Sermons On Catholic Worship

In the 15th Sermon of the series on Catholic Worship, a further explanation of the Nicene Creed is outlined. This Sermon was prepared by the Rev. Anthony Heithoff, Pastor of St. Joseph's Orphan Home, Helena.

REMAINDER OF NICENE CREED.

And the third day He rose again, according to the Scriptures. After Jesus had been dead and buried part of three days, He raised His body to life again by the power of His divinity, which remained united in both body and soul even in death. Holy Writ foretold the resurrection of Christ: 'Thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, nor wilt thou give thy holy one to see corruption.' (Ps. XV, 10). 'Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.' But He spoke of the temple of His body. (John II, 19-21). 'And they shall kill Him, and the third day He shall rise again.' (Matt. XVII, 22). 'For as Jonas was in the whale's belly three days and three nights, so shall the son of man be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights.' (Matt. XVI, 40). The fact of the resurrection of Christ is clearly established in Scripture: 'He is not here. He is risen, as He has said.' (Matt. XXVIII, 6). St. Peter, in his sermon on Pentecost day, calls attention to the prophecy of the Psalmist: 'Foretelling this he (David) spoke of the resurrection of Christ. For neither was He left in hell, neither did His flesh see corruption.' (Acts, II, 31). St. Paul says: 'For I delivered unto you, first of all, which I also received: how Christ died for our sins, according to the Scriptures. And that He was buried, and that He rose again the third day according to the Scriptures.' (1 Cor. XV, 3, 4).

THE ASCENSION.

'And ascended into Heaven.' The Saviour by His own power went up, body and soul, into heaven on Ascension day, forty days after His resurrection. 'Sitteth at the right hand of the Father.' By those words the Creed means that as God, Christ is equal to the Father in all things; as man He receives in heaven the highest honor next to God. 'And the Lord Jesus, after He had spoken to them, was taken up into heaven and sitteth on the right hand of God.' (Mark, XVI, 19).

'And He is to come again to judge the living and the dead, of whose kingdom there shall be no end.' The first coming of Christ was in 'humility without glory. Born in poverty, living in obscurity the greater part of His life, despised, slandered, persecuted. He died for us. The second coming will be in glory. 'Ye men of Galilee, this Jesus shall so come as you have seen Him going into heaven.' (Acts I, 11). 'They shall see the son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with great power and majesty.' (Matt. XXVI, 30). Having redeemed us, 'He is the propitiation for our sins.' (1 John, II, 1). Being our mediator and advocate, Christ, at the right hand of God, making intercession for us' (Rom. VIII, 34). We can be saved. He will judge whether we will be saved, whether we have accepted His teaching kept His commandments and used His means of salvation. 'We shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ.' (Rom. XIV, 10). The Redeemer's kingdom, which is not of this world, will have passed the stage of trial and combat and will be triumphant forever.

ORIGIN OF THE NICENE CREED.

'And in the Holy Ghost, the Lord and giver of life who proceedeth from the Father and Son, is adored and glorified; who spoke by the prophets.' The Council of Nicea, A. D. 325, rejecting the impiety of the Arians, gave forth 'the clear teaching of the Church on the divinity of our Lord, that He is truly the Son of God, and developed those articles of the Apostles' Creed which refer to the second person of the Blessed Trinity. Thus we have the Nicene Creed, which is but a more explicit statement, a development of that of the Apostles. Later errors arose as to the Holy Ghost, and these were condemned by the Council of Constantinople, A. D. 381, which explicitly stated the teachings of the Church regarding the third person of the Blessed Trinity. The three distinct persons of the Blessed Trinity, having the same divine nature, are but one God and equal in all things. Hence the Holy Ghost is rightly called Lord. All external operations of the three divine persons are common to all three. Nevertheless, we attribute creation to the Father, redemption to the Son, and sanctification to the Holy Ghost, giver of life. Before man existed, when the universe was one confused heap of shapeless matter, void, empty, dark, and covered with water, the Holy Ghost moved over the waters.' (Gen. I, 2). He imparted to them and the chaotic mass beneath power of life and fecundity to bring forth the various creatures which were to inhabit the world. Among these was Man, the lord and master of the earth. But man has a twofold life: natural and supernatural, and it is principally the latter which the Holy Ghost, giver of life, infuses, strengthens or restores, especially through the sacraments. He supports the Church, makes all her members, however different in race, language and customs, live the same spiritual life and belong to the same mystic body, of which Christ is the head. The relation of the Holy Ghost to the other divine persons is called procession from the Father and the Son. And proceeding from the Father and the Son He is equal to them in all things. Being Lord as they, the same supreme adoration and honor are due to the Holy Ghost as to the Father and Son. Every verse of Scripture, from Genesis to Apocalypse, is from the Holy Ghost, who guided the tongue of the inspired preachers, and safeguarded that Revelation as handed down by tradition. He spoke by the prophets. 'Prophecy came not by the will of man, at any time; but holy men of God spoke, inspired by the Holy Ghost.' (II Peter, I, 21). 'The Paraclete, the Holy Ghost, will teach you all things and bring all things to your mind, whatsoever I shall have told you.' (John XIV, 26). 'But when He, the Spirit of Truth, is come, He will teach you all truth.' (John XVI, 13).

