TUBBERCERRY RAID TOLD BY CITIZENS. Half Town in Ruins and Return of Raiders Dreaded—Attack With Petrol and Bombs—Woman Tells How She and Family Escaped Bullets.

Expected Speedy Reprisal. When the news on Thursday afternoon of the ambushing of a police party reached Tubbercurry, two-thirds of its 900 population fled in panic, anticipating a speedy reprisal. About midnight four lorries, filled with uniformed men and, it is said, including Commissioner Russell, arrived in Tubbercurry. Two of them came from the direction of Ballymore and two from the direction of Sligo.

Accounts of what happened afterwards, as given to the correspondent by various townspeople, follow: The lorries stopped in front of a public house, and when the occupants had been ordered to alight, Commissioner Russell begged them not to destroy property. One man answered the commissioner with an oath and all the men rushed toward the saloon, which quickly was broken open. An orgy of drinking, night preceding Thursday's raid on the town the people were declared to have been fired on from the roofs of a large general store adjoining the barracks. This building later was wrecked. This incident terrified the feeling between the people and the police.

COMMON SENSE WILL BRING BRITAIN THRU. IS VIEW OF SEELY. Has Every Confidence That Labor Troubles Will Soon Be Settled.

RETICENT ON IRELAND. "The sound principles of common sense," and before finishing the sentence, a merry smile lighted up the major-general's face, "the sound principle of common-sense which helped the British people to 'partially' win the war will see us thru our present troubles. Great Britain is all right and is going to be quite all right in the near future."

The foregoing statement was made by Major-General J. E. B. Seely, C.B., D.S.O., M.P., the famous cavalry commander and statesman, in the course of an interview with The World yesterday. The main object of his visit to Toronto was to meet the war and an interesting function in this connection took place at Stanley Barracks yesterday, a report of which will be found in another column.

In the conversation with The World, Major-General Seely was not disposed to discuss affairs in Ireland, or say (Continued on Page 5, Column 2).

PRESIDENT'S APPEAL TO ENDORSE LEAGUE

Declares Whole World is Awaiting Verdict of the People.

Washington, Oct. 3.—President Wilson, in his first campaign appeal to the people, urged the endorsement of the league of nations and declared, "the whole world will wait for your verdict in November as it would wait for an intimation of what its future is to be."

The president characterized as "absolutely false" assertions that article ten of the league covenant would make it possible for other nations to lead the United States into war. There was nothing in the covenant, he said, "which in the least interferes with or impairs the right of congress to declare war or not declare war according to its own independent judgment, as our constitution provides."

"My fellow countrymen," was the president's method of addressing his communication to the people. He made no mention of presidential candidates by name, but was confined to a brief defense of Article 10 and criticism of those who have declared, "grossly misled" the public with regard to the treaty.

The president said that those who had spent their lives, as he had, "in familiarizing themselves with the history and traditions and policies of the nation, must stand amazed at the gross ignorance and impudent audacity which has been attempted to invent an 'Americanism' which has no foundation whatever in any of the traditions of the government."

The chief question is put to you is, of course, this: Do you want your country's honor vindicated and the treaty of Versailles ratified? Do you in particular approve of the league of nations as organized and empowered in that treaty? And do you wish to see the United States play its responsible part in it? You have been grossly misled with regard to the treaty, and particularly with regard to the proposed character of the league of nations, by those who have assumed the responsibility of speaking for you.

"The issue of the present campaign is of such tremendous importance and of such far-reaching significance for the future of the country and the development of its future that it is necessary to speak to you. Even the sick are afraid to come."

As with the Turk. The Serb vies with the Turk in atrocities. When the veil is lifted from the 'Ipek' country there will be found a condition of affairs which will come as a rude check to those who have put their confidence in Serbia, a correspondent of The Morning Post is writing from Cetinje, a town of false-hoods and misrepresentations.

The issue of the present campaign is of such tremendous importance and of such far-reaching significance for the future of the country and the development of its future that it is necessary to speak to you. Even the sick are afraid to come."

GENERAL SEELY, IN TORONTO, MEETS OLD COMRADES IN ARMS

ITALIAN CONFLICT ALMOST BLOODLESS

Premier Giolitti Praises Way Industrial Strife Was Quieted.

Rome, Oct. 3.—Italy has gone through a radical transformation in the relations existing between employers and workers with little injury to persons, property or order of things, says Premier Giolitti, in a statement to the Associated Press. He explains the significance of the settlement reached between the owners of industrial plants and their employes, and says that more cordial relations between capital and labor will exist in future.

Many persons volunteered advice to the government as to its using force and employing soldiers, cannon and machine-guns for what they considered the necessity of making the rights of property respected. Considering the fact there were more than 500,000 workers involved in the movement and that over 600 factories were occupied, an attempt to dislodge the men by force would have plunged the country into civil war, and hundreds, if not thousands of people would have been killed.

