ONLY ONE WEEK LEFT TO HELP YOUR FAVORITE CANDIDATE

Last Special Offer Closes Next Monday Night—Win the Largest Prize Vote Ballot, It Will Help You When the Final Count of Votes is Made.

This is a very important week and perhaps the most important week of the whole drive, as this is the week for special offers. It is last but not least, and the reason for this is that there are fifteen prize vote ballots given this week to candidates who turn in the most cash on subscriptions to the Graphic between the dates of July 16th and July 23rd.

The first prize vote ballot is for 1,000,000 bonus votes. The candidate who wins this large prize vote ballot will not only better her position in the vote standing, but she or he will prove to his or her friends that they mean real business this week and out to win chief honors in the Graphic's Big Prize Contest. Don't forget that the chief honor in the contest is a Durant "Sport" Touring Car with a cash value of $1545.00. There are fourteen other prize vote ballots, but you should make a special effort this week to win the big one which will credit you with a million and a half bonus votes.

Besides the prize vote ballots given this week, candidates should bear in mind the great importance of securing new subscriptions, second payments of new subscriptions and second payments of old subscriptions. Most votes will win the free autos and the rest of the valuable prizes, and most votes are given for new subscriptions, second payments of new subscriptions and old subscriptions. On every subscription you secure this week which is for more than a year in length, candidates will get credit for 100,000 extra votes for each year secured over one year whether new or renewal, plus the regular votes given for subscriptions, and you should show your friends how much they can help you by paying you two or three years more in advance. If you feel that your territory has been well worked and that all of your friends have given you a year, why not see them all again and get another year or more from them. The second year counts a great many more votes than the first year, and as votes are the main requisites in winning the valuable prizes, you should, therefore, do your utmost from now until the closing hour to secure every possible vote that you can, as the votes on a very few subscriptions may just be the means of you winning a big touring car instead of one of the smaller prizes. Why not make that special effort now? Don't wait until the last day. It is votes that you need and everybody is getting them these last days of the big drive.

Candidates will have up until a week from Saturday night, July 23rd at 8:00 o'clock, to turn over votes, subscriptions and cash to correspond with same in the ballot box. Only the candidate himself or herself will know what she or he deposits in the ballot box the last hour. This is the fairest method ever devised to secure secrecy to all concerned. The names of the men who will count the votes will be announced in next week's issue of the Graphic. The results of the contest, that is, the winners of the prizes, will most likely be known by 10:00 o'clock the same evening of the campaign close, July 28th.

A full list of the closing rules for next week, and full information regarding the subscriptions you secure next week will be found in the contest page "ad" today. Read them over carefully and if there is anything that you do not understand, telephone or come in and see the campaign manager, and he will be glad to explain fully to you. Whatever else you do, make every minute count this week.

MRS. C. FAIRLEY WINS PRIZE
Comes Out in Lead in Special $1000.00 Cash Prize Offer.

Mrs. Chester Fairley of Campbellton is declared winner of the $1000 special cash prize which came to a close last Tuesday night. Mrs. Fairley is to be congratulated on winning this wonderful extra prize and wishes to thank her many friends for helping her in such a splendid fashion. This places Mrs. Fairley in an excellent position and she is out in real earnest this week to secure every vote that she can as she knows that the time for vote getting is short and she also realizes that most votes will win the big Durant Special "Sport" Touring Car the week from next Saturday night.

INJURED WHEN CAR LEAVES RAILS
Geo. Gallant Has Leg Broken When Railway Motor Car Goes Over Bank.

When a gasoline motor car which he was driving left the rails and ran over the embankment on Saturday afternoon of last week near Miller'sville on the International branch of the Canadian National Railways between here and St. Leonard, George Gallant of this place sustained painful injuries which will likely confine him to the hospital for several weeks.

Mr. Gallant, who is well known here as roadmaster on the St. Quentin sub-division between Campbellton and Edmundston and at the time of the accident was making one of his usual trips over this section of road. The derailment was apparently due to some stones on the track. The car not only left the rails but toppled over the embankment which was about six feet in height at that point. Unable to jump in time to escape injury, Mr. Gallant went with the car breaking his left knee and painfully bruising his left leg.

The unfortunate man was taken to Campbellton on the Saturday express train that evening. From his home here he was removed to the Hotel Dieu Hospital where he may be necessary for him to remain for several weeks. Mr. Gallant's many friends will be glad to learn that he was reported this morning as improving very favorably.

GUESTS OF HON. FRED AND MRS. MAGEE, PORT ELGIN
The Big Annual Bazaar at the Rink is now in full swing having opened yesterday afternoon. Last night huge crowds visited the building to view the many attractions. The local band was also in attendance and rendered many excellent selections. Many people from the surrounding country are also attending and this year's event gives promise of being even last summer's success.

EMINENT PHYSICIAN AT S.M. HOSPITAL

Dr. MacEachern Declared Institution a Fully Approved Standardized Hospital.

Dr. MacEachern of Vancouver, B.C., connected with the standardization of hospitals in Canada was in town last Friday on his annual inspection tour of hospitals throughout the Dominion and after thoroughly inspecting the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital declared it a Fully Approved Standardized Hospital. The distinguished visitor was greatly pleased with the institution in every way and was both enthusiastic and voluminous in his praise.

Dr. MacEachern is an eminent physician being Director General of the Victorian Order of Nurses of Canada and Assistant Director General of the American College of Surgeons, having head offices at Ottawa and Chicago. On being conducted through the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital the eminent visitor expressed himself as being delighted with the institution and properly organized and harmonious working of the various departments, and immediately classified it as a fully equipped standardized hospital. He incidentally expressed his satisfaction with the building itself the equipment and accommodation, the X-ray machine which has now been in operation for some ten months and the complete fitting up of all smaller details in each department. He also made special mention of the spacious and well-lighted operating-room, the immaculate cleanliness of the wards and kitchen and of the splendid atmosphere of systematic order which was maintained in the institution.

Dr. MacEachern also visited the Nurses' Home which is located in a new cottage opposite the hospital building which was purchased last Autumn. Here the eminent physician found things equally satisfactory and congratulated the Matron and nurses on the admirable living conditions of the hospital staff. He also spoke in the most complimentary terms of the general appearance and efficiency of the student nurses who appeared in their smart and becoming military blue and white uniforms.

In the afternoon Dr. MacEachern spoke to the Board of Management the Ladies' Aid Society and the medical and nursing staff of the hospital. Owing to the fact of the meeting being necessarily called in a hurry, it was impossible for all to attend. This circumstance was regretted by all these present as the visiting physician proved a most interesting and inspiring speaker. In the course of his remarks Dr. MacEachern spoke at some length and with much feeling upon the idea of a "Soldiers' Memorial Hospital." He paid a glowing tribute to the people of the town and those of the Baie de Chaleur district who had contrived to make their expression of lasting gratitude to our War Heroes in such a splendidly practical form. The speaker declared that it was eminently fitting that a monument erected to the memory of those who fought and died for the cause of freedom should take the form of such a modernly equipped edifice of mercy. He congratulated those present on behalf of the hospital's supporters on the splendid success of their undertaking and gave a stirring message to encourage and spur them on to even greater achievement.

The address, though seemingly all too brief, was most inspiring and His Honor Judge McLatchey heartily thanked Dr. MacEachern on behalf of his audience for his splendid message of encouragement. He recalled some of the seemingly insurmountable difficulties which had been successfully mastered and declared that Dr. MacEachern's visit and his words of praise would undoubtedly prove a great incentive to increased effort on the part of all those interested in the institution.

Dr. MacEachern also alluded to the hospital's grounds and general location of the hospital in flattering terms and declared the view to be had from the hill-top and the upper part of the building as one of almost ineffable beauty.

LABRADOR PARTY HAS RETURNED

No Gold in Sight But Seven Local Gentlemen All Well Pleased With Trip.

The prospectors have returned. The party of seven local gentlemen and one Montreal man which left here about two weeks ago to investigate the gold rumors emanating from the Labrador Coast arrived home yesterday all well satisfied with their holiday trip.

It must not be supposed that the gentlemen referred to started on their cruise with hopes of discovering fabulous wealth. The legends of untold wealth awaiting the gold digger in Labrador served as an inspiration for the trip but none of the party were much surprised to find the gold rumors apparently unfounded.

In conversation with the Graphic's representative this morning one of the party declared that the originator of the "gold stories" must have been wrongly informed or else had circled about truth what was merely a figment of his imagination. He declared, however, that all members of the expedition were greatly pleased with their trip and were glad they had gone. He added, however, that he would not agree to spend the rest of his life in that country even for the handsome sum of one million dollars.

The party consisted of seven local gentlemen: Messrs. Joseph Boudreau, Sr., T. J. Bourque, Mgr. of the Provincial Bank here, Geo. F. Myles of the C. N. R. Superintendent's Staff, O. Arsenault, St. Francis, Alex. Maltais, postmaster at Maltais on the Seven Mile Road and Lionel Roy and D. A. McKee of Montreal. The party left Quebec on Saturday, July 7th at one o'clock in the morning taking passage on the S. S. "Guide" a regular freight and passenger steamer which runs along the North Shore. Incidentally there are three steamers which cover this same route, the other two being Government vessels, the S. S. "Labrador" and the S. S. "North Shore."

