Step Into Your Place

(By Staff Q. M. Sgt. E. E. Kelley, 193rd O. S. Battalion)

In a letter addressed to the First Minister of Canada, under date April 21st, 1916, an Ontario public man made this statement:

"The voluntary system will produce an after-war aristocracy of those who enlisted, and another class who will be looked down upon because they did not."

This statement is quoted here, because it is true, because it is too true.

When the campaign for men was on to fill the ranks of the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade, the statement was made that recruits would not be "dragooned into khaki." That statement was made by a writer who very thoughtlessly allowed a soft sentiment to dwarf his better sense. Had he asked himself a simple question, he never would have written what he did write. He should have reasoned this way:

"How is it possible to tell men the truth, to point them DUTY, and not apply moral conscription?"

When Colonel Borden addressed an audience on that famous recruiting tour, he told that audience the TRUTH. And the TRUTH was sufficient, because no power of eloquence, no trick of rhetoric, could strengthen the appeal of a man stripping facts naked—burning into men's souls the vitriol of the Great Lesson which only this Armageddon could produce.

One thing was left after the TRUTH failed—PITY FOR THE MAN WHO COULD NOT GRASP IT.

"Dragoon" men into khaki—certainly. And why not? Do we stand on ceremony and finesse when we drag the would-be suicide from the brink of death? Should we, then, hesitate in attempting to protect men against themselves? Don't we know that the gratitude in the years yet to be will counterpoise any harshness of the moment? Don't we know that there are men in the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade at this moment who thank God for the hour in which the TRUTH was literally forced upon them?

Live with soldiers for a little, hear what they have to say, grasp their feelings toward the man who should be in khaki—but is not. Then you will KNOW.

We talked of duty morning, noon and night. Is the term becoming threadbare? It isn't a light or idle word, but sometimes one feels that something more compelling than the repetition of the word simply is necessary. Men become callous. It seems necessary to tear the matted growths from their consciousness.

And that is why we repeat the TRUTH.

"The voluntary system will produce an after-war aristocracy of those who enlisted, and another class who will be looked down upon because they did not."

Many writers and speakers have uttered that thought, but few so simply and, withal, so forcefully. When DUTY TO THE STATE fails as an appeal, duty to the individual and to those who will come after, duty to oneself and (to be utterly selfish) to one's own blood relations, must be pointed, drastic, and bitter though it may seem now.

Young man, you can't look the man in khaki in the eye NOW. How will you fare, think you, when that "after-war aristocracy" come back to resume work alongside you in their uninterrupted peace-time pursuits?

After presenting his own congratulations, he reported that General Benson of Headquarters, 6th Militia Division, Halifax, and Premier Borden had specially expressed the pleasure that they had received from the concerts given by the band after the review and during the evening outside Camp Headquarters Mess, Lt.-Col. Hayes, who is president of the band committee, also called and genially conveyed his congratulations. The bandmen were delighted to discover that their musicianship was well received by their officers, and had drawn encouragements from the Prime Minister and from General Benson.

Memorial to Canadian Dead To Be Erected

Movement Now Under Way in London—Plan Includes also Cemetery and Tablets

London, Aug. 12—The Canadian dead, who died for England and the Empire, are to have their names and deeds splendidly remembered in the world's metropolis, London.

At a meeting of prominent men of all callings, representing all Overseas Dominions of the Empire, held here a few days ago, there was inaugurated a movement for the erection in London of a memorial to fallen Dominion soldiers and for securing a cemetery in London for interment of the remains of overseas men who die in England, where there will also be erected a tablet to the memory of each Dominion soldier who dies abroad. Official recognition will be sought when the plan has matured.

BRITISH WANT MORE CANADIAN MEDICAL MEN

Prussian Guard

History of "Invincible" German Corps Which British Valor Has Smashed on Battlefield

The Prussian Guard is supposed to be in the view of every German boy and girl, prince and peasant invincible. Napoleon once called his guard a "moving citadel which protects the Emperor wherever he goes." The Kaiser, on a spectacular occasion early in his reign stole the aphorism and applied it to the Prussian Guard.

