Mayor Says He Will Order Suspension of Street Car Service---Will of Aged Recluse Found Tacked to Chest---Hold Municipal Elections First Week in September Says City Clerk---Deputation Threatened Cabinet Declares Graham.

WILL OF RECLUSE, DISPOSING OF LARGE ESTATE, IS FOUND NAILED TO BOTTOM OF CHEST

Mrs. Jane Rudd Told No One of Existence of Document Which Leaves Between $50,000 and $100,000 To Two Nephews.

PENCIL MARKS MAY VOID WILL

Carefully sealed in an envelope, wrapped in cloth, tied with strings, and firmly tacked to the bottom of an old oak chest, filled with clothes, the will of Mrs. Jane Rudd, who died last Friday, was found in her home by relatives and friends, on Monday afternoon, after the funeral. It was criss-crossed with pencil marks, as if to invalidate it. The will disposes of real-estate variously estimated to be worth from $50,000 to $100,000, and is said to be left entirely to two nephews, Richard Frank of Thompson Road, and Charles Frank of Lolo. On the other hand if the will's defacement revokes it, the property may go to Miss Frank, Mrs. Rudd's sister.

Miss Elizabeth Frank, of Wellington Road South, is the sister of Mrs. Rudd, but she knows very little of her affairs. The sisters lived alone, each in her own house. They were friendly, and visited each other frequently, but never discussed business affairs, so that the value of the property owned by Mrs. Rudd can only be estimated.

One Farm Worth $20,000. A farm which she owned near Chelsea Green is said to be worth $20,000. Besides this, she owned extensive property along the south bank of the river in the neighborhood of Wellington and Waterloo streets, and two houses on Horton street. Mrs. Rudd was born and died in the same room of the old-fashioned house, where she had lived all her life, next to the Traction Company's station, a plain, square, brick residence, with a small two-story wooden porch in the front. It is one of the oldest residences in London, and was the original family home of the Franks. It was given to Mrs. Rudd by her father upon the time of her marriage. Her husband was a prominent and highly-respected veterinary surgeon. He died 27 years ago.

Locked Up Old Carriages. Immediately after his death, Mrs. Rudd locked up his barn at the rear of the house and it has, according to his friends, never been opened since. In it are stored a phaeton and carriages and it is said many family relics, now thickly covered with the dust of more than a quarter of a century.

Since her husband's death, Mrs. Rudd had lived entirely alone, and was known to be eccentric. Children of the neighborhood never dared to enter her yard. "She was hard to get along with," one of her tenants said, "but not after one knows her inside soul. By simply suggesting that I wished some little thing done, Mrs. Rudd would generally consent, but when asked directly, never," although I remember one day speaking to her about a new veranda, she refused point blank to think of such a thing. That afternoon, men came and measured the house and the veranda was built immediately."

Shot by Intruder. Miss Elizabeth Franks, has lived alone for many years, in her home on Wellington St. South, and is well-known to hundreds of Londoners. Several years ago she was shot while resisting the entrance of an intruder who attempted to enter the house one night.

On Tuesday, March 24, Mrs. Rudd got up at 2 o'clock in the morning to attend to a stove in the kitchen. She tripped over a carpet and fell, breaking her leg. She lay on the floor until 7 o'clock in the morning, unable to rise, trying to attract attention by rapping on the wall with a cane which she always carried. She was found by neighbors in a weak condition.

Caused Her Death. This is what caused her death, which occurred the following Friday about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, in the presence of several nephews, her sister, Miss Franks, a trained nurse, and three or four friends and neighbors.

No mention was made by her of a will, although there was known to be one, drawn up many years ago. No other has been found as yet. Whether the pencil marks render the will of no account will likely be decided by the court.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT ST. AUGUSTINE

Five Hotels and Other Buildings Burned—Fine Relics Destroyed—Unidentified Woman May Be Fatally Injured.

St. Augustine, Fla., April 2.—Flames that swept through two large blocks in the heart of St. Augustine along the bay shore early today destroyed five tourist hotels, a theatre, the court house, and numerous residences with an estimated loss of $500,000. There was no loss of life, but numbers of guests in the hotels were forced to flee scantily clad into the streets, while others were carried down ladders by firemen and volunteers.

A company of state militia helped preserve order and prevented looting. Two persons who jumped in their fright from the flames were seriously injured. An unidentified woman, who hurried herself from the third story of the Florida House, suffered a broken back. She was probably fatally hurt. Several other persons sustained minor injuries.

The hotels destroyed were the Florida House, Munson House, Chalmers Hotel, Central Hotel and Atlantic Hotel. The Governor Opera House, the power boat club house, nine residences and several cottages, were burnt. The Vedder House, one of the oldest buildings on the continent, containing priceless relics of the Spanish period, was completely destroyed.

Starting at one o'clock on the second floor of the Florida house, the fire raged for four hours through an area that had been one of the city's show places. The origin of the flames had places. Continued on Page Eleven.

A Half-hour Delay

Grand Trunk level crossings are not the only ones in the city that are responsible for the delays to street car traffic and the consequent inconvenience to thousands of citizens who patronize the cars. Last night an Ottawa car was held up at the Adelaide street crossing of the C. P. R. for 27 minutes. For almost half an hour the car remained stalled because of the blocked crossing, and it was hours before it was restored.

THREATENED GOVERNMENT TO GO DIRECT TO PEOPLE

Radial Deputation Made Statement Significant of Cabinet Embroglio, According to Mayor Graham.

The members of the executive of the Ontario Radial Union who waited on the Ontario cabinet yesterday, did more than ask for legislation, according to Mayor C. M. R. Graham, who made the arrangements for the conference. They demanded that legislation be given to empower the Ontario hydro commission to proceed with the radials project, and the declaration that they represented 98 per cent of the people of Ontario, threatened to go to the country with the proposal if the government would not listen to it.

In view of the trouble brewing in the Ontario cabinet and the statement by friends of Hon. Adam Beck that Messrs. Hendrie and McNaught were to be removed from the hydro commission and friends of the power minister appointed in their place, the statement of Mayor Graham about the "demands" of the people, is regarded as a significant one, echoing as it does the sentiments of Mr. Beck.

THREATENS TO SUSPEND CITY CAR SERVICE

Mayor Declares He Will Do So If Schedule Is Not Obeyed.

SOLICITOR IS AT WORK

T. G. Meredith Now Drafting Official Order on Company.

WILL GO TO THE COURTS

Further Refusals to Grant Civic Demands Will Be Followed by Appeal to Law.

Mayor C. M. R. Graham threatens to suspend the London street railway service. Following the action of the company in not putting into effect on April 1 the new schedule drawn up by City Engineer W. N. Ashplant and incorporated in a by-law unanimously passed by the city council, the mayor has consulted City Solicitor T. G. Meredith, and according to his words, the city is now making preparations to fight the company. He declared this morning that the company's service would be suspended if the schedule was not immediately given.

"The solicitor is now drawing up a document," he said to The Advertiser this afternoon, "which will be presented to the city council next Monday night for approval, and will then be sent to the company, ordering it to give us the service we demand. If the company refuses, we will go to law so fast that it will make your head swim."

No Opportunity for Railroad. "We should certainly have the elections before the end of the year," but must take into consideration the effect they might have on the sitting council if held, say two or three months before the end of the term. Certain aldermen after knowing that they were not to sit at the board the following year might become absolutely indifferent or too venturesome. By having the elections the first week in December, only one regular meeting of the council would be held before the holiday season, and it would be impossible to railroad through an undesirable legislation, as notice of motion would have to be given at that meeting, and there would be no other meeting at which to press the matter. In this way any attempts to introduce rash, clever, half-hour matters could be frustrated. I certainly think that we should get away from the holiday elections."

ARCHBISHOP OF OTTAWA RESIGNS

Advanced Age Given As Reason For Steps by Ontario Metropolitan.

[Canadian Press.] Ottawa, April 2.—Most Rev. Charles Hamilton, Anglican archbishop of Ottawa and metropolitan of Ontario, in a circular letter to the clergy and members of the church today, announces his resignation to take effect on June 22 next. His advanced age is the reason for the step. The announcement, which is received with general surprise and regret, reads:

"I am not willing that I should learn from others that I have sent my resignation of my position as metropolitan of the ecclesiastical province of Ontario, and Archbishop of Ottawa to the House of Bishops, to take effect, if their judgment approves, on June 22nd next. I have chosen this date in order that I may complete with the synod the current year, and leave, as I humbly hope, all things in readiness for my successor."

"I desire to add that I am moved to withdraw from the active duties of a bishop because the church is entitled to the best work and judgment which any man in his fullest strength can render. In my 81st year my powers are no longer advancing, they are on the wane."

"I have had 29 years of happy service as a bishop—eighteen of them in Ottawa. I can fairly say that, although I have had at times my burdens of anxiety and care, yet my days have been full of peace and happiness. My years of service have been a joy to me."

"I pray God to send His blessing upon you one and all, and to give you the grace to serve Him faithfully and joyfully all our days."

"Believe me your faithful friend and archbishop, (Signed) CHARLES, OTTAWA."

DETROIT EXCURSION FARE IS BOOSTED TO $2.70

Passenger Association Notifies Local Officers of Increased Rates for 3-Day Trips.

Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific railway ticket agents today received a communication from the Eastern Canada Passenger Association, to the effect that the fare on three day London to Detroit excursions this year will be $2.70, an increase of 85 cents over last year's fare of $1.85. The boost in the price is laid at the door of London business men who have been petitioning the Passenger association to raise the price per ticket in their efforts to keep money earned in London in circulation here instead of spending it in Detroit.

Ticket agents of both the roads stated today that while the present number of excursions booked is below that of other years many have been arranged and now the fare has been decided they expect to have many more applicants for dates.

WOULD HAVE CIVIC ELECTIONS HELD DURING DECEMBER

City Clerk Favors an Earlier Date For Annual Voting.

NEW YEAR'S UNSUITABLE

Only 43 Per Cent of Voters Now Exercise Franchise, Says Sam Baker.

City Clerk Samuel Baker favors the suggestion of the W. C. T. U. to change the date of the municipal elections, and while agreeing with Controller J. P. Moore in the latter's desire to have the elections prior to the end of the year, thinks that they should be held the first week in December rather than two or three months before the close of the year.

Many Out of Town. "The fact that about only 43 per cent of the ratepayers exercise their franchise at the civic contests is not due to indifference alone," said Mr. Baker this morning, "but also to the reason that many citizens are out of town on New Year's Day, and hundreds of others are entertaining friends and find it hard to get to the polls on this account. Consequently, unless there is a project of absorbing interest they do not vote."

