

RAIN PROVED BAD FOR FAIR; QUEEN'S PARK SOAKED TODAY

Large Crowds in the City, But They Are Staying Down Town—Some Worthy Exhibits.

Jupiter Pluvius was the main attraction at the Fair this morning and he completely owned the establishment.

Rain began to fall early in the day and kept it up continually. The grounds presented a soaked appearance.

The tents on the Midway were rain-soaked, and not a soul stirred about them.

The race track was a sea of mud, and there will be nothing doing in the speed ring today. Gloom was prevalent everywhere, one exhibitor being willing to bet that it would rain for three weeks.

However, the weather is looking better and it will probably clear up by nightfall.

The weather was a serious drawback to the Fair, as there was a large crowd in town. Most of them stayed down town, although quite a crowd, larger than was anticipated, went out to the grounds.

Traffic to London on all roads was quite heavy this morning. Special trains were run on the Sarnia branch, and the northern lines of the Grand Trunk, and nearly every train was well filled. The M. C. R. and the Pere Marquette also brought in large crowds. They were much disappointed at the weather, but managed to enjoy themselves down town. Large numbers went to the theaters in the afternoon.

It is expected that a very large crowd will be in the city tomorrow.

Scott Machine Company.

The Scott Machine Company of London has one of the latest exhibitions in Machinery Hall. A splendid 12-horsepower gas engine generating electricity for 100 lights is running all the time. For ease of movement and running qualities it is unsurpassed, and is most favorably commented on by the visitors. It is giving the utmost satisfaction. The firm is also showing a sample of disc sharpener that is being manufactured in large numbers by the firm. One company, the Evansville, Wisconsin, has ordered 200 of these machines. This order is being filled rapidly. The Scott Company (Continued on Page Eight.)

More Compliments for the 7th Regt.

Compliments still continue to come the way of the Seventh Regiment, Lieut.-Col. Reid being in receipt of a number of letters from Buffalo complimenting him on the splendid showing of the London soldiers.

Mr. J. L. Clawson, president of the Old Home Week committee has sent a letter in which he pays a tribute to the efficiency of the regiment.

Mr. Victor Speer, secretary of the corporation of the City of Buffalo, on behalf of Mayor Adams and himself, expressed his pleasure at meeting the London boys, and at the splendid showing of the local troops.

He hopes it will not be long until the citizens of Buffalo have the privilege of again entertaining the regiment. Mr. Clawson's letter is as follows:

Lieut.-Col. Frank A. Reid, Seventh Regiment of Fusiliers, London, Ont.: Dear Colonel:—The Old Home Week committee desires me to express to you and your regiment its sincere appreciation of your splendid efforts on our behalf, and assure you that you contributed largely to the success of the two days which you were in Buffalo, and I can with confidence assure you that the citizens of Buffalo would look forward with pleasure to a return of your regiment, and I trust that we may all have that pleasure at no distant time.

Thanking you once more in behalf of the committee and the City of Buffalo, I am, very truly yours, J. L. CLAWSON, President of committee.

LONDON PIONEER HAS PASSED AWAY

Death of Mr. Frederick Platt, the Well-Known Former Carriage Maker.

The death of another of London's oldest and most highly respected citizens, that of Mr. Frederick Platt, occurred this morning at his son-in-law's (Mr. Mungo Nelles) residence, 353 Dufferin avenue, at the ripe old age of 82.

The late Mr. Platt was born in London, England, in the year 1825, and sailed from England in 1840, taking six weeks to reach this country.

He came to London over 50 years ago and engaged in a large carriage business with his late brother William, who predeceased him several years ago.

The late Mr. Platt retired from active business 25 years ago, and had resided for some time with his son-in-law.

The surviving members of the family are his widow, one son, Charles F. of Chicago, and a daughter, Mrs. Mungo Nelles, of this city.

The funeral, which will be private, will be held from Mr. Nelles' residence on Thursday at 2 p.m. Rev. Canon Dunn will officiate. Interment will take place in Woodland Cemetery.

END OF A LONG STRIKE

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Twenty union men will start to work today at "cases," which they have not touched for more than two years in the composing-rooms of the Falthorn Printing Company. The typesetters were involved in one of the longest strikes on record in Chicago, which was ended yesterday, when the firm agreed to adopt the 8-hour working day.

JAPANESE PARADE OF 7,000 MEN STRAW WHICH BROKE CAMEL'S BACK

English Correspondent Who Recently Visited Here Writes of the Troubles in West.

Mr. W. Redwood, of the Bristol Daily Press, one of the English journalists who recently visited London, writes in his paper of the pressure of Asiatics in Vancouver and the west, under date of Aug. 29, and his views are owing to the recent outbreak in Vancouver against the Japs, of much interest to Londoners. He says:

During our visits to Vancouver and Victoria one feature which was brought prominently before our attention was the employment of Asiatic labor. This extends to nearly the whole

QUEBEC'S RECENT BRIDGE DISASTER

Loss to Contractors Less Than Reported—Will Take Two Years to Replace.

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—David Reeves, president of the Phoenix Bridge Company, said today that, although inquiry into the concern's loss as a result of the fall of the Quebec cantilever bridge had not been completed, he did not believe that the loss would be one-fourth as large as first supposed.

Other officials declared that the work of rebuilding the bridge would be continued if the Canadian Government did not object.

"Several weeks must elapse before any conclusion as to the cause of the accident can be reached," said one of them. "However, I can say that it will take two years of hard work to reach the stage of completion at which we stood when the accident occurred."

COLLEGE ATHLETE KILLED

While Performing With Mustang Misjudged Distance.

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—William J. Mulhall, a well-known college footballer and athlete, was killed at Stratford, a suburb, yesterday, by plunging head foremost over a mustang which he was attempting to mount. Mulhall was showing a friend some of the evolutions practiced by cowboys in their drills, and giving cowboy exhibitions. He attempted to vault into the saddle while the mustang was on the run, misjudged the distance and plunged over the horse. He fell on his head, fracturing his skull, and died in a short time. Mulhall was 22 years old.

of the industries, and to the hotels, and a large proportion of the private residences. The explanation given is that white labor is not available, and that the introduction of Chinese, Japanese, and, in some cases, Hindu labor, has become essential to the development of the resources of the district. Notwithstanding the $500 head tax, there is a steady influx of Chinese into British Columbia, and it is alleged that the restrictions imposed upon the introduction of Japanese have not been observed.

7,000 Japanese.

It is stated that there are 7,000 Japanese in Vancouver, and about an equal number of Chinese; and that in Victoria the proportion of Asiatics to whites is about the same. The cry has been raised that the introduction (Continued on Page Eight.)

Engineer Bell On the North Branch; The Flow Will Be Sure to Diminish

As Drainage Proceeds—Messrs. McEwen and Jaynes on the Spring Water Question.

Engineer Bell, of St. Thomas, the gentleman who recently measured the springs at Komoka for the water commissioners, stated to The Advertiser this morning that he measured all the springs shown him by the gentlemen who were delegated to go with him and point out the springs to be measured.

These gentlemen were Assistant Engineer Stiles and the foreman at the waterworks.

As intimated in yesterday's Advertiser, the water commissioners are of the opinion that Mr. Bell did not measure all the springs, and this view of the situation is endorsed by the statements made by Messrs. John McEwen and Burley Jaynes, well-known residents of the district, who claim that large springs they are aware of were never tested.

Flow Will Diminish.

Mr. Bell repeated to The Advertiser the statements which he made some time ago, when giving evidence in the Saunby case, that the flow of the north branch will in the future be sure to diminish, as the drainage of the adjacent lands is carried on.

Mr. Bell added that the drainage will also diminish the flow of the springs, but he would not say that the springs would be affected to the same extent as would the river by the draining of the land.

Messrs. McEwen and Jaynes, as stated, are of the opinion that Mr. Bell did not measure several of the most important streams down the river, and they claim that if given $150,000 they will produce enough spring water around Byron, Killworth and Komoka to last the city of London for domestic purposes until it has a population of several hundred thousand.

Pollution of the River.

This statement was not made to The Advertiser, but to a citizen who is willing to take the word of the gentleman that they can do what they say. This citizen is a well known physician, who is opposed to river water on the ground that there is plenty of spring water, and that the city has no need to use for drinking purposes what he terms the "nauseous sewage of the north branch."

Mr. Jaynes was up the north branch a few days ago buying cattle, and he was shown a herd of thirty bovines, wallowing in the water. All along the line he saw cattle in the river, and he feels that to ask the people of London to go in for river water is a piece of impertinence.

LOST TWO FINGERS FELL FROM A CAR; IN A "STICKER" SERIOUSLY HURT

Painful Accident to Mr. Rudolph Hessel, of South London, This Morning.

The breaking of a board which he was shoving through a machine known as a sticker caused Rudolph Hessel, of No. 6 Pipe Line road, a contractor, to meet with injuries which resulted in the amputation of the third and fourth fingers of his right hand this morning.

Mr. Hessel is a contracting carpenter, and conducts a shop in the rear of 65 Byron avenue. This morning he was engaged in shoving a small board through a sort of machine known as a "sticker," when the board broke, the impact causing him to lose his balance and shove his hand in the knives of the machine.

Dr. R. Ferguson was called, and at first thought that it would be necessary to amputate the hand. However, later, when the unfortunate man was taken to the Victoria Hospital, it was found that the hand could be saved by the amputation of two fingers.

Hessel suffered greatly from loss of blood before medical assistance could be obtained.

Mrs. C. J. Long, of Richmond Street, Had a Painful Experience.

Mrs. C. J. Long, of Richmond street south, received serious injuries by a fall from a street car the other day. She is badly bruised up, a couple of ribs were broken, and she will be confined to her room for some time.

On the day in question she boarded an Ottawa avenue car going east, and when near Adelaide street she gave the signal for the car to stop. She attempted to alight, but before she reached the ground the car had started.

Mrs. Long was thrown violently to the ground, and was rendered unconscious. The car did not stop, and Mrs. Long lay there until the next car came along and she was taken into the house of friends by the conductor of the second car. Doctors were summoned immediately, and when she was removed to her home. She is still confined to her room, and is making satisfactory progress, although she is still suffering much pain.

It will be some days before she is about.

Motorman Prevented Bad Accident

The presence of mind and strict attention to business of the motorman of car No. 128, Ottawa belt, saved the life of an aged man at the corner of Dundas and Maitland streets about 5:30 last evening.

The motorman, as the car neared Maitland street from the west, was ringing his gong vigorously. Walking toward the south on the east side of Maitland street was the old gentleman. He appeared to be very feeble and paralyzed on one side.

He neither looked to the right nor the left, and he did not appear to notice the approach of the car.

The motorman sounded the gong savagely, but the old gentleman deliberately walked onto the tracks.

The motorman, who had taken in the situation at a glance, clapped on the brakes, and when the car stopped, with the result that the car slowed up and allowed the old gentleman to escape by about two feet.

The people in the car received a bad fright, but they were high in their praises of the motorman. Manager King should give him a few good marks.

THE WEATHER.

TOMORROW—PARTLY FAIR.

FORECAST.

Toronto, Sept. 10—8 a.m.

The first column records the temperature at 8 o'clock this morning, and the second column records the minimum temperatures during the 24 hours previous.

WEATHER NOTES.

A depression which quickly formed during the night in the Mississippi Valley promises to cause rain from Ontario to the Maritime Provinces. In the Western Provinces pressure changes have also been extremely rapid, and a high area which is now spreading into Alberta from the Northwest is likely to be attended by frost in many localities. Local rains and thunderstorms occurred during the night in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Toronto, Sept. 9—9 p.m.—Pressure is high tonight over the Maritime Provinces and the Missouri Valley, and low over Alberta and the Southern Mississippi Valley. A few scattered showers have occurred in Ontario, while elsewhere in the Dominion the weather has been fine. Temperatures have risen in the Western Provinces, and fallen in the Eastern Provinces, and very little change has taken place in Ontario.

A NEW HARBOR FOR RUSSIA

Secured by Discovery of Deep Channel—Four New Battleships.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 10.—The Minister of Marine announced today that the Russian cruiser Dydymoff reports having discovered a channel 28 feet deep connecting the Sea of Okhotsk, Eastern Siberia, with a deep inland lake, Baikal, making the latter a first-class protected harbor.

The Novoe Vremya says it learns that the ministry of marine is about to order four battleships of 21,000 tons.

The police have arrested a band of female thieves, led by a young student of the university named Proskobina Yanova. The band recently committed a number of daring and successful robberies.

JAPANESE CONSUL SEES SIR WILFRID

Inform the Premier of Attempt to Burn Japanese Primary School.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—Japanese Consul-General Nosse received this morning the following telegram from Consul Morikawa at Vancouver:

"About 10:30 last night the rioters set the Japanese primary school on fire, but the building was saved from destruction by the Japanese. I at once interviewed the mayor at the police station, and made demand to call out the militia whenever necessary."

Consul-General Nosse presented the telegram to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. "All that I am doing," said Mr. Nosse, "is to present to the Premier the information of the disturbances as it reaches me. For the rest, I leave it to the good sense of the British and Canadian Governments, who have always treated us fairly. I am satisfied that they will do so in the future, and that our people will have the protection of the Canadian law."

The complaint was Government Inspector I. L. Farrington, who testified that the accused man had been sending watered milk to the Niles town cheese factory for some time.

Drake's defense was that his farmhands had done the adulterating without his knowledge.

"You see," said he, "the boys would 'hook' a few drinks of the cream on top of the milk and then fill the cans up again with water."

In imposing the fine, Squire Chittick said that the next farmer who came before him for adulterating milk would be fined the maximum amount for such an offense, which is $50 and costs.

A Joke on Himself.

In collecting the fine from Drake today the magistrate almost played a nice joke on himself.

Drake thought that $25 would cover all expenses, fine and all, and handed over $25 in five-dollar bills. The costs amounted to $3, and the squire, thinking that he had been handed six five-dollar bills, passed $2 change back to the farmer, who remarked regretfully that the trip to London had "just cost him $23."

