LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

The Engagement of Marquis of Anglesey and Lady Marjorie Manser

To the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and to their children, the news of the engagement of the Marquis of Anglesey, head of the House of Paget, to Lady Marjorie Manser, eldest daughter of the Duke of Rutland, will be a source of relief, for it will put an end to the illustrated stories printed over and over again in the daily press of Europe and America, to the effect that Lady Marjorie was secretly affianced to Prince Arthur of Connaught and that Princess Patricia and Lord Anglesey had plighted their troth, but had been unable to obtain the sanction of Edward VII. or of George V. to wed.

The fiancée of Lady Marjorie Manser is of wholly different type, a well set up, mainly good-looking ex-officer of the Royal Horse Guards. He has been a frequent visitor to the United States—not quite so often as his sister, Lady Herbert, who spends every winter with her husband in Pasadena, California. His mother bears the title of Lady Alexander Paget.

There are two widows of former marquesses still living; one is the relict of the butterfly marquis, Prince Arthur, daughter of George Chetwynd, who has dropped the title of Lady Anglesey, since her marriage three years ago to John G. Gilliland. The other, known as Minnie, Marchioness of Anglesey, widow of the fourth marquis, is a daughter of the Duke of Devonshire, and makes her home in Versailles, France.

She still draws a large fortune from the Anglesey estates which, despite the foolish waste of the late butterfly marquis, are exceedingly valuable, mainly on account of their mineral wealth. Their management is vested in the hands of trustees until the present peer attains his thirtieth birthday, three years hence, but since his twenty-fifth birthday he has been receiving from them an income of $50,000, which will be doubled later on.

Should Lord Anglesey's marriage with Lady Marjorie Manser remain without issue, his marquisate will go to his eldest son, Lord Victor Paget, about six lives intervening between the family honors and General Sir Arthur Paget, married to Minnie, Marchioness of Anglesey, as Lady Paget, for this particular dignity is a barony in fee, and, as such, transmissible in the female line.

It is, it is, it is, indeed, the Lord Anglesey is a peer of the realm today, for the Paget family, which was founded by Sir William Paget, secretary of state to Henry VIII., became extinct in the male line in the middle of the eighteenth century, through the death of the eighth Baron Paget. The barony thence passed

The Strong Box Mind

By RUTH CAMERON

HAVE you an open mind? Or do you shut up your convictions and your opinions in a strong box of prejudice in the very centre of your being where they will not be subject to any danger of change or modification?

At an interesting lecture at which two speakers discussed the opposite sides of a question of the day, one of the speakers began: "When your chairman asked me to speak to you on this matter I said to her: 'Is it one of those gatherings where everyone comes with his mind made up on the opposite side? Or will there be some open-minded people there who will be interested in what I say for what it is worth and not merely for the purpose of confuting it?'" ed to the son of Caroline Paget, last of her name, the great-granddaughter of the fifth baron. She married Sir Nicholas Bayley, and her son was the ninth baron, subsequently advanced to the earldom of Ulster; his son and successor was the tenth baron, the present Lord Anglesey, who was the first Duke of Devonshire. The present Lord Anglesey represents Oxford in the House of Commons.

One word in conclusion about the one-legged Lord Ulster, first of the Paget Lords Anglesey. He was even more remarkable in his domestic arrangements than he was as a commander in the field, for after having eight children by his first wife, Lady Caroline Villiers, daughter of the Earl of Jersey, he was divorced, and proceeded at once to marry the divorced wife of the first Lord Cowley, to whom he was obliged to pay $100,000 damages as co-responsible in an action for alienation of affection. By Lord Cowley she already had four children, which he, for a financial compensation, allowed her to retain. Then by her union with Lord Anglesey she had six children more; so that the family, omnium gatherum, consisted of eighteen offspring, fourteen Pagets, and four Welleys.

