ITALY TAKES UP IRISH QUESTION

Expected to Be Discussed in Parliament—Phases of This Matter in Today's News.

Rome, Nov. 29.—The Pope is following with anxious interest the development of the situation in Ireland and is deeply grieved at the daily reports of bloodshed. Learning of the arrest of Arthur Griffith and Prof. MacNeill of the Sinn Fein, he indicated his effect by a prominent Irishman that both men exercised a moderating influence on their followers, therefore their disappearance would probably have a bad rather than a good effect.

Rome, Nov. 29.—Members of the Italian chamber of deputies and senate have received a strong protest concerning the latest serious events in Ireland, from the Irish clergy, headed by Cardinal Logue, archbishop of Armagh. Facts enumerated in the protest, and the language used, have produced a profound impression, especially among members of the Catholic party, who, it is asserted, have taken a decided attitude in favor of Ireland.

It is expected interpellations will be presented in the chamber and senate asking the government if it is not possible for a friendly power to interfere, either directly or through the League of Nations, to obtain a cessation of hostilities and the present condition of affairs in Ireland.

Sympathy in Milan. Milan, Nov. 29.—Milan Catholics held a great pro-Ireland demonstration on Saturday. Deputy Marini reviewed the history of Ireland, telling of her struggle for more than seven centuries and the sacrifices which had been made for her cause. He strongly stigmatized the present policy of Great Britain.

Other speakers were all enthusiastically applauded and there were cries of "Ireland." A telegram from the president of the "Irish Republican parliament," expressing sympathy with the Irish cause and hope for the triumph of liberty and justice for the triumph of Ireland, was sent to Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland.

Break in Meeting. Worcester, Mass., Nov. 29.—200 delegates to the convention of the Friends of Irish Freedom at the Grand Hotel here yesterday walked out of the audience when it was announced that Justice Cohan, of New York was to speak. The delegates represented the supporters of the Irish cause. They were led by the Hon. De Valera adherents lost their sight to have all business relating to the state of the organization presented from the floor and not through the resolution committee.

Judge Cohan, who was received with cheers, told of the break between himself and De Valera over the plank to be presented to the national political convention. He declared that his plank, had it been part of the republican platform, would have prevented the present atrocities and repression in Ireland.

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 29.—Proposed propaganda in the United States and the methods to be used as a split yesterday in the state convention of the Friends of Irish Freedom, many delegates, headed by former congressman Michael Donohue and John T. Flood, both of Philadelphia, leaving the hall and organizing a separate convention in an adjoining theatre.

The body headed by John F. Buckley of Scranton, contended that only about one fourth of the delegates withdrew, but the Donohue-Flood supporters declared most of the Philadelphia delegates had left and that they would be recognized as the regular organization in Pennsylvania by the national body.

Buckley supporters later adopted resolution to merge with the American Association for the Recognition of Irish Independence which merger, it was announced, has the approval of Eamonn De Valera, "president of the Irish republic."

URGES NATIONS TO CONCERN THEMSELVES FOR SUNDAY AS IN DAYS OF THE PURITANS

Montreal, Nov. 29.—War problems and the peace problem are in effect, one said Norman Angell, a well known pacifist, speaking at the Orpheum Theatre, before a fair audience here yesterday afternoon. His argument was that if the nations could concentrate their efforts on social problems as they did during the war, they would perpetuate the "union sacrée" of which France boasted during the struggle.

Mr. Angell spent most of the time demonstrating that all he had said regarding the futility of war and the failure of the victors to obtain real satisfaction, had been amply justified by events in the last six years.

His address was a strong plea for solidarity on the part of labor.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 29.—A campaign about to be inaugurated by the Lord's Day Alliance of New Jersey for a puritanical Sunday was given the approval yesterday of the House of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The campaign, if successful, would result in the closing of all stores on Sunday, prohibit the playing of all games, stop the running of trains and the publication of newspapers.

Campaign On—No Shops Open, No Trains, No Games, No Newspapers.

Believe Effort to Fire Lumber Yard in London

London, Nov. 29.—Half a dozen men who were preparing to set fire to a large lumber yard in the district of Finsbury, an important section of the city of London, less than a mile north of London Bridge, were surprised by policemen on Saturday night. This attempt was almost coincident with the breaking out of incendiary fires in Liverpool.

The policeman charged a loiterer, who attacked the officer and shouted for help. Five men, with revolvers, answered his call, emerging from behind empty wagons, and rushing the policeman, who was compelled to liberate the man.

The policeman found cotton waste soaked with gasoline, had been pushed through a gateway of a lumber yard, and he also found a revolver and a box of cartridges. One of the supposed incendiaries was later arrested.

Fifteen warehouses in Liverpool and Bootle suburb, principally cotton warehouses, were set on fire last night. Two of them were burned out and gasoline cans were strong evidence that the fires were the work of Sinn Feiners. Some shooting occurred after the outbreak of the flames, resulting in the death of one civilian. Five men were arrested.

British and French Troops Leave Danzig

Berlin, Nov. 29.—The British troops which have been in Danzig since the occupation forces in Danzig have left that city, so it is announced in a Danzig telegram. The Tagblatt says:

"During the eleven months of their stay in Danzig, the British behaved in an exemplary manner."

General Haking, of the British command, will leave Danzig during the day the telegram added, while the French troops will leave from Neufahrwasser, in the Danzig district, during the week.

