SAINT JOHN MEN WIN $7,700 ON DERBY

LOUIS M'GLOAN DRAWS HORSE PLACING THIRD

Nets About $6,500; R. Ingleton Gets $1,200 Prize

CORONACH FIRST

Lord Wolington's Entry Captures Class, Lane Gay, 2nd; Colorado, 3rd

By drawing Colorado, the horse which placed third in the Derby today, T. Louis McGloan, barrister, of the firm of Weldon & McLean, this city, won approximately $6,500. Mr. McGloan held his ticket in Duggan's Sweepstakes, the first prize in which was $5,000. R. Ingleton, also of this city, is a winner of about $1,200 on Colorado. Michael Burke, carpenter in the C. N. R. repair shop here, is also a winner in the Derby, holding ticket No. 11233. He received a write to this effect today, but the message did not state what amount was involved.

EPSON, England, June 2—Coronach, with J. Childs up, won the Derby here today. The winner, a chestnut colt, is owned by Lord Wolington. W. Singer's bay colt Lane Gay was second, and Lord Derby's brown colt Colorado was third. Lord Astor's bay colt Swift and Sure was fourth. Misses ran Coronach, by Harry On, out of Wet Kist, won at a center by five lengths, while a short head separated the second and third. The odds against the winner were 11 to 2, and against Lane Gay 40 to 1.

WINS £67,000

Robert Bishop, a fifty-year-old departmental manager of a London shipping brokerage firm, won first prize of the rich Calcutta sweepstakes on the Derby. Bishop previously had sold half his share for about £7,000, and won £60,000 on his remaining half share.

HISTORIC RACE

As it passed into history for the 143rd year since its foundation, the again revealed the Derby to be the greatest turf event in the world. More than a million people watched the pick of English, Irish and French three-year-olds colts and fillies battle for fame and the famous Derby stakes.

The race, which was worth about $76,000 to the owner of the winner, was run over a distance of a mile and a half (plus a few yards) on the wide-open Epsom Downs; it was confined, as heretofore, to those three-year-olds whose optimistic owners had entered them for this event before November, 1924. The colts, regardless of their previous records, carried the same weights, 128 lbs., while the fillies carried 123 lbs.

King George, accompanied by Queen Mary, the Prince of Wales, Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles, arrived shortly after one o'clock and the royal standard was hoisted, amid cheers, over the royal box. His Majesty's entry, the brown colt, Spear Dancer, had gone down to defeat in earlier races and was therefore not very prominent in the betting, but as the familiar bearded face appeared in the royal box there swept over the vast throng in the stands, the enclosures and on the Downs the low murmur of thousands of people expressing variously their loyal wish that the King of England's colors, the royal purple and scarlet, should flash first past the post as they did for King Edward VII. in 1909.

Derby Day has again shown itself to be the great national festival. From early this morning the roads leading to Epsom were crowded with every conceivable vehicle from gypsy vans, costlier carts and perambulators, to Rolls-Royces, charabancs and racing cars. And more than one sporting lord took his guests to the great event in the still fashionable but rarely seen six-hand.

Thousands resorted to motor-buses which were "parked" in a section of the Downs by themselves; other thousands came by rail from all over the British Isles, while the cross-channel steamers from Calais, Boulogne and Dieppe discharged before daybreak hundreds of French sportsmen and American tourists bound for the great event. Over the tangle of roads leading to Epsom a huge dirigible floated; it contained a lynx-eyed traffic director and a wireless operator; between them they guided the ceaseless procession of pedestrians and vehicles into the proper roads, sending the motor-buses over one route, the horse-drawn vehicles over another and the motor-cars over others debouching upon the Downs.

Finance Minister To Ask House For Authority To Borrow $150,000,000

Steve Donoghue Makes 2 Bad Derby Guesses

Canadian Press LONDON, June 2—The reason Steve Donoghue did not have a mount in the famous Epsom Derby today was due solely to the fact he was not offered the pilage of a candidate which he believed had any chance of winning. In a radio talk broadcast last night Britain's premier jockey reiterated his formerly expressed opinion that Colorado would carry the silks of Lord Derby to victory today.

Donoghue said he realized how much confidence was placed in him, and as he did not want to see the better lose their money, he had decided against accepting any of the mounts offered him. He thought Colorado was easily the class of the field, and believed Swift and Sure, Lord Astor's entry, was the next best bet.

LIBERAL PARTY TO RIN ASUNDER OVER LEADERS

Asquith Letter to Chief Whip Dashes Hope of Conciliation

PARTY GLOOMY

Two Groups Likely Outcome, Acting Independently of Other

LONDON, June 2—That the Liberal party has been completely rent asunder and that all political associations between the Earl of Oxford and Asquith, leader of the party, and Mr. Lloyd George, its parliamentary chairman, has been irretrievably ended, is admitted by the Liberals themselves, no matter to what leader they are adhering.

Letters from the Earl of Oxford and his supporters made public last night, dealing with Lloyd George's attitude during the recent general strike, when he declined to denounce it in accordance with the views of the Liberal leader and others high in the council of the party, are considered as having dashed any lingering hope that the breach might be healed. Therefore the outlook for the party is regarded as gloomy.

NOT DRIVEN OUT

The Earl of Oxford's letter, addressed to Sir Godfrey Collins, chief Liberal whip, reviewed the controversy growing out of the declaration of Mr. Lloyd George to attend a meeting of the "shadow cabinet" and his dissent from the other leaders in their points on the strike. Lord Oxford takes the line that there is no excommunication or ostracism of Mr. Lloyd George, but that by his action he "chose to separate himself in a most formal manner from our deliberations in a moment of great emergency. He was not driven out; he refused to come in."

OUTLOOK UNCERTAIN

The action of the Earl of Oxford leaves the position one of extraordinary complexity and it is not easy to predict the outcome. Although the Liberal leader has such supporters as Viscount Grey, Sir John Simon and others, Mr. Lloyd George also has a powerful following among the rank and file of the party.

Pending further developments, it is assumed that the Liberals in general will form into two groups and act independently of each other, following respectively the leadership of the Earl of Oxford and Mr. Lloyd George. The National Liberal Federation, the main Liberal organization, will meet the week after next. The question of leadership of the party is expected to dominate all other business. It is reported that the Earl of Oxford has asked to vote confidence in the Earl of Oxford. Nobody, however, ventures to predict what will be the result until the effect of the correspondence upon various branches of the federation throughout the country, becomes clearer. If, however, the vote should be adverse to the Earl of Oxford, it is assumed he will immediately resign the leadership of the party.

SPECIAL MEETING THURSDAY

A special meeting of the federation's executive committee has been called for Thursday. On that day Mr. Lloyd George will meet the parliamentary Liberals, whom he, as their elected chairman, has summoned to hear his views on the situation. Mr.

CANADA WILL HAVE MINISTER TO U. S.

Question of American Ambassador at Ottawa Not Yet Decided

OTTAWA, June 2—Senator Dandurand, Senate leader, replying to a question in the Senate last night, said the government expected to appoint a minister plenipotentiary to Washington. As to whether the appointment would be made this year was under consideration, Senator Dandurand said there had been no correspondence between the Canadian and United States governments in reference to the appointment of an American ambassador at Ottawa.

Soldiers' Bill Gets Second Reading

OTTAWA, June 2—The Senate shortly after midnight gave second reading to the amendments to the Soldier Settlement Act of 1919, and considered the bill in committee. Progress was reported. Senator Dandurand explained to the committee that the bill was designed to create an arbitral tribunal to consider claims for revaluation of soldier settlers' land. The Senate will sit this afternoon.

Lloyd George will deliver a public speech in Manchester Saturday. The Earl of Oxford will speak in London Friday.

The rank and file of the Liberals are awaiting these events with anxious curiosity.

KIDDIES IMITATE PARENTS; TWO DIE

Indian Children in B. C. Attempt Fire Dance; Pour Oil on Floor

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 2—The Daily Province carried the following dispatch from Ferness, B. C.: Police investigation of the burning to death of two Indian children on the reserve near here, revealed that in the absence of their parents to look for horses, the little ones tried to imitate the campfire dances of the Shuswap tribe. They poured oil on the floor of the house, which they lit, adding more when it ran over the floor, enveloping them in flames. The dead infants aged 2 and 4 respectively, were the children, Louis Caplow. Two of the older children were badly burned and are in the hospital. In the case of one, no hope is held out for his recovery.