Sparingly Populated.

The country along what is known as the North Shore is sparsely populated and most of the villages are inhabited by only from one to two dozen families. The party's first stop was at Goubaud about 240 miles from Quebec City. While the steamer unloaded freight there the members of the expedition had time to look over the village which consisted of only about three dozen people. At this point as well as at most other places along the coast the chief industry is fishing. A lumber mill is being erected however and a large wharf is also under construction.

The second stop-over on the trip was made at Eskimo Point about 500 miles from Quebec. The inhabitants here which were more numerous were found to be mostly former natives of Newfoundland. The people of that locality live entirely by fishing. (Continued on page 8)

SIGNS OF PROGRESS

Manitoba has rejected the proposal of the Beer and Wine League for the sale of beer and wine with meals in licensed hotels. The sale of beer and wine under these conditions would pave the way for the return of the open bar—and the open bar must never return. The very large majority which voted down this proposal shows that while Manitoba is in favor of proper government control and sale of all liquors for beverage purposes, the people are strongly opposed to any move which might further the interests of the "wets" or prove the opening wedge for the return of the open bar with its attendant evils. The result of the recent vote speaks much for the good sense of the people of Manitoba, for although they admitted the many weaknesses of their Prohibition Act—which is very similar to the act in force in New Brunswick—they nevertheless, unhesitatingly rejected a proposal which would ultimately lead to the re-establishment of the bar.

The cause of prohibition has progressed slowly but incidents such as the one referred to above seem to bear testimony to the fact that the people are gradually recognizing the benefits of the law. The greatest step forward was made in 1917 when the open bar was abolished and on that foundation the temperance people have been slowly but steadily building a fortress of right thinking which the liquor men will find hard to overthrow. There must, however, be no slacking of effort. There is also great danger in placing too much significance upon that unpopular word "prohibition." Nothing much is ever gained by saying "Thou Shalt Not." It is the duty and also the privilege of those actively interested in the temperance cause to point the better and wiser way rather than attempt to employ the method of force. More attention also should be paid to the education of the young in regard to temperance. The destiny of the "old soak" is more or less obvious, the punishment of the illicit manufacturer of or dealer in intoxicating liquors is a matter for officers of the law to determine, but the trend of the young towards temperance is something we should seek to check, for their well-fare is a matter which essentially places responsibility upon every adult shoulder. Whatever effort is put forth in this connection should be carefully directed and liberally supported. It is obviously a most worthy endeavor and one of inestimable potential influence, for not only will the purpose of prohibition be served but our future citizenship might also be elevated to a higher moral status as a result of the principles of temperance and better living having been inculcated in the minds of the young.

SUMMER ACTIVITIES

AMONG THE YOUNG

This is the camping season. The brief but delightful period of the year when all of us, both young and old, like to escape our responsibilities for a week or two and get away to the beach or somewhere in the open and temporarily forget the dull, monotonous grind of the year's duties. Parties of campers are scattered through the country everywhere; the white gleam of canvas tents can be seen through the trees by the sides of lakes and rivers and along the seashore, the cheery glow of bonfires nightly casts picturesque shadows in quiet places which campers have chosen for their holiday rest and the laughter and song of happy, carefree voices reverberates through the woods. Older people—all those who can afford it—are having their annual outing. What about the young folks?

In most towns and cities in the province work—it is really welfare work of a kind—is being taken care of in an adequate way. A few days ago the boys of St. David's Church, St. John, in charge of the pastor, Rev. Hugh Miller, formerly of St. Andrew's Church, Campbellton, and another gentleman, returned from a camping expedition on the St. John River. They had a wonderful time. Swimming, canoeing, baseball and many other healthy outdoor sports were indulged in and the boys returned rested, refreshed and well contented to return to the coming months of work at school or elsewhere with renewed zest. In many other places similar expeditions are being enjoyed by the young under the organized direction of different societies and associations. There is no doubt as to the beneficial effect of these summer outings for boys and girls. From a standpoint of health alone they are of inestimable value.

So far this summer nothing of this nature has been undertaken in Campbellton, and there is no excuse for this, although it is exactly the kind of thing which is enjoying better financial conditions every year. That fact is evident from the annual increase in business and the increasing expenditure for luxuries. And as far as facilities are concerned no town is more admirably equipped than Campbellton. The C. G. I. T. and C. S. E. T. organizations might as well arrange fine summer outing programmes for their members which would undoubtedly tend to stimulate interest in the work of the association.

tion, throughout the rest of the year. Obviously too little attention is being given to organized work among and on behalf of the young in our town. The Graphic has spoken frequently on this matter urging greater effort and more co-operation on the part of leaders and all those interested. Apparently very little interest has been aroused. The reason is not for to seek but sometimes it is best not to talk about reasons. The ultimate effect of continued negligence, however, is something that will eventually concern everyone. Properly organized work among the young people is something that must not be neglected. If it is, the possible result on our future citizens may be unpleasant even to contemplate.

RESPECT FOR OUR FLAG.

Campbellton is justly known as a patriotic town. During the world war she sent an admirably large number of first class fighting men to the aid of the Mother Country, many of whom won lasting fame on the blood-red fields of Flanders. She also distinguished herself by making numerous contributions to Red Cross and other necessary wartime work. In addition she bears the enviable distinction of having one of the few hospitals in the whole Dominion erected as a monument to the men of this district who paid the supreme sacrifice in the great struggle. Yet with this most honorable record those in charge of some sewerage work permitted a Union Jack and a Canadian flag to be stuck up in the mud and used as signs to divert street traffic.

If those responsible for the breach of respect to the emblem of our country can give logical reasons why our flag should be lowered to the undignified position of a mere mud-spattered sign-board, where a piece of red cotton would have done equally as well, we will withdraw our objections. But we can not readily see why the Union Jack which is a symbol of so many things we prize and revere, and of so many traditions we hold dear, should be subjected to such obvious, if thoughtless, insult.

It is safe to say that a similar thing would never occur in the United States. Even with its huge polyglot population composed of a dozen different nationalities there exists in that country a great reverence for their flag. We are not "flag-crazy," an accusation which has frequently been charged against our American cousins, but in the maintenance of fitting respect for the flag there attaches a kindred reverence for country which is essential to the growth of a unified empire.

We noticed this morning that the flag referred to have been replaced by a piece of red cotton, but we trust those who placed them in the mud a few weeks ago may think twice before repeating their error. Lord Byng of Vimy, Governor General of Canada is to pay us a visit in September and to see one or more Union Jacks dragging in the mud of a street in repair might, in spite of our record of patriotism, give him an impression of Campbellton and its citizens which we would rather not convey to his mind.

WHERE TO BUY

Some people are possessed of the idea that an article purchased outside the home town takes on an odd value, although it is exactly the same thing sold at the same price, or even cheaper at home. Of course people who think this are deceiving themselves so far as actual values go. It may be worth the time and trouble and extra expense out of town trading entails, just to cater to their wrong conception, but they ought to know that in the main they are "kidding" themselves. Other things being equal and they generally are, the home merchant has a right to expect the patronage of home people. He is an established part of the community, he contributes to the community and social life of the town. His contribution to the tax revenue of the town depends upon the size of his business, and he is in every way the logical man with whom to do business for the benefit of the community. When Campbellton people spend money in outside towns for things that can't be purchased at home, just as advantageously as out of town, they are helping to support the schools, the streets, the sidewalks, the fire protection, and all other governmental activities of those outside places. They are not helping Campbellton to maintain itself and are actually lessening its ability because they are dumping it an indirect revenue, that belongs to the home town. It is easy to think that the other fellow

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be big days at The Mission. On those days the annual bazaar in aid of St. Anne's Church will be held. Thursday evening the singing society will make a late trip leaving Cape Point at 10:30. This will enable friends from this side to see the concert that evening. Dinner and refreshments will be served each day. Amusements of all kinds will be provided.

ICE CREAM PARTY.

Recently little Myrtle Goodwin was a patient in the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital, where she received the good treatment and the attention of the nurses. Her gratitude took a very practical form one day recently when she and her little chum Jennie Veniot gave an ice cream party at which $6.00 was realized. This amount they took to Miss Bliss, matron of the hospital.

AUTOMOBILE BULLETIN.

The New Brunswick Automobile Association is issuing a handy little bulletin to its members, giving particulars regarding road conditions not only in this province, but also in the surrounding territory. The July issue of the bulletin, known as the N. B. A. News, contains the information that camping sites are being prepared or already in operation at St. John, Fredericton, St. Andrews, Pocologan and Sackville. The association is having a new road map of the province prepared and it will be ready in a few days. Several favorite comments on the new slogan, which have been placed along the roads, have been received at the local office of the Association.

BASEBALL.

With the elimination of the Colts from the local league there are but two postponed games to play to complete the series. These matches have been scheduled for Friday and Monday nights, July 20th and 23rd respectively. Both games are between the C. N. R. and Cubs and with the C. H. S. now in the lead the approximate close of the league will doubtless arouse new interest in baseball. Especially will this be the case if the C. N. R. squad win both games for then a playoff game between this team and the C. H. S. nine will be necessary to decide the winner of the Napier Trophy. If the series ends up in this manner the management of the club intend arranging a big nine inning game on a suitable date and local baseball fans will be assured a treat.

