THE TRAGEDY OF LOST TIME

THE wastage of man-power through strikes is given constructive attention in the August bulletin of the Royal Bank of Canada. Very distressing are the figures which accompany the article, and it is assumable that they have a deeper meaning to the men who, like bankers, have their fingers constantly on the pulse of the nation's industrial life than to the casual onlooker. Be that as it may, the facts in relation to six leading nations are as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Country, Number of Strikers, Days Lost. Germany: 1,866,373, 13,291,669. Italy: 1,781,359, 21,656,200. France: 1,186,670, 19,358,400. Great B.: 1,117,040, 15,826,900. U. S.: 359,700, 10,900,000. Spain: 727,700, 11,634,200.

Commenting on these facts, the editor makes the following pertinent and impressive observations: "A great many of these strikes have arisen from the fundamental error of one or both sides in the dispute in estimating the value of labor and commodities only in terms of money prices, and overlooking the real meaning of value—the ratio in which things exchange for one another." It is in the conception of value were generally and fully appreciated, a normal relation between wages and profits would speedily be reached and maintained. In a time of falling prices, both employer and employee would receive a smaller or monetary reward, but in the actual purchasing power each would receive the equivalent of his own productive contribution.

Neither wage earners nor producers can afford the losses arising out of wasted earnings time at this critical juncture in the world's history. The bulletin from which the above quotation was taken goes on to accentuate the fact that "in this country unemployment is increasing, though the seasonal demand for labor is affording some relief." Some rather alarming statistical facts are then given. For example, in the second quarter of 1920 the percentage of unemployment among Canadian Trades Union members was 2.7 per cent. In the fourth quarter a rise of 9.3 per cent. occurred; and then for the current year the figures are given as follows: January, 13.10; February, 16.12; March, 16.48; April, 16.27. Although authentic information is not available, it may be assumed that at the present time, due to harvest operations throughout the Dominion and to seasonal activity in building, the percentage is considerably lower; but all who are in contact with trade and industrial conditions are looking forward to the approaching winter apprehensively. In such a situation, and turning our eyes backward, every day of lost time assumes the aspect of a tragedy.

FRANCE AND POLYGAMY

THE diminution of millions of the male population of France arising out of the war has started a serious discussion in the republic of legalized polygamy. The huge numerical majority of women over men means a steady decline in population, and has led so able a publicist as Jean Hess to regard polygamy as a lesser evil. French juries are refusing to convict in cases of polygamy, notwithstanding the strong religious scruples of the people. The greater number of peoples among whom polygamy still exists are those under the sway of Mohammedanism, although its chief home is among the uncivilized races of Africa, where such marriages are found among the chiefs and strong or rich men of the community. Among the principal causes of polygamy in the past in various countries has been the scarcity of men due to destructive wars. Germany sanctioned the system after the Franco-Prussian war. It is, however, not to be lightly adopted. Among its numerous evils it tends to lower the status of women. Man-kind has approved monogamy in harmony with the essential and immutable elements of human nature. In the truest sense it is the only natural form of marriage. Whether France will sanction polygamy under certain conditions and for a limited period as a matter of national life and death remains to be seen.

AN ALBERTA INCIDENT

A DESPATCH from Granum, Alberta, states that a Mr. Holdring has been suspended from the United Farmers' organization for six months, his offence being the writing of some verses which were held to be of comfort to the enemy. It seems that the culprit was in favor of the election in his constituency of Mrs. McKinnery, an independent candidate. Being a poet he would naturally be sentimentally inclined and unable to resist the lure of Eve. He was tried by a jury, with judges and constables. He may have pleaded that he was under the impression that in discharging his franchise as a free citizen he was entitled to support the candidate whose return would best serve the interests of the constituency and the province. Such a plea would be set aside by an organization which specializes in class consciousness.

It is said that the convict has appealed from the sentence to a higher court, the D.F.A. central executive. This court, presided over by a sort of "Imperial Wizard" such as rules the Klu Klux Klan, will sit in secret session and determine the case. It is this central committee that holds the resignations of all the newly elected U. F. A. members of the legislature, which resignations they have signed as a condition of nomination. They are thus "answerable directly to the organization" and can be recalled at any moment. We must presume that the new Premier, Mr. Greenfield, is himself subject to the recall.

It would look as if we have a new form of government which represents individual opinion and replaces the constitutional British system conferred on the province by virtue of the Imperial Act of 1867.

A HEALTHY NATION

The report of the Chief Medical Officer of the Ministry of Health records a remarkable advance in the standard of public health. Births jumped from 18.5 per thousand in 1919 to 25.4 per thousand in 1920. The death-rate declined from 13.8 per thousand in 1920 to 12.4 per thousand. That is the lowest death rate ever recorded in this country, and it marks out the United Kingdom as easily the most healthy country in the world. More remarkable is the fall in the infantile death-rate. The deaths under one year averaged 128 per thousand in the ten-year period ending with 1910. Last year they were 80 per thousand. The chances of life are bettering at both ends of the scale. The rapid rise in births may be only a temporary symptom. Were the new rate to become permanent, we should soon have a population question in this country which would demand all our statesmanship to solve, and would leave us no escape from a large and permanent scheme of emigration to the Colonies.

Cholera Infantum

Cholera infantum is one of the fatal ailments of childhood. It is a trouble that comes on suddenly, especially during the summer months, and unless prompt action is taken the little one may soon be beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets are an ideal medicine in warding off this trouble. They regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, and thus prevent all the dreaded summer complaints. Concerning them Mrs. Fred Rose, of South Bay, Ont., says: "I feel Baby's Own Tablets saved the life of our baby when she had cholera infantum and I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Rev. J. Hilliard, Methodist minister to ill-health.

OTHER EDITORS' OPINIONS

Excerpts from the press of Canada, Great Britain and from the leading papers elsewhere for 'Ontario' Readers.

NEW VERSION.

The evil that men do lives after them; the good is often misconstrued by the attorney for the other side.—Southern Missouriian.

HE ALSO FARMED.

Herbert Greenfield, premier-elect of Alberta, came to Canada—the Land of Opportunity—as an immigrant from Old England. Perhaps at that time he little expected to attain to his present proud position, but, like a wise man, he studied and read and thought about the problems of the day, and when the call came he was ready.—Farmers Sun.

EVENING UP.

With Britain failing to lift the America's cup last summer and Canada losing the races on Lake St. Louis this summer, the British seemed rather unfortunate in international contests. But since the decisive success of Canadian boats and skippers in the George cup races at Hamilton and the latest British success in the channel, matters do not look quite so one-sided.—Toronto Star.

SEES SMOOTH WATER AHEAD

What Premier Lloyd George knows he is not telling. But it is fair to read his mind in the plans he is making for the near future. If he did not look for clear sailing in the Irish question after the preliminaries are disposed of, what reason would he have for preparing for new undertakings at Washington of so great moment as the disarmament conference?—New York World.

DECLINE IN RITUALISM.

A churchman tells me that one of the signs of the times is less ritualism. The Catholic party modifies none of its teaching, but in practice it is coming to favor quite a modified ritual—and that of the purist Anglican order. Even in the church of Rome the great religious spectacles of fifty years ago are rarely seen. Economy has perhaps something to do with it.—London Sunday Pictorial.

ON AND HONOUR.

The only genuine higher education is that which gets a man higher and hire.—Washington Post.

TYRANNY OF LOCAL OPTION.

State control having failed miserably in every enterprise known to experience, we see no reason to imagine it would succeed in the liquor industry, even if the country could afford the three or four hundred million required to purchase the property. As for local option, it was described on Tuesday by the Lord Chancellor as tyranny. Local option, indeed, represents one of the worst vices of democracy, the legalized dictation of a majority.—London Morning Post.

VANDALS AND BEAUTY SPOTS.

Possibly the time will come when the hand of the law will stay the hand of the vandal wherever social progress is such that the masses go picnicking in automobiles. In the meantime public roads, and private property abutting upon roads, will be littered with containers and "leavings," to the sorrow of persons who cannot enjoy a landscape the foreground of which is picnic plates mixed with newspapers and cracker boxes and the middle distance, cracker boxes mixed with newspapers and picnic plates.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WORRYING THE SOBER.

The true road to temperance reform is to punish those who misuse alcohol, not to worry the temperate. If we are to forbid the consumption of beer because some people take too much, we might as well abolish money because some people steal it. Those who should know are agreed that a great deal of the recent Labor unrest arose from the workers' indignation at State meddling with the price and quality of his favorite drink and the conditions of its consumption. He argues that a breach of faith with him has been committed by the Government in continuing the watering of his beer and its exorbitant taxation, and we are not sure that he is wrong.—London Daily Mail.

BAVARIA AND THE STUDY OF ENGLISH.

A recognition of the ascendancy of the English tongue is probably the reason why the Bavarian Minister of Public Education has laid before the Bavarian Parliament a proposal that the study of English, instead of French, be made compulsory in the public schools. However important French may be on the continent both to students and professional men, it yields first place to English in the marts of world trade, and in the world's industrial and financial centres. The Bavarian Minister, moreover, has not been slow to see, as probably have most Germans, the increase in territory which the British Empire has gained as part of the fruits of victory; and the quick-witted Bavarian has grasped the potential value in marks and pennings which might accrue to the German people if their sons and daughters all possessed a working knowledge of the tongue used by the American and British nations.—Boston Transcript.

PARDS.

So—good bye! The dreamy splendor of the mornings Breaking over yonder range shall call you back; Dusk and dawn and night and noon be filled with yearnings For the cattle-trail, the rough and ample shack.

So—good bye! Before your face the east is lying. Old and worn, and haggard with a thousand woes. Ah! you'll long to sit again a-saddle, flying. Past the dawn-dew, the odor of the rose!

When the mother calls, we question not, but answer, And the mother east is calling you, I know. But above the dancers' music and the dance. You'll be hearing songs the East-man never knew. Songs that drift there, wordless music down the starry. Nights we've roved, the range together, you and I; Thoughts so fragile you would scarcely think they'd carry. Over all the days and miles that interlie!

There will come to you, like lovers, softly gliding, Into all your thousand doings and your dreams, The camp songs, the round-up, the ridings, The wolf's howl, the bawling of the streams.

So—good-bye! Loose the bronco from the tether; He'll be ready and you'll want him by and by. 'Twill be sunny heart and song, and ranchers' weather. When we ride the range together, you and I! —Hugh J. Hughes.

BRITISH PROTEST TO U. S.

Little Yacht and Crew of Five Land in England. HALIFAX, Aug. 9.—Lieut-Commander Sidney C. Noughton, and four companions, have landed in (Burlington-on-Crouch, England, twenty-six days after they sailed from Halifax on the thirteen-ton yawl-rigged cruiser yacht "Neith." The little craft encountered tempestuous weather, but came through all right.

SENT CHEQUE FOR $5000

President Beatty, Chancellor of the University, Makes a Gift to New Rink.

Kingston—A very welcome announcement made in connection with the new "Jock Hart" rink is that President E. W. Beatty of the C.P.R. Chancellor of the University, has forwarded to the treasurer the sum of $5,000 for the building fund. This donation, taken in conjunction with other plans which the committee in charge has with regard to the rink, is affording great encouragement to the committee, and presages an early consummation of their work.

NEW OWNER OF SATURDAY REVIEW.

Victoria Colonist. —The controlling interest in The Saturday Review of London has been acquired by Sir Edward Mackay Edgar, a Canadian, who is a partner in a well-known banking house and last year received a baronetcy. Sidney Brooks, an able journalist, who has written an interesting monograph on President Roosevelt and some well-informed studies on Irish affairs, has been appointed editor. Thus another historic journal passes into new hands.

A Massachusetts man died from what he alleged was a kick in the stomach, administered by his wife.

THE "DAYSMAN"

Premier Meighen in his first interview in Canada on his return from Europe speaks of Great Britain as the "daysman of Europe." Daysman has "withered" like the autumn leaves and been swept by the winds of time on shores of forgetfulness since Spenser in the Faerie Queene wrote, "For what art thou that makest thyself a daysman?"

In the days of good Queen Bess a "daysman" was an arbitrator or an umpire, and was so called because he was given but one day in which to adjudicate the cause before him. Since those "good old days" arbitrators have been paid presumably by the day rather than by the piece and their deliberations have lengthened out into weeks and months, and sometimes into years, so that the word daysman has fallen into disuse.

WAY NORTH OF EDMONTON

Edmonton Journal. —The constant stream of highly placed C. P. R. officials northward is impressive. It indicates that that corporation has become keenly interested in the country that it is serving through its contract for the operation of the E. D. & B. C., and that its great resources are likely to be applied to making northern Alberta better known to the world and promoting its development. General Manager McGregor, of the E. D. & B. C., last week put into circulation some very striking information as to the progress of Marquis wheat, which was seeded at Fort Vermilion on May 1st. Stooling commenced on June 8th and on June 20th there was an average of thirty to forty-five stems. On July 16th the height, including the head, was 55 inches. When it is considered that this growth occurred at a point further north of Edmonton than Edmonton is north of the international boundary, an outsider must get a new idea of the possibilities of the province.

Had Hold of Chain on Dog Which Leaped into Water.

Kingston—A sad drowning happened at Campbell's Bay, when little Vincent Norris, the six-year-old son of Mrs. John Norris, of Schumacher, Ont., was dragged into deep water by his dog, which he was holding with a chain. Vincent had been playing at the water's edge with a number of children, one of whom is believed to have thrown a chip in the water. The dog, who had done the trick many times before, leaped after the chip, and in some manner the dog's little master was dragged in also. Before help could arrive he had sunk from view of his excited playmates on the shore.

POPULATION INCREASED.

Kingston Has 4,222 People More Than in 1911.

Kingston — The preliminary announcement is made that the census returns of 1921 gave Kingston a population of 23,096, an increase of 4,222 over the 1911 census, when the population was 18,874. The return is subject to correction. Adjustments on account of closed houses and absences have yet to be made. The Dominion bureau of statistics points out that it is the duty of any one who thinks he or she has been omitted from the census to notify the bureau to that effect, when an investigation will be made.

MOTOR CAR IS LOST IN FIRE

Mr. Maifland Sine, 6th Con. of Sidney, Suffers Heavy Loss Early Today

ORIGIN OF FIRE MYSTERY

Driving Shed and Contents Except Two Buggies go up in Smoke

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the drive-house with contents belonging to Mr. Maifland Sine, on the sixth concession of Sidney township, early today.

Mr. Sine and his family were seated at breakfast at six o'clock this morning when the building was discovered on fire. So great was the headway which the flames had made that only a democrat, badly burned, and a buggy with the top scorched, were left out.

In the drive-house the contents included a Chevrolet car, two buggies, one cart, one democrat, robes and blankets, a raincoat, one fur-lined coat, ploughs and milk cans, and all the small implements and tools connected with a farm. Upstairs were many other articles in storage.

Nobody was able to render the slightest assistance, as there was no means of reaching the neighbors. The building burned rapidly and was soon a mass of smoking embers.

Mr. Sine and his family had a hard fight to save their dwelling which was taking fire as it was in close proximity to the blazing drive-house. However, they managed to save the residence.

Embers from the building were carried over to a straw stack on the farm of Mr. Egbert Sine and set fire to it, but the fire was stamped out and the stack saved.

Mr. Sine's loss will be quite heavy, his insurance being very light.

What Shall I Do?

ANSWERED LETTERS.

"Brown Eyes"—It would be very nice for a girl of 14 who is moving away from her old home, to write postal cards back to several of her boy friends, all at the same time; put your new address on them and the boys can write you then if they wish.

"Waiting"—When a boy thanks you for a dance, little girl who is just learning, you should learn to smile graciously and make some such pleasant reply as "I enjoyed it too," or "That was a nice dance, wasn't it?" or "Thank you—aren't the music splendid tonight?" You see, you will be thanking him, not for dancing with you, but for the compliment of his thanking you, and so you should slip over your thanks lightly and add something to start the conversation and to make him feel at ease with you.

"Anxious"—You ought to go out with other boys—not to make your special boy jealous (that would be both foolish and wicked) but because it is the right thing for you to do and he has no right to be jealous.

"Shorty"—I'm glad you like our column. A hostess should present her guests at an informal party one at a time as they arrive, introducing those already present to the newcomers, mentioning his or her name only once and then repeating the names of the others to him or her.

I do not think it is proper to accept jewelry from a boy until you are engaged to marry him, unless possibly in exceptional cases between very old and dear friends. When a man brings you chocolates or any other gift, the way to thank him is to say "thank you," smile as though you were pleased, and proceed to share the gift with him and enjoy it. At the age of 16 I know there may be true love for your family, but not for a young man, my dear. By all means, say "good morning" to the elevator boy; that is just common politeness—but don't say it in such a way as to make him think it is anything but a formal salutation—don't deliberately "start something" and then be surprised if he attempts to finish it.

You must write for a personal reply to your other questions.

"Blue Eyes"—Your picture will not help the young man to meet people or to be less a stranger—so don't give it to him. When he goes away, you can suggest that it would be nice to hear how his trip progresses, but leave it for him to ask if he may write you.

The one and only way to make a "bashful man come out of his shell" is to be a jolly good pal to him until he learns to know and trust you and is no longer afraid to be himself with you; just overlook his shyness and cultivate his friendship by being a wholesome comrade and taking an interest in him. Those "strange, sad" looks are the regular stock-in-trade of many men, just as a girl counts on dimples and the "come hither" in her eye. Don't let them bother you—it's doubtless his way of trying to flirt, which he will soon get over when you convince him that you are not the flirty kind, but a fine friend of a girl.

EXPECT A YIELD 25 TO THE ACRE

Harvest Operations Going Ahead Rapidly Says Despatch from Winnipeg

PRINCE ALBERT LEADS Expect Crop in That District to Average High—Poorer at Regina

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. Aug. 10.—General unanimity exists all over the north country that with good ripening weather, a wheat yield over 25 bushels to the acre will be the extremely gratifying average.

