MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR THE LATE PRIVATE GEO. F. CRAIK

St. Andrew's church, Newcastle, last Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock service, was crowded to excess by civilians, a detachment from the Wireless Garrison, under Major Cameron and Lieutenant Fowle, members of the Artillery draft under Sergeant LeBlanc, Lieutenant McKnight of the 132nd battalion, (on leave) together with the 73rd regimental band which played parts of the music throughout the service, to pay the last respects to the memory of the late Private George Frederick Craik, of the 26th N. B. Battalion, killed in action on September 28th.

The usual morning chants were sung to the accompaniment of the organ and in place of the psalms for the day, psalms thirty nine and ninety, from the burial service were used, as also prayers therefrom. The hymns "Nearer My God to Thee," "Abide with me," and "O God Our Help in Ages Past," were accompanied by the band, the members of which had seats in the chancel.

During the taking up of the offertory, a quartette of the band played "Lead Kindly Light," and after the blessing from the altar everybody stood whilst Bandmaster Cassidy played "The Last Post."

The Rector, in his sermon said that the church knew no difference between a Field Marshall or private soldier, provided each died doing his duty, and that they that morning honored the memory, the devotion to duty, the bravery of the late Private George Craik, as much as that of the late Field Marshall Lord Kitchener. Compared with those who are sacrificing nothing or next to nothing he had sacrificed his life. Allusion was also made to the fact that three other Craik brothers were in khaki.

The flag at St. Andrew's Rectory was at half-mast all day Sunday in memory of Newcastle's heroic soldier boy.

FIRST CASE OF ITS KIND IN NEWCASTLE

On Saturday, 14th October, at 7 p. m., Chief of Police Lucas and Scott, with Inspector Ashford, went into the Miramichi Hotel bar and found a boy under 16 years behind the counter acting as bartender. There were two men drinking at the time of visit.

While they were in there, another boy, about 14 years of age, came in carrying a bottle of whiskey under his coat, which he had evidently brought from the hiding place to replenish stock in the bar.

An information was laid and the matter was tried before Magistrate Jas. R. Lavelle last Monday afternoon under the Provincial Act "Respecting the Prevention of Wrongs to Children."

Mr. J. A. Craghan represented Mr. LeRoy Willis and pleaded guilty in both cases, asking leniency on account of Mr. Willis' ignorance of the law. Judge Lavelle fined the defendant $10 and costs in each case, amounting in all to $27.50. In his judgment, he said that he had imposed the minimum fine in these cases, as they were the first to be brought before the court in Newcastle under this act, but it must be pointed out upon as a precedent, and that if Mr. Willis was brought before him on another similar case, he would in all probability impose the maximum fine, which would be $100, or 3 months in jail.

He severely reprimanded the two boys who were found there, pointing out to them that if they continued in the business they could not expect to bring any credit to their families, because as a boy started so he grow up.

ENGINE TOOK A DIVE

A peculiar wreck occurred at the C. G. R. round house for the round last Sunday morning, as a result of which one of the railways big locomotives is now in the hands of mechanical surgeons in the Moncton repair shops.

The engine was standing on an inclined track, heading for the round house turn table pit, and was being cleaned up by a wiper, when he accidentally released the brake and the iron monster started down grade. The turn table track was not in place to receive the engine, and when it reached the pit it tumbled in. The front part of the engine was badly smashed up, and a big gash was torn in the roof of the round house when the suddenly elevated cabin of the engine crashed through it. A wrecking outfit the damaged locomotive on the rails again.

A FINE HOUSE

One of the finest residences on the Miramichi is the new house of Mr. D. J. Buckley, corner Mary and Jane streets, which is about completed, and is now occupied by the Buckley family. The new building is 42x50 feet, with an ell 24x24. The hall and parlors are finished in oak and the rest of the building in Douglas fir. All the floors are of polished hardwood. A very pleasing feature is the veranda, 8 feet wide with circular corners, on the sides and front. The cellar is the full size of the house, with closets for coal and stores. Mr. Thomas Power, the well-known architect, designed and built the house, and the plumbing—a big contract—was most efficiently done by Mr. B. F. Malby. The new building is in every respect a credit to the town.

Local Police Grab Alleged Burglar

Long Sought Man Arrested in Newcastle This Afternoon, While Enroute Home with Broken Leg

John McCormick of Maple Glen, who is supposed to be the robber Newcastle on whom John and James Duthie of Chalmersford recently captured and let stable to take him home, he came go, was arrested by Chief Lucas and Deputy Sheriff Irving here this afternoon, and was captured before he could leave for home. He was lodged in Restigouche county, and jail here.

Exciting Struggle Marks Close of Big Contest

Mrs. Harry Brown is in First Place but Other Competitors are Near the Top, and no one Appears to Have Decided Advantage

With the passing of another day the Union Advocate's secondarily safe conclusion that she will yet have a big additional volume of votes, the campaign will close at her credit, which she and her friends may have strong reason for believing will be sufficient to place her at the head of the list of prize winners when the final results are announced. Undismayed by her failure to hold first place, which she attained early in the campaign, Mrs. Reta Ullock, of Chatham Head, has shown lively

STANDING OF CONTESTANTS

MRS. HARRY BROWN, S. Nelson	648,300
MISS RETA ULLOCK, Chatham Head	646,700
MISS MINNIE M. BETTS, Doaktown	615,900
MISS KATIE HARRIGAN, Chalmersford	613,100

greater part of the campaign there has been keen competition among the ladies who have been accumulating votes, but within the last two weeks the struggle for first place has become much closer than was anticipated, and the last stage of the campaign presents the spectacle of four contestants running so close together that one may be said to have as good a chance as another of winning premier honors when the finishing post of the campaign is reached next Tuesday. Naturally such a circumstance has created the greatest interest in the outcome of the campaign, and has caused widespread speculation as to which of the four ladies who are now so close together will capture the "Chevrolet" touring car which will be awarded to the lady standing the highest when the judges—who will count the votes—shall have finished their work next Wednesday morning.