Few Travellers Succeeded. "The commercial travellers succeeded in having the elections held on New Year's Day, but my count in 1912 showed that only between five and six per cent of them voted. There is no doubt but that it is very difficult for the voters to get to the polls on New Year's Day, owing to the extra household duties devolving upon them on such a day."

No Opportunity for Railroad. "We should certainly have the elections before the end of the year," but must take into consideration the effect they might have on the sitting council if held, say two or three months before the end of the term. Certain aldermen after knowing that they were not to sit at the board the following year might become absolutely indifferent or too venturesome. By having the elections the first week in December, only one regular meeting of the council would be held before the holiday season, and it would be impossible to railroad through an undesirable legislation, as notice of motion would have to be given at that meeting, and there would be no other meeting at which to press the matter. In this way any attempts to introduce rash, clever, half-hour matters could be frustrated. I certainly think that we should get away from the holiday elections."

LOSS-OFF BASIS TO BE ENFORCED IN BUYING EGGS

Western Ontario Produce Men Meet and Discuss the Situation.

NOW UP TO THE PRODUCER

Four Million Dollars Lost in a Year Through Stale Produce.

To educate the producers to the necessity of providing an absolutely fresh article, by putting the loss for all stale eggs on the first seller, is the plan of the Canadian Produce Association, reaffirmed by the Western Ontario members at a big gathering in London yesterday.

The idea, as explained to The Advertiser by A. E. Silverwood, of Silverwoods, Limited, London, is to work the egg business on the loss-off basis, that is to pay for no bad eggs. This attitude, which is to be adopted by the organized egg-buyers all over the province, clearly puts it up to the producer to sell only a reliable article or suffer the financial loss that is sure to follow.

"The buyers paid the Piper," said Mr. Silverwood, "and taking the producers' word for it that the same were fresh and in good condition, many cases they suffered heavy losses as a result of this plan. In a case, for instance, one might find five dozen eggs that were spotted or otherwise unfit for the best class of trade. The association proposes to eliminate this sort of thing."

"I might send a buyer out into the country, and he would approach a storekeeper and ask him if he had any eggs for sale. The latter would reply that he had 200 dozen, and in response to another question, might say that he had had them in for only three or four days. The buyer would then write out a check for the purchase, and on opening and candling the eggs at London, would find many more applicants for dates."

SEALER SOUTHERN CROSS SINKS OFF CAPE RACE WITH A TERRIBLE LOSS OF LIVES

S. S. NEWFOUNDLAND AND MANY OF HER CREW LOST

LATEST DISPATCHES.

[Canadian Press.]

St. Johns, Nfld., April 2.—The sealing steamer Newfoundland and the great part of her crew of 150 men are believed to have perished.

Steamers in the vicinity picked up several bodies, and a few of the crew who had survived on the ice floes, to which they escaped when their vessel went down.

Fifty of the crew have been accounted for in this manner. Most of them were dead when discovered, and several others were dying.

ANXIETY FOR SOUTHERN CROSS.

Great alarm is also felt for the sealing steamer Southern Cross, which is also believed to have been caught in the ice. The first reports here said that it was a part of the crew of the Southern Cross that had been picked up, and that they were being brought into port by the Newfoundland. There are 173 men on board the Southern Cross. She was due here Tuesday.

A BAD STORM.

The storm that has raged over Newfoundland for three days continued unabated today, and the telegraph service to points along the coast has suffered.

The captain of the Newfoundland was Wesley Kean. Meagre reports relayed from one vessel to another by wireless, and more or less confused, state that of the crew of the Newfoundland, 120 were right on the ice floes this morning. It is thought possible that some of the bodies picked up on the ice were those of members of the crew of the Southern Cross. One report says that the men who left the Newfoundland were scattered by the moving ice fields in different directions, radiating from the wreck like the spokes of a wheel. The wind was blowing a gale off shore, and there was a blinding snow storm in which the crew would be unable to find their way in any direction. They had little food when they left the ship, and no extra clothing. Without tents or other shelter many succumbed to hunger and exposure. It is feared here that very few will survive. Vessels sent out from here are searching among the ice floes.

PREMIER ASQUITH TO GET ELECTION BY ACCLAMATION

Unionists Decide To Allow Him a Walk-Over — King's Equerries To Make Their Choice — Gen. Sir Charles Douglas, G. C. B., To Succeed Sir John French.

[Canadian Press.] London, April 2.—The Unionist executive committee of the east division of Life county today decided to allow Premier Asquith a walk-over. In the by-election to be held as the result of the assumption by the prime minister of the secretary for war portfolio. The report that Mr. Asquith would be opposed by James Larkin, head of the transport workers union, also has fallen flat. The premier will be nominated at once and elected April.

Equerries To Decide. [Canadian Press.] New York, April 2.—A London cable to the Tribune says: There is a division of opinion over the King's action in the army crisis among the equerries and lords-in-waiting, who are recruited mainly from navy and army officers.

A special summons to attend at Buckingham Palace next week has been sent to a number of equerries, who in the ordinary course would not be in attendance until after the royal visit to Paris. The object is to state the latter attitude toward the federal solution. The Nationalists do not consider there can be any question of dividing up Ireland under any federal scheme. In their opinion Ireland must be treated as one unit.

The movement toward a peaceful settlement of the home rule controversy on the basis of a scheme of federalism for the British Isles, as suggested by Sir Edward Grey, in his speech in the House of Commons on Tuesday, continues to receive a good deal of attention in parliamentary circles.

Sir Edward Carson, who will reopen the home rule debate on Monday, may be expected to state the latter attitude toward the federal solution. The Nationalists do not consider there can be any question of dividing up Ireland under any federal scheme. In their opinion Ireland must be treated as one unit.

Peace Settlement. The British Unionists are divided on the point. There is certainly a strong body of Unionist members opposed to federalism, and on the whole there is little likelihood of any immediate agreement, although it is probably true that there is now a greater volume of opinion in favor of a settlement of some sort than ever before.

It seems that the Unionists are unlikely to oppose Premier Asquith's re-election. The matter will be settled at a meeting of the Unionist executive committee today. Gen. Sir Charles Douglas, G. C. B., inspector-general of the home forces since 1912, has been appointed by Mr. Asquith chief of the imperial general staff, in succession to Sir John French, resigned. He was born in 1850, and has served in all Great Britain's wars since the Afghan campaign of 1879.

Uster Securities Nearly All Advance. [Canadian Press.] New York, N.Y., April 2.—A cable from London to the Journal of Commerce says: "The London Economist in support of its contention that the Civil War talk is largely hysteria, prints a table of prices of leading Uster securities showing present prices as compared with February 14. The list comprises municipal, bank, railway and industrial securities, all but one of which showed an advance ranging from 1-4 in Great Northern Railway debentures, to 4 points in Belfast and County Down ordinary. The one exception to the general advance is Yorkshire Flax securities, the ordinary and preferred of which are unchanged."

ICE FLOES CRUSH

Disaster Came Suddenly and Men Had Only Time to Slide Over Ship's Sides Onto the Ice.

[Canadian Press.]

St. Johns, Nfld., April 2.—Stories were brought to port today of the loss of the sealing steamer Southern Cross and her crew of 170 men. The exact loss of life is not known, but it is believed that practically the whole crew perished after the Southern Cross had been crushed and sunk in the ice off Cape Race.

The Newfoundland picked up fifty of the crew, the greater number already dead, and others dying, from the tossing ice floes to which they escaped when their craft went down. Those who survived were able in their weakened condition to tell but little of the wreck and the probable fate of their fellows. Ships were at once dispatched in the hope of finding other survivors, or recovering more bodies.

Awful Suffering.

The sufferings of those found by the Newfoundland beggars description. For 48 hours they were adrift on ice floes, while a furious blizzard swept over them. The Southern Cross had completed an unusually large catch in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Her holds were filled with seal skins, and her decks were piled high with trophies of the cruise.

An Increased Crew.

The steamer also carried a crew greater by one-third than she had signed for her former trips, as sealing was reported to be unusually good and a large bonus had been offered by the owners. This unusual load added to her difficulty when she encountered the storm and ice.

The Southern Cross was reported off the southern coast on Sunday, and ought to have reached here last Tuesday. As far as can be learned she was rounding Cape Race when she ran into an immense field of drift ice from the Labrador coast, and about the same time a blizzard enveloped the ship, cutting off observation. Not long after, the sealer caught between two ice floes, which crushed her plates like cardboards. The crew had just time to tumble over the side onto the slippery ice cakes when the steamer disappeared.

SEARCHING FOR 120 LOST.

Montreal, April 2.—A message from Cape Race-Maroni station: "The worst disaster sealing fleet for over twenty years. Sealers from Newfoundland caught in blizzard. Fifty men found dead on ice this morning. Men from other ships searching for remainder of exhausted crew of 120 men."

BUXTON TO BE PROSECUTED

Winnipeg Paper Says He Will Be Arrested Again.

Winnipeg, April 1.—A local paper to-night says: "John H. Buxton Jr., who turned King's evidence in the conspiracy by which John Krafchenko was enabled to escape from jail, is to be prosecuted as soon as the crown releases him. He is now in the provincial jail, where he has been held since he was involved in the case by revelations before the royal commission following the jail delivery. Buxton is to be arrested on a warrant charging him with inducing a clerk in the Ash-down hardware store to steal the pistol which was later given to Krafchenko."

Thought Nothing But Death Would End Her Misery.

WAS TROUBLED WITH Heart Disease.

Mrs. J. D. Talbot, Owen Sound, Ont., writes:—"I have been a great sufferer from heart disease, and leaking valves. I have had recourse to every kind of treatment I could think might help me, including the skill of several doctors. I suffered, so for years that at times I have felt that nothing but death could end my misery. I was advised by a friend, who had suffered untold pain and misery, just as I had, and had been cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, to give them a trial, so I decided to do so. I am now completely cured, and can eat and sleep as I have not done for years."

You are at liberty to use my name at any time as I am convinced they are the best pills on the market for any form of heart disease."

ASKS FOR A SURVEY OF FARM CONDITIONS

Col. Mayberry Introduces Resolution in Legislature—But Government Objects.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, April 1.—Agricultural problems and their solution occupied the attention of the Legislature in a spirited debate this afternoon in the discussion of a resolution introduced by Lieut.-Col. T. R. Mayberry (South Oxford) calling for the appointment of a commission to investigate the cause of the decline in rural population with recommendations as to the steps to be taken to remedy existing conditions. The whole question of agricultural development in Ontario was reviewed by the different speakers. Hon. James S. Duff, who regarded the resolution as an attack on his department, spoke at some length showing what had been done to meet the situation by the Government. He expressed doubt as to the value of a commission, for which he was twitted by Mr. Rowell. The Opposition leader thought that if the truth was known there would be a general exodus from the farms, and the minister would be out of a job.

