

WINTER CARNIVAL PASSES UP

This year the Winter Carnival Committee finds it necessary to increase the price of the Carnival Pass. This increase was deemed necessary by the Winter Carnival Committee to continue having a Carnival of the high caliber of previous years. UNB, while not having the biggest Carnival in Canada, certainly has one of the best. The Carnival offers more things every year, and over the period the expenses have risen.

Reasons for the increase over last year's pass all add up to a bigger and better show for this year. There is a $900.00 increase in the sports budget, which will be used to bring swimming and basketball teams down from McGill, and the hockey team from St. F. X. Besides raising the caliber of the competition, it will insure that regular league games will not be played during Carnival. This will enable followers of sports in the city to go to all league games without having to buy a Carnival Pass for the one event and contend with the Carnival mobs.

Fireworks will cost $350.00 this year, whereas last year they were donated. The musical comedy, "The Boyfriend" will cost $1,100.00 including the purchase of scripts. There has been an increase budgeted to floats and snow sculptures, as the committee hopes to have an increase in the number of entries in both competitions. Last year's Carnival left a deficit of $1,100.00. The total increase in budget then, is $3,500.00.

The price of the Pass must be raised whether we like it or not. There was a lack of student support in the musical last year and it was shelved. If this year's Musical finds support and is produced there will be professional entertainment opening night; and on Saturday night, a band and more entertainers. The Pass will be increased to $5.00.

If it is necessary to shelve the Musical Comedy, there will be entertainers imported for Wednesday night and Friday night. Thursday night will have the same opening night performer, and there will be a dance band for Saturday night. In this case, the Pass will be increased to $4.50.

A motion to allow for the appropriate increase with respect to the Musical passed the SRC Wednesday night with a vote of 24 to 1, with one abstaining.

In a poll taken last year 69% said that they did not consider the cost of passes too high. This year's committee has decided in light of this to raise the prices in an effort to make this year's Carnival the best yet.

SEWER DIGGERS

Last February the Ontario Water Commission and the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation announced plans for a province-wide sewage disposal system. This system was intended to end the pollution of Ontario's famed lakes and rivers.

The Christian Atheist Party on campus decided that not only Ontario but all of Canada would benefit from such a system. The party therefore placed Bill C-2 before the UNB Model Parliament — "an act to incorporate the Trans Canada Sewer Co." which stated in part that "the said Trans Canada Sewer Company shall in addition to transmission, transformation, and transportation of natural product be responsible for the construction, maintenance and operation of a Federal Fertilizer Industry, to be known as the FFI."

It was brought to the attention of the Christian Atheist Association of UNB by one of Canada's foremost bacteriologists, that Fredericton, "City of Stately Elms", "Canada's City of the Year", was allowing its waste products to flow into and pollute the beautiful Saint John River (sometimes called the Saint Irving River), a river noted for its salmon, horsepower, booms of floating pulpwood, and its phenomenal twice daily battle against the high tides of the Bay of Fundy.

Thus on Saturday, November 25, the Christian Atheists undertook to aid those contractors now at work digging a sewage disposal reservoir at the rear of the UNB men's residences, believing in the time-honoured principle that one should begin reformatory measures by cleaning up one's own backyard. The many Gentlemen of Jones, Knights of Neville, Knaves of Neill, and Men of Aitken are to be congratulated on their fine turnout (of the windows). The local branch of the Christian Atheist Party International request the support of all able-bodied engineers and foresters of UNB to protect the beautiful St. Irving River from the evil taint of harmful bacteria and to support the party in its attempt to make such reservoirs a familiar sight to all Canadians.

MLA'S SQUABBLE

The new Liquor Act came in for heavy fire from opposition members during a Wednesday night session of the Legislature. Mr. J. A. Moore (PC Queens), opposed the bill on the grounds that under the proposed legislation: "1. No consideration was given by the government to the right of local option"; "2. Liquor control should be under the control of the Legislature not of the Lieutenant Governor in Council"; "3. Provisions for taverns were made, to which he was 'absolutely' opposed".

The Premier replying to Mr. Moore, noted that "the 1927 Act was a vast improvement in the situation existing before that." Dr. G. E. Chalmers (PC York) accused the government of "disregarding completely the recommendations of the Bridges Liquor Report respecting the administration of the New Brunswick Liquor Control Board — the whole basis of control of the plan, which they destroyed in one foul sweep". He said, "there are rumours of his (the Premier's) contact men, Liberal goons and patronage boys roaming the province making deals".

Mr. Sherwood emphasized that "each member of the opposition has the right and responsibility to vote for what he honestly and sincerely believes to be in the general public interest."