A large number of people, especially in and around Doaktown and Boles-town, regard Miss Minnie M. Betts, of Doaktown, as being sure of success, and such confidence is certainly justified in large measure, by the splendid record Miss Betts has made in the campaign up to the present time. Miss Betts has been a most consistent, earnest worker, and has unquestionably displayed remarkable energy and ability in the progress she has made since she started to work in the campaign in earnest. It is also certain that her efforts to land the "Chevrolet" will not be lessened in any degree during the remaining days of the competition and it must be admitted that first prize is as likely to go to Doaktown as anywhere else. There has been no more earnest nor determined vote getter in the campaign than Mrs. Harry Brown, of South Nelson, and there are hosts of people who have no doubt she will finish the campaign in front of all other contestants. The results she has already achieved assuredly place her in a very favorable position for forging ahead at the finish of the competition, and those who know Mrs. Brown best are extremely sanguine of her triumph because they feel sure she is capable of, and will make, a supreme effort during the remainder of the campaign, which will enable her to obtain the highest reward to be won in the campaign.

It can not be said that any of the other contestants have any brighter prospects of victory than has Miss Katie Harrigan, of Chalmersford. Although starting later than the others who now figure as chief contenders for first prize, Miss Harrigan overcame the seemingly big handicap which she assumed when she began work, and as she was then at a much greater disadvantage than she now is, there is nothing necessarily discouraging in the situation she now faces. She has conclusively demonstrated her ability to secure votes under what would appear to the average observer as discouraging conditions, and has commendable perseverance in the face of discouragement, and within the last few days has met with a measure of success which has had the effect of renewing her enthusiasm and confidence, and this young lady is now in a stronger position than she has been for several weeks. This week she has given convincing evidence of her staying power, and with the prospect of working more effectively during the last days than she has at any other stage of the campaign, she will have to be seriously considered as a promising possibility among the aspirants for first place at the close of the campaign.

As matters stand today, the four remaining contestants appear to have fairly equal chances of winning the "Chevrolet" touring car. Prospects are not at all discouraging for any one of the four, while at the same time no one apparently has any decided advantage. As far as can be seen the determining factor in deciding the first prize winner, will be the results accomplished this week, and the two remaining days of the campaign next week. Beyond doubt the energy, determination and enthusiasm displayed by the various contestants during the final stage of the campaign, will spell victory for one lady, and comparative defeat for the other three. Who the victor will be and who will be the vanquished, only developments of the next few days can tell. No doubt can exist as to the resolution of each of the four final contenders to place her name at the head of the list of prize winners, if it is possible for her to do so, and it is certain that should the resolution of any particular contestant weaken in any degree, she will go down to defeat at the last moment, while the lady who exhibits the highest degree of courage, energy, enthusiasm and earnestness by the same token will reap the coveted reward which only merit can earn.

Closing Conditions
While the campaign will come to a close on Tuesday, Oct. 31, contestants will be given until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, Nov. 1, to hand in their final reports. At that hour, one or more of the judges will be present at the Union Advocate office to receive the reports, and the final report of every contestant will have to be in the Advocate office at that hour. No contestant will be allowed to receive any subscription after 9 o'clock. Contestants will be required to enclose their final reports, with subscription tickets, and the proper sums of cash, in envelopes which will be provided for that purpose. Each envelope must be sealed by the contestant handing it in. On the face of each envelope the contestant must write her name, but nothing else. When sealed, the envelopes must be handed by contestants to one of the judges.

Contestants are advised that cash is the only form of payment for subscription. (Continued on page 4)

Town Council Adopts Cement Sidewalk Policy

Will Pay Half of Cost of Work Done by Citizens-- Also Favors Equal Pensions for Dependants of Officers and Private Soldiers

Newcastle Town Council met in regular session on the 19th instant. His Worship Mayor Fish in the chair. Aldermen present were: Hayward, Mackay, McGrath, Scribner, Stables and Stuart. Absent—Ald. Kingston and Miller. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Yours truly, A. D. FARRAH & CO.

Ald. Stables said that the Council had decided not to lay a cement sidewalk this year, and he had notified Mr. Farrah to that effect, and had advised him not to build the sidewalk until he was given permission. Ald. Hayward thought it fair to allow the party to put down the sidewalk, the town to allow them to finish the sidewalk on that street, the town to allow at the rate of cost at the time it should finish the work.

Ald. Stables would like to see Mr. Farrah get the sidewalk, but did not favor putting a sidewalk in pieces. Ald. Hayward said that no one should lay any sidewalk except under the supervision of the Public Works Department. Ald. Stables would like to see Mr. Farrah get the sidewalk, but did not favor putting a sidewalk in pieces.

SEVEN YEARS TORTURE

Nothing Helped Him Until He Took "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Albert Varner, Buckingham, Que., May 3rd, 1915. For seven years, I suffered terribly from Severe Headaches and Indigestion. I had belching gas from the stomach, bitter stuff would come up into my mouth after eating, while at times I had nausea and vomiting, and had chronic Constipation. I went to several doctors and wrote to a specialist in Boston but without benefit.

The Mayor appointed the following committee: Ald. Stuart, Hayward and McGrath. The Mayor is ex-officio a member of all committees. The matter of the old well on Mrs. Croft's property, the overflow of which flooded her cellar last spring, and which she claims the town, under an old agreement, should look after, was referred to the public works committee. Adjourned.

