GOOD MEETING OF AGRICULTURAL SOCY.

Officers Appointed and Strong Committees Formed at Meeting on Wednesday

A meeting of the Agricultural Society and the Live Stock Association was held on Wednesday afternoon, a fair attendance of members being present.

President W. D. Duncan occupied the chair and stated his pleasure at so many of the members turning out, to take up the business end of the society. The work of the societies was going along splendidly, but it had always been difficult to have a good attendance of members to get the accounts in proper shape, this matter always being left in the hands of a few.

The first business taken up was the appointment of the officers for the current year. On motion the following were elected:

President—W. D. Duncan.
 Vice-Pres.—Henry MacIntyre.
 Secy. Treas.—S. M. Gerard.
 Executive.—Wm. McKinnon, D. G. Stewart, Geo. Dawson, Russell Mahoney, Hugh Sillars, Rufus Hicks and Thos. J. McDevitt.

Substitute members of Executive.—Wm. Copeland, Thos. Busted, Jas. E. Stewart, Harry McKenzie, Hugh Archibald, Murray Duncan and John Callahan.

Auditor—W. A. Trueman.

It was reported that the finances of the Societies were in good shape, although a few membership fees for the past year had still to be collected.

The meeting was very enthusiastic and much good was accrued from the discussion of the various projects of the association especially with regard to the Stud horses of the Society.

A committee was appointed which conveyed the thanks of the Society to the newspapers in the town for their generous help in throwing open their columns for the furtherance of the objects of the Society, a privilege for which the Society was very grateful.

It was then arranged that the executive meet on Wednesday, 3rd February at 2 p.m. for the purpose of passing the accounts of the Society and making the various government returns.

A committee consisting of the President Mr. D. Duncan, the secretary, Mr. S. M. Gerrard and John G. MacColl, was appointed for the purpose of arranging a series of meetings in the various parts of the county, and to this end the committee arranged that the first meeting of the Live Stock Association would be held at Eel River (Crossing in the Forresters Hall on Thursday, 28th Jan at 2 p.m. It is hoped that much benefit will be derived from these gatherings, at which live topics of interest to owners of live stock will be discussed.

The executive were instructed to deal with the matter of the Stallion Firebrand, now in possession of the Society. It seemed to be the opinion of the members that although the horse was a good animal, he was too light for this district, and the executive were given powers to arrange matters with the government in the best interests of the Society.

The executive were further instructed to get confirmation of the offer from the Live Stock Commissioner, Mr. John Bright made to Mr. D. A. Stewart, M. L. A., regarding the privilege of the association to choose their own horse before government purchase, and they were further instructed to get prices from parties owning pure bred Percheron stallions, and if necessary send a man to look over the animals previous to purchase.

A new committee was formed to further the objects of the society by preparing notes of interest to the farmers and live stock men of the county, this Publicity Committee being composed of Messrs. W. D. Duncan, Thos. J. McDevitt and John G. MacColl.

The secretary was instructed to prepare a report for Mr. Henry MacIntyre to read at the meeting of the Farmers and Dairymen's Association

FUNERAL OF THE LATE JOHN MAIR

Who Died on Saturday Morning Held Here on Monday Afternoon—Masonic Burial

It was with deep regret that the news of the death of Mr. John Mair was received on Saturday morning. The deceased, who was in his 80th year, was stricken with paralysis a few weeks ago, and passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Donald McLean.

The late Mr. Mair was one of Campbellton's honored and respected citizens and his loss is deeply deplored by a large circle of friends. He was an honored member of St. Andrew's church, occupied the position of Elder and was for many years the Session Treasurer. He was a charter member of Campbellton Lodge No. 32 F. and A. M., under whose auspices the funeral was conducted on Monday afternoon. He leaves to mourn his loss three daughters and three sons, Mrs. Alex. Miller of Shives Athol, Mrs. L. L. Young, Korea, and Mrs. Donald McLean town, John F. Mair of Montana, Edgar W. of Woodstock and Douglas J. of Vancouver. Of the late gentleman's family two sisters and one brother survive, Mrs. Alex. McBeath of town, Miss Marjorie Mair of Quincy, Mass., and Robert J. Mair of Fide Head.