20 Bushels at Regina
Regina, Sask., Aug. 10.—The average of Saskatchewan's fields' yield this year will be below twenty bushels to the acre, according to preliminary estimates made by field men of the Provincial Government Department of Agriculture.

Cutting, it is said, has commenced in some districts and will be general within a week.
WINNIPEG, Aug. 10.—Nearly 20,000 harvesters are due to reach Winnipeg today for distribution throughout Western Canada to points where work awaits them. Fourteen thousand men are headed this way on 13 special Canadian Pacific trains, and about 5,000 on six trains, are due the same day on the Canadian National.

Harvest Goes Ahead.
WINNIPEG, Aug. 10.—The weather continues cool over the Western Provinces and harvesting is going ahead rapidly. Outfits are held up at same points on account of rain particularly in Saskatchewan. Harvesters are pouring in from the East and are being quickly absorbed. Early threshing returns indicate a yield of about 10 bushels of wheat to the acre in southern Manitoba, but the North will pull up this to perhaps 15 bushels to the acre. The cool weather is stopping the spread of rust and allowing the heads to fill. New Wheat has been received at Calgary from southern Alberta and has been pronounced No. 1 Northern. Rye which has been received is also of good quality.

VILLAGE IN QUEBEC VOTES TO REMAIN DRY

OBITUARY

GUNNER L. R. SPAFFORD

His many friends in Belleville and vicinity were pained to learn of the death in Mowat Hospital, Kingston, recently of Lewis Roy Spafford, formerly of the G.T.R. locomotive staff here, and a veteran of the war. He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Spafford, Brighton. He worked on trains between Belleville and Toronto for three years previous to his enlistment in 1916 in the Canadian Field artillery. He was 29. He served two years in France, and was invalided out, undergoing an operation in England, and arrived at Halifax on Armistice Day. He had been in a military hospital ever since. The funeral held in Brighton was one of the largest ever seen there and was under G.W.V.A. and I.O.O.F. auspices.

CAN'T TRUST THE MEN Sees Better Chance for Inmates at Burwash Where Reform is Possible

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—Magistrate J. E. Jones, of Toronto, and formerly of Belleville, has come into the limelight prominently here by an interview with The Toronto Telegram in which he stated that he was "more than ever impressed with the stupidity of housing 780 men in the suburbs of a city."

This was his comment after a visit to the Portsmouth Penitentiary last week.

"Naturally," he added, "they can't have any semblance of trust put in them, whereas at Burwash they lead a more natural life. At Portsmouth they are under the guns of the warders all the time."

"At Portsmouth, however, the prisoners have separate cells, whereas at Burwash the men sleep in dormitories. The separate cell is far better, as there is less chance of private crime, and the contaminating of the younger by the older and more experienced."

"There are only twenty-one women there, but I found everyone opposed to having the women about the place, as it makes the problem much more difficult. The women should be a hundred miles away from the men."

"I found the new management slow in charge for a year, anxious to make a clean sweep and to make a new era in penitentiary management."

DON'T REMEMBER EARLIER HARVEST

Some Ontario Farmers Through Cutting and Some Have Threshed

YIELD DISAPPOINTING
Some Sales of Dry Milk Cows as Low as $12.00 to $15. Each

Following is a summary of reports made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

The harvesting season is said to be the earliest in the memory of Ontario farmers. Some have already completed the cutting of their grain, although others are now engaged with their oats. A considerable quantity of grain is being threshed in the field.

What barley and oats have been threshed have been a disappointment. The general yield is below the average, and in the case of oats much of it is light in weight. Rust is also reported. Very little grain so far has been marketed.

Corn is likely to be the most satisfactory crop of the season for both the crib and the silo, although Lambton reports the presence of considerable smut.

Elgin speaks encouragingly of the prospects of the bean crop.

Buckwheat is in full bloom, and at present promises a generous yield.

Potatoes as a rule are yielding poorly, although a few good fields have been reported.

Most of the sales of hay during the week were made around $20 a ton for this year's cut.

Wentworth reports some home grown Duchesse apples selling at $1 a basket.

Kent reports that a good deal of fall plowing is being done for fall wheat, some of it with tractors.

Lambton says that the acreage of fall wheat will be normal, or more, judging by the number of hay and clover fields that are being plowed up.

Grasshoppers have been doing considerable injury to crops in Lennox and Addington. One farmer estimates the damage to his oats at $500.

Several carloads of live stock were shipped from Paisley during the week. Ten heavy finished steers brought $7.85 a cwt.; others $4.50. All these animals were purchased around $20 a pound last fall.

Dundas says that a few dry cows have been disposed of as low as from $12 to $15 each, and that some milkers have changed hands at $20.

Lennox and Addington quotes milk prices at from $1.10 to $1.15 per cwt. at factories and at $1.25 for the Farmers' Dairy. Western condensaries are paying prices very much higher.

Hogs are going slowly to market at from $12.15 to $15 a cwt.

Ninety-three Boys from City in Camp

Forty-five at one Time Under Angus Buchanan—Best Year in Its History

Angus Buchanan, superintendent of the Boys' Work Department of the Y.M.C.A., has completed his series of summer camp periods at Camp Community. This year has seen more boys than ever before, and the camp a bigger success than ever, despite the fact the never-to-be-forgotten hot spell, when all camp activities had at times to be abandoned.

The splendid dining hall erected this year helped enormously. It is a permanent structure costing around $700 on a fine site overlooking the lake, with a stone fireplace, and with a kitchen in a separate building to the rear.

The boys were sent up in three detachments, conveyed there by members of the Rotary Club. The number attending each period follows: 1st, 18; 2nd, 45; 3rd, 45. There was some overlapping of periods and in all 93 boys were in camp.

They represented local Sunday schools as follows: Christ Church, 16; Tabernacle, 16; St. Thomas, 14; Bridge Street, 13; St. Andrew's, 11; Baptist, 6; John Street, 5; Salvation Army, 5; Emmanuel, 4; Holloway Street, 3.

RAINS STOP CUTTING.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 9.—Unusually heavy rains during the past week have interrupted cutting operations, especially in the southern sections of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, where it had been fairly general. Says the weekly crop report of the Canadian Pacific Railway, issued today.

Kingston—Advertisements are out calling for tenders for the construction of grading and paving roads, etc., around the Educational Block at the Royal Military College. This improvement in the road system there is in keeping with General Sir Archibald Macdonell's plans to beautify the grounds around the building as much as possible and to make some fine driveways there. These roads have been named after famous battles and generals and when completed will do much to add to the charm and attraction of the college.

Sugar Planters Look to Canada With Envious Eye

SASKATOON, Sask., Aug. 9.—Paul D. Sheridan O'Leary, of San Sebastian, Nicaragua, who passed through here recently, said he had been commissioned by South American capitalists to inquire into and report fully upon a proposal to produce wheat on an extensive scale in Western Canada, areas that will probably aggregate 30,000 acres or more.

Mr. Sheridan said that his principals had come to the conclusion that raising the staple product of wheat is worth trying. "But they first want certain data," he continued. "You see these people, practically all of us in Central America, and the adjoining portions of South America are in coffee and sugar extensively. The bottom has suddenly dropped out of sugar and coffee market. Coffee that was bringing 15 cents at the wharf now has dropped to about 2 1/2 cents; sugar which was bringing 30 cents at the wharf has dropped to about 3 cents."

"New fields of enterprise look inviting to these South American capitalists. They have been so greatly impressed by Canada that they mean to have a try at it. They propose to work upon organized lines, a very considerable wheat growing project, buying the land, certainly, but organizing the development upon an extensive scale that perhaps is more frequently observed in Southern America than in Western Canada."

Mr. Sheridan said that his chief trouble up to now was that the practical farmers he had met in this country did not keep costs. He said they could not tell him what it costs them to produce an acre of wheat. He expects the big agricultural colleges in the West to furnish him that data.

Man May Carry Hooch on Hip in B. C. so the Authorities Agree

VICTORIA, B.C., Aug. 9.—It is not unlawful for a man buying liquor from the government, under the new Moderation Act, to put a portion of it in a small container for the sake of convenience if he should wish to take a little refreshment on an outing, according to a ruling in local police court.

The decision is considered of great interest to many persons who have wondered what status a man with a "mokey" on his hip would have under the new act, which stipulates that all liquor must have the government's official seal, and the decision opens up a wide range of possibilities as to the government's ability to trace liquor that was originally sold under the act properly sealed and transferred to smaller containers for the owner's convenience.

In his ruling, the magistrate re-iterates that if a man bought a demijohn full of liquor from the government it could hardly be expected that he would pack the container wherever the owner wished to take some liquor.

PREMIER HO AND GLAD

Best Part of the Coming Back Says Meighen

ARRIVES AT HALIFAX

Wishes Complaining Would See Condition where

HALIFAX, Aug. 8.—Premier Meighen, who arrived here from England aboard the mania, emphatically complete approval of the conferences of the British Dominions such been attending recently.

A large crowd gathered to welcome the Premier and greeted his arrival with cheers. Mr. Meighen, who was accompanied by his wife and daughter, was met at the station by a large number of his friends.

At the conclusion of his speech, the little daughter of the Premier presented Mrs. Meighen with a bouquet of roses. The Premier and his party then proceeded to the home of Hon. E. B. Meighen, where they were guests for the evening.

They left early Sunday morning for Ottawa, where they will remain until the Premier will return to Ottawa.

GREAT PEACE

"I will give you one of the experiences of the peace which has impressed on my mind the undoubted necessity for peace. It is not a much less an empty phrase to say that Great Britain is the greatest factor in the world for preserving peace."

With regard to Canada, Mr. Meighen was opinionated to know there is much to be learned from the experience of the British Empire. Their Government to understand all the situation, to get our shape its course in the considered judgment of the British Empire.

CO-OPERATION

"That is the purpose of the conference. So sign policy is concerned think there are many things that would have this country invited to come and reason together. With the nations of the world, we must walk away from them of isolation is the gospel under a thin disguise, the fullest self-government of a people could desire heritage—and I know I want to take it away conditions I am for co-operation."

"I believe in the British Empire. We have our Canada—the disturber the restlessness and seem epidemic in the not left us unmolested in a sound position of a lively strong position, courage and confidence class be reasonable soon be work for all to work and ten years' country will be the world."

PREMIER HOME AND GLAD OF IT

Best Part of the Journey is Coming Back Says Hon. Mr. Meighen

ARRIVES AT HALIFAX Wishes Complaining Canadians Would See Conditions Elsewhere

HALIFAX, Aug. 8.—Premier Meighen, who arrived here Saturday night from England aboard the steamer Carmania, emphatically expressed his complete approval of the holding of conferences of the Premiers of the British Dominions such as he had been attending recently in London.

A large crowd gathered at the docks to welcome the Premier home and greeted his appearance on the gangplank with enthusiastic cheers. Mr. Meighen looked uncommonly well and replied vigorously to the address presented to him by Mayor John S. Parker on behalf of the city of Halifax.

At the conclusion of the Premier's speech, the little daughter of Mayor Parker presented Mr. Meighen with a bouquet of roses. The Prime Minister and his party then went to the home of Hon. F. B. McCurdy, where they were guests for the night.

They left early Sunday morning by special car attached to the Ocean Limited, for Montserrat, Quebec, where the Premier will remain for a short time prior to returning to his desk at Ottawa.

GREAT PEACE FACTOR "I will give you one thought that the experience of the past few weeks has impressed on my mind. I have been impressed with the real value, the undoubted necessity of these conferences. It is not a mere platitude, much less an empty patriotic boast, to say that Great Britain is the greatest factor in the world today for preserving peace. It is a practical, a solemn, vital truth. In the very nature of things she is the day-man among the nations of Europe, and you cannot in these days have peace anywhere unless you have at least substantial peace in Europe.

The influence of the British statesmen in the councils of the world is greater because the Dominions and India are within the Empire and because she reflects or wants to reflect their views as well as her own.

With regard to Canadian affairs Mr. Meighen was optimistic. "I know there is much to be done and I have been impatient to get back to take a hand in the work," he told the crowd on the pier, "but those who lament about Canada have not seen much of other countries in these times."

Again with reference to the importance of the Premier's conference, he expressed obvious enthusiasm. "There is no question that the people of the British Isles are sincerely anxious to get the standpoint of the Dominions. Their Government wants us to understand all the facts of the situation, to get our opinions and to shape its course in consonance with the considered judgment of the entire league of British nations."

CO-OPERATION AND UNITY "That is the purpose of consultation in conference. So far as the foreign policy is concerned, I do not think there are many in Canada who would have this country decline the invitation to come and help, who would have us ignore the call to come and reason together. We must walk with the nations of this Empire or walk away from them. The gospel of isolation is the gospel of separation, under a thin disguise. We enjoy the fullest self-government that the heart of a people could desire. That is our heritage—and I know of no one who wants to take it away. Under these conditions I am for co-operation and for unity.

"I believe in the British Empire. We have our troubles here in Canada—the disturbances of trade, the restlessness and disorder that seem epidemic in these times have not left us unmolested. But we are in a sound position and a comparatively strong position. Let us take courage and confidence, and let every class be reasonable and there will soon be work for all who are ready to work and ten years from now this country will be the envy of the world.

"I like to travel, but the part of it I like best is the coming home. There is nowhere else in the world that I enjoy a visit to so much as the British Isles. The United Kingdom is the central point of this Empire—most of us regard it as the home of our race—and at the present time, in the midst of turmoil and distress and among the colliding passions that the war has given birth to and left behind, that country is the one great steadying force able and willing to stretch forth its hand and hold the situation and preserve some measure of peace. PETES TRIMMED ON OWN LOT; HELD SCORELESS FOR 7 FRAMES FINE BATTLE IN LIFTLOCK CITY

Grand Trunks won another "glorious victory" Saturday afternoon at Riverside Park, Peterborough, when they defeated the Petes by 5 to 3, by getting off to a good start.

For a time it looked like a repetition of the game against Oshawa. It was a five-zero score for the greater part of the game and only Peterborough's dangerous rally in the eighth and again in the ninth saved them from being blanked.

Goyer, as usual, performed in all his old time splendor. He was in two or three tight boxes but with the aid of his strong left arm, saved the situation right at the home plate. This was clearly shown in the seventh innings when second and third bases were filled. Then Goyer applied the strike out method—he sent the next three batters out. In the eighth the home team started hitting and the Petes scored their first run. With two men on bases Goyer again applied his whip and struck out the next three batters.

In the ninth, the Peterborough rally looked a little dangerous—with two men out, they again scored, this time on a wild pitch. Two hits followed with a run. The next man was struck out.

Goyer was pitching in his best form, no less than fourteen of the home team taking that route. Ray Rose, his mound rival, was also strong. Striking out nine of the Trunks.

Holyman, who played in place of Cherritt gave a good performance at short.

W. Mills and R. Rose were the star-hitting performers, each with a triple and a double.

"Peeny" Mills made a daring catch in the sixth, Goyer and he both going after it and Goyer missed it but Mills caught the elusive sphere as it dropped.

The left field three-bagger of "Peeny" in the first nearly went over the fence.

Belleville's initial scoring was done in the first and with two men out followed by a series of hits, the only other innings when the locals tallied was in the third. Two hits, followed by a series of errors, netted Belleville three runs.

Every member of Walter Gerow's team played his best, giving an unrivalled performance in the field.

"Jakey" Solomon, the manager of the Petes, was up to his circus tricks again, providing ample amusement for the visitors, if not for the Lift Lock fans and raised quite a row over the Belleville scorer sitting with the visiting team.

Soloman says he is coming down to beat the Grand Trunks on Wednesday, so a great game may be expected, especially in view of the Peterborough fine performances away from home.

In the fourth innings it was raining quite hard and the game was called for thirty minutes to see if it would stop. After twenty minutes wait the game proceeded. The cries of the Peterborough team to send it down strong gaining them nothing.

MANY AMERICAN TOURISTS. Cars Pass Through at Rate of Eight a Day.

Kingston—American tourists have been passing through here at the rate of eight a day. They have large family cars and roadsters, and many of them are equipped with tents and camping apparatus. On the York road one can see many tents pitched at night-fall, and between Kingston and Toronto the sight is now a familiar one. This is really only the beginning of the automobile tourist traffic, and it is certain that we are destined to see it grow to great proportions. Kingston offers a peculiar attraction because of its great water front and the cool breezes that blow even on the hottest days, and while some tourists pass right through many take advantage of the opportunity to replenish their supplies and put up at one of the large garages where everything can be done for any make of car. The hotels, too, are patronized, and in order to be in a position to meet all possible developments in this class of trade, the civic hotel committee is zealously engaged in efforts to increase accommodation.

AIRCRAFT USED TO FIGHT FIRES

Northern Ontario Blaze Which Threatened Big Loss Quenched by This Means

FIRST TIME IN CANADA Detection of Fire and Forwarding of Fire-Fighters by This Means

TORONTO, Aug. 8.—A forest fire in Northern Ontario was recently rapidly suppressed by the efficient and effective use of aircraft in spotting and reporting the conflagration and subsequently carrying forest fire rangers to the scene of the fire.

The story is told by Capt. J. F. Tupper, C.A.F., Camp Borden, who gives a summary of the official report in the current number of "Aviation and Wireless News," the journal of the Aero Club of Canada.

While flying to Clear Water Lake to sketch timber types, the observer first noticed a small blaze between Cliff and Cedar lakes, district of Kenora. At this time it was so small that it could easily be mistaken for a camp fire. On his return trip it was pin-pointed, and had during the short time of three-quarters of an hour, increased in size appreciably. On arriving at Sioux Lookout he notified Fire Chief Dowd, of Kenora.

