was present on the grounds, as word could not be sent to Windsor in time to stop him. He was also of the opinion that Wallaceburg should be put out of the league. Messrs. Wooliver and Beatty, of the Wallaceburg team, were in the city, having come in in the morning. They explained to President Laurie that their team had made every arrangement to come and when they (Wooliver and Beatty) left in the morning had every intention of coming. Mr. Wooliver called up Taylor, secretary of their team, by phone, and found out that some of the business men of the town would not let the boys off, consequently a team could not be collected.

President Laurie decided, pending a meeting of the league, that the Wallaceburg team would not be any further punished than that the game was defaulted to Chatham.

Notwithstanding the fact that Wallaceburg didn't show up, Sam Mercer picked up a team on the park, consisting of Chatham intermediates, a couple of Darrell and a couple of Wallaceburg men, and defeated the city line-up by a score of 1 to 0.

In the last half, however, an unfortunate accident happened, by which Harry Anderson was somewhat injured. Drs. J. L. Bray and Seane, who were on the park at the time, were called, and upon examination at the Mineral Bath House found his left shoulder was dislocated. Mr. Anderson, however, is getting along nicely and attended to his duties this morning, as usual; somewhat disfigured, it is true, but still able to play.

This is the second unfortunate accident to the team this season. In the first game here with Sandwich, Mr. Sheldon was very badly injured and is now in St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from typhoid fever.

The College and High School will play to-morrow evening at 4.15. Their last game resulted in a tie, with neither team having scored, and the game to-morrow will decide which is the better team. The College boys have a couple of new men whom, they say, will show up as stars.

Notwithstanding the discouragements the Chatham team has suffered, Capt. Pettit is pluckily preparing to reinforce the team and, notwithstanding the misfortunes, still intends to make an honest effort to land the cup. At 4.30 this afternoon regular practice will be held. The match committee are energetically preparing a rearrangement of the team to cover the misfortunes experienced.

The probability that Wm. H. Brackin, the present inside right man, will go to the outside wing, with Wm. McK. Messer's as his partner. R. W. Angus will probably play inside left, with Rev. Mr. Kellington on the outside. It is possible if Capt. Laurie gets into the game, that C. B. Sissons, the present star half-back, may come up on the forward line.

In any event the team will be rearranged and practice energetically taken. Students of the game say that Brackin and Messer will materialize into one of the fastest right wings in the league, while, if Sissons is on the forward line, the attack of the Chatham team will be much strengthened and very aggressive.

Darrell plays at Wallaceburg next week, while the week following the Chatham team will play at Chatham. The local players two weeks in which to perfect practice in their new positions.

LETTER BOX

HE EXPLAINS.

To the Editor of The Planet:
In your issue of Saturday the last inst. I noticed a grave reflection upon my name as former county constable in connection with the arrest of the Freemans in Raleigh, culminating in the unfortunate murder of Constable Robert Rankin. Your article states that "he told Major Coogan that there never would have been any murder if it hadn't been for Macdonald." I am, of course, the Macdonald, referred to. Now, what are the facts? Surely a lengthy trial at London lasting nearly a week, was the best place to place responsibility upon all concerned in that tragedy. A very large number of witnesses were examined and the learned judge made a lengthy elaborate charge to the jury detailing every move and circumstance in the whole case, and it is sufficient for me, I should judge, to say that neither from the witness box nor from the learned judge was the slightest comment or reflection cast upon my conduct in the discharge of my duties as constable.

"CRAZY PARTY"

A small-pox sign displayed on the front of the residence of A. J. Wilson, William street, did not appear to keep the people away Friday evening even though it was brightly illuminated so that all might have ample warning. On the contrary, it seemed to attract, for about eight o'clock a crowd began to assemble and soon the house contained about twenty-five of the craziest people ever let loose. The occasion was a crazy Halloween party given by Miss Anna Wilson. After the guests had arrived and recovered from the shock of the first sign, they were guided up stairs by ghosts and spirits who guarded them all the way up. Upon coming down stairs they were greeted by another sign, reading "Wilson's Asylum," and to describe the interior of the house would be simply impossible. The young people had a succession of surprises from the sign without to the chambers of horror within. The most striking features of the evening were the brain pie, eruption of Mr. Vesuvius and Gypsy fortune telling. It was a jolly affair and greatly enjoyed by all.
