WEST SENDS NEW "DEAD EARNEST" WIRE TO OTTAWA

HUN MAY PAY BILLION YEARLY FOR 30 YEARS

PAY BILLION DOLLARS YEARLY DURING THIRTY-YEAR PERIOD MAY BE TERMS OF ALLIES

Entente Premiers Gather With Wilson for Discussion of Indemnity Problem.

Paris, March 14.—On President Wilson's arrival here a series of conferences will begin which will last over the week-end. These have been arranged by Col. E. M. House, in consultation with Premiers Clemenceau, Lloyd George and Orlando. The conference to be held on Sunday will probably deal with the delicate issue between Italy and the Jugo-Slavs over the eastern coast of the Adriatic.

Another important question awaiting attention is the length of time to be given Germany to pay her huge war debt to the Allies. This is tentatively fixed at thirty years, with the payment of about a billion dollars annually during that period. It is believed, however, that payment may not be made in money, but largely in commodities of labor. The thirty year period for the payment of Germany's debt also involved a corresponding period for German disarmament and allied supervision. French opinion inclines toward giving the league of nations supervisary authority during this period, but this view is not shared in American quarters, where it is pointed out that it would have the effect of making the league of nations an international collecting agency and would indirectly amount to the league's underwriting Germany's war debt.

MAJOR'S WIDOW SAYS PRESENT PENSION IS NOT ADEQUATE ONE

Can't Get Along on Less Than $100 Per Month.

OPPOSES EQUAL RATES

Thinks Pay Would Have To Be Made Same, Too.

Ottawa, March 14.—The pensions committee of Parliament today heard Mrs. Emily Warmington of Montreal, widow of Major Warmington, who made a strong plea for higher pensions. She could not see how a woman was able to keep a house going on less than $100 a month. At present the widow of a private gets $40, with allowances for children.

With regard to the widows of officers especially she emphasized that they could not live on their pensions and bring up children. Some were going out to work, but they were so proud they did not like the fact to be mentioned. She considered that they should get sufficient to live so that they would not be dependent on charity.

Mrs. Warmington did not approve of equal pensions. In reply to Dr. Peter McGibbon, of Muskoka, who questioned her upon the point she said: "If you are going to put pensions that way you have got to put pay that way too."

The List of the Pensioned.

Mr. Kenneth Archibald, of the pensions board, gave the following totals of officers or their dependents drawing pensions:

Officers, lieutenants, 658; captains, 231; majors, 93; lieutenant-colonels, 18; colonels, 3; widows of officers, 788; mothers, 203; children, 828, and orphaned children, 15.

Col. Hugh Clark asked why there were no generals' dependents on the pension list, and the names of Generals Lipsett and Mercer were mentioned. Mr. Archibald said they probably had no dependents. Col. Norman Lang thought General Lipsett was a bachelor.

There was an interesting discussion over the question of pensions for widows of men who had married after disability. Mr. Archibald said the pensions board had decided not to pay pensions in such cases, because they would have to continue this practice, if once established, from now to the end of the pensions. Cases of hardship would continue, but women when they married did so with their eyes open. Besides the men were again in civil life.

When the question as to the payment of burial expenses of soldiers came up, Col. Clarke stated that the militia department paid for the burial of all soldiers who died while in uniform.

Mr. Nesbitt, North Oxford, asked to whom the application should be made, as he had a case of the kind.

"The district officer commanding," said Col. Clarke.

"In London," said Mr. Nesbitt, "there is nobody in command. They just go as they please."

"There is a D. O. C. for the London district," remarked Col. Brien.

"Oh, yes," persisted Mr. Nesbitt, "but they just go as they please."

Discussing the question of paying pensions to widows of men who married after discharge, Mr. Archibald said there were still on the pension list of the war of 1812 about 90 widows. They were between the ages of 80 and 100, and had been married between the ages of 15 and 25 to veterans of the war. This was pointed out as a difficulty that would arise if the same practice were carried out after the present war.

TURKS ARE REPORTED AS TERRORIZING GREEKS

Saloniki, March 14.—Turkish troops in Southern Asia Minor are ignoring the fact that an armistice has been signed and are terrorizing the Greeks in that region, according to the Metropolitan of Sivas, Asiatic Turkey, who says that allied forces should be sent to protect the population from the young Turks.

LAND SETTLEMENT CLASH AVERTED

Calgary, March 14.—Trouble between western soldiers seeking land and the land settlement board has been averted by a telegram from Commissioner W. J. Black of Ottawa, chairman of the land settlement board, who explains that the crisis developed because of a misunderstanding of the forms by an eastern board. The promise made concerning the waiving of the ten per cent payment will be kept, according to his message to Major John Barnett of the local office.

WESTERN LABOR DECLARES WAR ON CAPITALISM

OPPOSE INTERNATIONAL

Want Reimbursement for Flu Sufferers and May Day a Holiday.

Calgary, March 14.—A resolution supporting the policy of industrial unionism and separation from the international organization was passed amid the greatest enthusiasm at the Western Canadian Labor Conference yesterday, and every delegate supported it on behalf of the several branches of labor represented.

That the passing of the resolution is an automatic declaration of war on the part of the labor people against the capitalistic classes of the world was the opinion of the majority of the delegates, and when delegate J. Taylor of Vancouver asked if that was what the resolution amounted to he was soon set at rest by the roar of approval which surged through the hall.

Few Dissenters.

For three hours delegate after delegate took the floor and stated why they should present the resolution, and there was hardly one dissenting voice in the whole gathering. What feeble resistance there was was beaten down by the majority after the different points had been debated. Man after man approved of the resolution and scorned the idea of being afraid of the international trades and labor organization, and when the vote was taken and carried, the rafters rang with the cheers and roars of the delegates.

Resolutions for a half holiday for postal workers, reimbursement for influenza sufferers, and May Day to be considered a public holiday, were referred to the resolutions committee who will study the resolution and report to the conference in the next day or two. Resolutions on daylight saving and prohibition were thrown out. The war resolution was then passed, the convention then adjourning until the night session.

KEEP OUT ORIENTALS FOR TWO YEARS, VETS. ASK THE GOVERNMENT

Vancouver, March 14.—The G. W. V. A. last night passed resolutions that foreigners who served with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces overseas be given full citizenship in the Dominion, and calling on the Government to prevent further immigration of Orientals for two years.

WILSON REACHES PARIS.

Montreal	10	0	Clear
Quebec	10	—10	Clear
Father Point	32	— 2	Clear
Halifax	50	10	Fair

Minus (—) means below zero.

Weather Notes.

The high pressure is centred to the northward of the Ottawa Valley, and the weather is mostly fair and cold from Ontario to the Maritime Provinces. In the western provinces it has been cold, with local snowfalls. A disturbance now over Colorado will probably move toward the Great Lakes.

U.S. MARINES CLASH WITH JAP TROOPS

Americans Raid the Japanese Concession at Tien-Tsin.

BAYONETS WERE USED

Trouble Follows Rough Treatment Given Disorderly Yankees.

Peking, March 14.—American marines have raided the Japanese concession at Tien Tsin, forcing their way into the Japanese consulate and assaulting the consul, according to dispatches received here.

The troubel is said to have been caused by the rough treatment given American soldiers who became disorderly in the Japanese quarter of the city. Japanese soldiers drove out the Americans with fixed bayonets, it is said, wounding two of them quite seriously. The next day 200 angry marines who were off duty paraded through the Japanese concession, and it is alleged they attacked every Japanese encountered. When the marines reached the consulate they forcibly entered, it is reported, and assaulted the consul, whose injuries are understood to be serious.

The consular body is deliberating on measures to be taken to restore normal conditions. It is said that fleeting feeling is running high in Tien Tsin.

WASHINGTON WORRIED.

Washington, March 14.—United States Government officials were greatly disturbed today by the news from Peking that American marines raided the Japanese consulate at Tien Tsin and seriously injured the consul. No official information had been received either by the state department or the Japanese embassy.

Navy department officials doubted that 200 marines were involved in the raid, as reported, because no marines are stationed at Tien Tsin, and the entire contingent at Peking, three or four hours' ride away, numbers only a few hundred. Only the presence of a number of American ships in port, of which the department has not been advised, could account for so many marines being ashore and off duty at Tien Tsin.

BOLSHEVIKI CLAIM TO HAVE CAPTURED BIG SLICE OF TERRITORY

Boast They Will Be in Archangel May 1—Still Murdering.

London, March 14.—The Bolshevik general staff at Moscow claims that during January and February the Bolshevik army occupied territory the size of France, having 1,055 miles of railroad under its control, and declares that the Soviet troops will reach Archangel by May 1, according to a Helsingfors dispatch to the Mail.

After the Bolshevik entered Kiev they are said to have executed Professor Baranovsky, an economist, who was recently appointed to represent the Ukraine in Paris. Prof. Zabolotij, Professor Efimenko, Gen. Balbachan, eleven newspapermen and the president of the municipality also are reported to have been shot by the Bolshevik.

DUTCH-BELGIAN TREATY LIKELY TO BE REVISED

Brussels, March 12.—Premier De La Croix announced in the Chamber of Deputies today that the supreme council of the peace conference had decided the treaty of April 19, 1839, between Belgium and Holland must be revised.

The treaty of April 19, 1839, between Belgium and Holland was signed at London, and ended an intermittent warfare which had lasted since 1830, when the Belgians revolted against Holland, to which Belgium had been united by the Congress of Vienna on May 31, 1815.

THREE SHIPS ON WAY ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

The Returned Soldiers' Information Bureau has been advised from Ottawa that the following boats are about to arrive carrying men on board for this district. They are: The steamship Canada, which will dock at Halifax on March 16, with 14 "other ranks" on board; the steamship Celtic will dock at Halifax on March 19 with 7 officers, 3 cadets and 290 other ranks for this district; the steamship Araguaya will dock at Portland, Maine, on March 19 with 1 officer, 1 nursing sister and 71 other ranks on board for this district. The S. S. Araguaya is a hospital ship.

U. S. DEPORTS REDS.

Washington, March 13.—Decision to proceed with the deportation of 37 of the 43 undesirable aliens now held at Ellis Island was reached today by Secretary Wilson, after a conference with immigration officials. Attorneys for the aliens had asked review of decisions in all cases.

HON. MR. FIELDING JOINS OPPOSITION

HON. W. S. FIELDING.

FIELDING BACK WITH LIBERAL SIDE OF HOUSE

Will Speak This Afternoon From the Opposition Benches.

NOT IN THE CAUCUSES

Now Is Apparently Definitely Allied With Opposition Forces.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, March 14.—Hon. W. S. Fielding, M. P. for Queens-Shelburne, is to speak this afternoon from the Opposition side of the House. Yesterday he handed his name to Chief Whip Robb, thus signifying definitely that he now counts himself a member of the Opposition.

Mr. Fielding is one of the old original members of the "Cabinet of all the talents," formed by Sir Wilfrid in 1896. In fact he is the only one of that cabinet now left in the House. More interesting still in the light of present issues he was finance minister during all of the fifteen years of Laurier regime, and as such is responsible for the British preference, for all the revisions in the tariff during that period, and for reciprocity, on which policy the party went down to defeat in 1911. Because of this fact and because the tariff is probably one of the most important issues before the present Parliament, his speech is anticipated with a very great deal of interest.

A Unionist Attitude.

Unionist-Liberals who have spoken on the address so far have referred slightingly to the accomplishments of the late Liberal Government in matters of the tariff and have been inclined to look upon them as "faith without works—which is dead." Clarke of Red Deer, Mackie of Edmonton, Henders of Macdonald, all have assumed this attitude, the latter declaring that he trusted none of the old parties on the tariff and that he pinned his faith in union in bringing about an adjustment of economic burdens.

Mr. Fielding has listened closely throughout and may now be calculated to deliver a defence of the Liberal policy and accomplishments. Thereafter Maharg of Moose Jaw, who is president of the Saskatchewan grain-growers, will speak in the evening from the Government side. It will be a tariff day.

Lieut.-Col. Peck, V.C., and member for Skeena who adjourned the House, will, it is anticipated, add a new chapter to the controversy which General Hughes commenced on the alleged heavy losses among Canadian troops, at Passchendaale, Lens, Cambrai and Mons.

BERLIN REVOLT OVER, IS REPORT OF NOSKE; SCORES RED PAPERS

Spartacans Insurrection Officially Declared Suppressed.

Basle, March 13.—The Berlin insurrection may be considered as suppressed, Gustav Noske, the minister of defence, announced in the Assembly at Weimar today, a German dispatch reports. Only one suburb remained to be cleared of the Spartacans, the minister stated.

The disarmament of the population must be hastened, Herr Noske said.

"It is especially the fault of certain newspapers, notably the Frei Heit, and the Red Flag," continued the minister, "that acts of pillage, brigandage and murder have been committed in Berlin, as they have been inciting the people for months past. The Independent Socialists did all they could to support these disgraceful, shameless actions. The great mass of the workmen of Berlin are honest men, but, as in all great movements, impure elements seem to have crept in among the loyal, thoughtful workers. The hyenas of the revolution began to intrigue before martial law was proclaimed, and before the troops had been ordered to advance upon Berlin."

N.B. TOWN IS FIRE-SWEPT; HEAVY LOSS

Business Section of Petitcodiac Is Entirely Destroyed.

Petitcodiac, N. B., March 14.—This town was swept by fire early this morning. The whole business section was entirely destroyed.

Amherst, March 14.—A disastrous fire broke out this morning in the prosperous town of Petitcodiac, about 23 miles from Moncton. The fire is thought to have originated in a blacksmith shop owned by a man named Hicks. It jumped across the street to Blakeny Bros.' boot and shoe store and from there rapidly spread in all directions. Among the buildings destroyed were the Bank of Nova Scotia, Fleming's drug store, the postoffice, H. C. Goggin & Co.'s, Miles McInnes' departmental store, H. W. Church & Co., A. M. Brown & Co., and S. L. Stockton. At 3 a.m. the fire was still raging with unabated fury and threatening the eastern end of the town. The Moncton fire department at that hour was on its way to Petitcodiac, but it was doubtful whether it would arrive in time to be of much service. A very strong wind was blowing towards the east, and the railway station and freight sheds were wrecked by the flames.

S.S. GRAMPIAN HAS DOCKED

Halifax, March 14.—S. S. Grampian docked this morning.

St. John, N. B., March 14.—The steamship Grampian arrived in port this morning from Liverpool with 1,379 passengers, composed as follows: 1,098 adults and 281 children. The former included nearly 350 officers and other ranks. The steamer sailed from Liverpool on March 4.

PROF. MAVOR SAYS SAYS SEANCE LEFT SPIRITISM UNPROVED

Questions He Put to Former Friends Unanswered.

Toronto, March 14.—Professor James Mavor of the University of Toronto, who recently participated in a test spiritualistic seance at his home to substantiate the allegations made by Dr. A. D. Watson, author of "The Twentieth Plane," has issued a statement to the press which seriously reflects upon the claims made by the author and his "instrument," Louis Benjamin. The seance was conducted by Dr. Watson, assisted by his "instrument," while five women, besides Professor Mavor, were present.

The professor, following the seance, is reported to have written the Toronto Daily Star on March 3, expressing his views on the merits of the spiritualistic claims, but when this letter was not published, a second letter, dated March 11, was sent to the press, part of which reads:

No Occult Origin.

"I have been satisfied beyond a shadow of doubt that the "interviews" "reported" in "The Twentieth Plane," by Dr. A. D. Watson, as well as the succeeding "interviews" procured by his circle, in so far as these have come under my notice, are wholly destitute of occult origin. We are not justified in attributing a supernatural source to any phenomenon which is readily susceptible of being accounted for by ordinary processes of nature, therefore it is expedient in the case of alleged spiritist manifestations to exhaust all other explanations before committing ourselves to acceptance of them as being what they pretend. The evidence is much too voluminous to present in detail, but much of it can readily be obtained by anyone who will take the trouble to make even slight investigation."

Stead Did Not Answer.

Professor Mavor asked a number of questions of William Morris, a deceased friend with whom he had been very intimate in Scotland, but the replies received were very vague, and in some cases utterly dumfounded the professor. This was evidently the chief contributing reason which led him to express his doubt of the existence of spiritist communication.

The conclusion of the professor's statement is as follows:

"It is known that the seance took place at my house at the request of "W. T. Stead." "Stead" did not appear, but in his place there came "Coleridge." "Coleridge" invited me to put questions to him. I asked him only one question. It was such a question as a junior student in philosophy would have answered without hesitation, yet Coleridge, who was a master of Kantian philosophy, was unable to answer it, although like an ill-prepared candidate in an examination he attempted to do so evasively. Then "William Morris" presented himself. I said knoun the living Morris with some intimacy, and it was a hazardous experiment. It is needless to say that "Morris" broke down absolutely. Blunder succeeded blunder until it was useless to proceed.

"All the tests which I applied established to my satisfaction the non-spiritist character of the performances reported in 'The Twentieth Plane,' and continued as described."

SASKATCHEWAN WARNS GOVT. AGAINST A TARIFF COMPROMISE; OTHER PROVINCES WITH THEM

Grain Growers' Association Wires Western Unionists They Must Keep Inflexible Stand On Farmers' Platform—Manitoba and Alberta To Follow Suit.

Regina, March 14.—The following telegram was sent yesterday by J. B. Musselman, secretary of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, to Thomas McNutt, M.P., Ottawa, chairman of the committee of western Unionists: "Request you as chairman of the committee of Unionist members to advise them that Saskatchewan farmers are watching proceedings of Parliament with keen interest and grave concern. Any proposal to compromise on the tariff would arouse violent resentment there. We look to members from the West for inflexible stand on farmers' platform."

Information reaching the central office here is to the effect that Manitoba and Alberta organized farmers are taking similar action.

THREATENS OTTAWA.

"If there is nothing doing this session at Ottawa there will be something doing in the west."

This is the sentiment expressed by Tom Sales, member of the executive of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, in summing up the present temper of the organized grain growers of the province. He has come to the city after a tour in the country, where he addressed meetings and met thousands of farmers.

"The farmers have had enough of soft words from Ottawa in the past and Ottawa might as well understand that today the farmers are out to get action. The farmers' platform is not intended to provide the material for fine speeches by politicians. I can tell you the farmers mean business as they never did before, and if there is any trifling with their tariff, there will be trouble for someone."

GRAIN GROWERS ARE CALLED MENACE BY OFFICIAL OF C. M. A.

Says Their Stand Constitutes Danger for All Canada.

FOR A MODERATE TARIFF

Believes Plenty of Work for Labor After the Readjustment.

Toronto, March 14.—J. S. McKinnon, second vice-president of the Manufacturers' Association, speaking to the Rotary Club at luncheon here today, offered the opinion that the present proposals of the western grain growers constitute a danger to the whole of Canada at the present time. Regarding the labor situation, the speaker expressed confidence that as soon as the period of readjustment is over there will be work enough for all.

The Tariff.

Touching on the tariff, Mr. McKinnon emphasized the well-known fact that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association believes in the maintenance of a customs tariff that would provide adequate protection for Canadian industry. He said that the Canadian people had for the past 40 years in the election of various governments, Liberal as well as Conservative, emphatically stated at the polls their belief that a moderate tariff should be maintained. Free trade between Canada and the United States would be followed, he said, by requests for free trade between Canada and Great Britain, France and other allies —even China and Japan—"where the workmen are paid a few cents a day for working twelve hours, seven days a week."

Scores Grain Growers.

Mr. McKinnon quoted from articles in farm journals indicating the prosperous conditions of the western farmers, and said: "We can only conclude, in studying proposals of the grain growers, that the western grain growers want to escape nearly all taxation, including the increased taxation brought about by the war. . . If the grain growers escape taxation, the rest of the people will have to pay more. If business is unduly taxed many bankruptcies will follow, and thousands of Canadians may have to go abroad to seek work, which would make the taxes heavier for those who remain.

"The western grain growers may have grievances, but the country asks: At this time are the grievances of the grain growers so great that they must be settled first? Must the soldiers wait and possibly be prevented from obtaining employment? Must the war workers who are out of jobs wait until the interests of the western grain growers are safeguarded? Have the grain growers suffered so much during the war by unusually heavy enlistments or by contributions to the patriotic funds or the victory loans, that their cause is more important than that of anyone else?"

ENGLISH DOCK STRIKES HAVE HELD UP SHIPS IN TRANSPORT SERVICE

London, March 14—(Canadian Press Dispatch, via Reuter's).—The announcement is made by Reuter's, Limited, that one of the chief causes of the delay in repatriating overseas troops has been dock strikes in London, Glasgow and Liverpool. A large number of ships which were due to sail in February are still in harbor. It is hoped that the situation is now easing.

URGES USE OF THE BRITISH FLEETS TO BRING CANUCKS HOME

London, March 14.—Agent Gen. Wade wrote yesterday to the press in reference to the Rhyl incident, suggesting that the British fleet, with transports and auxiliaries, should be assigned to the task of repatriating the soldiers from the dominions.

ST. KITTS HOTEL GUESTS MAKE HURRIED EXITS

St. Catharines, March 14.—Fire at an early hour this morning completely destroyed Hall Bros.' garage, James street, in the business section, and for a while seriously threatened adjacent property. Guests at the Russell, Ellis and Maple Leaf hotels made quick exits, while the firemen, in a bitter wind, made a plucky fight, and with the aid of a good water supply succeeded in confining damage to the building in which the fire started.

Fourteen automobiles and an auto truck were included in the loss, which will reach $28,000, partially covered by insurance.

EX-KAISER MAY ESCAPE TRIAL

Members of the Investigating Commission Divided On Matter.

Paris, March 13.—There is a divergence in the views of the members of the commission investigating the responsibility of the war on several important points, according to the Temps. As to whether the former German Emperor and other heads of enemy states should be brought to trial is a question on which a division of opinion exists, while the matter of an international tribunal, or military tribunals for the judging of those charged with violations of the rights of nations during the war has not been settled.

The American delegates have opposed an international tribunal pointing out that the United States was not a belligerent during the whole period when such violations were committed. A possible solution has been under consideration—the appointment of military tribunals composed of officers of different nationalities.

GOVT. PROVIDES FOR DOMINION'S CADETS

Gratuities, Allowance and First-Class Passage Home.

London, March 14.—(Reuter's).—General Seely, who announced the army estimates in the House of Commons, referring to the hardship on cadets owing to the reduction in the air forces, mentioned that this was particularly so for cadets from the Dominions. The Government decided that all Dominion cadets should receive temporary commissions as from February 2, gratuities on men's scale, uniform allowance of $250, first class passages and some, where their commissions had lapsed, would be given honorary commissions.

BALTIC AND CRETIC SAIL FOR DOMINION

London, March 14.—The Baltic left Liverpool with the 1st and 2nd Mounted Rifles, the 58th and 43rd Battalions, the 10th Field Ambulance Corps and also some small details, a total of 2,220. The Cretic left Thursday with 1,600 men from Kinmel Park. Two thousand munition workers also sailed this week.

ASKS REFERENDUM BE MADE DOMINION-WIDE

Winnipeg, March 14.—Manitoba Grand Orange Lodge today unanimously adopted a resolution introduced by James Willoughby favoring a Dominion-wide referendum on prohibition.

READY FOR VOTE.

Vienna, March 13.—The constitution of German-Austria, to be voted on tomorrow, provides for a chancellor of state and ten departmental secretaries. The departments of foreign affairs, the army, food and traffic, according to the program, will continue to function "only until union with Germany is accomplished."

The Cabinet will be formed by the Social Democrats and Christian Socialists, the German Nationalists having declined places in the ministry.

FOE TOLD MUST GIVE UP SHIPS FOR FOODSTUFFS

Germany Told What She Must Pay For Allied Aid.

SHANTUNG NOW ISSUE

China and Japan Both Claim Teutons' Port in Far East.

Brussels, March 13.—The decision of the Allied powers, providing for the turning over by Germany of merchant ships and securities in exchange for food, was presented to a German delegation here today by an Allied commission headed by Vice-Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss of Great Britain.

The meeting began at 2 o'clock, and half an hour later there was a recess until 3:30 o'clock. It is understood that only Vice-Admiral Wemyss spoke during the two sessions.

The Germans were permitted to ask questions, but no discussion was allowed. Vice-Admiral Wemyss will return to Paris tomorrow.

WHAT GERMANY WANTS.

Paris, March 14.—The German delegation in Brussels yesterday was under the presidency of Under-Secretary of State von Braun, and Dr. Theodore Melchoir of M. M. Warburg & Co. bankers of Hamburg, was vice-president, according to Marcel Hutin, editor of the Echo de Paris, who says that among the German representatives was G. Mankiewitz, a director of the Deutsche Bank.

It is said that von Braun had prepared a speech in which he would tell the Allies that the feeling of Germany was a matter of interest to all the western powers. The Allies have offered to furnish food until next harvest, but it is said that the Germans were ready to urge that the only measures that would cause a great improvement in the internal situation of Germany would be the sending of food in quantities proportionate to Germany's needs and the fixing of financial conditions which are satisfactory.

WHAT OF SHANTUNG.

Paris, March 14.—The supreme council of the peace conference has virtually decided to include in the preliminary treaty of peace a requirement that Germany shall relinquish her leasehold of Tsing-Tau and all properties and concessions in the Shantung peninsula. No attempt, it is understood, will be made at present to render a decision as to the ultimate possession of Germany's rights, which is now the subject of a controversy between the Japanese and Chinese delegations in Paris. The former holds that Japan acquired the leasehold by right of conquest over the German force there, although she is willing to admit the ultimate status of the Shantung peninsula to be determined by the peace conference. China contends the lease was automatically cancelled by the expulsion of the Germans, who originally acquired it by force, and that the property reverts to China.

It is expected that the final adjustment will be made in the defensive peace treaty or by the league of nations, unless, in the meantime, the principals to the controversy reach a mutually satisfactory agreement.

REFUSE TO LEAVE AS ORDERED BY THE ALLIES

Warsaw, March 13.—Notwithstanding the request of the inter-Allied commission, the Czechs have refused to evacuate part of the region near Teschan, which they recently occupied, and the situation seems to be delicate. WILL NEW L. AND P. S. SCHEDULE MEAN MORE OR LESS MONEY FOR EMPLOYEES? NO AGREEMENT YET

Men Say Offer Must Go Before Union Local Representatives —They Have Not Considered It Fully, But Are Doubtful About Its Acceptability.

London and Port Stanley Railway employees stated today to The Advertiser that the management of the road had not as yet consulted with them regarding the proposed increased wages and shorter hours. The first that many of the men knew of the proposition, according to their statement, was when they read the article from the management in the local papers on Wednesday.

