Wanted—a Man to Lead.

(A Plea for Recruiters.)
There isn't a lad but we wish to grow. He doesn't desire to slack or shirk. Oh, haven't you heard his plea? He'll follow a man to play or work. If only the men will lead.

Where are the men to lead today? Spouting the one or two. Teaching the lads the game to play, just as a man should do. Village drum beats calling 'Come! Here are the boys led. Who can tell what they might become? If only the men will lead.

A Single Hair.

My little boy had been playing on the street, as usual with instructions not to go off the block. Living midway between the two cross streets I could always see him by going to the front door window. When it came time for the noon meal I stepped to the door to call him. I looked both ways without seeing him. Frightened I ran out, and up and down the street looking for him. My worst fears were realized when some children told me a man had taken the boy with him to buy some candy.

An Open Letter.
FROM A WELL KNOWN CLERGYMAN SHOWING HOW INDIGESTION CAN BE CURED.
Rev. T. A. Drury, Beasville, Ont., writes as follows:—'For eighteen years I have been increasingly impressed with the wonderful effects for good wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For some years I had suffered almost constantly with chronic dyspepsia of the most stubborn type, attended by different other troubles which invariably follow as its results. Treatment among which were kidney treatment, etc., etc. I cannot say that I had any special success. I had tried almost every medicine for several months, using many different remedies, none of which gave permanent relief. In my discouragement, I was about to discontinue treatment altogether when I was advised by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the use of which, though under very unfavorable circumstances, soon revived my drooping courage. The medicine struck at the root of my weakness and the different troubles of which dyspepsia was the prime cause released, let go, and disappeared. In one month I increased fifteen pounds in weight, and received a new lease of life. Only six boxes of pills produced this wonderful change in my health, which was miraculously permanent. Later my sister became so reduced by anemia (though under the care of our family doctor) that she could scarcely walk. In this dangerous extremity Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were resorted to and in a brief space of time restored her to perfect health. Being a minister of the gospel many test cases have come under my notice, in all of which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have fully sustained their world wide reputation. This is why I can conscientiously recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as being superior to anything known to me in the treatment of the many diseases for which they are recommended.'

Mr. Schwartz—Hello, Mr. Murphy—where did you get it—that dog? Mr. Murphy—Oh paid 15 cents for that thing. Mr. Schwartz—has it got a pedigree? Mr. Murphy—Now, not any more. He had lots of 'em, but my Mary put some benzine on 'em and they're all dead.

What is a piece of silliness, papa? Settle down and go to sleep, or I'll go back down stairs and leave you alone. My pajamas don't feel good. They never will feel good if you don't stop thinking about them. So this boy, looking up at the birds, and—this was a bad boy—and he thought it would be smart to throw a stone at them. Did he? Yes, he threw a stone at the poor little birds. And what did the stone do? It made the birds fly. And then—Papa! Well? What did the fly do? What fly? The fly it made the birds into. Robert Gallahue Todd, I am going downstairs, and if you are not asleep in two minutes I shall punish you. Mr. Todd strode from the room, and at the stairs he halted at the sight of a woman sitting on the top step with her face in her hands and her shoulders and sides shaking. It was his wife.—Wilbur Nesbitt in Success.

What Followed a Cut.
A MAGISTRATE'S WONDERFUL EXPERIENCE WITH ZAM-BUK.
Mr. J. E. Azenault, a Justice of the Peace, and station master at Wellington, on Prince Edward Island, N. S., has had a wonderful proof of the healing powers of Zam-Buk. He says:—'Four years ago, I had an accident. I slipped on the station and fell on a freight truck, sustaining a bad cut on the front of my leg. I thought this would heal, but instead of doing so it developed into a bad ulcer and later into a form of eczema which spread very rapidly and also started on the other leg. Both legs became so swollen and sore that I could only go about my work by having them bandaged. My doctor said I must stop work and lay up. After six months of this trouble I consulted another doctor, but with no better result. I tried all the salves, liniments and lotions I heard of, but instead of getting better I got worse. This was my position when I got my first box of Zam-Buk. Greatly to my delight that first box gave me relief. I continued to apply it to the sores, and day by day they got better. I could see that at last I had got hold of something which would cure me, and in the end it did. It is now over a year since Zam-Buk worked a cure in my case, and there has been no return of the eczema or any trace of it. Such is the nature of the great cures which Zam-Buk is daily effecting. Purely herbal in composition, this great balm is a sure cure for all skin diseases, cold sores, chapped hands, frost bites, ulcers, blood-poisoning, varicose sores, piles, scald cuts, burns and bruises. All druggists and stores at 50c. box, or post free from Zam Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price.