The C. H. S. still hold the top position, although defeated last evening by the C. N. R. boys. Last night's game which showed a score of 2 to 1 was voted by many the best exhibition of baseball seen here this season. The standing of the three teams is now as follows:

	Won	Lost	Per cent.
C. H. S.	4	2	66
C. N. R.	2	2	50
Cubs	1	3	25

MOTHER OF TWIN BOYS

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Her of Inflammation and Great Weakness

West St. John, N. B.—"I was in a general run-down condition following the birth of my twin boys. I had a great deal of inflammation, with pains and weakness. Finally my doctor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. He said that your medicine would be the only thing to build me up. I am sure he is right, for I am feeling much better and am gaining in weight, having gone down to ninety-three pounds. I was in bed for over a month, but am up again now. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to my friends and give you permission to use my letter."—Mrs. ELIZABETH A. RITCHIE, 82 Rodney St., West St. John, N. B.

There are many women who find their household duties almost unbearable owing to some weakness or derangement. The trouble may be slight, yet cause such annoying symptoms as dragging pains, weakness and a run-down feeling. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Ritchie's experience is but one of many.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

What Elizabeth

Stanton Did For the Rights of Women

In the early part of the last century higher education was denied to women.

When a high-spirited young girl named Elizabeth Cady discovered that she could not attend the college where her brother was receiving his education, or any other college, she was indignant.

In all probability this was the first impetus which startled this brilliant woman on her lifelong crusade for freedom for women.

But again, she was impressed by the utter disregard for the natural rights of women expressed by the law when she visited her father's law offices in Johnson, New York, and read some of the unjust statutes which hampered women in every possible way from advancing and bettering themselves as citizens either individually or collectively.

So seriously did she consider the drawbacks which marriage presented to women that when she fell in love with the distinguished anti-slavery orator, Henry B. Stanton, she hesitated to marry him because she realized that Blackstone's theory, "a man and wife are one and the man is the one" held true.

However she did marry Mr. Stanton and although she was what was called in derision by most people "an advanced woman," she proved that she possessed every quality for splendid wife and mother.

To the Stantons were born seven children, but Mrs. Stanton's home duties did not prevent her from being one of the first and most earnest crusaders for the emancipation of women.

In July, 1848, the first woman's rights convention took place at Seneca Falls, New York.

Here Lucretia Mott and Mrs. Stanton were the two flaming torches which were to blaze the trail through the tangled wilderness in which most thinking women were then wandering.

If she could but see complete today the great work which she was one of the first to undertake!

The convention was ridiculed in every paper. Most people thought that this brave group of women were "not quite normal."

Interested also in this new movement was Susan B. Anthony, who was working in her home state, Illinois. During the development of the crusade for freedom for women, Mrs. Stanton became acquainted with Susan B. Anthony.

From this meeting a remarkable and very beautiful friendship started and ended without interruption for fifty years.

Together these two dear friends worked and planned. Together they wrote and published "The History of Woman Suffrage" in America, defraying the expenses of publishing by earning money on the lecture platform.

In 1902 Elizabeth Cady Stanton died at the age of 87.

ATLANTIC SALMON FRY DISTRIBUTED

910,000 in More Important Streams of Maritime Provinces.

Ottawa, July 13.—The Department of Marine and Fisheries announce the distribution of 27,861,000 salmon-trout fry from its hatcheries in Ontario in the waters of the Great Lakes.

Announcement is also made of the distribution of 910,000 Atlantic Salmon eggs into the eyed stage and 13,282,000 Atlantic salmon fry in the more important salmon streams of the Maritime Provinces. In addition there are nearly 4,000,000 fry in the various hatcheries which will be fed and will not be liberated until they have attained some growth.

Six New and Delightful Ways to Serve Vegetables

We home cooks are very apt to get into a rut in our vegetable cookery and cook the same old thing in the same old way until they cease to arouse the least interest as appetizers. This is a mistake, especially if we are trying to make vegetable help out in saving on the meat course. It is a wise plan to get together as many new vegetable recipes as possible and reform. When vegetable are cheap fresh and plentiful is an excellent time to experiment, then when "winter comes" we will be all primed to use our canned goods in the new ways.

The quantities used in the following recipes are planned for four people, but may be increased in proportion for a greater number. As each city market has its own peculiar way of selling these commodities, we leave the ideas of the best way to purchase to the consumer herself.

String beans Normandy. String the needed amount of fresh green beans carefully and cut them in half-inch lengths. Wash, then cover them with boiling water and cook them as quickly as possible. Cook uncovered and add a half-teaspoonful of salt to the water. Peel and chop fine a good-sized white onion. Dice four slices of bacon and cook them until crisp, then skim out the pieces and lay aside. Put in the onion and fry to a delicate brown in the bacon fat, adding a little salt, pepper and a teaspoonful of sugar. When brown add a tablespoonful of vinegar and the bacon dice. Have the beans thoroughly drained, then put them into the pan with the onion, toss until mixed and heated together, then serve.

Carrots au Gratin. Scrape, boil and dice as many carrots as are needed to make about two heaping cupfuls. Melt a heaping tablespoonful of butter in a frying-pan and in it saute a tablespoonful each of finely-minced red pepper and grated onion. Then turn in three-quarters of a cupful of rich stock, a quarter-cupful of cream, salt, pepper, a little sugar and a saltspoonful of curry to powder. Arrange the carrots in a buttered baking-dish with layers of buttered crumbs, turn over the sauce, dust with a little grated cheese and bake 18 to 20 minutes in a medium oven.

Asparagus Souffle. Cut the tender part from a large bunch of asparagus and boil it. Then put it through a puree-sieve. Add three beaten eggs, pepper, salt, a little sugar, a half cupful of cream and a few drops of onion juice. Beat all together then lightly fill buttered souffle dishes, or pans, and bake ten minutes in a rising oven. Serve in the dishes at once, as it is apt to settle and cool if allowed to wait. Creamed Young carrots. Scrape as many young carrots as are needed, then boil them quickly. Have read a well-seasoned cream sauce, made not too thick, add to it a tablespoonful of washed capers. Drain the carrots and when done place in a hot dish and turn over the sauce.

Asparagus au Gratin. Select, trim and boil a bunch of asparagus in the usual way. When it is done, drain it, arrange it on a well-buttered baking-platter and sprinkle with a tablespoonful each of grated onion, minced fresh pepper and fine dry crumbs. Dust with pepper, salt and a little sugar. Sprinkle with a half-cupful of grated sharp cheese. Cover and set in the oven five minutes, then uncover and brown lightly. Serve garnished with toast sippets and lemon quarters.

Cuban Bake. Select a small firm eggplant and cut it in medium slices. Let it stand in salted water for an hour. With a sharp knife slice as many slices of firm tomatoes as there are eggplant slices. Boil the eggplant four or five minutes, then drain and cool it. Butter a large baking-pan and lay in the eggplant, dip the tomatoes in seasoned crumbs and lay on top. Dot with butter and bake about ten minutes.

Moderate

"Go away from me," said the fashionably dressed lady to the street beggar. "I would have you touch me." "I was only goin' to touch her for a nickel," was his comeback.

NEW WAR MACHINES ARE WONDERFUL

Tanks That Swim, Destroyers That Fly and Many Other Wonders.

In the next war there will be craft that fly like hawks, swim like ducks, waddle like armored tanks, and dive like seals in approved Jules Verne style, according to British military official who is in Australia on a secret mission. Behind closed doors of laboratories and in secluded workshops, says this authority, who desires that his name for the present remain undisclosed, there has begun, with government funds, the strangest and weirdest battle of wits that has ever been embarked upon.

"Tanks that swim, great metal sea-destroyers that fly, uncanny air machines which dive silently beneath the water to hide themselves," he says, "and crews who must learn to live and fight in three different elements (land, sea or air) are all the necessities of the future." He stated that Great Britain is building a giant airplane which cleaves the surface of the water prior to taking wing and develops 3,000 horsepower, and is also constructing the largest flying boat in the world. This winged vessel is intended to go out with the fleet for long periods.

"The hull of this new flying monster," says the British army man, "when resting on the water will ride out rough seas. It will taxi along the water like a surface ship, or speed through the air. It is to have anchors, fog-horns, riding lights, and all the equipments of the ordinary vessel of the sea, while its crew within the hull will eat and sleep on board just like the crew of an ordinary naval craft.

Shampoo This Way with Olive Oil

and you will have hair with gleam and softness of silk

Olive oil for the shampoo, say leading hair specialists. Olive oil for the shampoo, agree women who have learned the secret—who are admired for their lovely hair.

And this, specialists tell you, is why: Olive oil cleanses thoroughly but gently. It never leaves hair dry and brittle—robbed of the delicate gloss and sheen that means beauty.

It washes away all dirt and oil. Dissolves and removes clogging dandruff. It leaves hair fluffy and soft. But never dry, never dull. Pliant and shimmering as new silk, instead.

CANADA MAKING PAPER RECORDS

Exports 100,000 Tons of Newsprint a Month—Now Makes Paper Machines.

A new record has been established by the newsprint industry of Canada not only in manufacture but in exports. For the first time the monthly record exceeded in each case the 100,000-ton mark, a substantial advance on the output of last year.