The men do not know the terms of the proposed agreement, and they further say that any agreement made this year must be made between the management and the representatives of the union. Local, No. 745, of the Amalgamated Association of Electric Railway Employees. In the past the company has dealt with the men as individuals rather than an organization, but this will be no longer the case, say the men.

Men Dissatisfied.

The management called one of the men into the office on Monday and read over the terms of the proposal, and it is said that the management was told that the men should be called together, when the proposition could be placed before them. This has not yet been done. The one who was called in has told some of the men, but as a whole they are not cognizant of the meaning of the proposals. As far as the men are concerned, they say that there is a great deal of dissatisfaction among them, and that they are not satisfied with the present scale of wages.

May Mean Decrease.

If the company means to grant an eight-hour days with ten hours' pay, the men will be disposed to accept, if the agreement is made with their representatives. If, on the other hand, they will be paid for only eight hours' work, they point out that the increase will be a minus one, inasmuch as ten hours at 41 cents an hour will total more than eight hours at 45 cents, the figures being $4.10 as compared with $3.60.

Some of the men have heard that the commission proposes to give a nominal eight-hour day and pay for ten hours with the understanding that the men may be asked to put in the full ten hours if necessary, without extra pay. If, under these conditions, one should lay off, he would receive pay for only the actual number of hours worked during the week. Thus, if he put in eight hours a day for the five days he worked, he would lose twenty hours for laying off one day. This, the men say, they will not accept.

Not Real Eight-Hour Day.

It was also pointed out by some of the men that the company even under the proposal is not, granting an eight-hour day, inasmuch as it intends to pay for overtime only after ten hours have been put in. The statement given out by the company says: "The increases granted mean the payment of the following: to trainmen, 40 cents per hour the first year and 42 cents per hour the second year; motormen and conductors will receive 43 cents an hour the first year, 44 cents an hour the second, and 45 cents an hour the third year. After ten hours' work an additional ten cents an hour will be paid."

McAdoo Rates Throughout.

Another statement the men make is to the effect that while the company is now receiving the freight rates awarded by McAdoo on through freight and will put the same rates in effect on the local freight on Monday next, they are not receiving the schedule of wages which are paid under the McAdoo award. They are of the opinion that they are entitled to these wages.

"In any event," say the men, "we have not been consulted by the management, and any agreement will have to be made between representatives of our union and the management. All of the employees must receive an increase."

Manager J. E. Richards was called by The Advertiser this morning, in order to give him an opportunity to reply to the statements of the men, but his office reported he was at St. Thomas, and would not be back until late afternoon.

VARIETY CONCERT AT LORD ROBERTS' SCHOOL WAS GREATLY ENJOYED

The large auditorium of the Lord Roberts School was filled to capacity last evening when a variety concert was given under the direction of the Mothers' Club of that district. Although Mrs. E. Wyatt, soloist; Miss Anthistle, reader, and Miss M. Simpson, pianist, featured prominently on the program and were well received, the most enthusiastic applause of the evening was accorded to the children, whose members formed the major part of the program.

The humorous Scotch solos, rendered by little Miss I. Graham proved exceedingly popular, as were the vocal selections by Master Lorne Morrison, Master Walter Rennie, violinist, and little Miss C. Peever, reader, also scored on the program.

The opening and closing choruses rendered by children of the school under the direction of W. G. Quantz, were especially good. The children's voices, trained to take different parts, produced a most pleasing effect. Folk dances by the children in costume were beautifully executed, quaint Dutch, Spanish, Swiss and Irish costumes appearing on the stage. A Scotch dance to the tune of the bagpipes was a prime favorite, rendered by the pupils of Piper MacDonald. The Henderson concert ochestra gave two selections and helped with the accompaniments.

Dr. Bryant, principal of the school, was in the chair.

NO CONFLICT BETWEEN THRIFT STAMPS PLAN AND THE PENNY BANK

The following statement has been received from the office of the minister of education, together with a circular urging school inspectors and principals to encourage thrift among the pupils:

There is no conflict of interest between the promoters of thrift stamps and the men who are behind the penny bank. Both institutions aim at the development of thrift among Canadian people and both are operated without profit to the promoters. All the money spent in buying thrift stamps and all the money deposited in the penny bank is always at the disposal of the Dominion Government. There is a complete understanding between the men who inaugurated the sale of the thrift stamps and those who are responsible for the conduct of the penny bank. They desire to work together and in cooperation for the welfare of the country.

The experience of Great Britain and the United States has shown that neither effort can cover the whole field.

The thrift stamp makes a special appeal to the wage-earner, and is more adapted to older boys and girls who are not so likely to lose their stamps. The penny bank is an educational institution and fills a need in the public schools which cannot be met by any stamp system.

The purchaser of a thrift stamp is buying a bond, and if he holds it he will get a bond rate of interest. A depositor in the penny bank gets the same rate of interest as the depositor in any savings bank.

The thrift stamp encourages investment. The penny bank encourages thrift and develops the savings-bank habit, which should lead to the habit of making investments.

CANADIAN SONG AND DEVELOPMENT OF IT SUBJECT OF RECITAL

Katherine Hale Delights Members of Music Club.

"Canada has a wonderful background of folk song for the development of a great and distinctively Canadian musical art." This was the message which Mrs. John Garvin of Toronto, known in the world of letters as "Katherine Hale," last evening brought to members of the Woman's Music Club and numbers of their fortunate friends at the regular fortnightly recital in the Normal School.

Treasures old and new were drawn forth from a storehouse filled with a wealth of Canadian Tribal melodies, old and modern French-Canadian songs, and the compositions of song writers who are adding lustre to the name of Canada, a richness of possession undreamed of until the magic wand of the recitalist touched the doors and caused them to spring back at her bidding.

The story of the development of Canadian song was told from the early beginnings in the tribal melodies of the Indian people, melodies towards the preservation of which little definite, serious effort has yet been directed. Through the romantic period of early French-Canadian songs, the audience was carried to the expression of the French-Canadian spirit in musical art in recent years, and the compositions of the writers more representative of the broader Canadian national spirit, prominent among these being Gena Branscombe, who is now making her home in New York; Clarence Lucas, whose early life was spent in Brantford, and Chas. E. Wheeler, who was represented on the program by a song, "The Songster," and who received a glowing tribute from Mrs. Garvin. Complimentary reference was also made to the compositions of A. D. Jordan and Thomas G. Mitcheltree, which the recitalist stated she purposes including in later presentations of her lecture recital "Canadian Songs."

Little Encouragement.

The fact was deplored that up to the present time musical composers have received little encouragement in Canada. None of the conservatories of music as yet have departments in which students are encouraged to express original ideas in their own way. No attention has yet been given to bringing out creative talent. The Canadian composer is obliged to go to the United States or the old country for recognition and compensation. No profession, she declared, is more taxing in its demands than that of musical composition, which is in itself a life work.

Referring to the mystery which obscures the origin of the Indian race, the early inhabitants of Canada, and the fact that these people are gradually dying out, she drew attention to the fact that they have a song for everything in life, moccasins, beads, whiskey in the jug, as well as the great experiences, love, war, death. Four quaint Indian songs illustrated this: "In the Forest," "The Red Blanket," "Her Shadow," and a plaintive song, "Old, Old Shoes."

Family Tree Traced.

The family tree of the old French-Canadian folk songs was traced through Provence and Normandy to the convents of France, the songs which combined the aristocratic old civilization of France with the new civilization of an adventurous new world, typically French-Canadian, yet echoing the old world. One hundred and fifty years the audience was next carried forward to modern French-Canadian song.

Each phase of the development of Canadian song was in turn illustrated by groups of songs. The final group including the solo by Gena Branscombe, "The Sun Dial," and the war song, "Lad of Mine," of which the words were written by Mrs. Garvin. A "great composer" Gena Branscombe was termed, with a broad outlook on life and ability to write prolifically. "She reminds me of an embroiderer of Oriental designs," said the lecturer. "She humbly realizes how much she has to give out." Mrs. Branscombe is a niece of Mrs. Drury of this city, and a cousin of Mrs. J. B. McKillop. She met for the first time last evening Charles E. Wheeler, whose songs she has included in her recital program for eight or nine years past, she stated.

Possessed of a musical-speaking voice, and sweet, clear soprano singing voice, thoroughly trained, a remarkable command of language and fine feeling for the most expressive work, and combined with this a rich endowment of imagination and artistic insight, Katherine Hale makes her lecture recital as pleasing as it is illuminating.

Mrs. Harris Elliott, convener of the program, performed most acceptably the duties of accompanist. By way of introduction to the program, Mrs. Harris Elliott and Mrs. A. D. Jordan played with such spirit and finish the piano duo "Pas des Cymbales," by C. Chaminade, that they were accorded an enthusiastic encore, to which they responded with the waltz movement from the Arensky suite.

Following the recital the members of the executive of the Woman's Music Club had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Garvin at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Jordan, "The Grange," South London.

DAYLIGHT SAVING IS UP TO GOVERNMENT

Ald. Holmes Says Leaving It to Municipalities Foolish.

That the Federal Government should deal with the question of daylight saving is the expressed opinion of Alderman L. S. Holmes. "That is a fool proposition," said he when asked regarding the action London would take in the event of the question being left to the several municipalities as was indicated in dispatches from Ottawa.

"The Government should settle the question, and it should adopt the daylight saving time since it has been adopted by the United States Government," he continued.

In his opinion, if the municipalities are left to decide it, endless confusion will be caused. Some municipalities will adopt it and others will refuse.

Mayor C. R. Somerville would not express an opinion as to what action the city would take, but the general opinion is that the city council would not adopt the daylight saving plan under this proposal.

A SOLUTION.

Regarding the telephone switchboard in the utilities building, it is understood that C. H. Beard of the Bell Telephone Company has recommended the addition of one more telephone where a clerk may be stationed to take complaints from the customers. This, it is anticipated, will do away with much of the cause for criticism.

THE WEATHER.

Lower Lakes and Georgian Bay—Northeast winds; fair and cold; light local snow at night.

People ask: Why be sparing with natural gas when we have lots?

But we haven't "lots." Nature has her limits. The present gas fields are not inexhaustible and no new fields are in sight.

The more economical we are with natural gas the longer will we have a cheap and convenient source of fuel.

MAGISTRATE THINKS HE WILL INCREASE FINES FOR SPEEDING

Warns "Speed Maniacs" That Worse Days Coming.

"I have been told that I have not been making the penalty heavy enough for automobile speeders. I'm thinking very seriously of increasing it," stated Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in police court today. "I see lots of speeding every day myself, and these speeders are the greatest enemies that other motor car owners have.

"These speed maniacs are dangerous and there is no excuse for speeding in this city. It does not take long to go from one end of it to the other, and a difference of four or five minutes in the time is not going to make any difference to anyone. It has got to stop and I am going to see that it does.

Matter of Opinion.

"I don't think that the man that owns the car should suffer, if he's not driving it," complained G. W. Wells, who stated that it was his son that had driven the family Cadillac along Dundas street at 31 miles an hour, as specified in the report of Constable Ed. Proctor.

"What you think makes no difference," replied the court. "It is what the law says that counts. Let no one but yourself drive it, if that's the way you feel."

"What is a businessman going to do? He can't get out and drive his own delivery car, can he?" continued the aggrieved Mr. Wells.

"He is supposed to have a capable and trustworthy chauffeur," retorted Mr. Graydon. "The law is a wise and prudent one."

Bang!

Mr. Wells paid his fine and slamed the door "bang" as he went out. This seemed to peeve Chief Williams, and the reporters thought for a minute that he was going to send for Mr. Wells and make him shut the door all over again. A. T. Nichols, L. W. Kulse and J. Putherbough each paid $5 for speeding.

Henry Brant, an Indian, deserted from the 135th Battalion on July 5, 1916, and was let go on suspended sentence by Magistrate J. C. Judd. Two weeks later Brant deserted again and made his way to Muncey. Recently he was apprehended and in police court today was found guilty and remanded a week for sentence.

Steve Thou, Tony Andruke, John Rebenk and Mike Kelhol were fined $2 each for playing cards on Sunday.

MOVED BACK FOR BLOCK

Arthur McClary Will Circulate Petition For This.

A plan to have the sidewalk on Dundas street, between Waterloo and Colborne streets, moved back to the street line on the north side will be shown in a petition Arthur McClary, owner of several properties on the block, will circulate within a short time.

Mr. McClary believes the block will be greatly improved by moving the sidewalk back, which would widen Dundas street so that the Colborne-Waterloo block would match the Wellington-Waterloo block. He will endeavor to interest the other property-owners at once.

FOUND NO WHISKEY BUT GOT REVOLVER

Police Raided House and Turtu Leugi Fined as Result.

"You foreigners come here, enjoy all the privileges of freedom that living under the British flag gives, and then turn deliberately round and abuse these privileges by carrying concealed weapons. It is against the law and has got to be stopped," declared Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in police court today in fining Turtu Leugi $10 and costs for having an automatic pistol in his possession.

Francisco Taolone was first charged by the police. Inspector Birrell, Sergt. Thomas Lucas and Constable Ed. Proctor, with License Inspector J. E. Keenleyside, made a raid on 370 Ridout street looking for whiskey last Saturday night, and all they found was two and a half per cent beer and a gang of ten Italians playing cards in the back room behind the grocery store, which is situated on the southeast corner of King and Ridout streets, and owned by Jos. De Larosle.

Constable's Story.

Constable Ed. Proctor declared in the witness box that he saw Taolone take the automatic out of his pocket and drop it on the floor. Taolone, however, wagged his head vigorously in the negative, and an interpreter, D. Cusolito, was brought in. The prisoner then passed the buck to Leugi, and he was sent for. Leugi, according to Detective Harry Down, denied the ownership of the weapon, and protested vigorously that he didn't know anything about it. However, after arriving in the courtroom, and after conversation with the prisoner and interpreter, he changed his tune and declared that it was his pistol. When the police arrived he had slipped it under the mattress on the bed and it had fallen through a hole in the springs onto the floor, where the constable had picked it up.

Carries Much Money.

Chief Williams, in cross-examination, tripped the youth up a couple of times, but he always swung back to his story. Leugi declared that he carried the pistol because he generally had a large sum of money on his person, and really didn't know it was against the law.

"You were going to shoot somebody," stated the court. "The pistol will be confiscated, and I'm going to fine you $10. I don't think you knew much about it or I would fine you more heavily."

May Something Save Us From Our Solicitous Friends

[By A. SILLIMAN.]

Friendship is certainly a great thing in this world, but sometimes we wish we hadn't any friends, or rather that those we have were dead.

Our personal opinion is that Rupert Brook's line, "My God, I wish that you were dead," was in response to the "Rupert, you don't look well" remark that nowadays is almost as much hackneyed as the customary "Good morning," even when its pouring rain.

Some people harbor an idea that to tell a person that they look poorly is a demonstration of paternal interest, and should be taken as a compliment, but what puzzles us in instances of this kind is how one can consider an insinuation of a peaked expression, sunken cheeks, and generally tubercular aspect as a compliment.

Of course, they expect us to smile and say, "Really, it's most awfully kind of you to say so," and realizing that when one is informed one is a walking advertisement of the "Shot at and missed" type, smiling doesn't come quite so easily as it did to the man who once said, "Don't make me laugh, my wife's dead."

When we've been engaged in an Armageddon with these modern bacilli for a matter of two or three months we assume we don't look well we don't feel well, and don't care how we look often enough, but being informed that one's general appearance suggests the immediate purchase of a coffin and a special reservation in the mausoleum or country churchyard doesn't help much.

No. We suggest an "order-in-council" (a really modern "order-in-council, passed before the public knows what it's about), prohibiting these demonstrations of friendly affection.

If we look sick, the looking-glass usually passes a few remarks on the subject, but just so long as we can get around on two legs "we should worry."

COMPETITIVE CONCERT. — The members of No. 1 district depot are presenting their concert in the competitive series at the Y. M. C. A. hut at Carling Heights this evening. Special scenery, electrical effects and costuming have been secured for the young ladies in the dance ensembles. The concerts in the series are free to all.

NEWS LOCAL

NO CRIMINAL CASES.—No criminal cases have been set down for the spring assizes as yet.

COURT STARTS AT 2 O'CLOCK.—Hon. Mr. Justice Rose, who will preside at the spring assizes which open here on Monday, has sent word from Toronto that the court will commence at 2 o'clock instead of an hour earlier as was previously announced.

WRIT ISSUED.—Charles Richardson, Frederick Richardson and Charles E. Richardson of St. Marys, trading under the name of Richardson & Co., have issued a writ for $775.09 and interest from December 31, 1918, against Austin L. McCredie of St. Marys for work and labor done, etc., to material supplied. The plaintiffs claim that the defendant neglected and refused to pay them. The writ was issued through John M. McEvoy.

GENEROUS DONATION. — Having been disbanded, the Tecumseh Whist Club very generously donated its furniture to the Abigail Becker's rummage sale to be held on Saturday at 150 Dundas street. The donation comprises tables, chairs, beds, linoleum, pictures, electric fan and electric lights. This donation and kindness in allowing the chapter the free use of their rooms for the past year is gratefully acknowledged by the members.

CONCERT AT THE FIRE HALL.—An excellent concert was given at No. 1 fire hall on Wednesday evening, the program being under the direction of Miss Annie Grant, those taking part were: Miss Violet Hunt and little Baby Hunt, 6 years of age, whose dancing made a hit; Pte Belland, child impersonator, who aroused hearty laughter; Miss Annie Grant, Pte. Edwards, Miss Robison, Pte. Thompson, Sergt.-Major Grant, and Miss F. Grant.

CELEBRATED 83RD BIRTHDAY.—On the occasion of the 83rd birthday of James Burrows, the surviving members of his family held a party in his honor at the home of A. T. Kelly, 123 Bruce street. Following a supper, the old gentleman received the congratulations of his family. He presented his three daughters and two daughters-in-law each with a life membership in the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church in Canada. The evening was spent in social enjoyment.

JUVENILES IN TROUBLE.—Two youths from Toronto appeared before Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in juvenile court on Thursday. One had a summons in his pocket ordering him to appear in the Toronto juvenile court last Tuesday. The boys didn't care to talk much about themselves, but it appears that they both were occupants of the children's shelter in the Queen City not long ago. The court remanded the lads for a week, and in the meantime will communicate with the Toronto authorities.

ADDRESS ON "PERENNIALS."—An interesting illustrated lecture will be delivered under the auspices of the London Horticultural Society in the Normal school on Tuesday next by Miss Blachlock of Port Credit, an authority on "Perennials." This society is trying to interest the citizens of London on various phases of horticulture, over three hundred being present at the last meeting on "The Peony." It is expected that the next meeting will be even more attractive, a number of illustrative slides will be shown.

SEVERAL BATTERY REPAIRERS.—Another complaint has reached The Advertiser regarding the paragraph which announced the coming of a new welding and battery repairing plant to this city. In this instance, the construction has been put on the news item that battery repairing had not been done here in the past. The London Battery and Repair Company draws attention to the fact that this has been done and well done by firms here for several years. Of course, the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce did not intend to convey this idea concerning battery repairs.

SCOUTING FOR RECRUITS. — Sergt.-Major J. Rawling, with the assistance of four men from the C. G. R., yesterday made a tour of the city for recruits which are needed by the mobile company. Sergt.-Major Rawling stated today that he wants 50 men immediately for service in the mobile company. The mobile company will be used for service in Canada only. One recruit obtained today was D. Crawley, who has just returned from overseas and received his discharge four weeks ago. He was a member of the 33th Battalion, and has seen two years' service in France. He was discharged as an A1 man, but decided to go back into the service again.

MEMORIAL METHODIST ANNIVERSARY.—"Peace Year" anniversary services will be conducted on Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. by Rev. R. W. Knowles, M.A., Ph.D., of Petrolea, who at one time, as assistant pastor of First Methodist Church, had charge of this work. The musical services will be in charge of A. J. Bradley and Miss H. Memorell. A full choir will be assisted by the following soloists: Misses Bartlett, Webb and Osborne, and Mr. Chapman. The pastor and congregation are taking great pains to make these services most successful and interesting, and they are expected to attract capacity congregations. The Sunday school in the afternoon will be addressed by Rev. Frank Langford, general Sunday school secretary of the Methodist Church of Canada.

ENGINEERS INDIGNANT

Deny That Railwaymen Bring Liquor Into Ontario.

Toronto, March 14.—There is considerable feeling among locomotive engineers over the statement circulated in railway circles that the men from the Buffalo district and Eastern Canada are carrying liquor into the Province of Ontario. The Telegram discussed the matter with a number of engineers, who declare it is an outrage to make any such charge.

"If," said one of the engineers, "they have got the goods on any one or two men, why don't they get them, and not make a charge that all are guilty?"

"Will the men running in these districts make any effort to stop the reports?"

"They certainly will," was the reply, "and have already started to make it a thorough one. We intend to make the police, provincial or civic, make good or stop talking."

PUPILS MAY GET EGGS FOR HATCHING, 6 CENTS EACH FROM THE O. A. C.

Pupils of the schools may secure eggs for hatching from the poultry department of the O. A. C. at six cents each if the eggs are shipped in lots of 100. J. B. Dandeno, inspector of elementary agricultural classes, has made arrangements with the O. A. C., whereby the teachers may send in the orders for the pupils. Not more than two dozen eggs are to be sold to any one pupil. Teachers should remit in advance to Professor W. R. Graham of the O. A. C. poultry department. Any number from twelve to two hundred eggs may be ordered at one time.

Mr. Dandeno suggests that the board of education should pay half the cost of the eggs to enable the kiddies to secure them at a cost within reach of all.

BOARD CAN PROVIDE SPECIAL CLASS FOR CRIPPLED YOUNGSTER

Law Permits Provision For Such Cases.

TRUSTEE URGES ACTION

Mrs. R. Harris Wants Tutor Engaged For One Child in City.

Any board of education has the power to conduct special classes for any pupils who may be debarred from participating in the education provided by the public schools. This is made clear in the statutes relating to educational work, says Inspector C. B. Edwards. The question has arisen in connection with the suggestion of Mrs. R. Harris that something should be done to provide a crippled lad in Chelsea Green with an education. The question was referred to Inspector C. B. Edwards and Truant Officer Dr. G. S. Weir by the committee.

Inspector Edwards would not say what he will recommend, but he calls attention to the fact that the board has the power to provide special classes for such children.

Gives Wide Scope.

The act says in part: "That the board may establish and conduct classes for abnormal children or children who through any physical defect are unable to attend the regular classes; that the board subject to the approval of the minister of education may acquire a site and erect a suitable building, establish such courses as may be necessary, appoint teachers and special instructors in the ordinary branches of education or in any useful and beneficial occupation suitable for the children, and provide in connection with the school in the same or a separate building suitable residences for the children where for any reason the homes of the children are not suitable.

Urges Special Teacher.

Mrs. Harris is urging strongly that some action be taken by the board. She suggested that a special tutor could be engaged for the lad. Some of the members at the last meeting raised the question as to whether the lad could be educated in one of the childrens' shelters of the city. This did not appeal to Mrs. Harris, and she intimated that it would not be feasible either.

Trustee Thomas Rowe submitted that the board should go slowly, as it might open up an avenue for a large expenditure if steps were taken to provide special instruction for this lad. He would be willing to make a grant towards providing a tutor, but he thought that this grant should not exceed the average cost of educating each pupil in the public schools.

The question was raised as to whether the parents could not afford to engage a special tutor. Mrs. Harris stated that this would not be possible for the parents. She thought that the board should take the burden of educating the lad. The question will be taken by the board at its next meeting.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

DEATH OF MRS. BUCHARD.

Pte. W. Belland of C. A. M. C. received word yesterday that his aunt, Mrs. Buchard, late of Quebec city was dead. She was in her 98th year, and was sick only a few days. Pte. W. Belland, C. A. M. C., Art. Belland of Toronto and Dave Belland, trainer of the Quebec hockey team were brought up by their aunt.

DEATH OF MRS. DAVIES.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Ann Davies died in Victoria Hospital after a short illness in her 42nd year. Mrs. Davies was a native of England, coming to this country at an early age.

She is survived by her husband, three sons, Joseph, Charles and George; two daughters, Alice and Esther; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Jones of this city; two brothers and one sister. The funeral was held from the family residence, 94 Front street, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Canon C. R. Gunne and Rev. Dr. G. H. Sage conducted the services. Interment was made in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

DEATH OF S. BARR.

The death of Samuel Barr, in his 91st year, occurred at the home of his son-in-law, W. Topham, of 350 William street, on Thursday. Mr. Barr had only recently removed to this city from Dorchester. The funeral will be held on Monday. Interment will be made in Dorchester Union Cemetery.

FUNERAL OF W. R. PINCH.

The funeral of Wilfred R. Pinch was held on Thursday afternoon from the family residence, 68 Wellington street, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery at 2:30 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. Canon C. R. Gunne and Rev. W. J. Ashton. The pallbearers were: W. Bottom, R. Lucas, R. Sage, W. Anderson, W. S. Cressman and L. Sage.

DIED IN DELAWARE.

The death of Mrs. Mary Ann Robertson occurred at her home in Delaware on Thursday, in her 89th year. Mrs. Robertson had lived in Delaware practically all her life. She is survived by five sons, two living at home, and three in the United States.

The funeral arrangements have not been made, pending the arrival of her sons from the States.

DEATH OF J. J. WOODWARD.

John J. Woodward died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. D. Hurley, 32 Yale street, on Wednesday evening, from heart failure, in his 83rd year. The funeral will be held on Saturday from his daughter's residence to Woodland Cemetery at 2:30 o'clock.

ALUMINUM NOSES AND ARTIFICIAL TISSUE ARE SUPPLIED BY DENTISTS

Wonderful Work Being Done by Army Dental Corps.

The Canadian Army Dental Corps, whose work both here and overseas played a tremendous part in keeping up the morale of the troops by relieving thousands of cases of suffering due to defective teeth, has undergone a remarkable new development; and now, in addition to caring for the dental comforts of the soldiers, has undertaken the task of providing artificial noses and lost facial tissue around the eyes and surrounding parts.

Aluminum Noses.

Where noses have been shot away, aluminum shapes, tinted to the exact color of the surrounding skin by artists specially retained for the purpose, are substituted. In the case of eye wounds it usually happens that, in addition to the eye itself being lost, parts of the orbit are shot away. In such cases the dental corps provides artificial parts to replace the missing tissue before a false eye is inserted. Eyebrows, eyelids, and even eyelashes are exactly reproduced and, after all the expert artist has again exerted his skill, these parts are attached to a specially constructed pair of spectacles in so clever a way that a casual observer cannot detect any disfigurement in the wearer's face.

