The Democratic Convention is at work in Chicago. There, the "silverites" are on top, and have, by a twothirds majority, adopted the silver idea as opposed to the gold idea. Into the abstract merits of that discussion it is not necessary to go at this moment. Indeed, it is no easy question, and it must be confessed that if "the gold men' appear to have on their side the preponderance of what seems to be the most enlighened public opinion, there are not wanting men of light and leading on the side of "the silver men."

As to what the United States should do, under present circumstances, there is no reasonable question. Our neighbors might get along with silver at the proportions of value suggested, were their business relations only among themselves. But they have business relations with the outside world, and must therefore use a dollar of such sort and value as will be accepted as one hundred cents in any part of the globe. This necessity is well pointed out by the Republican candidate for the Vice-Presidency, Mr. Hobart, who says:

"Gold is the one standard of value among all enlightened commercial naions. All financial transactions of whatever character, all business enterprises, all individual or corporate investments are adjusted to it. An honest dollar, worth 100 cents any-where, cannot be coined out of 53 cents' worth of silver, plus a legisla tive flat. Such a debasement of our calculable loss, appalling disaster, and national dishonor.

"It is a fundamental principle in coinage, recognized and followed by all the statesmen of America in the past and never yet safely departed from, that there can only be one basis upon which gold and silver may be concurrently coined as money, and that basis is equality; not in weight, but in the commercial value of the metal contained in the respective coins. This commercial value is fixed by the markets of the world, with which the great interests of our country are necessarily connected by innumerable business ties, which cannot be severed or ignored. Great and selfreliant as our country is, it is great

> A word as to the probable effect of the Democratio Convention, in not only adopting the silver view but in passing resolutions condemning the existing Democratic Administration of President Cleveland. To outsiders it looks as if the Democratic party had committed suicide in favor of the wild-eyed Populists. The Republicans will generally rally to their old party music, and are likely to be reinforced by many sound money Democrats. The New York Herald says the silver movement is as dangerous an attack on the integrity and credit of the country as was the firing on Fort Sumter in 1861, and is as likely to be met and overcome at the ballot box by a union of patriotic men without regard to previous party affiliations. A vigorous campaign of education will take place between this time and November. While the result of a general election anywhere can never be predicted with certainty, chances at present appear to favor the Republican candidates, and the view so tersely enunciated by Vice-Presidential Candidate Hobart, that "an honest dollar, worth one hundred cents everywhere, cannot be coined out of fifty-three cents worth of silver plus a legislative flat."

RON AND LEAD PIPE, STEAM AND Yokohama. The advices are to June 2, and show that the disaster was probably the most fearful of modern times. The death list has been greatly augmented since last advices, and will undoubtedly go far beyond 50,000. The distress among the survivors of the terrible visitation is appalling. Thousands of injured are dying from lack of medical assistance, and many are upon the verge of starvation, subsisting on fish washed ashore by the waves, and eating them raw, having no cooking apparatus. The wave originated not far from the Japanese coast, and appears to have visited an extent of over 300 miles of the coast line. Even in Hokkaido it wrought destruction. The most southerly limit of its ravages appears to have been a little north of the famous Archipelago of Matzushima. Had the wave impinged upon the cost south of Kincasan it would have worked ruin among the towns and villages of this region-Ishinomaki, Shieogam, Nobiru and others-but it missed the promontory and began its devastation with the villages of Onangawa and Okachi, situated across the neck of the penin-

Speculations as to the Personnel of the New Ministry.

Enthusiastic Welcome of the Liberal Chief in the Capital City.

Ottawa, July 10.-Hon. David Mills and Mr. Wm. Paterson. Brantford, arrived this morning, and early in the night by a vote of 153 to 32. day were in conference with the new Premier. It is believed that both of these gentlemen will be in the Cabinet. It is generally understood that Sir Oliver Mowat will be Minister of Justice, and that Sir Richard Cartwright will be the other representative in the Cabinet from Western Ontario. Mr. Edgar, it is said, will be Speaker of the House, and Mr. Brodeur, Deputy-Speaker. Senator Pelletier is likely to be Speaker of the Senate. Another possible Ontario Minister is Mr. Mulock, M.P. The Ministers from the other Provinces are thus put down by a speculator on probabilities: Quebec-Hon. Mr. Laurier, Mr. Tarte, Mr. Fisher and Mr. Geoffrion. Nova Scotia-Premier Fielding and

