BY THE MEREST CHANCE THE MATINEE EXPRESS WAS SAVED

Line Inspector Happened to be Standing Beside the Track When a Rail Was Shattered, and Hurrying Back He Gave Warning to the On-Coming Train

MONCTON, April 25.—If Peter McEachren had not been standing close by and noticed a breaking of a rail near Rogersville, by the mail train in its progress north this morning, the probabilities are that the maritime express would have been derailed. As it was the express was flagged a short distance beyond the broken rail, and the crew regard the escape from derailment as an exceptionally fortunate one.

Many Causes Have Arisen Which Prevented the Buildings from being Completed---A Great Naval and Military Display--Other Features

NORFOLK, Va., April 26.—The Jamestown ter-centennial exposition, a land and water display such as never before was witnessed in this country, or on foreign shores, was opened today with that pomp and ceremony which always marks an event where the President of the United States is a central figure, and diplomatic representatives of foreign nations, governors of states, and like dignitaries, are honored guests and participants.

OLD SEA CAPTAIN DIED WHILE DRUNK IN JAIL

NEWCASTLE, N. B., April 26.—Stewart Campbell, a man about seventy-five years of age and said to be from Prince Edward Island, came here some days ago mending umbrellas. Yesterday afternoon he became intoxicated and smashed a window in James W. Davidson's house. A policeman was telephoned for shortly after one o'clock. Campbell was arrested and placed in the lock-up to sober up. Night Police-constable Hill says Campbell was sleeping between twelve and one. Returning to the police station about two o'clock Hill noticed that he did not hear Campbell breathing. He went into his cell and found him dead. The body was taken to Undertaker Molloy's. Coroner Desmond will hold the necessary inquest this evening. Campbell is reported to be an old sea captain, who sailed to these parts twenty-five years ago.

When the sale opened a large crowd had assembled around Auctioneer Potts and nearly every merchant who does business in the market was present. The commission stalls were first sold. They were known by letters and the following merchants were the purchasers: Stall A., D. J. Hammond $61; Stall B., Manning and Kierstead $61; Stall C., James Earle $61; Stall D., H. S. Hammond $61; Stall E., F. A. E. Quinn $61; Stall F., W. Panwick $61; Stall G., P. L. Campbell $51; Stall H., J. W. Sharpe $51, and Stall O., T. F. Fenwick $51.

RECENT DEATHS.
CHARLES O'NEILL.
ST. ANDREWS, N. B., April 25.—Charles O'Neill, one of the oldest business men of this town, died this afternoon, aged 84. He is survived by his wife, three sons and three daughters. Two of his sons, Frank and Fius, are practicing medicine in New York. Mrs. O'Neill, wife of ex-Mayor O'Neill of San Francisco, is a sister, and Rev. Father O'Neill of Elizabeth, N. J., is a brother.
JOSEPH HENRY MOORE.
At the home of his son-in-law, Arthur L. Roberts, the death occurred on Tuesday last of Joseph Henry Moore, a native of Long Reach, Kings county. The deceased had been in feeble health for some time and was eighty years of age. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Roberts and Miss Jennie; also one brother, John. He was of amiable and retiring disposition.
Mr. Moore was of direct Loyalist stock, being the grandson of the late James and Eleanor Moore (whose maiden name was Sutton). They came from Glasgow, Scotland, to New York, and at the time of the Revolutionary war, filled with all the pride of his ancestors, and rather than submit to the power that was being intruded by King and country, as he had many medals for noble service rendered, he came to New Brunswick as a Loyalist, and took up lot 16, on the Saint John River. This lot is now owned and occupied by one of his great-grandsons.
A short service was held at the house at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, after which the remains were taken to the Long Reach for interment.

PROF. LEACOCK'S INSPIRING APPEAL FOR IMPERIALISM

When Prof. Stephen B. Leacock began the first address of what Premier Pugsley aptly called his "imperial mission," before the Canadian Club of St. John last night, he faced an audience composed of the most prominent and influential men in the political, literary, commercial and professional life of the city. It was an inspiring gathering and the speaker rose abundantly to the occasion, and held the rapt attention of his hearers throughout his splendid appeal for the preservation of the Empire's integrity.

The attendance was the largest since the first luncheon of the Club, when Dr. Parkin was the speaker. Dr. Parkin's tour of the Empire under the auspices of the Imperial Federation League also began in St. John and in the same building.

Prof. Leacock possessed in an unusual degree those qualities necessary to make him a missionary for imperialism of the greatest value to the Empire, in which he feels so noble and swelling a pride, and to secure the permanency of which he has devoted his pen and now his eloquent voice. He is remarkably fluent, and his thoughts are clothed in beautiful and striking language. Virile and straight, with an Ellhu Root style of hair cut, Professor Leacock has a personality and magnetism of the ordinary and which makes his utterances pleasing to listen to, even if one were inclined to dispute his conclusions.

After being introduced to the audience in a happy manner by Dr. T. D. Walker, in the presence of President Earle, Prof. Leacock rose amid great applause. He began by alluding to the phenomenon of the reverable falls, which in St. John's special variety and presumed that this gave to the people a cast of mind which made them capable of looking on all sides of a subject. Following with a few happy remarks concerning the influence on the life of the province by the setting here of the United Empire Loyalists, he said he did not wish to approach the subject of imperialism in a controversial manner. He was about to be sent on a missionary tour of the British Empire to tell the different parts something of the life and civilization of the other.

"In South Africa, I will tell of how in Canada two races have been harmonized, and in Australia I will tell something about Confederation as it has been worked out here."

In England he would tell something of his labors in the various parts of the Empire that he had visited.

"There is a feeling abroad," he said, "that one who calls himself an imperialist is a dangerous character, who is always going about with a club on his shoulder, looking for trouble, and who talks too much on a subject of which he knows too little. Some people say that the imperialist is too far ahead of the times, and others that he is too far behind. But unconsciously or consciously, we are all imperialists. If we want the British Empire, which needs no overdone rhetoric to tell the story of its greatness, to remain permanent, then we are imperialists. That is the test. If we are indifferent as to whether it endures or not, then we are not imperialists."

