THE TORONTO WORLD.

MONDAY MORNING, NOV. 24, 1884.

SOOT ACT INTERVIEWS.

Reasons Why Liquor Dealers Oppose and Temperance People Uphold It. Though aware to flattery, which imitation is said to be the most sincere manifestation, the Globe's success in finding out that the liquor men oppose the Soot act while the prohibitionists support it, has moved the World to go and do likewise.

Mr. Brewer—I am against the act so far as it affects beer. Whisky is a liquor according to and non-intoxicating liquid, but beer is a beverage. Whisky drives men wild. Beer makes them sleep sound. Close up the distilleries and encourage the breweries, and the millennium will soon be upon us.

Mr. Distiller—What the people of this country really need is a pure stimulant, and good whisky fills the bill. Of course if a man makes a hog of himself the abuse of a stimulant will do him no good, just as it is bad to eat too much or to lie too long in bed. But where a stimulant is required the faculty invariably prescribes good whisky in preference to the noxious drugs to which some people are addicted. Beer and patent medicines are ruining this country. Beer is a willful, blood-breeding, dyspepsia-developing fluid. Beer-bibbers are bloated, bilious, stupid, moribund, with some stomachs and diseased kidneys. If the Soot act would close up the breweries and let the distilleries alone I would support it. Let those who need a stimulant take nothing but pure whisky and good digestion will wait upon appetite.

Mr. Grapergrower—The evils of intemperance are palpable. Whisky and beer are sources of death in many mansions are drawn. Pure native wine is the one panacea for the ill that the doctor is heir to. Shut the breweries and distilleries, plant a vine press upon every farm, and the demon of intemperance will be diminished horns. This is where the Soot act fails to command itself to me.

Mr. Prohibitionist—Whisky is a mocker and a strong drink is a raging. What the country demands must have is a total abstinence of the traffic in all malt and spirituous liquors including wine, beer and cider. As a means to that end I am for the Soot act first, last and all the time. Good water is heaven's own beverage, and ought to be hauled over the coals forthwith. The case with which we call attention to that of Buffalo by some of the Hamilton force. It may be remembered that a quantity of goods stolen in Toronto were found in Hamilton. The goods were traced and secured; and the various parties to the case, together with the whole matter, were communicated by the police here to Chief Stewart. By means of Stewart and his officers were enabled to trace and capture the prisoner, and to find and secure the stolen goods, and these goods, or some of them, were traced to Hamilton. The case was then referred to the Toronto merchants who have been robbed. Just incidentally on his track, he is taken to have him tried in Hamilton for receiving stolen property, ignoring the fact that to identify the goods, without which the prosecution could follow, five of our merchants would be compelled to go to Hamilton and be there kept during the trial, besides other necessary witnesses. It is again there are several other whose goods would remain to be identified, and these goods cannot be sworn to until examined and cleared up to have been sent on here. The whole thing is an outrage on common sense, and demands a speedy redress.

The Toronto silver plate company limited to Hamilton. The Toronto silver plate company is evidently controlled by men who have a proper, humane consideration for their numerous employes, as is witnessed by their escapes on both sides of their extensive building on King street west. This forebodes a commensurate, and worthy of more general adoption on the part of other factories in the city.

At the Grand-Storm Beaten. The Hamilton papers speak highly of this play, which was presented there Friday and Saturday to big houses. They praise the sentiment of the piece, the acting of the large company, and the scenery and staging, which are all original and especially designed for the occasion. The large number of spectators who were present, and the fact that the play was sold out, are all promises to have a successful run at the Grand.

Barrie on Exemptions. The Examiner, by all means let Barrie cooperate with Toronto in this matter, and press upon both the Dominion and provincial governments, if necessary, the urgent need there is for empowering municipalities to pass an act dealing with each corporation may be fit with the exempt properties and incomes over which they have no sort of control whatsoever.

Bright Lights at the People's. The entertainment at the People's theatre this week will be furnished by Bayliss Kennedy's Bright Lights, a company of twenty-one specialty artists. They played at Buffalo last week to big business and are described as presenting original, eccentric and clever variety performances. The People's ought to be filled every night.

The constable rescued them from their dangerous position and brought them to No. 4 station. The two appeared at the police court and were dismissed with a warning.

The Ambitious City's Ambitious Chief of Police. A proper suggestion has been made that the attention of the attorney-general ought to be called to the alleged self-glorification of Chief of Police A. D. Stewart of Hamilton, which is calculated to cause discomfort and inconvenience to several of Toronto's citizens. No excuse of any sort have we been able to find, nor any reason, save a desire for personal glorification, to account for this official's extraordinary proceedings, and we certainly think he ought to be hauled over the coals forthwith. The case with which we call attention to that of Buffalo by some of the Hamilton force. It may be remembered that a quantity of goods stolen in Toronto were found in Hamilton. The goods were traced and secured; and the various parties to the case, together with the whole matter, were communicated by the police here to Chief Stewart. The Middlesex Association of Toronto University graduates. A very interesting meeting of this association was held in London on Friday. E. H. Cameron, B.A., took the chair, and for an hour and a half an animated discussion took place between those present concerning university matters. After a general lengthily debate as to the practicability of the scheme, and as to the probability of success, it was decided unanimously by the meeting that the Middlesex Association of Toronto university graduates should extend an invitation to the following graduates in the surrounding counties to join them in a union meeting to be held in London some time in the middle of January, and discuss matters of interest to the students of the various universities spread for them by the Middlesex association.