Government Congratulates Itself.
An amendment was moved by the Government expressing satisfaction with the results given in the last census that the decline in population had ceased, and in the general improvement in farm conditions, the increase in area under cultivation, the number of live stock and in farm values, also with the efforts put forward by the department to secure an adequate supply of farm labor, and making rural life more attractive. Mr. Duff's amendment was carried by a vote of fifty-one to sixteen.

Col. Mayberry put in a strong plea for an agricultural survey of the province that would inquire into every branch of the industry. The pressing necessity of good roads was also put forward by Mr. Mayberry.

Says Cities Rob Farms.
Hon. Mr. Duff's lengthy oration contained paens of praise regarding what the Government had done to benefit agriculture. He attributed the decline in rural population to the bringing in of machinery and the development of industrial life, which had gone on by leaps and bounds. "Rural Ontario," said Mr. Duff, "has made heavy contributions to up-building the cities and western provinces. Rural Ontario has lost; Canada as a whole has gained." There was really no need for such a commission in consideration of the work that was being done.

Systematic Study Desired.
Mr. Rowell assumed for the time being that there was no criticism against the Government and the members of the Opposition were looking at the question from the standpoint of the good to be done. The needs of agriculture were not a question peculiar to Ontario, but what was right and best in the face of the conditions prevailing. The moral strength and vitality of the cities was improving every year by the recruits from the farms. There was no better field for mixed farming than Ontario. The motion aimed at a systematic study of the problem, and it would be a good thing to have the commission appointed to gather data. This would be a good starting point for remedial measures.

Mus. Resolves to Stay and Fight.
W. McDonald (Centre, Bruce), blamed the tariff party for the rural decline, and it tended to build up the industrial centres. Rural decline had resulted in a loss of political power as shown in the pending federal redistribution. The remedy was not to try to preach to matured men and women, but reach the boys and girls in the rural schools. Give larger prizes and augmented grants to country fairs. Road railways, good roads and the extension of the hydro-electric would be supported by the Liberals.

Lieut.-Col. Atkinson (North Norfolk) thought Mr. Duff had kept aside the question altogether. He also thought (South Bruce) advocated winter schools presided over by district representatives.

TRADE INCREASE TO BE ABOUT 60 MILLION

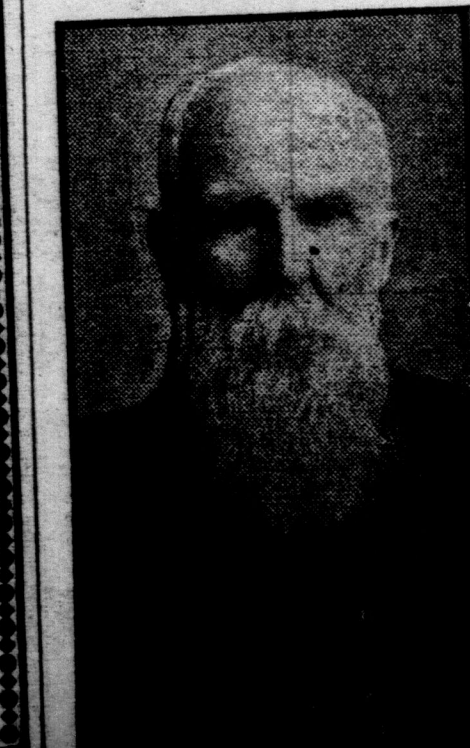

Canada's Progress Falling Off—March Shows Big Slump.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, April 1.—There is every indication that the trade of Canada during the present fiscal year will amount to $1,145,000,000, which will be an increase of $60,000,000 over the previous twelve months.

Final figures will not be available for some weeks, but it now looks as though the imports would show a decline of $30,000,000 and the exports an increase of about $90,000,000. Last year the increase in trade amounted to over $200,000,000.

During the early part of this year the trade of Canada was very good, but during the recent months there has been a heavy slump from the previous high rate of increase. It is estimated that $15,000,000 behind the trade of the previous March.

ZAM-BUK

IS NATURE'S REMEDY

The healthiest men and women in the world are found in the uncivilized races, knowing nothing of medical science. Why? Because these people are content with nature's own "healers." They use roots and herbs, solely, for their skin diseases and injuries.

Recognizing this truth, the proprietors of Zam-Buk compounded their great balm on nature's line. Zam-Buk contains only healing herbs, and instead of using them in crude form, in Zam-Buk these essences are purified and concentrated.

Take Mother Nature's finest healing extracts. Add all that modern science can do in the way of concentrating, purifying and making antiseptic these essences, and the result is Zam-Buk.

Don't you believe that roots and herbs are the healers intended for man? If you do, you get these in Zam-Buk.

Don't you believe that antiseptic treatment of a wound or sore is necessary? Zam-Buk is antiseptic.

Don't you desire to stop the pain of a wound, cut or skin disease? Zam-Buk will do this as nothing else can.

Finally, don't you believe that personal experience is worth more than hearsay? If so, cut out this article. Write across it name of this paper and mail it to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, with 1c. stamp and we will send you a son, we would find that they had probably been in the merchant's cellar for a long time and that a number of them were bad.

"It has been by educating the public that the egg business has been placed where it is today. A few years ago people would not think of eating eggs in the summer months, but now eggs are disposed of all the year around, and the quality must be kept up in order to keep the business up. If you break an egg at breakfast today, and find it rotten, you probably won't desire another egg for six weeks. The buyers have been standing the egg losses in the past, but now they are going to put it up to the seller. Under the arrangement, the man, whether he be producer or middleman, who sells the eggs, will take the loss that results from the discovery of any number of bad ones in a consignment."

Some Startling Figures.

Great changes have taken place in the egg business within the last few years. In 1902, it was pointed out at yesterday's meeting, 11,835,064 dozen eggs were exported from Canada. At that time the dealers hardly gave a thought to the local market. But in 1913, according to the Government records, the Canadian importation of eggs was 12,440,111 dozen. It is estimated that the people of Canada consumed 13,732 dozen per year. In ten years' time to 17.33 dozen. The live stock branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture was in some months in an investigation of the Canadian egg trade, and it was found that the people of the Dominion were very heavy egg eaters.

In 1891, according to the Government figures, the population was 4,332,231 and the total egg production, 64,493,241 dozen. In 1911, the population had risen to 7,204,435 and the egg production to 123,062,332 dozen. In that time, exports dropped from 8,002,935 dozen to 32,164 dozen, and imports jumped from 602,533 dozen to 2,378,640 dozen.

Eggs Dearer in Canada.

An interesting point that was brought out at the meeting of the buyers here yesterday, was that the price of eggs in Canada is three cents per dozen dearer in Canada than in the United States. In New York it was stated, eggs were being sold wholesale for 15 cents against 12 cents in London, from which it would appear that the United States farmers are going in for egg-production to a far greater extent than are the farmers of Canada. Before the revision of the United States tariff, five cents per dozen was charged on all eggs shipped into the country, but now they go in free.

The Canadian Government experts who investigated the situation, advance a number of reasons for the shortage of eggs in this country. From the time that mixed farming became general in the Central states, they say, the United States egg crop has been able to keep pace with the demand, and heretofore, when there was a shortage in Canada, eggs have been available on the Chicago and other large western markets. More lately, however, increased consumption on the part of the Americans and through a slightly smaller egg crop, the surplus has not been available. In recent years, the experts point out, the Canadian storage crop was sufficient to meet the demand until the middle of December or a little later, but after that American eggs were imported to supply the shortage.

In the years that have passed, it was the custom of the Ontario buyers to ship large quantities of eggs to the Northwest, but A. E. Silverwood states that this market is practically exhausted owing to the growing disposition of western farmers to produce their own eggs. The Ontario dealers must therefore look to the local markets and to some export business, for a disposal of their goods.

Great Loss in Bad Eggs.

W. J. Ault, of the Department of Agriculture, went into the question with buyers at the London conference, and in the discussion which followed it was pointed out that the loss to Canadian farmers, merchants and dealers, from bad eggs, had, in one year, amounted to nearly four million dollars. This, it was declared, called for a very determined stand by the buyers in keeping up the quality, and the loss-off method of purchasing was considered the best remedy for the evil. By means of this plan, the buyers will be safeguarded, the public will be safeguarded, and the producers themselves will be benefited, the latter through the ever-increasing consumption of eggs following the duction of the public to the fact that the eggs it purchases are to be relied upon.

W. A. Brown, B. S. A., in an address at the last Provincial winter fair, in Guelph, made several interesting points with regard to the egg situation in Canada.

Canadian Eggs Lack Quality.

"Another point and one that should not be overlooked before dwelling upon the great opportunity that exists for the Canadian producer at the present time," said Mr. Brown, "is the fact that Canadian eggs as marketed at the period of high production by the buyers in keeping up the quality that one would expect. From information that is in the possession of the live stock branch, it is estimated that in the summer time not more than 33 per cent of the eggs received in the large markets grade select. About 40 per cent grade standard, approximately 17 per cent, very stale, 5 per cent dirty and broken and 5 per cent bad. Some dealers state that as high as 10 to 15 per cent of their eggs prove, upon examination, to be wholly unfit for food. This is a feature that these who criticize the high prices do not seem to have taken into consideration."

Farmers' Golden Opportunity.

"In conclusion it is evident that the most salient feature of the whole question is the golden opportunity for the farmers and others to increase their poultry plants and take advantage of the high prices prevailing for poultry and poultry products. Every farmer should keep at least one hundred hens. The amount of labor entailed is not great, and with reasonable success, the revenue obtainable therefrom, in proportion to capital invested, is greater and more readily available than from any other branch of farm work."

The companies and individual buyers represented at yesterday's meeting were as follows: J. E. Weston, Tillsonburg; A. H. Wilford, Wingham; J. D. Moore, St. Mary's; Woodstock Produce Company, Woodstock; J. B. Jackson, Simcoe; W. H. Levett, Exeter; W. K. McNab, Drayton; J. K. DISASTROUS FIRE AT ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA.

Five Hotels, Court House and Houses Destroyed—Damage Over $500,000.

[Canadian Press.]

St. Augustine, Fla., April 2.—Fire early today destroyed five tourist hotels, the county court house and a number of residences here. It is thought no lives were lost, though many guests at the Florida, Atlantic, Central and Claremont hotels, which were destroyed, escaped scantily clad and had no time to save their personal belongings.

The flames were checked late this forenoon. The property damage is estimated at $500,000 to $750,000.

MURDER TRIAL IS STOPPED BY JUDGE; PRISONER RELEASED

English Court Severely Censures Coroner For Inquest.

