GERMAN FORCES REPULSED ON LAND AND SEA

Earl Kitchener Has Been Appointed Secretary of State for War

The Great Dislocation and Canadian Finance

The outstanding feature of the great dislocation now on in Europe is the determination of the free-governing nations of that continent, backed by Imperial Russia, to put down the "Caesarism" of the German emperor. It is a fight for free government in the twentieth century against the feudal system of the fourteenth century; the fight of democracy against despotism. Never was there such a mighty struggle on these lines before. The right of the people against despots has been fought time after time in individual countries, but in this case the fight has spread all over Europe and its effects are and will be felt in Asia, in America and in the furthestmost parts of the world.

And England leads the fight against the German despot and against his great military machine; England is at the head of the confederacy of nations that have taken up the challenge that has been hurled at them by the military madman of the world, now in Berlin.

Another fight has been going on in a much smaller area, but of world-wide significance; and that is the determination of the United States that no government on the American continent be recognized that is based on assassination as instanced in the case of Mexico. There were a good many jeers hurled at President Wilson when he laid down this principle, but after some months of patient waiting Huerta is a fugitive, the Panama Canal is about to be opened and a new set of conditions will prevail in Central and South America based on Wilson's declaration against assassination. There is no doubt now that President Wilson has been supported in this position by the government of Great Britain.

To our mind the United States is as much interested in the vindication of free government in Europe as it is interested in the vindication of free government in America against despotic rule. And somehow we think that Great Britain and the United States are closer together in promoting the welfare of the world than ever they were heretofore.

And now we come to the question of banking and finance, and what is likely to happen in view of the surprising condition of things financial in Europe. It looks to us as if New York is to become almost immediately a greater money centre than it has hitherto been, and more a money centre for the American continent, and, as long as the war continues, certainly more of a money centre for Canada.

The United States is at this very moment reconstructing its whole banking system, based on two principles: (1) Of doing away with the over-concentration of money in the one city of New York, and in place of it having a distribution of reserves in twelve leading cities of the Union, at which point national reserve banks are about to be established. These national reserve banks will have the power of discounting commercial paper held by any and all of the local banks in their respective reserve districts; and for the first time the United States will have in operation a banking principle long recognized in Europe, viz., that of rediscounting paper for banks by means of a national organization. And also with this great reform another principle is coming into effect and that is the withdrawal of all bank notes in the United States, even those that were practically national notes inasmuch as they were guaranteed by United States bonds and printed by the national treasury.

By reason of the outbreak of hostilities in Europe and by reason of the dislocation that has taken place in our own banking arrangements with Britain, the Government of Canada has in a moment adopted these two great principles, that of rediscounting for our banks with national notes and increasing the issue of national notes in sums sufficient to meet any emergency. Gold payments in this country have been suspended, and payment in national notes is about to take their place; and we believe that the ultimate result will be that as soon as parliament can be convened, we will have embodied in our banking law a permanent system of rediscounting commercial paper thru one or more banks acting for the nation, and we will practically substitute national notes for bank notes. At the present time we allow the banks to issue notes as against their own capital, but we believe this plan will be changed and in its place the nation will lend its notes to the banks, at least to an extent equal to their capital, at a moderate rate of interest; and that we will have, much earlier than anybody expected, Canada with a system of national rediscounting and national notes as the currency and method of the country in general use.

To our minds, the banks in this country ought to accept these two principles and accept them gladly. They will simply have to readjust themselves to it as the banks have done in all other countries.

Having got to this principle of national notes and rediscounting as contained in the order-in-council passed two days ago on the advice of our minister of finance, it remains to be seen what the attitude of the banks of the United States, and especially of the Government of the United States, will be toward the national notes of Canada now about to be issued in larger quantities, backed by the entire credit of the nation and by large gold reserves at Ottawa.

We believe that these national notes of Canada will hereafter be the common currency of Canada, and we also believe that they will soon have the standing of the national notes of the United States and have practically a par currency in the banks and banking centres of the United States. We imagine that our government and our bankers are working at that problem at this moment. At all events that is what appears to be the thing desirable in this crisis, namely that Canada have the closest and best possible relations with the United States in money matters based on the recognition of our national notes in the same class as those of the United States.

Great events bring great changes: when rediscounting and national notes as outlined above, were introduced in the discussion in parliament less than two years ago, the proposition got a cold reception. Since that time Mr. Wilkie of the Imperial Bank has declared for the rediscount principle, and on the co-operation of all the banks, as decided on Monday last, it is now in effect in Canada. We believe that we have suddenly and most advantageously improved our financial position both in our own country and abroad; tho it may take a little time to make the readjustment. One thing that will need to be done is to issue our national notes in other convenient denominations than the ones, two and five and multiples of hundreds. Tens, twenties and fifties should be available as soon as parliament can amend the existing law.

GERMAN REVERSES

Battleships Sunk or Captured by French Fleet in the Mediterranean and Mine-Ship Sunk by British Fleet—Belgian Troops Won an Overwhelming Victory and Germans Lost Several Thousand Killed and Wounded.

War developments of the day confirm the general belief that the Kaiser's forces have made an ineffectual start. The German land and naval engagements for the most part have proved set-backs. Reports of conflicts at fully a dozen different places on the French and Russian frontiers in Belgium, in Holland, in the North Sea and in the Mediterranean tell of distinct reverses for the war lords fighting men. In the naval engagements, the German cruiser Panther was sunk in the Mediterranean, the Breslau and Goeben were captured, and the French fleet cut off the last mentioned ship, a scout cruiser in the German North Sea.

The report earlier in the day, that two German warships were sunk and one captured in an engagement with a British squadron in the North Sea, was followed tonight by the official announcement that the British cruiser Amphion had sunk the Hamburg-American Liner steamer Koenigen Luise, equipped for mine-laying, a small river boat and not the North Sea Lloyd trans-Atlantic liner of that name. The Koenigen Luise was captured after a night's chase from Guernsey, Channel Island, and says that a French gunboat towing a large German steamer, anchored in the radeaued, under the guns of the castle. The Paris correspondent of The Chronicle claims reliable authority for the report, already mentioned, that the capture of the French fleet, of the Goeben and the Breslau, and the sinking of the Panther, the Mediterranean fleet overhauling the cruisers after bombarding Bona, Algeria.

England is said to be intent on destroying the Kiel Canal, now protected by German warships. A despatch says that several German steamers anchored at Hull, England, have been seized as prizes by the British authorities, and the crew of naval reservists made prisoners of war. Further news of a setback to German naval activities is that a British man-of-war barque Perkes, which sailed from New York July 18, for Hamburg. She has been towed into Dover. The outcome of a naval battle between the German and the British fleets off Hull, is anxiously awaited here.

An outburst of enthusiasm followed the announcement on the newspaper bulletin boards late last night, that a British torpedo boat destroyer had captured a German liner in the Mediterranean, near Malta. Cheering last-ly for several minutes when the bulletin was posted that Lord Kitchener, the hero of Khartoum, agitation for the appointment of whom as secretary for war, had been made during the entire day, had been officially named for that post. So much to date for the Kaiser's reverses on the sea. In conflicts Germany has suffered even greater reverses. Word comes from the British Isles that

ONTARIO FARMERS GET HIGH PRICES

Sensational Rise in Foodstuffs is Reported in Western Ontario.

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Ont., Aug. 5.—An increase in the price of flour from 30c to 35c a barrel went into effect here today as a result of the European war. Rolled oats have gone up 10 cents a bag and sugar 10 cents a hundred pounds. Further increases in the price of all three commodities are predicted should the war be prolonged. All the dealers attribute the increase to the increased European demand for the commodities not delivering freely, holding out for higher prices. City and towns all thru Western Ontario also report a rise in the price of commodities. At Wingham wheat and flour have risen 15 cents, with farmers all thru the district holding their grain in anticipation of higher prices. In St. Thomas the price of flour has advanced 25 cents a hundred weight, the direct result of cash wheat going up five cents a bushel, and millers there predict that the price will advance much further within a few days. The price of meat has not yet gone up locally.

CANADA BUYS SUBMARINES

OTTAWA, August 5.—The government announces that it has purchased two modern submarines or torpedo destroyers. They are just new and were built for the government of Chile. They happened to be at Seattle, and are now at Esquimaux, all ready for service.

BRITISH TROOPS TO LAND

BRUSSELS.—The newspaper L'opinion says that an early landing of British troops in Belgium is expected.