Prof. Leacock then recounted some of the stormy periods of the Empire's colonial expansion, remarking that the British people were of an exploring and adventurous disposition, and not afraid to leave home, and this was one of the secrets of their greatness. This spirit was lacking in the Germans, and not present to the same extent in the French. Professor Leacock then caused a great laugh by glancing in the direction of Premier Pugsley and remarking that with these inherited tendencies to migrate it would not surprise him if some people were right in the future decide to remove to Montreal or Ottawa and leave St. John and Fredericton. Referring to the breaking away from the mother country of the American colonies, Prof. Leacock said there was a great object lesson to be learned by the severing of those ties. He did not agree with Goldwin Smith that that great conflict was inevitable. Since it was accomplished, however, he doubted whether American civilization had profited thereby. The republican experiment of total equality had perhaps produced evils worse than were escaped from Canada. He hoped would find some wiser, better and nobler solution of the problem of her status.

Prof. Leacock sketched the history of responsible government in Canada, Australia and other colonies, and said that the imperialism which he advocated would not tend to the abrogation in the smallest particular of the right of self-government. Those principles were rooted so deeply in the life of the colonies that to destroy them would be to pull down the whole fabric of the Empire. Responsible government was viewed by Baldwin and Lafontaine as a means of strengthening imperial connection, but Hume, Rowbeck and other British publicists said it was meant to lead to national independence. But it was not necessary for us to feel anxious about the right of any colony to govern themselves. The great question was what share shall they have in the common government of the Empire?

Prof. Leacock referred to the tendency of all countries toward expansion at the present time. Germany was sending millions of treasure into the unoccupied jungles of Africa in an endeavor to create a colonial empire in the back country of the Soudan. France too was reaching out along similar lines.

"This policy of modern expansion is a justifiable one. We have a duty to perform to the uncivilized peoples of earth. We must not be Little Englanders in our concept of duty, and say that these benighted countries shall go to perdition for all we care."

Prof. Leacock referred to the various conferences that have been held at Ottawa and London, where the brightest minds among colonial statesmen met those of the home land and discussed the different problems of imperial import. These conferences he characterized as a process of imperial government in the making.

"In the development of any scheme of imperial consolidation Canada is bound to take a leading part. We occupy the major place and must take the initial steps. If we try to get into closer organic union with the Empire we need not thereby sacrifice in the smallest degree our national spirit or freedom. I do not associate imperialism with the lust of conquest, but by it the Empire can be placed on a permanent basis, and with the consolidation and strengthening of the Empire there might be formed a closer union with the other great branch of the Anglo-Saxon race for the protection of the world."

As the speaker concluded his eloquent peroration, and resumed his seat, he was given a great ovation, and Mayor Bessley called for three cheers, which were given with enthusiasm.

Premier Pugsley moved that a vote of thanks be extended to Prof. Leacock for his inspiring lecture, and hoped that he would again address the club, when he returned from his Empire circling tour.

J. D. Hazen, M. P. P., seconded the motion, remarking that on this occasion he had absolutely no fault to find with Premier Pugsley's remarks.

Prof. Leacock replied in a few words, and promised to accede to the wish expressed by the premier and echoed by the club.

ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 26, 1907.

THE COST OF LIVING.

While the cost of living has been rapidly increasing everywhere of late years, it is apparent that such cost depends not only on general market prices of commodities but to an even larger extent on purely local conditions of supply and demand. Thus, while financial bureaus set forth the fact that living expenses are now thirty-five per cent. higher than in 1897, it is just as true that a man can purchase a dinner in Dawson city today for the amount he would have spent on a hard boiled egg ten years ago. The world's prices are influenced by national and international commerce, but each separate district or city is affected directly by the conditions prevailing therein. St. John is an expensive place. Under ordinary circumstances all commodities should be reasonable in price for we are surrounded by agricultural communities and within easy reach of all markets. Less money should be required for ordinary living expenses than is needed in cities such as Montreal, Toronto, New York and Boston. Yet it is a fact that owing to the heavy demands made on our limited markets, prices of almost all commodities and particularly of foodstuffs have been forced to extravagant figures. Here in St. John during the winter months especially our local merchants are called upon to furnish food supplies for many large steamships and for thousands of passengers. From our home producers is drawn the best of everything, fish, fowl and fowl, and the supplies brought to the city from outside points are picked up before they get here. We have until quite recently been paying thirty cents a dozen for eggs. In New York the price at the same time was eighteen cents, and here it should have been not over fifteen. Ten or a dozen years ago chickens could be bought in St. John for sixty cents a pair during the whole winter. This season they have ranged from a dollar to a dollar and a half. Fresh beef a decade ago retailed for the best cuts, at from eleven to fourteen cents a pound; it is now from eighteen to twenty-four cents. The supply is extremely limited, the demand owing to the requirements of the winter steamships and our larger population, as the result of this shipping, and the natural result is high prices. While it is true that people of today regard as necessities many things which their parents looked upon as luxuries, and that this change adds largely to the cost of living, still those commodities which were formerly classed as necessities require today as much money now as they did a generation ago. The winter port traffic without regard to any other influence has in the past ten or twelve years almost doubled the prices of foodstuffs in St. John, has resulted in advances in rents and generally has created conditions which otherwise would not exist. In return for this we have received many benefits. Three thousand men, who were it not for the steamship traffic, would be away in the woods or else loafing about the streets, now find employment in the city during the entire winter. They earn regular wages and this alone has wiped out the old credit system. Formerly merchants found it necessary to carry accounts from autumn till spring. Every item of household expense was charged, and bills were supposed to be paid when the men came back from the woods or when the mills started. Nowadays the laborer who wants a barrel of flour pays cash for it. He pays more than he used to, but so long as he has the money, it is better for both himself and the merchant.

THE UNSETTLED DOVE.

Between two evils, choose. A few days ago the Star announced that orders had been issued from militia headquarters providing for rifle training for members of the different cadet corps in Canada. The aim is to develop among the boys some skill in shooting, not with the intention of making them bloodthirsty but in order that they may be in some measure qualified if ever called upon for service. Announcement now comes from Pittsburg that Dr. J. Leonard Levy, a prominent clergyman and president of a local peace organization, will shortly leave for Germany. His mission is to visit the toy-making centres and induce, if possible, the manufacturers to cease making toy soldiers, swords, guns, etc. Rev. Mr. Levy contends that these stimulate in youthful minds thoughts of war and are inimical to peace.

