SAVED; OR, WHY PAPA CHANGED HIS MIND.

In Six Tableaux.—No. 1.

CLARA.—Yes, George, dear, Papa has forbidden you the house, I know; but how much more romantic it is to meet here where none can see or separate us.

It was an hour past midnight, and Mr. Binns was fumbling about in the hall and mumbling angrily to himself. "What's the matter?" called out Mrs. Binns from the floor above. "There's two hat-racks here," he answered, "an' I don't know which one to hang my hat on." "You've got two hats, haven't you?" rejoined Mrs. Binns; "hang them on both."

DAUGHTER—"George says he fears he can't support me in the style I'm accustomed to." THE FATHER—"Marry him, anyhow. I can't keep it up much longer myself."

BACHELOR—"Do you think a man will have bad luck if he gets married on Friday?" BENEDICT—"Oh, I don't think it makes any difference whether it's Friday or not."

THIRTY SEVEN YEARS EXPERIENCE!

The eloquent testimony of

A FOND PARENT

who describes the brilliant results obtained with

BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA and PILLS

BARCELONA, SPAIN, MARCH 29, 1896.

MESSRS. LANMAN & KEMP, NEW YORK.

Dear Sirs:

Bristol's Sarsaparilla and Pills without flattery or adulation, are undoubtedly the best remedies to this day known for purifying the blood and radically curing all diseases allied thereto.

In 1875 when grievously ill and at the point of undergoing a delicate operation, I resolved, before submitting to the painful ordeal, to try Bristol's Sarsaparilla and Pills.

Thirty-six bottles of the one, and twelve of the other sufficed to cure me completely; and a few bottles of the Pills were enough to rid me of the sick headaches which followed.

In 1882, my daughter Concha fell seriously ill and subject to nervous attacks, which came to occur as often as two and three times a day. Physicians attended her without avail, again I recurred to Bristol's Sarsaparilla, three bottles of which sufficed to cure her completely.

At other times, serious illness befell my wife and my sons Enrique and Rafael, and these precious remedies alone sufficed to restore them to good health. . . . Before such convincing evidence, doubts are idle. . . . I have not words in which to express how satisfied I am with the results attained, or to give voice to my gratitude for the years of health the great blood purifier has brought to my family. I reside with my family in this house, Calle de Vergara, No. 8, and am prepared to testify to all that I have stated.

Very sincerely yours,

(SIGNED.) RAFAEL MAESTRE Y OLIVARES.

Some Famous Dogs.

Canines Whose Virtues Have Entitled Them to Rank as Heroes.

The Greeks raised statues to their dogs, says the Goodson Gazette. Socrates swore by his dog and Alexander the Great honored his by building a city with magnificent temples, which he dedicated to its memory.

Plutarch mentions a sagacious dog that King Pyrrhus found beside the murdered body of its master. Afterwards it sprung fiercely upon two of the King's soldiers, thus pointing them out as the murderers.

The memory of "the dog of Marathon" lives with the memory of the Grecian heroes who fell with it in that famous battle against the Persian hosts.

A monument was built over the remains of the dog owned by Zantippus, the father of Pericles. Denied admission upon his master's ship, he swam alongside of it from Athens to Salamis and fell dead from exhaustion at the feet of Zantippus the moment he stepped upon shore.

Homer erected a beautiful memorial to Argos, the dog owned by Ulysses—not out of marble, but in fervent verse that is far more enduring. When Ulysses after his long wanderings returned to his home disguised as a beggar, his dog, then twenty years old, blind and feeble, was the first to recognize him.

There was a dog named Soter, so noted among the Corinthians for his fidelity and watchfulness that he was voted a silver collar, on which was the inscription: "Corinth's Defender and Deliverer."

Another dog famous in history is "the dog Aubry" that belonged to De Montdidier, a brave officer under Charles V. of France. He saved his master from drowning, and, finding his body some time afterwards in the forest, watched beside it for days until reduced almost to a skeleton from hunger. During a game of tennis Montdidier had a dispute with a brother officer named Macaire, and the latter waylaid and murdered him in the forest. One day the dog met Macaire in the streets of Paris and, actuated by some rare instinct, sprung upon him and would have killed him had not the people interfered.

Macaire was suspected of being the assassin and Charles the Wise ordered the issue to be decided by a battle between the dog and Macaire on the island of Notre Dame. The man was allowed a club and a shield, and the dog a cask to which he might retreat when hard beset. The dog scorned the place of refuge, and in the second encounter fastened his teeth in his antagonist's throat. Macaire confessed his guilt and was afterwards executed at la Roquette.