"Over the years a number of illegal outlets including hundreds of clubs grew, and little was done to curb the situation. The new Act leaves the door open to all kinds of political discrimination, political favouritism and political patronage. That's liquor uncontrolled!"

In reply, Premier Robichaud stated that, "he opposed legislative control of the liquor commission because action might

BOYCOTT

Students at Saint Francis Xavier are boycotting classes for two days as a result of an administrative action which would start the student Christmas holidays on December 20. This is the same date that vacations start in all the other Maritime Universities. A Student Union meeting was called to discuss the matter by students who wanted to get out the 15th or 16th. The meeting decided on the boycott and students patrol the campus quietly with placards, while professors stand in empty classrooms. The students argue that they will not have a chance to get jobs over the holidays, and out-of-town students complain over the short time they will have at home.

Another Editor Goes?? Almost!

SASKATOON (CUP) — The Sheaf, the University of Saskatchewan student paper was forced to leave Canadian University Press last week, but the Students' Representative Council reconsidered its earlier motion and approved the re-union of the campus paper with CUP.

The SRC, faced with the immediate resignation of Sheaf editor, Lionel Wilson, debated for two hours. In the vote on whether or not the Sheaf should be allowed to rejoin CUP, twelve members voted for and twelve voted against the motion. SRC President, Roy Romanow, broke the tie by voting in favour of it.

The SRC also gave permission to send two delegates to the CUP National Conference in Toronto next month.

A rebel group, acting after the SRC agenda had been completed, asked for a reconsideration of the motion. This was foiled by the SRC Secretary - Treasurer who walked out of the meeting and asked anyone who agreed with him to follow. This left the SRC without a quorum and the meeting was forced to adjourn.

Sheaf Editor Wilson said after the meeting that since the Sheaf had been given all that it asked for there is no reason for him or his staff members to resign. In his letter of resignation, Mr. Wilson said that he personally disliked the idea of threatening resignation as a means of achieving an end. "But the SRC decision of last Monday was so completely irresponsible and wrong, that I have no alternative but to take this course of action."

"Not only is the SRC decision an affront to my competence as an editor, but it is narrow-minded, short-sighted and economically pig-headed. By saving a mere $150 the SRC is insulting both CUP and the Sheaf staff, and undoubtedly fostering the derision and anger of student leaders across Canada."

SIR JAMES DUNN FOUNDATION SCHOLARS — Awards of nine Sir James Dunn Foundation Scholarships to Geology students at the University of New Brunswick were announced this week by Dr. Colin B. Mackay, president of the university. Eight of the winners are post-graduate students who will be doing research on geological problems in the Maritime Provinces. The winners are, front row, left to right: Walter van de Poll, Heerde, The Netherlands; John Purdy, Saint John; James McNutt, Fredericton; and Yvon Globensky, Montreal. Standing: George S. Clark, Fredericton; Eugene M. Leavitt, St. George; David Lawson, Upton; Gerald Bennett, Wabana, Newfoundland. Absent when the photo was taken was John T. Wilband of Campbellton.

RED 'n' BLACK LEAVES THE SCENE WITH A BITTER AFTERTASTE

Last week's Red 'n' Black party at the Flame restaurant has caused much embarrassment to UNB's senior class. There must be steps taken in the future to prevent the reoccurrence of such a disgraceful exhibition on the part of the students.

Granted that at any party where university students congregate and have a few drinks there will always be those who do not yet know their limit. Invariably, this minority is the group which will run rampant and indulge in destructive activities. And so the majority must bear the ugly consequences because of the lack of 'a sense of responsibility' of the few. This was evidenced on this past Tuesday when a meeting of the Red 'n' Black cast was held and it was decided that each cast member would contribute one dollar to pay for the damages at the Flame. Too bad, but that's the way it has to be done.

In the future the Red 'n' Black will be forced to take preventative measures to protect the sensible majority from the irresponsible minority. Campus Policemen could be used to advantage at any such party. Violators of public property are less likely to tear loose if they know that it may cost them a trip to the SDC and a fine. Too bad, but this may be the way it will have to be done—policed parties, not bad in a penitentiary but slightly out of place in a university community.

BYOB parties, such as the Red 'n' Black party this year are difficult to control. Social gatherings of this nature tend to turn into 'unsocial brawls' where the 'BMOC' can strut their stuff and flash their quart bottles of VO about the premises. Much better to have a public bar where pre-mixed drinks can be served and taken to tables. This kind of arrangement produces a more formal and less rowdy atmosphere.

Or maybe next year we could hold the Red 'n' Black party in conjunction with a WCTU conference.

LADIES LEFT OUT IN THE COLD

Unfortunately women who have previously believed that emancipation had come to New Brunswick, have been sadly deceived by the new Liquor Bill. The reference is to that part of the act which states that taverns be only permitted to sell beer "to adult male persons."