The widening abyss between employers and workmen could not be bridged at first, but by following the counsels of moderation, prudence and conciliation, the number of those killed was about a dozen, including some victims of clashes between "red" and "white" workmen. Even this loss of life was deplorable, but "let him that is without sin cast the first stone."

Definite Agreement Signed. Milan, Oct. 3.—Signature of the definite agreement between employers and workmen which is expected to settle the dispute which resulted in the occupation of industrial plants by metal workers, took place here yesterday in the presence of Signor Lusignol, professor of law.

HAMILTON

Hamilton, Oct. 3.—In connection with the no-accident week campaign to be held here next week, statistics showing the number of accidents which have occurred in Hamilton so far this year are being prepared by Chief of Police Whitley, reports of accidents occurring to date, contained in the records at the central police station, show that close to nine hundred accidents have occurred.

Accused of Reaction. Accusations of conservatism "reaction," which have been brought against the conference, are still the subject of comment in the lobbies. The delegates, generally, however, attach little importance to criticisms of a political nature.

Parochial Schools ON MICHIGAN BALLOTS Lansing, Mich., Oct. 2.—A proposed amendment to the Michigan constitution which would have the effect of abolishing parochial and private schools in the state will go on the ballots at the November election, according to an opinion handed down late yesterday by the state supreme court.

CANADIANS JOIN BIG OIL VENTURE

Toronto and Montreal Financiers Interested in Lower Californian Venture.

A deal of large proportions has been closed in Toronto and New York, under which a Canadian syndicate, headed by James Playfair, D. A. Dunlop, Senator Wilson of the Wilson Steamship Company, and other Toronto and Montreal capitalists, combined with what is described as one of the strongest American oil and refining companies, have acquired most of the oil territory owned by Alfred Mackenzie of New York and London, and James S. Rear, mining operator of British Columbia.

The oil leases referred to comprise more than three million acres in Lower California, Mexico, with a sea frontage of 210 miles. This is the territory that Senator Ashurst and other western American senators advised the Washington government to purchase from Mexico owing to the possibilities of the peninsula.

ANNIVERSARY OF DOVERCOURT ROAD

Montreal Minister Refers to Lessons Derived From the Great War.

The anniversary services of Do- vercourt Road Presbyterian Church, making the completion of fourteen years in the present church edifice, were held yesterday. Rev. James Wil- son, under whose ministry the con- gregation has become one of the strong churches of the city, the Sun- day school having a membership of over a thousand, was assisted by Rev. Robert Johnston, D. D. of Montreal, who preached at both services. His subject in the morning was an application of the message of the prophet Jonah to the present world conditions resulting from the great war. The lessons, he said, Israel had to learn in the days of the prophet Jonah were the lessons which God has still been trying to teach the world in these modern days. It was God's aim thru all the Old Testament dispensation to widen Israel's conception of life, to fit Israel to become what every chosen people must become—missionary in spirit.

Under the story of God's deal- ing with the prophet, the preacher said, Israel, seeking to escape from God's purposes for her as a peculiar and separated people, is plunged into part stormy waters of a world-war and swallowed in a captivity that be- comes a school of rich experience. Here, under God's divine providence, she is taught the lessons which for all coming time are to be her from an idolatry to which she had always been prone, and here, if she will but learn she is to learn those les- sons which will fit her to become the revealer to the nations of the world of God's purposes for a world-wide kingdom. Such was the message of the prophet to Israel, who more than two thousand years ago. But the prophecy has a message for today. Still God's chosen nations have to learn that there is but one God and that mankind is one in His purposes of divine mercy and grace.

LIVE STOCK PRICES DROP IN WINNIPEG

Glut Causes Decline in Some Cases of Two Dollars a Hundredweight. (From Sunday World.) Live stock prices got a severe jolt in Winnipeg on Saturday when with 12,000 cattle on sale in the yards and other trainloads on the sidings the price was dropping in some cases a good $2 per hundred pounds. The stock yards were congested, and while some of the better class of cattle sold at from 8c to 10c a pound as low as 6c a pound was paid for a lot of the cattle going out to Chicago as canners. Within the last week or so thou- sands of head had been shipped out—also to Montana, where they will be fattened upon the alfalfa fields of that state. The demand was slow for all classes and the feeling is that a definite and permanent cut in prices for all classes is close at hand. General Price-Cutting Move- ment is an All-Powerful Influence.

(From Sunday World.) Ottawa, Oct. 2.—Recent reports to the sheep division of the department of agriculture indicate a further de- cline in the general price-cutting movement, according to the weekly wool market report issued today. The fact that a very large proportion of this year's clip is still under control of producers, however, is causing speculators some anxiety, and it is felt by them that the wool market sign- ificant wool will remain general and that the future regulation of prices will remain a matter to be settled be- tween growers and manufacturers, rather than by speculators.

