

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN.

A GREAT BILL FOR WEEK-END

Opera House Has a Classy New Programme—Is Well Worth Seeing.

The new vaudeville programme at the Opera House tonight offers a good variety of classy entertainment, the features including: James Kennedy and Company in a real good comedy singing sketch, "Honey-Mooning"; Elvia, a clever xylophonist; Meyers and Caverly, comedy songs, witty patter and pianology; Hall and West, comedy singing and novelty dancing; Ernie Leaver and Maudie Collins, in "Odds and Ends," a sensational and thrilling gymnastic offering, and the opening chapter of the new serial drama of romance and adventure, "The Purple Riders." Evening performance at 7.30 and 9. Popular prices.

EXPECTS TO LOSE $3,000

George Creary Says Sale a Donation to Good Cause.

"I have selected 150 suits, put them in the back two wardrobes on the right hand side of my store as you enter, and there I am selling at a loss of from $10 to $25 on their actual cost to me," said George Creary, of the Semi-ready Store on Charlotte street. "I can see signs of improved business, and there will come an end to the world-wide depression in September. This is the opinion of great financiers who have made a careful diagnosis of the big things that count in a return of industrial confidence. I am donating $3,000 in good hard cash to help. Somebody has to lose."

HAMPTON MAN HURT. Ernest Nealy was brought to the General Public Hospital from Hampton, last evening, suffering from a severe cut in the foot. The wound was stitched in Hampton before Mr. Nealy was brought to the city.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST FLY

Swatting Has Been Successful in the United States.

(New York Times)

The early Spring campaign, launched by the Merchants' Association of New York through its Committee on Pollution and Sewerage, for the destruction of the Winter "hangover" fly, has been unusually successful in arousing interest. The necessity for cleaning up the breeding places of the fly has been emphasized by the association.

A special effort is being made to focus the attention of children on the pernicious activities of the fly, and many thousands of children have been made familiar with the fact that the ordinary, harmless-looking house fly is a disease carrier. In pointing out the necessity for the co-operation of all adults and children alike, if the fly nuisance is to be done away with, Health Commissioner Copeland said:

"It is one thing to know that one should swat the fly and another to know why the fly should be swatted. * * * Science has learned more and more about the fly, but without the assistance of the people in such a great metropolitan as ours it is powerless. The Health Department is an active enemy of the fly, and the germ-breeding places in which it thrives, but it must have the co-operation of the citizens."

The educational work with children Dr. Copeland considers particularly valuable, inasmuch as the children will soon be adults and they will have formed a very good idea of the part which they must play in the eradication of the fly pest. The danger in eating or drinking anything a fly has touched and the advisability of not patronizing the store where flies are permitted to wander over the food offered for sale are among the points featured with the children. Restaurants and lunch rooms where flies are numerous, they are being taught, are unfit places in which to eat. Keeping garbage receptacles covered, preventing the entrance of flies at windows and doors and offering them nothing to feed upon are important points in the war on flies.

Minneapolis, Cincinnati and Philadelphia are among the cities, besides those of this State, which are participating in the war on the fly. The sixty cases of typhoid fever at the University of Minnesota provided sufficient motive of the campaign in the university city. H. W. Kavel, chairman of the fly committee of the general Spring clean-up committee, is quoted as saying that he hoped an effort would be made to kill every common house fly in the city, thus removing the greatest typhoid germ carrier.

Cincinnati's Health Commissioner, Dr. William H. Peters, in inaugurating that city's campaign, said he hoped to make a big clean-up. He is going especially after the breeding places. He characterized the fly as "an enemy who destroys more babies than Herod." Pennsylvania has also started a State-wide war on the fly, laying particular stress on the part played by flies in infant mortality.

The Merchants' Association committee is calling attention to the speed with which the fly nuisance spreads. The mother fly lays 100 eggs at one time, and deposits six shadings in her lifetime of five weeks. Every fly speck abounds in germs. In the track of a single fly have been found 116 colonies of germs, and 6,000,000 germs have been counted in and on the body of one fly.

"Watch the fly," says the association, "when you await the service of your meal. It will be an interesting and instructive experience." This is for those who permit the fly to share their food. But it begs the public to patronize no grocery store, butcher shop or restaurant where the fly is permitted to walk about the food. He plants his disease germs on your bread, he buries them in your butter, trails them over the sugar, sips your coffee and swims in the milk. The continued presence of flies in the home is a positive index that the housewife is careless and unclean. In the management of the household, and that a hidden abode is maintained for the fly family," says the committee, adding that: "The serious strain, both mental and physical, that the human system has undergone during the war has impaired the vitality and strength of the inhabitants of our country and made them more susceptible to the ravages of disease * * * Kill the fly and save lives."

BRITISH INDUSTRIAL GENEROSITY

The spirit in which British industrial employers interpret their duty to their employees is exemplified by the action taken by two of the leading railway companies in connection with superannuation allowances for old servants. Owing to the change in the value of currency since the war the original allowance had become inadequate and the companies voluntarily decided to increase the allowances to superannuated servants and also to improve the scale of benefits for those servants entitled to superannuation. This action is all the more striking as the only fund at present available for such concessions is the dividend fund. The additional amounts, therefore, come out of the shareholders' pockets.

The Vacant Seats.

The resignations of Mr. A. A. Maharg, of Maple Creek, Sask., and of Hon. N. W. Rowell, of Durham, Ont., of their seats in the House of Commons, leave six vacancies in that body which should all be filled before Parliament is called to meet again. Mr. Rowell retires after having won a creditable reputation as a public man of high character and large capacity. Mr. Maharg is to enter provincial politics in Saskatchewan. Besides these vacancies just created, there are others in St. Antoine, Montreal, caused by the resignation of Sir H. B. Ames; in Leeds, through the resignation of Sir Thomas White; in Medicine Hat through the death of Hon. Arthur Sifton, and in York West by the death of Thomas Wallace. In Medicine Hat the by-election takes place on June 27.

TRIPLE-SERVICE (ECONOMIC-HYGIENIC-STYLE) Makes Nemo Corsets Indispensable

The Meaning of Nemo Corset Service MILLIONS OF WOMEN DEPEND ON IT

Nemo Corsets comprise many hygienic features of great scientific value and are divided into three distinct services:

Hygienic Service---Style Service---Economic Service

Their Hygienic Service has become invaluable and indispensable from a humanitarian and health point of view. The medical profession fully recognizes its preventive and curative qualities.

Their Style Service is necessarily different from that furnished by other corsets. The scientific and hygienic results can be obtained only when Nemo Corsets fit the figure accurately, comfortably and properly.

Their Economic Service, on which the first two depend represents the long-wearing qualities of Nemo Corsets. No amount of ingenuity in conceiving these valuable inventions would avail if the corsets themselves were not extremely durable. Their intrinsic value production cost of the corsets themselves, although worth much given entirely free.

The Circlet does for the figure above the waist what the corset does below.

The Circlet has neither hooks nor eyes yet it molds the figure perfectly. As It Encircles

KEEP THE HARBOR.

Hon. Mr. Wignmore failed to get an appropriation for the completion of the breakwater. He failed to satisfy the people generally in regard to a senatorial appointment. He failed to prevent the federal public works department from approving of the plans for the proposed C. P. R. bridge over the reversing falls. But he will bring Mr. Ballantyne to St. John, apparently to boost a harbor commission scheme the citizens never asked for and would be utterly foolish to accept. The citizens, however, understand quite well that anything Mr. Ballantyne or Mr. Wignmore may say will not alter the wording of the act which would be a sacrifice to which no citizen who has regard for St. John and its future would consent. Moreover, neither Mr. Ballantyne nor Mr. Wignmore will have any authority in the matter after the electors of Canada have had an opportunity to speak at the general elections this year or next; and even if that were not so there are so many broken pledges that St. John will put no faith in assurances given by the politicians who are about to pay us a visit. The harbor is ours. To give it up without ample guarantees would be the worst kind of reckless folly on our part, and the guarantees are not in the harbor commission act.