To be exact, the Prussian Guard is an army corps, which takes the field as a separate unit and is made up on a peace footing of some 50,000 troops of all arms. It embraces thirteen regiments of infantry, eight regiments of cavalry. When we speak of the "Prussian Guard," therefore, we mean foot, rifles, uhlan, dragoon, cuirassiers, hussars, and even sappers.

Goal of Prussian Greatness

The men of the corps are the supposed super-troops of the Kaiser's Army, hallowed by legend with unconquerable prowess. Their officers are exclusively noble and the rank and file must be at least 5 ft. 10 in. and 168 lbs. Unlike other Prussian regiments the Guard is not a Territorial unit, recruited from the particular local district in which it is raised or has its headquarters, but consists of men from all parts of the kingdom.

Two qualifications are essential—the physical standard mentioned and "better-class" origin. As a rule, the Guards belong to the older farming stock of the Prussian Provinces. To have performed his two or three years of military service with Guard regiments in Berlin or Potsdam, where they are exclusively quartered, is for every young Prussian a badge of distinction which serves him well in later life.

Hohenzollern Pets

The First and Second Regiments of the Infantry of the Guard are the particular pets of the Hohenzollerns. All Prussian Royal Princes serve entering their ranks on their tenth birthdays, as "the little Willie," the Crown Prince's eldest son, has done completing what someone called "three degenerations." The princelings go through the form of "earning" their promotion by successive stages, beginning as subalterns and graduating to a colonelcy.

GERMANY'S LAST COLONY SLIPPING AWAY

London, Aug. 7—Gen Louis Botha, Premier of the Union of South Africa has arrived in German East Africa to witness what is believed here to be the last phase of the operations against Germany colony.

General Botha was present at the recent fighting north of the German Central Railway, which resulted in a British advance, to the occupation of the lines at Kilimatind and other points. Meanwhile with the occupation of Ujike by the Belgians and of Sarani and other coast ports by the British, the Germans apparently are afforded only the opportunity of retreating into the Southeastern corner of the colony, where the Portuguese, in their east African possession, are awaiting them.

TO FIND PLACES FOR CANADIAN SUPERNUMERARIES

Ottawa, Aug. 12—In Canada there are now upwards of 3,000 supernumerary and unattached officers and it is understood that some alternative will be given to them, pending the finding of places for them in the new battalions, either in home or in overseas units now in England.

EMPIRE ENTERS THIRD YEAR OF WAR WITH GRIM DETERMINATION

Every town and village in the British Isles, as well as places throughout the Empire, Friday observed the second anniversary of Great Britain's declaration of war. Meetings were held and resolutions passed declaring a "determination to continue to a victorious end, the struggle in the maintenance of those ideals of liberty and justice which are the common and sacred causes of the allies."

Three meetings had been arranged for London. In the afternoon, Sir Francis Lloyd, general officer commanding the London district, spoke to 4,000 wounded from the London hospitals.

ENGAGEMENT

Dr. and Mrs. H. A. March, of Lockeport, formerly of Bridgewater, announce the engagement of their daughter, Bessie Gladys, to Bandsman Frank T. Freeman, Bridgewater, of the 85th Battalion Band.

Sir R. L. Borden at Aldershot

Memorable Day in Annals of Nova Scotia

By Sergt. J. D. Logan, 85th Battalion, in Nova Scotia Highlander.

Memorable and auspicious are the right epithets by which to signalize the visit of Sir Robert Borden, Prime Minister of Canada, to Aldershot Camp, Wednesday, Aug. 9. Historically viewed the Premier's visit, his review of the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade, and his direct, moving speech to the Officers and Men of the Brigade, having in it, as it did, the humanity and power of a great General's "Farewell Address" to his troops, are destined to be written indelibly in the annals of Nova Scotia, and even of Canada. For the event in some respects, was unique in the history of Nova Scotia.