DECEDED BREAK IN COMMODITY PRICES

Seventy-Two Declines and Only Ten Advances in Past Week. New York, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The downward movement of wholesale commodity prices was much more pro- nounced last week than at any recent period, there being 72 declines in the list of quotations compiled by Dun's Review, as against only 10 advances. Altho foreign inquiry was well main- tained, pressure of offerings resulting from large crops and improved rail- road transportation forced further yielding in wheat, corn, oats, barley and hay, all of which sold at sub- stantial concession. In live meats, the tone of beef and sheep was rather easy, altho no re- cession of moment was recorded, but more liberal marketings were reflected in appreciably reduced prices for hogs. Provisions also fell to a much lower level, in sympathy with the trend in the raw material.

EMPLOYES THROWN OUT

Belleville, Ont., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The power shortage in central Hy- dro district, caused by lower water in the Trent River daily grows worse, and manufacturers concerned are very much alarmed. The district supply, with electrical energy by the Hydro- Electric Commission from power de- velopment on the Trent River in- cludes the territory from Oshawa to Kingston, and between Belleville and Peterboro. Several of the largest in- dustries in Belleville were closed down almost the whole of last week, and fifteen hundred employes thrown off work. The fact that the Hydro- Electric Commission supplying the power is a provincial institution, and control of storage waters is vested in the department of railways and canals under the Dominion parlia- ment, complicates the situation.

His democratic manner was greatly commented on. The prince went on board the U. S. bar- cetsirp Kansas while here, and pre- sented to Rear Admiral Charles F. GERMANY WANTS COWS FROM U. S.

Berlin, Sept. 16.—(By Mail)—The German Department of Agriculture and the German Red Cross are trying to help Americans who have offered to send 5,000 cows to Germany to ob- tain cargo space in vessels to ob- tain the cattle across the Atlantic. The inter-allied maritime board announ- ced that it was unable to supply the tonnage required. The department of agriculture has sent an expert to the United States to find the ships needed to bring the cows to Germany. Meantime the Red Cross has been trying to smooth away the difficulties here and obtain per- mission to receive the much desired animals. These obstacles are due to confusion of authority in the govern- ment regarding the issue of permits and inspection of the cattle when they arrive.

The Housing Problem.

Much interest will be taken in the address of Mrs. S. A. Barnett on the housing problem at Foresters' Hall tonight, because she speaks with some authority as the founder of the Hampstead Garden Suburb, London, England.

The scarcity of building materials and their high prices, together with the rapid increase in the rate of wages, has not made the building of houses for sale or for rent an attractive speculation, and the individual merely desiring to build one house for his own home finds himself up against a most difficult proposition.

A Pulp and Paper Policy for Ontario.

Ontario's forest wealth has become immensely and immediately more valuable with the spectacular rise in the price of paper. The pulpwood of this province is in eager demand, but pulp limits are being acquired by the paper barons at inconsiderable prices and without serious competition.

Within the Law?

The prosecuting attorney in Chicago finds it difficult to draw an indictment against the baseball players who threw games in the world series last year in return for bribes paid and promised by the gamblers.

DENY THAT DISTILLERY IS SOLD IN PRESCOTT

Brockville, Ont., Oct. 2.—(By Canadian Press.)—Denial is made by officials of J. P. Wisner and Sons, proprietors of the distillery, of the report that the distillery had been sold to the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Company of Corbyville.

Electric Commission already has a pulp mill near Campbellford, which it is operating at a big profit. But that does not meet the situation. The Hydro-Electric took over this pulp mill as a part of the Seymour Company's plant and is operating it much as a private concern would operate it for the purpose of making a profit.

Everyone admits that our great resources of pulpwood will disappear unless a scientific scheme of reforestation is adopted. The provincial government should demonstrate by actual experiment what can be done with a large pulp limit supplying a pulp and paper mill if as a certain number of acres are cleared reforestation gets under way.

This, however, does not appeal to The Toronto Globe. They wander away into a discussion of a scheme by which the province will chop down trees on crown lands and thus reduce the cost of lumber and solve the housing problem. That is well enough, but let us bring our neighbor back to the question before the house.

Harding Ahead.

In spite of Sir John Macdonald's famous saying that "nothing is more uncertain than a horse race, except an election," there seems to be a moral certainty in the United States that the Republicans are going to sweep the country by a majority unparalleled since the re-election of President Grant in 1872.

THE DUTY ON SUGAR.

Editor World: As a protectionist and a Conservative, I wish to put in my protest against the duty on sugar being maintained hereafter. The refiners had no reason in keeping prices in Canada above prices in the States; and now that they are caught with immense quantities in store at prices above those in the States, and when a tumble must come, Sir Harry Drayton or anyone else will not be justified in maintaining any duty hereafter.

THE HOUSE 'ROUND THE CORNER

By GORDON HOLMES.

"Yes, Edie thought that was the best plan. Here you are!"

He produced a letter from a breast pocket, and sat down instantly when the girl murmured an apology and opened the envelope. Armathwaite refilled his pipe, and lit it.

While doing so he became aware that Percy Whitaker was scrutinizing him with a curiously subtle underlook, and the notion was borne in on him that the newcomer, the effete in some respects, might be alert enough in others.