Geneva despatches on Saturday announced that the League of Nations military forces for the occupation of Vilna pending the plebiscite there, would include two British companies, with machine guns, from the Danzig forces of occupation. The French contingent was expected, it was said, to proceed from Memel, East Prussia.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter, "I have just been reading a long article on the soap-box. The writer holds that the thing to do with him is not to throw a brick at him or throw him into jail—but to get another soap-box."

"That feller," said Hiram, "has got a lot of good sense. There ain't no sense in throwin' bricks unless the other feller starts to break your windows."

"He said," went on the reporter, "that you can't argue a good case and convince the people—and the other soap-box man will not make any converts except among those who have, or think they have, a grievance, or are just naturally disposed to say that whatever is wrong, is wrong."

"If they could make a rule," said Hiram, "that every immigrant had to be tested as soon as he landed in the States, they'd save a lot of trouble—yes, sir."

"And you think," said the reporter, "that the soap-box is better than the brick?"

"I do so," said Hiram. "Bricks makes bad neighbors when they get the habit of flyin' 'em. The place for bricks is in the walls of a house. When you use 'em for weapons you pull the house down. We had a Socialist come out to the Settlement one time—and some of the folks wanted to give 'im a ride on a rail. Old Bill Gray told 'em that was just what 'ad to be done for the fellow—and when they thought it over they seen the pint. So they let 'im talk an' then two ministers took up what he said an' turned it over a few times an' showed just what it meant. He never come back—'n' everybody felt better for not gettin' mad about it. Mister—the thing that's right's gotta come, in spite of you or me. If it ain't right it won't last, unless you feed it along—no, sir."

Placed Blame for High Cotton ON SPECULATION

Cairo, Nov. 29.—Extravagant speculation following the armistice is declared to have been responsible for the advance in cotton prices in 1919, which carried the product to a point 800 per cent higher than normal, says a statement regarding the crisis in the cotton industry, issued by the Egyptian government.

The present world wide check in exportations, the statement added, would intensify the speculation and compel the owners of cotton to enter the market.

Cairo, Nov. 29.—The government has issued a statement regarding the Egyptian cotton industry, in which it is stated that the world wide check in exports has caused a sharp fall in the price of cotton and possible measures for alleviation.

Had Undergone 24 Operations

Paris, Nov. 29.—Dr. Charles Infrat, famous X-Ray specialist, is dead, according to announcement. Since that time he has undergone twenty-four operations, twenty-two of which were performed in the last ten years. The last one, was on August 11, when his right arm and left wrist were amputated.

Mayor and Commissioners Express Themselves on Yesterday's Protest and Proposed Meeting to Be Addressed by Lindsay Crawford.

The common council this morning in committee meeting took up the matter of the resolution passed at yesterday's meeting in Queen's square theatre, asking the city to forbid a proposed meeting to be addressed by Lindsay Crawford here on Tuesday evening.

After the mayor and the four commissioners had expressed their opinions it was decided to leave further discussion until the opinion of the city solicitor had been obtained and to hold a special meeting of the council on the question.

Mayor Schofield.

The mayor said that he had asked yesterday concerning the facts referred to by the various speakers and he would be glad to hear the facts. The resolution, he said, called upon the dominion government to suppress the meeting and the city to prevent the proposed meeting. "Not one of those at the meeting yesterday," said the mayor, "was able to say that he had heard this man say the things referred to." He asked for the commissioners' opinion.

Commissioner Jones.

Mr. Jones said he thought it was a matter which should be left in the hands of the mayor to exercise his own judgment; that it was not for the council to interfere with the meeting in the manner in which he should deal with it.

Commissioner Thornton.

So far as he was concerned, Commissioner Thornton said, if it was proved that this man had used disloyal utterances, as contended by some of the speakers, he would be glad to see him come to St. John; if he was to raise strife between two religious bodies he could not see why any organization should be allowed to bring him here. "I have never," he said, "read any of the statements referred to, but if Mr. Crawford comes to the city and gives utterance to any of the things referred to, he certainly can be stopped, and I think we will see that if he does so he will be responsible to the city and to the people."

The council authorized the city solicitor to prepare a report on the matter, and to call a meeting of the council to take up the matter on the next day.

THE PRICE OF MILK.

A correspondent of the Times informs this paper that milkings are now $17.40 cheaper than in May last, and bran 2 1/2 cheaper. They are both substantially cheaper than they were a year ago. The price of hay is about the same as it was a year ago. If these figures are correct, as doubtless they are, what about the price of milk which is so important an item in a large family? When the price of milk was advanced the reason given was the high price of feed. That reason no longer exists, in comparison with the prices of last spring. All the people must have milk, and if there are many children and a small income the cost is an item that must be carefully considered. Many things the farmer has to buy have lately been reduced in price. For most of his products he gets a high price. The consumers of milk would be very glad to have him give favorable consideration to their case. A reduction in price to correspond with the lower price of feed, which is likely to go lower still, would be a guarantee that the producers of milk are not out after undue profits.

THE PUBLIC ATTITUDE.