More Than 400 People Killed There in a Year in Traffic Rush

One of the most crying evils of London is likely to receive the attention which it deserves. It has long been evident to a stranger within the gates that the streets of the metropolis, owing to the reckless ruffianism of the drivers of taxicabs and omnibuses, are the most perilous in Europe. While the police are very ready to pull up drivers of private automobiles they pay no heed to the criminal recklessness of public drivers.

Under the caption, "The Reign of Terror," John Lloyd, J.P., advertised recently asking for the formation of a strong society to protect life and secure safety in the streets. There is no doubt that the hourly risk of traffic dodging are reaching a point at which action by the authorities is imperative.

There are now 2,000 motor buses in London, and in 1911 will find the total swollen to 4,500, while the cheapening of automobiles and the taxicab habit will be responsible for 5,000 more.

The gravity of the problem may be seen from the fact that in the year 1911 more than 400 people were killed in the streets of London, including quite a number of Americans. The Rev. Dr. Wolf of Brooklyn was the latest victim. Of these 400 deaths, automobiles and taxicabs were responsible for 165 and motor buses for 107.

The electric tramways killed 28. Ten thousand people were knocked down by motor vehicles during the same period.

A reporter of the Evening News stationed himself on the north side of Northumberland avenue. In two minutes he counted twenty-four motor omnibuses and fifty-eight taxicabs going through Trafalgar square, while the rest of the traffic was

THROUGH OTHER EYES

At the beginning of the Book to New Brunswick Week it may perhaps be worth while to look at ourselves as we are seen by an observer who has recently been among us taking notes. Mr. Edgar Dupuy, who has written books on such subjects as Republicanism in France, The French and Germans, Californians and Mormons, and The Stage, has written a book, just issued, on Eastern Canada, and the People Therein. Some seven or eight pages are devoted to New Brunswick and the city of St. John. Mr. Dupuy finds that New Brunswick is "a beautiful province, a precious jewel in the crown of the Canadian confederation," but it needs "a million immigrants to transform the vast area of untilled fruit land and more miles of golden harvests and snowy blossoms."

A WORD OF WARNING

When a man who was once young and is now rheumatic permits himself to join an excursion of young people who are now young and not rheumatic, there are certain dangers not set forth in the prospectus. For instance, the game of baseball. There is much to be said in favor of this pastime, and he would be indeed a brave man who would say anything against it. Far be it from the writer to assume that risk. But he is a wise man who knows his limitations in point of action as well as of expression. All men are not wise, and thus it may come about at such an excursion as that to which reference has been made that the gentleman who was once young and is now rheumatic may be induced through a sense of gallantry or for some other specious reason to assume a position upon the diamond, where many of the players are possible suffragettes. To be struck out by a smiling young lady, or to be put out at second or third base by a girl of untold beauty and grace, or to be run or stumped to field the ball, or to hear the words of somewhat dubious encouragement from the onlookers, may all have their merits as rheumatic cures, but consider the feelings to which they give rise. This note of warning is thrown out in a casual way, because there are doubtless numbers of gentlemen who were once young and are now rheumatic, and who may be tempted in a moment of mid-summer madness to join a gay excursion without due regard to the possible consequences.

FARMING THAT PAYS

A party of ladies and gentlemen connected with the newspapers of the city were the guests of Mr. E. S. Carter on his farm at Pairvale for several hours on Saturday afternoon. They saw while there convincing proof of what can be accomplished by intelligent farming methods in this province within about ten miles of the city. They saw in one stable some sixteen milk cows and in another six or eight more, while some young cattle were in the field. They saw quite a number of hogs and litters of small pigs. They saw a number of fine horses. They saw crops in good condition. They saw between 300 and 400 young apple trees, which in a few years will be a great source of profit to their owner. Mr. Carter finds no difficulty whatever in selling all the products of his farm and dairy, at good prices. His difficulty is to supply the demand. He has not made any effort to establish a model farm, but to conduct the farming and dairying business with success. What has been able to accomplish is within the reach of many who are not farming, but who probably have as much knowledge of agriculture as he had at the outset. It is a business proposition. The man who has a fair opportunity can make farming very profitable in this province, if he pursues right methods and does not scorn to use the knowledge which has brought success to others in the same line.