Officers Eulogize Sgt.-Major Ingram

Oct. 1st, 1916 Dear Miss Ingram. Please accept my sincere sympathy in the bereavement which has come to you in the death of your brother Alex.

Having soldiered with him nearly two years in the 8th battery, before receiving my commission, besides being school mates at home, we were always great friends, and I feel his death very keenly, even though we got hardened to it out here. He was killed, and his gun crew with him, while in action only about fifty yards from where we are. The five were killed instantly, which is something to be thankful for, as they suffered absolutely no pain.

I was present at the funeral this morning and Alex, and his men were buried together in one large grave in a quiet little military cemetery. He was a great favorite in the battery, and his chums will fix up his grave as best they can. I hope some day to be able to give you the exact location and particulars, which censorship forbids at present.

Once more offering my sincere sympathy, I beg to remain, Yours very truly, F. H. ATKINSON, 13th Battery, C. F. A.

Oct. 1st, 1916 O. C. 8th Batt. 12th Bd. C. E. A. To Miss Minnie Ingram, Newcastle, N. B. Dear Miss Ingram. It is with great regret and sorrow, I find myself called upon to inform you of the death of your gallant brother, Sergt. Ingram, of this battery, yesterday afternoon, 30-8-16, at 5 p. m.

The Battery was in action at the time, and being shelled by a German 5.9 inch Howitzer Battery, when a direct hit on the gun pit, caused the instant death of the entire gun crew. I cannot express to you how deeply we all feel with you in your loss. Your brother's courage and great devotion to duty, caused him to be held in high esteem by every one in the Battery, and his example will remain a source of inspiration to both officers and men of this unit.

Capt. Shrew, Field Chaplain of the 1st Artillery Brigade is in full charge of the funeral arrangements. The cemetery is an official Canadian one and every care will be taken of the graves, and careful record will be kept of the location. Sergt. Ingram's personal effects will be forwarded through the usual military channels. FRED J. ALDERSON, Captain O. C. 8th Battery, C. F. A. P. S.—Capt. Shrew's post information me that your brother has been buried in Par Hill Military Cemetery, Map Location, 57 H S. E., W. 24 d. 5. 2.

The military authorities have a man in charge whose duty it is to keep the graves in good condition, with crosses erected by the director of graves registration, who will supply you with any further information. His address is: Director of Graves Registration Enquiries, War Office, Winchester House, 81 James Square, London, S. W. F. J. A. Capt. Diaphanous. A poet writes: "My love is dressed in sunbeams." Mere moonshine, of course. "I want you to understand that I got my money by hard work." "Why, I thought it was left you by your uncle?" "So it was; but I had hard work getting it away from the lawyers."

BREWERIES NOW MAKE FRUIT JUICE (Kansas City Times) In the campaigns for prohibition in Oregon and Washington the liquor interests pointed to the big brewing plants which would be closed and the hundreds of men who would be thrown out of work if those states became dry, and that argument had influence with many voters. But prohibition came in both these states and this is what happened: You have seen in The Star a page advertisement of "Loju," a new fruit juice. That is a product of the breweries of Oregon and Washington. Leopold F. Schmidt, founder and owner of great breweries in Olympia, Selem and Bellingham, saw that prohibition was coming. He believed in the future of fruit juices and he organized a company and before the prohibitory law went into effect he stopped making beer and equipped his three brewery plants to make "Loju," the juice of loganberries and "Appleju," the juice of ripe apples. The new fruit juices were liked by the public, and the demand grew, the business prospered, and now, instead of being closed, the three breweries are running at full capacity and more men are employed than formerly. And these men have the pride of knowing that they are in a clean business which is a benefit instead of a curse to mankind.

MISS LOUISE CROCKER READS PAPER
At the Westmorland, Kent and Albert counties united teachers' institute at Moncton, Thursday and Friday last, one of the very suggestive and helpful papers read was on "Inattentiveness," by Miss Louise Crocker, B. A., one of the Moncton teachers. Miss Crocker is a Millerton girl, and before joining the Moncton staff, was successfully Principal of the Superior School at Harcourt and Buctouche.

MAY NOT SEIZE LIQUOR ON SUNDAY
Judge Barry delivered judgment in Fredericton on Friday in the case of ex parte E. LeRoy Willis, setting aside a seizure of liquor made under a search warrant granted by Police Magistrate Lawlor. The search warrant and the seizure thereunder were set aside on the ground that a search warrant issued under the Canada Temperance Act could not be served or enforced on a Sunday. This is the first time that this point has come up in New Brunswick.

NEWCASTLE LADY ON ILL-FATED AULONIA
Considerable anxiety was felt on Friday over the safety of Miss Clare Creaghan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Creaghan, when it became known that the Canadian liner Aulonia had been sunk by a mine in the English Channel, as that young lady was a passenger on the ill-fated steamer. Late Friday evening Mr. Creaghan received a cable from his daughter, announcing that she had landed safely in Falmouth, and was therefore not a board with the accident occurred. Miss Creaghan will visit her sisters, Mrs. D. King Hazen, and Miss Eileen Creaghan, before going to France as a nurse.

