

LOCAL NEWS PARAPHRASED.

Mr. Fred Walker returned from England on Saturday.

James E. Smith and A. M. Millard left for Detroit on Saturday.

The Jewish festival of Purim commences this evening at 6 o'clock.

Last week 13 marriages, 66 births and 46 deaths were registered at the office of vital statistics.

Farr Radcliffe was arrested by Policeman Bell Saturday night for stealing a ham from the West Northumberland election case at 430 York street.

The queen's bench divisional court on Saturday adjourned further hearing of the West Northumberland election case at 4 o'clock on April 10.

The Black Flag company arrived in the city yesterday afternoon. Joe Murphy's company left for Albany Saturday night after the most successful engagement that they ever played to in Toronto.

The grand jury made its presentment to Judge Boyd Saturday morning. This jury, like all its predecessors, did not forget to give a parting blast to the abominable known as the court house.

Saturday afternoon Detective Reburn arrested on French street Daniel Martin and John Spelley who were carrying between them a basketful of lead piping, which they had stolen from the ruins of the latter manufacturing company, Yonge street.

The court of queen's bench on Saturday reversed Judge Rose's decision that the assignment of Willing & Williamson's debt to the benefit of their creditors was bad. Judge Cahoon dissented, holding the assignment bad upon one of the points advanced.

S. Davis & Son, the well-known cigar manufacturers of Montreal, are working night and day to overtake the orders which fell behind by the great fire at their factory. The El Par and Cable brands will continue to be great favorites of cigar smokers.

In the court of general sessions Saturday the trial of Chief Reynolds and Samuel Sineberg, begun on Friday, on a charge of receiving stolen furs was concluded. Both men were acquitted by the jury. The El Par and Cable brands will continue to be great favorites of cigar smokers.

An evening last week while F. J. Laidlaw was leading a Toronto snowshoe club down the ravine at Rosedale, he struck a snag in the descent, which caused a fracture of the ankle. Thinking it only a slight sprain, he walked home without any assistance, and aggravated the injury. In Saturday's issue the name of R. Hutty was mentioned as present at the time, but such is not the case.

A Berlin (Ont.) Wedding. On Wednesday evening last, Gardner Boyd of Toronto, formerly of Lindsay, to marry at St. John's church, Berlin, to Emma Allan, second daughter of Dr. Bowley, Rev. Dr. Beaumont officiated.

The bridegroom was Miss Blanche Manning of Toronto, Miss Annie Bowley, cousin of the bride, Miss Grace Boyd, the bride's sister, and Miss Mand Baird of Toronto. The best men were Mr. G. Herbert Bowley and Mr. Langdon Carruthers, one of the executive general, and cousin of the groom. The bride was richly and becomingly attired. After the ceremony the happy couple left for their residence at the residence of the bride's father, where a repast awaited them. The presents were numerous and beautiful. The wedding was left for New York from whence they sailed by Cunard steamer to Europe Saturday, making a wedding tour of a few months in France and Italy.

Provincial Appointments. His honor the lieutenant-governor has been pleased to make the following appointments, viz.—E. G. Porter, Bellefleur, barrister-at-law; John Carruthers, jr., and F. Dunbar, Toronto, solicitors of the supreme court of Ontario; A. T. Gard, Old Springs, to be notaries public for Ontario; A. M. McKinnon, Gravelly, barrister-at-law, to be local master for county of Wellington, of the supreme court of Ontario, in the room of J. W. de Cessart; G. K. Matheson, Mitchell, to be clerk of the second division court, Perth, in room of Thomas Matheson, deceased.

The following gentlemen have been appointed justice commissioners:—West Middlesex—Thomas Gordon, Thos. Northcott, David Gibb, and George Watson, John Laird, Neil Harkin.

