ALL IS PEACE.

The American Kennel Club and the National Dog Club have joined hands.

TORONTO.

The formation of a Kennel Club in Toronto may be looked for in the near future, and perhaps a bench show during the first week of the Industrial.

THE RIDEAU KENNELS,

Ottawa, have recently imported from England a brace of liver colored Cockers of the most fashionable strain. These are General Mite and Nellina, both prize winners. Beside their bench qualities, they are also good workers, and must prove a valuable addition to the breeding stock of this country. General Mite has been placed at stud in our columns.

MR. J. OXFORD,
Toronto has received from England a black and tan English Terrier bitch.

DR. C. M. NELLES
of Brantford, we regret to hear has been exceedingly ill, but are glad to say he is now on the improve.

BRANT COCKER KENNELS have added to their list the Stud English Setter Paris III, and the English Setter bitch Genevieve.

THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB are circulating a petition to be presented to the Government to have the duty on dogs that are brought into the Dominion abolished.

OUR ILLUSTRATION.

This month we present our readers with the promised cut of the Cocker Stud dog Black Graf, A. K. R. 646, by Champ Obo II ex Champion Critic.

This cut is from a photograph by Dixon and is true to life. As can be readily seen he is a dog of great substance and strong character, having immense bone and profuse feathering, he is very low on his legs, strong in loin and quarter, good head, grand ears, well placed, and flat coat.

As a stud dog he has the all-important faculty of transmitting to his offspring, his own strong characteristics.

He has only for a short time been used in the stud, but his pups are coming forward now, and nearly all his get are remarkable for their substance and style. From some very ordinary bitches he has produced winners.

We have seen two bitches of his get that are simply wonders for their age, and if they continue as they promise now, will create a "sensation."

A glance at his breeding will show Graf comes from producing ancestry both through sire and dam. We think this dog will be of great service to the Cocker fancy and predict for him a great future in the stud.

CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB DOG SHOW RULES.

1. The word dog where used in these rules includes both sexes.

2. Every dog entered at any show held under these rules must be the bona fide property of the person making such entry on the day of closing the entries. The entry must clearly identify the dog to be exhibited by name, and, if known, its date of birth, name of its sire and dam and the name of its breeder.

Should any of these particulars be unknown to the exhibitor it must be so stated on the entry blank and inserted in the catalogue.

SECTION I. Prize winners at any show held under the rules of the Canadian Kennel Club must be entered in the Canadian Register before prize will be given (American dogs excepted).

2. Every dog entered at any show held under these rules and owned in the United States must be registered with the American Kennel Club before being allowed to compete.

3. If the name of a dog which has won a prize has been changed, the old name must be given on the entry blank and inserted in the catalogue, together with a list of all prizes won by the dog until such time as it wins a prize under its new name.

4. If a dog has been entered without being clearly identified as directed in Rules 2, and 3, it shall be disqualified and forfeit any prize which may have been awarded to it.

5. The breeder of a dog is the person owning or leasing the bitch at the time of her being bred.

6. A puppy is eligible for competition in either the puppy or open class, or both, unless prohibited by the special rules of any show, but a separate entry must be made for each class.

7. The authorities of any show may reserve to themselves the right of declining any entries they may see fit, or of removing any dog on account of disease, vice, or other cause.

8. A castrated dog or spayed bitch shall be disqualified and forfeit any prizes which may have been awarded it.

9. Total blindness, deafness or lameness shall absolutely disqualify. If the judge or veterinary surgeon is satisfied that the deafness or lameness is temporary the dog shall be allowed to compete.

10. A dog suffering from mange or any contagious disease shall be disqualified and forfeit any prizes which may have been awarded to it, and shall at once be removed from the show building. The regularly appointed veterinary surgeon shall alone decide as to mange or contagious disease, and his decision must be given in writing.

11. A judge may disqualify a dog which in his opinion has been improperly tampered with, subject to the decision of the veterinary surgeon. Should the judge's disqualification not be sustained, the class must be immediately rejudged.

12. Full discretionary power is given to the judge of each class to withhold any or all prizes for want of merit. The judge's decision will be final in all cases affecting the merits of the dogs, and appeals can only be entertained where misrepresentation or breach of the rules is discovered.

13. Should any appointed judge be unable to fulfil his engagement the committee shall have the right to fill the vacancy in such manner as they see fit; all the separate classes of any one breed of dogs, must however, be adjudicated upon by the same judge or judges acting in conjunction.

14. In any class where there is a limit of weight, the person in charge of dogs entered in such a class may claim of the show committee the right at any time before the judging to have his dog weighed, and the weight of the dog shall be registered and hold good to the time of judging.