As there will be more people than usual in the city this week, and much traffic on the streets, it may be hoped that drivers of teams and autos will be particularly careful not to exceed the speed limit.

There are many visitors in the city today, and there will be many more tomorrow. No doubt every citizen will join in extending courtesies to them, that they may feel themselves at home.

The Toronto Globe says that Donlands, an area of some 800 acres in the outskirts of Toronto, is worth in the neighborhood of a million dollars. The particular fact to which attention should be drawn is that the owner of Donlands is a newspaper man—Mr. W. F. MacLean, M. P. of the Toronto World. Hats off to Mr. MacLean of the Toronto World.

The Ottawa Free Press says: "There is a shortage of brick in Edmonton and builders are compelled to import from Cleveland, Ohio, and pay a duty of 25 per cent. Here's another chance for the minister of finance to remit half the duty as he did in the case of cement. But he won't. There's no election pending in Alberta just now."

A correspondent of a Vancouver paper asks why the citizens allow secular music to be played in the parks on Sunday. This reminds us that we do not have even sacred music in St. John parks on Sunday. A correspondent of this paper suggested some time ago that an occasional Sunday afternoon concert of sacred music on the King Square band stand would be greatly appreciated by many, especially the older people who cannot get out of town. Touching the matter of sacred and secular music the Victoria Colonist tells this story: "John Brewster was a Methodist minister in the east years ago, and feeling very happy one Sunday night he carried out a popular song. One of his friends exclaimed, 'What a devil have all the best music' and went on singing."

Evening Things Up. "What did Mrs. Kloseman give you for cutting her grass?" asked Tommy's mother.

"Nothing," replied Tommy. "Why, she promised you ten cents, did she not?" "Yes, but then I used her sickle to do it with, and she charged me ten cents for the use of it."

When I was shipwrecked in South America," said Captain Bower, "I came across a tribe of wild women who had no tongues." "Mercy!" cried one of his listeners of the fair sex. "How could they talk?" "They couldn't!" snapped the old salt. "That's what made 'em wild!"

PRETTY THICK

"How far is it to the next town?" inquired the traveler in the next-bettered buggy. "About ten miles, master," said the Illinois farmer to join a gay excursion without due regard to the possible consequences.

RECENT DEATHS

The many friends of Miss Estie M. Blair will regret to hear of her death, which occurred at her home, 242 City Road, last evening, after a lingering illness of more than a year and a half. She was daughter of the late Hugh Blair, and leaves a sorrowing mother, two brothers, Fred, of South Bay, and Harry, of the I. C. R. employ here, and one sister, Anna, L., at home, to mourn their sad loss.

The death took place at 70 Cedar avenue, Montreal, on Saturday morning, of Philip J. Stewart, formerly curate at Trinity church, St. John, and Percy Stewart, manager of a trust company, Montreal, and the Misses Isabelle, Louise and Mildred at home. The funeral will take place at Hampton on Tuesday immediately after the arrival of the C. P. R. express.

Word of the sudden death of Ralph Humphrey in Calgary, Saturday night, has reached the city. Mr. Humphrey was a resident of this city until about two years ago when he went west and engaged in the real estate business in Vancouver. He was very popular in St. John and a large circle of friends will learn with regret of his death.

Mr. Humphrey was about thirty-five years of age and was the son of J. M. Humphrey. He was born in Hampton and is survived by three brothers, John and C. P. and Guy Humphrey, of the city; and one sister, Mrs. Kilian, wife of Professor Kilian, of Saskatoon. The body will be brought here for burial.

At the age of 92 years, Walter Hamilton Livingstone, one of the oldest and most respected residents of St. John, passed away yesterday at his summer home, Glen Lyon, Carter's Point.

Mr. Livingstone was born in Kilmory, Stirlingshire, Scotland, in 1821, and came to this country in 1843. He settled in St. John, and had lived here ever since. He was a brother of the late Dr. Wm. Livingstone and of Rev. Martin Livingstone, of Ontario. His nephew, Hugh M. Livingstone, is editor of the Glasgow, Scotland, Herald.