Then Squire Chittick took a tumble to himself, recollecting the $2 and informed the farmer that he would have to "dig up" three more good Canadian greenbacks. At the time of going to press Drake was still on a hunt for a friend with the required amount on his person.

Farmers Have Most Unique Excuses

Government Inspector Farrington, who prosecuted a case of adulterating milk today in the county magistrate's court, stated to The Advertiser that although he had a pocket full of summons for similar offenses in his pocket, not one of them were against farmers living near London.

"As a rule," said he, "it is farmers residing in other parts of the Province who are guilty of such offenses, because some day in the near future we hope to put a stop to such practices entirely."

Mr. Farrington said that the excuses given by offending farmers when called into court were often highly original.

STRIKING TELEGRAPHERS

Will Carry Out Contracts With Brokers and Newspapers.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Telegraph operators working under contracts with brokerage firms and newspapers will continue at work.

This decision was reached at a meeting of such operators held last night to discuss a petition which had been circulated asking that the local executive board call out all union operators now at work, regardless of contracts or agreements signed since the beginning of the strike.

A STRIKE ENDED

New York, Sept. 10.—After being on strike for nineteen days, the meat wagon drivers employed by the wholesale butchers have returned to work.

The terms on which they go back are a 65-hour working week, the wages they received before the strike, and no discrimination against union or non-union men, no competent men to be discharged to make room for strikers.

Rear-End Collision in East End Two Freights Crash Together

Cars Smashed, But No One Injured—Was the Result of a Miscalculation.

A rear-end collision about a mile east of the city occurred last evening about 5:30 on the G. T. R. Two west-bound freights were making the switch off the main track near the gravel pits.

The first, in charge of Conductor Brush, of Hamilton, had made the siding off the main track and was hustling along to get up farther to clear the track for the train behind.

The first train stopped rather suddenly, and the second train, a heavy coal train, following close, in charge of Conductor J. A. Graham, of Sarnia, could not be pulled up in time, and crashed into the caboose of the train in front.

The caboose and two coal cars were smashed somewhat, but traffic was not delayed to any extent.

The caboose was stove in. The engine was not damaged and was able to take its load west.

No person was hurt. The engineer of the second train was jarred from his post, but was not injured.

L.D.A. and the Sunday Car Agitation

Yesterday afternoon the executive committee of the Lord's Day Alliance met in the room of the Young Men's Christian Association to discuss the Sunday street car agitation, when a resolution was passed to the effect that the alliance will fight the petition for cars on the Sabbath.

After a somewhat prolonged discussion that resolution, which was as follows, was carried:

"It having been reported that a petition is in circulation for the operation of Sunday cars in London, the executive committee of the Lord's Day Alliance would intimate to the friends of the day of rest that they are fully alert and prepared for any contingency that may arise in connection therewith and depend upon the moral sense of the public for support."

Rev. J. L. Lancelotti, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, read a communication from the Dominion secretary, Rev. T. Albert Moore, informing the alliance that he and Rev. Dr. Shearer, secretary of the moral reform department, of the Presbyterian Church, will be in London on Oct. 20.

A meeting was then arranged to be held on that date, in the auditorium, at 4 p.m., to hear the remarks of the Rev. Shearer and Moore.

Monologist Doyle Will Sue C.P.R.; Injured in Wreck at Smith's Falls

Is Now Appearing at Bennett's Vaudeville Theater—Other Suits May Follow.

Mr. John F. Faulds, on behalf of his client, "Patsy" Doyle, the monologist, who was hurt in the wreck at Smith's Falls on Sunday night while on his way to this city to Bennett's theater, served notice on the C. P. R. Monday morning that he intends looking to the C. P. R. for damages for the injuries.

Mr. Doyle was in the sleeper at the time of the accident, and was severely jolted and had his leg hurt.

Dr. W. J. Stevenson, the C. P. R. physician, has been ordered by the company to examine Mr. Doyle to discover the extent of his injuries.

It is expected that other suits will be entered by the members of the company.

Walter Perkins, Nagel and Adams, and others were more or less shaken up, and they were also put to much inconvenience and trouble owing to the fact that their wardrobes and baggage did not arrive in time to put on their acts in full.

Dorchester Farmer Heavily Fined For Adulterating Milk Supply

Henry Drake Mulcted $25 and Costs by Squire Chittick.

For selling adulterated milk, Henry Drake, a Dorchester farmer, was fined $25 and costs this afternoon by Squire Chittick in the county magistrate's court.

The complainant was Government Inspector I. L. Farrington, who testified that the accused man had been sending watered milk to the Niles town cheese factory for some time.

Drake's defense was that his farmhands had done the adulterating without his knowledge.

"You see," said he, "the boys would 'hook' a few drinks of the cream on top of the milk and then fill the cans up again with water."

BOUNCING BIG SHOW IS AT BENNETT'S

Great Vaudeville Bill Provided for Londoners This Week at the Popular Theater.

Bennett's show this week is one of mirth, and seems to be built merely for fattening purposes. It is a splendid bill, and is bound to please. The high standard set by the Bennett people in the beginning is being carried out. The bill contains many well-known names in vaudeville and they are very entertaining.

The funniest man on the bill is Patsy Doyle. His name would give one the impression that there might be a laugh concealed in his person, and there is, but it is one long laugh that makes wrinkles all over the countenance. Patsy was not long on make-up yesterday, but he is long on jokes, and everybody cuts his laughs off in the middle for fear he would miss the next one. That is Patsy's way. He is funny. He is worth the price of the show.

Walter Perkins and Company have an uproariously funny sketch. Perkins has been through this city before, and has many friends. He has made a reputation as a funmaker, and lives up to it. His sketch is a good one. He is assisted by Mr. G. Maynard and Miss Norma Winslow, both of whom show much ability. "The Man From Macy's" is a first-class sketch and worth seeing. There is a laugh in every line.

The American Comedy Four travels all the latest song hits, and are positively the funniest yet seen. Their burlesque is exceptionally good, and they can sing also. This act is a feature, and is one of those delightfully funny affairs that one does not forget in a minute.

McPhee and Hill are acrobats of a very high order, in fact they look about the best in that particular line that have come to London in many a long day. Many new and startling features are introduced that make the act worth while. It's the best ever.

Dan and Kitty Le Mont have a good show of monkeys, dogs and cats. The animals are all well trained, and work well. There's not an idle second in the act.

The Althea twins are good acrobatic dancers. The girls sing well, also, and put on a very good turn. Nagel and Adams do some interesting comedy work, and Nagel whistles splendidly.

On the whole the bill this week is one of the best yet put on at Bennett's popular playhouse, and is sure to attract large crowds all this week.

General Manager Bennett sat in a box last night and watched the performance. When he saw his big act—that of McPhee and Hill—it costs him $300 a week—remarking clever work and yet fail to win the applause of the audience, he was somewhat disappointed.

"That act is one of the best of its kind in the world," he said. "It closed the show at the Temple, Detroit, Shea's, Buffalo, and Shea's, Toronto, within the past few weeks. But the people here don't appear to appreciate it."

The people who go to Bennett's do not appear to realize that for every minute McPhee and Hill are on the stage they are paid $2. That's going some for London!

Owing to the wreck on the C. P. R. at Smith's Falls, several of the performers were compelled to appear in costumes loaned them by other performers.

PIFF PAFF POUF AGAIN AT GRAND

Pleasing "Musical Cocktail" Delights Fair Sized Audience—Will Be Repeated Tonight.

"Piff Paff Pough," as presented at the Grand Opera House last night was a most highly pleasing production, and the fair-sized crowd present enjoyed itself immensely.

The entire company is a well-balanced one, and the choruses the best that have been here in some time in every way.

The music is catchy and every number was anchored one or more times. Each and every member of the company worked hard at all times and that their efforts to please were highly successful was evinced by the hearty applause accorded by the audience.

Ben Grinnell took care of the heavy comedy work, and at times was ludicrously funny, at other times his work dragged, perhaps because it had the appearance of being overdone. Grinnell is not an easy working comedian by any means, but he kept some of the audience convulsed every moment he was on the stage.

Lulu McConnell, who also takes a leading part, was clever and entertained nicely, while the entire company did its share toward providing a most enjoyable performance.

The piece will be seen at the Grand tonight and Wednesday night.

TWO SHAMROCKS

Lipton Building Boats To Try for the America Cup.

Dublin, Sept. 9.—It is stated on good authority that Sir Thomas Lipton will place his challenge for the America cup with the secretary of the Royal Irish Yacht Club within a fortnight, and that it will immediately be conveyed to New York.

The two Shamrocks, with which Lipton will bring the cup over the Atlantic for some months past and, in fact, the boats are actually being built. They will be tried in the Clyde and afterwards tested in Dublin Bay. Their designer is as confident as Sir Thomas Lipton that the new boats will bring the cup over the Atlantic.

Irish yachtsmen are enthusiastic over the coming race, but they are not by any means as confident as the challenger. They believe the Americans will still keep ahead in the matter of yacht, skipper, and crew.

Since Sir Thomas Lipton made his intentions known he has branched out in new lines of business and become generous with newspaper advertisement orders. His trade rivals accuse him of racing not so much for the trophy as for business purposes.

WANTS HIS WIFE

Port Huron Groom Says She Was Stolen by Mother-in-Law.

Port Huron, Mich., Sept. 10.—On a writ of habeas corpus, Mrs. Eliza Neal has been ordered to appear in circuit court Tuesday afternoon and show cause why she will not permit her daughter, Mrs. Flora Bird, 19, to go to her husband, Bert Bird, 21.

Bert Bird and Flora Neal were sweethearts when they both clerked in a local book store. On June 11 they went to Sarnia and were married. Two days later, the young groom declares, Mother-in-law Neal tore his young wife from his protection and took her home. The next he heard from his wife she was in Portage la Prairie, Man. He says she wrote, saying she longed to come to him, but her mother prevented it.

Flora is at her mother's home now, and Bird swears he will get her back. He is said to be a steady, industrious young man.

CHOLERA MORBUS, cramps and kindred complaints annually make their appearance at the same time as the hot weather, fresh fruit, cucumbers, melons, etc., and many persons are deterred from eating these tempting things, but they need not abstain if they have Dr. J. C. Williams' Dysentery Cordial and take a few drops in water. It cures the cramps and cholera in a remarkable manner, and is sure to check every disturbance of the bowels.

Prelates and bishops are certainly exercising the minds of certain of the rulers of that country. The general opinion seems to be that the danger is as yet fairly remote, although each year brings it nearer. But all authorities are agreed that if the pest ever does make its appearance there the results will be terrible. For it is now established that the bite of the tsetse is the cause of sleeping sickness, one of the few diseases for which there is absolutely no known remedy, and of which there have died within the last few years in the Uganda protectorate alone more than 40,000 people.

A British company has obtained permission to run three steamers on the Tigris, the famous river of ancient Nineveh.

Will the tsetse fly invade India? This is the question that is just now

AGAINST THE ASIATICS.

The recent anti-Japanese disturbances at San Francisco, taken in conjunction with the subsequent uprising against Hindus at Bellingham, Wash., and the more recent outbreak against Japanese at Vancouver, indicate that this race-feeling is general along the Pacific Coast and on both sides of the International boundary line. It is against the Japanese that this feeling seems to be mainly directed, both in British Columbia and California, the Chinese being now regarded as less a menace to white labor than when they were almost the sole "yellow peril" with which these communities were confronted. The steady decrease in Chinese population, synchronizing with the rapid increase of Japanese, no doubt accounts for this. In 1890, the Chinese population of California was 72,472, composed mainly of working males. Ten years later it had fallen to 45,753, and there is reason to believe that it has since steadily decreased. As regards the Japanese official figures tell an altogether different tale. In 1890 there were but 1,147 of the Mikado's subjects residing in the state. Ten years later there were 10,151, and the number has since increased very rapidly. The experience of British Columbia has been the same.

A significant feature of the Vancouver riot was the attitude of the Japanese attacked. They did not run to cover, as the rioters probably expected, but met the attack with showers of missiles of various kinds, and at close quarters used knives. They appeared to be inspired by pride of race and to be conscious that behind them they had the might of a great nation. The failure of the local authorities to cope with the rioters has made the situation more embarrassing for this country. It will be necessary to offer some redress for the destruction of property and the insult to the national honor of Japan, more especially as an affront has been put upon a staunch ally of Great Britain. Article 1 of the revised treaty between Great Britain and Japan provides "that the subjects of each of the two contracting parties shall have full liberty to enter, travel or reside in any part of the dominions and possessions of the other contracting party, and shall enjoy full and perfect protection for their persons and property." There has been a violation of treaty rights, for which Canada cannot escape responsibility, as does the United States, by raising constitutional difficulties. It is reassuring to learn that the Dominion Government has not been indifferent to the problem created in the coast province by the recent influx of Japanese, and that negotiations have been in progress for some time between Tokyo and Ottawa. The Tokyo Government some years ago entered into an undertaking to limit the emigration from Japan to Canada to one emigrant for each Japanese province. Japan has kept faith, and there was no serious grievance in British Columbia until the disturbance of the sugar industry in Hawaii sent droves of Japanese coolies to this continent in search of work. It is said that Japan will undertake to control her subjects in Hawaii and put a stop to their migration to the Pacific coast. The comparatively few Japanese already in British Columbia are not a menace, and if immigration can be brought within the previous limits, the yellow peril will disappear.

IF BRITAIN SHOULD BECOME INVOLVED IN WAR.

A matter that has of late engaged much attention on the part of the British Government, and been the subject of considerable discussion in the press, is the possible effect on the food and raw material supplies of the mother country in the event of becoming involved in war with one of the great maritime powers or a combination of powers. Some time ago a royal commission was appointed to consider the question, and it has recommended that as an inducement to ship-owners and merchants to run their vessels in time of war and remove all inducements to transfer them to neutral flags, they be guaranteed by the Government against losses by capture. This, it is thought, would prevent prices of supplies in the United Kingdom from soaring in war time, no matter what captures may be made at sea by the enemy. A treasury committee has the suggestion under consideration at the present time.