THE PROSECUTION AGREES

When Starchfield Is Freed Is Greeted With Wild Cheers By Dense Crowd.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, April 2.—A cable to the Tribune from London says: There was a dramatic ending yesterday to the trial of Starchfield, charged with the murder of his young son, Willie Starchfield, whose body was found in a train on the North London Railway on January 8. The judge stopped the trial before the prosecution had completed its case, and bluntly asked the crown counsel whether the case could safely be allowed to go to the jury. Counsel, with 1c. stamp and we will send you a

The end was swift and startling, even to those who have had great experience in murder trials. As the acquitted man emerged from the court house he was greeted with wild cheers. The crowd was so dense that he had to take refuge in a shop.

From both sides during the trial came scathing comments regarding the coroner's inquest. The judge was even severer than the counsel. "The manner in which the inquest was conducted," he said, "violated all the principles under which any such inquiry should be carried out. It was an entire mockery and abuse of the duties intrusted to a coroner."

SERIOUS ACCIDENT DUE TO HERD OF BUFFALO

Twenty Java Natives Killed—Fifty Injured When Train Strikes Animals.

[Canadian Press.]

Batavia, Java, April 2.—Twenty natives were killed and fifty others injured today by the derailment of a train which was crossing a bridge near Tanjong Priok, about six miles from this city. The accident was caused by a herd of Buffalo into which the locomotive ran.

A number of Europeans travelling on the train escaped injury, as they occupied the rear cars.

GOVERNOR M'ARTHUR IS DEAD AT SARNIA

Never Recovered After Operation for Appendicitis—System Was Poisoned.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, April 1.—Robert Gibson McArthur, aged 66, and for the past 21 years governor of the local county jail, died at the governor's house today after an illness of about seven weeks. He was taken ill with appendicitis and was removed to the General Hospital and operated on. He never recovered, poison going through his system. He has been at his home for the past three weeks.

Deceased was born near the Village of Caledonia and moved when a young man to the Village of Thorndale, twenty-two years ago he moved to Forest, and one year later was appointed governor of the county jail.

He was a prominent Liberal and a Presbyterian.

Besides his wife he is survived by one daughter, Isabel, at home, and two sisters, Miss Margaret McArthur, of Claremont, Ont., and Mrs. Robert Cowie, of East Williams, near Stratford.

The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at 12:30 to the Grand Trunk depot, and interment will be made at Theodora.

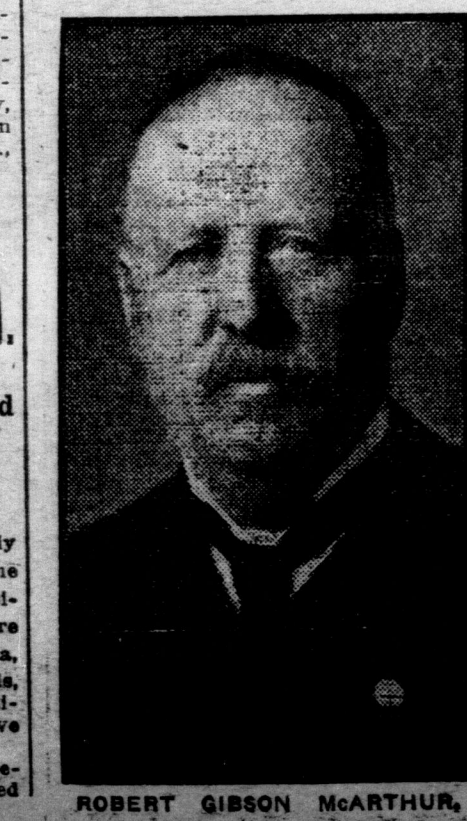

"THE BEACON CITY" IS SARNIA'S CHOSEN NAME

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, April 1.—Out of several hundred names suggested for a synonym for Sarnia, the committee of the board of trade has announced that the choice is "The Beacon City," which will from now on displace the time-worn one, "The Tunnel Town."

The motto or slogan which was chosen was "Sarnia Lights the Way."

Useful New Invention

Enables Anyone to Play Piano or Organ Without Lessons.

A Detroit musician has invented a wonderful new system which enables any person or little child to learn to play the piano or organ in one evening. Even though you know absolutely nothing about music or have never touched a piano or organ, you can now learn to play in an hour or two. People who do not know one note from another are able to play their favorite music with this method without any assistance whatever from anyone.

This new system which is called the Numeral Method, is sold in Canada by the Numeral Method Music Company, of Canada, and as they are desirous of at once making it known in every locality, they are making the following special free trial and half-price offer to our readers.

You are not asked to send any money until you have tried and are satisfied with the new method. The Numeral Method Company is willing to send it to you on one week's free trial, and you will not have to pay them one cent unless you desire. Keep it. There are no express charges to be paid, as everything will be sent by mail. Simply write a letter or postcard to the Numeral Method Music Company of Canada, 1111 Curry Hall, Windsor, Ontario, saying "Please send me the Numeral Method on seven days' free trial." If you are satisfied after trying it, the Method and 50 different pieces of sheet music will cost you only $1.00, although the regular price of these is $10.00. You should not delay writing, as the Numeral Company will not continue this special half-price offer indefinitely. Later on, the Method and 50 pieces of music will be sold at the regular price.

THE LAST SPIKE TO BE DRIVEN ABOUT APRIL 7

Railway Contractors Expect G. T. P. Lines To Be Connected Then.

[Canadian Press.]

Vancouver, April 2.—The last spike connecting the rails of Canada's new transcontinental railway, the Grand Trunk Pacific, will be driven about April 7, probably on Fort Fraser town-site, according to the latest estimates of railway contractors who have been following its progress.

Putting forth their best efforts in the keenest rivalry, two firms, Stewart Bros. in the west and Poststrom and Green in the east, are striving to reach first the bridge that crosses the Nechaco river. It is thought they will meet about the centre of the bridge.

The first train will be that of President Chamberlain.

Children's Work Hours Will Be Reduced.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, April 1.—By Government legislation, introduced today, the hours for children in canning factories are to be reduced from ten to eight, which is in accordance with an agitation carried on by the Opposition last session, and the employment of boys under eighteen years of age in elevators is to be prohibited.

HUERTA WOULD SECURE PEACE FOR HIS COUNTRY

So He Informs Congress in Message—Ready for Sacrifice.

Mexico City, April 1.—"Before leaving these precincts I must engrave upon your hearts that it is my purpose, as I have said before to the national congress, to achieve the peace of the country, and, if to do so your sacrifice and mine shall be indispensable, you and I will know how to sacrifice ourselves. This is my purpose, or what is the same thing, my profession of political faith."

With this statement Provisional President Huerta ended his message to Congress, which convened tonight. The document otherwise was devoid of sensational statements or dramatic effect.

THE HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, APRIL 3, 1914.

He who is wise
waits for his prize.

The Sun is square to the Moon this day gives warning against testing any relation between employee and employer, astrologers declare. It is a time when men and women in authority are said to be difficult to deal with, since the way is conducive to suspicion, pride and a desire to take advantage of power of any sort.

It is an auspicious time to seek employment or promotion. The wise will avoid negotiations with persons of wealth or political position.

While the configuration prevails, it is well to keep one's own counsel, trusting no man with plans or secrets.

As the adverse aspect of the Sun tends to make persons venturesome, egotistical and over-ambitious, it is well to delay any important move.

The aspect is believed to cause loss by speculation and difficulties in financial affairs. Increase of crimes which have money as their temptation is foreshadowed. Betrayal of trust in banks and business houses will be more numerous than in previous years.

A London astrologer warns residents of New York city and nearby towns against danger from fires between the 10th and 17th of this month.

Again, floods are prognosticated. These will cause losses in the Eastern States. The position of Saturn is read as particularly bad for the stock market during this month and next. Continued depression is foretold.

According to London astrologers, the planets indicate many troubles for royal ties. May is said to be an evil month for the Queen of England and the Prince of Wales, who will suffer from ill-health and unusual anxieties.

The prognostications are evil for the younger generation. Children should be guarded against illness and accident.

Loss of prestige for the President of the United States is prophesied. He will suffer from severe criticism and will be the victim of a number of unfortunate incidents in diplomacy, but his ultimate justification is assured, the seers declare.

Persons whose birth date it is have rather a lucky omen for the year. Agitators, builders and sellers should be especially fortunate. Those who are employed should be cautious to give full return for salary.

Children born on this day probably will have many changes in life, but they will be fortunate. Their magnetic centre is the Sun in Aries the Lamb, and their principal ruling planet is Mars.

WOES OF MRS. NEWLYWED

"How shall I wash my china silk and not have it come out all yellow?" inquired Mrs. Newlywed.
"When washing China silk never hang it up to dry, but instead, wring it out and dry and wrap it in a piece of white material, leaving it this way for about one hour. Then iron it," suggested Mrs. Neighbor.

PLEASING PROGRAM GIVEN BY WOMEN'S MUSIC CLUB

Attractive Selection of Numbers—Large Audience Despite Inclement Weather—Admirable Work of Miss Egglestone.

The eleventh recital of the Women's Music Club given in the Normal School yesterday afternoon, was successful, and in spite of the disagreeable weather the auditorium was crowded. Numerous comments in high praise of the program were heard after the recital.

The program, which follows, consisting of selections from Canadian and Norwegian composers, was arranged by Mrs. F. A. Stuart and Mrs. J. E. Magee. Grieg's "Sonata for Piano and Violin in C minor; op. 45" Miss F. L. Egglestone and W. A. Bluthner. Grieg's "Sonata for Piano and Violin in C minor; op. 45" Miss F. L. Egglestone and W. A. Bluthner. Grieg's "Sonata for Piano and Violin in C minor; op. 45" Miss F. L. Egglestone and W. A. Bluthner.

Value of Violin.

Dear Miss Grey—Will you kindly answer in your valuable paper the value of a violin that was made in the year 1721, and which has the name printed on the wood inside? The name is Antonius Stradivarius Cremonensis Faciebat Anno 1721. Yours very truly, J. J.

Ans.—If you care to send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, I have the address of a firm in Toronto who might value the instrument for you, and judge if it is genuine or not.

For 14-Year-Old Lila.

Ans.—Robert Burns was born in Ayr, Scotland, in 1759; he was the son of a yeoman farmer, and his early life was one of hardships and privations; Burns received the greater part of his education from a young man named Murdoch, whom his father, and a few of the neighbors engaged to instruct the children of the district. Burns was a voracious reader, and devoured every book he could get hold of, including a very fair English education. Burns began writing verse at the age of 16 or 17, but accomplished little until some seven years later. With the publication of his first volume of poems, Burns gained fame, incurring the interest of several persons of note. Until his marriage in 1788 he lived in Edinburgh and London, leading a somewhat dissolute life. In this year he married Jean Armour and began farming in the vicinity of Dumfries; retiring in 1791, however, Burns removed to Dumfries, where he died in 1796.