During the early years of Mr. Livingstone's residence in St. John, he was an active business man and was numbered among the leading merchants of the city. He was in the drug business with his brother for many years, and had interests in lumbering and other firms. He retired from active life about thirty years ago. He was for forty years an elder of St. Andrew's Society.

He is survived by one son, C. H. Livingstone, of Washington (D. C.), who is well known throughout America as the president of the National Organization of Boy Scouts in America; and three sisters, Misses Agnes E. and Pauline W., of this city, and Mrs. John Theal, of Ferris (Cal.).

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon from his late residence, Millidge avenue, and interment will be made in Fernhill.

Michael Glynn died on Saturday at the home of his son, 3 Dorchester street at the great age of 103 years.

Hale and hearty and more active than most men at the age of seventy, Mr. Glynn always took his daily exercise and till a few years ago went into the fields and did as much work as any farmer in the prime of life could do. A typical Irishman, he was humorous and witty. His pleasing disposition has been given as the cause of his long life.

Mr. Glynn was born in County Sligo, Ireland, in 1810 and came to this country when he was twenty-eight years of age. He is said to have been one of the few who escaped death, when the ship carrying Irish immigrants was visited with fever and many of the passengers died and were buried on Partridge Island along with Dr. Collins, who went as a volunteer from St. John to care for the stricken passengers.

Mr. Glynn settled in Barnesville, Kings county, where he followed the life of a farmer until eight years ago when he came to this city to live with his son. Among the many interesting things that Mr. Glynn liked to talk about was the great inventions and discoveries made since he was young—when the telephone and electric lights were things unheard of, when the "horseless car" would be considered something wonderful and the electric bell a miracle.

Mr. Glynn is survived by his wife, two sons, John and William of this city and two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Beamish and Mrs. George Allan, also of this city.

The death of Miss Bessie Ellis, daughter of the late John Ellis, occurred yesterday. She is survived by three sisters and one brother. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon, from her late residence, 45 Paradise Row.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS ON WHAT WILL MAKE YOUR SHOES WEAR LONGER. Most shoes worn today are made of light and fancy leathers and the cause of them not always giving satisfaction is very often due to perspiration of the feet. Some people cannot wear a pair of shoes longer than from four to six weeks. This is their misfortune and the manufacturer should not be blamed for it. The feet perspire and throw off more waste matter than any other part of the body. Shoes like underwear, should be changed. Give them a chance to dry out; thoroughly air them at least twice a week. Have at least two or three pairs of shoes in active service at a time if possible. This is the best policy from a standpoint of health and economy. The manufacturer may buy the best stock, employ the most skillful workmen and make the shoes in a thorough manner, and yet the result may be unsatisfactory if the shoes are abused by the wearer. No article of dress is so much abused as footwear.

FINAL PLANS FOR CELEBRATION OF TWELFTH OF JULY

A meeting of the committee in charge of the July 12 celebration was held in the Orange Hall, Germain street on Saturday night. Plans in connection with the big excursion to Moncton were completed and everything is now in readiness.

It has been arranged that the first special will leave the Union depot at 7.45 a.m. instead of 7.30, as previously announced. This train will make all the intermediate stops along the line, while the second train, which will leave the depot at 8.30, will only make the necessary stops for water, etc., unless the first one is unable to accommodate all those at the same stations, in which case they will be picked up by the later train.

The Carleton Orphanage, accompanied by the St. John Pipe Band, will cross in the 7.40 train of the ferry, joining the city brethren who will assemble at Germain street at 7.30 a.m., where the parade will leave for the depot at 7.45 in the following order: The "Union Jack" supported by a band of Sealet Knights, in uniform; the Artillery band, Royal Black Knights of Ireland, Royal Sealet Knights, Havelock L. O. L. No. 27, Johnston L. O. L. No. 24, True Blue L. O. L. No. 11, with Pipe Band; Gideon L. O. L. No. 7, York L. O. L. No. 3, Eldon L. O. L. No. 2, Vermer L. O. L. No. 1, St. John district officers, St. John county officers. Members of the L. O. L. Nos. 69 and 70, of Fairville, will proceed to Simons street, where they will join the North End brethren. Under the lead of the Carleton Coast band they will march direct to the depot.

