SEVEN THOUSAND PRISONERS AND SEVERAL VILLAGES CAPTURED BY THE RUSSIAN ARMY

DARING AIR RAID ON GREAT KRUPP WORKS

Sergeant Maxim E. Gallois, Brave French Aviator, Defies All German Anti-Aircraft Defenses and Bombards Their Armament-Producing Factories With High Explosives During Night Time.

Flies Over Many Rhenish Cities and Although Fired on Several Times Returns Unscathed — Makes Total Distance of 466 Miles and Crosses German Border Twice.

Grand Headquarters of the French Army in France, July 8, (By The Associated Press)—The most daring air raid yet carried out against the great Krupp munition works at Essen was recounted by a staff correspondent of The Associated Press today by Sergeant Maxim E. Gallois, who defied all the German anti-aircraft defenses and bombarded the German armament producing factories with high explosives, crossed the German front line twice, flew over many Rhenish cities and reached home scathless.

FLIGHT LASTED SEVEN HOURS.

The whole flight lasted seven hours, during which the daring French aviator was guided only by the moon and stars and the compass, as the voyage was made in the darkest hours of the night, the destination being reached exactly according to plans.

Sergeant Gallois narrated his story in the simplest manner. He said: "Four of us, Lieut. Ardisson De Perdiguier, Sergt. Durand, another comrade and myself, left our base at nightfall Friday with the intention of reaching Essen. Soon afterwards we ran into foggy weather and lost sight of each other. I flew at an altitude of 1,200 metres and passed over Metz and Thionville, following the course of the River Moselle, which, however, rapidly disappeared in the mist.

Batteries Open Fire.

"The batteries fired at me crossing the Rhine, and as I passed over Metz searchlights played about the sky. Afterwards I was compelled to travel by the aid of the compass, the stars and the moon.

"At Treves I saw a heavy bombardment, which I calculated was directed at my comrades. Therefore I knew I was travelling in the right direction although I did not see Coblenz. I saw the reflection of the moon on the Rhine and found Bonn. From there to Düsseldorf there was a regular use of electricity, which increased as I got further north.

"Cologne was a blaze of luminosity, and at Düsseldorf there were all kinds of lights, blue, red, and white. All the time the anti-aircraft guns fired as I passed, and around Cologne the guns were very accurate in aim.

Approaches Essen.

"Leaving there, I saw, like cliffs on the horizon, a brilliant illumination which seemed kilometres in length stretching to the left of Essen, while southward was another long line of lights coming from the factories. Arriving over Essen I rose to about 2,000 metres. I circled around, searching for a place where the lights from the workshops appeared densest. Then I threw the first bomb.

"After counting ten I dropped the second, and then the remainder of the ten I carried at similar intervals. I could not tell whether the bombs exploded, but they probably did. It was fired at many times.

"My duty done, I turned homeward, not having seen my comrades again. The motor worked with wonderful regularity all the time. I came back exactly the same way as I went and was fired at many times.

"The distance covered was 466 1/2 miles.

GEN. MACDONALD WILL LEAD THE CANADIANS

Ottawa, July 9.—(Leased wire)—Brigadier-General Archibald Cameron Macdonnell has, it is understood here, been appointed to succeed Major-General Sir Arthur Currie in the command of the first division of the Canadian Corps in France. Gen. Macdonnell is a native of Ontario.

Prefers Militia Act to Conscription Measure but Will Support Latter.

DISCUSSES DENIAL OF SIR THOS. WHITE

Claims Lord Shaughnessy Feared Recruiting Would Injure Industry.

(Canadian Press.)

Ottawa, July 9.—Hon. J. D. Hazen stated in the house this afternoon in reply to Mr. C. A. Gauvreau, that he had received $300 out of $1,200 spent in the province on advertisements on recruiting.

Gen. Hughes Talks Again.

The former minister of militia then made some observations regarding the military service bill, in response to the invitation of the premier to all members to make suggestions.

He said he preferred the militia act as it was better, more elastic, more workable, less inclined to cause friction, and more inclined to produce good results.

However, he was merely placing himself on record and he would loyally support any and every proposition enacted in the bill when finally completed.

His preferences were that the tribunals instead of being non-military and under the administration of the justice department should be placed under military control, but remain non-military in composition. The area unit, instead of being provincial should be by military districts. There should be no special exemptions for "financiers" any more than for farmers. It would have been advisable to have had registration. Clergy should not be exempt. Only the exemptions should be on account of ill-health or infirmity.

Recruiting Situation.

Gen. Hughes then dealt with the question of the falling off in recruiting, insofar as it related to statements previously made and denied, which concerned the Prime Minister and Sir Thomas White. He said that from February, 1916, to the autumn of that year the situation was unique. Men were enlisting up to February and March as they never did before in any land, the home locality plan worked well.

"Then the Prime Minister as well as the Minister of Militia," he said, "were daily, sometimes hourly, worried by a scintillating agitation. Suggestions, complaints, advice, appeals, demands, regarding recruiting were made.

CANADA WILL GET ALL COAL THAT'S NEEDED

Hon. T. W. Crothers Makes Cheering Announcement — Arrangement with United States.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, July 9.—"We are going to get all the coal we need this winter," said Hon. T. W. Crothers, when asked if he had anything to say regarding the control and licensing order placed by the United States on the export of coal to all countries, even to the countries of the allies, including Great Britain and her colonies and protectorates.

Mr. Crothers said that Mr. C. A. Magrath, the fuel controller, who is at present in New York, had made complete arrangements for Canada's normal supply of fuel from the United States.

Mr. Magrath has appointed an American expert on coal and transportation to look after the coal from the mines to the Canadian border, and from the border to the points of distribution it will be taken care of entirely by the Railway Commission under Sir Henry Drayton.

Mr. Crothers has had no report regarding the coal miners strike in Southern Saskatchewan, which is said to have taken place. When asked if such a strike was a violation of the terms of the industrial disputes investigation act, he said it was, but the miners generally had always ignored that legislation.

ence of Lord Shaughnessy was potent in this embarrassment. Both Lord Shaughnessy and Sir Thomas White complained of the number of battalions being raised in Montreal and Toronto, at the same time respectively. In the Montreal area with a total population of nearly a million there were being recruited three battalions. On our basis of 40,000 for a battalion of 4,000 there should have been at least 20 to 21 instead of three.

Toronto Enlistments.

In Toronto there were five or including two formerly authorized, but fully completed only seven were under way, whereas compared with the country districts, there should have been twelve. From one or other of these two gentlemen the following fallacious arguments were advanced: "Industries would be ruined if so many were enlisted. Farmers could not put in their crops. Munitions could not be made. The war would be over by July or August, 1916. Transports could not be had. It would take a long time to get the troops to England as only a certain number could be taken monthly."

Gen. Hughes said the tendency of the cry was not the upholding and strengthening of the troops at the front, so much as the commercial side at home. The Prime Minister certainly was worried and he was interviewed by Mr. Godfrey of Toronto, who spoke of it to the chairman of the Toronto Recruiting Association, who in turn reported to his association.

"The data may have been more or less expanded or contracted," said Gen. Hughes, "but in general terms it appears that the Prime Minister entertained the idea early in the spring of 1916 of stopping recruiting and that he felt inclined to stop it but for the fact that it could not be re-ensured."

Charges Jealousy.

"Whether Mr. Godfrey got all his impressions from the Prime Minister or from some other source was not given to the public, said the ex-minister, and he went on to assert that influences and statements were utilized to the effect that as minister of militia he was merely forming battalions (Continued on page 2)

Vienna, July 9, via London—Northwest of Stanislav, in Galicia, the first defense positions of the Austrians have been occupied by the Russians, after two days of violent fighting, says the official statement from Austro-Hungarian general headquarters today. The statement reads: "In the Carpathians and on the Upper Bystritza-Solovina the Russians threw out strong reconnoitering detachments.

"Northwest of Stanislav, after two days of fierce struggling, the first positions of our defensive works had to be left to the enemy yesterday. Extensions of the Russian gain of ground were prevented by the interference of reserves.

