

EIGHTH YEAR

MAGNIFICENT PAGEANT

THE LINE OF IT NEVER BEEN IN EUROPE BEFORE.

The gorgeous spectacle connected with Queen Victoria's progress to Westminster is a brilliant pageant in English history.

On reaching Regent-circus, where six main streets converge, the sight was a memorable one, the streets being all splendidly decorated.

The scene in Westminster Abbey was most brilliant. Every seat was filled and every eye was turned to the noble stained windows of the Abbey.

When this audience was all seated the scene presented was incomparable. The sun shone brightly through the noble stained windows of the Abbey.

Along the Thames Embankment the procession had a most happy start. From the new National Liberal Club St. Stephen's church the procession started.

On reaching the Abbey the Queen's carriage was a large one of oboecolor, with red and gold panels.

Punctually at 11.15 a.m. the Queen in an open carriage entered from the palace gates. As she rode the applause being accompanied by the music of the many military bands.

On reaching the Abbey the Queen was seen to look up at Aspley House, and as she passed the mansions of her intimate friends she glanced somewhat hastily at the windows, more especially when passing the Duke of Cambridge's, Baron Rothschild's, Baroness Burdett-Coutts and John Bright's old apartments.

When the Queen reached the Abbey the grand procession that had been made to greet her.

When the benediction had been said the Queen's own knights before her and knelt before her. They arose and the Queen knelt before the altar.

After the royal salutations had all been made the Duke and the Duchess of Devonshire, the congregation standing and cheering with fervor all the while.

Immediately before his commencement the bells of the Cathedral "National Anthem," and on their cessation the organist played the "Hallelujah Chorus."

The speech of the day, however, was delivered by the Hon. Seth Low, ex-Mayor of New York.