Returning Officer Apprehended. The case of Watson against Appin was decided last Tuesday, and a verdict was given for the plaintiff for $1000, being penalties for five breaches of the election law by the defendant, who acted as deputy returning officer at Rat Portage, in the Algoma provincial election. The judgment of the law consisted in refusing the votes of five persons. The court refused a new trial. Chief Justice Hagarty said that one of the votes, that of Anderson, was not improperly refused, and that the verdict should therefore be reduced to $800.

A Generous Proposal. In another column of to-day's World is published a proposition made by Dr. M. Souville, ex-aside surgeon of the French army, to give his spermator on trial for six months to any one suffering from catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, or consumption, who will call at 123 Church street, in this city, during his week, and consult the surgeon of his institute, who are now there. This shows his confidence in the treatment, and is not only a very generous but a very fair proposal. Those suffering from any of these diseases should not fail to give the treatment a trial.

An Enticed Bivie Raided. Between 6 and 7 o'clock Saturday evening Inspector Dwyer, assisted by a posse of police, made a descent on "Paddy Rat's" well-known saloon at 62 Adelaide street west. A supply of lager and ale had just been got in for the Saturday night and Sunday campaign. More was evidently on the way. In the ceiling were found four kegs of lager and eight bottles of lager, which were confiscated by the inspector and the proprietor summoned to appear in the police court. The gang, which had just begun to collect for the usual carouse, were disconnected at the early and unexpected intrusion of the police.

The Trade of Toronto for February. The monthly reports of the port of Toronto for the last month, as issued by the board of trade are as follows: Imports—Total value of dutiable goods $1,582,955, and bullion except American silver coin $5001, free goods $145,310.

total amount of duty collected $357,358.57. Exports—Total value $247,118, made up as follows: Produce of the fisheries $880, of the forest $389, animals and their produce $110,723, agricultural products $102,155, manufactures, etc. $12,657.

A Good Thing for the Zoo. A singular fact of nature may be seen on the premises of C. Wallis, near Varna, in the shape of a year-old steer with one eye and one horn. On the left side of the face where an eye should be is a thin, loose piece, which moves when the eye on the other side winks, but there is no eye under it. From the place where the horns have grown a swelling of the skull runs down along the face and is covered with white hair, which a distance gives it the appearance of a white pout, as the color of all the rest of the body is red.

Manager Sheppard's Benefit. On Saturday night next O. B. Sheppard, manager of the Grand opera house, will take a benefit. The Black Flag will be presented on that occasion and will be the most successful engagement that they ever played to in Toronto.

The grand jury made its presentment to Judge Boyd Saturday morning. This jury, like all its predecessors, did not forget to give a parting blast to the abominable known as the court house.

Saturday afternoon Detective Reburn arrested on French street Daniel Martin and John Spelley who were carrying between them a basketful of lead piping, which they had stolen from the ruins of the latter manufacturing company, Yonge street.

The court of queen's bench on Saturday reversed Judge Rose's decision that the assignment of Willing & Williamson's debt to the benefit of their creditors was bad. Judge Cahoon dissented, holding the assignment bad upon one of the points advanced.

S. Davis & Son, the well-known cigar manufacturers of Montreal, are working night and day to overtake the orders which fell behind by the great fire at their factory. The El Par and Cable brands will continue to be great favorites of cigar smokers.

In the court of general sessions Saturday the trial of Chief Reynolds and Samuel Sineberg, begun on Friday, on a charge of receiving stolen furs was concluded. Both men were acquitted by the jury. The El Par and Cable brands will continue to be great favorites of cigar smokers.

An evening last week while F. J. Laidlaw was leading a Toronto snowshoe club down the ravine at Rosedale, he struck a snag in the descent, which caused a fracture of the ankle. Thinking it only a slight sprain, he walked home without any assistance, and aggravated the injury. In Saturday's issue the name of R. Hutty was mentioned as present at the time, but such is not the case.

A Berlin (Ont.) Wedding. On Wednesday evening last, Gardner Boyd of Toronto, formerly of Lindsay, to marry at St. John's church, Berlin, to Emma Allan, second daughter of Dr. Bowley, Rev. Dr. Beaumont officiated.