Authority was secured from the Provincial Forester, E. J. Zavitz, at Toronto, and Rangers Carroll and Labarre, with provisions for two days and necessary fire-fighting apparatus, were landed at Cedar Lake, seventy-five miles from Sioux Lookout, and within one mile of the fire. The following day, owing to a heavy gale fanning the almost extinguished flames, two machines were employed to take four more men with provisions for three days and necessary fire-fighting equipment. Additional provisions were taken to Cliff Lake by aircraft, and of course the rangers returned by air route.

Aircraft without doubt was of tremendous value to Canada in this instance, owing to the extremely bad fire conditions, due to the lack of rain, making any fire at the time a potential source of disaster to the whole countryside. The fire's position, too, was such that it was inconspicuous from the regular rangers' canoe route, and would not have been located until of such size as to be beyond control. The fact of its being valuable land and the rapidity with which it was gaining ground made it important that rangers should be on hand at once.

Aircraft can claim the following triumphs in connection with the rapid and successful suppression of this fire: 1. The detection and accurate location, at least two days in advance of ground methods. 2. Excluding the necessary time elapsing between applying for and receiving authority to proceed with the work, two men with provisions and necessary fire-fighting equipment for two days were placed at the first approximately three and a half hours after detection. 3. Reinforcements were supplied with necessary fire fighting equipment and supplies in time to cope with the situation which could not have been accomplished by canoe. 4. Because rapid communication between the fire and Sioux Lookout, the condition of the fire was known from day to day, and if necessary more rangers and equipment could have been taken in.

BAD FIRES DOWN EAST

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 8.—Forest fires of unprecedented proportions, covering in the aggregate many scores of square miles and doing damage as yet impossible of estimation, swept through sections of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick on Saturday and Sunday. The worst conflagration was reported in King's and Queen's Counties, New Brunswick, where nearly three score residences and numerous buildings were destroyed. Information from Cumberland County, Nova Scotia, was meagre, but it was indicated that isolated farms and scattered settlements in that section had been wiped out. The worst forest fires in years were reported from Cape Breton Island.

So far there has been no loss of life and the people of the Provinces are praying for rain.

Talcum powder valued at $2,000 destroyed in an Indianapolis drug store fire. It is estimated this would have been enough to take the shine from 1,796,892 noses.

Canada's New Governor General on Board Empress of France

SHIP WAS EARLY

Arrangements Made to Entertain Vice-Regal Party Until Tomorrow

QUEBEC, Que., Aug. 10.—Baron Byng, Canada's new Governor General, arrived here on the Empress of France this afternoon. As this ship arrived earlier than was anticipated arrangements have been made to entertain His Excellency privately until tomorrow when he will be formally sworn in.

The program of arrangements, given out here by Thomas Mulvey, Under-Secretary of State, calls for Premier Meighen going on board the Empress at 10.30 a.m. on Thursday to pay his respects to the new Governor. At 10.45 the Government steamer Lady Grey will go alongside the liner and take Lord and Lady Byng and suite to the King's Wharf, where they will land and be received by Sir Louis Davies, the Administrator of the Government of Canada, Sir Charles FitzPatrick, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Quebec, and members of the Federal Government and the Provincial Cabinet.

As the Lady Grey proceeds to the wharf, a salute of nineteen guns will be fired from the citadel. After a short tour through the city streets, preceded by a traveling escort, the Governor-General and Lady Byng will proceed to the legislative building for the installation. After the swearing in there will be another salute of nineteen guns from the citadel. Addresses will then be presented to His Excellency by Premier Taschereau on behalf of the province and Mayor Samson for the city to which Lord Byng will reply.

Later His Lordship and Lady Byng will be entertained at luncheon in the legislative restaurant by the Canadian Government, at which Premier Meighen, seconded by Premier Taschereau, is to propose the toast of the Governor-General's health. Lord Byng will reply. A stay will be made at the citadel until the evening, when Lord and Lady Byng will be entertained at dinner by Sir Charles FitzPatrick at his official residence, Spencerwood. The Governor-General leaves by special train for Ottawa at 10.20 p.m., and reaches the capital at 2.15 p.m. on Friday, where another formal welcome will await him.

On the "France," Steamer Empress of France, Aug. 10 (By Wireless)—After a record voyage on the Empress of France, Lord and Lady Byng and staff will reach Quebec at noon today to be officially welcomed.

GAME WENT 19 INNINGS

St. Louis Defeated Washington—Davis Pitches Whole Game
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—St. Louis defeated Washington yesterday 3 to 6 in 19 innings, a new record for the league this year. An error by P'Kourke in the ninth inning prevented the locals from winning in the regulation period. Both clubs tallied once in the tenth, and there was no scoring thereafter until the nineteenth inning, when the visitors registered twice on a single by Sisler, a pass to Williams, Jacobsen's safety, an intentional pass to Severoid, and Gerber's infield out. Acosta finished the game in the box for Washington after relieving Mogridge in the tenth. Davis pitched the entire route for St. Louis, and held the locals in the last nine innings.

ROCKWOOD MAN COOKED TO DEATH WHEN SEPARATOR RAN INTO ENGINE

Broken Tongue Caused Collision and Victim Waited Too Long to Escape—Was Able to Give Directions for His Release.

QUELPH, Ont., Aug. 10.—A horrible accident occurred at Henderson's Mills corner, near the village of Rockwood, when Lyle Miller, the 18-year-old son of Robert Miller, of Rockwood, lost his life. Mr. Miller and his son, who operated a threshing outfit, were returning to Rockwood after a day's threshing at the farm of Edgar Harris, at Vinegar Hill. The threshing outfit consisted of a separator and tractor engine, and the two men were riding on the engine, which was pulling the machine. While coming down the hill at Henderson's mill the tongue of the separator broke, letting the machine go forward on the engine. The father jumped, but the son waited in order to shut off the engine. This he did, but before he could jump off the engine step, the separator crashed into the engine, and he was helplessly caught and held there until he was literally cooked by the fire in the engine and steam and hot water from the boiler.

TWIN BOYS GREET FIRST V.C. HERO.

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 10.—Mrs. Michael O'Leary, with twin boys a few months old, arrived here on the Cunard liner Carmania and left for Toronto to meet her husband. Mr. O'Leary was the first Canadian to win the Victoria Cross in the war. He was married overseas and has not yet seen his twin boys. O'Leary was in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police before the war.

Despite the agony which he suffered, young Miller was able to direct his father how to release him, and he instructed him how to block the wheels of the separator and let the engine to go forward. Owing to the fact that it was dark and the father all alone, it was difficult for Mr. Miller to make haste, and when the son was finally freed he was unconscious and in a dying condition. His flesh in many places was burned off and the bones exposed. He was hurried to the Quelp General Hospital, where he died.

TEACHERS HERE NOT ALL READY TO AID STRIKERS

Some Belleville Educationists Object to "Strike Fund" of C. T. F.
A TORONTO PROPOSITION Federation Endorses Plan to Reimburse People in West Who Lost Pay

Local teachers are not a unity apparently in favor of acceding to the proposition endorsed "unanimously" but after a good deal of oral sniping by the Federation of Teachers in Toronto yesterday, that is to say, to raise a fund to support western teachers on strike. It was impossible to reach all teachers here but with a number seen there were decidedly two views.

The negative view was based on the assumption that the western people might very well look out for themselves.

A despatch from Toronto says: After considerable discussion on the question of raising an "emergency fund" by the assessment of every member, the Canadian Teachers' Federation, at its closing session last evening unanimously adopted a resolution recommending the reimbursing of the teachers of the Western Provinces who have suffered financial loss during the recent strikes. The text of the resolution was as follows:

Whereas certain Canadian teachers have suffered a severe financial loss in standing for principles for which the C.T.F. stands, we therefore recommend that the Executive of the C.T.F. reimburse equitably those teachers through their Provincial organizations as soon as the funds are available.

At the present time the federation has no funds available for this purpose, as it has been in existence only for a year, this being its first annual meeting.

RESERVE FUND CONSIDERED
The question of what amounted to a strike fund was introduced by a resolution from the Alberta Teachers' Alliance, proposing that every member of the organizations affiliated with the Canadian Teachers' Federation be assessed one dollar as a "reserve fund for contingencies."

The Ontario delegates were opposed to the establishment of anything in the nature of a "strike fund." Miss Arbuthnot suggested that a resolution be prepared and sent out to the Provincial organizations for consideration. She stated that the Ontario Federation had no power to assess its members, but she was sure that the teachers of that Province would be just as liberal as those of any other Province and would be ready to bear their share in supporting any fund for the assistance of teachers who were standing for the principles of the Federation.

CITY COUNCIL OF 12 MEMBERS

Belleville's Population Now Called 11,944 Gives Room for 11 Aldermen

City Council will next year likely be composed of twelve members, eleven aldermen and the mayor. The by-law which governs the election of members of the municipal body permits one alderman for every one thousand inhabitants, and as the recent Dominion census showed a population of 11,944, the council of the year 1921 will have a membership of eleven aldermen. As there is always trouble to find candidates for municipal office, it will be easier to find the way into the council.

THE RUSSIAN FAMINE Lenin's Wires Paris That Need is Huge—U. S. Prisoners Released

PARIS, Aug. 10.—In a speech before the Allied Supreme Council today Lloyd George advocated neutrality on the part of the Allies towards the Greece-Turkish war.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—Tension over the Upper Silesia question which was aroused when the Supreme Allied Council began the sessions here on Monday, appeared materially decreased today.

Agreement by France, Britain and Italy in principle to the frontier to be drawn between Poland and Germany through Upper Silesia appeared to have cleared the situation. It was expected that other questions before the council will be quickly decided. The situation raised by the Greek offensive against the Turkish Nationalists is the most important question on which there is any divergence of views. Russian matters also have to come up.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—Five lives were lost at Lombardy, Ont., when Thomas Toohy, aged 23 years, and his four children, were drowned in the waters of Otter Lake, one of the Rideau chain of lakes, situated about four miles from Smith's Falls.

The father and three of his children made a gallant effort to save the life of Laura Toohy, aged 9 years, who, while bathing, had waded out beyond her depth. The dead are: Thomas Toohy, aged 53 years, father.

Bernard Toohy, aged 27 years, his eldest son.

Kathleen Toohy, aged 25.

Dorothy Toohy, aged 11.

Laura Toohy, aged 9.

At the spot where the accident occurred the water is of the uniform depth of about two feet for about 30 feet from the shore. Beyond that there is a sudden drop, and the depth is said to be from 20 to 30 feet.

None of the victims were swimmers.

Field Secretary for Shantymen's Christian Association Tells of Work

ARE SHORT OF MONEY Big Work Going on Among 50,000 Men in Lumber Camps in Ontario

Rev. Thomas Joplin, field secretary of the Shantymen's Christian Association, is back in Belleville for a two days' visit in the interest of the work among the lumbermen.

"We have a deficit of about $1,500," said Mr. Joplin. "We have the biggest staff of workers in our history—forty-one and we have offered to take them on as the need had opportunities are so great."

Two workers were overcome in their relief work in Northern Ontario during the forest fires.

Shantymen's work is not confined to Canada. In Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and Kentucky, similar activities are carried on and there are urgent calls to open up work in at least ten other states.

During the last year 1100 camps were visited by the missionaries and 55,000 men were addressed, of whom 13,000 were foreigners and 8,000 French Canadians.

The Association was founded by William Henderson, of Toronto, in 1908. For thirteen years it has been distributing gospels and tracts to men in the mining and construction and lumber camps and sending missionaries to them.

Quarterly service was well attended on Sunday. The new minister, Mr. Seymour, was present.

When a girl in her teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her and dainties do not tempt her appetite, you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with.

Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches, and breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anemic.

Many mothers as the result of their own girlhood experience can promptly detect the early signs of anaemia, and the wise mother does not wait for the trouble to develop further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which renew the blood supply and banish anaemia before it has obtained a hold upon the system.

Out of their experience thousands of mothers know that anaemia is the sure road to worse ills. They know the difference that good red blood makes in the development of womanly health.

Every headache, every rasp for breath that follows the slightest exertion by the anemic girl, every pain she suffers in her back and limbs are reproaches if you have not taken the best steps to give your weak girl new blood, and the only sure way to do so is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

New rich red blood is infused into the system by every dose of these pills. From this new rich blood springs good health, an increased appetite, new energy, high spirits and perfect womanly development.

Give your daughter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and take them yourself and note how promptly their influence is felt in better health.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

What Shall I Do?

ABOUT "STEADIES"
 Ques.—Dear Miss Page: I am 21 and have enjoyed the company of several girls, caring nothing for any of them until about a year ago when I met one whom I seem rather to be with than any other. She is 17 and sometimes we each try others, but are always glad to come back together. I notice you are opposed to "steadies," so would you advise us to just quit for good even though we would rather be together than with any other boy or girl? We are just "friends" and must, as circumstances are, be so for several years to come. During these years should we continue to be together? Is it possible to have met the right girl so early?—Cole Eight.

Ans.—I am opposed to young boys and girls settling down to just one friend of the opposite sex—in many cases, the first one they've ever known—thus cutting themselves off from the companionship of others who would interest and benefit them, and eliminating all possibility of finding out whether the "steady" is the "right" one or not. Where there is no chance for comparison, there can be no choice. But only a blind acceptance—with the probability of one's eyes opening to the charms and merits of another when it is too late to change one's mind without disaster.

A girl should have only one lover—a man only one sweetheart—but they are both entitled to, and need to have, many friends of both sexes, both before and after love comes. Consequently, I believe that the "steady" should enter on the scene only when the man and the girl are ready to engage themselves to marry one another, and that before that time they should both enjoy the friendship of "the more, the merrier."

It is entirely possible that you, "Cole Eight," have met the "right" girl. But whether you have or not, why should either of you forego a perfectly proper friendship that you both enjoy? You may or may not want to marry one another at the end of these "several years," but a fine, wholesome friendship now will only help you to find out for sure. But until she is old enough to know her own mind (which she can't be altogether sure of at 17) and until you are old enough and prosperous enough to ask her to marry you within a specified time, don't be lovers—just be the best of comrades and then let Time decide the rest for you!

ALL A MATTER OF TASTE!
 Ques.—Dear Miss Page: I am 19 and receiving attentions from a young man two years my senior. Since he is employed at a big undertaking establishment, he often brings me flowers as a token of his affection. Is it right for me to accept them?—Lily.

Ans.—Flowers are one gift that may be offered by anyone to anyone and accepted, with propriety. One might prefer that the flowers come from a florist's or the young man's own garden, perhaps, but evidently his heart is in the right place anyway.

This is to be a year of special honor for nurses at Canada's National Exhibition. Not only in the great parade on Warriors' Day will the military nurses only be second to the amputation cases, but on Sept. 1, at the Women's Luncheon, Matron-in-chief Macdonald will be one of the guests of honor. Illuminated addresses containing a nation's tribute to our war nurses will be presented to her on behalf of the Exhibition Directorate, and the Soldiers' Comfort branch of the D.S.C.B. Copies of these will afterwards be sent to every nurse who served during the war.

"BABY DOLL" TYPE DISAPPEARS GRACEFUL, DIGNIFIED LINES, NOW

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Spectators at the fall fashion show here were relieved to see that skirt lengths retained the freedom of this season. With only one or two exceptions, which were usually of lace types, or draped gowns, no longer skirts were shown.

Both coats and dresses show fuller skirts, the latter following the Spanish lines, which was a rather dominant note expressed even more in millinery than in costumes. Straight lines and heavy embroidery remain developed in metallic threads, chenille, or combined with nail heads in a variety of metallic colors, giving unusual chic to skirts. Side panels, longer than the skirts, gave the illusion of longer skirts.

Next in importance to skirts were sleeves, and here women again expressed satisfaction. While novelties were shown, such as mandarin sleeves, or a square one fitting into a waist line armhole, which were reserved for evening or dinner frocks, woolen gowns retained the elbow length sleeve. The mandarin sleeves were features of a number of coats, many expressed in furs. Roll collars continued supreme, with many expressions of chin collars.

A noticeable change in evening types was the virtual disappearance of the "baby doll" type, in preference to the opera type, the graceful dignified lines expressing individuality. Waistlines showed virtually no change, continuing low and outlined in clever sash or belts, while the necklines carried out the general idea of the frock and its use.

A Spanish evening dress of orange taffeta and a low waist, with basque effect and a circular skirt with Chantilly lace formed collar outline and tiny shoulder puffs.

In blouses there was an attractive effect shown in colorings as well as cut and in combination with skirt types were featured. Much interesting embroidery, with combinations of beads, ribbon and fringes were shown.

In dress fabrics, tricotine, point twill and satin-backed crepes were featured, with some velvet intro-ter has already accepted the Exhibition's invitation to be a guest on this day.

In their professional capacity nurses will be on duty at the permanent hospital which has been fitted up near the Applied Arts building and at the new permanent creche located near the Model Playground. Of special interest, too, is the enterprise of the Central Registry of Graduate Nurses, who will conduct a model luncheon to accommodate 400.

A huge Girl Guide demonstration and the Labor Day parade in which many women are expected to march will be other features of special interest to women at the Exhibition.

IN BLACKBERRY TIME.

Steamed Blackberry Pudding.
 Cream one-third cup of butter, gradually stir in one-half cup of sugar; add the yolks of two eggs beaten until thick and light and one-half cup of milk. Sift together two cups of flour, four teaspoons salt; add gradually to first mixture, stirring and beating until well blended; then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs and one cup of blackberries. Turn into a well buttered mold, cover and steam one and one-half hours. Serve with blackberry hard sauce or blackberry liquid sauce.

Blackberry Hard Sauce.
 Cream one-half cup of butter, gradually stir in one cup of sugar, and then drop by drop one-half cup of crushed blackberry pulp that has been rubbed through a sieve. Raspberries or strawberries may be used in place of blackberries.