THE CASE STRONGLY PUT.

Hon. R. E. Finn, in an interview in Toronto this week, said of the maritime provinces:—
"With a high tariff wall cutting us off from the United States market, and with a high tariff of railway rates on the other hand, we are hedged in and isolated. We have nothing left but a local market, and as the aggregate population of the three maritime provinces is only equal to that of Montreal, well, he who runs may read, that's all."
Mr. Finn pointed out that the American market which these provinces give up to go into confederation was worth about $75,000,000 annually, and now the freight rates are cutting them off from the markets of central and western Canada, although it is the contention of the maritime provinces that the Intercolonial was built with the professed object of building up trade between those provinces and central and western Canada.

The Halifax Chronicle, in a strong article, declares that these provinces are now beginning a task which "should have been undertaken and pushed to a conclusion long ago."
"Having put the united hands—roughly for the first time—to the plough in this stony but not impossible field, none of the three provinces concerned must falter or look back until a straight and honest furrow has been turned from east to west. Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island have suffered too long and too seriously from their failure to co-operate as they should in maintaining and promoting their mutual rights and interests, for a continuance of that policy of no policy to be longer thinkable. Our rights and our wrongs are identical. We must deal with them as a unit if we are to deal with them successfully. There is no need of legislative union for that purpose. Our rights are moral or legal. Our wrongs are largely due to political causes. Our rights are to be asserted by fact and argument. If that is properly done, our wrongs will incidentally be removed."

The Chronicle recognizes that the chief difficulty is western indifference to or ignorance of the rights of the east, which has been continually manifested, and presents the following reminder of the facts of the case:—
"In 1867, besides the maritime provinces there were only Quebec and Ontario—a Quebec and Ontario very different from those of today—between which, moreover, union had already been tried and worse than failed. All, therefore, depended on the maritime provinces. Had they stood aloof and consulted only their own immediate interests, there could not, and never would have been, a Dominion of Canada, and the whole course of British Empire building might have been impeded, and world history vitally affected. These are the simple facts which every Canadian should know and appreciate."

The Chronicle directs the attention of the west to the further fact that while these provinces made the Dominion a possibility they were both prosperous and progressive when they joined with Quebec and Ontario:—
"Their populations were rapidly increasing. Their resources were ample. Their taxes were low. Their revenues were sufficient for their requirements. They were the fourth in place among the shipowners of the world. Their tariff was low, almost nominal, and they had the freest of water-borne traffic with the whole world."

It was in compensation for what they had to give up that the Intercolonial was offered as a channel of trade with the other provinces, where there would be, it was declared, an ample market. The Chronicle goes on:—
"The Intercolonial was built, not for us, but by us. We contributed our full, proportionate share to its construction. We contributed our full proportionate share to the purchase of the securities

THE FLOWMAN.

(Oliver Wendell Holmes)
Clear the brown path to meet his conter's gleam!
Lo! on he comes, behind his smoking
bang!
With toll's bright dewdrops on his sun-
burnt brow,
The lord of earth, the hero of the plow!

First in the field before the reddening
sun,
Last in the shadows when the day is done,
Line after line, along the bursting
rod,
Marks the broad acres where his feet
have trod.
Still where he treads the stubborn clods
divide,
The smooth, fresh furrow opens deep
and wide;
Matted and dense the tangled turf up-
heaves,
Mellow and dark the ridgy cornfield
cleaves;
Up the steep hillside, where the laboring train
Slants the long track that scores the level
plain,
Through the moist valley clogged with mowing clay,
The patient oxen breaks its destined
way;
At even turn the loosening chains re-
sound,
The swinging plowshare circle glisten-
ing round,
All the wide field one billowy waste appears,
And wearier hands unwind the panting
steeds.

These are the hands whose sturdy labor brings
The peasant's food, the golden pomp of kings!
This is the page whose letters shall be seen,
Changed by the sun to words of living
green;
This is the scholar whose immortal
pen Speaks the first lesson hunger taught to men;
These are the lines that heaven commanded
To show on his deed—the charter of the soil!

'WELL WIN OR DIE FOR CHARLIE'

(Toronto Telegram)
Dr. Drummond's adaptation of "The Standard on the Brees of Mar" to conditions which he hoped to see in the Presbyterian Church when it became part of a "larger national church," and presented an unbroken front to the forces of evil in Canada, brought a rebuff from the moderator, Rev. Dr. Gordon, and evoked such a burst of laughter as was never before heard when the fathers and brethren were debating a momentous question.

"At times I have something of prophetic vision," declared Dr. Drummond, "and while considering this question which has lain heavy on my thoughts, I was reminded of the old Jacobite song, which I read to you:—
"The standard on the breezes of Mar
Is up and streamer rarely,
The gath'ring pipes frae bell'nagar
Are soundin' loud and sairy!"

Then adapting the words to conditions as he hoped to see in the church, he said:—
"The standard on the breezes of Mar
Is up and streamer rarely,
The gath'ring pipes frae bell'nagar
Are soundin' loud and sairy!"

ULSTER'S DEBUT.

(Montreal Gazette)
"All the good the past hath had, remains to make our own time glad. Ulster under the new Union flag, takes upon her own shoulders today at Belfast, the metropolis of the north—all the duties and responsibilities of self-government. The new bill as drafted and passed has at length become the law of the land, and has been put into force. Perhaps Edmund Burke's apostrophe can be recalled: "A people who have no regard for their ancestry will not be apt to have much regard for their posterity." Ulster will have to be apt to be apt to have much regard for their posterity, in sound government, and good legislation. It is a rule of life that all privileges enjoyed by mortals are just as in the case of men, so with peoples. Consequently Ireland while she has the privilege of self-government, by virtue of the formation of the new north and southern parliaments, must also assume the responsibilities consequent upon this authority. There should be an immediate cessation of all antagonistic activities, and a stop put to the devastating work of those responsible for murders and looting. Why, when both parties in Ireland had agreed that rule to mark their own real dominion, the Ulster men and the Saxons have been quarrelling throughout the centuries, in fact, so far back as A. D. 664 a "high" ranged over the date of Easter, and periodical controversies since then have been abundant.

The present prospects of Ulster are bright, even though King George does not put the hall-mark on the formal state opening on the 22nd of June by attending in person. Several things have occurred of late to encourage a hope of settlement, but not fruition has up till now matured. Sir James Craig, the new Ulster premier, may be expected to constitute his cabinet in such a way that it will be an object lesson to the rest of Ireland, and if the peaceful organization of the Ulster house results in successful government the example may best still further success and wield an important influence on public opinion in other parts of Ireland. The Senate and Commons at Belfast are strongly constituted and should legislate with justice and equity towards all the peoples of the province. The "bloody history" of the O'Neill family, the Saxons, is to be recognized by the appointment to the speakership of the new house of the Honorable Hugh O'Neill, a member of a very old Ulster family. Irishmen generally want to see peace and tranquility restored to "that dear little life in the sea," and perhaps it is not over-optimistic to express a hope that today's ceremony at Belfast may be the dawn of a new era in Ireland.

The Liberal government in Saskatchewan has been sustained by a good working majority. The exact figures are not yet available.

A fine water color painting of a ruined cottage on Fort Howe, which was painted by Mrs. Silas Alward, has been presented by her to the public library. The picture is an excellent painting and of historical interest. It is mounted and framed with a gilt frame. It will be hung prominently in the library, and has been gratefully received.

PERSONAL INITIATIVE WINS.

(Toronto Globe)
The Russian Communists have buried Communism without a word of regret, and apparently without a sigh of regret. The funeral took place at the close of the congress of the party at Moscow on Monday. Lenin proclaimed there a new policy under which the peasants are to become the owners of the land they till, paying by way of taxation to the state about a third of their crop, and retaining the remainder for their own use, or for sale through the farmers' co-operative societies, which are authorized to carry on trading operations as in the days before Soviet rule began.