Sir Robert Giffen, an acknowledged authority on the subject, discusses, in an article in the Nineteenth Century, the contingencies of Britain being involved in a naval war. He points out that apart from the dangers to British commerce, the conditions of naval war must involve other economic dangers even more worth attending to and preparing for. Sir Robert considers that the American civil war—a conflict in which Britain had no part—furnishes the best illustration of the disastrous and far-reaching effects upon the latter country of the interruption of business resulting from war. That struggle had the effect of paralyzing the British cotton industry, of ruining British merchants and manufacturers, and of throwing a vast army of British workmen out of their usual employment for a number of years. In India and other countries that were able to partly supply the demand for cotton resulting from the shortage in the United States there was immense speculation, while in Great Britain there was a speculation in silk, jute, wool and linen, which for a time took the place of cotton, the effect of which was long afterwards felt.

Sir Robert paints a most gloomy picture of the financial effects of the outbreak of a great war. There would be extreme disorganization of the entire British banking business and a run on London of unparalleled magnitude, war invariably producing a demand for gold. He recalls the great panic on the London Stock Exchange at the opening of the Franco-German war in 1870, which, he says, was directly due to the banking pressure, and argues that a banking panic, causing incalculable confusion and distress, must follow the outbreak of a war in which Britain was involved. Overwhelming would be the mischief and ruin which the first few weeks of a great naval war, whether successful or otherwise, would bring.

Sir Robert discusses the various ways in which hostile fleets might strike at the Empire's world-wide trade and commerce, and concludes that to escape great losses and disasters in any great war the nation's naval might must be so increased as to make it unsafe for any enemy's fleet to give up the work of protecting their own coast. The development of naval power on the part of great military governments renders this absolutely necessary.

INVENTIONS AND THEIR SUPPRESSION.

The suppression of useful inventions is said to be by no means uncommon in the United States, and in order to learn the facts, to determine how many unused patents have been granted and to ascertain to what extent applications have been withdrawn before final issue, the Government has ordered an investigation of the patent office records. The statement is freely made that corporations and wealthy individuals have not only seized upon or bought for a trifle the valuable product of the brains of poor inventors, but have been known to purchase inventions at any price for the sole purpose of suppressing them, the reason being that established devices would be destroyed by their introduction and adoption.

It is now said that the strike among their operators has induced the two big telegraph corporations to seriously consider the advisability of making a test of certain automatic telegraph instruments, which have for a long time been buried for no other reason than that their adoption would have meant a costly revolution in the telegraph systems. The airbrake was in use on passenger trains many years before Congress, under pressure from labor organizations, passed a law providing for the application of the brake to freight trains, but at the same time a designated period was allowed for the change to go into effect. At the expiration of that period the airbrake was only sporadically applied, and it was found necessary to use compulsion to bring some of the railways to time. The change was very expensive, but it has been the means of saving the lives of thousands of railway employees. It is evident, however, that the cost of their introduction is the main reason why valuable new inventions are rejected or purchased and suppressed by corporations.

Any invention which saves labor, or increases the capacity for communication or transportation, or which adds to the comfort or safety of the public, is for the public good, and to suppress, or ignore it is little short of criminal. There is no reason why labor should be afraid of such inventions, as they invariably have tended to the benefit of the workman as well as to the employer. To such machinery and the superior intelligence required for its successful operation are due the fact that the workman and workwoman of today are in many respects far in advance of those of say 30 or 40 years ago.

Mr. Foster has temporarily dropped from Mr. Borden's entourage. Is this out of deference to public sentiment in Ontario?

It is said that Rufus Pope, ex-M. P., will join Mr. Borden in this city. There will be a big crowd if Mr. Pope will candidly describe his get-rich-quick operations.

Many of the fruit canneries in the Niagara district have been officially reported as filthy and unsanitary. Yet the Dominion Government was abused by opponents for providing for the official inspection of canneries.

Mr. Whitney says he is pleased with Commissioner Starr's report. Commissioner Starr reports, among other things, that politics have not been taken out of the administration of the license act, as promised by Mr. Whitney.

Our local contemporary describes Engineer Bell, of St. Thomas, as ringing the knell of the Komoka scheme. Mr. Bell is the engineer who testified that the north branch is drying up. Which horn of the dilemma will our contemporary take?

FAR FROM IT.

[Life.]
No man is a hero to his wife's relatives.

PICKING ON HIM.

[Lippincott.]
A first grade boy brought perfect spelling papers home for several weeks, and then suddenly began to miss five or six out of ten.
"How's this, son?" asked his father.
"Teacher's fault," replied the boy.
"How is it the teacher's fault?"
"She moved the little boy that sat next to me."

THE ETERNAL QUESTION.

[Smart Set.]
To live within one's salary is hard—no one can doubt it. But there's no doubt 'twere harder still To try to live without it.

THE SUNBONNET GIRL.

[Joe Cone.]
I know not why she should wear A large sunbonnet gay;
Be sure it makes her look demure, And roguish in a way.
She looks from out its lacey folds A picture fair to see;
Yet she imagines, I opine, It hides her witchery.

Mayhap the ostrich argument Impels her thus to wear This bonnet large and soft and deep, To hide her beauty rare.
Though I suspect one other cause— Though it were wrong to tell— If she perchance should choose to kiss 'Twould hide two heads as well.

ALL THE ALPHABET.

[Boston Globe.]
Each of the following sentences contains all the letters of the alphabet: The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog.
Pack my box with five dozen liquor jugs. John quickly extemporized five tow bags.

UNDESERVED SYMPATHY.

[Exchange.]
He anxiously uttered an unseemly curse in his wife's manner.
"Why do you look so sad, my love?" he asked.
"I was thinking of a poor little beggar child that came here this morning," replied his wife. "Just think, Charlie, the poor child was only eight years old, and her father was killed in the civil war, and her mother died of sorrow within a year afterward."

IT TASTES JUST THE SAME.

[Tit-Bits.]
"You say you were in the bar at the time of the assault referred to in the complaint?" asked the lawyer.
"I was, sir."
"Did you take cognizance of the barman at the time?"
"I don't know what he called it, but I took what the rest did."

COMFORTABLE.

[Youth's Companion.]
Comfort is a relative term. In a soldier's camp things appear delightful which would hardly be thought so at home. When, the day after the battle of Gains' Mill, John, a negro servant, came in for supplies, says Mrs. Pryor, in her reminiscences, his mistress asked after his master's well-being.
"Did he have a comfortable night, John?"
"He sholy did, missus," was the reply.
"Marse Roger sart'nly was comfortable last night. He slep' on de field 'twixt two daid hosses."

IN THE NATURE FAKER'S DEN.

[Chicago Evening Post.]
"This is a crocodile's jaw," he observed. "If you will notice it closely beneath, you will see that one day by privations unnumbered."
It provided itself with false teeth. And here is an elephant's trunk that I got. When the elephant had gone away—The intelligent brute must have tinkered a lot.

To arrange it with lid and with tray.
"And here are some chickens I got in the West—
Please notice the fur on their legs. And also the wool on the back and the breast;
We hatched them from cold storage eggs. This is a lobster I've mounted to show you. All the way that it is revealed. A legal digester it is, don't you know?—All its claws have been fully repeated."

"This tapir I caught in the jungles one night. But I first had to choke it to death. For the tapir attempted to blow out its light. But I foiled it—I shut off its breath. This sawfish I caught in a terrible gale; And it died in the flush of its youth. But the file that you see on the end of its tail. It would use when 'twould sharpen each tooth."

"And here," he remarked, as we paused at a case.
"Are the stories I've written to sell. But in none of them all will you find any trace.
Of the wonderful things that I tell. In am waiting until I can add to this bunch.
What I know will be splendid on view—I am yearning to find a gray wolf at his lunch. On the heart of a bull caribou."

WHEN NOT TO SEE.

[Chicago Daily News.]
The shabby spider met the prosperous mole.
"You are looking unusually well," said the spider. "What are you following now?"
"Why, I am a government inspector," replied the mole, with a sly wink.
"Government inspector? Why, I was a government inspector, and couldn't make salt. I have eight eyes, too?"
The mole smiled.

"That's just the trouble. You saw too much. Remember, I'm blind. That's why I make a good government inspector."

THE MOROCCAN MIX-UP

French Cabinet Meet to Discuss Matter of Indemnity.

Paris, Sept. 10.—A special meeting of the cabinet was held yesterday to consider the Moroccan situation. These conclusions were reached:

First—The Moroccan Government should be held responsible for the massacre of July 30 at Casablanca, as well as for the damages suffered as a result of the pillage or the repression of disorders.

Second—The indemnities should be fixed by an international commission. Incidentally this is France's answer to the demands of the German exporters at Casablanca, that France compensate them for the losses they sustained during the bombardment.

Germany's reply to the French note relative to the formation of a Moroccan police from French and Spanish troops says that Germany assumes that the measure proposed is that merely of a provisional character and without prejudice to the terms of the Algeiras convention. The reply of Germany calls attention to the opinion of the German representative at Tangier that the appearance of foreign police there and at other Moroccan ports now is likely to result in the mountain tribes attacking the cities, with consequent danger to the lives and property of Europeans, unless efficient military support for the police is provided.

In regard to the German claims for damages sustained at Casablanca, no difficulties, it is asserted, are likely to arise.

REFUSED REWARD

After Restoring $200 That Convivial Soul Had Lost.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Here's a man who not only returned $200 which he found under his pillow on a lake steamer but refused to take a drink or a smoke or a share of the purse offered by the grateful owner. He's P. C. Atkinson, secretary of the Hyde Park department of the Chicago association. The thing occurred on a trip to Ludington, Mich. from which he has just returned. Cots had been set up in the cabin, and in some way the sleepers became mixed. Shortly after Mr. Atkinson handed over his find to the purser of the boat he was hailed by a wildly excited young man.

"You found my money," the stranger shouted, "come on and we'll drink all the booze on the boat."

"But I don't drink," objected the Y. M. C. A. man.

"Well, come on and take a cigar."

Insisted the man, who was fondling $200

Bowel Troubles

Liver pills, cathartics, mineral waters, often make Constipation worse. They merely irritate the bowels and force them to move—stop taking purgatives and the bowels become "tight" again.

"Fruit-a-tives" are the one certain cure for Constipation because their action is upon the liver. "Fruit-a-tives" are a liver tonic. They stimulate the secretions of bile by the liver, this bile causes the bowels to move in the natural, regular way and completely cures Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices with tonics and antiseptics added. In "Fruit-a-tives" one atom of sweet in the fruit juices, forming a new compound which is many times more active, medicinally, than the fruit juices could possibly be. 50c. a box—$2.50 for 6 boxes. At all dealers'.

Mooney's Perfection Cream Sodas

SAYS THIS IS BEST

A leading health journal in answering the question, "What is the best prescription to clean and purify the blood?" prints in a recent issue the following:

Fluid Extract Dandelion one ounce; Compound Salatone, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, four ounces.

Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

A well-known physician states that these are harmless vegetable ingredients, which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy.

This mixture will clean the blood of all impurities. In just a few days the skin begins to clear of sores, boils and pimples. It puts vigor and energy into run-down debilitated men and women. For many years Sarsaparilla alone has been considered a good blood medicine. But while it built up and made new blood, the impurities remained within and the good accomplished was only temporary.

Sarsaparilla, however, when used in combination with Compound Salatone and Extract Dandelion, works wonders. This combination puts the kidneys to work to filter and sift out the waste matter, uric acid, and other impurities that cause disease. It makes new blood and relieves rheumatism and lame back and bladder troubles.

Now then one sees a frock of real simplicity which at once appeals for its unquestioned style and smartness. Such an one is shown in the accompanying sketch, the tucks at the shoulder being well placed to lend breadth of shoulder and a pretty fullness for the front, and the simulated front closing with its rows of stitching being neat and effective. The skirt is a full, pleated one, attached to the belt which joins it to the waist. The sleeves are in three-quarter length, and have neatly little cuffs for finishing. The blouse is easily full all around at the waistline, which assures it grace and becomingness. For a plaid gingham or serge or a plain color pongee or mohair, the style is excellent; three yards of 44-inch material are needed for the medium size.

The White Cat

[BY GELETT BURGESS, AUTHOR OF "VIVETTE."

"I thought you might like something to eat, perhaps, before you went to bed," she said. "Miss Joy forgot to speak of it."

"Thank you, Leah," I said, taking the little tray. I was about to close the door when she gave me a look that betrayed me.

"Did you want anything else?" I asked.

"Do you mind if I speak to you for a minute?" she asked. She stopped and listened intently for a moment.

"Leah, where in the world are you?" Miss Fielding called impatiently.

Leah spoke in an undertone to me. "Please wait. I'll be in as soon as I can." Then she went into Miss Fielding's room.

I left my door ajar and sat down by the window. The rain had ceased, and a full moon was breaking through masses of drifting cumulus clouds over the top of the hill behind the house. I could hear the dogs snapping and growling occasionally in their sleep and below, in his little box of a room off the library, Uncle Jordon's deep snoring. I must have been there for fifteen minutes before Leah appeared with her candle. She shut the door noiselessly and came softly up to my side.

"Mr. Castle, how are you feeling, now?" she asked.

"Oh, I'm afraid I'm getting well," I said, smiling. "Why? Do you think I ought to be leaving?" I asked the question jokingly, but she took it up with seriousness.

"I'm really afraid you'd better, Mr. Castle," she looked me square in the eyes. Her own shone very wide and deep.

"I don't wish to hurry you," she went on, "but it will be much better for you to leave as soon as you can. You'll forgive me for mentioning it, won't you? I hope that you won't think that I don't realize my position; but—I can only say that I am doing what I think is best. If I weren't so sure that you are a gentleman, and a friend of Miss Joy's, I'd never dare mention it. But, oh, there'll be trouble if you stay, and heaven knows we've had trouble enough."