2. My dear little girl, I feel that it will be the truest kindness to be perfectly frank with you: Pay strict attention to your studies and don't try the writing "stunt" for a few years yet. I feel certain that while you may have a degree of talent along this line, which doubtless will develop, you are too young to write stories of sufficient worth for a magazine to accept. Keep on writing your little compositions and try to improve on them, and if you possess real talent it is sure to develop and be of use to you some day. In the meantime I would urge you to read the best English works and aim to improve your education in every way possible.

Your poetry has merit, but I think that if you read it over a year or two from now, you will see a number of faults contained therein.

Serving Oranges.

Dear Miss Grey: As so many others have received help from your valuable column, I thought I too would bother you with a few questions.

1. A good chocolate fudge receipt.
2. How to serve oranges for dessert and should the orange spoons be put on the tray with the tea spoons?
3. What is a remedy for freckles?

4. Would it be all right to ask a boy friend, that I have known for some time, to come home to spend an evening?
5. I have black hair, and hazel eyes, what are my colors?

Hoping to see my answer in print soon, and thanking you in advance,
I remain,
TRIXIE.

Ans. 1. Take 2 cups granulated sugar,

Songs We Used to Whistle and Sing

Your Mother Still Prays for You.
The night was dark and stormy
And the wind was howling wild,
As an aged mother gazed upon
The portrait of her child.
She gazed on the baby features,
That once filled her heart with joy,
He was now o'er the wide world roaming,
That mother's long-lost boy.

CHORUS—
Your mother still prays for you, Jack;
Your mother still prays for you,
In a home far away across the ocean
Your mother still prays for you.

Far away from home and mother,
Far away in a foreign land,
Some comrades said, "Come along, Jack,
Let's go, there's the army band."
It was in a rough old barracks,
Where the meeting had just begun,
But something stirred wild Jack's heart,
As so sweetly the soldiers sung.

His stony heart was broken;
He thought of his mother dear,
And, in spite of all his comrades' laughing,
He couldn't keep back a tear.

In spite of all the fierce temptations
These words in his ear still rang,
And he started for heaven that evening,
As so sweetly the soldiers sang.

At last, there came a letter:
It was deeply edged in black,
From a comrade, long forgotten,
Who still remembered Jack.

They have laid your dear old mother
In the grave, so dark, so cold,
But she wants the boy that's roaming
To meet her on the golden shore.

Grieg's difficult sonata in C minor was admirably executed by Miss F. Egglestone, accompanied by W. A. Bluthner, who supplemented the original program with two more well-played selections from the same composer. Miss Edith McBride, Mrs. C. Moore and Miss Eleanor Balch were all vigorously applauded. The program was closed by Vogt's "Indian Lullaby," sung by the Women's Choral Club of about 25 voices.

Hamilton Showing Some Interest in Canadian League

Ambitious City Fans Warming Up to Baseball And Taking Interest in Team.

Hamilton Herald: All this city has up-to-date is a muddy, improvement-needing ball park on Barton street, four or five of last year's stalwarts whose ability can be testified to, and a number of new aspirants who will not show their wares until April 8. However, to counteract this lack of evidence, Hamiltonians have unbounded enthusiasm in the ability of Manager Bob Yates, the Philadelphia lad, to come through with a first division club, and the fans are hoping and praying that the new manager's connection with Connie Mack will result in several likely-looking recruits from the Athletics and Baltimore Orioles coming this way. This whole city is behind Yates and he will be encouraged.

This is the situation. When the local squad arrives for spring practice one can talk more intelligently of their abilities and failings, and in this way get a correct line on their chances in the hunt for honors.

THE THIRTEENTH IS GOOD DAY FOR PITCHERS

That mysterious figure 13. On the 13th of May last year "Wild Bill" Baker, the big St. Thomas hurler, held Berlin hitless, and on August 13 Kirley, of Guelph, held the Saints without a bingle. The only other no-hit game was registered against Peterboro, Baker doing the trick on May 17. Baker was the most talked of man in the league that week.

EUGENE TREMBLAY BEATEN BY PARADIS

Montreal, April 1.—Eugene Tremblay, of Montreal, was defeated by John B. Paradis, of New Hampshire, in two out of three falls for the lightweight wrestling championship of America at Schermer Park, tonight. The local boy secured the first fall by a double bar and face hold in 41 minutes. Paradis was the aggressor in the next two and secured straight falls in 25 and 12 minutes—the first on a crotch and the second on a leg and body hold. With the championship goes the Police Gazette belt.

Five Team Race For 1914 Pennant Predicts "Shag"

Ottawa Manager Picks Erie, London, Ottawa, St. Thomas and Peterboro as the Best Teams.

Ottawa, April 1.—"Peterboro, Erie, London, St. Thomas—these are the fellows to watch out for," predicts Shag. "Peterboro, with Blount in charge, and grabbing all his Youngstown class B players, to my way of figuring, is the toughest looking proposition for us this summer. Erie is bound to have a strong club, and London is pretty sure to be there; also St. Thomas."

Shag figures that the Petes will be strong in every department, pitching particularly. He also figures that there will be few weak spots on either the Erie or London clubs, while the Saints will be very strong in twirlers. Toronto may or may not be strong. If Kelly intends to simply turn over his recruits who fail to make the international grade, the Little Leafs may find themselves in the cellar, where Shag expects Hamilton and Brantford to linger this season.