It is not only on the farm that Communism has been abandoned. Although the State still retains control of transportation, of the textile industry, of mining, of the salt monopoly and of metal-working industries, it is announced officially that the smaller industries are to be turned back to private ownership, and that factories will be leased to the employers who embark in business. "The dictatorship of the proletariat" has since been given up to supervision by trades unions which will fix the rate of wages, and inspection of the factories by officials of the government.

It is announced that "personal initiative of workers will be suitably rewarded and will supplant equal pay." This, of course, is in the nature of a system as Western Europe and America know it, and is the very opposite of the Communist creed that the state shall be the owner of all means and material of production, and shall receive service from each citizen according to his ability, and provide food, clothing and shelter according to his needs. Once more, therefore, and on the greatest scale the modern world has seen, there has been an utter breakdown of Communism in action and a return to the form of society based on individual rights, including the right to hold property and to bargain for its disposal and acquisition. Lenin has sided, but unlike less philosophic leaders of economic revolution he has admitted failure, and is now siding in the restoration of the wage system, rooted in the age-long experience of civilized man, he found he could not destroy.

Reflected of the ball and chain of Communism, Russia will move forward rapidly toward political freedom and material prosperity.

MISCHEVIOUS WAR TALK.

(Osaka Mainichi)
There is talk of Japanese-American war both in Japan and America, and the matter is also attracting attention in other countries. All thinking men deny the possibility of such a war but emergencies are not necessarily controlled by logic and reason. If the notion of the man in the street that Japanese-American war is imminent spreads and becomes intensified, an irresistible state of affairs may occur. Against such possibility both Japanese and Americans should be on their guard.

We deny the possibility of a war between Japan and America, and pray that such a thing may never occur, but it is necessary to consider why there is talk of war. It seems that Americans believe that Japan will try to capture America's position in the Pacific and to make a surprise attack on America in conjunction with the Japanese residents in that country. On the other hand, Japanese seem to think that America will attack Japan with a large navy. It seems clear that war talk is based on mutual fear.

If Japan and America are faithful to their respective missions, war is impossible. In order that the impossibility of such a war be made manifest, it may be convincingly demonstrated and that the two nations can with easy minds co-operate in the interest of the world's civilization, it is necessary that they should make it clear why there is no need for one to fear the other, that is, they should fully understand each other. It is to be hoped that the new administration of America under President Harding, who is said to be a genius in conciliation, will exchange opinions thoroughly with the Japanese government in order to clarify a state of affairs under which misunderstandings are apt to occur.

NEW YORK'S PHONES.

It is probable that nothing in New York City has grown as rapidly or so extensively in the last year as the telephone system, says the New York Times. In the past fifteen months, the company has expanded its plant in the city to such an extent that the growth alone is equivalent to a telephone system capable of serving almost any one of the first rank cities of the United States.

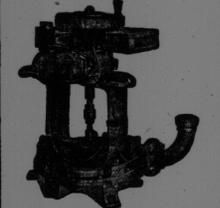

Here is what has been accomplished: 154,000 new telephones have been installed—more than are being used today in the city of Detroit. Half a million miles of telephone wire have been added to the system—more wire than is in use today in a city the size of Cleveland. Six hundred and twenty new switchboard operating positions have been put in service—as much switchboard space as is used today in the city of Pittsburgh. Five new central office buildings have been constructed and additions have been made to seventeen other buildings, affording 12.6 million acres of floor space—an area greater by 10 per cent. than that of the entire Singer building, and one-third the area of the Woolworth building.

In money all this represents an investment of more than $85,000,000, three times the amount of money spent in the city by the telephone company in any normal year before the war. Probably there is no such thing as a limitation on the growth of a telephone system. The million mark in the city telephone stations is expected to be reached and possibly passed before 1921 ends. New York now has more telephones than all the capitals of Europe and Asia combined. The total number of stations is nearly 935,000. In recent weeks the telephone man has been connecting new instruments at the rate of one every minute for the eight hours of the working day.

F. A. McCULLY WRITES FROM MILAN, ITALY

In a private letter received from F. A. McCully of Montreal, who was at the time of writing (May 20) in Milan, Italy, Mr. McCully writes:—
"After spending some time at Venice, I am now in Milan, and I think I can tell you that the country is a very progressive city, wide streets, filled with well dressed people, large co-operative stores, quite like New York. One sees great crowds of well dressed young men on the streets, during spare hours, a great many police, and a great many political unrest, quite different from Venice. I was there through election day. No signs of any kind that an election was on. I think few people vote. The cathedral in Milan is next to St. Peter's, the largest in Europe. It is right next my hotel, I go to Italian Lakes,

THE EVINRUDE UNIT CENTRIFUGAL PUMP

Fills the need for a light, compact, easily portable pumping unit capable of handling large quantities of water to or from the job, clearing trenches or excavations, supplying tanks, etc., at low cost.

If it is not convenient to place the outfit down into the excavation or pit, a hose or pipe for a suction up to 20 feet can be readily attached.

The parts are few, the construction is rugged and operation is a very easy matter.

THE SPINNEY MEASURE.

(Ottawa Journal)
The consideration given the Spinney measure has had two very gratifying results. It has brought forth in the evidence of the heads of departments and others of authority before the special committee of the House of Commons, a vindication of the merit system and of the administration of it by the Civil Service Commission. It has also shown that the patronage system has not the supporters it was thought to have in parliament. Most of the members who intervened themselves in the question required only to be made acquainted with the manner in which the merit system serves in order to give it their approval and defence.

As a matter of fact, the surprising thing about the Civil Service Act and its application is that there has been so little opposition to it. There has not yet been time, since the passage of the act, for the merit system to be put into proper working order. It requires years of organization of the dimensions and intricacies of the Civil Service. It is hard to have called into question the measure of Civil Service reform which the commission is administering.

A CURE THAT FAILED.

(London Letter)
I think I can supply some of the "inner history" of the singular case of Alfred Wilson, who was struck down by death on the eve of lecturing in the Albert Hall, on "How I Was Made Twenty Years Younger by Professor Sclanch of Vienna." It is a melancholy fact that I saw Mr. Wilson only the day before his death, when he was bubbling over with excitement concerning his renewed "youth." He told me that the thyroid gland treatment had made him feel absolutely juvenile, and that he had constantly to indulge in violent exercise to get rid of some of his superabundant energies. He was contemplating marriage. But there is another side to this which illustrates the fact that nature is not so easily tampered with. While I was conversing with Mr. Wilson there was present a medical gentleman, who had come to learn some details of the effect of the treatment. After Mr. Wilson had left this doctor said: "I do not like the look of Mr. Wilson. He seems unnaturally excited and abnormal, and I should not be surprised if his heart suddenly gave out." This prognostication was fulfilled in a few hours.

of the trade associations, composed of the Douglas fir loggers and lumber manufacturers of the Pacific coast.
The report finds that between 1915
and 1920, wholesale quotations on fir lumber increased 800 to 500 per cent, and most items doubled in price after the armistice.
Loggers and lumber manufacturers of the Douglas fir region are organized to hold up prices and restrict production, the commission finds, and manufacturers concocted efforts to advance prices in to prevent such importation. Failing in this, the commission says, the British Columbia loggers became affiliated with the United States associations and adopted the latter's prices.