Toronto the Centre.

The centre of this work is at the Royal College of Dental Surgeons of Ontario, in Toronto. The college has placed certain parts of its buildings at the disposal of the C. A. D. C. without any charge, and has signified its willingness to continue to do so as long as the Dental Corps requires the special facilities which the college is able to supply.

Chief Had Birthday and Is 77, but Will Not Admit the Fact

Reporters "Get" Him Though and Wish Many Happy Returns.

Chief of Police W. T. T. Williams had a birthday yesterday. That was the reason that the head of the force unbent to the extent of two cigars for the police reporters, although he disguised this under a moral reform wave and made the scribes believe he had their interests at heart in the banishing of the deadly cigarette. There were no more cigars offered this morning, and the scribes returned to their fags.

"You had a birthday yesterday, chief, so we hear," said one newspaperman after court was over today.

"Did I? Who told you?" inquired the chief.

"It is one of the laws of the 'profesh' never to tell where you get your information from, chief, and you know it," was the reply.

"No, it was not my birthday," declared the chief without winking an eyelid.

"Come on, now, we've got you right, chief. We know it was your birthday, and what's more, we know how old you were, and we want to congratulate you."

"Nothing doing, boys. You're wrong," was the emphatic answer.

"He told me he was 27," stated Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, who was leaving the courtroom.

"Well, we know it should be 77. Isn't that right, Chief Williams?" queried the scribes. However, the man that looks after the protection of the city from criminals denied his age twice more, and the reporters desisted as a rooster in a neighboring backyard crowed.

STREET CAR FARES MAY BE TAKEN TO THE RAILWAY BOARD

Aldermen Think It Only Way to Deal Quickly.

If there is anything definitely done in connection with the street railway situation this year it will be through the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, according to present indications. Some there are in municipal circles who say that the only step that can be taken whereby anything can be done this year is to appeal to the railway board.

A special committee from No. 1 committee of the city council had a conference with City Solicitor T. G. Meredith yesterday to discuss legal points in connection with street railway questions. This committee will report to the council on Monday night next.

The members of the committee who were spoken to regarding the meeting would give out nothing, but it is rumored that all of the members are practically agreed that an appeal to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board is the next logical step for the city to take.

Gaining in Favor.

This has been suggested several times in the council meetings, but it has never been looked upon with much favor until recently. One of the questions that is of much importance is that of service. Numerous complaints have reached the aldermen from time to time regarding this feature.

The majority of the city legislators have expressed the opinion that the company, when it asked for increased fares, should have made some definite proposition regarding increased service. Had this been done, the aldermen would have been more inclined to favor granting increased fares.

Settlement Near?

At any rate the opinion is freely expressed this morning in municipal circles that in all probability the whole question is nearer a settlement than was thought possible a week ago. After the special committee reports to the council on Monday night the question will likely be referred back to No. 1 committee. That body, it is expected, then will take definite action towards securing a satisfactory settlement.

ENGINEER WILL NEED 200 MEN THIS YEAR

An Increase of 200 Per Cent Over Last Year.

There will be work in the city engineer's department this year for 200 men, according to City Engineer H. A. Brazier. This is practically an increase of 800 per cent over the figures for last year. While the work has started already, there are only a few men working. It is expected that the full staff will be put on as soon as the weather breaks sufficiently to allow work to be carried on uninterruptedly.

The rate of wages paid to laborers by the city now is 30 cents an hour. Mr. Brazier anticipates that he will be able to get plenty of men at this rate.

This department has been cutting expenses during the last three years on account of the war, but it is the intention to go ahead with a full program of work this season.

WAY FREIGHT RATES ON L. AND P. S. INCREASED

Way freight rate increases go into effect on the London and Port Stanley at midnight. First-class rates will be increased 24 cents per hundredweight, and other classes will be increased by amounts ranging from that amount down as low as 10 cents. No increase will be made on through freight. Way freight which is sent from a station on the line to another station on the line, but through freight is that which is transferred from or to a line other than the London and Port Stanley road.

LOSSES OF ALLIES IN NORTH RUSSIA TRIVIAL

Archangel, March 13.—Compared to the losses inflicted upon the enemy, the Allied casualties in the fighting along the Vaga River since February 28 have been extremely light. It is estimated that the Bolsheviki have lost at least 500 killed.

The health of the expeditionary force since the influenza epidemic in December and October has been excellent. The newly-mobilized Russian troops are becoming trained. They are gradually removing the strain to which the British, French and American forces were put in the early days of the campaign.

"FLU" IN THE NORTH.

Winnipeg, March 14.—Inside of three weeks there were 115 deaths from Influenza at Norway House and 70 at Cross Lake, according to a letter received by John Morrison, member for Rupert's Land in the Manitoba Legislature.

SAFETY BULLETINS

Every week thousands of school children throughout the province read bulletins sent out by the Ontario Safety League. Not only the children, but motormen and other men holding responsible positions receive them. The bulletins are brief but to the point, and are very often illustrated. The latest three received bear the inscriptions:

"Do not play with matches. Matches are very useful, but they are not toys. When you play with matches you are taking a most horrible risk."

"Fire is a waster. A little caution will sometimes prevent a big fire."

"A sign says: 'Motormen must not operate cars past each other on this curve,' and yet every now and then someone does it, and two cars get a trip to the repair shop. Use your head."

COMMITTEE SEEKING SCHEME TO CORRECT MISTAKES OF PAST

C. of C. Members to Vote on Suggestions.

FOR A GREATER LONDON

One Recommendation Is for Independent Report on City's Railway.

A "Master Plan for London" is the solution recommended by the London Chamber of Commerce committee on town planning, for the problems which confront the city in the way of correcting mistakes of the past and building up a clean, symmetrical, well-ordeded "greater London," bringing into harmony industrial, business and residential sections and public buildings, abolishing "level crossings" which constitute a menace to life, and insuring wise expenditure of money, and economy through a continuous city development policy.

Committee Has Been Busy.

The committee, consisting of John Cottam, David Rose, J. C. Middleton, Ward Casselman, John Bridge, Dr. E. E. Braithwaite, R. J. Weoster and George Peters, has held a number of conferences in the past few months, giving most serious attention to the subject of town planning as a result, comprehensive resolutions have been drawn up to submit to the membership of the Chamber of Commerce according to the constitutional referendum plan, asking an expression of opinion regarding several recommendations. These are being mailed out this afternoon.

Recommendations.

Among the recommendations are the following:

A campaign for signatures of citizens to a petition addressed to the provincial legislature asking for the early enactment of a town planning act; the completion and presentation of such petition to the Ontario Legislature at the earliest possible date; to procure immediately a report on London's railway situation from an independent railway expert or experts; to inaugurate a campaign to raise funds to enable the Chamber of Commerce directors to offer prizes or fees of sufficient attraction, or to otherwise secure the services of eminent engineers or city-planning experts in order to study or plan for the future needs of the city and prepare immediately a section of the master plan, which will co-relate any public buildings to be erected in the near future; to confirm or correct or supplement any work on a plan for London which any government may be willing to furnish; to obtain several master plans of alternating or competing character, from among which to select the best one to guide London's development in the next half century.

The ideal plan, according to the town planning committee, will provide a plan for the present and future development of London, including the relation and co-ordination of all public buildings, street and railway improvements, sewer system and other works.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR HOLDING FIELD DAY

Twenty Candidates Are To Be Initiated.

Richard Coeur de Lion Preceptory No. 4, Knights Templar, is holding its annual field day and statutory banquet today in the Masonic Temple. Twenty candidates will be initiated into the Preceptory during the day.

Rt. Et. Sir Knight Charles Farquharson, provincial prior, of Stratford, is here on his official visit to the Preceptory, and it is expected that all of the members will attend the meetings. E. Sir Knight Thomas M. Fawkes is the presiding preceptor at the ceremonies.

A banquet will be held in the Masonic Temple banquet hall at 8 o'clock this evening, after which a dance will be held.

PTE. THOMAS SARGENT LOOKING FOR HIS WIFE

Some Mistake Has Led to Failure to Meet Her.

Who knows Mrs. Thomas Sargent? Her husband, Pte. Thomas Sargent, who has just returned from overseas after nearly four years' service, says he received a letter from his wife at Toronto, stating that she would meet him where she was staying at 27 Dundas street. Upon his arrival in this city yesterday, he was unable to locate his wife on Dundas street. There is no number 27. If there were it would be on the courthouse grounds. His wife's Christian name is Margaret. Relatives of his wife live at Watford, Ont., and Pte. Sargent is communicating with them to see if he can get her correct address. Any information regarding this lady would be greatly appreciated if it is left at the Salvation Army Hostel, King and Clarence streets, where Pte. Sargent is staying. He believes that perhaps she is staying with some of her friends in this city, and her name does not appear in the city directory.

LEGAL QUERIES

A STEADY SUBSCRIBER, 135th Battalion.—I am an ex-soldier of the 135th Battalion, and have been honorably discharged as medically unfit for overseas service. Through another lady who boarded at my house, my wife has been leading a dissipated life, and she has been trying to separate her from me. Under these circumstances, how can I get a divorce in Ontario, and is there any way a workingman can do this at a reasonable price? Do I have to have a witness to the unfaithfulness of my wife? Please answer above questions in your paper.

ANS.—1. Yes, you can get a divorce. 2. You will have to prove your case. 3. There is no cheap divorce in this province. 4. Consult a lawyer.

INDIAN PAGEANT GIVEN AT KING STREET CHURCH PROVES GREAT SUCCESS

An enjoyable missionary evening was held in the King Street Presbyterian Church, Thursday night, when the young people of New St. James' Church furnished the entertainment in the form of a missionary pageant. Representations of life in India were given by the young people in Indian costumes. A novel feature was the fact that all speaking and singing was done in Hindustani. All representations were true to life, and the parts exceptionally well taken, the entertainers having been trained and scenes arranged by the St. James' Church missionary to India, Dr. James Waters. Dr. Waters has spent fourteen years in India and recently spent a time home on furlough. One of the young women who took part in the former concerts went back to India with Dr. and Mrs. Waters.

Rev. James McKay is in charge of the troupe of players now. A large crowd was present and was delighted with the concert.

O-CORN-O HOMINY FEED

Made From White Corn

We have a supply of the highly nutritious Hominy Feed stored ready for immediate shipment from our mills at Dundas street, East London.

A study of the rations used by record-making cows shows the very common use of Hominy Feed as part of the ration. This feed is a by-product in the milling of white corn, and is one of the best and most favorably known commercial feeds on the market. The great value of O-Corn-O Hominy Feed as a feed for cows lies in the fact that it is rich in carbohydrates and fat, which go to supply the nutriments required for body maintenance.

An analysis of this feed shows that its food content is as follows:

Fat.	Protein.	Moisture.	Fibre.	Carbohydrates.
2.10	10.59.	6.81.	5.17.	65.26.

The following comparative figures show the total digestible nutriments in various common feedstuffs used for dairy cow—Hominy Feed heads the list:

Hominy Feed	84.6
Gluten Feed	80.7
Germ Oil Meal	82.5
Cornmeal or Chop	83.8
Wheat Bran	60.9
Flour Wheat Middlings	78.2
Standard Middlings	69.3
Rye Middlings	75.1

ASSOCIATION PLANNING ANOTHER "BABY WEEK"

It is possible that London will have another "Baby Week," such as created so much interest in the city and Western Ontario a year ago, and which was the beginning of definite child welfare work here with a view to reducing infant mortality and raising the physical standard of the citizenship.

The members of the executive of the Child Welfare Association expressed themselves at a meeting yesterday afternoon in favor of holding a "Baby Week" and securing for it the provincial child welfare exhibit which, it is stated, is more extensive and even more interesting and educational than last year.

Encouraging reports were presented of the clinics, etc., several doctors showing their interest by attending the executive meeting.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

THE TEMPERANCE ISSUE.

To the Editor of the Advertiser:

"We are told by the press that the liquor interests are very active in seeking to have restored the conditions existing previous to September 16, 1916, and to this end it would seem that a part of their program has been a campaign of law violation, to discredit, if possible, the good accruing from the temperance law. Why not start a campaign of stealing and murder to discredit the law directed against these evils? The latest we have noticed is the following:

"We are credibly informed that last week a carload of paper was shipped to a mill in Toronto, and every bale contained a keg of liquor. The consignment was valued at $7,000, and a yardman was 'tipped' to switch it upon another track, but owing to sickness he was off duty when it arrived, and a detective got wise at the mill. The man to whom the 'wet' goods belonged was fined $940, and the consignment was confiscated."

Let the politicians be true to the moral convictions of the people as expressed again and again during the past 20 years by referendums and local option, and this worthy cause will be continued and protected. Yours for TEMPERANCE.

FUNERAL OF ACCIDENT VICTIM ON SUNDAY

INGERSOLL, March 13.—The remains of Miss Libbie McCarty, daughter of Councilor H. D. McCarty, who died at St. Petersburg, Fla., as a result of injuries sustained in a motor accident, are expected to reach here Saturday. A brother, Harry McCarty, of South Bend, Ind., will accompany the remains.

From information received here it is understood that other members of the family have not sufficiently recovered from their injuries to make the trip. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon from the family residence on Thames street north to St. Paul's Church, where service will be held at 3 o'clock, thence to the Ingersoll Rural Cemetery.

Yearly Newspaper and Town Crier on St. Pierre Island

Prof. N. C. James Tells of Quaint Customs of Canada's Neighbor.

An interesting and instructive lecture was given at the Western University by Professor N. C. James, entitled "With the French at St. Pierre" Thursday evening. The lecture was illustrated with drawings, maps, and some old quaint pictures.

The customs of the natives of this little island of St. Pierre, near the coast of Newfoundland, were described by Professor James, who spent a month on the island. He said that fishing, drying codfish and preparing cod liver oil were the only industries carried on by the natives. One little paper was published once a year, containing mostly news pertaining to the Government. A town crier traversed the streets daily ringing a bell and proclaiming any item of news of especial interest to the public.

All fresh meats and vegetables were imported from Prince Edward Island. Professor James said that there was only one horse on the island, and a few mules. Any traveling necessary, was done on foot. He told of the many times the island had changed hands, being a British possession several times and lastly being retained by the French.

RETAIL BUSINESS IS OF GOOD VOLUME HERE

London reports to Bradstreet's that business in a retail way is of good volume, there being a good demand for most staple lines. The tendency of merchants is to hold off in the matter of heavy buying, preferring to wait and see how prices go. Collections were slow during month of February, but an active spring trade is looked for. Country produce is being offered in fairly large quantities, and prices are inclined to be easier.

TROUBLES COST HIM A FORTUNE

Texas Farmer Suffered For Fifteen Years—Is Relieved by Tanlac.

"A few bottles of Tanlac have done me more good than other medicines and treatments that cost me a small fortune," said C. C. Fisher, a prosperous farmer living at Irving, Route 1, a few miles from Dallas, Tex.

"For fifteen years," he continued, "I suffered so terribly from stomach trouble that I thought I could never get well. Everything I would eat went back on me, and I would belch up my food, so sour that it would nearly strangle me; the gas on my stomach would press on my heart so as to cause it to flutter and I would have the hardest time getting my breath. I was really in such awful condition that I felt I had about got to the end of my row.

"But I feel now like I am good for many years yet, for Tanlac has fixed me up, so I can eat everything and without any bad after-effects, and since gas has stopped forming in my stomach I am not troubled with palpitations or shortness of breath. I have gained six pounds already, and am working hard on my farm every day now, and am glad to recommend Tanlac for the wonderful way it has helped me."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

SPRING HATS

Prophecies of Easter Time as Seen in New Designs of Smart Millinery

(By Madame Francis, Famous Creator of Fashions, New York City).

They say no woman ever committed suicide on her way to buy a pair of silk stockings. Certain it is that no woman could think of unhappiness with the lure of an Easter hat in front of her eye.

The time has long since passed when women waited for the dawn of Easter Sunday to put on their Easter bonnets. The new year finds the shops ambitious to push their spring creations. Many women wear straw hats in the coldest months of the year, with their heaviest furs—an inconsistency of better judgment and better experience in the fitness of things.

A new straw hat does put spring into the blood of every normal woman. She just can't wait to buy one! Whether she is going to a winter resort or whether she must await the slow advent of spring in a less propitious clime, she must get that spring hat. Once bought it never rests long in its gaily flowered bandbox. It must be worn!

Sales Unprecedented.

When one reviews the charming creations which the milliners have given us this spring, there is small wonder that the sales of millinery have been unprecedented. From the beginning of January when winter resort "habitues" sought the first offerings of Fashion, until now, there has been a constant demand for hats, and yet more hats.

Straw hats and those made of fabrics are equally popular. Frequently straw is combined with material, such as taffeta and Georgette crepe with charming effect. Ribbon hats are in great demand by the younger women and girls, because ribbon hats match sweaters and sports coats so perfectly. A fine grosgrain is usually the ribbon employed to develop these hats, though effective models are made of Georgette satin ribbon.

Hats of calico and gingham are worn with matching gowns and parasols in colorful and picturesque array. Gaily flowered chintz crowns are frequently mounted on straw brims of rose, yellow, old blue and black. Indeed, the world is a more gladsome place when viewed from the brim of a becoming hat. A soulful satisfaction envelops the woman who is sure that her hat is becoming.

Leghorns Popular.

Leghorn hats will be popular for dress wear and also for sports use. The large floppy shapes are used for dress. They are faced, wired and bound in a variety of ways. Chiffon, taffeta and ribbon in shades of old blue, pink and coral, bind these hats of tawny straw. Flowers invariably trim them. The sports models of leghorn are blocked in sailor shapes with high crowns. Velvet ribbon is a favorite trimming for these hats and bladere bands of brilliantly striped taffeta is another popular treatment of the leghorn sports hat.

Straws of basket weaves are trimmed with fruits. Grapes in blue and green, luscious cherries, tiny oranges and apples vie with the real fruits that summer will later bring us. These broad brim shapes will adorn many a picturesque farmerette who will do most of her farming in a well laid out garden of hydrangeas and rhododendrons with colorful beds of nasturtiums and purple iris to make a glorious background for her dainty loveliness.

Black lace hats compete with picture shapes of lisere straw for extreme dress. Black net hats with cordings of black satin are charming accessories of the lovely light colored summer gowns. Bronze net also makes effective hats, especially when worn with the soft pastel shades.

Bridesmaid's Hat.

A lovely bridesmaid's hat is shown in a leghorn model with upturned brim. This brim is edged with a soft fold of blue taffeta. It flares off the face in a line suggesting the Marie Louise shape. A boquet of pastel flowers in shades of yellow, pink, violet and green nestles at the side, just above the line of the hair. This is a charmingly youthful model and will be a lovely choice for wear with a lingerie gown.

A hat that shows the charm of fruit trimming is found in a picturesque shape of grey Napoleon straw. The line of this hat is very graceful. It has no facing, but is wired beneath the brim with a satin-covered grey cord. Bunches of grapes in mauve and blue alternate with clusters of yellow-red apples and green leaves to form a wreath. This model is very effective in rose with pale green grapes and tiny peaches making a wreath surprisingly natural in lovely tints.

Oriental Turban.

A small oriental turban of black straw glimmers like satin and is woven in and out in folds that suggest an Indian maharaja's head dress. A beautiful sweep of black paradise trims this turban at just the right angle. This hat makes an effective suit model, or it may be worn with great distinction with the more dressy street gowns of charmeuse and crepe meteor.

A lovely suit hat for a young girl is developed in Joffre blue taffeta and blue straw. The crown and upturned brim are strapped with straw braid, in a beautiful satiny weave. This hat may be also had in rose. It looks particularly well with a suit of navy blue tricotine or one of soft grey homespun made in the belted or box lines so popular at present.

Turbans Popular.

Turbans are being much worn with suits. One of dark blue straw with a bunch of red cherries trimming the left side, is a pretty model. Cherries are very lovely on both large and small hats. A broad mushroom shape of black basket weave straw is wreathed in cherries.

An effective dress hat is made of lavender Neapolitan straw. The lace-like quality of Neapolitan straw makes a charming hat for wear with filmy frocks of lace, chiffon or embroidery. This hat of lavender Neapolitan has a broad brim, almost flat. From its edge fails a fold of thinnest lavender georgette crepe, which veils the face and eyes picturesquely. This fold of georgette crepe may be thrown over the top of the brim in front and allowed to fall gracefully at the sides and back. Sometimes this arrangement of the net or georgette fold is more becoming. A single pink rose rests on the brim of this hat at the side front. This model is also exquisite in pink crinne straw with a fold of pink georgette crepe.

Calico Hat and Parasol.

A hat of calico and its matching parasol are made of canary yellow calico sprigged in orange. Black velvet ribbon trims the hat and borders the parasol.

Both the poke bonnet and "Bo Peep" shapes will be very popular in calico models all summer. Gingham hats are made up in similar lines, though frequently combining plain ground with a check or plaid.

Organdie chapeaux whose cool crispness greeted our eyes last summer will again be worn with organdie and lingerie frocks. This year these hats carry a new variation in tam-o'-shanter crowns of charmeuse satin mounted on organdie brims. A charming model has a crown of rose charmeuse surmounting a cool-looking brim of crisp white organdie. Could anything be lovelier for summer?

There has been a revival of English eyelet embroidery for both hats and gowns. This material is very effective when made up in broad brim shapes of hydrangea blue, coral pink, or canary yellow. Grey, lavender and dark blue are also lovely in these hats of Broderie Anglaise, as it is called.

THE FASHION FORECAST

Ochre yellow will be featured in sports cloths for spring. Combined with tones of black, white or old blue, this color is very lovely.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Readers Are Invited To Phone All News of This Kind to the Society Editor, Phone 3670.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mortimore have returned from a week's visit in Toronto. Mr. Mortimore will leave on a business trip in the lower provinces.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Jordan entertained at dinner on Thursday evening in honor of Katherine Hale, who gave a charming recital at the Woman's Music Club on Thursday.

The home of Mrs. R. J. Moore of Listowel was the scene of a pretty wedding Tuesday at noon when her youngest daughter, Edith Pearl, became the bride of Clarence McLaughlin of North Mornington. At 12 o'clock the bride entered the drawing-room upon the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. H. Hastings. Miss Verna Watson, cousin of the bride, played the Wedding March, and little Edith Hastings was a dainty flower girl, wearing a frock of pale pink silk. The bride's gown was of white silk and georgette crepe, the veil being embroidered. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Nicol of Knox Church, of which Miss Moore was a member. Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin left on the afternoon train for Guelph, and will visit in Toronto before returning to their home at North Mornington.

At Yarmouth Centre, March 4, 1869, at the bride's home, some sixty friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony, which united two young people, Mr. William Carpenter and Miss Ellen M. Couse. The wedding ceremony was performed by the late Rev. Geo. Cuthberson, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Couse, now residing at Yarmouth Centre, acted as groomsman and bridesmaid.

At their home in Alborough, where Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter have resided for the past twenty years, they celebrated on March 4, 1919, the golden anniversary of their wedding. At 4:30 p.m. a few of the relatives, including Mr. and Mrs. E. Carpenter and Miss Vera of Rodney, Mr. and Mrs. John Shieb, Mrs. Legge, Rodney; Mr. and Mrs. B. Gwenfeldt and Master Bernard, Detroit; Miss Allie Norton, St. Thomas; Mr. Frank Carpenter, Windsor, partook of a lunch, prepared by the bride herself. The dining-room was decorated for the occasion with evergreens. The table was prettily arranged with carnations and in the centre was a large wedding cake. Plates were laid for twelve.

In the evening forty friends surprised the happy couple at their home. The time was pleasantly spent in music, dancing and cards. At midnight lunch was served.

Western Ontario Women's Activities

HYDE PARK W. I.

The Hyde Park Women's Institute delivered at the Red Cross rooms on Queen's avenue, clothing for the refugees as follows: Ninety pieces of underwear, 23 pairs children's stockings, 22 pairs men's socks, 13 children's sweaters, 1 man's sweater and 2 scarfs.

FLORENCE W. I.

A meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Peters, with a good attendance. The sewing committee reported that 75 dresses, 43 aprons, 2 night dresses and 1 chemise had been sent to London for the refugees. It was decided to send $10 to London Red Cross for the returned soldiers' comfort fund. Miss Sadie Ackert gave a piano selection, and part of the Toronto convention report was read by the secretary.

KINGSVILLE W. C. T. U.

The monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. Alex. Brown, the devotional exercises being conducted by Mrs. J. B. Kennedy.

At this meeting arrangements were made to hold the mothers' meeting at the Methodist parsonage on Friday, April 11.

A letter was read from Mrs. Terryberry, Leamington, re the cigarette question. The matter of entertaining the honorary members of the union was also discussed, and it was decided to do so in the early part of the autumn, with the object of augmenting the funds, which are rather low at the present time, in view of the fact that there are so many demands being made upon the union.

CYNTHIA GREY'S MAIL-BOX

KNITTING AND CROCHETING.

Daddy's Own wants rules for knitting a tam, and for knitting a coat sweater.

M. M. requests Victory Bond's crocheted tam directions, also sweater design for a 10 or 12 year old girl, and reminds readers that she is still waiting for a tam pattern to be made up in velvet.

Forgetmenot would be grateful for any crochet designs—yokes or edgings.

Careful Mat wants Chrysanthemum's breakfast cap design.

Ted—You're a dear to send the lace designs. I've passed them along.

Planning a Social.

Dear Miss Grey,—I appreciate the helpful hints in the corner very much and as I saw an inquiry for potato candy recently, I am sending same, which I hope will be in time.

We intend to have a St. Patrick's social for our Young People's Society and would be very glad for some suggestions as to contests, or entertainment of any kind, which would be suitable for the occasion. This is to be a church entertainment. Yours sincerely,

INDIANOLA.

Potato Candy—Take 1 small potato, boil until it is done, drain and mash with a little butter, add 1 cupful of chopped nuts, and 1 teaspoonful of vanilla. Take it on the molding board and add confectioner's sugar, kneading it until it will take no more sugar. Cut in squares and lay on paraffin paper.

Ans.—Have inserted all the available St. Patrick's entertainment ideas in this column, and hope you may find something useful therein.

Mother Paints Hers.

Dear Miss Grey,—You asked me to come again, so here I am. I saw "Silverlocks'" request in the Mail-Box today, and as I like to be helpful, I am writing to tell you that linoleum may be painted after the pattern is worn off. Mother always paints our linoleum in the bathroom, and it keeps real nice and bright.

I tried "Forget-Me-Not's" banana whip tonight, and it proved to be fine. Anyone who likes pineapples, oranges and bananas, ought to try it on pineapple. I think it is fine, but mother says I have a queer taste, so perhaps you had better take a wee taste first!