Blackberry Liquid Sauce.
 Mash and rub one basket of blackberries through a sieve to get rid of the seeds. Mix pulp with one and one-half cups of sugar and stir until sugar is dissolved; let stand thirty minutes and stir before using. Other berries may be used in the same way.

PEACH STAINS.

These are probably the most difficult of all fruit stains. When fresh they yield to boiling water poured from a height. Sometimes a little glycerine dabbed on the spot and allowed to stand is good; then wash, and if any trace is left, use an eau de Javelle bleach. For peach stains on silks and wool, this glycerine is the only way, and then try ether and chloroform mixed.

NO WITNESSES; INQUEST WAITS

Inquiry Arent Death of Unknown Babe is Adjourned for Month

NO CHARGE YET LAID
Officer of a "Home" Was in City as Having Known one of Witnesses

No evidence was taken at the adjourned inquest into the death of the unknown babe, whose body was found in a trunk in an East Belleville residence, on July 28th, as material witnesses were not able to attend last night's sitting of the jury at the police court. Crown Attorney Carnew and Coroner Dr. W. Boyce agree that an adjournment was advisable and that the evidence of Dr. Wallbridge, who with Dr. R. W. Tennent performed the post-mortem, should not be taken until the case was resumed on September 8th, the date finally decided upon.

Some jurors thought the report of the autopsy might suffice, but it was contended by the authorities that would not reveal in any way any responsibility in the matter in case there had been an offence committed.

The Crown, Mr. Carnew stated, had not yet taken any steps in the matter of criminal proceedings. They would in a measure depend upon the inquest jury's findings.

An officer of a "home" was in the city last evening, having come to attend the inquest, as having known one of the witnesses, whom the Crown will call.

SUN GLITTERS ON ICE
Snowclad Mountains Encircle Bay Where Capital City Nestles

GODTHAB, Greenland, July 10.—(by wireless via Reykjavik and Copenhagen)—For the first time in its history, Greenland has been entertaining royalty. King Christian and Queen Alexandrine of Denmark arrived here last night on the steamer Island from Iceland and received a warm welcome from the Eskimo population.

After rounding Cape Farewell at a considerable distance to avoid the ice, the weather changed from foggy to clear and the rocky west coast of Greenland, glittering with ice, was sighted against fantastically-colored clouds. For some time the Island and her escort, the warship Frylla, had to thread their way through a stretch of drifting ice and several icebergs were seen near the vessels.

Just outside the skerries of Godthaab, a single Eskimo kayak appeared and its sole occupant was taken on board the Island and presented with a rifle by the King.

Inside the bay, encircled with snowclad mountains a whole squadron of kayaks rowed out to greet the royal party who admired the skill with which the Eskimos handled their craft. The native women wore the characteristic many-colored Greenland costume, with short breeches and long skin boots.

After landing today a reception was held by religious service and the rest of the day was given over to festivities.

The King was presented with a kayak and the Queen with a blanket of elder skins. The royal party afterward left for northern Greenland and are expected home by the end of the month.

Miss Kennedy, a trained nurse, has been appointed temporary Mother's Pension Inspector for Northern Ontario.

Dorothy Hawthorne, aged 14, and Ward Finch, 17, of Medicine Hat, were drowned.

PICKUPS FROM PLAINFIELD

Editor Ontario,—
We have wondered for some time
why our stirring little village has no allotted space in your news columns and do not desire to see it remain so. We have read with interest the Redevelopment write-ups, Stirling paragraphs, Frankford happenings, Melville poetry and prose, Victoria and Vicinity, etc., and now tender you some "Pick-ups from Plainfield."

Of course everybody heard of our Picnic in which U. F. O. were big letters and nearly everybody came, but few have really understood that we have a real Driving Park and an Association enterprising enough to introduce and maintain such. This also leaves the knowing to draw inference that there is much community support, some good trainers among our horsemen. Then we have a base ball club and some really good players, though we have been beaten from time to time, we want to be good losers. We also have ideals, ambitions and visions as well as a village, so we have something to write about.

Thanks to the splendid rural interest of Mr. Elliott, of Belleville, Manager of the Standard Bank, we have a new branch of that thriving financial institution opening here in the Collins Block. Tuesdays and Fridays are the days proposed for the beginning. Our citizens seem very grateful.

Mr. A. O. Garrison, who recently sold his business as General Merchant to Mr. W. Bartlett, has a worthy successor and has shown his local citizenship by erecting a fine bungalow on the lot adjoining his former property. The painters have been putting on finishing touches.

Mrs. Emerson, daughter of G. W.
Collins, merchant, has been suffering for some time from inflammatory rheumatism, and left for Belleville Hospital yesterday for operation to remove her tonsils.

Mrs. Hazard, who has been disposed from heart trouble, is progressing favorably and hopes for a complete recovery.

Miss J. McDavitt has purchased the house and lot on Front street opposite the Hall Bros. and has begun improvements upon it preparatory to moving here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Allison of Al-bury, were the guests of Mrs. J. Henderson on Thursday and called at the parsonage also.

Many of our citizens attended Oak Lake Camp Meeting last Sunday and report the largest attendance they had ever seen there. All seem pleased with the Evangelist Gipsy Smith. There was no service at the Church at Plainfield for the above reason.

Messrs Faulkner and Roblin are progressing in their improvement of the Park property and are at present busy in erecting a structure for "Shooting the Shoots." They have several attractions already which bring scores of people to our town every Saturday evening. The bathing facilities are especially fine and it is the intention to put up a swing bridge and other modern conveniences.

Mr. James and his helper, J. Gow, are very rushed at the mill these days as the new grain is being brought in large quantities for grinding.
Our farmers generally report a better yield of grain than they had expected a few weeks ago.

Miss E. Tummon has agreed to become the successor of Miss Madden, who has been the P. S. teacher here for the past six years.

Both our blacksmiths Messrs Couldon and Sargent are overruin with repairing and general work as so many of the rural customers are preparing for their fall farm activities.

Our popular merchant of the East Store has been suffering from an attack of summer gripe but is improving.

Quarterly meeting for this circuit is to be held in the Methodist church here Sunday next at 10.30 a.m. Rev.
Mr. Sharpe, our new pastor, is busily engaged making introductory calls.

The Plainfield Garage is a popular place for motorists, with their good equipment and reliable work.
Many tourists en route to Tweed and Bon Echo Inn avail themselves of the accommodating service of Manager Platt and his assistant, G.
Rose.

The executors of the estate of the late D. Poucher purpose selling the mill, real estate by public auction in our village in about two weeks' time.

New York Hears of Desperate Attempts Made to Aid Starving People

REVAL, Aug. 4.—Twenty-four provinces in Russia are now affected by the cholera wave, and 150,000 deaths were reported in two towns in two towns in two months.

RELIEF WORK STARTS.
NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—From two sources come word of preparations being made to relieve Russia's starving millions.

A cablegram from the Russian Telegraph Agency received here by the publication Soviet Russia, stated that the All-Russian famine relief committee had sent out two relief trains from Moscow on August 1 to aid 6,500,000 starving children in the Volga drought district. At the same time the American relief administration announced that its child-feeding operations in Czecho-Slovakia would end in sixty days, releasing an experienced staff for Russia.

The Russian Telegraph Agency cablegram said that all state treasuries would devote the month to benefit performances for the famine sufferers, with stock companies touring prosperous regions.

"The following poster displayed by one of these companies," the cablegram said, "is typical of the methods employed by the theatrical companies to raise relief supplies:

"Brother peasants, pause and read: The artists give you spiritual enjoyment; you pay for it with bread for your hungry brothers. Admission prices: first row, three pounds of grain or four pounds of peas, or fifteen pounds of potatoes; second row, etc., with the various prices fixed in terms of foodstuffs."

IMMIGRATION PROHIBITED

LONDON, August 6.—The Daily Herald prints a despatch from Moscow dated Thursday, declaring that immigration into the Ukraine, the Northern Caucasus, Siberia and Turkestan has been prohibited. The action was taken to prevent the spread of cholera.

THE OAK LAKE CAMP MEETINGS

The Committee and Association in connection with the Camp meetings at Oak Lake have never heretofore closed a lamp which sent them out to their year's work with so much confidence and optimism as to the future of this cause.

The opposition so frequently heard in the earlier days of the endeavor seems to be quite a thing of the past and the continuance and success from year to year is proving that perseverance is one of the essentials of real victory. The fidelity of the local men who have been promoters has been well tested and they have shown themselves unselfish enough in their general faithfulness in their respective churches thus giving no chance for attack at neglect of ordinary duties while also interested especially in the camp.

This year all indebtedness has been wiped out and the outlook towards several improvements for the ensuing year is most hopeful. The plan to put a new approach from the mill, main highway is a very needed advance and a better means of public water supply will meet with general popular support.

The past years have found subscriptions and canvassing necessary but this year the entire expense was met by the free-will offering of the congregations. The Thank-offering for the Evangelist was also the largest on record although each camping has seen an increase in the past.

The closing Sunday was marked by the very large attendance, (the largest ever seen on the grounds) probably exceeding five thousand people and the interest was splendid. In the afternoon Gipsy Smith gave the story of his life and his touches of humor and with his reverence to God and his giving honor to whom honor is due, won the people completely. He is invited to return for another year and will probably do so.

Recognition was made by the committee of the services of Evangelist Duetta and Miss L. Johnston, pianist.

Tenders received for the building of the new Essex High school were $12,000 too high and new specifications will be prepared.

WIRES DOWN IN SPOTS
Details of Loss Coming in Slowly—Estimate Crop Is Now Under Average

REGINA, Sask., Aug. 6.—Saskatchewan will not be likely to harvest an average crop this year. A hail rain and wind storm 75 miles east and south of Regina yesterday caused damage estimated at a million dollars and was the climax of gradually fading hopes for a bumper yield.

A month ago the situation in Saskatchewan looked rosy and it was expected that a record crop would be out. Hail, hot winds, insects, and drought have since then brought severe losses to hundreds of farmers.

In the storm swept area yesterday one Regina man, who operates a section of land was notified that the binder he had ready to commence cutting would not cut an acre so clean had his wheat been beaten by the hail.

Details of the storm Thursday are meagre owing to the fact that telephone and telegraph wires are down.
In the town of Osage over $15,000 worth of glass was destroyed by the wind.

Reports from Regina and Cenozo districts indicate that a strip of grain 30 miles long by five miles wide was beaten down and totally destroyed. Two district hail storms caused severe losses.

Hon. C. A. Dunning, Provincial Treasurer, who returned yesterday from the northeastern section of the Province says Saskatchewan will be fortunate to get even an average crop, he says: "I found nothing to indicate that the province, will have anything better than an average crop. It is quite possible for rust and frost to reduce the yield to considerably below the average. Wherever in the province the wheat crop is, the heavy rust is present. Damage from rust is becoming increasingly evident."

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 6.—Photographs and written documents in fac-simile have been transmitted across the ocean for the first time by wireless.

The first test of the invention was sending the photograph of the recent Dempsey-Carpenter fight from Annapolis station to France for reproduction in Le Matin, the Paris newspaper. While the reproduction is said to be fairly good, it is not so perfect as the engineers wished.

Yesterday a fac-simile written message was sent across almost perfectly.

NOW JOHN BOWERS SINGS THE PRAISES OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Severn Bridge Man Looks on the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills, as a Blessing Sent from Above.

Severn Bridge, Ont., August 8th (Special)—Sincere indeed is the tribute Mr. John Bowers, a well-known resident here, pays to the benefit he has received from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I had been suffering for a year with a bad back," Mr. Bowers states.
"Sometimes I could not work with the pain. Six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills took the pain all out and I feel like a new man."

"I highly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to everyone suffering with pain in the back and I say that the pills are a blessing from God sent into the world."

One of the earliest symptoms of kidney trouble is pain in the back.
It is itself the cause of a great deal of suffering. The kidney trouble, unless given prompt attention, frequently develops into much more serious form such as urinary troubles, rheumatism, dropsy, lumbago, diabetes and heart disease.

To be assured of good health the kidneys must be kept in good working order all the time. At the first sign of trouble use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the best remedy for sick kidneys.

But those who are strangers do not

WOMEN ON PAR WITH MEN IN CIVIL SERVICE IN BRITAIN

LONDON, Aug.—An important step in the direction of equality between the sexes was taken in the House of Commons this afternoon as a result of discussions regarding the admission of women to positions in the civil service. A resolution introduced by Sir Robert Stevenson Horne, Chancellor of the Exchequer, was unanimously adopted, providing that after a transitional period of three years women shall be admitted to civil service in the United Kingdom under the same conditions and regulations as government men.

Regard, however, is to be had to the suitability of women for the situations to be filled. Women appointed to posts in the civil service will have the same status and authority as men, but, having regard to the financial position of the country, the question of remuneration of women as compared with men shall be reviewed within three years.

A proviso was inserted in the resolution safeguarding the interests of former service men.

BIG DAMAGE FROM WATER IN NOON FIRE

Blaze Starting at Top of Burrows' Block Found Hard to Subdue

ORIGIN IS UNKNOWN
 Occupants of Rooms And Business Places Below Lose Heavily—Details

Fire which broke out about noon today in the top story of Burrows' block on the east side of Front St., resulted in a big damage by water to a number of the occupants of the premises, besides loss to the building and contents by fire.

It started in Thomas E. Pidgeon's clothes pressing establishment in the rear of the top flat. The origin is not known as there was nobody there when it began.

The firemen required to turn out today a large amount of water and ultimately put out the flames which had spread into the apartments of Miss E. Pearl Bowerman, teacher of music, otherwise the damage to the building was caused by water.

In Mr. Pidgeon's room were twenty or more suits of clothes, all lost, along with Mr. Pidgeon's equipment and furnishings.

Miss Bowerman's furnishings were considerably damaged. They are covered by insurance.

Miss Orr's dressmaking rooms were invaded by smoke and a little water, but escaped fire.

On the first floor, damage was caused to Mr. S. A. Lockwood's office fixtures.

Dr. Gerald Morton's dental office at the front of the hall escaped almost entirely, a little water coming through the ceiling in the wash room but not in the operating room.

The Conservatory of Music in connection with Albert College escaped damage.

The three offices on the main floor—Burrows Insurance Office, the Dominion Express Office and Dr. Alex. Ray's Optical Office, were saturated by water, which poured through the ceilings. Business had to be suspended here this afternoon. Most of the furniture of the Express Office was carried out without a great deal of damage.

The Burrows' office papers and fixtures were saved by tarpaulins which were spread.

The loss to the building could not be estimated today by Mr. Burrows. In the Pidgeon clothes cleaning and pressing room were lost the suits of a number of patrons. One of them lost two suits.

The fire damage on the top flat was quite heavy.

TYRON PLACED ON TRIAL
 For Shooting of Daughter at Home in Kaladar

Preliminary hearing in the case of Kenneth Tryon, charged with shooting his daughter, Cecelia Tryon, aged seventeen years, at her home at Kaladar, on June 10th, was commenced Thursday afternoon, before Magistrate Floyd at Northbrook. The case was opened at two o'clock.

U. M. Wilson, crown attorney, of Napanee, is conducting the prosecution, with J. M. Simpson, Napanee, as counsel for the accused. The latter is about fifty-five years of age, and has been held in the Napanee jail, pending his trial.

Cecelia Tryon, the daughter, has been confined to the Kingston General hospital since the shooting occurred, but was able to attend the hearing and tell her story. At the time of the shooting, very little hope was entertained for her recovery. Kenneth Tryon was committed for trial.

Ald. Fisher's notice of motion to consider the advisability of the closing of the gas plant, while it has stirred up feelings among consumers of gas, has not aroused the City Council very much. WEDDINGS
 ARCHIBALD-TIMMERMAN

A charming wedding took place on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Annie Timmerman, 569 Princess st., Kingston, when Annie, third daughter of the late Mr. Nicholas Timmerman and Mrs. Timmerman, became the bride of Mr. Walter Archibald, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Archibald, 247 George Street, Belleville. The ceremony was performed before a large number of guests and promptly at 9 o'clock the bride entered the drawing room on the arm of the brother, Mr. N. Timmerman, Rev. Mr. J. A. Waddell, officiating. The bride looked charming in orchid, sapphire and over orchid satin with trimmings of fllet and she carried a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums tied with pastel shades of tulle. The bridesmaid, Miss Gertrude Timmerman, sister of the bride, was attired in white satin with iridescent trimmings and she carried a beautiful bouquet of sweet peas and roses. The groom was assisted by Mr. George Wilson, cousin of the bride.

Mendelssohn's wedding march was played at the opening of the ceremony by Miss Bessie Rogers, after which Miss Maud Quirt sang in sweet voice, "The Breath that Breathed O'er Eden."

Following the ceremony the bridal party retired to the dining room, after showers of congratulations had been bestowed on the happy couple. Here, the wedding supper was served during which Rev. J. A. Waddell, in a few words, told of the value of Mrs. Archibald to the Princess Street Methodist church. One of its most active workers, Mrs. Archibald, was at all times ready to do anything for the welfare of the church and she had won the heart of every member of the congregation.

Mr. N. Timmerman, in a few well-chosen words welcomed the guests upon the occasion, and Mr. George Wilson also made a few appropriate remarks. The dining room presented a delightful appearance and was daintily decorated with palms and Chinese lanterns.

During the excitement the bride slipped away and donned her traveling suit of wet sand charmeuse with touches of King's blue and feather-touque to match. Mr. and Mrs. Archibald left on the 1.40 train for points west amid showers of good wishes and confetti.

On their return they will take up residence in Kingston. Among the gifts, which were many, was a handsome cabinet of silver from the members of the congregation of Princess street Methodist church. The best wishes for a happy life together are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Archibald by their number of friends.