PREACHING AND PRACTICE.

Mr. Joseph Pulitzer, of New York, a man prominent in the newspaper world, professes to hold high ideals as to the proper conduct of the press. He has established a school of journalism and declares that its aims will be to instill in the minds of students high principles such as will win for them the respect of the public. No newspaper man should do anything for which his nearest friend might feel ashamed; under-hand motives are to be entirely obliterated, and generally speaking the profession must be placed on a plane of moral virtue to which no shadow of disgrace may reach. A few weeks ago a letter written by E. H. Harriman to Sidney Webster, was stolen by E. M. Hill, the former's secretary. Hill had been bribed to commit this crime by the paper owned by Mr. Joseph Pulitzer. It would be interesting to know from Joseph how this piece of work is made to jibe with his code of ethics.

THE PAUPER'S DEATHBED. Treat softly; how the head, In reverent silence bow; No passing bell doth toll, Yet an immortal soul Is passing now. Stranger, how great soe'er, With lowly reverence bow; There's one in that poor shed One by that wretched bed, Greater than thou. Beneath that pauper's roof, Let Death doth keep his state; Enter—no crowds attend; Enter—no guards defend. This palace gate. That pavement damp and cold No whispering courtiers tread One silent woman stands Chafing, with pale, thin hands, A dying head. No busy murmurs sound; An infant wall alone; A sob suppressed—again That short, deep gasp, and then the parting groan. Oh, change! Oh, wondrous change! Burst are the prison bars! This moment there so low In mortal prayer—and now Beyond the stars! Oh, change! stupendous change! Here lies the senseless clod; The soul from bondage breaks, The new immortal wakes, Wakes with his God! Caroline Bowles Southey, in Springfield Republican.

WASHED OVERBOARD WHILE CROSSING THE BAY.

The Nova Scotia schooner, Lucy A., arrived in port yesterday and the crew reported that the captain, John T. Terrieau, who mastered the vessel, was washed overboard on Wednesday night while the schooner was crossing the Bay of Fundy from Weymouth, N. S. The crew consisted of two men only, Albino D'Entremont and Ambrose Cosneau. They telegraphed the sad news to Captain Terrieau's brother, who lives at Metegon, as soon as they arrived in port. D'Entremont states that on Wednesday evening a heavy gale came on, and the schooner was soon tossed about on the waves. The jib was torn away and Captain Terrieau made his way overboard. Just as he reached the end of the boom a heavy sea carried him into the waters of the bay. The captain was thirty-two years of age and leaves a wife and four children. He was known as a careful and skillful mariner. All day Saturday and again on Monday the particular attraction in M. R. A.'s German street building was the sale of wool and union carpets at prices that cannot be equalled for lowness. There are only twenty-five hundred yards of these carpets which fact should hurry prospective purchasers to the scene of bargains. The whiteleather sale which was such a success today will be continued tomorrow. Walter H. Irving announces that he has taken over the stock and premises lately occupied by the famous watchmaker and jeweler, 55 King St. Mr. Irving having had an experience of over ten years with Frank S. Rogers, the Charlotte jeweller, and being well acquainted with the business, he will carry a handsome line of jewelry, watches, clocks, souvenirs, etc. Mrs. Lizzie Blair Miller, of Boston, whose singing was so very much enjoyed last evening in the Grand Sacred Concert in St. David's church, is to sing in the German street Baptist church on Sunday morning. She will sing a solo, and will also sing a duet with Prof. L. M. Titus, Mrs. Miller, who is a daughter of Mr. Miller Olive, formerly of St. John, was a few years ago leading soprano in the German Street Baptist church, and she possesses a very rich and powerful soprano voice. VIENNA, April 25.—Prof. Von Mosetig-Moorhoff, the famous surgeon and introducer of iodoforn, threw himself into the Danube today, while suffering from mental trouble, and was drowned.

PSYCHIC PHENOMENA

A Series of Most Interesting Books by Dr. Isaac K. Funk. One does not need to be in any way devoted to spiritualism to find much that is of interest in a series of publications written by Dr. Isaac K. Funk, president of the Funk and Wagnalls Co., of New York. In the three books, The Widow's Mite, The Psychic Riddle and The Next Step in Evolution, Dr. Funk has presented the most recent thought on the subject of psychic phenomena, and has brought together a vast amount of information concerning the progress of investigations in this higher branch of science. In the preface to The Widow's Mite, Dr. Funk clearly sets forth that he is not writing as either an exponent or an opponent of spiritualism, but merely gathers together the results achieved after years of investigation by some of the world's best known investigators, and presents them in a most readable manner. The subject is brought down to date. All is fairly presented and there is no marked tendency to support either side. The reasoning is cautious throughout. Dr. Funk has entered upon the presentation of this most difficult problem in a fair mind, and his statements are worthy of study even by those who laugh at the idea of spiritualism. It is not a work tending to give credence to the sole purpose being to arouse interest and develop investigation. A great many instances are related which by a professed unbeliever will be at once set down as fakes, but when eminent scientists insist that they are unable to explain these phenomena on any other ground than that of spiritualism, the man who knows nothing about the subject can well afford to read. The Psychic Riddle is, in a sense, a continuation of The Widow's Mite, and reviews the researches of scientists extending over a great many years, besides outlining a number of more recent occurrences. The Next Step in Evolution deals in a most scholarly manner with the subject, contradicting many preconceived theories, but offering newer and more reasonable ones in their stead. The book indicates deep thought on the part of the writer, and is a strong argument towards the reconciliation of science and religion. All of these publications, bound in cloth, are on sale at Hall's bookstore, King street.

WOODSTOCK BRAKEMAN WAS SERIOUSLY HURT

WOODSTOCK, April 25.—Wm. Glew, brakeman was seriously injured this morning while working in the yard at the lower station and now lies in a critical condition at the hospital suffering from internal injuries, a bad scalp wound and the fracture of an arm in three places. At the hospital it was said that the arm will probably require amputation. He was hurt while coupling a snow plow by getting caught under the end and being dragged some distance. He is a married man, his wife being the daughter of Oscar Dugan.