PATRIOTIC FUND
Westmorland Patriotic Fund Executive met in the Council Chamber last Friday evening. Present: C. J. Morrissey, in the chair, R. C. Clark, Treas., R. A. N. Jarvis, sec., Revs. W. J. Bate, P. W. Dixon and J. MacArthur; W. A. Park, J. R. Lawlor, E. D. Creighton, and Stuart of the Executive; and also A. A. Davidson and Dr. R. Nicholson. One beneficiary was transferred to St. John, and another to Newcastle from the Chatham district. Seven new names, drawing a total monthly allowance of $95.50 were added, making the total number 110. The August pay roll contained 87 names drawing $1313.00. It was decided to revert to bi-monthly meetings—first and third Tuesdays. A special meeting will be held next Friday night to revise the present pay sheets.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR PRIVATE BARRON
A memorial service for Private Beverly Nelson Barron, was conducted Sunday afternoon in the Baptist church, by Rev. S. Gray, of Newcastle. A good company, among them the relatives of the deceased, gathered to honour the memory of the young hero, who as one of Canada's brave boys, who took part in the fight for right against might, truth against falsity, morality against licence, humanity against barbarism, and civilization against militarism. After six months service in the trenches he died of wounds received. Invited by the preacher the congregation rose to honour the memory of the young soldier. A beautiful duet was sweetly rendered by the Misses Lyons. Mr. Volkart presided at the organ, and suitable hymns were sung. Dr. Gray announced as his text: 2 Tim. 2: 3: "Endure hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ," discoursing as a Christian patriot and as a Christian preacher. Pathetic and tender references were made to the young hero, throughout the service, and particularly at its close.

MRS. W. H. O'PPLE DROWNED
Mrs. W. H. O'pple of Chicago, who has been a visitor in this town for the past few days was drowned yesterday at 4 o'clock, two miles southeast of this town. She and several Newcastle friends were on a little outing when the accident occurred. They left town early in the afternoon in a large automobile to enjoy the afternoon among the trees and flowers. They spread a large table cloth near the banks of Brown's Brook, and were about to enjoy an impromptu feast when one of the ladies suddenly exclaimed, "My, I'm Glad The Selfish Woman is Going to be Shown in Newcastle Friday." Mrs. O'pple fell back and was drowned in tears of joy. Her recovery was not as sudden as was expected, but never-the-less she rallied in a short time. "For Goodness Sake," she exclaimed, "I give me great joy to know that I finally can see the picture I have heard so much about. It was shown in Chicago for one solid week, but the theatre was so crowded I could not secure a seat."

R. A. N. Jarvis, foreman of the Union Advocate, receives a very complimentary notice, for samples of job-work, from "Printer and Publisher" of the current month.

SAFE IN ENGLAND
The chief press censor has officially announced the safe arrival in England of the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade which comprises the 85th, 185th, 193rd and 21st Battalions. A number of Newcastle boys have enlisted with these units, including Cleo Demers, Warren Davidson and Charles A'Haran, also J. Milford Lewis and Dan Gillis, who formerly resided here.

NEWCASTLE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE
A special meeting of the Newcastle Women's Institute was held on Thursday night at the home of Mrs. G. G. Stothart, and there was a good attendance. The members brought a large quantity of excellent preserves, pickles, jelly, etc., from which a small exhibit of a dozen bottles was selected to be sent to the apple show to be held in St. John next month at the same time as the annual convention of the N. B. Women's Institutes. The remainder of the samples was donated to the Miramichi Hospital, a very welcome gift to that institution.

ASSAULT CASE AMICABLY SETTLED
Magistrate Lawlor's police court last Friday morning proved a disappointment to a number of people who were present to hear the charge of common assault and threatening laid by J. Harry Brown against J. S. Scott. The case was amicably settled between the parties themselves without court proceedings. Mr. Brown withdrew the assault charge, and before witnesses made satisfactory apology for his alleged offensive personal remarks concerning Mr. Scott, and also agreed to refrain from interfering in any way in Mr. Scott's personal affairs in the future. Upon these considerations Mr. Scott entered into a personal recognizance to preserve the peace towards the complainant for a period of one year, and the two men shook hands and agreed to forget their differences.

CHILDHOOD AILMENTS
Childhood ailments in most cases come through some derangement of the stomach or bowels. Baby's Own Tablets have been proved by thousands of mothers to be the greatest medicine known for the cure of these ailments, simply because they regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach. Concerning them Mrs. Napoleon Lambert, St. Ignace, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are an excellent medicine for childhood ailments and I am well pleased with their use." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MILLERTON WOMEN'S INSTITUTE
The Millerton Women's Institute held their regular meeting at Mrs. J. D. Lyon's residence Thursday evening. In spite of the heavy rain storm 20 members answered the roll call. The subject of the evening was "What Canth, Patience and Elbow Grease may Accomplish," and each member had something of interest to say on the question.

REV. DR. WYLIE INDUCTED
Rev. Dr. Wylie, the new pastor of St. Andrew's church, formerly pastor of St. Stephen's church, St. Stephen, was inducted into his pastoral charge last Thursday evening. Rev. J. F. McCurdy, B. A., of Redbank, Moderator, presided, and inducted. Rev. W. B. Rosborough of Loggieville, preached. The minister was addressed by Rev. S. J. MacArthur of Newcastle, and the congregation by Rev. Alex. Firth of Douglastown. Both addresses were deeply spiritual and very helpful. After the service, the congregation tendered Dr. Wylie a most cordial and enthusiastic reception. St. Andrew's congregation lost their pastor, Rev. Geo. Wood a year and a half ago when that gentleman, who has since been wounded at the front, became Chaplain of the 4th Battalion, C. E. F. Rev. Mr. Wood was granted leave of absence until after the war, but in April last tendered his resignation, which was regrettably accepted by his people. Since then the pulpit has been supplied. Dr. Wylie preached there two Sundays last May, and as a result was recently chosen pastor. St. Andrew's church is now in the 100th year of its existence and has been served by twelve different ministers, as follows—Rev. James Thompson who began his ministry in 1816; Rev. W. G. Johnston; Rev. R. Archibald; Rev. John MacIsaac; Rev. Wm. Stewart; Rev. Charles Ogg; Rev. Wm. Wilson; Rev. R. Jardine; Rev. Wallace Watta; Rev. Jos. McCoy; Rev. D. Henderson; Rev. Geo. Wood and now by Rev. E. B. Wylie.

