COUNTY COUNCIL SPEAKS OUT FOR JUSTICE IN LICENSE CASE

Representatives of the People of Kent, Irrespective of Politics, Unanimously Pass Resolution to Lay Before Commissioners. James Chinnick, of the Conservative Executive, Takes Initiative and is Heartily Endorsed by Every Conservative at the Council. An Earnest and Representative Request to the License Board in the Pleasance Case.

Moved by James P. Chinnick, seconded by Edward Bacon, and resolved: "That from our knowledge of the Rankin House as conducted by the present proprietor, and from the experience obtained by personal experience at the house and also from our knowledge of the great patronage accorded the house by the people from all parts of the County, in our opinion it is most highly desirable that the license of the present proprietor should be renewed and, further, that in view of the many additional facilities and increased equipment made to the hotel premises and the improvement in the tone of the house since the acquisition of the place by Mr. Pleasance, it would, in our opinion, not only be a grave injustice to him and his family, but would be a most serious disappointment to the many county patrons of the house if his license is refused. We would therefore respectfully suggest and request that the License Commissioners for West Kent should reconsider their action in regard to Mr. Pleasance's license, and that they should grant him the usual hotel license.

"And that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Commissioners."

The above resolution was passed by the corporation of the County of Kent in Council assembled shortly before noon at this morning's session, as representing in an earnest and emphatic way the sentiment of the people of this district, irrespective of politics. Following as it does the signed petition of the members of the City Council to the same effect—and in view of the fact that both municipal bodies are Conservative in political complexion—it forms a clear index to the public sentiment on this matter and, we doubt not, be given the best consideration by the License Commissioners, enabling them to inaugurate that non-political administration of the license laws so clearly outlined in the splendid letter of the Provincial Secretary, Hon. J. W. Hanna.

It is happily significant that the resolution was introduced by County Commissioner James Chinnick, of Raleigh Township, who is a prominent and esteemed member of the executive committee of the West Kent Conservative Association, and seconded by County Commissioner Ed. Brien, of Ridgetown, who holds a similar position in the East Kent Conservative Association, and that it was heartily supported by every Conservative at the Council Board.

Mr. Chinnick asked permission to introduce at this morning's session a resolution which he believed would have the endorsement of every one in our county.

Permission being granted, shortly before the noon adjournment Messrs. Chinnick and Brien introduced the resolution, the text of which is given.

Warden Vester—While I am most heartily in accord with the sentiments of the resolution, may it not be considered that we are overstepping our jurisdiction in dealing with this matter?

Mr. Chinnick—It is an earnest recommendation and suggestion. It appeals for right and justice and the passing of this resolution will be a good act strongly upheld by the people of our county. The sentiment of the people of the county in this matter is very strong as we all know and I think it our duty as their representatives to convey their sentiments respectfully to the Commissioners. I do not think we are in any way overstepping our position and I earnestly believe in the justice, fairness and rightness of this resolution.

Mr. Haggart, of Blenheim—Our position may be questionable. For myself I believe thoroughly that Mr. Pleasance is entitled to his license, but I don't know whether we should pass this resolution. If the Commissioners haven't got sense enough to grant the license, we needn't mind. It isn't our fault.

Mr. Arthur Stewart, Chatham Tn.—For myself I think Mr. Pleasance should get his license. I know that is the strong feeling of the people and I would like to see him get it. I don't know what is the Council's position on the resolution, but I have no objection.

Warden Vester—There is no doubt that Mr. Pleasance should in all justice have his license.

The Warden then put the motion, every member, except Mr. Haggart (Liberal) supporting it. Mr. Haggart did not vote.

LIBRARY BOARD

Regular Monthly Meeting of the Able Managers of Chatham's Public Library Held Last Evening.

The Public Library Board last evening experienced the same difficulty in regard to lights as the School Board did the evening before. The severe electrical storm last Tuesday evening was the cause of the burning out of the electric light transformer at the library and the damage was not noticed until the janitor tried to turn on the lights last evening, when it was too late to repair the damage. The Board, however, were able to perform their duties with the aid of a coal oil lamp.

Nothing specially important outside of routine business was done. There were present Chairman Humphrey and Messrs. A. Sheldrick, Dr. Charteris, S. M. Smith, W. J. Twohey, W. Anderson and Fred Stone.

Several monthly accounts were passed and ordered paid. The regular monthly report of the Librarian was very satisfactory and was received and filed.

A representative of a firm selling views of different countries was present and addressed the Board. The members of the Board were convinced of the excellence of the views and placed an order for the library of 175 views of Canada and Japan. Mr. Sheldrick suggested that the Secretary write the different charitable societies in the city, such as the Ontario's Assisting Society, Ladies of the Home, Children's Aid, etc., offering them the free use of the Library Auditorium for holding their meetings. This action was decided upon and any of these societies will be granted free access to the Library Auditorium.

This Board of gentlemen deserve great credit for the manner in which they conduct the business of this public institution. They have made the Library one of the most up-to-date institutions in Ontario and are holding to this high standard. They have recently introduced a new system of allowing borrowers to select their own books from the stacks and it is understood the scheme is working out well and is highly satisfactory to all concerned.

GOOD RESULTS

Delegation Well Received at Ottawa—Ask Relief From River Floods.

Ex-Warden Wm. Hickey, Reeve of Tilbury, who has just returned from Ottawa, where he was one of a committee appointed to interview the Premier of Canada in reference to relief from river floods, reports that the committee met with success in their endeavors to interest the Government in a scheme to make a dredge out from the river to Lake Erie. In giving a report of the trip he said:

"We interviewed the Premier and the Minister of Militia and were very favorably received by them. Mr. Wilfrid Laurier, with us and he put the matter very plainly and forcibly to the two Ministers. We showed how many thousands of dollars had been spent in drainage schemes in this county and how the only outlet for the immense amount of water thus drained was through the River Thames and how so much water could not be contained by the river and the natural result is a flood every spring.

"Sir Wilfrid went very carefully over the petition and acknowledged it was a very important matter. He enquired as to our drainage laws and seemed to be quite interested in our case. Mr. Wilson showed how this one little river drained thousands of acres of land, and Sir Wilfrid promised that as soon as the Minister of Public Works gets back from his little trouble in London he will place the matter before him and ask him for a report on it.

"It is my opinion that something will be done. We tried to get Gen. Stephen to go with us but he was out of town. Mr. Borden and Mr. Clements, however, have promised to work in our interests and Archie Campbell, M.P., promised to do everything in his power to forward the scheme.

"I am sure," said Mr. Hickey, "if everyone in the county works together in this and politics is left out of it altogether, something beneficial to the County of Kent will result."

Reeve Hugh Cummings, of Chatham Township, also returned with Mr. Hickey.

PEACE TERMS OF JAPAN

Russian Ambassadors Instructed to Find What They Are.

Looks As If President Roosevelt's Efforts to Bring the Belligerents Together Are Bearing Fruit, and That, Now That Delcasse is Out, He Will Be the Man-of the Hour in the Negotiations.

St. Petersburg, June 8.—As a result of the meeting of the Council of Ministers held at Tsarkoe Selo Tuesday instructions were telegraphed yesterday afternoon to the Russian Ambassadors at Washington and Paris to the effect that Russia is desirous of learning Japan's peace conditions.

The efforts that President Roosevelt has been making to bring the belligerents together entered on a distinctly new phase Tuesday night. Foreign Minister Lamoriniere had an audience of the Emperor in the afternoon upon the subject of Ambassador Cassini's communication and at 11 o'clock Tuesday night U. S. Ambassador Meyer called upon Count Lamoriniere at the Chancellery and remained with the Foreign Minister for some time. Whether this visit was upon the invitation of Count Lamoriniere or at the request of the Ambassador cannot definitely be stated, but there is reason to believe that the visit was in obedience to instructions from Washington conveying a personal communication from the President to the Emperor tendering his good offices.

The result was that yesterday Mr. Meyer went to Tsarkoe Selo in full uniform and was received in special audience by the Emperor. Upon his return to St. Petersburg in the afternoon Mr. Meyer hastened to the embassy, whence he sent a long cipher despatch to Washington. Half an hour later he was closeted with Sir Charles Hardinge, the British Ambassador.

Delcasse Was a Friend.

The present situation is extremely delicate and the greatest reticence is observed. The Foreign Office is desirous, this being the Emperor's birthday, and at the American embassy no statement could be procured yesterday afternoon. Nevertheless, there are some collateral indications that the Emperor's response was favorable. The sudden retirement of the Foreign Minister, Mr. Delcasse, who was regarded as not only one of the strongest supporters of the dual alliance, but as one of the staunchest friends of Russia, was a great blow to Russia and rendered President Roosevelt's friendly tender particularly opportune.

Russia Refuses Peace.

Vienna, June 8.—It is learned here last night that the Russian Government has informed its diplomatic representatives abroad, including Count Cassini, the Ambassador at Washington, that the time for Russia to conclude peace had not yet come, and that when it does arrive Russia will open peace negotiations with Japan independent of foreign intervention.

Diplomatic Interviews.

London, June 8.—Ambassador Reid visited Foreign Secretary Lansdowne at the Foreign Office yesterday afternoon. Paul Cambon, the French Ambassador, was also present. The nature of the interview was not announced.

Washington, June 8.—Major Desplanches, Ambassador of Italy to the United States, had a conference with President Roosevelt yesterday afternoon by appointment.

The Friendly Channel.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—Preliminary peace negotiations between Russia and Japan are generally believed to be under way and it is conceded that President Roosevelt in all probability will act not as a mediator, but as "the friendly channel of communication." There is as yet no official admission that Russia has accepted what Count Cassini in his cablegram to Count Lamoriniere last week described as the offer of good will of the President.

Immediately upon his return to his legation last night after a long conference with President Roosevelt, Mr. Takahira, the Japanese Minister, began the preparation of a despatch to the Government on which he was occupied until quite late. "The situation is too delicate in this moment for me to say anything," the Minister remarked.