OBJECTED TO WOMEN WORKING IN FACTORY

PARIS, April 25.—A cigarette paper factory at Eycheil, near St. Girons has been closed because the workers objected to the engagement of a woman who was unpopular in the district. The employers refused to listen to the objections so the workers stopped the machinery, went out and passed resolutions of protest. They returned to the works with their resolutions, but found themselves locked out, the employers having decided to close the works until the work-people came to their senses.

BRITISH ROYALTIES HAD TO SMOKE CIGARETTES

CANTON, April 25.—When the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall were here a few days ago the Duchess and Princess Patricia were compelled to smoke cigarettes almost incessantly as a preventive against disease. The Duke never ventured out without a cigar in his mouth. Smallpox is very prevalent in the city, and owing to the extreme laxity of the sanitary regulations persons who have contracted the disease often remain out of doors and mingle with the crowds in the streets.

THEFTS IN CARLETON

Two robberies were committed in Carleton yesterday. Shortly after noon a barrel of liquor which was stored in a Shore line car was tapped, and after the intruder had taken his fill of the spirits he did not fill the bung hole and the liquor kept running out of the barrel until it was almost empty. Employees of the Shore line stated that at ten minutes to one the door in the car was secured, and it is thought that the culprits gained access to the car while the employees were away to their dinner. Detective Killen is working on the case.

DREAMING OF MOTHER.
(Written by a Victoria County Girl in Maine.)
Mother dear, I am of you dreaming,
For I long to see your face again,
Long to see you and dear father,
In your old accustomed places.
Long to see the brook and river,
And the trees that stand around,
And I long to see the cattle,
Feeding meekly on the ground.
I have sisters, I have brothers,
Once again I long to see,
For I'm dreaming gently dreaming,
Dreaming mother dear of thee.
Now the day is gently fading
And the night is drawing nigh,
While alone I'm sadly thinking
Thinking mother dear of you.
When the sun arise tomorrow,
And the rain has ceased to fall,
It is then that I am dreaming,
Dreaming of you all.
To hear the birds far in the tree tops
They put forth a gentle cry
It is then that I am dreaming
Dreaming mother as I sigh a last good bye.

WRITES HIS OWN 'OBIT,' DOESN'T DIE

Anxiety of a Man to Have Himself Properly Reported as Suicide Prevents Death

GREENWICH, Conn., April 25.—Charles Beisinger, connected with the New York Telephone Company, did not commit suicide today, as he had claimed, owing to the fact that he wrote his own obituary and deposited it in a local newspaper office with instructions to send it to New York newspapers when he was dead.
His anxiety to let his wife, who left him two weeks ago, know he had been a good husband and died because of misery caused by her desertion saved his life.
Beisinger is thirty-three and his wife twenty-five. She left home after a family discussion two weeks ago last Saturday, taking her daughter, aged six, and leaving a son, aged three, behind.
Her husband became despondent, and so wrote his obituary notice, took it to a newspaper office and asked to have it inserted in the New York newspapers. He was a stranger to the newspaper publisher, so the police, un-

SIX PER CENT OF BARONETS FALSE

Discovery that Many Persons Have Assumed the Title Upon Most Doubtful Basis

LONDON, April 25.—Unlike the titles granted in some Continental countries, those of the British aristocracy have always seemed to rest upon a solid foundation, based as they have been on royal decrees, patents and precedents and carefully enveloped in red tape.
It developed this evening, however, that there is also in the gold of the baronetage, for a special department committee has issued a report saying there is no doubt that a number of persons have assumed the title of baronet either wrongfully or upon the most doubtful basis. These cases approximate five or six per cent. of the entire baronetage.
The committee recommends legislative action to create a tribunal, that shall prevent the unlawful use of any title in order to avoid fraud. That there shall be included in the annual publication of the official rolls of baronets only the names of those who have been created at courts, or who have been mentioned by that title in some official document.

(Portland Press.)
Frank Harmon, who for five years has been connected with the sect known as the "Flying Rollers," who get their name from the "flying roll" in Holy Writ, and who first joined Detroit, having been converted soon after he came out of a lumber camp, and being shortly after transferred to Chatham, England, the principal colony, landed in Boston yesterday and came to this city last night.
He says he is the representative of Prince Michael, who was deported from Portland last January, and he has two objects in coming here. The first is to secure, if possible, a reversal of the decision of the immigration inquiry board which deported Prince Michael. The reason for the deportation was that the board learned on secret information furnished by Mother Eleanor and by Prince Michael's own admission on the witness stand that he served a term in prison for a felony.
One of the strictest rules of the immigration department is that no alien who has served in prison for a felony be admitted to the United States. So far as known the point raised in Prince Michael's defense has never been heard. His prison service was in the United States, and his felony is alleged to have been committed in Michigan. A petition will be sent to the commissioner of immigration asking him to have the case reconsidered, the petitioner hoping to establish his claim that the board's ruling was unfair.
The second object of Brother Hammond's visit is to assist the English authorities in locating Madam Diss De Bar, who posed as Mother Eleanor, the divine messenger, Brother Harmon, like Prince Michael and the Mother Eleanor to Portland in January, wears long hair and a flowing flaxen beard. He said to a reporter last evening that it was the greatest wonder in the world that Mother Eleanor didn't completely "strip" the Flying Rollers of their property on both continents.
She had been out of an English prison on only a week or two when she appeared at Chatham and introduced herself to Prince Michael and his followers. She claimed to have been sent by God to complete their plans of work and their preparation for coming of the kingdom. She represented that she had millions in real estate in America, mostly in Chicago and that the Lord had directed her to consecrate it to Him. She voluntarily stated that she had served in jail, but claimed that she was innocent.
Prince Michael took her word for it without bothering to hunt up her record. Within a month she was sharing equally with him, the management of affairs at Chatham and inside of three months she was making elaborate plans for a trip to America, for the purpose of cashing in her estate and consecrating the proceeds. She induced Prince Michael to raise several thousand dollars to assist her in this noble purpose. The Chatham community was straggled for ready cash some months after her coming to America. She also brought with her a document showing that the prince had given her full power and authority to act in his absence in the conduct of affairs of the Flying Rollers on this side of the Atlantic. Reaching Detroit, she held, she proceeded at once to exercise her authority. The brother in temporary charge there meekly gave way and the followers promptly recognized her as their leader. From letters which he received from the deposed leader of the Detroit community Prince Michael got the impression that things were not moving as smoothly as before Mother Eleanor's appearance on the scene, so he made preparation without her knowledge to sail for America.
In some way, the community knows not how, she got information that Prince Michael and his wife were on the Atlantic, headed for Portland. She took the deposed leader as her secretary and made a flying trip to Portland, arriving here ahead of the steamer. On the way from Montreal she obtained a divine communication instructing her to notify the authorities of the facts in regard to Prince Michael's sins of 15 years ago and to call their attention to the point of his being an undesirable immigrant.
When the steamer arrived Mother Eleanor was among the first to go on board. She went before the board of inquiry and made a dramatic appeal in the prince's behalf, but to no avail. While Michael was here, however, she secured his signature to deeds of the property in Detroit and Windsor, Ont. It was supposed at the time that the property was deeded directly to Mother Eleanor, but this was not the case.