PREMIER LAURIER'S (ARRIVAL. Mr. Laurier arrived here last evening by the regular Canada Atlantic express at 8:30, in response to the summons of his Excellency, who is without an adviser. He was accompanied by Messrs. Borden, M.P., Sutherland, M.P., S. Fisher, M.P., and Tarte, ex-M.P. Lr. W. C. Edwards, M.P., Mr. N. A. Belcourt, M.P., and Mr. Charles Murphy, president of the Federation of Young Liberal Clubs, met the leader en route, and came on with him. Before the train stopped the enthusiasm of the crowd, which numbered over 2,000, broke out in cheers. No demonstration or reception was arranged, but the people seemed bound to greet the distinguished statesman at the first opportunity. When he appeared on the platform of the parlor car a great cheer went up, and the crowd surged back and forth, as those behind pressed forward to catch a glimpse of the Premier-elect, while those in front tried to keep their places. Four or five volunteers tried to force a passage through to the carriages in waiting, but it was impossible, and police were present. lack of arrangements was due to the fact that the hour of Mr. Laurier's ar-ival was not generally known, and only about 5 o'clock did it become noised about. At last the carriages were reached, and Mr. Laurier drove away amid continuous cheering. At the Russell House a large crowd had gathered, and as Mr. Laurier alighted oud cheers were given in his honor. thousand people waited in front of the hotel in the hope that Mr. Laurier would appear on the balcony, but he did not deem it compatible with his duty towards his Excellency to say anything in public. He is looking and feeling well, and evidently quite prepared for the task before him. A bundle of letters and telegrams were laid on his table in room 65, and he was immediately immersed in business. At 10:30 Capt. Sinclair, his Excelency's secretary, called on Mr. Laurer, and intimated that the Governor-General would see him this morning at 11, and at that hour today the Civic Honors, London, July 9.-The march past at Aldershot was one of the most precise and smart ever held on that field. The Americans cheered lustily and saluted the regimental ensigns as they passed, and it was remarked that many of the Ancients, instead of the customary military salute, took off their helmets. The Ancients especially cheered the King's Royal Rifles, otherwise the Rifle Corps, which in 1755 was known as the American Regiment, and was largely drawn from Maryland and Pennsylvania. They fought at Louisburg, Cape Breton, at the capture of Quebec in 1759, and since then in nearly every part of the world. He dwelt upon the peaceful relations subsisting on the American-Canadian boundary century, and begged the statesmen of Europe to consider the impressive fact that peace was preserved without armed men and armed ships. How was it done? It was what brought them together now, not merely touching hands, but touching them in simple good faith. The only possible danger was the danger of misunderstanding. Mr. Bayard asked if he did not voice the spirit and feelings of the Americans when he declared that the one thing needful was mutual understanding, and was answered with loud cries of "Yes." Continuing, he said everything ought to be plain sailing if high thoughts were wedded to high intent. The debts of nations, he added, ought to be discharged in good faith. The Hamilton Cricket Club start on their western tour on Friday, playing at London, Chatham and Detroit. Following are the team: A. Gillespie (captain), F. R. Martin, J. L. Counsell, D'Arcy Martin, C. W. Dean, H. S. Southam, R. W. White, R. S. Morris, Hendrie Leggatt, John Crerar and -

LONDON ASYLUM VS. TORONTO. A cricket match was played on the beautiful crease of the Asylum be-tween teams representing the Toronto Cricket Club and the London Asylum. The Toronto club winning the toss, elected to bat, and the Asylum team took the field in a drizzling rain. The Asylum club were fortunate, under the circumstances, in disposing of their opponents for a score of 107. The skies had now cleared up, and the wicket became faster. The first inning of the Asylum produced 157 runs, or 50 runs to the good. The Toronto team, on going to bat the second time, scored 109 runs for eight wickets, when stumps were drawn to allow of the Toronto team catching the train west to Chatham. The match, therefore, was decided at the control of the train west to Chatham. The match, therefore, was decided at the control of the the train west to Chatham. CROPS IN ONTARIO.

A Fair Outlook in the Western Part of the Province. The Ontario Meteorological Department supplies the following report on Excepting, perhaps, the unusually large amount of sunshine, which has forced vegetation considerably, the weather has been about normal. In some portions of the Province, more especially from the western shore of Lake Ontario west-northwest to Lake Huron, crops have been much affected by drought, and although in other districts heavy thunderstorms have been experienced, the land has not benefited much, owing to a large portion of the water flowing off quickly. In many districts the hay crop is reported as being very light, but this is doubtless owing principally to the deficiency of rain in April and May. In counties bordering on the Georgian Bay, more especially in the Indian Peninsula, much damage has been done to crops by swarms of grasshoppers. Following is a summary of reports received: Grey and Bruce-Spring crops generally look very well in these counties, excepting where damaged by grass-hoppers. Hay and fall wheat are for the most part light. Huron and directly eastward to Dur-ham and including Wentworth and Lincoln—With the exception of a few places in this district the drought has been almost continuous, and while most spring crops are looking fair, hay is generally light; so also is fall wheat in many localities. Excepting peaches fruit looks well, and the crop picked so far has been abundant, Lambton, Middlesex, Oxford, Bruce and counties bordering on Lake Erie-Although more rain has fallen on the greater portion of this district, the condition of crops is much the same as in the district last mentioned, hay and fall wheat being slightly better.