THE RUSSIAN OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

Petrograd, July 9.—The text of the Russian statement reads: "Western (Russian) front: In the direction of Zlochov, southeast of Brzezany, there has been artillery firing on both sides.

"In the direction of Dolina (45 miles west of Stanislav) troops of General Korniloff's army, about mid-day on Sunday, attacked after artillery preparation the fortified positions of the enemy west of Stanislav on the Lomnica front.

"Having pierced the foremost and most important positions of the enemy our troops advanced and captured in battle the small town of Jezupol and the villages of Ciezov, Pavelche, Rycho and Starylsiec.

Capture 7,000 Men.

"Our cavalry giving immediate pursuit to the retreating enemy reached the river Lukva.

"During the day 131 officers and 7,000 men and 48 guns, including 12 of heavy calibre and numerous machine guns were captured.

"Aviation: Our men dropped bombs on the railway station and town of Pink causing considerable damage. A squadron of German airplanes made nocturnal flight over Dvinsk and dropped several tons of bombs.

"Caucasian front: Under Turkish pressure our troops evacuated Penwin, Khakikin and Kaari-Shirin which towns had been occupied by our advanced observation posts."

British Statement.

London, July 9.—The official report from British headquarters in France tonight reads: "Hostile raiding parties succeeded in entering one of our advanced posts west of Warmenton and our trenches east of Laventie last night; four of our men are missing.

"The enemy's artillery was active during the day in the neighborhood of Bullecourt, Ypres and Neuport. Owing to thick mists and low clouds no aerial activity was possible on either side yesterday."

French Statement.

Paris, July 9.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads: "The activity of the two artilleries was quite spirited south of Flin as well as in the region of Hill 304. In Alsace an enemy surprise attack against our trenches in the Carpsach Wood failed.

"Belgian communication: Last evening an enemy attempt against our advanced posts south of Dixmude was arrested by the barrage fire of our artillery and machine guns. The enemy artillery was somewhat active today, especially in the region of Steenstraete.

"In the region south of Flin the artillery fighting reached a point of great violence. At midnight the Germans made a strong attack on Pantheon. It was repulsed brilliantly.

"Between Bovettes and Chevregny Ridge our troops made a counter-attack on the trenches which the enemy occupied on the preceding day. After a very lively battle, in which our energetic resistance of the enemy was broken. He was ejected from our first line on a front of about 1,500 metres.

"This brilliant success enabled us to regain a major part of the positions obtained by the enemy in his powerful attack yesterday being Pantheon and Froimont Farm.

"According to information now at hand, this attack was made with troops of three different divisions which were reinforced by special units of shock troops, pioneers and detachments of flame throwers, in all twelve battalions of fresh troops, whose attitude in the course of the action is worthy of praise. The infliction of cruel losses on the Germans is confirmed by prisoners.

"In the Champagne we repulsed attacks on our small posts along the road between St. Hilaire and St. Souple. On the left bank of the Meuse (Vardun front) we repulsed two enemy attacks on a salient which we captured yesterday west of Dead Man's Hill. In the course of patrol encounters in Parroy Forest we took prisoners."

GERARD THROUGH.

Washington, July 9.—James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, has resigned from the diplomatic service and returned to private life. His resignation was accepted some time ago, though the fact was not allowed to become known until today.

WAR WASP IS AFLOAT AT LAST

Special to The Standard.

New Glasgow, N. S., July 9.—To the cheering of whistles and the ringing cheers of an immense crowd the launching of the steamer War Wasp, was successfully accomplished at one p. m. today. Some five minutes work was all that was necessary and then the big steamer slid gracefully along the ways and took to the water like a trout.

Great credit is due Col. Cantley and his able superintendent, Mr. Levy McMillan, under whose supervision the War Wasp was constructed. She is the pioneer of a large fleet of steel steamers which will no doubt be built at New Glasgow. She is owned by the Imperial government.

EMMA GOLDMAN GETS TWO YEARS

New York, July 9.—Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, anarchists, were found guilty of conspiracy to obstruct operations of the selective draft law, by a jury in the federal court here today. Judge Mayer imposed the maximum penalty of two years in the federal prison and a fine of $10,000 upon each of the prisoners.

HUN PEACE TALK

Copenhagen, July 9.—A sharply censured Berlin despatch says that the Emperor at yesterday's audience expressed confidence in the imperial chancellor and approved Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg's course in opposing the Reichstag demand to commit Germany to peace without annexations or indemnities.

COMPULSION BILL MAKES PROGRESS

Several Members Express Opinion that Deserters Should be Sentenced to More Than Three Years.

Ottawa, July 9.—(Canadian Press.)—When the House resumed consideration of the military service bill today Sir Wilfrid Laurier asked for information as to the alternative provisions for prosecuting deserters—by summary conviction or by court martial.

Hon. Mr. Meighen explained that the alternative would cover the difference in degree of desertion, as between the man who never responded and the man who deserted after being enrolled.

Mr. Sinclair wanted to know how men convicted would be kept while under sentence, and was told that the general law would apply.

The discussion veered to the death penalty for desertion. Sir B. Murphy, of Perth thought that the three year maximum for desertion was not enough. He wanted it ten years instead of three, with a five year term for the man who failed to report.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier pointed out that the army act which had been made part of the bill provides the death penalty for desertion. He thought that, while the three year term was specified in the bill itself, there might be some doubt raised on the point.

Hon. Mr. Meighen added his assurance that the three year maximum and not the army act penalty would govern.

Frank Glass of Middlesex, and Mr. Morphy joined in a demand that the penalty for desertion be fixed by the act and not left to individual magistrates.

Mr. Boyce (Algonia) was inclined to agree that the provision for punishment, did not go far enough.

Hon. Mr. Meighen added his assurance that the three year maximum and not the army act penalty would govern.

Any man who deserted would serve his sentence and would then still be under the army act, and become a deserter after being an outlaw.

Mr. Sinclair, Guyshoro, suggested the inclusion of a clause providing for pardoning prisoners who might repent and wish to get into uniform and do their duty.

Hon. Mr. Meighen said this power already rested with His Excellency and could be exercised at any time, with repentant deserters.

After some further discussion the punitive clause stood over for consideration.

Then came clause 5, providing for the appointment of the tribunals, with local tribunals, appeal tribunals and a central appeal judge, to be established with very wide powers in order to provide for simplicity of procedure.

The clause establishing the general system of tribunals and appeal judges was adopted by a lengthy discussion occurred upon the following clause, defining the personnel of the local tribunals.

As a starter F. B. Carvell of Carleton, N. E., wanted to know what the government proposed in regard to the "board of select men" appointed by resolution of the senate and commons to name one of the members of each local tribunal. The Prime Minister said the matter had been left open, but the thought was that the board should be composed of eighteen members—two from each province. The section was allowed to stand.

The suggestion that the other member of local tribunals should be a judge was also made by Mr. Carvell and it received general support.

Hon. Arthur Meighen pointed out that the act permitted county judges to act and expressed the opinion that wherever circumstances permitted they would do so.

Hon. Wm. Pugsley referring to the appointment of judges on the tribunals remarked that unless the duty was imposed upon them by the bill they would scarcely be likely to act.

HARRIS' INQUEST WAS RESUMED LAST NIGHT AT COURT HOUSE

On Night of Assault Carlin Wore an Overcoat and Hard Hat—O'Brien Had on Peaked Cap and Handkerchief Around His Neck.

The inquest into the death of Robert Harris was resumed last night at the Court House and the remains several witnesses was adjourned until Wednesday night at eight o'clock at the same place. The evidence given showed that the night of the assault Carlin was wearing an overcoat and hard hat, and John O'Brien a peaked cap.