The Seven Wonders.

The seven wonders of the world are often mentioned, but it is quite possible that a good many people would be puzzled if suddenly called upon to name them. Here is the list; put it in that best of scrap-books, your memory: The Pyramids of Egypt, the walls and hanging gardens of Babylon, the Pharos at Alexandria, the temple Diana at Ephesus, the statue of Jupiter Phidias (ivory and gold), the sepulchre of Mausolus, and the Colossus of Rhodes.

Practical Hints.

Brilliant Stucco Whitewash will last on Brick or Stone Twenty to Thirty Years.

Many have heard of the brilliant stucco whitewash on the east end of the President's house, at Washington. The following is a recipe for it as gleaned from the National Intelligencer, with some additional improvements learned by experiments:—Nice unslaked lime, $\frac{1}{2}$ bushel, slake it with boiling water; cover it during the process to keep in the steam. Strain the liquid through a fine sieve or strainer, and add to it salt, 1 peck, previously well dissolved in water; rice, 3 pounds, boiled to a thin past and stirred in boiling hot; Spanish whiting, $\frac{1}{2}$ pound, clean, nice glue, 1 pound, which has previously been dissolved by soaking it well, and then hanging it over a slow fire, in a small kettle, immersed in a larger one filled with water. Now, add hot water, 5 gallons to the mixture, stir it well, and let it stand a few days covered from the dirt. It should be put on hot. For this purpose it can be kept in a kettle on a portable furnace. Brushes more or less may be used, according to the neatness of the job required. It answers as well as oil-paint for brick or stone, and is much cheaper.

To Destroy Weeds in Walks.

The following method is pursued at the mint in Paris, with good effect:—Water, 10 gallons; stone lime, 20 pounds; flour of sulphur, 2 pounds. Boil in an iron kettle; after settling, the clear part is to be poured off and sprinkled freely upon the weedy walks.

Care must be taken, for it will destroy weeds; and as certainly destroy edging and border flowers, if sprinkled on them.

Another Use for the Onion.

A very convenient mucilage can be made of onion juice by anyone who wishes to use it. A good-sized Spanish onion, after being boiled a short time, will yield on being pressed quite a large quantity of very adhesive fluid. This is used quite extensively in various trades for pasting paper onto tin or zinc, or even glass, and the tenacity with which it holds would surprise anyone on making the first attempt. It is the cheapest and best mucilage for such purposes, and answers just as well as many of the more costly and patent cements. Some of the cements sold by street fakirs at 10 cents a bottle consist of nothing but onion juice and water, and the bottle and cork cost a great deal more than the contents.

"Food and Health" suggests a practical and easy remedy for insomnia. Wet a towel and rub downward along the spinal column from the nape of the neck to the base of the spine; also across the back of the neck from ear to ear; wet the towel several times and repeat the operation. The effect is rapid; the nerves are quieted the brain refreshed and sleep promptly follows. It is more effective than the strongest narcotic. Tepid water may be used if the patient can not stand cold water but it is not nearly as efficacious.

OUR TRADE-MARK.

In addition to our cautionary water-mark,

“LANMAN & KEMP, NEW YORK,” which appears in semi-transparent characters on every leaf of the pamphlet wrapped around the bottles of our several preparations, we beg to call the attention of the public to our registered which protects our specialties, and without which requisite, goods sold under the names mentioned below must be rejected as spurious.

TRADE MARK,

Said trade-mark consists of a narrow, white, steel-engraved strip label, in the centre of which the words “Trade Mark” appear between two representations of a phoenix (the old accepted emblem of our BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA), and underneath said words the facsimile of to imitate which is forgery.

The above described strip label is attached to every package or bottle of the following preparations, thus :

- On MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER: around the neck of the bottle.
- On BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA: across the top of the package containing the bottle.
- On ORIENTAL HAIR TONIC: on the back of the package opposite wrapper label.
- On ANACAHUITA PECTORAL: same as on Tonic.
- On BRISTOL'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF WITCH HAZEL: across the top of the package containing the bottle and also across the top of the cork.
- On BRISTOL'S WITCH HAZEL OINTMENT: around the glass box, serving to secure the wooden cover.
- On LANMAN & KEMP'S EMULSION: around the neck of the bottle.