If a woman happens to be downtown and after several hours of exhausting shopping she would like a long cool beer, she must dash home, slip into a cocktail dress and rush back to the cocktail lounge where she is forced to pay more for the same beer than her male counterpart (in checked shirts and jeans) is enjoying in the tavern down the street. The only alternative is the restaurant where she is required to buy a meal before she is permitted to look at the wine list. Why she should not be entitled to the same privileges as the opposite sex remains shrouded in medieval mystery.

In England where pubs have a longer history than our dear province, women sip in at the local pub as casually as women here drop into the local tearoom and it is not unusual to see grey-haired grandmothers having a dignified conversation as they quietly sip their ale. Nor do the men present consider their rights to be infringed by the presence of females.

Together with seems to be a natural state and segregation of the sexes presumably went out with the bustle—except in the more primeval parts of the world. No doubt the next ridiculous legislation will require women to revert to the veil. In fact the whole thing can only be seen as a vestigial remain of phallic worship.

Are We Big Enough For Booze?

Are the young people of New Brunswick less responsible than those of New York state where the minimum age for entrance to taverns and lounges is eighteen years? The new Liquor Control Act is touted as a "courageous, forward-looking piece of legislation" and yet it severely limits the rights of those persons who, we are told, are to be the "future leaders" of our country—the university students. Any students of UNB who have travelled to other parts of Canada and the United States have no doubt had little trouble obtaining a respectable drink. However, here in our beloved "Picture Province" we are subjected to gross discrimination; we must continue to "chug-a-lug" beer by the bottle in cubby-hole residence rooms. It is the duty of the Minister of Youth and Welfare and the other young members of the Legislature to defend the rights of the students.

Not only may we not frequent the taverns and cocktail lounges but section 124 (b) states that "it is illegal to permit or suffer to permit any person apparently under the influence of liquor to consume liquor in any house, building or premises of which the first named person is owner, tenant or occupant."

It is disappointing that the students 'Up the Hill' will not be allowed to enjoy a respectable drink, in a respectable surroundings under respectable laws either in a public place or in the privacy of their own homes, apartments or residences.

LETTERS

THE TIME HAS COME

Dear Sir,

For many weeks now I have been reading about the possibility of nuclear war and fallout, but without paying much attention. Some of the articles came from the Brunswickan. However, when we are warned by our own Prime Minister on a national coast-to-coast television news program about the great dangers of nuclear war, it's about time we took notice.

Our country spends billions of dollars on great construction jobs, shopping centres, highways, etc. What is the use of all this if only a scattered few will be around to enjoy it?

If fallout shelters are the answer, then why are we not building them as a national program? (Instead we hear of the much publicized and ridiculous do-it-yourself shelter).

I read recently that there were only thirty-six permits for shelters taken out all across Canada. This sounds like the beginning of civilization all over again.

Let's wake up and die right!!
 David Bassett

THE BIG DECEPTION

Dear Sir,

People speak of world-wide disarmament. What dreams! Such a possibility is absurd when you consider human nature. People cannot live in peace. How can they when they have never done so before? Why should the future generations be different from previous ones? People have always been the same degenerate animals since they came out of their caves. Talk of peace will not change us; nothing will change us, for we are doomed by our own purpose—to destroy ourselves and everything around us.

We now have atomic bombs. Don't be naive enough to think they will not be used. They'll be used because some people like power, and a feeling of superiority. And what can make a person feel more superior than to see other humans crawling about in ruins and crying in agony when they themselves remain untouched.

There are good people in the world, but very few. Most of the virtuous are nothing more than hypocrites. In times of crises they are like most of us—they think of their own necks and not of others. And when the victories are won, they are the heroes, while those who died in battle are quickly forgotten.

The First World War is a perfect example of the work of these virtuous people. They used every possible scheme to convince men to fight for ideals and nationalism. The average man fought and died for his country — so he thought — while the preachers stayed home and became the greatest group of profiteers we have ever had. These people are still with us for their kind never dies. Most of us would be like them if we had the chance—that's why they will always be with us.

Why do people want to kill? They get ready to kill for their country to save the material things they have collected and to save their twisted ideas. Yet when they do kill, they do so to prevent their own death. We kill the enemy because we fear our own death. We are cowards. To kill to escape death is a poor excuse for murder.

Death brings true peace—it stops our thinking. Bring forth your formulae for peace among humans. They will not last. One must simply be born, live and die.

DEICHMANN EXHIBIT

Kjeld and Erica Deichmann, the internationally famous potters residing near Sussex, N.B., will be the guests of the Art Centre in Mem. Hall next Tuesday, Dec. 5, at the opening of an exhibition of their work in the Centre.

At the opening, the President, Dr. Mackay, will officiate.