The Belgian troops have won an overwhelming victory near Spa, the noted watering place, wiping out two entire regiments of German Uhlans after reinforcing the border patrol at Liege, following the capture yesterday of the Belgian forts near Liege. The German advance was checked by the line of forts near Liege, and an armored train filled with Germans was blown up with fearful carnage. Subsequent attempts to concentrate on the invading force of 8000. Prior to that the Kaiser's hosts met with desperate and successful resistance from the Belgian forces on the River Meuse, bridges over which were destroyed by the Belgians, stopping the onward march of the Germans. A general attack on Liege is expected tomorrow, and the Liege guns are now shelling the Germans, whose losses, while unknown, are said to be great. According to a despatch from Amsterdam, numbers of wounded are being transported in automobiles to Maastricht, a Dutch town north of Liege. At Fionalle, near Argentaal, a body of Prussians, 30 men and 10 officers, was surprised, and 70 killed, the Belgians losing two officers and ten men. A French infantry force, according to a late despatch, repulsed a German cavalry regiment, Morfontaine, close to the German frontier. The same despatch says that 17 Austrians were captured and shot by German soldiers while attempting to enter France from Alsace-Lorraine. An Amsterdam despatch to The Central News earlier in the day said that the Russian war office was authority for the statement that a strong German force was overthrown yesterday by a brigade of Russian cavalry near Soldans in northeastern Prussia, not far from the Russian frontier.

Word comes from Liege that the Civil Guard fired on an aeroplane containing six Germans, killing five of them. It is announced that the French army has effected a junction with the Belgian army at Tournai, 35 miles west of Liege. Blowing up of bridges checks German advance.

GERMAN TROOPS FLED IN DISMAY

Belgian Victory at Liege Was Most Complete, and German Loss Was Very Heavy—Belgian Aeroplanes Were Superior—Germans Butchered Residents of Vise After its Capture—German Staff Officers Cut to Pieces.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.
BRUSSELS, Aug. 5.—The Belgian army won a notable victory in the terrific fighting at Liege today, when the savage onslaught of the German forces was triumphantly repulsed and the Kaiser's men forced to retire with heavy losses. Many brilliant military exploits marked the day's engagement. Among the most noteworthy was the successful charge of a single squadron of the second regiment of the Belgian troops against six complete German squadrons. The Germans fled in dismay.

Belgian Aeroplanes Superior

The marked superiority of the Belgian aeroplanes over those of German construction was demonstrated during the fighting. The Belgian airmen manoeuvred their machines more ably, and their aim was better than that of the Germans.

The conduct of the German troops following the capture of Vise is said to have been outrageous, the men butchering the defenceless and pillaging homes and stores ruthlessly. The torch was applied after the buildings had been ransacked.

Germans Cut to Pieces

A group of German staff officers, accompanied by a small detachment of troops, was surprised today at Argenteau by a small force of Belgians and literally cut to pieces.

BRUSSELS, via Paris, Thursday, Aug. 6, 1.38 a.m.—The fortified position of Liege had to support on Wednesday the general shock of the German attack. The Belgian forts resisted the advance fiercely and did not suffer. One Belgian squadron attacked and drove back six German squadrons.

Eight hundred wounded Germans are being transferred to the City of Liege, where they will be cared for. Prior to the attack on Liege, General von Emmich, commanding the German army of the Meuse, issued a proclamation calling for an open road thru Belgium for the advance of his forces, and suggesting that prudence would show it to be the duty of the Belgian people to accede to this in order to avoid the horrors of war.

The Germans committed outrages against the civil population of the Town of Vise, eight miles northeast of Liege, burning the city and shooting many of the residents.

BRITISH ARMY TO BE LANDED IN BELGIUM AT ONCE

WHAT ABOUT THE FOREIGN CANADIANS?

II.

By Arthur Hawkes

When you say that Canada is behind Britain in the war do you stop to think of the diverse peoples who contribute heavily to our upbuilding, but to whom Canada is only a place in which to make money and Britain is only a distant name? Let me suggest a few aspects of a situation which may mean trouble if we do not actively turn it to good account. Its very danger, noticed yesterday by Le Droit, Mr. Bourassa's paper, may become a constructive bulwark. Draw a little of very widespread experience in the west.

As a man came from his thatched shack to show us the trail between Yorkton and Troubitka, we could see a woman cooking as she held a babe—a Canadian born babe—in her arms. Three children came to the door to watch the strangers. Their father could speak very little English. When I enquired if he liked Canada, his face lighted. Asked for the chief reason for his hope, he said "No soldier here; in Austria we serve hard—very hard," and, after a pause, "One meal a day."

Next dinner-time after a Doukhobor woman had given us the exqu岸ely polite hospitality for which she and her kind will always be memorable, I asked her how she liked Canada and her face glowed as she threw her hands and said: "Only fruit as we have in Kowass and it would be b-e-a-u-t-i-f-u-l, b-e-a-u-t-i-f-u-l. Ten years my man in mines, Sibere. Here no fear. It is b-e-a-u-t-i-f-u-l. I drove fifty miles to Yorkton with her man and three of his friends who had come to us to breathe free air and to be not afraid for the first time in their lives. The limitless prairie, the soil liberal to extravagance, the villages managed in perfect peace and without any outward sign of compulsion, the schooling for men and women, the children at the field stake and fat—here were scenes and conditions so remote from the average Canadian apprehension of what lies in the Canadian life of tomorrow as to make you wonder what the future could bring forth in citizenship, and in what has given to our breed its envied place in all the earth.

Again I spoke with a Saskatchewan legislator who a dozen years before could speak in no tongue except that of a southeastern European principality. "We love this country," he said, "and we like to be in the British Empire. But we have only seen as much of it as you can watch from the train between Montreal and Saskatchewan, as you must be patient with us if you seem to learn slowly to go with you. We had a hard time where we came from, but it was all we knew, and our dead are there. You will be patient with us," he asked with a pleading note in his voice.

Last winter a Methodist minister described to me the community in which he lives northeast of Edmonton. Except for the climate and the land, you might as well be in Austria. Fifty thousand Austrians are there with practically no other people to influence them. They have their own member in the legislature and are already demanding schools as exclusively theirs as the French schools in Quebec are French. In Manitoba one of the Austrian newspapers declared the other day that the Ruthenian vote saved the Roblin government. The schooling these people have had in Canadian political methods has been wonderful. What the professional heeler can teach in venality that have they learned. To them the machine is Canada incarnate—such a place may patriotism descend.

We are at war with their Austrian fatherland. We are fighting alongside the Cossacks who whipped the Doukhobor farmers out of Caucasus to the mines. The children of Ruthenian and Doukhobor are native-born Canadians even as yours and mine are.

The question that is most pertinent to ask is not what is our duty to these ingredients of our national life, but what is our duty to ourselves in regard to our present and future relation to the destiny which is now being invoked. What is their place in the unification and expression of national sentiment from which our boys in the fighting line, on the watch tower, and in the reserve must derive their invincible morale? Most of them will feel like aliens at the beginning. We must not be content for them to be mere onlookers at a fight which does not concern them. It is our bounden duty to see that if it is possible they be come knit with us as the contest lengthens and to see that the union is worthy expressed among ourselves and in the hearing of those who watch. No man who is now or who is likely to be the father of a Canadian-born child; no woman who has carried or who will carry a native of this incomparable land should be left without a transfusion of spirit which will daily increase the strength on which the empire relies. Here, indeed, is a recruiting ground, a theatre for a campaign, such as no belligerent people have ever before presented with. It is open to us with foresight, courage and ability to make a blessed gospel out of this war.

The present covenant of our patriotism, then, need not be confined to fighting, nursing and praying. Some who considered too old for bivouac and march have volunteered for every activity that is in us. Others who have neither youth nor health for the field will chafe at their comparative impotence. All may find place in organizing, unifying and expressing national sentiment against the grievous times which the war is sure to bring and in prospect of the era of reconstruction which pray God will discover the national, imperial soul of Canada to have saved and renewed as by fire.

How can this be done? There will be suggestions here tomorrow.

GERMANS CAPTURE BELGIAN TOWN

Special Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, Aug. 5.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Maastricht in Holland, near the Belgian frontier, Tuesday evening, by telephone to Amsterdam, says: "The Belgian frontier town of Vise, about eight miles from Maastricht, was taken by a body of German infantry and artillery this afternoon. An engagement took place between the invading force and the defenders and lasted for several hours. The retreating Belgians blew up the bridge over the Meuse river, but German sappers, covered by a heavy artillery fire, built a new bridge and crossed the river. Vise is practically destroyed. Fighting occurred throughout the day and was heard in all the surrounding towns."