ORT WILL PLAY FIRST FOR TORONTO TEAM

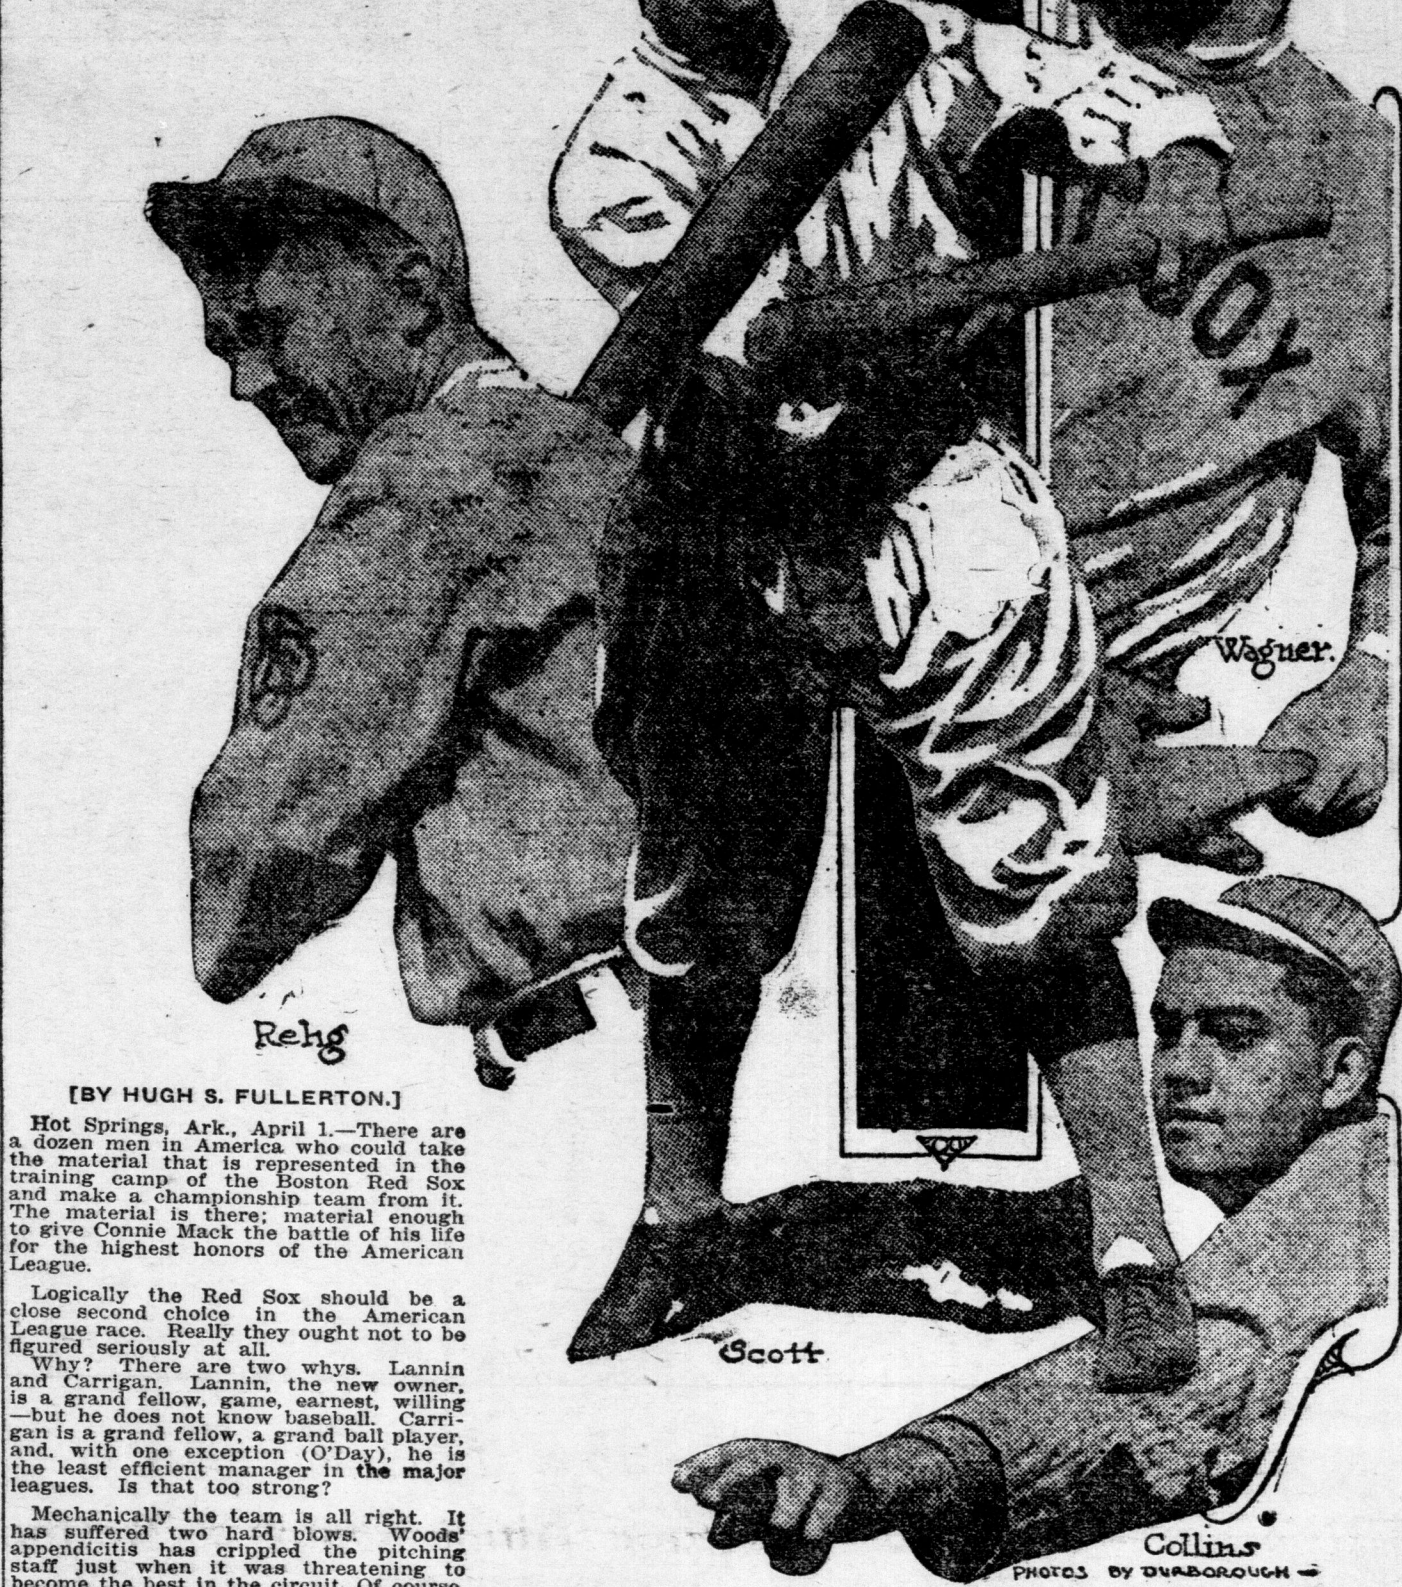

[Special to The Advertiser.]
St. Thomas, April 1.—George Ort received a contract for his signature from the Toronto Canadian League club today. It is thought George will cover the key-stone sack for the Queen City aggregation.

ST. THOMAS TENNIS CLUB HAS NOT DECIDED YET

[Special to The Advertiser.]
St. Thomas, April 1.—No decision was reached at the meeting tonight of the St. Thomas Tennis Club in regard to joining the Western Ontario Tennis Association. Mr. Peart said the matter had been left over and will likely be decided within the next two weeks. The club will ask the city council for permission to put in two more courts on the athletic grounds.

BOSTON RED SOX, GOOD ENOUGH TO BE SECOND CHOICE IN RACE, WON'T BE IN THE RUNNING AT ALL, SAYS FULLERTON

BOSTON RED SOX' FATE DEPENDS UPON THIS QUARTET.

[BY HUGH S. FULLERTON.]
Hot Springs, Ark., April 1.—There are a dozen men in America who could take the material that is represented in the training camp of the Boston Red Sox and make a championship team from it. The material is there; material enough to give Connie Mack the battle of his life for the highest honors of the American League.

Logically the Red Sox should be a close second choice in the American League race. Really they ought not to be figured seriously at all.

Why? There are two whys. Lannin and Carrigan, Lannin, the new owner, is a grand fellow, game, earnest, willing to do what he does not know baseball. Carrigan is a grand fellow, a grand ball player, and, with one exception (O'Day) he is the least efficient manager in the major leagues. Is that too strong?

Mechanically the team is all right. It has suffered two hard blows. Woodie's appendicitis has crippled the pitching staff just when it was threatening to become the best in the circuit. Of course, they claim Smoky Joe will be as good as ever, but he will not. He will be able to pitch, but six months' Stratford, Berlin, Woodstock, Guelph, Galt and Brantford. Those behind the movement to have a team in Galt say the prospects are exceptionally good and lines have been secured on five players. At present a big baseball campaign is on in Galt. Four teams will constitute a town league and a strong team will enter the county league.

Engle off the base. Yerkes is steady, reliable and has a punch. Wagner is a world-beater with rheumatism cannot do much. The Red Sox are fortunate in having grabbed Scott, of St. Paul. Gardner has developed into a whale of a third baseman. Of the newcomers, Cooney, at the youngster, shows a lot of promise. Walsh, from Worcester, is untried, and Wilson, from Lynn, probably will drop back quickly.

Roy Collins is in the best form he has been in his career, steadier and better and ready right now. He is a great

GALT WILL HAVE STRONG TEAM IN THE W. O. B. A.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Galt, April 1.—Baseball, nearly dead in Galt for several years, promises re-suscitation at an upcoming town league semi-professional baseball team to be entered in the Western Ontario League, tomorrow evening. The league will be composed of six teams—Stratford, Berlin, Woodstock, Guelph, Galt and Brantford. Those behind the movement to have a team in Galt say the prospects are exceptionally good and lines have been secured on five players. At present a big baseball campaign is on in Galt. Four teams will constitute a town league and a strong team will enter the county league.

WAS SUBJECT TO SEVERE BRONCHITIS.

Doctors Only Gave Temporary Relief.
Dr. Wood's
Norway Pine Syrup
CURED HIM.

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather, and is a very dangerous inflammatory affection of the bronchial tubes. Neglected bronchitis is one of the most general causes of consumption, so cure it at once by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Mrs. C. G. Dring, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "Our little boy has been subject to severe bronchitis ever since birth, and different doctors claimed to be only able to relieve him temporarily. A neighbor advised us to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle, and after the third dose noticed a decided change, so kept on with it, and a couple of bottles were enough to completely cure him. Now we always keep a bottle on hand, and give it to him as soon as we notice him troubled with a cold, after which it disappears as if by magic. We recommend it to all our friends who find it is just as good as I say."

Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.
Be sure and get the genuine "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. Put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees trade mark, and manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TOM SEATON WILL PLAY FOR TINKER'S FEDERALS

Chicago, April 1.—Robert B. Ward, president of the Brooklyn Federal League club, arrived in Chicago today to settle the case of Tom Seaton, a pitcher, with Charles Weegman, of the local club. It was said that Seaton would be returned to Brooklyn according to the promise made Ward when he entered the league, or retained by Chicago in exchange for other players.

Before the Seaton case was considered there was a meeting of representatives of every club except St. Louis. The meeting was held, according to President Gilmore, to arrange final details for the opening of the season.

James A. Gilmore, president of the Federal League, announced tonight that no questions were under discussion from the schedule and the legal fight now being waged for the services of William Killifer, and said no announcement would be made of the results of the meeting.

The result of the conference between Robert B. Ward, president of the Brooklyn club, and Charles Weegman, president of the Chicago club, over player Seaton will not be made public for several days, according to Weegman, who intimated, however, that Seaton probably would play with the Chicago club, and that several players would be given Brooklyn in exchange for him.

NEWMAN SUSPENDED FOR HITTING MCGRAW

Beaumont, Texas, April 1.—John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Nationals, today received the following telegram from the owners of the Houston (Texas League) club:

"After a thorough investigation of the deplorable affair that took place on our grounds yesterday, we have, for the part Newman took in same, suspended him indefinitely and fined him $50."

Pat Newman, manager of the Houston club, knocked McGraw down as the result, it is said, of remarks on the coaching line, which Newman resented.

LIBERAL FOOTBALL CLUB ORGANIZES FOR SEASON

The Liberal Football Club, which has entered a team in the City Soccer League, organized at a meeting, held last evening. The following officers were elected:

Honorary Presidents—George S. Gibbons, Hon. C. S. Hyman and George M. Reid.
President—George Fraser.
Secretary—Treasurer—Archib M. Ashford.
Manager—S. G. Blake.

The team will play its first practice at Queen's Park on Saturday afternoon. The first match will be played on Saturday, April 11.

"RUBE" WADDELL CROSSES GREAT DIVIDE

Baseball's Queerest Character and Greatest Pitcher Dies.

BEEN ILL FOR MONTHS

Succumbs to Tuberculosis as Result of His Inability to Keep in Condition

San Antonio, Texas, April 1.—Rube Waddell, the famous left hand pitcher, died here today. He had been ill for months with tuberculosis.

George Edwards Waddell, one of the greatest of pitchers, was noted nearly as much for his eccentricities as for his capabilities as a ball player. In the seventeen years he spent in professional baseball, he held positions with twelve teams, including "return engagements," had fourteen jobs. His longest term of service was with the Philadelphia Athletics, where, under the watchful eye of Connie Mack, he pitched winning ball for a half dozen seasons.

Waddell's inability to keep in condition discouraged most other managers and was indirectly responsible for his contracting tuberculosis, which caused his death. There was no better pitcher than he when he was in form, but managers were aware of his power and his readiness to resist temptation. As a result of his weakness, the largest salary he ever received was $3,000 a year, from the Athletics.

Held Strike-Out Record.
Waddell shared with Robert Glade the strike-out record of the American League. On July 29, 1906, while pitching for the St. Louis Americans, to whom he had just been released by Mack, he fanned sixteen of the Athletics, his former team mates.

The Minneapolis Club bought Waddell in 1909 and he was two years with that club. Illness began to get the better of him and last spring he was sent to Texas in an effort to prolong his life.

Waddell was born in Butler, Pa., October 13, 1876.

INGERSOLL ORGANIZES TOWN SOCCER LEAGUE

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, April 1.—Lively interest was manifested in soccer at a meeting tonight in the council chambers. The attendance was representative of the players and promoters of the game and the enthusiasm was indicative of a very successful season. While definite announcement was not made it is expected four teams will be selected for the W. F. A. there are a number of seasoned players in the town it is believed a promising team will be selected for the W. F. A., which is assured encouraging support.

Officers were elected as follows: President, S. A. Gibson; vice-president, G. M. McKay; first vice-president, Dr. R. Williams; second vice-president, George P. Jones; executive committee, the president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer; committee on management, the executive and the captains of the teams.

GRAY HAIRS A HANDICAP IN NAMING HIS YACHT

[Canadian Press.]
New York, April 1.—The Vanitie is the name of the yacht, owned by Alexander Smith Cochrane, which will compete in the trials for the right to defend the America's cup against Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, according to announcement here this morning. In choosing this name, this vessel's owner disregards the popular tradition that an American defending yacht should bear a name containing eight letters.