Services were conducted at the house by Rev. W. G. Firth, after which the remains were taken charge of by his Masonic brethren and buried at the Rural Cemetery with Masonic Ritual. The pall-bearers were Bros. W. F. Napier, W. F. Yorston, D. Sanson, J. D. McMillan, H. Miller and E. H. Anderson.

Mr. Mair was a member of the first Board of School Trustees of School District "Number 1-A-Parish of Addington", which at that time included what is now the Town of Campbellton, and extended west to "Athol Farm". His appointment dates back to the year 1871, when the New Brunswick "Common Schools Act" was passed, establishing public schools throughout the province. He continued to hold that office by repeated reappointment by the School District up to the time of the incorporation of the Town of Campbellton in 1889. The boundaries of the school district however remained the same after incorporation of the town, and Mr. Mair was continued in office by the Town Council until the re-adjustment of the boundaries of the school district and the creation of the new Athol School district a few years ago, which latter district included Mr. Mair's residence. Mr. Mair's long and honorable record of 40 years as a school trustee is probably unprecedented in the province. During his whole term of office he was a regular

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH ANNUAL MEETING

Reports Presented at Meeting
 Held on Wednesday Evening,
 Showing Good Progress

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Church was held on Wednesday evening, Rev. J. R. Miller, of Matapedia, Interim Moderator, presiding. Mr. W. F. Yorston was appointed secretary of the meeting. Reports were presented from the various organizations of the church, showing a good standing, the Trustees report being better than the previous year, the amount of cash received and balance on hand being better than formerly. Reports were received from the following societies, Session Sunday School, Men's Union, Home and Foreign Mission Society, Mission Band, Helpers' Union, Building Fund and Trustees.

On motion the following gentlemen were appointed Trustees for the ensuing year, Messrs. A. A. Andrew, Jas. E. Miller, H. M. McLennan, D. Sanson and D. E. Graham.

On motion a committee consisting of Messrs. D. C. Firth and John G. MacColl, was appointed to prepare the reports for distribution to the congregation in pamphlet form.

On motion the meeting then adjourned.

At a later meeting the matter of calling a minister was taken up. Following an arrangement made between the Session and the Board of Trustees at a recent meeting, it was moved by Mr. W. D. Duncan, and seconded by Mr. R. B. Gerrard, that this meeting proceed to call a minister.

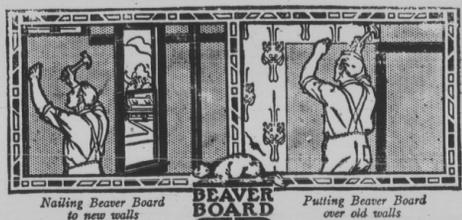

It was moved in amendment by Mr. John M. McLean, and seconded by Mr. Thos. N. Dickie, that this meeting ask the Rev. R. A. McDonald of Calais, to be settled supply in this church with all the privileges of a settled pastor, with full pastors salary until the first meeting of the General Assembly, when he could be re-installed to the Presbyterian church in Canada and legally called. If Mr. McDonald could not come, then the church would proceed to hear more candidates.

On a ballot being taken the amendment was carried, and on a standing vote the motion was made unanimous. Messrs. D. C. Firth and John M. McLean were appointed a committee to proceed to Calais and interview Mr. McDonald with reference to his early settling here.

The meeting then adjourned.

TWO WOMEN SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Stories Here Told.

Edmonton, Alberta, Can.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank you for what your kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have done for me.

"When I wrote to you some time ago I was a very sick woman suffering from female troubles. I had organic inflammation and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend your medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills, and think they are fine. I will never be without the medicine in the house."

"Mrs. FRANK EMBLEY, 908 Columbia Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta.

The Other Case.
Beatrice, Neb.—"Just after my marriage my left side began to pain me and the pain got so severe at times that I suffered terribly with it. I visited three doctors and each one wanted to operate on me but I would not consent to an operation. I heard of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing for others and I used several bottles of it with the result that I haven't been bothered with my side since then. I am in good health and I have two little girls."