The student body and the general public are invited to attend the ceremonies which will commence at 8:15 pm.

Mr. and Mrs. Deichmann, who brought their work from Denmark to Canada 26 years ago, perform every operation in their work themselves, including the mixing of the clay. Their pottery is characterized by its sophisticated simplicity. The Art Centre exhibition contains about 150 pieces of stoneware and porcelain pottery. It will be on display from Dec. 5th to 20th, during the regular Art Centre hours, Monday through Friday from 9:00 to 5:00, and Sundays Dec. 10 and 17 from 2:00 to 5:00 and 7:00 to 11:00.

FILM SOCIETY PROGRAM

Three films will be featured in this Sunday's Film Society Program. A Canadian film, "Quetico", explores in sight the Ontario Provincial Park of that name in the wilderness west of Lake Superior, and in sound the impressions of the park and the songs of the voyageurs. "Swedish Cinema Classics", showing sequences from many Swedish films of the silent era, will be a timely sequel to last week's television program "Hollywood: The Golden Years". "The Hunters", an American documentary, shows the hunting techniques of the Kung Bushmen of the Kalahari Desert.

Red Bares

Early on Monday morning, 12.30 a.m. to be exact, nine "Men of Aitken" under the leadership of Chief Polar Bear Reddin officially inaugurated UNB's first Polar Bear Club.

The group left Aitken House around 12:15 a.m. and drove some ten miles out of Fredericton to a nice, refreshing little brook that the Chief Polar Bear just happened to know about. There, all the "Bares" stripped to their bathing suits and went for a dip.

We feel that UNB now holds the Canadian record for swimming this late in the season. We therefore challenge any other university in Canada with comparable weather to break our record of ten nuts in swimming at this time of year.

The charter members of the RED BARES are John Bethel, Ted Rothe, Gord Ross, Herb Mitton, Rick Wilkinson, Don Saunders, Al Dunnet, Hank Jansen and Ken Carty.

The next official meeting of the Polar Bear Club will be held in December when Operation Break the Ice will take place.

TOWN GIRLS INVITED TO MAGGIE JEAN CHRISTMAS PARTY

call Peggy Gammon for Tickets now hold the now traditional Christmas party. In the past, co-eds living out of residence have not been formally invited to participate in the activities. This breach of etiquette is being remedied this year. ALL co-eds are being urged to invite their favorite men to the party on December 8th. Instead of having the party at the Maggie Jean, the orgy will be held in the new dining hall. (Note: This eliminates solving the problem of whether men should or should not be allowed to visit in the girls' rooms as well as putting everyone in the same boat, i.e., as well as making non-resident co-eds feel at home.)

Ralph Campbell and his rockin' cronies will provide the music and rumor has it that some favorite vocalists will be on the scene. Peg Gammon, head of the Social Committee, assures us that the lunch will be hearty and the punch . . . well, the new liquor laws won't be in effect by then.

Expenses will be borne by the co-eds (who want to make sure the guys have enough money to buy them Christmas presents). If a gal lives in residence and has paid her house fees, as all good girls have done by now, then she is all ready to go as soon as the man-napping bit is over. If not living in residence, then the co-ed must be prepared to fork over $1.25 at the door. This to be paid by December 4th to either Betty Fearon or Peg Gammon).

"Put your dancin' boots on and wear your Sunday best" and you'll feel right at home i.e. wear what UNB'ers call "semi-formal attire". This is a misconception which we must amend one of these days. Arrive about 9:30 p.m. and leave about 2:00 a.m. and you'll be the perfect "party goer".

Yes, the Maggie Jean Christmas Party makes its debut this year as the Co-ed Christmas party. Be there and greet friends and enemies alike under the mistletoe. (Five dollars worth will be strewn about to assure the success of the party).

Point of View

A NEW FREEDOM

by Bill Peirce

It appears that there will be no real objections to the passing of the Liquor-Control Bill. The Conservative Party as a whole certainly cannot, under the present conditions in New Brunswick, take a firm stand on behalf of the "Drys."

Although personally I would like to see much more forward-looking laws, the Conservatives apparently feel that going out on this limb would also spell some degree of political suicide.

I think it is unfortunate that the opposition will not push for the provision of taverns in rural areas, as well as beverage rooms in larger centers where ladies might be entertained.

It may be another thirty-four years before we will see a government courageous enough to put forth legislation which will bring New Brunswick into line with the rest of Canada.

Although at least two members of the Opposition showed a degree of responsibility towards the Temperance Groups, none have had the courage of, what I believe to be, their convictions in most cases to support Mr. Hatfield's view that this new Act is no improvement on the 1927 Scott Act.