I felt a pang of self-reproach and a great pity for her. "Oh, I'll go!" I reassured her. "I understand. Or, at least, if I don't quite understand, I'm sure you're quite right. I think I can get away tomorrow morning, if you'll get the carriage for me."

"I'll attend to that. Uncle Jordon can drive you to the station. And don't please, mention it to Miss Joy that I spoke to you about it. She may ask you to stay—she likes you, really; but she doesn't know what I know, and I don't dare tell her."

"She gave me a frightened look, and her white teeth shone through her parted lips, gleaming in contrast to her line dark face. Then her eyes strayed again and she said, slowly, "Do you think he can be trusted?"

"Why not?" I replied, watching her sharply. "How, at any rate, can I tell, after having seen him only once?"

She gave a quick drawn sigh. "Oh, once was enough for me!"

"You mean—that you don't trust him?" I exclaimed in surprise.

"I mean I'm not sure that I do," she was speaking slowly now, choosing her words with an effort. "That's quite as bad, isn't it? For I don't know what to do about him. I am afraid that I may make things worse, perhaps."

"You're sure that you can't tell me?"

"Oh, I don't! If I were only sure, I might, but even then it would be hard." Her voice was plaintive and yet her accent was decisive.

There was a pause in which I waited uncertain, my eyes stayed on the fine, erect, colored girl before me, so passionately loyal to her mistress, so delicately sensitive to the anomalous part she was playing. Though her resolution had in no way broken down, I could see how she was wrought upon, how difficult a position was hers in that strange house.

"Well," I said finally, "there's of course nothing for me to do, then, but to leave. Miss Fielding has told me explicitly that your judgment can be depended upon. I have no right here, of course; I'm an interloper."

She put a dark, well-shaped hand on my arm, in timid reproach.

"Yet, I hope you can trust me," I added, not hesitating to clasp that hand in friendship and confidence.

She took it away quickly, but looking at me with her soul in her dark eyes. "Oh, I'm sure of you!" she said simply.

"You make it very hard for me to go," I ventured.

"I shall long for you," she replied. "I shall long for your strength and judgment. I must think it over, more and try to decide on a line of action. It may be—I won't promise—that I shall send for you to come down."

"I'll come at a moment's notice!" I exclaimed. "Oh, do let me help in some way."

"Would you?" She clasped her hands for her breast again and sighed as if I had really helped her by my promise. Then, "I'm glad to be able to know that. Miss Joy likes you. I think you have a rare sympathy for her condition. It's a relief. Then we'll leave it that way. So you'll go?"

"Tomorrow morning," I answered.

CHAPTER VII.

We met next morning in the library for I could move alone now, and had gone down early. My hostess, dressed in white duck, was in her most exquisitely graceful mood, quite the delicate, refined, intense woman I had first known.

"Do you really think that it's safe for you to leave today?" she asked, when I had announced my intention to her. "I am afraid you shall miss your very much, Mr. Castle. I feel quite as if I had made a friend."

"If you do, it more than repays me for my accident, Miss Fielding. It only remains for you to prove it by permitting me to do something for you."

She smiled quickly. "Stay here a while longer then!"

"Ah, you know how glad I'd be to! But I really must get back. I've imposed on your hospitality unconsciously already."

"Oh, well," she turned to the window, "if you're going to pay me the conventional compliments, we won't press it."

"If you knew what an immensely unwarranted interest I've begun to take in you, you'd spare me," I replied.

She held out her hand to me, her graceful fingers slightly divergent, exquisitely poised. "Thank you for your gallantry," she said. "You came out of the dark, were literally dumped here, you know, and it has been wonderful that we have understood each other as well as we have."

She stayed my interruption, with a wave of her hand. "Oh, I understand you, I think, at least well enough to be sure of you. But let's be frank—you don't quite approve of me. Nevertheless, you like me, and we can be friends. It may indeed be that I shall put you sometime to the test, and give you the chance of proving it. Until that time comes, you'll have to stay on the island, Mr. Castle. I'm afraid."

Rheumatism, Munyon's 3X Cures

Think of a remedy that relieves sharp, shooting pains in any part of the body in from one to three hours and effects a perfect cure in a few days. It purifies the blood, it neutralizes the acid, it takes all inflammation and soreness away. Have you a lame or aching back, lumbar or sciatic? Have you stiff or swollen joints, no matter how chronic? Ask your druggist for Munyon's 3 X Rheumatism Cure, and see how quickly you will be cured. If you have any kidney or bladder trouble, get Munyon's Special Kidney Cure. Money back if it fails. Munyon's Vitalizer makes weak men strong, and restores lost powers.

I saw by these words that she must have forgotten her revelations of the night before. It didn't seem quite fair not to let her know. So risking her displeasure, I came out with it.

"May I venture to remind you of what you said last night?"

She looked hard at me. "What did I say? What do you mean? About what? We talked of so many things, you know." She was embarrassed, on the defense, watching eagerly my first word of enlightenment.

"About your memory," I prompted. "My memory? I don't quite recall."

Her lips were parted and her fists closed a little as she waited. "About your having amnesia, you know."

Her hand went to her heart. "I only mention it," I said, "because I don't want to take advantage of any ignorance you may have concerning my position—and what I do know. If you have forgotten possibly, I think I ought to tell you, for I can't pretend to be on the island when I am not. It seems to me that quite in spite of myself I've got off it. What you said about Dr. Copin."

She caught me up, now, a little wildly, discarding further attempt at evasion. Her face had suddenly grown white. "What did I say?" she asked.

"Oh, only that he was treating you for the amnesia," I replied. I couldn't possibly repeat the rest of it.

She put her hands to her face for a moment, hiding its expression. Then she withdrew them, compressed her lips, and tipping her head back a little, shook it with the old gesture, as if to regain control of herself. Then she came up to me and put both her hands on my shoulders.

"It isn't your fault, I know, Mr. Castle. But you are off the island, and I'm afraid—that it's all over now."

"Isn't it really all begun, rather?" I replied.

Her hands dropped to her sides, and she walked to the window. "Oh, I don't know, I don't know!" she moaned. "You have made me think terrible things. But never mind. I didn't want you to know about me. I hoped we could be friends without. I couldn't risk it, I can't risk it now. You mustn't try to find out, you must not even wonder."

She sat down in the broad window seat, and laid her head back for a moment among the silk pillows, with a wearied settling of her body, closing her eyes. I didn't know what to say or do, so I did nothing, and was not even wondering. Just as she gazed into it abstractedly, as if she were seeing visions. Then, still holding it, he looked up at me with a far-away smile. It was a new expression I saw on her face; it had the pathetic look of some elf, lost in a strange, terrible land. At last she said, "Come over here, and sit down beside me, please!"

A "Yegg" or "Yeggman" might be defined as a cross between a tramp and a burglar. "Yeggmen" travel about the country always by stealing or begging rides on freight trains, and their operations are generally confined to banks or post-offices in the smaller towns. Eventually "Yeggmen" are likely to come to grief through the loss of a leg or an arm, when they take to begging, and become known as "ex-yeggmen."

KENT PASTURES WERE DRIED UP

Worst Drought in History of the Country—Fruit Very Scarce.

Ridgetown, Sept. 10.—The present season has been the worst in the history of East Kent for the growers of small fruits. Strawberries, the first fruit to appear on the market, were of fine quality, but the season was only about half the usual length owing to the prevailing dry weather at the time. Raspberries followed, but the crop was not one-quarter the average and the price (18c) was out of reach of the ordinary buyer, and cherries were a complete failure, as were currants and gooseberries.

Not a particle of fruit of any kind has been upon the market for weeks, and now it is found that the outlook for peaches, plums, pears and apples is discouraging, in fact, there will not be enough to supply one-tenth the local demand. And this in a district that is noted for its fruits. While the season has not been a favorable one, the principal reason of the famine is that growers have neglected to trim and spray their trees. Grapes promise to be plentiful.

The hay crop turned out about two-thirds the ordinary yield, and wheat was fairly good. Oats suffered most, and, while some good yields are reported, many fields were badly damaged by the army worm.

Beans and corn have come on wonderfully well during the past few weeks, and the stretch of the country bordering on Lake Erie promises fair yields all the way from Clearville to Leamington. The low lands have suffered worst, the frosts of July 2 and Aug. 23 completely ruining many fields of corn and beans.

The hardships will be most severe in the Botany district, which suffered from the terrible cyclone last summer. The continued dry weather has completely ruined the pasture throughout the entire district and farmers will have to feed at least two months earlier than usual. This will force many to dispose of a good portion of their live stock in order to make their feed hold through the winter. Barn building has been going on at a brisk rate during the past three or four years, notwithstanding the high prices of material, and the district is now dotted with modern barns. In fact few counties in the Dominion equal Kent in this respect.

Potatoes promise about a two-third crop.

HELEN GOULD AT GOSPEL RALLY

Joins in Rejoicing When Lost Lad
Turns Up—Mother's Prayer Answered.

New York, Sept. 10.—Miss Helen Gould was a prominent figure on the band stand in Abingdon square when a "gospel rally" of the evangelical committee brought out more than 2,000 people and some intensely dramatic scenes.

Miss Gould recently donated $10,000 to this evangelical movement, and her appearance on the stand caused much excitement among the ten evangelists and fifty Christian workers who occupied the seats with the evangelical brass band of Newark, N.J.

Miss Gould, accompanied by two women and a man, arrived in a red and white automobile about 9:30 o'clock. The Rev. W. G. Wyllie, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., was in the middle of an affecting story. Dr. Wyllie told of a mother in Iowa whose boy, Jamie, had been missing for fourteen years. Every night this mother went to the door and cried aloud for her Jamie to come home to her, and every night a lamp was left burning in the window.

"She begged of me, this poor mother," said the preacher, "that wherever I went, wherever I preached, I should tell the story of her missing boy, and ask him, if he should be within the sound of my voice, to return to his home. But I have another message for you, too, from our Heavenly Father, a message to every son, to every daughter."

He was interrupted by the Rev. Dr. Ely, who shouted so loud that he could be heard for a block: "Jamie is here; Jamie is found!"

There was intense excitement as every one looked in the direction to which Dr. Ely pointed. Miss Gould, who had been seated on a chair at the rear of the stand, pushed to the front row, and those near heard her say:

"Praise the Lord," as she leaned over the rail and fastened her eyes on a red haired young man who bowed his way through the crowd and announced that he was "Jamie."

He made a fervid address, saying he had been living in sin all those fourteen years, that his wanderings were at an end; that he was going home to comfort his mother in her old age. Then he announced that he had been converted while listening to hymns and addresses. Then Dr. Ely called on every one to join in singing the Doxology.

A GOOD MATCH FOR GAIETY GIRL

Kitty Mason Dances Her Way
Into the Heart of a Rising Politician.

London, Sept. 9.—Yet another Gaiety girl has made a good matrimonial match, and a social point of view. This was Miss Kitty Mason, who was married to Algernon Edward Aspinall, secretary of the West Indian committee. They have gone to Switzerland for their honeymoon, but the bride expects to return to resume her role in "The Girls of Gothenburg" in about three weeks' time.

Aspinall has no title nor any prospects of one by inheritance, but he does excellent work on the West Indian committee and is thought to have a brilliant future. Kitty Mason is just 25 years old and has been the principal dancer at the Gaiety since "The Runaway Girl" was put on.

In connection with this marriage and that of Denise Orme and the recent one of John Yarde Buller, son and heir of Lord Churston, there has been some discussion as to the percentages of theatrical-social marriages. It turns out happily. This percentage is greater than might be supposed, and numerous instances are recalled from the time Miss Farren became the Countess of Derby, one of the most conspicuously successful matches of the kind known to the present generation being that of Rosie Bootle to the Marquis of Heartfort. Lady Heartfort is the reigning favorite in Irish society, and as good as she is charming.

Another instance is that of Camille Clifford's marriage to the Hon. Henry Lindhurst Bruce, heir to Lord Aberdare. Friends say they are happy as the day is long and that they are looking shortly to an expected visit from the stork.

Another theatrical favorite, Miss Kitty Gordon, who made an aristocratic match and who is pronounced by some judges to be the most beautiful woman on the English stage, figured in the week's news in connection with the charge against her husband, Capt. H. H. Beresford, for driving his motor car through Regent's Park at an excessive rate of speed. Capt. Beresford said he was not going over ten miles an hour and claimed that as he had been driving motor cars for seven years he ought to know. He was taking his wife home from the Apollo Theater and she could testify that the constable's charge that the car was traveling at the rate of eighteen miles an hour was ridiculous. She did so testify, adding that the roads in Regent's Park were so bad that if the car had been going that fast they would have been bumped out. The unfeeling magistrate, however, fined Capt. Beresford $10 and costs.

TEMISKAMING CROPS

District Will Have a Large Yield of Grain and Roots.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Prosperity is smiling upon the settlers who have followed the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway into the fertile districts of the Temiskaming country, according to a statement of Mr. J. J. Englehart today.

"They all have good crops, both of grain and roots," he said. "There has been no drought up there, and they are in fine condition. They can market in their own district everything they produce, and get the very highest prices. Even the timber they cut in clearing their farms, they can obtain a good price for from the sawmills or pulp mills."

"The only thing against the development of agriculture up there is the big wages paid for work in the mining camp. That takes away some of the men."

LANGFORD-HEATLY

A Pretty Wedding in Delaware—The Bridegroom a Londoner.

One of the prettiest weddings in the history of Delaware was celebrated on Wednesday at the home of Mr. William Heatly, when his daughter, Miss Lillie Viola, was wedded to Mr. Frederick V. Langford, of the firm of A. A. Langford & Co., of this city. Over 60 guests were present; the home was beautifully decorated, and the scene was one long to be remembered by all who were privileged to be present.

The ceremony was performed under an arch of asparagus and asters on the spacious lawn of the home by Rev. H. D. Moyer, of St. Thomas. While the wedding march was being played by Miss Bina Parsons the bride appeared on the lawn, leaning on the arm of her father. She looked charming in a gown of white silk with bridal veil and orange blossoms, and the skies of autumn melody shone on one most fair. The bride carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Her sister, Miss Myrtle, was bridesmaid, and looked pretty, dressed in a gown of gray poplin de soie, and carrying a bouquet of pink roses.