What other son of Nova Scotia, who eventually rose to the Premiership of Canada, ever before reviewed such a large body of Nova Scotian troops? Only Sir Robert Borden has had that distinction. What other Premier of Canada ever before reviewed a great body of troops that were almost to a man, either born and raised in Nova Scotia or were the sons of Nova Scotians and that are going overseas not merely as a Brigade unit but also as a unit wholly recruited from the native population of a single, relatively small, Province, which happens to be the Premier's own homeland? Only Sir Robert Borden has had that distinction. What other Premier of Canada has stood in a Canadian and Nova Scotian military camp and reviewed and addressed with the same appeal and to the same purpose a great body of troops, amongst which was a legion of native-born Americans, forming a battalion by themselves, who were recruited from a foreign country and yet who voluntarily stood side by side with Canadians as "brothers in arms" for upholding the liberties and peace of the world? Only Sir Robert Borden has had that great and unique distinction.

How else should men signalize the occasion of Sir Robert Borden's visit to Camp Aldershot and review of the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade, along with the 97th Battalion, American Legion, than as memorable, and as destined to be remarked in Canadian and Nova Scotia his as a unique event. Moreover, it was an auspicious event. For one thing, it impressed upon the minds of the officers and men of the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade that in being especially reviewed by the Prime Minister of Canada and in being told by him what heroic task soon would lie before them, they were not mere individuals fortuitously assembled but a combination which was to be a power for establishing righteousness again upon earth. And though no one openly spoke the word of resolve, the resolution was none the less inwardly made by all to strive to be as Sir Robert said they would be, an honor to the great cause they supported. It was an auspicious event, for this other reason. It disclosed the fact that the more man one hundred years' peace which has existed between Canada and the United States would continue, and continue on the basis of a real sympathy in a positive and actual voluntary espousal of the glorious cause of defending and conserving peace and liberties of humanity. Canada and the United States are one in heroic spirit.

The news that Premier Borden would review the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade at Aldershot Camp was no sooner published than the people of the Province, more especially in the Counties nearest Kings, awaited the day with genuine interest and expectancy. Nature garbed in beauty, and the heavens granting a placid blue and sun-smiling radiance, seemed to conspire with the military authorities to make the review an extraordinarily interesting spectacle both to soldiers and to civilians.

At any rate, long ere the time scheduled for the review, great throngs of civilians had arrived at Aldershot and were massed behind the four battalions of the Nova Scotia Highlanders, with which, for purposes of review, the 97th Battalion (American Legion) was temporarily brigaded. The N. S. Highland Brigade were formed up in review order on the acclivity of the drill campus near the south boundary, to which they had been paraded, under the command of the Brigadier, Lt. Col. Borden, and where they awaited the arrival of the Premier and military escort. The review order of the troops was—the 85th, 185th, 193rd, 219th and 97th, commanded by Colonel E. C. Phinney, Col. F. P. Day, Col. John Stanfield, Col. W. H. Muirhead and Col. W. L. Jolly respectively. With them in proper position were the bands of the different units massed under the direction of Lieut. D. Mooney, 85th Battalion.

Premier Arrives

At 2.30 p.m. Premier Borden arrived at Kentville station in his private car, attached to a special train from Berwick where, in the morning, Sir Robert had delivered a patriotic address to the congregation of the Methodist Camp Meeting. At Kentville station the Premier was met by Major General Benson, General Officer Commanding 6th Militia District, and Col. W. E. Thompson, Commandant of Aldershot Camp. Sir Robert was immediately conveyed by auto to the review grounds. The Brigade was drawn up in line of close columns at fifteen paces interval and upon the Premier reaching a position in front of the centre of the Brigade he was received by a general salute, the Brigade presenting arms and the massed bands playing eight bars of "O Canada."