The Government has many times been accused of only "talk, taxes, and travel." Apparently the Premier and his group plan to travel when they want to obtain liquor at reasonable prices, in reasonable surroundings, provided by reasonable legislation.

The only hope seems to lie in the fact that the Attorney-General, Premier Robichaud, has complete control over the Liquor Commission and therefore over the Licensing Board. In this position he will be able to ignore the many strict regulations within the new Act and provide New Brunswick with the degree of freedom more becoming to self-disciplined and intelligent people living, as we do, in the Space Age.

Coinage provides world markets for nickel

Nickel and nickel alloys make excellent coinage because they withstand corrosion and hard wear; can be blanked and coined readily; have a bright metallic lustre that makes them easy to recognize.

According to the latest information, 47 countries of the world use nickel or nickel alloys in 118 coins. On the average, more than 5 million pounds of nickel are used annually in the coinage systems of the world. That's about 10 per cent of the total tonnage of all metals used in coinage each year.

MONEY MINTERS, a 16 mm. 15 minute film in colour produced in cooperation with the Royal Canadian Mint is available on loan for group showings. NICKEL IN COINAGE, a free booklet telling the story of nickel coinage through the ages will be sent on request.

Think what this means for Canada.

Canada is the world's largest producer of nickel. And Inco, through sales, research and market development operations, maintains a continuing program for the expansion of international markets for Inco nickel.

More Inco nickel than ever before will be exported to expanding world markets . . . helping to build trade balances, stimulate Canada's economic growth and create more jobs for Canadians.

THE GIRLS IN 509 . . .

Howard Teichmann, author of "The Girls in 509", began his stage-writing as a co-author with George S. Kaufman. Together they wrote the smash hit "The Solid Gold Cadillac".

BOB FERGUSON — Director

For director Bob Ferguson, this Saturday evening will mark the climax of a new experience in dramatics. After several years of experience with the Drama Society, off-stage with the publicity and business side of things, back-stage with the stage crew, and on-stage in several major productions, Bob has taken the big step into the director's chair.

For those who remember him for his leads in "The Seven Year Itch" and "The Mousetrap", and smaller roles such as Bromley in "Doctor in the House", Bob will be back on stage with a supporting role. But for him the big thing will be the audience's reaction to the entire play.

"The big change from acting to directing is the responsibility", commented Bob, "I'd much rather be on stage. You got to worry. Of course, as an actor you worry too. All acting is a matter of teamwork."

His second venture on Broadway was a dramatization of the popular novel, "Miss Lonelyhearts". This was not one of great success.

"The Girls in 509" is considered his greatest success. It has had a good run on Broadway and has made a prolonged tour.

The play is a satire on American politics. It attacks both Democrats and Republicans alike, and politicians generally. But bitter satire is not its aim. The play has elements of romance and comedy woven through it, and it is primarily a comedy.

It involves two old ladies who have been cut off from the outside world for 26 years, and the results of their sudden exposure to it after this period of hibernation.

Brooks Atkinson, drama critic of the New York Times, is quoted as saying: "Mr. Teichmann knows how to write snappy lines . . . he has plastered the target with gags from both barrels".

"It doesn't make much difference whether you're doing a comedy or a serious play. Comedy can be a lot of fun in a way if you enjoy getting laughs. The really important thing is the feeling of satisfaction after it's all over. The only way you can tell if it's good is if the audience begins to get involved".

With six weeks of rehearsal behind, Bob feels that "The Girls in 509" is rehearsed up to the hilt. All it needs is the audience. Acting improves 50% in front of an audience."

When asked to comment on the play itself, he first paid tribute to the talents of his cast. "I think", he concluded, "it's going to come off very nicely. It should be a good show."

AUNT HETTIE

After a year at Dalhousie University, the vivacious "Blond Bomber" is again in the UNB limelight and absorbed in her many campus activities. Janet Murray this year will play the leading role in the Drama Society's production of "The Girls In 509".

Although "sadly miscast" as a raspy, old, aristocratic Aunt Hettie, Jay considers her role a real challenge, having previously always played the role of prostitute, model, and the busty Jayne Mansfield type blond.

Jay feels that although the play is well written with polished, witty dialogue, its success will depend on the characterization. It is the weird, strange attitudes of Aunt Hettie and her niece, Mimsy, that make the play funny.

A true lover of stage and theatre Jay plans to make it her career. She will attend the Royal Academy of Dramatics in London, and eventually hopes to work in T.V., being especially interested in directing and script-writing.

MIMSY

Joanne Murphy, a newcomer to UNB this year, will star as Mimsy, one of "The Girls in 509".

Joanne became interested in the stage through her musical interests. She is an accomplished pianist and dancer. Although she has never done any musicals to date she feels they may be in the stars.