News paper-making machines are being installed in many mills, and in these also Canada is establishing records. Until about two years ago no paper-making machine had been built in Canada. The growth of the pulp and paper industry in this country was, however, assuming such proportions as to warrant the Dominion Engineering Company of Montreal entering upon the construction of these mammoth machines. Their first unit, made for the Laurentide Pulp and Paper Company, produces a sheet of paper 166 inches in width. What is remarkable about the machine, however, apart from its being constructed first in Canada, is the fact that it is also the fastest running newsprint machine yet built, producing up to 1,605 feet per minute of 166-inch paper.

Machines of record width have been installed by the Abitibi Pulp and Paper Company, and a number of other companies are installing these mammoths. These have a paper width of 234 inches and run at the rate of 800 feet per minute, producing from 80 to 100 tons of newsprint per day. This width visualized may be understood when it represents a strip of paper nineteen feet six inches of paper nineteen feet six inches wide, on which three automobiles could drive abreast. The output of Ray Mitchell, Kirkwood, Mac Smith this latter machine in one minute of running time would produce 3,757 sheets of paper equal in size to a four-page eight-column newspaper.

Coincident with the development of the newsprint industry and the increase in the output of the mills is the greatly augmented demand upon the pulpwood supply of Canada. If Canada's resources of pulpwood could be assured of depletion only by industry, with the greater attention being given to scientific forestry methods and replanting by the pulp and paper companies, the prospects would be good for a continuous supply of this raw material, according to a report recently issued. Unfortunately this is not the case. Forest fires are taking a tremendous toll, not only of the tree which is of pulpwood size today, but of that which would produce the pulpwood supply of ten, twenty or more years hence—the young growth and seedlings are destroyed and the ground left barren.

Many other industries benefit through the development of the pulp and paper industry. The engineering trades supply large quantities of machinery for the pulp and paper mills and for the water-power development so closely associated with the industry. Large supplies of materials other than the raw pulpwood are required, the manufacturers of wire screening and felts benefiting to a considerable extent.

Probably the railways are more directly concerned than any other interest in the growth of the pulp and paper industry. The freight created by the necessary transportation of supplies, such as coal, etc., and the delivery to consumers of the finished product or to the mills of the United States of pulpwood and woodpulp constitutes one of the large sources of revenue. During the year ended March 31, last, the exports of pulpwood and chemical pulp amounted to 800,000 tons and newsprint to 1,066,222 tons.

The value of the pulp and paper industry to Canada, in export trade alone, for the same period, represented $122,654,889, $72,667,829 of this being accounted for by newsprint, $33,434,056 by other papers. What it represents in employment is shown by the last report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics of the industry, which gives the number of employees as 23,624, with wages as $34,199,060.

When it is realized that this is but one of the many industries dependent upon the forests for existence, Canada has good cause to be alarmed over the tremendous losses which forest fires are making upon this natural resource, exports say.

Tales of a Wayside Tee

By GRANTLAND RICE

The Open Golf Championship of the United States. Hagen, Sarazen, Hutchison, Barnes, Kirkwood, Smith and Jones. But one will win the trophy, and one will lose his spin. And one will blow the one-yard putt. So I don't know who'll win.

Speaking, as no one was at the moment, of champions defending their title, consider the expanding problem of Gene Sarazen's job. All Sarazen has to do this next week is to qualify—and then play seventy-two holes of golf in lower figures than Hagen, Hutchison, Barnes, Mac Smith, Kirkwood, Bobby Jones, Farrell, Deigel, Cruikshank, Black, French, Evans, etc., multiplied ten times. Of all champions Sarazen stands face to face with the hardest assignment—that of repeating in an Open Championship, something he has done since Jack McDermott's prime in 1911 and 1912. The odds against any man in the field are 8 to 1 and this includes Hagen or Sarazen. And 8 to 1 is a trifle short.

Who Will Win? We have seen a group of sharpshooters on two occasions try to pick eight names that would include the winners—and fail both times. Last summer at Skokie they named Hagen, Hutchison, Barnes, Duncan, Mitchell, Kirkwood, Jones and Farrell. Only Hagen, Hutchison and Jones were of the ones finished in the first four. Sarazen, with Jones tied with John Black, just a stroke away. A few weeks ago the sharpshooters picked eight men to include the name Open Championship of his own native heathland.

There will be three main groupings—the homebreds, represented by Hagen, Sarazen, Farrell, Deigel, French, Kerrigan, Brady, Goss, Mielkern, etc., Foreign born, represented by Hutchison, Barnes, Mac Smith, John Black, McDonald, Cruikshank, McLeod, Walker, O'Hara, etc. And the amateurs Sweetser—if they all quit. The battle between the homebreds and the foreign born will be another gripping story, while the amateurs are not to be overlooked. Quimet won in 1913, Evans finished second in 1914, Travers won in 1915. Evans won in 1922. This showing is strong enough to make their assault worth watching.

In the meanwhile the first big trouble starts on Monday at the qualifying test where only 25 to 28 per cent will survive the seventy-two-hole clash on Thursday and Friday. More than one star will falter and skid out of the select circle as Sarazen and Barnes did at Troon. The eighty or eighty-five who remain will then decide whether Sarazen is to retain his title, whether Hagen is to return to his old throne—or whether some new name will hold the headlines for its allotted space.

EMBARGO STILL ON FOREST TRAVEL

Crews Mapping Destroyed Timber Areas and Salvage Will Be Started.

The extremely dry conditions which have prevailed almost continuously this season throughout the province during and following the huge forest conflagrations which have swept away large sections of valuable timber stands, have not yet been relieved sufficiently to permit the removal of the embargo which has been placed on all forest travel. In fact, considerable apprehension has been felt that a repetition of the conditions occurring in Quebec, where forest fires which had been placed under control have again broken out afresh, might occur in New Brunswick. No action has therefore been taken towards lifting the restrictions placed in effect as an emergency measure until this danger has been removed.

In the meantime crews are being employed in mapping the destroyed timber areas, so that arrangements may be made to salvage as much as possible of the dead timber, while a large number of prosecutions have been commenced by the Department of Lands and Mines against parties responsible for many of the recent fires. A large proportion of these have been attributed to criminal carelessness and disregard of the fire regulations and a number of criminal prosecutions have been undertaken.

In many of the fire areas patrols are still employed on the recent fire lines where fires are still smouldering in old roots, logs and turf.

ANNIVERSARY OF HECTOR LANDING

Pictou, N. S., July 16.—With the deck, grey ships of war of three nations lying in the harbor side by side with all varieties of sporting, pleasure and mercantile craft; the green hills dotted with white tents of troops and tourists, and the whole countryside thronged with visitors, from all parts of the continent, this little town, hitherto tranquil and isolated, has taken on a remarkable transformation. The cause of it all is the elaborately planned anniversary celebration of the coming of the first Scotch settlers to Canada, one hundred and fifty years ago, and tomorrow a replica of the ship "Hector" which anchored off the bleak shores of Pictou harbor, a century and a half ago, will sail up the harbor and the pageant of that historic event will be enacted.

LARGEST ENGINE IN CANADA HERE

Arrived Here Tuesday and Then Went On To Moncton.

Engine No. 6006, of the type of largest passenger locomotives in Canada, which are being built by the Canadian Locomotive Co. Ltd., of Kingston, Ont., for the Canadian National Railway, arrived in Campbellton Tuesday and left early Wednesday morning in charge of Engineer Roy MacAuley and Fireman Wm. Driller for Moncton.

The new engine has been running for some weeks between Montreal and Toronto and only recently did one come to the Atlantic Region.

It is one of the finest pieces of mechanical construction in the Dominion at the present day. It is equipped fully with all of the most modern locomotive equipment.

Some of the following facts will no doubt be of interest to the general public. It is the largest passenger engine in Canada, has four driving wheels of 78 inches diameter on each side. The diameter of the cylinders is 26 inches, the total length is 90 ft. 4 1/4 inches. It's tractive effort is 49,600 lbs., 20 percent more than other engines and the weight order is 577,000 lbs. It has a stroke of 80 inches.

It is equipped with automatic feed pump, automatic stroke and fire door, a seven plex Detroit turbine generator. The boiler pressure is 210 lbs. per square inch and the boiler itself is seven feet six inches at largest. It is a super-heater Mountain type, with feed water heater, power reverse gear and power grate shakers.

The speed of the new engine is said to be equal to if not greater than any other engine in the railway service at present.

In the cab is found much more room than in other engines and greater degrees of safety is obtained owing to the equipment that is liable to burst and scald the crew being now located on the outside of the cab.

LABRADOR PARTY HAS RETURNED

The houses are similar to smaller dwellings in this part of the country but are all very plain as most of the inhabitants are very poor, many of them being obliged to exist throughout the winter on a diet of bread and fish. Many seals are caught along that part of the coast, the numerous seal skins hanging up to dry testifying to the winter's catch.

The last halt of the expedition was made at Port O Bay from where some of the gold rumors were supposed to have emanated. The party made a visit of about a day and a half duration there and looked over the surrounding country. The land formation at that point is entirely rock and sand consisting of about equal part of each. As far as the explorers were able to discover there was little possibility of it yielding a fortune in gold.