ADDED PROTECTION FOR BIG GAME OF ALASKA

Moose and Mountain Sheep Must Not Be Shot For Two Years

[Canadian Press.] Washington, D.C., April 2.—Alaska's big game, which yearly furnishes excellent sport for wealthy sportsmen from all over the world, is to receive greater protection in the future as the result of new regulations made public today by the department of agriculture. Effective immediately and for a period of two years, the shooting of moose in southwestern Alaska and of mountain sheep in the eastern part of Kenai peninsula is prohibited. The districts affected by the new regulations are among the most readily accessible to sportsmen.

Jun., the wealthy Mexican, held a prisoner for ransom at Chihuahua by Gen. Villa for the past three months, has escaped, and made his way south toward Mexico City, according to reports received by a newspaper here. Through the assistance of an old family servant and a traitor in Villa's camp, the story says, the political prisoner obtained his liberty, and reached Saltillo, beyond the zone of constitutionalist control.

CUTTING OFF TRAINS—RETRENCHMENT PLANS

Pennsylvania Railroad Annals 118 on Eastern Lines.

[Canadian Press.] Philadelphia, April 2.—In pursuance of its retrenchment plans the Pennsylvania Railroad yesterday announced that 113 passenger trains on the lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie and a large number on the western lines.

The financial saving on the eastern lines, it is estimated, will run close to $2,000,000 per year, should the curtailment be in force that long. On the western lines, it is roughly calculated that the economies will effect a saving not greatly dissimilar.

THE HOLLOW OF HER HAND

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON
Author of "Graustark," "Truxton King," Etc.

"I am tired, wretchedly tired. It has been a most exhausting day," she said, with a sudden note of weariness in her voice. Both men started up apologetically. "I will think seriously of your plan, Mr. Carroll. There is no hurry, I'm sure. Please send Miss Wrاندall in to me, will you? Perhaps you would better tell Hetty to come in as soon as Vivian leaves. Come back tomorrow afternoon, Brandon. I shall be much more cheerful. By the way, have you noticed that Dicky, out in the library, has been singing all afternoon as if his little throat would split? It is very curious, but today is the first time he has uttered a note in nearly five months. Just listen to him! Booth leaned over and kissed the hand she lifted to him. "He is like the rest of us, Sara, inordinately happy. A slight whimper ran through her arm. He felt it. "I am so afraid his exuberance of spirit may annoy Vivian," said she, with a rare mouthful of her teeth. "The cigarettes, Watson." Watson hesitated. "The cigarettes, ma'am?" "Yes." "But the doctor's orders, ma'am, begging your pardon for—"

"I have a new doctor, Watson."

"The celebrated Dr. Folly," she said lightly.

When Mrs. Wrاندall returned from the West, a few days after the events narrated in the foregoing chapter, he repaired at once to Sara's apartment, bringing with him not only the signed statement of the Ashley girl, but the well-worn and apparently cherished prayer-book that had been her solace during the last few months of her life. On the fly-leaf she had written: "I have nothing of God's earthly gifts to leave behind but this. It has brought me riches, but it is a poor thing in itself. I bequeath it, my only earthly possession, to the kind and merciful one who taught me that there is good in this bad world of ours." It was inscribed to "Mrs. Challis Wrاندall."

"She made me promise to give it to you with my own hands, Mrs. Wrاندall," said Smith, in the library, putting as much emotion into his voice and manner as he thought the occasion and the audience demanded. Miss Cartleton and Mr. Booth were also present. "She was a queer girl, I'll give you that," said he, but she was a good girl, and she believed me. Just after she signed that paper I had a chance to be alone with her for a minute or two. She asked me to stoop over so I could hear what she had to say, and she made me promise not to say a word about it until she was gone. Well, it will surprise you just as much as it did me, what she had to say with her dying breath, so to speak."

"What did she say to you?" demanded Sara.

"Well, sir, do you know that that girl knew all along who it was that went up to Burton's Inn that evening with your husband?"

"There was not a sound in the room. Even the coals in the fireplace seemed to take that instant to hold their breath. Smith's listeners might have been absolutely breathless, they were so rigid. Each had the grotesque fear that he was about to pick his finger at Hetty Glynn and call upon her to answer to an accusation from the grave."

The next moment they drew a deep, quivering breath of relief. The detective went on almost apologetically. "I tried to bluff her into telling me who she was, Mrs. Wrاندall, but she wouldn't fall for it. After a little while I saw it was no use questioning her. She was as firm as a rock about it. And she was pretty near gone, I can tell you. As a matter of fact, her heart went back on her suddenly not ten minutes later, sort of surprising all of us. But she did manage to whisper a few things to me while the others were conversing in the hall. She said that she saw another girl with Mr. Wrاندall about a week before the murder, a stranger and a very pretty one. She knew how to pick out the prettiest. I beg your pardon, ma'am. That sort of slipped out. You see—"

"Never mind, I understand. Go on."

"Right after that he told her he was with her. Chucked her, that's the sum and substance of it, for the new one, whoever she was. She raised a row about it, and he laughed at her for nearly a week she sipped on him, and she saw him out in the car with the stranger at least half a dozen times. Now comes the queer part of it, and the thing that made her keep her lips closed at first, right after the killing—the murder, I mean. She laid for him in front of his home on the very day of the murder and she swore she'd do something desperate if he didn't give the other one up. He took her to a cheap restaurant on the West Side, and she was sure that several witnesses saw that they were quarrelling. To get her out of the place he induced her to get in his car and they went for a ride out as far as Van Courtlandt Park. The police never got on to all this. But she lived in terror for a few days, believing that the waters might remember them, although neither of them had ever been in the place before. When she was taken up for examination, she still wondered if they would be called on to identify her. Nothing doing. It was right then, Mrs. Wrاندall, that you stepped in and said that her alibi was sufficient, and staked her for life out there in the West. She says she saw the other girl after the murder, but she wouldn't say where it was or when. Of course, she couldn't swear that this girl did the job up there at Burton's, but she was pretty near dead certain she was the one who went up there with him. She was just on the point of telling the police about this girl, to save herself, when you helped her out of the fix, and then she got to thinking strange things, she said. This is what she said to me, there on her death-bed, and I want to tell you it gave me an idea of character that I had never come across before in all my experience. She said that if Mrs. Wrاندall here could be fine enough to befriend her, knowing all you did, ma'am, about her and your husband, it oughtn't to be hard for her to help another erring girl by keeping her mouth shut. And that's just what she did. She kept still. That sort of reasoning was new to me. But, when you stop to think it over, maybe she was right. A word from her might have sent a fellow-creature to the chair. She had had her lesson in charity from you, Mrs. Wrاندall, and, while you didn't mean it to have that effect, you undoubtedly spoiled the best chance we'll ever have to get the real woman in the case." (To Be Continued.)

POTATOES SCARCE ARE BRINGING GOOD PRICES

Oats Touch Record of $1.28—Bad Roads Result in Small Market.

Thursday's market was very small, on account of the bad country roads, many of which are almost unfit for any kind of traffic.

A few loads of eggs and butter were on the square, but sold at unchanged prices. Oats were scarce, and one load sold for $1.28 per hundredweight, the highest price of the season. No wheat was offered, but there was little demand for it, and it sold at 40 cents per bushel.

Potatoes were scarce and brought $1 and 85 cents per bag, wholesale, and $1 and 10 cents per bag retail. Other vegetables, sold at quoted prices. Lettuce was scarce, but there was little demand for it, and it sold at 40 cents per dozen.

"Going Into a Decline," Tired and Worn-out

Constant Pains in the Chest and Back—Wonderful Results Obtained By Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

What a host of symptoms are as tired and worn out nearly all the time. Four boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food did me more good than all the medicines I ever took. My system seemed to be all run down, and I was so weak I could scarcely do anything. The Nerve Food did wonders for me, and I want other women suffering as I did to benefit by my experience. I feel like a different person since using this great restorative.

Can you imagine any medical treatment better suited to the needs of a run-down system? As a spring restorative there is nothing to be compared to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It purifies and enriches the blood, builds up the system, and drives out pains, aches, tired feelings, and discouragement. London, April 2.—The rate of discount of the Bank of England remained unchanged at 3 per cent. today.

Berlin, April 2.—Exchange on London 20 marks 4 1/2 pfennigs for checks. Money 2 1/2 per cent. Private rate of discount 2 1/2 per cent.

Berlin, April 2.—The bourse opened weaker today. Later the market reacted and closed generally higher.

Toronto, April 2.—Receipts 296 cattle, 26 calves, 1488 hogs; 16 sheep. Business was a little brighter today.

Paris, April 2.—Prices were firm on the bourse today. Three per cent. rentes 86 francs 92 1/2 centimes for the account.

Exchange on London 25 francs 18 1/2 centimes for checks. Private rate of discount 2 1/2 per cent.

London, April 2.—Money was dearer and discount rates were harder today on the bank statement.

The stock market continued to be depressed by the calm political atmosphere here and the lack of interest in the investment issues most while Kaffirs and copper shares advanced on increased speculative buying. Consols declined in the afternoon under realising.

American securities moved irregularly within narrow limits during the day. The market was closed steady. The 2 1/2-10,000 Australian 4 per cent. bonds issue, which has been expected for some time, will soon be offered at about 95 1/2.

DEATH COMES SUDDENLY TO JOHN MARR AT HIS HOME

Well-Known Business Man Taken Ill On Way To Lecture, and Dies In a Short Time.

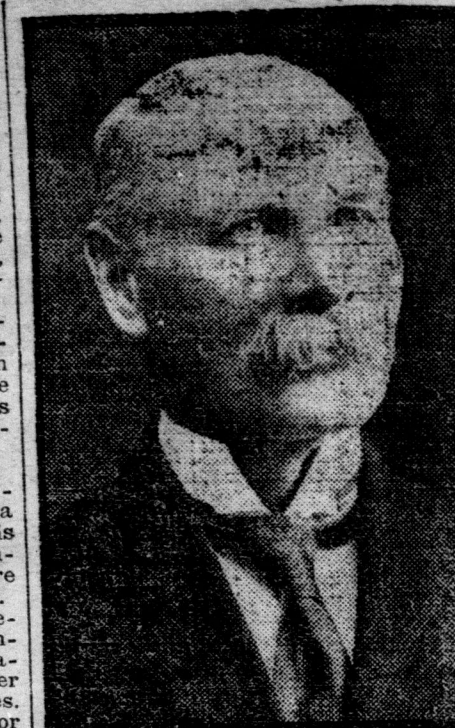

With the death of John Marr, which occurred suddenly at eight o'clock last night at his residence, 255 Dufferin avenue, London lost one of its most prominent and respected citizens. For many years he had been a commercial traveler, and at the time of his death was actively connected with the firm of Elliott, Marr & Co. He was widely known, not only in the city, but throughout western Ontario, through which territory he had traveled.