In Essex the harvesting of fall wheat and rye has commenced. Muskoka, Simcoe, Victoria, North-umberland and counties eastward—All farm crops in these counties now promise well, excepting hay, which, Canada's Relations to the Mother Country other portions of the Province, will doubtless turn out a short crop. Reports of damage by grasshoppers come from North Simcoe, Peterboro and Renfrew.

Proposal to Suspend Silver Coinage if Parity is Not Maintained.

cenes of the Wildest Enthusiasm Follow Bryan's Defense of the Silver

Chicago, July 10 .- The crowds were early in motion yesterday towards the Coliseum, and by ten o'clock the hall was packed with 20,000 people. The uppermost topic in the mouths of all was what would the gold men do when the silver platform had been passed. It was known that many individual delegates from New York, Pennsylvania and other Eastern States had expressed the determination to leave the convention if the silver men nominated, although acting under the advice of Hill, Whitney and others, it had been resolved that there would be Washington, July 10.-The biggest no bolt of gold men in a body or as A Governor-General's Duty. A dispatch from Ottawa to the Toronto Telegram lets in some new light on the strained relations that existed between the Governor-General and Sir Charles Tupper prior to the resignation of the defeated Ministry.

The correspondent says: "I had a few president of the Council, this forenoon, and he was not pleased at the turn things have taken, and made no concealment of his feelings. 'Practically, said he, 'the Government was dis missed. It might have been necessary for them to spend a month or two after the election in cleaning up back business. His Excellency has no official knowledge that the Tupper Administration has been defeated. He has declined to sign certain orders in council, although he was asked to do so by the Premier. Finding that Lord Aberdeen would not accept his advice, Sir Charles resigned. No other course was open to him. It is evident that the days of Metcalfe have come again. "Every student of Canadian history," continues the correspondent, "will see in that last sentence a rather severe charge against the Governor-General. I have had additional confirmation that Sir Charles insisted that Lord Aberdeen should not be the arbiter as to which orders in council should be signed and which should not. The Governor-General desired to exercise his own discretion in signing the appointive orders. He declined to sign those reappointing Angers and Des-jardins to the Senate. It is clear that, in view of his Excellency's attitude, no course other than resigning remained open to Sir Charles. The ex-Premier did not fear to point out that Governor-General would be tantamount to a dismissal of the Ministry. Sir Charles further intimated that he ad some important business to lay before the Cabinet, and that this also deen continued in the course that he would assist in making no appointments to office. Even in the he cases of Angers and Desjardins, was obdurate. It was then that Charles arose and begged leave to press the acceptance of his resignation. He had offered to resign earlier in the day. Lord Aberdeen had asked him to see the Cabinet before making it final, but at the second time of asking it was accepted."

Neither from this statement, nor from explanations made in other quarters, does it appear that Lord Aberdeen exceeded his rights as a constitutional ruler. The duty of a Governor-General is clearly laid down by Todd, the acknowledged authority on the subject, in these terms:

"A constRutional governor is bound to receive as his advisers and Ministers the acknowledged leaders of that party in the State which is able for the time being to command the confidence of a majority in the assembly; or, in the last resort, of the people, as expressed on appeal through their representatives in the local Par-

Now, it was known to the Governor-General, as well as to his advisers, that Sir Charles Tupper and his associates had ceased to command the confidence of a majority in the country. Under those circumstances, the duty of the Governor-General was plain. On this head, we quote again from Todd:

"While, as a general rule, a constitutional governor would naturally defer to the voice of his Ministers so long as they continue to possess the confidence of the popular chamber, and are able to administer public affairs with the well understood wishes of the people, as expressed through their representatives, if at any time he should see fit to doubt the wisdom or the legality of the advice tendered to him, or should question the motives which have actuated his advisers, on any particular occasion-so as to lead him to the conviction that their advice has been prompted by corrupt, partisan or other unworthy motives, and not by a regard to the honor of the Crown, or the welfare and advancement of the community at large-the Governor is entitled to have recourse to the power reserved to him in the royal instructions, and to withhold his assent from such advice. Under these circumstances, he would suitably endeavor, in the first instance, by his Ministers to modify or abandon a policy or proceeding which he was anable to approve. But if his remonstances should prove unavailing, the Bovernor is competent to require resignation of his Ministers or to dismiss them from office, and to call to his counsels a new administration.