Mr. Willis, while speaking of the splendid effect the war had had in the way of welding British sentiment throughout the Empire, was very emphatic in his praise of the loyalty of the French-Canadian population. Before the war some people were apt to think, perhaps, that they were not loyal, but it needed no alliance of Great Britain with France to make these Canadian-Frenchmen loyal to our Empire. The same sentiment was in the breast of every Frenchman now as when Nelson's monument was erected in Montreal in 1805—loyalty to the Empire. The essence of British law is that the people make their own law. The French had the vote; they made their own Provincial laws; they retained their own language, and their liberty was protected in religion and education. They blessed the Plains of Abraham; they admitted that they were happy; and the British Empire suited them as being very ideal political system. Nationalism is now as dead as Dickens' door nail.

The note of optimism which sounded through his whole conversation, Mr. Willis ended the interview with the expression of opinion that the war might not last so long as some people think, but might be terminated suddenly by some decisive blow.

According to a London evening paper, Mr. William James Valentine of Melton Mowbray, a civil engineer, who died on November 8, made his will in red ink on the back of a cigarette paper. He left all his property to his grandsons.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

Chicago, Jan. 11.—The Daily News prints the following special Marconiongram from Millward Price, its London, Eng., correspondent:

"Conversations with persons of force, representing the sentiments of Great Britain, France, Russia, Italy, Germany and Austria, compel the conviction that the United States is making no real friends in this war. On the contrary, it is impossible not to see that the American name is suffering, and that conceivably the Republic is laying up grave trouble for itself in the future.

"The general charge against our country is that we are displaying a shameless lack of idealism, chivalry, magnanimity and courage. Britons, Frenchmen, Russians and Italians blame Americans for ignoring the invasion of Belgium and the violations of the conventions of The Hague, and then springing into the international arena with a protest relating exclusively to matters of trade. The argument in these complaints is that if President Wilson had protested against the violations of treaties and the principles of civilized warfare he could have protested with vastly greater effect against the arbitrary and possibly indefensible interference with American cargoes.

UNMOVED BY BELGIUM'S FATE
"It is asserted on every hand that the Americans witnessed, unmoved—that is, so far as official action was concerned—the crucifixion of Belgium, the killing and maiming of women and children and other non-combatants, the destruction of private property, and the stretching of the open seas with long-lived floating mines, all involving enormous sacrifices of life and wealth without commensurate military advantage.

"Again and again one hears men of repute say that Mr. Wilson has revealed his own cowardice, degraded the Presidency, and dishonored American political and moral traditions.

"These outbursts do not proceed from resentment at Mr. Wilson's protest with respect to British and French treatment of American trade with neutral countries. Everyone admits that Mr. Wilson is bound to protect the neutral commerce of America as far as he can. The indictment against us, so far as I can measure it, simply is this: We abdicated ignominiously and ran away when great questions of morals and humanity were concerned, but promptly recovered our sense of

BUSINESS MEN MUST KEEP THEIR HEADS

Mr. A. P. Willis of Montreal Says Canada's Motto Should be, Business Harder Than Ever

Mr. A. P. Willis, president of Willis & Company, the well-known Montreal firm of piano manufacturers, struck a note of cheerful optimism when speaking to a representative of The Colonist at Vancouver lately.

This is the first time Mr. Willis has been so far West, and, naturally, he was enthusiastic in his appreciation of the natural beauties he found here, describing Victoria as a gem in a splendid setting.

Replying to a question as to the effects of the outbreak of war on business conditions in the East, Mr. Willis said that, naturally war deranges business, devastating some lines and sending others off at a tangent, but, in his opinion, there is no call for pessimism. Talking bad times will bring them, but he, for one, certainly did not talk bad times, as he does not expect to see them.