The groom was assisted by Mr. Cecil Langford, of London Township. Two little nieces of Miss Heatly, Misses Lella Hooper and Vera Dale, acted as flower girls. After the ceremony the wedding dinner was served on the lawn by Caterer Fawkes, of London.

The bride's traveling dress was of navy blue, with hat to match. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome bracelet, and the gifts to the bridesmaids, flower girls, and pianist, were beautiful. The bride's gifts were many and costly, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held. The party was afterward photographed by George A. Henry.

Among those present from a distance were Mr. Charles King and Mr. Barney Roelfson, of Hamilton, and Miss Parsons, of Windsor.

Mr. and Mrs. Langford left on an eastern trip for their honeymoon, and will be at home to their friends after Oct. 1.

THE MOST RELIABLE and Successful Authority—Greatest success in the treatment of Hernia (Rupture), of all known agencies in modern times. He who makes a specialty of one department must certainly be more experienced and capable than those having "many irons in the fire." Don't put off your case, believing it to be simple. Remember, neglect often proves fatal. Have your case attended to now, and thus avoid danger. Stop wasting time and money elsewhere, but come to one whose life-long study has taught him what to do. Do not respond or be deterred from seeking further advice or because of repeated failures consider your case incurable. Because others failed in your case you have become discouraged. This is the very time you should consult me, as my reputation has been made in curing hopeless (so-called) cases.

LADIES suffering from Navel or any form of Rupture should not hesitate in having their case attended to at once. Everything strictly private. RELIABILITY MY GUARANTEE. MOTHERS—Look to your children. Now is the time to have them cured while young. Don't allow them to grow up handicapped in the race of life, with Rupture.

VARICOCELE False * MEN OF ALL AGES SUFFER from this affliction. There is no other affliction that so completely unfits him for the duties and pleasures of life. No matter how serious your case, time afflicted, or the failure you have experienced in trying to be cured by medicine—free trials or Electric Belts—my Blotone system will cure you. No temporary relief, but a PERMANENT one. NO OPERATION. No detention from business. If you have had the usual experience you have no doubt spent large sums of money and time searching for the remedy that I offer.

They all say the same about St. George's Baking Powder

"Dozens of my best customers have put St. George's to the test."
"They have tried it for Biscuits and Doughnuts—for Cakes and Pies—for Muffins and Pancakes."

"And they agree that St. George's can be depended on—that when they do their share of the baking right, St. George's makes the lightest, whitest, tastiest pastry and cakes and biscuits—in a word, that it is the best Baking Powder they ever used."

"And my customers are pretty fastidious people, too."

Owing to the fine construction of most ranges it is a rather difficult feat to cook and bake successfully at the same time.

But the arrangement of the Pandora flues differs considerably from others. They are so constructed that the draft for baking is also the best for cooking, the heat circulating around the oven twice and under every pot hole before passing up the chimney.

The Pandora bakes and cooks perfectly at the same time.

Do you know of another range that does? If your local dealer does not sell the Pandora write direct to us for Free Booklet.

Sox Win Final Game With Tigers; Aided by Detroit's Misplay

Killian Pitches Faultlessly of Four Innings and Detroit's Look Like Winners.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—The bad-inning hoodoo, which seems to pursue the Tigers whenever they go, was in evidence again today and they lost the final game, the White Sox managing to secure an even break with them again. For four innings Killian pitched faultlessly, then a little slip up, a failure to field a bunt that was intended for a sacrifice, filled the bases and started the pennant chasers on their way to defeat.

In the four innings Detroit had netted a lead of three runs by clean, hard hitting and the game seemed to be towed away in favor of the Tigers.

Then something broke loose. "Towhead" Rohe, the man who won the world series, batted a single past second. Killian had two strikes on Tammehill, but could not get the third over and he walked. Hart was sent up to sacrifice.

Coughlin was back at third to get the ball on a possible force out. Hart tapped one between the box and third and Killian did not yet to it in time. This filled the bases. White rapped one at Downs and the ball rolled through him, Rohe crossing the plate. Hahn batted one to center. The ball got away from Crawford, and all three men on the bases scored. Hahn making third. Jones walked, but Donahue filed to Cobb, who held Hahn at third.

Davis lined to Crawford, and this time Hahn was able to get the throw. Doughty was also granted his bases on balls, but Coughlin got Rohe the second time this young man came to bat. It was five runs—enough to win the contest.

Doc White started for the Sox, and while the Tigers hit him hard, he was able to hold out against them after this inning and they could not score again.

The Tigers got to him hard in the fourth. Coughlin singled to right after Crawford had filed out. Cobb doubled to right center, Coughlin scoring. Rossman smashed out over second and Ty came home. Claud retired the side trying to steal.

They added their third tally in the fifth, when Downs singled, Payne sacrificed. Schaefer got a clean hit to center, and Downs came home. But from that time on the Tigers could glean but one hit off White, and Mullin got this, being sent to bat for Killian in the eighth round, but he hit when there were two out. Jennings at this juncture made his first appearance as a player in the American League, going to first to run bases for his big pitcher. Doc White spent many minutes trying to ridicule and humiliate the fiery Irishman by catching him off first, but, failing each time, he pitched to the batter. Jones was easy, bounding one to the box.

Siever took Killian's place in the box. He struck out Doughty, but Rohe singled and made second when a pitched ball went wild, and Tammehill filed to Cobb. Hart singled to right, but Cobb's perfect throw nipped Rohe at the plate and saved any further trouble. Score:

Joe Gans Makes a Show of Britt Who Breaks His Wrist

Californian Never Dangerous—Champion Wins as He Pleases in Fast Battle.

San Francisco, Sept. 9.—Joe Gans today defeated Jimmy Britt in the fifth round of the battle for the lightweight championship of the world. Britt broke his wrist in the fourth round, when Gans blocked a vicious swing for the body with his elbow. Three doctors examined Britt after the battle, and declared that the wrist was broken.

Gans had all the best of what proved a slugger match from the sound of the gong, and Britt never had a look-

CHAMPION JOE GANS.

The police stopped the bout is the fifth when they learned that the Californian boy was practically helpless.

Gans is applauded.

At 2:15 p.m. Gans entered the ring. He was introduced as the only lightweight champion of the world, and was greeted with roars of applause. He was clad in a green flowered velvet gown. As he took his corner, a pink and blue quilt was thrown him further to protect him from the chill winds. Gans was seconded by Alvie King, Willie Keefe and "Kid" North.

Britt entered at 3:20 o'clock. He was introduced as a "native son of the golden west, and one of the greatest boys that ever stepped into a prize ring."

Britt was given a tremendous ovation. Britt's seconds were "Spider" Kelly, Tim Krelling, Frank Rafael, and Bob Cornell. Britt was clad in a green striped Turkish bath robe and red sweater. The fight by rounds follows:

Round One—Britt quickly shot his left to Gans' ribs; they sparred. Britt swung a fearful left that caught Gans on the side of the jaw and sent him reeling. Britt had a shade the better of the round.

Round Two—At close range Gans rocked Britt's head with two powerful lefts, and then shot his right to the face. Gans had the advantage as the bell stopped a fierce rally.

Round Three—Britt hooked his left to the nose, and sent Gans' head back with a straight left on the nose. Gans met Britt's rushes with straight lefts. The pace was very rapid and the round even.

Round Four—Gans swung three terrific rights to the jaw, and Britt appeared groggy. Britt fought back gamely, but missed attempts to land. Britt spat blood. Gans had a big advantage.

Round Five—Gans wins at the end of the fifth round. Britt broke his left forearm, and could not continue fighting. Gans was awarded the decision. Britt was unable to respond for the sixth round. Gans said it would have been but a question of a round or two more that he would have put Britt out. A doctor was summoned quickly, and Britt was subjected to a severe examination. It developed that Britt had broken his left arm near the wrist. It was announced by Welch, the referee. The crowd made no demonstration until the decision was made.

NO CHANGE IN THE BIG LEAGUES

Boston, Sept. 9.—Murnane says: The circuits of the two big leagues are likely to remain as they are for several years, although there is a good chance for a third league to make considerable fuss among the contented clubs. The fact that a winning team can make big money, no matter where located, makes it always a good business game to invest in major league baseball stock.

Washington is certainly one of the best baseball cities in this country. Where, outside the capital is there a city, outside of Boston, where a ball club could make money with a losing team? Buffalo is often treated as a great ball town and ripe for the major leagues, and yet Buffalo has the reputation of quitting cold on a losing game, and any old city will do well for a winner. All cities must be in a condition to cheer up losers and then there is a good chance to see good visiting teams.

When someone tells you that Baltimore or Buffalo would be an improvement over Washington they are sure to add, Buffalo is a big money-maker with a winning team, but they must have a winner. Just imagine Washington with a winner. Year after year the club of that city has made a fine return on its investment; neither Baltimore nor Buffalo could have done as well. Those big cities that can only live when lucky enough to have a winner should remain where they are, in the ranks of the minors, as they have a chance to build up a team through the players dropping back from the big leagues.

"Gents" Only at Henley

When the rule by which an amateur is to be gauged is set down as "no artisan, laborer or mechanic or man who does manual work for a living may compete in championships" it is any wonder that such a country is lacking in material from which to produce champions? The absurdity of such a definition will excite only ridicule and contempt among American athletes of all classes.

The experiences of Constance S. Titus, the American sculling champion of sweeps and sculls, who was barred from the English Henley by rules of this kind, and the comment which followed in this country should have been a warning to the Olympic council in charge of the meet at London in 1908 that such a repetition would excite bitter criticism. Instead of such a result, however, it is now announced that the conditions for entering the international sculling championships will be exactly the same as those at Henley, which means that no American sculler of any prominence could hope to have a Chinaman's chance in the London events.

And this is not all. Besides laying down a rule which debars nearly every sculler who rowed in the national regatta at Philadelphia in August, the selection of the oarsmen who may compete in the Olympic championships is left entirely to the Olympic council in this country, the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen being ignored. This means that the body which has been in control of the sport in America and has kept it pure and clean is to have no voice

Keene May Win $325,000

When the bugle calls the horses to the post in the final event of the metropolitan racing season at Aqueduct, Nov. 15, James R. Keene will have made a new world's record in turf winnings for a single season.

The local season of thoroughbred racing has nearly three months more to run, yet at this time Mr. Keene's winnings are within $25,000 of the record amount won by the horses of M. Blanc in France some seasons back. Some rich fall stakes for which Mr.

Keene's horses are eligible should easily bring his season's total up to the $325,000 mark. M. Blanc's record is $326,000.

Up to date the Keene winnings, exclusive of second and third moneys, amount to $275,512. Racers carrying the white and blue spots have run "in the money" possibly more often than they have won so that all told the millionaire's race track winnings may already be figured at the $300,000 mark.

A Good Suggestion From Chicago

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Before another world's series is entered on the national commission, which conducts these championship affairs, can earn the approval of all parties to the contest, including the public, by recommending to the major leagues a change in the apportionment of the receipts among the players. The rules governing the series now give the winning team 75 per cent of the money in the players' pool and the losers 25 per cent. This players' pool is made up of 60 per cent of the receipts of the first four games in the series, after 10 per cent has been deducted from the gross receipts of each game for the national commission's expenses. Last fall the players' share was much greater reward than the los-amounted to something over $33,000. Of this sum the White Sox's share was $25,000 in round numbers and the clubs' share only $8,500. Figuring twenty men to a team, the members of the big club received $417, which is only a few dollars more than is paid the umpire in the series. One of the purposes of world's series, second in importance only to the determination of the champion of champions, is to furnish a measure of reward for the players who, by their ability, and sometimes at great personal risk, have won the pennants of their respective leagues. This purpose is defeated in a way by the present arrangement, since it gives the winners of the series a much greater reward than the losers. Both contestants in a world's series have been through six months of nerve racking work, yet the result of seven games decides whether they are to receive a reward commensurate with their honors or a slender sum, no greater than is paid officials for conducting the series. A far better arrangement would be to split the players' pool 60 per cent to the winner and 40 per cent to the loser. On that basis the winners' share last fall would have been just under $20,000, instead of $25,000, and the losers' share over $13,000 instead of $8,000. This more even division would make the series less of a gamble for the players and remove the danger of secret agreements between opposing players to nullify the whole arrangements by dividing their shares equally win or lose. This was done in 1905 in the series between New York and Philadelphia, but the Chicago players were made of gamier meta and last fall accepted the winners' and losers' ends as intended by the rules. The national commission has not the power to make so important a change in the rules as the one suggested without the sanction of both major leagues, but there still is time to obtain that sanction.

of the Asiatics will mean a diminution in the number of whites already there, as the latter cannot compete with the foreigners in cheapness of labor. It is, perhaps, an extreme view of the situation, but it was given expression to at a public meeting held in Vancouver a few nights ago. The labor unions are taking part in the agitation against Asiatics, and an impetus appears to have been given to the movement by the parade of 7,000 Japanese in Vancouver on the occasion of Prince Fushimi's visit. This demonstration revealed the extent to which Asiatic labor is employed in the district. It is only fair to say that public opinion is not all on one side, and that there are many British Columbians who do not share in these views.

A Resolution.

It is of interest to mention that at the Vancouver meeting referred to a resolution was passed urging upon the Governments of British Columbia and the Dominion of Canada the necessity of immediately prohibiting the immigration of Asiatics to Canada. The reasons enumerated in the resolution include the following: "British Columbia is the western gateway of the Dominion. If it is ever attacked by that coast its defenders must be its own people. If the masses are an alien race with foreign sympathies, it needs no argument to show how easily a foreign nation could obtain a foothold here, and, once obtained, how difficult to dislodge. We cannot conceive that the nations affected by an act of exclusion could object to the measures, as, if they were threatened by similar conditions, they would speedily adopt similar measures against us. The question today is of easy solution. In time, where these men are not only laborers, but merchants and manufacturers, with large material interests in the country, their ingress can only be prevented at the expense of the peaceful relations now existing between this country and Japan."