The circumstances under which a governor would deem it discreet and advisable to have recourse to his re-served right of dismissing a Ministry

Until it is proved to the contrary, we shall continue to believe that Lord Aberdeen, in thwarting Sir Charles Tupper's extraordinary pretensions, acted in a perfectly constitutional manner, and took a course which will not only have the indorsation of the new Parliament, soon to assemble, but

What has now happened is that Lord Aberdeen has called in Hon. Wilfrid Laurier to form a new Ministry. But before he did so, his Excellency made the Premier-elect fully cognizant of the stand which he had taken in the dispute with the late Ministry. It then became Mr. Laurier's duty to assume responsibility for acts of the Governor-General, immediately prior to his selection as chief adviser of his Excellency, as well as afterwards, for "it is an undoubted principle of English law that no prerogative of the Crown can be constitutionally exercised unless some Minister of State is ready to assume responsibility for the same." If in the new Parliament the Conservative Opposition challenges the wisdom of the course pursued by his Excellency. and the vote is against it. the matter ends. It cannot be appealed to any other tribunal. "In all disputes between a governor and his advisers the final verdict of the people in Parwords with Hon. A. R. Angers, ex- liament must be accepted as conclusive."

A Mysterious Mission.

Messrs. Haggart and Montague, two members of the late Dominion Govnounced their intention to take up a collection to maintain the new Opposition, have left for New York.

correspondents believe it something to do with the health of Dr. Montague, which is represented as far from satisfactory. Others say it has to do with the celebrated anonymous letters, which Mr. Clarke Wallace, an associate Minister, practically accused Dr. Montague of writing, on the evidence of a New York expert. Dr. Montague pledged himself many months ago to prosecute Mr. Clarke Wallace for making this accusation, continued refusal on the part of the It is known that the last-named re tained the most noted counsel in the country to defend himself, but up till new Dr. Montague has failed to take must be relinquished, if Lord Aber- any steps to bring his antagonist to had selected. Chamberlain's Disclaimer.

Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, contradicts the report, circulated in Canada, that he had interfered in the domestic affairs of Canada, in the interests of the defeated Tupper Administration. This unequivocal denial will be received with much satisfaction by the people of Canada generally. Canadians can be trusted to manage their own affairs in a constitutional manner, and they would never tolerate interference from Downing street. No doubt, the minds of British statesmen have in many ways been wrongfully influenced against the Liberals of Canada, during the regimthat has just collapsed, and most unfair means have been adopted to boom Canadian Conservative leaders in Great Britain. The sooner steps are taken to provide a remedy against a repetition of such tactics, the better.

There has been a moderate volume of trade at Toronto this week. Orders were chiefly of a hand-to-mouth character for seasonable goods, and prospects are fair. The feeling with regard to the future has improved somewhat, and there is apparently less uncertainty than a week ago. Harvest-ing winter wheat is in full swing in the Niagara and Lake Erie districts. The grain is of first-class quality, but the yield light. The spring crops, both north and west, look remarkably well. Barley, oats and peas are all doing well. Prices of the leading staples are generally unchanged. The money market is quiet, with the rates unchanged. Call loans are quoted here at 5 1-2, and the best commercial pa-per is discounted at 6 to 6 1-2 per cent. parts to healthy condition. Read this: "As an act of justice and for the benefit of other mothers who may have afflicted children, I write this. About the first of February, 1892, my daughter Zola, then three years old, contracted sore eyes of the worst form and in a few weeks was entirely blind, being unable to tolerate light of any kind. She suffered and cried until I was almost heartbroken. The best eye specialist in the county treated her for months, but the became worse. Then I took her to a specialist in Indianapolis, who said he could de nothing. I came away with a heavy heart. I met my father's physician, Dr. Berryman, who examined Zola's eyes, and told me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I began to give it as directed and wash her eyes with warm water. Soon I began to notice improvement, and now, having given the child over a half dozen bottles, her eyes are greatly improved and she can see as well as any one. She is five years of age, and goes to school. When she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, she had to eat her meals in a darkened room, but now

DIED AFTER SEEING A SNAKE.

An 8-Year Old Boy's Fright While He Was Gathering Strawberries.