TOGO'S TERRIBLE GUN FIRE

40 Gaping Holes in the Hull of the Battleship Orel.

Tokio, June 8.—A correspondent of the Associated Press has been permitted to inspect the Russian battleship Orel, now lying at Matsuru. The Orel received a terrible battering. Her hull shows 40 gaping holes, pierced by large shells, and many smaller, where she had been hit, while the superstructure, her upper works and upper decks were riddled by shells, steel fragments and splinters. The starboard forward 75-inch gun was smashed 16 feet from the muzzle, either by shell or by explosion. A fragment of the gun went over the bridge, smashing the rail, and after carrying away the breach of a 12-pounder, buried itself in the signal locker.

From the main deck upward the condition of the vessel was terrible to behold. Steel partitions were smashed, the gangway was broken and stanchions wrecked. Gear of various kinds covered the decks and the state of the alleyways shows that the ship was aflame several times. The mark of the flames increased the scope of desolation. The main armor belt is intact. The turret armor generally withstood the battering from shells, although two of the six-inch turrets were rendered unserviceable by shots which struck close to the base. Several smaller guns were dismounted and smashed. A gruesome sight was a bulkhead besmattered with blood fragments of

One dollar in American money although it is foreign currency will go farther in the purchase of a Hammock at our store than the same amount of any kind of money will do at any other store in the city. We buy only the best quality of Hammocks and sell them at a smaller margin of profit. If you need a Hammock this year you might as well have one of ours and be sure of getting the worth of your money. We have Hammocks at 50c but they are not much good.

We have Hammocks at 75c that are a little better.

We have Hammocks at $1.50 which are good.

We have Hammocks at $2.50 which are first class.

We have Hammocks at $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00 that cannot be duplicated at the price in Canada.

Come and see us about Hammocks.

The Orel is sound structurally, although it will be necessary to practically reconstruct her from the water damage. The conditions of the ship shows that the crew underwent a terrible ordeal before they surrendered.

Enquest Must Stay.

Manila, June 8.—Rear-Admiral Enquist received at 2 o'clock this morning the following cable despatch from St. Petersburg:

"Remain at Manila at the disposition of the American Government. Effect repairs as much as possible. (Signed) Nicholas."

Increased Against the U. S.

St. Petersburg, June 8.—The Russian press, notably The Novoye Vremya and The Russ, the latter frequently reflecting the views of the Foreign Office, display a great deal of resentment against the United States for enforcing the 24-hour rule in the case of the three Russian cruisers at Manila.

British Vessel Sighted.

Nagasaki, June 8.—The British steamer Clarendon, chartered by the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha Co. of Tokyo, bound from Shanghai for Kobe, Japan, was stopped on June 2 eighty miles from the bell buoy off the entrance to Wacoan by the Russian transport Rion. A boarding party, after the steamer's paper had been examined, removed her hatch and threw overboard 31 bags of beans, 135 bags of cotton and 12 boxes of antimony. The Russians left again suddenly, stating that the steamer was released. It is supposed that they received a wireless message announcing the approach of Japanese warships.

With the Armies.

Tokio, June 8.—A despatch from the headquarters of the Japanese armies in the field, made public yesterday afternoon, says:

"The enemy's infantry, strength not mentioned, attacked Machuton, two miles north of Weyuampao, early in the morning, June 5, but were repulsed.

"The same day our force, which had advanced to Chahote, nine miles east of Chantu, dislodged the enemy heading for that vicinity and occupied a neighboring eminence. A portion of our cavalry drove the enemy northward toward Chichiatu, 15 miles north of Kwangping and Machitun, seven miles east of Chichiatu, and our troops occupied their vicinities."

BOOKBINDING.

Orders for bookbinding should be left at this office. It is surprising how few a volume can be made of these magazines, even though they are somewhat soiled from much handling. Books, magazines or periodicals bound or rebound in any style at very reasonable prices. Blank books, such as journals, ledgers, day books with any kind of ruling, made to order. All work warranted first class.

Some people seem to keep their affections on toes.

Was Not Able To Walk For Three Months.

Was Given Up To Die. The Doctor Said So.

Burdock Blood Bitters Saved Her Life.

Read what Mrs. Wm. Castloux, Newport, Quebec, has to say about Burdock Blood Bitters: "Last December I fell very sick after confinement. I was not able to walk for three months, and was given up to die by the doctor. My husband read of the many wonderful cures made by Burdock Blood Bitters, so procured me two bottles. After using it for about ten days, I was able to get around, and could mind my baby without help from anyone, and am now well, and able to do my own work. I told a lady friend of mine who was troubled in the same way, and she used it with equal success. I cannot too highly recommend your medicine, for I know just how good it is, and hope and wish that anyone suffering as I did will give it a trial."

THE GAME OF TURTLE.

The Player With the Strongest Muscles Wins Out.

Here's a game for boys and girls who have good, strong muscles. It is called "turtle." Any number may play, and no one player is "it," for all are "it" together. The game commences by each choosing the kind of turtle he intends to be. One perhaps is a land tortoise, another a snapper, another a mud turtle, and so on. Then they all sit in a row, resting their chins on their knees, and each holding his left ankle with his right hand and his right ankle with his left hand. This is a very difficult position to keep. At a given signal the turtles start for a goal a short distance away.

It is the object of the game for the tortoise to waddle to the goal and back to the starting point without removing their hands from their feet. Many let go before the proper moment, the others shout, "Dead turtle!" and keep on, leaving their unfortunate companion in the background. The rules of the game demand that he wait there until the first successful racer reaches him on his way back and touches him with his elbow, by which he is supposed to dash his life into the poor dead turtle. The latter immediately starts out again, and finishes in the best style he can. As there are always several dead turtles, he is never lonely in his effort to succeed. The winner is, of course, the one who returns to the starting place first.

Improvident people are often up in the clouds looking for some of those silver linings.

DR. SLOCUM'S WARNING

THE GERMS OF CONSUMPTION SWARM IN THE LUNG

Consumption who sits on the shore of a public conveyance, hall, or on the street, leaves the seeds of death behind them. In factories, or other places in cities or towns, where consumptives have worked and spat on the floor, the very walls are full of TUBERCLE GERMS. These and other germs are dangerous to those of weakened systems, and the utmost care should be taken to destroy the system and avoid contagion. A teaspoonful of "Feyline" taken before going out will prevent all chance of attack from this source.

EXPLAINS THE SYMPTOMS OF CONSUMPTION
The symptoms of consumption are not hard to discover.
Nightcoughs, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Hemorrhages, Pains in the Chest, Bores, Extreme Exhaustion, Catarrhal Affections of the Throat, and Chest, Dr. Slocum says: "Consumption always, until the last moment, does not believe that anything is the matter with them. They say, 'I am well, I am strong, I am healthy, I will be all right.' Feyline must be taken regularly, for a disease like Consumption cannot be cured by this means. It is well to remember that Feyline is not in the class of patent medicines, but, on the contrary, is the remedy used daily in Dr. Slocum's extensive practice."
Feyline is pronounced S'keen.
For sale at all drug stores in a sample bottle free of charge if your druggist does not have it in stock. Mention druggist's name. Write Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, 170 King Street West, Toronto, Ont.
Dr. Slocum's valuable treatise on the Cause and Prevention of Pulmonary and Bronchial Troubles is sent free to every sufferer.

ONTARIO CROWN LANDS.

Annual Report Shows the Receipts for 1904 Aggregated Over $2,700,000—Mining and Immigration.

The annual report of the Crown Lands Department for 1904 shows that the total receipts for the year were $2,781,272.66, of which $126,568.33 was derived from sales and leases of lands, $2,654,704.33 from mining and forestry, and $4,211.26 from miscellaneous. Disbursements were $2,424,227.37, made up as follows:—Agents' salaries $35,668.90, forest ranging $33,391, fire-rangers $42,999.48, mining development $12,154.31, surveys $101,299.60, refunds $14,691.89, forest reserves $10,121.60, special services $55,836.31.

There was a considerable falling off in the pulpwood taken out during the year owing to the fact that the Sault pulp mills were closed down.

There were 218 fire-rangers on duty last summer, and no serious fires occurred. More will be required this year owing to the extension of the Temiskaming and Rainy River regions.

The Temiskaming Region.

"The Temiskaming region," says the report, "has continued to attract the largest proportion of new settlers, the character of the country as a fine agricultural region being well established. The newly-surveyed townships are reported to be level and well adapted for farming, and many people took up land in them before they were opened up for settlement. The construction of the Temiskaming and Rainy River railway north of New Liskeard and the immediate extension to the proposed junction of the Grand Trunk Pacific will result in there being a continuous settlement from Montreal River to the junction of the two railways. The free grants districts have continued to attract homesteaders, especially the Rainy River district. There were eight townships surveyed in this district during last summer, the lands in which were all applied for as soon as the survey was complete. The best lands in the older free grant districts have been taken up, and the locations are chiefly to sons and relatives of old settlers. The branch of the C. P. R. from Romford, on the mainland, to Byng Inlet is being rapidly carried on, and as soon as it is completed a considerable area of land in the western part of Parry Sound district will be easily accessible for the first time. The construction of the Canadian Northern west of the Muskoka chain of lakes will also open up a region hitherto without facilities. The settlers are fairly prosperous."

Military Land Grants.

Speaking of military land grants, the report says there were 1,610 certificates issued during the year, making a total of 11,860 to date. Location certificates securing the land to the veteran for ten years from date of location were issued to 2,440 veterans, in 124 townships, the great majority being in the Temiskaming and Rainy River districts. Only half of the number entitled to military grants have not yet selected their locations, owing to a desire to secure them in new districts, but in which sufficient lands have not yet been surveyed.

Mining Development.