BRITAIN, TURKEY TO SIGN OIL TREATY

All Disputes Settled and Iraq Security Pact is Framed

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 2—The Mosul Oil agreement between Great Britain and Turkey probably will be signed on Thursday.

It is announced that all questions in the dispute have been settled and that it only remains for the commission of Turkish and British officials to prepare a protocol for the three-cornered agreement. A security pact between Turkey and Iraq has been drawn and their frontiers have been arranged. Last hour negotiations are concerned with Turkey's demands for a share in the output of what may prove the world's largest untapped petroleum fields. According to authoritative sources Turkey's demand was met by a compromise whereby Great Britain has consented to permit Iraq to give 10 p.c. of its revenue from the oilfields to Turkey. In return for this the Ankara government has agreed to recognize the validity of the Turkish Petroleum Company which has obtained a concession from the Sultan's regime to develop the hitherto unexploited Mosul field. This company is largely British owned.

FOR REFERENDUM ON VOLSTEAD ACT

Governor of Connecticut Feels Result of Vote Would be Interesting

HARTFORD, Conn., June 2—Governor John H. Trumbull has announced himself in favor of a nation-wide referendum on prohibition, thus aligning with United States Senators George McLean and Hiram Bingham of Connecticut. "I believe in enforcing the prohibition law as well as every other law," said Governor Trumbull. "But there is so much talk and agitation about the Volstead law, I would like to see a referendum on it, for I believe we will have to have one some time. I am not personally interested in the prohibition question, but I feel a general referendum would be interesting."

FARMER HELD FOR BROTHER'S MURDER

Bloodstained Axe Found on Vermont Property; Self Defense Claimed

RUTLAND, Vt., June 2—Discovery of a blood-stained axe on the farm of Randall Tubbs, in Ira, yesterday, cast doubt on the 60-year-old farmer's story that he had killed two brothers in a fist fight. The bodies of the brothers were found in Tubbs' barn, and he told police that he punched them when they attacked him during an argument. An autopsy of the bodies of the victims, Bernardo and Sam Carraro, disclosed that one of them was struck on the head with a sharp instrument. Tubbs was held under a technical charge of murder, and his son, Franklin, was arrested yesterday in connection with the double killing.

LONG LIVE THE KING!

Tomorrow is the birthday of His Majesty King George V, our beloved Sovereign. Every loyal subject scattered throughout the wide-flung Empire over which He reigns will unite to wish Him long life, health and happiness and to assure Him of the unflinching devotion of all to His person.

Kings and Emperors have toppled from their thrones, dynasties have crumbled and dissolved in dust, but the Royal House of Windsor stands four-square and unshaken by the buffeting gales of communism and anarchy.

And why? Because it is founded on love and respect, not blind insensate power, and so possesses a moral strength, which is a real support, far beyond the uncertain support of laws and armaments.

The Kingship is an ideal. Let us remind ourselves and teach our children that this is the bed rock of our British Constitution. The story of the Crown is an allegory of the mighty power wielded by our forefathers and ourselves. His Majesty is the living symbol of that ideal.

Long live the King!

TURN THE HOSE ON SAINT JOHN.

There is one thing for which Saint John enjoys an unenviable reputation—the dust of its streets. Visitors never remark that Saint John is a clean city; they could not truthfully do so. Many, however, have been heard to say, "What a dirty city!"

In the interest of health, from an economic as well as from an advertising standpoint, it behooves Saint John to give itself a bath—and not to stop at one bath either.

This newspaper is not criticizing the Commissioner of Public Works for the condition of the streets, neither is its intention to urge in one issue greater economy in administration and in the next one advocate new expenditures. Sometimes true economy lies in the judicious expenditure of money and this matter of maintaining cleanliness we believe to come within such a category.

But we are of the opinion that the operation of the Public Safety Department with the Department of Public Works would effect the desired result by a comparatively small expenditure.

Saint John has plenty of water. Because of its splendid drainage facilities, and the regular employees of the Fire Department have considerable time on their hands. These three factors provide the necessary essentials for giving Saint John a weekly bath.

In the evenings after traffic has subsided, why not have the Fire Department "turn the hose on"? If, for instance a length of hose were attached to a hydrant at the head of King street, the splendid pressure of water provided here would not merely lay the dust but carry most of it down the street into the sewers. This procedure could be carried out in at least all the principal streets with very little expense and probably with very effective results. If, to do the job thoroughly were to take too many firemen from duty, supplementary crews could be supplied by the Public Works Department.

Doctors tell us that dust is the worst disease carrier known. If for no other reason than to curtail the spread of disease, whatever expense this scheme might necessitate would be justified. But dust is also a destroyer of merchandise. Every merchant knows that he pays dearly for the privilege of being located on a dusty street. The ordinary citizen would breathe a sigh of relief were it possible for him to cross Market Square or walk up Kings along Dock or up Main streets without being required to shut his eyes almost continually in order to keep the dust out of them.

The summer tourist would leave us with a much better taste in his mouth if we did not feed him on several bushels of dust each day. And the cost would be so infinitesimal in comparison with the results obtained provided the bath were administered frequently!

Let's consider putting the hose on Euclid.

THE ATHLETE OR THE SCHOLAR.

Athletes admit with a fine superiority that bookish students may know a little more Greek but that they get much more of the joy of life than do gridiron or track stars. Now it seems the athletes must concede a fuller measure of years to men who have never lifted a greater weight than the problems of Euclid.

What is to become of our athletic tradition if the round-shouldered scholars live longer and fare farther in the world than do their more robust fellows who indulge in sports? Must we substitute for the pink-checked heroic young man of the magazine covers just stepping from college, a young man of pensive air and horn-rimmed spectacles and yet it may be merely a coincidence. Certainly more complete figures from such broader sources would have to be furnished before the athlete would be convinced that the splendid physique he has developed would not carry him through a longer period of years than the puny shell of the man who took very little exercise. On the other hand it is often found that athletes overdo it, that, conscious of their own strength and splendid vitality, they take chances which the scholarly man would never take and neither do they exercise that care in the matter of eating and drinking which the less robust man has made a lifelong habit.

If it is made in your own city, buy it in preference to another. If your city does not produce it, perhaps your province does, and otherwise look through the Dominion and, falling that, the British Empire. Do all that before you consent to buy any article from the United States or any other foreign country. Patriotism apart, the money returns to your own pocket. But once a purchase leaves the Empire, no portion comes back.

AGE OF ADVERTISEMENT.
(Victoria Times.)
This is an advertising age—an age of publicity. The merchant or the advertiser who neglects the public that fact, and talk to the public about his business every day through the newspapers, soon loses his customer and notices the effect in his ledger.

Corruption in Canada.

(Halifax Herald.)
The whole Dominion seems to have been caught in a whirlpool of rumormongering and bobblelegging and smuggling. Men sworn to uphold and enforce the law have themselves become the law. The effects of the traffic have not stopped with those directly engaged in it.

HOME LIFE VALUES.

(Montreal Star.)
Home made is more attractive for the young people. The duty of the parents is inescapable. Unfortunately, nowadays, parents themselves are often as anxious to escape from what they term the confining influence of the home as are their children; and the spectacle of the older and the younger generations "stepping out" simultaneously, and at times in identical directions, is by no means an unfamiliar one in our modern metropolitan life. To those who are old enough to realize the full nature and importance of the responsibilities they are shouldering, the words of Dean Carlisle and of Dr. Parkhurst may come as a timely warning. It is a warning that cannot be heeded too soon.

SO-CALLED CRITICAL MIND.

(Chicago Daily News.)
Scholarship recognizes the critical mind as its most valuable aid in scientific investigation. The essentials of the mind constructively critical are tolerance, patience, persistence, hatred of propaganda and unflinching devotion to the truth. The critical mind of this type is the first prerequisite to the advancement of science and the achievement of knowledge. There is another type of mind, however, which parades itself as critical and is in reality only in the fringe about the real world of science, art, literature and politics. An analysis reveals that it is not only essentially negative, but also destructive. The destructively critical mind likes to classify itself as radical. It scoffs at institutionalized religion, ridicules organized society, sneers at the motives of all public servants and grows red with rage over the economic system. It condemns everybody and everything except its own type, yet suggests nothing to take the place of what it condemns. The destructionist is especially popular today because times are more or less unsettled and changes in all phases of life are rapid. His mind is often keen, although superficial, and he has a clever phraseology that turns each half-truth into an epigram. He quickly gathers about himself a group of admirers, who sing his praises. Soon the destructionist, who may have started on his career with an honest belief in a supererogatory, and so he is bent on smashing everything. The destructionist is devoid of the creative faculty. His activities, if measured by his ability to regenerate, build up, would soon create a desert, to put civilization on a dead centre, to throw progress into reverse gear, may have spectacular consequences but not pleasant. Yet the plausible destructionist has only to go into politics and win a large following.

