BREACH OF CONTRACT. Mr. Wm. Bathgate, a farmer in the Township of Guelph, was summoned by one of his hands, John Eden, for non-payment of wages. The complainant stated that on the 26th of April he hired with defendant for seven months, at the wages of $15 per month; and that at the end of our month he was dismissed contrary to the agreement. On behalf of the defendant it was stated that the complainant Eden had been guilty of drunkenness; but evidence was brought on the other side to disprove this. There had also been a dispute about breakfast; it seemed that complainant arrived late one morning, alleging that he had been detained by the rain, and Mr. Bathgate refused to let him have breakfast, saying he could not keep it waiting all day; whereupon Eden refused to go to work, fasting. Mr. Guthrie appeared for the defence, and contended that the magistrate had no jurisdiction in the case. His Worship adjourned the case until Saturday to consider the objection. SHEEP KILLING.—Quite a number of sheep have recently been destroyed by dogs in Downie and South Easthope. A hound was last week caught in the act in the former township and was killed. The dog formerly belonged to Mr. W. Gordon, of Stratford, but on account of being worthless for sporting purposes was given to a farmer in the township some time since. The animal being recognised, a claim was made for the dog, which was damaged. That gentleman, although probably not legally responsible, promptly made good the loss.—Beacon. It is also understood that arrangements are being perfected by which the intervening railway section between Lewiston and the Hoosac Tunnel, not yet built, will be put under contract and immediately constructed. THE ALDINE for September has reached us. The conductors of this periodical change it this engraving, which are not only of a high order, but are very gems of art and surpass anything of the sort we have seen lately. This number contains three views from the wild and sublime scenery of the Rocky Mountains; a fine little work depicting a captive maiden and a bird; a society sketch, true to life, entitled "Who is it?" Brookside Willows, a charming peep at rural scenery; an American farm scene; a representation of the historical incident in which the Emperor Charles V rendered homage to genius by picking up the brush accidentally dropped by the painter Titian; two fine scenes from The Sleeping Beauty, showing Dore's vigor of touch; and a spirited head of a Skye Terrier. Everything about The Aldine tends in the direction of elevating and refining the taste of its readers; and when bound at the end of the year the volume must be one which would adorn any drawing-room table. BY TELEGRAPH. Mr. Huntington Summons. He Refuses to Appear. We are glad to observe from this morning's Globe that Mr. Huntington has formally declined to appear before the Royal Commission, on the ground that the appointment of the Commission is a breach of the privileges of Parliament, a breach of the Constitution, and a breach of the ordinary principles of justice. In reply to the summons of Judge Day, Chairman of the Commission, Mr. Huntington writes as follows:— MONTREAL, Aug. 26, 1873. To the Hon. Chas. D. Day, Chairman, Ottawa. Sir.—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 21st of August instant, enclosing a copy of the Royal Commission appointing Commissioners to enquire into and report upon the several matters stated in the resolution moved by me in the House of Commons on the 2nd day of April last, and requesting me to furnish to the Commissioners a list of witnesses I might wish to examine, in order that they may be duly summoned to appear, and to proceed with my evidence. I have to call your attention to the fact appertaining to the face of the commission, that it was as a member of the House of Commons, and from my place in Parliament, that I preferred these charges against Ministers of the Crown and members of that House, which on the 8th day of April last entertained the charges, determined to investigate them itself, and appointed a Select Committee to inquire into and report upon them; and to the further fact apparent on the journals of the House, that to the said Committee I handed a list of some of the principal witnesses whose evidence I believed would establish my charges, and I have always been ready to proceed to the proof thereof before the tribunal constituted by the House for the investigation. The determination of the Commons to investigate these charges remains unaltered, and I deem it inconsistent with my duty as a member of Parliament, and a breach of the undoubted privileges of the House, to recognize any inferior or exceptional tribunal created to enquire into charges still pending before the House of Commons, and affecting so essentially the privileges, dignity and independence of Parliament. I believe that it is a breach of those privileges that a Royal Commission, issued without the special sanction of the House, should take any cognizance of or should assume to call on me to justify words which I have spoken on the floor of the Commons, and for which I am responsible to them and to them only. I feel that I should do no act which may be construed into an acquiescence in the attempt to remove from the Commons the conduct and control of the enquiry. I believe that the creation of a Commission involves a breach of that fundamental principle of the Constitution which prescribes to the Commons the right of initiating and controlling enquiries into high political offences; that it involves also a breach of that fundamental principle of justice which prevents the accused from creating the tribunal and controlling the procedure for their trial, and that it is a Commission without precedent, unknown to the Common Law, unauthorised by the statute law providing by an exercise of the prerogative for an enquiry out of the ordinary course of justice into misdemeanours cognisable to the Courts, and consequently illegal and void. Entertaining these views, you will not expect me to act otherwise than in conformity with them, and you will be satisfied that by my non-appearance before the Commission I intend no disrespect to the