Just about two more weeks of holidays and then back at school. Time does fly, it seems to me, but I have worked in the creamery all summer, and do not regret one moment of my time. It is very interesting especially when everything is done with machinery, and that up to date. I would love to tell you all about it, some people think creamery butter is made very carelessly, but that is not so. Anyone believing that just come along and see they are never too old to learn. Tell "A Full-Fledged Farmerette" to hurry on with her Spanish pie, and I wouldn't mind her curly hair also, if it is dark brown or black. And now, dear Miss Grey, could I bother you to print that recipe for an "overseas fruit cake." I think it was called. My friends overseas will think I have deserted them if I don't hurry and remember them with something good to eat. Hoping I will not take up too much room—but that reminds me tell the company when they are advertising beds not to make them so large. No one is going to sleep in them, and save the space for "our" Mail-Box. I remain as ever. BLUE EYES.

Ans.—Wherever has your letter been, "Blue Eyes"? This one dated August 16, and another without date line, arrived at my desk just a few days ago. Since you penned the above, you will have noted "Farmerette's" Spanish pie recipe, and among several recipes in our column of Tuesday, September 3, "Skinny's" overseas cake appears. Thank you for telling about your summer's work. It must have been interesting, I'm sure, especially where the machinery is up to date.

ROUND-TABLE TALK AT EMPRESS AVE SCHOOL

Mrs. John Gemmel, vice-president of the Union Mothers' Club, conducted a very instructive round table talk at the Empress Avenue Mothers' Club, an interesting discussion taking place. A musical program followed, including piano solos by Mrs. Whiting, readings by Miss McPherson, and vocal solos by Miss A. Gilmour, all of which were thoroughly enjoyed. Mrs. Bryant was in the chair.

Daily Bible Question Club

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE UNIFORM LESSON FOR March 16, 1919.

ONE GOLDEN TEXT SUGGESTION. By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.

The Cities of Refuge.—Joshua xx.

QUESTIONS FOR TODAY.

13. Verses 5-6.—What are the means now used in this country to carry out the same beneficent purpose of these six cities of refuge?

14. IF THE APPOINTMENT OF THESE CITIES OF REFUGE WAS GOD'S, HOW DO YOU EXPLAIN THAT GOD'S WORK CAN BE SO MUCH IMPROVED UPON? This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by the members of the club.)

15. Verse 9—Notwithstanding the Bible law concerning the six cities of refuge, what today would be done to the man, next akin to a murdered man, if he were to take vengeance on the murderer?

Golden Text—Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.—Matt. v., 7.

GOD FORGIVES ALL THOSE WHO FORGIVE THEIR ENEMIES.

This is the meaning of Jesus' words "Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy." When we, through the grace of God, cultivate the merciful spirit, we shall not only cultivate the beautiful spirit of the Christ, but shall at the same time obtain mercy for ourselves. No man can be a Christian who does not gladly forgive his enemies. Any who have a grudge against another and are only waiting for an opportunity to exercise it cannot be Christians, and their spirit clearly proves that they are the followers of the devil and not of God. All of you who are seeking for peace and prosperity and want to be members of God's family can accomplish the desire of your hearts when you freely forgive

LONDON "Y" JUNIORS OUTPLAY SARNIA IN O.B.A. SEMI-FINALS

Game Held at Local Y. M. C. A. Last Evening Ended by Score of 55 to 11—Return Game at Sarnia Next Week — Shamrocks Win From Princess Pats in the Preliminary Contest.

The London "Y" juniors defeated the Sarnia team by the score of 55 to 11 at the local Y. M. C. A. gym last evening in the semi-finals of the junior O. A. B. A. The contest was a one-sided affair, the locals being superior in every way and form, and the Sarnia boys did not get a showing at any time.

Combination playing won the game for London, and was responsible for the big lead which was run up. The Forest City defence players also kept the Tunnel City players closely checked, and they were unable to get near the London basket.

London secured a 44-point lead on the Sarnia team, and this will be very difficult for Sarnia to overcome in the return game at Sarnia next week. Home-and-home games are being played, with points to count.

"Doc" Cline, Gordon Henderson and Dune McLean worked together well, and it is hard to beat this trio of basketball players. Cline secured seventeen points, McLean twelve and Henderson six.

Ginsberg played a steady game, and Young and Arscott also showed up well. The London team has been well coached and trained by A. T. Taylor.

The junior O. A. B. A. championship has been won by London for the last two years, and the way the locals are playing it is a good bet that the silverware will again come to the Forest City.

The Londoners started off with a rush, and did not lose a single minute. The first basket was secured on a combination play shot one minute after the whistle sounded. The locals kept right after the ball, and before long had run up a good lead on the Tunnel City boys. At half-time the score was 25 to 6 in favor of the Forest City.

In the second period the locals secured 30 more points, and Sarnia players added five more points to their collection.

The local juniors, when they play back at Sarnia, will put up a good game, and it would not be a big surprise if the Londoners trim the Tunnel City boys on their own floor.

A fast preliminary game was played by the Shamrocsk and the Princess Pats, both of the Western University Girls Basketball League. The Shamrocks won by the score of 11 to 8. The collegiate girls put up a good game.

The teams lined up as follows:

O. A. B. A. Game.

TORONTO DENTALS WILL NOT ENTER A PROTEST

Toronto, Ont., March 13.—Officially the Dentals' hockey club through Col. Thompson, president of the former O. H. A. champions, this morning repudiated the report that the club had anything to do with the protest lodged against the Hamilton Tigers, now champions of the senior O. H. A. series. Col. Thompson told the Canadian Press today that the first intimation he had that there was anything in the wind was when he saw the story in a morning paper, coupled with the name of "Bill" Box. The latter also stated that he had not inspired the investigation.

From Secretary W. A. Hewitt of the O. H. A. it was learned that a disgruntled member of the club, not one of the players, had asked the association to take action. There will be no formal proceedings, the O. H. A. part in the affair being simply a matter of asking the players comprising the Hamilton team to take affidavit that they have not offended against the amateur code.

WESTERN "U" TEAM PLAYS AT TORONTO TOMORROW

Western University intermediate basketball team will journey to Toronto to play an exhibition game with the Toronto University team Saturday afternoon. The team leaves at 11:20 o'clock today and will hold a workout on the Toronto floor this evening. The locals are in fine condition and expect to win the contest.

A large crowd of the Western students will accompany the team. The crowd will attend the Woodstock-U.T.S. game in the evening.

Pritchett, McGeouch, Callaghan, Kingswood, Cline and Smith will line up on the Forest City team.

BIG REVIVAL OF CRICKET EXPECTED AT BRANTFORD

BRANTFORD, March 13.—A revival of cricket is one of the sporting events of the year here. The G. W. V. A. will have a good team, the old Brantford cricket team having been thoroughly disrupted by enlistments, so that most of these players will be available. The mother club will be on hand, however, having reorganized with the following officers: President, G. Whitewell; vice-president, J. Deans; honorary president, J. F. Vanlne, Toronto; secretary-treasurer, P. Farnsworth; captain, W. Walsh; vice-captain, Charles Smith; selection committee, W. Walsh, Chas. Smith, C. Whitehall and F. Farnsworth.

REFEREE WELCH STATES THAT THE FIGHT WAS WON ON ITS MERITS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 13.—Jack Welch of San Francisco, who refereed the championship boxing contest between Jack Johnson and Jesse Willard, declared here today after being shown Johnson's statement that the outcome of the affair was prearranged, that the fight was won on its merits.

Welch said, however, Johnson was in poor condition for the bout.

Welch also said Johnson attempted to wager $10,000 on himself the night before the bout, but succeeded in placing but $2,500.

HOCKEY GAME POSTPONED.

STRATFORD, March 13.—The Kitchener Union Jacks were scheduled to come here in the Rounds' cup consolation series this evening, but owing to the condition of the ice in Kitchener last night, fears were entertained for the ice here, and the game was accordingly postponed until next week.

COLLINGWOOD TRIMS KINGSTON AND WINS FINALS BY 3 GOALS

Fine Exhibition of Hockey Played in Intermediate Finals.

TORONTO, March 13.—Collingwood won the Intermediate O. H. A. championship by defeating Kingston by 3 to 2, tonight, and 9 to 6 on the round. The final game was an excellent exhibition of hockey, and Kingston, though starting in with a handicap of two goals, put up a fine battle throughout. The victorious team, in the first period, added one to its lead of two goals from the prevous game, then Kingston sailed in and in the second period did all its scoring of the night. Collingwood came strong at the finish, scored two, and won the championship with a lead of three goals.

Shortly before full time "Terry" Milan and Elmer drew penalties, and just as the whistle blew, Derry and one of the Collingwood players staged a regular bout with honors about even. The crowd swarmed out onto the ice, and several of the rougher element offered to display their prowess. The police arrived on the scene, referred the combats impartially and took one of the participants in hand.

HAVANA AUTHORITIES WILL INVESTIGATE

Havana, March 14.—The attention of the judicial authorities here has been called to the declaration made by Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion, that his bout with Jess Willard in this city four years ago was a "fake." A written report on the incident has been made by a lieutenant of detectives.

In closing his report, which includes the translated version of Johnson's statements as published here yesterday the detective says:

"From the foregoing it may be seen that, if this story is true, the people of Havana were deceived and defrauded, and that it is desirable to repeat the event, with the same or a similar combination."

The report adds that, "although these events occurred some time ago, they have become known through their publication and Johnson, who is here on his way to Mexico, may evade any responsibility which he may have incurred."

CADILLAC FIRST CAR TO CROSS THE RHINE

Completes Risky and Delicate Trip Seven Days After Armistice is Signed.

Word of Cadillac achievements during and after the war continues to come from the other side. The latest news of this sort, accompanied by two photographs, is that, as far as can be learned, the Cadillac was the first motor car of the allied armies to reach and cross the Rhine, after the armistice had been signed.

The letter is from Lieut.-Col. George H. Johnson, deputy director of timber operations in the Canadian Forestry Corps with the British Expeditionary Forces.

In addition to detailing the trip into and out of Germany, the letter recounts some of the officer's previous experiences with the Cadillac. Lieut.-Col. Johnson writes, under date of December 18, to the Cadillac Company: "I send you herewith two photographs showing the first Canadian motor car to reach the Rhine, viz.: Cadillac 44582.

"I also have reason to believe that this was the first car of any of the Allied armies to cross the Rhine, having reached Alt Briesac via Colmar on November 18, seven days after the armistice was signed. The Rhine was crossed at Alt Briesac after the rear guard of the retreating German army. The whole adventure was always risky and at times delicate. The return was made to Alsace via Strassbourg, Colmar and Muelhouse on the Swiss border, France being entered by way of Belfort.

"I believe you will be interested in the performance of this Cadillac. It has carried myself and officers for the last two years over nearly the whole of France. Its performance in many ways has been remarkable. We succeeded in getting over 11,000 miles out of the first set of six tires; the tire mileage has always been consistently good; her gas consumption has been low. We have never broken anything, nor have I once been delayed on the road in two years' running, much of this over front-line roads, badly torn up by heavy shell fire and motor transport.

"A great deal of the success of this particular machine was due to Staff Sergt. Frank Bourner, a most expert and skillful driver and mechanic. I have owned several cars and driven many, but I feel that Cadillac 44582 is the premier road machine of them all. When the demobilization is complete I shall turn this machine in to army stores with a feeling of regret.

"Speaking as an engineer and an old motorist, I should like to congratulate the engineers and designers who turned out a perfected machine such as Cadillac 44582.

"In conclusion, now that this job is done, those of us who are left view with a rather quiet and sincere relief the prospects of once more returning to Canada and civil life."

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 13.—An act legalizing Sunday baseball playing in this state was passed by the lower branch of the general assembly today on rollcall, the vote being 71 to 19. The bill reserves to cities and towns authority to determine whether baseball games may be played within their limits on Sunday.

H.D.S.A. TO HOLD BIG BOXING TOURNAMENT EARLY NEXT MONTH

Several First-Class Boxers Will Be Brought Here.

Several big boxing bouts will be put on at the armories early in April under the auspices of the Honorably Discharged Soldiers' Association of this city. This announcement was made last evening.

Returned soldiers will be secured to participate in the boxing tournament. Several first-class boxers who put on exhibition matches in England and France will be secured to fight before the London boxing fans.

Manager I. J. Fox will leave tomorrow night for Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal to get in touch with scrappers in those cities.

A meeting of the Honorably Discharged Soldiers' Association will be held this evening and plans for the tournament will be made.

The boxing program will include one 10-round bout, one 6-round and three 4-round bouts.

Lightweight, middleweight and featherweight fighters will take part.

The H. D. S. A. intends to continue these series of boxing matches and bring some real matches to this city.

WOODSTOCK COLLEGIATE DEFEATS COLLEGE SIX

Western Interscholastic Junior Championship Goes To High School.

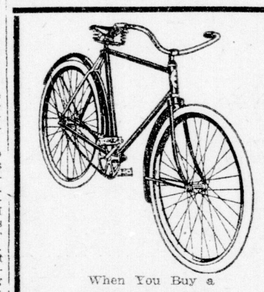

WOODSTOCK, March 13.—The Collegiate Juniors defeated the College Juniors this afternoon in the playoff for the Western Interscholastic Junior championship and the Nesbitt trophy, by a score of 4—0. The teams were tied for the honors when the schedule was finished, necessitating the play off. The ice was in poor shape, but the youngsters put on a whirlwind exhibition nevertheless. The first two periods were scoreless, the teams being very evenly matched. In the concluding twenty minutes the break came and collegiate ran in four counters. For the winners, Ryan, Clark and Maddel showed class, while Stibbs and Hildred looked the best for college. The lineup:

WINNIPEG TEAM LEAVES FOR TORONTO TODAY

WINNIPEG, March 13.—Tomorrow afternoon at 4:45 o'clock the Selkirk team, champions of the Manitoba Senior Hockey League, will leave for Toronto, where they will meet the Hamilton Tigers, winners of the senior O. H. A. championship, in the play-off for the Allan cup. Besides the Selkirk team and its supporters, there will be a party of fifteen from Regina going after the junior title, making a party of about fifty.

TORONTO BOWLERS PLAY AT TOLEDO TONIGHT

Toledo, March 14.—Out-of-town bowlers, some of them the best in the country, continued to fail to reach the high marks set by Toledo bowlers early in the week at the American Bowling Congress here. The Waldorf Hotel five still is leading in the five-men event with 2,823. High in the doubles is 1,225 and 683 is the top figure in the individuals.

In the early squad of five-men teams tonight six are from Toronto, Ont., and one from St. Catharines, Ont.

Among the teams on the first shift is the Saunders of Toronto. Sam Schilman, winner of the individual event at Toledo three years ago, is a member.

REDS SLAY RELATIVES OF DESERTING OFFICERS

Stockholm, March 13.—All the relatives of officers of the 86th Russian Regiment which went over to the White Guards as against the Soviet Government have been executed, according to a dispatch from Petrograd. The executions were ordered by the military revolutionary committee of Petrograd.

A number of well-known Russian officers, it is added, also have been executed after being convicted of charges of having spread false rumors regarding the Soviet Government.

ERZBERGER REFUSES TO JOIN PARTY FOR PARIS

Basle, Switzerland, March 14.—Mathias Erzberger has refused to be a member of the German delegation at the peace conference, although pressure has been brought to bear upon him to bring about his acceptance, according to a Berlin dispatch, which is said to be based upon authoritative information.

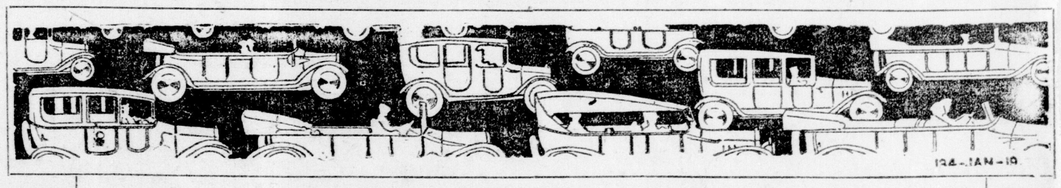

Negotiations between inter-allied and German commissions concerning the question of feeding Germany in exchange for certain German commodities began on Wednesday. Sub-committees were appointed to take up the question of exchange of potash and dyes for food.

LAST ELECTION WAS DESPICABLE, SAYS CHARLTON

Nothing in Archives of Hades Worse, Government Is Told.

CANDIDATES NOMINATED

W. H. Mills To Contest Local Seat and Mr. Charlton the Federal.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. THOMAS, March 13.—"The military service act of 1917, which really was a flag-waving move on the part of the Tories to win an election, caused a cleavage that it will take a hundred years to remedy, and we, our children, and our children's children for generations to come, will look with shame on the election of 1917. That outfit that called itself a government saw fit to bring on an election, but I defy you, even if you search in the archives of hell, to find anything more despicable than that perpetrated in 1917. Those men from the inside of Liberalism, claiming to be propagandists, sold themselves, lost themselves, body and soul, besmirched their characters in political corruption and sank to the depths of depravity for the sake of winning an election, but that which has come forth is the true product. The dross and alloy has gone to the dump, and Liberalism stands today firmer than it ever did before."

Convention the Biggest.

Thus spoke W. G. Charlton, the Federal candidate for East Elgin, who was again chosen by a unanimous vote at one of the biggest and most enthusiastic conventions ever held in the town of Aylmer, in the course of a stirring, emphatic and eloquent appeal to the Liberals of the east riding of the county, and for that matter, the whole of Canada, to rally to the true flag of Liberalism as outlined by the late leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Aylmer has witnessed many conventions and numerous Liberal gatherings, as well as those of the Opposition, but never before was there such a feeling of enthusiasm, never was there such a determined and united spirit in the air as that of today. The town hall was literally jammed with representatives from every district in the riding, and as a direct contrast to the gatherings of past years, there was a representative gathering of lady delegates, as well as a good number of ladies who were merely interested in Liberalism.

Woman's Name Submitted.

Miss Belle Murray of Aylmer was among those nominated for the Legislature to enter the contest in the coming election, and although she withdrew her name, she promised to support the cause for any other who should be nominated. It was with the deepest regret that it was accepted by the meeting. Miss Murray holds the unique honor of being the first woman candidate to be nominated in any part of Elgin County or for that matter Western Ontario.

After the usual roll call the first order of business was the nomination of candidates for the Federal House. N. S. Cornell named W. G. Charlton, the former candidate, who opposed David Marshall in the Dominion election of 1917. The chairman waited some minutes to give every delegate a chance to name their representative if there were any other nominations, but suddenly there was a loud burst of applause, and finally with no other nominations in view Mr. Charlton was named the candidate by a unanimous vote of the meeting.

Many Names Submitted.

Matters did not go as easily in the case of the provincial candidate. Nominations opened with the name of Sidney S. McDermand of Malahide. As soon as his name was announced Ex-Warden N. S. Cornell of Port Stanley and formerly candidate for the Legislative Assembly, was named. Then followed a series of nominations as follows: W. H. Mills of Sparta; Wilson McCreadie of South Dorchester; J. C. Dance, ex-M.P.P. of Aylmer; Dr. F. H. Miller of Aylmer; C. W. Wannacott of South Malahide; M. M. Black of Springfield, and Miss Belle Murray of Aylmer. Each candidate was given a half-hour in which to address the meeting, after which the vote was taken by ballot. All the above candidates withdrew, excepting W. H. Mills, N. S. Cornell and S. S. McDermand. There were 67 constituent votes polled, and of these Wilson Henry Mills of Sparta polled 34; S. S. McDermand of Malahide, 25; and N. S. Cornell, 8. In view of this Mr. Mills got the majority of those present, and on a resolution by N. S. Cornell and S. S. McDermand the choice was made unanimous.

S. S. McDermand, in his pre-nomination speech, declared that if chosen he would run on a strictly independent Liberal ticket. He had been accused of being too independent, but the result of some Liberal legislation had shown conclusively that Liberals must be independent.

Oust Autocracy.

N. S. Cornell of Port Stanley declared that never before had he had the pleasure of meeting the ladies at an election meeting. Their intelligence, however, had proven to be far better and greater than that of many of the men who had the franchise. "The war has been won, and for that we are thankful," declared Mr. Cornell. "But while autocracy has been beaten in Europe there are other forms that must be destroyed, and these can be found in the form of political autocracy which exists in our land today, and which, if allowed to run, promises to prove even worse than German kultur.

"Canada is today owned body and soul by the big interests, and they will willingly give you what you need to win an election if they find you are on their side. We must be up and ready. We must see that this autocracy does not develop so that it will cause even more damage to our country than it has already done."

Mr. Cornell concluded by declaring that the man who would be chosen by the meeting would be the man who would win the coming election, which is hovering in the very near future.

Politicians Are Bought.

Wilson H. Mills followed Mr. Cornell. He declared that he had not sought the nomination. He had been urged by his friends to run. If he did so, it would be as an Independent Liberal. Canada had been too long represented by men who go down to Ottawa to vote Grit or Tory, and regardless of the interests of the electors. Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa, he said, were the financial centre of Canada, and they ruled the country absolutely. The politicians are bought by the big interests, and consequently it behooves the candidates of Liberalism to stand out firm against any purchase price that might be offered. Mr. Mills could not see what his qualifications were. He was young, true enough, and he was a farmer, but what more he could not say. However, he would give the best that he had in him.

Wilson McCreadie had no intention of allowing his name to stand, although he would be ready to fight in any capacity for the man who would be chosen. He predicted that in the not distant future Canada would have lady representatives in its legislative halls in large numbers.

J. C. Dance, who held the candidature and was elected the last time that Liberalism carried the east riding of Elgin, thanked the audience for the compliment, but declared that he had other matters at the present time to think of than keeping good men from winning an election for Elgin. He would do all in his power to support the candidate, but wouldn't allow his name to stand.

Wanted Younger Men.

Dr. Miller absolutely withdrew, declaring that there were others better than he. M. M. Black of Springfield did likewise. He knew it was an honor, but wanted a younger man to run.

Miss Belle Murray, in glowing terms, spoke of the future in view of Liberalism, but could not attempt to seek election at the present time. She might at some future day accept such an honor, but for the time being she was willing to allow it to go to the men.

Following the result of the election, Mr. Mills immediately resigned the presidency of the East Elgin Liberals, and Percy Demuth, the vice-president, took the chair. Mr. Dennis called on Mr. Charlton for a brief address, to which he responded, stepping to the platform amid rounds of applause from the large audience.

Mr. Charlton, in opening his remarks, declared that he felt it a great honor to be present at the first convention in which a woman had been named for the candidacy. He congratulated Miss Murray on the honor bestowed on her. He then went briefly back to the time when he had accepted the nomination for the last Dominion election. He had not foreseen victory at the polls. He had foreseen a very hard task, but he was able to see an opportunity for a good clean fight. The dice were loaded, however, in the last election, and although, as Mr. McDermand had said, the election had not been lost for the Liberals, a real victory would not be achieved without very great care and preparation.

Elections before Long.

"Liberalism is on the crest of the waves in East Elgin," continued the speaker. "We are impressed to believe that an election in both Houses will come before long. We do not, however, know when, but be always on your toes, ready for any emergency. Use all fair means; it ill becomes a man, much less a woman, to use unfair means to win an election. It will come probably in a few months, at least within a year, and we must be prepared.

"Never before has Liberalism been put to the test that it was in 1917. The campaign of 1917 caused a genuine trial of Liberalism. The outfit that called itself a government saw fit to bring on an election that if you could search in the archives of hell you would not find anything worse than that perpetrated by them." Mr. Charlton declared that those on the side of Liberalism had sold themselves to the depths of depravity and to corruption, but the dross and alloy had gone, and nothing remains but the pure gold, and Liberalism stands firmer than ever before. (Applause.)

Canada's Name Besmirched.

"They took away free speech; they took away franchise, and even Canada's good name was besmirched in the perfidy of their depicable tactics. Canada will forever look with shame on the year 1917, and so long as tales of Canadian perfidy as they occurred in that year are told, Canada's children will look with shame on that period.

The material we have in East Elgin, however, is the product of true Liberalism, and nothing set forth by the Conservative camp can win them over. (Applause.)

"It is said that Liberals are too much given to criticism, but let me tell you, the Government soon saw to it that the newspapers of our land, the real means of criticism, were silenced, and today, friends, there is only one newspaper in Western Ontario and absolutely only one that has not been silenced and that today is loyally supporting us, and it refuses to be purchased, but is daily setting forth illustriously the true fundamental principles of Liberalism."

Enough of Autocrats.

Mr. Charlton said that Canada had seen enough of government by the autocrats. What is required now is less governing by order-in-council and more order by government.

He had been asked about the military service act and in speaking of that he would again relate what a flag-waving campaign on the part of the Tories this had been. He described an instance where he met a man in Toronto, who had voted for Union because his son was in France. "Did you get what you voted for?" asked Mr. Charlton. The reply, he said, could not be given in a meeting with ladies present, if he would be able to repeat it at all. "I'll tell you friends, it was full of brimstone and fire."

The speaker quoted Gen. Mewburn's figures on the M. S. A., showing that actually 40,000 troops had been raised under the M. S. A. About 6,000 men actually reached the trenches. "I hope that Gen. Mewburn, minister of militia, will be asked to divulge that information in the House. I would like nothing better than to be there myself, and ask him how many men were taken to France by the act. Sir Sam Hughes has made some statements, and I have no doubt but that he knows what he is talking about at that." Mr. Charlton again repeated the assertion he had made during the last campaign, that Canada could never place conscripted men in France. The men when they reached England became the property of the Imperial Government, and as such were used where needed. Although the Union Government candidates had cried that men were absolutely needed, the Imperial Government saw fit to send a paltry 5,000 or 6,000 conscripts to France.

Did Not Answer Murphy.

"There is Mr. Rowell. He gave a speech in the House the other day, that if you read you will readily see is a preparation for another Dominion election. Why didn't he answer Hon. Charles Murphy's charges of a personal nature made on the floor of the House at the last session? Did he do so? No. He went to Bowmanville, his own constituency, and he gave a speech. That is all we hear from him. In his speech the other day he says Canada is becoming a great nation. Canada has no more status today than she had before Confederation. Rowell thinks that she is gaining a status as a nation because Sir Robert Borden sits on the peace conference.

Speaking of the league of nations, Mr. Charlton declared that Canada will be the victim of the greater nations, and will be forced to take part in outside wars. She will be only one small, weak voice, and will not be able to decide for herself.

If a United Farmers' candidate were named for the coming election when the time arrived, Mr. Charlton declared he would as kto be excused. eH would not have it said that he was courting the U. F. O., but if elected he would represent the United Farmers and Grits and Tories. He would also not forget the returned soldiers. Nothing was too good for the returned soldier. The present Government had promised land to the men. They had placed lgeislation on the books to grant them land, but now they found there was no land to give.