CONDENSED LOCAL NEWS

The board of health meets at 4 o'clock this afternoon. It is the regular meeting.

Dr. A. Campbell, of Elmsdale, visited his uncle, Mr. B. Campbell, 95 Byron avenue, South London.

A heavily-loaded coal car ran off the tracks at a throw-out on the Pere Marquette near Ottawa avenue. The car was badly smashed.

Death of Bernard Carlin.

The death of Mr. Bernard Carlin, which took place at London Junction yesterday in his 81st year, removes from the district another old and esteemed resident. The funeral, which will be a private one, will be held from the family residence to St. Mary's Church at 8:30 a.m., Wednesday.

An Agreement at Last.

The Southwestern Traction Company and the city of St. Thomas executive signed an agreement yesterday providing for the running of the cars through the city and allowing the company to place its power wire parallel to that of the St. Thomas railway system. The traction company will supply its own power and the cars will be operated on the main thoroughfare about Wednesday or Thursday.

A Warning for Londoners.

A Toronto dispatch says: "Breath of the Lottery Act" was the offense for which Thomas Banks had to pay a fine in the police court yesterday morning. Several weeks ago Banks had a cow which he did not want. He decided to dispose of it by the old-time raffling method, but in doing so he was committing a "breach" of the law regarding lotteries. A dispute over the result of the raffling attracted the attention of the authorities, and an information was sworn out against Banks. He pleaded guilty ten days ago, and came up for sentence yesterday. Col. Denison imposed a fine of $5 and costs of 30 days.

CARELESS GUARD HANGED.

VANCOUVER RIOTS WERE PLANNED

Strong Statement From Seattle—Tokio Officials Are Not Disturbed.

Portland, Oregon, Sept. 10.—The Oregonian today prints a dispatch from Seattle, Wash., which says: "Every indication is that the Vancouver riots were carefully planned to impress K. Ishii, chief of the bureau of foreign commerce. It is significant that the leaders of the Seattle organization against Japanese immigration were in Vancouver heading a demonstration. Frank W. Connell, president of the Washington State Federation of Labor; E. A. Fowler, secretary of the Anti-Japanese and Korean Immigration League; George P. Listman, prominent Seattle labor leader, all were present, together with a big delegation of anti-Japanese sympathizers."

The significance of the Vancouver riots dates back to a programme evolved when it was announced that Ishii was coming to Seattle. It was then decided and telegraphed out of Seattle that the anti-Oriental organizations proposed to present Ishii, while he was in Seattle, with a demonstration against Japanese immigration. At the time this plan was formulated it was believed Ishii would spend a week in Seattle, and then go to Vancouver. There was planned at a conference between Vancouver, B. C., and Seattle anti-Japanese leaders all the details for a big anti-Japanese demonstration in Vancouver, Sept. 12.

It developed that Ishii did not have time to spend in Seattle, and he went through to Vancouver. Simultaneously with his going the local leaders of the anti-Japanese society went north. They were in Vancouver when the outbreak occurred, and the announcement is made in private letters from anti-Japanese leaders that they harangued the mob not to do violence, the society itself believes the demonstration had to do with their presence. It was impossible to prevent a big anti-Japanese demonstration for the Vancouver demonstration Sept. 12. There is no question whether Seattle, Portland or San Francisco agitators took part. The great bulk of the marching and rioting throng was composed of Canadians, and the Japanese officials ignored American participants in the telegram of protest to the Ottawa Government."

Tokio, Sept. 10.—The most meager accounts of the anti-Japanese trouble in Vancouver, B. C., is published in a special cablegram to the Asahi this morning. While awaiting details, the Asahi refrains from editorial comment.

The published dispatch, which is from Ishii, of the Japanese bureau of commerce, is brief, and expresses the opinion that the trouble is over.

The Japanese press and officials generally show no disturbance over the immigration question, and it is conceded in official circles that the matter will be ultimately settled satisfactorily, although sporadic outbreaks are expected. The Japanese officials decline to say what steps, if any, have been taken in the Canadian trouble, pending further information.

London, Sept. 10.—The Daily Mail, in its issue of today, does not discuss the Vancouver incident editorially, but prints an interesting, sensational article by Hamilton Fife, who is evidently familiar with the Pacific Coast countries of America and the Orient, and who sums up the incident by saying: "The wonder is that it has not happened before."

He says that California and British Columbia have the same problem to puzzle over, and agrees with Dr. Goldwin Smith that "Before many years there must be a supreme struggle between Europeans and Asiatics for supremacy on the Pacific Coast."

YEAR 5665 OF JEWISH CALENDAR

Ceremonies Will Be Continued Until Next Tuesday.

The ceremonies of the Jewish year 5665, which was ushered in on Sunday night at twilight, will be continued until next Tuesday, when the Day of Atonement sets in, and from Tuesday until Wednesday at sunset no Jew in the city will partake of food or drink until the Jewish New Year is always celebrated for two days, and those days usher in the ten days of penitence, which terminates by the observance of the Day of Atonement, which commences on Tuesday evening and terminates at sunset Wednesday. On that day a solemn fast is observed. No food or water or any nourishment is taken for 24 hours. The day is spent in the synagogues in the recital of penitential compositions and solemn prayers for forgiveness. This day is memorable in the Jewish calendar, as even the most lax of the Jewish community observe it in some benighting manner. It was on that day alone that the high priest entered the Holy of Holies, where the temple was in existence on Mount Zion, and within its sacred inclosure made atonement for himself and his household, and the whole congregation of Israel.

Five days after the Day of Atonement comes the Feast of the Tabernacle, which is observed in the synagogues, when private individuals erect a tabernacle in memory of the time when the Israelites adjourned in tents in the wilderness for forty years.

Among the interesting ceremonies of the Jewish New Year is the ceremony of casting away the sins, which, however, is not observed by the enlightened Jews. It is a superstitious practice, but nevertheless an interesting one. Many Jews were seen yesterday along the water front casting everything they had in their pockets into the water, and at the same time muttering prayers. It is believed by some that in so doing they are carrying out the instructions given in the Book of Micah, and they believe that the Almighty will cast away their sins in the same manner as they throw away their belongings.

LAKE DISASTER IS RECALLED

Fisherman Finds Wreck of the Dean Richmond—Sunk With All Hands.

Dunkirk, Sept. 10.—Gus Ormsby, a fisherman, while lifting his nets off Van Buren Point, in Lake Erie, discovered the wreck of the propeller Dean Richmond, which was lost in a storm, with all on board during a gale in October, 1897.

The Dean Richmond has a cargo of lead and copper valued at $200,000, and vain attempts had been made by the underwriters, and by private enterprise to locate the bones of the treasure ship.

BORDEN AT OWEN SOUND

Charges Favoritism on Intercolonial—Attack on Mr. MacKay.

Owen Sound, Sept. 10.—Mr. R. L. Borden was accorded most flattering reception on his arrival here this morning in the course of his tour of Ontario. Poultet street, along which he and his party were escorted from the C. P. R. station to the skating rink, was lavishly decorated with flags, bunting and mottoes, and the large crowds lining it warmly greeted him. At the rink both the afternoon and the night meetings drew large crowds, the latter in fact being the largest of considerable size. Mr. Chas. T. Sutherland, of Meaford, president of the North Grey Conservative Association, occupied the chair at both meetings.

An incident of the night meeting was a severe attack made by Mr. Borden who delivered the opening address, on Mr. A. G. MacKay, M.P.P., for North Grey. "The Provincial Liberals," he declared, "are thoroughly disorganized. They do not know where they are going to get a leader."

A vote—Mr. MacKay. (Cheers and applause.)

Mr. Boyd—What a snap Premier Whitney would have. (Counter cheers and applause.)

"We all know," he went on, "that only two weeks ago Mr. MacKay was trying to get the nomination, so as to cut out Mr. Telford, the member for the Dominion House, because he thought he would, if elected, fill Mr. Emerson's shoes. The respectable Reformers of Ontario are anxious to get a clean leader, and I ask could they get that in Mr. MacKay? If the respectable Reformers could have followed Mr. MacKay's course for the last thirty days, they would not touch him with a forty-foot pole."

During his addresses Mr. Borden, who was frequently applauded, devoted considerable time, as did all the other speakers, to alleged cases of graft and political corruption, in which those concerned had received remuneration, and offices from the Government. He also alluded at some length to the Halifax platform. In this connection, and while urging his views as to a non-political basis for appointment to the civil service, he spoke of the Intercolonial Railway. He was not desiring, he said, to reflect on any of the leading officials, but he knew that in his own Province of Nova Scotia there was absolutely no discipline on the Intercolonial Railway. Men were appointed, not because they were good railway men, but because they had a pull and did work for the Government in the elections. Dealing with the record of the Government, he contended, as he did at the Chatham meeting, that they had kept only one of their promises, and that was the repeal of the franchise act.

Owen Sound and other sections of Grey being under local option, the question of prohibition is naturally a live one here, and Mr. Borden touched upon it without committing himself or his party.

"Kerry Gow" comes to the Grand next Saturday under entirely new management, with new scenery, effects and costumes, and is in every way superior to the now famous production in the Park Theater, New York, in 1876, when the piece played six months with phenomenal success. Daly, who was with Denham, Thomas, in "The Old Homestead," is hailed as the coming Irish American actor par excellence. He is under contract to U. D. Newell for a term of years, and in "Kerry Gow" is supported by a company of well-known artists.

"Little Polly Dimples" comes to the Grand for a three-night engagement commencing tomorrow evening with a cast of sixty people, carrying the entire production, including electrical effects, etc. Miss Cameron will sing her famous song, "When Little Dollie Dimples Made a Hit," as sung by her for three seasons at the New York Casino in "The Old Homestead." The cast in support of Miss Cameron is one of the strongest seen in musical comedy for a long time, being such well-known artists as Miss Daisy King, Miss Florence Langdon Tempest, Miss Phoebe Cardewine, Mr. A. Lawrence, the mimic, with a man with a hundred faces, Mr. Lorenz Rivers, the famous tenor singer, the well-known Elm City Quartette, and the greatest musical act in America, The Criterion Musical Four. During the performance Miss Cameron will also sing many of the latest songs by the author of the play, written especially for her, such as "Good-Bye Dead Old Home," "I'm an Awful Bore," "I'm So Very Shy," and the duet, "In Days Gone By."

IGNORANCE IS A CURSE.—"Know thyself" is a good admonition, whether referring to one's physical condition or moral habits. The man who is acquainted with himself will know how to act when any disagreement in his condition manifests itself. Templin Manufacturing Company.

The Templin Manufacturing Company, of Fergus, Ontario, have a splendid exhibit of farm implements in the far end of Machinery Hall. The main feature of the firm's exhibit is the Perfection Seed and Grain Separator. This machine is the first improvement of any extent in the old fanning mill, and has filled a long-felt want in that direction. It was devised to meet the needs of the Western Canadian farmer, where sometimes oats and wheat and other grains are hopelessly mixed in the rotation of crops. This separator gave unlimited satisfaction in the west, and is one of the easiest running machines. As an up-to-date machine it is without a peer. The firm is also showing some fine sleighs. It is showing the biggest feature in the sleigh business in the coupling. It is worth a visit.

The exhibition is in charge of Mr. George C. Templin, and is well exhibited.

Manson Campbell & Co.

At its old stand at the south end of Machinery Hall is to be found the Manson Campbell & Co's exhibit. As usual this exhibit is thronged with visitors, and in spite of the bad weather this morning a large crowd was at the exhibit.

This firm is the pioneer firm among incubator manufacturers, and it is showing a splendid line this year. An incubator in full operation is one of the features.

In addition to this the company is showing a fine line of kitchen cabinets, patent fruit driers, and things of this nature. The kitchen cabinet is one of the most convenient affairs for the kitchen imaginable, and many are the customers received by the firm for so handy an arrangement.

The exhibit is in charge of Mr. J. H. Aldridge, general manager for the firm.

The Modern Theater.

The Modern Theater at the far end of the Midway furnishes one of the most entertaining shows seen in a Western Fair. It is superior in merit as well as in brightness, and is bound to be very popular. Yesterday it drew a large number of people, and is repeating its success today. The management intended to give a change of programme, but "The Bandit King" proved so decided an attraction that it was decided to continue that for a few days longer at least. The show is big, and wholesome, and is worth a visit. The criticisms of the show have been very favorable so far, and the management are confident that there will be nothing but good things said of the show in the future. This is a big show, and worth while. Visit it and see.

"Jack and Jill."

"Jack and Jill" are making a tremendous hit on the Midway. They are certainly the fattest pair of youngsters seen here in many a long day. They weigh just as much as the advertising says they do, and no mistake. They are normal children, save in the matter of fat, and are above the average in intelligence. Hundreds visited them yesterday, and they are the talk of the show. They are worth seeing.

HARVEST OUTLOOK IS MUCH BRIGHTER

Winnipeg, Sept. 10.—Some heavy frosts in Northern Alberta—Sunday night have caused some damage to backward wheat, but very hot weather is reported today.

No serious damage is reported by frost from Saskatchewan points, and in many places harvesting is in full swing.

Specially good reports come from the Indian Head district, and large numbers of farmers are cutting, and some have finished.

Lethbridge district states all the grain is safe from frost, except a few late oats.

Unprecedented sales of binders and twine are reported from a large number of points, and there is a great scarcity of harvesters.

Wheat-cutting is finished in many places throughout Manitoba, and barley is nearly all out. Fine weather has caused revision of the estimates, and the average yield will be double that estimated two months ago, at a large number of points.

STOCK MARKETS.

H. C. Becker, stockbroker, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Fraser & Carrington, today:

New York, Sept. 10.—noon—After opening, market had a strong undertone, temper of traders was distinctly bearish later in session, and with a break in Amalgamated and other copper on the news of reduction of Calumet and Hecla dividend of $5 per share the whole market became active and lower, and at noon prices were still weak at a decline of one to two points in the active issue.