The bricks were some up to the specifications and some not. The city engineer and the city commissioner took part in the inspection.

Another New-Born Infant. At 6 p.m. Saturday evening the residents at No. 449 Sherbourne street were treated to a surprise in the shape of a tiny month-old baby wrapped in a red and white shawl and tucked in a snug corner of their front door-step. The infant's cries had attracted the attention of the household, and when discovered there was found wrapped up with it a nursing bottle, but of course nothing to indicate where or to whom the little was belonged. The child was sent to the infant's home, where it will be cared for.

Exemptions in Party Sound. North Star: There is no objection but that the exemption of properties has gone too far, and that the time has arrived when parliament should remove all exemptions. Perhaps the best plan the legislature could adopt would be to repeal the exemption of such properties optional with municipalities. In this village with a total assessment of less than $150,000 there is upwards of $20,000 worth of property which is exempt from taxation.

Searching for Her Husband. Brantford Expositor: A young woman accompanied by a five-year old child arrived in the city last evening from Toronto and sought the aid of Chief Griffith in discharging her husband from prison on bail. A HETERODOX VIEW OF THE BIBLE.

As Explained by Rev. Henry Browne in the Unitarian Church.

What about the Bible? This was the subject of Rev. Mr. Browne's lecture last night in the Unitarian church, Jarvis street. This, he said, was one of the questions of the day, about which a great many were in a state of uncertainty. There was a great revolt against the popular doctrine of the inspiration, or rather, of the infallibility of the scriptures. There was nothing better calculated to feed a more so-called unbeliever than for the teachers of religion to keep on insisting that everything in them from cover to cover was to be received as the veritable word of God. The great weakness of protestantism was its bibliolatry. When the authority of the church as an infallible rule of faith and conduct had been overthrown, the language of the writers had been put up in its place. So the bible had been put up as a which was never intended, and claimed to be so in any specific sense to books at all. These were their worst friends—aye, their worst enemies—who depressed the light of reason, and insisted on a belief in the divine infallibility of every page as the only condition of its acceptance. The "Bible commission" after hearing arguments, decided to refer the question whether polygamists may lawfully vote at school elections to the attorney-general of the United States.

Pat McDermott, a notorious footpad, was not detected at Chicago by a policeman from whom he had broken away.

The best people in the city have taken a lively interest in the course, and have subscribed liberally for tickets. The consequence is that the seats for the lecture are taken, and the balance will not do but be disposed of to-day. The sale of single tickets will close to-morrow night. Prof. Proctor's subject to-morrow night is "The Great Pyramid." He is followed on Friday and Saturday by the eminent Shakespearean reader.

Arabi Pasha. A recent visitor to Arabi Pasha says that the exiled Egyptian lives at Mount Aron, some miles from Colombo, in a fine house surrounded by gardens filled with the luxuriant vegetation of the tropics. Arabi is described as being a man of tall stature and majestic carriage. His face, which is truly handsome, with an intelligent forehead, is framed in a long black beard, and the appearance of a patriarch. The ease with which he converses, and the affability of his manner, are a contrast to the world. He is an accomplished gentleman.

Friemen's Prayer Meetings. Sunday evening meetings are now being held regularly in the Court-street hall, and are highly appreciated by the men who, it is well known, have seldom or never a chance to attend church service. The meetings are conducted by Rev. W. H. G. Greene of St. James' cathedral, and are held on Friday evenings at 7:30. The attendance reached seventeen or more than the full strength of the station. Such is the interest in the meetings, that an organ to be used at the meetings is being procured.

Peter's Pollak. The lake near Warton drained by Peter A. Scott presents a bed of fine clay, which on analysis is found to contain excellent pollack properties. Men carried a small lump of the material round with him Saturday and polished up everything "polishable" which came in his way, the surface on which it was used being rendered bright and shining after a slight rubbing. Mr. Scott intends to place the article on the market.

Retained With Interest. Clinton New Era: Somewhere in 1860, while Dr. Holmes, the present county treasurer, was attending the Toronto school of medicine, a fellow-student named Bell borrowed a book from him, which he never returned. The doctor forgot all about the circumstance until a short time since, when he received a letter from his comrade, who informed him that he had an enclosure of $8-$8 for the book and $5 for interest.

THE FRENCH FABRICTIONS. The Victoria in Formosa and Tonga. Greatly overrated. The Chinese is preparing to go to Formosa. It is believed that in order to settle the French difficulty France demands strict execution of the Tien-Tan treaty the occupation of Keelung and Tamsui five years, and an apology from the Chinese government for the trouble at Lan-tai. The French are not to be trifled with. They are allowed to hold Formosa for years until they find an excuse for permanent occupation.

By the French in Formosa are fabricated and that the French success in Tonga has been greatly exaggerated. The French of Tonga are making no progress. If operations are at a standstill, and they confined to the Red River, and the most of the French have no foothold, and at Keelung. The Chinese are now advancing the offensive in Tientsin and Formosa. The French are not to be trifled with. They are allowed to hold Formosa for years until they find an excuse for permanent occupation.