Pearl River, N. J., July 9.—Eight-year-old Frederick W. Rittenmeyer went strawberrying ten days ago. While he and his companions were on a hillside he gave a shriek and then ran screaming down the hill. Two of his companions say they saw a large blacksnake glide away from the spot where he had been kneeling when he uttered the cry. The boy was taken to his home, and Dr. Bogert, of Spring Valley, N. Y., attributed the convulsions to stomach trouble and treated the patient accordingly. The boy grew Friday. worse, the convulsions increasing in violence, while his body was much road, South London, who has been in swollen. At intervals between the jail on remand for the past week, spasms he uttered loud shricks, but he gradually lost consciousness, and Lynch sat in the court apparently for many hours before death lay in a comatose state.

He was declared dead on Tuesday night, and preparations were made for interment, when a woman who was watching with the body expressed the belief that the boy was not dead. This was communicated to the mother, who is a widow, and the funeral was deferred until yesterday, when the burial

Results of School Examinations Still

Preparations for children's day at Springbank are going ahead with a rush, and it is expected that Monday will be one of the busiest days in the history of the Springbank line. The news of the 5-cent return trip fare has spread all over the city, and the applications of little tots to their parents for the necessary nickels will in all probability cause a temporary shortage in the circulation of small

The children are not the only ones who will profit by the reduced fare Monday. The adult fare has been fixed for the day at 10 cents, and this will enable many a tired parent or older member of the family to take the trip with the little ones.

A Rare Chance for the Juveniles-

Five Bicyclists Ante Up $1 for Breach of the Law-One Drunk Goes Down.

Valentine Yeo, the youthful bicycle thief, was not sentenced this morning, but remained for another week. Mr. Love, appearing for the prisoner, submitted that the boy had pleaded guilty, and thought the crown should take into consideration the fact that the bicycle had been turned over by the boy's father, or otherwise it might never have been discovered.

The Police Magistrate-How does the conduct of the father mitigate the actions of the son?

Mr. Love-The boy has been in jail and has been punished. He feels his position, and promises never to do the like again.

Mrs. McTaggart, who lives across the road, had been annoyed by the woman's foul tongue, and had been accused the same as Mrs. Bruce. She confirmed the evidence of Mrs. Bruce.

She also thought the woman insane. The magistrate committed the woman for trial. Albert Carpenter, Kenneth Andras, Geo. N. Sayers, Chas. Smith and W. J. Cox were all charged with breach of the bylaw governing bicycling. Mr. Sayers said he was returning

NO GOOD AND TIRED. Nellie Bowhay, a Miss Rye Importation, Committed Suicide-

Oshawa, July 10 .- Mr. and Mrs. Hogg, who reside on the Thomas Weston farm, lot 12, con. 6, Mariposa, about two miles northwest of the village, went to visit friends near Cannington, leaving a domestic, Miss Nellie Bowhay, aged about 20-one of a number of girls brought to Canada by Miss Rye, some years ago—in charge of the house. When they returned in the house. evening they found the unfortunate girl lying on the floor, suffering terribly. Dr. Hall, of Little Britain, was sent for, and when he arrived the girl was in a comatose state, and it was with difficulty she could be aroused. In answer to the doctor she stated that she had taken a large dose of salts, but the symptoms did not indicate that the salts had been used. The doctor pressed her to give a clear answer as to the medicine she had really taken, and she confessed she had taken powdered saltpetre, which was kept in the cupboard with the salts. When asked why she had done so, she replied that she wished to end her life, as she was no good and tired of living. She died about 12:30 ____ same night.

THE WHEEL.

COOPER AND SANGER MATCHED. Battle Creek, Mich., July 9 .- Tom Cooper, of Detroit, the crack of the L. A. W. circuit, and Walter Sanger, of Milwaukee, his most formidable op-ponent, were matched here yesterday for $500 a side and the biggest purse offered for a race at one mile, best two in three heats. A number of backers of the big Milwaukean were on hand with large wagers that their man can show his rear wheel to the speedy Detroit boy. The managers of Cooper and Sanger tonight decided to accept the bid of the Toronto Ferry Race Association, of Toronto, for the match race between the rival claimants of the American championship. The race will take place at Hanlan's Point, near Toronto, on Tuesday, July 21, probably in the evening. The size of the purse is not given out, but it is understood to be the largest ever competed for by bicyclists on this continent.

BICYCLE BRAKES.