*BARE-LEGGED BATHERS START ROW FOR MAYOR

Girls Accept Aged Executive's Invitation and Women's League Threatens Trouble.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 10.—Robert Crissey, seventy-two-year-old mayor of Somers Point, a mainland city ten miles from here on the shores of Great Egg Harbor Bay, is the storm centre of a lively community fight as the result of his general invitation to bare-legged girls in one-piece bathing suits to enjoy the city's beaches to their hearts' content, after censors in Atlantic City had demanded skirts on beach togs and the wearing of hosiery.
The response last Sunday turned the bay front into a scene of fishing limbs and display of shapely forms. A fringe of trees lining the beach, and the Ocean City-Somers Point bridge were turned into "bleachers" from which motorists enjoyed the scenery. Traffic along the shore road, one of the main highways from this city, was tied up during the bathing hour, and there was a shortage of men at church services.
Many women residents of the Point didn't like the situation, and they propose to take up the matter at a meeting of the Women's Republican League.
A hundred or more devotees of the one-piece, bare-legged mode availed themselves of the mayor's invitation.
There are no bathhouses adjacent to the beach, and many changed their attire in automobiles with curtains drawn or at the Bay View Hotel near the bridge.
Mrs. Mary North Chenoweth, president of the Women's League, and wife of a high school professor, says: "We will allow nothing here that they do not allow in Atlantic City. Somers Point wants nothing immodest. The regulations at Atlantic City are fair enough, and give enough latitude in the mode of dress for any member of my sex. We will consider the question officially at our meeting. Until then I have nothing further to say."

friends in Moncton will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. H. Clinton Davidson on Wednesday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Doherty, Great Village (N. S.). Mrs. Davidson was eighty-one years of age and is survived by three daughters, Etta, wife of Dr. R. P. Doherty, Great Village; Mrs.
Haycke, formerly Miss Kate Davidson, also of Great Village, and Miss Bessie Davidson of Vancouver (B. C.). George Davidson of the C. N. R. is a son, also Fenwick Davidson of New York. One year ago her husband died several years ago. The family formerly lived in Shediac.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Management of the Children's Aid Society was held last night in the Children's Home, 68 Garden street, with the president, A. M. Beidling in the chair.
A good deal of routine business was transacted. The agent reported on some of the applications received for children
as a result of the recent advertising.
Correspondence in several cases investigated was read.
There are now twenty-seven inmates of the home. The monthly report of the agent, Rev. George Scott, showed that since the last meeting four little ones had been taken into the Children's Home.
Two of those in institutions, however,
will be taken out by their parents as soon as the schools close. A large number of cases had been investigated and applications had been received from several

DAZZLE WEDDING, GEMS ON HATS, DRESSES AND SHOES

Paris, June 10—Many guests at the wedding of Mlle. Anna Carlier, granddaughter of a jeweler, and M. Rene Re-vellon, representing the great fur house in New York, wore jewels on hats, dresses and shoes. In spite of the warm weather, some rich furs were worn.
The dresses were accompanied by a dazzling display of jewels. Hats were trimmed with paradise plumes and diamond fastenings. Jeweled buckles were on patent shoes.

Ivan C. Rand of Moncton Tells Halifax Commercial Club Increases in Freight Rates Are a Curse.

(Canadian Press Despatch) Halifax, June 9—Strongly scoring the politics "which corroded maritime affairs" and urging united action on the part of the maritime provinces, Ivan C. Rand, of Moncton, official representative of the New Brunswick government on the maritime freight rates delegation which recently visited Ottawa, addressed the Halifax Commercial Club at its weekly luncheon here today on railway affairs. With reference especially to Canadian National Railway matters and the freight rates question in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, Mr. Rand, decidedly opposed a divorce of the federal system from the trans-continental lines. He suggested that some solution of the freight difficulties might be found in the adoption of a zone system. He pleaded against insularity.

Dr. D. W. Cowan, M. P. for Regina, was optimistic with regard to railway situation. Increases in freight rates he denounced as a curse. They were destroying trade and not providing revenue for the roads, he said.

NINTH NEST STAYS.

Rome, N. Y., June 10—Carpenters building a house here found a robin's nest on the inside of a window casing. They destroyed it, but the bird started to build another the next day. After this had occurred eight times the owner of the house, who had his own troubles in home building, ordered that the nest be left alone.

W. SHIVES FISHER OF ST. JOHN HEAD OF MANUFACTURERS

(Canadian Press Despatch) Quebec, Que., June 9—The fifth annual convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association came to a conclusion, this evening, with a banquet in the Chateau Frontenac. The chair was taken by the new president, W. S. Fisher, of St. John (N. B.), and the speakers of the evening were Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, lieutenant-governor of Quebec, Sir George Foster, acting premier of Canada and minister of trade and commerce and James E. Emery of Washington, counsel of the National Association of Manufacturers of the United States.

The convention wound up its business sessions this afternoon when officers were elected and resolutions passed. The most important resolutions dealt with the tariff, the government being urged at the next revision to provide an adequate protection for Canadian enterprise and industry, the necessity for all Canadians to buy made-in-Canada goods and the economic necessity of the establishment of a government-aided institute of industrial research.

Welcome the Immigrant.

Mr. Fisher, in the course of his remarks at the banquet said that if their ancestors won this country from nature and if men of the present generation defended it from a worse enemy, surely succeeding generations could keep it. Canadians had three kinds of international affairs, the affairs concerning the group of nations which comprise the British empire and, thirdly, international affairs. Everywhere the forces of separation, rebellion and unrest, in other words, the forces that tear apart, had been working, and Canada had not escaped.

Let them welcome the immigrant and help him to settle in Canada's great agricultural lands. As Canada could not depend entirely on a natural growth of population, immigration had to be encouraged. But they did not want more unemployment. Hence, they required wise immigration laws. Also those not content to live under Canada's laws should be kept out. Canadians did not want advice from immigrants as to how they should either govern themselves or conduct their lives. While empire affairs were not of such keen interest as domestic matters, there was an unshakable determination upon the part of Canadians to remain one of the group of free commonwealths, whose people do not trouble themselves much with theories, forms, or documents or written constitutions but lined up shoulder to shoulder when danger threatened one or all. In regard to international affairs, Canadians since the war, realized that if they were to take their place in the world they must study international conditions and become more familiar with the customs, traditions and peoples of other countries.

Mr. Fisher closed by saying that the duty of Canadians at the present juncture was to reduce imports, practice economy and exercise the old-fashioned virtues of courage, cheerfulness and faith.

Sir Charles Fitzpatrick said that it was idle to deny that Canada today faces a serious situation, but he thought it

Still the Best Test for Chocolates

EVEN more than good taste, your selection expresses good judgment. And to-day the best buying judgment approves leaving out all unnecessary frills, all those pretty trimmings that add to the cost without bettering the chocolates themselves.

"Tru-Value," the new Ganong package, is offered with discriminating pride and received with genuine pleasure. For it is a pound of Ganong's Best Chocolates first—a box of candy last. Just a neat, moisture-proof box that meets the minimum requirements of good taste.

Without straining the purse unduly, it offers to the palate the delights of the famous "Fireside" Assortment, undoubtedly the happiest selection Ganong Brothers have ever made in fifty years of candy-making.

could be borne if all would bend their backs to the task and all bend them the same way. There must, however, be no difference of race or creed. The difficulties were due to the geographical and geographical conditions of Canada. Geographically speaking, there were two Canadas, divided by the barren waste north of Lake Superior. In the west they had a population 65 per cent foreign-born and immediately to the south of them were 20,000,000 people willing to take everything Canada could produce.

Dealing with the east and the racial question, Sir Charles asked: What is the matter with this country anyway? There were more races in France than in the United States, yet the name of the Frenchman was synonymous with patriotism. What about England? There were a good many races there, but did they interfere with one another? They must remember that at the time of the secession there were 60,000 people in Canada of French extraction. Today there were 3,000,000 of them in Canada and 1,000,000 in the United States. That had been their growth since 1789. What were they going to do with a people like that? Look at their progress; their investments in roads, education, electric power!

They had spent many millions on them, yet the per capita debt was the smallest in Canada except Prince Edward Island.

Election of Officers. The election of officers this afternoon resulted as follows: W. S. Fisher, St. John, president; John R. Shaw, Woodstock (Ont.), first vice-president; C. Howard Smith, Montreal, second vice-president; Thomas Roden, Toronto, treasurer.

The following were elected as chairmen of the standing committees: tariff committee, Joseph Dickard, Quebec; transportation committee, Arthur F. Hatch, Hamilton; legislation committee, C. J. MacFarlane, Toronto; membership committee, P. E. Joubert, Toronto; insurance committee, Arthur Hewitt, Toronto; industrial relations, S. R. Parsons, Toronto; commercial intelligence, J. O. McMurray, Toronto; publishing committee, F. M. Stewart, Toronto; education, B. W. Coughlin, Montreal.