In conclusion, he declared that he stood for good clean, unadulterated government, in keeping with Liberal standards.

PROMINENT SARNIAN INFLUENZA VICTIM

THOMAS H. MANLEY, alderman and director of the chamber of commerce at Sarnia, whose death resulted from influenza-pneumonia.

EAST ELGIN'S TWO CANDIDATES ARE PROMINENT MEN

W. H. Mills and W. G. Charlton Are Both Strong Liberals.

ST. THOMAS, March 13.—The newly-chosen candidate to represent East Elgin in the next provincial election, Wilson Henry Mills, is just as well-known and equally as popular as his predecessor, who has held the nomination for some years. Mr. Mills is undoubtedly one of the most successful and promising young farmers in Elgin County. He was born in Sparta and although a comparatively young man, he has made such a success of his fruit farm that today he is probably the wealthiest farmer in the community.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mills of Sparta, and was born just north of the village. He later attended the Sparta school. He remained with his father, and later became the owner of the property. His father now resides at his home. Recently Mr. Mills lost his wife after only a few years of married life.

He is an ardent Liberal, and probably one of the strongest supporters of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his platform, that can be found in this district. He has held the presidency of the East Elgin Association for some four years, and his choice today as the vote denotes, was by a popular vote. He states emphatically that he did not seek election, but it sought him. If he is as successful in politics as in his business his friends are assured of success in the next provincial election.

W. G. Charlton, the choice of the convention for the Federal House, is better known than Mr. Mills, owing to the fact that he has contested two election campaigns already. He is just as alert today, however, and he states emphatically that the "Grits" were never beaten. He feels that an untiring effort during the next few years will win for the Liberals what they once owned in a representative in the House of Commons. Mr. Charlton is probably one of the best-known Liberals in Western Ontario. His efforts throughout the district in connection with the Western Ontario Liberal Association being well-known to everyone.

CANADIANS SHOWED RARE PATIENCE AT RHYL, SAYS BISHOP

Sailings Cancelled Week After Week.

CAUSE FOR DISCONTENT

Burst Into Flame When Men Who Had Not Fought Were Sent Home First.

LONDON, March 13.—Canadian Associated Press.—The Bishop of St. Asaph writes to the Times:

"As one closely associated with Kinmel Camp, I think the Canadians bore the discomforts inevitable to the perpetually changing demobilization camp with patience, but the cancelled sailings, week after week, to war-worn men, yearning for home, have been a serious matter.

"A man arrives at Kinmel, having been told he is to sail in a few days for Canada, and is certificated. The weeks pass and he is still there. He may have been in the fighting line, and sees those who had little or no fighting allowed to sail before him. Thus the fire began to smoulder. It burst into flame when in the illustrated Canadian papers the men saw acclaimed on their arrival, conscripts who had done no fighting.

Welsh Wouldn't Stand It.

"I doubt whether Englishmen would have borne similar conditions without protest. I am certain Welshmen would not. As to the behavior of the men in Kinmel Camp I can speak with personal knowledge. Those in charge of the canteens which I know well, speak in high terms of praise of the conduct of the men. The superintendent of the largest hut camp, and he speaks with long experience, week after week reports to me the admirable conduct of the men who throng his hut. The ladies resident in this neighborhood opened a canteen of their own accord for the Canadians, who crowd our village on Sundays.

Proud to Have Such Men.

"Amid the hundreds who visited that canteen there has not been one single instance of rudeness or roughness. We in this countryside are indeed proud to have amongst us those men who fought so valiantly for the motherland."

The Evening Standard says, apropos of the rioting at Kinmel Camp, that nothing can excuse the insubordination. It is admitted that the men had grievances. Certainly, the Standard says, no army could have fought Canadians have done. It is glad to take this opportunity of assuring the gallant Canadian army that the British public is as unlikely to remember Kinmel as it will be to forget the great deeds of the Canadians in France.

723 GERMAN STEAMERS WILL BE SURRENDERED FOR ALLIES' DISPOSAL

Berlin, Wednesday, March 12—(By the Associated Press).—The mercantile fleet in German harbors, the disposition of which will be decided at an early date at the food and shipping conference at Brussels, consist, according to German figures of 723 steamers of 1,936,700 gross tons, and 136 sailing vessels of 52,600 tons. The sailing craft and some of the smaller steamers will, however, be left by the Entente to Germany for the coastal traffic.

The fate of German steamers in neutral ports is not absolutely known, although many of them have probably been seized.

The total tonnage that may be surrendered to the Entente is approximately 2,250,000 gross tons.

DORCHESTER, March 13.—Mrs. E. Dunn of Dorchester sustained a slight stroke on Sunday, and is confined to her bed.

A BILL TO PREVENT CONSTITUENCIES BEING LONG VACANT

M.P. Would Have By-Elections Compulsory Within 60 Days.

OTTAWA, March 13.—A bill designed to prevent constituencies from being held vacant for a continued period is under preparation and will be presented to the House shortly. The measure will be introduced by S. W. Jacobs, member for George Etienne Cartier. If adopted, the bill will require the Government to hold a by-election within 60 days after a constituency becomes vacant. Further, in the event of a candidate being elected at the general elections for two constituencies, he must declare his option before the delay for contesting his election has expired.

LABOR PARTY AND UNITED FARMERS MAY GET UNITED

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, March 13.—A member of the executive of the Canadian Labor party, which meets Sunday in Hamilton, said tonight that an effort will be made at the convention to secure the co-operation of the United Farmers.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF STRATFORD MAN IS GRABBED BY POLICE

Italian Held at Smiths Falls—Prepare Commerce Chamber Drive.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

STRATFORD, March 13.—It was learned here today that detectives at Smith Falls had arrested Antonio Spregace, whom the coroner's jury charged with the murder of Alfred J. Roberts of Montreal, formerly of this city.

Spregace was taken from the train while en route for Montreal. It is stated that he was noticed rushing into the G. T. R. station late last night and purchasing a ticket for Toronto. His strange actions resulted in the matter being reported to the police. His arrest followed.

The remains of the late Mr. Roberts reached the city today for burial on Saturday. Felix Bayette, rule instructor of the G. T. R., accompanied the remains, and a large number of comrades of the deceased in the Montreal shop are coming for the funeral.

AERIAL DUEL POSTPONED.

Paris, March 14.—The four seconds of Leon Vaudecrane and Robert Schreeber, former army aviators, who proposed an aerial duel, met yesterday and decided that as a state of war still exists, it is impossible to permit any duel in France. Therefore the question of the challenge has been postponed until the treaty of peace is signed.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Her Girl Copied It.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am inclosing the song, "Long Boy," that a reader asked for. My little girl copied it for her. And would someone send the songs for me called "Just as the Sun Went Down" and "Break the News to Mother"?

BILLIE.

Many Thanks, "Tiger."

Dear Cynthia,—I have copied three copies of "Fair Charlotte" and two of "Break the News to Mother" for the readers of our corner that have asked for them. I do hope "Yankee Farmerette" won't get vexed at what some of our lassies have to say about the war. For I sure think the Yankees did fine, and so did our own boys. I only wish they were all home again. Someone asked for a ginger cookie recipe. I find this one very good. The longer they are kept, the better they are. Two cups of brown sugar, 2 eggs, 2 cups of molasses, 2 teaspoonfuls of vinegar, 2 teaspoonfuls of ginger, 2 of mixed spice, 1 teaspoonful baking powder, no shortening. TIGER LILY.

Lily To Kathleen.

Dear Miss Grey.—I saw a few weeks ago where Kathleen would like some knitted lace patterns. I have copied four for her and I hope she will understand the writing. I have a few more, also some knitted centrepieces which are very pretty. I would have sent them before, but being the mother of four boys (the eldest 10 years and weighs 104 lbs., not very delicate) I am kept busy sewing, baking bread and other eats. Miss Grey, if it is not too much trouble may I have the stocking-foot pattern also the daisy yoke patterns? My favorite oatmeal cookies: 2 cups of oatmeal, 2 cups of flour, 1 cup of butter or part lard, 1 cup of sugar, 1 teaspoonful of soda, 3 tablespoonfuls of water and a little salt. Mix flour, meal, sugar and soda well together, rub in the butter, add the water, cut in squares and bake. These are delicious if put together with date filling or red raspberry and red currant jam.

LILLY OF THE VALLEY.

Ans.—A pleasure to forward the patterns to Kathleen. Lilly's requests have also been fulfilled.

"U. S. A. Girl," Please Note.

Dear Madam,—I would like very much if you would send me the two recitations "The Girl of the U.S.A." offers. I am sending stamped envelope. Yours truly, ISABEL.

More Lemon Pie.

Lemon pie filling for "Clematis": Three-quarters cup granulated sugar, 1 tablespoon flour (rounding), a pinch of salt (small pinch), a good large tablespoon butter, yolks 2 large eggs (reserve whites for the top), 1 large cup boiling water, grated rind and juice of one large lemon. Rub sugar and flour together, then add butter, yolks and salt, mix together the well-beaten yolks, stirring all the time; next add the boiling water, stirring, then lastly add the grated rind and juice of the lemon. (I use a large cup for all measurements.) Pour this into your pie crust and bake until set; beat whites with a little sugar for the top. I use 3 eggs sometimes. I have always found this Ai. A reader, M.E.H.

U. K. Says "Buy 'Em."

Hello, Cynthia and Everybody,—Am all alone tonight, except an unsociable cat and dog. The others have all gone to a show, and here I am, monarch of all I survey. Oh, thanks for the sympathy, but don't waste too much on me. I know where mother has a swell box of bon-bons—yum, yum!

No, Victory Bond, I have not had the flu. Only a sniffy cold in this combustible bugle of mind. It ran, and at times it flew, but that's all the flu I've had.

I thought the war had ended that epidemic of crocheting, but here comes the same old army yelling for designs, as of old. Say, you bunch of dead-beats, why don't you BUY them? There's plenty of stores selling books containing splendid designs. I think crocheting all right in its place, and I enjoy crocheting as well as anyone, but I think, with so much suffering and so many chances to help with reliefs, the fancy crocheting hordes could turn their attention to other things for a while.

Um-hum, little Made in Canada, I know who you are. I liked your letter fine—"Them's my sentiments exactly."

Oh, dear, we have no excuse now to write long letters to the boys, and plan their boxes, and, do you know, Cynthia, I sorely miss packing those boxes and writing the letters. They filled quite a space in my daily life, and now I wish I knew what could fill in that hole. Anyway, I won't besiege you with demands for crochet patterns.

But you'll think this an awfully sour letter for a person with her eye cast on a box of bon-bons, eh? Oh, yes, I must tell Clematis how I make my lemon pies. The folks agree I can make good lemon pie, if I have nearly killed them with other culinary concoctions.

Lemon Pie.—Grated rind and juice of one lemon, yolks of two eggs, one-half cup sugar, one cup milk, one heaping teaspoon cornstarch; scald milk and thicken with cornstarch, and then add other ingredients, and bake in crust. Meringue.—Beat whites of eggs and add one-half cup of sugar. URA KIDD.

A Busy Mother.

Dear Miss Grey,—I was wondering if anyone could give me a yoke pattern for the knot stitch, something I would not have to return. I am sending "The Gypsy's Warning" and "The Dying Nun" which have been called for.

BUSY MOTHER.

In Search of Contests.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am in search of some games or contests suitable for small or large gatherings. If any of your readers could inform me where I could get some or could send me some through the mail, I shall be very glad to get them. I will leave my address with Miss Grey, and would like to hear from someone soon.

BOTHERSOME VELMA.

Begin Usefully.

Dear Miss Grey,—As you see, I'm a new-comer to the Mail-Box, and so am going to begin by being useful, and inclosing lemon cream pie recipe. Maybe it will put "Clematis" right as regards her difficulty. As for the lemon cream pie, it's simply lovely, and is my favorite.

Now, Miss Grey, would you tell me to whom to make inquiries as regards a pattern catalogue I sent 15c for to an address in Montreal, which was inclosed in some patterns I sent for from The Advertiser, and now I've mislaid the printed address. I remain,

NIL-DES-PER-ANDO.

Lemon Cream Pie—Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1½ tablespoons cornstarch, ½ cups boiling water, the grated rind and juice of a lemon; beat the yolks of eggs separate, add the sugar, flour or cornstarch, lemon juice, rind, and lastly, boiling water; cook in double boiler. When it begins to thicken, add the beaten white of one egg; stir in thoroughly and let it cool until thick as desired. Use the other white of egg for the meringue, made by beating together white and gradually adding 3½ tablespoons icing sugar; fill pie crust (cooked and cooled) with filling, place meringue on top, brown slightly in slow oven; everything must be cold. Lemon Pie—Six tablespoons water, 6 tablespoons sugar, 1½ tablespoons cornstarch, 1 egg, 1 teaspoonful butter, half a lemon; beat yolk until light yellow, add water; mix sugar and cornstarch in saucepan, add yolk, water and butter; cook until clear paste, and add lemon when nearly done.

Ans.—Better write to the Pattern Department of The Advertiser concerning the missing catalogue.

Enter "The Dook."

Dear Miss Grey,—Could you make room for a duke, as I need quite a space. Could any of the readers favor me with the song entitled "When the Steel Trust Will Bust and the Tin Trust Will Rust," also "The Homestead Strike"? I see where the lady readers of the Mail-Box have the crochet fever. I wonder if some of them would work my initial on a handkerchief and send to me? The letter is J.

Hoping I have not taken anybody's name, yours, till the ducks eat all the mud up, THE DUKE OF FORKS.

Ans.—Just between us, folks, I think "Is Royal Nibs has considerable "nerve" to apply to our members for a hanky. And it's only proper to warn any of the fair readers who may contemplate an initialled gift, that His Dukeship has a perfectly healthy wife, who also is a Pageite!

Hurry Up The Jubilee.

Dear Miss Grey,—Just a line in a hurry to see if you have any trace of that song, "The Irish Jubilee," yet. I am very anxious to have it, and am inclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope for that and the stocking-foot pattern, if you please.

How old did you think "Ura Kidd" looked in the picture? Why don't some of the others get their faces put in the Page, too? For instance, "Jeff's Wife." I'm anxious to see her. I'll always be,

SPLUTTERFUSS.

Helped To Clean Up.

Dear Miss Grey,—I saw in your Page where someone sent in the poem, "A Little Boy's Speech," and I would like to have a copy of it, please. I also would like the pattern for the knitted tam. Perhaps some day I will be able to help someone, too.

I believe that "A Yankee" must be a believer in might is right. The idea of anyone supposing the Germans to be able to do the shouting. It is, to say the least, unpatriotic. We all think a great deal of the United States, but talk about slow countries, why didn't she go in at the beginning? We all know that she got there for more than the shouting. She helped us clean up the Germans. Just the same we could and would have won in time. I wish that unpatriotic people would keep their thoughts to themselves. S. O. S.

P. S.—If someone would write first, I would like to correspond.

Ans.—The reading has gone out to someone else; could we be favored with another copy, "Shakesperian"? And who possesses a knitted tam pattern?

NOTES.

Shy Little Buttercup—The address of Innocent Snowdrop has been sent you, also song requested.

Forget-Me-Not's letter for Anxious Mother has been forwarded.

A Girl from Dawn asks for 14-year-old correspondents, and the address of Spindle Shank Farmerette is sent her.

Turquoise—You are indeed a jewel! Thanks so much for the copy of "The Dying Nun." Already it is on its way to a reader.

Hamilton—Would advise you trying a department store for the boys' patterns. A copy of the foot pattern has been sent you.

Copies of songs are received for Owl Head from Canada Thistle, Always Obliging, and others.

Tired of Darning—A letter from you dated January 18 is just received, containing two designs for Girl from Enniskillen. A most innocent-looking letter it is, divulging nothing of its whereabouts in the past month. I've now sent the designs forward, and—of course, we'll look for you again.

Ohio Man Tells How To Gain Strength.

East Liverpool, Ohio.—"After an operation, I was weak, rundown, and slow to recuperate—I was advised to take Vinol, and the results were wonderful, I have a good appetite and sleep fine, I am always glad to tell anyone what Vinol has done for me."—Joseph Weiser.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success in such cases to beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates, the oldest and most famous body-building and strength-creating tonics.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieves the Ailments of Change of Life.

"During Change of Life I had hot flashes, dizzy spells and every month I was wild with misery. I had a constant dull pain, and would always feel tired. I suffered in this way for five or six years and was treated by a physician and took different remedies without benefit. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me and I took it, and I believe I would never have been well if it had not been for the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am recommending your medicine to all women ailing as I was, for I think it will carry them safely through the Change of Life, and relieve the ailments that come at that period."—Mrs. ALEXIE C. NANGLE, Galatia, Ill.

Women who suffer from nervousness, "heat flashes," backache, headaches, and "the blues," should try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and if complications exist write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years' experience in such cases is at your service.

"It Shows On the Egg Basket"

"My hens aren't starting to lay. They have been laying all winter. They would be most ungrateful creatures if they didn't, I take such good care of them."

It was a bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked young matron who laughingly made this statement over at the Saturday market last week in reply to a question from a marketer accustomed to seeing her there week after week for some years past.

"But you must keep a number of hens to get so many eggs," observed the marketer. "I thought perhaps you would give them up when you moved into the city. It surprises me to find you still able to sell eggs. How do you get your hens to lay so well?"

"I feed them well and regularly," the young matron answered the last question first. So much depends upon the feeding. I feed them regularly three times a day and give them plenty of grain, green stuff, buttermilk and bone meal. Every time I come up town, I bring along a little pail and get it filled up with buttermilk for my hens. How many hens have I got? Just nineteen, but they give me about six dozen eggs a week and have been laying that number right along. We use three dozen eggs a week for ourselves and that gives me three dozen to sell. Three dozen will bring me $1.35 today and that will more than pay the board of the hens, besides giving us all the eggs we want for ourselves.

"I give my hens shorts for breakfast, two quarts of shorts. Then I give them a quart of grain for each of their other meals. They get six quarts of buttermilk a week, though they would take a couple of quarts a day if I had it for them. They get twenty cents worth of bone meal a week at five cents a pound. I get two quarts of buttermilk for five cents, so the buttermilk costs fifteen cents a week.

"When I lived in the country I used to give the hens milk, but now that I haven't got it and can't afford it, buttermilk seems to give just as good results. Sometimes I give apples that are getting over-ripe and vary the diet with turnips, mangels or other roots. If you want to get eggs, you simply must feed your hens well. I don't think an average of three or four eggs a week is a bad record for hens in the winter time.

"I can tell you this much, if I neglect my hens for a single day, it shows on the egg basket. I find that it pays to keep a few hens if you look after them, but not if you neglect them. I suppose I might make a larger number of hens pay very well, but I have about all I can manage on the place we have now."

Buttermilk Good For Biscuits, Too.

If buttermilk is good for hens, it is also good for humans, according to some medical authorities. (Of course, all medical authorities do not agree.)

"Drink plenty of buttermilk," frequently advises a local doctor, as his patients discover when they compare notes, then proceed to tell other people.

"I have given up tea since I had influenza," said one of the many people who have had influenza, the other day. "They say 'flu' goes to the weak spot and always leaves some kind of trouble in its trail. Mine has been indigestion, and so the doctor told me I must give up my confirmed habit of tea drinking, three times a day. I told him I didn't like milk and that coffee was my deadly enemy. I asked him if he thought I ought to restrict myself to drinking hot or cold water.

"Drink buttermilk," he said, "and lots of it." I started in right away and I can't begin to tell you how much better I am feeling. "Buttermilk has more flavor than milk and I really like it, particularly when it is nice and fresh, as I get it every second day."

"Buttermilk is not only wholesome and relished by most people, but it is economical for use in cooking," observed a homemaker whose culinary skill is the wonder of her friends. "But there is one thing I have never succeeded in finding, and that is a good recipe for making buttermilk biscuits."

The writer remembered a recipe tucked away in a safe corner (one of those corners that it takes a whole lot of searching to find out), and the circumstances associated with obtaining it.

It was a blustery March afternoon that the door of an inviting looking home was opened by the mistress herself, her face flushed from close association with the kitchen range and a dab of flour on the sleeve of her blue house dress.

"I didn't think any visitors would have the courage to venture out," she said, "so, since the range was burning beautifully, I was seized with an inspiration to do some baking.

"You have arrived just at the right time. My biscuits must be about ready to take out of the oven. I will bring in some tea in a few minutes if you will excuse me. * * * It seems rather chilly in here." She hesitated a moment, then, "I wonder if you would like to come out to the kitchen? It seems the cosiest place in the house today."

Would we?

Wraps left in the hall, the visitors were soon comfortably seated in the cheery kitchen of the cheery house, a kitchen with blue tiled paper on the walls, blue tiled linoleum on the floor, and blue tiled oilcloth on an old-fashioned kitchen table. There were a couple of shelves, one on a level with the window-sill, one half way up, both filled with blooming plants. There was a very modern kitchen cabinet at which the hostess had been mixing up biscuits, cakes and other things to eat, and an old-fashioned wooden clock on a shelf nearby.

The owner of the kitchen in which the modern was so delightfully blended with the old-fashioned, opened the door of the glowing coal range and out came a pan of delicious looking biscuits, puffy and nicely browned on top, light as the proverbial feather. These she placed for a moment on the nickel shelf part way up the pipe, while she first tested the cake to see how it was getting along, then measured the tea from an old-fashioned caddy into a squatty brown teapot. She brought forth a Bernes brass tray that uncle, who had been a missionary, brought home from India, and on it she placed the Irish Beleek cups and saucers, sugar bowl and cream jug and silver spoons that had been the pride of her grandmother's heart.

As the guests sat by the blue and white tiled oilcloth covered table, drinking perfect tea from Irish Beleek china cups and eating more puffy biscuits than were good for them. Madame hostess told how she came by the buttermilk biscuit recipe which never failed.

"My grandmother used it," she said, "my mother and all my aunts. I don't believe in discarding good things, just because they are old fashioned. That is one reason why I hang on to that old wooden clock for the kitchen and get such comfort out of this kitchen table, even if it takes up what my sister calls unnecessary room. I use a number of grandmother's recipes for sponge cake, seed cake and things like that, but the one I use most is for buttermilk biscuits. It is a real thrift recipe, considering the price of buttermilk as compared with milk. You would like to have it? Yes, I have the exact proportions. Grandmother wasn't one of the kind of people who take a handful of this and a pinch of that. I think she must have been a forerunner of the domestic science experts. Here is the recipe which she handed down to her children and grand-children." The guests borrowed pencils and bits of paper and wrote it down as follows:

Four heaping cups of flour, sifted with one large teaspoon of baking powder, one small teaspoon of soda and one teaspoonful of salt. Add half cup of shortening and mix thoroughly with two cups of buttermilk. Bake in a quick oven.

For next week, the promise has been given of recipes for graham gems and corn meal cookies made with buttermilk.

Rebuilder of Gowns a Real Artist.

Still another letter has arrived, expressing approval of the editorial which appeared in this department two weeks ago, drawing attention to a field of opportunity open to some enterprising dressmaker in this city (or several of them for that matter), namely, the vocation of rebuilding gowns into artistic, up-to-date creations. The letter which is published herewith arrived just too late to be published last week. It is as follows:

March 5, 1919.

My Dear Miss Armstrong, — The women of our beautiful city must have been very much delighted with the splendid article which you wrote last week regarding an establishment here where one could have "old gowns remodeled." Many must have noticed such places in other cities. I had the opportunity of meeting a woman last year, managing just such a place in Buffalo. She had made a wonderful success of it, and needless to say was an artist in her line.

It really does not require an artist to cut into yards and yards of beautiful material, with patterns provided, regardless of cost, and everything to choose from in the way of trimmings. But one must be an artist to devise and plan old gowns into new, with plenty of scope to show every clever, original ideas.

Such a place is most urgently required here. And best of all, it has proven a very prosperous business elsewhere. Sincerely yours,

S. NUGENT.

One Dollar Foundation of Fortune

How are those war savings and thrift stamp cards getting along? Still investing your change in thrift stamps, recalling the slogan, "Five dollars for four (plus an added cent each month), each dollar worth more?" Are those thrift stamps and war savings certificates to be the beginning of better prospects in life from a material standpoint? Are they to be the beginning of the fund which will be invested later on in a business way, for which you have made thorough preparation? Why not start the fund now for Tommy's education by investing odds and ends of savings in thrift stamps which will amount up in a surprisingly short time to the value of a war certificate?

One employer of many people in this city is most appreciative in his comments upon the thrift stamp and war savings certificate method of inculcating thrift. He says, "I believe it is going to be the beginning of better homes and better home surroundings for many of the people in our employ."

One of the deputy chairmen of the Western Ontario war savings and thrift stamps campaign tells a story which illustrates the value of, beginning a savings account. He says:

"I remember distinctly when one of the wealthiest and most influential men in our town, a man who lives in one of the finest houses, got his start on the way to success. He came in to start a savings account. How much do you suppose it was? Just ONE DOLLAR, and he brought that dollar in coppers and small silver coins."

It places a halo around the head of thrift to realize that exercise of thrift means not only providing for the future and making the most of one's own resources, but actually helping to build up Canada in the reconstruction period when it takes the form of investing in thrift stamps and war savings certificates.

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET

A Well-Known Actress Tells How to Darken Grey Hair With a Simple Home-Made Mixture.

Joicey Williams, the well-known American actress, who was recently playing at the Imperial Theatre in St. Louis, Mo., made the following statement about grey hair and how to darken it:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken grey streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Orlex Compound, and ¼ ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or any druggist can put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a grey-haired person look 20 years younger. This is not a dye. It does not color the most delicate scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

PAINS AND ACHES YIELD QUICKLY TO SLOAN'S LINIMENT

Are you tormented by Neuralgia, Lumbago, Sciatica or any of those aches that require a counter-irritant? Then let the soothing, warming application of Sloan's Liniment stop the pain by drawing the blood away from the congested part.

It is the pressure on the nerves by the blood rushing to the inflamed muscle or joint that makes you ache. So when Sloan's Liniment relieves the swollen blood vessels by setting up a counter-irritant on the surface, the circulation is equalized, sympathetic nerves all soothed, and soreness or lameness disappears.

Sloan's Liniment is probably the counter-irritant most widely used to overcome painful inflammation in cases of neuralgia, sore muscles, wrenched joints, strains, bruises, gout. Rubbing is not required. This clear, clean liquid is easily applied as it does not stain the skin. Made in Canada.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

How to Walk Correctly and Avoid Flat Feet

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D., (Johns Hopkins University.)