The first witness was Miss Rose McAlliff who testified that the deceased had frequently called at her home on Kitchener street. She had last seen him about nine o'clock on the Thursday night he died, and before that two nights before the assault. Harris told her of Carlin's plans to start the immediate construction of a series of trenches, which are to correspond exactly to those in Europe. In an interview granted a Standard representative shortly before the train pulled out last night, Lieut. Col. McAvity stated, that the course at Wakefield would be short and to the point. "We are not going to tell the officers, who are to attend the school what we have read in books, but what he actually saw, and what we did ourselves while at the front," said Col. McAvity. "It is going to be a realistic course. A series of trenches just the same as those at the front, comprising an advance, support and reserve line will be constructed."

ions and recruiting men who would never be used, and all for his own vain glory. He did not learn until that day that jealousy, envy, and overweening ambition were actuating those working against the best interests of the great cause.

Turning to the denial made by Sir Thomas White in the house on Saturday, that he had ever used the words "Canada has already done her full duty for England in recruiting in this war," Gen. Hughes said: "The finance minister on two occasions used the expression to me; on one occasion he put it in the form of question, prefacing it with the words, 'don't you think?'" On the second occasion he made the distinct statement. On another occasion, not to me, he went further and instead of using the identical words 'full duty,' the expression was 'more than her full duty.' On the second occasion, I assured him it was not for England but for Canada, for the Empire and for human liberty, that I was in the war."

APPEAL FOR FRANCE'S DAY

W. Frank Hatheway, French consular agent, has sent the following appeal to Mayor Hayes in connection with France's day at the Imperial Theatre on Thursday.

R. T. Hayes, Esq.: The magnificent efforts of France to repel and throw back the German invasion has so inspired British people everywhere that I trust you and your commissioners will feel that you should respond to the call of the Red Cross Society asking our aid for the French wounded. I met hundreds of French people in France last August and was much impressed by their enthusiasm for Canada and Canadians.

A PROHIBITION STORY

Here's a good prohibition story and it's true. A long distance phone call reached the Dufferin hotel yesterday for "Mr. Wilson." Mr. Wilson was summoned to the phone and the following conversation ensued:

"Is that Mr. Wilson?" "Yes, sir."

Well, this is Kelly of Andover, I got two lots of Scotch Whiskey here yesterday, what will I do with it?"

"Well, is it good Scotch or just 'quintal' whiskey?"

"Well, I guess it's good Scotch all right."

"Then send it right down to me here at the Dufferin Hotel, I've got a lot of day friends who'd enjoy it."

And the answer came "I guess I've got hold of the wrong Mr. Wilson" and he had.

SURELY HAYDEN, A. HAYDEN "IN A STUDY," WITH EX-MAYOR SUTTON HE TALKED SUBMARINES

Woodstock's Leading Captains of Industry "Take up" with Our Fugitive Business Propositions that Offer Some Peculiarities They Admit They Had Never Heard of.

Fox Seeks Farm Lands to Raise Goats and to Start a Snake Ranch Over in Grafton and Demands of a Furniture Man the Repair of His Sidewalk.

When Woodstock had gathered the clues Fox the fugitive left in that town the sleuths learned for the first time the chance they had to get ten dollars in easy money.

The brightest saleswoman, just a girl, at Manzer's dry goods store went out the next day on the fugitive's trail. A Toronto salesman who is personally acquainted with Fox stood by the little lady when she held up a sporty looking gentleman in an automobile drawn up in front of the store.

And this Toronto salesman "egged her on." Now that was mean of him. But he got a barrel full of fun out of it.

Clues were left at the station lunch room; at Manzer's and at Hanson's, the book store—little "tall-tales" or "tattlers" I call them.

Ex-Mayor W. S. Sutton and J. A. Hayden, president of the Electric Light Co. discussed the "floating motor wheel" with Fox the fugitive.

Mr. Post over in Grafton learned of the "snake ranch" to be located back of his house. This story appears tomorrow.

Mr. J. Albert Hayden, president of the Woodstock Electric Light and Power Company and the owner of large properties in Woodstock is now studying the possibility of the "Symonds Automatic Water Wheel" THAT FLOATS.

Now Mr. Hayden's great success in life has been due to his discernment of "financial opportunities." And while such as command his attention involve financial gains in large sums of money like all other captains of industry, Mr. Hayden does not generally pass up good things because they happen to offer small rewards. Yet the ten dollars for the capture of Fox in Woodstock "got by" him. And his friends will wonder at it.

Mr. Hayden was seated on the porch to his residence when a stranger to him introduced a new thing in water wheels.

"The latest and greatest power producer ever designed and practically demonstrated," I said to him as I handed him my card.

"Simple, economic and on a scientific principle of construction that draws greater power from flowing water than any known wheel." This introduction punctuated with superlatives "fetched him."

"The water wheel that floats!"

"Did you ever see anything like it, Mr. Hayden?"

"It rises and falls with the tide in tidal streams. No race or dam is needed. No shutting-down and opening of gates. No fall-head as you call it—is required. A simple lever that locks and unlocks the wheel in motion the wheels of industry, and stops them from moving when you want to shut down. Whenever you find a moving current of water, Mr. Hayden, a boon to humanity. A great mobilizer of dividends."

Mr. Hayden was handed printed pictures and diagrams which he received and studied carefully. There he was shown this marvellous invention. He still has the documents.

If any of his Woodstock friends would like to copy themselves of the plausibility of this "great industrial agent" Mr. Hayden will doubtless show them the prints and diagrams which Fox the fugitive left with him.

"All you need to do when you install this wizard of power, Mr. Hayden, is to anchor the wheel to the shore of the St. John river; or you can anchor it in mid-stream. It will float. It will turn. Nothing but a break-down can stop it where there is a current. When water is low or high it goes round just the same."

Yes, he could see that. With the projecting blades the wheel would have to move.

And the power it drives? Ah, indeed! That is another story which I left the gentleman to find out for himself.

Now when Ex-Mayor W. S. Sutton seated on the sofa in his own home where I had broken in on his afternoon nap, was shown this device, he scratched his head, studied the document awhile, then without expressing any opinion of his own suggested that I might well show it to the manager of the Light and Power Co. He pointed out that gentleman's residence across the street. He took the trouble to accompany me out on his porch where I thanked him for his advice and said I "guessed I would be going."

His indifference to the character of this marvellous motor wheel excited my suspicion. Did he have his own suspicion? I think so. When I saw the peculiar look his wife directed at me, then the way she looked at him, I was sure that Fox the fugitive was on her mind from the start.

When I got him on the porch away from the subtle influence of the lady I knew that my "floating water wheel" stunt was "all dough" with him.

But I had another "shot in my locker." Mr. Sutton is the proprietor of a large woodworking factory. He is an expert in woods. So I turned the subject to wooden submarines. What did he think of wooden submarines? He didn't have any opinion on that subject. He hadn't thought of it.

"The great difficulty, Mr. Sutton, is the time required, and the cost of building the steel submarine."

Yes, he admitted that.

"There is plenty of wood—and steel is not always immediately available," I persisted. I asked him if he thought wood would be too "impervious" too easily water soaked?

"What kind of wood?" he shot back at me.

"Hardwood, of course."

"Well there is plenty of hardwood around here," he answered.

"But it can't be got out at the prevailing prices. It is too heavy too handle. The cartage is too great. The cost of cutting and moving it is too much."

At last I had got him into a discussion. If not on water wheels at any rate on timber. Then I sprang my clue.

"What kind of wood do you think would make a good ELBOW FOR SUBMARINES?"

He spoke of birch. Then I thought it was time to decamp. And as he pointed out to me Mr. Hayden's house I wondered what "grudge" he might have to be worked out by turning me over to that gentleman.

"AND A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM"—Dr. Michael Clark, M. P.

I had found Mr. Hayden and his car and chauffeur at the door. And now with the doubts I had as to what might happen up there in Ex-Mayor Sutton's residence after his wife had disclosed to him her suspicions, you can understand how anxious I was to get out of the neighborhood.

And yet it was plain that my wonderful device had aroused Mr. Hayden's interest. It had got him into a deep study of the "plans and specifications" I showed him. He was evidently puzzled, for it all looked so plausible yet reason, which a successful man like Mr. Hayden would naturally invoke, would have "something to say."