What should be the mental attitude of the average citizen during the present period of slackening industry and declining prices? This question is a very important one, because everything depends upon that mental attitude. It can make for steadiness, or produce panic. The whole community and all that it thinks and does is so inter-related with good times and bad times that a proper mental attitude is a first consideration. We heard a great deal about psychology during the war. That phrase, "the will to power," did not save Germany. What is wanted always and everywhere is the will to serve, and it is greatly needed at the present moment. This is no time for extravagance, nor on the other hand is it a time for indifference, hesitation or despondency. To refuse to buy goods until they reach a level which would bankrupt industry and create a great unemployment problem would not compensate in the slightest degree for any injustice suffered during the period of soaring prices. It would simply make bad worse. The surest method of preventing a collapse of industry in a period of declining values is to buy as usual, and so give a steady stimulus to production. The alternative is silent factories, for without orders they will not be operated, and the orders are conditional on the public buying attitude. Whatever of profiteering there may have been when values were soaring and the demand exceeded the supply, the conditions have been completely changed, and the problem of the manufacturer and the merchant is to keep the wheels moving. Normal buying will help to do that and will prevent the possibility of panic and greater general loss to the country.

Some people are refusing to buy now at prices they would have regarded as wonderful bargains a year or two years ago. It is quite useless to hope for a return of the prices of 1914. There would have to be a very heavy cut in the price of raw material and in wages before those prices could be approached. But if the people refused to buy until goods were flung on the market for a song, the conditions would become such that the business of the country could not stand the strain. There is no occasion for doubt or hesitancy as to the future. The thing to remember is that while the war is over the burdens of the war are still with us, and to deal with them successfully the industry and trade of the country must be maintained. Merchants are making concessions to meet changing conditions. The public should meet them half way, and so keep the wheels moving and the workmen busy. That way and no other lies the road to normal conditions and restored confidence. The people are not poor, nor is money scarce. The greatest need of the country is co-operative optimism.

THESE GAMBLERS WON.

The attempt to clear the crooks out of Chicago would have a better chance of success if the courts were a little more sympathetic. Here is the story of one case:

"In the one big case which the police had hoped to be the basis upon which to build the war on gambling—the case of Charles Lazarus, owner of Chicago's 'Monte Carlo'—Judge John Richardson imposed a fine of $25 and costs, the minimum under the city ordinances. Lazarus entered a plea of guilty. Slips seized in the raid of his luxurious gambling den showed that as much as $61,721 had changed hands in his resort in a single night. There were many of these slips, among them records showing the house had won $15,415 in one night, $23,669 in another, and $9,900 on each of two other nights. There were records of single winnings by patrons ranging from $4,200 to $10,500."

One can imagine Mr. Lazarus paying his $25 with great cheerfulness, and going out after another $23,669 killing. Still another resort keeper whose gambling den was found in full operation, was dismissed without a fine, although he went to court with bulging pockets to pay the penalty. The third expression which he and Lazarus should wear was worn by the policemen.

There will be an unusual responsibility resting this winter upon the men who hire gangs to work along the harbor front. It is said that men who have been profitably employed all summer in other lines of work are planning on throwing up that employment because they can make more at winter port work. There is also a natural tendency on the part of foremen to give friends the preference. All this may work out to the serious distress of some men who have large families and are only able to get occasional jobs while others make full time. The case of men with families to support should be given special consideration in a season when there is not likely to be as much work as usual. Already there is complaint of unemployment and men are eagerly looking for work. A fair division of new work is desirable and men already employed should not be encouraged to take the places so much needed by those who are out of work.

The state of California has expended about $25,000,000 on paved roads and is still carrying on the work. An exchange says:—"At June 30th, 1918, over one thousand miles of roads with cement concrete base and thin bituminous surface had been constructed in the state of California. The width of these roads is usually about fifteen feet with a minimum thickness of four inches. The cost per mile for constructing these roads varies from $10,000 to $14,000, the variation in cost being largely due to the amount of convict labor available. It was made possible to use convict labor on this class of work under the 'Convict Labor Act of California,' which was passed in 1915."

In the city of Hamilton recently the farmers who usually supply potatoes were asking three dollars per bag. It was discovered that this was much higher than the price at which potatoes could be got from another source. The city council took the matter in hand and purchased over two thousand bags. These they were able to deliver to city homes at $2.25 per bag. On the 2,200 bags bought that would mean a saving of $1,550. The Hamilton folk will doubtless be prompted to look about and learn if there are not other directions where civic or co-operative buying would result in a saving of money, while the farmers will also learn something of advantage in the end.

The people of the province learned with sincere regret of the death of Lieut. Col. Wedderburn. Though a man of retiring temperament he made many warm personal friends, and his long connection with military affairs brought him into contact with men from all parts of the province. Although the battalion which he raised during the war did not go to France as a unit, but was merged with other battalions, its members did noble service, and the commander served in an important capacity in England. A gentleman of the most genial and friendly disposition his old friends will ever hold him in kindly remembrance.

Sir Auckland Geddes very properly holds that the recent flag incident in New York is not a matter for British government protest. Those who insulted the flag are themselves divided into two quarrelling factions in the United States, and the New York incident has no international significance. Neither have developments in Italy, unless the matter is brought up in parliament of that country, which at present appears possible.

A strong athletic association has been formed in Amherst, and has the backing of the Board of Trade. Amherst has always been a live sporting town and has turned out some notable athletes. The new organization, especially if the plan to have a modern athletic field is also carried out, will be able to render the community a great service.

The dispute in Cape Breton is still unsettled and there is still the possibility of a greater tie-up of industry, which would be very bad for the country as well as for Cape Breton. Public sympathy will not go out to anybody who curtails the coal supply at the beginning of winter.