Look Out, Bachelors.
This year is 1912. If you divide the figures 1912, by four you will find it gives 478 and none over. There is no significance about the 478, but there is much significance in the fact that this problem in short division comes out even. Remember a what kind of a year it is that is susceptible of that of mathematical exercise? You are correct. Step up to the head. It's Leap Year, when according to ancient customs the women have the right to propose. Not that we ever heard that they did—any more than they do every year—but it is a tradition that they can, and usually what they can do they do. Bachelors cherishing their bachelorhood will do well to bear this in mind. Sedentary habits, lack of outdoor exercise, insufficient mastication of food, constipation, a torpid liver, worry and anxiety, are the most common causes of stomach troubles. Correct your habits and take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be well again. For sale by all dealers.

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., FEB. 16, 1912.

The Age of Efficiency.

A few years ago the captains of industry became obsessed with the idea that young men made the best executive officers. Soon after this the cry was put into practice the old hands were in many instances called in again to straighten out the tangles the young ones had made. It was found that while young men had the nerve for certain dashy operations they had not the experience necessary to weather industrial storms. The notion that a man reached his maximum efficiency at 35 years of age was by and by relegated to the limbo wherein repose many such revolutionary discoveries which have turned out to be no discoveries at all.

President Benton, who has just been appointed to the University of Vermont, finds that, as had been believed for centuries, maturity of experience and life long training of the judgment greatly enhance the usefulness of most men, and he bases his verdict on the fact that during the nineteenth century much of the best work was performed by men over sixty years of age.

The Spokesman Review draws the corollary that this is not the age of the young man. 'It is,' it says, 'the day of the prepared man, be he 35 or 70. The limit of efficiency has risen since 1800 from the age of 50 to that of 65, though Oiler was popularly reported as asserting that the average man should be chloroformed at 60. The simple fact seems to be that, as the race ages and life becomes more complex, the individual matures more slowly. Modern civilization demands much more time for men to ripen and to prepare themselves to meet its multiplied requirements. The trained man if he contain the capacity of growth, waxes stronger and more efficient through his work every year of the 50 from 25 to 70. So to live that at 50 one is reaching the real fullness of his powers ought to be the ideal and endeavor of every hearty and honest worker.

Acadia Dairy Company.

HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING—PAST YEAR A MOST SUCCESSFUL ONE.

The seventeenth annual meeting of the Acadia Dairy Co., Limited, took place in the Board of Trade room on Tuesday last at 2 o'clock p. m. Owing to the severe weather there was not a large attendance.

The directors' report made a very satisfactory showing. The business for last year amounting to $16,526 against $15,323 for 1910 and 14,365 the previous year. The increase in the output of butter during the last year was about 3500 lbs. more than the year previous and the prices obtained are the highest in history of the Company.

The retiring directors, C. F. Patterson, A. C. Starr and F. B. Westcott, were re-elected as also were the auditors, A. E. Caldwell and C. S. Fitch.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors, C. R. H. Starr was re-elected president, John Donaldson vice president and A. M. Wheaton manager and secretary.

New and improved appliances have been added during the last two years, so the factory is now most completely equipped for the best work, and the Company is anticipating another year more prosperous than any in the past. The directors solicit the cooperation of dairymen throughout the valley, many of whom are finding it to their advantage to send cream by train from stations all along the railway. The manager will be glad to correspond with anyone having cream who desires information as to prices, conditions, etc., which will be found most favorable as the company pays the freight. Prices today are higher than at any time in the history of butter making in this county and no stock on the farm will pay as well as good cows.

The Acadia Dairy Company has had seventeen years of most successful career and has a bright prospect for the future.

Would Not Be Without Baby's Own Tablets.

Mothers who have once used Baby's Own Tablets for their little ones always keep them in the house. They realize the value of the Tablets in banishing baby's illness when it comes, or better still, in warding off illness by giving them an occasional dose of the Tablets to keep his stomach and bowels regular. Concerning them Mrs. Isaac McDonald, Napton Station, writes:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets and would not now be without them as they are the very best medicine I know of for little ones." The Tablets are sold at 25¢ a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Dickens' Centenary.