DENMARK READY FOR HER DEFENCE

Feeling is Pessimistic That Neutrality Will Be Respected.

DIFFERENCES ARE PAST

Belgian Factions Join Together as They March to Meet Enemy.

Special Copyrighted Cable.

LONDON, August 5.—A despatch to The Times from Copenhagen says: "Yesterday 15,000 troops were ordered to man the fortifications of Copenhagen. Feeling here is very pessimistic but it is still hoped that Denmark's neutrality will not be infringed upon."

A despatch to The Times from Stockholm says: "Partial mobilization for the defence of the neutrality of Sweden was ordered yesterday and is proceeding normally. The public is keenly alive to the gravity of the situation, and even the Socialists favor the mobilization order."

Respect Neutrality.

"The National Council assembled today in an extraordinary session, and the president announced that Switzerland had received assurances from the French and German Governments that her neutrality would be respected. While they received with gratification such assurances the Swiss Government were taking all necessary precautions for the defence of the fatherland, and were confident that the army would be ready for all emergencies."

Differences Forgotten.

The Daily Mail has received the following message from Brussels: "Wallons and Flemings have sunk all differences in view of the national crisis and troops of the two races sang choruses and marched together on their way out of Brussels to the front this morning. There is talk of the seat of government being transferred from Brussels to Antwerp, and it is undoubtedly being considered as an eventuality. The general opinion, however, is that the fighting will be around Liege, where the Belgian troops will retard the German march until the arrival of the French."

STEAMER CHASED BY A CRUISER

Hamburg-American Liner Had Thrilling Run Back to New York.

Special to The Toronto World.

NEW YORK, August 5.—The President Lincoln of the Hamburg-American Line, locked at Hoboken early this morning after a thrilling run to Ambrose Channel Lightship with a cruiser close behind her. Neither passengers nor officers knew today the nationality of the cruiser. The President Lincoln did not delay any to make inquiries on that point.

The music had started and everybody was dressed for a ball last night when a long finger of light began poking along the sky, dipping now and then to the sea. It was constantly growing more light.

The lights snapped out, Stewards ordered, "All lights out." Women half dressed in ball toilets and with their hair down their backs came running out into the saloon, believing that there was an alarm of fire.

EMERGENCY TAXES MUST BE IMPOSED

Complete Paralysis of Foreign Trade of United States Begins.

EXPECT IMPOST ON TEA

New York Alone Will Lose Four Million a Week in Revenue.

Special to The Toronto World.

NEW YORK, August 5.—The complete paralysis of the country's foreign trade by reason of the European crisis will result in such a great reduction of revenues of the United States that it will be necessary for the government, according to the opinion expressed in the importing trade today, to adopt emergency measures for raising sufficient funds to meet its expenses. It is generally believed in financial circles that the government will either impose a stamp tax on cheques and legal documents or levy the tax on tea and coffee.

Perhaps it may be necessary to levy both taxes, as custom house brokers expressed the opinion today that the revenues from customs will fall off to practically nothing until after the close of the European war.

Loss of Four Million a Week. The customs receipts at the port of New York average about $4,000,000 a week, and it will take many revenue stamps and many pounds of tea and coffee to make up the loss that will be entailed by the stoppage of this source of revenue.

Up to the present, however, the effect of the suspension of traffic between the United States and Europe has not been felt, as steamers which sailed before war was declared are still arriving daily. In fact, according to the records obtained at the custom house, customs receipts for the last week have been comparatively little less than those of the week preceding. The totals for the week are: Ending July 27 $4,218,688 Ending August 4 $4,218,708

MOB DESTROYED GERMAN EMBASSY

TREASURE SHIP HELD UP

Kronprinzessin Cecilie Enters Bar Harbor to Evade Capture.

Special to The Toronto World.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The state department was notified today by the Russian embassy that a mob, infuriated by a report that the Russian embassy in Berlin had been destroyed by angry Germans, destroyed the German embassy at St. Petersburg. The Russian embassy at Berlin has not been molested.

Secretary McAdoo today ordered the revenue cutter and Roscoggin, armed with six-pound guns, to proceed to Bar Harbor, Maine, to protect the $10,000,000 of gold on board the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, until it is removed to New York.

Violated Law. The Kronprinzessin Cecilie violated the United States coastwise shipping laws by putting into Bar Harbor, Me., after she had cleared from New York, the department of commerce, has remitted the penalty in view of the circumstances. Under the American laws a foreign owned boat cannot touch another American port after sailing. A minimum penalty of $1000 fine attaches to landing passengers or cargo at such second port. The fact goes to the officer of the company, which a cargo of more than $10,000,000 in gold, to avoid its being captured as a contraband of war, however, induced the department to remove the penalty and give orders that the boat be allowed to land passengers and cargo.

Announced Declaration. Colville Barclay, British charge, told Secretary Bryan today that a state of war exists between Great Britain and Germany and asked this country to act at Berlin for Great Britain.

Counselor Clause of the French embassy asked the United States to look after the French embassy at Berlin.

HUNGARIANS IN U. S. WANT A REVOLUTION

Special to The Toronto World.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—One hundred thousand Hungarians in America have pledged themselves to raise a fund of $10,000,000 to finance a revolution in Hungary, according to Louis Tarsai, editor of The Hungarian Daily Globe. Tarsai says that such a revolution now is regarded as inevitable by many Hungarians who are determined to eliminate the Hapsburg dynasty, but he does not believe it will take place until the $10,000,000 is raised.

"The war started by Austria will so impoverish the already severely oppressed Hungarians that they will have no alternative except revolt," he added.

It is reported, but thus far without direct confirmation, that two German regiments were practically annihilated when an armored train was blown up by Belgians. A mine was sprung when the train was crossing a bridge and the slaughter was appalling. A heavy artillery fire was opened upon the survivors and their retreat was cut off by a Belgian column, which took a number of prisoners.

At Three Points. German troops have crossed the Belgian frontier at three points, near Dinan, seven miles north of Liege, and at Francorchamps and Stavelot, both about 25 miles to the southeast of Liege, six miles from Liege.

Belgian reconnoitering parties located three German army corps, the tenth army corps, Eindhoven, the seventh army corps, 40,000 strong, at Verviers, and the sixth army corps, in another locality not named.

The tenth German army corps operating along the northern line, and finding unexpected resistance, moved further northward, invading Dutch territory at Tilburg and crossing the Meuse at Eindhoven.

Woman's Drudgery vs. Man's

I KNOW and am willing to admit that woman has and has had a great deal of drudgery to do in the home. She has spun fax, made apple butter, baked billions of pies, brought up trillions of babies.

Again, how many, many men in the ordinary occupations and positions are absolutely slaves to a system, and only cogs in the wheels of big business? Hundreds and hundreds of clerks add up rows of figures from 9 to 6, sitting before one dreary, in the same monotonous way.

So I feel that this attitude about work which many women, especially married women, have, is entirely unfair.

TRAGEDIES FOLLOW "SUGAR MILLIONS"

String of Accidents After Earl of Euston Married American Girl.

Were the Earl of Euston, whose engagement is announced to Miss Edythe Havemeyer, who belongs to the family which produces the greater part of the sugar consumed by the whole of the United States, of a nervous or superstitious disposition, he would assuredly have thought twice before allying himself with a family which has suffered one of the most amazing series of tragedies in modern history.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By LEONA DALRYMPLE
Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as judges.

The truth about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with interest.

Pocketing One's Pride

SUNDAY I found a more or less trying day. For one thing I find that my wife and I not only eat too much, but we stay indoors most of the day and take no exercise. Mary goes to church in the morning.

LEONA DALRYMPLE used to go with her once in a while, but somehow, now I'm always much too tired. The day has therefore developed more monotony than our evenings, and they're monotonous enough. In the morning when Mary is at church I watch the dinner, bustle the roast and strew newspapers about. These, however, I always gather up before Mary returns. At intervals I smoke and stare disgustedly at my house slippers. I can't imagine a more conspicuously domestic looking thing than a man's house-slipper. Mine even look married.