Before the war broke out, Montreal, in common with the rest of the country, was suffering from business depression, due to a large extent to overbuilding. He was of the opinion that a certain amount of depression may have been blamed on the war, for which it was not so much responsible as was overbuilding and land speculation in the preceding years. But even this depression he did not regard as an unmitigated evil, tending, as it would, to make people more careful now and in the future.

In August there was a tendency amongst business men in Montreal to lose their heads; factories were closed down, while their owners and managers read newspapers and talked war; but at the end of that month they realized that business must be attended to and the wheels of commerce must continue to go round. With some 10,000,000 men engaged at the front, and countless millions left at home dependent on the continuance of business, it was no time for manufacturers to throw up their hands and call a halt; on the other hand, now was the time for them to recognize their duty in pushing trade harder than ever.

Mr. Willis agreed that England's motto, "Business as usual," was an equally good one for Canada. In fact, in his conversation he went better than this and made it clear that he thought it should be "Business harder than ever," and he advocated a four months' advertising campaign to that end.

Mr. Willis, while speaking of the splendid effect the war had had in the way of welding British sentiment throughout the Empire, was very emphatic in his praise of the loyalty of the French-Canadian population. Before the war some people were apt to think, perhaps, that they were not loyal, but it needed no alliance of Great Britain with France to make these Canadian-Frenchmen loyal to our Empire. The same sentiment was in the breast of every Frenchman now as when Nelson's monument was erected in Montreal in 1805—loyalty to the Empire. "Again and again one hears men of repute say that Mr. Wilson has revealed his own cowardice, degraded the Presidency, and dishonored American political and moral traditions.

"These outbursts do not proceed from resentment at Mr. Wilson's protest with respect to British and French treatment of American trade with neutral countries. Everyone admits that Mr. Wilson is bound to protect the neutral commerce of America as far as he can. The indictment against us, so far as I can measure it, simply is this: We abdicated ignominiously and ran away when great questions of morals and humanity were concerned, but promptly recovered our sense of duty and our courage when the state of war threatened to reduce the profits of the copper kings and otherwise penalize American material.

"Now, if we have lost, at least for the time being, the respectful admiration of the allies, I think it cannot possibly be said that we have gained the high opinion or affection of the Teutonic empires. My experience is that influential Germans are inclined to speak of us with scorn. They accuse us of cringing to Britain, of enduring its 'arrogant monopoly of the sea,' of tolerating British control of cables largely owned by Americans, and otherwise showing ourselves small.

"If you Americans can put up with all this," they say, "and if you will not end the brutal and contemptuous British world-tyranny, we Germans will."

"Thus, it seems that the whole of Europe is hardening against America. Enthusiastic friends we have nowhere. One cannot doubt, as matters stand, that when peace comes the United States will have no hand in the making of terms. Its isolation, in all events, so far as Europe is concerned, will be nearly complete, and the maintenance of not only its own traditional policies in the western hemisphere, but its own national security, will require the utmost naval and military strength of which it is capable."

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING
Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

This bottle, colorless and scrappy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff, that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Keweenaw Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

many women with disfigured complexions never seem to think that they need an occasional cleansing inside as well as outside. Yet neglect of this internal bathing shows itself in spots, pimples, eruptions, as well as in dreadful headaches and biliousness. LETTERS FROM THE FRONT

Sling Plantation, 12th Batt., H. Company, 3rd Brigade Bulford Camp, England.

Dear Sister:— Received your letter today, was glad to know that all the people were well. I am fine and dandy and so are all the rest of the boys. We spent a merry Christmas and had some dinner. We had turkey, goose, cold beef, cold ham, potatoes, turnips, cabbage and Christmas pudding that the Kaiser said he was going to take from us, but failed like all the other he tried to do, but his biggest fall is coming very soon for I guess we are going to make him fall very soon, and he is going to fall so hard he will never get up. The Color Sergeant came in and told us to get ready to move. We all thought we were going to the front, you should of heard the yelling, just like a lot of school kids going to a picnic, but he did not tell us where we were going. But they were sharpening our bayonets, so that is a good sign that we are going to take a tumble out of the Kaiser very soon. Its Berlin or bust with us, and don't expect us back till we get there. You wanted to know something about London. Well, I cannot tell you much about it for I did not see much of it, but what I saw was very nice. I was to the great Wax works and saw the statues of some of the old Kings and Queens which were very natural. I saw the statue of Dr. Grippen, who murdered his wife and was caught at Father Point, Quebec. I might be able to write more about London the next time I write, for I am going there tomorrow for six days, and I am also going to Scarborough to see the damage the Germans did when they were over there and murdered the little children and women, and will tell you about that place too. Well, I have not much news to write, so I must close. Hope you will hear very soon about the Canadians ruttng the run on the Germans. Good bye, from LOUIS GAGNER.