Sketch of New President. William Shives Fisher, who was yesterday elected president of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, is president of the Enterprise Foundry Company, Sackville and St. John. He also is vice-president of Emerson & Fisher, Ltd., St. John. Mr. Fisher was born in Fredericton, February 20, 1854, a son of William and Katherine Valentine Fisher, and nephew of the Hon. Charles Fisher, D. C. L., one of the judges of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, and one of the fathers of Confederation. Mr. Fisher is of United Empire Loyalist stock. He was educated at the St. John Grammar School and began his business career with Adam Young in St. John in 1870. He took charge of that business in 1874 and established the present business in 1878. He was president of the St. John Hardware Association in 1897; president of the St. John Board of Trade, 1898-1899; president of the Maritime Board of Trade, 1900; president of the Maritime Branch of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, 1916-1917-1918; president of the St. John Art Club; president board of Associated Charities; president of Home for Aged Females; director of the Protestant Orphan Asylum and Boys' Industrial Home; founded the New Brunswick Tourist Association; member National Committee, Anglican Laymen's Missionary Movement, 1909. In 1910 he was appointed as one lay member of the Royal Commission to investigate the charges made against former Premier Fleming and others in connection with the graft on the Valley Railway and Timber Limits. In 1916 he was called upon by Sir Edward Kennel, then head of the War Purchasing Commission, to take charge of the outfitting of the First Construction Battalion to France. In April of 1917 he was appointed by the government as commissioner in charge of the Dominion Rifle Factory, Quebec. He married Mable Shaw, daughter of Charles S. Shaw, on June 14, 1881. NEW CHURCH FOR CORONATION

Rumanian Rulers are to be Crowned Next Month—Military Pageants and Entertainments.

King of Rumania, May 20—sacred Press, By Mail—King Ferdinand and Queen Marie of Rumania are now being made for the erection of a church for use in the religious of the coronation and in memory of the great battles which brought Rumania into being. The church, it is expected, will serve for the use of all future kings of Rumania. The outskirts of this little Saxon town where five hundred years ago the Brave Rumania's George the Brave, Rumania's George the Brave, scored a victory over the Turks, a monumental arch, with the names of the Rumanian kings, will be erected. The coronation day, after a service in a new church, at which all the Rumanian bishops will be present, and Queen Marie, crowned, will proceed to a new triumphal arch, where there is a great military pageant. The afternoon and evening there will be gala entertainments, including a concert in the hall in which the anniversary with Rumania was proclaimed in December, 1918. The next day the Sovereigns will arrive in Bucharest and make a triumphal arch will be erected to commemorate the day for future generations. Ferdinand and Queen Marie have ruled the Rumanian throne nearly twenty years, having succeeded the late Carol in October of 1914; but on the day of the war they never were crowned. It is expected that soon after the coronation King and Queen will visit the States.

NO SPLIT AMONG PRESBYTERIANS IN CANADA NOW

(Canadian Press Despatch) Toronto, Ont., June 9.—Assurance that there will be no split in the Presbyterian church, at least before the next annual assembly, was given by the leader of the "anti-coercionists" at a conference with the Rev. C. W. Gordon, the moderator, today. Several members said they had no desire to promote friction and will do nothing until they hear the report of the union committee next year. Before the report of the board of education was adopted, Rev. Dr. Pringle, of Sydney, made another effort to have the salary of the principal of Halifax College put on parity with that of the principal of Montreal college. Dr. Drummond, chairman pointed out that a private contribution and if the Halifax salary was made equal to it, adjustments would be demanded all along the line. The whole report was received and the Halifax case was referred to the general board for consideration.

Union Close at Hand. In view of the promising outlook for church union and anticipating a conference very shortly with the Methodist board of education, a recommendation was made to the assembly today and adopted, that no appointments to college staffs be made this year. "Union seems to me to be very close at hand," said Rev. D. M. Ramsay, in submitting the report of the board of education. Great changes might follow the inter-church conference, he announced. In the meantime the eight Presbyterian colleges would be carried along and co-operation would be afforded between eastern and western colleges to maintain staffs.

The question of admitting women to the theological classes with a view to their ordination, was raised in the report and on motion of Dr. T. Wardlaw Taylor, the matter was referred to the committee which had been appointed to consider overtures on divorce and baptism and to report to the next assembly. N. B. Minister Wins. The judicial committee, Professor Balaustyne convener, reported on appeals, among which was that of Judge Forbes of the St. John presbytery who had tried to have the name of Rev. T. Hunter Boyd of Waweg, Charlotte county, N. B., kept off the roll. The presbytery decided against Judge Forbes, and he also lost his appeal to the assembly.

FUNDY CHAPTER'S USEFUL WORK

The closing meeting of the season for the Fundy chapter of the I. O. O. F. was held last night in the G. W. V. A. rooms with the regular Miss Alice Fairweather, presiding and it was busy and enthusiastic. Miss Frances Alward gave the report of the meeting of the Municipal chapter and drew the attention of the members to the work being done at the Memorial workshop. She spoke of the necessity of purchasing made-in-Canada goods. The cause of the Red Cross also was presented to the meeting very impressively. The Misses Bertha Boyer, Bernice Borden, Alice Hatch and Muriel Baird each told of cases where help had been required and given and they were authorized to continue to supply assistance as it was needed. The members were authorized to continue to supply assistance as it was needed. The members were asked to find new ways and means of increasing the funds in order that the chapter's splendid work of relief might be carried on. Five new members, the Misses Simmons, G. Smith, Killam, Hennigar and Thompson, were enrolled and three honorary members, Miss A. L. Brock, Miss Madeline deBoyer and Miss Emily Dyer, were elected. Letters of thanks were read from Miss Agnes Sutherland, R.R.C., who expressed gratitude for the aid given a needy family and from the Boy Scout Association, which acknowledged a donation. It was decided to write a letter of thanks to the local manager of the McLaughlin Company, thanking him for kindness to a returned soldier's family. Members brought to the meeting many garments for the Labrador mission. Miss Winnifred Upham is the convener of the committee in charge of the garments. The sum of $7 was voted to the Salvation Army. Reports of past activities were heard with gratification. Miss Valie Sandall reported concerning the Loyalist Day dance; Miss Harriet Smith for the Empire Day tableau in the I. O. O. F. pageant and Miss Bolton, as Echoes secretary, told of the plans to visit the Clavson, census commissioner, expects to have the returns in from some of the wards in a few days.

BURIED TODAY.
A large number were in attendance at the funeral of Dr. Daniel A. Pugsley which was held in his late residence in Rothesay to Fernhill this afternoon. Citizens of all classes and creeds congregated to pay their respects to one who had been a true friend to all. The service was conducted by Rev. Canon A. W. Daniel of Rothesay. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

WANT INFORMATION ABOUT OUR PORT.
A prominent Montreal organization has applied to the St. John Board of Trade for material for a magazine article covering historical data respecting the port of St. John, wharf space, depth of water, capacity of freight sheds, etc. The information has been forwarded.

VISITOR HONORED.
The home of Samuel Shanks, caretaker of the highway bridge over the reversing falls, was the scene of a happy gathering last evening, when friends called to renew acquaintance with his brother Joseph, of New York, who is here on a visit, and also extend congratulations on the anniversary of his birthday. During the evening a musical programme was carried out and refreshments served.

THE JUNIORS.
In a fast game of baseball played yesterday afternoon on the Brussels street diamond between the Leopards and the Waterloo street Victors the latter team belied its name by suffering defeat at the hands of the Leopards by the score of 8-7. Albert Taylor officiated as umpire. For the victors the battery was MacGowan and Stevenson and for the losers McGourty and Winchester.