She loves acting and is especially enjoying her role as a middle-aged woman, Mimsy, who hasn't seen a man for years. Her most exciting scene comes when finally she snares her man in a zebra trap.

Joanne's future plans do not include professional acting, although she feels confident the stage will always remain one of her most fascinating hobbies.

OLD JIM

David Likely makes his third appearance on the UNB stage with "The Girls in 509" production. Last fall David was awarded the prize for the best actor for his part as Simon in "Doctor in the House". During the summer, he played the title role of "Everyman", the Summer School Production.

Although he prefers serious drama to comedy, David is extremely pleased with his part as Old Jim. "It's entirely different from any part I've played in the past. It's a real character part." David feels that an actor should make himself versatile by playing both in comedy and drama.

Though he's looking forward to the playing of this play, David has no intentions of making a career of acting. This could happen "only by accident".

DAVE SHARPE

Dave Sharpe, another rookie to the UNB stage but who has had previous acting experience in High School, plays the part of Summers of the Herald Tribune, another reporter clamouring for the story on Aunt Hettie and Mimsy.

HAROLD WILLIAMS

Another reporter, Rosenthal of the Post, is played by Harold Williams, who is also a newcomer to the UNB Drama Society.

PRE and REVIEWS

SPORTS CARS

The UNB Sports Car Club will hold its final rally of the term the Nighthawk Rally, on Saturday, December 2nd. The night rally of three to four hours duration will have a course of approximately 115 miles. The starting time on the UNB campus is 7 p.m. and registration and driver's briefing will be carried out at the Forestry and Geology Building. A safety check, the condition of lights on the competing vehicles will be held.

This rally is open to all types of automobiles — sports cars do not necessarily win — and anyone interested is asked to contact one of the following: Peter MacFarlane, Gerald Urquhart, Dick McCormach, Bob Melville (5-5468) or Ed Haggerty.

Newman Club

The UNB Newman Club held a Communion Supper on the 26th of November in conjunction with "Newman Club Sunday", which was celebrated throughout Canadian universities.

Mrs. R. Whalen, who took her M.A. in Psychology at McGill and is the wife of Prof. Robert Whalen, was the guest speaker. She chose "Anxiety" as her topic. She treated the subject with dexterity so that the most amateur psychologist could easily understand. Her discussion concerned the various phases of anxiety in the child up to his adolescent stage. She emphasized the problems of relationship between child and parent, and mentioned those between the young adult and himself.

Monsignor T. C. Boyd of Saint Dunstan's parish was the guest-of-honour. He spoke briefly but favourably of the youth of today.

Among the head table guests were: R. H. B. McLaughlin, C.E. Professor, Mr. Alcide Godin, Professor of Psychology and History at T. C., and the Revs. Kevin Berry and Brian Hansen, both of St. Dunstan's parish.

UNB FLYING CLUB

Next Monday the Flying Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. in Room 302 of the Forestry and Geology Building. Anyone interested in flying is welcome to attend.

The editors of Pre and Re View would like to call special attention to a forthcoming event on campus. It deserves much space and the fullest cooperation from the Brunswickan. It is therefore our great pleasure to fulfill our duty and remind all those lucky people who happen to be involved, that this is December and there are only 14 more days 'till exams.

LORNE E. ROZOVSKI

Lorne Rozovski plays Mr. McKitteridge, a young lawyer who has inherited his father's law firm. Besides Lorne's previous acting experience which includes appearances with the Metropolitan Company of New York in "Aida", and "Tourandot", he has already directed two plays, one of which was last year's Mummings Play, "Saint George and the Infidels". He is also directing a one-act tragedy "Hello Out There" to be presented in January.

TONY JESSOP

Another veteran actor, Tony Jessop plays the part of Winthrop Allen, chairman of the Republican party. Since actors must "live the parts they play", Tony by virtue of being the big wheel for the Republican Party, is prejudiced, but his comment on the play as a whole, is that it is a good political satire. He has had four years of dramatics — three with the B. C. S. Drama Society and one with UNB Drama Society, having appeared in the Mummings play last year.

ROGER CATTLEY

The memorable Hard-Boiled Herman of "Rose Marie" comes to us this year as another reporter determined to get "the story of the year" — Johnson of the Journal American. This is Roger's fourth performance with the UNB Drama Society, having also played the role of Tony Grimsdyke in "Doctor in the House" and having appeared in "Vicki".

JIM URQUHART

Jim Urquhart, having had one year of dramatics previously, makes his debut in UNB drama in "The Girls in 509". He plays the part of a newspaper reporter and photographer Ryan of the Daily News — an aggressive type who even stoops to bribery, of all things, to get his story.