DR. HIRSHBERG

A sore foot, fallen arches, corns, bunions, callous, hammer toe, ingrowing nails and weak feet are sources of much worldly mischief.

A man with an ache, be it ever so small, is a man deprived of his efficiency, happiness, full earning capacity hopefulness and cheer. The anguish, trivial or extensive, will irritate his poise, his intellectual equilibrium, his equable judgment and good temper.

Until a pain is removed he will not be near his best, physically or consciously. Plainly, any one who submits stoically or otherwise to badly-fitting shoes or to painful conditions of the extremities need not expect to be more than an average merchant, clerk, doctor, lawyer, salesman or what not.

To be a first-class, eminent or distinguished individual in your occupation or profession, to rise above your class and to elevate yourself high above the average, even the pettiest pain or trouble should be relieved in the quickest possible moment.

Points To Remember.

Injuries of the feet and lower extremities tolerated far too long a time by some persons, are the direct sources of many evils.

A mild degree of flat foot is often not recognized by the victim, therefore a print of the feet ought to be made at least twice a year to determine if there are fallen arches.

Muscular agility, hikes with the weight of the skeleton thrown forward on the ball of the feet, dancing on the toes, tiptoe walks, running and jumping will all help to tighten the tendons and tune up the arch muscles.

Man has a most elastic pedal machine. Unhappily the 26 bones with their innumerable cables and chains too often are maltreated by being incarcerated in tight compartments worse than prison cells.

Use Front of Foot.

The foot is really like an iron tripod, except that the heel is a thicker element than the big toe and the little toe, the other two "legs" of the tripod.

The weight of the erect figure should be balanced more or less equally on these three points. Two-thirds of each "Falstaff lording the earth as he walks along" should fall forward upon the little toe, the big toe and the ball of the toes between. The truth is, however, that many individuals carelessly or because they are fat or stand or walk too long, allow their weight to fall upon the heel.

The heel is bigger and heavier in more directions than the rest of the anatomy of the foot. Consequently, in faulty habits of standing or walking you are apt to fall into the error of putting the heel down too often or keeping it down to long or permitting your avoirdupois to rest not wisely but too well upon it.

The evident purpose of the upright attitude is then defeated. You must remedy this to prevent or to cure flat foot, fallen arches and tired feet. The front of the foot at the toes is the place to throw your weight, and it cannot be practiced or repeated too often.

Answers to Health Questions

W. O. Q—Kindly advise me what to do for varicose veins.

A—Varicose veins come from a great many different causes, and it would depend largely upon the cause whether they would come back. Generally an operation gets rid of them.

MISS A. B. Q—What is likely to be the effect upon a nervous person taking salt?

A—Too much salt may injure the kidneys. This means you need to eat fruits, vegetables, cereals and drink plenty of water.

I. R. Q—Kindly advise me what to do for chapped hands.

A—Apply a little rosewater and glycerine to your hands.

E. V. C. Q—Kindly advise me what to do for grey hair.

A—Massage your hair with firm fingers, and then apply a little of the following:

Terebene	1 dram
Sulphur	1 dram
Borax	1 dram
Aniseed oil or mineral oil	2 ounces

A. M.: Q.—Kindly advise me how to reduce my abdomen.

A.—To reduce the abdomen you must practice bending forward until the palms of the hands touch the floor. One of the best ways to avoid growing stout is to lie upon the back and raise the body slowly to a sitting position.

Good Night Stories

By Blanche Seivard

PRETTY IS AS PRETTY DOES.

Tommy had been very naughty in school, so the teacher kept him in after closing hour and sent a note home to his mama.

Tommy stuck the note in his pocket, and shuffling his feet over the floor went out the door, banging it very hard.

"She needn't think I'll take that note home!" said Tommy to himself. "Indeed, I'll not!"

"Not what?" a tiny voice said in Tommy's ear.

Tommy turned around, and there perched as comfortable as you please on his shoulder sat his little elfin friend, Squeedee from Joyland.

"What is it you're not going to do?" Squeedee asked.

"Why, give this note to mama!" replied Tommy, holding up the note so Squeedee could read it. "I stuck that girl's hair in the ink-well because she called me 'Red-head, freckled-face!' All the boys call me that every time they see me."

"And what do you do then!" questioned Squeedee. "You throw stones when they're handy. I saw you only this morning with your pockets full of stones."

"Well, they've no right to call me ugly names, have they?" exclaimed Tommy crossly. "I know I'm ugly, but I can't help it," and two big tears ran down his cheeks.

"Pretty is as pretty does," replied Squeedee kindly. "Look at me. Did you ever see an uglier-looking elfin than I am? But I guess there's not a child knows me who doesn't love me. Why? Because I'm always doing things to make them happy. As long as the boys and girls know they can tease you by calling you names they'll do it."

"But I don't want them to be calling me names!" exclaimed Tommy. "And I'll get even with them, sure as I'm alive!"

"And it really made you feel better to stick that little girl's hair in the inkwell?" asked Squeedee. "Oh, I don't think so, Tommy. For you had to pay by staying after school."

"Indeed I'm Not."

"Yes, and I was going fishing after school, too, and now it's too late."

Then Tommy started to tear up the note.

"Don't do that!" exclaimed Squeedee. "You're destroying something that belongs to your mama. Take the note home, and if she punishes you take your punishment like a man, and then never repeat the offence again. When the children tease you, instead of getting angry, turn around and smile at them, and you'll find they'll soon grow tired and let you alone. Be good, kind and generous, study hard, and never do anything to hurt another's feelings and the world will never give the color of your hair a single thought."

Without another word Squeedee disappeared.

Tommy folded the note and stuck it back into his pocket. And before he went home he ran over to the little girl's house and told her he was sorry he had put her hair in the inkwell and promised never to do it again.

Mama didn't scold Tommy, for he told her all about it and how sorry he felt that he had been naughty before he gave her the note.

"Squeedee's right!" laughed mama, kissing his cheek. "Pretty is as pretty does."

WOMAN'S HAIR REACHES TO KNEES

A Year Ago Was Threatened With Baldness, Tells How She Made Her Hair Grow.

Mrs. Esther Emery, now visiting friends in the city, is the fortunate possessor of marvelously beautiful hair, which, when loosened from its coils falls to her heels. Moreover, it is of soft, silky and fluffy texture, and in color a glorious glossy gold. Yet just one year ago she was threatened with baldness. Urged to tell how she had obtained this wonderful growth in so short a time, she said: "Had anyone told me such marvelous results could be accomplished so quickly, I positively would not have believed it. Twelve months ago my hair, which then reached barely to my shoulders, was falling out at an alarming rate and growing very thin, actually exposing the bald scalp in several spots. It was dull and lifeless in color, turning grey in patches, and very dry and brittle. My head was covered with dandruff and itched like mad all the time. I tried fully a dozen different hair tonics, but they were all the same and never did me a bit of good. One day I chanced to read in my home paper of a simple home prescription to make the hair grow that was recommended by a well-known physician. It said that by taking ordinary Lavona de Composee and mixing with Bay Rum and Menthol Crystals and applying to the scalp each night with the finger tips that new hair would grow very rapidly. I decided to try it, and I had my druggist mix 2 ounces of the Lavona de Composee with 6 ounces of Bay Rum and ½ dram of Menthol Crystals, and started to use it. My, how quickly my hair did grow. First the hair stopped falling, the itching ceased and the dandruff disappeared. Then tiny little hairs appeared all over my scalp. These grew and grew as though nothing would ever stop them. They are growing yet and, while, of course, I have used the treatment steadily and expect to continue it, at least until my hair reaches the floor, I might have stopped and been perfectly satisfied at the end of three months. I think that any woman can get long, thick, beautiful hair by using this prescription, as I have recommended it to several friends and all are delighted with the result. The prescription is very inexpensive and any druggist can fill it.

Those who use it should be careful not to get it on the face or where the hair is not desired.—Advt. F.14,26

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

Look at tongue! If feverish, bilious, constipated, take no chances.

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

MY SOLDIER HUSBAND

ADELE GARRISON'S CONTINUATION OF

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

What Happened After Dicky Was Captured.

"Daughter, dear!"

My father's voice sounded outside the door, and for once in my life I was resentful of the gentle summons, for I had not yet finished Dicky's letter.

"What is it, Father?" I opened the door promptly, though with a reluctant glance at the remaining page.

"Your mother-in-law is awake," he said with an understanding glance at the sheets in my hand, "and wishes to know if the post has come."

"Will you tell her yes, that I have a letter from Dicky, but when I saw she was asleep I brought it to my own room to read. I will be with her immediately."

"A Taste of—Prison."

He smiled whimsically as he went away, and I knew that he comprehended my ruse to make him the buffer between me and my mother-in-law's probable displeasure at my not having awakened her to hear Dicky's letter the moment it came. His acceptance of the mission also gave me the opportunity to snatch a look at the last page of the letter in which I had been so absorbed.

"I hadn't long to wait." Dicky's narrative ran on. "A party of prize beauties came up on the run, and sniffed the air for awhile before taking Harry up. With their usual bone-headedness they didn't figure the possibility of anyone else being in the offing. So after they had gone away, and I noticed that they carried old Harry tenderly and skilfully enough, I climbed down and beat it in another direction.

"Of course, another set of 'em got me a little later, but you know, the next day the armistice was signed, although I wasn't told of it for quite a spell, and I had a taste of one of their prisons—believe me, old girl, they've got an east side slum beaten three ways to the jack for dirt, starvation and cooties—I guess I'd be there yet only the most highest in that section decided it wasn't convenient to keep us any longer on account of their having pressing business further east.

"So they dumped us out on the cold, cruel world and told us to beat it in the general direction of France. We followed their directions, and finally landed among our own sort again. But try as I might, I can't get any word of poor old Harry. I'm afraid it's all over with him, for he had some pretty ugly holes in him.

"Well, sweetheart, so long for this time. A million kisses to you, Mother and Junior. Love to Dad. Dicky."

As I hurried down the hall to my mother-in-law's room I was fiercely impatient with Dicky, because of the sketchy way in which he had outlined his own adventures after leaving Harry Underwood. Prison, hardships, wandering—all these dismissed with a careless phrase or two, as if they were all in the day's work, when he must know that the hearts of those who loved him were avid for every detail of his experiences.

Mother Graham held out her hand for the letter, an impatient frown on her face, as soon as I entered the door.

"Please don't carry your consideration for me so far again," she said icily. "Of course, I realize how opportunely my slumber fitted in with your selfish desire to read Richard's letter to yourself first, but kindly remember that I was Richard's mother before you were his wife, and I fancy I have some right to his correspondence even though he does see fit to address most of his letters to you."

"My Glasses Blur."

The dear perverse old soul! I realized, with a little throb of amused pity, that she was actually jealous of the envelopes addressed to me that contained Dicky's letters. I have seen the time when these little outbursts of my mother-in-law's would either have made me angry or caused me intense humiliation. But my heart was too full of joy at the news of Dicky's safety to feel anger against anyone, especially the feeble, querulous mother of my husband.

But my father's eyes flashed with displeasure, even as he smiled tolerantly at the irascible old woman. He started to leave the room as my mother-in-law unfolded the letter, but she stopped him peremptorily.

"What are you going away for?" she demanded. "Don't you want to hear this? Or——" she glared at both of us suspiciously, "have you already read it?"

"No eyes but mine have looked at this letter," I hastened to assure her, the extravagant phraseology put in for my father's benefit—I caught an amused flash in his eyes as I uttered them—"and I assure you, Mother, I never would have read it first if you hadn't been so sound asleep it seemed a pity to disturb you."

"That's the second time I've heard that," she retorted. "Don't hand it to me again. But if you've got any breath left read this out loud. My glasses blur so I can't see."

My throat constricted with remorseful pity as she held the sheets of Dicky's letter out to me with hands that trembled. I knew that the reason for the blurred glasses lay in the happy tears welling up to her eyes.

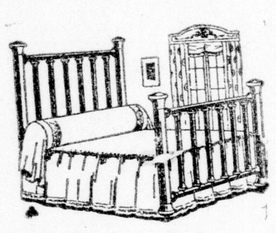

Alteration Sale

In a few days the contractors will be here with their men to start the extensive alterations and improvements that we were figuring on when the war started. Soon our entire store will be upset and everything covered with dust and dirt.

We must have room for the workmen. Our store is crowded to the doors at present and this immense stock must be greatly reduced in the next few days. This is the reason for this sale. We promise you it will be the greatest sale of its kind ever held in London.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

SATURDAY, MARCH 15.

This promises to be an eventful day if not one full of excitement. The fiery and turbulent Mars holds sway, fired to the fullness of its ardent energies by its parallel position to Sol, and made to operate with eccentricity or singularity by its trine to the ever enigmatic Neptune. The latter position has none of the sinister, however, in its presage, but is likely to operate in a high nervous tension that might seek advantageous outlet in large and bold projects or in extraordinary undertakings difficult to engineer under more tempered or conservative impetus. This bold strike would seem to be encouraged and meet financial reward under a strongly benefic Jupiter, and the nature of the enterprise, as dealings with combinations, trusts or secret societies may be indicated by the Moon semi-sextile Neptune.

Those whose birthday it is may expect an exciting year, in which dangers may be avoided by keen judgment and success attained by bold strokes. A child born on this day may be high-tempered and high-tensioned, but will meet success through boldness and intrepidity.

Jimmy Coon and His Friends

The Adventures of the Little People of the Great Forest.

FIRST AID TO THE INJURED.

Jimmy Coon's heart must have been made of stone or flint, for he really enjoyed seeing those dogs in trouble. Too many times they had chased and hunted him and his family, and now he felt they were having a good punishment. And how those quills of Uncle Porcupine did hurt! Bowser was an old dog and so he had sense enough to come up and allow the quills to be pulled out by his master.

You know, the main part of a porcupine's quill is smooth and white and like the quill of a birds feather, but near the point it is hard and black and slender, and armed with barbs. Ranger had the most quills in his face, mouth and neck, and he would break away when the hunters tried to pull them out and whine and cry, and his little master, William, just fairly cried to see him suffer. After a while, the men had to sit on Ranger to pull the quills out, and little William talked to him all the time and tried to brace him up.

It is a curious and fearful weapon that Uncle Porcupine has, and Jimmy Coon, when he heard the men counting how many quills they had pulled out, said to Teddy Possum, "Well, Teddy Possum, this is too much for me. I am sorry for Ranger; there isn't any sport in this. I like a good hunt and a chase, but not this kind of fighting." And Teddy Possum said, "Let's go and find Cousin Bruin at the old swamp, and find some frogs and some fresh water clams?" and Chatterbox said, "It just serves those dogs right for spoiling our lovely musical evening."

And those poor dogs followed their masters back to the camp, and they slunk along with their tails between their legs, and they looked too miserable for words, and they could hardly eat because their mouths hurt so much.

"Well, Teddy Possum, this is too much for me."

Jimmie Coon and Teddy Possum and Chatterbox, the Red Squirrel, then started off to find Cousin Bruin. "I'm terribly hungry," said Jimmie. "So am I," answered Teddy. "Perhaps we shall find lots of good things to eat."

But just wait till you hear what they did find! And where they found it! For instance, if these scamps should come upon a lumbermen's shack in the woods (as they often did), and the lumbermen were away, they would not hesitate to break into that shack and take the men's food supplies. Do you suppose this is going to happen now? Wait and see.

TWO PALMERSTON VETERAN OFFICIALS HAVE PASSED AWAY

PALMERSTON, March 13.—Two old officials of Palmerston have passed away. John Kearns, aged 83, died in Guelph today. He settled in Wallace Township when a young man. Portions of his farm was included in Palmerston at its incorporation, when Mr. Kearns was elected one of its aldermen. He was for many years a county councillor.

William Lang, who for several years was assessor and tax collector for Palmerston, died aged 75, at his son's residence in Toronto, following paralysis. Both of these pioneers will be brought to Palmerston Saturday for burial.

MORE GERMAN SUBS TO BE SOLD; MONEY TO BE DISTRIBUTED

LONDON, March 15.—(Canadian Press via Reuter's.)—More German submarines will be sold and the money realized distributed among the Allies on a scale to be adopted by the supreme council, T. J. MacNamara, parliamentary secretary to the admiralty, announced in the House of Commons today. Mr. MacNamara stated that already 54 German submarines had been sold. He also said that the supreme council had not yet decided what was to be done with the other German ships.

The provisional composition of the Mediterranean squadron was six battleships, six light cruisers, a destroyer flotilla and a submarine flotilla.

ADMINISTRATION OF TEMPERANCE ACT IS SCORED

Sam Carter, M.P.P., Says Penalties Are Imposed on Wrong Parties.

THE TRAFFICKERS ESCAPE

South Wellington Member Denounces Northern Ontario Expenditures.

TORONTO, March 13.—While strongly urging upon the Government not to waver in its policy in regard to the liquor question, Sam Carter, Liberal member for South Wellington, in the Legislature this afternoon, arraigned the enforcement of the Ontario temperance act, condemning the many "inquities" which he cited as having held sway since the act first came into being. This he followed with a scathing denunciation of the expenditure of $5,000,000 in connection with development in Northern Ontario, and was taken to task by Charles McRae, Conservative member from Sudbury.

Mr. Carter for some time read from a report which dealt with many cases of flagrant offenses against the Ontario temperance act, through which tons and tons of liquor were steadily being brought into the province apparently without any substantial check.

Wrong Parties Penalized.

Cases of heavy penalties meted out to offenders, but not to traffickers, were also cited and these caused the member from South Wellington to wax warm.

"My heart goes out to the poor unfortunates who are given heavy penalties for something which has a hold upon them and which they cannot easily overcome," he said, "but there is no penalty severe enough for the man who makes a livelihood in this trade. Yet the latter is the one who seems to have escaped under the Government's enforcement of the act."

Premier Hearst rose to inquire the name of the author of a report which the member had read.

Mr. Carter—That is necessary, is it?

Sir William—Oh, not exactly.

Mr. Carter—Don't think I have any objection to telling you. It is a report prepared by great labor by Mr. Oakes and some of the best people of the province.

Touches Nickel Question.

Proceeding, Mr. Carter criticised the manner in which the $5,000,000 had been expended in Northern Ontario development. He supported the Government in its patriotic grants, but criticized the profits made by the Canada Copper Company and dealt at some length with the nickel question. He also argued for better conditions for the working classes.

In connection with road construction in Northern Ontario, Mr. Carter expressed the opinion that the money spent should be handed over to the municipal councils to be administered.

"One great trouble is that in Northern Ontario we have no municipal councils," interposed Hon. G. Howard Ferguson.

"What? Are there none in all Northern Ontario?" asked Mr. Carter, surprised.

Found Conditions "Horrible."

"Then, let them have the money," retorted Mr. Carter triumphantly. He then proceeded to relate some of the conditions he had found in a trip through that country, describing the situation in some places as "horrible."

In his closing remark the speaker expressed satisfaction that women are to be admitted to the House.

Charles McRae, Sudbury, stoutly defended the north country from the attacks of the member from South Wellington, and incidentally touched on statements of Mr. Carter respecting conditions, declaring that he doubted the accuracy of some of the reports on which Mr. Carter was basing his contentions.

Mr. Carter rose to a point of order: "I described conditions exactly as I saw them, and I positively did not overdraw in what I said," he stated.

Must State His Point.

"The honorable gentleman must state the exact point on which he rises," interposed the premier.

"The honorable gentleman has stated that he did not believe me," declared Mr. Carter.

Mr. McRae: "I did not say that I doubted my honorable friend from South Wellington. What I did say was that I doubted the accuracy of some of the information with which he was supplied. I do not believe the morals of the city of Sudbury or of the north country are any worse in comparison than those of the city of Guelph, from which the member across the way comes."

Thomas Marshall, of Lincoln, dealt at considerable length with agricultural and educational matters, criticizing the increase in the number of text books used in public and high schools.

Mr. Marshall criticized the expenditures on Government House, which up to 1918, he said, had totalled over $100,000,000. He declared that no defence of such expenditure could be offered.

Text Books Going Up.

Mr. Marshall threw some additional light on the cost of public school textbooks in Ontario. It had been repeatedly argued by the Government, said Mr. Marshall, that the text books in the public schools were cheaper now than under the old Liberal administration. This, he declared, was not the case.

In 1898, Mr. Marshall said, the total number of public school text books up to and including the fifth form, was 18, and the total cost was $5.27. In 1916 the total number of books authorized for the same classes was 44, and the cost was $13.43. Even after deducting the optional books in each case, the cost in 1898 was $4.22, as against $10.86 in 1916. When the fifth form books were deducted the cost was found to be $2.97 in 1898, and $3.72 in 1916. In addition to this higher cost on the books required for a public school education, Mr. Marshall stated that a text book commission had been created in 1906 under the present administration. The cost to date of this body was $177,620.96.

The debate was adjourned shortly after 6 o'clock until next Tuesday by A. F. Rykert, North Wentworth.

STOLEN COPIES OF CHINO-JAP TREATIES HERE?

Copies of Secret Treaties Are Found on "League" Members in Vancouver.

VANCOUVER, March 13.—"Any man who translates in this case is threatened with death," said Malcolm Reid, Dominion police agent, in the police court today, at the trial of Chen Chu Yen, alleged member of the Chinese Nationalist League, charged with being a member of an unlawful society.

Comment was made in one of the letters put in as evidence on the murder of Tue Hua Long, Chinese minister of education, at Victoria, to the effect that that was a bad move, as it had ... the roof to cave in on the league.

Among the letters captured by the police was one from the accused to Dr. Sun Yat Sen, president of the league in China, in which the accused was alleged to have stated that $10,000 had been collected here for the cause.

Missing Copies of Treaties.

Malcolm Reid testified that copies of secret treaties between China and Japan had been located in Vancouver. In this connection it is recalled that Chinese delegates to the peace conference declared in Washington some weeks ago that copies of these treaties had been stolen from their baggage in Japan. The treaties were not read.

Capt. Reid said the Chinese Nationalist League had spread all over the world.

Pictures of Chinese youths put in as exhibits were not explained, but a local paper states that "some of the pictures were of squads of men training in what are regarded as oriental military colleges in Calgary and Lethbridge," and that these men were to assist in a German-financed revolution in South China.

The case was adjourned until Monday.

GERMANS BREAK NEGOTIATIONS IN POLISH MATTER

Have Left Posen "as Protest Against Treatment by Allies."

PARIS, March 13.—The negotiations at Posen between the German delegates and members of the inter-Allied mission to Poland over the Polish frontier situation have been broken off by the German delegates, according to the Berlin Taeglische Rundschau, as quoted in a dispatch to Le Journal from Zurich. The Germans have already left Posen "as a protest against their treatment by the Allies," the newspaper reports.

A dispatch from Posen, dated Tuesday, said negotiations were making satisfactory progress, but that the Germans were objecting to the withdrawal of the German artillery 20 kilometres behind the line of demarcation. The demand for the release of hostages also has caused trouble.

VETERANS IN CLASH WITH MEMBERS OF LUTHERAN CHURCH

Monkton, Near Stratford, Is Scene of Disturbance—Civilians Aid Vets.

STRATFORD, March 13.—Word came to the city today of a disturbance at Monkton on Monday night in which some returned soldiers, with other young men, clashed with some members of the Lutheran Church there. No one was seriously hurt, but several were bruised.

The trouble, which is said to have been brewing for some time, came to a climax when members of the Lutheran congregation did not turn out to welcome home Pte. Lorne Wicke, one of their number, who had come home from France.

It was learned that there was a meeting at the church, and a party of young men, headed by a returned soldier, went to the church. After the first clash the youths went for reinforcements and waited outside the church until the meeting was over. They lined the exit and practically forced the members to run the gauntlet.

At the Quilting Bee

What good times they had at the simple old-fashioned parties. The ladies gathered early to help their hostess sew; the gentlemen came later, and there was a little dancing and some delicious home-made refreshments, which the gentlemen gallantly served with old-time courtliness. Ginger Punch was a great favorite at old-time parties. It is a cooling, delightful drink, just as refreshing after dancing as it was in the days when Grandmother made it. "Grandmother's Recipes," our new cook book, tells you just how to make Ginger Punch with ginger root, cracked ice and

Lantic Old Fashioned Brown Sugar

There are many other good things in this book suitable for simple entertaining: little plain cakes for the afternoon tea party; a delicious caramel ice cream which takes no cream at all; even a few candies for the children (since children must have candy for their health's sake), and Grandmother's candies are both wholesome and economical.

Lantic Old-Fashioned Brown Sugars come in three kinds known by your grocer as Lantic Light, Brilliant and Dark Yellow, but the Brilliant is more generally recommended for the dishes in the cook book.

If you do not regularly use brown sugar in home cooking, buy some to-day and try it. It costs a little less than granulated, it sweetens as well as flavors, and it gives to many simple dishes a delightful flavor that makes them more acceptable than richer foods. Lantic Old-fashioned Brown Sugar is made by the makers of Lantic "FINE" granulated, the sugar with the red ball trademark. We send the cook book "Grandmothers Recipes" for a 2c. stamp to pay for return postage, or for a brown sugar recipe which you have tested and found to be good.

CAPITAL, ONE OF 4 PARTNERS, HAS CONTROL MONOPOLY

Former Liberal Labor Minister Delivers Remarkable Speech on "The Four Parties to Industry" to Toronto Audience.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, March 13.—"Four parties are necessary to industry, capital, labor, management, the community; is there anything in their present relations suggestive of a partnership? So far as control goes, it is all monopoly on the part of capital," declared Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, ex-minister of labor in the Laurier Government in an address to the Empire Club today. He spoke on "The Four Parties to Industry." It was a discussion of those industrial and social relations, failure to adjust which, has submerged Russia, threatens Germany, and holds the rest of the world in awe. Logic, an apparently unassailable array of unanswerable points, was Mr. Mackenzie King's weapon.

While urging the principle of conferences and investigation, he said: "Think of it, gentlemen, if that principle had been adhered to there would have been no war."

He declared that unrest in industry today is no transitory affair, no mere aftermath of the hideous convulsion; it is the voice of a grief-stricken humanity crying for justice.

Profits of capital are the first consideration; profits as high as it is possible to make them. Wages to labor, prices to the community are what they can be kept at, what the market will allow. Labor and the community are not regarded as partners, entitled to share, through common knowledge, in a common venture, and in gains and losses alike. Such control as they exercise is a control that is forced—not a control that is voluntarily shared; a control that in the nature of things begets an attitude of militancy on their part.