Inspection

Sir Robert, accompanied by General Benson and Colonel Thompson then proceeded down the line inspecting the troops. After the inspection Sir Robert took up his position at the saluting base, where he was joined by His Honor Lieutenant-Governor MacKeen and Sir Frederick Borden. The troops then marched past in column and then returned to their original positions in line of close columns and advanced in review order.

This proved to be really a magnificent and soul stirring spectacle, and evoked from Premier Borden, and the general assembly of spectators expressions of admiration and frequent applause. The 85th Battalion, the senior battalion of the Brigade, took the lead in the March Past, the bands playing the regimental march. Thus it went on, battalion after battalion marching past the saluting base, to the strains of one or other of the different regimental marches. On they moved, rhythmically, in almost faultless alignment, on and along the campus.

It was altogether splendid and awoke poignant emotions of pride and patriotism in the hearts of the spectators. Undoubtedly, as Sir Sam Hughes had said on another occasion, "the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade was one of the finest body of men in Canada." Their manly physique and fit appearance made a deep impression. Impressive also was the effect of American born soldiers—volunteered soldiers—associated in the March Past with the Canadian soldiers, as were the officers and men of the 97th Battalion, stepping along in perfect alignment and clean-cut tread, to the strains of "Marching Through Georgia." Though an episode, this was a compellingly moving spectacle.

Premier Says Farewell

Lt.-Colonel Borden, the Brigadier, then ordered the Brigade and 97th to move forward and form up in the order of the old famous British hollow square. Thus formed and standing the Brigade was briefly but pointedly addressed by Sir Robert. It was a plain, direct and warm-hearted address by a distinguished Nova Scotian; and the Premier spoke with evident, though subdued, emotion, suffused with genuine feeling of pride in the manhood and achievements of Canadian soldiers in general, as well as in the manhood and soldierly qualities of the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade.

The keynote of the Prime Minister's address was Canada's part and duty in the cause of the great world war, and that the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade was expected to perform on the field of battle, as Sir Robert felt assured it would, deeds worthy of the Canadians who had already won immortal renown as splendid soldiers under fire, ready always to engage the most formidable enemy, and to be annihilated rather than to yield. Canada will do her duty, the Premier affirmed with emotion and prideful conviction—Canada will do her duty to the very end.

Reviewing in a few sentences the history of the war, and the part and place Canadians had taken, with the other Allies, in it, Sir Robert signalized the magnificent unanimity, devotion, and heroism of the Canadians in the cause, which is the cause, not merely of Canada, but of humanity.

Pausing a moment, while his eyes rapidly took in a final view of the aligned battalions of Nova Scotians before him, the Prime Minister concluded in these feelingly uttered and memorably notable words to the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade:

"It is noteworthy that so splendid a body of sons of this fine old Province—my own native Province—should be entering the war at this period, and I have every confidence that the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade will acquit themselves as well as any Canadian troops which have already won the admiration of the world.

"You are going forth to win victory for a great cause. I bid you farewell—I bid you God-speed, in full assurance that you will do honor to the trust placed in your hands."

Ringin' Cheers

It was all a fitting patriotic peroration, at the close of which Sir Robert called for three cheers for His Majesty, The King and three cheers for H. R. H., the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada. Lt. Col. Borden then called for three cheers for "the Prime Minister." In each case the rounds were ringing responses from the patriotic Nova Scotia Highlanders.

Immediately following the review and address, the troops returned to the regular routine of syllabus, and the Prime Minister had the privilege of seeing the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade at work—drill, musketry, trench warfare, bombing, bayonet fighting and physical training, all contributed to the interest of the afternoon. The Camp Hospital was visited and the army service and army medical corps were reviewed in their work.

Sir Robert dined in the evening at Camp Headquarters' Mess with General Benson, Col. Thompson, and staff, Lieutenant-Governor MacKeen, the Brigadier and the officers commanding the various Battalions. After dining, the Hyomei, the miraculous, antiseptic dry air treatment, will cure croup in either the first or second stages. Easily inhaled, even when breathing is irregular, it reaches more promptly than any other remedy the terribly inflamed membrane of the windpipe, its soothing balsams act immediately, the inflammation is allayed and the swelling reduced.