(Portland Press.)
The deed of the property ran to the brother who accompanied her here and it is evident she hoped to get him to transfer it to her later. But Mother Eleanor overreached. She was too dictatorial to the deposed brother to suit him and when she returned to Detroit she began to convert into cash all the jewelry and movable personal property lying around. This brother at Detroit got suspicious and started post haste for England to confer with Prince Michael. The hasty departure no doubt caused a very serious upset of Mother Eleanor's scheme to get into her own name the title to all the Detroit and Windsor property which Prince Michael had conveyed by deed to his Detroit representative the day of the deportation.
When Prince Michael last month, after his conference with the Detroit messenger, went to the English police authorities with a request for advice and aid before them the facts in the archive, they brought forth from the archive photographs of the notorious Madam Diss de Bar, which he promptly recognized as excellent likenesses of Mother Eleanor. Meantime her informants in England had given her the tip and Mother Eleanor fled from Detroit, leaving the Flying Rollers there in even worse shape than she left their sister community at Chatham.

FAGES LIONESS ON BET; WOMAN IS MANGLED

Crowd in Panic When Beast Tears Trainer's Body.

OXFORD, Pa., April 25.—Entering the cage of an enraged lioness on a bet of $3 today, Madame Lascelles, an animal trainer, was almost torn to pieces while panic-stricken men and women fought for escape.

A tent show has been in winter quarters here and Madame Lascelles, an Englishwoman, has been training Spitfire, the lioness, who had already killed one trainer and maimed another for life. Today the season was opened, but because of the disposition the animal had displayed recently it was decided not to let her perform.

Spitfire was surly at first, and, as she watched the other animals being prodded through their acts, became more and more menacing. The evening performance went off without a hitch, and the woman left the arena without having faced the lioness.

"Bet you $3 you wouldn't dare go in Spitfire's cage tonight," said one of the attendants, pointing to the lioness. Madame Lascelles laughed, and before the guards, who had stood at hand with heated revolvers during the performance, could be called back, had opened the door of the cage and entered it.

With a snarl the beast sprang upon her, forcing her into a corner, burying its claws in her breast and tearing savagely at her shoulder. The woman snapped her revolver into the animal's eyes and jammed her sharp prod into its throat, driving it off a moment. An attendant jumped to the door and opened it, but as the injured trainer moved towards it the lioness with a leap cut her off.

Panic stricken as the form of the beast appeared before the open door the crowd broke for the exits in a wild scramble. The guards summoned by the cries rushed in with glowing revolvers, and as the animal, her chops dripping with human blood, crouched for another spring upon the form of the half-senseless woman, jammed the red-hot weapons against its body.

There, covering in a corner of the cage, it was held and snarlingly watched the woman stagger to the door. She fell fainting and was carried to the dressing tent, where physicians found that her arm was almost torn from the socket, her shoulders mangled and her breast terribly lacerated. It is doubtful whether she will recover.

BULLET IN HEART WAS CALLED HEART DISEASE

Suicide of Justice Disclosed by Undertaker Preparing Body for Burial.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., April 25.—Not until Charles J. Comfort, an undertaker, had undressed the body of Alexander Griffith, the Bridgeport justice of the peace, to prepare it for burial, did it become known that his "sudden death" today was caused by a bullet.

Coroner King had visited the justice's house on Ford street, after the "sudden death" had been reported, and had taken on the word of a woman neighbor that heart disease was the cause. Therefore, when the undertaker told him otherwise, the coroner was surprised.

King immediately retraced his steps to the Griffith house, taking along his physician. The neighbor said, when he asked her why the true cause of death had not been given before:

"I didn't know he had shot himself."

The physician found that the bullet had passed through the heart. The revolver was found in a bureau drawer, into which it was alleged that the ex-postmaster had placed it after firing the shot.

An acute attack of Bright's disease is believed to have prompted Griffith to take his life. Squire Griffith was postmaster of Bridgeport during the second Cleveland administration.

DROPPED DEAD AT DIGBY STATION

DIGBY, N. S., April 25.—Sylvester Schofield of St. Paul, Minn., while exchanging trains today, dropped dead at Digby station. Mr. Schofield with his wife had been on a six weeks' visit to his native home, Kentville, N. S., and today left for St. Paul, Minn., where he had lived for the last 25 years.

He is a son of Nathaniel Schofield of Kentville. There are three sisters of the deceased living also in Kentville and one brother at St. Paul, Minn. Four sons of the deceased live in St. Paul and are in business there. Dr. Duvernet was called and pronounced the cause of death heart failure. The body laid at J. F. Rie's undertaking rooms. Probably it will be sent to St. Paul, his widow accompanying it. Coroner J. Daley decided that an inquest was not necessary.

BANKER'S WIDOW WEDS HER COACHMAN LOVER

Mrs. Alexander Brown, of Baltimore's Wealthiest Family, Marries a Jehu.

BALTIMORE, April 25.—Mrs. Alexander D. Brown, widow of the aristocratic and wealthy banker, was married today to a coachman, Charles H. Kaufman, by the Revs. Campbell and Williams, at St. Joseph's Catholic church, Texas, Baltimore county, at noon today.