The invention of the safety bicycle of today, to replace the old high wheel, was a great achievement. The invention of pneumatic tires, a substitute for hard tires, was a great achievement. A score of other inventions for the wheel have been likewise great, but, for the most part, they have been aimed more especially at beautifying and lightening the wheel and increasing the aesthetic delight and corporeal comfort for the rider. Now the public at large is in a fair way of receiving its share of the inventors' considera-tion, for these geniuses are sitting up nights and revolving in their minds the problem of the bicycle brake. The dreadful accidents which have occurred to cyclists and pedestrians this year for the want of brakes have served as a valuable lesson to many wheelmen previously benighted. Many who a short time ago opposed the brake as useless, awkward or dangerous, we believe think better of it, and some have proved their conversion by having brakes attached to their wheels. Beginners find that the art of backpedaling loses much of its charm when it is practiced at the expense of a sprained ankle, a broken arm, or even a fatal injury.

Last February, when the New York aldermen were considering the resolution compelling brakes, a large number of wheelmen regarded it as a onesided proposition in the public's bespicable chance. surely show great strides in perfect- held at San Francisco. ing the brake. In short, if various statements of inventors may be relied on, wheels of the '97 model will be fitted with brakes which, in point of lightness, style and efficiency, will warrant their use by every cyclist in tric Oil—a pulmonic of acknowledged the land. For the sake of all concerneficacy. It cures soreness and lamethe land. For the sake of all concerned, we hope the promise will come true.—New York Sun.

SPOKES. "Cyclomania" is the latest and catchiest word to describe the bicycle craze. According to Land and Water, as English publication, "For weeks past it has been impossible to get a bicycle or even civil treatment from any of the English houses. Prices rose, and some of the worst trash Birmingham ever produced was put on the market. The Americans have opened a vigorous campaign, and one new arrival advertises a consignment of 1,000 machines, offers to supply anything required within fourteen days, and promises that there shall be no waiting for machines to be built. In price and finish the American wheels are quite on a par with our best, and in weight they cut us dreadfully.

It is estimated that there are at least 7,000 new wheelmen and wheel-

women in Toronto this year. CRICKET

London, July 10 .- At Lords' cricket grounds today the annual cricket match between Eton and Harrow was commenced in oppressive weather. At lunch time Eton had scored 206 runs for three wickets.

A cricket match between the first and second elevens of the Wolselev Barracks Cricket Club was played on Carling's Heights yesterday. For the winning team Sergt. This will make Toronto the headquarters of the line in Ontario, and will result in a reduction of the staffs at London and Allendale.

MAY CROSS THE BRIDGE. Manager Carr, of the street railway Company, returned from Toronto last evening and met the special committee appointed by the County Council to deal with the Dundas street bridge matter. This committee consisted of James Gilmour, M.P.-elect (chairman), James Gilmour, M.P.-elect (chairman), Samuel McLeod, Robt. Dreaney, Henry Hardy, C. C. Hodgins, Warden Corbett and Engineer Talbot. As a result of the meeting the committee granted MONTREAL.

Montreal, July 9.—The receipts at the eastern abattoir today were slightly below the average, although there was a fair demand on the part of local dealers. There were some inquiries for export, but not much business was done on that account. The receipts and prices were as follows: Cattle, 450 at 2c to 3½c per lb, live weight; 450 calves, at $7 to $8; 500 sheep and lambs; sheep at 3c to 6c, and lambs at 2c to 3½c. and build the bridge. The question of satisfactory approaches affects three municipalities—London, London West and Middlesex county. The cost of these approaches will have to be borne jointly, and this is the only matter that remains to be adjusted.

Complaints That the Fair Riders Break the Law With Greater Frequency Than Men.

Chief of Police Williams has been compelled from time to time to issue summonses for breaches of the bylaw governing the riding of bicycles. These, so far this season, have totalled up to 67, and have been entirely confined to men and boys, but a change of programme is in store unless the lady cyclists pay more attention to the law. Complaints have been laid by a number of citizens from time to time ride on the sidewalks, and the scorching they do in the park. A member of the London Club this morning thought there were many fair riders, of course, not affiliated with the club, who traveled at a rate in the park exceeding tumes, big sleeves, etc., worn by these passable when they get on to steer clear of a pool of water.

"I have never considered my own safety in coming or going through these hills. I have never thought of danger from man when I felt that I was obeying the behests of the great Jehovah. Didst think that I dreaded thee or thy bandits? Why should I flee, I who never feared the face of mortal man?"

Bouton waved his hand and half turned on his heel. "I shall go," said the Prophet solemnly. "I can be of no use at present to the oppressed. I shall go, Bouton, but I will return, and when I come within reach of your people's fire you will be within the reach of this." He patted the long weapon resting in the hollow of his arm and continued: "For every indignity you offer to the people now in thy power a life will be taken." The Prophet stepped back, and kept stepping back until he was over the corral wall and lost in the darkness.