Of the progress in the mining industry, the report says: "The mining industry continues to develop, and as exploration goes on the extent and variety of the mineral resources of the Province become more apparent. The rich discoveries of native silver and cobalt nickel ores noted in last year's report as having been made near Hall's Bay have excited widespread attention, and additional deposits were brought to light in 1904. Some five or six of the veins have been opened up, and a considerable part of the ores extracted. It may be expected that more of the district will be prospected in 1905, and the demand for mining lands will be stimulated. From appearances Ontario will soon supply the greater part of the world's requirements in cobalt as well as nickel."

Under the mining act $350 acres were sold and patented during the year, realizing $14,861. In addition, $328 acres have been leased at $1 per acre for the first year's rental. "The increase in the immigration of the Province," says the report, "has been very marked during the year, and it is satisfactory that the immigrants have been a very good class, the great majority of them from the mother country. The total immigration of the Province during the year, according to the returns at Dominion immigration agents at the port of entry, was 24,965. Of these, 19,780 were British, 1,177 Scandinavian, 675 Italian, 697 Hebrews, chiefly from Russia."

The Farm Labor. The year of great assistance and distributed 5,000 laborers among the farmers during the year.

The Year's Sales.

The sales during the year were as follows:—Clergy, 236 acres, aggregating $168.25; total collection; these and former sales, $3,764.22; common school lands, 103 acres, at $4.50; total, $72.73; grammar school lands, 521 acres, for $204.12; total collections, $349.28; university lands, 2,781 acres, for $2,175.61; total collection, $1,641.72.

Mink Inside a Codfish.

A codfish with a medium-sized female mink in its inside is the most curious natural phenomenon. C. Eckman, who has just arrived at Vancouver, B. C., from Valdez Island, says that while he was at Tomlinson's camp, popularity among the islanders. The mink, in the "wild" some Indians brought a quantity of freshly-caught cod. When the camp opened up he found the fish-bearing animal. The condition of the mink, which he denotes that it had only one the Jonah act very shortly before the codfish took the hook.

$500 Reward For Women Who Cannot Be Cured.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"I used four bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and one of Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. Elmer D. Shearer, of Mount Hope, Kansas. "I can say that I am cured of that dreaded disease, uterine trouble. Am in better health than ever before. My weight is 125 lbs. I was 110 lbs. when I first took it. I tell everybody that Dr. Pierce's medicines cured me."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay customs and mailing only. Send 50 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y.

Fooled His Fond Father.

Little Harold was very shy before strangers, and when the hostess asked him questions he tucked his head down in his mother's lap and wouldn't answer.

"There is one good thing about our youngster," remarked Harold's father, who had been dragged unwillingly to the Sunday afternoon call. "He will never give away any family secrets. We can count on that."

But her hostess persisted in her questioning.

"What is your name, dear?" "No answer."

"What is papa's name?" "No answer."

"What does papa call mamma? Tell me that, and you shall have the prettiest cake on the dish."

The imp of greed overcame the imp of dumbness, and Harold spoke promptly and distinctly:

"He calls her every morning, he does. 'Mamma, get up and make the fire.' And he calls her just today now. 'Mamma, go by your own self to see your foot folks.' He called mamma that he did."

New York Press.

A Constant Reminder.

After many years of faithful service Maggie announced to her mistress that she intended to be married, and suddenly, the whole domestic establishment was in a state of commotion. Maggie had been so good, so faithful in the hours of trial and tribulation over frozen gas and water and the vagaries of waterbacks and boilers that the house despatched ever of finding a worthy successor.

So it was a keen remembrance of all these things which entered into the consideration of Maggie's mistress as to what to give her for a wedding present. At last it was decided to give her a sum of money, with the request that she purchase something she would use and treasure long. The day before the wedding the present was accordingly given to the maid, and she was simply delighted. She beamed and bubbled and wept a little.

"Now, Maggie," she was told, "you must be sure to get something by which to remember me always."

"Oh, yis, mum, I know what I'll get. I'll get a new set of teeth." New York Post.

HOME DRESSMAKING.

An Important Point For the Amateur to Bear in Mind.

An important point which the home dressmaker must learn is not to depend too closely on her pattern. A professional dressmaker, as a rule, builds her garment from a well fitting lining, but trims and drapes and adds the accessories without any aid but her own ingenuity. The amateur usually buys a pattern and is afraid to alter it by means of a hairbreadth for fear the result will not be satisfactory. This fear of being original is what makes so many garments have the "home-made look," and it should be combated by the worker trying her hand at making a garment after her own ideas, using at first some cheap material easy to handle, which, if it is spoiled, will count for just so much experience gained instead of being a total loss. Money will be saved in the purchase of patterns, and the worker will soon find that by following out her own ideas she will save likewise on material and on time.

One home dressmaker bought a nine gored skirt pattern one year ago, and several skirts of different styles were evolved from that foundation. In one the second and fourth gores were cut off at the knee and a box plait of the goods inserted, with a pretty design of embroidery where the gore and the box plait met. In another the same two gores were cut off about ten inches below the band, and a gathered panel, with a heading, was added, the panel being gathered several times across. Brockton Times.

DISHWASHING.

The Way to Make a Pleasure of This Disagreeable Task.

Do not get discouraged about having to wash dishes 365 days in the year. Dishes must be washed, and of all the many duties that fall to woman's lot this seems to be the most disliked. But there is an ideal way.

The chief things required to make it a pleasure are care, order, plenty of good, hot water and a stack of dry tea towels, two dishcloths and a large enameled bowl. The dishes, when removed from the table, must have each of its kind put together. Put all the cooking utensils on the range and fill them with water until the time comes to clean them.

Have a receptacle in which to place all the scraps that come from the dishes, plates, etc. The most important thing is to have plenty of hot water, not merely warm, but hot, and use some good soap in the water to make your suds. It cleans the greasy meat dishes and plates twice as quickly. Have your mops with handles for deep mouthed jugs, and have nice dishcloths made of cheesecloth.

Begin with the glassware and next china, and follow with spoons, forks, knives, etc. Never use a wet towel. Woman's Life.

DRESS HINTS.

Don't wear your walking dress in the house.

Don't use a cheap, poor ribbon in millinery.

Don't on any account put a dress away without brushing it.

Don't take a bodice off and put it away immediately. Lay it out to air.

Feathers, secured by damp wires, are quickly dried by shaking over fire in which salt has been thrown.

A simple device for fastening lace at the top is to draw the loops the same length as the ends and then knot them tightly.

No one can be healthy who wears tight shoes and high heels. The tight shoes impair the circulation, while the high heels strain the muscles of the back and cause nervousness. The sensible shoe has a low, fat heel.

Use Your Old Papers.

Make your old discarded newspapers serve you as labor saving instead of fuel, and when paring vegetables or cleaning and dressing a chicken do it all on one of these handy papers.

When you are through bundle the paper and its contents into the stove or garbage pail, and you will have no mess to clean up and no pains to wash. Place a paper on the table before cleaning the lamps. It will catch all superfluous oil, bits of soot and dirt, and will save you scrubbing the table.

A newspaper spread on the floor is large enough to catch all the dirt and dust from the carpet sweeper and is easily rolled up and thrown away, while you will not have to brush up part of your kitchen floor as you did when you tried the plan of emptying the sweeper in the coal hod.

Three Kinds of Dressers.

A clever woman has summed up her sex who succeed in the art of dress in three classes this wise: The good dressers, the clever dressers and the intellectual dressers, but of these last there is a hopeless minority. Intellectual dressing depends on one's power of imagination, and of this inward and spiritual grace there is a deficiency. The lady should add to this the fat pocketbook, which alone makes it possible to employ the "dress artist" to think for her client and keep her in the intellectual path.—Boston Herald.

Baked Beets.

Baked beets will please those who are fond of this vegetable in other forms. After boiling till soft, slice and lay out on a platter. On each slice place a bit of butter and salt to taste; next a little paprika dusted lightly over the whole. Upon this place another layer of slices and bake twenty minutes in a moderate oven, basting carefully at intervals. Minced parsley is to be sprinkled over this dish just before serving.

Night Have Been Worse.

Papa (looking over school report)—How is this, Johnny? According to the report you are at the foot of a class of seven pupils.

Johnny—Well, it might have been worse!

Papa—I fail to see how it could have been any worse.

Johnny—Why, these might have been more pupils in the class.

Palpitation of the Heart—Nervous Prostration—Cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

They make weak hearts strong. They make shaky nerves firm.

Mr. Ray V. Cormier had a very trying experience while at College; but, thanks to Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, he has been restored to health. He tells his experience in the following letter to us:—

Wollington Station, P. E. I., Dec. 2nd, 1904.

Messrs. The T. H. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ontario.

"Gentlemen—Having been cured of a very troublesome disease, I feel it my duty to write you a few lines. I was troubled with a very great palpitation of the heart and nervous prostration. I was attacked with it at college and could not follow up the games of the University without being overcome with fatigue. I have left college, and am now working at a general store, where I found your famous pills. I used three boxes, and am now completely cured; I cannot thank you enough. You may see this letter for the purpose of benefiting anyone who is suffering as I did. My home is in Sackville, N. B., but at present I am on Prince Edward Island."

I remain, dear sirs, Yours truly, Ray V. Cormier.

A GOOD GAME

Lovers of Grand Old Game of Cricket May look Forward to Many Interesting Matches this Summer in the Maple City

The outlook for a prosperous season for this manly sport was never so bright as at present. Tuesday night there was a good turnout, especially of the younger cricketers. A welcome addition to the ranks has been sustained in the person of a young man whose professional name is Fred Starr. He hails from London, Eng., and an agitation is on foot to have him remain in the city. It has been suggested that practice matches be played during the summer between teams picked from cricketers in the city and surrounding country. It is likely that these games will be played on the afternoon chosen as a civic half holiday.

Cricket is a grand sport, good exercise for the body and one of the best agents for developing the manliness in any boy or man. Cricketers are universally known as the most fair-minded of sportsmen. A close decision on the part of a cricketer will give rise to a burlesque and, perhaps, end in a small riot. On such an occasion on the cricket field the decision is accepted without a murmur—one cricketer having far too high an opinion of another to question his decision. Moreover, a cricketer learns the pluck to withstand hard knocks. To be struck by a cricket ball is not just the same as being struck by a toy balloon. The ideal cricketer, however, again faces the ball with a grin and alights to the boundary for the glory of the club and the honor of the grand old game. It is that sort of thing that puts a ramrod backbone into a boy or man and makes him a force in the community.