The bride is 66 years old and the bridegroom is thirty-two years her junior. She was formerly Laura Hobson, and when the old banker with a fine brownstone city house and the largest country estate in Baltimore county married the woman, the old families of Maryland were surprised.

Stories differ as to how she met Kaufman. One is that they first saw each other in a Narragansett, R. I. hotel twelve months ago. Another is that only a month ago Kaufman was sent out to Mrs. Brown's home in reply to her request to an employment agency that a coachman be sent to her.

None of the Brown family, leaders in Baltimore society and bankers' circles was present at the ceremony today. R. C. Keach, Mrs. Brown's attorney, gave the bride away. The pair left on a honeymoon trip to Boston, the bridegroom's home.

DROWNS AS FIANCEE STARTS FOR WEDDING

Foreman and Three Others Swept Over Cape Fear River Falls.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 25.—On the eve of his wedding, Hans Thorson, of St. Paul, Minn., and three other men were swept over Buckhorn Falls, in Cape Fear river today and drowned.

Thorson, general foreman of a construction company erecting a power plant, was to have been married Sunday, and his fiancée, Miss Thelma Lindgren, started today from St. Paul to join him. With the foreman were E. B. Brady, of Monroeville, assistant foreman, and two negro foremen. They were in a scow trying to pole it along the river bank, when it was caught by the current and carried over the falls. The bodies have not yet been recovered.

FOOLED BY SOMEBODY, MARCHES ARMY ON PARIS

Three Thousand Enter French Capital and Cause a Sensation Among Officers.

PARIS, April 25.—A detachment of soldiers was called out yesterday to protect Parisians against an imaginary strike under circumstances reminiscent of a comic opera.

Between 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when the city was at peace and lazy Parisians were taking the air on the boulevards, 3,000 soldiers—infantry and cavalry—marched into Paris from Vincennes, halted on the Place de la Bastille and then separating, marched to the police stations of the nearest districts.

The officer in command of each detachment saluted the district superintendent gravely, and told him he awaited orders. To say that the superintendents were perplexed is a mild expression. They thought they had been sought out by officers temporarily deranged by the Easter Sun.

Each of them took his dilemma to M. Touny, Director of the Municipal Police, and asked what was to be done to get rid of the soldiers, who stood their ground and refused to leave the police stations without instructions from headquarters.

M. Touny was as puzzled as his subordinates, and presently the telephones at the Prefecture of Police and the Ministries of the Interior and War were madly ringing—M. Leprieux, the Police Prefect; M. Clemenceau, the Premier; General Plehva, the War Minister, and the Military Governor of Paris all talking at the same time, and demanding each of the other what this display of military force meant.

Every one lost his head for the moment, but at 8 o'clock some one thought of sending the troops home, and this was hastily done.

General Plehva has opened an inquiry into the extraordinary affair, which has greatly mystified Parisians, who are inclined to regard it as a practical joke.

POLICE OF LONDON MODEL FOR WORLD

German Experts Who Investigate the System Are Loud in Its Praises.

LONDON, April 25.—A special German police mission has been visiting Scotland Yard to compare the London detective and police methods with those of Berlin.

The visitors have been given every opportunity for an insight into Metropolitan police methods, and have been personally conducted by experienced detectives over all parts of London. As the outcome of their investigations the German delegates have declared London to be "the best policed city in the world."

Berlin is known as "a city of police" for officialdom there is in full control, so Scotland Yard authorities accept this opinion as one of the greatest compliments ever paid them.

The German visitors were shown all over New Scotland Yard, and taken at night to the "sights" of the West End and down into the East End slums. In the lowest lodging houses and criminal haunts they saw for themselves how very quietly and expeditiously the London policeman works.

Our marvelous system of traffic control aroused their admiration, and they were astonished to find how popular the police are, in spite of their authority.

"The power of the police in Germany is far greater than yours, but their success is not so great," said one of the German visitors in discussing his experiences.

"You can hardly accomplish anything in Berlin without consulting our police and obtaining their permission." "The district police inspector has to pass and sign your insurance papers, and if you engage or discharge a servant you have to supply the German police with name, grade, nationality and religion."

"In London the police are far less officious, and the relations between them and the people they protect seem to be most cordial." During the last few years the London police have provided hints for the chief cities of the world. Special missions have come from France, Russia, Switzerland, Spain and the United States, and in each case the visitors have admitted the superiority of English police methods.

ANNUAL AT HOME Jolly Gathering of Portland Y. M. C. A. Last Night

The annual at home of the Portland Y. M. C. A. was given last evening. About 105 persons were present, and the evening was most enjoyably spent. In the early part of the evening the guests gathered in the gymnasium, which was prettily decorated with bunting. Here various games were played until the party adjourned to the dining hall.

T. A. Armour, president of the association, occupied the chair. The toast to the King was followed by the toast to Canada, proposed by M. B. Grass and responded to by Rev. Nell McLaughlin. E. Holder then sang, after which Roy Harding gave a reading. The toast Our Association was proposed by Allan Lingley and replied to by President Armour.

James Armour then sang and Louis Gallagher gave a piano selection. The toast to the Ladies was proposed by George Crosby and responded to by Harold Rising. Miss Pearl Spring gave a reading, followed by a solo by Harry McQuade. The toast to Our Absent Members was proposed by Fred McClaw and replied to by J. N. Harvey. At a late hour the gathering broke up.

AWARD TENDERS FOR Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

At a joint meeting of trustees and board of management of the Y. M. C. A. held last evening in the president's office, the tenders for the various classes of work for the new building were awarded as follows:

Painting and glazing, H. L. & J. T. McGowan; sheet and metal work, Jas. McQuade; wrought and cast metal, Jas. Fleming's Sons; carpentering and joinery, A. Dodge; mason work, Robert Maxwell. The contracts will be signed on the fifteenth of May and work will be begun immediately after that date. It is hoped to have the building up and roofed in before winter, and ready for occupancy early in the spring.

Five thousand dollars yet remains to be raised, the amount having been reduced by $200 yesterday, when Premier Pugsley and Judge McLeod doubled their subscriptions, each having previously pledged $100.

A committee consisting of President L. P. D. Tilley, George E. Barbour and G. C. Jordan, was appointed to organize a campaign for collecting the subscriptions already pledged and securing the balance still required.