The Pennsylvania courts declared the two-cent rate unconstitutional but this helped the market only for a short time.

There is a feeling of uneasiness over the sale of New York City bonds. The prices quoted on the curb are considered to be more or less fictitious, and the level of business done at the quotations is insignificant. The bids will be opened at 2 o'clock, but the result will not be known until after the close of the market. Sales to noon: 405,000.

of the Asiatics will mean a diminution in the number of whites already there, as the latter cannot compete with the foreigners in cheapness of labor. This, perhaps, an extreme view of the situation, but it was given expression to at a public meeting held in Vancouver a few nights ago. The labor unions are taking part in the agitation against Asiatics, and an impetus appears to have been given to the movement by the parade of 7,000 Japanese in Vancouver on the occasion of Prince Fushimi's visit. This demonstration revealed the extent to which Asiatic labor is employed in the district. It is only fair to say that public opinion is not all on one side, and that there are many British Columbians who do not share in these views.

A Resolution. It is of interest to mention that at the Vancouver meeting referred to a resolution was passed urging upon the Governments of British Columbia and the Dominion of Canada the necessity of immediately prohibiting the immigration of Asiatics to Canada. The reasons enumerated in the resolution include the following: "British Columbia is the western gateway of the Dominion. If it is ever attacked on that coast its defenders must be its own people. If the masses are an alien race with foreign sympathies, it needs no argument to show how easily a foreign nation could obtain a foothold here, and, once obtained, how difficult to dislodge. We cannot conceive that the nations affected by an act of exclusion could object to the measures, as, if they were threatened by similar conditions, they would speedily adopt similar measures against us. The question today is of easy solution. In time, where these men are not only laborers, but merchants and manufacturers, with large material interests in the country, their progress can only be prevented at the expense of the peaceful relations now existing between this country and Japan."

CONDENSED LOCAL NEWS

The board of health meets at 4 o'clock this afternoon. It is the regular meeting.

Dr. A. H. Campbell, of Elmsdale, visited his uncle, Mr. D. A. Campbell, 95 Byron avenue, South London.

A heavily-loaded coal car ran off the tracks at a throw-out on the Pere Marquette near Ottawa avenue. The car was badly smashed.

Death of Bernard Carlin.

The death of Mr. Bernard Carlin, which took place at London Junction yesterday in his 81st year, removes from the district another old and esteemed resident. The funeral, which will be a private one, will be held from the family residence to St. Mary's Church at 8:30 a.m., Wednesday.

An Agreement at Last.

The Southwestern Traction Company and the city of St. Thomas executive signed an agreement yesterday providing for the running of the cars through the city and allowing the company to place its power wire parallel to that of the Thomas railway system. The traction company will indemnify the corporation against any loss that may result from contact with the company's wires. The traction company will supply its own power and the cars will be operated on the main thoroughfare about Wednesday or Thursday.

A Warning for Londoners.

A Toronto dispatch says: "Breath of the Lottery Act was the offense for which Thomas Banks had to pay a fine in the police court yesterday morning. Several weeks ago Banks had a cow which he did not want. He decided to dispose of it by the old-time raffish method, but in doing so he was committing a 'breach' of the law regarding lotteries. A dispute over the result of the raffish attracted the attention of the authorities, and an information was sworn out against Banks. He pleaded guilty ten days ago, and came up for sentence yesterday. Col. Denison imposed a fine of $5 and costs of 30 days."

CARELESS GUARD HANGED.

Here today for permitting six political prisoners to escape while he was on guard over them, was the common pleas court yesterday. The common pleas court today, declared unconstitutional the 2-cent railroad fare law, passed by the last session was made void at once taken to the state supreme court.

Strong Statement From Seattle—Tokio Officials Are Not Disturbed.

Portland, Oregon, Sept. 10.—The Oregonian today prints a dispatch from Seattle, Wash., which says: "The significance of the Vancouver riots were carefully planned to impress K. Ishii, chief of the bureau of foreign commerce. It is significant that the leaders of the Seattle organization against Japanese immigration were in Vancouver heading a demonstration. Frank W. Connell, president of the Washington State Federation of Labor; E. A. Fowler, secretary of the Anti-Japanese and Korean Immigration League; George P. Listman, prominent Seattle labor leader, all were present, together with a big delegation of anti-Japanese sympathizers."

The significance of the Vancouver riots dates back to a programme evolved when it was announced that Ishii was coming to Seattle. It was then decided and telegraphed out of Seattle that the anti-Oriental organizations proposed to present Ishii, while he was in Seattle, a demonstration against Japanese immigration. At the time this plan was formulated it was believed Ishii would spend a week in Seattle, and then go to Vancouver. There was planned at a conference between Vancouver, B. C., and Seattle anti-Japanese leaders all the details for a big anti-Japanese demonstration in Vancouver, Sept. 12.

It developed that Ishii did not have time to spend in Seattle, and he went through to Vancouver. Simultaneously with his going the local leaders of the anti-Japanese society went north. The published dispatch, which is from Ishii, of the Japanese bureau of commerce, is brief, and expresses the opinion that the trouble is over. The Japanese press and officials generally show no disturbance over the immigration question, and it is conceded in official circles that the matter will be ultimately settled satisfactorily, although sporadic outbreaks are expected. The Japanese officials decline to say what steps, if any, have been taken in the Canadian trouble, pending further information.

London, Sept. 10.—The Daily Mail, in its issue of today does not mention the Vancouver incident editorially, but prints an interesting, sensational article by Hamilton Puff, who is evidently familiar with the Pacific Coast countries of America and the Orient, and who sums up the incident by saying: "The trouble is over."

He says that California and British Columbia have the same problem to puzzle over, and agrees with Dr. Goldwin Smith that "Before many years there must be a supreme struggle between Europeans and Asiatics for supremacy on the Pacific Coast."

YEAR 5665 OF JEWISH CALENDAR

Ceremonies Will Be Continued Until Next Tuesday.

The ceremonies of the Jewish year 5665, which was ushered in on Sunday night at twilight, will be continued until next Tuesday, when the Day of Atonement sets in, and from Tuesday until Wednesday at sunset no Jew in the city will partake of food or drink of any kind. The Jewish New Year is always celebrated for two days, and those days usher in the ten days of penitence, which terminates by the observance of the Day of Atonement, which commences on Tuesday evening and terminates at sunset Wednesday. On that day a solemn fast is observed. No food or water or any nourishment is taken for 24 hours. The day is spent in the synagogues in the recital of penitential compositions and solemn prayers for forgiveness. This day is memorable in the Jewish calendar, as even the most lax of the Jewish community observe it in some benighting manner. It was on that day alone that the high priest entered the Holy of Holies, where the temple was in existence on Mount Zion, and within its sacred inclosure made atonement for himself and his household, and the whole congregation of Israel.

Five days after the Day of Atonement comes the Feast of the Tabernacle, which is observed in the synagogues, when private individuals erect a tabernacle in memory of the time when the Israelites adjourned in tents in the wilderness for forty years.

Among the interesting ceremonies on the Jewish New Year is the ceremony of casting away the sins, which, however, is not observed by the enlightened Jews. It is a superstitious practice, but nevertheless an interesting one. Many Jews were seen yesterday along the water front, casting everything they had in their pockets into the water, and at the same time muttering prayers. It is believed by some that in so doing they are carrying out the instructions given in the Book of Micah, and they believe that the Almighty will cast away their sins in the same manner as they throw away their belongings.

BORDEN AT OWEN SOUND

Charges Favoritism on Intercolonial—Attack on Mr. MacKay.

Owen Sound, Sept. 10.—Mr. R. L. Borden was accorded a most flattering reception on his arrival here this afternoon in the course of his tour of Ontario. Foully met, along with his wife and party were escorted from the C. P. R. station to the skating rink, was lavishly decorated with flags, bunting and mottoes, and the large crowds lining it warmly greeted him. At the rink both the afternoon and the latter in fact fairly testing the accommodation of the building, which is of considerable size. Mr. Chas. T. Sutherland, of Meaford, president of the North Grey Conservative Association, occupied the chair at both meetings.

An incident of the night meeting was a severe attack made by Mr. Boyd, who delivered the opening address, on Mr. A. G. MacKay, M.P.P., for North Grey. "The Provincial Liberals," he declared, "are thoroughly disorganized. They do not know where they are going to get a leader."

A voice—Mr. MacKay. (Cheers and applause.)

Mr. Boyd—What a snap Premier Whitney would have. (Counter cheers and applause.)

"We all know," he went on, "that only two weeks ago Mr. MacKay was trying to get the nomination, so as to cut out Mr. Telford, the member for the Dominion House, because he thought he would, if elected, fill Mr. Emerson's shoes. The respectable Reformers of Ontario are anxious to get a clean leader, and I ask could they get that in Mr. MacKay? If the respectable Reformers could have followed Mr. MacKay's course for the last thirty days, they would not touch him with a forty-foot pole."

During his addresses Mr. Borden, who was frequently applauded, devoted considerable time, as did all the other speakers, to alleged cases of graft and political corruption, in which those concerned had received remuneration and offices from the Government. He also alluded at some length to the Halifax platform. In this connection, and while urging his views as to a non-political basis for appointment to the civil service, he spoke of the Intercolonial Railway. He was not desiring, he said, to reflect on any of the leading officials, but he knew that in his own Province of Nova Scotia there was absolutely no discipline on the Intercolonial Railway. Men were appointed, not because they were good railway men, but because they had a pull and did work for the Government in the elections. Dealing with the record of the Government, he contended, he did at the Chatham meetings, that they kept only one of their promises, and that was the repeal of the franchise act.

Owen Sound and other sections of Grey being under local option, the question of prohibition is naturally a live one here, and Mr. Borden touched upon it without committing himself or his party.

HARVEST OUTLOOK IS MUCH BRIGHTER

Winnipeg, Sept. 10.—Some heavy frosts in Northern Alberta—Sunday night have caused some damage to backward wheat, but very hot weather is reported today.

No serious damage is reported by frost from Saskatchewan points, and in many places harvesting is in full swing.

Specially good reports come from the Indian Head district, and large numbers of farmers are cutting, and some have finished.

Lethbridge district states all the grain is safe from frost, except a few late oats.

Unprecedented sales of binders and twine are reported from a large number of points, and there is a great scarcity of harvesters.

Wheat-cutting is finished in many places throughout Manitoba, and barley is nearly all cut. Fine weather has caused revision of the estimates, and the average yield will be double that estimated two months ago, at a large number of points.

STOCK MARKETS.

H. C. Beecher, stockbroker, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington, today:

New York, Sept. 10.—noon—after opening, market had a strong undertone, temper of traders was distinctly bearish later in session, and with a break in Amalgamated and other copper on the news of reduction of Calumet and Hecla dividend of $5 per share the whole market became active and lower, and at noon prices were still weak at a decline of one to two points in the active issue.

The Pennsylvania courts declared the two-cent rate fare unconstitutional but this helped the market only for a short time.

There is a feeling of uneasiness over the sale of New York City bonds. The prices quoted on the curb are considered to be more or less fictitious, and the level of business done at the quotations is insignificant. The bids will be opened at 2 o'clock, but the result will not be known until after the close of the market. Sales to noon: 405,000.

LOCAL MARKET.

London, Tuesday, Sept. 10.
The market today was hardly up to the average. During the fair week the markets are smaller than at any other time of the year, and today's market was no exception to the rule. Although the rain fell during the continuance of the market, sales were not at all slow, a considerable amount of business being transacted in a short space of time. There was hardly any change in prices.

Grain—There was a good demand for the small supply of oats, sales were made at $1.35 per bushel for new and $1.48 for old.
Hay and Straw—About a dozen loads of hay were marketed; owing to the rain sales were a trifle slow, from $14 to $15 per ton being paid; nearly all sold at $14.50 per ton. Straw sold at $6.50 per ton.

Butter and Eggs—Butter was none too plentiful, and sold at 22c for crocks and 23c for pound rolls. Eggs were scarce at 17c to 18c per dozen.
Vegetables and Roots—Potatoes were dull of sale, there being too large a quantity on the market; sales were made at 75c to 80c per bushel, and 90c to $1 per bushel;
the latter price for the early St. John variety; cabbages, 12c to 15c each;
Dressed Hogs—Prices were steady, at $6.50 to $9 per cwt.

There were no changes in the prices of poultry or butchers' meats.

DAIRY MARKETS.

CHICAGO.
Chicago, Sept. 9.—Butter—Firm; creamery, 22c to 27c; dairies, 20c to 24c.

Large Crowds Visited the Fair;
Big Show Opens Most Auspiciously

Attractions Are Excellent—Live Stock, Poultry, Etc., Are Better Than Ever.

The Western Fair was in full swing yesterday afternoon, and the great show of 1907 is making history. The crowd in attendance yesterday was a fair Monday crowd. A large number of the insane at the London Asylum were present and enjoyed a fine entertainment.

The attractions, with the exception of the airship were all put on, and the whole machinery of the fair is in good working-order. It is expected that a large crowd will be at the fair grounds today, although the weather is none too promising.

The vaudeville features in front of the grandstand are somewhat improved over last year. There are several troupes of acrobats who do the customary stunts, and several animal troupes. The former please as usual—the latter are good shows. Berzac's Animal Circus, which is well-known to Londoners, as it was at Bennett's last spring, have a splendid show, and the rest are good. The list includes Red-ray and Duffin troupe, Melrose troupe, Dewar's dogs and cats, Mediane Omeas,
Berzac's Circus, Winchellmann's Bears,
Kelly, Reno and Picaro, Reno and Smith and Marriot twins. They furnish good entertainment. The crowd yesterday enjoyed their work very much.

Knabenshue's airship did not go up yesterday owing to the fact that a strong wind was blowing. He expects to be able to make the ascension today. The crowd was disappointed at the failure of the balloon to go up yesterday, but if it falls to go up today
this attraction will be cut out.

The Racings.