BAKER-FORD
 Quietly at Trinity Methodist Church, the marriage took place of L. Ruth, elder daughter of Mrs. Annie Ford, of Keele street, to Dr. Herbert W. Baker, of Spadina Ave. The ceremony was conducted by the groom's father, Rev. E. N. Baker, D.D., of Belleville. The bride, who was unattended, wore honeydew melon Canton crepe embroidered in black, with smart black hat and Lucelle fox fur. Miss Eva Goodman presided at the organ, playing softly throughout the service. Dr. and Mrs. Baker left by motor to spend a month on the Atlantic coast. On their return they will reside at 605 Spadina Ave.

HOLST-CADDICK
 A very quiet wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon last at 2 o'clock when Mrs. Elizabeth Caddick was united in marriage to Mr. Gus. Holst, both of this city, by Rural Dean W. G. Swaine, Rector of Christ Church.

The ceremony took place in Christ Church. The happy couple left on a honeymoon to Toronto.

DECIDE UPON TWO MOTORS

Belleville's Brigade Likely Now to Have Reo and an Oldsmobile

TO CONVEY THE HOSE
 Money Must be Raised in This Year's Taxes and Some Aldermen Worry

Motorization of the Belleville Fire Department is now a likelihood. The Fire committee last evening decided to go ahead with the purchase of two motor trucks for the transportation of hose. These trucks will not have the regular hosecart bodies, but will be surmounted by boxes of ordinary appearance. The committee has decided on a Reo and an Oldsmobile. Opposition to the purchase was made on the grounds of expenditure. The cost will approximate $4,000 for the two machines. In answer to this it was stated that the department equipment was "running down" as the death of "Paddy", one of the horses which has been doing service for the past fourteen years, shows. If the motors were not bought this year three new horses would have to be secured.

The money will have to be raised in this year's taxes, a fact which makes the problem of the tax rate one that some of the aldermen fear. Definite decision will be made at Monday's Council meeting.

 Paraguay (You Know It) Will Allow 'em to Come and Own It

ASUNCION, Aug. 5.—(By Associated Press)—Paraguay will become the mecca and home of Mennonites from Canada and the United States and other parts of the world, if a bill sent to the Chamber of Deputies by President Gondra becomes a law.

Delegates of the sect who arrived here some time ago from the United States have negotiated for the purchase of about 5,000 square miles of land in the great Paraguayan "Chaco" for purposes of colonization conditional upon the Paraguayan government granting privileges which will permit them to conduct the colony in conformity with the tenets of their religion and their system of common administration of their properties, called "Walsen-lurst."

President Gondra has recommended to the House that these concessions be made, which include the exemption of the Mennonites from military service in peace or in war, the prohibition of the sale of alcoholic beverages in their territory, the right to establish their own schools, which would be conducted in the German language, and in addition, the privilege of importing free of duty household articles and agricultural implements for a period of ten years.

BIG SURPRISE TO CHIEF
 That a Man Should Offer Drink to Oshawa Constable

OSHAWA, Aug. 5.—I really thought that Oshawa had a better reputation than to tempt a man coming into this town to offer a member of the force a drink from a bottle on the public streets," remarked Chief Friend, of Oshawa, when he heard that William McLean, driver of an auto, had been arrested Tuesday night, after he had offered Constable Sid Venton, a drink from a three-quarters filled bottle. McLean had a couple of drinks himself and would probably have been left undisturbed had he not advertised the fact that he had some booze with him in the car. Constable Venton was not tempted in the slightest, but considered it a plain duty to apprehend McLean on a charge of a breach of the O. T. A.

It cost the defendant $200 and costs for his rather superfluous hospitality to a policeman.

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—Labor on the Chippewa Hydro-Electric development is to receive 40c an hour, a 10c reduction, from August 8, according to announcement made yesterday by the Provincial Hydro Commission to Organizer John A. Thirty-five cents an hour was the figure originally contemplated by the commission, but upon Sir Adam Beck's suggestion, it is said, it was finally decided to grant another 5 cents an hour. Labor on the same class of work on the United States side is receiving 35 cents an hour.

NO CHEAPER WATER FOR SCHOOL FOR DEAF
 Ten Cents per 1000 Gallons Must be Paid Despite Plea for Reduction

The Waterworks committee confirmed the motion passed in 1920 regarding the rate of water to the Ontario School for the Deaf—that is to say, $1,500 per year or at the rate of 10 cents per 1,000 gallons. Previous to that time the flat rate was $900 per year, according to a by-law passed in 1892, which allowed consumption up to 40,000 gallons per day.

The O.E.D. authorities wanted cheaper water, a reduction to the $900 figure, but the department could not see its way clear to go back to the old rate.

Manager Austen did suggest that the rate might be cut to 10 cents per thousand gallons up to 50,000 gallons per day; 9 cents per gallon between fifty and seventy-five thousand; and 8 cents per gallon over 75,000. But the flat rate stays.

Want Own Lands Back
 This demand received the endorsement of the Chippewa. Significant also is the demand of the Offways, that they receive compensation for a big stretch of territory, south of Georgian Bay, which they claim was never surrendered by their tribe.

The memorial is being forwarded to the Department of Justice over the signature of Supreme Chief Henry Fielding, known to his tribesmen as "Masquesness" or Red Hawk President of the Ontario Grand Council of Indians, which is representative of different tribes on 18 reservations.

Indians' War Service

In a passionate plea made before the sub-council meeting, Chief Fielding declared that no race in Canada had had a larger percentage enlisted for war service than the Indian. "And yet," he continued, "we have no voice in the Government of our own affairs. We can take no action. The present Deputy Superintendent of Indian Affairs exercises over us a tyranny far more reaching than was ever exercised by the Czar of Russia at the height of his power. In our claims for justice we have no other recourse from the whims and decisions of the Deputy Superintendent except through the Superintendent, who refuses to assume any responsibility that he can avoid."

2000 ATTEND ANNUAL PICNIC

Methodists Foregather at Long Point for Yearly Social Event

ATE 450 LBS. OF FISH
 Pies Also Disappeared at Great Rate and "Good Time Was Had" by All

Two thousand Methodists foregathered on Thursday afternoon at Long Point for a picnic. Among them was a large number of prominent people in the Church from this district. No less than one hundred and fifty from Redfernville and Belleville were present at the outing.

The Rev. A. H. Foster of this city was the Chairman of the proceedings. Hon. Nelson, Parliament, M.P.P., of Prince Edward County, delivered a stirring address on "Citizenship" and the qualities of nationhood. He spoke of the large expenditures which are everywhere being made as necessary in the post-war days. That the people ought to be as willing to pay for reconstruction as they were to pay for the war, was one of his remarks. Mr. Newman, of Picton, was another of the speakers.

Four hundred and fifty pounds of Lake Ontario fish was cooked for the two thousand picnickers. The fish were the gift of the fisherman of Prince Edward and is their customary gift to this time-honored outing. The rest of the banquet was made up of new potatoes, pies, and so forth.

The program was an extensive one. There were yacht races, one and two-cylinder motorboat races, swimming races, and running events. Picton and Milford played baseball.

 Ask They be Placed under Committee of the House of Commons

PENETANGUSHENE, Ont., Aug. 5.—Seizing the opportunity afforded by the presence of the large band of Indians at the Penetanguishene Tercentenary, Ontario Indians have made a strong protest against their present status under the Federal Department of Indian Affairs, and through the Grand General Council of Indians for Ontario, are forwarding to the Right Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, a memorial asking that matters dealing with the Government of the 100,000 Indians in Canada, be placed under the jurisdiction of the House of Commons, instead of under the Indian Department.

Want Own Lands Back
 This demand received the endorsement of the Chippewa. Significant also is the demand of the Offways, that they receive compensation for a big stretch of territory, south of Georgian Bay, which they claim was never surrendered by their tribe.

The memorial is being forwarded to the Department of Justice over the signature of Supreme Chief Henry Fielding, known to his tribesmen as "Masquesness" or Red Hawk President of the Ontario Grand Council of Indians, which is representative of different tribes on 18 reservations.

Indians' War Service

In a passionate plea made before the sub-council meeting, Chief Fielding declared that no race in Canada had had a larger percentage enlisted for war service than the Indian. "And yet," he continued, "we have no voice in the Government of our own affairs. We can take no action. The present Deputy Superintendent of Indian Affairs exercises over us a tyranny far more reaching than was ever exercised by the Czar of Russia at the height of his power. In our claims for justice we have no other recourse from the whims and decisions of the Deputy Superintendent except through the Superintendent, who refuses to assume any responsibility that he can avoid."

Steamer Alaska Struck on Rocks off Pacific Coast; Then Blew up

HELP SOON AT HAND
Wireless Brought Vessel Which Picked up Survivors and Dead

EUREKA, Calif., Aug. 8.—The steamer Alaska which struck on the rocks at Blunt's Reef on Saturday with a probable death list of 48, was split in two by an explosion when the boat started to sink, survivors said here today, and passengers and members of the crew were thrown into the sea by the explosion. The steamer Anxox today brought one hundred and six survivors to Eureka and seventeen dead were also brought here, including three women and children. There are thirty-one other missing, believed to be dead.

The Alaska was proceeding to San Francisco in a dense fog when it struck the reef at nine o'clock. She sent out wireless messages and the steamer Anxox, five miles away, came to her assistance.

Started on Friday!
The Alaska, owned by the San Francisco and Portland Steamship Company, cleared Astoria at 8 p.m. Friday, and was due to dock at San Francisco at noon today.

While off Blunt Reef the Alaska encountered a heavy fog and went on the rocks. Her S.O.S. was picked up by the towboat Anxox at 9:18 last night. The Anxox was five miles away. Capt. H. H. Snoddy of the Anxox rushed to the Alaska's assistance.

Blunt Reef is four miles off shore, west of Cape Mendocino, and is considered one of the most dangerous points on the Pacific coast. It is 197 miles north of San Francisco.

Most of the passengers were from points in Washington and Oregon. Many of the passengers were touring, according to officials of the booking offices.

According to the stories of the survivors, three lifeboats were launched. The last one was but a few feet from the wreck when the Alaska, which had listed to starboard, suddenly righted and then plunged, bow first. The lifeboat was overturned.

Frankford Canning Factory Totally Destroyed By Fire; Loss Estimated at $130,000

Origin of Blaze Unknown—Plant Idle for Last Three Weeks but was to Resume on Wednesday Next—Local Volunteer Fire-Fighters Handicapped—Big Loss Not only on Plant but in Manufactured Goods Stored There—Details.

Frankford village suffered a very heavy loss by fire this morning, shortly after the midnight hour, when the Canning Factory, owned and operated by the Frankford Canning Company, was totally destroyed. The origin is at present unknown and will likely remain so.

The loss is estimated at $130,000, the insurance aggregating about sixty-five per cent. of that figure. Since about the middle of July the plant had not had a fire in it. The pea crop had been canned and about a dozen men were working around the place, getting ready for corn canning, on which it was hoped to start on Wednesday of this week.

When the fire was first discovered, the whole building seemed a mass of flames. The village fire fighting apparatus was got out and the brigade did what was possible, but that was very little, as they were unable to approach the big structure owing to the intensity of the heat and the start the fire had secured. Still, they prevented the spread of the fiery element. The structure burned until late this morning.

The building was a metal-cled frame structure of very large proportions, being one of the more important industrial plants of the village. It was valued at, perhaps, $40,000. Not only was the plant lost with all its machinery, but there is also gone all the product of the season, including thousands of dollars worth of canned fruits and vegetables, some of this year's make and a considerable quantity of last year's. All the supplies requisite for this season's work were in the conflagration.

The loss is not only on the plant and goods destroyed but also by reason of the interruption of the operation of the business at this preserving time of the year. Frankford people who are employed at the factory will feel the effects of the blaze.

Directors stated today that it will be their endeavor to get the factory operating as soon as possible. It is hoped to have canning operations resumed accordingly almost immediately.

This determination on the part of the owners of the factory will be of much interest to the farming community, who supply the factory with fruits and vegetables, as a good amount of the season's harvest remains yet to be brought in and preserved.

Mr. Gossin, of Frankford, is the general manager of the Frankford Canning Company. The owners of the factory and the business are residents of the village and of the surrounding townships.

TRIP BY AIRCRAFT
New Type Undergoing Tests at Croydon Fields in England

LONDON, Aug. 8.—London to New York in 40 hours—breakfast in England and dinner the next evening in the United States—will be an ordinary occurrence if a new type of aircraft, which is now undergoing tests at the Croydon Fields, comes up to expectations.

British aviation experts have been concentrating on this type of machine for the past three months, and the utmost secrecy was maintained. Now it is announced that the new type of aircraft is approaching commercial possibilities.

The unique feature of this new type is that it is part airplane and part airship.

It is not only able to fly, but it is able to come to rest on the ocean and to ride the roughest waves as safely as any ocean-going vessel.

It will carry fathoms and a riding light in addition to the usual flying gear.

The correspondent learns that plans have been made for construction of giant trans-Atlantic flying ships, built on the same lines, which will carry one hundred passengers in addition to food, the crew, and stores, and will be able to do the trans-Atlantic journey in well under two days.

Steamship Mauretania is expected to resume her sailings in October.

PANIC IN MELILLA
Great Commercial Port on the North Coast of Morocco May be Lost

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Following up their great victories over the Spanish troops, Moroccan tribesmen are reported to have appeared in force before Melilla, the last Spanish stronghold in Northeastern Morocco.

Panic is said to reign in that city and civilians are seeking safety on ships in the harbor.

Fears are expressed that General Navarre and several hundred men are surrounded by Moors, at Mount Arruit and many have been annihilated.

Melilla is a commercial port on the north coast of Morocco, belonging to Spain. The citadel is built on a rock. The town is garrisoned and in ordinary times a force of about 1,000 men were stationed there.

Since the outbreak of the rebels against the Spaniards the tribesmen gradually have been driving back the Spaniards toward Melilla, which is situated midway of a peninsula projecting into the Mediterranean Sea.

The mother was taken ill after alighting from a street car. She was removed to a hospital, where the five births occurred over a period of two weeks. The mother and the five babies left the hospital a month later in healthy condition.

LUNCHEON FOR BOWLERS
Local Club Going to Cobourg Friday Night to Help Organize Club There

Practical work among the boys has been a leading work for Rotarians here but the club has recently undertaken the expense of having a young lad named Clarke, sent to the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, for an operation.

A report on his condition was made today at the noon luncheon of the club and the lad was said to be getting on satisfactorily.

The Belleville Club has been asked to send a delegation to Cobourg on Friday night when a brand new club is being started on its career. People from Montreal, Peterboro, Oshawa and here are to be present. About twenty are going from this city.

Belleville Rotarians are to entertain the visiting bowlers at luncheon next Monday when they arrive for the tournament here and Mr. R. J. Wray, a leading and very successful bowler and a Rotarian, told the club that they might expect about forty rinks. The members did a quick sum in arithmetic and then gasped. However, they are all good fellows and the party for next Monday is on.

There were two visitors today: Dr. Allen from Peterboro and Mr. J. Ernest McMillan, of Montreal.

Sinn Fein Threatened, It Was Said, to End Truce if M. P. Not Freed

PARIS, Aug. 8.—The British Government has decided to release John J. McKeown, the sole remaining imprisoned member of the Irish Republic Parliament, it was announced this evening by the British delegation of Allied Supreme Council in session here.

WHI Not Release Slayer.
LONDON, Aug. 8.—Complications of considerable gravity have entered into the Irish situation, because of the Government's decision not to liberate John J. McKeown, member of the Irish Republic Parliament, who is under conviction of murder, along with other Sinn Fein leaders who have been imprisoned.

Reports go as far as to say that an immediate termination of the truce by Sinn Fein is probable; but these seem to be unfounded.

Sinn Fein however issued an official statement that no meeting of the Irish Republic Parliament would be held until Mr. McKeown is released. McKeown, a blacksmith by trade, is representative in the Irish Republic Parliament for Longford and West Meath. Much has been written about his exploits by the Sinn Fein writers, including popular ballads.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF RHEUMATISM

Entirely Well After Six Weeks' Treatment With "FRUIT-A-LIVES"

MR. AMEDEO GARCEAU
82 Hickory St., Ottawa, Ont.

"I was for many years a victim of that terrible disease, Rheumatism. In 1913, I was laid up for four months with Rheumatism in the joints of the knees, hips and shoulders and was prevented from following my work, that of Electrician.

I tried many remedies and was under the care of a physician; but nothing did me any good. Then I began to take 'Fruit-a-lives' and in a week I was easier, and in six weeks I was so well I went to work again.

I look upon this Fruit-a-lives, 'Fruit-a-lives', as simply marvelous in the case of Rheumatism, and strongly advise everyone suffering with Rheumatism to give 'Fruit-a-lives' a trial."

THEY THOUGHT WAR ON AGAIN

Belgian Inhabitants of Famous Villages Near Ypres Started

"BARRAGE" WAS COMING Bad Fire was Stopped Near Big Dump—Gas Masks Had to be Used

DIXMUDE, Belgium, Aug. 8.—The inhabitants of Langemark, Clerckhem, Staden, Woumen and other villages bounding the forest of Houthulst, were startled out of their sleep one night recently by a furious cannonading which brought them scurrying out of their more or less repaired dwellings and in search of dug-outs as they used to do during "the four grapple years," as they were called in West Flanders.

The peasants around the forest have become experts in artillery and the barrage that night, they say, was something more terrific than they had ever heard during the war. First there came volleys of the familiar German seventy-seven, Austrian eighty-eight to which there would reply the rapid staccato of hundreds of batteries of French seventy-fives. The forest of Houthulst was ablaze and owing to the protracted drought, fire was spreading with furious rapidity. Then cavalry arrived on the scene. They were Belgians from this battered town, come to fight the forest fire.

"Has it come again, the war, sir?" a trembling old woman asked of the Captain.