Republican Anxiety.

(New York Herald-Tribune.)
That the lives of Kings and Queens are dreary and almost devoid of hearty laughter it is not hard to deduce, but what a dreadful effect the barrenness of the royal life has upon royal personages did not become publicly known until the other day when an account of the royal life came over the cables.

Then the gruesome facts came out. When Billy Bennett spoke of a man with a long beard and said he looked as if he had eaten a horse and left the tail hanging out, Queen Mary was convulsed with mirth; Dick Henderson remarked that modern fappers and modern bungalows are similar in that both are painted in front, shingled in back and vacant in attic, and King George roared with regal laughter.

The physicians to the royal family must exercise care in the selection of entertainment. Some one is apt to pull the one about its having been two others followed with fatal effects.

Minister Sees Newspaper as Bible.

(New Service Paper.)
A man ought to read his newspaper as religiously as he reads his Bible, for the simple reason that the newspaper is the Bible of today.

This rather startling statement was made in a sermon last Sunday by the Rev. Elmer D. Colcord, a Springfield, Mass., clergyman.

After remarking that he never reads a newspaper without feeling sorry because it is not quite as good as it should be, the pastor added that the letters to the editor department was the least valuable part of the paper.

Just Fun

THIS is an unkind world, and the only time a man gets all the praise that he feels entitled to is at his funeral.

WHY DOESN'T the criminal who wishes to conceal himself become some famous woman's husband?

AIN'T IT SO?
No wonder I am on the blink
It gives my nerves a jar
To listen to the cheery gink
Who calls his '4d a car.

THE HEIGHT OF OPTIMISM.
The fellow who, on one of those solar expeditions, mails a letter to his folks and puts a return address on it.

FATE.
Why did you bob your hair?
It was so very bland and fair,
It looked so very nice, I thought,
Tied with a ribbon, you had bought.

To please me, so you said,
But it's not so much the bobbing.
But you had it shingled, robbing
You of any way to get it red.
That old forgotten bob mark.

IT IS so much easier to dictate letters, says Don Smith. You can use fine big words you haven't the least idea how to spell.

THE happiest people are those who never stop to wonder whether they are having a good time.

A LITTLE girl had been bothering her mother all day with questions. Finally the mother said, "Mary, do you know that curiosity once killed a cat?"

POEMS I LOVE

"The Sky," by Richard Henry Stoddard.
I FEAR that life is almost forever; yet fine poetry has a way of cropping up again in most unexpected places and a revival of certain of our American singers, like Emily Dickinson, Lanier, Father Labb, Field, Guiney, Stoddard, and a dozen others, few of them have been properly appreciated. We are too prone to fasten our attention upon some whippersnapper of the moment, neglecting the best we have.

The sky is a drinking-cup,
That was overturned, and
And it pours in the eyes of men
Its wine of airy gold.

We drink that wine all day,
Till the last drop is drained up,
And are lighted off to bed it
By the jewels in the cup!

THE BEST OF ADVICE

AS CIVILIZATION advances life grows more intricate. And as the complications increase men's minds naturally adjust themselves to meet the various problems. The thoughtful of all ages must marvel at times at the mystery of its nature and origin.

Of all the thinkers who have influenced the past generation, none had greater power of clear thinking than John Burroughs—that young-old philosopher and scientist whose book, "The Breath of Life," was published a decade ago. In his introduction he says that as his life nears its end he finds himself speculating more and more on the nature of life and its origin.

"When for the third or fourth time during the spring or summer, I take my hoe and go out and cut off the heads of the luscious burdock that send out their broad leaves along the edge of my garden or lawn, I often ask myself, 'What is this thing that is so hard to scotch here in the grass?' I deliberate it time after a time and yet it forthwith gets itself another head. We call it burdock but what is burdock, and why does it not change into yellow dock or into a cabbage?"

"It is some living thing; but what is a living thing, and how does it differ from a mechanical and non-living thing? If I smash or overturn the sundial with my hoe, or break the hoe itself, these things stay smashed and broken, but the burdock mends itself, renews itself."

MODERN chemists try to explain away the origin of life and growth—both physical and mental—by saying that chemical elements are responsible, but no one has ever been able to create life. Burroughs says: "The chemico-physical explanation of the universe goes but a little way, for it is the processes of evolution—in the physical, mental and spiritual realms—we see a creative power that was present at the beginning of things—if things can be said to have a beginning. We may call it creative energy. Certain it is that 'The more we know matter, the more we know God; the more familiar we are with the earth forces, the more intimate will be our acquaintance with the celestial forces.'

CREATIVE ENERGY

charge a fellow for passing you on the street?"

TWO northern girls in Florida were comparing notes on the journey. "We had a sleep, of course," said the first. "Its name was the Oskaloosa-looshahatchie."

"Ours was the Kumquatario."

A hobo who had been listening in panhandle: "Ladies, could you spare a dime or two bits? I came all the way from Ontario in the Boxcarino, and I'm trying to get back in the Refrigeratorio."

Newspaper advertising in the United States in 1928 amounted to $720,000,000, of which $500,000,000 was local advertising. In 1916 the expenditure for advertising was between $125,000,000 and $150,000,000.

DINNER STORIES

AN old negro preacher was introduced to a white preacher. The white preacher had offered to preach a sermon for the colored brother, and in introducing the white brother, the old negro could not find enough adjectives with which to praise the visitor.

"Dis noted preacher," said the old negro to his flock, "his one of de greatest preachers of de age. He knows de un-doubtable, he kin do de un-doubtable and he can onsewer de onscrutable!"

In a confidential little talk to a group of medical students an eminent physician said that the extremely important matter of correct diagnosis of the maximum fee.

"The best rewards," he said, "come, of course, to the established specialist. For instance I charge $25 a call at the residence, $10 for an office consultation and $5 for a telephone consultation."

There was an appreciative and envious silence, and then a voice from the back of the amphitheatre, slightly thickened, spoke:

"Doc?" it asked, "how much do you

THE VERY IDEA!

YOU really can't blame anyone for sorts fearing age. Of course they isn't any fun, when people reach that stage. But, after all, it's up to you, how soon you lose your hold on youth. There's much that you can do to keep from getting old.

To settle down and give right in to years that roll on by; to dyanam of things that might have been; to fret and fuss and sigh, is just the thing you shouldn't do. It brings the age-lines deep. 'Tis better, far, to laugh on through, and proper spirit keep.

Just look upon the little folk. They gladly show the way to make the age thing seem a joke that disappears through play. Swing back into the laughter that you had in youth, and then, you'll find that ever after, you are feeling young again."

When a fellow is turned down by a girl because he isn't well off, he really is behind him.

Doing school work at home is what makes a kid get punished the next day for his father's ignorance.

After all, it isn't strange for a young fellow to have a future ahead of him. What I'd like to see, is one who it behind him.

He jumped right into his bathing suit. He took one more look at the girl. He took one more look at the girl. He jumped right into the air.

It's nice to lay something away for a rainy day, unless it's an umbrella that belongs to somebody else.

"To most people, luck is what accounts for the success of their neighbors."

TOO MUCH SERVICE.
(Boston Transcript.)
"An elderly gentleman was having lunch in our grill," said the hotel manager, "and as was customary when his waiter glass showed evidence of use a passing waiter or bus boy refilled it. After the fifth or sixth refilling, the diner let out a roar. 'Stop!' he cried. 'I've been trying to get that water glass to the proper level ever since I came to this table. My doctor ordered me to take a pill in a third of a glass of water. Now I feel like an overloaded water-glass and I still have the pill to take.'"

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Suffers From Indigestion or Stomach Trouble CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused, nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach."

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis accompanied by dangerous stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with peppin or artificial digestants that give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

Acid stomach after meals with a little hot water and Bismarck Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your stomach will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bismarck Magnesia to sweeten and settle an acid stomach. It soaks up the harmful excess acid and gives temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

ASQUITH PUTS BAN ON LLOYD GEORGE IN LATEST LETTER

Backed by Bulk of Aids, He Gives Excommunication Sentence

BRITAIN'S LIBERAL PARTY IS DISRUPTED

Welshman Controls Group's Funds; Gets Support From Wales

LONDON, June 1.—The Earl of Oxford and Asquith with a majority of his colleagues including Lord Grey passed what is considered a sentence of excommunication against David Lloyd George from the Liberal party in a new letter to Sir Godfrey Collins, chief of Liberal whip, thus making a breach complete so far as the leaders of the party are concerned.