George H. King, of 22 Wellington Street, South Woodstock, says: "We would not think of keeping house without Hyomei. It has warded off colds, coughs and sore throats for all of our three children many and many a time. When a child breathes badly and through the mouth and the glands around the eyes and nose commence to swell, then is the time that we find the Hyomei quickly relieves the trouble and gets the bronchial tubes, lungs and throat cleared up."

Hyomei (pronounced High-ome) is guaranteed by J. D. Clark to cure catarrh, coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis and croup, or money back. A complete outfit, including a neat hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs only $1.00. An extra bottle of Hyomei, if afterwards needed, cost but 50 cents.

THE VALLEY

When August and the sultry summer's drought parch all the plains and pale the mountain-tops Where thick the pasture springs, Unchanged, our valley sloping to the south, Is greener than the Irish Isle, and drops With waterfalls and springs.

The meadows by the river, tall with flowers, The fountain leaping from the rock above, The simple ways of men, The farms and forests of this vale of ours, Are such, methinks, as shepherds love, And wait the flute of Pan.

The vale has seen unchanged a thousand years Or more, and Mercury might wander back And find, the same Auverne, And great the hollows of the mountain meres Where round the crater's brim the rocks are black Amid the beds of fern.

The water runnels trace their crystal rings And, thro' the grasses, gleam The tawny oxen pull the tri-dent plow And turn the soil, while the farmer sings To cheer the straining teaming

How tranquil smiles the valley, broad and calm! —A. Mary F. Robinson.

The boys of the 97th have many good things to say concerning the friendly way they have been used by the other battalions in Camp. There has never been any difficulty to get a game on and our boys have entered all the sports that have taken place in camp during our stay here. Our officers have been invited to many special functions and the 97th has been hailed heartily not only by their friends in khaki but by the civilians as well.

There is a place for you in the new Reserve Battalion of the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade. "On the road to Tipperary there's a place that's vacant still.

There's a rifle lying idle, there's a uniform to be sure, at home they'll hate to lose you, but the march will soon begin.

On the road to Tipperary with the Army to Berlin.

On the road from Tipperary, when the boys come home at last.

You will wish that you had heeded ere Old Britain's call had past—

But THE GATE OF MANHOOD'S OPEN, you your task may yet begin.

Provincial Medical Board

At a meeting of the Provincial Medical Board last week Dr. N. E. McKay, chairman of the Halifax City Health Board, was elected president in succession to Dr. Stewart now overseas and Dr. McKay and Dr. Moore of Kentville were appointed representatives on the Dominion Medical Council of Canada, which meets at Ottawa from time to time.

A resolution was adopted to have German eliminated from the list of subjects for medical examinations in the Province.

PURPLE FEATHER CLUB FORMED

Patriotic Organization Instituted to Provide Funds for 219th Band and Other Needs

Some one slipped the fact to friends in Halifax, a great many of whose sons and comrades are in the 219th Battalion, that "the lads who wear the Purple Feather" have no band to lead them—no music to put spirit in them when mounting guards, or engaged in a march past, and so on.

Moreover these same friends who think the 219th Battalion ought to have a Band, also believe that these Nova Scotia warriors should have a fund for other necessities and comforts which are not supplied by military regulations.

And so there came into existence the Purple Feather Club, a central organization at Halifax, with Branch Clubs in all other Nova Scotia centres where Purple Feather lads were recruited or enlisted. Their purpose is to have monies collected for funds to be used in supporting a 219th Battalion Band, and supplying necessities and comforts, and paying for meeting exigencies that may occur.

The funds collected are to be placed in the hands of trustees and administered by them. If the battalion, by the fortunes of war, should go out of existence, the funds belong to the Purple Feather Club to be used as it thinks best for any other patriotic purpose.