Campbellton, N. B., Jan. 21, 1915.

WHY IS THIS?

A recent despatch from Ottawa gives a list of the various towns named as recruiting centres for the third contingent, and among the many places is found the town of Dalhousie, but no word of Campbellton. Now while we have no desire to detract from the shiretown, we in Campbellton feel aggrieved that a town, the main business town of the county, should be passed over and the recruiting centre sent sixteen miles down a branch line.

It would be hard to find in the province of New Brunswick a town of our size, which has given as many volunteers to the two contingents as we have. From a population of about four thousand, we have sent, if we are correct, one hundred and twenty-seven, including four officers, and most of these volunteers were boys from our own town.

Surely the authorities at Ottawa are not very well posted as to the recruiting places available when they pass over a town which can do this, and put the recruiting centre in a town which did not recruit a dozen men for the two previous contingents. This must be remedied, for it is the wish of the young men in this town to keep up the record they have made in the past, and make a good showing for the third contingent. We trust the militia authorities here will get busy and have the town of Campbellton added to the list of towns for the honor of New Brunswick's share in the next contingent.

A PRECEDENT

The Wall Street Journal thinks the Kaiser's treatment of Belgium has a precedent "in a book which he apparently invokes oftener than he reads." "And the word of the Lord came to Elijah, the Tishbite saying: Arise, go down to meet Ahab, King of Israel, which is in Samaria; behold he is in the vineyard of Naboth, whither he is gone to possess it. And thou shalt speak unto him, saying: Thus saith the Lord, Hast thou killed, and also taken possession? And thou shalt speak unto him saying: Thus saith the Lord, In the place where dogs licked the blood of Naboth shall dogs lick thy blood even thine."

To avoid confusion it should be pointed out that the January thaw is merely the Indian summer of early winter.

A LESSON

Admiral Sturdee, speaking before the British committee, said: "I am proud to see how splendidly our men, with those of France and Russia, are holding their own against superior odds. But it is not only guns and men that win fights nowadays. Great mistakes have been made by business men in England for the sake of economy. They have employed Germans to do the work they should have entrusted to their own countrymen. Germans are cheaper, but among them are paid spies. We have learned a lesson. Where are the great German steamship companies now? When in future a German applies to you for work tell him to go next door."

SOME INACCURACY IN CASUALTY LISTS

Corp. Alexander in Letter Home Relates Remarkable Case From Salisbury Camp

Corporal Fred Alexander in writing to his mother Mrs. A. E. Alexander of Campbellton, tells of a remarkable inaccuracy in the casualty list and warns Canadians against relying implicitly in the published list of deaths appearing in the papers. A case somewhat like the one Corp. Alexander mentions occurred in connection with Col. MeLeod of Fredericton only a few days ago when a Halifax paper published his death and obituary. Corp. Alexander writes in part as follows: "I saw some Canadian papers the other day. They said that half the Canadian Contingent had gone to the front and even gave a list of dead and wounded. I know for a fact that none have left yet (Dec. 27). One of the 'dead ones' sleeps with me in camp and belongs to my Company. The paper had him in the C. A. S. C., so you can't put much faith in the Canadian papers."—Gazette.