The bridegroom was Miss Blanche Manning of Toronto, Miss Annie Bowley, cousin of the bride, Miss Grace Boyd, the bride's sister, and Miss Mand Baird of Toronto. The best men were Mr. G. Herbert Bowley and Mr. Langdon Carruthers, one of the executive general, and cousin of the groom. The bride was richly and becomingly attired. After the ceremony the happy couple left for their residence at the residence of the bride's father, where a repast awaited them. The presents were numerous and beautiful. The wedding was left for New York from whence they sailed by Cunard steamer to Europe Saturday, making a wedding tour of a few months in France and Italy.

Provincial Appointments. His honor the lieutenant-governor has been pleased to make the following appointments, viz.—E. G. Porter, Bellefleur, barrister-at-law; John Carruthers, jr., and F. Dunbar, Toronto, solicitors of the supreme court of Ontario; A. T. Gard, Old Springs, to be notaries public for Ontario; A. M. McKinnon, Gravelly, barrister-at-law, to be local master for county of Wellington, of the supreme court of Ontario, in the room of J. W. de Cessart; G. K. Matheson, Mitchell, to be clerk of the second division court, Perth, in room of Thomas Matheson, deceased.

The following gentlemen have been appointed justice commissioners:—West Middlesex—Thomas Gordon, Thos. Northcott, David Gibb, and George Watson, John Laird, Neil Harkin.

Returning Officer Apprehended. The case of Watson against Appin was decided last Tuesday, and a verdict was given for the plaintiff for $1000, being penalties for five breaches of the election law by the defendant, who acted as deputy returning officer at Rat Portage, in the Algoma provincial election. The judgment of the law consisted in refusing the votes of five persons. The court refused a new trial. Chief Justice Hagarty said that one of the votes, that of Anderson, was not improperly refused, and that the verdict should therefore be reduced to $800.

A Generous Proposal. In another column of to-day's World is published a proposition made by Dr. M. Souville, ex-aside surgeon of the French army, to give his spermator on trial for six months to any one suffering from catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, or consumption, who will call at 123 Church street, in this city, during his week, and consult the surgeon of his institute, who are now there. This shows his confidence in the treatment, and is not only a very generous but a very fair proposal. Those suffering from any of these diseases should not fail to give the treatment a trial.

An Enticed Bivie Raided. Between 6 and 7 o'clock Saturday evening Inspector Dwyer, assisted by a posse of police, made a descent on "Paddy Rat's" well-known saloon at 62 Adelaide street west. A supply of lager and ale had just been got in for the Saturday night and Sunday campaign. More was evidently on the way. In the ceiling were found four kegs of lager and eight bottles of lager, which were confiscated by the inspector and the proprietor summoned to appear in the police court. The gang, which had just begun to collect for the usual carouse, were disconnected at the early and unexpected intrusion of the police.

The Trade of Toronto for February. The monthly reports of the port of Toronto for the last month, as issued by the board of trade are as follows: Imports—Total value of dutiable goods $1,582,955, and bullion except American silver coin $5001, free goods $145,310.

The Woman Question in Its Relation to Progress.

From the Week, March 3.