INSTITUTION OF A RELIGION.

'And one Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church.' In instituting a religion, and a Church to uphold that religion, our Lord wished that neither should ever fail, that both should be perpetual and indefectible, that both should be visible, so that any one could find them without difficulty and with certainty. His Church can be known by four marks or notes. It must be and is one. His Church has at all times and in all places the same doctrine, the same sacraments of grace and salvation, and the same head. It must be and is Holy. His Church has a holy Founder, teaches a holy doctrine, which, if observed, will make man holy, and it furnishes the means to a holy life. It must be and is Catholic. His Church is universal, teaching one and the same doctrine at all times and at all places since its foundation. It must be and is apostolic. In His Church the power, the authority and the doctrine must have come from the Apostles, and through them from Christ. Without any break or interruption it must go back to the Apostles.

THE RESURRECTION.

'And I expect the resurrection of the dead, and the life of the world to come, Amen.' The dead will rise again, body and soul will be reunited, since they belong together by nature and together they have obeyed or disobeyed, have honored or dishonored God, have worked out their salvation or disregarded it. And they will be given by a just judge what they have merited—eternal existence with God or away from God, heaven or hell, as their earthly existence determined. The sign of the Cross which the priest makes at the conclusion of the Creed reminds us that a happy life in the world to come can be secured only by the cross, and through Him who died on the cross, and by the means instituted by Him. The final word of the Creed, Amen—so be it, thus I firmly believe—is a sign of acceptance on our part of all that is proposed in the Creed.

Now the Prices you've been waiting for are here

The old year took away, for ever, we hope, the old burden of war prices. For months conditions have been working toward the great climax that brought the remarkable merchandise that is here assembled for this our greatest January Carnival of Economy.

The results came in two ways: 1st. The drastic lowering of prices on our own stocks, down to the new low basis, and often far below it—to double your interest in January buying in our store.

2nd. We have combed the markets—taking utmost advantage of the opportunities created by far sighted manufacturers who were ready to co-operate with us in presenting to you now the lowest prices that will be possible, for the next six months, at least.

We can just see the delight of our Customers when they see the splendid assortment of goods, in every department of our store, and then realize that prices are away down to the bottom, where it is a pleasure to buy things.

Many Manufacturers have ACCEPTED LARGE LOSSES.

We shall forgo a large part of our profits on the new goods and accept large losses on our own mark-downs—to inaugurate this first New Year under the New Management and

THE MOST STIRRING PRICE-UPSET THAT THIS COMMUNITY HAS EVER KNOWN.

No matter what you need or desire, now is the best time for months to come to buy it. Some of the reasons are told on this page; but—scores of others are here that can get no mention today, even in this broad space.