How much of a current is necessary to feed this wheel? How deep would the water have to be? Those were the essentials he was puzzling himself over and the questions he put to me. And so the gentleman went on—with question after question, such as would naturally arise. And I answered each one; with caution it is true. And the best I knew how, for I realized I had to deal with a practical man and I didn't want to get summarily "snuffed out."

I appeared to satisfy him with my answers except on one point.

This wheel would require a speedy current. Why so, Mr. Hayden? Because speed is power.

"A sluggish current such as we have in the St. John would not give power."

"But it would turn the wheel?" I declared.

"To get speed, such as you might want to run your generators, Mr. Hayden, you would only have to COG UP—or BELT UP—the wheels of the necessary size, large or small."

"There are places on the river where the current would be swift enough," he went on to say.

As for "cogging up" to speed, "belting up" as I said, he passed over apparently without noticing it. His eyes and attention were held to that document.

As any reader may know I am not familiar with machinery. The remarks were a shot I fired. I took that chance, wondering how he would meet it. Without answering my suggestion directly he said:

"Speed is power. A current of water might be slow enough to turn the wheel. It might not flow fast enough to give power."

But he continued to study the document. Apparently there was something about it that was not so absurd after all.

Then he told me that his company had already decided to install another wheel or two. So you see I had stepped in at the psychological time.

I made an appointment to demonstrate it. That was the natural thing to do. He agreed to it.

"If you can show us it should be glad to have you do so."

Yet when I walked away he was still going over the document I had given him. "Let me see, Mr. Hayden. What are your initials?"

"J. A. But they all call me Albert."

"See you again, Mr. Hayden."

"Glad to have you." Then he turned to the floating water wheel document which he was still perusing when I crossed the street.

I scattered inquiries for the location of the cemetery down Queen street and Broadway. I told the workmen in the cemetery my name was "Harry Graves." One of them said he could see I was a stranger in town. I hobnobbed with the school girls on the Fisher Memorial School grounds.

I demanded of J. Vaarwa, the furniture man, that the walk in front of his place be fixed. He said he had warned the authorities.

Mr. Post in Grafton who I called out from his house was not pleased that I was to "raise snakes" in the groves back of the house. Especially as they would run from seven to twelve feet long.

"My!" he exclaimed, "those are big snakes. Are they dangerous? What kind are they?"

"Schneppers," I replied. "We'll keep them in." I assured him. But he shook his head and looked dubious for I decided as a preference to purchase Olmstead's woods right back of Post's house.

But Greeley Shea has a better grove," he urged. "It is further away from Post's property. 'It is hardwood," he said.

"No!" I responded. "They'll do better right up here. It's a better prospect and they do better in soft wood groves anyway."

MAN IN COUNTY HAS NEVER PAID TAXES

Approaching Middle Age He Has Always Refused to Pay Share of Municipal Expenditures.

"Checking up the arrearage in taxes brings to light some odd and interesting facts," said County Secretary J. King Kelley, to The Standard yesterday, and then he proceeded to tell the reporter one of them. A man nearing middle age living in the Parish of Simonds, owes the county the sum of $42.39. This man has never paid taxes to the county nor has he ever done his road work, and all he has done is to pay in any one year has been a poll tax of $1 and on an income of $100.00.

This is an extreme case, but many have not paid their personal property, income and poll tax for a number of years, and at the recent meeting of the assessors and the county secretary, held in St. Martins, it was decided to issue executions against those who are in arrears in these items.

WHY GEN. NIVELLE LOST COMMAND OF THE ARMY

Chamber of Deputies Holds Noisy Discussion of Mistakes of Offensive of April 16.

Paris, July 9.—Noisy scenes attended the public sitting of the chamber of deputies which followed a week of secret sessions at which were discussed events connected with the offensive of April 16. Premier Ribot closed the debate for the government, declaring that the April offensive was costly but that, instead of being checked, as asserted by some, it was a real success. Mistakes undoubtedly had been made, the premier said, "but we cannot rob our generals of the audacity that gives victory."

Paul Painlevé, minister of war, dwelt upon the successes obtained in the April offensive, but did not deny that serious faults were committed. He said the responsible chiefs, among them the commander-in-chief (General Nivelle), had been relieved of command. Investigations will be begun in a few days, he said, to fix responsibility and permit the government to take necessary steps.

A resolution of confidence accepted by the government was adopted in a test vote by 375 to 23.

RIFLE OR HOE.

The suggestion made by Duncan Ross, Liberal member for West Middlesex, that a clause should be placed in the military service bill completely exempting all agriculturists from military service did not commend itself to the Government and will not meet with the approval of the people. Class exemption in this case would be decidedly unwise. That agriculture is an essential industry will at once be admitted, but if the selection and exemption of men is to be carried out on a strictly "win the war" basis, as the Government proposes, it can readily be seen that there are other industries in Canada of equal value to the state.

The great need of the time is more soldiers and they should be selected from the rural as well as the urban districts of the country, for, no doubt, there are slacker on the farms as well as in the factories or offices. A case cited in Parliament by Mr. Wetche will illustrate this point. The member for North Waterloo, whose address was one of the features of the debate, said he knew of a farmer who had three sons, none of whom had offered for military service. It did not require the labor of all these to bring the farm to its limit of productiveness, and at least two of them could be spared for service in the army. Under the selective draft proposal the surplus of labor on that farm would be drafted into khaki, or, if conditions demanded it, might be sent to another farm where labor had been lost by enlistment. In any event the services of the young men would be utilized for the benefit of the country and that is the object the bill seeks to secure.

It is a mistake however to urge that all agriculturists should be exempted from service. A man who has a hill of potatoes or three or four hundred bushels of grain is serving his country, but it might well be that he could do better service with a rifle in the trenches of France and Flanders than with a hoe or flail at home. If all the farmers in Belgium had remained at their occupation when the German invasion commenced, and if the farmers of Northern France had continued to use hoes instead of rifles the war would have been over by now and the Allies would have been beaten.

The first rush of British young men to the colors resulted in hundreds of donning khaki who should have remained in civil life, but they were later returned to the essential industries they left and little harm was done by their enlisting, while there is small room for doubt that if they had not enlisted the ranks of the Allies might have been broken. Before they were sent back to the tasks which called for their expert labor, they had made glorious history.

This war must be won by fighting, no matter how necessary agriculture and other industries may be. At the same time the Government purposes to see to it that, so far as possible, the essential industries of the country are not hampered, by taking men from them for active military service. However, should it happen that farmers are required, farmers will be taken, for the man with a rifle is a more important factor than the man with the hoe at the present day. Any attempt in the direction of exempting all farmers would be most unwise and in refusing to consider such a proposal the Government has acted with wisdom.

THEY STILL HAVE A DUTY.

The demand for united action in the Canadian House of Commons did not cease with the defeat of the Laurier amendment or the passage of the Government's motion for the second reading of the compulsory service bill. Those patriotic Liberals who put their country's welfare ahead of their political affiliations and supported the measure to bring aid to the boys in the trenches still have a duty to perform. The bill is now in its most troublesome stage. It is before the House in committee of the whole and it is possible for those opposed to it to do much in the way of delay and obstruction if they so desire. Every clause of the bill, can be made the subject of prolonged and unnecessary discussion, and the Liberals who supported the principle of the legislation can do much to help it through by working with the Government in meeting all reasonable or valuable suggestions and, at the same time, refusing to permit petty criticism or undue indulgence in speech-making.

After the bill has passed the committee stage, and the work of enforcement commences, those Liberals can also do valuable service for the country. As they supported the measure in the recent debate it is their duty to see to it that its opponents do not provide obstacles against making it effective.

Mr. Robert Borden has invited all good Canadians to assist in its enforcement in order that the men required may be secured and trained as rapidly as possible and be ready for service when they will be most necessary. This co-operation should be forthcoming. It is reported that some Liberals desire to force an election before the draft is applied. If those who left their party on the conscription measure permit this they will have undone much of the good they did when they ranged themselves behind the Premier. An election before the men are secured would subject the reinforcement of our troops to delays which, above all else, are to be avoided. There would be unprecedented bitterness and confusion in a contest at the polls now and conscriptionist Liberals would find themselves in an impossible position before their constituents, for how could they square their course in approving conscription, with that of their leader who opposed it?