Following is the roster of management and agents:
 Honorary President: Mrs. David MacKeen.
 President: Mrs. Geoffrey Morrow.
 Secretary: Mr. J. K. Kellaher, Manager the Morning Chronicle.
 Treasurer: Mr. D. McGillivray, Manager Canadian Bank of Commerce.
 Trustees: Dr. John Forrest, late President Dalhousie; Mr. Corbett.
 Bankers: The Canadian Bank of Commerce, Halifax.
 Subscriptions should be sent to the Secretary, The Purple Feather Club, Chronicle Building, Halifax, N. S.

Whole Enemy's Winter Positions Captured by the Russians

Nordworna Captured

PETROGRAD, Aug. 12, via London—"The whole region of the main enemy winter positions before Tarnopol and Buczacz," has fallen into the possession of the Russians, according to the official statement from General Headquarters.

Thus, the whole region of the main enemy winter positions before Tarnopol and Buczacz, on both flanks, fell into Russian possession.

The gallant troops under General Letchitzky captured Nordworna (south of Stanislaw), and the village of Pitkov, and then crossed the River Bystritza at Soletvina.

Italians Hurl the Austrians Back

Capture 2000 Prisoners

ROME, Aug. 13, via London—In the Montfalcone and Gorizia sectors the Italians, pressing their offensive, have driven the Austrians from fortified positions, says the official communication of today. More than 2,000 prisoners were taken.

Altogether, since August 6th, 15,393 prisoners have been counted, including 330 officers. In the same operations the Italians have taken 16 guns, a large number of machine guns and war material of all kinds.

British Hurl Germans From a Mile of Trenches

Aeroplanes Do Great Damage

LONDON, Aug. 13—An important advance on the Somme front northeast of Pozieres was announced today by the War Office. The British pushed forward their lines 300 or 400 yards over a front of nearly a mile.

LONDON, Aug. 14—The repulse of a German attack southeast of Guillemont is reported in an official statement issued tonight by the War Office. The text of the statement follows:

Southeast of Guillemont the enemy last night made an attack with bombs which we repulsed. On our right flank, except for some fairly heavy shelling of our front trenches and minor encounters with hostile detachments near Delville wood, there was no event of importance.

Yesterday our flying corps carried out a long distance raid and did great damage to some railway works and sidings. Several short raids and reconnaissances were undertaken with good results. Hostile aircraft, although fairly active, avoided combat. We drove down an enemy machine and one of ours is missing."

Woman Murdered by Husband in Digby Co.

DIGBY, August 13—Digby has another murder case. From the evidence brought out at the coroner's inquest it appears that Charles Robart, colored, a fireman on the steamer Prince George, running between Boston and Yarmouth, came up on yesterday's Bluenose, hired an auto, and was driven to the home of Luke Frances, at Westville, a village near Digby, where his wife, also colored, had been staying since Wednesday. Without any warning, it is alleged, he drew a 38 calibre revolver and shot her through the shoulder, killing her almost instantly. He then came out to the road and returned to Digby in the same auto.

At the Post Office he gave himself up to Chief of Police Peck, at the same time handing him the revolver. He said: "She has fooled me long enough, broke up my home, sold my stuff, and I made up my mind she would never do it again. I have fixed her, I think, and I am willing to take the consequences."

ANOTHER KINGS CO. HERO

Gave His Life For His Friends and Country

The sad news has reached Mr. and Mrs. A. Stewart Alcorn at Berwick that their son, Private Alcorn was recently killed in action. This comes as a sad blow to the bereaved parents and other members of the family. Carl was a noble young man and paid the supreme price of his loyalty to the cause of freedom and right. The whole family will have deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

Music at Aldershot on Review Day

Adding considerably to the general pleasure of Wednesday were the two concerts given by the 85th Band, under the direction of Lieut. Dan. Mooney. The first was played in the afternoon under the pines, on the south boundary of the campus; the second, in the evening, during Camp Headquarters Mess. The features of both concerts was the fine ensemble playing in grand selections and the work of the soloists, Bandsman Thomas Roy, baritone (in "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp.") Bandsman A. MacDougall, trombone, (in "Memories") and Bandsman H. Percival Barns,

Pat and Mike

Pat and Mike O'Reilly were on a steamer coming from Ireland. They were on deck and everything was quiet.