15. A dog to compete in a champion class must have won four first prizes, exclusive of puppy classes and classes not confined to one breed, at shows approved by the Canadian Kennel Club, a list of which, together with the rules, must be published in the premium list and catalogue of each show.

16. In estimating the number of prizes a dog has won with reference to whether it should compete in a champion class or not, the number of prizes won shall be calculated up at 12 p.m. of the day preceding the closing of the entries of the show.

17. In entering a dog in a champion class it is necessary to specify on the entry blank a sufficient number of first prize winnings to entitle him to compete in such a class, and this record must be given in the catalogue.

18. No dog eligible for special prizes can be withdrawn from competition unless it has been stated on the entry blank, "Not to compete for special prizes."

19. No special prizes can be accepted or offered by a show committee after the show is opened.

20. The age of a dog shall be calculated up to and inclusive of the day preceding the show. A dog whelped April 30 shall not be eligible on May 1, of the following year to compete in a class for dogs under twelve months of age.

21. An objection to a dog may be made by any person but must be in writing and be lodged with the secretary of the show within ten days of the last day of the show. The objection must (unless in the case of an objection made in the name of the Canadian Kennel Club or by the committee of the show in which case a deposit shall not be necessary) be accompanied by a deposit of five dollars, and if the objection is decided to be frivolous the deposit shall be forfeited to the committee of the show. From the decision of the show committee appeal may at once be made to such members of the executive committee of the Canadian Kennel Club as may be present, and if the show committee decision is sustained by them the five dollars deposit is thereby forfeited to the show committee. From any such decision, or decisions, appeal may be taken to the full executive committee of the Canadian Kennel Club, but such appeal must be forwarded to the secretary within seven days of the decision being rendered, together with a deposit of $10. If the decision appealed from is sustained the $10 deposit shall be forfeited to the Canadian Kennel Club, but if the decision is reversed then all deposits must be returned to the appellant.

22. Any person who has been guilty of misconduct of any kind in connection with dogs, dog shows or field trials, may be suspended by the committee of any show. Notice of such suspension, together with all testimony in the case, must be forwarded within twenty-four hours to the secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club. The secretary shall thereupon notify the president, or in his absence the vice-president, who may upon investigation of the case suspend the penalty until next meeting of the executive committee. At such meeting the penalty must either be removed or the person suspended be disqualified for such a period as the executive committee may decide. The disqualification of an owner shall apply to all dogs connected with the perpetration of a fraudulent act, but the executive committee of the Canadian Kennel Club may use such discretion in the enforcement of this penalty as shall protect innocent persons.

23. No person under suspension or sentence of disqualification can exhibit or take a prize at any show held under these rules.

24. Entries made in the name of a kennel must be accompanied by the name of the actual proprietor or proprietors, but not necessarily for publication. The partners in the kennel will be deemed equally culpable in the case of fraud perpetrated in the kennel name.

25. The premium list of each show must contain the names of officials under whose management the show is given, each of which except paid employees, shall be held personally responsible for the payment of all prizes within 60 days of the last day of the show. The secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club shall, upon evidence being produced that any such prize or prizes remain unpaid, issue notice of suspension of each and every official, and otherwise proceed as provided for in Rule 22.

26. The person presenting the identification ticket shall be recognized as the agent of the owner in the latter's absence, and his receipt for prize money shall be binding on the owner unless notice to the contrary is endorsed on the identification ticket.

27. All prizes offered by the club or committee in charge of a show must be paid in accordance with description given to them in the premium list. Medals of silver or gold must be of the purity of Canadian coin.

28. The show committee may adopt such regulations as they see fit, provided they do not conflict with the foregoing rules.

29. A recognized veterinary surgeon must be appointed at each show held under these rules.

LONDON.

The London Kennel Club, of London, Ontario, beg to claim, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September, 10, 11, 12 and 13, 1889, for their International bench show of dogs, to be held in this city in connection with the Provincial fair.

C. A. STONE,
London, Ont. Manager.

A CHALLENGE.

Editor Kennel Gazette:—

I see by your March issue that several fanciers have taken exception to your remarks regarding my dog, Black Graf, and, while I am free to confess you put it in pretty strong terms when you spoke of him as you did in your fly-sheet, still I feel you have not gone beyond the mark—and while I did not in the first instance authorize that statement, I feel—now that it has been questioned—like fighting it out on that line, and to show that I mean business, I will agree to show at the first bench show held in Canada, say, six of Graf's get, against an equal number of the get of any other stud dog in Canada, for a reasonable stake.