Liberal conscriptionists must now make their final choice. If they continue to support the Government the drafts of men will soon be made and the reinforcements on their way to the boys overseas. Also they will do much to improve the situation in Quebec. In the voting for the second reading of the bill eight provinces of Canada returned large majorities in its favor. If those provinces continue to hold that position, the ninth, which opposed it, will scarcely hold out, for whatever may be thought of the action of Quebec it is decidedly unfair to assume that that province will go to the lengths indicated by Mr. Gauthier and Mederic Martin and carry on a campaign of active opposition.

Canada, by a decisive majority, has decided for conscription and the minority must accept it in good spirit. It is believed that this will be the attitude of Quebec despite the threats of frenzied and unwise agitators, but a continuance of the support already given by patriotic Liberals in other provinces will be of material assistance in solving the problem and maintaining good feeling and harmony.

CANADA TO DO IT BETTER.

In the method of selecting men to engage in military service, Canada, under the measure which has just passed its second reading in Ottawa, scores one over the United States. In the latter country the men will be chosen by lot, after the same fashion as provided in the old Canadian militia act, but with modifications to meet present conditions.

After the work of registration has been completed across the border, the exemption boards appointed and the registered men given their numbers, these numbers will be drawn upon in Washington and the men so selected called into service. Provision is made whereby any man drawn on appeal to an exemption board which will pass upon his case. There is no provision however to exempt a proportion of men in certain industries, or to make a man's value to the state the determining factor as to whether he shall do service in the army or in civilian life. Canada plans to do this business much better than our American cousins. Here nothing is to be left to chance. When a man registers his occupation will be stated on his registration card and he will be classed by it as well as by age. The man whose place at home can most easily be filled will first be taken and the aim throughout will be to distribute the burden of service as equally as possible all over the Dominion.

Of course it is reasonable to expect the largest proportion of conscripted men will come from those parts of Canada which have most fallen short in their allotment of enlistment under the voluntary system, for the reason that they will have more fit young men than the districts which have sent practically all their eligibles to the front.

The Government will not discriminate, but will proceed on a business-like plan of selection. In this the system to be followed in this country is much superior to that by which the United States intends to fill her armies. Over the border something will be left to chance. There is no such possibility in Canada.

GOUIN THANKS THE NAVY.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier raised the question whether Canada is being defended in France. He said there was no danger of an invasion of Canada; hence by implication that Canada is in no sense bound in duty to herself to send armies to fight in France. When coalition and conscription were jointly proposed to Sir Wilfrid, the Liberal leader went at once to his friend, the premier of Quebec, for advice. Apparently Sir Lomer Gouin agreed with Sir Wilfrid that Canada is not defended in France.

A letter written by Sir Lomer, under date of November, 1916, takes a very different attitude, however. In this letter, which was addressed to the official publication of the British navy, the writer says that "we Canadians are safeguarded in our homes and liberties by the British fleet no less than are our fellow subjects of the British Isles." He went on:

"I send through you to the officers and men of the British fleet, on my account and on that of the Government of the people of the Province of Quebec our grateful thanks for the protection which they afford us."

Sir Lomer was indulging in a strange message of thankfulness to the British navy for protecting us when, according to Sir Wilfrid, we stand in no need of protection.

ROUTINE BUSINESS AT SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

Committee Named to Arrange for Formal Opening of New Bentley Street School Building.

A meeting of the School Board was held last evening in school trustees building on Chipman Hill with the following trustees present: R. B. Emerson, chairman; G. H. Green, Mrs. James Dever, Dr. James Manning, E. R. W. Ingraham, Thomas Naale, George E. Day, Michael Coll, and Dr. H. S. Bridges. A communication was read from Miss S. A. G. Muffin, a teacher in the Newman

Baby's Itching Burning Skin. Quickly Soothed by Cuticura Ointment.

It's wonderful how quickly a hot bath with Cuticura Soap followed by a gentle anointing with Cuticura Ointment relieves itching, burning eczema, rashes and chafings, permits sleep for infant and rest for mother, and points to speedy treatment in most cases when it seems nothing would do any good. This is only one of the many things Cuticura does for the skin when used for every-day toilet purposes.

ST. JOHN OFFICER'S TRIBUTE TO GREAT PATRIOTISM OF FRANCE

People Ready to Cheerfully Make Any Sacrifice for France—Political Leaders Chosen from the Peasantry—Instances of Loyalty and the "War Spirit."

The following letter written by a St. John boy who went to the front as an officer early in the war and has seen twenty-eight months of continuous service in France, tells in an interesting way his impressions of the French people. This officer is in the artillery branch of the service and has earned an enviable name for himself, as well as promotion since he went to the front.

His tribute to the French is particularly apt at the present moment in view of the appeal being made on behalf of the French Red Cross, and is as follows:—

"The French are the people among whom I have found the greatest loyalty upon the Frenchman as a weakling. He is not. The Frenchman is a politician but a straight one. The peasant is an earnest worker. The politician is the President himself. In the evenings the peasants rather in their 'estaminets' and drink their rotten beer and talk politics in a same way. They finally elect the man they want on merit alone and if their 'depute' does not suit them out he goes. The peasants and lower classes are the politicians of France. The officers of the army and diplomatic services come from the upper classes who have but little chance in politics.

Peasants and Politicians.

"The greatest political leaders in France since the days of the revolution have come from the lower classes. They say that in the 'Chamber' the greatest bunch of old farmers that could be gathered together but withal the clearest men in France also they would be thrown out. The reason for the great peasant is because France is an agricultural country and is well organized from an economical standpoint. It consists of a series of villages where farmers live and from which they go out in all directions to their farms. The series of villages is connected by series of towns which are, really, the market places. The cities in France considering the population in number of people to the square mile.

The Loyalty of France.

"A thing I have learned since coming out here is that the French emigrate very little, they love France too well. Everywhere today is evidence of the extraordinary loyalty of the French people. They are all on war ration but there is never a grumble. They are all more or less wealthy for peasants and the Banque de France can almost always show a balance of at least a few thousand francs for every farmer in the district which a particular branch serves.

A Patriotic Woman.

"Last winter we had one of many trench raids which was particularly successful and many prisoners were taken. These were brought back to a town near where our battery was. Everybody turned out to see the Boches marched through and I shall never forget an old woman who said she was over eighty. She ran down the street alongside the prisoners shouting 'Vive la France' and between the words she spat in the Hun's faces.

"Every home almost has had someone killed, wounded or taken prisoner but they are proud of the sacrifice because it is for France. In the last trench house I was billeted in the old woman made a great fuss over me because I was 'bilis.' One day I was watching her pack a parcel to her son so I went out and bought a few francs' worth of stuff to send along too. You know I can jabber along with them pretty well, and the old woman was most grateful to me.

"I had one day's holiday so I rode back to see her. Her son had been killed but she was not too sorrowful. She seemed just as glad to see me and know I was not killed. Of course they always end with 'La Guerre est triste.' 'Well, I guess that is enough of the Frenchman.'

Amusement in The War

"In spite of many hard times I really get a lot of amusement out of this old war. Almost everything and everybody interests me or amuses me in one way or another. The hardest of the boys are softened often times. One of our old roughnecks wept like a child the other night when one of his chums had to go to the front to be killed. He wouldn't let the body out of his sight and after dark had to go with it to the horse lines for the funeral. He came back with a good humor all the way through. The bad ones are in many instances the best ones."

Tom Chen, who gave evidence which might bring the case within the section, and that under a of said section, that of profit or advantage to the proprietor of the premises wherein the gaming took place. The proprietor, Lim King, specifically denied that he had any profit. Had I been trying the case in the first instance, on the presumption that the accused should receive the benefit of a doubt, I would probably have found that the charge that was laid against him was not proved, but the police magistrate who heard the evidence having decided that the case did come within the act, I will not disturb such finding, except as to the amount of the fine.