Many sights of interest also contrived to make the voyage a most entertaining one. The party enjoyed watching both whales and seals which were evident in copious numbers during heavy fog in the Straits of Belle-Ise. On viewing the remains of the mammoth destroyer the visitors could not help but feel a touch of regret at the fate of so fine a vessel, sadly changed since her misfortune last summer. The huge hull lies on its side about half submerged striped with all moveable property except the giant guns and ships stores which are under water and cannot be reached for fear of disturbing the magazines of explosives, the explosion of which would probably obliterate the whole village.

The people of that part of the country are not without churches. There is also a Roman Catholic Bishop stationed at Eskimo Point.

Some of the Candidates Who are Doing Good Work in the Graphic's Great Circulation Drive

RAY SULLIVAN Campbellton MISS B. BUCHANAN Campbellton MRS. J. W. COOKE Dalhousie, N. B. MRS. N. S. FALLE Runnymede, Que. MISS C. KERR Caplin River, Que. WM. STARNS New Carlisle, Que.

Here are some of the leading candidates in the Graphic's great drive for circulation. Up to the present time the race for the big cars has been very close among several popular candidates and it was found at the close of $100 extra cash prize last Tuesday night that Mrs. C. Fairley, Mrs. J. W. Cooke and R. Sullivan, all tied for leading position in the whole contest, Miss B. Buchanan, Mrs. N. S. Falle and Miss L. McDougall are next in line and follow close to the leaders and it is anybody's race so far. Next Monday the special prize ballot offers close and this is the last special offer that will be made. Every candidate is doing his or her best these days in vote getting and there may be some big surprises in store for the public in next week's issue. In next week's issue of the Graphic there will be published the last positions of the candidates before the contest comes to a close so candidates should make that mighty effort this week and lead the big list next week when it is published. There are many other candidates who are doing good work in the big contest, but their photos have not arrived back from the engravers yet and therefore are not published today.

When a girl has vamped in vain, she learns at last that some new device more than "a rag and a bone and a bank of hair"—substituting from advantage to the traders, their customers, and to the world in general. Of course, to protect their sea-born commerce from pirates or from national enemies, the traders had at first, to arm their ships, and later, to build, equip and man navies. So the commercialism and pacifism of the British peoples made them the most dangerous enemies to engage. ### HEARTY WELCOME TO GOVERNOR COX arty Arrived At St. John Saturday—Visit Pictou, N. S.

St. John N. B., July 14.—The city of St. John and the province of New Brunswick today extended a hearty welcome to Governor Channing E. Cox, Governor of the State of Massachusetts, when, accompanied by Mrs. Cox and party, he arrived about noon on board the steamer Governor Dingy. A committee of citizens headed by Commissioner John Thornton went aboard the boat when it docked and extended a hearty welcome there, after which the party entered motor cars and drove to City Hall, where Premier Veniot welcomed them on behalf of the province and Mayor Fisher extended the welcome of the city.

After the official welcome at City Hall the Governor was entertained at a luncheon at the Union Club and Mrs. Cox and the ladies of the party were guests of Mrs. Fisher, wife of the mayor, at a luncheon at the Royal hotel.

A Nation of Shopkeepers.

To Napoleon the English were "a nation of shopkeepers," to the Kaiser, in his day, they were "the haberdashers of the Thames!" To both, the great Corsican and the posturer of Berlin, Britain was to be despised because she was a trader and not a militarist. Yet each unwittingly paid tribute to the secret of Britain's material strength. Britain never said "Go to! let us make an Empire." The usual programme was that some of her adventurous sons were sent forth, on their own account went forth, to trade. They made treaties with strange peoples. Because, on the whole their dealings were honorable and their methods pacific, they prospered. After a while, inspired perhaps by some commercial rival, a neighboring tribe or nation raided their Allies, and they were obliged to drop the pen and yard-stick and take up arms for common defence. Greatly to their surprise, when the cannon smoke got out of their eyes they found themselves installed in places of power, rulers over vast provinces, and still the traders, they were glad, as soon as the fighting was over, to extend their commercial relations with their former enemies. So the shops and the haberdashers grew, ever with advantage to the traders, their customers, and to the world in general. Of course, to protect their sea-born commerce from pirates or from national enemies, the traders had at first, to arm their ships, and later, to build, equip and man navies. So the commercialism and pacifism of the British peoples made them the most dangerous enemies to engage. Napoleon and Wilhelm, who began by despising the shopkeepers and haberdashers, soon found in them the great obstacle to their ambitions after world power.

The commonsense of the world, which recognized the benefits of peaceful commerce in both instances, ranged itself alongside of Britain, till the seas were free, the highways were safe, and men could, in security, go about their lawful avocations. And then the old trading instinct, with other and higher qualities, helped to make Britain most conciliatory, so that Napoleon yielded to her as the "most magnanimous of his enemies." And so has she striven almost to the breaking point with France for more lenient dealing with Germany—Montreal Witness.

PULPWOOD EXPORT TO UNITED STATES

U. S. Pulp and Paper Men Ask Government For Assistance.

New York, July 16—Secretary of State Hughes was asked yesterday by the executive committee of the recently created committee on perpetuation of the paper industry in the United States to intervene with the Canadian Government to prevent a Canadian embargo on exports of pulpwood to the United States.

This course of action was decided upon at a protracted meeting and a letter incorporating the request was sent to Washington by Henry W. Stokes, of Philadelphia, president of the American Paper and Pulp Association, and chairman of the new commission.

Even to the "nice people" of today clothing is merely to be seen through and food something to take between drinks. It is the age of Jazz—subtitled from "Nice People" at the Opera House next Wednesday and Thursday.

It is about time that Campbellton people started a counter-offensive and it can be done by patronizing your own stores. When without reason, we go outside we are helping some other community at the expense of our own. That surely doesn't seem like good business.

Wills-Firpo Likely To Be Next Battle

When fully 100,000 fistic enthusiasts of both sexes will contribute half a million in cash that they may be present at a ringside, it would seem that the very acme of the sport had been reached.

And, more remarkable yet in connection with the foregoing figures, not a champion was entered in the lists, and there was only one near-champion out of the 10 performers.

The recent tournament at Boyle's Thirty Acres was a revelation in many respects; it showed beyond all point of argument the trend of the public mind as regards sport and again clearly demonstrated that it is the big gladiators that attract.

Like The Mammoths

No matter how poor or indifferent they may be as boxers, and a number of those who showed last Thursday night were something tough even on the imagination, it is the mammoths that are the magnets. Thought fast or clever men above the welter class are few, the idea of a crashing, jarring, grinding mill such as some of the big men occasionally put up, has the popular fancy.

And in catering to that fancy, the one promoter who has made a distinctive success in the handling of big shows and big men in those shows, Tex Rickard, has been working for months to bring off at least two more major league fistic carnivals either in New York or Jersey before fall ushers in winter.

But Three Possibles

The top of the card material in the heavy division that he has to work with can be counted on one hand. The names, Dempsey, Wills, Firpo are known to all, whether followers of the glove game or not. There are no others in sight at present though Tom Gibbons may be worked back into a possibility for another season. How a light heavy who has been beaten 13 rounds out of 15 by a chap suspected of not trying any too hard in spots can be figured a heavyweight champion is a puzzle. But for the time, Tom may be considered as placed in the cold storage department.

Nathur England, France, Australia or Canada has a ringmaster now performing or looming on the horizon who can throw his hat in the ring and not have it kicked out, all of which is a view of the fortunes being reaped furnishes a situation for philosophers to ponder. But curious and unusual as the case may appear, facts are facts, and Dempsey, Wills and Firpo are the only top liners who can be so maneuvered as to attract another 100,000 gate attendance. While many are the conjectures as to just how these men may be matched, with but two big open-air show holidays, Labor Day and Columbus Day, and the three big fighters, it is obvious that there can be but a limited number of guesses that can work out into logical solution.

A Wills Bout.

Many fans who consider themselves close followers of the game look for a Wills-Firpo bout on Sept. 3, the winner to meet Dempsey on Columbus Day. This plan appeals rather to the writer, but there are boxing commissions, particularly that in New York, to be considered. Skirmishes are now on with the New York Athletic Commission as regards the right of Wills, a native-born American and taxpayer on real estate, to ply his athletic profession. Politics will go a long way towards deciding whether he will get the chance. If not, there can be but one other combination—Dempsey vs. Firpo. It is no secret that the men named are either fit or in training.

In all probability Wills would defeat Firpo, in which case a Dempsey vs. Wills fight later on would give the fans more of a real "battle of the Century" than any recent events fistic.

Dempsey's chances against Wills would not be bad, all of which, in the event of victory for the champion, would leave open the gate for a Dempsey-Firpo mill in Argentine during the winter, with Wills vs. Gibbons, Wills vs. Renault or Dempsey vs. Gibbons another year, the final

Wants Gibbons to Fight Firpo

St. Paul, July 16—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul heavyweight boxer, tonight received a telegram from Tom O'Rourke, New York matchmaker, asking the local fighter if he would consider terms for a bout with Luis Angel Firpo of the Argentine, who Thursday night knocked out Jess Willard Gibbons, who recently stayed 15 rounds with Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, at Shelby, Mont., said he was willing to meet Firpo, but his answer would await the return here from Montana next week of his manager, Eddie Kane. O'Rourke suggested a date in September.