Commissioners, but am merely acting by the same sense of public duty which will constrain me at the earliest practicable moment to renew the efforts which I have been making since April last, to bring to trial before the Commons of Canada the men whom I have impeached as public criminals. I have the honour to be, Sir, Your obedient servant, (Signed) L. S. HUNTINGTON. The Galt Seed Fair was held on Tuesday, and was a splendid success. Some sixty or 70 loads were sold on the market, nearly all of which were sold at prices ranging from $1.50 to $1.40. A young gentleman in Detroit fastened several yards of string to an umbrella which he placed in the door of a public stairway. In the course of half an hour eleven different persons saw the umbrella, knew that the owner had lost it, and wanted them to take charge of it, and carried it the length of the string only to let go of it, and wondered what the crowd was laughing at. All the grading on the southern extension of the W. G. & B. R. is completed except about a mile. They are pushing forward the work with energy, and tracking is progressing fast between Wingham and Lucknow. Next Tuesday they expect to commence laying the track from the end of the line. The annual budget of the Church of England, just published, shows the present membership of the church to be about 12,000,000, and the average annual receipts over $59,000,000. The ten Archbishops, twenty-six Bishops, and seventy Archdeacons receive a salary aggregating $692,770. The first ear of flour ground from this year's wheat which has been received in Montreal comes from Galt, and is much superior to last year's, the grain this present season being much better. A man who wanted to be a minister said he believed he had been called "to labor in the Lord's barnyard." A Boston woman wanted to elope, but when her husband gave her money to purchase a new dress, she changed her mind—it took all the romance away. "We are fearfully and wonderfully made," as the man, quoting scripture, said to his friend as they were looking at the skeleton of a donkey. The Bank Forgers. The Carlists Badly Defeated. The Carthagea Bombardment. London, Aug. 26.—Further particulars of the battle near Estella on Sunday are to the effect that the Carlists, who were in large forces and under their favorite leaders, were completely defeated by the Republican troops. They asked twice to remove their dead and wounded, which was granted. The remains of the Carlist army retired towards the French frontier. Don Alfonso, brother of Don Carlos, and General Tristany, are among the wounded. The Carlists have withdrawn from the neighborhood of Berga. The fleet under the command of Admiral Lobos, which commenced to bombard Carthagea, has been compelled to withdraw out of the range of the guns of the insurgents. A contemplated revolt by the crew of the Spanish frigate Carmen was discovered by the officers, and forty of the mutineers were arrested. A Carlist force has entered the town of Fraga, in Arragon. The village of Tortella has been entirely destroyed by the Carlists. London, Aug. 26.—The Inman ship City of Limerick ran into a stone pier near the battery to-day, knocking in the massive masonry to a depth of three feet. London, Aug. 25.—The Right Hon. William Monsell, Postmaster-General, tendered his resignation, but, at solicitation of Mr. Gladstone, consents to remain temporarily in charge of the department. The case against the Bank of England forgers has closed, and George Bidwell conducted his own defence. He acknowledged his guilt, but said that, with the exception of George Macdonnell, the other prisoners were innocent. The jury found all guilty, and each was sentenced to imprisonment for life. CHOLERA is raging in Hungary, and half the cases are proving fatal. The French Government has decided to bring M. Ranc to trial on the 14th prox. A DEMONSTRATION of Trades Unionists took place in Edinburgh, on Saturday, against the Criminal Law Amendment Act; 15,000 men walked in the procession. Madrid, Aug. 26.—On Sunday there was a severe engagement near the town of Estella, between 5,000 Government troops and 3,000 Carlists under Olio. The Carlists were defeated, and their leader Olio wounded. Madrid, Aug. 26.—Lanzara, with 3,000, is reported marching to reinforce the Carlist force besieging Estella, who now number 8,000. The latter were again defeated on Monday with considerable loss, by the Republican force in Estella. The Republican loss was fifty. SENOR CASTELLAR has been elected President of the Spanish Cortes. New York, Aug. 27.—At 12.30 this morning Henry Wabreck, aged 45, shot his wife Christina, aged 33, in five places, and then shot himself. The affair took place at 221 Centre Street, where they had met after a separation of several months. The woman is dying, but the man is not seriously hurt. Washington, Aug. 25.—The Modoc captives, Captain Jack, Schonchin, Black Jim, Boston Charley, Barnoos alias One-Eyed Jim, and Blouch alias Cox, who were tried for the murder of Gen. Canby and Commissioner Thomas, are to be hanged at Fort Klamath on October 3rd. New York, Aug. 28.—A letter from Japan says all deacons, ministers, &c., now in the employ of the Government, will be dismissed at the expiration of their present contracts, at the repeated and urgent request of the department of religion. The writer says there is far too numerous a class who dishonor the cloth they wear, and the profession to which they belong. These men, and women too, come to Japan on salary from some Mission Board at home, apply for a contract in some Japanese school, and then draw both salaries, taking their reading lessons from the Bible, when a clause of the contract which they have signed expressly prohibits them from teaching the Christian religion. It is such that the Government intends to dismiss. A CHURCHMAN, named N. Lancaster, was arrested in Chester, Del., on the charge of smuggling African diamonds. He had 285 uncut, and 12 cut diamonds on his person. He says he had no intention of smuggling, but that the jewels were simply souvenirs. The balloon which ascended from Philadelphia on Monday, came down safely, after having travelled 52 miles in 60 minutes.