Wellington said that Waterloo was won on the cricket fields of England. Those grim rifles of a Wellington stood the pitiless fire of French batteries and incessant charges of cavalry all day, knowing that Blucher was on the way to turn the scales in their favor. They learned that dogged tenacity during close and hard fought games, standing the battering of the opposing bowler until he should tire and they could drive him to the boundaries and win the game.

As a nation or a community we may not have to face any Waterloo, but as men we are facing such trials every hour. The stuff that goes into the composition of a cricketer helps to bring him out a Wellington. The cricketers of Chatham deserve well of Chatham's citizens. They never ask pecuniary aid, but they do ask for sympathy to combat the all too prevalent idea that cricket is bound to be crowded to the rear by more modern games. We are proud of our Waterloo. Let us be equally proud of the means by which it was won and encourage this sport in our midst.

IN MEMORIAM

The death of Robert Ridwell occurred about 4 o'clock this morning. The doctors in attendance had given up hope during the last few days, so that the news did not come with as great a shock as it otherwise would.

The deceased, who was 66 years of age, was born in Selkirk, Scotland, and came to this country when but a lad. He settled first in Galt. About 44 years ago he came here and has resided in the Maple City ever since, operating at the time of his death, in conjunction with his sons, one of the city's most prosperous industries.

THE LATE ROBERT RIDDELL.

The deceased gentleman was too well known and had too many friends to make any mention of his good qualities necessary.

At the time of his death he was an elder of St. Andrew's Church, and had held the position of public school trustee. Especially was he active in fraternal circles, being a Past Master of Wellington Masonic Lodge, a member of the Sons of Scotland and a Forester.

A widow, four sons and two daughters survive, being W. B. Ridwell, of Chicago; James T. Robert J. and Charles H. and Misses Belle and Jean. All of this city. The family have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon—first from the house at two o'clock, and from there to St. Andrew's Church at half-past two. The obsequies will be conducted by Wellington Lodge, No. 46, A. F. & A. M., G. R. C.

YOUNG MAN
GOLD BRICKED

Receives a Call to Meet a Train with Ambulance and Cares for an Agonized Sufferer

Finds an Appendicitis Patient Who is Much Sicker and More Healthy Looking Than He Is Himself.

With the story of the undoing of Capt. McLaren still ringing in our ears the news that another Chathamite has been gold-bricked comes as a decided shock to the vanity of Chathamites who had believed the members of this community to be immune to such things.

The deluded victim (herein after referred to as the D. V.) is a member of a local concern part of whose business it is to render first aid to the suffering. This they do if they arrive on the scene before the doctor does. If they arrive after a doctor has appeared about the only thing left for them to do is to make arrangements for the unfortunate one's funeral.

The D. V. had always thought appendicitis something akin to the bubonic plague and rugby football in its deadly results. He fondly thought all those fleeing figures he saw in the streets were his victims, omitting to touch anything but the high spots in their anxiety to reach a doctor and have their appendices excised. He did not then know that said fleeing figures were either subscribers rushing to pay their subscriptions to this G. H. J. or else surveying contractors concerned in the Murray street paving matter fleeing from wrath to come. The hour of his awakening was at hand.

It came about in this manner. The telephone bell tinkled and an excited voice told him to meet the evening train, informing him that the train had an agonized sufferer, from appendicitis (hereafter to be called the A. S.).

Wonderly the D. V. arranged the cushions in the rubber-tired conveyance and led him to the station at the appointed time. Determined to be brave in the face of such adversity he braved the big baggage car for the A. S. No person bearing the description of the A. S. had been seen. A search of the rest of the train met with the same result. Disappointed the D. V. returned to his conveyance and broke the tidings to the driver. While doing so he noticed a husky individual, who looked as if he might be a travelling testamur, a new breakfast food, surveying the equipment with much satisfaction. The H. I. enquired after the use to which the conveyance was put. He was told that an agonized sufferer was expected and the conveyance was for the purpose of tenderly conveying him to the hospital. The H. I. replied that that was the case he would just step inside. A look he discovered that his whitefish were sheepskins, came across the face of the D. V. Then, all at once, the light poured in upon him. The H. I. and the A. S. were one and the person.

There is not much more to tell. He was unconscious for only about ten minutes—the doctor always warned him he had a weak heart. When appendicitis has just struck the community the A. S. hails from and the D. V. has a dark suspicion that he has been used as a stopping stone to notoriety by a new breakfast food. When appendicitis has just struck the community the A. S. hails from and the D. V. has a dark suspicion that he has been used as a stopping stone to notoriety by a new breakfast food.

From a trusting, confiding and credulous young man the D. V. has been turned into a cautious scouter. When appendicitis is mentioned an evil gleam lights up his eye and a sharp change the subject such as the price of signatures to paving petitions to-day.

The eyes of the master will do more work than both of his hands. Circumstances do not make the only conditions in life.

Yours respectfully,
CHAS. AUSTIN.

COUNSEL FOR McCOIG.

Editor Planet:

Dear Sir,—I was rather surprised to see in Wednesday's issue a statement credited to A. B. McCoig, M. P. P., in which he says "that there is a moral obligation resting on the Council to see that only local labor is employed on the railway construction within the city."

It is quite evident that Mr. McCoig has not forsaken his old habit of (to use a common expression) "playing to the galleries," when he makes such a statement, and has not given the question his serious consideration. If he considers the unusually large amount of building operations that are being carried on in the city this year, and which of itself will give employment to almost every available laboring man, he will soon see that if the railway company were limited to Chatham, they would not be able to secure enough men to build the road within a reasonable time and as a result both the city and county would suffer. Why did not Mr. McCoig protect the local men in this matter at the proper time, when he as a legislator approved of the by-law giving the railway the privileges they are now enjoying? If any injustice is being done, he is directly responsible for it along with the balance of the Council of 1903. Furthermore, had he enquired before expressing himself he would have found that local men are not being discriminated against, as the railway company will hire all the competent men who offer their services, and now need a hundred more men than they can secure, and will have work for them all season. The fact that the men are foreigners does not imply that they are "aliens" within the meaning of the Alien Labor Act. The statute regarding alien labor very explicitly defines how the Act should be enforced, and it is clearly not within the province of the City Council to interfere in the matter. Legislators as well as councillors should look first and speak afterwards.

Yours respectfully,
CHAS. AUSTIN.

PIANO RECITAL

The senior pupils of Ursuline Academy, "The Pines," gave a charming piano recital last evening, to invited guests of the city and added fresh laurels to their already exceedingly creditable reputation.

The program last evening reflected the greatest credit upon the ability of the pupils and the indefatigable pains taken by the teachers. While all those taking part acquitted themselves well, special mention should be made of the playing of Miss Anna L. Carson, who well merited the beautiful bouquet of roses with which she was presented. Miss Carson, undoubtedly, has a vista of musical successes opening before her.

The following pupils took part: Misses Agnes Phillimore, Emma Ouellette, Laura McDonald, Olive Mather, Agnes Bower, Edith Hall, M. Dunlop, O. Mather, Gertrude Garovsky and Florence Surby.

MEETS SUCCESS

G. P. Schofield is Appointed General Manager of the Standard Bank.

It has been officially announced at headquarters that G. P. Schofield has been appointed to succeed George P. Reid, resigned, as General Manager of the Standard Bank of Canada.

Chathamites will rejoice in Mr. Schofield's well-merited success. For twelve years he was manager of the local branch of the Standard Bank, leaving in April, 1904, to take charge of the Toronto office. During his sojourn here he gained a reputation for business acumen, while later events have shown was not misplaced. Mr. Schofield combined with this an engaging personality which made him a popular social figure. There are but very few more rungs on the ladder for him to climb.

MAGISTRATES WERE LENIENT

County Commissioner S. P. Sturgis was called upon to act as magistrate of the County Court in the absence of Judge Houston yesterday. Two young Englishmen, Francis Murphy and Peter Dowdell, appeared before him. They were arrested by Officer Rankin for peddling dry goods without a license in Dover. The young men had only been in this country for six weeks and had secured a license in Toronto, which they thought was good for the whole province.

In consideration of the fact that they were strangers and had told an honest story, Magistrate Sturgis fined them only a nominal $1 each and $2 costs. They were profuse in their gratitude both to the magistrate and the High Constable, Major Coogan, who had given them information by which to avoid future trouble.

Wit should be used as a shield for defense rather than as a sword to wound others.

The misfortunes of others occasionally excite more in the way of assurance than in the direction of pity.

FIRST POINT TO OFFICIALS.

Pere Marquette Railway Men Get Writ of Habeas Corpus—French-English Treaty of 1794.

Toronto, June 6.—An order for a writ of habeas corpus was yesterday granted to the Pere Marquette officials, and it is returnable at Osgoode Hall on Friday. On this date Chas. Percy Sherwood, Commissioner of Dominion Police, must produce his prisoners and show cause why they should be detained in custody. Joseph H. O'Brien, high chief railway despatcher, makes affidavit that he considers himself a British subject. He says he was born in Ontario, near Chatham, that his parents were both Canadians, and that his mother still resides with two of his sisters and two of his brothers there. He learned his profession on the Canadian Southern Railway in Canada, and worked on it for seven years. Everett E. Cain, trainmaster on the Pere Marquette Railway, does not claim to be a British subject; but says he is not guilty under the act and its amendments relating to the importation and employment of aliens. He says he has not done any act of "disloyalty" for the Pere Marquette Railway Co. previous to coming to the country. He has had no hearing before the Attorney-General, and asked for this writ of habeas corpus because he feared that if not granted immediately would be taken out of the Province under warrants.