Lord Oxford's action leaves the position of extraordinary complexity which apparently can be settled only by the rank and file of the party, and it is not easy to predict the outcome for Mr. Lloyd George commands the party funds and also has a powerful following among the rank and file.

MAY REFUSE TO QUIT

Mr. Lloyd George is still chairman of the parliamentary party in the House of Commons and may refuse to resign. It would then be up to Sir Godfrey Collins and Lord Oxford to propose to him the calling of a meeting of the parliamentary party which would have as its purpose the proposal of a vote of censure upon himself.

EXPULSION THREATENED

The further correspondence in the Lord Oxford-Lloyd George quarrel issued tonight for publication in tomorrow's papers will mean the expulsion of Lloyd George from the chairmanship of the parliamentary Liberal party, unless he can obtain sufficient votes against the leaders of the party who have adopted the Oxford side of the controversy.

"SHADOW CABINET"

Lord Oxford proceeds: "The Shadow Cabinet" is a subject which the leaders of the party are in opposition, for the actual cabinet when they are in office, and it has always been understood that membership in this involves similar obligations. I have sat in many cabinets under various Prime Ministers and I have not known one of them who would not have treated such a communication sent at such a time as equivalent to resignation. I certainly so regarded it."

DENIES OSTRACISM

"There is no question here of excommunication or ostracism; there is no such process known in the Liberal party. The leader of the party is neither pope nor autocrat, but he has always claimed and exercised full liberty of choice as to his colleagues and advisors."

JOINT-LETTER ISSUED

With this letter is also sent a joint letter signed by Viscount Grey, Sir John Simon, Walter Runciman, Lord Lincolnshire, Buckmaster, Buxton and Cowdry, Sir Donald MacLean and various other prominent Liberals.

ALBERTA SCHOOL ISSUE TO COURTS

Lapointe Hopes Question Soon Will be Settled and Dispute Ended

OTTAWA, June 1.—Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, announced in the house this afternoon that the department of justice had in hand reference of the Alberta school question to the Supreme Court of Canada.

"I believe," said Mr. Lapointe, "that this solution is fair to all parties and I earnestly hope that this delicate question will in this way be settled definitely and removed forever from the field of controversy."

Mr. Lapointe said the amendment made by the legislature of Alberta without consent to the natural resources bill suggested that the laws of the province might differ from, or be in conflict with, sections of the Alberta act. Otherwise the amendment would be useless and futile. The Alberta act had stood as the constitution of the province for 21 years.

Why Do You Call Your New Model? This question has been asked us so frequently since the advent and announcement of this marvelously efficient electric cleaner, that we want, briefly, to summarize the chief reasons: 1. For the first time, it makes possible "Positive Agitation" of floor coverings. 2. By actual test, in the ordinary cleaning time, it beats out and sweeps up from carpetings an average of 101 per cent. more dirt. 3. It is an even greater rug saver; the oftener a carpet is cleaned with a Hoover the longer that carpet will wear. 4. #### We Want So Much to Remain the Ideal Man or Woman in the Eyes of Our Matrimonial Partners That We Can't Bear Criticism From Them, For It Destroys the Illusion of Perfection on Which We Married.

A MAN has just been granted a divorce because his wife corrected his manners and his grammar.

Who can blame him? Many and great and varied are the trials and tribulations of matrimony, but some are more grievous to be borne than being exposed to an oracle who is always calling attention to your little faults and follies and setting you right about them.

Surely nothing would do more to discourage love-making than to have its impassioned vows strictly edited by one who is a stickler for correct expression. Nor would any home long be a happy one that had a critic always chipping on the hearth.

HEAVEN knows it is hard enough to endure the casual acquaintance who interrupts you in the midst of your pet story to say, "I think you pronounced that word incorrectly. Webster gives it the long o." Or who, when you say a thing happened at 4 o'clock, always interjects, "Pardon me, but you are mistaken. It occurred at 8.55."

Our sufferings from these self-appointed mentors, who always leave us feeling like a punctured balloon, are bearable because they are intermittent. Exceedingly intermittent. For the censor never sees us the second time if we behold him first.

But those who have unfortunately had the ill luck to marry a perennial schoolmaster, or schoolmarm, have no such blessed relief. They cannot escape. They are elected to a perpetual martyrdom of sitting on the dance stool and being told just exactly the proper thing to say and do.

AND flesh and blood won't stand it. Especially married flesh and blood won't stand it, because the vanity of the husband and wife cannot endure the shock of finding out that the partners of their bosoms do not regard them as objects of admiration, but as subjects for reform.

Flattery is the lure which induces every man at the last to put his neck under the matrimonial yoke. Some girl either by art or artifice or by direct open singing of his praises has made him believe that she admired him more than any other man in the world. She has sold him on the proposition that she regarded him as a fountain of wisdom, as a spellbinder of whose conversation she could never tire and a glass of fashion and a mold of form.

YOU can bet your bottom dollar that in the days of courtship she didn't call him down every time he was short on his grammar and shy in his pronunciation. Neither did she correct his table manners. Nor did she criticize his taste in neckties.

No man on earth is humble enough to marry a woman who considers herself his superior. Nor is any man fool enough to marry a woman if he knows beforehand that her favorite indoor sport is going to be "picking on" his little faults and weaknesses.

HE MAY be so infatuated that he is deaf to the voice of reason, but the voice of criticism he always hears, and it is invariably a douche of cold water that wakes him up from his love dream.

And precisely the same thing happens with the woman. The man who can spread the saltiest, thickest get of girl.

The girl falls for the man who makes her believe that he considers her a little less than angels, who is blind to all of her faults, who thinks her little ways cute and cunning, who adores her just as she is and would not have her changed in any way.

NEVER in the world would she say "yes" to the lover who told her that he considered that she had the intellect of a hen; who laughed at her opinions and decided her judgment; who told her that she made her self a figure of fun by the way she dressed and that she should get some woman who knew how to show her how to put on her make-up.

Good gracious, no! The hammer went out of fashion as an effective means of courting with the other cave man stuff, and any youth who would begin knocking a girl's faults before marriage would find himself hunting up another sweetheart, pronto. No maiden with a fair average amount of feminine complacency would stand for it for a minute.

SO THE thing that really brings a man and woman together in the holy bonds of matrimony is the belief that each cherishes the fond idea that, no matter how little a cold and cruel world may rate him or her, each has found the one man being who really appreciates him or her.

The man says to himself, "This woman does not see me as a slightly, frivolous creature, full of nerves and temper. He beholds me glorified. I am his ideal of feminine charm."

And so they get married on this basis of mutual admiration. But the charm is broken the minute either one begins to criticize and find fault with the other. They cannot bear the knowledge that they have been befooled and that each sees the other not as an ideal, but as a poor, weak, blundering man and woman.

Therefore husbands and wives criticize each other at their peril, and the wise ones let some one else, who has so much at stake, correct their faults and call their attentions to their lapses in grammar and table manners.

IN A way, it is a pity that husbands and wives are so sensitive to criticism from one another, for it keeps them from giving each other the help they might give. Often a wife has had better educational advantages than her husband and she could do much to polish up her rough diamond of a man. Often a man comes of better family than his wife and it is better veiled in social etiquette than she, and he could teach her many of the conventions of which she is ignorant.

But neither one will stand for a word of suggestion from the partners of their bosoms, and the minute wife begins criticizing husband's grammar and husband remarks on the way wife eats her soup, they start on the road that ends in the divorce court.

Which is, perhaps, natural and human, for what we marry for is not to get a critic, but to acquire a clique.

YOUTHFUL EVENING ENSEMBLE COMBINES TAFFETA AND GEORGETTE

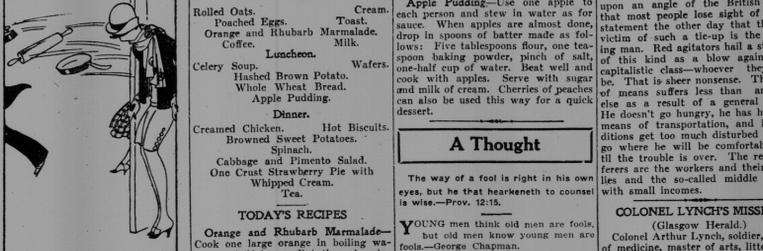

By Marie Belmont
The youthful evening frock, which is accompanied by a cape to match, makes a lovely ensemble for the young girl in her teens, or just out of them.