The New Cabinet

(Montreal Gazette)
The Prime Minister has concluded a difficult and delicate task in the reconstruction of his Cabinet. The changes made were in not a few cases, long overdue and the delay in affecting them was a source of weakness to the Ministry, but in this respect Mr. Meighen inherited a condition which was not of his making and found himself under the necessity of waiting to some extent at least, upon the progress of events. It may be that he has reaped some advantage by waiting, that the delay served to broaden the field from which he has now been able to draw in the selection of new colleagues. In any event, he has succeeded in materially strengthening his cabinet, by greatly increasing its fighting force without sacrificing its administrative capacity, and he has by the inclusion of additional French-Canadian ministers, rendered the personnel of the Government thoroughly representative. These are important gains and should result in broadening the support which the Ministry will receive throughout the country in the approaching campaign. The new ministers have not been drawn in all cases from Mr. Meighen's parliamentary following but all are men of high standing in their respective communities and of distinction in their vocations. The Cabinet as reconstructed is probably one of the strongest that could be got together in Canada at this time, and is not inferior in point of aggregate administrative ability or in fighting strength to the so-called "cabinet of all the talents" which met around the council table under Laurier in 1896. It is qualified to present the Conservative policy forcefully and fairly to the electors and to administer that policy equitably when called upon to do so.

In the re-arrangement of Quebec portfolios, three new Ministers have been selected. Mr. Rodolphe Monty, K. C., of Montreal, as Secretary of State; Mr. L. G. Belley, K. C., of Quebec, as Postmaster-General, and Dr. Normand of Three Rivers, as President of the Privy Council. These, with Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, who remains as Minister of Marine and Fisheries, will form the Quebec wing of the Government. They are without exception men of high standing, and their election will give to the province of Quebec a worthy and creditable representation in the new administration. They are all men of eminence in their professions and enjoy in the fullest measure the confidence of their associates. Dr. Normand enjoys extraordinary popularity in his district. His professional attainments are of a high order and have been widely recognized by medical associations and institutions not only upon this continent but in Europe. He took part in the Gynecological Congress held at Rome in 1902, was President of the Third Congress des Medecins de Langue Francaise, de l'Amerique du Nord in 1906, and in the following year attained to the highest office in the gift of his fellow practitioners, that of President of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Province of Quebec. Dr. Normand has had repeated successes in municipal contests in three Rivers, is keenly interested in public affairs and possesses unusual platform ability; he should prove a decided acquisition to the Government.

The Nova Scotia personnel remains unchanged, but from New Brunswick Hon. J. B. M. Baxter replaces Hon. Rupert Wigmore as Minister of Customs, a change which should be for the better from an administrative as well as from a political point of view. Mr. Baxter was Attorney-General in the Clark Government, and has held the position of Leader of the Opposition in the Legislature since then.

The new ministers from Ontario, Mr. J. A. Stewart, who takes the railway portfolio, Dr. Edwards, who becomes Minister of Immigration and Colonization, Dr. Manion, who takes charge of Soldiers' Re-establishment, and Mr. Edmund Bristol, are all experienced parliamentarians who already occupy seats in the House. Dr. Manion and Mr. Stewart entered as new members at the beginning of the last Parliament and their early elevation to Cabinet rank testifies to the ability which they have displayed. From the west the private benches have also supplied two new ministers, while the third, Mr. R. B. Bennett, of Calgary, is an old parliamentarian, now returning to public life after a brief absence. Mr. Bennett, who succeeds the Right Hon. C. J. Doherty as Minister of Justice, is an able lawyer, a man of energy, courage and independence, and has, perhaps, no equal in the English provinces as a fluent and eloquent platform speaker. His acceptance of a portfolio will unquestionably strengthen the Government's position in the west. The new Minister of Trade and Commerce, Mr. H. H. Stevens, of Vancouver, has been in Parliament since 1911, and has been marked for promotion for some time. He is a logical and convincing speaker, a careful student, and an industrious worker, and brings to the administration of the Department of Trade and Commerce an intimate knowledge of business matters in addition to his experience as a parliamentarian. What has been so long and so consciously lacking in the conduct of the Trade and Commerce Department, Mr. Stevens is qualified to give and his selection is a very happy one.