About the Ballot.

The time is rapidly approaching when preparations will be made by the Ontario Government for the next Session of the Ontario Legislature. In compliance with a promise made to the House, they will, we presume, submit a measure providing that votes hereafter given at Parliamentary and Municipal Elections shall be taken by Ballot. The decision arrived at when the question was before the Ontario Assembly last winter, was of such a character as to leave no doubt respecting the views of the Province upon this important reform, and the after action of the House of Commons as conclusively proved that that the whole Dominion is ripe for the proposed change. While the feeling in favor of the Ballot may be declared to be unanimous, there are differences of opinion as to the machinery to be adopted for the purpose of carrying the principle into practical operation. In the House of Commons, Sir John A. Macdonald stated that he favored the New Brunswick plan, while in Ontario the method adopted in the English measure appears to be more popular. The Ontario Cabinet will, doubtless, while carefully considering the peculiar features of both measures, endeavor to introduce such a scheme as will be most likely to secure thorough secrecy and so effectually put an end to electoral corruption and intimidation. It may be well to glance at the points of difference between the New Brunswick and English Ballot Acts. In our sister Province, the polling place is open to the public, and the voter carries thereto his ballot-paper ready prepared—printed or written on white paper—and gives it to the Returning Officer. This gentleman deposits it in the ballot box without examining it, and it is thenceforth intracable. In England, the elector enters the polling-booth and is there supplied with a voting paper upon which are printed the names of the candidates. None other than voting papers supplied by the Returning Officer can be used, and each ballot has a number corresponding with a counterfoil. The elector retires to a compartment so contrived that he cannot be overlooked, and makes a cross (x) against the name of the candidate for whom he desires to vote, folds up his voting paper so that its contents cannot be seen, and then delivers it to the Returning Officer who drops it into the ballot-box, in presence of an agent for each candidate, and a constable, all of whom are sworn to secrecy. No outsider can watch the elector, and ascertain how he has voted, while in New Brunswick active partisans can and do furnish ballot papers to the elector, follow him into the polling place, and see whether he deposits in the hands of the Returning Officer the particular ticket with which he has been supplied. As a matter of course, bribery and intimidation are thus made possible, and John A. Macdonald very naturally sees therein reason for preferring the New Brunswick Law. In New Brunswick, the votes are openly counted at the close of the poll, in presence of the candidates or their agents, and a statement of the result having been made and signed for the purpose of being transmitted to the Sheriff, the ballot papers are at once destroyed. In England a statement is made in similar manner, but the whole of the ballot papers used at each polling place are sealed up and returned to the Returning Officer, who in turn transmits them with a declaration of the result of the election to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery. They are preserved by that officer for one year, when, if no proceedings have been taken for the purposes of a scrutiny or the punishment of a fraudulent voter, they are destroyed. It will be seen that in New Brunswick the conviction of a wrong doer is rendered very difficult, and that no benefit can be derived from a reversal or disallowance of his vote, because that vote cannot be traced. Under the English system, the vote of an impersonator or bribed elector can be followed up, and the wrong which he has inflicted remedied. Sir John gives a decided preference to the New Brunswick method. In other respects, excepting in mere matters of detail, the Provincial and Imperial Ballot Acts are pretty much alike. We have briefly noted the important differences, and their relative advantages and disadvantages, and shall content ourselves at present with an expression of the hope that the Ontario Government will copy the English Act as closely as it may be found applicable to our circumstances, and avoid a perpetration of the errors of the New Brunswick Law.