A special train has also been arranged for over the St. Martins and Upram railways, leaving St. Martins in time to connect at Hampton with the first train at 8.50, returning again on arrival of train at night.

THE WIRED HIRED MAN

Electricity on the Farm and the Labor Question in Canada (Ottawa Citizen).

Without doubt the labor problem is the one that is going to give Canada the greatest trouble. To secure adequate human help to develop the resources of the country, and especially to do the necessary seasonal labor of the ever-widening west, is the problem that becomes increasingly difficult and almost impossible of solution. The call for a vast army of workers to go west, and the equally loud cry of eastern farmers that laborers stay where they are, is a strange evidence of Canada's uncomfortable prosperity.

Of both interest and promise is the proposal of Hon. Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, to introduce electricity into farm work. In a recent demonstration near Brockville he showed the practical application of electrical energy to farm activities, and won the heartfelt commendation of the large number of farmers who witnessed the performance.

This was perhaps the first official introduction to agricultural Canada of the wired hired man. To string a wire or to charge a battery, and to have ten men's strength waiting one's command, is the result of this introduction. Power is increased and cost is decreased. One man is able to accomplish what before required many. The human hired man requires a daily wage and a year's engagement, but the wired hired man can be used at will, at the cost of actual activity.

In Canada today there are such numerous opportunities that every man may become more scarce, with the western give ever before their eyes. Canada can give every man a farm. Hence, the arrival of this new factor in farm labor is a momentous event. With lots of it Canada salute the arriving wired hired man.

Fredericton Herald--L. B. Estey, accompanied by his family, will leave on Wednesday, July 10 for Vancouver. The Misses Clarke and Mrs. E. Estey of Jacksonville will, in all probability, be members of a party of Carleton county people who will leave for the west at the same time. Mr. and Mrs. Fannie Fraser and Miss Maud Wheeler expect to leave next week and will probably make the trip on the same train as Mrs. Puddington and Miss Puddington, wife and daughter of the Rev. Mr. Puddington, who also purpose leaving in the west. Miss Lillian Corbet, who recently graduated from the University of New Brunswick, will depart for Alberta to take up the teaching profession. She will be accompanied by Miss Geraldine McAdam, who is of the York street school staff, who has accepted a lucrative position in the province.

MORE TALK OF FULP MILL

The Fredericton Mail says--It is reported on excellent authority that a pulp mill will be built at Marysville by the present company before the winter sets in. The saw-mills at Marysville will resume operations this week, and the Mail says--It is understood that only the large lumber will be cut, the smaller logs being allowed to run over the dam, to be rafted at the mouth of the Nashwaak.

DISTEMPER AMONG FOXES

Island Farmer--We hear that some distemper has broken out among the ranch foxes to the westward. Of four in one ranch two have died and a third, only for prompt medical aid would also have succumbed. Another fox in another ranch also died, and when opened it was found that its stomach was literally swarming with worms. "Every pot of ointment has its fly embedded therein."

OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

The management of the Opera House will present the King Lynch Players, one of the highest class company of players that has ever been seen in the province, at the Opera House tonight, on which occasion The Typhoon, a drama of Japanese life, will be seen. This company of players is composed of well known Broadway favorites, who have been recruited from many of the past season's successful players, and come direct from Worcester (Mass.), where they have recently concluded an eight weeks' engagement. The Typhoon, the play in which they will play here during the first part of Old Home Week, is the same play that has caused so much discussion in New York city where, for eight months, it played to record breaking audiences. Its selection here as the opening production means the payment of an exceedingly high royalty,

A ST. STEPHEN CUSTOMS STORY

(Victoria Colonist)

A correspondent complains that he had to pay duty on a pair of shoes that he bought in Seattle. He had the shoes in his "grip." A man ahead of him also had bought new shoes in Seattle, but, having taken the precaution to bring them in on his feet, did not have to pay duty on them. Our correspondent wants our opinion on the subject.