Farm Settlement Scheme Likely to Start Near Newcastle

Plans seem to be developing for the establishment of the provincial government's first community settlement near Newcastle.

On Monday Messrs. John Fisher, supervisor of the Illustration Station of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa; W. L. Graham, Field Husbandman of the same farm, accompanied Ald. C. C. Hayward of the Advisory Board, Newcastle; and J. S. Gilchrist, of the Farm Settlement Board, on an inspection of the block of land at Beaver Brook Station, nine miles north of Newcastle, which has been selected as one of the possible sites for a community of returned soldiers and other qualified settlers.

The party covered two blocks, one on each side of the railway, and each 1 1/2 miles square. The western block lies between Beaver Brook and the settlements of Trout Brook and Maple Glen. Good land was found here, which is thought to be part of an extensive area of excellent agricultural land stretching clear west to the two settlements above mentioned. Good land was also found in the eastern block between Beaver Brook and Douglastown. The party found enough good land in each block on their first days examination to warrant the recommendation of a detailed survey of the whole district, which will take about three weeks. The plan is to have it possible to provide for a settlement of 4 miles square, with an experimental farm in the centre, to teach the farmers, and supply them with the necessary help.

Tuesday the same party examined the section back of Whitneyville towards Maple Glen on the other side of the latter from Beaver Brook. Good land was found there, but in smaller quantities. The settlement will probably be located on both sides of the C. G. R. with Beaver Brook station as a centre. 120 families are expected to take land under the new government settlement plan at this point.

To meet again for the first time in half a century, after having come to school together as boy and girl, while all that time living within seven miles of each other, was the odd experience of Mrs. Geo. Hubbard, of Cassis, and Mayor C. E. Fish last Thursday noon when they were introduced as strangers at the Waverley Hotel dinner table.

"I think we went to school together at the old Harkins Academy here," observed Mrs. Hubbard after taking a good look at the Mayor.

For a moment the town's chief magistrate looked puzzled. Then recognition dawned upon him, and he said: "Were you Miss Whitney?" Mrs. Hubbard admitted that such was her maiden name, and then both their memories flitted back to the days of their youth when they attended school together at the Academy, which was in their school days the smaller structure which is now a part of the present Academy building. Many of the boys and girls who frequented the class rooms and playgrounds with them have passed beyond human ken, but some still remain. Among the latter Mrs. Hubbard recalls Mr. Percy Williston, of Newcastle, who she said, in his school days was a "regular little scamp," who was noted for his good natured and harmless pranks. Mrs. Hubbard was in Newcastle making arrangements for a journey to Monominee, Mich., where she intends spending the coming winter with her son, Edward R. Hubbard, who is a contractor there. Another son, Geo. B., lives at the same place. A daughter, Miss Myrtle Hubbard, lives near Chicago, and has risen very high in the nursing profession, having obtained an enviable degree and several diplomas.

Mrs. Hubbard will make the trip to Michigan alone, as she considers herself quite capable of getting around without having anyone to look after her.

Scott Act Repeal
is Gaining Favor

Nightly Meetings Arousing Interest of Community Leaders Throughout the County

The movement for the repeal of the Scott Act in Northumberland county, it is claimed by those supporting the movement, is making very satisfactory progress.

Rev. W. D. Wilson, secretary of the S. B. Branch of the Dominion Alliance addressed a meeting in behalf of the Repeal of the Scott Act in Holtville Thursday night. Rev. Geo. Tilley of Boiestown presided, and addressed the meeting. James Fowler is circulating the Repeal petition in Holtville; and J. E. MacNab in Boiestown. At Blackville

Friday night a meeting was held at Blackville. Councillor D. C. Schofield presided, and Rev. W. D. Wilson addressed the meeting. Councillor Schofield will superintend the circulation of the petition.

Sunday morning Rev. W. D. Wilson preached in St. John's Presbyterian Church, Chatham; Sunday afternoon in St. James' Presbyterian church, Nelson; and Sunday evening in St. Luke's Methodist church, Chatham. A mass meeting was held at the church services, in Chatham Temperance hall, and every seat was filled.

The following were present from Newcastle, Revs. S. Gray and Rev. S. J. MacArthur, Ald. C. C. Hayward, T. A. Shribner and H. H. Stuart, and Messrs. J. A. E. Locke, E. A. McCurdy and Jas. M. Troy.

Rev. J. J. Pinkerton of St. Luke's church called the meeting to order, and on motion, Ald. J. L. Stewart, Mr. Stewart in a few very well-chosen words explained the object of the meeting and called on Rev. W. D. Wilson to give the first address. Mr. Wilson very carefully and fully explained the New Brunswick Prohibition Act, and compared it with the Scott Act, from his view point, showing the great superiority of the N. B. Act.

Rev. John Harris of St. John's church, was the next speaker. He said, in part, There would be a big battle in Chatham. The Scott Act was a good act—it had many good qualities, like the Ten Commandments, but the difficulty was to enforce it.

Rev. Mr. Harris then took up the article in Saturday's Chatham World. The World was a fearless paper. You don't have to read it twice to see on which side the editor stands. The article in question attacked the Union Advocate for alleging that Chatham has a virtual license system.

Only a blind man was unable to see that in Chatham there is an implied understanding between the liquor sellers and those in authority. He protested against the administration of the Scott Act in Chatham. He did not care what all the worlds said—he would make the statement that there is an implied understanding.

The chairman—Between whom?
Rev. Mr. Harris—Between the persons who have the power to administer the Scott Act and the people who sell liquor.

Rev. S. J. MacArthur—That there is an implied understanding was practically admitted by Mr. W. B. Snowball at the last meeting in this hall.