The seventh of February marked the centenary of Charles Dickens, perhaps all in all, the most widely read novelist, humorist and humanitarian who ever wrote the English language. Few, if any, great publishing houses on either side of the Atlantic have not given one or more editions of his works. Under modern copyright methods this would not only constitute the imperishable monument that it is, but would mean an estate worth millions.

We have all read Dickens and enjoyed Dickens and laughed over Dickens, but we have not paid for him. He died a comparatively poor man. Indeed, had he not sapped his wonderful vitality by those marvelous dramatic readings of his in England and America, he might have lived longer and died poorer. It is a fact that he received more for his public readings than for all he ever wrote.

Yet his first years as a reader of his own works, his discovery to the British public as an impersonator who challenged the admiration of the greatest actors of his day—these were given entirely for charitable objects.

In a speech at a banquet the other day Hon. Mr. Burrell, Minister of Agriculture in the Dominion government, said: "Not many years ago, when a Canadian wished to receive adequate training in scientific agriculture he had to go to the United States. Now the position is most absolutely reversed. Each day I receive request from men and institutions across the line, asking us to send them some experts because they think they can learn something from the Canadians."

Labrador, hitherto, an almost unknown land, is now attracting considerable attention. A new work has lately appeared written by H. H. Prichard, F. R. G. S., which is a record of a journey from the Atlantic to the George River. The writer pays a fitting tribute to the work of the Moravians and that of Dr. Grenfell. Labrador, he says, is the most God-fearing land he ever visited. This is high praise and a grand testimonial on behalf of the people of this dear land.

The Minister of Agriculture has introduced a bill to encourage agriculture and to appoint a Commissioner to report what steps can be taken to improve the land.

At the Opera House.

Manager Black has given a good bill of fare this week at the Opera House. The well known Colonial Stock Co., which has been filling a three nights engagement, presented on Monday evening the English comedy, 'A Fool's Paradise,' by Sydney Grundy, on Tuesday evening, 'The Boss of Z. Ranch,' a western play in three acts, and on Wednesday evening, 'A Wife's Peril,' a comedy drama in four acts. The attendance was good each evening in spite of counter attractions. These plays were well staged and presented in a highly satisfactory manner. The Colonial Stock Co. is a strong organization and their plays are clean and wholesome with a good moral tone. They will be gladly welcomed when they return to Wolfville. The presence of the Wolfville orchestra at all the performances added greatly to the pleasure of those in attendance and their music was much appreciated.

Mr. Black is leaving nothing undone to provide for the comfort and enjoyment of those who patronize the house and THE ACADIAN is glad to note that his efforts are being appreciated and that he is meeting with such good success.

It seems to be a great pity when the price of potatoes is so high and they are so scarce that 3,000 barrels, valued at $2,000, should have been destroyed by fire at the Crystal Station, Maine, last week. They were the property of William Martin, of Kingsman. The potato house was valued at $1,500. Farmers assumed by telephone, had a hard fight to save two potato houses eight feet distant on either side. The lost potatoes were insured for $4,000.

Don't Let That Cough Rob You of Sleep

You probably know all too well how it goes. Just as you doze off, the tickling starts in your throat. A gentle coughing fit. A hoarse throat. A sore throat. A severe attack of influenza. You're tired, and you're not sleeping.

A few nights of that and you're so worn out and weakened that the cough takes a tight grip on you.

But why endure it!

Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Licorice, Chloroform and Chloroform will soothe that expiring tickling, loosen the phlegm and cure the inflammation of the mucous membrane. It not only stops the cough quickly, allowing you to get sound, refreshing sleep, but it goes to the root of the trouble and drives out the cold completely. DYSPEPSIA CLAIMS MANY LIVES.

But John Mitchell's Life was saved by Morrissy's No. 11 Dyspepsia Cure.

Woodstock, N. B., Aug. 16, 1910.

"I had a very severe case of stomach trouble which caused me great pain, and a lot of distress. I tried several doctors, but could get no relief. I also tried about all the patent medicines that are recommended for stomach trouble, and still I was getting worse—in fact, I felt like dying and had to stop work. My friends thought my days on earth were few, and I thought so myself. I had heard a great deal about the wonderful skill of Father Morrissy, and thought I would give it one trial. He prescribed his No. 11 Dyspepsia Cure for me, and I took his medicine as he directed, and soon began to feel relieved, and today I am a very well man, having gained 15 lbs.—have no pain in my stomach, and can eat anything I like. There is no doubt but that he saved my life, and I only wish I could tell how many others he has saved."