Suddenly the cry was heard: "Gas!" and there was a stampede. The soldiers began to distribute gas masks and throughout the night, peasants and soldiers, armed with spades, shovels and picks dug a trench that the fire might be stopped before it reached the huge ammunition dumps left by German and Allied troops in the center of the forest, millions of shells of all kinds, almost enough, it was said, "to blow West Flanders in to the North Sea."

By morning the fighters had the upper hand on the fire which was vanquished about 100 yards from one of the largest dumps, but meanwhile about 1,000,000 shells of all sorts exploded. They were in four separate dumps and of four square miles of the forest, where they had been located nothing remains but a few trees, like bare spars swaying in the wind. As the sun rose old peasants could be seen going to their fields for the harvest as if nothing had happened.

Obituary

THE LATE MRS. ALEXANDER STUART.

(Contributed.)

After an illness of several months, Helen Maud Beatty, beloved wife of Alexander Stuart, passed away on July 29th at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Morton, where she had gone on March 19th, with the hope of regaining her health.

She was possessed of a very bright and cheerful disposition and submitted to what she deemed the will of God without one murmur. One bright little daughter, Ruth Graham, of seventeen months, passed away on June 14th, a victim of anaemia. Deceased was the eldest daughter of the late Thomas Beatty and was born at Thomasburg on June 23rd, 1893.

After leaving Thomasburg school she entered Ontario Business College, Belleville, where she graduated in bookkeeping and shorthand in 1911, taking a position in Alexandria, where she remained until 1916, when she accepted a position in Montreal with Canadian Vickers, Ltd.

The funeral service was conducted on Aug. 1st in Thomasburg Anglican Church, of which she was a member, by the Rev. J. A. Davies, rector of the parish of Roslin. Besides her husband, to whom she was married in 1917, she leaves her mother, Mrs. Thomas Beatty, one brother, and three sisters, also many other friends by whom she is sadly missed.

Through the shadows of death to the sunlight above, A thousand sweet memories are holding them fast. To the places they blessed with their presence and love. We too will go home o'er the river of rest, As the strong and the lovely before us have gone; Our sun will go down in the beautiful west.

Until then we are bound by our love and our faith To the saints who are walking in Paradise fair; They have passed beyond sight at the touching of death. But they live, like ourselves, in God's infinite love.

CROP REPORTS NOT ALL GOOD

Potatoes Not Encouraging While Late Grains Are Only Fair

MUCH PLOUGHING DONE Move in Some Quarters to Revive Cheese Factories—Pay Better

Following is a summary of reports made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

Farmers are busy harvesting their grain, although many have practically finished with spring wheat and barley, which have been cut unusually early this season. Oats are now being handled, and are rather disappointing on the whole, the heads being comparatively light in the filling and the straw short. Complaints of rust are also common.

Reports regarding potatoes are not encouraging, as very few fields have a good appearance.

Corn and head crops are doing very well since the rains of the last two weeks.

Wheat and alfalfa is proving to be a fair sample in the threshing.

Lincoln reports considerable seab of apples even in well sprayed orchards. Norfolk says that buyers are already going through that county buying apples on the trees, and that prices are better than those paid a year ago.

Lincoln also reports that some Greenboro and Triumph peaches are being offered in limited quantities.

Hay is quoted at prices ranging from $18 a ton for baling in Oxford to $25 in Glenora. Leeds says that some farmers in that county are bringing in hay at prices ranging from $27 to $30 according to the point of destination.

Owing to the early harvest a good deal of land already has been plowed for fall wheat. The soil has been working nicely. It looks also as if more summer fallowing than usual will be done.

Peterboro reports that many wells have gone dry, and that some farmers have difficulty in watering their stock.

Recent rains have revived pastures considerably and caused an improvement in the milk flow.

Brant says that there is an agitation on foot in some parts of the county to have the old cheese factories start up again, as the price of cheese is relatively better than that of milk. Cheese sold on the Perth Board on Friday at from 24 to 24 1/2 cents a pound.

Bruce reports a demand for stockers for winter feeding. Grey also thinks that as many cattle as usual will be fed. Peterboro says: "The cattle going to market are for the most part in thin condition. Three mixed cars were marketed during the week. Cattle sold around 6 a pound, lambs $10.20 a cwt, and hogs $12.25 a cwt. Waterloo says that one garrat, or near Galt has brought in a carload of cattle which cost him $3 1/2 a pound in Winnipeg. Since is of opinion that farmers are taking more interest in the hog business and are making an effort to increase their breeding stock in this line."

CHILD AT NAPANEE IS HIT BY A MOTOR

Rushed to Kingston General Hospital—Victim is Four Years of Age

NAPANEE, Aug. 4.—Allan Cornwall, four-year-old son of Charles Cornwall, Napanee, was knocked down and run over by an automobile at the corner of John and Bridge streets. The little lad was in the company of a girl and ran out directly in front of the car, which was being driven by Ralph Sills, son-in-law of J. E. Robinson, ex-mayor of Napanee. Before Mr. Sills could stop the car the radiator had knocked the child down and the wheels of the car had passed over his body. Medical assistance was summoned and the little child was rushed to the Kingston General Hospital with Dr. Simpson and Dr. Stratton in attendance.

STOCKSTILL WAS RIGHT Follow With Odd Name Seems to Like a Joke

ZION, Ill., Aug. 4.—Smoking a pipe in Zion cost Frederick Stockstill $65 today. This city which has ordinances regulating women's dress and how its residents shall spend Sunday also has a ban against smoking.

"This thing must stop," a judge remarked when he fined Stockstill. "Stop," Stockstill replied, "I'm as 'stopped' as my name would indicate."

VANCOUVER-BELLEVILLE PICNIC HELD 300 FROM THIS DISTRICT WERE PRESENT

RE-UNION TURNS OUT GREAT SUCCESS

(Specially Written for The Ontario)

VANCOUVER, July 27.—The big day is over—everybody has gone home tired and happy—the picnic was a success in every respect, thanks to the untiring efforts of the Committee in charge, and the peculiar faculty Bellevillians have of enjoying themselves when on pleasure bent.

In the last crowd you were told how four thugs from Belleville, accidentally met on a street corner and concocted the idea of a picnic, and how a meeting was called where a small gathering completed the details and formed a committee to engineer it—well, the result exceeded by far the most optimistic expectations of our greatest super-ultra-optimist. Some gink had a brainstorm once and said:

Little drops of water, Little lakes of snow, Little creeks and rivulets, To mighty rivers grow.

That's us—over 300 former residents of Belleville and the Bay of Quinte District turned out, and a glorious day was spent.

It will be noted the first date selected—last Wednesday—the 29th, but old Jupiter Pluvius had forgotten to mark that date on his scratch pad and inadvertently turned on the waterworks, which effectually put the kibosh on all our plans. However, the diehards from Hastings County could not be dismayed—the picnic was postponed for a week—due notice sent to the weather man that he had another chance to retrieve himself, and this morning Old Sol not only smiled on us—he laughed right out, and the day was perfect.

A book could be written on the happenings—here and there would be seen little bunches of old timers chuckling among themselves of humorous instances recalled from bygone days. The kids had a wonderful time—there was slathers of ice cream and good things to eat, and it was a common sight to see a silver haired greybird with a piece of berry pie in one hand and a cone in the other trying to accomplish an old time feat of his boyhood—and with surprising success too.

Col. H. D. Hulme was the spokesman of the day, and his pleasing personality and witty sallies soon put everybody at their ease, and all entered into the spirit of the day like a bunch of school kids again.

Sports there were in plenty, and while the youngsters excelled themselves, the old timers were the surprise of the day. The results as shown below speak for themselves:

The list of prize winners follows: 100 yard dash for boys—Keith McLean, Frayne Gordon, Don Strachan; 50 yards, girls—Beatrice Wolf, Ruth Jones, Doris Castlow; 50 yds. married ladies—Mrs. B. D. McCoy, Mrs. Donald MacLean; fifty yards, young ladies—Mary Cook, Kathleen Terrill; 50 yards, girls—Pauline Craig, Dorothy Armstrong, Helen Dobbs; 100 yards, married men—W. S. Nason, Robt. Hay; 50 yards, boys—Hugh Wakeley, Frank Cook, James Haughton; Old Timers' race—J. M. Bowell; boys' three-legged race—Jack McLean, James Haughton; 100 yard shoe race—Pauline Craig, Helen Dobbs; 100 yard specialist, married ladies—Mrs. F. G. Lewis; 100 yards, men over 50 years—Col. H. D. Hulme.

After the sports were over, all assembled for a group photograph, taken by Art Weeks, a copy of which will be forwarded to you under separate cover, and in which will be recognized many familiar faces. Then came the most important event of the day—supper. The ladies, bless their hearts, had spread and daintily decorated twelve huge tables, which were loaded to capacity with eats fit for the gods, and when all were seated not a vacant place was to be seen. Willing hands dispensed huge growlers full of tea and coffee, while pleasant bandinage was exchanged all around. After everyone had satisfied himself to the point of surfeit, there was sufficient left over to make a handsome donation of most delicious pies and cake, fruit and other good things to one of the local charitable organizations.

Thus ended the first annual picnic of Belleville Old Boys in Vancouver. It was a huge success, owing principally to the untiring efforts of the committee in charge—Bert McCoy, Miss L. Craig, Mrs. D. McLean, Mrs. W. H. Gordon, Howard Butterfield, Cecil Armstrong, Bob Hay, Chas. Lang, Col. Hulme, Walter Dobbs and others who volunteered their services for special duties as required.

During the progress of supper, it was moved, seconded and unanimously carried that a message of greeting be sent to the folks at home through the Mayor, and accordingly the following was dispatched:

"To the Mayor and Citizens Belleville, Ont. "Resolution passed by three hundred Old Boys and Girls from Belleville and Bay of Quinte District here assembled in beautiful Stanley Park, Vancouver, on their first annual picnic carries greetings and good wishes to the folks at home."

Following is a list of those present: Mrs. S. F. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Armstrong, Miss Anderson, Mrs. W. W. Bird, J. D. Breeze, Miss E. G. Breeze, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Butterfield, Mrs. R. S. RIFLE SHOTS SANK CRAFT

Napanee Police Seeking Man, on Island in Bath Lake, Who Fired

ORDERED FISHERS AWAY Alleged that Barclay Thompson is His Name—Two Men Near Death

The Napanee police are looking for an aged man who, it is alleged, has "squatted" on an island on Bath Lake, and who is driving off fishermen in that district.

The man, whose name is given as Barclay Thompson, is believed to be insane. It is alleged that on Sunday last he fired several shots at two fishermen on the island, and that there came very near being a catastrophe when the boat, in which the men were fishing, was sunk, as a result of shots fired into the small craft, by the man on the island.

According to the story from Napanee, the old man has been ordering every fisherman away. It appears that last Sunday a man named Woods from Roblin, and a man named Whynshaw, of Napanee, were fishing there, when ordered off by Thompson.

It is charged that Thompson fired several shots at the men while they were fishing in the boat. The shot hit the fishing pole Woods was holding. Several other shots were fired, and the shooting resulted in the sinking of the boat, and the two men were left stranded on a big rock in the lake. They coaxed Thompson to take them off to the main land, and, after a time, he came to their rescue, but after he got them on the land, he told them to keep away, and it is alleged, that he threatened to kill them if they ever came there to fish again.

36,000,000 HORSES EATEN Meat Now So Scarce in Russia Only Sick Get It

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Russian horses, which numbered thirty-six million before the war, have practically disappeared, having been eaten by the famished population. It was revealed today in Russian newspapers published in Moscow and received here by the American relief administration.

Meat had grown so scarce, more than a month ago, that it was rationed only to hospital patients.

TO ERECT BUILDING Kingston General Hospital to Have Contagious Diseases Building in Connection

Kingston.—The civic finance committee has been called to meet to confer with the building committee of the General Hospital. It is intended to start the erection of the new contagious disease building this coming fall. This is the building that the city of Kingston is paying for, a by-law having been passed over a year ago for the issue of debentures to the amount of $150,000 when a start was made.

SNOW IN AUSTRALIA. LONDON, Aug. 4.—A Reuter cable from Melbourne says the entire state of Victoria has experienced very heavy weather, including a considerable snowfall, followed by rain.

TO MEET NOV. 11. WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The Washington conference on Limitation of Armament and Pacific questions will meet at high noon on Armistice Day.

INCREASED ASSESSMENT HERE NOT LIKELY TO MEAN REDUCTION IN TAX RATE FOR PRESENT YEAR

The big increase in assessment for the year 1921 would under normal conditions mean a reduction in the tax rate. But owing to heavy over-draughts last year in several departments, such as in the Gas Department, owing to the repairs to the works, damage to mains by seven excavations and cost of lowering pipes for pavements, the building of a drain to the bay from the works, it is not likely the rate will decline very much.

How far will the Council go in the matter of a grant to the hospital is one of the questions asked by citizens. As a public institution, some of the Council members favor a good sized grant, but others state their intention of opposing any unusual grant.

The Fire Department will require an additional vote this year because of the adoption of the double platform system.

STILL EXIST IN WAR DUG-OUTS.

DVINSK, Latvia, Aug. 4.—Hundreds of families in the war-devastated territory about Dvinsk are still living in the dug-outs used by German and Russian soldiers in the early days of the war.

Little or no progress toward reconstruction has been made in the scores of razed villages because of the poverty of the people who, for a long time after the war between Russia and Germany ended, were under Bolshevik rule.

Sulphide Workman Electrocuted, Dies

Harry Ashcroft, an employee of the Chemical plant at Sulphide, was electrocuted at the works. Dr. H. C. Kindred, coroner of Tweed, opened an inquest and which will be resumed a week from tonight. Crown Attorney W. Carnew will attend.

Liquor Prescriptions Dropping Since March

OTTAWA, Aug. 4.—Patrons of the Government liquor dispensaries throughout Ontario, who have been obtaining their liquor supplies for medicinal purposes from physicians, have decreased by 23,040 since the month of March. The big decrease is noticeable in the past month, in which the prescriptions issued, according to the report of the Ontario Board of License Commissioners, were only 39,143, as against 53,183 issued in March.

BOTTLE COST HIM 108.

The Century to the Police and the Eight to a Friend

In police court this morning Magistrate Mason fined a first offender ten dollars and costs for being intoxicated. Another chap was fined one hundred dollars.

He took a drink in a restaurant or hotel, he scarcely knew which, of two per cent, to which he added some alcohol from a bottle. This he claimed he got through a young citizen, who had kept two dollars out of a ten dollar bill.

SAY CHARLES IS BACK

Reports Persist That ex-Emperor Will Try Again

GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 4.—Unconfirmed reports still persist that the former Emperor Charles of Austria has left Hortonstein secretly and now is in Hungary awaiting an opportunity to launch a coup d'etat.

It is said that Captain Werkman, private secretary to Charles, and several of the former monarch's servants already have left for Budapest. It is stated in usually well informed circles that Charles will make an attempt to regain his throne this month, in spite of the warnings of the allies.

STOPPING AMERICANS WORKING AT THE SOO

Only Those Whose Services Are "Real Necessity" Now Permitted to Cross

SAAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 4.—The Canadian immigration authorities at this point are tightening up those who live in the Michigan Soo, where rent is cheap, and who work in the factories on this side of the river. A large number who come over on the early ferries have been stopped and turned back, and only those whose services are a real necessity are permitted to enter. The new order of things results from a resolution passed at the last meeting of the City Council, which censured the authorities for permitting outsiders to work here in the face of present and threatened unemployment.

MAKE THEM CUT WEEDS

City Council Considering Enforcing Law Making Property Owners Liable

JUST PLAIN NUISANCE Council Itself Responsible for Appearance of all Boulevards and Streets

Harvests may fail for drought in the year 1921, in the whole province, but the private lot weed crop of thistles and every other known obnoxious thing will be at least one hundred per cent.

Citizens are daily making complaint of the abundance of weeds on unused land, the seed from the weeds blowing across to gardens and lawns with disastrous results. The Council has under consideration the passage of a bylaw enforcing the cutting of weeds by property owners on their land.

The care of boulevards on paved and unpaved streets is one of the problems which the City Council is soon to take up. The clipping of the grass and cutting of weeds on the streets is the duty of the city, although many citizens keep the boulevards in front of their property in a fair condition. Others are unexcusably bad, it was pointed out.

City Clerk Holmes said today that the boulevards were under the control of the city.

1922 MARKERS BIGGER

Motor Drivers Easter to Identify Next Year, 'Tis Said

Toronto, Aug. 4.—Ontario's 1922 automobile markers will be manufactured in Toronto, Macdonald & Co. having been awarded the contract on their tender of 14 cents per pair. The present year's markers were made in Hamilton by the Canadian Color-type. There were ten tenders, ranging from 14 cents, the lowest, to 23 1/2 cents, the highest. Three of them were from American concerns.

The new 1922 markers should bring joy to the heart of the "speed cop" and gloom to that of the persistent automobile speeder. Jet black raised figures, an inch larger than those on the 1921 markers, stand out on a background of pure white. Every effort was bent toward securing a pattern and color scheme which would give the greatest visibility.

TO CUT FREIGHT RATES

Railway Board Will Take Steps to Lower Present Tariff

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—That the Board of Railway Commissioners of Canada will in the near future take steps to reduce the freight rates on Canadian railways, was the announcement contained in a letter received by the local Board of Trade today from Hon. F. B. Carvell, the chief commissioner. The Montreal Board of Trade recently addressed a resolution to the Railway Commission asking a reduction in railway freight rates commensurate with the 12 per cent. cut in wages now in effect.

GOOD TIME AT MADOC

A successful garden party was held under the direction of the Catholic Church societies at Madoc, last evening. A number of people were present from Belleville and towns and villages in this vicinity. Rev. Father Rierdon was in charge of the proceedings.