Of the total increase on exports $76,509 came from mines, $6,999,096 from the forest, $1,421,144 from animals and their products, manufactures, $1,863,183; exports of agriculture decreased $1,388,412.

PASSENGERS CHEER AS EMPRESS OF BRITAIN ENTERS HALIFAX HARBOR

HALIFAX, N. S., April 25.—With the moon shining and the waters of Halifax harbor as placid as a mill pond, the big C. P. S. liner Empress of Britain, with her decks crowded, singing and cheering passengers, steamed swiftly into port at midnight tonight. As the steamer was being warped into her dock, the passengers gave three hearty cheers for Canada and the Northwest.

The steamer, which left Liverpool last Friday night, had a splendid passage across, and all aboard enjoyed the sea trip. In one day's run she reeled off 458 miles. The Empress had 1,401 passengers. She landed 28 first class passengers at this port, and 643 packages of mail, in one hour, and then proceeded to St. John to land the balance of the passengers and the Oriental mail.

AMHERST MAN DEAD; FIRE DESTROYS BUILDING

AMHERST, April 25.—G. I. Munson, one of Amherst's best-known citizens, died here today after a short illness of pneumonia. He was sixty-six years old and was born in Queen Hill, Pictou Co., N. S. For a long time he kept a livery stable here but during late years he conducted a meat market. Fire which broke out here just before midnight tonight in the blacksmith shop of Wm. Davies, badly gutted the building and spread to the Canadian Sign Printing Company next door. The firemen quickly responded and soon had the flames under control.

The loss is not nearly covered by insurance.

FIRE AT DEER ISLAND

DEER ISLAND, N. B., April 24.—At Fairhaven, three o'clock Monday afternoon, a residence and barn, owned and occupied by Gilman Calder, was destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at eight hundred or a thousand dollars, with no insurance. Mr. and Mrs. Calder were absent when the fire started, there being only three small children in the house. The fire was caused by a defect in the stove, and as the wind was blowing a gale from the westward, the house and outbuildings were leveled to the ground in a few minutes. Nothing was saved.

CHINESE RIVER BOATMEN ENGAGE IN A BATTLE

A Lively Time at Singapore in Which 20 People Were Hurt—Police to the Rescue

SINGAPORE, April 25.—A maritime battle between rival fleets of Chinese sampans armed with batteries of bricks and broken bottles has taken place in the harbor. Twenty men were injured and nearly forty were placed under arrest. It is also reported that several men fell overboard and were drowned during the night.

Two sections of the sampan men who have had a long standing quarrel determined to settle it outside the range of the police. They provided the sampans with ammunition, and put out well into the harbor where a furious battle began.

The battle was conducted with much savagery, and the sampan men who fell overboard were battered on the head in the water. A small police launch which picked up several men was attacked, and had not one of the marine department's large launches steamed among the combatants the police launch and her crew would probably have been sunk.

JUST LIKE OLD TIMES.

Among the passengers on board an excursion steamer making a tour round the coast was a wealthy retired plumber. One day a number of whales were sighted, and the plumber was in ecstasies.

"Pretty sight, isn't it?" remarked a lady to him.

"Beautiful, mum, beautiful!" replied the plumber. "Why, when they spit out water like that it just reminds me of burst water pipes."

THREE WOMEN FOR EACH MAN IN THIS DISTRICT

A Swiss Canton Where There Is No Scarcity of Wives

GENEVA, April 25.—Recently published statistics show that in the Swiss canton of Glarus there are three women to each of the 1,200 marriageable men in the district.

Seven hundred of the men are married and 113 are still in their teens. There youths of nineteen are widowers and two of the same age are divorced.

One young man of twenty-five divorced two wives within three years, and he is engaged to be married for the third time. Another youth of twenty-two has been married twice and is now a widower.

MISSIONARIES SUFFER BY BILLIS EARTHQUAKE

BERLIN, April 25.—Messages received here report that considerable damage was done to the property of German missionaries in Billis as the result of the recent earthquake. A number of the missionaries were rendered helpless and had to encamp in the snow which lies twenty-five feet deep in spots. It is said that never before has there been so much suffering as in this particular part of Turkey for there have been many contributing causes and a variety of factors have entered into the poverty and misery.

WORSE THAN ST. JOHN

TANGIER, April 25.—The Augean streets were positively hygienic in comparison with the Algerian streets of Oujda and the French have reported that they will have the greatest difficulty in cleansing the town.

The streets are nine feet wide with a shallow gutter in the middle, where he inhabitants throw all kinds of refuse. When an animal dies its corpse finds a resting place in this gutter on a couch of garbage. When it rains the streets are filled and the unhappy pedestrian is up to his knees in a liquid with regard to the constituents of which it would be unwise to speculate. The drinking water of the town comes from wells which are beneath the streets, and which receive by drainage a good quantity of the gutter's overflow. Parts of the town are seven or eight centuries old.

WANTED TO SEE LIFE, BUT DIED INSTEAD

Young English Dancing Girl Committed Suicide at Buenos Ayres

LONDON, April 25.—There appears to be little room for doubt that a young London dancing girl, Lily Parker, whose untimely death amid luxury at Buenos Ayres has just been communicated to her relatives, took her own life.

Miss Parker was one of a troupe of eight "Palace Girls," who went to Buenos Ayres some months ago to fulfil an engagement at the Coliseo Argentino. She made the acquaintance of a wealthy young man who showered jewels on her, gave her a motor car, and, according to her dancing companions who returned to England, he married her.

She carefully avoided the subject of marriage in her letters home, however, although she described herself as perfectly happy and frequently sent presents and remittances. Replying to a letter of inquiry from her brother, she said: "I married? No, not yet. I have got a lot more of life to see before anything like that occurs. We will say no more about that subject. Your affectionate sister, Lily."

MATTERS NOW ENGAGING THE VATICAN'S ATTENTION

ROME, April 25.—At the present time two events of great importance to the church are occupying the attention of the Vatican. These are beatification of Pope Pius IX., and the publication of a new "Syllabus." As regards the first the beatification commenced in the diocese of "Sinaligella" where Pius IX. was born, and at Imola of which he was bishop. After long and patient inquiries have been made the process will be brought before the congregation of Rites where the procedure always lasts for several years.