MARTHA SAUNDERS

Veteran of several high school plays and UNB's "Vicki", Martha Saunders is cast effectively in the role of Miss Freud, a New York social worker who is "man-nishly tailored, immensely efficient and a not unattractive young woman." A slave of the political machine, Martha describes Miss Freud as a tweedish, school-marmish, career woman of the most extreme degree who transcends the subservience of her political position in the efficient but unfeeling manipulation of others. Of the play itself, Martha says it is very good and should have particular appeal for Canadians as it uses American politics to satirize the universal political dilemma.

Canadian Theatre Exhibition

Photographs and posters of outstanding theatres in Canada will be on display in the lower lobby of Memorial Hall, December 2nd, 4th and 5th. All who attend the play, "The Girls in 509" are urged to take advantage of the opportunity to see this display which has been arranged by Lorne Rozovski.

So far material has been received from many famous Canadian theatres, including Le Theatre du Nouveau Monde, which represented Canada at the World Fair in Brussels. Photographs and posters have also been received from the Manitoba Theatre Centre in Winnipeg, an enterprising theatrical group catering to amateurs as well as professionals. The Crest Theatre of Toronto has also sent beautifully mounted enlargements of Mavor Moore, Francis Hyland, William Job, and other famous Canadian actors.

Mr. Rozovski feels that their cooperation indicates that professional Canadian theatres are taking an interest in the UNB Drama Society. It is hoped that a closer association with these theatres will develop in the future, resulting in better theatre for students.

Raiders Start In Maine Play Washington State and Husson

by MIKE NOBLE

Weekend action on the basketball front finds the Red Raiders right in the thick of things with a pair of games scheduled across the border in Maine. It marks the first road trip for the varsity squad this year, and involves two real tough contests according to coach Don Nelson. Tonight the UNB cagers tangle with Washington State Teachers' College in Machias, and tomorrow the scene shifts to Bangor, where the powerhouse Husson Indians play host to the Raiders.

Both games herald the opening of the 1961-'62 campaign of the North East College Conference of Maine, and will provide for UNB their first real test to date. The original NECC was organized back in '53-'54, and is now entering its ninth year of basketball play. Since the league's inception, UNB has maintained a creditable showing through the years, with an overall average close to the "500" mark. Last season the Red Raiders had a 4-6 record in conference play.

A few facts and figures on both these American college quintets reveal the tough opposition the varsity will have to face on its swing through eastern Maine. The Teachers of Machias finished third in the NECC last year under coach Fred Reynolds. In past encounters, with Nelson at the helm, the UNB club can boast of only a single victory over the Washington State aggregation on the US floor. However, on the home court, Raiders sport a 4-2 record against this same opposition. Four veterans are back with Reynolds this year, including Mike Beal and Ordnan Alley of famed Beals Island, who meshed 23 and 17 points respectively in the last year's 85-63 romp over UNB. Louis Bernadine of Calais, and Wayne Watts, offensive center are back in the lineup.

Over in Bangor, Husson's successful coach, Del Merrill, gets set to put a most enviable record on the line. They have reigned supreme over the NECC for the past three seasons, going undefeated for the last two. The Indians also lay claim to the State of Maine small college basketball crown. Nelson has not experienced his best years against Merrill teams of the past, in fact, he reluctantly admits to being on the short end of a 12-0 record. Jack Scott, all star forward, will not be playing this year, having used up his eligibility last season, but Merrill states confidently that he feels stronger with veterans Smith, Trask, and 6' 7" Jim McKay back under his wing.

Nelson said that all twelve players making the trip will dress, and will probably see plenty of action. He expects to shuffle his lineup in an attempt to find the "big" line before hitting the big games in the Intercollegiate League. "We will be looking for a win tonight", Nelson commented, but offered no prediction on the tilt with Husson. He looks for the veterans to start the game, with Browne and Baber in the guard positions, Miller working the pivot, and flanked by Morgan and Tomchak on the forward line. Big things are expected of Labonte who showed, in the two games to date, that he is a contender of starting duties, and McLennan, high scorer against the Grads. Clary Lay and Ken Harvey, with a year's experience will provide lots of depth. Others making the trip are Burleigh, Martin and Jones.

MERMAIDS FIRST MEET

by ANN SELIG

The first swim meet of the season began with a bang on Saturday. The Saint John "Y" team simply outswam the UNB Mermaids in the first three events. But despite the 18-point lead which this gave Saint John, the UNB team held them there throughout the remainder of the meet to a score of 38-56. Thus Saint John did not gain a large lead after the third event.