At the hearing before me the game of fan-tan was fully described by three or four of the appellants. According to such description the game itself does not come within the statute. Some of the appellants apparently played this game and no other. The stakes were not high, twenty-five cents being the limit, with the option to each player to stake as low as 5 cents only on a game. Apparently there was no one else in the game. If by reason of some other game being carried on by a portion of those present, and it is difficult to determine what portion took part therein, a charge or profit of ten cents on the dollar, as sworn to by Tom Chen and denied by the proprietor, was made, such would not be proved. These facts do not appear on the return, and I do not take them into account in coming to my conclusion, but I think I should comment upon them in the interests of the proper administration of justice. I think that the fines

HUNDRED DOLLAR FINE IMPOSED ON CHINESE CUT TO TWO DOLLARS

Fifteen Were Fined $100 Each by Magistrate Ritchie as Inmates of Gambling House—Yesterday Judge Armstrong Gave Judgment on Appealed Case and Reduced Fines.

In the County Court Chambers, yesterday morning, Judge Armstrong gave judgment in the matter of several Chinese who were convicted in the police court on the charge of being inmates of a gambling house and fined $100. The case was heard on appeal before Judge Armstrong and he reduced the fines from $100 to $2, and allowed no costs to either side. D. Mullin K.C., appeared in behalf of the Chinese and Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., in the interest of the city.

Following was the judgment: In the matter of Long Sing, Wee Pak, Hum Foy, Ho Low, Hum John, Jim Lee, Hum For, John Sing and Charlie Lim.

In the matter of Tom Loy, Tom Kok, King Sing, Charlie Sam, Fred Ling and King Su.

This is an appeal from the decision of the police magistrate of the city of St. John, convicting the appellants of being found without lawful excuse in a certain disorderly house, that is to say, a common gaming house, kept by one Lim King, at 128 Mill street, St. John. Including the appellants some twenty-two Chinese in all were arrested, including also the keeper of the premises, Lim King, who was subsequently discharged by order of the chief justice of the King's Bench Division. Six of the rest apparently forfeited their deposit in lieu of bail of $50 each.

A common gaming house under the criminal code, section 235, is defined as:

(a) A house, room, or place kept by any person for gain, to which persons resort for the purpose of playing at any game of chance or at any mixed game of chance and skill; or,

(b) A house, room or place kept or used for playing therein at any game of chance, or any mixed game of chance and skill, in which

(1) A bank is kept by one or more of the players exclusively of the others, or

(2) Any game is played, the chances of which are not alike favorable to all the players, including among the players the banker or other person by whom the game is managed, or against whom the other players stake, play or bet.

By consent, in order to save time, the evidence given before the police magistrate was read and taken as given in this court. According to such evidence there is only one witness,

CRISIS OF WOMAN'S LIFE

Change Safely Passed by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wagoner, Okla.—"I never get tired of praising Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because during Change of Life I was so miserable for two years and had two operations, but all the doctors and operators failed to do me any good, and I would have been in my grave today had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which brought me out of it all right, so I am now well and do all my housework, besides working in my garden. Several of my neighbors have got well by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. VIOLA FRITZ, Wagoner, Okla.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dizziness, drowsiness, fainting, palpitations of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, various nervous troubles, weakness and dizziness should be heeded by middle-aged women. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has carried many women safely through the crisis.

imposed are entirely too great. This is the second time that a similar raid has been made on the Chinese Core, who as a rule, though away from their families and in a strange country, are peaceable, inoffensive citizens. It seems somewhat remarkable that raids in this city on account of suspected gambling have been particularly directed to places resorted to by Chinese. It may be that there are up other violators of the law, but such probably not the opinion generally entertained. All of those who did not forfeit their bail of $50 each have already been in jail for varying periods, six of them for a month. Besides this, apparently, there were hearings or adjournments at the police court on six different days, at which all those not forfeiting their bail had to appear to be present, besides their attending on the appeal. Had the cases been disposed of promptly, the sums to which I will reduce the fines would, if fines should have been imposed, be entirely inadequate, but under all the circumstances above related, I reduce the fine to the sum of $2 each, no costs to be allowed either side, and if such sums are not respectively paid forthwith, I adjudge that each of the appellants not having such fine be imprisoned in the common jail of the city and county of Saint John, there to be kept for the term of ten days from the arrest of such one, unless the said sum of $2 and the costs of conveying the arrested to jail is in such case sooner paid.

AN ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

To the Editor of The Standard: Sir,—I have been deeply touched by the many expressions of condolence I have received in the recent sad affliction that has befallen myself and family. The untimely and cruel death of my son, Robert Harris, has evoked the sympathy of every class and creed, and I sincerely thank all who grieved with me in my sorrow. My thanks are also due to the sisters and nurses of the St. John Infirmary, and to Dr. Baxter, Kelly and White for their kind attention to him in his illness, and I am particularly grateful to the Master Plumbers' Association for their untiring efforts to locate the perpetrator of the horrid crime. I desire more especially to thank Mr. Frank Walker, my son's employer, for his painstaking efforts to assist me on the night the fatal assault was committed.

Yours sincerely,
ROBERT HARRIS.

NEWS AND COMMENT FROM THE FINANCIAL WORLD

PEACE RUMORS AGAIN HEARD IN NEW YORK

Embargo on Exports and Conflicting Crop Reports Also Disturbing Factors in Wall Street.

New York, July 9.—In the absence of countervailing factors, Wall street received with some misgivings today the news of the continuing embargo by the government over exports. A conflicting crop report and peace rumors of an unusual character also imposed additional restraints.

Stock market dealings were nominal at all times, though showing moderate activity in the heavier tone of the last hour. Occasional inquiry for rails resulted from last week's rate concessions by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Leading steel and iron shares and those of kindred equipment companies were under constant pressure, the selling evidently originating from speculative sources.

Steel Declines.

United States Steel made a good decline of 2 1/2 points to 124 1/2. Bethlehem Steel was unusually active at an extreme recession of 5 1/2 to 123 1/2 and other industrials of the same group followed two to three points.

Motors were again sought for their vulnerable qualities at reversals of one to three points and Industrial Alcohol maintained its reputation for irregularity by falling 4 1/2 points to 15 1/2, making virtually no recovery.

There were spasmodic periods of relative strength in shippings, the sellers and pooled specialties, but movements in those groups enlisted little outside support. With few exceptions final quotations were at minimum quotations of the day. Sales amounted to $10,000 shares.

The remarkably strong exhibit made by local financial institutions in last Saturday's bank statement exerted little influence other than to create greater confidence in money conditions. Call loans were freely renewed at three per cent. and as low as 2 1/2 was quoted later.

For the first time in weeks gold movements were at a standstill, neither imports or exports being reported. France or bills on Paris were strong and rubles and lire were better. Swiss exchange was at highest rates of any exchange to neutral countries.

Bonds were inclined to improve, international issues evincing a higher trend. Dealings in Liberty 3 1/2's were heavy at par to 100 1/2. Total sales, par value, aggregated $3,340,000.

United States bonds of the older issues were unchanged on call, the coupon 4's losing 3/8 per cent. on a single sale.

MOTORS ONLY STRONG SPOT IN THE MARKET

Winter Wheat Shows Decided Improvement in Crop Report — Corn Report Not Very Favorable.

(McDOUGALL & COWANS)
New York, July 9.—Short covering made the motor market the only strong spot in market. Elsewhere there was a tendency to drop away by small fractions at a time. Marine preferred was an exception with an advance of about a point from the day's low. The railroads held their ground much better in the afternoon, probably on the showing of the crop report. The government reports its first percentage estimate of condition of corn this year, slightly under that of last year and distinctly below the ten year average but as the crop is late favorable weather would enable it to improve from now on. Spring wheat lost eight points as compared with a month ago, but the indicated crop does not show a similar reduction possibly because of late planting and replanting. Winter wheat showed a decided improvement bringing it up to the condition of a year ago and only five points below the ten year average instead of ten points below as it was reported a month ago. The estimated yields reflect the great increase in acreage this year.