Rev. Mr. MacArthur heartily agreed with all Rev. Mr. Harris had said. The responsibility rested with the church. When he came to the Miramichi, he was of opinion that drinking was a man's own business, but he had seen so much ruin caused by liquor in this county that he had soon changed his mind. He now felt that any amount of drinking injured a man.

Rev. W. D. Wilson explained that many others no provincial law could prevent importation for personal use. Under the new act druggists could sell only on prescriptions, which would be the delegates for prohibition, and their statement of the trend of public opinion towards prohibition, and the paper's own opinion that the time for prohibition was at hand. Sir F. X. Lemieux reminded the Premier that there had once been some 1700 licenses in P. Q. and the provincial finances were in a very bad condition. In 10 years the licenses had been reduced by 700 or 800, and the Province's credit is now better than ever, and the people more prosperous. He (Lemieux) hoped that Quebec would soon be in line with the other provinces on prohibition.

The delegates, said Father Dixon, represented the majority of the people of Quebec. Quebec was the first province to have Temperance legislation, and she should complete her course. Mr. Calder, one of the delegates had pointed out that now 46 of the 72 counties, 9 of the 15 cities, and 1158 villages had no licenses.
The auxiliary Archbishop of Quebec, another delegate, told the Premier that a Prohibition law was demanded by the majority of the people. Great changes had come in the last 10 years in popular feeling. And so, Judge Lafontaine and the other speakers.
A bishop of France also demanded Prohibition, for the salvation of France, American prelates, Archbishop of Ireland and others, were prohibitionists.
Father Dixon declared the liquor seller was the greatest enemy in our town. It was horrible to think that while brave soldiers were dying in the trenches for their country, people at home were poisoning young men with drink, rendering them incapable of taking their turn to defend their land. The man who drinks even beer has not the physical strength of him who does not. The liquor seller should be treated as a firebug or thief. It was shameful to see liquor with their rich flaunting their rich dresses bought with the money which belonged to the poor wives and children of the drunkards, who were being reduced by rum to the level of beasts. The Germans are a beer-drinking nation, and are brutalized

A REMARKABLE STATEMENT

Mrs. Sheldon Spent $1900 for Treatment Without Benefit. Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Englewood, Ill.—"While going through the Change of Life I suffered with headaches, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing. I had spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called at my house and said she had been as sick as I was at one time, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well, so I took it and now I am just as well as I ever was. I cannot understand why women don't see how much pain and suffering they would escape by taking your medicine. I cannot praise it enough for it saved my life and kept me from the Insane Hospital."—Mrs. E. SHELDON, 6657 S. Halsted St., Englewood, Ill.

Physicians undoubtedly did their best, but with this case steadily growing do not do more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

The Shadow of Broken Health

Can be Quickly Dispelled Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

When the shadow of poor health follows your life, when hope begins to fade and friends look serious, then is the time you should remember that thousands just as hopeless have been cured and restored to the sunshine of health by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new, rich blood which brings a glow of health to anaemic cheeks; cures indigestion, headaches and backaches; drives out the stinging pains of rheumatism; restores to the straggling nerves and relieves as no other medicine can do the aches and pains from which womanfolk alone suffer in any emergency of poor health give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and they will not disappoint you. Here is a case that will be of help to many a weary sufferer. Mrs. E. C. Taylor, Acot Ave., Toronto, says: "A few years ago I was so run down with anaemia that I could scarcely walk about the house, and was not able to leave it. I had no color; my appetite was poor and I was constantly troubled with headaches, dizzy spells and general inclination to move about or do anything. I tried many medicines but none of them helped me, and my friends thought I was in a decline. One day a friend who was in to see me asked if I had tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had heard of this medicine often, but had not used it, so I determined to give it a trial. I certainly got a pleasant surprise, for after using two boxes I could feel an improvement in my condition. Continuing the use of these pills I began to regain my health, the headaches and dizzy spells were disappearing, and I began to gain in weight. People began enquiring what I was taking and I was not slow to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the credit. I took the pills for less than two months, and completely regained my old time health and strength. I hope my experience may convince some doubtful person as to the great merit of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as I certainly have cause to be a firm champion of them."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The two girls were walking along a suburban avenue, talking about their best young man, of course. At least one of them was.

"Charlie was up to see me last night," she said.

"That's twice in a week, isn't it?" inquired the other.

"Yes." And she blushed and giggled.

"I suppose he'll come three times in the next week?"

"I suppose so."

"And four times the next?"

"That's what brother says."

"And five times the next?"

"That's what sister says."

"And six times the next?"

"That's what auntie says."

"And seven times the next?"

"That's what papa says."

"And then what?"

"Then we'll get married; that's what everybody says."

"And then what?"

"Then I won't see him any more of an evening; that's what mamma says."

The others thought he had merely choked and made no comment other than sympathy. They could not have dreamed that the old "physician" was as ignorant of the taste as of the vigor of pure spirits.

After a riot of handshaking and good wishes, Ira was permitted to escape with his life. Mallory followed him to the vestibule, when he caught him by the sleeve with an anxious: "Excuse me."

"Well, my boy—"

"Your minister—after you get through with him—may I use him?"

"May you—what? Why do you want a minister?"

"To get married."

"What? Good Lord, are you a Mormon?"

"No a Mormon!"

"Then what do you want with an extra wife? It's against the law—ever in Utah."

"You don't understand."

"My boy, one of us is disgracefully drunk."

"Well, I'm not," said Mallory, and then after a fierce inner debate, he decided to take Lathrop into his confidence. The words came hard after so long a duplicity, but at last they were out:

"Mr. Lathrop, I'm not really married to my wife."

"You young scoundrel!"