Nothing could so quickly consolidate feeling in England against the Sinn Fein as outrages committed in England. The extremists would by such action alienate sympathy, provoke reprisals and make the whole situation infinitely worse.

It is announced that both civil and criminal proceedings will be taken against those who looted the crown timber lands of Ontario.

A feature of the election in Victoria, Australia, was the strength of the farmers' party. They have secured the balance of power. The movement is by no means confined to Canada.

Make it a point to be with us at the Y. M. H. A. fair, 24 Horsefield street, Dec. 6-7-8-9. Some new and novel surprises in store.

THE USUAL LUCK.

I bought a hundred-dollar suit, one day when I was feeling flush; and people said I looked the part, arrayed in costly dark green plush. I proudly loafed around the town, and told how much my raiment cost, and then the price of clothes came down, and life became a killing frost. The jinks the shopman fell in line and so did Smith and Brown and Jones, and bought them suits the same as mine, and dug up only sixty bones. I to the tailor went, in tears, and handed him some hot abuse, whereat he snote me with his hears, and roundly socked me with his goose. I bought a handsome mousseline (and placed a mortgage on my shack), and it was painted Brewster green; two thousand plunks it set me back. Then for a week I rode around, inflated with a foolish pride, on vain and giddy errands hound; I gave her gas and let her slide, even then the price of cars was cut by makers who were fond of fun, and Johnson, Perkins and McNutt bought cars like mine for half the mon. And so no smiles my bedeck, I spring no glad and joyous yips; I always get it in the neck when go forth on shopping trips. No matter what I buy today, the price goes down tomorrow now; then wiser shoppers go their way, and save the groat and pleasure.

CANADA—EAST AND WEST

Joining the Marriage of Other Days

BEAUSEJOUR.

Stirring days were witnessed around the French coast of Beausejour in 1758 when the English were objecting, by armed intervention to the presence of the French in the maritime provinces. One of the strongest fortifications of the Frenchmen was at Beausejour, mounted on a hill between the marshes of Tantramar and Missaguash with solid masonry bomb proofs and twenty-four cannon and one howitzer. The place was considered a safe position, but the commander, De Vergo, was a man of very doubtful character and little personal ability. In fact he owed his appointment to the office for certain doubtful aid to the notorious Intendant Bigot in one of his escapades. He was a man of such a type that when the intendant was recalled to France in 1754 he wrote De Vergo to profit by his place—to cut and trim so fast that he would be able to retire with his fortune made within a year and join the ex-head of the colony in France within a year. The commander took the advice very seriously with the result that the last year of his regime found Beausejour a plague spot in the colony and a place where the last coin possible was extracted from the poor settlers and traders in the new land. He secured huge stocks of war supplies from Quebec but few of them ever got to the garrison; they were sold at exorbitant rates for the benefit of the officer in charge.

THE ROCK POOL.

This is the sea. In tide unbroken walls A wave lies prisoned. Far and far away Outward to ocean, as the slow tide falls. Her sisters, rough, the waves that hold the sea, Dancing in lovely liberty recede. Yet lovely in captivity she lies, Filled with soft colors where the waving weed Move gently and disclose to our eyes Blurred shining veins of rock and lucid shells. Under the light-ahot water, and here repose Small, quiet fish and the dimly glowing bells. Of sleeping sea-anemones that close Their tender fronds and will not now awake Till on these rocks the waves returning break.

LIGHTER VEIN.

When friend husband reaches home and finds that friend wife once again has let the furnace fire go out. Positively. "Have you heard my last joke?" asked the Pest, as he stopped the Grouch on the street. "I hope so," replied the Grouch, as he kept on travelling.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Quit.

Dresses made of banana skins were recently displayed in London. In that case it would be quite the thing to "slip on" one's dress.—Calgary Herald.

What?

"What?" said Lord Colebridge once to a puzzled cabman, "you a London cabbie and don't know where the Law Courts are?" "Oh! the Law Courts, is it? I know them; but you said the 'Courts of Justice'!"

Some Bosses Are So Witty!

"Boss" said the limit clerk, "don't you think I've been here long enough to deserve an increase?" "I do," said the boss. "I certainly do. Why don't you?"—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

MORNING NEWS

OVER THE WIRES In a fire on Friday night Justus Rideout of Lansdowne, Carleton county, was burned to death. The circumstances surrounding the fire and death are somewhat suspicious and further action may be taken. Sheriff Foster and F. W. Melville were called to the scene early on Saturday morning and made an investigation. It is said that Rideout had been living in the same house with a man named Stockford and the latter, because of the many peculiarities of Rideout, had decided to move. When he was moving his furniture Rideout began breaking things up with an axe. Stockford took the axe away from him and Rideout then poured gasoline on the floor and set fire to the house while Stockford was getting his horse out of the barn. In the fire which resulted, Rideout was burned to death. There may be further developments.

ZIONIST ORGANIZATION.