Above is shown such a costume, which strikes a distinctive note in its choice of deep wine red for the color, and soft georgette and crisp taffeta for the materials.

The frock has a simple rounded neckline, finished by the cording of the taffeta, while the full skirt has tiers of taffeta ruffles arranged in scalloped formation. The yoke is shirred, and a puff of taffeta makes the collar.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Orange and Rhubarb Marmalade—Cook one large orange in boiling water one-half hour. Put through gringer, being careful to conserve all juice. Cook two large cups of rhubarb with just enough water to keep from scorching, until tender, combine the orange and rhubarb with an equal amount of sugar and cook until thick. Makes four to five glasses of delicious marmalade.
Celery Soup—Cook hearts and upper parts of stalks of celery—that are left after best stalks have been used—until tender, press through colander, and add one heaping tablespoon of rice—previously boiled. You will find it a great help to keep a quantity of rice cooked ready for soups, etc. Return rice and celery to the fire with water in which the celery was cooked or at least one pint of it with one pint of milk and a small piece of butter, season with salt and serve.
Apple Pudding—Use one apple to each person and stew in water as for sauce. When apples are almost done drop in spoons of batter made as follows: Five tablespoons flour, one teaspoon baking powder, pinch of salt, one-half cup of water. Beat well and cook with apples. Serve with sugar and milk of cream. Cherries or peaches can also be used this way for a quick dessert.

COLONEL LYNCH'S MISSION

(Glasgow Herald.)
Colonel Arthur Lynch, soldier, doctor of medicine, master of arts, litterateur, politician, and something of a poet, has this week left for Greece on an unusual mission—namely, to introduce to wealthy Greek citizens a scheme for the erection of a memorial to the poet Byron in the churchyard of Herculaneum, where lay his remains. Byron is one of the few English poets to whom there is no memorial in Westminster Abbey. At the time of his death, the abbey authorities would not sanction his burial there, nor would they permit the erection of a memorial. A hundred years later, their successors refused to reverse that decision, and so the Herculaneum-Torkard scheme came into being. It is fitting that Colonel Lynch should be the emissary to go to Byron's second homeland. The author of Don Juan would have hated the thought of any ordinary memorial promoter undertaking the work.

ADVENTURES OF the TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

ON THE WAY TO MISTER SNOOPSY'S "Now my fortune is all gone," said the little Whiffet. "I gave it all to that queer Dingbat in the side-show."

"Well, what's the difference?" said Nick. "He told you where to find your shadow, didn't he? You won't need money any more."

"I hope not," said the little Rag-bag fellow. "If I don't find it soon, my beautiful bombazine suit will be worn out and now that Mom and Pop have had to move out of the rag-bag into the hat-box, I shall never get another."

"Oh, bombazine never wears out!" cried Nancy. "It says so on the back of Mrs. Darlington Willowby James."

"Mrs. Who?" almost shrieked the little Whiffet.

"That's one of her paper-dolls," he said. "She's got words on her back."

Suddenly the Whiffet shouted out, "Yes, but it's all right," nodded Nancy. "Black and white are quite good for underthings now, and Mother says—"

"Dear me," said the poor little Whiffet. "I'm getting kind of dizzy. I'd certainly like to find my shadow."

"I know," said Nancy, patting him. "I shouldn't mix you up with things. But you mentioned bombazine and I thought I'd tell you. Now then, where did that queer person in the show tell us to go?"

"He said to hunt up Mister Snoopsy," said Nick. "He's a pirate who lives in a cave between Hidy Go Land and the sea."

"It sounds terrible," said the Whiffet. "Well, it isn't," said someone. "Not tearable at all! Both Towser and I work."

DEATH TOLL IN FIRE INCREASED TO FOUR

Johns Hopkins Professor Dies; Wife, Child and Servant Caught in Home

BALTIMORE, Md., June 2.—Dr. Aaron Ember, noted Egyptologist of Johns Hopkins University, died yesterday from burns received early Monday, when his wife and six year old son, and a maid, lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the Ember home in Windsor Hills, a suburb. Friends said Dr. Ember, believing his wife and Robert, his son, who could not walk because of a spinal affliction, to be safely out of the house, had attempted to save from his library a manuscript representing many years of research work. He was driven, fatally burned, to the roof of a sun porch, from which he was rescued. Mrs. Ember and Robert were caught in a second story bedroom, and the maid, Emma Zenger, was cut off in a lower hallway.

Miss A. E. DeBlois Gives Vivid Picture of The Anglican Missions In Kaugra, India

A VIVID PICTURE of the work of the Anglican missions in Kaugra and life in India was given yesterday afternoon by Miss A. E. DeBlois, returned missionary, in her address before the largely attended meeting in the Church of England Institute at which Mrs. James F. Robertson, president of the diocesan W. A. was chairman. The speaker was extended, a hearty vote of thanks. Using the parable of the leaves and fishes, as an illustration, she said that God was able to make sufficient the small gifts of His followers if they gave their all. The great multitudes of India, she said, were hungry for the Gospel message. Miss DeBlois appealed earnestly for a woman doctor to go there and urged the younger women to take up medical missionary work. She spoke of the lepers in Kaugra in cottages situated in a lovely wooded grove, the care of the untainted children in a special home, where only two out of 200 had general leprosy, and the most successful work under government authority, in reforming the criminal tribes, who for years had constituted a grave problem. The school in which she teaches, Miss DeBlois said, had 29 children as boarders and they were kept as Indian as possible. They attended the large day school of 117 pupils, where about 15 per cent. were Mohammedan and its remainder were Hindu. Miss DeBlois said the girls, who became converted, became outcasts from their own families in India. The girls made real sacrifices to become Christians and the native Christian teachers in the school receive only half the salaries they could receive in the government educational institutions. Prayer, Miss DeBlois said, was the great strength of the missionary work.

Suzanne And Helen In Meet Opening Today

PARIS, June 2.—French tennis fans were all expectant today in anticipation of the opening of the International hard courts matches. All of them were asking the question whether there was to be a second Lenglen-Wills match during the tournament. The experts who witnessed the play of Miss Helen Wills against Madame Rene Matthis last Sunday, when the California girl defeated her 6-3, 6-4, considered that she showed a falling off in her play, as compared with her matches on the Riviera some time ago. On the other hand, Suzanne Lenglen is understood to have completely recovered from her recent indisposition.

Claims To Kill Leper Germs By Freezing. BERLIN, June 2.—A new treatment for leprosy has been devised by Prof. S. Paldrock of the University of Dorpat, Esthonia, who in an article in the German Dermatological Journal, announces that after many years of experimentation, he has succeeded in killing the leprosy germ by means of freezing. Carbonic acid "snow" was applied to diseased tissue with the results that of sixteen patients treated, seven already have been discharged as wholly innocuous to society, the article said. Specialists here regard Prof. Paldrock's discovery as of momentous importance to tropical countries. How To Look Years Less Than Your Age

The most aged face will look years younger after the use of ordinary Mergolized Wax for a week or so. This remarkable substance, because of its peculiar absorptive power, actually removes the thin veil of faded or withered outer cuticle, a little at a time. Gradually the fresher, more youthful skin underneath is revealed. This absorption process being a purely hygienic one, an entirely natural complexion is acquired—quite different from an artificial complexion, which appears anything but girlish, though often bearing painful evidence of childishness. An ounce of Mergolized Wax (at any drug store) is sufficient to rejuvenate any complexion. It is put on like cold cream at night, and washed off mornings. ### AUDIENCE S ENTHRALLED BY WM. HEUGHAN

Scottish Singer's Recital in Pythian Castle Outstanding Musical Event

The audience that cheered and applauded William Heughan, the Pythian Castle last night will ere this have exhausted their vocabularies of adjectives of appreciation strong enough to describe to their friends the musical treat of infinite variety and almost indescribable delight served to them by this finished artist. Heughan is immense.

Not only does he possess a voice of the widest range, ringing and rolling magnificently, true to the faintest whisper which somehow never seemed to lose the quality of profundity, but by consummate acting, yet with gesture never exaggerated, this Scottish singer aids the interpretation of his songs in a manner which comes as a revelation to those who have not heard him before.