FOREST FIRES IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Damage Was Less by Ten Thousand Dollars in the Year 1914

(Moncton Times)

Mr. A. E. O'Leary, chief game warden and provincial fire inspector, in his usual annual comprehensive report says there have been thirty-three forest fires during the past season. Nineteen of these occurred during May and June. From May 24th to June 4th fires raged around St. John. The conclusion, says the report, is obvious, viz., fishermen on the holiday. The same applies all over the province. Accounts for one half, at least, of the forest fires in New Brunswick. During May eleven fires were reported, June eight, July two, August six, September three, and October three.

Total estimated area burned—four thousand, eight hundred and eighty-one acres, 3,345 of which are crown lands. Estimated damage to crown lands, $4,740. About 1,536 acres of private property and granted lands were destroyed at an approximate value of $4,688.

Total cost of fire fighting, of which a small portion was paid by individuals and companies carrying on the lumbering industry in the province, amounting to $1,352.81.

The most destructive fire was that which broke out at Blissfield between Boiestown and Doaktown, on June 11th, destroying a large amount of private property. This conflagration was traced to the property of Wardlaw Wilks, of Blissfield, who was convicted for setting out fires contrary to the law, before Justice Connors at Chatham, and fined.

Fire set out by an American picnic party destroyed the Dominion Fish Hatchery at Rapids de Femure, in Victoria County; about one million fish were lost.

In connection with the report is a summary of the fires which occurred in the province last season, and an estimate of the area damaged, cost of extinguishing, and name of warden reporting same.

TRACTION ENGINES FOR USE IN WOODS

Lack of Snow Causes Serious Situation for Operators.—Cannot Haul Out Cut

Owing to the lack of snow in the woods, where it is about as scarce as in any other section of the country, some lumber operators are being seriously impeded in their winter's work. All the cutting has now been finished and the logs have been yarded up, but the hauling out cannot begin for lack of snow, and in consequence men are coming out of the woods in many instances to wait for the much-needed snow. If this does not come soon the situation will be serious for many operators.

Some traction engines such as the one purchased by the Richards concern would be useful in the woods this winter.

These engines could be manufactured right here if the rights to a suitable type could be secured. An engine that would sell at $2000 to $2500 would be purchased by the big lumber companies in considerable quantities. It is at the present time the war-time nations would take a hundred if they could get them. For use in the woods these engines must not be too heavy nor too expensive and yet they must have plenty of power.—Gazette.

GERMAN WOMAN LOST THREE SONS

Writes to Relatives in Seattle, Giving Details of War Conditions

(St. John Globe)

Mrs. A. E. Macaulay is in receipt of a letter from a sister in Seattle which tells of a letter received by a German family living in that city from the mother in Europe. The old lady reports the loss of three sons in the army of the Kaiser, and says the regular army of Germany had practically been wiped out by the war. The fighting is now being done by boys between the ages of 16 and 21. The old lady's letter presents a dismal picture of conditions in Germany, and suggests that the wearing down process is making good headway.

The Seattle letter further states that the Belgian government has placed contracts there for 10,000 portable houses to provide homes for the homeless of that country.

The war has hit the ostrich trade so hard ostriches are being sold in South Africa for less than single feathers used to bring twenty birds recently selling for $1.25 each. Feathers that formerly sold for $260 a pound bring only $87.50.

DRESS AND AGE (Youth's Companion)

"Suit your wit to your time of life" (Il faut avoir l'esprit de son age), said a clever Frenchwoman. Most of us are glad to have any wit at any time of life. But it is certain that, to some extent, dress and age should be adapted to each other. Without wholly forgetting the lilies of the field, whose wardrobe is no doubt admirable in its untalored simplicity, we are perhaps justified in giving such thought to our raiment as will insure a decent propriety with the progress of years. Above all it is advisable to leave experiments to the age when life itself is an experiment. New fashions, odd vagaries, whims of commission and of omission may be permissible and each winning in those whose fresh and native grace can carry them off. To persons well established in middle age or beyond all is distinctly perilous. Not that we in any way commend carelessness in the dress of age. On the contrary, scrupulous care is required, and too often forgotten. Never say or think that your body is not worth care any longer. Remember that others have to live with you, and that your untidiness means their discomfort. If you brushed and sponged and mended when you were young, do it three times more when you are old. A trim old lady is a charming object. So is a trim old gentleman.