CHAPTER 7

Shorty Asks a Question

When Shorty separated from Doble in Frio Canon he rode inconspicuously to a tenejon where he could be snugly hidden from the public gaze and yet meet a few "pals," whom he could trust at least as long as he could keep his eyes on them. His intention was to have a good time in the only way he knew how. Another purpose was coupled with this; he was not going to drink enough to interfere with reasonable caution.

Shorty's dissipated pleasures were interfered with shortly after midnight. A Mexican came in to the drinking-place with news. The world was on fire, at least that part of it which interested the cattlemen of the Malapud istriet. The blaze had started back of Bear Canon and had been swept by the wind across to Cattle and San Jacinto. The oil field adjacent had been licked up at. A devery reservoir and sump was in flames. The whole range would probably be wiped out before the

CUNSIGHT PASS

"I reckon I'm a bad citizen, sir, but I hope he makes his getaway before Applegate shows up."

"Well, he's one tough scawlawy, but I don't aim to give him away right now. Shorty is a whole lot better proposition than Dug Doble."

Dave came back to the order of the day. "What do you want me to do now?"

The cattlemen looked him over. "You damaged much?"

"No."

"Burnt in the shoulder, I see?"

"Won't keep me from swinging a sock and bossing a gang."

"Wore out, I reckon?"

"I feel fine since breakfast—took two cups of strong coffee."

Again Crawford's eyes traveled over his ally. They saw a ragged, red-eyed tramp, face and hands and arms blackened with char and grimed with smoke. Outside, he was such a specimen of humanity as the police would have arrested promptly on suspicion. But the shrewd eyes of the cattlemen saw more—a spirit indomitable that would drive the weary, tormented body till it dropped in its tracks, a quality of leadership that was a trumpet call to the men who served with him, a soul master of its intimacies. His heart went out to the young fellow. Wherefore he grinned and gave him another job. Strong men today were at a premium with Emerson Crawford.

"Ride over and see how Bob's comin' out. We'll make it here."

Sanders swung to the saddle and moved forward to the next fire front, the one between Cattle and San Jacinto Canons. Hart himself was not there. There had come a call for help from the man in charge of the gang trying to hold the fire in San Jacinto. He had answered that summons long before daybreak and had not yet returned.

The situation on the Cattle-San Jacinto front was not encouraging. The distance to be protected was nearly a mile. Part of the way was along a ridge fairly easy to defend, but a good deal of it lay in lower land of timber and heavy brush.

Dave rode along the front, studying the contour of the country and the chance of defending it. His judgment was that it could not be done with the men on hand. He was not sure that the line could be held even with reinforcements. But there was nothing for it but to try. He sent a man to Crawford, urging him to get help to him as soon as possible.

Then he took command of the crew already in the field, rearranging the men so as to put the larger part of his force in the most dangerous locality, and in default of a sack seized a spreading branch as a flail to beat out fire in the high grass close to San Jacinto.

An hour later half a dozen stragling men reported for duty. Shorty was one of them.

"The ol' man can't spare any more," the rustler explained. "He had to hustle Steve and his gans out their blankets to go help Bob Hart. They say Hart's in a heluva bad way. The fire's jumped the trail-creek and is spreading over the country. He's rannin' another trail further back."

It occurred to Dave that if the wind changed suddenly and heightened, it would sweep a back-fire round him and out off the retreat of his crew. He sent a weary lad back to keep watch on it and report any change of direction in that vicinity.

After which he forgot all about chances of danger from the rear. His hands and mind were more than busy trying to drive back the snarling, ravenous beast in front of him. He might have found time to take other precautions if he had known that the exhausted boy sent to watch against a back-fire had, with the coming of night, fallen asleep in a draw.

CHAPTER XXXVIII

Dug Doble Rides Into The Hills

The booming of the guns died down. The arid smoke that filled the room lifted to shrouded skirts. A man's deep breathing was the only sound in the heavy darkness.

Presently came a soft football of some one moving cautiously. A match flared. A hand cupped the flame for an instant to steady it before the match moved toward the wick of a kerosene lamp.

fire spent itself for lack of fuel. Crawford had posted a rider to town calling for more man power to build trails and wield flails. This was the sum of the news. It was not strictly accurate, but it served to rouse Shorty at once.

He rose and touched the Mexican on the arm. "Where did you say that fire started, Pedro?"

"Bear Canon, senor."

"And it's crossed San Jacinto?"

"Like wildfire. The slim vaquero made a gesture all in-clusive.

"Nt runs, senor, like a frightened jack-rabbit. Nothing will stop it—nothing. It is sent by heaven for a punishment."

"Hmp!" Shorty grunted.

The rustler fell into a somber silence. He drank no more. The dark-lashed eyes of the Mexican gazed sullenly at the table in front of him. A problem had pushed itself into his consciousness, one he could not brush aside or ignore.

If the fire had started back of Bear Canon, what agency has set it going? He and Doble had camped last night at that very spot. If there had been a fire there during the night he must have known it. Then when had it fire started? And how? They had seen to faint smoke of it as they rode away, the filmy smoke of a young fire not yet under much headway. Was it reasonable to suppose that some one else had been camping close to them? This was possible, but not likely. For they would probably have seen signs of the other evening camp-fire.

Eliminating this possibility, there remained—Dug Doble. Had Dug fired the brush while his companion was saddling for the start? The more Shorty considered this possibility, the greater force it acquired in his mind. Dug's hatred of Crawford, Hart, and especially Sanders would be satisfied in part at least if he could wipe their oil bonanza from the map. The wind had been right. Doble was no fool. He knew that if the fire ran wild in the chaparral only a miracle could save the Jackpot reservoirs and plant from destruction.

Other evidence accumulated. Cryptic remarks of Doble made during the day. His anxiety to see Steelman immediately. A certain manner of ill-repressed triumph whenever he mentioned Sanders or Crawford. These bolstered Shorty's growing opinion that the man had deliberately fired the chaparral from a spirit of revenge.

Shorty was an outlaw and a bad man. He had killed, and might at any time kill again. To save the Jackpot from destruction he would not have made a turn of the hand. But Shorty was a cattlemen. He had brought up in the saddle and had known the whine of the lariat and the dust of the drag drive all his days. Every man has his code. Three things stood out in that of Shorty. He was loyal to the hand that paid him, he stood by his pals, and he believed in and after his own fashioned loved cattle and the life of which they were the central fact. To destroy the range feed wantonly was a crime so nefarious that he could not believe Doble guilty of it. And yet—

He could not let the matter lie in thought. He had left it nd-tte thought. He had left the tenejon and rode to Steelman's house. Before entering he examined carefully both of his long-barreled forty-fives. He made sure that the six-shooters were in perfect order and that they rested free in the holsters. That sixth sense acquired by "bad men," by means of which they sniff danger when it is close, was telling him that smoke would rise before he left the house.

He stepped to the porch and knocked. There came a moment's silence, a low-pitched murmur of whispering voices carried through an open window, the shuffling of feet. The door was opened by Brad Steelman. He was alone in the room.

"Where's Dug?" asked Shorty bluntly.

"Why, Dug—why, he's here, Shorty. Didn't know it was you. Lowed it might be some one else. So he stepped into another room."

The short cowpuncher walked in and closed the door behind him. He stood with his back to it, facing the other door of the room.

"Did you hire Dug to fire the chaparral?" he asked, his voice ominously quiet.

A flicker of fear shot to the eyes of the oil promoter. He recognized signs of peril and his heart was drenched with an icy chill. Shorty was going to turn on him, had become a menace.

"You know I wouldn't do that," the older man whined. "I got sheep ain't I? Wouldn't be reasonable I'd destroy their feed. No, you got a wrong notion about—"

"Yore sheep ain't on the south slope range." Shorty's mind had moved forward one notch toward certainty. Steelman's manner was that of man dodging the issue. It carried no conviction of innocence. "How much you payin' him?"

The door of the inner room opened. Dug Doble's big frame filled the entrance. The eyes of the two gunmen searched each other. Those of Doble asked a question. Had it come to a showdown? Steelman sidled over to the desk where he worked and sat down in front of it. His right hand dropped into an open drawer, apparently carelessly and without intent.

Shorty knew at once that Doble had been drinking heavily. The man was morose and sullen. His color was high. Plainly he was primed for a killing if trouble came.

"Lookin' for me, Shorty?" he asked.

"You fired e'ar Canon," charged the cowpuncher.

"So?"

"When I went to saddle."

Doble's eyes narrowed. "You ain't to run my business, Shorty?"

Neither man lifted his gaze from the other. Each knew that the test had come once more. They were both men who had "gone bad," in the current phrase of the community. Both had killed. Both searched now for an advantage in that steady duel of the eyes. Neither had any fear of the emotions that dominated were cold rage and caution. Every sense and nerve in each focussed to one purpose—to kill without being killed.

"When yore's a mine, Dug."

"Is this yore's?"

"Sure is. I've stood for a heap from you. I've let yore ugly temper ride me. When you killed Tim Har- rigan you got me in bad. Not the first time either. But I'm damned if I'll ride with a coyote low-down enough to burn the range."

"No?"

From the desk came the sharp angry bark of a revolver. Shorty felt his hat lift as a bullet tore through the rim. His eyes swept to Steelman, who had been a negligible factor in his calculations. The man fired again, and blew out the light in the darkness. Shorty swept out both guns and fired. His first two shots were directed toward the man behind the desk, the next two at the spot where Doble had been standing.

Another gun was booming in the room, perhaps two. Yellow fire flashes ripped the blackness. Shorty whipped open the door at his back, slid through it, and kicked it shut with his foot as he leaped from the porch. At the same moment he thought he heard a groan.

Swiftly he ran to the cottonwood where he had left his horse tied. He jerked loose the knot, swung to the saddle, and galloped out of town.

The drumming of hoofs came down the wind to a young fellow returning from a late call on his sweetheart. He wondered who was in such a hurry.

CHAPTER XXXVIII

Dug Doble Rides Into The Hills

The booming of the guns died down. The arid smoke that filled the room lifted to shrouded skirts. A man's deep breathing was the only sound in the heavy darkness.

Presently came a soft football of some one moving cautiously. A match flared. A hand cupped the flame for an instant to steady it before the match moved toward the wick of a kerosene lamp.

Dug Doble's first thought was for his own safety. The house door was closed, the window blinds were down. He had heard the beat of hoofs die away on the road. But he did not intend to be caught by a trick. He stepped forward, locked the door, and made sure the blinds were offering no cracks of light. Satisfied that all was well, he turned to the figure sprawled on the floor with outflung arms.

"Dead as a stuck pig," he said callously after he had turned the body over. "Got him plumb through the forehead—in the dark, too. Some shootin', Shorty."

He stood looking down at the face of the man whose brain had spun so many cobwebs of deceit and treachery. Even in death it had none of that dignity which sometimes is lent to those whose lives have been full of meanness and guile. But though Doble looked at his late ally, he was not thinking about him. He was mapping out his future course of action.

If any one had heard the shots and been found here now, no fury on earth could be convinced that he had not killed Steelman. His six-shooter still gave forth a faint trickle of smoke. An examination would show that three shots had been fired from it.

He must get away from the place at once.

Doble poured himself a drink of tumbler of whiskey and drank it neat. Yes, he must go, but he might as well take with him any money Steelman had in the safe. The dead man owed him a thousand dollars he would never be able to collect in any other way.

He stooped and examined the pockets of the still figure. A bunch of keys rewarded him. An old-fashioned safe stood in the corner back of the desk. Doble stooped in front of it, then waited for an instant to make sure nobody was coming. He fell to work, trying the keys one after another.

A key fitted. He turned it and swung open the door. The killer drew out bundles of papers and glanced through them hurriedly. Deeds, mortgages, oil stocks, old receipts; he wanted none of these, and tossed them to the floor as soon as he discovered there was no bank-notes among them. Compartment after compartment he rifled. Behind a package of abstracts he found a bunch of greenbacks tied together by a rubber band at each end. The first bill showed that the denomination was fifty dollars. Doble investigated no farther. He thrust the bulky package into his inside coat pocket and rose.

Again he listened. No sound broke the stillness of the night. The silence got on his nerves. He took another big drink and decided it was time to go.

He blew out the light and once more listened. The lifeless body of his ally lying within touch of his foot did not disturb the outlaw. He had not killed him, and if he had it would have made no difference. Very softly for a large man, he passed to the inner room and toward the back door. He deflected his course to a cupboard where he knew Steelman kept liquor and from a shelf helped himself to an unbroken quart bottle of bourbon. He knew himself well enough to know that during the next twenty-four hours he would want whiskey badly.

Slowly he unlocked and opened the back door. His eyes searched the yard and the open beyond to make sure that neither his enemy nor a sheriff's posse was lurking in the brush for him. He crept out to the stable, revolver in hand. Here he saddled in the dark, deftly and rapidly, thrusting the bottle of whiskey into one of the pockets of the saddlebags. Leading the horse out to the mesquite, he swung to the saddle and rode away.

He was still in the saddle when the peaks above caught the morning sun low in a shaft of golden light. Far up in the gulches the new fallen snow reflected the dawn's pink.

In a pocket of the hills Doble unsaddled. He hobbled his horse and turned it loose to graze while he lay down under a pine with the bottle for a companion.

The man had always had a difficult temper. This had grown on him and had been responsible largely for his decline in life. It had been no part of his plan to "go bad." There had been a time when he had been headed for success in the community. He had held men's respect, even though they had not liked him. Then somehow, he had turned the wrong corner and been unable to retrace his steps.

He could even put a finger on the time he had commenced to slip. It had begun when he had quarreled with Emerson Crawford about his daughter Joyce. Shorty and he had done some brand-burning through a wet blanket. But he had not gone so far that a return to respectability was impossible. A little rustling on the quiet, with no evidence to fasten it on, was nothing to bar a man from society. He had gone more definitely wrong after Sanders came back to Malapud. The young ex-convict, he chose to think, was responsible for the circumstances that made of him an outlaw. Crawford and Sanders together had exposed him and driven him from the haunts of men to the hills. He hated them both with a bitter, morose virulence his soul could not escape.

Throughout the day he continued to drink. This gave him no refuge from himself. He still brooded in the inferno of his own thought-circle. It is possible that a touch of madness had begun to affect his brain. Certainly his subsequent actions would seem to bear out this theory.

Revenge! The thought of it spurred him every waking hour, roving his wounded pride cruelly. There was a way within reach of his hand, one suggested by Steelman's whisperings though never openly advocated by the shepherd. The jealousy of the man urged him to it, and his consuming vanity persuaded him that out of evil might come good. He could make the girl love him. So her punishment would bring her joy in the end. As for Crawford and Sanders, his success would be such bitter medicine to them that time would never wear away the taste of it.

At dusk he rose and resaddled. Under the stars he rode back to Malapud. He knew exactly what he meant to do and how he meant to do it.

CHAPTER XXXIX

The Tunnel

Dave knew no rest that night. He patrolled his line from San Jacinto to Cattle and back again, stopping at ways to lend a hand where the attack was most furious. The men of his crew were weary to exhaustion, but the pressure of the fire was so great that they dared not leave the front. As soon as one blaze was beaten out, another started. A shower of sparks close to Cattle Canon swept over the ridge and set the thick grass afire. This was smothered with saddle blankets and with sand and dirt thrown from shovels.

Nearer to San Jacinto Canon the danger was more acute. Dave did not dare back-fire on account of the wind. He dynamited the timber to make a trail-break against the howling, roaring wall of fire plunging forward.

As soon as the flames seized the timber the heat grew more intense. The sound of falling trees as they crashed down marked the progress of the fire. The men retreated, staggering with exhaustion, hands and faces flayed, eyes inflamed and blinded by the black smoke that rolled over them.

A stiff wind was blowing, but it was no longer a steady one. Sometimes it bore from the northeast; again in a cross-current almost directly from the east. The smoke poured in, swirling round them till they scarce knew one direction from another.

The dense cloud lifted for a moment, swept away by an air current. To the fire-fighters that glimpse of the landscape told an appalling fact. The demon had escaped below from San Jacinto Canon and been swept westward by a slant of wind with the speed of an express train. They were trapped by the back-fire in a labyrinth from which there appeared no escape. Every path of exit was blocked. The flames had leaped from hilltop to hilltop.

The men gathered together to consult. Many of them were on the verge of panic.

Dave spoke quietly. "We've got a chance if we keep our heads. There's an old mining tunnel hereabouts. Follow me, and stay together."

He plunged into the heavy smoke that had fallen about them again, working his way by instinct rather than by sight. Twice he stopped, to make sure that his men were all at heel. Several times he left them, diving into the smoke to determine which way they must go.

The dry, salt crackle of a dead pine close at hand would have told him, even if the oppressive heat had not, that the fire would presently sweep over the ground where they stood. He drew the men steadily toward Cattle Canon.

In that furious, murk-filled world he could not be sure he was moving in the right direction, though the slope of the ground led him to think so. Falling trees crashed about them. The men staggered on in the uncanny light which tinged even the smoke.

Dave stopped and gave sharp, crisp orders. His voice was even and steady. "Must be close to it now. Lie back of these down trees with your faces close to the ground. I'll be back in a minute. Shorty, you're boss of the crew while I'm away."

"You're gonna leave us to roast," a man accused, in a voice that was half a scream.

Sanders did not stop to answer him, but Shorty took the hysterical man in hand. "GH tore a hole in you. Ain't you got sense enough to see he'll save us if there's a chance?"

The man fell trembling to the ground.

"Two men behind each log," ordered Shorty. "If yore clothes git afire, help each other put it out."

They lay down and waited while the fire swept above and around them. Fortunately the woods here were not dense. Men prayed or cursed or wept, according to their natures. The logs in front of some of them caught fire and spread to their clothing. Shorty's voice encouraged them. "Stick to it, boys. He'll be back if he's alive."