Those all who suffer as I did will see the advantage of No. 11 Morrissy's Cure.

The above prescription is sold in bottles of 10¢, 25¢ and 50¢. It is guaranteed to give relief in 48 hours, and is sold in all parts of the world. Write for particulars to Morrissy's Medicine Co., 100, St. John Street, Montreal.

The meeting of the Wolfville Fire & Protection Company will be held in the Town Hall Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Any person having in their possession anything belonging to the Fire Department are requested to leave same at the Town Hall before Monday evening. By order of the Chief. W. M. REGAN, Sec'y.

A lecture is to be given in St. Andrew's church on Friday evening, Feb. 23rd, by Prof. J. W. Falconer, of Pine Hill College, on 'Dante.' This lecture is to be given under the auspices of the Mission Band and will be a most interesting one. It is hoped there may be a large attendance as Prof. Falconer is a clever and able speaker.

Services of special interest are anticipated in the Methodist church, Wolfville, on Sunday, the 18th inst. In the morning the pastor will speak on the proposed union of the Presbyterian, Congregational and Methodist denominations in Canada. In the evening it is expected that the Rev. Professor Spidle, of Acadia University will preach.

On Sunday last the services in College Hall were conducted by Rev. M. H. Fletcher, of St. John, the secretary of the F. M. Society of the Baptist church, who gave two exceedingly able addresses. On Monday evening at 7 o'clock Rev. M. Fletcher gave an interesting lecture on missions, which was thoroughly enjoyed by those present.

Mrs. Taylor wishes through THE ACADIAN to tender her sincere thanks to all those who rendered such valuable assistance at the time of the fire at her residence on Tuesday evening. To the students of the College and Academy, who were promptly on the spot and assisted so materially in saving the contents of the house she is especially grateful.

The revisors of electoral lists for the town of Wolfville have posted the preliminary lists at the following places: Lists for District No. 16, at Hutchinson's stable, 'Wood Cook' restaurant and Porter Bros. grocery; lists for No. 16 1/2, at the Town Hall, William Regan's harness shop and M. W. Peck's carpenter shop. Citizens will do well to study these lists carefully, and if any names are omitted or wrongly placed on the same, applications may be made to the revisors on or before Feb. 20, to add to or strike from. Now is the time to look after your qualifications. It will be useless to find fault when it is too late.

Another disastrous fire occurred on Tuesday evening, when the pretty summer home of Mr. C. S. Hamilton, of New Haven, Conn., was practically destroyed. The dwelling was occupied by Mrs. Taylor and her daughter, Miss Marguerite. The fire was discovered about 7:30 in the evening. It originated from the fire on the second floor and remained uncontrolled between partitions and floors until it had made considerable progress. When the fire fighters arrived on the scene they found they had a most difficult problem before them. Some of the contents of the building were removed and two streams of water were soon playing upon the fire. The carriage house adjoining was saved, but the dwelling was a mass of ruins before the fire could be stayed. The building was insured, and we trust will be rebuilt.

$18,000 Fire in Middleton.

The town of Middleton was visited by a big fire Saturday. The blaze started in Crowe Elliot Company's store. Almost the whole contents of store and of the residence of O. W. Crowe, on the second floor, were destroyed. A strong wind was blowing but the firemen saved the warehouse of Crowe Elliot Company, and the combined store and residence of C. R. Jones across the street.

On O. W. Crowe's household goods, valued at $8,000, he had $500 insurance on the second floor, which was destroyed. A Crowe, worth $2,500, was insured for half.

Crowe Elliot Company estimated their loss at $18,000, which was covered by insurance.

Carnival.

EVANGELINE RINK SCORES ANOTHER BRILLIANT SUCCESS.

The Fancy Dress Carnival at Evangeline Rink last Friday evening was a great success. There were about a thousand present, a large number of whom were dressed in costume. The special treats from Berwick, Kentville and intermediate points brought about 300 people, and a large number drove from Canning and other places. The rink was tastefully decorated with flags, and the ice was in fine condition. The Kentville and Berwick bands were in attendance and furnished excellent music, which was much appreciated. The following were awarded prizes:

LADY'S COSTUME: First: Indian Squaw, Miss Meud Publicover, Kentville. Second: Highland Lass, Miss Gladys Turner, New Minas.