There are people who maintain that as we grow older we should be doubly anxious to be more than neat, to be elegant and finished in every article of our apparel. Perhaps even that is not unwise—at least, if we avoid all suggestion of vanity and foppishness, which are unpleasant in the young, and which in the old are utterly abhorrent.

The great rules for dressing at any age are, first, order and neatness; second, not to give the impression that we consider the husk of more importance than the kernel, the garment than the soul. A thoroughly well-dressed person is one who does not permit his clothes to distract attention one moment, for good or evil, from his character. In fact, whether we will it or not, our characters are certain to be revealed by our clothes. Let us take pains, then, to see that our clothes exhibit what is best in us.

GERMAN WOMAN LOST THREE SONS
Writes to Relatives in Seattle, Giving Details of War Conditions
(Mrs. A. E. Macaulay is in receipt of a letter from a sister in Seattle which tells of a letter received by a German family living in that city from the mother in Europe. The old lady reports the loss of three sons in the army of the Kaiser, and says the regular army of Germany had practically been wiped out by the war. The fighting is now being done by boys between the ages of 16 and 21. The old lady's letter presents a dismal picture of conditions in Germany, and suggests that the wearing down process is making good headway. The Seattle letter further states that the Belgian government has placed contracts there for 10,000 portable houses to provide homes for the homeless of that country. The war has hit the ostrich trade so hard ostriches are being sold in South Africa for less than single feathers used to bring twenty birds recently selling for $1.25 each. Feathers that formerly sold for $260 a pound bring only $87.50.)

Rest assured that the tie that binds the members of the earthly Lodge in the bonds of Friendship, Love and Truth is made still stronger by the fact that our Brother has passed to the Invisible Order that is in Heaven.

Lord Kitchener's declaration that he did not know when the war would stop, but that he did know it would begin in May, is the most momentous and, indeed, the most appalling announcement of the year.

It means that the next four months will be utilized in assembling the strongest forces; bringing forward the heaviest guns; urging the entrance of already well-disposed Allies into the conflict, and such a reign of terror, destruction and death in Europe next Summer, that even the events just passed will form but a prelude.

The declaration, however, is in line with Lord Kitchener's purpose and intention and those of his colleagues in the British Government. He declared some time ago that there was no likelihood of peace within three years, and the fateful limit still has effective lodgement in his mind.

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST RED CROSS

American Society Accused of Being More or Less a Pro-German Agency

Toronto, Jan. 13.—Dr. L. E. Brown-Lardone, of Paris, France, who is in Toronto, preliminary to making an appeal for the hospitals of Northern France, in an interview last night made the startling charge that the Red Cross Society in the United States is neither more nor less than a pro-German agency. He said that although given the nominal connection with the United States through the name of President Woodrow Wilson as honorary president of the organization, the Red Cross Society has for its president Jacob Schiff, a German Jewish banker, and on account of certain revelations in connection with the sailing of the Red Cross ship from America last fall, it has been identified as strongly sympathetic with the German people.

"In the first place," said Dr. Brown-Lardone, speaking to a Press representative, the Red Cross Society in the United States wasted $67,000 in chartering a special ship to carry hospital supplies, which British, Holland and French lines of boats offered to carry charges free."

"Then," he continued, "after the ship had left port a protest from Great Britain and France over the personnel of the crew resulted in her return to New York. The crew was re-organized, and those who left the ship took with them as their personal effects all the chloroform, iodoform and iodine that was contained in the cargo. And these articles were not replaced and no trace of them has ever been found. When the ship resumed its journey, it carried officials and crew about evenly divided between Germans and Americans. It took twenty-seven days for some of the cargo to be delivered in northern France and Belgium, to which countries the supply of hospital materials was destined."

Dr. Lardone further stated that packages intended for British soldiers were given to German soldiers.