We think he was properly charged the duty. In respect to the other man we will tell a little story, which may or may not lay down the law correctly.

Willie Johnson, who lived in St. Stephen, N. B., went over to Calais, Me., and bought a pair of shoes. On his return, he said to the collector on the bridge, which crosses the St. Croix between the two towns: "Sandy, mon, what do you think of these new shoes I've been buying?"

"At the same time pointing to his feet. Sandy made a strictly non-committal reply, but the next morning Willie was awakened by some one in his room, and behold it was Sandy, with the new shoes in his hand, who said, "Ye may come down to the Customs House the morn, and pay duty on these shoes, and then ye'll get them back."

The secret of success has been fairly well kept, considering that so many people are anxious to tell about it--Lucky.

A NOVA SCOTIA FAILURE

Halifax, N. S., July 7--Some interesting incidents are developing in connection with the failure and disappearance of the members of the firm of Kuzma & Hadid, who carried on a clothing and dry goods business at New Glasgow with a branch at Sydney. They established in a wholesale way in New Glasgow a year ago, starting a branch in Sydney five months since. They disappeared some days ago leaving liabilities of $80,000, chiefly in Montreal, but some in Halifax. They paid their bills promptly at first and left no liabilities whatever in New Glasgow. Kuzma it is said, brought a letter from Rev. Dr. Barclay, of Montreal, recommending him as a good Freemason, but the lodge did not accept him. The Presbyterian church, did, however, accepting certificates of membership, and he joined the United Presbyterian church. Kuzma married one of his clerks three weeks ago. She is a Stollerton girl and is now at home with her parents. They slaughtered their goods in tremendous fashion lately selling suits of clothes as low as one dollar. A lot of goods worth $5,000 was recently sold to a jobber in New Brunswick, it is said, at ten cents on the dollar.

OUTING ON STEAMER PREMIER ENJOYED

Delightful Time on Kennebecasis and at E. S. Carter's Home at Fair Vale

A party of about thirty, including members of the writing and business staffs of the local papers and their friends had a most delightful and enjoyable outing on Saturday afternoon and evening through the kindness of John Russell, Jr., and E. S. Carter, who placed the steamer, the Premier at their disposal. After a trip on the Kennebecasis river of several hours duration, the party proceeded to Mr. Carter's farm at Fair Vale, where they were most hospitably entertained.

Mr. Carter, Mrs. W. H. Carter and Miss McQuade, the steamer Premier was waiting at her wharf, and as soon as the party had embarked, the river trip was commenced. Calls were made at Mather's Island, Moss Glen, Clifton and the Wilcox. Here the steamer tied up and rambled around and enjoyed the scenery. The trip is one of the prettiest in the province, the beautiful Kennebecasis is at its best in this section, and a trip on the comfortable steamer gives splendid opportunity for sightseeing. The steamer maintains a regular service throughout the week for the benefit of residents and summer visitors, and on Saturday afternoon makes a special excursion trip. It is an outing hard to be excelled. Captain Kelle is the genial and competent commander.

The newspaper party landed at Fair Vale, where they were received by Mrs. Carter and her daughter, Miss Royce. A daily but substantial supper, for which the river sail had given an excellent appetite, was served on the spacious veranda. Mrs. Carter being assisted in this pleasing part of the programme by Miss Carter, Mrs. Stinson, Miss Earle, Miss Hart and Miss Jenkins.

After supper, advantage was taken of the opportunity to inspect the farm and its modern equipment and viable stock, and to learn how effectively a New Brunswick farm can be run. Cameras, which had been kept busy all afternoon catching especially fine bits of scenery, were again brought into play and the farm and its surroundings were photographed collectively, individually and in various groups.