It could have been only ten minutes, but it seemed hours before Sanders' voice rang out above the fury of the blast.

"All up! I've found the tunnel! Step lively now!"

They staggered after their leader, Shorty bringing up the rear to see that none collapsed by the way. The line moved drunkenly forward, now and again a man went down, overcome by the smoke and heat. With brutal kicks Shorty drove him to his feet again.

counted the men as they passed in. Two were missing. He ran along the back trail, dense with smoke from the approaching flames, and stumbled into a man. It was Shorty. He was dragging with him the body of a man who had fainted. Sanders seized an arm and together they managed to get the unconscious victim to the tunnel.

Dave was the last man in. He learned from the man in the rear that the tunnel had no drift. The floor was moist and there was a small seepage spring in it near the entrance.

Some of the men protested at staying.

"The fire'll lick in and burn us out like rats," one man urged. "This ain't no protection. We've just walked into a trap. I'll take my chance outside."

Dave reached forward and lifted one of Shorty's guns from its holster. "You'll stay right here, Dillon. We didn't make it one minute too soon. The whole hill out there's roaring."

"I'll take my chance out there. That's my lookout," said the man, moving toward the entrance.

"No. You'll stay here." Dave's hard, chill gaze swept over his crew. Several of them were backing Dillon and others were wavering. It is your only chance, and I'm here to see you take it. Don't take another step."

Dillon took one, and went crumpling to the granite floor before Dave could move. Shorty had knocked him down with the butt of his nine-inch-barrel revolver.

Already smoke was filling the cave. The fire had raced to its mouth and was licking in with long, red, hungry tongues. The tunnel timbers were smouldering.

"Lie down and breathe the air close to the ground," ordered Dave, just as though a mutiny had not been quelled a moment before. "Stay down there. Don't get up."

He found an old tomato can and used it to throw water from the seepage upon the burning wood. Shorty and one or two other men helped him. The heat near the mouth was so intense they could not stand it. All but Sanders collapsed and staggered back to sink down to the fresher air below.

Their place of refuge packed with smoke. A tree crashed down at the mouth and presently a second one. These, blazing, sent more heat in to cook the tortured men inside. In that bakehouse of hell men showed again their nature, cursing, praying, storming, or weeping as they lay.

The prospect hole became a madhouse. A big Hungarian, crazed by the torment he was enduring, leaped to his feet and made for the blazing hill outside.

"Back there!" Dave shouted hoarsely.

The big fellow rushed him. His tender flung him back against the rock wall. He rushed again, screaming in crazed anger. Sanders struck him down with the long barrel of the forty-five. The Hungarian lay where he fell for a few minutes, then crawled back from the mouth of the pit.

At intervals others tried to break out and were driven back.

Dave's eyebrows crisped away. He could scarcely draw a breath through his inflamed throat. His eyes were swollen and almost blinded with smoke. His lungs ached. Whenever he took a step he staggered. But he stuck to his job hardily. The tomato can moved more jerkily. It carried less water. But it still continued to drench the blazing timbers at the mouth of the tunnel.

So Dave held the tunnel against the fire and against his own racked and tortured men. Occasionally he lay down to breathe the air close to the floor. There was no circulation for the tunnel added in a wall face. But the smoke was not so heavy close to the ground.

Man after man succumbed to the stupor of unconsciousness. Men choked, strangled, and even died while their leader, his hair burnt and his eyes almost sightless, face and body raw with agonising wounds, crept feebly about his business of saving their lives.

Fire-crisped and exhausted, he dropped down at last into forgetfulness of pain. And the flames, which had fought with such savage fury to blot out the little group of men fell back sullenly in defeat. They had spent themselves and could do no more.

The line of fire had passed over them. It left charred trees still burning, a hillside black and smoking, desolation and ruin in its path.

Out of the prospect hole a man crawled over Dave's prostrate body. He drew a breath of sweet, delicious air. A cool wind lifted the hair from his forehead. He tried to live a cowpuncher's yell for joy. From out of his throat came only a cracked and raucous rumble. The man was Shorty.

Shorty dragged Dave into the open. He was a sorry sight. The shirt had been almost literally burned from his body.

In the fresh air the men revived quickly. They went back into the cavern and dragged out those of their companions not yet able to help themselves. Three out of the twenty-nine would never help themselves again. They had perished in the tunnel.

CHAPTER XL

A Message

The women of Malapud responded generously to the call Joyce made up in them to back their men in the fight against the fire in the chaparral. They were simple folk of a generation not far removed from the pioneer one which had settled the country. Some of them had come across the plains in white-topped movers' wagons. Others had lain awake in anxiety on account of raiding Indians on the war-path. All had lived lives of frugal usefulness. It is characteristic of the frontier that its inhabitants help each other without stint when the need for service arises. Now they cooked and baked cheerfully to supply the want of the fire-fighters.

Joyce was in command of the commissary department. She ordered and issued supplies, checked up the cooked food, and arranged for its transportation to the field of battle. The first shipment went out about the middle of the afternoon of the first day of the fire. A second one left town just after midnight. A third was being packed during the forenoon of the second day.

Though Joyce had been up most of the night, she showed no signs of fatigue. In spite of her slenderness, the girl was possessed of a fine animal vigor. There was vitality in her crisp tread. She was a decisive young woman who got results competently.

A bustling old lady with the glow of winter apples in her wrinkled cheeks remonstrated with her.

"You can't do it all, dearie. If I was you I'd go home and rest now. Take a nice long nap and you'll feel fresh," she said.

"I'm not tired," replied Joyce. "Not a bit. Think of those poor men out there fighting the fire day and night. I'd be ashamed to quit."

The old lady's eyes admired the clean, fragrant girl packing sandwiches. She sighed, regretfully. Not long since—as her memory measured time—she too had boasted a clear white skin that flushed to a becoming pink on her smooth cheeks when occasion called.

"A-well a-well, dearies, you'll never be young but once. Make ye the most of it," she said, a dream in her faded eyes.

Out of the heart of the girl a full-throated laugh welled. "I'll do just that, Auntie. Then I'll grow some day into a nice old lady like you."

A resident of the Sharbot Lake district where this fruit is usually plentiful, said that though the crop started out well in the early summer, the subsequent drought and hot spell dried the fruit up on the bushes and in many cases dried up the bushes as well.

GEORGE'S "WILL YOU?" 4000 FEET UP, WINS

That Old Performance in Front of Parlor Sofa is Now Out of Date.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—"That old 'Will you be my wife?' appeal, with one knee on the floor in front of the parlor couch, is ineffective, George Hauser, aviator, declared here yesterday.

Here's the way George did it when he asked Miss Mildred Armstrong to take a ride with him in his aeroplane:

1000 feet—Miss Armstrong looking straight ahead.

1500 feet—The lady smiles Hauser moves over a little.

2000 feet—He holds her hand.

2500 feet—He holds both her hands in his one.

3000 feet—She leans head on his shoulder.

3500 feet—He tries for a kiss but misses.

4000 feet—He says: "Will you be my wife?" She remarks: "Yes."

And so they came back to earth to be married.

Navigation on this stretch is becoming dangerous as a result of these conditions, and it is about time that the proper authorities took steps to clear the river of these obstructions.

"BRINGING UP FATHER" BY GEORGE McMANUS.

PEACE OVATION BY NORTHCLIFFE

In Speech at Const he Says Disarmament Should Follow Conference

IDEA HIGHLY IMPORTANT Hopes Idea Will Spread From Pacific to Europe and Usher in New Era

VANCOUVER, Aug. 6.—"If the delegates at the Washington disarmament conference truly and constantly represent the desire of their respective nations," said Lord Northcliffe, speaking before the Canadian Club at a luncheon given in his honor here, "I am convinced that an agreement will be reached and an era of peace and prosperity will be opened in the Pacific.

"Nor will this be all. The example will be so compelling that the movement will extend from the Pacific to Europe and throughout the world.

"The limitation of armaments or, as some prefer to call it, disarmament, is a matter of such transcendent significance that to dismiss it in a few phrases would be unpardonable.

"You will have seen from the resolutions the British Empire premiers communicated to the House of Commons on Wednesday that while the British Government and those of the Dominions and India are agreed that the minimum naval standard for Empire defence is equality of strength with any other power, precise recommendation of the maintenance of this standard should be deferred until after the forthcoming conference on disarmament.

"That is, to my mind, a very wise resolution. It recognizes by implication the great importance of the Washington conference, and it refrains from prejudicing the situation which the conference may create.

"I was recently at Washington, where I had the honor of being received by President Harding and Mr. Hughes. I am betraying no secrets when I say that I believe those two eminent men have a very clear understanding of the momentous character of the gathering in Washington to which the chief powers of the world have been invited, and which in my humble but very sincere opinion may prove to be the greatest and most pregnant gathering of the kind that has ever been held.

"I trust that all the nations represented at the conference will be imbued with a sense of the profound importance of the work their delegates will have to do.

"In England, as you may know, we are disarming. The British army is reduced to a figure below its peace strength before the war, while the navy is weaker, both as regards big ships and personnel, than it was in January, 1914.

"The statements made in the House of Commons on Wednesday as to the replacing of the four obsolete or obsolescent cruisers by new vessels of the post-Jutland type do not essentially alter this fact. At present we have only one big ship—the Hood—that partly embodies the lessons of the battle of Jutland; and the Hood is not free from the defects that are unavoidable when the architecture of a vessel has to be considered while she is being built.

"These ships are undoubtedly necessary, cannot be completed in less than five years and their cost will fortunately be spread over as many budgets.

CRUSHING TAXATION In England taxation is crushingly heavy upon all classes of the community, and all are agreed that it must be lightened. Notwithstanding signs of revival, trade is hampered by the economic consequences of the war, consequences that can only be mitigated by hard work in an era of peace and constructive effort.

"The world is sick and needs time to recover from the tremendous shock it has received. What are known as social questions are also pressing upon us; for, while the economic and industrial position is not normal, millions of men and women who, during

UNDESIRABLES

PARIS, Aug. 6.—Adelbert Korfanty, leader of the Polish revolt in Silesia, was prevented from going to Britain to plead the Polish cause. The British Government regarded him as an undesirable and the British Ambassador here refused to give him a passport.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 6.—Nikolai Lenin, Russian Bolshevik Premier, plans to leave soon for a holiday in Scotland, if Britain grants permission.

The war attained a higher standard of living are anxious not to be thrust back into pre-war conditions.

"There is at the same time a reaction from the high idealism that animated the Allies and associates during the war. People are feeling a little disheartened; they are wondering whether affairs will ever be settled by anything except force, and whether good will, reason and common sense will ever regulate the intercourse of nations. At such a moment comes President Harding's call to a conference on disarmament, with special references to the Pacific.

"All the nations invited have now accepted his invitation. They will have to answer in their own minds before they go to Washington, the question whether they sincerely desire to reach an agreement that will make disarmament possible, or whether they are prepared to face the alternative of failure to reach such an agreement.

"I cannot conceive of a greater disaster than any failure of that conference to achieve the ends for which it will meet.

"It is essential that all should help to make it a success. We can all help, we can help by promoting good will, by not saying unkind things about their nations, by disarming our minds where we reduce our fleets.

"This is a big business and nothing should be allowed to enter into it. If it is carried through, as I am sure it has been conceived in a big way, it will be easier for everyone concerned to take a big view of it, and to measure their success by the only standard that really counts, that is to say, by the extent of their contribution to a common victory over international distrust and misunderstanding.

ADVOCATES SUPPORT "My visit to the Pacific is for the purpose of getting a better knowledge, in my humble way, exactly where the points of danger lie.

"So I am going to school in the Far East, after visiting rapidly over your dominions of New Zealand and Australia. I shall be a humble, and, I hope, patient scholar.

"I would beg you to do all in your power to support the Washington conference. Its failure would be a catastrophe. The bad old days of competitive armaments, otherwise, would come again and with them the old terrors and the old fears of war.

When I was in Canada some years ago, I spoke of the war that few people believed was coming—and some people thought me mad. Now I speak to you of the peace that will come if we all work hard, honestly and unselfishly for it—and of the direct consequences that must ensue if we fail to read aright the signs of the times and do our duty."

O.C. AT VATICAN TOO WAR-LIKE

Commander of Swiss Guards Tried to Put 70 Men on War Footing

HOLY FATHER STOPPED IT Issue of Ammunition Recalled to Stores After Guard Begun Shooting

ROME, Aug. 6.—Colonel Repond, who was called to be commander of the Swiss Guards at the Vatican during the pontificate of Pius X and who gained considerable distinction because of his efforts to place the 70 soldiers who compose the guard on a "war footing," has resigned. Pope Benedict has appointed Colonel Michschuhl, the next senior officer of the corps, to succeed him.

Colonel Repond was an officer of the Swiss regular army and came to the Vatican under the impression that he could give the Pope's body guard a more martial spirit. They were put on strict military discipline, aroused at 4.30 o'clock in the morning and put through drills in the most rigid fashion. The 70 men were taken out on the Belvedere court inside the Vatican gardens and given manoeuvres.

One day, Colonel Repond had an audience with His Holiness Pius X and laid before him plans for the fortifying of the Vatican. These included the placing of canon on the roof of St. Peter's. The Holy Father looked upon the colonel, smiling one of his benign smiles, and said: "Canon? What for? Not to shoot?"

"No, your Holiness," replied the colonel.

"Well, then?" interrogated the venerable Pontiff.

The colonel did not answer and he was excused.

Colonel Repond had also issued to the Swiss Guards a certain amount of ammunition. One day a guard began shooting near the barracks. The reports stirred the whole Vatican. The issue of cartridges was ordered prohibited and the guards deprived of those they still had.

This was the last attempt of the colonel to institute war tactics. The guards continue to use the 15th century hardware when on duty.

SPANISH SLAIN TO LAST MAN

Final Twenty Massacred After Moors Had Promised them Safety

MADRID, Aug. 6.—Twenty Spanish soldiers, the last remnant of the Spanish troops to resist capture of the town of Nador, 15 miles south of Melilla, were massacred by the Moors after having surrendered, according to advices received in Melilla today from Melilla.

The massed Spanish troops had held out for eleven days against great odds, the despatch said, taking refuge first in a church and finally in a nearby mill. They surrendered, it was said, only after the attacking tribesmen had offered to spare their lives.

WHOLESALE DISPOSAL OF BRITISH MANSIONS

Duke of Portland, Latest to Put Country Place, Walbeck Abbey, on Market

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Under pressure of heavy taxation British Dukes are ridding themselves of rural estates handed down through generations.

The latest to announce his intention of disposing of his ancestral possessions is the Duke of Portland, who yesterday informed his Nottinghamshire tenants that the famous Walbeck Abbey estate may soon be relinquished by his family.

He said the great war had entirely altered the outlook of large British landowners. The old state of things was passing away. There inevitably will be a wholesale closing down of the larger country houses, and he is now at all events when the present generation passes away, his Grace added, "if this is good for the country I certainly don't complain."

Other Dukes who recently have disposed of estates are Devonshire, Bedford, Westminster, Rutland, Grafton and Marlborough, while several Earls and Barons of long lineage have also placed their inheritances on the market.

PUSSEYFOOT OFF TO INDIA

Will Return in Three Months After Brief Campaign

LONDON, Aug. 6.—"Pussyfoot" Johnson, the American temperance worker sails for India today at the invitation of the Anglo-Indian Temperance Association which plans to launch a dry campaign in the Eastern Empire.

"I am going to tell what we did in America," he told newspapermen, and it is for them to make up their minds as to whether they will go dry or not."

Mr. Johnson did not appear to be daunted by the tales of India's wretchedness or by the reputed pride which the colonists have in their thirst.

When told that doctors agree that alcohol is the best protection in the world against malaria, he said: "We have no objection to the use of alcohol for medicinal purposes."

After a three months campaign he intends to return to England.

529 TARGETS AT NEW RANGES

Dominion Rifle Association Meet Starting August 16 to Set Record

UP THE OTTAWA RIVER Col. Birdwhistle Expects to See 1000 Marksmen Trying Their Luck

OTTAWA, Aug. 6.—(By Canadian Press)—The annual prize meeting of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association to be held in the week of August 15, will inaugurate a new era in the Association's life. For the first time, this year, the shooting will be done on the new Connaught Rifle Range with new and vastly increased accommodations. At the last pre-war meet, there were some 750 competitors and the Association's Secretary, Col. R. J. Birdwhistle, confidently expects the number to top a thousand within a year or two.

The Connaught Range lies 12 1/2 miles westerly from Ottawa, on a wide sweep of the Ottawa River, covering an area of 2,700 acres. Instead of the total 69 targets as at Rockcliffe, the new range has 529. There are 450 for use at 100 to 1,000 yards; 30 for service competition—quick firing matches at 500 and 600 yards; and a further range with 48 targets for short distance matches, 100 to 300 yards. Then there is a dummy man or deer, running target. Tunnels have been constructed to allow of constant communication with the butts, without any need to cease fire. The revolver range, not yet completed, will have 20 targets for shooting at from 15 to 75 yards. The danger area in rear of the butts is twice the length of the range, and the soil in the vicinity is of clay; thus eliminating danger from any ricocheting of bullets.

The range borders Lake Deschênes (a widening out of the Ottawa river) so that the competitors can bathe and swim to their heart's content. The camp will be under canvas, and the messing and recreation building (temporary) will be composed of large wooden aeroplane hangers. Boxing bouts, motion pictures and concerts will be arranged for every evening. In addition to permanent water and sanitation installations at the camp, wells have been sunk at various points on the ranges to supply thirsty shooters with cold water.

Indications, says Col. Birdwhistle, from all the provinces, points to a much larger gathering than that of the last year. The total entries will not be ascertained, however, until within a week of the meet. There are no new regulations of any importance to govern the shooting.

It is at this meet that men qualify to shoot in the Canadian Bisley team of 1922.