INCREASE IN HOME USE OF PULP WOOD

Large Increase in the Manufacture of Pulp in Canadian Mills During the Past Year

Sixty-four pulp mills in Canada report a total consumption, in 1913, of 1,109,034 cords of pulpwood. Nearly an equal amount was exported to the United States in an unmanufactured condition. Thus, for the first time in the history of the industry, more than half of the pulpwood produced in Canada was manufactured into pulp in Canadian pulp-mills.

Quebec leads in the consumption of pulpwood, followed, in the order named, by Ontario, British Columbia, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. As the pulp industry on the Pacific coast is still in its infancy, steady increase in British Columbia may be expected. Over two-thirds of the wood used for pulp was spruce, and one-fourth balsam fir. The percentage of fir used has increased steadily, as the prejudice against this wood has been overcome. Jack-pine is also beginning to be a factor, though still a small one, less than 20,000 cords being reported as manufactured in 1913.

ASSISTING WOOL-GROWERS Sheep-raising Industry to be Further Improved and Developed

The live stock branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture is prepared to offer practical assistance to associations and display of their wool suits for market. Associations, in order to receive aid, must be organized in accordance with the regulations of the branch, and membership is limited to actual owners of sheep. West of Fort William an association must contain at least 3,000 sheep, or sufficient to comprise one carload of wool; east of there, a relative number. The services of expert wool-classifiers, who will take the charge of and perform the grading, classification and preparation of the wool, will be provided.

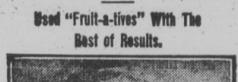

This proposal represents a much more than a mere continuation of the work that has been already been undertaken. It means the introduction of a definite scheme whereby wool producers may be actually assisted in preparing and presenting their wools upon the market in the most acceptable fashion, and thus be in position to enter more directly to the requirements of the market. Moreover, it should prove effective in developing and improving the general status of sheep-raising and in creating an impetus to the production and preparation of an improved grade of wool, and indirectly, a better class of mutton.

British recruiting is quite satisfactory to the War Office, but it is not going to give information of enormous value to the enemy by disclosing the number of recruits, merely to gratify public curiosity. That is not Kitchen's way of doing things.

Bradstreet's says that trade trends are on up grade with movement in distributing channels conservatively steady, rather than rapid.

(From the Gloucester Northern Light)
VENIOT—GAUTREAU

At the Convent Chapel in the Parish of the Holy Family, on Monday morning at seven o'clock, Rt. Rev. W. Varrily celebrated the Nuptial Mass and performed the ceremony when Miss Jennie Gautreau, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Azade Landry, became the bride of Mr. Fred Veniot, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Veniot.

The bride, one of our most popular girls, having since her arrival in Bathurst, endeared herself to all who have the pleasure of knowing her, looked charming in a tailored suit of navy cloth, with most becoming hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Mr. P. J. Veniot and Mr. Azade Landry acted as witnesses.

After the ceremony a most elaborate wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Azade Landry, which had been for the occasion most tastefully decorated. The happy young couple left on the local and will spend a week of their honeymoon in St. John and other points of interest in the Province. They will reside in Bathurst where they both have hosts of well-wishers.

DOUCET—ARSENEAU

A pretty wedding took place at the Church of the Sacred Heart, which was tastefully decorated, at seven o'clock on Monday morning, when at a Nuptial Mass celebrated by Rev. Father Wheten, Miss Artimeuse Arseneau, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Arseneau, became the wife of Mr. George A. Doucet, son of Mrs. Alex. Doucet. The bride, who was attired in a charming costume of navy velvet, looked very pretty. She wore a handsome set of mink furs, the gift of the groom, and a hat also of mink, trimmed with navy velvet. She was attended by Miss Maritina Doucet, sister of the groom, who wore a very charming suit of navy broadcloth, with hat to match. Mr. Lawrence Des-Roches was groomsman. After the ceremony a very dainty breakfast was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Jos. Thibideau, of which immediate relatives were present. Mr. and Mrs. Doucet, left on the accommodation for a trip to St. John and Boston. On their return they will reside in Bathurst. Mr. Doucet is a valued employee of the Gloucester Lumber Co. and both he and his bride are very popular. They received many valuable and beautiful gifts.