The diversity of his repertoire and the selection and sequence of the program added the suppletive to perfection. One moment Heughan is rollicking, the next pathetic to tragedy; following a song of whimsical quaintness comes a ballad of heroic action. And yet another gift this singer possesses; not only does he portray the action, the sentiment and the place, but in some indefinable way he carries the listener's mind to the very period. It must be heard to be understood.

THE ACCOMPANIST.

Accompanying him at the piano with that repression which proclaims her ranking amongst the leaders of her profession is Miss Gladys Sayer. This talented lady also charmed the audience with five solos, exhibiting therein brilliant technique over a wide range of pieces.

The program consisted of seventeen vocal and five instrumental numbers. Starting with Bonnie Dundee, Heughan captured the audience with the resonant timbre of his first note and held them in a dream of delight to the very end. As might be expected, he excels in Scottish songs and ballads, but that is not to say that these representative of other nationalities are really less attractive. Indeed the man's versatility and unrivaled power of mimicry is evidenced by his accurate rendering of a great number of dialects, as witness "Because I Were Shy," a border song, "Hill the Fluter's Ball" with a real Irish brogue; "Widdicombe Fair" in Devonshire; besides many others.

It is worth noting that a selection of Heughan's best—outside of the Scotch songs—perhaps "The Prologue" from Pagliacci might be cited, but when all are of such outstanding excellence it is hard to choose a best. The "Song of the Volunteer" was intensely interpretative. One could see the swinging fingers and the straining muscles.

Miss Sayer's solos included Coranach Lament, "Witche's Dance," Rachmaninoff's Prelude, A Country Garden, Percy Grainger and an utterly delightful little fragment entitled "The Wild Rose."

Those who were there last night will have three more opportunities of hearing the talented artist and the program will be different for every concert unless any song be repeated by request.

Bogus "Beaverbrook" Gets One Year In Jail

NEW YORK SOLD FOR TWENTY-FOUR ($24) DOLLARS

Manhattan is sold for $24—again. Members of the Greenwich Village Historical Society decided that the 300th anniversary of Peter Minuit's daring real estate deal should not go unobserved. So they gathered, in the costume and with a few Indians re-enacted the famous auction on the greenward of Battery Park. The illustration shows the transaction in progress. $24 for Manhattan Island. That was all. Modern New York watched and wondered what all the amiable drink, a few trinkets and a bit of pipe smoke. . . . Modern New York watched and wondered what all the nonsense was.

HOLLINGER MEN EXAMINE ALBERT COPPER AREAS

Goshen District is Visited by Upper Canadian Mining Experts

CONSIDERABLE development with a view of determining the extent of the copper deposits in the Goshen area, in Albert county, is going on under the direction of officials of the Hollinger Company. As announced a few weeks ago, a considerable area in that district was found to contain ore bearing strata, the original discovery having been made a year ago and preliminary investigations having been carried out at various times during the intervening months. Some two weeks ago, N. A. Timmins, president of the Hollinger Company, accompanied by Mr. Rankine, his secretary, and Mr. Brigham, consulting engineer, visited the locality and went over the area in which ore had been found. At the conclusion of their investigation they expressed themselves as satisfied with the quality of the ore and determined to make further investigations. Specimens sent by them for assay showed value between $26 and $27 per ton.

Mr. Timmins and his party have returned to Montreal but are sending another engineer and geologist to the site and they will assist in the further examination of the deposits. Mr. Timmins also left a party of ten men on the ground to continue the work of drifting to locate the depth and extent of the ore bearing body.

EXTENSIVE ORE AREA.

During the time the Upper Canadian party examined the property they sank several shafts over a large area and were successful in finding copper ore at a distance of three quarters of a mile from the original location.

The party of men are now busy working on the property of Harding Graves, while the furthest distance away the ore was also located was the property of Warren Purvis.

PARTY OF WORKERS BUSY.

Since the Timmins party left the ground the drillers have sunk a shaft more than 15 feet deep on the high side of the valley through which the ore seems to run and, according to information given by telephone, ore in considerable quantity was found at that depth. The copper, it is stated, runs in veins through a limestone which abounds in that part of the country.

The location of the district in which the find has been made is on the road between Elgin and Penobscot, about three miles from the former place and about ten miles from Penobscot.

Special to The Times-Star
MONCTON, June 2.—For the second time in the history of the Riverside Club a hole in one stroke was made when Don McNaughton, playing in a foursome with J. W. Frazer, G. P. Worsley and S. J. McLeod, on the golf club links Monday, negotiated the second hole in one stroke. J. W. #### RIVERSIDE MAN IS SENT UP FOR TRIAL ON FORGERY CHARGE

Accused Alleged to Have Endeavored to Convert Wife's Land

HOPEWELL HILL, June 1.—The preliminary examination of Manning Smith of Riverside, charged with uttering a forged document, took place before Geo. A. Blight, J. P., at Hopewell Cape today and resulted in the accused being sent up for trial at the next session of the Supreme Court, which opens next Tuesday, June 8. H. Lester Smith conducted the prosecution. The accused was not represented by counsel and did not go on the stand himself or put in any evidence.

Smith is charged with putting on record a deed purporting to be a transfer of property to himself from his wife, and which bore his alleged signature. The latter claims the signature to be a forgery. The acknowledgment of the signature was taken before W. H. Chapman, barrister, at Dorchester in September, 1924, and the deed was put on record at Hopewell Cape in November, 1925.

There were two witnesses for the prosecution. The first, W. D. Bennett, Deputy Registrar of Deeds, identifying the deed in question as one having been presented for registration by Manning Smith, the accused, and which was duly recorded.

WIFE ON STAND.

Mrs. Idella Smith, wife of the accused, who laid the information against her husband, was called to the witness stand to testify to the facts of the case. She testified that she had never seen her husband sign the deed in question and that she had never seen the signature of Idella Smith on the deed. She swore positively it was not her writing. She said she was not in Dorchester on the date the document was signed, and had never seen lawyer Chapman in her life.

ACCUSED ASKED SETTLEMENT.

The accused was asked by the magistrate if he wished to ask the witness any questions, and he replied in the negative, stating he would like to have a settlement arranged satisfactory to his wife if it could be done. Mr. Blight expressed the hope that this might be accomplished but explained that was a question involving higher authority.

The magistrate in briefly summing up stated that he felt it his duty to commit the accused, taking into consideration the sworn statement of Mrs. Smith and the seeming dissimilarity in signatures.

The defendant, it is understood, will consult a Saint John lawyer, and a proposal for a settlement may be presented to the Attorney-General. The accused is the owner and operator of a rotary saw mill.

Its baseball spirit is genuine, for McGraw and his New York Giants appear throughout the story. It's the big league stuff. And McGraw has crowded it with suspense that grips like a

DIGBY COUNCIL VOTES FOR HYDRO DEVELOPMENT

Favors Immediate Work on Producing Sissiboo River Power

DIGBY, June 1—The Municipal Council, which met in session today, by a vote of seven to four, declared themselves in favor of the immediate development of hydro in this county and that they would join with the Town of Digby and the Village of Weymouth in developing hydro on the Sissiboo River. This morning Warden Ingram Saunders called the special session of the Municipal Council to order and asked each councillor to express his opinion of the development of hydro and also to explain the attitude of the electors in their district.

Councillor Hillman was the first to speak on the question, and he stated that several meetings had been held in his district and also a canvass made of the electors and he had come to the conclusion that hydro would be a great benefit to the county, and he would give it his support. The people wanted information, and since the last session had received it and now they realized the value of hydro.

CHANGES VIEWS.
Councillor Andrews, of Plympton district, who opposed hydro at the last session of the Municipal Council, also changed his views and was ready to support the development.

Councillor Lew, of Freeport; Councillor Chisholm, of Bear River, and Councillor Outhouse were of the opinion that the development would not mean anything to their districts and could not be brought before the council. Councillor Lew claimed that personally he had no interest whatever in the proposition and was doing what he deemed the majority of the ratepayers in his district wanted, and that was to oppose the development.

SUPPORT SCHEME.
Councillor Cossaboom, of Smith's Cove, who is the proprietor of the Smith's Cove summer colony, was heartily in support of the scheme and Councillor Hankinson, of Weymouth; Councillor Fitzgerald, of Weymouth North, and Councillor Cornwall supported the bill.
Councillor S. H. Marshall, chairman of the hydro committee appointed by the municipality, strongly supported

A WONDERFUL CHURCH AND NO CONGREGATION

A magnificent $300,000 church is just being finished at Leroy, Ill., which will have no congregation at all when its doors are thrown open. One J. T. Crumbaugh, rich land owner, who died in 1905, left a $300,000 tract of land to build and support a Spiritualist church, and his will was recently sustained by the supreme court after extended litigation. There is not a Spiritualist within miles of the church now, but the edifice has been built in accordance with the will.

the bill and explained fully the benefits to be derived.