"It's very nice here," said Pat.

"If you want some fun, there is a cannon on board. Shoot that off and you will see some fun." And Mike smiled.

"The captain would hear us Mike."

"Not at all," said Mike. "I will get a bucket and hold it over the mouth of the cannon, and that will hush the noise."

"All right," said Pat, and proceeded to fire the gun, and blew poor Mike ten miles out to sea. The captain heard the report and rushed on deck.

"Where's Mike?" said the captain.

"He's gone for a bucket of water, said Pat.

"Will he be back soon?"

"If he comes back as quick as he went," said Pat, "he will be here in a minute."

Mamma's Opinion

The two girls were walking along a suburban avenue, talking about their best young men, of course. At least, one of them was.

"Charlie was up to see me last night," she said, with a twinkle.

"That's twice in a week, isn't it?" inquired the other.

"Yes." And she blushed and giggled.

"I suppose he'll come three times in the next week?"

"I suppose so."

"And four times the next?"

"That's what brother says."

"And five times the next?"

"That's what sister says."

"And six times the next?"

"That's what auntie says."

"And seven times the next?"

"That's what papa says."

"And then what?"

"Then we'll get married; that's what everybody says."

"And then what?"

"Then I won't see him any more of an evening; that's what mamma says."

ANNIVERSARY SPEAKERS

No less than fourteen Officers of the Highland Brigade spoke at different places on August 4th, the second Anniversary of the declaration of war between Great Britain and Germany. They all sounded a note of confidence and a note of warning. A note of confidence in victory for the Allies. A note of warning that we may allow others to do more than their share by doing a little less than we ought ourselves. The fact that there is still an opportunity to join the Highland Brigade was dwelt upon. Following are the names of the officers who went out and a list of the places at which they spoke:—

MARRIAGES

PURVES-BLAIR—On August 2nd, 1916, at Ottawa, by Rev. W. A. McLroy, Ina Ewart, eldest daughter of Major H. C. and Mrs. Blair, to Lieut. T. D. A. Purves, "C" Co. 185th O. S. Battalion, C. E. F.

MCISAAC-MCDONALD—On Tuesday Aug. 8th, at St. Ninian's Cathedral, Antigonish, by Rev'd Father McAdam, Mary McDonald of Antigonish, to Capt. J. A. McIsaac of Inverness, "A" Co'y., 185th O. S. Battalion.

MURPHY-NICKERSON—At Clark's Harbor, July 29th, Private Joseph Murphy of the 219th. Battalion, and Lulu, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nickerson.

246TH BATTALION

The 246th Battalion is a fact. It is not only a part of the Highland Brigade but in a special sense belongs to each Battalion. Each Battalion has a special interest in a certain company, for in days to come this company will come forward to give required support, perhaps when it is much needed.

At present the quarters of the 246th are west of the 97th lines. Men are already coming in to join it, and with those to be transferred from the other units of the Brigade, it will soon show a goodly number.

The C.O., Lt.-Col. Parsons, is enthusiastic in the formation and organization and the officers are being appointed and are taking up the work.

To fill up the vacant ranks recruiting is always under way, and a vigorous campaign will be pushed. Highlanders can render splendid service to the Brigade, to their own battalion, and to the 246th, by sending for their friends who could not join us before, and inviting them to come to the 246th. A little work by all will accomplish more than a large amount from a few.