For one thing, the tired gray-green eyes had suddenly become bright and another, a weak wobble was balanced by a somewhat stubborn chin.

For all his unassuming pliancy, this young man could be vindictive if he chose. At any rate, Armathwaite realized that another barrier had been thrust in the way of Marguerite Ogilvey's untroubled departure from Elmdale.

Percy Whitaker was obviously an intimate friend, and the extraordinary crisis which had arisen in the Ogilvey household could hardly remain hidden from him.

What use would he make of the knowledge? How would such a flabby youth act in circumstances which were utterly perplexing to a man ten years his senior in age and immeasurably more experienced?

Armathwaite could not make up his mind. He must simply bide his time and act as he deemed expedient in the grand executive board, who, so it is understood, are in Toronto for the purpose of furthering organization of the forces in this part of Canada.

Freight Handlers, was yesterday in conference with Alec Hay, vice-president of the union, and Chester Spleen and Charles Dunn, members of the grand executive board, who, so it is understood, are in Toronto for the purpose of furthering organization of the forces in this part of Canada.

His thoughts were interrupted by an exclamation from the girl. "Just like dad!" she cried. "He writes asking me to search among the old bookshelves of Chester's for one of the very volumes I am bringing from my own library. He knows it is here, yet persists in disregarding the fact that it is not in my own house—what would you say then, Percy?"

"It is a puzzling situation, certainly," said Armathwaite, quickly alive to the fact that, in Whitaker's presence, at any rate, the co-sinship had been dropped.

"What is?" demanded Whitaker. "Not much to make a fuss about in searching for a book, is there?"

"No. But suppose I tell you that people here declare my father is dead, that he committed suicide two years ago, that he is buried in a neighboring cemetery, that his ghost is seen of nights in our own house—what would you say then, Percy?"

"I say that the inhabitants are well suited to their country, and the sooner you and I are away from both, the better for the pair of us."

Meg crumpled up the letter in one hand, and handed Whitaker to his feet with the other.

"Come on," she said, emphatically. "If you hear the whole story now, you'll collapse. I'm glad you've arrived, but I thought at first you were adding to my worries. You can help in clearing up a mystery. Now, don't interrupt, but listen! I'm going to give you a plain, straightforward version of events which sound like the maddest sort of nonsense. You wouldn't believe a word I'm telling you if Mr. Armathwaite wasn't present. But he will vouch for every syllable, and when I've finished, you'll agree that when I said we would leave here, tomorrow, perhaps, I might just as well have substituted 'next week' or 'next month' for 'tomorrow.' Isn't that so, Mr. Armathwaite?"

Armathwaite removed his pipe from between teeth that were biting savagely into its stem. He wished the girl had been more discreet, yet, how could he forbid these confidences?

"Yes, and no," he answered. "Yes, if you mean to constitute yourself into a court of inquiry; no, if you take my advice, and return to Chester with Mr. Whitaker without loss of time."

"How is that possible?" she insisted, turning wondering eyes on him. "You yourself said that nothing we can do now will stop the authorities from reopening the whole affair. There is no hope of closing people's mouths. Bob! Well, I've said it, and now Percy will be wild to learn the facts, because Meg Ogilvey doesn't run around calling by their Christian names men whom she has known a day without very good reason. But you don't know our local folk if you think our affairs are not being talked of in Elmdale and Nuttonby at this moment. Bland saw me, and James Walker will spread the tale far and wide. What good will I do by running away?"

"Don't imagine I do by running away," Walker said. He burst out what you have hinted at. Some man was found dead in our house. It wasn't my father. Then, who was it?"

In her excitement she was hurrying Percy along at a rare pace, and Armathwaite saw, with a chill of foreboding, that the other was stepping out without protest, all an ear for impending revelations.

"From that point of view, Mr. Whitaker's presence is unquestionably advantageous," he said. "He is a friend in whom you can trust. He is acquainted with your relatives, I take it. His opinions will consequently be far simpler than mine."

"That's the way Bob talks when he's grumpy," said the girl, apparently for Whitaker's benefit alone. "He doesn't mean it really, but he thinks he ought to behave like a stage uncle and prevent an impulsive young thing from acting foolishly. Yet, all the time, he knows quite well that we could no more change the course of events now than hold back the tide."

"Will you kindly remember that if you were talking Greek, I'd have just about as much grasp of what you're saying as I have at this moment?" put in Whitaker.

This recalled to her task, Marguerite did not deviate from it any further. By the time Percy Whitaker had dropped into a chair in the dining-room, he had heard exactly what had happened since Armathwaite arrived in Elmdale. As he was hungry, a meal was improvised. He said little, only interpolating a fairly-shrewd question now and again which Marguerite was glad to answer.

About this time he developed a new trait. He seemed rather to shirk comments which would draw Armathwaite into the conversation. When the girl appealed to the latter to verify some statement of fact, Whitaker remained silent. Even when it was necessary to refer directly to Armathwaite, he did so obliquely.