VOTE 7 TO 4 FOR HYDRO.
A vote was taken on the question which resulted as follows: For development, Marshall, Hillman, Fitzgerald, Handkinson, Cornwall, Cossaboom, Andrews; against, Chisholm, Lew, Lam and Outhouse.

The matter of the appointment of a member on the hydro commission caused considerable discussion. Councillor Cossaboom moved that P. H. Marshall be the member to represent the municipality. This was seconded. Councillor Andrews moved an amendment that H. W. B. Warner be the member to represent the municipality. This was also seconded, and on a vote being taken the motion was carried seven to four. Mr. Marshall was declared the successful candidate.
A hydro committee consisting of Councillor Chisholm, Andrews, Lew and Hillman was appointed to look after the interest of the Municipality.
Councillor Hillman asked the council to appoint an industrial committee to look after the question of seeking industries for the county, and this request was granted after which the council adjourned.

REQUEST FROM WEST SIDE TO COMMISSIONER

Common Council Refers Matter of Improvement to Market Place

RETAINING WALL QUESTION AGAIN

West Side Case Brings It Up—Reed's Point Work Authorized

The City Council yesterday authorized the construction of a new ramp at the steamer Empress berth, Reed's Point, and referred the request of the West Side Progressive Association for the removal of the playground from its present site in Market Place and that of Mrs. Josephine Johnston, for repairs to the retaining wall at the corner of Lancaster and Tower streets, to Commissioner Frink for a report on each.

RECOMMENDATIONS ADOPTED

The recommendations of the committee of the whole that the chief of the fire department be requested to report to the chief of police any violations of the by-law governing the sale of gasoline in the city, and that a new drop be provided at the new pier for the C. R. Bay service, at an estimated cost of $2,250 and that necessary repairs be made to the adjoining crib work at an estimated cost of $150, payment to be provided in next year's assessment if necessary, were adopted.

The application of the Clifton House for permission to change the electric sign over the entrance was referred to the commissioner of public works, city engineer and city electrician with power to act. The resolution of the Saint John Progressive Association that the present playground in Market Place be removed to the corner of north of King street and the site used for a playground be built, was referred to the commissioner of public works for a report.

RETAINING WALL MATTER

W. J. Mahoney, representing Mrs. Josephine Johnston, advised that the city retaining wall at the corner of Lancaster and Tower streets be repaired as it was encroaching on Mrs. Johnston's property. The communication was referred to Commissioner Frink for a report. The commissioner said he was acquainted with the condition of affairs and the complaint was justified. It was, however, only one of many such cases and the only way to remedy these conditions was a bond issue for retaining walls.

RE ANNUAL RENTAL

Commissioner Bullock moved that the Canadian Pacific Railway be charged an annual rental equal to 12 per cent on 75 per cent of the cost of the new ramp at the New Pier, payments to be made annually on the first day of May in each year. Carried.

EXAMINATION GOES ON

The attendance at the free medical examination for girl athletes held last night at the Y. W. C. A., was in great contrast to the attendance on the opening night. There were so many of the girls assembled that it took the doctors an hour longer than they had expected in making an examination of every one. Tonight will be the final evening for the free examination and the doctors will be on hand from 8 to 10 in the Y. W. C. A. recreation center to examine girls who wish to enter athletic events this season or who took part in events of last season.

AN INTERNAL BATH DAILY RECOMMENDED

A prominent physician made the remark recently that if people were held as particular in regard to internal cleanliness as they are about external appearance three quarters of our ordinary ailments would be eliminated. This medical man said people did not stop to think of the importance of keeping the system just as clean as one is careful to keep hands, face and body. The result is that the intestinal tract becomes clogged and waste material which should leave the body daily stays there for an indefinite period doing a harm few people realize. So many ills are traceable to these clogging poisons! An internal bath sounds novel, but it is much easier to take than any other kind! A spoonful of Sal Litolol before breakfast (or any other meal), dissolved in a glass of tepid water acts as a gentle cleanser of the bowels—provides a soothing internal bath that rids the body of dangerous toxic poisons and gives one that feeling of freshness, vigor and well-being. A further advantage of the internal bath lies in the fact that a healthy body ensures an alert and active mind which makes for greater efficiency and happiness in one's daily work.

EQUAL TREATMENT FOR FISHERMEN IS INSISTED IN HOUSE

Hanson and Price Request Square Deal Be Given 'Farmers of Sea'

OTTAWA, June 1—The government's rural credits bill received third reading in the House of Commons tonight.

Second reading was given without discussion, but in committee criticism was general. T. L. Church, Conservative member for Northwest Territories, characterized it as "purely class legislation." He believed that only the three prairie provinces favored the bill, W. A. Boys, another Conservative member, informed Hon. Charles Dunning, Minister of Railways, who was piloting the bill through committee that there was absolutely no chance of Ontario entering the scheme. Ontario was now lending money to farmers at 5 per cent, so why should it adopt a scheme whereby the rate of interest would be six and a half. Equal treatment was demanded for fishermen by the Maritimes.

EXISTING LOANS BARRED

It was suggested by some members that the scheme might be used by the loan associations and banks in the prairie provinces for unloading their farmers' loans on the Dominion Government. The minister, however, stated that no existing system of loans could be taken over hokus bolus under the bill. Hon. Charles Dunning moved an amendment to provide that the total expenses of operation should not exceed one per cent of the total amount of the loan. Another amendment which reduces the rate of interest payable by borrowers on defaulted payments from 8 to 7 per cent was moved by Mr. Dunning and carried. The bill was reported from committee, given third reading, and now goes to the Senate.

MARITIMERS IN DEBATE

Maritime members took part in the debate. H. B. Short (Conservative, Digby-Annapolis) asked if the bill applied only to farmers of the soil and not to "farmers of the sea." "If my honorable friends can tell me how I can get a mortgage on fish I will be glad to consider it," replied Mr. Robb, Minister of Finance. R. B. Hanson, Conservative, York-Sunbury said if there was to be any easy money in the country there should be no discrimination in favor of the western farmer. He demanded equal treatment for the fishermen as did O. B. Price, Conservative, Westmorland.

INDUSTRY DWINDLES

A. DeWitt Foster, Conservative, Hants-Kings said that the fishing industry had dwindled $1,000,000 in the last five years. When it came to giving consideration of matters affecting

MRS. CATT SCORED BY MRS. BELMONT

Opposition to Entry of U. S. Riles Leader

Belmont, leader of the National Women's Party of the United States, who rushed to Europe on the Aquitania to support the application of that group for membership in the World Suffrage Congress has arrived here and issued a denunciation of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, her one-time protégée. Mrs. Belmont's attack on Mrs. Catt was precipitated by Mrs. Catt's attitude toward admission of the National Women's Party of the United States to the World Suffrage Congress. Mrs. Belmont said that she had offered $10,000 to help defray the expenses of the Suffrage Congress, but had withdrawn her offer when she learned of the action against the National Women's Party. She declined to comment on a report that she planned to give the two rival international organizations.

The Maritime Provinces there was an inclination to postpone such matters until "tomorrow." Fishermen should be included so as to benefit under the bill and the time for action was now. A. E. McLean, Liberal, Prince said he would support "anything that would tend to benefit the fishing industry."

Municipal Aid to Institutions Caring For Maternity Cases

LOCAL WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETS

Mrs. T. N. Vincent Is Re-Elected as Presiding Officer

At the Saint John Women's Institute annual meeting last evening the opinion was expressed that the municipality would be best advised at the present time to contribute financial assistance to the existing institutions that care for maternity cases, in order that they might have free treatment, rather than to contemplate the erection of an expensive new wing to the General Public Hospital. The two institutions referred to were unable to finance free maternity care for the city poor, however. Mrs. Vincent presided last night and was re-elected to office. DAMAGES CASE IS SETTLED AT FTON

FREDERICTON, June 1—The City of Fredericton has agreed to pay $300 to the City of Antigonish for damages resulting from a collision between the cars of the latter and a car owned by the city and operated by a city employee, Alfred Smith, was settled tonight by the payment of $300 voted by the City Council. This is a compromise amount, Aid. Thompson originally asking for $600, and the aldermen offering $400.