Yours,
H. G. CHARLESWORTH.

TORONTO DOG SPORTS CLUB.

WHERE IS IT?

Editor Kennel Gazette:—

Has Toronto a Dog Sports Club? is a question that I have been frequently asked, and one which I cannot answer. There was such a club and Mr. Clow now proprietor of the Jewell and Clow Restaurant was the president, so I made it a point to call upon Mr. Clow to find out about the Toronto Dog Sports Club. He said, "we had a Dog Sports Club and I was the President, but somehow the club holds no meetings, we, (the Dog Sports Club) still have money in the bank to our credit." What I want to know Mr. Editor, is, if that old Society was called into existence again would it not be a boom to the dog fanciers who enjoy keeping sporting dogs and would like to see them work? It seems strange that a city like Toronto which has so many fine dogs of that class cannot call into existence a healthy active Dog Fanciers Association, or Club; I cannot see that it is for want of fanciers, as we have plenty but I believe it is for want of a leader and I would wish to see such a leader step forward and wake the fanciers from their slumbers, so that we could have an afternoon now and again on the fields, watching the respective merits of our dogs. Why do we keep well bred sporting dogs and never have an opportunity to see them work? has been a question, I have often asked of some well known dog sports. It does not seem the want of capital that keeps it back as one gentleman said he would give a $30 medal and another $5 and so on, for prizes, if such a club was started. Now, that we have such a paper as the KENNEL GAZETTE it will, I hope, open the eyes of the fanciers and call back to life a lively and healthy sporting club. Let us hear from one who will advocate and lead the Fanciers on, I would like you who own such dogs as I speak of to send your names and what you think of such, to "Sportsman" care KENNEL GAZETTE, Toronto.

I am yours truly,
SPORTSMAN.

FROM PORT ELGIN.

Editor Kennel Gazette:—

I beg leave to send you a little Kennel news from this section of the country which I dare say you will be pleased to publish in your valuable paper.

Mr. J. S. Gordon, Manager of the Bank of Hamilton here is the owner of a 23 months old St. Bernard dog, Major which measures 38½ inches around the shoulders, 23½ around the head and 43½ inches between his eyes and the butt of his tail. He is a grand dog, his body is long and well filled out, his legs beautiful and straight and regular, with double dewclaws, he is a splendid orange and white his grand sire Champion Priam, A.K.R. 485, his sire imported Barry, A.K.R. 2190, dam, Rushtons Nellie. He is a most affectionate dog, but still a terror to night prowlers.

I am the happy owner of the capital little bitch Smart, silverhair Yorkshire Terrier, very handsome, from the kennel of Mr. T. A. J. Erby of Hamilton Ont.

I shall forward you all the kennel news I can scare up from time to time.

Yours very truly,

WALTER J. CROSTHWAITE.

Port Elgin Mar. 23rd 1889.

(If some breeder in each town or section would write us regarding the dogs of note in his vicinity, Canadian Cynologists would soon become better acquainted with each other, and with the dogs in the country, a state of affairs much to be desired.—ED).

KENNEL REGISTRY,

Under this heading we shall be glad to notice visits, births, &c., the only stipulation we make is that the news be of recent date, and that entries be made on proper forms, which will be sent free on receipt of a three cent stamp to cover postage.

ITEMS OF NEWS.

Correspondents are requested to send us any notes of interest to the "doggy" world. We purpose making the KENNEL GAZETTE, bright, spicy, interesting and instructive. To do this we solicit your aid in sending us contributions of items or news, or articles of practical worth. We trust our request may result in a hearty response.

KENNEL ADVERTISEMENTS.

We purpose devoting special columns to stud advertisements, breeders cards for sale and exchange advertisements, &c. Terms sent on application.

KENNEL CLUBS.

We invite Secretaries to send us full reports immediately after the holding of meetings, which shall gladly be accorded space in the KENNEL GAZETTE.

NAMES.

Would fanciers kindly send us any name of those interested in dogs in their vicinity and greatly oblige.

THE CHESAPEAKE BAY DOG.