J. B. McKenzie has discovered a new point. It is that the treaty of 1794 between France and England prevents the United States from Canada from passing such laws as the alien labor laws. It is not, however, sure that this treaty is still in force. G. F. Shepley, K. C., appears for the Attorney-General, and will not doubt contend that the act is valid, and that under it the prisoners are liable to deportation.

The average man is quick enough to grasp an opportunity to make a fool of himself.

TAKE MY CURE,
WHEN CURED YOU PAY ME

The fear that you could not be cured may have deterred you from taking honest treatment, or you may have been one of the unfortunate who have been treated in vain by inexperienced physicians, free treatments, free trial samples, patent medicines, electric belts and other similar devices. Such treatments cannot and will never cure you, nor will these malades cure themselves. When I offer you a cure, and am willing to back my professional reputation in curing you and have such faith and confidence in my continued success in treating these diseases that no dollar can be paid until you are cured, a fair proposition cannot be offered to the sick and afflicted. This should convince the skeptical that I mean what I say, and do exactly as I advertise. I am positive of curing you in the shortest possible time, without injurious after-effects. My charges will be as low as possible, and my guarantee is simple and true. Not a dollar need be paid until cured. I have 14 diplomas and certificates from the various colleges and hospitals, and a successful record of many years in the treatment of these diseases. I will write to you for my opinion of your case, and hear from patients who have been unable to get cured, as I guarantee a positive cure for all chronic nervous blood and skin diseases. I accept for treatment. I not only cure the symptoms, but I cure the cause, and the complications, such as rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, blood poison, physical and nervous debility, lack of vitality, stomach troubles, etc. All medicines for patients are prepared in my own laboratory. I named the representative of each individual case. I will send a booklet on the subject with the 14 diplomas and certificates, entirely free. Address simply,

The train was thirty minutes from Padmore when Miss Rand sat up straight and began pulling the pins out of her hat, a pretty wine colored affair that exactly matched her traveling gown. Five minutes later in a tan rain coat and cap she splashed down into the pools of water on the open platform of the railway station and faced the glaring eyes of the handsome cabs, transfer wagons and a private brougham or two lined up opposite. She paused under a lamp midway of the line and looked expectant. Only a brougham and a cab remained when Miss Rand gathered up her skirts and started down the platform. A coachman in green livery was guiding a young woman in a wine colored gown to the brougham. Miss Rand was hurrying toward the coachman when a voice drawing from the cab at her right made her stop short.

"Hello, Kate!" it said. "What in time are you doing here?"
"Well, Tommy Yates," she laughed, offering her hand, "isn't this funny?"
"Yes, isn't it?" he said, holding fast to the hand. "Don't you know enough to come in out of the rain?"
The next moment she was settling herself on the dry cushions.

"I've been standing out there hours waiting for some one to claim me," she said as the door banged shut and the cab started off. "And you sitting here all the time! Cruel! What were you doing anyway?"
"Looking for a girl very much like you," Tommy turned and gazed at her. The damp air had made little blond ringlets about her face. "You are just as pretty as ever, Kate." He leaned over and looked closer. "Yes, even prettier," she said, blushing as her hand touched his. "You said on the cab passed under an arc light. 'You are just as pretty as ever, Tommy. You'll never get over that.'"
"What?" asked Tommy shortly, "stillness?"
"I thought I had," said Tommy shortly. "But somehow I think I never will either." Something in his voice made her turn and look at him.

"I am going to Brettons," she said after a silence. "I think it is 638 Grand. If the coachman did get the wrong girl I couldn't stand out in the rain another minute. You see, I was to be identified by my wine colored dress, but it rained so hard I put on this coat. I wasn't going to have the gown spoiled."

"Ah-h!" Tommy actually hugged himself. He bade the cabby stop at Martin's. "How long has it been since I saw you, Kate?"
"You have forgotten?"
"No. I just wanted to see if you remembered. Four years since you fitted me."

The cab had stopped, and Tommy was out in the streaming light of the café, ready to assist her. She sank back on the seat.

"Oh, oh!" she protested. "I forgot. I was to be at the Brettons' for dinner. They'll be expecting me."

"Oh, pshaw! Here I was delegated to look after a girl in a wine colored frock, and now she disapproves of my scheme of entertainment!"

"Oh," said Kate, climbing out, "is that it? I thought you were simply a connoisseur."

"Now, see here—Tommy tucked her under the umbrella—I'm not a kid any more. I'm assistant cashier of the bank."

They were eating their soup, when Kate straightened back in her chair. "Tommy Yates," she exclaimed, "it was the other girl you were looking for."

"What other girl?"
"Why, the other girl in the wine colored dress! The coachman was taking her to the carriage when you stopped me."

"Well, let him take her. You didn't see me looking for her very hard, did you?"

"Tommy Yates!" Kate leaned over the table, chin in hand. "Do you mean to say this is one of your little games?"

"Game?" Tommy was leaning over the table too. "I never was so serious in my life."

"I'm going."
"Going? What do you mean? Please don't!"

"But, you see, it is this way," she expostulated. "I don't know the Brettons. I never saw them. They're friends of my mother's just moved here, and it was arranged by the two families that I was to visit them. It seems there is a young man in whom I'm expected to find a congenial life partner."

"He's a nice sort," commented Tommy.
"You know him, then? Why, Tommy, it isn't he?" she asked.
Tommy smiled complacently.
"We'll go up after dinner and find out," he said.

"Why, no," she laughed embarrassedly. "Of course—how silly of me! They said his name was Frank. Such an ugly name! But, Tommy," she looked up suddenly from her salad—"who was the girl in the wine colored dress?"

"That," said Tommy, "is rather difficult to explain. Would it simplify matters any if I told you she is the one who is to carry out the friend of the Brettons?"

"And how about the friend?"
"Well," Tommy looked at his watch—"she has an hour and a half the start of you."

cried. "Do you think for a minute, Tommy Yates, that I'm going to let another girl do me out? No, sir. He's mine."

"Do you really think that much of a fellow you never have seen?" asked Tommy anxiously.

"Want him? Who said I wanted him? I wouldn't take him as a gift! But if you think I am going to let another girl take him before he's even seen me you're mistaken. She's up there now, and they think she's me—I am she."

"You are right. She's having the time of her life."

"See here, Tommy Yates, you explain this mystery. Why did you let me stand out there soaking up the rain?" Tommy's eyes blinked.

"I couldn't really believe my eyes that you were you."

"You came down to get that girl in the wine colored dress," said Kate accusingly.

"So I did." Tommy was staring hard at her wine colored blouse. "I got her."

Kate pushed back her plate, clasped her hands on the table and looked at him.

"Explain yourself," she said.

"Well, why don't you begin?"
"Are you going to stay until I am through?"

"Very well, then. I was going to marry that girl."

"Tommy Yates?"
"Isn't it permissible to marry?"
"And you set there, high and dry, without ever offering to get out and find her! Tommy Yates, you're a beast!"

Tommy pulled out a box of cigarettes and flourished it. "With your permission," he said. She did not deign to answer him. He lighted one regardless.

"I decided one minute after the train pulled in that I wasn't going to marry her after all."

"And you ran back and hid your head in the cab to prevent her seeing you, I suppose?"

"I didn't get out."

"Baby! You were afraid you would get your feet wet?"
Tommy blew a wreath of smoke over the carafe.

"I was trying to figure how I was to get you into the cab and keep her out."

"Did you love that girl?"
Tommy shook his head.

"Then why did you ever think of marrying her?"

"Tommy made an inventory of the pretty girl before him—pink and white, blue, gold—cheeks, eyes, hair.

She looked like you," he said shortly.

"Tommy, you don't care yet?"
"Yes, I do."

"But you were so mean to the other girl."

"She wasn't care. She likes money. I haven't got nearly so much as that friend of the Brettons."

"I never thought, Tommy, that you'd amount to much."

"I'm assistant cashier. I guess that's something."

"And father said I'd get to be the whole works if I settled down and married. Will you?"

"What?"
"Marry me?"
"Or the money?"
"Either."

"Well, I guess I'll take you."

The various organs become natural and manly. You feel yourself a man and know marriage cannot be a failure. We invite all the afflicted to consult us confidentially and free of charge. Don't let quicks and fakirs rob you of your hard-earned dollars. WE WILL CURE YOU OR SO PAY.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS.

Peter B. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I say it to-day, I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me, guessed my secret. In the morning, poor appetite, nerves were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, went to St. Clements for treatment, but received little benefit. While AFTER TREATMENT at St. Clements I was induced to consult Dr. Kennedy & Kergan though I had just left in faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through my nerves. I was cured mentally, physically and sexually. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

We treat and cure VARICOCELE, STRICTURE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, BLOOD DISEASES, URINARY COMPLAINTS, KIDNEY AND BLADDER DISEASES. CONSULTATION FREE. BOOKS FREE. If unable to call write for a Question Blank for Home Treatment.

KILLS AS WELL AS TORTURES

Fatal Results From Indigestion Unless Promptly Cured—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets the One Sure Cure.

Don't imagine because you say the pains and aches and discomforts that follow a hearty meal are "only indigestion," that you are not wrestling with a dangerous malady. Indigestion not only tortures; it kills. It weakens the body so that it is an easy mark for infectious diseases. It is the cause of Appendicitis. The time to check it is now. The means of checking and curing it is Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. The proof is thousands of cures like that of Adonias Codere, of St. Jacques de l'Achigan, Que. Mr. Codere writes: "I suffered from Dyspepsia caused by inflammation of the stomach. I tried different medicines without getting any relief, when hearing of cures by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets I decided to try them. Two boxes cured me completely."

It is estimated this sum was wasted last year by people trying to find a cure for catarrh. Foolish for sufferers to experiment when it is so well known that "Catarrhones" is the only remedy that cures permanently. Other treatments only relieve, but Catarrhones cures and prevents the disease from ever returning. "I had Catarrh in its worst form," writes G. E. Edden, of Boyan, Que. "I was so bad that ordinary medicine didn't even relieve; but Catarrhones cured perfectly." No chance of disappointment with Catarrhones—its certain as death to cure your Catarrh—just try it.