Buffalo, Nov. 29.—At the final session of its 23rd annual convention, the Zionist organization of America yesterday adopted ten resolutions which, in many respects, bring about a re-organization of Zionist activities. Great powers are placed in the hands of the nation's executive, which will determine the functions of the Palestine department, which will have full charge of the committee will also organize groups of Zionist districts, which will not be entitled to recognition by the organization unless they fulfill prescribed requirements. When We Wound Up The Watch On The Rhine

Narrative of Canadian Participation In The Occupation of Germany After The Armistice

It was on the morning of November 29 that the Canadian troops which were accompanying the British army on its way to the Rhine turned their backs reluctantly on the beautiful Meuse and struck off to the south. In the gathering light of the early morning the countryside in this section presented a very picturesque appearance. From the elevated table-land above the river, the land slopes gently away to the south and east, and, looking from the higher levels, reminds one somewhat of a great green and brown patchwork quilt. A Havelange network of roads cuts the country up into a multitude of small irregularly shaped pieces of land, which are further divided by trim well kept hedges separating one holding from another. Tiny, comfortable cottages dot the green slopes, each with its tidy and attractive front garden and its equally tidy and unattractive barnyard. Through the villages of Strud, Haltime, Oley and Evelette the column wound its way until the area surrounding the town of Havelange was reached, and in which locality the marching troops halted for the night.

At Havelange the information was received that the departing Huns had passed through only a few days before, foot-sore and weary and not at all enthusiastic about the information which had been before them, although apparently pleased that the conflict was ended.

Here also was found the first aggressive fighting between the British and the Rhine. The tiny square at Havelange was literally jammed with discarded pieces of the armament of the Huns, and the German guns as a superior sort of equipment, placed there for their special benefit.

As the continuation of the march was ordered for the morning, and as darkness was already beginning to fall when the column stopped for the night, an early laying out of blankets was the order of the day and after a hearty and well earned supper it was not long before the town was at rest. Only the champing of a few hundred horses picked in the fields and along the sides of some of the larger guest evidences that the town was filled to capacity by the khaki-clad pilgrims on their way to the land of the enemy.

COAL AGREEMENT WITH FRANCE ENDS

Britain Has Been Sending 65 Per Cent. of Her Export Output.

London, Nov. 29.—The agreement whereby Great Britain supplied France with 65 per cent of Great Britain's output of export coal has been cancelled, following a conference of the British and French ministers in London on Friday. Allocations of coal for South American establishments are also withdrawn, but the obligation to supply a certain quantity of coal to Italy remains unaltered. British exporters will now be free to accept or refuse the prices offered by French coal importers. The German press has recently been complaining that France is now so well stocked with coal as to be able to offer to sell back to Germany at an exorbitant price coal supplied under the treaty.

CREW OF ST. JOHN VESSEL RESCUED

After being adrift for four days and four nights, without food or drink and with little means of keeping warm, Captain Gautreaux of the St. John schooner Mary Stella and his crew of two men were rescued by Captain Gaskill of the schooner Mollie Gaskill at 9 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, about fifteen miles from Petite Passage, and landed at Sault-au-Rapide, Digby county, yesterday. The Mary Stella was abandoned, dismantled and waterlogged. Captain Gautreaux and his crew belong to the Acadian village of Pre d'en Haut near Moncton. They left Advocate, N. S., on Tuesday morning with a cargo of lumber for John M. Driscoll, West St. John. As a result of their experiences the captain and his two men were in a weak state last night but will probably be able to go to their homes in a day or two.

YESTERDAY IN THE CHURCHES

The necessity of placing politics on a higher plane, of protecting family life, of more honest commercial and industrial life and of purifying the present day moral atmosphere was strongly emphasized yesterday afternoon by the Rt. Rev. Dr. John Richardson, lord bishop of Fredericton, who addressed a service for men at the Mission Church of St. John Baptist. The service was largely attended. The bishop was present at three services at the Mission church yesterday, 8 a. m., 4 p. m. and 7.30 p. m. At the latter service he conferred the sacrament of confirmation on twenty-four persons presented by Rev. Father John V. Young, priest in charge, and upon others presented by Rev. Father W. W. Follett of Simonds. He also addressed the confirmands.

Anniversary in Fairville.
Special sermons appropriate to the occasion were preached in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Fairville, yesterday morning and last evening, the occasion being the thirty-eighth anniversary of the holding of the first service in that edifice. The Ven. Archdeacon Crowfoot of St. Paul's church, preached at the evening service; Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong of Trinity church, preached at the morning service and the rector, Rev. W. P. Dunham, spoke at the children's service in the afternoon. At this service a special collection, termed a birthday gift to the church, was taken and resulted in a very substantial sum.

Methodist Exchanges.
The Methodist ministers in the city observed their usual monthly exchange of pulpits for the morning service yesterday. The exchange was a direct one between the various ministers. Rev. Neil McLaughlin of the Queen square church exchanged with Rev. George F. Dawson of the Esplanade street church, Rev. H. A. Goodwin of Centenary with Rev. Ernest Styles of Carmarthen street, Rev. H. B. Clarke of Portland with Rev. Thomas Marshall of Fairville and Rev. J. Heaney of Cathedral exchanged with Rev. Mr. Howard of Zion church, Rev. Mr. MacKay of Marble Mountain, former member of the Lakeside mission was the preacher in St. David's church in the evening.

Miss Flora Clark returned missionary from the Indian field gave interesting addresses in Fairville Baptist church in the morning and in the Central Baptist church in the evening.

In the Victoria street Baptist church Rev. F. S. Porter was the preacher at the morning service and in the afternoon the first of the Sunday afternoon sacred concerts was held. Ensign Laurie addressed greatly to the inspiration of the music.

The song service in St. David's church school room after the evening service was very largely attended and Robert Reid acted as chairman. Miss Phyllis McGowan was the accompanist.