The new "Syllabus," in which are enumerated all the theological and political errors condemned by the church has been completed by the Holy Office. It has been examined by the Irish Monk, David Fleming, to see if any technical or typographical errors can be found.

PETER FINED TWENTY FOR ASSAULTING MERISSES

Boy Deserters Who Do Not Enjoy Jail;
A Civic Suit Over a Grocery Bill

In the police court this morning two drunks were fined the usual amount. Andrew Petropolis was charged by George Meresses with assault. W. Watson Allan appeared for the defendant and E. S. Ritchie for the prosecution. The complainant testified that he and Peter Economy went into a Mill street pool room Wednesday night and Petropolis, who was in charge, refused to allow them to play, called him some very bad names, ordered him out of the place and finished with throwing him to the floor, where he punched and kicked him.

Thomas Goodwin gave evidence that he saw Petropolis assault the complainant, as did Peter Economy.

The prisoner denied the charge and Wm. McIntyre testified that the prisoner did not assault Meresses.

The weight of evidence was against the prisoner and he was fined $20 or two months jail.

Wm. Gordon, Owen Bond, aged 18 years, and Thomas Currie, aged 13 years, were before the court charged by R. Wren, chief officer of the C. P. R. steamer Lake Erie with absconding themselves from the ship, without notice.

The three boys ran away from the ship on Wednesday, one of them secured work in the McAvity foundry, where he was located by Detective Cook of the C. P. R. who also rounded up the other two boys at the Marsh Bridge.

The captain of the Erie having promised to return the boys to Liverpool requested that they be held until the steamer is ready for sea.

The young sailors this morning said that the reason they left the ship was because the boatswain beat them. One night in the cells was enough for them, said the smallest of the trio this morning, "I hope they don't keep us here for I want to go over to England where I have a mother and father to keep."

They were sent to jail to await the time for the sailing of the ship. Fred. Burrage, a Carleton grocer, sees W. A. Sealey for $9.61 for groceries, was resumed this morning. R. G. Murray for the plaintiff and E. S. Ritchie for the defence. The defendant who is suffering with paralysis was unable to be in court, but through his counsel denied ever receiving the groceries he is charged for.

At 9 o'clock and two clerks presented books and testified to the delivery of the goods. The case was adjourned at one o'clock and this afternoon the two lawyers will accompany Geo. A. Patterson, the police clerk, to Carleton, where he will take the defendant's evidence by commission.

Large Audience Delighted With Last Evening's Concert.

Mrs. Lizzie Blair Miller, Former St. John Lady, is Possessed of Unusual Ability—An Artistic Treat

What may fairly be described as a very large and appreciative audience gathered in St. David's church last night at L. W. Titus' concert to hear Mrs. Lizzie Blair Miller, and it was satisfactory to observe that the musical public were alive to the fact of the presence in their midst of a former St. John girl who has now become a gifted and accomplished artist and who, dwelling in another land, reflects honor on her native city as its most honored daughter in the realm of song.

Especially must last night's performance have been gratifying to Mr. Titus who was responsible for the early vocal training of Mrs. Miller when she was Miss Lizzie Blair Olive, and having thus laid the foundation for her present superb vocal equipment, ample and convincing evidence of which was displayed during last evening. From the above it will rightly be inferred that the audience were competent to criticize and prepared to do so, but after Mrs. Miller had sung her first number, which was the graceful and bewitching music of Haydn's "With verdure clad," with its limpid melody, it was felt irresistibly that criticism, to use a colloquial phrase, had "lost its job" for the time being and nothing prevailed but that admiration and appreciation which is involuntarily called forth towards art of such undeniably character as Mrs. Miller displayed. Her voice might be described as a lyric soprano, but possessing real dramatic possibilities and fully capable of fulfilling the high demands of dramatic music, as was shown in her concluding number, the great aria "Hear, 'Hear" from Mendelssohn's "Elijah." Her other classical number was Handel's "Rejoice Greatly," which showed her great flexibility of voice, the singular evenness and richness of all the tones in her vocal range, and impresses the hearer as well as the brilliance of her upper tones and the sweetness and limpidity of her lower register.

Her power of "painting" each song in appropriate vocal tones, was evidenced throughout, notably in "Land of Roses," White's "Spring Song," and the Nevin selection.

She has studied in Boston under the noted trainer, J. C. Bartlett and holds a leading and valuable position in one of the churches there.

S. J. McGowan was heard to great effect in the fiery and impetuous "Is Not His Word as a Fire," which he delivered with all needful force and declamation.

The remainder of the programme, which was commendably not of a lengthy order, was made up of two much appreciated organ solos by D. Arnold Fox, who also played the accompaniments throughout, many of them of a most exciting nature, with sympathy and distinction—and three numbers by the Union Male Quartette, led by the talented organist of the concert, which were listened to with much pleasure, notably Buck's "Lead Kindly Light."

It is hoped that Mrs. Miller will at no far distant date again visit St. John and give its music lovers an opportunity of renewing pleasurable recollections.

MAKING THEIR WAY THROUGH RUNNING ICE

Tugs Duly Engaged in Picking up Logs In the Reach—The Whole River Open Now

About five o'clock yesterday morning the ice along the western shore of Long Reach gave way, and three hours later the whole bridge of ice which has been blocking the river was loosened. At ten o'clock the tug Hero was able to make a passage through the Reach, followed shortly afterward by the Springfield, and later by the Elaine. Reports from Brown's Flats this morning are to the effect that as far as the eye can see the river is filled with loose ice moving rapidly down, and that in two days at least all will be clear.

The steamer Elaine, bound for St. John this morning, was having quite a lively time making her way through the jam of ice in the Reach. She had to go along at slow speed, and it took some careful manoeuvring of the wheel to keep her in the straight path. The Elaine was making all stops on the way down from Wichham, which passed The Springfield, which passed Brown's Flats upward bound at two o'clock yesterday, was not reported on her return trip at 11 this forenoon, but will likely return to St. John early this afternoon.

The sudden running of the ice and the breaking away of the ice bridge at Fredericton carried down large quantities of logs, and all this forenoon three or four tugs were busy in the Reach picking them up. The water in the Reach has risen over three feet.

It is stated that there is very little produce along the river to be brought down by the steamers.