About twenty-five years ago there appeared in the Western Review an essay on "Progress, its Law and Cause," which immediately drew the attention of the scientific world. In this essay the writer, who was none other than Mr. Herbert Spencer, made systematic statement of a certain theory of progress, which had been first suggested by a German physiologist, and afterwards greatly expanded by himself. The theory was, in brief, somewhat as follows: Progress is essentially a change from the homogeneous to the heterogeneous, from the condition of being alike throughout to the condition of being unlike throughout, and composed of many different parts. From first to last it is a process of separation, diversification, and differentiation. Our most familiar example is that of the egg, the inside of which at first seems to consist of white and yolk only, each apparently alike throughout its mass, with the exception of a single point in the centre of the latter. In the process of hatching, however, it develops into a bird, with beak, wings, claws, feet, legs, body and a vast number of organs, many of which have no parallel in the original white and yolk. The original all-like mass has become greatly differentiated: there has been a change from the homogeneous to the heterogeneous, which would appear positively miraculous if it were not so familiar. The same theory is extended not only to the whole of nature, but to the development of man upon the earth—to religion, government, sociology, and all that man's whole historical record. His steps of progress have been divided into divisions of character and function. In the youth of the world the office of priest and king were combined in one person; later, the priestly and the royal functions were separated. After this the political ruler still made as well as executed the law, but the time when the law was made and the law was executed by another. This all-embracing theory includes among other things the nebular hypothesis, as the greater the number of persons, the greater the number of functions, the more diverse the material universe, once an indistinguishable homogeneous mass of nebulous matter has become diversified into many various stages of development. The earth, once a gaseous and afterwards a fluid or semi-fluid mass, all alike throughout, has divided into rocks, metals, soil, water, trees, plants, atmosphere and what not. These examples may convey a tolerable idea of what Herbert Spencer's theory has divided into upon which it has been built up. Only the law of progress, however, is here indicated; its cause, as laid down by the author, is that which is the present. The theory, which was promptly accepted, by scientific men generally, may be said to rest upon a foundation of fact, and is still of wider reach, and offers explanation of more and more various phenomena than any other theory. Here and there another illustration be added—the extreme length to which the division of labour is now carried in the most advanced countries, in contrast with the striking lack of it which prevails among those that are backward and unprogressive. This is worthy of a notice in connection with what is to follow.

One of the most prominent questions of our day is the woman question, by which is meant the position of woman in relation to the progress of the world, and the employment for women. Coming still nearer to the practical point at issue, it is the question of how far woman is to be permitted to take up various callings and employments, now or hereafter believed to be suited for such persons. The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

The woman question, as such, is a question of law, and is not a question of fact. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable. It is a question of what is possible, and not of what is desirable.

surely there lies behind it a mass of cogent facts, all of profound and permanent significance, with regard to the bearing which civilization and progress have upon the aptitudes, the occupations and the general destiny of woman in future ages. When these facts have been coordinated and the riddle of their meaning solved, they will point to something very different from what the woman's advocate is looking forward to. Already we may divine beforehand that, instead of tending to assimilate the work of the woman to that of the man, the world's progress will on the contrary bring us to still farther division of labor between the two, and will mark more deeply the distinctive characteristics of each. JOHN MACLEAN.

THE WORLD AT LARGE.

Melbourne is painting a large picture which represents Francis I. and Chevalier Bayard in the midst of a gorgeous company.

Mora, New Mexico, takes the lead on cock-fighting. There have been over seven hundred chickens killed there during the winter.

An Alabama judge has decided that a man who puts his satchel on a seat in a railway car is liable for the man who moves it is bigger than he.

Philip Matthews, a prominent resident of Bordenston, N.J., swallowed his false teeth while asleep. He is now lying in a terrible condition.

The horses of Philadelphia are fast falling victims to a foot disease which veterinary surgeons say is a result of the use of the rubber shoe.

A resident of Glover, Vt., has the distinction of possessing the largest sole in the state. He wears a shoe that measures twenty-two inches in length and is eight inches wide.

The remains of old time residents and pioneers of southwestern Montana who were killed by Indians or died away from home are to be gathered together and interred in the Bozeman cemetery.

Charles Elkins of Bedford county, Tenn., has been sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary for whipping the 4-year-old nephew of his wife to death. The sentence has been confirmed by the supreme court.

The Vossische Zeitung announces that when the Russian government some time ago demanded 2,000,000 marks for art purposes it had in its eye the purchase of the Duke of Marlborough's painted pictures.

Frederick Gowley, the painter of the Finding of the Body of the Prince Imperial and "Last Hours of Lord Beaconsfield," has nearly finished a large canvas representing the first day of the Boer war, as seen on a first night of Irving's. There are a great number of portraits of well-known celebrities.