FREE AT LAST OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

ILLNESS ENDED BY "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

"I have been troubled for some years with dyspepsia, liver trouble and kidney trouble, from which it was impossible to get relief until I started taking 'Fruit-a-tives', which had been recommended to me by a relative. Before taking this wonderful fruit juice remedy it was impossible to carry out my daily work, but now, thanks to 'Fruit-a-tives', I am free from those ailments, and able to do my household duties without pain or fatigue."—Mrs. Thomas Evans, R. R. No. 1, Everett, Ont.

Bobby Jones Decides To Try Hand In British Open Tournament

Along The Sport Trail

ALTHOUGH the Olympic games still are two years off, Canadians are not to be caught napping again and hardly a meet or tourney is held nowadays but what the idea of looking over likely material is not uppermost.

OUR young friend John C. Miles, of Boston Marathon fame, contemplates a jaunt to the United States.

THE sensational winning streak of the Yankees has recalled the phenomenal strings of victories compiled by the Giants during the season of 1916.

THE South End game was a ding dong battle all the way, both pitchers sending over the benders in good style and making life miserable for the hitters.

THE season of 1922, his first with the National League, he hit .325 in 27 games. In 1923 he hit .316 and last year .357.

Heavy Hitter Now In Slump

Jim Bottomley is as scintillating as ever around first base for the St. Louis Cardinals. But one reason, perhaps, why the usually hard hammering St. Louis outfit is trying hard to break into first division instead of battling it out with the Reds and Cubs for the lead is that Bottomley is not hitting.

Bottomley is, by tradition and record, a .300 hitter. He has hit over that mark ever since he broke into baseball with the Mitchell club of the South Dakota League in 1920.

When he broke into the big time with the Cards five years ago big league pitching failed to bother him. The season of 1922, his first with the National League, he hit .325 in 27 games.

BROWNS CHALK UP SIX OUT OF SEVEN

St. Louis Teams Showing Revival of Form Lately—Heathcote Gets Two Homers

NEW YORK, June 2—A ray of hope has broken through the gloom of two recent baseball disappointments for St. Louis fans.

Dumbfounded by the failure of potential pennant contenders to hit their powerful stride of a year ago, the mid-west city, which has never seen a pennant waving over either of its baseball parks, today found its Cardinals and Browns showing slowly but surely off the reefs.

The Cards, unbeatable during spring training days, apparently revived from a long slump which amazed critics throughout the National League. The Browns, a strong first division contender last season, after groping blindly in the depths of the American League for weeks, at last have emerged from the cellar with six victories out of their last seven starts.

Heavy hitting, an outstanding factor in the comeback of St. Louis' men, blazed the way for another win over the Detroit Tigers yesterday, 9 to 7. Detroit suffered loss of fourth place as a result of the verdict, Chicago moving up to the vacancy.

The march of the Cards was temporarily checked by the determined Cubs in a see-saw contest which produced five homers. Heathcote posted a pair of four-baggers, Hartnett collected another which cleared the sacks in the third, while Bottomley chipped in his ninth of the season. The score was 10 to 9.

Other league games in both leagues, with the exception of a skirmish between the Giants and Phillies, were deluged by rain. The Quakers lost to the Giants, 7 to 6.

MODEL YACHT CLUB

Commodore C. L. Mofford announced yesterday that the season for the Model Yacht Club would open on Lily Lake tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, when owners of all classes are requested to be present with their yachts and in addition to different class races there will be a free-for-all event. A number of new boats have been built during the winter months and they will be given their first trial. All that is wanted is a steady wind and some good racing will be the result.

BIG GATE EXPECTED

Pennsylvania boxing records are expected to be shattered on the night of June 17 when Georges Carpentier, French light-heavyweight, faces Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, in a ten-round bout at the new municipal stadium in the Quaker City. The contest has been arranged as one of the fistic attractions in connection with Philadelphia's Sequacious Celebration. The arena has a capacity of 101,000 and

Gossip About The Trotters

As a member of the 1926 Grand Circuit, the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association has announced twelve stake features for the fifty-third annual meeting at Lexington. As in all previous years, the oldest trotting classic, the $5,000 Transylvania, leads the program followed with the two cup races, the Walnut Hall and the Castleton, each worth $4,000. The remaining nine events are uniformly for $2,000. To the $31,000 will be added the two divisions of the Kentucky Futurity, worth $21,000, besides the juvenile sweepstakes, the May Day, that has already received thirty-nine nominations and is now worth $9,750 plus the starting fees.

Nominations in the third renewal of harness turf's supercolt stake, The Hambletonian, which closed recently, indicate renewed interest in horse breeding upon a more select scale than ever recorded, considering the speed qualities of the eighty-four stallions that have aired the 834 yearlings named. If there is any truth in the adage that "like begets like," out of this collection the future harness racing sport will receive a great collection of speedsters as of the eighty-four

Maine League To Open On June 21

BANGOR, Me., June 1—The Maine baseball league has organized for its third season and will start its playing schedule June 1. The teams this year will be Bar Harbor, Penobscot Chemical Fiber of Great Works, Millinocket and Bangor-Brewer. Bangor and the Easterns, of South Brewer, combine this year and Millinocket is a new comer. The salary limit is $300 a week and the season closes Labor Day. Bob Ganley, well known in the old Maine-New Brunswick league, who was manager of the Easterns last year, will be chief of the umpires.

SWEDEN TAKES HEAD

LONDON, June 2—Sweden's lawn tennis team took the lead over South Africa in the Davis Cup competition here yesterday by winning the doubles. S. Malstrom and O. Garred defeated P. D. B. Spence and J. J. Leonard.

McKENNA TROUNCES HARTNETT IN BOUT

Cape Breton Slugger Wins Maritime Welter Title by Wide Margin

GLACE BAY, N. S., June 1—Joe Hartnett, of Halifax, made an unimpressive showing here tonight in a bout with Jack McKenna for the Maritime welterweight title, and the visitor lost the decision by a wide margin.

For ten rounds Hartnett dodged and clinched to avoid McKenna's hard rights and lefts to the face and body, but at the finish the Halifax fighter showed the effects of the punishment he had received. In the third and fourth rounds Hartnett was plainly groggy, but managed to weather the battering wallop of McKenna. In the last stages of the fight his left side and stomach was a mass of raw flesh and in the tenth round McKenna opened a bad cut under Hartnett's right eye.

Newspaper men at the ringside gave McKenna nine rounds and one, and the latter the seventh frame, when Hartnett seemed more inclined to mix it with the Cape Bretoner, and displayed flashes of form.

Both boxers weighed in well under the welterweight limit, the poundage being: Hartnett, 146½; McKenna, 145½. Tommy Casey, of Glace Bay, refereed.

LOCAL SOCCER LEAGUE

All members of St. Andrews and Queen's Park Football Clubs are requested to be on hand tonight at the Barrack Square at 6:45 o'clock. All local soccer players not connected with any of the above teams and who desire to get into a third team now being formed are also asked to attend.

GUNS WILL BOOM HERE IN HONOR OF KING GEORGE

Local Salute Tomorrow on Birthdays of His Majesty

MANY ATTRACTIONS
IN CITY ON HOLIDAY

Sports and Indoor Amusements on Program—Suburbs, Too, Will Draw

Everything is set for an enjoyable holiday tomorrow when the anniversary of the birth of King George will be celebrated. The official part of the celebration here will consist of a royal salute of 21 guns fired at noon on the Barrack Green by a detail from the 3rd Battalion Artillery Brigade.

Baseball fans are hoping the weather man will be more kindly than on May 24. Four games are scheduled. The Royals and Nationals will clash on the South End grounds; the Shamrocks and St. Peter's on the East End grounds; the Trojans and Saint Johns on the North End grounds; all at 3 o'clock. The only game scheduled for the evening will be between the Water Department and the Saint Johns at 7 o'clock on the East End grounds.

It was expected that the civic swimming scows would be in operation for the holiday, but they will not be opened for some days.

On the West Side grounds the West Side Progressive Association's track and field meet will be a feature, starting at 2 o'clock.

The usual exodus to the suburban districts will take place and many fishermen have made plans to spend the day in seeking to lure the elusive trout from his haunts. The theatres, with special attractions, will be well patronized as usual and many will, if the weather is favorable, enjoy the day at Rockwood Park.

S. E. Rice said this morning a program of three events would be run-off at Mossepath Park tomorrow in horse racing commencing at 3 p. m., provided the weather is fine. The three events are the named race, the green trot and pace and the colts' race.