To prevent the fraudulent refilling of bottles and packages bearing our trade-mark, we pray the consumer to destroy the labels, and even the packages, where convenient, after using the contents.

A careful observation of these simple precautions will avoid imposition,

LANMAN & KEMP.

BEAR IN MIND

THAT

BRISTOL'S PILLS

produce their effects without griping or debilitating the patient, as is the case with other pills which contain Calomel and other like mineral drugs. They are, withal, the most active and certain of all pills. Excel all others in that they

Can be taken without risk,

Never cause gripe or pain,

Do not debilitate,

Require no special diet,

Produce no constipation.

And another advantage, no less remarkable, is that the dose requires no increasing. With other pills it is necessary to continually increase the dose, as constant use make them lose their effect.

BRISTOL'S PILLS

ARE UNFAILING IN THEIR ACTION
EVEN WHEN TAKEN REGULARLY FOR MONTHS.

Are specially recommended for women, children and persons of advanced years, as their vegetable composition makes them absolutely harmless.

A HOUSEHOLD REMEDY
OF ABSOLUTE TRUST.

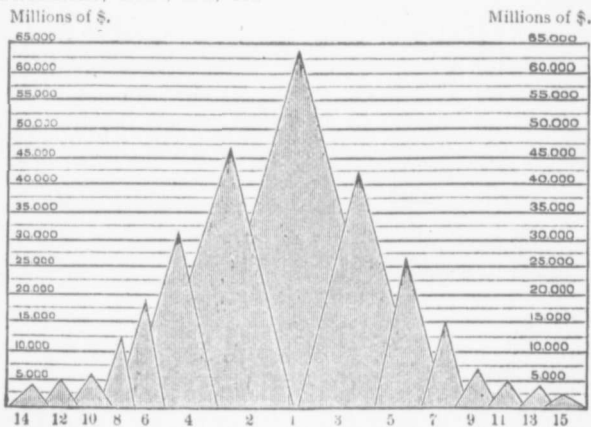

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR BRISTOL'S PILLS.

THE WEALTH OF NATIONS.

Professor Mulhall, the eminent English statistician has made an interesting comparison of the wealth of a number of the leading nations of the world, embodying the result of his data in a diagram which explains the subject at a glance.

The horizontal lines mark in millions of dollars the height of the various pyramids which represent the nations named in the following list.

By wealth is meant the tangible and visible possessions of the nations in lands, edifices, railroads, shipping, public works, money, merchandise, cattle, etc., ect.

This comparison bears date of the year 1888, and at that time the values represented, which are only approximate, were as follows:

1—United States of America.....	$61,120,000,000
2—Great Britain	47,000,000,000
3—France.....	42,000,000,000
4—Germany.....	43,185,000,000
5—Russia.....	25,115,000,000
6—Austria.....	19,275,000,000
7—Italy.....	14,815,000,000
8—Spain.....	12,801,000,000
9—Australia.....	6,865,000,000
10—Belgium.....	5,033,000,000
11—Holland.....	4,900,000,000
12—Canada.....	4,000,000,000
13—Sweden.....	3,185,000,000
14—Roumania.....	2,965,000,000
15—Argentine Republic.....	2,545,000,000

At some future date we hope to be enabled to publish a list giving similar data regarding the Central and South American Republics.

The same author makes the following estimate of the money in circulation in the world in 1890. Gold, $1,150,000,000. Silver, $1,005,000,000. Paper, $1,855,000,000, forming a total of twelve thousand and ten millions—$12,010,000,000.

ATTENTION

If your druggist offers you some other brand "just as good," do not take his word for it, compare it yourself with the true "Florida Water," and you will immediately detect the difference.

A GREAT SAVING OF LIFE.

One of the most successful results of modern scientific methods is found in the decreased death rate in large cities. The facts are proved by the most carefully kept statistics covering long periods of observation, and the one greatest cause of this actual saving of human life is found in the disposal of the sewerage, the cleansing and purifying of the city from the rubbish and filth which are unavoidable in all large gatherings of active, living beings.

Our systems may be likened to a community in which the most complex activities are in constant operation.

The fires of life are burning, and as there is no fire without its resulting pile of ashes or waste which must be removed to make way for new fuel, so also in our bodies there is an accumulation of debris and waste from daily wear which must be thrown off or the draught will be choked, the fire burn low and fitfully, or even go out altogether.