The Mermaids of 1961-62 are mostly new girls to the team this Saturday they were swimming in a strange pool, and were swimming their first official meet of the season as well as swimming longer distances than in practices. The girls did, however, make a good showing. Martha Saunders, team captain and swimming in her third year with the Mermaids, was victorious in the 40-yard butter-

by Pat Pickard

Five veterans and five rookies comprise the 1961-'62 edition of the University of New Brunswick Red Bloomers. The big question is... can the Maritime Intercollegiate Women's Basketball champions maintain their winning ways and keep intact their 39-game win streak? It is anticipated by many on campus that the Bloomers will taste defeat sometime in their 17-game schedule. However, the Red Bloomers, under the excellent coaching and conditioning of coach Shaw, hope to build a strong team around the returnees from last year.

Sharp-shooter Sandra Pomeroy who will spearhead the attack, is the only returning forward from last year's squad.

Another forward position has been nailed by left-handed Peg Donovan, a third-year student who taught physical education at Campbellton last year. Joan Slater, the only freshman on the team, will also play forward. Pat Pickard, a first-string forward with T. C. last year will complete the offensive team.

Sharon Bickle, Winnie MacPherson and Betty-Anne Douglas will form a strong defensive unit which should give opposing forwards much difficulty.

A promising forward on last year's team, Mary MacAfee will try playing a defensive position on this year's squad. Heather Worsley, who gave up the possibility of a successful season with the UNB Mermaids, gambled and won on a guard position in basketball.

One of T. C.'s top guards last year, Janet Neilson, will guard for UNB this year and round out this year's edition of the Red Bloomers.

fly and picked up a second place in the 100-yard backstroke. Marilyn West emerged the winner in the 40-yard breaststroke and second in the 100-yard breaststroke. Since no one has yet shown a lasting interest in diving, Janet Skelton, who had already placed first and third in her events, volunteered to dive for the Mermaids against Mary Alexander, a diver with several years experience. Janet performed surprisingly well.

It was this type of enthusiasm, shown by all the Mermaids which prompted Coach Amby Legere to remark that he was pleased with their enthusiasm and determination, even when it was obvious they could not win the meet against the stronger, more confident team.

Today, the Mermaids leave for Bangor where they, along with the UNB Varsity Beavers, will swim against the "Y" there on Saturday.

heated, hard hitting displays of hockey on home ice the Devils edged the Oilers 8-6. The Devils suffered a 5-4 setback in a return engagement two weeks later.

The Oilers were a member of the now inoperative 4-team N. B. Senior hockey loop last season, and are presently independent following a schedule of exhibition games.

Coach Kelly of the Devils is not expected to declare his lineup before today. It will be the policy this season to carry a reserve of about 20 players from which the game to game lineups will be decided upon.

Beavers In U.S.

by Steve Holmes

The first meet of the men's Varsity swim team season will be held tomorrow at the Bangor, Maine, YMCA. The Beavers are travelling for the first meet in a home-and-home series with the "Y" and are expected to be pressed in several of the events in which they are strongest. But, as usual, the Beavers should again prove that they are one of the best contenders for major swim team, and individual titles in the Northeast and Canada.

The many standout UNB swimmers will see what their best performances of the year may be, as they compete with a team which defeated the UNB varsity two years ago, when they last met.

Ten events, including a diving competition, two team relays, and an individual medley are scheduled to be run off. There are great possibilities that several UNB team and personal records will be cut down to even lower times than have been set in the two inter-squad meets held this year — a total of ten unofficial Maritime Intercollegiate records were broken in the inter-squad meets in the last month.

In the "Y" 25-yard pool, Steve Jones and Chris Robb will meet competition in the 200-yard free style. Chris broke the old Maritime record of Preston Thom by a full four seconds two weeks ago. Bill Warner, who has broken our pool and Maritime records for the 40-yard free style, will swim the 50-yard event with Dave Sullivan.

The 200-yard individual medley, composed of swimmers doing the backstroke, butterfly, breaststroke and free style, each for fifty yards, will be Preston Thom and Gil Leach. Pres swims also with Don Savage in the 100-yard butterfly race, this swim appears to loom up as one of the closest events of the whole meet. Gil plans to better his 100-yard backstroke record, set two weeks ago.

The breaststroke this year has three strong contenders for the varsity positions. Three-year Beaver letterman, and Captain of the team this year, Herb Mitton is having competition from sophomore Bruce McDonald and freshman Noel Villard. Two of these "front-men" will swim in the 100-yard event Saturday.

Coach Amby Legere, the remarkable veteran of 15 years of undefeated Maritime swim competition, foresees what may turn out to be a tough meet. On the other hand, he says, anything can be expected because he does not know about the team.

On Saturday, the ninth of December, the "Y" will be hosted by the Beavers in the LBR pool. The meet will be followed by a reception for the competitors, coaches and meet officials.

Would the person who took the beige Macintosh raincoat with key case in pocket from the Flame Sat. night, please return to Matt Bates, 5-4433, Aitken House.