Tomorrow night Gibbons will start a 14-weeks vaudeville tour.

Later the British steamer Sheridan, coming through the fog, hit the Begonia amidstships and as the latter began to fill her boats were lowered and her own crew and that of the El Dorado, totalling 43 men, reached the Sheridan. The captain of the Britisher sent a radio message to Yarmouth, from which port tugs were despatched and took off the survivors. The Sheridan was considerably smashed in her forepeak, but was able to proceed without assistance.

What's wrong with the Slab Town Team. Are they afraid to play the Rabbit Town Team?

The High School baseball team of East Orange, N. J., boasts of the greatest one-handed baseball played in the country. Tom De Pumo now 20 years old, lost his left hand under trolley when he was 3 years old. He catches throws and bats with his right hand and he had a batting average of .341 for his team which finished third in his league. He wears a light glove on his usable hand, which gives him the utmost freedom and he is unusually accurate at throwing.

Thick-skinned managers who care nothing for promoters, public or pugilism, whose sole idea and aim is to reap where they have not sown, may block one or more of the fistic encounters which have been outlined. Then, again, they may not. It is a tossup, with the public taking the gamble.

COLLISION IN NORTH SEA, SUNDAY

Three Steamers in Collision And Two Sink—Crews All Saved.

London, July 15—Three steamers were in collision in the fog in the North Sea today. Two of them were sunk, but their crews were rescued, and the third proceeded on her voyage in a damaged condition.

Owing to the heavy fog, the Swedish steamer Eldorado hove to, and the Spanish steamer Begonia No. 5, crashed into her. While the two vessels were locked the Eldorado's crew, numbering 18, climbed aboard the Begonia, and soon after the Eldorado went to the bottom.

Later the British steamer Sheridan, coming through the fog, hit the Begonia amidstships and as the latter began to fill her boats were lowered and her own crew and that of the El Dorado, totalling 43 men, reached the Sheridan. The captain of the Britisher sent a radio message to Yarmouth, from which port tugs were despatched and took off the survivors. ## PROTEST ON PULP WOOD EMBARGO

Government at Washington is Giving the Matter Consideration Now

Washington, July 13.—The United States government is giving serious consideration, it is officially said, to the action of the Canadian parliament in authorizing an embargo on wood pulp.

The State Department will doubtless address a protest to the Canadian government indicating that such an embargo would be burdensome to American newspapers and consumers of pulp wood in this country.

Retaliation will not be threatened, though it is not overlooked here that clothed with large powers to retaliate in the new tariff act.

No Embargo Until Enquiry

Toronto, July 13.—The Toronto Globe says this morning:

"The fear of the paper manufacturers of the United States that their supply of Canadian pulp-wood will be cut off forthwith is not well founded. The Dominion government has taken power to prohibit export, but no embargo will be imposed until a commission, the personnel of which has not yet been announced, makes enquiries into the conditions under which export is carried on and the probability of prohibition on Canada's trade with the United States."

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING TREBLED THIS BUSINESS

Boys Took Hold of It At Their Father's Death and it Started Booming—They Used Modern Ideas—Business Still Growing—Sales This Year Double Those of Last.

Walter Preuss was a furniture dealer of the old school, who conducted a small furniture store in a neighborhood district in Detroit. He knew furniture, for his family had been cabinetmakers for generations, and he was honest. He gave his customers good furniture at modest prices and he treated them fairly.

Apart from this, he made no effort to build up his business. Not one nickel did he spend for advertising during his several years in business. He didn't take much stock in "new-fangled" methods in merchandising.

Seven years ago Walter Preuss died, leaving a widow and six children, the oldest boy being seventeen at the time. Every one was sure that the Preuss furniture store would be closed immediately. The boys would probably have to go to work in the factory to support their mother and the children. Yes, it was too bad, Mr. Preuss had been a nice old man and had served them well.

But the Preuss furniture store did not close. The two oldest boys, Bruno P. and Edmund E., took hold of the business and carried on the work. There was not much business to be had, it is true, because at the time every one was expecting the place to be closed just any day.

Then a year after the death of her husband Mrs. Preuss died and the old prophecies were renewed. What could six children, the youngest of whom was a baby—he is only seven now—do with a furniture business? They did just what any progressive merchant would have done under the circumstances. The oldest child, who was a girl, kept house and cared for the children and Bruno and Edmund took care of the store. They did all the work, from buying and selling to sweeping and keeping books, and they are still doing it.

"People all thought that we were sure to go under," says Bruno Preuss, in commenting on his experience as a merchant, "but somehow we didn't. We held on and followed our father's methods in our conduct of the business and gradually the people came to realize that we were here to stay and they began to bring us their trade again. I suppose they decided it was no use to wait for us to go to the poorhouse or to the orphan's home and they had as well come and buy their furniture where it was handy and they knew they could get fair treatment."

Enter Advertising.

"Then we decided that we would be real merchants and do a little advertising. We had to use the Polish language and advertise in a Polish paper, because we were in the midst of a Polish settlement and we ourselves are of Polish lineage. We advertised a little and it seemed to help business. Then we increased our advertising and business continued to improve. There's a little magazine published by a club in the neighborhood which appears in English, so we took a page in that. Then we started a mailing list and gradually worked that up, so that, all in all, we have become fairly heavy advertisers for our size.

"The results have justified our methods. Our father did not believe in advertising, and he did not spend anything at all to build up business by this means. We were a little skeptical at first, but now we can look back at the growth of our business and testify to the truth of the slogan, 'It pays to advertise.' During the last year of last year in actual receipts—which considering the difference in prices, means that we have sold more than twice as much furniture."

In their advertisements the Preusses use liberal space, feature attractive stock cuts and never quote comparative prices. Nor do they advertise time payments. They accept some charge accounts, but they do not advertise this fact, as they have found that to do so invites some undesirable business. The majority of their trade is strictly cash, and when they do grant terms they insist on having at least 25 per cent down, the balance to be paid in monthly sums large enough to clear it in a maximum of ten months.

Theirs is essentially a neighborhood business, and they find and take advantage of many opportunities to accommodate their customers that could not be duplicated in a larger business. If a customer has a little furniture, for example, and wants this moved, the boys are ready to have their delivery van call by and take this along with the new purchases which have been made of them.

They take the position that the customers is always right, and they tell of many instances in which they have satisfied disgruntled patrons at considerable cost to themselves, because, as Bruno Preuss expresses it, "we believe that a customer is worth more than the few dollars it may cost us to adjust a complaint. A customer may come in and ask that we make good some damage or defect for which we are positive we should not be held responsible, but we have found that it pays to satisfy her, even at a loss. We want our trade to buy from us with confidence, and our experience has proved to our satisfaction that investing a little money in this way is very valuable advertising."

HEARST PAPERS ENDORSE BRITAIN

Say Premier Baldwin Voices
the Moral Sentiment of Civilized World.

New York, July 14.—The Hearst newspapers abandoning their customary hostile attitude toward Great Britain, today printed a lengthy editorial supporting the British attitude on the reparations problem, as the Hearst writer interprets it through the recent announcement of Prime Minister Baldwin. Incidentally, the editorial contains a bitter attack upon France by her Ruhr policy, which is termed an "imperialistic bulldozing, swash buckling policy," which is "devastating Europe and in the end means suicide for France."

The British Prime Minister used the soft words of diplomacy, the writer declares, but in effect he warned France "that a ruined Germany means a bankrupt France; that she must withdraw her armies from the Ruhr, consent to let an impartial commission fix what Germany can and must pay, that Germany must then give adequate guarantees that she will pay."

The Hearst editorial continues: "England is entirely right and Prime Minister Baldwin expresses in restrained, forceful but unmistakable terms the moral sentiment of the civilized world in his protest against France's attitude."

"The greater part of Europe cannot be kept subject and object in order that France may be the imperialist bully of Europe, and may escape paying taxes by plundering weaker nations and avoid paying her debts by lavishing money on armaments."

"France is today the disturber of the peace of the world. England is right from her own point of view, right from the world's point of view, right from the American point of view."

"England may not be wholly humanitarian in her politics, but she saved Europe from the Empire of Napoleon and she may have to save Europe from the military maniacs of France today."

A quality six-cylinder car for $1395

There was a time when owning a six-cylinder automobile was a privilege confined to wealthy people. But today, the Studebaker Light-Six, at $1395, has made it possible for thousands of owners to enjoy the smoothness, the flexibility and the abundance of power inherent in a six-cylinder motor car of the highest quality.

Great financial resources; modern plant facilities; large scale production; and the complete manufacture of Studebaker cars in Studebaker's own factories—make possible a quality six-cylinder car, such as the Light-Six, at its price of $1395.

The Studebaker Light-Six has not only brought six-cylinder performance within the price reach of thousands of people, but it has actually set new standards for motor car performance, comfort, economy and dependability.

We will consider it a pleasure to show you the Light-Six; demonstrate it—or let you drive it yourself. It represents the greatest accomplishment in Studebaker's 71 years of manufacturing experience. In fairness to yourself, you should see the Studebaker Light-Six before you buy any make of car.

Historical Research for The Dominion

Wm. Walker, Montreal, Marquis of Sligo, Captain R. Griffiths, R.N.R., "Empress of France," Marchioness of Sligo.