The reorganization may not have gone so far in certain directions as some had been led to expect, while in other respects the result may be regarded as otherwise than perfect. Nevertheless a marked advance has been made. The Prime Minister has acted with energy and, on the whole, with wisdom, and the Cabinet, as now constituted, should commend itself to the public. It stands for the traditional Conservative policy, and may be trusted to apply that policy in the best interests, not of any one section of the country, but of all.

An Australian Scheme That Failed

Australia has made a sorry mess of her scheme to build or buy homes in the towns and cities for returned soldiers. After spending £12,323,499 on 17,000 houses the Commonwealth has discovered that project was accompanied by an orgy of graft and bungling which promises to leave the Government ship stranded high on the rocks.

When the scheme was launched it was announced by the department in charge that £50,000,000 would be expended in the effort to build cheap and substantial houses. Immediately prices of land and building materials began to soar, so much so that the maximum figure for a house, £700, was quite inadequate and it was raised to £800. But even this sum would not suffice with everybody having land or building materials to sell regarding the government as legitimate prey. Confronted with the impossibility of paying the prices which the dealers in building supplies demanded, the Government went in for buying large timber areas and erecting saw mills. Fabulous prices were paid for these conveniences and everybody who had anything to sell the Government reaped huge returns for their patriotism. The timber taken from the Government areas was found scandalously below the standard required. Paint and other materials were of like quality. After building thousands of houses at prices far in excess of the cost, estimated a halt was made for a survey of the situation.

Owing to the absence of the Prime Minister at the Empire Conference in London and the promise of immunity from criticism during his absence it was not till July that the details of the scandal were brought to light. When Mr. Hughes returned to the commonwealth he found that millions had been wasted on the erection of houses which for the most part were standing empty owing to poor construction and their excessive cost.

In the Senate on July 21st Hon. E. D. Millen, Minister of Repatriation, unfolded the story, showing that incompetence was the least of the charges levelled against the responsible officers. There had been a reckless excess of authority and gross breaches of trust. In one case there had been an expenditure by an official of £2,900,000 when authority was given to spend only £150,000. This was for the purchase of existing houses. In other instances the machinery of the department had been used to advance personal interests.

Under the circumstances the Department is going out of the building business.

The chief reason given by the Government for undertaking this colossal scheme, was that the poor soldiers might not be victimized by unscrupulous builders and real estate agents. They were not to be trusted to make good deals for themselves, and a paternal Government would see to it that they got homes worth living in at low cost. Officialdom was the only authority capable of building houses, the only repository of caution knowledge, and acumen. This was the blessed doctrine of Socialism carried to the nth degree. But it landed the Commonwealth in a mess which has proven exceedingly embarrassing. Late enough the system is to be changed and more houses are to be built by contract. The timber areas and the saw mills of the Government are to be scrapped for what they are worth and the millions of pounds which they cost are to be charged up to lost account.

In bold contrast is the shrewd and business-like attitude of the Canadian Government in dealing with returned soldier problems. Mr. Meighen, who is personally responsible for the admirable soldier land settlement plan, rejected a proposal for the erection of houses for returned soldiers as unworkable and too costly. In outlining his project to assist ex-service men in settling on the land he surrounded it with every safeguard to protect them from the menace of unscrupulous real estate agents and other excesses who might seek to fatten themselves even at the expense of our returned heroes. Land was bought for agricultural purposes at low prices and direct from the owner. It was provided that no land for this purpose would be bought if it had changed hands within a year. This was to prevent the possibility of speculating in farms desired for soldier settlement. And in other ways ex-soldiers were protected from paying excessively for their needs. Manufacturers of farm implements, wagons, harness and other farm needs as well as lumber dealers were approached and willingly and enthusiastically reduced their prices for soldier settlers to figures close to cost. In some cases there was a difference of 30 per cent. in favor of soldier settlers. No desire there to extort from the soldier because the Government was advancing the money.