In the Main street Baptist church last night Rev. Dr. David Hutchinson, pastor, preached the third of his sermon on the Second Coming of Christ, taking his text from the thirteenth and second chapter of Titus, "Looking for that Blessed Hope and the glorious appearing of the Great God and of our Saviour Jesus Christ."

Brotherhood Movement.
The preacher in the Ludlow street Baptist church, West St. John, last evening, was Rev. Dr. A. M. Hill, secretary of the Brotherhood movement, and the theme for his sermon was the Brotherhood movement in Canada, which is already established in the west and in Ontario. Rev. Dr. Hill is secretary of St. Columbus Presbyterian church, at Fairville, and has many friends in the city. He will return to St. John in January and effect an organization of the Brotherhood.

Members of St. Andrew's Society attended St. David's church yesterday morning and listened to a foretold sermon delivered by the evangelist, Rev. J. A. MacKeigan, who spoke on the subject, "We are Abraham's offspring. We have never been slaves to any man—if you are Abraham's children, said Jesus, then do as Abraham did."

Scout Colors Presented.
A service for the Boy Scouts was held yesterday afternoon when the first troop of the church was presented its colors, which were dedicated by the pastor, Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, by A. C. Skilton, presented the colors and made a brief address. Rev. Mr. Legate spoke on the scout movement, which he said, if expanded and developed, formed the best solution of the boy problem which is vexing the city today. Scout Frank Thompson and Scout Gibson took part in the service and Harold Wetmore held the colors while they were being dedicated, while Scout David Legate received them on behalf of the troop. At the request of the boys, the collection, which amounted to $28.45, was donated to the Animal Rescue League, which the secretary, Miss Lillian Howe, who was present at the service, received.

At a meeting of the Junior department of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday morning, Major Smith, physical director for the association for Canada, gave a stirring address on "The Men of Greatness," in which he referred to the Bible for his examples. The president of the class, Roy Willet, was in the chair; Cedric Flewelling was at the piano, and Captain William Bowle led in prayer.

RECENT DEATHS
It is learned with much regret that one of the most prominent citizens of Moncton, A. E. Holstead, of 132 St. George street, died yesterday morning of pneumonia. Mr. Holstead was the proprietor of a drug store in Main street, and is well known throughout the maritime provinces in that business. He was also a member of the Moncton City Club. His loss will be greatly felt in various business circles, and his support and cooperation in sporting activities, in which he was a great enthusiast.

The death of Miss Catherine M. McKinnon, daughter of Mrs. Emily and the late John McKinnon, occurred yesterday at the home of her mother, 68 Lansdowne avenue. She is survived by one brother, J. G. McKinnon of the Y. M. C. A. staff in Montreal, and one sister, Elizabeth at home.

The death of Mrs. Margaret, widow of John McCracken, formerly of Barnesville, N. B., occurred on Saturday at the residence of William Mullin, 154 Waterloo street. The funeral will take place on Monday from 154 Waterloo street, at 2.30.

The body of the late John Y. Payzant, formerly president of the Bank of Nova Scotia, who died recently in California, passed through the city on Saturday on its way to Halifax, where the funeral will be held today.

PROTEST AGAINST
CRAWFORD MEETING

Resolution Passed at Queen Square Theatre Yesterday
—Mayor Advises Against Hasty Action.

A meeting was held in Queen Square theatre on Sunday afternoon at which a resolution was passed asking the civic authorities to forbid Lindsay Crawford, editor of The Statesman, the right to address a public meeting here. The theatre was crowded. Norman P. McLeod was in the chair and speeches were delivered by Rev. H. A. Goodwin, Canon C. A. K. King, T. H. Carter, Dr. G. G. Corbet, Mayor Schofield, Commissioner Thornton, W. J. Brown and others.

The following resolution was moved by Canon Kühring and seconded by Arthur J. Green:

"Whereas, it is proposed that an individual by the name of Lindsay Crawford is to address a public meeting in the city of St. John, at an early date, and

"Whereas, this Lindsay Crawford has by the writing of seditious, disloyal and unpatriotic articles and by speeches, in public, both in Canada and the United States of America of a similar nature, proven himself to be antagonistic to the constitutional authority of the British empire of which our dominion forms one of the most loyal portions and the people of this city some of its most loyal subjects and,

"Whereas, the propaganda of the said Lindsay Crawford is carried on with the avowed intention of the disintegration of the empire, for the preservation of which large numbers of the best of our sons went through all the horrors of years of modern warfare and for which more than fifty thousand made the supreme sacrifice, lying buried in far off Flanders' fields, therefore "Be it resolved, that this meeting of loyal citizens of this Loyalist city do strongly and unanimously appeal to the civic authorities to forbid this disloyal individual the right of addressing a public meeting in our city; and further:

"Be it resolved, that this meeting calls upon the government of the dominion to take immediate steps for the suppression of the publication of the journal, known as 'The Statesman' edited by the said Lindsay Crawford and published in the city of Toronto, and further:

"Be it resolved, that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the prime minister, the attorney-general for Canada, the Hon. R. W. Wignmore and S. E. Elkin, M. P."

Mayor Schofield said that the meeting should be careful in the attitude it took in the matter, as it might mean more trouble. He said that the words used by one of the speakers might cause trouble. He said if he could be assured that the statements attributed to Mr. Crawford had been made over his own signature, he would support his resolution.