The sailing, and the most exciting of the day, was a strenuous game, alleged to be baseball. A diamond, one of the most beautiful in the province, was in front of the summer residence of Mr. McQuade and J. A. Barry, the broad piazza and the garden were the scene of the contest. The admiring and marvellous spectators watched the thrilling contest. Mrs. Carter and Miss Royce were the captain and while they found it necessary to release so many of their players and draft new ones from the boat, they were able to keep track of it. It is customary to have a score, however, and so after arbitration, the result was announced as 11 to 1, leaving a lingering suspicion that the part of the game was not fair.

It was train time then, and after good-byes had been said to the hostess, a pleasant drive in the twilight brought the party to Fair Vale station, where they caught the suburban train for the city. Three hearty cheers for Mr. Carter, as the train pulled out, marked the close of an outing that will be long remembered. Those in the party included—Rupert E. Walker, Mrs. A. M. Bell and Mrs. Bell, J. Maurice, Roy A. Davidson, J. E. March, J. L. Slattery, F. H. Hardman, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bell and Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Frank I. McCaffery, Mrs. Thos. B. Carter, Mrs. Bruce, Miss Cotter, Miss Earle, Carson, Bonnell, Haslett (Frederick); Nixon, Mayes, Hayes, Mooney and Avery.

SWITCH OFF There was young fellow named Fitch. A maid caused his heart to twitch. He sat by her side so after arbitration, the result was announced as 11 to 1, leaving a lingering suspicion that the part of the game was not fair.

Stone Thrown Through North End Liquor Shop Window—Followed Girl, Say Police, is Arrested

Joseph Morrow, an old man, was arraigned in the police court this morning charged with wilfully breaking a plate glass window in Peter Mahony's liquor saloon in Main street on Saturday last. He pleaded not guilty and denied having broken the window at all.

Herbert Foster swore that he saw Morrow pick up a stone and throw it at the window. After hearing the case, the judge found Morrow guilty and sentenced him to three months in jail for breaking and entering.

Joseph Williams, arrested on charges of lying and lurking in the hall of the King's Daughters' Guild in Prince William street on Sunday morning at three o'clock, pleaded guilty. He said that he arrived in the city late on Saturday night and had no place to go.

Police man Rankine said that he had followed a girl along Prince William street on Saturday night and when she went in to the guild the prisoner also tried to go in. Williams was also charged with resisting the police. He was fined $8 or thirty days in jail on the first charge and $10 or two months in jail for resisting.

Herbert Addison, arrested for being drunk and also charged with resisting the police was fined $8 or thirty days in jail for drunkenness and $10 or two months in jail for resisting.

William Hatfield and Oscar Roberts, arrested for fighting on the Red Head Road, pleaded guilty and were remanded.

Three other prisoners charged with drunkenness, were remanded. His Honor, in remanding them to jail, instructed the police to make enquiries as to where the men got the liquor on Sunday. "I am informed," he said, "that liquor is being sold in a resort in Water street on Sundays and other days illegally, and I would like to see the proprietor brought to court."

The morning train to the grounds carried large numbers of the Sunday school children with many adults, while the noon train was well filled with the grown-up members of the congregations. Arriving at the grounds the picnickers spent the day very pleasantly, and much interest was taken in a programme of sports in the afternoon.

The prize-winners were—Girls' races, varying according to ages, Gene Douglas, Freda McFarland, Ellen McLean, Grace McFarland, Pearl Cummings and Annie Howard; boys' race, varying also as to ages, Harry McDade, Jack Dempster, Kenneth Cairns, Burt Corbett, James McDade and Alexander Jamieson; young ladies' race, Miss Mildred Moore and Miss Semple; young men's race, Joseph Semple and Earl Penny; ladies race, Mrs. W. G. Stratton; ladies hammering nail contest, Mrs. W. J. Sterling; rifle shoot, Harry Dobson and E. H. Cairns; ladies' bean bag contest, Mrs. W. Stinson; men's bean bag toss, Rev. L. A. McLean; lawn baggotee, Rev. J. H. A. Anderson.