It is rumored in Montreal that another election is at hand for Montreal West. The new inspection act comes into force on the 1st of September, whereby the office of Inspector of Flour becomes a Government office, and it is stated that Hon. J. Young, preferring to retain that position, will resign his seat in the Dominion Parliament.

Mr. Tilley has sailed for England. Dr. Tupper and Messrs. Mitchell and Hugh Macdonald, alarmed by Mr. Mackenzie's trip to their part of the country, have gone down in great haste to prevent, if they can, further defections among their friends. The Government people at Ottawa are reported to be very uneasy about the attitude assumed, in consequence of the prorogation, by the people of the Maritime Provinces.

A CHOICE OF EVILS.—It doesn't always do to take advice from one's neighbors. A lady in Stratford, pestered by moths, heard that a candle put among clothes would effectually keep away the destructive insects. Acting on the hint, she carefully packed away her husband's best suit, and other articles of wearing apparel, and in the trunk put a large tallow candle, wrapped up in paper. A few days afterwards the gentlemen had occasion to go to his trunk, and found that no moths had got in, but in their stead a colony of mice, who had made mine-vent out of his Sunday-go-to-meeting coat, and were commencing on the paper. So in avoiding the lesser evil a greater one was reached. Moral:—"Don't put tallow candles in trunks to keep away moths."—Beacon.

OR— THE TEMPTATION.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

A WILD BEWILD'RING HOPE BURSTS ON PHILIP WENTON—HE AND JIM TAKE A JOURNEY AND MAKE DISCOVERIES.

The short winter day was closing in as in a light vehicle they traversed the hard frosted road across the woods, which were beginning to tremble in the sharp impetuous evening air.

"A cold evening, gentlemen," said the landlord of the Blue Bear, who stood smiling in the doorway ready to receive them.

"By and bye," responded Philip. "Be good enough to have dinner in readiness so that we may get it at any moment we require.

"I am well aware of it, Jim, but the issue involved is so tremendous. Oh, if our suspicion should turn out a delusion, better had no ray of wild hope penetrated the abyss of my despair.

"Can we have a few minutes' private conversation with you?" asked Philip. "Certainly, sir," was the reply, as the look of inquiry deepened, while the postmaster mentally asked himself if anything had been found wrong in his department.

A little window was set in the upper part of the door leading to the back room, the interior of which was, however, concealed by a curtain drawn across. This was noticed by Jim as they were ushered into the small but exceedingly snug apartment, where, in addition to the lamp which stood on the table, a fire burned brightly in the grate, producing an atmosphere which bade defiance to the keen frost without.

The postmaster, seemingly anticipating that the business of his visitors required seclusion either on their account or his (he fervently hoped not his), carefully closed both the shop door and that communicating with the inner room. He then asked them to be seated, and silently awaited the opening of the conversation.

"I wish to know if you can give me any information about this. It bears the Porsley post-mark of October 13." "Well, sir, it is not likely that I can. I seldom take notice of letters that are posted, unless it has anything particular."

"Particular" repeated the youth. "Yes, it is singularly peculiar, at least to me, though I cannot expect that you would naturally think so."

Iron in the Blood

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Tonic up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitallized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damage and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of its wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhoea, Bolls, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Discharges of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women, and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial. See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass. Pamphlets Free.