GENTLEMAN'S COSTUME: First: Gracie, Paul and Roy Davidson, Wolfville. Second: Santa Claus, John Miser, Wolfville Ridge.

Owing to continued ill-health Rev. O. W. Miller, pastor of St. Andrew's church, was unable to occupy his pulpit on Sunday last. At the morning service Mr. I. S. Nowlan, of the Theological department at Acadia, preached a very interesting and helpful sermon, taking as his subject the story of the Transfiguration. In the evening the pulpit was ably filled by Rev. Prof. Spidle, Ph. D., who preached an earnest and inspiring sermon, his subject being 'The gospel of the poor,' based on Luke IV, 18-19. Both sermons were much appreciated. At the evening service the seating capacity of the church was fully taxed.

Brandon Grocer Won Second Prize.

FOR BEST CHRISTMAS WINDOW EXHIBIT IN TOWN WITH POPULATION OVER 10,000.

One of Brandon's most successful store keepers, Mr. E. A. Reid, of Dowling & Reid, grocers on Rosser avenue, has been awarded second prize in a contest promoted by the Canadian Grocer for the best window display of Christmas goods in towns of more than 10,000 population. The display in question was adjudged by means of a photograph sent in to the headquarters of the paper at Toronto. The editor of the journal, B. T. Houston, comments on the large number of entries in this class and compliments Mr. Reid on his success. He also stated that Toronto won both first and third awards in this division. [Edward Reid, mentioned above, is well known in Wolfville. Though not a Wolfville boy, being the son of Wm. Reid of Berwick, he began his mercantile career here in the grocery store of his brother-in-law, the late H. W. Davison. Leaving here, he went west, and has advanced steadily, till he is now partner in the largest grocery store between Winnipeg and the coast. This is the second time Mr. Reid has won a prize for his Christmas window.]

The Intercollegiate Debate.

Considerable interest is beginning to be manifested in the intercollegiate debate the date of which is rapidly approaching. This year Acadia meets Mt. Allison at Sackville on the evening of March 28th when the following subject will be discussed: 'Resolved, that Canada should contribute financially to the British navy, rather than build and maintain a navy of her own in accordance with the policy of the late government.' Acadia will be represented by Messrs. Baker, of the Senior class, Hsley, leader of the Junior class, and Howe of the Freshman class, who will support the negative. Mt. Allison representatives who will speak in support of the resolution, are Norman G. Guy, Walter T. Roggie and Percy A. Fitzpatrick. Mr. Ruggie is a son of Mr. Lenest Ruggie, formerly House Master at Horton Collegiate Academy.

To-night.

Mrs. Wyckoff Rogers of Amherst, perhaps better known as Grace Dean MacLeod, author of 'Stories of the Land of Brangellin,' will lecture before the Proprietary Society, in College Hall, this evening at 7 o'clock. 15 YEARS A DYSPEPTIC

Forced to Live on Stale Bread and Porridge.

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" CURED HIM

AVONDALE, N. B., October, 1914. "I have been a great sufferer from indigestion for fifteen years. I was forced to deny myself all such hearty foods as meats, potatoes, and could not drink tea or coffee. For the past two years, I lived on porridge, stale bread, etc. I had treatment from two doctors, and tried nearly every kind of medicine, but got worse. Finally I saw a testimonial of "Fruit-a-lives" and concluded to give them a trial. I took nearly four boxes of "Fruit-a-lives" and they have made me feel like a new man. I can eat all kinds of hearty foods without suffering, and am no longer constipated.

LESLIE A. W. BROWN. Many people look on "Fruit-a-lives" as a miraculous medicine. It has indeed performed what have seemed like miraculous cures in hundreds of cases of chronic indigestion, Dyspepsia, Constipation and Biliousness. "Fruit-a-lives" is the only medicine in the world made of fresh fruit juices and valuable tonics. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

Life.
Life is not all one gala day of pleas ure;
Life is not all a grieving for the wrong;
But dress is mingled with its every treasure,
And sadness forms a part of every song.

And yet I think that song is aye the sweetest
Whose minor chords are full of liv ing pain;
And she who sings "by love" is made completest,
Most truthfully interprets every strain.