What are the extreme movements on the part of labor (Bolshevism, etc.) but a similar reaction against the monopoly of capital control? asked Mr. King, and added: "No one stands to lose quite so much through a continuance of the struggle arising out of monopoly of control by capital as capital itself. The services of capital and management are being lost sight of through debauchery of indolence combined with riches and the unearned millions of profiteers."

Later he declared in industry, capital invests substances and dollars, labor invests skill and life. Of the two, the one involving life is the more precious. Individuals may acquire title to property by one means or another, but it is from the community and with the consent of the community that titles are held. What we need quite as much as a League of Nations is a league of the parties to industry. The trade unions are mainly responsible for the development that has thus far been achieved. It has been a long and bitter struggle.

Industrial autocracy and political autocracy may go hand-in-hand, but not autocracy in industry and democracy in politics.

Mr. King declares that unrest was no mere war aftermath, but humanity crying for justice.

UNION GOVERNMENT WILL TREAT LIQUOR QUESTION IN LIGHT OF EXPEDIENCY

[BY H. F. GADSBY.]

H. F. Gadsby.

The Demon Rum—in the soft disguise of beer and light wine—is coming back for an intelligent answer. What will Parliament say to him? Will Parliament vote as it drinks? These are delicate questions.

What is the attitude of Parliament toward the liquor problem? Well, I would say it was this—that the boldest holds his breath, which doesn't require much boldness or much holding now that breaths are weak through the increasing scarcity and dearness of strong drink.

One thing is certain—Union Government is not going to give Canada any more prohibition than she actually wants. Prohibition is not a moral question at Ottawa—it is a political one—and it will be decided on the basis of the greatest good for the greatest number of votes. If Quebec says beer and light wine—if Ontario says the same thing—it's a cinch that Ottawa is not going to say something different. A Union Government which hints at compromise with the tariff—lest the tariff destroy it—is not going to show less of sweet reasonableness toward a certain revulsion of feeling which it senses in regard to prohibition. If it does it is going out of its way to invite trouble.

Government Not Sacrificing.

I have yet to see the Government, however, moral, which is willing to die for a moral issue. We hear a great deal about sacrifice, even now, but the Government does not include itself in any of the sacrificial lists which have been drawn up for the general welfare.

All of which leads up to the statement that Parliament will not interfere with the domestic arrangements of the provinces further than to see that their domestic arrangements are made secure by federal legislation. In other words, Parliament will see to it that the wet provinces keep their wetness to themselves by passing the necessary law to prevent the wetness spilling into the dry spots. What Parliament says to the provinces is in substance: "Go as far as you like—forward or back—and we go with you." Union Government aims to please everybody, and if everybody isn't pleased, then so much the worse for Union Government. As Abraham Lincoln might say, "You can't please all the people all of the time, but you can perhaps keep from slipping for another year."

Rowell Not "Bone Dryist."

I understand that even Leader Rowell reckons with the mutability of public opinion, and declares now that he never advocated total prohibition—which may be true in the letter, but equivocal in the spirit.

As usual, the "drys" are perhaps more evident in their earnestness. They have taken to heart the advice, "Write to your member of Parliament," and personal letters come in shoals. Also the petitions—they keep falling like leaves on an autumn day. What the letters chiefly dwell on is the moderation of their request. Nail it down for another year—that is all they ask. It is almost a sign of weakness—an admission that they have bitten off more than they can chew. It is the first time in the frantic history of the dry movement that they have yielded ground. They ask that it be accounted for merit.

But the wets are very much in earnest, too. They assail the public with full page advertisements—some newspapers must be waxing fat on these alarms—so that the member of Parliament who runs may read. Moreover, if he doesn't read he may never run again.

Timid Find Courage.

The result is that timid politicians are finding the courage of their convictions. They begin to indulge in real talk instead of the old cant. They do not overlook the fact that fifteen hundred trades and labor unions, out of nineteen hundred, have asked for better beer and more of it. These are the days when Labor must have its head. This fact alone is support enough for any[illegible] Government may do for Labor to make Capital easier in its mind.

[illegible] man that has suffered most. The rich man has had his whiskey, his gin, his wine all this time in his well-stocked cellars. As the supply ebbs and the danger of thirst comes nearer, he feels his views on absolute prohibition changing. When he gets another chance he will probably vote for a reasonable liquor policy—something that will lay the ghost but will not banish spirits altogether. But the poor man has had no such solace. His good beer—his chief substitute for riches—has been taken away and a two and a half per cent belly-ache put in its place.

Major Power, M. P., believing that this is outrageously unfair, will introduce an amendment, if the situation warrants it, confiscating all the private supplies so long as the working man does not get a square deal. Major Powers' amendment is well contrived. Even the prohibitionists can vote for a policy which puts everybody on an equal footing. If Canada goes bone-dry it must be bone-dry clear across and clean through—no class exemptions—no hoarding. Sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.

Haul Down Red Flag.

It is Labor which throws a new light on this question of prohibition—a light which Parliament cannot help seeing. From the great republic to the south comes a cry—no beer, no work. The common-sense of Parliament construes that this way — better beer less Bolshevism. Last year, while the war was still on, there were a few parlor Bolshevists who aired their views in Parliament. But now that Bolshevism is a real menace these amateur anarchists have hauled down the red flag and are now saying "anything for a quite life."

When the Government passed that bone-dry order-in-council Bolshevism was only a platform plaything and beer could be kicked in the bilge. But now that Bolshevism is getting saucy—well something must be done to make us forget our taxes. Moreover, the Government has to scratch up three hundred million dollars a year to carry on and the twenty-two million dollars we threw into the gutter a few short months ago is now worth picking up again.

I cannot prophesy accurately what Parliament will do with the liquor problem, but I can set down some of the questions that reasonable men in Parliament are asking.

How M.P.'s Soliloquise.

For instance, they are asking what is the moral effect on the national character, of a law which engenders the lowest class of spies and turns a large number of decent citizens into lawbreakers and liars? How about "increased efficiency?" Is it better to have beerless, driven, sullen labor—or labor reasonably contented with its lot? How about "economic waste?" Is waste just waste—or is it thrift in disguise, something saved from the strain of life? Does the workingman feel more cheerful when he hands Mr. Flavelle 70 cents a pound for bacon or when he pays five cents for a cool drink after a hard day's work in the foundry? Does he feel that prohibition is a blessing or simply a ruse of the employer to get more work out of him and of the food profiteer to get more money?

Parliament is disposed to admit that the war is over and that circumstances alter cases. The altering circumstance, as I see it, is the attitude of labor toward the liquor question. If labor doesn't get a little mild refreshment it may take up with something a great deal worse—anarchy for example.

The Plaint of an Ally.

Besides, there are our allies, the French. Ethier of Two Mountains, made a palpable hit in the House the other day when he seized on the presence of Gen. Pau to score a point for light French wines. Are we going back on our comrades in democracy now that the war is over or is the Entente Cordiale—all the more cordial, for an advantageous trade arrangement—to continue?

Parliament shows a new frame of mind toward prohibition this session, which leads to certain honest questions. Did somebody slip something over on us while the casualty lists blinded our eyes with tears? Did the cold water people get by while the nation was looking the other way? Was prohibition a mood—all blue—or was it a conviction? Did we give up drink because giving up things was the fashion—horseraces, baseball, banquets, time, money—all as nothing compared with the lives our boys gave up on the battlefield? Did we give it up because it was the easiest, safest, long-distance way of martyrizing ourselves—of suffering something for the war which implied personal discomfort? Why did we give it up? And when we gave it up did we mean it?

Union Government has a ticklish job ahead of it to make the right diagnosis. It's the doctor.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

TELLS SAFE AND SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME.

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.—Advt.

DAYLIGHT-SAVING MEASURE MAY DIE; STRONGLY OPPOSED

Rural Members Criticize It at Unionist Caucus.

OTTAWA, March 13.—Government supporters, subsequent to the adjournment of the Unionists' caucus today, asserted the belief that a daylight savings bill will not be introduced this session. They based their statements on the amount of criticism of the measure heard in caucus. According to these members, practically no one spoke in favor of Canada again adopting the experiment of last year. Members reporting city constituencies, where daylight saving is in favor, it is understood did not seriously attempt to meet the avalanche of objections registered by the representatives of rural constituencies. In some cases, they stated that if the feeling of parliament was so strongly against the reintroduction of the measure, the cities would introduce the scheme on their own account.

The development of so much opposition to daylight saving creates a difficult position for the Government. It has generally been assumed that Canada would follow the example of the United States in this matter. While daylight saving was strenuously opposed across the border by the agricultural interests in Congress, they failed in their effort to have the measure killed, and when that body adjourned some days ago, the bill providing for a change in time on March 30 was still intact.

It is probable that considerable pressure will now be brought to bear on the Government by the railways, boards of trade, etc., to have Canadian time conform to that of the United States. It is admitted that if it does not, much confusion will result at the border in connection with the operation of the train service. In this connection the suggestion is made by those who favor daylight-saving, that if the Government fails to introduce a bill the railways will be compelled to make their time conform to that across the border. Should the railways do this the cities would be almost certain to follow their lead with the result that people in the country would in some respects be placed in much the same position as they were last year, when the daylight-saving act was in force.

The civil service commission and the civil service generally were also topics of discussion in the caucus, it is understood. There was much objection on the part of the members to procedure followed by the commission in connection with the making of appointments, their time conform to that across the border. Should the railways do this the cities would be almost certain to follow their lead with the result that people in the country would in some respects be placed in much the same position as they were last year, when the daylight-saving act was in force.

The civil service commission and the civil service generally were also topics of discussion in the caucus, it is understood. There was much objection on the part of the members to procedure followed by the commission in connection with the making of appointments.

There were expressions of opinion by members as to what steps the Government should take in regard to defaulters under the M. S. A., and some discussion as to the military situation generally.

Big Eaters Get Kidney Trouble

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

LIQUOR-FILLED

that no titles should be granted in the meanwhile. The honorable member for Springfield wanted to withdraw his own motion, and declined to vote for it, when his request was voted down. The honorable member for Qu'Appelle voted against the motion he had seconded, and the member for Peterboro did the aeroplane act and flew out of the room. The crack of the lashes of the prime minister's whip is still ringing in my ears, and I still see the honorable members couching before their master. What happened, what was done at the conference?

Borden's Brother Knighted.

"The speech of the throne should have enlightened us on this matter, but it does not, and I am not in a position to know, but what I know and what every member knows, is that a few weeks after this slavish incident, contrary to the solemn promise of the prime minister, titles were conferred on three persons, namely, the clerk of the Senate, Mr. Blount: the brother of the premier, and the minister of trade and commerce, who must have known what was coming to him when he defended the titles a few days before with a voice trembling with pathos and tears.

"Mr. Speaker, of all the speeches made by members on your right, the one which impressed me most was the eloquent address of the minister of immigration (Calder.)

Poser for Calder.

"I wish to ask a few questions to my honorable friend, very respectfully I do not insist that he should reply to my questions, but I wish he would spend a few minutes of his valuable time on them, and see if the answers to these questions are quite satisfactory to his conscience.

"First of all, what is Liberalism? Is it an association composed of members who are at ease to belong to it when they wish, who can join when they want to, who can be expelled from it, no matter what their ideas or principles are, or is it a creed, a faith, a group of fundamental principles? Is it not repugnant to reason and the teachings of political history, Mr. Speaker, that no matter what are his principles, his ideals, nay, his company, a man can always call himself a Liberal, and be an adept of Liberalism?

Can't Be Ruled Out.

"I quite agree with the honorable minister of immigration that no one has the authority to rule him out of the Liberal party. He has the perfect right to call himself a disciple of Liberalism so long as he wishes, but his assertion in order not to be contrary to the truth must be supported by his principles, his ideals and his company.

"Let us see first if his principles and ideals are those of Liberalism. What is Liberalism? I have read somewhere that Liberalism is in essence the problem of realizing liberty. It seeks the setting free of the mass of the people in regard to self-government, trade, religian, education, industry, in all the manifold ramifications of society. The opposite to Liberalism is restriction. It means the centralization of government in the government classes, setting the brakes on social progress and liberty. The aim of Liberalism is the common good, the aim of those opposed to Liberalism is the individual good."

Other Speakers.

During the afternoon Mr. McQuarrie of New Westminster criticized the granting of the "majority" of British Columbia fishing licenses to citizens of foreign countries. Another British Columbia member, Dr. Bonnell of East Kootenay, strongly supported the proposed department of public health as a means of helping the fight against tuberculosis.

Mr. Henderson of MacDonald, Man., thought that, as the Government had been elected to deal with the war, there was no obligation to deal with war issues, such as reconstruction and repatriation.

Col. Peck, V.C., will continue the debate tomorrow afternoon. It is expected he will be followed by Hon. W. S. Fielding.

LIBERALISM EXPRESSED FOR LIBERAL UNIONISTS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, March 13.—At the conclusion of his remarkable address in the House of Commons tonight, Joseph Archambault, of Chambley-Vercheres put the following pointed questions to Hon. A. J. Calder (Liberal-Unionist), minister of immigration:

"In three words I will give you my own conception of Liberalism or anti-Liberalism, 'Masses versus Classes.'

"Mr. Speaker, being a minister in the Unionist cabinet, my honorable friend is responsible constitutionally for all the acts of the Government, and constitutionally again, in order to release his responsibility he has only one means—'Resign.' Having not done so I logically surmise that all the measures of the Government have his approval.

"Now, Mr. Speaker, I beg leave to put my questions.

These Liberal Principles?

"Is the voting against a measure abolishing titles in Canada included in the Liberal doctrine?

"Will my honorable friend pretend that the war times election act, breaking faith with thousands of citizens and dragging the honor of Canada and its fair name in the mud, a Liberal measure?

"Is it the opinion of the honorable minister that the military voters' act, especially for the purpose it was used in the past elections, is imbued with Liberalism.

"Was the campaign of racial and religious prejudices carried out by the Government to which the honorable gentleman sticks like a leech, Liberalism?

"Is the consolidation of the financial ring of Toronto, erstwhile denounced by my honorable friend, an action that he could call Liberal?

"Is the companionship of food profiteers and the benevolent paternalship of bacon earls fit for anyone who still calls himself a Liberal.

"Are the instructions of the military officers to disregard the order of the established courts, in accordance with the Liberal principles?

"Is the exemption of taxes on Victory loans, a camouflage enactment by which the men who have enriched themselves during the war will avoid paying income tax, a Liberal measure?

"Can my honorable friend state without wincing that the censorships of the press and the gagging of independent opinion is pure Liberalism?

"Is the censorship on publications, going so far as making it a criminal offence to have in his possession 'Plato's Republic,' anything but anti-Liberal?

"Is the wholesale buying of the press of this country for political purposes a Liberal measure?

"Is the incompetency and indifference to the welfare of the masses by the existing high cost of living, with no relief in sight, true Liberalism?

"Is my honorable friend aware that Liberalism stands for a just share by the workingman of the profits of industries?

"Does my honorable friend believe that militarism in its most Prussian form can be regarded as an offspring of democracy?

"Will my honorable friend dare contend that the forcible sending of men to Siberia without authorization by Parliament is in accordance with the Liberal ideals?

"Was it a Liberal sentiment which prevented the calling in Parliament of the representatives of the people during nine months of the most momentous times of our history?

"Does the most flagrant abuse of the war measures act, passed with all confidence at a critical time, appeal to the Liberalism of my honorable friend?

"Is the government of the people by orders-in-council, even when Parliament is sitting, considered a Liberal principal?

"Did my honorable friend ever consider that the passing of orders-in-council, with a retroactive effect, is in direct violation of the liberty of the citizen?

"Can the honorable minister contend that the use of the war measures act three months after the war is over to put a railway company in liquidation is up to the Liberal standard?"

Good Rubbers Mean Foot Comfort, Shoe Economy and Health Protection

Why are they comfortable? Because in the Dominion Rubber System brands, you can get just the size and shape of rubbers to perfectly fit every pair of shoes.

That is one advantage of having a great organization like the Dominion Rubber System to study your needs. With factories and service branches all over Canada; and with experts in constant touch with the leading shoe manufacturers, the Dominion Rubber System is able to make and supply your dealer with every style of rubbers required.

How do Rubbers economize on shoes? They protect shoes against slush and rain—make shoes wear longer and hold their shape better—and enable you to wear old shoes in bad weather.

Is it necessary to speak of health protection? With the epidemic of "Flu" so vividly in mind, and the warning of physicians to keep the feet dry, surely no one will run the risk of going without rubbers on wet days!

When you choose rubbers, ask for one of these brands:

"Jacques Cartier" "Merchants" "Maple Leaf"
"Granby" "Dominion" "Daisy"

These trademarks guarantee quality; and behind these trademarks is the Dominion Rubber System, a power of protection to every pair of these guaranteed rubbers.

BUFFER STATE IDEA DROPPED BY THE ALLIES

Council of Ten Has Turned Down Proposal Is Report.

BRITISH OPPOSED PLAN

Food and Financial Relief To Be Given Enemy at Once.

BY ARTHUR S. DRAPER

(Copyright, 1919, New York Tribune.)

London, March 13.—With considerable assurance I can state that the council of ten has abandoned the idea of establishing an independent republic on the banks of the Rhine to serve as a buffer state business between France and Germany. This decision means that the moderate forces in Paris have won a big victory and that the Anglo-American peace alliance has won over the French statesmen to its point of view that will likely be signed in a comparatively short time and that Germany will have no territorial grievances such as France had in 1871.

Announcement Soon.

Announcement of this decision may be expected soon now that the president of the United States has reached France. Two things were instrumental in bringing about this decision. First, the adoption of the military arrangement, limiting the German army to 100,000, and ending conscription, and the reduction of Germany's navy to the size of a police force; and as second, the increased faith of the French statesmen in the league of nations, as a practical machine for minimizing the dangers of war. Incidentally the proposed channel tunnel is playing a political part of no small importance.

Secretary Lansing's grave speech in Paris synchronizes with the grave news from Berlin. The Spartacans held the suburb of Lichtenburg and apparently are showing a disregard for property which has made Bolshevism the symbol for extreme terrorism.

Help Too Long Deferred.

The various reports from Germany indicate that the revolution is spreading, and the deeds of the Spartacides are increasingly violent. Following the report of fourteen British officers and Gen. Plumer's description of conditions in Germany, it needed only Secretary Lansing's warning to convince the British of the necessity of taking immediate steps to help Germany economize. The fear today is that help has been too long delayed. The question is: can a stable government maintain itself in Germany and union between the Bolsheviki and Spartacises prevented?

Two fundamental economy problems are confronting the British, and incidentally every other country. The first, is to maintain adequate food supplies and to reduce the cost of living, and the second, is to transport adequate supplies into Central Europe. I am in a position to state that all allied statesmen are long agreed on this point, and that they have already taken steps to carry out the distribution of food. The armistice commission which will meet with the German representatives in Brussels tomorrow will be in a position to guarantee quick deliveries of food, and it is expected that the refusal of the enemy to turn over his mercantile shipping will be withdrawn. The numbers will meet on common ground, in that all desire to end the welter of anarchy. Food experts state that the British and Americans must be prepared for further sacrifices, "otherwise the plight of the liberated peoples will soon be such that the fruits of the war may be gravely imperilled or partially lost." The gravity of the situation is emphasized in all sections of the press now that the fear of being classed as "pro-German" is gone, says the Westminster Gazette. "We have ourselves received in the last fortnight statements from highly-competent witnesses who have traveled through Germany in January and February, and they one and all agreed that famine is the root of Bolshevism and Spartacism, and that there is no hope that any German government will be able to maintain itself which is not able to relieve the famine. At present there is no prospect of Germany being able to relieve her famine conditions without aid from outside. Confusion and anarchy are increasing east of the Rhine."

Those who are not moved for humanitarian reasons in the argument for the necessity of feeding Germany, admit that the practical argument for speedy assistance are unanswerable. The countries west of the Rhine are not so secure that they can afford to take any chances.

MORE REAL ESTATE DEALS ARE PENDING

Kent Campbell of D. Campbell & Sons admitted this afternoon that two big real estate deals involving downtown property were being put through, but refused to divulge just what buildings were to change hands.

LONDON AN AUTHORITY ON HOW TO RAISE MONEY

Several Belmont men today conferred with directors of the London Chamber of Commerce, seeking advice in regard to a community building for the village of Belmont and information concerning the best methods of conducting a campaign to raise money for equipment. A building has already been presented to the village to be used as a community memorial building.

The Chamber of Commerce is becoming a regular information bureau for Ontario municipalities in regard to conducting campaigns, etc. The fact that the Chamber of Commerce is taking a strong lead in public welfare movements as well as carrying on the work for which a board of trade is originally organized, attracting widespread interest. One of the questions frequently asked is the reason for changing the name from Board of Trade to Chamber of Commerce, and the manner in which expansion plans are working out under the new order. Almost daily, and sometimes even more frequently, inquiries come, by long distance telephone, by letter, or from individual visitors or deputation.

Ankle-Strangle Skirts Bring Out Gloomy Prophecies From Wiseacre and Car Conductors

Accidents and Delays to Traffic Certain in These Days of Motor Cars by Thousands—Jacks and Gangways Suggested for Street Cars.

"If those tight skirts are actually going to be worn again, then the life insurance risks should go up," declared one of these sensible men grimly today.

The mere woman reporter giggled, whereas the wiseacre continued: "I mean it. I can tell you it is no joke. If women are going to be foolish enough to wear those thirty-six-around-the-bottom skirts, then look out for accidents. It isn't safe, I tell you, let alone the fact that tight skirts are hideous and ungraceful, from my point of view, at least. Look at the increased traffic on our streets in the past few years, the automobiles that are flying about. Think of the danger of tripping in trying to get out of the way of vehicles. There'll be tragedies," he gloomily prophesied.

An Incident.

And then, he made a fresh start on the subject. "I was standing over at the postoffice the other day and my attention was attracted by an elderly woman who evidently desired to cross the street. It's a busy corner and that was a busy hour of the day. It was seven or eight minutes before she could venture across in safety, and I'm not exaggerating. Now, supposing she had been wearing one of those fool tight skirts. Oh, yes, I know I might have offered to help her across, but I was just watching to see how long it was possible to be held up. Mark my word, there'll be accidents." And he said it in the tone which was prophetic of the "I told you so" which will be forthcoming whenever the ambulance is summoned during the coming season to pick up the "remblants" of fashion devotees who will be stylish, if hobbled.

Poor Conductors.

It's the street car conductors, however, who are looking forward with greatest apprehension to the revival of "hobbles."

"No, we haven't had any cause to worry yet because of the difficulty of women getting on and off cars because of tight skirts," said a comparatively new man to the street car conducting profession this forenoon.

He said it cheerfully. Not so the veteran of 1912-13 and the early part of '14. He "minded" enough to fill a column of experiences with women with hobble skirts, and had forgotten more than recent recruits to conducting or motor-manning had ever heard about.

Trouble Ahead.

"There's going to be a lot of hold ups to traffic," he said ominously. "Talk about level crossings? Say, they aren't a patch on what it will be if we have to take the time to hist the women passengers on the cars with high steps like what we used to do. It was bad enough when the women were thin and limber, but when it came to getting on some big, fat woman getting stiff in her joints, it was some job, believe me.

"Say, I remember one day coming round on the Ottaway line, there wasn't a single man passenger on the car to help out, and just a woman with a couple of little children, one a baby in her arms. When the motor man saw a woman weighing a couple of hundred and sporting an ankle-strangle skirt, signalling the car to stop, he spotted trouble right away. But, he pulled up as the law required. It was one of those wide, rear platforms. I pulled and tugged at the lady's arms and she pulled and tugged herself.

Nothing doing. After awhile, the motorman came back grinning, and between him pushing and me pulling, we finally got her landed. Say, if these skirts go into general effect there won't be anything for it but to carry along jacks to hoist on hobble-skirted patrons, or invent a gangway to let down every time the car stops."

BETTER CIVILIZATION MUST BE BUILT ON DECAYING BODY OF OLD, SAYS SPEAKER

Mrs. Rose Henderson Addresses Liberals on Coming Revolution.

Declaring that the present civilization had ceased to functionize, and that a new civilization must be built up on the decaying, dying body of the old, Mrs. Rose Henderson of Montreal concluded an address on "The Impending Political and Industrial Revolution," in the Liberal Club hall last evening, with an appeal to the members of her audience to keep an open mind, read and learn in every possible way what was going on in the world, in order that they might have intelligence to take their part in the revolution which was bound to come.

History had shown, she said, that when any system failed to functionize for the mass of the people it inevitably was changed by revolution. In the case of Canada the people could bring about this revolution by exercising their right of the ballot. Whether the change would be for the better depended on whether this power were used intelligently or not. If the people were intelligent the new civilization which would rise out of the ashes of the old would be a beautiful thing.

One of the arguments she used to emphasize her contention that a change must be made in the existing order of society was the fact that, during the period of the war, approximately one-fourth the number of people who had ordinarily been engaged in production had produced enough to supply the other three-quarters as well as themselves, in spite of the tremendous destruction which had been going on. And not only that, but they had produced so much that the granaries of the world were full of surplus wheat, and other products had also accumulated.

Big Wheat Surplus.

In this connection Mrs. Henderson declared that in Australia two hundred million bushels of wheat were on hand which could not be shipped and for which there was no market. Canada had a surplus of one hundred million bushels, the United States two hundred million, and the Argentine a hundred and a half millions, making a total among the countries mentioned of nearly six hundred million bushels of wheat for which there was no market.

"And in face of that fact," she said, "men and women and children are unable to get bread in this country of ours."

The deduction which Mrs. Henderson drew from the fact that one-fourth of the normal number of workers had been able to produce sufficient wealth to keep the world going even in a time of enormously increased consumption, was that, now that those who had been taken from production were returning, there would be two hours' work a day for each of them on an average.

This was the reason, she said, that the labor men of the old land were demanding a shorter day. They realized that unless the number of hours in the working day were reduced, a great many men and women would be out of employment.

No Longer Submit.

The speaker expressed the confident belief that the producers of wealth in Canada would not much longer submit to the present condition of affairs, in which the country is managed by an autocratic Government, a Government largely for the benefit of the classes and not for the masses. She believed that in the near future there would be a very much larger proportion of real labor men, men representing the engineers, plumbers, builders, etc., of the country than at present.

"I believe that a good king can be good in politics," she said, "and that a good lawyer can be good in politics, but I also believe that the man who is the actual producer of wealth can be just as good, and that he will probably have a greater degree of knowledge of the conditions among the people and what they want. At the present time we have not government by the people for the people, but I believe it will come, because the people of Canada, and of other countries also, are awakening."