"You've spun a jolly queer yarn, Meg," he said, after she had retailed, for the second time, and with evident relish, the discomfiture of James Walker. "I think it would be a good notion now if we found out what really did occur in this house after you and your mother went away. Didn't you say there was a newspaper report of the inquest handy?"

"Betty Jackson promised to give it to me," said Marguerite. "Well, couldn't we see it?"

"I'll go and ask her for it," said Armathwaite, and he left the room.

"Tell you what, Meg," drawled Percy, pouring out a third cup of tea, "you're making a howling mistake in letting that chap share your confidence."

Marguerite's eyebrows curved in astonishment. The very suddenness of this remark was disconcerting.

SCARBORO GIRL MOTOR VICTIM

Mary Kincaid, Struck Down on Kingston Road, Dies on Way to Hospital.

Mary Kincaid, aged 22, of Scarborough village, was killed while crossing Kingston road at Stop 19 on Saturday evening by an automobile driven by George Green, 8 Boswell avenue.

The young woman, who was the adopted daughter of Frank McGinty, section foreman on the Toronto and York Radial, Scarborough division, was shopping at Davis' butcher store, and in the act of stepping off the sidewalk to cross to a friend's motor car on the opposite side, she was struck by Green's auto, which was traveling east and skidded 43 feet after the impact.

According to the statements of several onlookers, it is difficult to imagine how the young woman was struck, as the road was well illuminated at this point by the lights from the store windows.

This is the second fatal motor car accident on Kingston road in eight days. William Leith, who was knocked down by an auto at Stop 16, died from his injuries in St. Michael's Hospital on Friday last.

The late Miss Kincaid was popular in social and church circles, and was a member of Christ Church and a Sunday school teacher.

Her father, Mr. George Kincaid, was secretary of the Soldiers' Comforts League and was a member of the association.

Her mother, Mrs. Mary Kincaid, was also a prominent member of the Scarborough Dramatic Club.

MOTOR BUS UPSETS, PASSENGERS INJURED

Collision With Motor Car Occurred Near Long Branch Saturday.

A collision occurred between a crowded Lake shore motor bus, known locally as the "yellow bus," which runs between Sunnyside and Oakville, driven by Percy Brownley, 267 Niagara street, and a touring car in charge of William Wilson, of Walton street, on Saturday afternoon.

The bus turned turtle into the ditch, and two passengers were injured. William Lennox, 48 Rathnally avenue, sustained a fractured arm, and Mrs. Bridget Flood, of Oakville, was badly bruised, and was removed to her home in a motor car.

The remainder of the passengers fortunately escaped, with the exception of being slightly shaken up and bruised.

According to Fred Shaw, county constable, the car was pulling out from a driveway, and the bus struck it, which tried to avoid the collision and was forced into the ditch.

There were several passengers on board at the time of the accident. The windows on both sides of the bus were shattered.

DENIES RECEIVING SALARY ON BOARD

Rev. Peter Bryce is Glad to Devote Time to Mothers' Pensions.

In speaking to the Men's Own Brotherhood at Earlscourt Central Methodist Church yesterday afternoon, Rev. Peter Bryce, chairman of the mothers' pensions board, denied that he was receiving $100.00 a year salary, or $750.00, as reported, but declared the cause of assisting mothers and families who need help.

Mr. Bryce stated that he was appalled at the great increase of desertion of wives and families, quoting many instances where women were left at childbirth to face the world alone, while the husband could not be found.

Provision for the government to take heed to this terrible condition of things would be made, he declared, by an act dealing with the mothers' pensions.

RECORD FIELD DAY AT LAMBTON PARK

Good Display of Flowers and Fine Program of Sports.

Lambton Park field day, held on Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the local G.W.V.A. and the ladies' auxiliary, was the most successful event of community interest ever held in the district despite the unfavorable weather.

In the flower competition, the prize for variety flower exhibit was carried off by Mrs. A. Croft of Lambton Park. In the vegetables, the contesting exhibits gave the judges a good deal of discrimination before making the awards.

First place was given to C. Pero, of Lambton Flat; second to J. T. Winston, of Lambton Flat, and third to Mrs. A. W. Arnold, of 63 Bernice crescent, Lambton Park.

There was a full program of sports for the school children, as well as an unprecedented display of shows and attractions.

The cadet corps, 55 strong, from the boys of the public school gave a parade exhibition with life and drum music, under Principal E. J. Sproule. The Fairbank brass band was also in attendance.

It was estimated that the proceeds would raise the memorial hall fund, for which the day was held, to about $600 and a large stock of supplies remained clear for additional events.

President A. W. Arnold reported $269 received from the recent tag day for the proposed hall, and two sites offered for the fund, which payment can be made.

The fund has been accumulating since the organization two years ago. The president of the auxiliary is Mrs. J. Vaughan.

Lambton Park district record also $110.72 in the cadet fund, which is to be used this fall on a trip for the boys.