Only one race event was pulled off yesterday—that for slow trotters and pacers. It was decided in straight heats, Berlin Belle, a tidy-going pacer taking it in three heats. Campbell's pacer, Perfection, was bang-up all the way, and looks good for better things.
McCartney's Belle Mac took third money. Miss Kate Wilks, Galt, has some fine horses at the grounds. She started Mary Vincent yesterday, but was not up to the money.

The summary:
2:50 pacers—2:30 trotters.
Berlin Belle, J. W. Davey, Berlin, 1 1 1
Perfection, R. Campbell, London, 2 2 2
Belle Mac, J. McCartney, London, 4 3 3
Mary Vincent, Miss K. Wilks,
Galt, 3 5 4
Reuben, 5 4 5
Time—2:25, 2:24 1/2, 2:24 1/2.

The Evening Performance.

The evening performance brought out a good audience and the midway attracted a large number. The whole performance was put on, and it was favorably received. There were some fireworks, but nothing elaborate last night.

The judging in the different classes is well advanced, and in the parades today many prize winners will be shown.

The Live Stock.

The live stock department of the Western Fair for 1907 still sustains its record as being the best live stock in the province. In every department the buildings are filled to overflowing.

There is a very large entry and quality is not lacking. In many cases exceedingly fine specimens are to be seen.

The horses this year have eclipsed all previous years. There are nearly 100 more entries than there were last year. The overflow had to be accommodated in one end of the cattle sheds.
Monday, in this department was mostly taken up putting on the finishing touches to be in readiness for the judges, Tuesday morning.

Cattle.

In this department are to be seen the finest that can be produced by careful breeding. No doubt during the week the cattle sheds will be the center of attraction for the farmer, where he can see all the different breeds in one building and compare one with the other.

As the fair advances The Advertiser will specialize on the different breeds in all the departments. The attendants this morning were all very busy washing and combing each animal, so that they will look their best when taken before the judge.

Sheep.

The sheep, as in former years, are a fine exhibit, of which more will be said later on.

Swine.

Although not so many in numbers as in some former years, the quality is equal to anything yet exhibited at the Western. Yorkshires are a fine class, and some very excellent animals are to be seen. Berkshires and Tamworths also are a fine exhibit. The Hamp-shires, a new breed, exhibited by Ar-temas O'Neill, of Birr, is well worthy of special mention. This, from appearances will be the coming hog. They are from Hampshire, England, grow to a good size, and still retain a very fine, even shape, and no doubt will take well amongst the hog raisers of Western Ontario.

Mr. O'Neill certainly deserves great credit for introducing this fine breed, which only needs to be seen to be appreciated.

Poultry.

In this department is where excitement prevails. The poultry exhibit of 1907 is the best display of poultry (with the exception of the Guelph Winter Fair) ever gotten together in the Dominion. The Fair Board enlarged the building considerably this year, adding 40 feet, and still there is hardly an empty coop. As Monday was the opening day in this department everything was hustle and bustle up till 2 o'clock getting the birds in the different sections in their places.

Ald. John H. Saunders, superintendent, had his hands full getting everything in readiness for the judges to commence at 2 o'clock.

He was ably assisted by W. S. G.
Saunders and Mr. McLeod.

Quite a number of new exhibitors are to be seen placing their tickets, and no doubt will be heard from later, when the judges have placed the awards. Owing to the late arrival of some of the exhibitors, the judges did not get through, and have to finish Tuesday morning. The entries are something like 250 over last year, the total being something over 1,700. The building is now considered the best in the Province. The judges are Mr.
Jarvis, of Montreal; Mr. Butterfield, of Windsor, and Mr. Oke and Mr. Mc-Neill, of London.

A Party of Young People Drown at Saginaw, Mich.

Can of Gasoline Explodes and Their Launch Burns—
Five Escape.

Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 10.—August
Heid Roland Kemp Blanche Pototski and Anna Farmer, ages between 20 and 25, were drowned in Saginaw River about 9 o'clock Sunday night, when flames from an exploding gasoline can set fire to a launch causing them to jump overboard. The victims are all children of well known Saginaw citizens.

Up to 11 o'clock none of the bodies had been recovered, although a big force was dragging the river. The accident occurred near the Pere Marquette bridge.

There were others than those drowned in the launch and they tell a thrilling story of the accident, of their companions' frantic efforts for life and of their own miraculous escape.

Disastrous Results Attend
Auto Races at Pittsburg

One Man Killed; Three Others Injured—Tire Comes Off
a Car.

Pittsburg, Sept. 10.—One man dead and three others more or less seriously injured were results of two accidents at a series of automobile races that were held at the Brunot's Island track near this city yesterday.

The dead man is Rex Reinsteren, 35 years old, president of the Auto Repair Company, of this city, who died of a fractured skull while being taken to the hospital.

Walter Christy, 26 years old, of 513
West Eighteenth street, New York City, who was one of the drivers in the Vanderbilt cup races at Mineola, L. I., fractured his right forearm and sustained scalp wounds and bruises of the body. It is also feared he has been internally injured.

The two dead girls were the only women in the party. It is thought the drowning have been badly burned before they had a chance to escape.

The launch, a 20-footer, belonged to August Heid, one of the young men drowned. He had invited several friends for a ride and before starting had set a can containing several gallons of gasoline in the boat.

One of the party who reached shore says that one of the launch's lights was placed near the gasoline and in some manner set fire to probably escaping vapor. He says they tried to smother the flames with sofa pillows
but it was but a few minutes before the boat was a skeleton and drifted ashore, where it sank. The force of the explosion was so great that the boat's engine was blown loose from the oak keel into the river.

The scene at the river's edge at night was beyond description, as frantic mothers and fathers cried out in hopeless anguish. Several hundred people gathered to watch the dragging operations.

matia, Pa., where his father now lives.
Policeman Frank Farnol, of Allegheny, was struck by one of the flying cars and hurled about 50 feet. He was badly cut and bruised. All the injured are in St. John's Hospital, Allegheny.

Reinsteren was driving in a race called the 50-mile derby and was on the thirteenth mile when at a turn, one of the front tires came off and the machine turned over. Reinsteren and Bastion were caught beneath the car while a score of other contestants shot by. Women screamed and fainted. Crows swarmed over the track and the race had to be stopped.

Assistance was soon at hand. Reinsteren was unconscious, but Bastion was able to direct the rescuers in the moving of the machine. The apparently lifeless body of Reinsteren was borne to the clubhouse, where it was found he had a fractured skull and he was started for the hospital, but died before reaching there. Bastion was taken to the hospital.

The wrecked car was left at the edge of the track and after order had been restored Walter Christy attempted to make a new track record for a mile in a new 14-horsepower car.

Christy was cautioned to beware of the wrecked car at the turn and had circled the track once when he signaled for the timers to take his time.

Christy crossed the tape at a speed that could hardly be estimated. The noise of his machine drowned the voice of the starter. He ran into the back stretch and approached the wrecked car at a speed that carried him too far out. The crowd in the grandstand rose to its feet, there were cries and shrieks and a mass of wreckage, from which he was taken
and sent to the hospital.

The big racer bounded fully 50 feet in the air and Christy was hurled like a catapult a long distance ahead of it.
As he was thrown from the machine
the steering wheel caught him across the stomach, and it is from this it is feared he has sustained internal injuries.

As Christy struck the ground the machine, which in its flight had hurdled the wreck, came down on him and he lay buried among a mass of wreckage, from which he was taken
and sent to the hospital.

Policeman Farnol was guarding the wrecked car and was hurt by the ton-neau, that flew in his direction when the collision came.

HOLDING INVESTIGATION

Into the Death of the Late James Jelly, of Harrietsville.

An inquest is being held in Harrietsville today into the death of Mr.
James Jelly, a member of the Christian Science Church, who died the other day. The man had no medical attention at all, it is alleged, and it was decided by the authorities to investigate the affair. A post-mortem was held on Saturday by Dr. Babcock.
Crown Attorney McKillop, has the matter in charge, but has not decided on the course of action. That will depend on the nature of the evidence adduced at the inquest.

Card of Thanks.
Lieut.-Col. Reid and officers of the Seventh Regiment desire to express their thanks and appreciation to the employers who granted their men permission to accompany the regiment to Buffalo. The men's behavior unquestionable was a credit not only to the regiment and city, but to the country at large, and the good showing of the regiment, no doubt, will be of benefit to the city. The officers have done their utmost to improve the standard and place the regiment on the best possible basis, and are anxious to secure the further confidence, consideration and help of the citizens at large.

A Komoka Wedding.
On Thursday evening, September 5th, a quiet and interesting ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Marshall at his residence, the Baptist parsonage, in the village of Komoka, the event being the marriage of Mr. John Irvine to Annie Retta McPherson, of Poplar Hill, county of Middlesex, the groom being the well-known builder and contractor of Lobo and the bride a daughter of Mr. John McPherson, a prominent citizen and business man of Memphis, Tennessee, and comes of United Empire Loyalist stock. The bride looked very becoming, gown in white India muslin, with trimmings of baby Irish and chiffon, and carried the usual complements of flowers, making a very pretty and interesting picture. After congratulations and a short honeymoon trip east, Mr. and Mrs. Irvine will receive at Irvine Lodge, Lobo.

REV. MR. HAGUE ON SUNDAY CARS

Alluded to the Agitation at the Memorial Church Last Night.

Prior to preaching his evening sermon last night the Rev. Dyson Hague, of the Cronyn Memorial Church, made a few remarks on the agitation which was in vogue just now for Sunday street cars.

The bulwark of our Christian citizenship, he remarked, should be safeguarded, especially by the members of the churches in the interest of the working classes.

One of the great beauties of the city of London is the quiet and peaceful Sunday, and it is greatly to be deplored that this be not forfeited. He then went on to say that in his experience in two other large cities of Ontario that the running of Sunday cars had made a considerable change for the worse, as far as observing the Lord's day was concerned.

A $1,000 Typewriter

One thousand dollars for a typewriter seems a price all out of proportion for a machine of this size, and so it is, for no one would pay that amount if asked to. Yet thousands of merchants have stated that the Underwood typewriter has been of that value to them in their business, in saving time and labor in the office. The Underwood biller does not cost but a fraction of $1,000.

United Typewriter Company are exhibiting at their store, 441 Richmond street only.

BABIES TO BE ROOTERS

Asylum Will Be Beneficiary of a Ball Game Sept. 17.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Three hundred babies, whose parents in most instances are unknown and whose ages are a matter of guesswork, are to be "rooters" at a benefit ball game to be played Sept. 17 at the American League Park by "Jimmy" Callahan's Logan Squares and "Judge" Melville's Normals. While the infants may not be present in person to squeal with delight when "Call" hammers out a home run, they will probably make as much noise in their cribs at St. Vincent's Infant Asylum, 191 LaSalle avenue, as if they were spectators at the contest.

The average number of babies "mothered" at St. Vincent's is between 300 and 350, and the means to clothe, feed and care for them are meager. The work done by the Sisters of St. Vincent's in behalf of the little waifs is such that general interest in the benefit game is already promised.

The Knights of Columbus are taking blocks of tickets and other organizations also are responding. City and county officials who appreciate what St. Vincent's is to Chicago are expected to attend.

The ball game will be as warmly contested as any of the season, as both teams are manned with hard hitters and clever fielders.

Advertiser Correspondence

Model or Normal.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:
Dear Sir,—My daughter was admitted to the Normal School before we knew that there would be another term of the model schools this year. Now she is advised to go to the model school first and teach a while, as that will make her a better teacher in the end. Can she get into the model now; also can she get the refund of the $10 she paid to enter the normal?—SUBSCRIBER.

There have been quite successful teachers who have only had a model school training, and without doubt a person can get much more benefit from a session at a normal school after having had a year or two's experience in teaching. The model schools opened last Tuesday, but your daughter can probably gain admission yet. The education department refunds the normal admission fee if application for the same is made in time.

DEATH OF MRS. SCHRAM

Respected Lady of Parkhill Passes Away.

Mrs. Jane Schram, one of Parkhill's oldest residents, passed away on Wednesday, Sept. 4, aged 83 years.

She was the eldest daughter of the late Walter and Janet Ireland, she being the last member of the family who emigrated from Peebleshire, Scotland, and settled in Westminster, near Lambeth, the deceased being then only three years old.

She was married to Mr. Jeremiah Schram, of Westminster, and they moved to McGillivray Township, 52 years ago when it was almost a forest. There they endured all the privations of early pioneer life. They resided on a farm until a few years ago, when they moved to Parkhill.

They raised a family of ten children, nine boys and one daughter; two boys predeceased Mrs. Schram a number of years ago. The remaining children are: John, of this city; Peter and Ezra, in business at Parkhill; Walter, in McGillivray; William, of Westminster; Simon, of Sarnia; Frank, of Lansing, Mich. and Mrs. Silas Marks, of Pigeon, Mich.

The late Mrs. Schram was of a very kind and cheerful disposition, which made her many friends, and was highly esteemed by all who knew her.

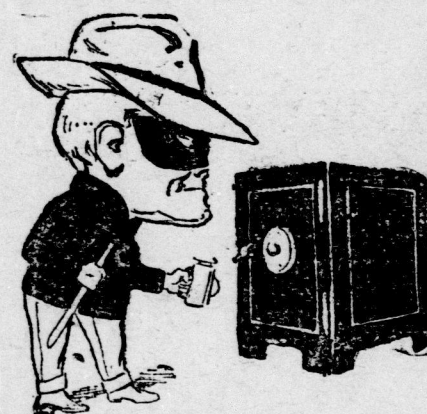

The funeral was held from the family residence on Saturday afternoon, the Revs. Messrs. Doan and Woods conducting the funeral services.

Six grandsons acted as pallbearers. The remains were interred in the family plot in Parkhill Cemetery. The deceased was for many years a member of the Baptist Church. Her aged husband survives her; also three sisters, the Misses Euphemia and Elizabeth Ireland, of Westminster, and Mrs. Janet Bratt, of Delaware Township, also a number of grandchildren.