THE EAST END GROUNDS.
There seems to be an impression in the minds of some persons that the East End Improvement League has no right to charge an admission fee to its grounds. The League has that authority, and the funds so received by it are spent on the grounds to provide for summer and winter sports. It took an unsightly dump and made the best playground in the city. It should have universal support.

NO MEETING AT PRESENT.
At a meeting of the council of the Halifax board of trade this week a letter was read from P. F. Martin, M. P., stating that, for the present, no change would be made in connection with the removal of the several post office departments from the city to a central point. This matter had been taken up with the local members of the board, as it meant the removal of a number of families from the city, and it could not be shown that any saving could be made by such action.

CITY PLANS TO TAKE ACTION

Proposal to Remove Corner of Chesley Street at Scene of Recent Accident—Circus Seeks Grounds.

At this morning's city council meeting Commissioner Thornton introduced Edw. Warner, manager of Sells Circus, who was looking for a place to show. He said that the Rockwood play grounds would be suitable.

Commissioner Frink said that $10,000 was spent there this year and it would be a shame to spoil it. The Shamrock grounds were too wet.

Commissioner Frink suggested the East End play grounds. He said this ground was kept up by public grant and the East End Improvement League should make some concessions for the public good.

The matter was left over until this afternoon. Mr. Warner said that of the circus showed in Fairville there could be no street parade on account of the condition of Douglas avenue.

Commissioner Thornton said he had been approached by restaurant owners asking to allow them to remove the curtains and doors from stalls to meet with the conditions at present. It was decided to leave the matter over until Monday.

Commissioner Thornton said he had complaints from residents of Stanley street that trucks of the Purly Ice Cream Co. were damaging the sidewalks. He said the manager, Mr. Stearns, was willing to pay for a concrete sidewalk along the whole front of his lot.

Commissioner Frink said that he had received a letter from the company to the same effect. The road engineer is making an estimate of the cost, which will be presented on Monday.

To Remove Danger.

Com. Frink reported that Chesley street, now being used for traffic diverted from Douglas avenue, had a bad turn at which an accident had occurred recently. The commissioner had obtained from the provincial minister of public works permission to blast away eight or ten feet of the rock at this corner.

On motion the matter was referred to Commissioner Frink with power to act.

Com. Frink presented a petition from residents of Germain street, between Queen and Harding streets for permanent pavement. On his motion the petition was received and referred to him for report.

He also presented a petition from residents of Dufferin avenue for permanent pavement of water bound macadam. This petition was referred to Commissioner Frink for report.

LADY TILLEY'S WILL

Estate Probated at $62,240—Residue to Son After Bequests—Caroline Tucker Estate.

The will of Lady Alice S. Tilley was proved in Probate Court before Judge H. O. Melnerney this morning. She left an estate valued at $62,240, consisting of $38,540 in personal effects and $23,700 in real estate in St. John, Rothesay and St. Andrews. The St. John property is her former residence, Carleton House, Germain street.

Specific legacies were left to grand children and daughters-in-law and remembrances to relatives of the family. Bequests of $200 were made to the St. John Stone church for the benefit of the missionary work of the widow's and orphans' fund, and $200 to the Bible Society. The residue was left to Lady Tilley's only surviving son, Leonard P. D. Tilley, of this city. J. Roy Davidson was proctor.

Ancillary probate was granted to H. H. McLean in the matter of the estate of Caroline P. Tucker, late of Epson, England. Letters testamentary had been granted last December in England to E. N. and F. T. Tucker under her last will. The value of the estate locally was given as $14,000 personally, while the gross probate value was $19,500. Of this, various legacies to members of the family and friends were made, and $400 given to English charitable interests. Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C. was advocate.

In the matter of the estate of Wm. Carter, $2,206.33 personally, Charles Carter was appointed administrator. J. M. Treman was proctor.

The will of Annie Barton was proved, appointing Robert and Herbert Barton executors. The estate was valued at $8,800 realty and $5,000 personally. Public bequests included $100 each to the C. M. S., the C. C. M. S., the building fund of St. Mary's church, and $50 each to the Bible Society, St. John County Hospital, and Protestant Orphans' Home. Dr. J. R. Campbell, K. C., was proctor.

The will of Daniel G. Toole, appointing his wife, Louisa, his executrix, and giving his estate, $2,000 personally, to her, was proved. H. F. Puddington was proctor.

In the matter of the estate of Wm. H. Higgins, personally $1,450, Mary V. Higgins was appointed administratrix. J. M. Treman was proctor.

COMMISSION IS NOT NATIONALIZATION

A correspondent writes: "One would be surprised to know how little our people know about harbor commission. It would be safe to say that the average citizen does not give the matter a serious thought. If the vote on August 1 is taken and the decision in favor of the commission we will be in a bad state. What we do want is a nationalized harbor, not commission. Many people think the commission form is nationalization, but that is not so. Let us have a national harbor and no commission."

CHEESE AND BUTTER PRICES.

At the Sussex Cheese and Butter Board on June 2, 1,557 cheese were boarded by twenty-five factories, and ten factories boarded butter. Buyers from St. John and Halifax were present. The cheese sold at 15c to 15½c. Only a portion of the butter was sold, and it brought 28.5c. The cheese sold brought $16,428.97. If last June's price had ruled it would have been $31,617.10.

You are in need of a 'bellhop' for your bag. He may be only half or one-third of your own size, but he is very anxious to help you out in your distress—and you, feeling the need of aid, humbly and almost gratefully hand him over your small piece of luggage.

"There are thousands upon thousands of men and boys employed in such menial activities, and the community has to pay for this sort of useless service.

"We are talking much about efficiency in modern times, although we do not at all analyze what it is for and whether it is always worth while.

"Efficiency may be of two kinds—doing what you do with the least expenditure of time and energy and with a view to the largest output of quantity and the highest of quality. This is industrial efficiency which has been in-augured by 'scientific management' and other experts.

"The other kind of efficiency is social, which asks the question whether a particular thing is worth doing at all, even if it is done with the least expenditure of energy and time.

"The question in social efficiency is not whether a thing is worth doing well or whether it is worth doing at all. "Looked at from this point of view, the assertion may be made that half of our work is useless if not wasteful and dangerous. There are innumerable forms of work which are performed well from the point of view of the producer, and maybe of the consumer. From the larger viewpoint of social welfare it may be uncalled for in one way.

"Historically there are almost innumerable forms of work well done but without any bearing on social welfare. Take the Pyramids as an example. Travelers from all over the world are going with awe and admiration upon these piles of stone, little realizing what social waste and useless labor they entailed. They stand to this day as monuments of royal folly and conspicuous waste of social energy. Down through the ages into our own times similar wasteful expenditures of human energy in various forms of work have been indulged in and society has never asked whether the thing was worth while doing.

"Isn't it about time to ask the pertinent question whether half of our work is not useless?"

WOMAN WAGED RUTHLESS WAR ON BOLSHIEVIKI

When Captured After Three Years She Defiantly Faced Instant Execution.

Paris, June 10—One of the scores of little wars which are constantly being waged against the Bolshevik regime within Russia, has just come to an end, says the Figaro, through the death of a leader who for more than three years has been fighting the Soviet oppressors.

This heroic leader was a woman Marie Nikoforova. She was before the war the wife of a colonel in the Russian army who, when the revolution broke out, was shot down by his own men, who had turned Bolshevik. His wife rallied a band of 2,000 horse-men in the Ukraine and began a guerilla in war. Night and day they harried the Bolsheviks over a wide stretch of country and took their toll of vengeance for the death of the colonel. Some months ago the exploits of the band became so daring and disastrous to the Reds that Trotsky ordered its destruction at all cost. A big force was sent out to scour the country and gradually a cordon was drawn around the band. Fighting at the head of her men and desperately exposing life, Marie Nikoforova was captured. A Soviet court-martial ordered her shot on the spot.