REGULATED PLAY BY SCORE BOARD

White Sox Bench-Warmers Charge Certain Players With Throwing Games.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Charges that certain Chicago White Sox players regulated their playing this season by the score board, winning or losing as the occasion demanded in order to keep the betting odds favorable, were made tonight by E. Lynn and Harvey McCulligan, who said as "bench warmers" most of the season they had studied the players carefully and were convinced that they were "thrown" out of the pennant.

"We lost the pennant because certain players—they are among the eight indicted by the Cook county grand jury—didn't want us to win," Lynn said. "We soon noticed how carefully they studied the score board—more than even the average player does in a pennant race—and that they always made errors which we won. If Cleveland lost, a lost bet idea was to keep up the betting odds, but to let us win the pennant."

McCulligan said he was convinced certain players had deliberately "thrown" three games in Boston on the last eastern trip.

"Several of the players noticed how the score board affected the others," he added, "and we felt all along that these rogues were regulating their play according to the play of other teams."

No announcement has been given as to whether any of the White Sox players will be called before the grand jury when it reconvenes in special session on Tuesday to continue the baseball inquiry. It is believed, however, that several of the players against whom indictments have not been voted will be called to tell their views and give opinions as to the ease or difficulty of "throwing" games.

5,000 STUDENTS REGISTERED. Five thousand students have registered in the technical schools, and it is expected that by the end of the week at least 8,000 will have been enrolled. The registration fees for two dollars, returnable if attendance has been maintained up to a standard of 85 per cent. Among the most popular studies are physics and electricity, with nearly 400 registrations, machine work with 200, and cooking with a registration of more than a thousand women in 40 classes.

The children's cafeteria is priced as cheaply as in 1919, and is patronized by some 800 girls and boys.

BEACHES VISITORS RETURN TO TOWN. The cold and moist weather of the last few days has terminated the summer season, and the last of the visitors have returned to town from the beaches district. The season just past has been far from satisfactory or enjoyable owing to the late arrival of the season, and frequent cold spells during the past few months. The bathing season has been the shortest on record for many years, and the average cold temperature of the lake, it is said, was 50 degrees.

Veinns, Sept. 12.—(By Mail)—The Social Democrat party of Austria, numerically the largest in the Austrian parliament, charges in an appeal its leaders have issued asking for votes in the election for the national assembly on October 17, that the counter-revolutionaries have been victorious in Hungary and that their "lynchings and guillotines are preparing the way for restoration in that country of the rule of the Hapsburgs; this is the line of which the late Emperor Francis Joseph and his son Carl were descendants.

"Carl Hapsburg has broken his word and refused to resign the Austrian throne," the Socialists aver. "He is to be made king of Hungary in Budapest, and from there he is to bring German Austria into subjection. The blood of our peasants and our workers is again to be placed in the service of the Hungarian feudal lords who are arming for war to reconquer Slovakia, Siebenbürgen and the Banat. The Socialists then charge that the Kunschak-Funder group of the Christian Socialist party in Austria is the tool of the Hungarian monarchists.

This appeal and other campaign literature, not only of the Socialists groups, but the Conservatives as well, cleverly continues the agitation for union with Germany. "From the day of our breakdown," it says, "we Social Democrats have had to suffer. Alone cannot be a living state. Economic misery will be our lot so long as union with Germany does not free us."

To this end it demands the socialization of great industries, mines, gas holdings and banking so that "their earnings, instead of enriching private persons may give to the state the means for fulfilling its social and cultural tasks.

The Christian Socialists are charged with obstructing this program so long that the control of many of the most valuable natural sources of wealth such as the iron mines of Styria and Carinthia have passed to Italian control and now foreign profits make impossible the full realization of the socialization scheme.

It blames France for preventing this end, but declares that the history of the Czechs, the Poles and Jugoslavians proves that a people finally achieves its own right of self-determination in spite of all opposition and all obstacles if only it remains firm in its desire.

The Social Democrats put forward as their issues the reforms they have advocated since the formation of the republic, and which, they assert, have been defeated by the combined bourgeois opposition. In the main, these are suppression of the power of the clerical, taxation, and capital and great estates, age and invalid insurance, school reforms including separation of schools and church, adequate pay for public servants, and similar measures.

CITES DANGER OF LITTLE KNOWLEDGE

(Continued From Page 1). The improvement of this world in the belief that any future paradise was to be in this world merely by the improvement of humanity. They did not themselves anticipate any share in its blessings, but worked solely that at some future time others might enjoy such a kingdom.

"I believe that such a faith is too severe a trial for us," he commented, "continuing to feel the greater rationality and comfort of the conception of the future life which Christ left with the world and exhorting the students to work in all Godliness in this life as a worth while preparation for the immortality promised them.

Principal Falconer gave cognizance of the truth of the danger of a little knowledge by counselling those entering university life not to attempt the solution for themselves of all problems with which they were confronted, but to appeal to adequate authorities, trusting their independent judgment on a subject which was assuredly to be advanced by their study.

"Do not plunge beyond your depth, but commence by wading," was the advice with which he concluded.