But his fury changed to pity when he heard the history of Mallory's ill-fated efforts, and he promised not only to lend Mallory his minister at second-hand, but also to keep the whole affair a secret, for Mallory explained his intention of having his own ceremony in the baggage-car, or somewhere out of sight of the other passengers.

Mallory's face was now aglow as the cold embers of hope leaped into sudden blaze. He wrung Lathrop's hand, saying: "Lord love you, you've saved my life—wife—both."

Then he turned and ran to Marjorie with the good news. He had quite forgotten their epoch-making separation. And she was so glad to see him smiling at her again that she forgot it, too. He came tearing into the observation room and took her by the shoulders, whispering: "Oh, Marjorie, Marjorie, I've got him! I've got him!"

"No, I've got him," she said, swinging Snoozeleums into view.

Mallory swung him back out of the way: "I don't mean a poodle, I mean a parson. I've got a parson."

"No! I can't believe it! Where is he?" She began to dance with delight, but she stopped when he explained:

"Well, I haven't got him yet, but I'm going to get one."

"What—again?" she groaned, weary of this old bunco game of hope.

"It's a real live one this time," Mallory insisted. "Mr. Lathrop has ordered a minister and he's going to lend him to me as soon as he's through with him, and we'll be married on this train."

Marjorie was overwhelmed, but she felt it becoming in her to be a trifle coy. So she pouted: "But you won't want me for a bride now. I'm such a fright."

He took the bait, took and all: "I never saw you looking so adorable."

"Honestly? Oh, but it will be glorious to be Mrs. First Lieutenant Mallory."

"Glorious!"

"I must telegraph home—and sign my new name. Won't mamma be pleased?"

"Won't she?" said Mallory, with just a trace of dubiety.

Then Marjorie grew serious with a new idea: "I wonder if mamma and papa have missed me yet?"

Marjorie laughed: "After three days' disappearance, I shouldn't be surprised."

"Perhaps they are worrying about me."

"I shouldn't be surprised."

"The poor dears! I'd better write them a telegram at once."

"An excellent idea."

She ran to the desk, found blank forms and then paused with knitted brow: "It will be very hard to say all I've got to say in ten words."

"Hang the expense," Mallory sniffed magnificently, "I'm paying your bills now."

But Marjorie tried to look very matronly: "Send a night letter in the day time! No, indeed, we must begin to economize."

Mallory was touched by this new revelation of her future housewifely thrift. He hugged her hard and reminded her that she could send a day-letter by wire.

"An excellent idea," she said. "Now, don't bother me. You go on and read your paper, read about Mattie. I'll never be jealous of her—him—of anybody—again."

"You shall never have cause for jealousy, my own."

But fate was not finished with the "distinction of the unfortunate pair, and already new trouble was strolling in their direction.

Mallory was so happy with everything coming his way, that he was even making up with Snoozeleums, stroking the tatted coat with one hand and holding up his newspaper with the other. He did not know all that was coming his way. The blissful silence was broken first by Marjorie: "How do you spell Utah?—with a y?"

"Utah begins with You," he said—and rather liked his wit, listened for some recognition, and rose to get it, but she waved him away.

"Don't bother me, honey. Can't you see I'm busy?"

He kissed her hair and sauntered back, dividing his attention between Snoozeleums and the ten-inning game.

And now there was a small commotion in the smoking room. Through the glass along the corridor the men caught sight of the girl who had got on at Green River. Ashton saw her first and she saw him.

"There she goes," Ashton hissed to the others, "look quick! There's the nectarine."

"My word! She's a little bit of all right, isn't she?"

Even Dr. Temple stared at her with approval: "Dear little thing, isn't she?"

The girl, very consciously unconscious of the admiration, moved demurely along, with eyes downcast, but at such an angle that she could take in the sensation she was creating; she went along picking up stares as if they were bouquets.

Her demeanor was a remarkable compromise between outrageous flirtation and perfect respectability. But she was looking back so intently that when she moved into the observation room she walked right into the newspaper Mallory was holding out before him.

Both said: "I beg your pardon."

When Mallory lowered the paper, both stared till their eyes almost popped. Her amazement was one of immediate rapture. He looked as if he would have been much obliged for a volcanic crater to sink into.

"Harry!" she gasped, and let fall her handbag.

"Kitty!" he gasped, and let fall his newspaper. Both bent, he handed her the newspaper and tossed the handbag into a chair; saw his mistake, withdrew the newspaper and proffered her Snoozeleums. Marjorie stopped writing, pen poised in air, as if she had suddenly been petrified.

The newcomer was the first to speak. She fairly gushed: "Harry Mallory—of all people."

"Kitty! Kathleen! Miss Lowellyn!"

"Just to think of meeting you again!"

"Just to think of it."

"And on this train of all places!"

"On this train of all places!"

"Oh, Harry, Harry!"

"Oh, Kitty, Kitty, Kitty!"

"You dear fellow, it's so long since I saw you last."

"So long."

"It was at that last hop at West Point, remember?—why, it seems only yesterday, and how well you are looking. You are well, aren't you?"

"Not very." He was mopping his brow in anguish, and yet the room seemed strangely cold.

"Of course you look much better in your uniform. You aren't wearing your uniform, are you?"

"No, this is not my uniform."

"You haven't left the army, have you?"

"I don't know yet."

"Don't ever do that. You are just beautiful in brass buttons."

"Thanks."

"Harry!"

"What's the matter now?"

"This tie, this green tie, isn't this the one I knitted you?"

"I am sure I don't know, I borrowed it from the conductor."

"Don't you remember? I did knit you one."

"Did you? I believe you did! I think I wore it out."

"Oh, you little boy. But see what I have. What's this?"

He stared through the glassy eyes of complete helplessness. "It looks like a bracelet."

"Don't tell me you don't remember this—the little bangle bracelet you gave me."