At Sunday dinner Mary and I usually converse in monosyllables. I never forget to inquire if she liked the sermon—she always says politely that she did. I next inquire what it was all about. She is not always able to tell me, which has bred in me a suspicion—not unreasonable—that she doesn't always listen. Then we wash the dishes, or at least Mary washes them and I wipe them—and we both settle down to the Sunday papers.

By night time I rarely want anything else to eat, but since it is a time-honored custom to eat three times a day I eat again, and wish I hadn't.

"Oh, dear," wished Mary, one Sunday evening, "I wish there was something to do. I'm simply bored to death."

"Well," said Mary, "you won't go over to mother's with me. And surely one way is just as fair as the other."

"I had a shiver of premonition. We were back again on the same old battlefield. It was only the approach that had been a little different."

"Peter," said Mary, "if you cared anything at all for me, you'd go over to mother's with me and put all this dreadful coyness to an end. I simply can't stand it any longer. After a while people will begin to notice that you and your mother pass on the street without looking at each other, and since you began it all—I don't see why you can't end it all."

There were tears in Mary's eyes and a plaintive sincerity in her voice. All at once I was struck by the utter absurdity of quarrelling with my mother-in-law. Here I was deliberately foregoing all chances of peace in my home, merely because I refused to swallow my pride and trot over to Mary's mother with an apology nicely tucked away in my mind for utterance. And I knew suddenly with a sense of disgusted recollection that every married man learns some time or other to pocket his pride. It may have been the lethargic influence of the day—it may have been too much food and rest and monotony, but I do know that I looked over at Mary and shrugged.

"All right," I said, wearily, "I'll go. Then instead of sending your enervating glances toward tricking me into an apology or some other compromising admission—your eyes bend them toward—economizing." Mary ignored the slap.

So I trotted meekly over under Mary's wing and apologized to her mother.

HEART TROUBLES By Michelson

REALLY, there are a great many kinds; but there is one kind that is celebrated by the fact that it is generally what the doctors call ACUTE, that is alleged (especially by cynical doctors) not to be fatal, but that is, nevertheless, VERY absorbing to the victim.

When you have this kind you become immensely interested in another heart. You are not satisfied unless another heart trouble is quite as bad as yours own. You think hearts all the time. The world is full of hearts, and the sky, too. The very leaves are heart-shaped. You think that the birds are singing their hearts out. The very pulse of the air is a heart throbbing.

This sort of heart trouble sometimes lasts a long time—it depends a good deal on whether you believe in long engagements. Then, again, it has been cured in a few hours. But too sudden a cure is very bad for the disposition. It has been known to make even sweet natures quite sour.

Brushing is Secret of Hair Health

By LUCREZIA BORI
Prima Donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

Special arrangements have been made with Senorita Lucrezia Bori, the famous prima donna soprano, who has visited in Europe and New York on account of her remarkable beauty and artistic attainment, to write for this paper a series of articles on beauty. There is probably no authority her equal in giving the newest and most approved methods of attaining and preserving "the divine right of woman."

over the forehead it was quite possible to do a hasty morning's shopping without semblance of a hair dress. If the hair didn't receive the proper amount of attention last year it is certain to tell its tale of woe now, for where the new hats rise high at back or side of the head and are banked with ribbons and flowers they reveal a whole half-section of the hair above a pink-tinted ear. If it is desired that the hair shimmer and glow it must be clean, vibrant and healthy at all times. Lack of care will soon show because certain strands will take on a faded and grayish appearance.

When our bodies feel dull and heavy we take exercise in order to send the blood pumping back through the veins for renewal of energy. The hair needs its daily exercise quite as much as the body, but the only sort of exercise the scalp can receive is that given by massage. Any woman can learn to do this rotary massage movement and give her own scalp a treatment every night before going to bed, and repeat the process for a few minutes in the morning before doing the hair for the day. If the scalp is massaged while the hair is hanging down the back, and later while hanging over the face with the head bent, it will also be discovered that any suggestion of headache will be immediately relieved.

In massaging, spread the fingers apart and press gently on the scalp, then move in small circles over the entire head, trying to loosen the scalp from the bony structure underneath. Care should be taken that the nails do not scratch the head, and that the massage is not so vigorous as to do the scalp more harm than good. In brushing, one should be careful not to bang the scalp roughly, for distinct harm may be done by the harsh contact of bristles with the scalp. To brush the hair properly it should be parted in different places, the brush placed gently on the scalp and drawn somewhat slowly through the length of the hair, first on one side and then on the other. If you will make a rule of brushing your hair in this way every night, first giving from five to ten strokes at either side of the centre parting from forehead to neck, then the same number at the other side, you will be surprised at the improvement in the condition of your hair and your night's rest.

Useful Hints for the Housewife

In order to insure a good gloss on starched collars, first mix the starch with cold water, add a tiny lump of butter about the size of a small marble, then pour on the boiling water.

To remove paint from a dress take a camel hair brush, dip the point of it in turpentine, and just damp the parts that are stained. Let garment dry and then rub briskly when the paint will fall off. Repeat the operation.

For perspiring feet, bathe them frequently with warm water, to which a little ammonia has been added. After drying, the feet should be dusted over with boracic powder. Bathing in alum water will afford relief to burning and tender feet. There is nothing more strengthening to the feet than salt.

Blocks of camphor dispersed in all corners of damp rooms in a new house will effectively keep damp in a very short time, even when fresh have proved infeluctual. They should be simply laid on the bare shelves of a damp room or linen closet. The blocks gradually decrease in size, and when they finally disappear should be replaced until their purpose is served.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Why Fruit Skins Are a Good Blood Tonic

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

SCHEPTICS who admit that you may thirst for water and hunger for food may deny that there is also a mineral hunger in man, just as it occurs in plants. Yet these agnostics need only consider the millions of buttons sold by button manufacturers, then consider the number of buttons swallowed by babies, and they will be confounded and put to rout. Moreover, let them go to the garden and ponder the many children who eat dirt, woolly worms and ashes.

The dietary and aqueous requirements of the human fabric are usually well reflected. From infancy to the slipped age, fruits, flesh, fish, fowls, cereals and vegetables are systematized in well-balanced meals. Not so the salts of the earth. Whereas these are given a preponderant thought in husbandry and for plant life, they are woefully neglected and indeed ignored for mankind. Even brutes are better taken care of in this regard. Poultry and live stock are fed minerals at stated intervals. While buffaloes and wild horses gallop in a mad rush, miles and miles at times, to find salt and lime.

Lime, potash, nitre, salt and phosphates are as necessary to man as to grain. Iron, lime and phosphorus make human flesh and blood as well as plant tissues. The crushed rock, the salty catarrh and mineral saturated seasoning are all absolute requirements of the human parts.

Man must eat many measures of salt together to be able to discharge his best functions of health and strength. The "tonic for the blood" can be met, if people only knew it, by obtaining some of the necessary minerals. A simple experiment is performed in the physiology laboratories to prove this. If the heart of a rattlesnake or a fish stops beating, little lime water allowed to flow through it will start it busily beating again.

The movement of your blood in the veins and the arteries depends upon these inert, inorganic salts. The heart will refuse to pump, the kidneys choke up and the liver becomes congested if minerals are taken from the blood. What has come to be known among physicians and physiologists as "artificial blood" is a weak mixture of simple minerals—a heaping teaspoonful of table salt, with a little lime and potassium, sometimes to the quart of distilled water—which is used for starvation, for thirst, for loss of blood after operations and in fevers as well as weakened human conditions generally.

Mineral waters are much over-rated aids to health. They are, to be sure, better than some of the medicinal moralists and chemical purists would have you believe. That is, they do help the living textures with a little salt and more water; they are not, however, of any value nor do they have any virtues as panaceas for gout, eczema, neuritis, dyspepsia, diabetes, kidney disease or any other real malady.

One of the sane physiological explanations that has been advanced against liquor drinking among adults, and dirt eating among infants, rests upon the logical foundation that these individuals do not obtain enough salty, limy stuff in their foods.