W. S. Kilmer With $14,785
Leads O. J. C. Winning Owners

GREATEST THROG
ON GET-AWAY DAY

Exterminator, Our Flag and Barklie Win Features at Woodbine Park.

The attendance was the only record closing day (Saturday) at Woodbine, the 17,000 present being in excess by a couple of thousand of the previous Saturday and thus the greatest of the meeting. Saturday was fine-ideal for racing; the track was heavy.
The O. J. C. cup was reserved for under the careful handling and correct rating of Barklie and Exterminator in the lead the second mile and then won on a pull.
Bondage coming in the place of the side starter, Exhorter, dropping out outside the money.

The red-letter day for Owner Willis
Sharpe Kilmer, Trainer W. McDaniel, and C. Fairbrother, jockey, when the colors of the Birmingham breeders were brought home in the two big stake events of the day, run on the flat, Our Flag in the Grey Stakes, a dash of a mile for two-year-olds, and Exterminator in the Ontario Jockey Club Cup, at two and a quarter miles.

The running of the Grey Stakes, to which a purse of $5,000 had been added, brought together the best of the juveniles stabled at the course, and on the strength of private work the best of the representatives was accorded favoritism. The start was a good one, and key T, as expected, was the one to go to the front.
Fairbrother was content to let behind the pace. Grune rushed Baby Grand after key T at the eighth and appeared almost all over a winner. Our Flag, under energetic handling, closed with a first of speed and got up in the final few yards to win by a short head on the post.

The running of the Hendrie Steeplechase, over the long route of two and a half miles, brought together the best band of fences. Barklie, at the track, and resulted in a spectacular race.
Speed Crawford, a sure-footed hold on the mighty son of Migraine, Barklie, and never got out of a gallop the first two miles. The start was a good one, and the one to cut out the best part of the running, but it was apparent that Barklie could be sent to the front at any stage. Going to the last fence Crawford made his move, and drew away into a commanding lead. Barklie also ran for the place, while Ammunition disposed of Kingston Pier for the small end of the purse. The winner, Barklie, also ran from New York to add to the fence for Walter M. Jeffords, was presented with a miniature trophy. Barklie also some cup that goes to the winner, while the jockey Crawford was presented with a diamond stick pin.

It was a great afternoon for the favorites of the O. J. C. as Exterminator, Exterminator and Hindostan landing the prize money, less the club and government hits. The best choice, Sweet Hequet and Verity (field), finished second in the opening and closing races.

From Sunday World. The much-debated Mount Pleasant car line is now likely to become an accomplished fact. The city transportation commission has been actively looking into the matter, and it is understood that from a study of the situation and as the result of investigations that have been made, all the members of the commission are in favor of its construction, and that a formal decision will soon be arrived at. At the next meeting of the commission, the whole matter will come up for debate, and a public announcement will be made on the question. It is thought that the work on the line may be started this week.

The number of people applying for hospital treatment and for admission to convalescent sanitariums has greatly increased. The actual figures in all classes of relief are as follows:

Green, manager of the department and the old Conger, manager of the millinery department. GENERAL SEELY MEETS CANADIAN COMRADES

Interesting Gathering at Stanley Barracks - Greets Two Hundred Cavalry Veterans - "All I Have, I Owe to You," Visitor Tells the Men - Messages From the King, Lord Haig and Marshal Foch.

That commanders of large bodies of troops in war become in time attached to their men and look upon them as a large family of men, and that the soldiers themselves learn to love their commander has been a favorite theme of the novelist for many years. The truth of the novelist's adage was absolutely demonstrated yesterday, when Major-General J. E. B. Seely, C.B.E., D.S.O., late commander of the Canadian Cavalry Brigade in France, came to Toronto on a brief visit to shake hands with the men who had been under his command in France.

The general has only been in the country for about three weeks, and his one and sole reason for the visit is to meet his late comrades, who are distributed over the Dominion from coast to coast. General Seely, on his arrival yesterday morning, proceeded to the Stanley street barracks, where he participated of breakfast, and at 10.30, in the undress uniform of a major-general, he went across to the gymnasium to meet some two hundred cavalry veterans who had assembled to greet him. He was accompanied by Col. Gillman and Col. Bell of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, and Col. H. Pinnett of London, Ont. On entering the gymnasium, the returned men raised a huge cheer to welcome their old leader.

Recognizes Comrades. The general quickly recognized many of his comrades, and, without any formalities of rank being observed, he shook hands with every man present, and enquired as to how they were doing, both from a business and a health point of view. The popularity of General Seely at the hold he has upon the affection of his men can be seen from the fact that he was used in the brief speech which he made. He said: "Boys, all I have, my honors and my very life, I owe to you. I have never anything—my photograph, my autograph, or my assistance—get in communication with me, for my services are at your disposal at any time, day or night."

SUGAR IS AGAIN SHOWING WEAKNESS $50,000,000 FIGURE IS OUT OF QUESTION

Drop to 13 1-2 Cents in New York Likely to Affect Canadian Market. Such a Statement Only Hurts the City's Credit, Says Mayor Church.