A recent advertisement reads as follows: "The gentleman who keeps the shoe store with a red head will return the umbrella of a young lady with whalebone ribs and an antique hat to the lady who has a red head, as the same is the gift of a deceased mother now no more, with the name engraved on it."

In the Journal des Debats, M. Gabriel Charrier, the highest living French authority on the subject, contributes an article on the Egyptian mummies. He says that in which he attributes the mummy's success to the support he has received from the slave dealers. This may account for any other mummy which was at least a temporary success.

In a recent speech at Calcutta, Professor Monier Williams pointed out that some of the inscriptions at the excavations there, that under an image of Baal, this god is accounted the prince of darkness, and the deity of the infernal regions, and the Indian catalogue has named him the King of the Netherlands.

One of Mrs. Carlyle's letters, recently published, throws some new light on her personal habits. I spend my life, she writes, chiefly in writing letters, smoking cigarettes, and loving the devil out of a Scotch herring. This is an admirable confession, and the more so as she spends his life, he writes to me, chiefly in sleeping, and in drinking new milk under the sun. The woman who works that way should say; but every one to his mind.

There is a good old fairy story of a girl who received from the good people the magic of the diamond ring, and she used it to find out the truth about her lover. The fairy gift has found a rival in a recent present to the pope of a fish made of virgin gold into the hands of his fortunate owner, but unfortunately it has not the gift of his tests.

DEATHS. GRHAM—At No. 1 Hagburn street, March the 8th, Harriet Rossanah, the beloved infant daughter of Mrs. Rossanah and Louis Grham, aged about 20 days. Funeral to-day (Monday) at 2 p.m.

AMUSEMENTS AND MEETINGS. GRAND OPERA HOUSE. O. B. SHEPPARD, Manager. One week commencing to-night with matinee Wednesday and Saturday. THE BLACK FLAG. A carefully selected dramatic company. THE BLACK FLAG. A carefully selected dramatic company.

GARNIVAL OF AUTHORS. A RARE OPPORTUNITY. MISS F. H. CHURCHILL, of Boston, Mass. The Celebrated Dramatist Teacher, will give an evening of Readings and Recitations at SHATSBURY HALL, on THURSDAY, MARCH 13th, 1884, commencing at 8 p.m. sharp. Secure your seats, please. Reserved Seats 50 cents. Plan of hall now open at Suckling's Piano Warehouse, 107 Yonge street. General Admission, 25 cents.

ROYAL MUSEUM. Corner Bar and Adelaide Sts. Family MATINEE. Afternoon. 2.30. This Week. Performance. SATURDAY NIGHT at 8 O'clock.

ADMISSION 10 CENTS. The Mass Meeting To-night.

The public are reminded of the mass meeting called by the Mayor, to be held this (Monday) evening, at 7.30, in the St. Lawrence Hall, on the subject of the proposed railway. It is not necessary to be present to protest against the "monstrous project" of the railway, but it is necessary to be present to support the railway, and to demand that the railway be built. The meeting will be held at 7.30, in the St. Lawrence Hall, on the subject of the proposed railway. It is not necessary to be present to protest against the "monstrous project" of the railway, but it is necessary to be present to support the railway, and to demand that the railway be built.

REAL ESTATE. REAL ESTATE FOR SELLING CITY. Large lots and houses to let and quick transactions. JACOBSON, 20 Queen street west, real estate agent, corner of Adelaide and Victoria streets.

FINANCIAL. A FEW SMALL SUMS TO LOAN ON real estate at low rates. G. BELL, 71 Yonge street.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES. On farms or city property. A. J. GLOVE & CO., Land Agents, 33 Adelaide street, east.

CABLE CARPETS.

Is the Oldest and most Reliable Brand of Cigars in Canada.

Nearly a Quarter of a Century in the Market.

Smokers are cautioned to see that every CIGAR is stamped, as unscrupulous dealers are in the habit of painting off inferior goods as our make, because it pays them a larger profit.