The coverings, skins, peelings, bran, rinds and shells of cereals, fruits and vegetables are usually saturated with mineral substances. To discard as most do these parts is to remove the very things craved by the human body. A felony of most physicians and more mothers is to give infants and young children "pure" foods, peeled potatoes,

Odd Caps and Stockings Vary Bathing Costumes

By MADGE MARVEL

GREATER costume contrast may be obtained in summer than in winter months, for the seashore girl may in turn be garbed in a dignified evening gown, en traine, a natty white tennis suit with a striped blazer coat, a lace befrilled lingerie of colonial lineage or a mere slip of a bathing dress. Whatever part the other frocks in her wardrobe play during the summer's campaign for popularity, she will be almost sure to require the services of a bathing costume every day during the hot months. And, because she will use one garment so consistently she should supply herself with several attractive bathing outfits with stockings, shoes and caps to match. A chic little woman at Newport last week wore a bathing costume of dark blue peau de sole which was trimmed at belt, collar and cuffs with a Roman striped silk. The jaunty skirt was made in three short tunics, each scalloped at the edge and piped with plain green satin. This same woman wears another suit of black charmeuse with the skirt laid in wide pleats. Water does not seem to affect the latter, for the pleats are tacked and arranged at the belt so cleverly they only need the occasional pressure of a hot iron to keep them tango and straight. She wears a pair of tango red stockings and a red rubber cap with her black suit.

THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 6

A NEW WORLD, WIN OR LOSE.

We are standing on the threshold of a new world. It matters not in the least who wins or who loses in the war of the world going on. When it is all over there will be a new world.

Should Germany by any innocent disaster triumph Europe would come under a new and ruthless domination, the spirit of which we have seen in the shooting of M. Samain, an ex-president of the French War Society, at Metz, and the shooting of a priest across the frontier, reported yesterday. These incidents, whether authentic or not, convey the same impression that the stories have done for years of the treatment of civilians in Germany by military officers, and of the sufferings to which private in the army have been subjected, so that they have committed suicide to escape their misery.

The abolition of the aristocratic order in Germany is as much desired by the ordinary citizen there as in any other country. The Vons must learn their true place in the economy of their country, and they must be taught that even peasants are men of like passions with themselves. But if the Kaiser triumphed, all this misguided theory of class and rank would be imposed once more on those nations which have struggled free from it. The imposition could not last long, but the period of rebellion would be one of the bitterest agony for all concerned. Freedom would have to be fought for once more, as England and France and Italy have fought for it.

We believe, we say, that such a new world as the victorious Kaiser might impose on Europe would not and could not last long. But if the Kaiser defeated an equally new world awaits the Europe of the future. All Germans are not Kaisers. They are not all even Prussians. The southern Germans are none too fond of the Hohenzollerns. Defeat, and such ignominious defeat as seems likely to be the lot of the German eagle, will stir up all the jealous rancor which has been cloaked or suppressed since 1870. The German Empire may resolve itself into its component parts following an unsuccessful campaign, and if the people have a say in the matter, the people who are so largely socialist, and whose sympathies are no longer with the democratic nations, may assert their innate democracy and take their places among the free peoples of the world. There may be a United States of Europe arising out of this battling, as well as a United States of America, or a British Empire with no ties but the tie of kindred.

Austria and Germany are the headquarters in Europe of aristocracy. This is an anachronism and cannot long survive. The Germans, as individuals, are a fine race, intellectual, industrious, thrifty, progressive. But for the ambitions of the German Government no nations in Europe would be closer together than the British and the German peoples. We have no quarrel with the individual German. He is as patriotic as we, and if our government had been made enough to defy a world in arms, we would probably in most cases be carried off our feet with the same kind of enthusiasm that may be seen at Berlin.

The German in his sober senses, however, is just as sensible as the rest of us. He would much rather have a fully constitutional form of government, or even a republic, where he could give exercise to his own views, and not be dominated by the nobility, who are only noble in name. And if he is defeated he will accept the situation very philosophically, according to the teaching of his universities, and welcome any change that makes for greater social liberty.

So either way by defeat or by victory, we are on the threshold of a new world in Europe, and we think the Great Power that over-rides all human action will lead the nations into a way of greater peace, rather than into the downward path of military tyranny.

WAR AND CIVILIZATION.
 To those who believe in an over-ruling Providence—Providence that shapes the end of men and nations, rough hew them as they will—their war will mark another stage in the advance of civilization. From the first syllable of recorded time the pages of history chronicle the rise and fall of nations that have sought to build a durable fabric of empire on the ruins of their rivals. Some perished in the attempt and some endured for a time. But the great lesson taught through the centuries is that no empire based and resting on the power of the sword alone can subsist. Germany apparently has not learned that lesson.

Beneath the surface of this last and greatest of European wars lies the eternal conflict between the forces making for progress and the forces that are resisting progress. The German nation has been a factor of incalculable value in the evolution of humanity. Its literature, its philosophy have written themselves into the very fabric of the world. But the German from infancy is trained to become a part of a vast national machine. He is efficient and obedient under a system that leaves little room for individuality and initiative. Therefore he can be and is being led into a war that has no justification. Its simple explanation is the lust for power and dominion that is the mark everywhere of the hereditary and predatory caste.

At the door of the dark room.

In one of the old forms of dueling the combatants were put in a dark room and allowed to fight it out. So far as we are concerned in Canada the contending powers in Europe are in a dark room. We know they are fighting. We know that the door is locked. No information is available about how the fight is going on except what one of them cares to tell us. That one is Britain, as it happens. Whatever we hear will have the merit of being reliable, for it will come with the imprimatur of the government, the admiralty or the war office.

The war correspondent has been abolished at a stroke. Othello was not more surprised. He is not even given a pretext upon which he can exercise his imagination. He can work quite as well in an office in New York or Ottawa as at the front. But he has the handicap of knowing that his work is all heavily discounted to begin with.

He is a happy man today who is too busy to think about the war. Those who have time to meditate on the situation have room for anxiety. They are facing new conditions and new possibilities. Nobody knows what an aeroplane or a dirigible may do in a actual warfare. It is wiser not to worry about the possibilities, but to wait till the news transpires which will set us all at rest. The door of the dark room will open and we will be told that the German fleet has been wiped out of existence. No citizen of the empire can bear to contemplate any other alternative.

WAITING FOR NEWS.

Not only has this European war come with startling suddenness, but it is going to give the world a new experience. Sixty years have passed since the Crimean war, which even if it was a case of Britain putting its money on the wrong horse, at least introduced the first special correspondent in the person of William Howard Russell, representative of The London Times. The splendid work he did gave the special correspondent a vogue which subsisted until the Balkan war, which there had been preliminary indications that his activities were no longer desired.

With all avenues of communication either cut off or under direct control, the flood of information, accurate or inaccurate, but in either case satisfying the public demand for news, will not be forthcoming. The world is being reduced to the conditions that prevailed in the days when cables and wireless were unknown. Here in Toronto there can be little conception of the conditions now existing in the British Isles, especially in the coast towns. At any moment a German dirigible or a German cruiser may make a passing visit and leave behind a trail of death and destruction. Suspense may prove even more unbearable than inaccuracy.

WAR-FUND CREATED BY EDDY COMPANY

Encouragement Given to Employes to Serve for Their Country.

The last time Canadians came face to face with actual war conditions and with certainty of distressing casualties following in its wake, some of the big manufacturers and large employes of labor who had employes or friends or relatives of their employes at the front, contributed promptly and voluntarily to the patriotic fund that was asked for on behalf of our volunteers.

Looking over old files of The World, printed during the Boer war, we notice the following item:
War Tax on Sulphur Matches for the "Gentlemen in Khaki Ordered South."
 "Until the South African war is ended we shall voluntarily tax ourselves half a cent on every gross of boxes of Eddy's sulphur matches we sell from Feb. 1, 1900, and pay over the amount so raised to the Canadian Patriotic Fund, on behalf of the Canadian volunteers at the front, or to help those whom any of them may have left behind at home, who may be in need of help or comforts."
 "The E. B. Eddy Co., Limited, Hull, Canada."

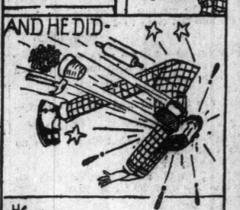

"February, 1900."
 It was said this morning that the Eddy Company at Hull have told their employes that when any of them are ordered to the front they will have the company's full and quick consent to go, and the promise of "subsistence" pay to help to support those they may leave at home behind them needing help, and that on their return they will be reinstated in their employment in the company.

IRISH RIFLE CLUB MAY VOLNTEER

Meeting Being Arranged at Which a Decision Will Be Made.

The war excitement and the uncertainty existing among the military corps of Toronto as to the time when orders for the mobilization of the forces will be given, affected adversely the attendance at the Long Branch rifle ranges yesterday, but the enthusiasm of those who did attend was in no way diminished, and many expressed themselves being as eager to bring their rifles to the shoulder against the enemy as to pile up a score of bulletsees upon a target.