RACE OF OCEAN YACHTS

STARTED FROM NEW YORK FOR ENGLAND 3,000 MILES OFF.

Emperor William's Gold Cup, Valued At $5,000, the Prize They Are Competing For—Some Data About This and Other Yacht Races Across the Ocean in the Past—The Kaiser's Interest.

THE transatlantic yacht race which started from Sandy Hook on May 17 will decide who shall hold the Kaiser's gold cup. Emperor William of Germany has long been known for his interest in yachting. From his boyhood he has been fond of the sea and ships, and a picture taken of his majesty when he was between two and three years of age and on a visit to his grandmother, the late Queen Victoria, shows him in the costume of a little sailor boy, an appropriate dress in view of the liking for the water he has manifested since. It is said the Emperor has had in mind such a race as this for several years. Two seasons ago he wished to offer a cup to be raced for under similar conditions, but satisfactory arrangements could not be made. A year ago the offer was renewed, with the result that a race was agreed upon to be sailed in May, 1905, under the auspices of the Imperial Yacht Club of Kiel. The cup that the ruler of Germany has given as a prize for the winner of the race is a splendid vessel of pure gold valued at $5,000. The finish of the race will be off the Lizard lightship, on the south-eastern coast of England. The race now on promises to be the greatest of its kind ever sailed over the ocean from one continent to another. Three transatlantic sailing races have been held in the past—in 1866, 1870 and 1887—but only one of these was an international race. In the first race three yachts participated, in the others two. There are eleven entries in the race for the Kaiser's cup, and three nations are represented—Germany, England and the United States. It will be a struggle for supremacy between the yachtsmanship of two respective nations. England will be represented by the Sunbeam, owned by Lord Brassey of the Royal Yacht Squadron, and the Valhalla, owned by the Earl of Crawford, also of the Royal Yacht Squadron. The Sunbeam is a schooner, and the second a full rigged ship. The Sunbeam has voyaged all over the world, and Lady Brassey has written a book about the journeys. The Valhalla is a vessel of 1,500 tons and 237 feet in length. She is elegantly equipped and has participated in many contests.

THE HAMBURG—YACHT KAISER HOPES WILL

The yacht which the German Emperor would like to see win the cup is the Hamburg. She is owned by a syndicate of 200 German yachtsmen, headed by Herr Ballin, director general of the Hamburg-American line. Two years ago she beat the Kaiser's own yacht, the Meteor. The Hamburg was designed by the famous English builder, George L. Watson. The United States yachts entered are all well known for their speed and include the Atlantic, Apache, Utowana, Endymion, Albatross, Hildegarde, Thistle and Fleur-de-Lys.

Lord Crawford, who owns the Valhalla, is one of the most famous of English yachtsmen and the great grandson of that twenty-third Earl of Crawford who, on being introduced by King George III. to the U. S. general, Benedict Arnold, put his hand behind his back and exclaimed that he had no intention of shaking hands with a traitor. Of course Benedict Arnold challenged him, and a meeting took place. Arnold was the first fire and missed the shot. The Earl of Crawford, who had granted the man sufficient satisfaction, walked away.

"Why don't you fire?" cried Arnold.

"At you?" exclaimed Lord Crawford over his shoulder. "No, sir; I leave you to the hangman."

Found Magnetic Pole.
News comes from the Arctic that the expedition under Captain Roald Amundsen, which sailed from Christiania, Norway, June 19, 1903, has made highly important discoveries.

Amundsen, who set out in a small craft with a crew of eight men, has found the north magnetic pole, whose discovery is originally credited to Ross in 1831, although many scientists doubt that Ross really located this elusive guide to the compasses of the world.

The north magnetic pole has been generally assumed by geographers as being on Boothia, the most northerly peninsula of the American continent, and close to King William's Land. It is supposed to be a shifting sphere of influence, though its variations are not great.

It is not to be confused with the terrestrial North Pole, the goal of explorers, which is situated some 1,200 miles to the true north of the magnetic pole. In addition to this discovery, the expedition has gone from Greenland to a point south of King William's Land, and seems sure of completing a northwest passage, which navigators have been unsuccessfully trying to do for four hundred years.

Amundsen incident to these achievements, has found the monument erected by Sir John Franklin when the great explorer and 135 of his men were perishing in the ice.

Some Whistling Wonders.

Men from time immemorial have been whistlers; and so expert in the science are the Canary Islanders that they hold convincing conversations with each other. Travelers who have remained with them for some time have learned their whistling language; and one Lieutenant Quendenfeld, who resided for some years, stated that the natives could, by their whistling, hold a long and complicated conversation with a neighbor a mile off.

Australia can boast of whistling leaders, whistling moths, and whistling snakes. The New Guinea whistling snake is a very fierce and dangerous customer to tackle, and many deaths were recently reported from its attacks. It rushes at any intruder with a whistling sound, and its bite causes an agonizing death within a very short period.

Plants, caves and wells have been recorded amongst the whistlers of the earth. A species of acacia, which grows in Nubia and the Soudan, is called by the natives the "whistling tree." Its whistling arises from the wind playing upon a hole in a bladder-like formation, the work of some insect.

The United States has both whistling caves and wells; and from one of the latter—in Logan County, Kansas—the rushing wind has been utilized to give a loud note, as a warning of an approaching storm, through a brass whistle placed over it for the purpose; and the longer it blows, the more intense will be the coming storm.

The Secretary Bird.
The secretary bird is a South African species, though it is found as far north as Abyssinia. It builds its huge nest of sticks in low bushes or tangled undergrowth. While sitting the female secretary is fed by her mate. The young mature in strength very slowly, seldom leaving the nest till six months old.

The secretary bird differs from the other members of the hawk tribe in its exceedingly long legs. It is a bird of prey, feeding on insects, small animals and reptiles, snakes being its favorite food. These reptiles are often of the most venomous kind, but of them the secretary feels no fear, attacking them with its great and powerful wings and beating them to pulplessness, after which it swallows the victims whole and head foremost.

How Certain Organs are Treated

The eyes may be reached osteopathically in several ways. They are superficial, so that they may be treated directly, increasing their circulation and improving their shape, for, as in the rolling of the eye marble, they tend to form the perfect sphere on proper manipulation. This circulation may also be improved by treatment of the sympathetic nerve and by means of the nervous connection with the spine. All inflammation of the eyes, as conjunctivitis, tritis and granulated lids, may be cured, while the shape of the eyes may be so changed as to cure astigmatism, nearsightedness and such affections, though the chances for a cure are much better in young people than in old. Through the circulation, even cataracts may generally be arrested in their growth and in some cases be absorbed.

The heart is directly under control of the nerves, and pressure on these nerves in the neck or at the spine, from muscular contraction or bony displacement, will cause derangement of the heart, which can only be relieved by methods akin to osteopathy. By careful observation, osteopathic treatment has been proven to increase or decrease the heart rate at once, and very markedly. Functional trouble and even organic weakness has been entirely cured by this treatment.

The lungs are subject to osteopathic control, not only through nervous influence, but through the stimulation and exercise that osteopathy gives them, enabling them not only to regain their tone, but to throw off the results of inflammation and disease, and foreign substances, as well as asthma, is generally wholly due to nervous spasm of the bronchial tubes, and in the majority of cases is cured or greatly benefited. Tuberculosis, in the earlier stages, may be cured by the treatment with the aid of plenty of out door air, as the dead products of the disease are thrown off and the deadly germ combated by healthy blood, the only reliable germicide. Likewise, the inflammation of pneumonia is checked and the fever controlled, and an early recovery brought about.

The liver may be treated through the nerves and by direct stimulation, causing bile to be thrown into the intestines, and one form of constipation is cured. The bile thus being thrown into the intestines instead of into the blood, jaundice is cured. As an illustration of the influence of treatment on the nerves to the liver, the severe pain attendant upon the passage of gall stones through the bile ducts are, in a measure, controlled by pressure at the spine, though the severe cutting of some of them seems almost impossible. Gall stones are aided in their passage outward, however, and new ones prevented from forming. In many cases, by the bettered condition of the bile.

The digestive canal. On no class of diseases is osteopathy more successful than in diseases of the stomach and bowels. These organs are reached by both direct treatment and treatment through the nerves.

Gastralgia, as is the case with most other neuralgias, may generally be relieved at once by a quieting pressure on the nerves, and direct treatment of the digestive tract may be checked immediately by the same means. Dyspepsia, gastritis, colic, appendicitis and other affections of the digestive tract may be cured by removing the irritation of the nerves to the organs, and stimulating them to renewed activity. The female organs of reproduction are among the most delicate and complex in function, and are therefore, abundantly supplied with nerves. Their derangement, on account of their intimate connection with the sympathetic nervous system, may affect every organ in the body unfavorably. The organs are held in place by ligaments, but as it is necessary at times for these to be stretched to several times their normal length, they are not as substantial or as anyielding as other ligaments. On account of this great blood supply these parts are very liable to congestion and inflammation, causing dysmenorrhea and other ills, and on account of the veiling character of the ligaments, to become protracted, which, of course, increases the congestion. It is the province of osteopathy to relieve this congestion and inflammation, and by doing so to give tone and strength to the ligaments, so that when the organs are replaced there may be something to hold them in place. With these troubles osteopathy has proven a very successful. Osteopathy is the woman's friend.

FREAKS OF FASHION.

Stitching Still a Popular Dress Trimming—Cashmere Mack Worn.

The fancy for rows of stitching still prevails. An extremely pretty walking dress in brown cloth has a close fitting vest in a lighter shade of brown entirely covered with stitching. The collar and cuffs of the long open coat are trimmed to correspond. The buttons used on this gown are of antique silver. Cashmere will be in vogue for early summer frocks. A tasteful model for afternoon wear is of pearl gray. The bodice is draped to simulate a bolero outlined with velvet in a darker shade than the cashmere, and the gown has a yoke of Irish lace. Over the small yoke is a fichu of alencon lace caught in front with two pink chiffon roses. The puffed and gathered sleeves finish

A pretty name given to the latest fancy in Parisian matinees is that of "chiffon." Silk and lace are the materials most in use for these pretty jackets.