The chairman considered the mayor's statement was a quibble. Commissioner Thornton arose and asked the Mr. MacLeod retract the statement. The chairman replied that he did not intend it as an insult. Mr. Thornton said he thought Rev. Mr. Goodwin had gone too far in his speech. He counselled the meeting to wait until Mr. Crawford had uttered something seditious and then he would be stopped. The mayor rising again said that the resolution asked the city to do something it had not the power to do. On taking a standing vote on the resolution, Mayor Schofield was the only one observed to be seated.

The following resolution was then moved by T. H. Carter, seconded by Dr. C. G. Corbet and passed:

"To the Right Hon. David Lloyd George: "Whereas, by your wonderful judgment, force of character and prudent counsel, you have successfully sustained and strengthened the integrity of the great empire to which we are proud to belong; therefore,

"Be it resolved that this mass meeting of citizens of the Loyalist city of St. John (N.B.) do reiterate their unswerving loyalty to the crown, and the constitutional authority of the mother country, and pray that Almighty God in His infinite wisdom may give you health and strength to successfully withstand and finally destroy the insidious propaganda of the few disloyal subjects whose aim is the disintegration of our glorious empire."

The hearty singing of God Save the King and The Maple Leaf by the audience and We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall by A. C. Smith and Rule Britannia by William Lanyon, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Smith, preceded the addresses. Among those on the platform were Mayor Schofield, Commissioners Jones, Thornton, Prink and Bullock, J. Starr Tait, Walter Brindle, A. J. Green, Joseph Murdoch, Rev. Neil McLaughlin, Rev. H. A. Goodwin, Canon Kühring, Dr. Corbet, F. H. Gardiner, F. L. Potts and others.

LIEUT. COL. FREDERICK WEDDERBURN DEAD

The death of Lieut. Colonel Frederick Vernon Wedderburn took place on Friday evening at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, after a lingering illness, at the age of fifty-nine years. He was a son of the late William Wedderburn, judge of the Kings county court, and was born in Hampton, studied law with his father and was admitted to the bar of New Brunswick in 1884, but being a man of private means, did not practise his profession. He has a distinguished military career, having been instrumental in raising the 118th Battalion of the C. E. F. and was commanding officer of that unit. He was well known in St. John as a member of the Union Club and for two years president of that organization. He Knows What's Good

Trust baby to choose the nicest dish on the table. It looks so inviting he's sure it must be lovely, and nothing else will satisfy him. Let him have a Pure Gold Quick Pudding often. They're wholesome, and as pure as science and the finest ingredients can make them.

You'll find the older folks strong for these delicious puddings too. A large mould disappears in no time when dad comes home for dinner. Better order a selection from your grocer and have them handy. Tapioca, custard and chocolate, 15c. a package.

This Fur Sale at Magee's Retains Pre-War Qualities At Practically Pre-War Prices

From one extreme to the other. How typically Canadian—how typically representative of the twentieth century. Today we find the fur market in spots flooded with furs of inferior grade and quality.