To a man the various corps are ready for active service. The 15th York Rangers have volunteered, and their offer has been accepted by the authorities. Their captains have received orders to bring their companies up to full strength.

The 10th Royal Grenadiers have placed themselves on record as simply awaiting orders while the 4th Highlanders and the Queen's Own Rifles are in a similar position.

The Irish Rifle Club members are as enthusiastic as any, and they are arranging a meeting for the latter part of the week, when it is anticipated that they will volunteer as a company.

With a steady, eleven-o'clock wind, steady drifting, and a negligible mistral, the scoring yesterday marked a very high average. The record for the day was made by Sgt. J. Bayles of the 19th R.G. with 105; 74 out of a possible 75 at the 900 yards range was recorded by Capt. John Hutcheson of the Q.O.R. Regimental Scores.

NINETEENTH REGIMENT PATROLLING CANAL

Second Dragoons Are Also Picketed Between Thorold and Port Colborne.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Aug 1.—The 19th Lincoln Regiment, St. Catharines, Ia., Co., Burlington in command and which was ordered out today for police duty on the Welland canal, is strung along the waterway between Port Dalhousie and Thorold with extra strong sections at such vulnerable points as tunnels and locks below the longer levels. Tonight, an squadron, second Dragoons, left to join the infantry men as a mounted patrol. The 44th Regiment and another squadron of Dragoons are taking care of the line between Thorold and Port Colborne while 271 officers and men of the 19th Regiment answered the call of the bugle and are tonight bivouacking along the canal, taking turns at sentry go. Men are being sworn in as a special force to relieve the military as soon as formed.

ANOTHER RUN ON LONDON STORES

Infuriated Women Raided Merchants and Carried Off Provisions.

Canadian Press Despatch.
 LONDON, Aug 5.—Another run on the provision stores in London and in the provinces occurred today in spite of the government's assurances that there was sufficient food to supply the population for months without counting that on route. Prices again jumped and some of the smaller shops were forced to close.

In the east end several stores where prices had been raised were rushed by infuriated women who carried off everything they could lay their hands on before the arrival of the police.

The situation has been aggravated by the throwing out of work of 250,000 transport workers thru the discontinuance of freight traffic to the continent. It is expected, however, that many of these will find employment in the army transport service. The postoffice is flooded with mail, all the services to the continent having been held up.

The American steamer Philadelphia, which sailed from Southampton for New York shortly after noon today, took all the American and Canadian mail which had been posted up to this morning.

MRS. WILSON DYING HOPE IS GIVEN UP

President and Daughters at Beside and Relatives Summoned.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president of the United States, lies at the point of death tonight.

Four months of almost unbroken illness, a complication of nervous ailments and Bright's disease, have sapped the vitality of the first lady of the land. The end is regarded as a matter of days, perhaps hours.

Her three daughters are at her bedside and relatives have been summoned. Physicians have been in consultation for days, but it was admitted at the White House tonight that hope for her recovery had almost vanished.

CANADA PROHIBITS PULPWOOD EXPORT

Traffic on St. Lawrence Stopped to Allow Placing of Mines.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Aug 5.—Paper manufacturers in the U. S. importing pulp wood from Lower Canada by shipload have been notified that unless special permission is granted the service will be suspended until after the war. It is said to be the purpose of the Dominion government to stop vessel traffic in the St. Lawrence river, east of Montreal and plant the river with explosive mines. Large importations of Quebec pulpwood are received at Ogdensburg for northern New York state paper mills.

CHANGES MADE IN BRITISH CABINET

Lord Beauchamp and Walter Runciman to Fill the Vacancies.
 HALF BILLION IS VOTED
 Announcement Also Made of Reduction in Bank of England Rate.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Premier Asquith today announced the acceptance of the resignation of Viscount Morley and John Burns from the cabinet. Both resigned in protest against the British war policy.

Lord Beauchamp, who was first commissioned to succeed Lord Morley as lord president of the council. Walter Runciman, minister of agriculture, succeeded Hon. John Burns as president of the board of trade.

The cabinet met this afternoon. Previously Earl Kitchener and Lord Haldane were in conference with the premier at the war office, and the report was received that Kitchener was to become minister of war.

In the house Premier Asquith announced that Germany declared war on England at 7 o'clock last night. At that hour, he said, the British ambassador was handed his passports by the foreign office.

The premier then announced that he would ask the house to vote a credit of $500,000,000 for war purposes tomorrow.

Premier Asquith announced that Belgium has invited France to cooperate with her against the Germans. Rate is Cut.

Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, announced that the Bank of England rate was to be reduced to six per cent. either tomorrow or Friday. The government, he said, had not yet decided to suspend specie payments.

Lloyd George announced that the government on Friday will issue one pound note and will also issue new ten shilling notes. This move is taken to relieve the financial pressure caused by the retirement of gold from circulation. The emergency currency will be issued in a quantity sufficient to meet all demands.

HOW TO STOP STOMACH TORMENT

Sound Advice from a Well-Known Physician. Men and women who suffer from what they call dyspepsia, indigestion or just plain "stomach trouble" usually seek regular relief in the form of some peptic pill or tablet, or other artificial digestant. This experience teaches me, is a serious error. In many cases out of ten the distress is caused by the development of acids in the stomach—formed by the fermentation of the food. Instead of a digestant being required, something should be taken to dissolve or neutralize this acidity, when normal digestion will follow as a matter of course. This acid matter is distinctly poisonous and unless it is dissolved, digestion merely carries the stomach to the intestines, where its poison is absorbed by the blood and carried all over the body.

SUBMARINE MAY NOW SHOW DREADNOUGHTS ARE USELESS

Never Yet Tested in Actual Warfare, the Steel Fish Will Probably Have Opportunity to Carry Out Sir Percy Scott's Predictions—How the Submarine Could Defend Canada.

For the last few years naval powers have been endeavoring to outdo themselves in the construction of huge dreadnoughts and then super-dreadnoughts, and right on the top of these huge efforts comes the announcement from headquarters that the huge dreadnoughts are useless for ordinary warfare. The submarine has done it. A small fleet of submarines can so control a battleship squadron that they can turn them up, as it were, practically useless while the aeroplane can disarm their wherabouts and give the submarine information that will enable them under cover of the waves to sneak upon their unprotected hulls and blow them from the water.

Little Changed. Contrary to many beliefs the submarine has undergone very few changes since the first successful boat was launched by Holland. The principle is the same, and except for mechanical improvements the boats are comparatively unchanged.

Never Yet Tested. The submarine has never been tested in actual warfare. Even at the blockading of Port Arthur in the Russo-Japanese war men on the inside declare that the submarine was not used, altho contemporary reports attributed the damage to the Russian fleet to the little water bugs.

What They Can Do Proved. Recent manoeuvres in the British navy have shown how a submarine may be used to attack in the most various methods to decoy "sentenced" battleships have been used with great success. In one of these two boats harassed a squadron until driven to desperation, a battleship cruiser gave chase. It was led under fire from the destroyers, to a small fleet of submarines laying wait merged and ready for action.

Powers Unlimited. The powers of the submarine, assisted by its first cousin, the aeroplane, seem to be almost unlimited. Neither one has yet proven its capabilities except to a small degree, but this in no way is preventing the experts from prophesying that the first use of the submarine in actual warfare will drive the huge super-dreadnoughts from the seas, just as the dreadnoughts have driven the old obsolete battleships of a decade ago to the scrap-heap.

Running Submerged. The steamship Northland of the Maine Steamship Company, which arrived from New York this afternoon, saw no foreign cruisers, but her wireless operator said that he had picked up several code messages. He could make nothing of their cipher and he could not tell from what vessel they were sent or for whom they were intended.

BOMB DROPPING FROM AEROPLANES

Airmen Will Be of Great Value in Present War.

GOOD FOR SCOUT WORK

But the Damage They Can Do is Only a Conjecture.

Special To The Toronto World.

WASHINGTON, August 5.—The importance of aviation in the European war cannot be overestimated, according to officers of the United States army and navy. While by far the greatest use, they believe, will come from the scouting which can be done in the air, it is also felt that bombing from both dirigibles and aeroplanes is likely to become effective before the war is over.