In the light of Australia's experience Canada has reason to congratulate herself upon the happy working out of her soldier problems. More than 26,000 returned men are settled on the land with monetary advances exceeding $84,000,000; 108,000 disabled men were treated by the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment and 50,000 of them fitted by vocational training for new positions in life; 73,000 are in receipt of pensions on a scale more liberal than in any other country in the world; $164,000,000 was paid in gratuities, while the United States is only "thinking" of doing something by way of bonus. An insurance scheme has been developed by which returned men may protect their families from want irrespective of their present condition of health, and many other benefits have been given by the Government, showing that Canada has not been unmindful of the splendid service of her patriot soldiers and sailors.

These were huge and difficult problems. They required statesmanship of a high order. But they have been promulgated and administered well, and not even a suggestion is made that a dollar has been mis-spent.

The Reconstructed Cabinet.

The Cabinet, as announced by Right Hon. Mr. Meighen, is as follows:—

- Prime Minister and Minister of External Affairs, Right Hon. Arthur Meighen (no change.)
- Railways and Canals—Hon. J. A. Stewart (new.)
- Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment—R. J. Manion, Fort William (new.)
- Customs and Excise—J. B. M. Baxter, St. John, N. B. (new.)
- Public Works—Hon. F. B. McCurdy (no change.)
- Finance—Sir Henry Drayton (no change.)
- President of the Privy Council Dr. L. P. Normand, Three Rivers (new.)
- Agriculture—Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Victoria, B. C. (no change.)
- Labor—Hon. G. D. Robertson (no change.)
- Marine and Naval—Hon. C. C. Ballantyne (no change.)
- Trade and Commerce—H. H. Stevens, Vancouver, (new.)
- Justice—R. B. Bennett, Calgary (new.)
- Postmaster-General—L. G. Belley, K. C., Quebec (new.)
- Secretary of State—Rodolphe Monty, Montreal (new.)
- Health, Immigration and Colonization—Dr. J. W. Edwards, Frontenac (new.)
- Interior—Sir James Loughheed (no change.)
- Militia and Defence—Hon. Hugh Gotthard (no change.)
- Without portfolio—E. K. Spinney (no change); Sir Edward Kemp (no change); James Wilson, Saskatoon (new.)

The portfolio of Solicitor-General remains to be filled. The Prime Minister stated that Right Hon. C. J. Doherty would probably receive an appointment to some other office.

The Government contains eleven new members; one from the Maritime Provinces, three from Quebec, four from Ontario, one from Alberta, one from Saskatchewan, and one from British Columbia. Taken as a whole, the representation of the provinces is as follows:

Ontario—Six ministers with portfolio and two without portfolio.

Quebec—Four ministers with portfolio and the Solicitor General to be appointed.

Nova Scotia—One minister with portfolio and one without portfolio.

New Brunswick—One minister with portfolio.

Manitoba—The Prime Minister.

Saskatchewan—One minister without portfolio.

Alberta—Two ministers with portfolio.

British Columbia—Two ministers with portfolio.

In the new Cabinet there are nine lawyers, six engaged in commercial life; three doctors, two farmers and a labor representative. Presbyterian slightly outnumber others, several being of this faith, including the Prime Minister, and of the remainder five are Anglicans, five Methodists, and four Catholics. Politically, there has been considerable change, and although both parties are represented, they are more proportionately to their strength in the country in this than in the 1917 Cabinet. The Liberals in the Cabinet are Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Hon. R. J. Manion, Hon. Dr. Tolmie, and Hon. E. K. Spinney. The remainder are Conservatives, with the exception of Hon. G. D. Robertson, who represents labor.

Captain Bourand Beronant, the noted French aviator, and holder of the world's speed record for one kilometer was instantly killed at Etaples France on the 23rd while taking part in the elimination races for the Deutsch De Lamerzh Cup.

Cardinal Dubourg, Archbishop of Rennes since August 23rd, 1906, is dead. He was born at Loguivy Plougras on October 1, 1842, and was ordained a priest on December 22nd, 1866. He was created a Cardinal on December 4th, 1916.

The Provincial Exhibition opened yesterday, and a good afternoon's trotting took place. The formal opening was at 7.30 last evening, when His Honor the Lieutenant Governor and others delivered appropriate addresses. If the weather continues as on the opening day, the Exhibition will be an eminent success.