"Let him go," said Bouton, with a "Let him go and rave to the rocks and trees, as is his habit. But I tion had set in, he was inclined, as is command you, men, if he ever comes within reach again, shoot him down as you would a wolf."

"I beg your pardon, but it has been decided not to subject yourself and your sister to the trials and inconveniences of a return. You remain in our charge for the present."

Without waiting to hear her comment on this, Bouton turned and walked hurriedly away. As he neared the fire he saw the men under Font Robb crowding around a prostrate form. He knew that the man on the ground was Henry Kyle, and in his heart he hoped might find him dead. In this hope he was disappointed. Skilled in the rude remedies of that land. Font Robb has assured himself before carrying the wounded man back that no bones were broken and that he still breathed. "And the brother—Howard?"
"He escaped, I believe," said Bouton. After the women had ceased their wailing and the children their sobbing, Tom Bliss and his brother Sim drew apart and congratulated themselves on of Dr. Blanchard. Howard they regarded as already dead, and they imagined themselves the guardians of Rell. Coper, Ald. O'Meara and Clerk Weldon estate in Virginia. But their conversation was interrupted by Bouton, whom they did not dream to be within hearing. But he suddenly appeared and said: "Of course, you are shrewd as your father, who has charge of the Weldon estate on the Great Kanawha," just as if he were talking about a subject in which he was but little interested. Tom Bliss straightened upon hearing this, and looked into Bouton's mocking black eyes until his own fell under their unflinching gaze. In that brief time he saw this man had discovered his secret, no doubt from hearing conversations between himself and Sim, for which he mentally then and there cursed himself and his brother. But from what Bouton said he inferred that he knew more than he could have overheard, and he determined to draw him out. To do this he knew that genuine candor was necessary, for he could not deceive a man as well versed in all the tricks of villainy as himself. Tom had inherited quickness of thought and shrewdness from three generations of backwoods lawyers, to whom the term "shyster," though deserved, had not yet been applied. He

In the Case of a Babe's Death-The Parents Are Christian Scientists. Hamilton, July 10 .- A crown inquiry has been commenced in connection with the death of an eight-months-old son of Mr. H. J. Embury, No. 113 Hughson street south. The parents of the deceased are members of the Christian Scientists' body and believe in divine healing; they do not believe in human agencies or medicine. When the child took sick last week they called in Mr. C. E. Wilson, James street, south, who is known as a "faith cure doctor," and other persons of the same faith in the city. According to Mr. Embury, the child was given several "treatments," which are simply prayer meetings. The child had trouble with its teeth, and had diarrhoea. No medicine was given, and on Tuesday evening early death came to its relief. Dr. Farewell, who gave a certificate so that the shild could be buried, con-cluded it had had bowel complaint, and stated so on the certificate. At the same time he told the parents he thought they had acted foolishly in not getting a medical doctor to treat

The Board of Works last night decided to amend the existing bylaw recided to amend the existing bylaw respecting the speeding of bicycles on the street, so that the chief can sumbly falling off his wagon.

There was a mild renewal of the difficulty over the removal of the engineer's office down stairs, but none of the Marquis of Queensbury rules were infringed. Ald. Parnell presided over the success of their mission. They had the meeting with his usual tact, and now no doubt of being able to get rid the members present included Mayor Little, Ald. Cooper, Ald. Dreaney, Ald.

STONE CRUSHING.

The engineer wrote stating that it would be necessary to put the stone crusher to work for the construction of the Dufferin avenue macadam roadway between Waterloo and Wellington streets.

"When you say macadam, do you mean to make a thorough macadam, or just a veneer, like you have been doing?' asked Ald. Pritchard. "A thorough macadam road," ansswered Ald. Parnell. Engineer Graydon was called in, and he gave a detailed description of the proposed roadway, from the excavation to the crown. "That is what I call a proper mac-adam," said Ald. Pritchard. Engineer Graydon told the committee that he had in view a lot at the corner of Thames and King streets, where the stone could be crushed. Ald. O'Meara objected to the cost of transporting the stone.

Engineer Graydon said the holidays were now on, and perhaps the stone crusher could be placed in the Collegiate Institute yard. Ald. Pritchard thought the people would raise a little rebellion if this was done. He hinted also that the noise might interfere with the quiet of the King street school.