"Aeroplanes without doubt will play an important part in the fighting, especially in scouting work, as they will be able to report intended attacks and thus prevent surprises by the enemy. In addition to this they will probably be used to a considerable extent for bomb-dropping, this being especially against fortifications. In this regard, however, they will be used for the first time to any considerable extent, and the amount of damage that can be done in this line is at present a matter of conjecture.

"Safe from attack, as they are practically immune from attack from the ground when at an elevation of from 4,000 to 5,000 feet, that is from the fire of field guns or rifles, as with their great speed it will simply be a chance shot that will reach the mark. They may be used for offensive work to some degree, but the only guns which they can carry will be very small calibre, the of rapid fire type, something of the general type of the machine gun, or the Colt rapid fire gun.

"The attack of an aeroplane on a dirigible, such as was recently reported from Europe but not verified, is quite possible and would be done by an aviator who is willing to sacrifice his own life in order to destroy one of the largest machines of the enemy, with the many officers and men who would be on board. The advantage in such an attack would be entirely with the aeroplane which can not only travel at a much higher speed but can be handled with much greater ease. It would also be easy for an aeroplane to climb above a dirigible and drop bombs which would cause immediate destruction with much less danger."

YOUNG MEN RUSH TO ENLIST IN ARMY

Unprecedented Rush of Recruits in London, All Clamoring to Meet the Germans.

Special Copyrighted Cable.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—This has been another day of tremendous events. Europe is now fairly aflame with the most gigantic war the world has ever known, and all hope of any sort of a settlement except by the sword has been flung everywhere to the winds. A British neutrality league was started here tonight, but it is an echo of the crying in the wilderness. The die is cast and Britain has flung her sword into the balance.

A wild suggestion was made by the International Bankers, who have most to lose that they might starve out the combatant nations by joint action; but the bankers are as powerless as are the business men to stem the torrent of racial antagonisms now stirred into activity. Not one of the other of the combatants is placed at a disadvantage can the voices of reason make itself heard. London has been slow to get going, but tonight it is fairly aflame with the war feeling. Britain's ultimatum to Germany had not expired when the startling news came from the North of Scotland that wounded were being landed there after a sea voyage. This brought home to the phlegmatic Britisher that war was at his doors and the effect has been that the martial spirit of the people has been thoroughly aroused.

Streets still present a holiday aspect; the west end is thronged with people and tonight there are several processions of young men singing the National Anthem and Marseillaise, marching and counter-marching thru the principal thoroughfares. There is a deadly earnestness about their demeanor that distinguishes it from mere parading, and the healthiest sign of feeling is the unprecedented rush of recruits for enlistment, all clamoring for a chance to meet the Germans on the Belgian frontier if an expeditionary force is organized.

The war office has been deluged with offers from officers for service; but there are but few vacancies because the whole country is being called upon to do its part of the regular scheme of British tactics.

FRANCE CHEERS FOR BRITISH NAVY

"Long Live English Loyalty," Says the Paris Newspapers.

Special Copyrighted Cable.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—A Daily News Paris despatch reads: "French interpretation of Sir Edward Grey's statements has given profound satisfaction. Boulevard crowds last night broke into loud and repeated cheering for the British fleet. Parisians were also delighted at the news of the mobilization of the British navy."

"The great duties, which are reduced to single sheets so as to economize on paper, have printed in large type right across the page 'Long Live English Loyalty.' Thousands of English and Americans are stranded in the city. Two thousand Americans besieged the American Express Company, demanding dollar bills and letters of credit demanding cash in value; even the Credit Lyonnais issued a notice announcing that they cannot care for 'future delivery' money. The British and American Embassies have been bombarded by tourists, pleading to be told how to cross the Channel or Atlantic; but the train service is completely disorganized.

"The press, which has shown such splendid restraint, denounces Germany for 'committing an outrage not simply against France, England and Russia, but the civilized world.' Are you planning a vacation? GERMANS IN PARIS CLAMOR TO LEAVE

Crowd American Consulate to Obtain Leave to Move From City.

Canadian Press Despatch.

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Germans began to crowd into the American consulate-general office here today, as it has been charged with their interests during the hostilities. By arrangement with the French Government, Consul-General Thackara issues to each of them a certificate of identification, which must be presented to the police commissary of the district in which the person is domiciled. In exchange the commissary gives him an authorization to depart by train to some town in the west of France, where he must remain until the day of appointing the commissary for his departure for the west of France.

The French authorities have arranged for the departure of two trains to Boulogne and two to Dieppe for the transportation of passengers desiring to cross the channel. Arrangements have also been made for connecting steamers to meet the trains and carry the passengers to Folkestone, New Haven and Southampton.

KENT CONSERVATIVES EXPECT ELECTION

Associations Decide to Nominate Candidate—Endorse P. H. Bowyer for Senate.

CHATHAM, Aug. 5.—At a joint meeting of the Kent and West Kent Conservative Associations, held here this afternoon, it was decided to appoint a committee to consider the question of calling a convention to appoint a Conservative candidate for the Dominion riding of Kent. The committee will try to agree upon a candidate and will then call a meeting of the Conservatives to make the nomination or to nominate any other man whom they may see fit. It is quite probable from the present appearances that A. B. McCole, present member for West Kent, will be the Liberal candidate for Kent in the next general election. The meeting discussed the question of the appointment of senators and went on record as strongly favoring the appointment of P. H. Bowyer, ex-M.L.A. of Ridgeway, to one of the vacancies in the upper house.

The Conservatives of Kent are enthusiastic at the present time, and it is felt that they will have an excellent chance to elect their candidate in the next election.

INSTRUCTOR GOES WEST FROM O.A.C.

Alex. McKay, Demonstrator in Cheesemaking, Has Resigned.

The dairy department of the Ontario Agricultural College has suffered a distinct loss on account of the resignation of Alexander McKay, for many years demonstrator in cheesemaking at the O.A.C. The financial arrangements of a dairy business in Winnipeg were sufficient to overbalance the rather meagre salary paid for academic services.

In addition to being a first-class cheesemaker and instructor on the road among the factories of Western Ontario for a number of years, Mr. McKay had the faculty of getting on well with students, and was a trained experimentalist in cheesemaking. He was always faithful to duty, loyal to his work and a man who could be depended upon at all times.

The vacancy will be filled temporarily, and a permanent appointment not made until about the New Year, as it is desired to look over the field of available men and secure the very best man obtainable for taking charge of the cheese work at the college.

RUSSIANS WRECKED GERMAN EMBASSY

Mob Fired Furniture Before Being Routed by St. Petersburg Police.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 5, via London.—A number of students and workmen climbed to the roof of the German embassy and tore the golden eagle from the top of the flag staff. They then ran up the Russian flag. A massive stonework, depicting a group of horses led by men, was hacked to pieces with axes and the debris hurled into the canal. A bonfire then was made of the contents of the embassy and an attempt was made to put a torch to the building, but mounted police routed the rioters.

Another crowd tried to repeat the performance at the Austrian embassy, but that building was too strongly guarded.

The body of a Russian footman is alleged by the authorities to have been found in the Russian embassy. The man had been shot in the head and stabbed and had been dead for some days.

The premier also stated that all men trained in the past fifteen years have been called to the colors. He read the Belgian reply to the last German note, which informed this government that if Belgium raised difficulties against the passage of German troops thru Belgium the necessary force would be used by Germany to accomplish her end.

NEW YORK BANKS BUY SECURITIES

Hopeful Outlook in Financial Sense Came With Enquiry for Stocks.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Developments in the financial district today were mostly of a reassuring character. Bankers inclined to more cheerful views, despite the conflict abroad. Cables from London, which was the chief service of direct European contact, suggested a hopeful outlook in the financial sense, with prospects favoring an early reduction in the British bank rate.

Wall street's greatest problem—the disposition of the large amount of American securities brought over on the Olympic—found early solution in the willingness of the banks to facilitate deliveries of these stocks, most of which were sold here for "future delivery" in the days immediately preceding the closing of the exchange.

There was some enquiry for the better known stocks from local and out-of-town sources, at prices a point or more over last Thursday's quotations, but sales and trading were limited to outside brokers.

Money markets, while in no sense demoralized, maintained their nominal tone of recent days. Some of the banks advanced loans from 6 to 8 per cent, but the former rate prevailed in most cases. Banks were loth to renew expiring loans, owing to the absence of trading, making such action unnecessary, and on the additional ground that it was deemed best to strengthen reserves.

MANAGE FARM IN BUSINESS MANNER

Must Be Properly Organized to Secure the Greatest Continous Profits.