But then a curious thing happened. The platoon of her captors told off for her execution fired into the air. A second platoon was ordered to take its place. When the order to fire came, this, too, fired into the air. In a fury, the commissary in charge, turning a machine-gun on his men shouted that he would fire on them all if they did not obey orders. So, with her eyes unbandaged Marie Nikoforova, who may become one of the national heroines of Russia, fell a victim to her country's struggle against the Bolshevik tyranny.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Colonel and Mrs. G. R. White of Quebec, Celebrate

Lindsay, June 7—Colonel and Mrs. George Rolt White, of Quebec City, celebrated their golden wedding today at the residence of their son, Col. B. C. White, Arsenal Residence Lindsay, Ont. They attended the service of thanksgiving and received holy communion at St. Paul's Church this morning and a garden party was held in their honor at Col. B. C. White's residence this afternoon. Colonel and Mrs. White were married in Quebec City June 7, 1871.

CAT CATCHES TWO TROUT.

Hollis, N. H., June 10—It takes a cat to put to blush some of the fastidious Isak Waltons. A feline belonging to A. D. Estlin recently brought in two live trout, each measuring six inches. Where the cat got the trout is a mystery. She keeps her own secret.

GOLF A DIFFICULT FOREIGN LANGUAGE

(By Emmett Campbell Hall.)

"Oh, yes," said the man, upon his return from his first afternoon on the links, "it's a good game, and I think I will shortly learn to play it, but," he added, with a sigh and a shade of his head, "I'm afraid I'll never be able to speak it—I was never any good at foreign languages."

Every sport has a terminology of its own, but golf is particularly rich in this respect, and as full traps for the inexperienced as the links are full of hazards. To the sincere devotee, lapses of golf-speech are painful in the extreme, and if one desires to forfeit forever the good opinion of a real golfer it is only necessary to refer to the playing course as "a link." Although one may correctly use the word "links" with either singular or plural attributes—"it is an easy links" being quite as correct as "they are easy links"—the word itself is always plural.

Different Kinds of Links.

In the original Scotch, the word means any stretch of ground of flat or slightly undulating character on the sea shore, part sandy, and having more or less bent grass and furze, but having also some good sward. This is the meaning of the word as used by Stevenson in the title of his story, "The Pavilion on the Links," which has nothing whatever to do with golf, as more than one golfing enthusiast must have discovered after purchasing the book. The word is also used to describe the winding of a river and the ground lying along such winding, as "the links of the Forth," and here again there is no suggestion of golf.

"Hazard" is a word of French origin and means a difficulty of any description on the golf links; the definition says "a hazard is any bunker, sand-water, path, etc.," but a great many players, even of experience, persist in treating the word as though it were synonymous with "bunker." A bunker is a hazard, but a hazard is not necessarily a bunker. "Bunker" is a very old golfing term, but just when or why it came to be used to designate a sand hole or pit is not clear. It appears in the literature of the game for the year 1812, but in Mathison's poem, "The Golf," published in 1748, the terms "gaping face" and "sandy face" are used to describe the same thing.

Words From Scotch and French.

"Niblick" is a comparatively new golfing word, though there are various forms of it in the old Scotch, such as "knablick" and "kniblock," which means a round block of wood or stone, and "nibble," which means a shepherd's crook, but the golfers of the old days had not niblicks, and when in trouble used sand or track irons, which were merely very heavy specimens of the ordinary iron. The modern niblick seems to have been invented and christened about fifty years ago. The mashie is also a quite modern club, and its name is without significance, though efforts have been made to see a connection with the colonial Spanish machete, a heavy knife used to clear away underbrush and bushes.

"Caddie" is simply the French word cadet, and was so spelled originally in Scotland. It is one of the many words taken by the Scotch from the French during the Stuart period, and was the term for any kind of light porter or luggage carrier before it came to have its special and limited application to the golf-club carrier.

Every golfer knows what a stymie is, but the word trips up outsiders, as illustrated by an anecdote of a man who, when asked if he played golf, replied: "No, I don't. Some years back I had three clubs, but I broke the putter and the driver, and so gave up golf. I think I still have the stymie somewhere around the house."

PESSIMISM, SAYS FORBES.

Business Man's Mental Attitude Party to Blame for Hard Times, Editor Says.

"Too much pessimism"—this was the brief description of the present-day business man's mental attitude given by B. C. Forbes, editor of Forbes Magazine, who recently addressed the National Paper Box Manufacturers' Association at their annual convention. This point of view, he said, was a reaction from an over-optimistic attitude adopted a year ago when wages and prices were at their peak.

"We were headed for disaster then, as plain as a pikestaff," said Mr. Forbes, "but today we are headed in the right direction and there is no reason for deep discouragement. There is not one pillar of modern business which is not strong—I mean by these pillars money, labor, agriculture, transportation, politics, international affairs, and, last but not least, our mental attitude.

"On the first subject, everything points to easier money. Prices are coming down, frozen credits are thawing out, and much less capital and credit is needed for running the business of the country. Labor was too cocky and arrogant a year ago, but now it is not only plentiful, but is rather rapidly becoming efficient. Wages are coming down, as was inevitable, for they must come to the same level in this country as in the other parts of the world. Labor is headed in the right direction.

their crops are large or small, is of fundamental importance to business. And they are now meeting prices thirty-three per cent. higher than they were in 1913, while in the industries, such as coal, steel, building materials, furniture, and so forth, they are from fifty to 150 per cent. higher than in that year. But happily the prices of the farmers' supplies are coming down, and the price of his products is rising, although it should do so a little more still. The railroads, Mr. Forbes continued, are getting near the edge of the dark woods, and will soon see the daylight from a financial and industrial point of view, so that a readjustment of rates may come sooner than most shippers dare to hope. In the political field, he continued, the nation's leaders of capital and industry are feeling more confidence in the Harding administration than in the preceding one, and international complications seem to be in process of clearing up. Most important of all, he concluded, is the mental attitude of American business men toward their problems.

BIG SALMON SHIPMENT. Moncton Transcript—Over six tons of fresh salmon from Miramichi and other points north were transferred here yesterday to St. John express by the Dominion Express Company for the Boston market. Another four tons arrived on the Maritime express this morning en route to the same destination. Shipments of salmon to the American market this season are so heavy that local dealers say they find it rather difficult at times, to secure near enough to serve local demands. The heavy shipments to American markets tend to the price up here. Rev. Jasper L. Douthit, of P. ### BASEBALL

Game Tomorrow Afternoon.

St. Peter's Intermediates and the Y. C. I. nine will play a regular league game on St. Peter's diamond tomorrow afternoon starting at 2:45 o'clock. Both men will have their strongest lineup in a good game is anticipated.

A Tie Game.

St. Peter's and the Commercial play a tie game in the City League fixture St. Peter's diamond last evening, the ending 3-3. A coincidence of the game was that the entire box score of teams were alike with the exception of the number of times at bat, runs, assists, put-outs and errors being same. The game was one of the exciting played this year and was eased by a large number of fans.

Nashwaaks, 7; McAvity's, 5.

The Nashwaak "Indians" defeated the McAvity team, 7 to 5, in the Industrial League game played on the Nashwaak grounds, last evening. Johnson, who pitched for the winners, struck out six and walked two, while Knowel, for the McAvity nine, struck out four and walked one. Gillis caught for the winners and Gorman was on the receiving end for the losers.

Y. M. H. A., 7; St. Peter's, 2.

The Y. M. H. A. defeated the St. Peter's Intermediates 7 to 2 in the inter-society league fixture on the East End grounds last evening. The Y. M. H. A. won their victory in two batting boxes, one staged in the first which netted them four runs, and the other in the third when they garnered three more. In the other innings the Y. M. H. A. went scoreless and the St. Peter's gathered their only two runs of the game in the sixth. Gill who was on the mound for the victors had six strike-outs in the seven innings while Elliot for the St. Peter's fanned nine. Tanzman caught for the Y. M. H. A. team and McIntyre was on the receiving end for the St. Peter's. The score by innings was as follows:

West End Game.

A very interesting game of baseball was played on Wednesday evening on Courtney Hill, West End, by the Junior Courtneys and the Junior Shamrocks, the former winning by a score of 15 to 9. The pitchers on the winning side were William Pearce and Harry Barnett, and for the Shamrocks Freddie Joyce.