THREE ST. JOHN BOYS IN VISITING CAMBRIDGE BAND

First Official Feature of Old Home Week Will be Tonight's Concert—The Programme

The widely heralded Back to New Brunswick Week will be formally opened tomorrow, but the celebration really commences today, judging by the numbers of visitors who are arriving in the city. The special programme also commences today with a concert by the famous Cambridge City Band in St. Andrew's Rink. As this is the only feature on the official programme today, it is expected that it will be patronized by many and the fame of the band as a group of accomplished musicians should make a record breaking audience a certainty.

It is some time since St. John people have had an opportunity to hear a famous band from their own state and the Cambridge musicians should be warmly welcomed. Captain Zeally, their leader, was at one time lieutenant in Godfrey's Band, an organization of world-wide reputation, and he has brought his own band up to a standard of almost equal merit. Every member of the organization is a soloist on his own instrument, and a musical treat is provided for this evening. The band has been brought to St. John at great expense and it has been necessary to make a small admission charge, but the price of admission does not begin to represent the value that will be given.

It is interesting to note that three of the members of the band are former St. John boys. These are John D. Taylor, James L. Taylor, and H. S. Crawford. Other members of the band are also well known here. The business affairs of the band are being looked after by K. H. Wade of the writing staff of the Boston Herald.

This evening's programme is here given. There will be a complete change on each of the occasions when they will be heard here. As the rest of the week will be crowded with various attractions this evening's concert will give everyone a good opportunity to hear the famous band without conflicting with other engagements.

The programme is:

March, "Coronation," from The Prophet.
Overture, "William Tell."
Serenade, "Love in Idleness."
Coronet solo, "Honeyuckle Polka."
John E. Dyer.
Selection, "The Pink Lady."
Caryl.
Intermission.
March, "The Thunder."
Sousa.
Concert waltz, "Dolores."
Waldteufel.
Novallette.
"L'Esquiescence."
Hommer.
B. "Humorske."
Descriptive Fantasia, "Cipriani."
LeThiere.
Selection, "Red Widow."
Gebest.
March, "Back to New Brunswick."
Stevens.
(Dedicated to Old Home Week, 1912, composed by W. F. Stevens, saxophone, Cambridge City Band).
Encore numbers—latest popular hits.
God Save the King.

MORE COMPLAINTS ABOUT THE ROADS

From Fairville to South Bay Almost Impassable—Visitors From Maine Get Bumping

Dr. F. H. Neve, of Carleton, called at the Times office this morning to complain of the disgraceful condition of the road leading from Fairville to South Bay. He says that the road was in fairly good condition yesterday, but that this morning the road machine was put to work on it and has made it a hundred per cent worse. The road and material from the side of the road have been dug up and thrown into the centre of the road, making it practically impassable. In trying to get through it the doctor did considerable damage to his auto.

This method of road-making, or rather unmaking, seems to be quite popular with the government officials. Automobile parties who arrive in the city on Saturday from Maine report that the roads from Calais to St. John are shamefully bad and in need of immediate repair.

A GREAT BASEBALL WEEK

All of the ball games to be played here this week will be regular scheduled games and no doubt will be well patronized. The home team left for Fredericton today, but will play at home for the rest of the week.

Woodstock will play here tomorrow and Wednesday. The Fredericton team will be the attraction on Thursday and Friday, and on Saturday the Hamilton Reds will play a game. Plenty of baseball this week.

GAGETOWN GETS A BANK

In preparation for the great period of development which has commenced in the St. John River Valley district, the Bank of Nova Scotia, with customary enterprise, has invaded the field and has established a branch at Lower Gagetown. The office, which was opened today, will be in charge of G. M. Schurman, who has been connected with the Moncton branch. The opening up of the valley country as the result of railway construction is expected to produce a large volume of business and the Bank of Nova Scotia's new office will be a convenience to business men and others in that district.