Farm management is the application of business principles to farming. A farm enterprise must be organized for the purpose of securing the greatest continuous profits.

It is not enough to raise good crops or secure a large annual production; these must be produced economically. This is accomplished only when capital and labor are so adjusted as to existing conditions that maximum yields are obtained at the lowest cost.

Every farmer must be well organized and must be co-ordinated with the others. Labor must be fully employed; capital must be properly utilized; both quantity and quality of products must be secured, and the products must be wisely marketed.

In the days of our fathers the farm provided almost everything needed by the family. The few things that were not raised on the farm were received in trade from the village store.

Very little money was required or handled by the farmer. The measure of his success was his ability to produce his own food and clothing, rather than the ability to organize his business and buy and sell well.

Since machinery has been introduced in the factory and on the farm, money has become necessary for the farmer. He can no longer raise or trade all he needs. He must sell his products and buy most of his requirements.

All these changes mean that the farmer of today, in order to become successful, must be a business man. He not only produces, but he buys and sells. The kind of business ability needed is not only that of the trader, but also that of the executive, who can organize the farm into a successful enterprise.

An idle farm is a farm that is a greater loss than a deal in horses. Failure is caused by poor management, as well as poor timing of the market. He must have a plan for stormy days, as well as for fine weather.

Most things that are about to go wrong and prevent them from going wrong. We must not assume that the farmer is ignorant and unbusinesslike. Some of them are fathers and brothers of our captains in industry and are slower in changing his methods and in meeting new conditions and requirements as they arise.

The more a farmer is intelligently directed by his brains, the greater will be the resultant satisfaction and profit. F. C. N.

ENORMOUS VALUE OF FOX INDUSTRY

Those in activity in Prince Edward Island Valued at Over Fifteen Million.

The importance of the fox industry on Prince Edward Island is well illustrated in a recent publication of the Census and Statistics Department issued under the authority of the minister of trade and commerce, and edited by the head of the statistical branch of the department. This paper contains the following interesting paragraphs:

It is stated that at the present time the foxes in captivity in the Province of Prince Edward Island could not be purchased for less than $100,000. The above estimated valuation is equal to twice the value of all the cattle, horses, sheep, swine and poultry as shown by the Canadian census of 1911, the total of which was given as $7,488,784.

The foxes representing this $15,000,000 number 2130, and are thus classed: 299 old silvers, at $10,000 each, $2,990,000; 205 young silvers, at $10,000 each, $2,050,000; 294 young crosses, at $10,000 each, $2,940,000.

The rest of the amount is made up of cheaper foxes and the ranches, until the total of $15,150,150 is made up. A striking illustration of the remarkable development of the industry is reached by a comparison with the value of the island's farm stock, including horses and poultry. This, according to the last census, was $7,488,784. The population of the island at the present time was $2,728, so that the value of the live stock was about $6 per head of population. The fox industry averages 11 1/2 per head, which is secured by the Crown of Prince Edward Island was formed for its farms, its horses and its cattle, from the foregoing figures it is plainly seen that the fox industry has assumed greater proportions than any of these other industries.

NEW INVENTION WILL REDUCE TWINE PRICES

John Kennedy, a director of the Grain Growers' Grain Company of Western Canada, tells of an invention which will revolutionize the binder twine trade. The new invention, the patent rights of which have been secured by the Grain Growers Grain Company, is for a metallic clamp for a fastener for binder twine, to do away with the necessity of knotting, and to permit of the use of cheap flax twine. This will result in the twine being cut in two.

All that is necessary for the alteration of binders is to remove the knoter and replace it with the new machine. Then it will use the cheap flax twine and give perfect satisfaction. This has been demonstrated in a practical way. At present this flax twine is not made in Western Canada, but is manufactured in Minnesota.

BRITISH CABLES DISCOUNT DANGER

Report That English Wheat Stock Was Scant Forced Buying.

UNITED STATES MAY ACT

Hope That Way May Be Cleared for American Grain Cargoes.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Despite the shock of England having entered into war and apparently having forsaken plans to guarantee the safety of grain shipments intended for British ports, prices on the board of trade today developed great strength. Violent declines at first were succeeded by an all-around advance. Net gains for the day were: Wheat, 1 7/8 to 3 1/4; corn, 1 1/4 to 2; oats, 2 1/2 to 2 3/8; and provisions, 2 1/2 to 1 1/2.

War Risk Discounted. Sudden upsetting of the trade understanding that the question of ocean war risks had been to a large extent settled seemed to have been the cause of the general hostilities which would make more and more necessary the European requirements for immense quantities of foodstuffs from the United States. It was not long, however, before the wheat began to feel the effects of cablegrams that the stock on hand in Liverpool was scanty and that prices there were advancing in a manner that showed alarm.

Export Buying. Houses here identified with the export trade were buyers on the upturn in the wheat market, regardless of the fact that earlier they had jumped to the selling side. Hopes were aroused that the United States Government would see its way clear to force an outlet for American products by taking up at the federal treasury the bills of exchange on grain for cargoes destined for Europe, thus effectually supplementing the pending enactment to put the American flag over a sufficient number of merchant ships on the Atlantic.

TOUGH-OAKES MAKES PAYMENT TO OWNERS

COBALT, Aug. 5.—The Tough-Oakes Mining Co. has just made another payment of $200,000 to the original owners of the mine at Kirkland Lake, and the money is in the bank at Hamilton.

FINANCES BETTER IN NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Financial Bulletin will say: "The financial situation is improving. This statement is made on banking authority from several independent sources and is based on the fact that the power from underground development is getting in hand. If this ratio of improvement continues the New York Stock Exchange will reopen in the near future. We find a strong tendency everywhere for people to recover tone, due to the clearer alignment of the foreign powers, and a setting down to definite relations from uncertainty which are at once the bane and yet the life of speculation. It is important to observe that in this crisis there is not the tenseness observed during the panic of 1907."

U. S. PUTS MONEY INTO CIRCULATION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—More than a billion dollars was made available today for additional circulation in future currency by the act of the President amending the bank law, which President Wilson had placed his signature to last night. The new act extends issues of currency to 125 per cent. of capital and surplus of banks and trust companies in the federal reserve system.

GALT DEBENTURES SOLD

NOTHING NEW IN FINANCE CIRCLES

Brokers Warned Against Trading in Street—Maintain Patient Attitude.

WHEAT BUSINESS LIGHT IN WINNIPEG

But Prices Were on War Basis—Sharp Advance at Opening.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 5.—Trading on the wheat market was quiet and transactions few, with prices apparently on a war basis. Liverpool cables (official) were to the effect that wheat sold privately at an advance of 4 1/2c higher than last quotation, and the market here followed in sympathy. Opening figures were 1/4c higher on both months, but jumped to $1.04 for October and $1.02 for December within a few minutes, being an advance of 4 1/2c on both months.

RISE IN COFFEE ON NEW YORK CURB

Active Business Reported—Some Trading in Future Deliveries.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Notwithstanding the absence of an official business market there was an active business in coffee here again today, including considerable trading in future deliveries on a hastily organized curb market, for the purpose of closing out old commitments and releasing hedges against spot supplies needed in the interior. It was rumored that September contracts changed hands around 8 1/2c, or about 50 points up from private business reported yesterday, while Rio 7s were quoted early at 9 1/4c and Santos 4 1/2c at 14c; later Rio No. 7 advanced to 10c amid great excitement.

STRONG FEELING IN FLOUR MARKET

Good Demand and Small Offerings in Spring Wheat Grades.

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—There were no new developments in export grain circles today, business still being at a standstill, but the local market for course grains continues strong and prices are tending towards a higher level. The demand for oats was good at a further advance of one-half cent per bushel, and a good demand for car lots from both local and country buyers and quite an active trade is doing. A feature of the flour market today was the strong feeling in winter wheat grades. Prices were advanced 2 1/2c to 50c per barrel under a good demand and small offerings. Spring wheat fed is active and an active business for local account. Higher prices are expected in the near future owing to the advance in prices for wheat of 8 1/2c to 15c per bushel during the past few days. The tone of the market for rolled oats was also strong at an advance of 20c to 30c per barrel. The butter market is excited, with a good demand from western buyers. Sales of car lots from creamery were made at 26c to 28 1/2c, and one or two cars were also bought for American account. The cheese situation is somewhat demoralized, but the feeling in the market is strong. The demand for eggs is good. Dressed hogs declined 25c per 100 pounds.