Mr. Marr left his home shortly before eight o'clock last evening to attend a lecture, and was apparently in the best of health. Shortly after he began to feel ill, and returned to his home, where he expired almost immediately.

Born in Scotland, Mr. Marr was born in Scotland in 1853, but removed to Canada when fourteen years of age with his parents. The family came almost immediately to this city, and it was here that Mr. Marr as a boy was educated. As he advanced in years he developed a decided fondness for commercial activity. Through his capability and intense eagerness to master the business he made rapid strides. For several years he traveled for Mossman & Co., and when a comparatively young man, in company with C. H. Elliott now, collector of customs for the Port of London, established a wholesale grocery business on King street.

Both members of the firm were energetic and resourceful and the business prospered. Mr. Marr possessed the faculty of winning the confidence of his customers and when the business was launched he went on the road. He traveled for the firm for many years and it was chiefly due to his persistent efforts in the right direction that the concern became known as one of the most prosperous and flourishing in Ontario.

Elected Water Commissioner. In 1911 he was induced by numerous friends to enter public life. He was nominated for water commissioner and was elected by a substantial majority. While in office he devoted his time to the interests of the city and in this department, too, he became a general favorite for his levelheaded and consistent ideas. After serving for his two-year term, during which time he was elected chairman of the newly-formed parks commission, he retired, though still remaining a member of the parks commission, to which he was appointed again last year. This position he resigned owing to ill-health.

He was a member of the board of managers for St. Andrew's Church. Surviving are his widow, one daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Alexander Wright; three brothers, Robert, of this city; William, of Barre, Vt.; Alexander, of Aberdeenshire, Scotland; and one sister, Mrs. Cruickshank, also of Aberdeenshire.

Government securities unchanged. The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 41.3 per cent. Last week it was 42.7 per cent.

GLADYS MEREDITH AWARDED DAMAGES

Jury Gives Brantford Girl $1,500, But Judge Has Yet To Decide a Point.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Brantford, April 2.—Although a jury at the assizes yesterday awarded $1,500 damages to Gladys Meredith against Dr. E. C. Ashton for assault in connection with the making of an examination to clear up the suspicion that she was the mother of an infant whose body was found in the Grand River, it is not yet certain that the girl will be able to recover the amount. Before the case was given to the jury Justice Kelly reserved his decision on an application for a non-suit on the ground that the girl had not been ill-treated, and that the doctor, by making the examination, whether with or without her consent, was instrumental in removing a stain from her character. Similar English cases were cited, where the courts held that under the circumstances there was not any assault, and the case was thrown out of court. His lordship will give his decision on his return to Toronto. In making the examination, the doctor acted on the request of the local police, who were trying to clear up what local feeling is against the police, much sympathy is expressed for Dr. Ashton, who is held in the highest regard.

EXPECT MANY DELEGATES

B. Y. P. U. Convention Here Next Week Will Be Big One.

The convention of the Baptist Young People's Society to be held in this city on Thursday and Friday of next week promises to be one of the largest held here in some time, delegates being expected from all parts of Ontario and Quebec. The meetings will be held in Talbot Street Baptist Church, where the problem of affecting young peoples' work in all its varied phases will be discussed.

Among the speakers will be Rev. Harry Noble of Toronto and Rev. W. R. McIntosh of King Street Presbyterian Church in this city. The convention is being brought to this city under the auspices of all the Baptist Young Peoples Societies of the city, who are busy preparing plans for the entertainment of their guests while here.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist.

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicine and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the danger as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisphosphated magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause greatest distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisphosphated magnesia, and should always be kept handy.—Adv.

THIN PEOPLE CAN INCREASE WEIGHT

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat, should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with

The board of education will ask the city council for $275,102.17 to operate the public schools, Collegiate Institute and London Art and Industrial School this year. This was the amount of the estimates passed upon by the trustees yesterday. The sum of $229,194.11 is for public school purposes, $41,477.61 for the Collegiate Institute and $4,430.45 for the industrial school.

The whole proposed expenditure shows an increase over last year of approximately $29,000 which is made up largely of interest and sinking fund on debentures, and salaries of extra teachers. The last item, alone, amounts to $11,000. The increases to various classes of instructors also do their share toward swelling the extra expenditure.

Overdraft of $3,859.92.
The items of public school expenditure include a net overdraft of $3,859.92, $159,515 for salaries of teachers and officers, $2,500 for substitute teachers, $1,550 for the Normal training school, $12,000 for janitors' salaries. The estimated receipts, including seven distinct Government grants, and $300 from non-resident pupils amount to $12,755. In the estimate, $53,189.92 is allowed for sinking fund and interest.

The big expense at the Collegiate comes in $45,000 for teachers' salaries, $1,400 for fuel, $1,000 for examinations and $2,100 for janitors' expenses. Receipts are estimated at $15,814.37, including $1,400 for non-resident fees, $1,500 for resident fees, $1,500 in Government grants and $2,841.98 is allowed for sinking fund and interest.

Art School Estimates Lower.
The art and industrial school estimates are, as before, lower to the extent of $146.45 than last year. This year, the estimate is $8,431.45, whereas the figure in 1913 was $8,571.90.

The estimates, which have been thoroughly considered by the trustees, were passed with little comment. This year the board will also spend $171,000 in new schools.

The trustees decided to appoint two brothers, W. J. and J. B. Pengelly, at present students at Guelph, as training instructors. They will receive $1,200 a year, each, with a yearly increase of $100 until a maximum deemed suitable by the board is reached.

Request for Power to Make Contracts With Municipalities Given Hearing.
Mayor C. M. R. Graham returned last night from Toronto, where he attended the conference between the executive of the Ontario Radicals Union and the members of the Ontario cabinet.

"I was greatly pleased with the conference," said his worship with the telephone to The Advertiser, "and certainly a wonderful interest is being shown all over the Province in the radicals project, there being about 225 present. We asked the cabinet for legislation to make it possible for the Ontario Hydro Commission to make contracts with the various municipalities to guarantee bonds for the construction of the roads, and the request was most favorably received. While they did not promise us definitely I have no doubt but that the legislation will be forthcoming at the present session."

"The Legislature has received no word as yet from the Federal Government as to the latter's intention in assisting Ontario radicals, but I anticipate that the Ontario authorities, as well as the Canadian Government, will be prepared to assist us in the project."

WILL FORM A CAMERA CLUB
Snapshot Enthusiasts Start Organization Proceedings.
At a well attended meeting, held last evening, steps were taken to inaugurate a London camera club, and it is expected that at another gathering to be held shortly organization will take place. Considerable enthusiasm was shown in the matter, and it was predicted that London will soon have a camera club, which will have several hundred young men and women as members. Prizes will be offered for special work and experts will be secured to give practical talks and demonstrations.

FORMER LONDONER DEAD IN WINNIPEG
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Winnipeg, Man., April 1.—Duncan Sinclair, one of the best-known lumbmen in Winnipeg, for years chairman of the school board, and prominent in Presbyterian Church circles, died today after a lingering illness, aged 65. Born in Scotland, he came to Canada in 1855, settling in London, Ont., district, with his parents, where he remained until 1882, when he removed to Winnipeg. Two of his sons are officers in Winnipeg Cameron Highlanders.

NORTH WATERLOO CASE OF CONFIDENTIAL NATURE
Hon. W. J. Hanna Declines to Make License Information Public.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, April 1.—License administration in North Waterloo, under Inspector Walter, was alar in the Legislature this afternoon, when Dr. McQueen sought a rather extensive return. In a few spirited remarks, Mr. Hanna declared that the return could not go because the publication of the correspondence was not in the public interest, and the information was of a confidential nature. It would be a sorry day for the department when any other policy was adopted.

Special Notice
Through some misunderstanding it has been reported that the Lake Huron Hotel at Sarnia has changed ownership. This is not correct. We want to announce that the hotel will be opened for guests on June 8th under the same management and ownership. From the number of reservations already made, this promises to be a very busy season for this popular resort, and we would advise an early application for rooms. J. O. CORTESE, Manager, Lake Huron Hotel Company, London address, 161 Maple street, 860.

COMMANDER EVANS THRILLS AUDIENCE

Tells Graphic Story of Scott Dash For South Pole.

TRIBUTES TO THE LEADER

Heroic Band of Explorers Extolled in Simple Forceful Language.

"Their motto was 'Play the game.'" Such were the closing words of Commander Evans' lecture in the Grand Opera House Wednesday evening on "Captain Scott's Last Expedition." No more fitting tribute could possibly be paid to the gallant little band of Britons, the story of whose glorious achievement and tragic end thrilled an audience which completely filled the theatre.

Told in the language of Commander Evans, in terse, simple phrases, without any unnecessary comment, the story was an epic such as the world seldom hears. Added to this there were the pictures. It is perfectly safe to say that nothing ever approaching them in interest have been seen in this city. Many of them were taken by Dr. E. A. Wilson, the personal friend of Captain Scott, who was one of the five to perish with him. They formed a complete record of the expedition from the time it left London in 1910 until the final return journey from the pole was begun. The pictures were a story in themselves—a story without words—and the audience accorded enthusiastic applause to many of the slides shown. A journey which took the members of the expedition three years to complete amidst almost unbelievable hardships the pictures made possible for a London audience to take in two hours, seated comfortably in a theatre.

"These Were Men." Commander Evans is a lecturer par excellence. Athletic and clean-cut in appearance, his style of narrative is convincing to the last degree, and he held the interest of his audience right through. A subtle vein of humor running all through his remarks relieved to a large extent the intensity of the story which was his to tell. To attempt to re-tell in any but his own words, would be but to mar it. The narration of the conduct of the six members of the expedition during the trying three years in which they were absent from civilization awakened in the minds of those who heard it, the thought: "These were men."

Not once was there the semblance of a quarrel, the members each working for the good of all the other members of the expedition. In the greatest good humor they went about their labors, beguiling the long stormy nights with songs and stories of home, and reading at times from Dickens' "David Copperfield" and "Pickwick Papers."

The Last Struggle.
A sympathetic hush fell upon the audience while Commander Evans told of the last struggles of Captain Scott and his brave comrades, and the memorable last entry in the diary: "These rough notes and our bodies must tell the tale."

The lecturer was loudly cheered at the conclusion of the story, in the act of which he bore no inconsiderable part as second in command of the expedition. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded him, moved by Very Rev. Dean Davis, and conveyed to him in a neat speech by Col. Hodgins, who acted as chairman and introduced the speaker. The Ladies' Guild of St. James Church, who brought Commander Evans to this city, were congratulated upon the success of the undertaking.