Except that the rails hardened the market paid no attention to the crop report and closed with industrial soft. Manufacturing concerns are more immediately concerned with government orders and prices than with the state of the crop.

OUTSIDE INTEREST IN THE STOCK MARKET

Many Enquiries Being Received by Brokers — General Crop Outlook Favorably Commented on by Bankers.

(McDOUGALL & COWANS)
New York, July 9.—The general crop outlook is being very favorably commented upon in the leading banking circles. There is no longer any uneasiness in evidence on this account although it is realized that grain crops will not be record-breaking. Granger stocks showing a good margin of safety over dividends are being bought by active investors where yield is high.

The nature of telephone inquiries now coming to many brokerage houses from outside shows that active interest is maintained in the stock market and will respond to any encouragement by the market leaders such as U. S. Steel. The motor and copper unsettled following the rate decision has had the effect of only checking activities.

Well informed R. F. financial circles are reported to be buying St. Paul stock on a scale down that was sold in preparation for Liberty loan subscriptions. Some of that selling included institutions. The opinion is held in these quarters that a radical dividend cut has been discounted by the preferred stock. Production of copper ore has exceeded smelting and refining capacity, says a prominent New England institution. The output of the metal can go forward three months without worry to refiners. These specialties are being recommended by active market channels as likely to show substantial improvements in the next few weeks: American Writing Paper, Pittsburg Coal, American Can, Republic Steel and Ry Steel Spring. The private borrowing demand shows a substantial increase. Studebaker reflects a big shortage.

FINANCIAL COMMENT

(McDOUGALL & COWANS)
New York, July 9.—Wall St. Journal—Big interests and the public are awaiting primarily a settlement of the price problem at Washington. The market is in a waiting position with creeping bullish tendency. Fixing war taxation and the German chancellor's expected peace speech are restricting factors. There is a larger short covering in rails in the new granting of higher freight rates in central freight territory. Bullish reports are noted on Crucible, Marins preferred, Mexican Petroleum, and equipment stocks.

NEW POTATOES ARE PLEASURABLE IN MARKET

Flour Uncertain as Government May Control Mills—Butter and Eggs Easier—Hogs Higher.

Toronto, July 9.—The following comment on the market situation as regards food stuffs appears in the Canadian Grocer:
There is an uncertain tone to the flour market, due to the possibility in large measure to speculation as to what the Controller is likely to do. In the United States it is anticipated that the food controller may take full control of the purchase and distribution of flour that millers will come under this control. This would place the handling of the flour in the hands of the government. Should this be effected in the United States there is strong probability that it might have a bearing on the Canadian situation as the food controllers of both countries are avowedly working in harmony. There was a decline in flour during the week.
Sugar held in steady position, although there was a disposition to look for higher prices in view of the advancing market in the United States. Butter was in easier market, declines having been recorded, due to the big production. Eggs are also easier in price, but there is a disposition to anticipate the bottom of the market prices. But the condition of that sort inevitably brings liquidation and liquidation has not been in evidence for many weeks.
The most active stock of the day was Scotia Steel 290 shares being dealt in at 97 1/2 to 97 with 97 1/2 bid at the close against 98 at end last week. Dominion Iron on dealings in about 100 shares declined 1 1/2 to 68. Steel of Canada on a still smaller turnover advanced 1 1/2 to 57 3/4, and was quoted a shade higher for the day at 57 5/8 bid. Canada Steamship common was moderately active at 43 or unchanged with preferred 1-8 down for the day at 80 1-8, after selling at 80. Detroit also showed a moderate degree of activity, about 250 shares changing hands at a decline of 1 to 106 1-2 new low price for the year. Quebec Railway widened 1 to 18, but closed 1 1/2 bid and similarly British after selling off 1 1/4 to 39 3/4 closed 39 1-2 bid. Cement 5-8 higher at 60 3/4, and Converters which maintained its recent rise to 42 1-2 were firmer features in balance of list.
Dominion war loans continue to register improvement the second at 94 5/8, and the third at 94 7/8, establishing new high prices for the current recovery. In small lots the third loan sold at 95.

MONTEAL MARKET VERY TAME AFFAIR

Scotia Steel Most Active Stock of Day — Dominion War Loans Continue to Improve.

(Special to The Standard).
Montreal, July 9.—Price fluctuations in Canadian stocks were limited to small fractions today and with the volume of business less than 2,000 shares it followed that the market was as devoid of feature as it was through the greater part of last week. Anything that might be said in explanation of dullness could only be a repetition of what already has been said. The market is resting on dead centre, strong enough, in a sense, to be proof against occasional weak spells such as New York experienced this afternoon, but still more indifferent to favorable developments as they arise.
As a reflector of current sentiment with respect to commercial and financial conditions of the country the market has become valueless. The only alternative would be the conclusion that perplexities of the country have become too acute to be expressed in the usual rise and fall of market prices. But the condition of that sort inevitably brings liquidation and liquidation has not been in evidence for many weeks.
The most active stock of the day was Scotia Steel 290 shares being dealt in at 97 1/2 to 97 with 97 1/2 bid at the close against 98 at end last week. SPORTS... THISTLES "SKUNKED" O'CONNOR'S ACTORS IN LAST NIGHT'S GAME. The Game Finished 7-0—At No Time Did Maples Have a Ghost of a Chance—Team Weakest in the League—Need Better Material to Draw Crowd.

In a game marked by a small attendance, little enthusiasm and the absence of sensational plays, the Maples went down to defeat before the Thistles last night. The score when the game was called stood 7-0. The Thistles have everything their own way from the first inning, and still the last O'Connor's followers were not in the game at all, as far as batting was concerned, although they did do very well in the field. Since the opening of the season the team seems to be drifting backward, and unless some new material is added to the bunch it is doubtful if they will draw enough people to pass the hat. Over the backbones of the aggression, was not in uniform last night, which accounted to some extent for the poor showing made by the Maples.

As for the Thistles they did not have to exert themselves one bit. Everything appeared to come their way, and when there are any soft maps to pick up it does not take Deyver's supporters long to do so. Starting away with three at a lead in the first, they managed to add to this total every inning, with the exception of the fourth. With the stick Haggerty was the leading man, having no less than two hits to his credit. It is nothing short of marvellous the way that boy has picked up this season with the willow. Last year he earned the name of "Hitless" Haggerty, but the fans have re-christened him, "Missless" Haggerty, this season on account of some wonderful improvement in his hitting.

A noticeable feature in the game last night, was the live way the players handled themselves. The outfielders when the last man was down were in the diamond walking to the bench with the members of the infield. This is more like real baseball, and more than one has remarked that the Thistles were not slow in taking a tip.

It looks as though the Maples will go through the season without those long-promised uniforms. There may not be a whole lot in a uniform, but one thing is certain, players are not going to take the chance of tearing a pair of dress pants sliding to the bags. Dress them up O'Connor, even if you have to doll them out in white overall.

Houlton, Me., July 9.—The potato fields throughout Aroostook county are in splendid condition and have so far advanced to the drawbacks of the late season have been overcome. A large crop is in prospect. The hay crop is also in excellent condition and a large yield is anticipated. Most farmers expect much lower prices for potatoes this fall. WEDDINGS

Conway-Murphy. At the Church of the Sacred Heart, Sydney, C. B., on Thursday, Miss Mary Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Murphy, and Mr. F. Louis Conway, of Hampton, were married by Rev. D. H. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for a honeymoon through the province, reaching the groom's home on Friday night, where a reception was held. The bride was the recipient of many valuable and useful presents, including silver, cut glass, china and several cheques, including a substantial one from her father.