Royals Win First.

An interesting game of ball was played last evening on the Dufferin grounds between the Royals and Royals, which ended in a victory for the Royals, 10-7. It was a keen battle between pitchers, each having ten strike-outs and no walks. The batteries were, for the winners, Ramsey, Richard and Best, and for the losers, C. Stephens and E. Johnston. This is the first series of five games.

SOME GAME, THIS

League Fixtures Outdone by the Glories of the Rain-bow.

While all eyes are intent on watching the local big leaguers of the city battle for the coveted pennant, very little attention has up to now been given to a baseball game to be played in the near future in which some local celebrities in the sporting world will take part. The St. John "Rainbows" have issued a challenge to all comers to play in exhibition games and several offers have been received—among those accepted and the first to play with the "Rainbows" will be the star Marcus-Kominsky team. The Rainbow players are practicing constantly and are showing good form.

E. J. Hojan, the manager for Rainbows, for some time editor of the Calgary Gleaner, announces the probable first line: The batter to be "Twitler" O'Connor in the box, with "Dare Devil" Mowry on the mound. With several contestants for first base, the chances are that Charles Judge, C. P. H. sprinter, will hold first base, and Sweeney, a well known player of the old Starlights, will be at second; John Daley, who claims relationship and who was tutored by Ty Cobb himself, will hold down third base.

The manager says he is having some difficulty in securing Short Stop "Short" Morrison for the early games, owing to the fact that Morrison is due to umpire some important games along the Shore line to St. Stephen's. This apparently does not worry the "Rainbows" any, as "Bantam Joe" McCarron has stepped into the position in making good.

Among the boys practicing this week for field positions are "Billy" Stack, "Jim" McCurdy, James Arthur McCarty—"Young" Britt, Dan Lynch and several others.

The first game will be played at Loch Lomond. Several automobile owners have offered their cars to take the boys, and their friends out, and Mr. McCaferly, the manager of the Johnston Hotel, is having the grounds rolled in preparation for the game. He promises to the players and their friends a royal welcome.

It has been decided that all gate receipts be given to local charities. The "Rainbows" are desirous of further challenges—all clubs are welcome to play for the pennant promised by a local gentleman of prominence, who for the moment wishes his name withheld from publication. The big league managers are keeping a sharp eye on the several players lining up with "Rainbows," in view of strengthening their own organizations. The "Rainbows" headquarters for the time being are located at 192 1/2 Union street.

FIFTY YEARS AS A GOLF PROFESSIONAL

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
Andrew Kirkaldy, one of the most noted golfers in the world, has published his reminiscences under the title, "My Fifty Years as a Professional," issued by T. Fisher Unwin. As the title indicates, Andrew has spent half a century at the most famous of links, first as caddy and for many years next as professional and he says that if he were to have another fifty he would like to spend them in the same surroundings. One of the most interesting chapters in the book deals with the celebrities he has met. These do not include professional golfers or amateur champions, for it is taken for granted that Andrew knows them all. The most distinguished men he has played with are Balfour, Asquith, and Haig, and as an old soldier, he takes the liberty of writing for Haig as the greatest man he has ever met. The field marshal, too, is a sound golfer, and last September was elected captain of St. Andrew's, a distinction which Andrew believes to have been the very crown of his career.

Haig as a Golfer.
Andrew taught Haig the game when he was a boy, and since then has played with him on many occasions. The first time Earl Haig appeared at St. Andrew's after the war, he sent for Andrew. "Hello, Andrew," he said. "I'll be wanting some shoes with you while I'm here. He shook hands with the old man and asked cordially after his family. Says the historian: "Earl Haig just revels in golf while he is at it, though I should not think he would care to smoke on the way from it, as many amateurs do who are anxious to bring down their hair-cups. When the great soldier and his wife were leaving for home, he said to Andrew, 'I almost forgot who he was at times. He had no airs or snobbish manners, but he talked as freely to me—and mostly in broad Scotch—as if we had been equals. In fact, he almost treated me as his superior, as if golf is the greatest thing on earth. And so it is during the game.' On one occasion Andrew's ball fell in the river, and instead of waiting for the caddies to fish it out, the field marshal threw himself prone on the ground and recovered it.

Andrew says that it is always a pleasure to play with Mr. Balfour, and he has played scores of rounds with him. Mr. Balfour, like Earl Haig, refuses to display temper when he makes a bad shot. The strongest word he ever uses on such occasions is "Botheration!" Andrew, however, indulges in more appropriate language and referring to an occasion when he took him four to escape from a bunker, Mr. Balfour said, "You did swear then, Andrew?" "Swear?" I said. "Not me, I told me nair that a neebster would say in the pulpit if a fly sic-

TO PROMOTE FRIENDSHIP.

A New York letter says: "Dr. Henry M. Ami, F. R. G. S., the well known Canadian geologist and paleontologist of Ottawa, who has been abroad for the last five months, was a passenger on the White Star liner Cedric, arriving at New York from Liverpool on June 6. Dr. Ami is on a brief visit to the United States for the purpose of attending meetings for the removal of misconception between people of Great Britain and those of the United States. His headquarters on this side will be the quarters which he occupies at the Hotel Belmont, New York. He is booked to sail from New York June 25 by the White Star liner Cedric.

$100,000 Clothing Purchase To Be Sold At Startling Prices $30 and $35 All Wool Suits $17 On Sale Saturday, June 11th THIS WEEK WILL BE LONG REMEMBERED IN CLOTHING HISTORY

It Marks the day you may again buy Men's and Young Men's Suits (most of them all wool too) hundreds of them at the low price of $17—a price for Good Clothes that you haven't heard of since 1916. Every Suit in this Hundred Thousand Dollar purchase carries a Robinson label with Robinson's unequivocal guarantee of quality! I found two of Canada's largest and most reputable manufacturers with big stocks of cancelled orders and goods made up for orders which they were afraid to ship on account of uncertain credit risk. I bought the entire lots—at my own prices—for cash. The purchase prices were so low, that it permits me to offer them to the public at these never before equalled prices.

Men's and Young Men's Suits

$30 to $33 Wholesale Values

$23

A wide range of beautiful patterns, finely hand-tailored Suits, you will recognize as shown elsewhere at $40 to $45. You must see these garments to appreciate them at this price.

$25 to $28 Wholesale Values

$17

The most wonderful values in Canada. Single and Double Breasted Suits in a variety of light and dark patterns. All sizes.

$37 to $40 Wholesale Values

$29

Fine imported and domestic woolsens, beautifully trimmed and tailored. The fabrics, patterns and models will appeal to men accustomed to paying the higher prices for their Clothes.

GABERDINES!

At Low Prices Genuine English Gaberdines, with or without belt. Protects you against the dust and rain. Just the thing for motoring.

RAINCOATS

Specially Priced $9.95 to $18.00

Gigantic Purchase of Odd Pants

I have just made a purchase of a big lot of Pants to be sold at prices you haven't seen in 6 years. Sizes to 50.

$1.75 A Leg SEATS FREE

Why I Undertook This Purchase

As you know, this season has been a disastrous one for many Clothing Manufacturers. Unseasonable weather, the public buying apathy, unemployment and other conditions brought about a surplus of clothing in the factories. Banks insisted on their money and they had to be paid—They are continuously demanding of the makers, "Turn Your Stocks Into Cash." My business has been better than ever this season on account of the superior values I have been showing — consequently, my stocks were beginning to get low—thus allowing me to take advantage of this big opportunity—with the knowledge that the public will take them away quickly at these prices.

Beginning to-morrow, Saturday, you can buy your Spring Suit at any of Robinson's Shops at a lower price for a single suit than it cost the Manufacturer to make them up by the thousands. DONT DELAY—BE ON HAND EARLY.

SERVICE ASSURED

I have arranged for Extra Salesmen and Tailors, so that every Customer will be well taken care of.