Twenty-two bodies have been recovered from the Mount Mulligan Colliery near Cairns, in Queensland, Australia, where an explosion of gas occurred inside the mines on Monday. Rescue parties are working frantically, but it is believed that of all those entombed at the time of the explosion, about seventy, perished.

Mr. MacKenzie-King announces that he has declined nomination for Prince and will take his chance in North York. This was the sequel to the decision of the United Farmers executive to contest Prince, making a three cornered fight. In such a constituency Mr. King would be no better than in North York, hence his decision, camouflaged as loyalty to his original constituency. It is generally considered that he has no chance of being elected in North York.

French Sal, one of the romantic and mysterious figures of Chicago's famous first Ward, was buried the other day. Until $100,000 in stocks and bonds and some money were found in the supposed jewelers' dress lining when she was discovered in a gas filled room, several days ago, she faced burial in potter's field. Although a familiar figure to policemen, no one ever knew the old woman's name. The stocks and money are being held by the Coroner in hopes that some heir can be found.

Winston Churchill in behalf of the Government, speaking at Dundee to deputations representing many idle workers of the United Kingdom, declared, Friday, that since the Armistice, the British Government had spent one hundred and five million pounds in relief. This, he added, was unparalleled in any country in the world. America he pointed out, "Whose vaults overflowed with the gold of Europe during the war is now in an infinitely worse position as regards unemployment than that of Great Britain."

Last Sunday, the usual annual parade and solemn service for the dead took place at the Catholic Cemetery, St. Peter's Road. After a brief service at the Cathedral the men of St. Dunstan's congregation, headed by the League of the Cross Band, paraded to the Catholic cemetery where the service was held. His Lordship Bishop O'Leary officiating, assisted by Rev. Dr. Monaghan, Rev. Jas. Rooney, Rev. Richard St. John and Rev. Maurice McDonald. An appropriate sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. McLellan, rector of St. Dunstan's University.

Prince County Conservatives

At one of the largest conventions held in some years the Liberal Conservatives of Prince County on Thursday last unanimously nominated Mr. James A. McNeill, M. L. A., ex-Commissioner of Public Works, to contest the coming election.

The convention was from every point of view a credit to the county. Every poll was represented, the delegates all enthusiastic over the coming election and all confident of success.

The convention was a joint one representing East and West Prince and was presided over by the presidents of the two associations. Mr. Wilfrid Tanton, President West Prince and Dr. E. T. Tanton, President East Prince. Mr. E. W. Manson was appointed secretary.

The morning session was taken up with business and organizational matters after attending to which adjournment was made till 1 o'clock.

On reassembling nominations were called and the business was put through expeditiously and in the most friendly spirit. When the ballots were gathered in the names of James A. McNeill, Wilfrid Tanton and J. E. Wyatt appeared with their respective votes. The vote was decisively in favor of Mr. McNeill on the first ballot. Mr. Wilfrid Tanton moved and Mr. Wyatt seconded that the nomination be made unanimous. This motion was carried unanimously.

Mr. McNeill, in accepting the nomination, modestly thanked the electors for this evidence of their confidence in him, and assured them that he would do his best to retain their confidence and to help them win the battle upon which they were entering. He felt assured that when the policies of the two parties were placed squarely and honestly before the farmers of the county they would support the policy which assured them of home markets, of home industry and home employment.

Mr. McNeill was warmly congratulated by the electors, who gathered around him, and by Messrs. Tanton and Wyatt, all promising him their support and wishing him good luck.

At the morning session a vote of thanks, moved by Senator Murphy and seconded by Mr. J. E. Wyatt, was tendered Mr. J. D. Stewart, leader of the Conservative party, for his attendance at the convention.

Now the Prices you've been waiting for are here

The old year took away, for ever, we hope, the old burden of war prices. For months conditions have been working toward the great climax that brought the remarkable merchandise that is here assembled for this our great January Carnival of Economy.

The results came in two ways: 1st. The drastic lowering of prices on our own stocks, down to the new low basis, and often far below it—to double your interest in January buying in our store.