"Did I give you a bangled bracelet?"

"Of course you did. And the inscription. Don't you remember it?"

She held her wrist in front of his aching eyes and he peered as if it were his own epitaph, what she read aloud for him: "From Harry to Kitty, the Only Girl I Ever Loved."

"Good night!" he sighed to himself, and began to mop his brow with Snoozeleums.

"You put it on my arm," said Kathleen, with a moonlight sigh, "and I've always worn it."

"Always?"

"Always! no matter whom I was engaged to."

The desperate wretch, who had not dared even to glance in Marjorie's direction, somehow thought he saw a straw of self-defense. "You were engaged to three or four others when I was at West Point."

"I may have been engaged to the others," said Kathleen, moon-eyebing him, "but I always liked you best, Clifford—er, Tommy—I mean Harry."

"You got me at last."

Kathleen fenced back at this: "Well, I've no doubt you have had a dozen affairs since."

CHAPTER XXIX.
 Jealousy Comes Aboard.
 There was an air of domestic peace in the observation room, where Mallory and Marjorie had been left to themselves for some time. But the peace was like the ominous hush that precedes a storm.

THE WEEK IN NEWCASTLE

HOW GEO. CRAIK DIED
James W. Davidson received a letter Tuesday night from his son Harold, of the 26th Battalion, in which it is stated that Pte. George Craik met his death trying to save Edward Bernard, who died later.

RAISED $222 FOR 26th BATTALION COMFORTS
At the Tag Day held in Campbellton on Saturday, the handsome sum of $222 was raised to provide Christmas Comforts for the boys of the 26th Battalion. The proceeds of the Bean Supper in St. James Hall tonight will be used for the same purpose.

WANTS A KHAKI UNIFORM
J. H. Smallwood, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Smallwood of Newcastle, has vainly tried three times to go overseas, being rejected each time because of varicose veins. He is still hopeful of being able to serve his country in a man's way, and intends to continue trying for a suit of khaki.

A CARROT CURIOSITY
A carrot which had grown up to maturity, through the neck of a broken glass bottle which served as a collar or belt on the body of the vegetable, was a curiosity brought into the Advocate office Monday night by Pte. J. P. Doyle, of the 8th Field Ambulance, at St. John, who has been home in S. Nelson on leave. The carrot was taken from Mr. Doyle's garden, and the curious growth was quite accidental.

BLIND MAN'S HOUSE COMPLETED
The nine roomed dwelling house of John S. Johnson, the blind newspaper vendor, which has been under construction for two months, is now practically completed and ready for occupancy. Almost every detail of the work has been carefully supervised by the blind owner, the keenness of whose other faculties largely compensate him for the loss of his sight, and the new building is exceptionally well put up and finished and is a property of which its owner is justly proud. The house is situated on the south side of the Miramichi, a short distance east of the Morrissy bridge.

FOR 12th BATTERY
There are now 38 men besides Lt. J. L. Lawlor, in the 12th Battery draft. Those who have joined this month are:
Oct. 2—Stephen Campbell and John Gould, Nelson; Daniel Sweden, Kingston, Jamaica.
Oct. 11—Johann Hersted, Bergen, Norway; Wm. Geo. Brace, Harcourt.
Oct. 12—Harold Casey, Newcastle.
Oct. 15—Joseph Sappery, Ed Ground.
Oct. 18—Angus White, Newcastle.
Oct. 19—Fred Casey, Rogersville.
Oct. 20—Wm. and Michael Ginnish, Redbank.
Oct. 23—John Rasmussen, Copenhagen, Denmark.
Oct. 24—Jeremiah Mauzerall, Barryville.

KILLED IN ACTION
Pte. George Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson, is reported "killed in action" on October 8th.

SKALA-FITZGERALD
Miss Elizabeth Fitzgerald, daughter of Alex. Fitzgerald of Newcastle, was married on Sept. 18th to Henry Skala of Springfield, Mass. The happy couple resided at Springfield.

MILITARY DANCE
A most enjoyable affair was the Grand Ball given by the 12th Battery draft in the Town Hall last night. The most efficient committee had charge and the dance was well patronized. The chaperones were Mesdames R. H. Armstrong, J. D. Creaghan, J. R. Lawlor, and C. D. Manny. McEachern's orchestra furnished music. The receipts were some $90.

MONEY COLLECTED IN LOWER DERBY
A few weeks ago inquiry was made through The Union Advocate as to the disposal of funds collected from the public in Lower Derby, for patriotic purposes. Mrs. Lorne Dawson, treasurer of the fund, writes the Advocate that the money in question has just come into her hands, and that it will be used to purchase presents for soldiers who have come from Lower Derby. Mrs. Dawson submits a statement concerning the fund, as follows:

Receipts
Amount taken in as dues	$ 55
Amount at whist party	8.05
Amount at Bean Supper	25.55
Expenditures
Expense at whist party	$0.55
Expense at Bean Supper	4.75
	$5.30
Balance on hand	$28.75

PREPARING FOR WINTER
Fore handed and fore sighted people are planning now for their winter wants in wearing apparel of all kinds, and such readers of the Union Advocate will find news of timely interest to them in A. D. Farrah & Co.'s announcement of the three days' sale of fall and winter goods which this enterprising firm will start next Thursday morning, Nov. 2. During this big merchandising event, all regular prices on the immense Farrah stock will be materially reduced, and in many lines some extraordinary bargains are offered. These have been made possible through fortunate purchases made by the firm before prices soared to their present heights, and it is not likely that such temptations will be possible again owing to the continuing upward tendency of prices on all classes of products. During the Farrah sale an expert staff of courteous salespeople will be on hand to attend to purchasers' wants, and the store management gives the assurance that every effort will be made to please customers in every particular.