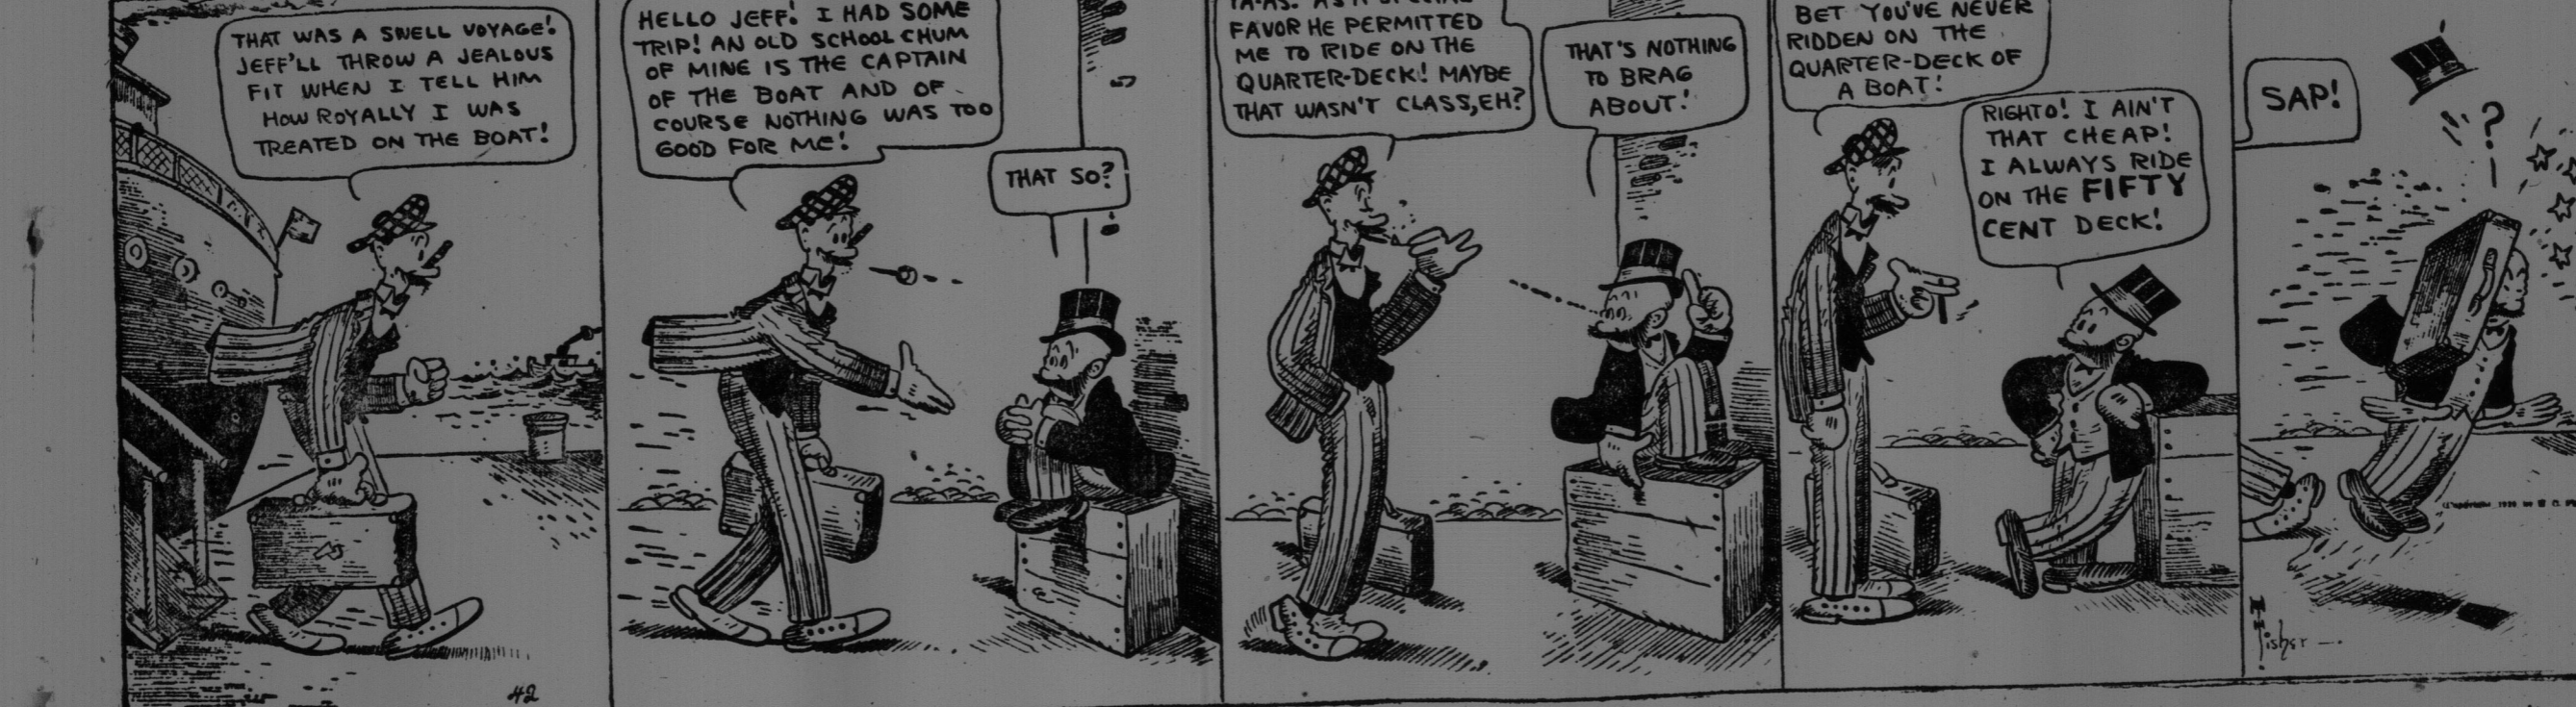

But this has no relation to Magee's. Here in this sale you'll find garments and pieces that bear the Magee endorsement, which has been the "Baedeker" for cautious fur buyers since 1859.

Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, has announced that trading in Victory bonds will henceforth be open and the Victory issues will immediately be listed for trading on Canadian stock exchanges.

Bonds are Cheap To-day because 7% and 8% interest rates on gilt-edged Bonds will not continue. The next long swing in interest rates will be down. Lower rates for money will most certainly advance the prices of existing Bonds and fixed-income securities.

The large income-returns of to-day will then be a thing of the past. This, therefore, is the time to buy. Write for our list of Government, Municipal and Corporation gilt-edged Bonds.

Montreal Report on Trade Conditions (Montreal Herald). There has been a noticeable improvement in trade conditions throughout the country due to a combination of the wintery weather and the approach of Christmas. The public is showing a disposition to shop early as is desired by merchants. Some retailers claim that the luxury tax is holding back business, while others blame the publicity that has been given to the movement for lower prices. Wholesalers also report a better volume of trade than they have been experiencing.

Court in Sentencing Six Shoplifters,
Urges Preventive Measures.

"My experience on the bench has shown that seven out of every ten shop-
-lifters are tempted by the display of ar-ticles, apparently unprotected," declared
Justice Freshel in the New York special sessions when four women and two men were found guilty of shoplifting in a department store. Three of the women were sentenced to one day each in the Tomb and fined, while the fourth was fined only.

Justice Herbert, who presided, said
Justice Healy concurred in Justice
Freshel's remarks, asserting that store proprietors should seek to prevent shop-
-lifting rather than confine their efforts to the arrest and prosecution of offenders.

"I told the Men's Execution Club of the arrest and prosecution of offenders.