From Sunday World. Sugar can be imported and laid down here at a lower price than from the Canadian refineries. The Canadian refiners are selling sugar at 13 1/2 cents per pound, while Canadian refiners sell at $18.71 per cwt. The half-cent drop in New York on Friday makes a total drop of 4 cents a pound since August. In August the price in Toronto was 22 cents and in September 21c. Exchange of ten per cent, and duty of $2.00 per hundred pounds added to American price, would bring the price to $16.94 per hundred pounds laid down here, but the price here is $18.71 at present. Agents claim that if a lower price than $18.71 was taken the refineries would be ruined. Of the 800,000,000 pounds of sugar consumed in Canada in a year, 80,000,000 pounds is made from beets. Expect Drop in Milk. Milk prices in Toronto may take a drop from 7c a quart to 16c according to the statement of an official of the Farmers' Dairy. F. J. Griffin, secretary of the Ontario producers however, knows nothing of the drop in price, and the verdict of the board of commerce has not been issued yet.

Cameron, master in chambers, is raised, $4,200 to $4,600; C. Bell, $4,000; E. Hurley, $2,650 to $3,000; Hinds, $2,200 to $2,550; C. J. McCabe, $2,850 to $3,200; E. J. Ontario people are aroused in an effort to help the Navy League of Canada pension the widows and orphans of the merchant sailors who lost their lives on active service during the war, and also to train Canadian boys for the sea as well as to help maintain sailors' institutes. Reports received at the Navy League headquarters show that committees have been organized in 261 provincial centres, and of these 181 have committed themselves to a definite amount in connection with the raising of $750,000 in a national campaign, during "Trafalgar Sailors' Week" Oct. 18th to 23rd.

HOUSING PROGRAM IS STILL INDEFINITE

Newly Appointed Commissioners Have Not Yet Agreed to Act.

From Sunday World. The members of the new housing commission, who were appointed at the last meeting of council, have been notified of their appointment, but so far have not indicated whether they intend to act or not. When asked Saturday whether the money was available for the commission to construct 500 houses, Mayor Church replied: "The money will be available if council passes the necessary bylaw which provides for it. The whole civic housing program is still in a very indefinite stage."

SURGERY PROFESSOR RESIGNS POSITIONS

From Sunday World. Irving H. Cameron, M.D., LL.D., F.R.C.C. (Eng.), F.R.C.S. (Edin.), F.R.C.S. (Ireland), F.R.C.S. FUTURE OF FLYING AN ASSURED THING

Canadian Mechanics Enrol to Learn Tricks of Modern Airplane.

From Sunday World. All the bag of tricks which make up the modern airplane will soon be as familiar to Canadian mechanics as the war time machines were to Canadian pilots. Forty applicants have applied at the Toronto Technical School to take the new course in practical aeroplane fitting and service in training, indicating the rapidly growing demand for mechanics skilled in handling aircraft. The University of Toronto has two men employed in research work and has started a class in aerodynamics. Men eager to obtain experience under actual flying conditions are the Canadian Air Force to obtain training which cannot be had from books and lectures. Camp Borden, the first training station, is in operation and will be kept open all winter.

An unusual and significant note was introduced into the robbery at the Labor Temple, when it was learned that it was the office of the International Electrical Workers' Union which was broken into. It was reported that the Temple that a number of valuable papers were destroyed by the thieves. John Noble, general organizer for the International stated that it would be impossible to state off-hand how many documents had been destroyed. OLD RESIDENT DEAD. "I have never made that statement, either in public or private," says Magistrate Alfred Miers, of Windsor, in a written reply to Attorney-General Raney's request for an explanation of the report that he had said that "prohibition is a failure." "I did say, however, that prohibition does not prohibit," it was at the request of Crown Attorney Ridd, Rev. Mr. Spacklin and Mr. Ayeast that he recalled Oliver Grandmason of the 30-day jail sentence given in addition to a $2,000 fine.

ASKED FOR MATCH THEN OPENED FIRE

Harold Copeland of East Lynn Avenue Received Bullet in the Left Leg.

From Sunday World. That the bootlegger whiskey is getting too strong or that some of Toronto's foreign element are adopting wild west methods towards strangers when making simple requests, was amply demonstrated at an early hour on Saturday morning when a young man named Copeland was shot in the left leg by a foreigner, who had previously asked him for a match. Harold Copeland, a young man of 18 years, living at 86 East Lynn avenue, and had with some friends attended a party in the neighborhood of Harvie avenue. The party over, Copeland and his friends were on the way home but what actually happened is best told in the wounded man's own words. "We were on our way home," he said, "Many had already gone, but myself, were standing on the veranda on the point of leaving, when we noticed a man walking up the street. He suddenly stopped directly in front of his raincoat, and fired twice, one shot in the ground and the other in the air. He then turned toward us and said, 'Give me a match—how do you like that noise?'"