And he whose strength temptation has defeated
Can measure best the depth to which he fell,
And gaining strength by trials oft repeated
Attains at last the height where angels dwell.

For one made wisely pure by long endeavor
By steadfast striving 'gainst the foe within,
Will pass the portals of the soul's forever
With greater joy than he who knew no sin.

Immortal life is won by each day climbing,
One by one, each earth-receding rung,
By heart-choords trembling in harmonious chiming,
With music by seraphic voices sung.

—Mrs. Fiedick Ransoun.

MADE WELL AND STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto.—I gladly give you my testimonial in favor of your wonderful medicine. Last October I wrote to you for advice as I was completely run down, had bearing down sensation in the lower part of bowels, backache, and pain in the side. I also suffered terribly from gas. After receiving your directions, I followed them closely and am now entirely free from pain in back and bowels, and am stronger in every respect.

Another Woman Cured.
Maple Creek, Sask.—I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I am now in perfect health. I was troubled with pains every month. I know other women who suffer as I did and I will gladly recommend your medicine to all who are troubled with any of the ailments mentioned in your book. Write for a free copy of the book. —Mrs. F. E. Cook, Maple Creek, Sask.

Pledges to Reform Drunkards.

A declaration endorsing the pledge method of reforming drunkards was signed by 555 delegates and members of the Thirtieth International Congress of Alcoholism, which convened at The Hague, Holland. This plan of treating inebriates was first tried in the courts ten years ago by Judge J. Pollard, of the second district court, St. Louis, Mo. It is now known as the Pollard system. The method is simply to release persons convicted of drunkenness and petty offenses arising out of drunkenness on condition that they sign in open court a pledge to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors for one year. Its adoption is left to the discretion of the judge, and violation is met by enforcing the penalty originally suspended. The plan has been adopted by legislative action in Great Britain, Victoria (Australia) and Vermont. Judge Pollard states that of the thousands of whom he has heard in this way during ten years less than 5 per cent. have forfeited suspension for sentence.—The Sun vey.

Eczema on the Head.
Mr. Peter, of St. John, Ont., writes: "For years I suffered a sort of eczema on the head. I tried many different doctors, giving much of my time and money, but without success. I got Dr. Chase's Ointment, and it has entirely cured me. I give you my name because I want other sufferers to know about this wonderful Ointment."

"Effie," said the timid Highland lover. "I had kiss ye, but I'm feart ye wadna let me."
"She blushed as red as the sunset but did not answer."
"Effie, he repeated a little later. "I said I wad kiss ye but I'm feart ye wadna let me."
At the third repetition she asked: "Dae ye min, David, yesterday, I couldna lift a bag of potatoes intae the cart an' ye lifted them for me?"
"Oh, ay," he replied.
"Well, that shows, David, she murmured, "that ye are far stronger than me."

In Dread of Croup.
Every mother dreads croup since she knows about Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It is a pleasant and safe remedy for the cough and affords relief and comfort. Its use should be kept up until the child is entirely recovered.

"I thought that is the fifteen years of my practice of medicine," said a physician. "I had answered almost every possible fool question, but a new one was sprung on me recently. A young man came in with an inflamed eye, for which I prescribed medicine—to be dropped into the eye three times a day. He left the office but returned in a few minutes, poked his head in the doorway, and asked, "Shall I drop this in the eye before or after meals?"

You are probably aware that pneumonia always results from a cold, but you may have heard of a cold, resulting in pneumonia when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used. Why take the risk when this remedy may be had for a trifle? For sale by all dealers.

A lawyer, annoyed at seeing a couple of Irishmen looking at a six-sided building which he occupied, lifted up the window, put his head out, and addressed them thus:
"Why do you stand there like a couple of blockheads gazing at my office. Do you take it for a church?"
"Faith," answered one of them; "I was thinkin' 'so till the devil poked his head out the windy."

Irish Porter—No, sir. He's out to lunch.
Passenger—Well, then, will he be back after his lunch?
Irish Porter (thinking he was being jilted)—No, he won't be back after his lunch, for his lunch he went after.

Don't let repairs eat up your profits

Whether they represent actual cash outlay, or only the time of yourself and your help, repairs are waste just the same. When you make an improvement—no matter how small its cost may be—let it be permanent. Then it is a real investment, something on which you can realize in cash should you decide to sell your property; and something that will pay you constant dividends in convenience, slightness and comfort as long as the farm remains your own.