There is possibly no more prolific cause of disease than this collecting of waste in the system. It poisons the blood, weakens the functions of the various organs on whose normal action life depends, and manifesting itself first in a headache, nausea or loss of appetite, may end in Chronic Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Rheumatism or some malignant fever.

When you feel heavy and depressed,

When your head aches,

When your tongue is furred,

When your skin is sallow, you may be sure that the sewers of your system need flushing; that there is an immediate need of clearing your body of the refuse matter or more serious complaints will follow.

PAPA.—“Why, good afternoon, young man! Good afternoon! I heard your voices and just thought I'd see who it was. Glad to see you! Excuse my wet hand. I've been watering the garden.”

“So you are going to marry your employer's daughter?” “Betcher-life. The old man has worked me eight hours a day for the past ten years, and now I'm going to work him twenty-four hours a day for the next twenty years to get even.”

“I should like to go to my mother-in-law's funeral this afternoon, sir,” said the book-keeper to the “old man.” “So should I,” replied the proprietor, as he turned to his desk again.

“Mr. Barclay is so well-read; he repeated an exquisite quotation last night.” “What was it?” “I can't give you the exact words, but he said he'd rather be a something in a something than a something else in a something else.”

BLOOD AND HUMORS.

These precious remedies compounded from the prescription of an eminent physician who was peculiarly successful in the treatment of this Class of di-eases, have been constantly before the public for nearly three-quarters of a century, and this long period of existence is a most eloquent proof of their real merit. Wherever introduced, in all quarters of the world,

THEY HAVE NEVER FAILED

We are daily in receipt of testimonials from those who after failing to find relief for their troubles in any other treatment, have tried Bristol's Sarsaparilla and Pills and been fully restored to health. Odd Items.

Gravestones of Glass.

A company of glass workers have recently determined that ordinary plate glass will make a more durable monument than the hardest marble or granite known. Glass is practically indestructible. Wind, rain, heat and cold have their effect on the hardest rock; solid granite eventually crumbles away, and one can seldom read the inscription on a stone gravestone fifty years old. A glass stone will look as fresh a couple of centuries after its manufacture as on the day it was erected, and the inscription can be made ineffaceable.

A Luminous Cat.

A luminous cat has been invented and can be placed in any dark corner or nook and effectually scares away all rats and mice. This cat is struck or stamped from sheet metal or other like material, and is the exact counterpart of its animated feline sister. It is painted over with a luminous paint, so that it shines in the dark like a cat of flame. After being used for about a week the place is entirely rid of either mice or rats.

The Potato.

In 1596 the first potato was planted in England, in Holborn, about the time that Sir Walter Raleigh was planting the first Irish potato at Youghal, near Cork. For two centuries the potato continued as a botanical curiosity. When first eaten it was a delicacy, sometimes roasted and steeped in Sack, or baked with marrow and spices, or preserved and candied. When Parmentier developed the plant in France, Louis XVI. and Marie Antoinette wore the flowers as ornaments. Frederick the Great had to force the Pomeranian farmers to plant potatoes by the fear of his soldiers.

Bacteria and High Altitudes.

A Swiss scientist has been testing the presence of bacteria in the mountain air, and finds that not a single microbe exists above an altitude of 2,000 feet.

A Home Made Barometer.

A cup of coffee and a lump or two of sugar are said to be a very acceptable substitute for the official and not wholly accurate weather forecasts. Having dropped the lumps of sugar into the cup of coffee carefully, watch the air-bubbles that rise to the surface. If they suddenly rush from the centre to the side of the cup, be sure that it is going to rain very hard. If the air-bubbles assemble in the centre and then pass to the side of the cup in a deliberate way you must still be prepared for what the weather forecasts would call "some showers." But if the bubbles refuse to stir from the centre of the cup you may go forth to your labors assured of a fine day.

RHEUMATISM AND ITS CURE:

stands at the head of a long list of remedies which have from time to time been placed before the public for the relief of that scourge of humanity which claims its victims in every clime and country of the inhabited world.

No disease is more widespread, none has received more constant or closer study at the hands of the Medical profession, and among the many discoveries applied to its relief, no prescription has been so uniformly successful and prompt in its action as Bristol's Sarsaparilla. It attacks the disease in its stronghold, the blood, and by cleansing and purifying the life current and quickening its circulation throughout the body, it washes out the poison and throws it into the bowels where it passes in a natural manner out of the system.

If other remedies have failed you, do not give up until you have tried

Bristol's Sarsaparilla

IT HAS CURED THOUSANDS

IT WILL HELP YOU.