Mrs. Henderson decried the system which allowed little children to work in factories. She said she knew that many of the factory owners would gladly do away with child labor, but their hands were tied because their competitors would have too great an advantage over them. They must all make the change together. And she believed that the men who had fought in Europe for democracy would not be content to come back to Canada and continue to see their children slaving in factories and their womenfolk forced on to the streets because they could get more for their virtue than for their honest labor. They would demand a change, and in the new era these conditions would not obtain.

All Have Right To Live.

People were coming to a realization, said Mrs. Henderson, that the mere production of wealth was not the sole end of endeavor, but that everyone had the inherent right to live his or her life to the fullest possible extent.

She was a mother and she wanted her child to have the very best in life. She demanded that for her child, and she would fight for that. She was not, however, one of those mothers who felt that, because her child had everything which she considered necessary, her task was ended. She believed that every mother's child had the same right to a full life as her own child, and she would continue to fight for the same right for all children.

Mrs. Henderson made the startling statement that, during the four years of the war, the number of children who had died in Canada was twice as great as the number of soldiers Canada had lost in the war. Fifty per cent of all the children of the working classes died before they were five years old, and doctors declared that probably 90 per cent of these died from causes which were preventable. This was another condition which must be changed.

War Debt To Face.

"There is a tremendous war debt to be met," said the speaker, "and where is the money coming from. There is a billion and a half of dollars salted away in non-tax-paying bonds, paying five per cent interest or more. A small proportion of the people control the wealth of the country and the necessities of life. The necessities of life must be controlled by the Government for the good of the people at large. That is what the workers of the old land are fighting for."

Mrs. Henderson, who for some years past has been an indefatigable worker in the interests of child welfare, and who was one of the pioneers in the mothers' pension movement, was given a rousing reception and several times during the course of her address she had to pause because of outbursts of applause. The hall was well filled, in spite of the fact that in several schools entertainments were in progress which mothers and fathers of the children would probably be attending.

LOCAL NEWS

TWO LOCAL DELEGATES.—Two delegates from London are attending the annual convention of the Dominion Postal Clerks' Association, which has been in session in Montreal since Wednesday.

CALL TO BARRACKS.—The firemen created a little excitement at the barracks at noon today when they responded to a call. A small fire had started in a box in the A. M. C. quarters, and was quickly put out.

SPEAKING ON BLOOD TESTS.—Dr. F. W. Luney, pathologist at the Institute of Public Health, is addressing the Academy of Medicine this afternoon on the question of blood tests in connection with certain diseases.

LET OFF THIS TIME.—The two little dishwashers from a local hotel, who were found guilty of stealing a Victory bond worth $50 and some underwear from another employee, were allowed to go on suspended sentence by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in juvenile court this morning. The girls promised that it would be their last offence.

MORE PERMITS.—Building prospects still continue good for the season, according to the permits issued by Building Inspector A. M. Piper. Hugh Fulton is preparing to erect a two-story brick dwelling on Bridport street at an estimated cost of $4,800. The Parisian steam laundry is building a brick addition to its plant on Dundas street to cost $600.

NO SCHOOL BUILDING.—While he admits the need of additional school accommodation for the city, Thomas Rowe of the board of education, says that in all probability there will be no building this year. Nothing definite has been done as yet, he points out, and all the estimates must be submitted inside of two weeks, so there is little chance of completing arrangements for work this year. The only thing that can be done is to complete preliminary arrangements in preparation for the work to be carried out next year.

INVESTIGATE ARMENIAN CONDITIONS.—Rev. Samuel T. Bartlett, general secretary of the department of Sunday Schools and Young People's Societies of the Canadian Methodist Church, and a brother of Mrs. L. W. Crawford, 339 Horton street, this city, has been appointed one of a party of twenty representative men to visit Armenia and related countries in Asia Minor to investigate the conditions that prevail there and report. Nineteen of the members of the party are leading officers from the United States churches, and Mr. Bartlett is the one Canadian representative of the Religious Education Council of Canada. He left Toronto for New York Wednesday evening, and with the American representatives is sailing for Brest, France, from there to tranship for the south. The trip will cover at least three or four months.

MAY HAVE NEW TRIAL

London Case Heard Before Court of Appeal.

At Osgoode Hall Toronto, in the case of Garson vs. Empire Manufacturing Company of this city, there was an appeal by the plaintiff from judgment of Hon. Mr. Justice Latchford of November 28, 1918. It was an action to recover $4,856.03 for damages for alleged breach of contract and counter-claim by the defendants. At the trial, the action was dismissed with costs and judgment given the defendants on the counter-claim for $1,301.03 with interest and costs. D. R. Hossack for the plaintiff; J. M. McEvoy for the defendant. The case was tried before McLaren J. A.; Magee, J. A.; Hodgins, J. A., and Sutherland, J. Following is the judgment: "If plaintiff pays amount of judgment and costs within two weeks, the judgment will be vacated and a new trial may be had. Costs of this application and of former trial to be costs to defendants in any event."

LOEW'S PURCHASE QUEEN'S AVE SITE FOR NEW THEATRE

G. T. Hiscox Sells Terrace to Theatrical Enterprise.

HAVE DOUBLE ENTRANCE

Barnard's Store Reported Purchased From Bowles Lunch Company.

F. E. Osborne, local representative of Loews' Theatre Company, with Capt. Manning, special representative of Loews, has completed the arrangements for the purchase of the property at 187 to 195 Queen's avenue from Geo. T. Hiscox. They also purchased the property which is at present occupied by J. S. Barnard, from Bowles Lunch Company of Toronto. It is the intention of Loews to erect a theatre on Queen's avenue, with an entrance from Dundas street as well as on Queen's avenue.

The Queen's avenue property is 110 feet by 198 feet, and is assessed for $18,800. The Dundas street property is 20 feet by 198 feet, and is assessed for $20,000. Mr. Osborn states that arrangements have been made with J. S. Barnard to vacate his store by September of this year.

It is expected that work will be commenced as soon as possible on the erection of the theatre. Offices have been secured in the Dominion Savings Building by Loews' New York architect and contractor.

The London Security Company, of which F. E. Osborne is manager, has secured other property for the Bowles Lunch Company, particulars of which will be given out later.

BRANTFORD BIRDMAN HONORED BY ITALIAN ARMY FOR BRAVERY

Lt. Raymond C. Muir Decorated—Police Inquiry Postponed.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BRANTFORD, March 13.—For bravery in the battle of the Piave River, when the Austrian and Italian armies were at death grips, the Italian Medal of Valor was awarded to Flight Lieut. Raymond C. Muir, R. A. F., son of Major R. C. Muir of this city. The medal has just been received here. It records the reason for its presentation, and notes that it was presented by Gen. Montucri, commanding the 6th Italian Army Corps.

Muir was 4,000 feet over the Austrian lines, when his engine stalled, and he volplaned. He landed on the Austrian side of the Piave River, and for four days lay exposed to Austrian snipers and without food. Italian artillery prevented any but snipers working, and he was finally rescued after boatmen had been brought up from Venice.

INQUIRY POSTPONED.

Mayor MacBride alone appeared at the police inquiry this morning, Judge Hardy having been taken ill. Accordingly postponement was forced until an indefinite date.

STRIKE RIOT OCCURS IN CITY OF NEWARK

NEWARK, N. J., March 13.—Shortly after officials of the Public Service Railway Corporation had announced this afternoon that the controversy involving its striking employees would be submitted to the war labor board in Washington tomorrow, rioting broke out here. A crowd of strikers and sympathizers stormed two trolley cars, attacking the crew and smashing windows. Two men were removed to a hospital, and two strikers and a sympathizer, the latter a soldier in uniform, were arrested.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

Nearly all products seem to be on the upgrade on the local market.

Live hogs are now quoted at $18.25 to $18.50 per cwt. Fat sows are selling at $15 to $15.25 per cwt.

Hay has taken a big jump in price, and is quoted at $18 to $20 per ton. This increase is believed to be caused by the bad roads. Only four loads of hay were brought to the market this morning.

Straw is the only product that is slow. No other price chonges are reported, but all products remain firm.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, March 14.—Oats opened ⅝c to ¾c lower for May at 70⅝@70¼c.

Flax opened ⅛c higher to unchanged for may at $3 39½@3 39.

Inspections on Thursday totaled 85 cars for all grains. Contract grades of wheat were 31 cars.

Chicago, March 14.—Fresh setbacks in the price of corn resulted today from general heavy selling in which commission houses took the lead. The impetus continued to come from reports that the food administration was against any future upturn in values for foodstuffs. About the only support on the declines came from profit-taking shorts. Opening prices, which ranged from 1⅛ to 1¾ lower, were followed by a slight rally and then by breaks lower than before. Oats weakened with corn—after opened ½ to ⅝ lower, the market receded still further.

WALL STREET.

New York, N. Y., March 14. — Wall street, 10:30 a.m.—Reversing yesterday's heavy selling movement, specialties were in active demand at the opening of today's stock market, Industrial Alcohol again leading at a further advance of 3¾ in the first half hour. Distilling came next, rising 3¼ points, and oils, motors and snippings followed at gains of one to three points. California packing was conspicuous among the secondary specialties at a 3-point advance. Equipments and tobaccos also responded to further inquiry at substantial gains.

BRIGAND'S LIFE SAVED BY DOCTOR HE ROBBED

London Medical Missionary Had Curious Experience in China.

In connection with the policy proposed by the military conference held recently at Chungking, China, to rid the Province of Szechuan of brigands by extermination, if this is necessary, a press correspondent has sent from Tzeliutsing, Szechuan, a story in which a former London boy, a medical missionary there, Dr. Wallace Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Crawford, 329 Horton street, figures prominently.

The incident is as follows: "Speaking of brigands, a good story is told against the local doctor. Last February the medical man's house was looted and most of the valuables taken. In the fourth month, three badly-wounded robbers, under the guise of soldiers, came to the hospital. Two of the wounded died, and the third got better and left. The one recovering was the head of the robber band, which subsequently engaged the soldiers, and of the band that had looted the doctor's house. His name (not the doctor's) is Lung Huen-Wen, and he is a notorious brigand. It is hoped by all that this unfortunate brigandage, which so interfered with traffic, will soon be an item for ancient history."

WANTS NATURALIZATION

Hans Olding Foucar, 598 Princess avenue, who is a subject of the Empire of China, has applied, under the naturalization act of 1914, to become a Canadian citizen. He came to Canada from London, England, on H. M. S. Lake Erie of the Allan Line, six and a half years ago.

Application to Parliament

Notice is hereby given that an application will be made by the Corporation of the City of London to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, at its next session, for an act:

1. To authorize and carry into effect certain changes in the civic government of the City of London, which have been submitted to the electors of the said city, and assented to by them, in the following particulars:

(1) After the 31st day of December, A. D. 1919, the provisions of Sections 1 to 8, inclusive, of this act, shall apply to the Municipal Corporation of the City of London, and in so far as the provisions of this bylaw shall alter, vary or change the provisions of the Municipal Act, the Public Parks Act, the Public Library Act, the Board of Education Act, the London Waterworks Act, and amending acts, the City of London Acts, or any of them, or any other act in respect of civic government within the City of London, the provisions of this act shall prevail.

(2) For the year 1920 and thereafter the Council of the Corporation of the City of London shall be composed of a Mayor and twenty Commissioners, four of whom shall be called Works Commissioners, four Finance Commissioners, four Education Commissioners, four Health Commissioners, and four Public Utility Commissioners, and the Mayor and the said Commissioners shall be elected by a general vote of the municipal electors of the said city. Of the said four Works Commissioners, four Finance Commissioners, four Education Commissioners, four Health Commissioners and four Public Utilities Commissioners, the two Commissioners of each of the said five Commissions who shall obtain the highest number of votes at the election held for the year 1920 shall hold office for a term of two years, and the two Commissioners of each of the said Commissions who shall obtain the next highest number of votes shall hold office for a term of one year; and in each year thereafter two of the said four Commissioners of each of the said five Commissions hereinbefore named shall be elected by a general vote of the said electors, and shall hold office for a term of two years. Provided, that in the event of the election by acclamation of all of the Commissioners for the year 1920, the two Commissioners of each of the said five Commissions having the highest assessment in the City of London, according to the last revised assessment roll, shall hold office for a term of two years, and each of the two Commissioners of each of the said five Commissions having the next highest assessment as aforesaid shall hold office for a term of one year.

(3) The Mayor shall be annually elected by a general vote of the said electors, and shall be a member of all the Commissions hereinbefore named.

(4) The election of the said Mayor, four Works Commissioners, four Finance Commissioners, four Education Commissioners, four Health Commissioners, and four Public Utilities Commissioners for the year 1920 shall be held and conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Municipal Act for the election of Aldermen, excepting that all nominations of candidates for office shall be in writing, shall give residence and occupation of the candidate, and shall contain the candidate's statement of willingness to accept the nomination, signed by him, and shall be signed by twenty or more municipal electors, and shall be filed with the City Clerk at any time during office hours within one week immediately precedings twelve o'clock noon of the 22nd day of December, excepting when the 22nd day of December shall fall on a Sunday, when the time shall be one week preceding twelve o'clock noon, on the 23rd day of December. Each of the said five Commissions shall be elected by separate ballot. Provided, however, that the qualifications for members of the Educational Commission shall be as determined by the provisions of the Board of Education Act, and the Separate School Board shall elect one member to act with the said Education Commission, with all the powers conferred upon such representative by the Separate Schools Act, the Board of Education Act or the Public Library Act, or other acts with respect to representation on the Board of Education.

(5) In the event of the death, resignation or removal from office for any cause under the provisions of the Municipal Act, of any Works Commissioner, Finance Commissioner, Education Commissioner, Health Commissioner, or Public Utilities Commissioner during his term of office, the candidate at the last preceding election having the next highest number of votes shall be declared elected a Commissioner of the Board of Commissioners in which the vacancy has been created, for the unexpired term of the person so dying, resigning, or being removed from office; provided, that in case of the candidates at the last preceding election having been elected by acclamation, or there was a tie vote, the vacancy so created shall be filled by the election of another Commissioner by the Council for the unexpired term of office of the said Commissioner so dying, resigning, or being removed from office.

(6) Upon the organization of the Council, the Board of Education, the Public Library Board, the Public Utilities Commission of the City of London, the Board of Health and the Hospital Trust shall be dissolved, and the said several boards shall have no further authority or power in respect of the utilities, works and commissions, powers or duties heretofore under their charge, respectively, under any act of the Province of Ontario; but any officer or employee employed by any of the said boards in or about the construction or management of the said utilities shall be continued in office until removed by the Council, unless his engagement sooner terminates.

(7) The Council of the Corporation of the City of London shall have the authority and absolute control of the estimates, the tax rate, the determining and decision as to various works and the expenditure to be undertaken, and the determining of the appropriations and policies of all the Commissions, and the passing of all bylaws required by the Municipal Act. The Works Commissioners shall have the administrative control of all matters and powers as authorized by the Municipal Act with respect to streets, bridges, sewers and all other local improvement works, the garbage department, suburban roads, and any other matter referred to them by the Council, but shall incur no expenditure whatever, without first having the approval and authority therefor from the Council. The Finance Commissioners shall have administrative control of all matters and powers as authorized by the Municipal Act with respect to city property, printing, administration of justice, exhibitions, fire departments, licenses, legislation, railway matters, the market, franchise questions, industrial and reception matters, and any other matter referred to them by the Council, but shall incur no expenditure whatever without first having the approval and authority therefor from the Council. The Educational Commissioners shall have the administrative control of the Public, High and Industrial Schools, Public Library, recommendations with respect to the appointment of Governors and Senators and the making of grants to the Western University, and generally of all educational matters as authorized by the several Educational Acts and the Public Library Act, but shall incur no expenditure whatever without first having the approval and authority therefor from the Council. The Health Commissioners shall have the administrative control of Victoria Hospital, all health matters and all cases of charity as authorized or directed by the act respecting the General Hospital of the City of London and amending acts, the Public Health Act and all other acts relating thereto, but shall incur no expenditure whatever without first having the approval and authority therefor from the Council. The Public Utilities Commissioners shall have the administrative control of all matters connected with street lighting, the distribution of power, light and water, and shall have all the powers and duties of the Public Utilities Commission of the City of London as authorized under the London Waterworks Act, and amending acts, the City of London Act, and the several Utilities Acts, municipal fuelyard and such other utilities as may be referred to them by the Council, but shall incur no expenditure whatever without first having the approval and authority therefor from the Council.

(8) The Commissions and Council to be elected for the year 1920 in the manner aforesaid, and thereafter, shall possess and exercise all the powers and rights of the said several Council and Commissions in Section 7 thereof mentioned.

2. To authorize the Council of the Corporation of the City of London to pass bylaws without obtaining the assent of the electors thereto, for the issue of debentures for the following purposes, namely:

(a) $50,000.00 debentures to provide moneys for the extension of the storm sewer system of the City of London in the city proper.

(b) $50,000.00 debentures to provide moneys for the construction of a storm sewer system in West London.

(c) $36,000.00 debentures to provide moneys for the Public Utilities Commission of the City of London, to pay for urgent and necessary extensions and additions to the waterworks pumping plant and distribution system of the City of London.

(d) $25,000.00 debentures to provide moneys for the Public Utilities Commission of the City of London, to pay for certain urgent and necessary extensions and additions to the distribution system of the electric light plant of the City of London.

3. The existing debenture debt of the said city is as follows:

General debentures	$2,776,368 16
War purposes debentures	274,588 08
Waterworks debentures	1,117,564 48
Electrical department debentures	717,983 38
London and Port Stanley Railway debentures	1,119,243 67
City's share of local improvement debentures	223,256 58
School and Public Library debentures	1,080,278 86
	$7,309,263 21

4. The reasons for requiring the issue of the debentures are as follows:

(a) To provide moneys to pay for the extension of the present storm sewer system in the city proper, which is necessary.

(b) To provide moneys to pay for a storm sewer system in West London, which is necessary.

(c) To provide moneys to pay for the extensions and additions to the waterworks pumping plant and distribution system, which are urgent and necessary in order to supply the additional demand for water.

(d) To provide moneys to pay for the extensions and additions to the electric light plant of the City of London, which are urgent and necessary in consequence of the increased demand for electric power and light in the City of London.

5. To declare and provide that the proceeds of the mortgage from the London and Southeastern Railway Company to the Corporation of the City of London, forms part of the sinking fund of the said Corporation.

Dated at London, Ontario, this sixth day of February, A. D. 1919.

S. BAKER, City Clerk.
F. 7, 14, 21, 28, Mar. 7, 14.

APPLICATION TIME EXTENDED.—The time for students who wish to take the departmental exams to make application to the inspector of public schools has been extended for this year on account of the fact that the examinations are being held later than usual. For the lower schools applications may be made up till May 10, and for middle or upper schools, including matriculations exams, the students have till May 24. The corresponding dates are May 1, and May 10 ordinarily.

GIRLS! MAKE LEMON LOTION TO WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY SKIN

In all weathers the skin and complexion can be kept wonderfully clear, soft and white by the use of this inexpensive lemon lotion which any girl or woman can easily prepare.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth, so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and hidden beauty of any skin. Those who will make it a habit to gently massage this lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands once or twice daily, may be repaid with a skin that is flexible and young looking and a peachlike complexion.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advt.

New Music Rolls

All the catchy melodies you hear at the theatre, the "hits" of the operatic stage—in fact, everything worth while in popular songs and dance music may be obtained in music roll form for player-pianos. And we have them. Nothing to equal our assortment elsewhere. Here are a few of the most popular word rolls. Glad to play them over for you.

These are hand-played rolls, with the words printed on them.

Arranged in correct tempo for dancing.

"In the Land of Beginning Again."
"How 'Ya Gonna' Keep Them on the Farm."
"I Want a Doll."
"Mickey."
"When You Come Back."
"Ja-Da."
"Kisses."
"Beautiful Ohio."
"I'm Glad I Can Make You Cry."
"When Tony Goes Over the Top."

We also have the above selections on disc or cylinder records and in sheet music for the piano.

GREAT VARIETY TO GRAND'S SECOND VAUDEVILLE BILL

Patrons Seemed Pleased With Various Turns--Mabel Normand in "Mickey" Caps Fine Bill.

It was real vaudeville, was the bill presented at the Grand Opera House last night. There was an act for every taste, and every act tasted so good that the packed house clapped for more—and got it.

"Thank heaven, we are getting real vaudeville in this town at last," remarked one patron as he left the theatre at the close of the performance. His sentiments semed to be general.

It was a real "homey" bill, if you know what we mean. Every artist on the program seemed to reach over the footlights and take you into their confidence. It was a case of "We know you're pleased, and it pleases us, too. Let's play together."

Tommy Snyder in the "Piano Movers" doesn't speak a word. He doesn't need to. Thomas is one chorlle after another, and can produce laughs just as fast as Charlie Chaplin ever could. Tommy gets over "big," as the boys in the gallery would say, and is a real comedian. He is ably supported by Harry Hill. Tommy smiled, and the house roared with laughter.

Valyda was billed as a "Song Surprise," and she was. She is not only fair to look upon, or rather dark we should say. The minute her first note floated out over the audience, it settled down to enjoy some excellent singing. Valyda is the closest approach to Nora Bayes that has been heard in London in some time, and she gracefully responded to an encore. "It's a Long Way Back to Mother's Knee" was possibly her best number, and when she switched from contralto to a soprano of purest tone, the house was surprised and delighted. Valyda also proved to be a young lady of versatilty by ending up her "song surprises" with a bit of yodelling that was extremely well done.

Fred Elliott puts a lot of "pep" into his rube act. One does not know what Freddy is going to do next. He may be a hayseed, but his jokes have no weeds clinging to them, and his musical contraption made up of a broom, string, cigar box and a violin bow, is played very cleverly. He is funny. He can't help it. Elliott is worth hearing.

Kenny, Mason and School, three acrobats on roller skates, have something novel to offer in the roller skating and acrobatic line, and deserved every bit of the applause that they received. The boys belong to the U. S. navy, and have been granted permission to go on tour while waiting for their discharge from Uncle Sam's naval service.

The Four Kings have a slack wire act that is also worth seeing. They are booked as the Four Kings, but two kings and two queens would describe it more adequately.

Then there is Mabel Normand in "Mickey" to cap a performance that is better by far than that of the first of the week. "Mickey" is a photoplay that one can easily see twice. At least, we enjoyed it twice this week, and we left our fat friend who accompanied us to look it over the second time. Just one more word. If you enjoy vaudeville in all its phases, take in the performance at the Grand Opera House either today or tomorrow. It's worth while.

"WYANDOTTE KING" TO ADDRESS POULTRY ASSOCIATION TONIGHT

John S. Martin, "the White Wyandotte King of America," will be the speaker at the meeting of the London Poultry and Pet Stock Association to be held in the Orange Hall, Market Lane, tonight.

Mr. Martin, who has been secured by the committee to talk on "White Wyandottes," recently "cleaned up" practically all the White Wyandotte prizes at the Madison Square Garden poultry show in New York, in competition with the best in American birds.

Visitors are invited to attend the meeting tonight where an exhibition of birds will also be staged, at which Mr. Martin has consented to act as judge.

The association is putting a special campaign for members, and over 50 have already been secured during the last month.

PAINTERS ASK FOR 50 CENTS AN HOUR

After some consideration, the local Painters' Union, No. 910, has submitted an agreement for the approval of the boss painters, which calls for a wage of 50 cents an hour, with time and one-half for overtime work and holidays, and double time for Sundays.

The men want the agreement to become effective on April 1. The present scale of wages is 40 cents an hour.

PAULINE FREDERICK IN EMOTIONAL PLAY AT THE PATRICIA

Popular Star Appearing in Her Latest Photodrama Again Today and Saturday.

Pauline Frederick, in "The Woman on the Index," attracted capacity audiences to the Patricia Theatre yesterday, where this remarkable photoplay is showing again today and Saturday. This photodrama is very different from any other production in which this popular motion picture actress has appeared.

When Miss Frederick, as the heroine, happily married to a diplomat, is introduced to a friend of her husband, she imagines that all is lost. This man she recognizes as a former detective. Now he is chief of the secret service. At once she knows he will reveal to her husband the fact that she is "the woman on the index"—that her name appears in the police records. But he does nothing of the kind. He is truly her friend.

He only asks that she encourage the attentions of a distinguished foreigner, who is suspected of a connection with a threatened Bolshevik movement. The woman must carry on an intrigue with him, must deceive her husband—must lose his love, if need be. He appeals to her patriotism. What he asks is for her country, and only she can do it, for the suspect already is at her feet. The woman consents. What she endured while carrying out her promise, how she suffers and what it costs her and what the amazing climax is, is told in this wonderful screen production.

Two side-splitting comedies are presented, one a Mutt and Jeff comedy cartoon, "My Four Days in Germany," and a Universal comedy, "Lions and Ladies."

In vaudeville, the Three Shirleys present a novelty musical act.

The above program in its entirety will be repeated today and Saturday.

HENSALL NURSE AND OFFICERS HOME

HENSALL, March 13.—During the past week Hensall welcomed home two more men from overseas, James Munn, of the R. A. F., and Nursing Sister Mabel Cudmore. James Munn arrived on Saturday evening and Miss Cudmore arrived on Monday evening. A large number of friends assembled at the home of Alex. Munn, including Rev. Mr. McConnell and the recve to spend an evening with the returned hero on Saturday evening after the arrival of the train.

On Sabbath last the Rev. Mr. McConnell of Carmel Church was unable to take his services. William Dougall, one of the elders, conducted a short service in the morning and read a sermon in the evening.

Alva Kelly, a former resident, who carried on the jewelry business here, was in the village the first of the week.

Changes in real estate still continue. During the past week W. A. McLaren, hardware merchant, has purchased F. W. Smallacombe's brick shop, King street.

The death of Miss Catherine Burns, of the Township of Hay, occurred Sunday last at the home of relatives near Kippen, where she had been visiting. Her mother, who survives her, is over 90 years of age. The funeral on Tuesday last took place from the home of her brother, Donald Burns, to Ross' Cemetery.

GODERICH MAN GETS $310 IN DAMAGES

GODERICH, March 13.—At the spring assizes here, with Mr. Justice Sutherland presiding, an action for damages for the sum of $2,000 against Robert Clark, was brought by Thomas Glazier. He claimed that Mr. Clark's auto ran into the rear of his buggy and put it into the ditch: that the horse, taking fright, dragged the plaintiff for some distance along a barbed wire fence and caused some severe injuries. The road at the point of the accident was 14 feet from ditch to ditch, and the defendant claimed that his car was only going at the rate of seven miles per hour when he struck the rig. The jury brought in a verdict for $310 damages.

The case of Wright vs. McLean, an action to set aside a will, was dismissed without costs, the costs of the defendant to be paid out of the estate.