CANADIAN HEROISM

It is impossible for any Canadian to read the bald and severely official record of military honors conferred upon our fellow Canadians for deeds of great daring in France and Flanders, without feeling deep and many emotion. The official recorder is neither a panegyrist nor a poet. In the most prosaic fashion, he tells us how our lads risked their lives for the succour of their companions or But beneath his formal and cold language, we can easily see the hot pulsations of high resolve and the grim courage which has ever been accounted heroism. Death, mutilation, the prison camps of Germany, the long torture of the unrescued wounded—these prospects have not been terrifying enough to check the magnificent bravery of our boys. And from one end of Canada to the other, we are proud of them—sinfully, shamelessly proud; and, through all the future, it will be a prouder thing to call one's self a Canadian because these men have dared and done.

Demonstrations in Physical Training

Recently Witnessed By Officers and Civilians—interesting and instructive

Crush of matter in the interest of recruiting the 246th Battalion compelled the omission of an account of the very interesting and instructive "Exhibition and Demonstration of Bayonet Fighting and Physical Training" by assistant instructors class in P. T. & B. F., School of Infantry, 6th Militia District. The exhibition and demonstration was held Wednesday afternoon, August 2nd, and disclosed the results of twenty-one days work under the supervision of Lieut. Ramsey Traquair, officer in charge of B. F. & P. T., 6th Militia District.

Following was the program: (1)—Demonstration of Physical Training teaching. (2)—Demonstration of Bayonet Fighting teaching. (3)—Swedish Games. (4)—Grand March and Mass Drill by Class. (5)—Charging the enemy's trenches.

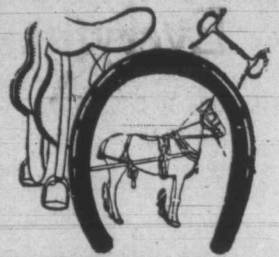

The exhibition was largely attended by officers and witnessed also by many civilians. The general interest throughout was keen. The demonstrations were notably worth while.

Are caterpillars good to eat?

"Are caterpillars good to eat?" asked little Tommy at the dinner table.

"No," said his father. "What makes you ask a question like that while we are eating?"

"You had one on your lettuce, but it's gone now," replied Tommy.

MILITARY WEDDINGS

PURVES-BLAIR The marriage took place at Ottawa on Wednesday last, of Ina Ewart, eldest daughter of Major and Mrs. H. C. Blair, to Lieut. T. D. A. Purves of the 185th. Battalion. Miss Blair was a Truro girl and is well known throughout the province for her charm and varied accomplishments.

Our best wishes are extended for a very happy life, and Mrs. Purves will be very much welcomed in the social life of that battalion.

Capt. T. McIsaac Weds

On Tuesday, the 8th., inst., Capt. T. McIsaac, who commands "A" Company, 185th, was married to Miss M. MacDonald of Antigonish. The ceremony took place in St. Ninian's Cathedral, in the presence of a large number of friends.

Goldsmith-Burns

A quiet home wedding took place at the residence of Mr and Mrs. Jas. Goldsmith at Bridgetown on the 4th inst., when their second daughter, Miss Lena Delaney, became the bride of Sergeant-Drummer and Mrs. Percy Burns. The bride was handsomely attired in white silk with showered lace, and carried a pretty bouquet of sweet peas.

Hardwick-Pickup

The home of Hon. S. W. W. Pickup at Annapolis Royal was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, August 2nd when his second daughter, Helen, was united in marriage to Lance Corporal Richard Hardwick of "C" Co's 85th Bn. The ceremony which was very simple and witnessed only by the immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom, took place at twelve o'clock noon.

Corporal McGrath Weds

Corporal A. H. McGrath, of Tusket, N. S., 219th. Battalion and attached to the medical office, was married Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock to Miss E. B. Branton of New York. The ceremony took place in St. Joseph's Church, Kentville, Rev. Dr. Donahue officiating.

CALL TO ARMS

The Boys Who Wear the Feather

Oh here we are in Aldershot, Where many a grim show battle's fought, That rages round this sandy spot, By the boys who wear the feather! We're training here to fight the foe, And soon to France we'll blithely go To lay the German earth works low, We boys who wear the feather.