The gifts to the bride were costly and beautiful, comprising cut glass, silver, china, glass, etc., while many tokens of esteem found their way to the groom. Are You an Asset to Canada—or are You a Liability? ARE you helping to win the War? Or could Canada put up a better fight without you? Are you working—saving—paying—to back up the men at the front? Or are you loafing—wasting—spending on selfish indulgences the money that should be loaned to the Nation? Man-power is at a premium! The time and strength of every man in Canada should be devoted whole-heartedly to really useful work—work that will help, directly or indirectly, in the struggle. Food is short the world over! Every housewife in Canada should devote herself earnestly to the problem of conserving it—of feeding our people well, yet economically and without waste. Everyone should save—and lend the savings to the nation! Canada needs every dollar you can invest in War Savings Certificates, and for every $21.50 you loan now, she will repay you $25.00 at the end of three years—or you can get your money back at any time. Certificates are issued in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, which may be purchased at $21.50, $43 and $86 respectively, at any Bank or Money Order Post Office.

"THE ELUSIVE DOLLAR."

Many of our citizens are so intent upon grabbing the dollar immediately in front of their eyes that they neglect to hold fast to the dollars already in their hands.
 Every dollar you spend for goods made elsewhere flies away with a value that rightfully belongs to your community. Home values increase in proportion as we spend our money for goods made at home. Home values disappear with every dollar we spend for goods made elsewhere.
 Examination of the articles produced at home will not only prove to you the great growth of local manufacturing but will serve also to show you the way to aid in the prosperity of the community by giving articles of home manufacture the preference when making purchases.
 We, as individuals, whenever possible should encourage our local industries and support local institutions by showing our preference for home products.

ST. JOHN'S CASE OF RETURNED SOLDIERS FINALLY TURNED DOWN BY CARTER-FOSTER GOVERNMENT

The Shabby Treatment of Captain Joseph P. McPeake, a Returned Hero — New Government Also Having Difficulty Over Appointments to Valley Railway Directorate and Clerk of Executive Council—Party Squabbles in Lancaster

The Carter-Foster government is having difficulties over the appointment of the directors of the Saint John and Quebec Railway Company. The government will meet in Fredericton this week and it is expected that at the meeting the resignations of Hon. W. E. Foster and Hon. C. W. Robinson, as directors, will take place. The appointment of a new director is understood to be on the tapis. Friends of W. E. Sculley, a member of the government ticket in this city in the recent election, are putting forward his claims for a position on the directorate. Mr. Sculley has no doubt strong claims for the position, and while he himself is not making the agitation, his friends are interesting themselves on his behalf. They rightly claim that Mr. Sculley has the qualifications for the position and that he should be appointed. But for some unaccountable reason the government is showing some hesitancy in making the appointment. It is rumored that there are others in the field. If Mr. Sculley is not appointed, his friends will be naturally displeased and there are rumors of serious disruption in the party ranks in this city.

At its coming meeting the government will also be called upon to take action in the matter of the appointment of a successor of the late J. Howe Dickson, K. C., as clerk of the executive council. Several names are being mentioned for this position. Among others is that of Mr. J. B. Jones, former liquor license inspector for the city of St. John. When active politically Mr. Jones gave valuable support to the Liberal party, and his friends were not at all pleased with the treatment he received from the new government in the appointment of the inspectors for the enforcement of the prohibitory law passed by the Murray government. Mr. Jones is well qualified for the position of clerk of the executive council and the appointment would be satisfactory to both political parties. But like their stand on other matters the government does not appear to know what to do. There are rumors that it is the intention of the new administration to combine the duties of the clerk of the council with those of deputy attorney general. A knowledge of the law is quite an asset

"TOURIST SEASON IN DIGBY GOOD AS LAST YEAR," SAYS RESIDENT

Notwithstanding the fact that certain restrictions have been placed upon the migration of Americans from the United States to Canada it appears to have very little effect upon the tourist situation in Nova Scotia. This is most noticeable in Digby, the Nova Scotia home of American citizens. In conversation with W. Agate, the prominent hotel man of Digby, he informed the Standard that there seems to be a very little falling off in the number of pleasure seekers this year. Asked by the Standard if there were as many gentlemen tourists as previous years, he replied that he was of the opinion that there were.

This condition does not prevail in New Brunswick, states those in a position to know the tourist business. As for St. John it is doubtful if things were ever so quiet in the hotel business. A proprietor of a local hotel told the Standard last night that he did not know how the other fellows were doing, but it was "mighty quiet" that there were.

The latest McGill graduate in St. John to join the colors is Dr. Edmond Lunney, who has joined the medical branch. Dr. Lunney is a brother of

ST. JOHN'S VALUATIONS AND TAX RATE IN COMPARISON

N. S. City Raises Three-Quarters of Assessment on Land and Improvements. Spends Half as Much Again on Education—Has No Income Tax.

Mayor Hayes has prepared the following comparison of the tax rate and valuations of the cities of St. John and Halifax. It will be seen that Halifax values land and improvements much more highly than St. John over three quarters of the total valuation being in those two items. They also get nearly twice as much from the banks as St. John does, but do not put incomes in their valuation and receive but $4,000 from polls against over $29,000 for St. John. For patriotic purposes the Halifax taxpayers are called upon to pay 11 cents on the hundred dollars against the 30 cents for St. John, but this is accounted for by the fact that Halifax is assessed for but a small portion of the fund, the balance being obtained from subscriptions, while St. John is assessed for the entire amount. Another interesting comparison is found in the amount spent for schools. In Halifax 81 cents of the $2.24 is for that purpose, while in St. John only a little over 54 cents of the $2.48 is for the schools.

The valuation figures are:—

	St. John.	Halifax.
Land	$ 7,362,800	$10,224,810
Improvements	14,378,000	20,728,200
Personal	12,720,000	36,377,800
Income	6,788,000	—
Polls	29,384	4,000
Banks	29,482	45,000
Total	41,283,800	37,330,810
Total for	—	—
Patriotic	52,858,800	37,330,810

YOUNG BARRISTER RESIGNS COMMISSION TO ENLIST IN RANKS

Son of Former Judge Cockburn Reports for Duty with 9th Siege Battery Here—Has Infantry Commission.

George H. F. Cockburn, the well known St. Stephen barrister, reported for duty with the 9th Siege Battery under Major P. W. Wetmore, at Partridge Island yesterday afternoon. Mr. Cockburn is the son of former Judge M. N. Cockburn, one of the leading members of the New Brunswick Bar. He is a graduate of the Dalhousie Law School at Halifax. Mr. Cockburn holds a lieutenant's commission in the Infantry, having successfully completed a qualifying course at the Royal School of Infantry at Halifax. In view of the fact that no new battalions have lately been authorized, Mr. Cockburn decided that he would enlist in the ranks and consequently has joined Major Wetmore's battery as a gunner. Mr. Cockburn is one of the most promising of the younger barristers of New Brunswick. For the past year he has been the clerk of the Charlotte County court, but the Carter-Foster Government removed him from office because of his political faith.

His father who was considered by all as one of the best judges of the Probate Court in the province was also removed from office for the same reason.

NEW MOTOR APPARATUS FOR THE SALVAGE CORPS

Made Its First Appearance on the Streets Yesterday—Was Much Admired—Most Modern of Its Kind in Canada.

The new motor apparatus for No. 1 Salvage Corps and Fire Police made its first appearance on the streets yesterday afternoon, and as the large bright red machine passed along the principal thoroughfares it was greatly admired by the citizens. On each side are large gold letters "S. C. & F. P." while printed on each side of the hood are the words "St. John's".

The machine was brought to St. John last year and the body of the wagon was constructed and placed in position by Andrews & Wilson, carriage makers and blacksmiths, 14-16 Lansdowne Avenue. The work turned over by the local firm is all that can be desired.

At the rear of the driver's seat is a large box in which will be carried the coats and helmets of the corps' members, while there is also a place for the carrying of lanterns, etc. The rear box is constructed with two long boxes for the members to sit on while going to and from fires. The tops of these boxes open and inside is plenty of room for the many rubber covers used to salvage goods from water damage.

Commissioner of Safety McLellan states that the new machine is one of the most modern of its kind in Canada and should come up fully to the requirements of the department. It is further announced that before