Finally the question was left to the chairman and the engineer to secure a suitable site

SPEED OF BICYCLES. Ald. Parnell then stated that the fied with the indiscriminate rate of speed with which bicyclists rounded the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets. To obviate this, an amend-ment to clause 22 of bylaw 760 was read. This bylaw regulates the speed of all vehicles upon the streets and crossings, and the amendment included bicycles among the restrictions. Ald. Cooper asked whether anybody and been hurt by bicyclists, and asserted that if the chief of police would look after other things instead of bi-cycles he would be doing a good thing. "I saw a man knocked over the other night," said Ald. Dreaney.

"It is time the brakes were put on," said Ald. Pritchard. "People who ride bicycles fast do a great deal more harm to themselves and their machines than to anybody else," said Ald. O'Meara. He further said that he would not restrict a man or woman who had only an hour for dinner, and from personal observation he could say that bicyclists, as a rule, were very careful in crossing the of Dundas and Richmond corner streets. The mayor said that the chief desired the same regulation as was in force in Toronto, so that when a flagrant case of reckless riding came under his notice the law could be enforced. Ald. Cooper complanied that many inoffensive citizens would be summoned to the Police Court if the law was enforced, and also accused the chief of lobbying against his (Ald. Cooper's) own recent amendment to the bylaw.

Ald. Pritchard moved that the amendment pass. Ald. Dreaney moved in amendment that the speed be restricted to five miles an hour. Ald. O'Meara moved that the rate of speed be eight miles. He said that when a man going five miles an nour slowed up at crossings he (Ald. O'Meara) could walk backwards as quickly. Ald. Cooper argued that no rider could pedal safely at five miles an

CASTORIA

COTHERS, Do You Know that Paregorie, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

for Infants and Children.

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons! Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons? Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed? Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined? Do You Knew that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word

Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense? Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless? Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 canta prone cent a does 9

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest !

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts. The fac-simile Chat H. Hetchers wrapper.

It was decided to call for tenders for 800 tons of lump and 400 tons of hard coal for the schools. Some tons of hard coal for the schools. Some necessary work in connection with the schools was ordered to be done by the janitors, and a special committee was formed to report on the best method of increasing the closet accommodation at several of the schools. The members present were: Chairman Hunt, Trustees Bayly, Wilkins, Buchner, An-derson and Secretary McElheran.

LOCAL LEGAL In the case of Ferguson vs. Dinning, a point of some importance to local practitioners was decided by Hon. Mr. Justice Rose at Toronto yesterday, the matter being argued at the weekly sittings held here on June 27, and judgment reserved. The action was for a partnership account, the defendant denying the partnership. The master found in favor of the plaintiff, master found in favor of the plaintiff, and on appeal to the Divisional Court the master's finding as to the evidence of the partnership was upheld, but the amount found for the plaintiff was reduced to $52. Upon motion before Hon. Chief Justice Armour, upon the master's report, judgment was given for the plaintiff for the sum of $52 and costs. Upon the taxation of costs the costs. Upon the taxation of costs the defendant objected to the costs being taxed in the High Court scale, contending that according to sub-section 1, rule 1,219, plaintiff was only entitled to tax costs upon the lower, or County morrow.

Lambeth, July 8.—Some time ago the announcement that a bear was prowling about this vicinity startled the timid ones of this quiet town. Mr. James Routledge was the first to see the animal. He discovered him in his oatfield and at once gave the alarm, and the local sports turned out to have some show in the spoil. But it was in vain. Bruin had made good his escape, and although some of the more ardent of his followers continued the search far into the following Sunday he could not be found. The sports returned, and the excitement soon died out. But last Friday night the bear was again seen. This time he was in the village, and was seen by several in front of Hall's Hotel. e spent the night in Dr. Routledge's back yard, and was seen by the doctor himself. The animal attacked Montreal. Mr. H. Poole and R. Flawn had, perhaps, the narrowest escape of all. These two well-*

The presence of the bear being so fully established, it was decided to secure him, if possible. It was thought best to get help from the city. A messenger was accordingly dispatched, and Bailiff Burns and Auctioneer Porter were sson in the village, armed at all points, and eager for the exciting chase. The hounds were let loose, and following cent soon brought the company to a brush heap in a boggy swale, on the farm of Mr. R. Davey. This was clearly the lair of the bear, and the animal was surely at bay. The company formed themselves in a circle around the brush heap, the dogs meanwhile keeping up an incessant barking. An occasional growl was heard from within. The excitement was intense. The doughty bailiff exhorted his men to be calm. The glaring eyes of the monster appeared. The bailiff was about to fire, but reserved. Suddenly from an unguarded point, out rushed the infuriated animal, a growling feroclous bear. No. a familiar snorting, grunting, porker, commonly called a sow. The bailiff dropped insensible to the ground.