AFTER a two-year holiday, completing a voyage of 40,000 miles on Canadian Pacific railway and steamships, the Marquis and Marchioness of Sligo returned to their London home. During their stay in the Western hemisphere, the Irish peer directed from his main course of travel, visiting all the leading republics of South America and in the latter days of his travel directed his course to Southern China, where he narrowly escaped by some few minutes being taken by bandits.

Prior to his departure on the "Empress of France," the distinguished visitor forwarded to the Canadian Government an interesting document in the Sligo family correspondence, being a letter from the Hon. Henry Bouverie, who was associated with the capture of Quebec.

For some time past, the Marquis has been occupied in gathering data about his family, and the part they played in the history of Canada and the Dominion in its respect for the benefit of his research. The Marquis began his researches with the famous picture of the death of Wolfe by West, and after careful investigation he has succeeded in identifying a number of the individuals who surrounded the general as he lay on the ground. Chief among these is T. H. Henry Browne who was the standard bearer in the Landing of Grenadier which fought on the right of the line in Wolfe's army. In the picture the Lieutenant is shown holding the flag of the Marquis, his ancestor, who led the general off the battlefield after he had died.

LAST BUT NOT LEAST!

THE LAST

Special offer in the Graphic's Great Prize Contest closes next Monday night and when it closes there will be fifteen candidates win prize vote ballots but the big question now is which candidate will win the largest ballot good for a million and a half bonus votes? There are now only eight days left in which to secure votes to make you the winner of one of the Big Touring Cars or one of the other valuable prizes—keep busy every minute from now until next Monday night and win one of the largest prize vote ballots—Some one will win the big one WHY NOT YOU?

READ HOW THE BIG CONTEST WILL BE CLOSED NEXT WEEK

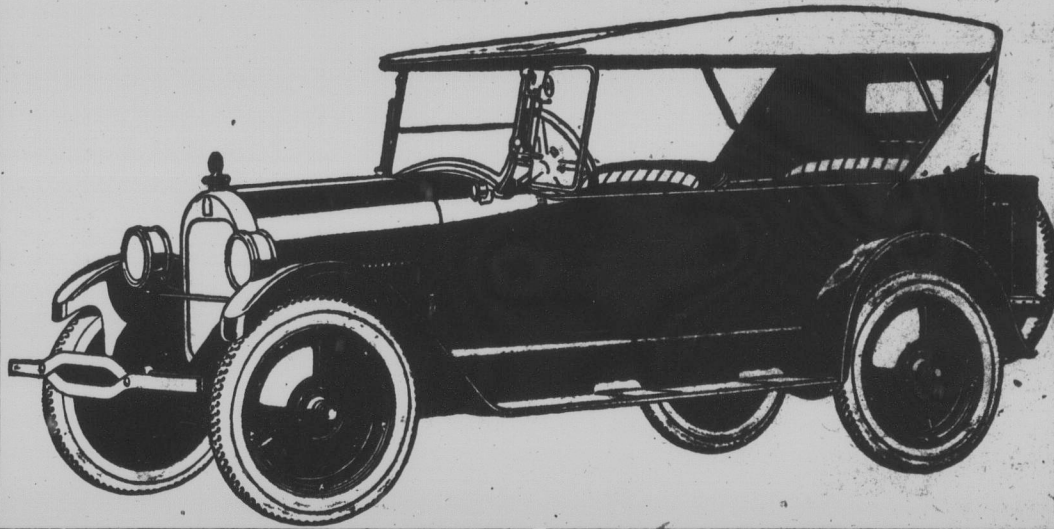

During next week which is the last week of the Graphic's Great Circulation Drive, a ballot box will be used. This box is made especially for the drive and the seal on it will be broken by the judges who will count the votes. When the big campaign closes, the judges will cut open the box and proceed with the count. All subscriptions and money to correspond with same that candidates secure next week must be put in sealed envelopes and deposited in the ballot box before the closing hour.

The big drive will close sharp at 8.00 o'clock one week from Saturday night, July 28th, and every worker will be privileged to work up until the last minute, but all subscriptions and money to correspond with same must be deposited in the sealed voting box before the closing hour at 8.00 P. M., Saturday, July 28th. Only the candidate himself or herself will know what they deposited in the ballot box the last week of the Graphic's great circulation drive. This is the fairest method ever devised to assure secrecy to all concerned.

The cars, which are the capital grand prizes, are cars of real value. If you have not already seen them you should make it a point to do so.

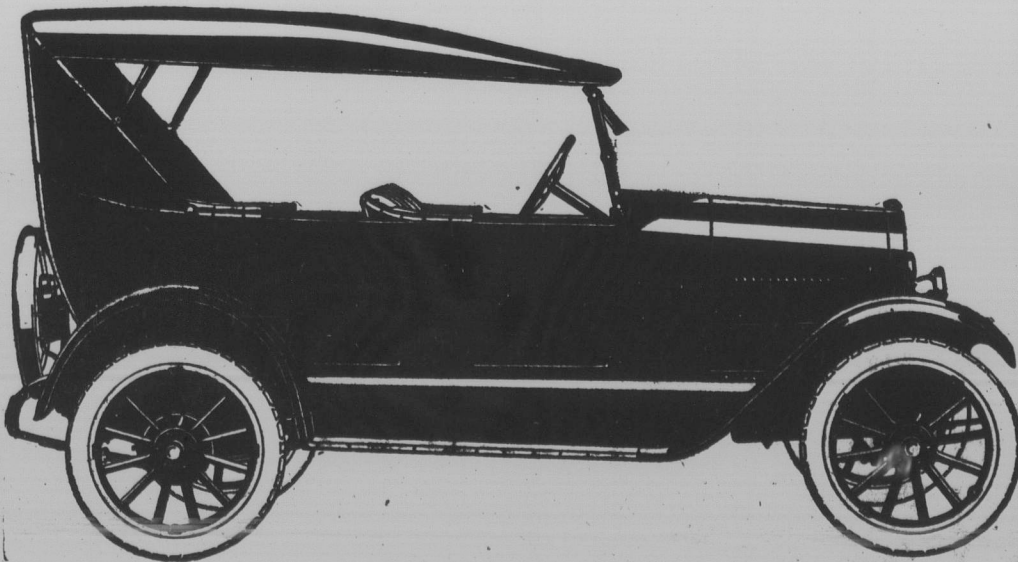

Only a little over a week and the big campaign will be over. Will you be the happy winner of one of the cars or one of the other valuable prizes? A little extra effort this week may make you the winner of a real prize; also a big prize ballot. Pile up the votes this week, a few extra votes this week may be just what you need.

Durant Sport Touring--The most beautiful Prize ever offered in this Section of New Brunswick. Most Votes Will Win It.

Only three days left now to win one of the big prize vote ballots which will be given to candidates who turn in the most cash on subscriptions to the Graphic during last week and this week, that is between the dates of July 10th and July 23rd, (both dates inclusive). The Special Offer closes next Monday night and it is positively the last special offer which will be given during the remainder of the contest. Make sure of the largest prize ballot—it will help you win the Big Durant "Special" Sport Touring Car one week from Saturday night.

Star Touring Car---A Prize of Real Value Awaiting it's Owner.

Only one week left to win a Free Auto and only one week left to help your favorite candidate—The votes on your subscription may be just what is needed on the closing night to win your favorite the coveted Durant "Sport" Touring Car. Pay that subscription this week—don't wait any longer.

CLOSING RULES OF CONTEST FOR NEXT WEEK.

No. 1.—The Graphic's Big Prize Contest closes at 8.00 o'clock, one week from Saturday night, July 28th.

No. 2.—All vote ballots received for subscriptions turned in up until next Monday night, July 23rd, and ballots secured for coupons, must be deposited in the sealed voting ballot box before 8.00 P. M., one week from Saturday night, July 28th. Candidates who are unable to be present must mail their subscriptions and money to correspond with same that they secure next week, so that they will reach the office BEFORE the closing hour, 8.00 o'clock, Saturday, July 28th.

No. 3.—All candidates may work up to the closing hour of the big drive, but all subscriptions and votes must be in the ballot box before the closing hour.

No. 4.—All subscriptions and money secured by the candidates during next week, which is the last week of the Graphic's great drive for circulation, must be placed in sealed envelopes with the candidates name on the outside of the envelope and deposited in the ballot box for the final count not later than the above mentioned hour.

No. 5.—All checks must be certified by the bank on which they are drawn.

No. 6.—Candidates must see that all their subscriptions are written plainly and that the full particulars of new and second pay new subscriptions; is written on the bottom part of the subscription slip; that is, the name of the candidate who received the first payment, the price the first payment was made in and if possible, the receipt number of the first payment. If this information is not on your slips, you will be credited only with ordinary old subscriptions on the last period vote schedule.

No. 7.—All vote ballots for subscriptions and coupons received during the drive, must be placed in sealed envelopes and deposited in the ballot box for the final count before the closing hour.

No. 8.—All candidates who do not receive one of the regular prizes must continue actively in the drive to the end to qualify for a consolation prize.

No. 9.—The judges will not vary from the above set rules, so candidates must follow them. Don't forget that the sealed ballot box will be opened sharp at 8.00 o'clock, one week from Saturday night, July 28th and the prizes awarded the same evening.