The stunning evening gown illustrated is carried out in black jetted net. It is made en princess. Wide black velvet ribbon outlines the dress from the waist to the skirt edge. The bands fit into the figure at the waist and broaden out on the skirt at the knee. Lace and mousseline de sole trim the decollete neck and the short sleeves.

Flowered Nets and Muslins—How to Make "Tab" Summer Frocks.

Flowered net and muslin gowns are going to be more worn this summer than ever before. The new designs are lovely, and when made up over a slip of china silk of a harmonizing shade the effect is charming.

The flowered net frocks are trimmed with a profusion of German, valencienne and macramé laces, often used in combination with exquisitely sheer embroidery.

The skirts are made very full, ruffled and daped into as much fullness about the feet as possible. The waists in many instances have little yokes of all over lace or strips of insertion put together with beading and outlined with two ruffles of wide lace set one directly on top of the other. This double ruffle gives a pretty, fluffy effect.

Many of the most effective thin summer frocks have full skirts gathered or tucked at the waist and falling free. They are trimmed with ruffles between bands of tucks or with the newer flat trimming consisting of insertion applied in bands edged with lace ruffles top and bottom.

A dainty trimming is made of bands of flowered wide ribbon set on with fancy stitches or between narrow insertions of lace. The same ribbon is used for girle and waist trimming either in knots or bretelles, which are very smart this summer on dressy costumes.

The smart little toque illustrated is of yellow neapolitan straw. It is becomingly lifted off the face by an indented upturning brim, which is jauntily trimmed at the side with a choul of black velvet ribbon caught through a dull gold buckle. Around the shallow crown are rosettes of the velvet ribbon, and a band of this faces the under side of the brim at the edge.

Magical Increase.

Take a large drinking glass of a conical form—that is, small at the bottom and large at the top—and, having put into it a quarter, fill it about halfway up with water. Then place a plate upon the top of the glass and turn it quickly over so that the water may not escape. A piece of silver as large as a half dollar will immediately appear on the plate, and somewhat higher another piece of the size of a quarter.

'DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

Practices What He Preaches.

Mr. Edward Carpenter, whose book on "Civilization: Its Cause and Cure," has just aroused the cordial appreciation and interest of Tolstol, has put his doctrines into practice by retiring from the world to a small Socialist community, which cultivates the land at Holmesfield, on the Derbyshire moors, between Chesterfield and Sheffield, says The London Star. He was a fellow of his college at Cambridge, and took orders in 1863, but five years later he relinquished his fellowship and his orders. After seven years' activity as a university extension lecturer he visited Walt Whitman in America, and his intimacy with the American thinker seems to have colored his philosophy ever since. "Towards Democracy," one of his best known works, is written under the influence of Whitman, and in 1881 Mr. Carpenter commenced the farm life at Holmesfield, to which he subsequently added, as a work of social usefulness, the making of sandals.

JUNE SALE LINEN OF UNUSAL MERIT

This June Sale of Linens commences THURSDAY, JUNE THE EIGHTH, and lasts until the end of the month, provided the lines offered hold out till then. We have planned to make this the greatest Mid-Summer Linen Sale we have ever held, and would suggest that you visit this Linen Store often during this month. Read this add over carefully, for there are many lines undepicted that you may need to complete your linen closet for the summer months. Then, again, there are many handsome lines included in this list which are particularly suitable for presentation, and if you would delight "the June Bride" present her with a piece of Linen from the Foreman Store.

Tablings, Cloths, Napkins, Slightly Imperfect, At 20 to 30 Per Cent. Off.

KING OSCAR DETHRONED

Norway Dissolves By Resolution
Union With Sweden.

Storthing Empowers State Council to Act As a Government, and to Exercise Power Heretofore Appertaining to Sovereign—No Ill-Feeling Towards King, Who Is Asked For a Prince of His House As King.

Christiania, Norway, June 8.—King Oscar's refusal to sanction the bill passed by the Storthing, providing for a separate consular service for Norway, culminated yesterday in the passage of a resolution by the Storthing, declaring the dissolution of the union of Sweden and Norway, and that the King had ceased to act as King of Norway.

It is not anticipated that King Oscar will continue to act as Prince of the house of Bernadotte accepting the Norwegian crown. Should the King refuse, there is a possibility that the throne may be offered to Prince Christian of Denmark. The people of Denmark largely sympathize with the Norwegian demands. The eldest son of the Swedish Crown Prince, Prince Adolphus (born in 1882), is the brother to the eldest daughter of the Duke of Connaught, Princess Margaret Victoria (born in 1882). They are to be married in England, June 17.

King Oscar sent a telegram to Premier Michelsen, as follows: "Have received the communication of the council of state, and record the most decided protest against the method and action of the Government."

The Cause of It All.

Although the action was anticipated, it caused considerable excitement in this city on account of the anxiety as to what action the King would take. The crisis became acute May 26, when his Majesty, after three months' rest, during which the regency was confined to Crown Prince Gustavus, resumed the reins of office. The council of state immediately submitted to him the consular bill, which he, on May 26, refused to sanction, arguing that any action must receive the sanction of the mixed council. The Norwegian council of state thereupon resigned, and the King refused to accept their resignations, in view of the state of public opinion it was impossible to form a new Government. Demonstrations were held throughout the country, endorsing the action of the council of state.

The consular bill, while apparently of little importance, was designed to open the whole question of foreign affairs to the Norwegian Legislative Assembly that it relinquished office, and a resolution was at once passed, five Socialist members alone dissenting, authorizing the council of state to exercise "the power appertaining to the King in accordance with Norway's constitution and existing laws, with those changes which are necessitated by the fact that the union with Sweden, under one Parliament, dissolved in consequence of the King having ceased to act as a Norwegian King."

"The course of developments, which have proved more powerful than the desire and will of individuals, has led to this result. The union entered upon in 1814 has from the first been differently interpreted by the two nations, both with regard to its spirit and letter. Efforts have been made on the Swedish side to extend the union, and on the Norwegian side to confine it to the limit laid down by the act of union, and otherwise to assert the independent power of both states, all that act as coming under the union."

Justified Just So Long.
The difference in principle in the interpretation of the character of the union has provoked much misunderstanding between the two peoples, and has caused much friction in the negotiations, which during recent negotiations, has been laid down by Sweden as against Norway. The Norwegian people were bound to perceive the injury to their constitutional rights, their independence and their national honor. The union was justified so long as it could contribute to the welfare and happiness of both peoples, while maintaining their independence as sovereign states.

"Out above the union then, stands for us Norwegians our Norwegian fatherland and for the Swedes their Swedish fatherland. The union has become a danger to this feeling of solidarity of the Norwegian and Swedish peoples, which should secure the happiness of both nations and constitute their strength abroad. If the union is now severed, the Norwegian people have no loftier wish than to live in good harmony with all, and not least with the people of Sweden, while maintaining the direction of which our country, despite many and bitter disputes affecting the union, has attained such important, intellectual and material development."

No Ill-Will.

"As evidence of the fact that the work and struggle of the Norwegian people for the full independence of the fatherland has not been founded on any ill-feeling towards the royal house or the Swedish people, while relinquishing his right of succession to the throne of Sweden, to accept election as King of Norway. The day on which the Norwegian people elect their own King to succeed the ancient throne of Norway will open up an era of more tranquil conditions in Norway, of good and cordial relations with the Swedish people and of peace, concord and loyal co-operation in the north for the protection of the culture of the people and their freedom and independence."

No Disorder.
The utmost order prevailed throughout the day. Crowds assembled all day in front of the Storthing buildings and vociferously cheered the members of the Government as they left. When M. Berner appeared a military band struck up the national anthem, and the people uncovered formed in a double row and saluted him respectfully as he passed down Jehanne street.

The newspapers of Stockholm, commenting on the action of the Storthing, declare that a revolution has been accomplished, but that the union is not dissolved, as Sweden's sanction is necessary in order to complete the disruption.

Demonstrate Loyal to King Oscar.
Stockholm, June 8.—The Norwegian coup d'état was answered here last night by a great patriotic demonstration of loyalty and sympathy with King Oscar. A great procession accompanied by bands, went to Rosenbad Castle where the hands played the national anthem. In a few minutes the King and other members of the royal family appeared on a balcony of the Castle and were enthusiastically cheered by the demonstrators, while a number of ladies advanced from the crowd and presented the King with a bouquet.

Though greatly excited over the situation, the populace remains outwardly calm.
King Oscar held a council last evening at which the situation was considered.

THE FRENCH SITUATION.

Great Britain and Russia Will Suffer From Cabinet Changes.

Paris, June 8.—Premier Rouvier, as Minister of Foreign Affairs, took up the active direction of the Foreign Office yesterday, conferring with the chiefs of departments upon various pending foreign questions.

Either former Minister of Public Instruction, Poincaré, or former Minister of Public Works Baudin will probably succeed M. Rouvier as Minister of Finance.

Important diplomatic changes are also thought likely to occur as a result of the cabinet changes.

Business—Not Sentiment.

M. Rouvier's first meeting with the diplomatic corps was to accept the resignations, and to discuss the effect of the change in the French Cabinet on European politics. The prevailing view is that Germany will be affected by the change as against Great Britain and Russia. M. Delcassé's policy made the Franco-Russian alliance more recently the central feature of his action. Rouvier's policy towards Russia will be straightforward and practical rather than sentimental. Concerning Great Britain, M. Rouvier is credited with being a firm friend, but the indication is that the Franco-British understanding will receive a practical interpretation as a platonic bond of friendship instead of the broad construction heretofore given to it, which amounted to a sort of alliance. The friends of M. Delcassé, therefore, claim that the "collaboration of Germany tends to loosening the ties with Great Britain and Russia."