2nd. We have combed the markets—taking utmost advantage of the opportunities created by far sighted manufacturers who were ready to co-operate with us in presenting to you now the lowest prices that will be possible, for the next six months, at least.

We can just see the delight of our Customers when they see the splendid assortment of goods, in every department of our store, and then realize that prices are way down to the bottom, where it is a pleasure to buy, things.

Many Manufacturers have ACCEPTED LARGE LOSSES.

We shall forgo a large part of our profits on the new goods and accept large losses on our own mark-downs—to inaugurate this first New Year under the New Management and

THE MOST STIRRING PRICE-UPSET THAT THIS COMMUNITY HAS EVER KNOWN.

No matter what you need or desire, now is the best time for months to come to buy it. Some of the reasons are told on this page; but scores of others are here that can get no mention today, even in this broad space.

Dante Moulder Of Italy
(Concluded)
A child of that wondrous age, the thirteenth century, Dante one of its late products is perhaps with St. Thomas Aquinas, its most perfect representative.

From Dante's brain and heart leaped the wisdom and the song of his country.
And if the painting and the architecture of Giotto, Cimabue, Arolofo and Pisano antedated the "Divine Commedia," the masterpieces of their followers were deeply influenced by that incomparable teacher.

In those wonderful years of the thirteenth century, spring-time and summer, dawn and high noon of a noble civilization, the dreamer of great visions, the doer of heroic deeds met in Dante.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

"CHOLERA INFANTUM"

THE SUMMER COMPLAINT OF INFANTS.

The trouble occurs mostly during the hot seasons, and is confined to infants between the ages of four to twenty months, and generally happens about the time of the cutting of the first teeth.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for 76 years and is acknowledged by all who have used it to be the very best remedy for Cholera Infantum, Diarrhoea, Colic, Dysentery and all Borel Complaints whether in children or adults.

Mrs. S. R. Alcorn, 2 Black St., Halifax, N.S., writes: "My little girl was very bad with summer complaint caused from change of milk, and was also teething at the same time. I tried several remedies, but with no results until I was advised to try 'Dr. Fowler's.' I did so, and by the time one bottle was taken she was as well as ever."

into the Church of Christ, "il mio bel San Giovanni," he lovingly called it, entranced his artistic sense.

Lost to all earthly things, he gazed on the fair child of the Portinari, the "New Life," of his sonnets and his divine epic, as she passed with the maids of Florence along the Arno. Her, his poets fancy, his Catholic faith transformed and glorified. To him, she became Wisdom, and Truth and Beauty undefiled.

PALPITATION OF THE HEART SINKING SENSATIONS.
Palpitation of the heart is very often accompanied by sinking sensations and weak, faint and dizzy spells, and before you can rid yourself of the trouble it is of considerable importance that the heart should be strengthened and brought back to its regular beat.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

a crowned queen. When his verse no longer sways her poets, her thinkers and her statesmen, she is faithful to her destinies. We cannot think of the clear-running stream of Italian art and song, without recalling the fountain-head. It is Dante Alighieri His post-apologist is nobly inspired when to his "Prophecy" he puts on the Tuscany's lips these words to his ungrateful country:

My bones shall be within thy breast, My soul within thy language, which once set Within our old Roman sway in the wide west;

But I will make another tongue arise As lofty and more sweet, in which expressed The hero's ardor or the lover's sighs Shall find alike such sounds for every theme, That every word as brilliant as thy skies.

WHAT ONE OF THE BEST KNOWN TRAVELLERS IN CANADA SAYS.

"Now I am going to give you an unsolicited testimonial as they say in the patent medicine advertising. Heretofore I have had a profound contempt for patent medicines, particularly so-called liniments. Perhaps this is due to the reason that I have been blessed with a sturdy constitution, and have never been ill a day in my life. One day last fall after a hard day's tramp in the slush of Montreal, I developed a severe pain in my legs and of course like a man who has never had anything wrong with him physically, I complained rather boisterously. The good little wife says: 'I will rub them with some liniment I have.' 'Go ahead,' I said, just to humor her. Well, in she comes with a bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT and gets busy. Believe me the pain disappeared a few minutes after, and you can tell the world I said so."