Concrete Improvements Are Permanent

They last as long as the very hills themselves. They do not require experts to build them. Their first cost, in most cases, is no more than for inferior materials.

Then write for the book that describes hundreds of them—
"WHAT THE FARMER CAN DO WITH CONCRETE"

It isn't a Catalogue. Every one of its 150 handsomely illustrated pages is interesting and instructive. They tell how to mix concrete, how to place it, what can be done with it. The book was printed to sell for 50 cents, but we have a copy for you free.

Your name and address on a postal will bring this book TO YOU ABSOLUTELY FREE. Mail the postcard to-day. The book will come to you by return mail.

THE STANDING ALIBI OF H. STANLEIGH STORME

Copyright by Publishers Press Ltd. (By Wm. Hamilton Osborne).

As to do so, the prisoner plucked at the sleeve.

After a short conference, the attorney for the defence announced that he would defend his case.

The judge's charge was moral and formal in the extreme. At the close of it, the jury although invited to retire, declined to do so, and without leaving the jury box returned a verdict of "not guilty."

And then the crowd piled up on top of H. Stanleigh Storme and showered him with congratulations.

This was the only precarious experience that Storme had suffered during the whole case. Two-thirds, perhaps, of his friends and acquaintances were in the court room.

Every individual among the number insisted upon shaking him by the hand. The crowd packed the lobby, waiting for him.

Storme had his eye fixed wistfully on the exit. For some reason he was anxious to get away.

He thanked his counsel briefly, together with his witnesses, and then hurried along. Finally he reached his open air.

But there still clung to him a little eye of men and women. Suddenly he glanced down the street.

"There," he explained to his friends, "is a man I want to see—a man I must see."

And he hurried off. As he went he glanced at his watch.

There was no man, but he simply started to get away, that's all.

On the way he passed Officer O'Connell and Burke, the plain clothes man, who he did so he smiled upon them in a way that was childlike and bland.

"They returned the salutation with art nods of their heads.

"Well, Jim," said O'Connell to Burke, as Storme left them far in the rear, "what'd ye make of it, any?"

"Billey," returned Burke, solemnly, "I don't know what to make of it. He only solution I have arrived at is that the devil must have been stringing us that night. That's all I've got to say."

O'Connell shook his head doubtfully. And they quickened their pace and followed Storme.

Away up the street Storme forged ahead with rapid steps.

"An alibi," he muttered to himself, "is a blimed good thing."

CHAPTER VII.
The Shadows and the Shadowed.

It took Storme some time to escape wily from the clutches of his wayward enthusiastic friends. All the way along the street he met them.

By means of one pretext and another, however, he finally eluded them and slipped down a quiet street.

From this one he emerged into a more open thoroughfare, and finally stood before the Governor's, his bachelor apartment house.

Once there, he glanced hastily up and down the street to make sure that no one saw him, and quickly unlocked the door and stepped inside. He ascended noiselessly to the second floor apartment. He entered it, and hastily passed through room after room.

"Nobody here," he remarked with a sigh of relief. "I'm all alone."

He seated himself at a desk and began to write.

"It is just as well," he said to himself, "to write once more, now that it's all over. It was just as well, too, to write before, when—the first—catastrophe occurred. It's safer if I am, so help me God."

The other man came up from headquarters, after all.

He wrote hastily as follows:
My Dear Miss Dumont—

It seems better to address you so for the present. There are certain things to which I prefer to refer by letter alone.

"You will recall that I wrote you on the twenty-fourth of last month regarding you to make no reference in my presence, or to me, to anything which might have happened. That the time when you were to be spared indignities was a part of the peculiar circumstances which have constituted the part of my present life.

"Now that I have been vindicated in your eyes and in the eyes of the world I ask you to make to me no reference to—my—happenings, nor to such vindication, nor, indeed, to this letter or the other."

I have many good reasons for making this request, which are certain to be of much regard. Sincerely,
"H. STANLEIGH STORME"

"A bit formal, perhaps," continued Storme. "But certainly justified. This communication with Miss Dumont was certainly unlocked for—and yet—he called to himself—not altogether unreasonably, for me. I don't know after all, but that it is a good thing—a very good thing, perhaps—after all."