JEERED AND WERE SHOT.

Deputy Sheriff Kills and Maims Strike Interferers.

Saginaw, Mich., June 8.—The first bloodshed in connection with the Saginaw Valley strike began in the Saginaw Valley Sunday morning occurred here yesterday afternoon.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Harris shot and maimed two men, Frank J. Perre and Marquette machinist, and wounded Terence Kelly and Wallace A. Douglas. Both of the latter were shot through the left leg, and their injuries are of a serious nature. Harris was immediately arrested.

The three men shot were, it is said, members of a group of men who were jeering at the non-union crew of a car on which Deputy Harris was riding as guard.

Rev. Dr. Armstrong Is Moderator.

Kinston, June 8.—The thirty-first general assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada met last night in Grant Hall with 1,500 present. The moderator, Rev. Dr. Milligan, presided, and delivered the annual sermon. The election of moderator then took place. The name of Dr. Falconer was not proposed and the chief office went to Rev. William Armstrong, D.D., of St. Paul's Church, Ottawa, by acclamation.

Drowned in a Drain.

Essex, June 8.—William Noble, the 15-year-old son of David Noble of Essex, was drowned Tuesday. With several boys, he went into the Orton drain for a bath. Owing to the heavy rain, the drain had an overflow of water in it, and was seven feet deep. This has been a favorite resort for the young boys to go in bathing, and the water was usually not deep enough to be dangerous.

Plunges to His Death.

Winnipeg, June 8.—Walter Phillips, a well-dressed young Englishman, who arrived here May 23, undressed on the banks of the Assiniboine, in Fort Rouge, last evening, plunged into the river, and has not been seen since. Phillips was staying at Robin House and has been acting strangely.

Lake Schooner Sinks.

Michigan City, Ind., June 8.—The three-masted schooner Bertha Barnes, laden with 142 cords of pulpwood, sank here yesterday by crashing into the dock. The crew was saved. She arrived from St. Joseph's Island, Canada, displaying signals of distress.

Killed Far From Home.

Medicine Hat, N. W. T., June 8.—Norman Drake, brakeman, fell from a flat car at Seward and received injuries from which he died yesterday. His parents reside at Cainsville, near Brantford.

Celebration Is Off.

Regina, June 8.—In view of the unsettled condition of the autonomy bills legislation, the inaugural celebration planned for July 1 has been indefinitely postponed.

BUSY SESSION OF COUNTY COUNCIL

Much Business Transacted
at the Meeting of Kent's
Parliament

Many Matters of Public Interest
Dealt With—Commissioners
All Present

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Council resumed at 2 p. m. All the members were in their places. A number of accounts were brought up and referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Ross moved, seconded by Mr. Wilson, the first reading of a by-law to ratify the agreement with the Township of Tilbury East re the Jeannette's Creek bridge on the Tecumseh road.

Arthur Stewart, chairman of the Harrison Hall committee, reported as follows:—
1. A gas metre has been placed in Harrison Hall to register the amount of gas used by the janitor for fuel. We recommend the metre be purchased.

2. The matter of installing sanitary arrangements in the basement of Harrison Hall has been left in abeyance. The city and county cannot agree as to the amount to be paid by the county. The Board of Works of the City Council think the county should pay three-quarters of the cost of the work and the county wish to pay only two-thirds of the cost.

3. The walls in the basement have been repaired and some new work put in over the boiler, at a cost of $12. This work was left in the hands of the chairman.

4. The coal for the year has been purchased from A. R. Crow and from Stacey & Montgomery, at a cost of $132.82 and $63.15 respectively.

Arthur Stewart, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

The Council then adjourned for half an hour to allow the committee on petitions and legislation to meet.

Arthur Stewart asked that a delegation from the township of Chatham be heard. The delegation consisted of Reeve Hugh Cummings and Councillors Wm. George and Wm. Abraham.

Mr. Cummings addressed the Council in reference to the new bridge over the Sydenham river at Tupperville. Three years ago the County Council offered to pay half of the cost of building the bridge providing the total cost was not more than $16,000. The Council had done their best to build the bridge for that amount of money, but found it impossible, and let the contract for $17,074, which was the lowest amount they could get. The work has been done by the Hamilton Bridge Works, and it is one of the best bridges in the county. He asked the Council to help the township to pay the extra amount over the estimate of $16,000.

Mr. George said that many difficulties had been met with, but the Council had done the best they could and had accepted the lowest tender.

For 27 years the Council had helped to support a ferry across the river at this point. He also urged the Council to assist in paying the expenses of the lowest tender. The total cost of the bridge completed, grading and everything, was $18,279, but the delegation asked the Council to help bear the expenditure of $17,074, the actual cost of building the bridge alone. The bridge is an excellent one and is built as well as any bridge could be built.

Mr. Abraham also addressed the Council along similar lines.

Mr. Somers favored the delegation and if the County Council acts as honestly and fairly towards the township of Chatham as the Township Council they will assume half the cost of that bridge. He was sure the County Council have always intended to pay for half the expense of building the bridge and he was sure the Township Council had put up the bridge for the smallest amount of money that they could possibly do it for.

Mr. Stewart also spoke along these lines and the matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Sturgis moved, seconded by Mr. Haggart, that the delegation from the West Kent Agricultural Society be heard.

The delegation consisted of President A. J. Dolan, John Houston, F. Sutor, W. W. Everett, Geo. McGarrvin, Jos. M. Smith, W. McEachin, A. E. Field and Seely Henry Robinson.

President Dolan spoke first and asked the Council to increase their grant to the Agricultural Society. Last year the grant was $50, and this year they thought the grant should be made $500. The city has been very liberal and he thought the county should do their share towards helping the big county fair.

W. Everett also addressed the Council along these lines.

Mr. Ross—What do you propose to do with the money?
Mr. Everett—Increase the prizes and provide more attractions.
Mr. Sturgis—That is the trouble. There are too many attractions at our fairs and we should know what will be done with the money.
Mr. Haggart—How did the society get into this difficulty? Will $500 put it on a sound financial basis?
Mr. Everett—The society got in debt between 8 and 10 years ago owing to poor weather at the fairs, and exhibitors got discouraged. We are trying to build up our fair and are not paying for attractions that are not educational features. We are trying to encourage more exhibitors. The trials of speed are the only attraction paid for, and these always help the society and help the fair.

FANCY VESTS

Nothing so materially alters the appearance of a Suit as the change to a fancy Vest. Almost looks as if you had changed your entire outfit, pleasant and comfortable change too at this season.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE TO-NIGHT

MR. W. L. STEWART
PRESENTS

The Stoddard Stook Co.

The Two Orphans

Between Acts four of the best Vaudeville bills that ever appeared at the Grand will be presented.

Prices: 10, 20 and 30 Cents

They pay for themselves. The idea is to increase the prizes in order to get more exhibitors.

The delegation was assured that their case would be thoroughly considered by the Council.
Ex-Varden Wm. Hickey, of Merlin, who was in the audience, was invited to take a seat of honor on the platform.

Some of the Councillors gave notice of grants and the Warden warned them that they might not have the money to pay all the grants.

Moved by Messrs. Ross and French that the auditors' report be adopted but no action be taken on the recommendations until specially authorized by by-law or resolution of this Council.

On motion, Mr. Grant and Mr. Somers, Reeve Corey Purser, of Dover, was heard within the bar. He asked for $200 to help in building a swing bridge in Dover. The bridge will cost about $800.

Moved by Messrs. White and Hornbl, that a grant of $100 be made to assist in building a road in Zone township leading to Bothwell.—Referred to Finance.

Moved by Messrs. Wilson and Ross, that a grant of $100 be made towards providing a ferry service at Jeannette's Creek during the time the bridge is being built.—Referred to Finance.

Moved by Messrs. Somers and Stewart, that a grant of $200 be made towards defraying the expenses of the Wallaceburg bridges.—Referred to Finance.

Moved by Messrs. Stewart and Somers, that the Council pay half the cost of constructing the Tupperville bridge upon the receipt of a certificate from the Reeve of the extra cost of the work.—Referred to Finance.

Moved by Messrs. Grant and Chinnick, that a grant of $400 be made towards the repairs of a bridge over Bear Creek, in Dover.—Referred to Finance.

Wm. Hickey, of Merlin, gave a verbal report to the Council of the success he met with in appearing before the Dominion Government in Ottawa, in reference to providing relief from river floods. His trip had been quite successful.

Mr. Sturgis—In 1904 we sent a petition to the Government along this same line and why was not the county consulted before this delegation was sent, so that we could have had the opportunity of at least extending our assistance.

Mr. Hickey knew nothing of how the meeting was called or who was invited to attend to appoint the delegation.

Mr. Sturgis—We are interested in the matter and I am sure we will do all we can at any time to assist this scheme.

The Council adjourned to meet on Thursday morning at ten o'clock.

LAKE ERIE TRAGEDY.

Government Cruiser Vigilant Sinks U. S. Tug Grace M. by Accident—Two Fishermen Drowned.

Port Stanley, June 8.—Yesterday morning about 9:15 the Government cruiser Vigilant, Capt. Dunn, sighted a fishing tug about six miles east of Middle Island, Lake Erie, and about five miles north of the boundary line. The captain changed his course and made towards the tug, which proved to be the Grace M. of Lorain, Ohio, Capt. William Galbraith.

The tug executed several dodging movements, notwithstanding the fact that Capt. Dunn had fired across her bows several times.

The tug again attempted to cross the Vigilant's bow. Capt. Dunn, seeing there was likely to be a collision, stopped and backed full steam, and had his boat well stopped when they came together, but the momentum of the Vigilant was sufficient to roll the Grace M. over and she sank. Capt. Dunn rescued Capt. Galbraith, Engineer Wm. Rulleston, and D. Poppelwell, a fisherman.

Two fishermen were drowned, named Martin Aleson of Cleveland, and Wm. Anderson of Lorain.