It would seem, therefore, that the propulsive power in swimming given by the posterior extremities is due more to the knee and heel joints than the hip. I have often stood at the top of the bluff at the Fall Camp on the Nepisiquit River, which rises almost perpendicularly sixty or seventy feet, and looked down on my bitch swimming below. Although in walking she would wobble so as to give her spinal column a snake-like appearance, in the water it would be straight as an arrow, and her hind legs would come out straight behind in powerful strokes, showing that the lower leg must be well flexed at the knee-joint, and the foot well extended at the heel. My dogs, in trotting, do not curve the spine, but they take quicker and shorter steps. I measured, yesterday, on a plank walk, the length of step shown by a muddy paw, in walking and trotting, and found the latter fully two inches shorter. I mean the length of step of one hind leg. It seemed to me that in trotting he carried himself forward by his front quarters, and let the hind ones swing in the hip-joint as far as they would, whereas in walking he strove to take as long a step as possible with his hind legs, and in order to do that, had to swing his pelvis, and curve his spine. In running, as both hind legs are carried forward together, there is of course no lateral curvature of the spinal column, but when he wants to put on an extra burst of speed, and I have seen him get on a pretty good one when hustling after a jack-rabbit, he will carry his whole pelvis forward at each jump, which is done by curving the spine vertically, and hunches up his back at every bound, or rather between every bound; and in order to be able to do this, he will clap his tail as tight as he can between his legs. Running dogs, such as foxhounds, greyhounds, or setters and pointers, have such freedom of action at the hip-joint that they can carry their tails out straight, or in the case of the foxhounds even curved up, when at full speed; but a dog whose hip action is cramped and who tries to make up for this defect by bending his spine downward and curving his whole posterior segment forward at each jump, must curve his tail, the continuation of his spine, in the same direction.

One other anatomical peculiarity seems to me to interfere with the Chesapeake Bay dog's being able to take a long step with his hindlegs. The hamstring muscles, in my dog at least, are attached to the tibia (the bone of the lower leg), an inch and a half or two inches below the knee-joint. This of course gives an enormous advantage in leverage in flexing the lower leg on the thigh as is done in swimming, but it also makes it impossible for the thigh to be carried forward to its fullest extent, without the lower legs being bent backward; that is, it prevents a long step being taken.

I cannot say that the thigh bone of the Chesapeake dog is shorter, or that the thigh is more bound down by the skin, or that the insertion of the hamstring muscles is farther from the knee-joint than in other dogs, as I have not had the time to make the measurements and investigations which would be required to back up such a statement. I merely write this as a suggestion of the possibility of there being such a structural similarity between the best water retriever and other aquatic animals.

As to the peculiar gait they have in walking, there can be no doubt, and that it is due to their being especially adapted to swimming, I do not doubt. It would be very interesting to investigate as to whether they have inherited this peculiarity from, and possess it in common with, their spaniel, Newfoundland, or Labrador ancestors, or whether it has resulted from their having been bred on the bay and sounds from dogs which showed great power in the water, and thus developed a structural adaptability beyond any one breed from which they can claim descent.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS, ON DISEASES, BREEDING, MANAGEMENT, &c.

Correspondents are requested to make free use of this column, all enquiries will be answered by a well known medical man and breeder. Please read the following rules carefully.

1. Give a concise, clear, and exact statement of case, always stating age, sex, and breed.
2. Enclose 3c. stamps for reply.
3. Report result, not necessarily for publication. This is absolute.
4. Acute cases requiring immediate treatment to be answered by mail in the first instance, later through GAZETTE for the benefit of our readers.
5. Write legibly on one side of the paper only.
6. Answers to be to name in full, initials, or nom de plume, the first preferred.
7. Cannot undertake to answer queries as to pedigrees at present, and later only as regards the C. K. C. registry.

Q. I have an English Setter dog that has been for many months troubled by a skin disease (probably Eczema) which greatly disfigures and distresses him, otherwise he seems in good health and it does not hurt him for field work. His flesh in other respects is healthy as any abrasions or cuts heal quickly. Eyes are clean nose cool, coat, appetite and digestion good.

The first appearance of this trouble is on the skin along the line of the spine and on the rump; it comes in patches from which is exuded a thin humour accompanied by great itching, the disease spreads with loss of hair on these patches and the dog works them into sores by the vigorous use of tongue, teeth and claws.

What treatment would you recommend and what do you call the disease?

T. E.,
Winnipeg.

ANS. You should state age and manner of feeding.

Disease is Eczema.

Treatment :

(1) Apply to affected parts every other day a mixture of equal parts of Olive oil and Kerosene (Coal oil).

(2) Give five drops of Fowler's solution in water (with food) twice a day for a week: then omit 2 days and recommence.

(3) If dog's bowels don't regulate give a little sulphur daily.

(4) Alter diet for a little while but do not omit vegetables.

P.S. Before commencing this treatment try for worms as follows :

After a fast of 24-36 hours give (if dog over 8 months) Santonine grs. 3 Powdered Areca nut one drachm. In 3 hours follow by large dose of Castor Oil.