AVERAGE CROPS OF HAY AND OATS

Minister of Agriculture Says Conditions Are Better Here Than Reported.

Fredericton, July 16.—Average crops of hay and oats for New Brunswick, this season, were predicted today, by Hon. D. W. Mervaseau, Minister of Agriculture. This prediction was made following an inspection of field crops, particularly in York County, by the Minister, who is in the city today, on departmental business.

The present prospects in New Brunswick, are much better, than elsewhere, in Quebec and Ontario, and also in the State of New York, where drought conditions have seriously hampered the progress of the various field crops. Red clover, along the St. John Valley, is said to be much heavier than in former years.

Potato prospects in the province are somewhat unsettled. Much will depend on the week and conditions, which come, and which have during the week-end, been of considerable benefit to crops in general.

GOVERNOR COX PLEASED WITH N. B.

Massachusetts Executive Says He Will Come Back Again Soon.

St. John, N. B., July 16.—"I'm going to get a red and gun and come back here sometime soon, for I like the country," said Governor Chauncy M. Cox of Massachusetts, this morning, as he was making preparations for leaving for Pictou. "I can only say that Mrs. Cox and I are more than pleased with the warmth of our welcome here and the general way in which we have been received, and I wish to express my gratitude for the many acts of kindness which have been showered upon us and upon our party."

The morning was spent in a motor trip to points of interest, including the Reversing Falls, Martello Tower and the plant of the St. John Dry Dock & Shipbuilding Co. at East St. John.

The Governor and his party left at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Pictou, en route to Pictou for the "Hector" celebration. A private car was placed at their disposal by the C. N. R.

ARRIVED HERE AFTER LONG TRIP

Will Meet Here Next Month—Programme As Arranged For That Meeting.

G. C. Master, wife and son of Fort Worth, Texas, arrived here last Thursday night in an auto bungalow, spent the night here, and then proceeded up the Matapedia valley on his way to Quebec, and thence right through Toronto and the west.

The car was a Ford ton truck, up on which was built sleeping and living quarters, and the party drew off to the roadside at night, and were quite comfortable. The night at Campbellton was spent in front of the Graphic office.

Mr. Master was a good talker and had much to talk about. He had visited about every state in the Union and was out to see all Canada, starting at Nova Scotia.

One thing Mr. Master noticed here was the difficulty in procuring reliable information. At Moncton he was informed that the road north of Campbellton was impassable, and that Chatham was as far north as he could go, having to proceed west from thence to Fredericton, and thence up the St. John river. Fortunately, he met one man at Chatham who knew the Matapedia road was open, and he was directed to call at the Graphic office where all information would be cheerfully given.

At Bathurst he met a Campbellton man who endeavored to turn him back to the Fredericton route, but he kept on and left here about 9 o'clock for Quebec, via the Matapedia Valley, and as he has not returned we assume he got through safely.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Thomas S. Roy, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Brookton, Mass., will preach in the Baptist Church Sunday morning and evening. In the morning he will preach on the subject: "Calling up the Reserves" and in the evening on "The Preacher Who Lost His Head."

BOND ISSUE FOR C. N. R. EQUIPMENT

Ottawa, Ont., July 16.—Arrangements are being made for the issue, in Canada, of $25,000,000 bonds of the Canadian National Railway Company. It is announced by Hon. W. S. Fielding.

The bonds will be guaranteed as principal and interests, by the Canadian Government, which owns all the stock of the company. These bonds are to be issued for equipping the railway with necessary rolling stock.

ANew ALPHABET FOR RADIO

Establishment of a Universal Telegraphic Alphabet Is Now Being Urged.

New York, July 16.—The establishment of a universal telegraphic alphabet is urged in a statement issued today by the Engineering Foundation. Radio Engineering is leading the peoples of the earth toward a common language, the foundation asserts.

Methods to simplify and expedite the electrical transmission of messages should be evolved through national legislation and international conferences. Science an commerce will not hesitate to statecraft ready to perform its function? the foundation asks.

"There are ship lanes in the northern Atlantic," the statement continues. "Crowding automobiles in city streets have necessitated traffic lanes. Aviation is establishing lanes in the air. Allotting of lanes in the ether has become urgent."

General Squier in 1913 commenced investigations for improving transmission to the telegraph alphabet, according to the foundation, as the Morse system failed to meet the needs of present day transmission. In the Morse code the current is interrupted between signals; with the redesigned system the current flows uninterruptedly.

Chatham World—S. S. Edward Munch arrived in port on the 9th inst., several days behind her due date, and her charter was cancelled by her charterers Messrs Mackay, St. John.

They however, offered to recharter her at a reduced rate of freight. Her owners, in view of the strike, decided not to charter her to load here, and accepted a charter to another port where there is no holdup and the steamer sailed out Thursday evening.

She would have carried three million feet of lumber.

Are Continents Adrift?

We often speak of the solid earth, but scientists are beginning to wonder whether all the land portions of our globe are not in a state of movement.

It was discovered some years ago that part of Greenland was slowly changing its position. It is not exactly a rapid movement—a yard or two a year—still it is movement. Observations made recently seem to show that all continents may be drifting like sticks on the surface of a lake.

Cigar Bands.

Why do cigars have bands? In their native home—Cuba—cigars are smoked semi-moist, the "dry" brands are not popular.

In this "green" or moist condition the nicotine was found to stain the white kid gloves which were worn by the young Spaniards of fashion, who, as a protection, adopted the plan of wrapping round the cigar a narrow strip of paper which they moistened with saliva.

The idea worked well, and the next thing was that the cigar merchants provided the paper bands for their customers. Of course, it was not long before one enterprising manufacturer saw that the bands bore his name! The idea caught on, and so, gradually, the band became the elaborate affair it is today.

It Works From Both Ends

A local merchant upon whom we called recently gave us a first class talk upon "buying at home." We certainly agreed with him in all he said, and more too. The Graphic has always preached this doctrine, and lived up to it.

But what of our local merchants? A genial solicitor for wrapping paper, paper bags, etc., had induced him to order his counter check books from him, "just to make up a good sized freight shipment."

Our local merchant clean forgot that our local printers could supply these counter check books at the same price. He sent out of town for them.

But its a poor rule that won't work both ways.

WHERE CANADIANS FIRST RECEIVED GAS ATTACK

A Splendid Monument Unveiled This Week to Memory of Our Boys—Addresses by Foch, the Belgian Ministers and Others.

On Monday of last week there was unveiled at Ypres, Belgium a beautiful memorial to the men of Canada who fell in the second battle of Ypres in April 1915. The Duke of Connaught officiated. A report of the impressive ceremony says in part:

As the British and Belgian colors fell away from the monument, bugles some little distance away in the sunny fields, sounded the Last Post. At each corner of the monument was a Canadian soldier, as official mourner. The notes of the Last Post fell upon a perfectly hushed company and in the still countryside the monument was very impressive, both Marshal Foch and the Earl of Ypres.

Marshal Foch had not been expected to speak, but at his own desire he gave a short oration of the great memories which the Canadians had aroused in his mind, when France was battling for her life's blood. "Some people seem to have forgotten this already," said the Marshal. "English, striving hard to master their emotion. After two minutes of silence, the cheerful notes of the reveille were heard and many beautiful wreaths were deposited at the base of the memorial. The Duke of Connaught's wreath was composed of simple English flowers. Two little girls, wearing sashes of the Belgian national colors, placed a wreath on behalf of the King and Queen of the Belgians.

Here and There

A Jersey cow owned by a Montreal man has broken all Canadian records by producing 1,200 pounds of butter in a year.

The average annual per capita cost from fires in United States is $2.26, while Canada loses $2.73 per capita by fire; Spain, $1.88; France, 57 cents; England, 64 cents; Germany, 28 cents, and the Netherlands, only 11 cents.

Bungalow Camps in the wilds of Ontario have been opened by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company at French River, Nipigon, and near Kenora, Lake of the Woods.

Traffic through the Lachine Canal during the month of June showed an increase of two million bushels of grain and one hundred thousand tons of coal with increases in pulpwood, produce and passengers over the same month of the previous year.

The wheat crop of Alberta and Manitoba has progressed so well on account of the abundant moisture of the early season that farmers, business men and railroad companies are preparing for a harvest in excess of the record one of 1915.

Prince Rupert, B.C., claims the world's best record for a one trip fish catch. A fishing schooner arrived at this port recently after being out sea 14 days, with 38,000 pounds of halibut, which sold for a sum that netted each man of the crew of five $787.86.

In the Province of Ontario, it is estimated, the lumber cut in 1922 amounted to 399,000,000 board feet, and in addition 289,113 cords of pulpwood. The Province of Nova Scotia cut 125,000,000 feet, New Brunswick 210,000,000 feet, and British Columbia 278,146,000 board feet.

The Dominion Express has just effected a shipment from Hamburg to Kobe, Japan, in 32 days. The average time consumed between the same two points via the Suez Canal is 40 days, and the saving thus made by the Canadian route will be of great importance in helping make this country the road between Europe and the Orient.

The total value of the pelts of furbearing animals taken in the Dominion during the season of 1922-23 was $17,438,500, an increase over the previous year of $7,287,273, or 72 per cent, and the number of pelts of all kinds was 4,366,790, an increase over the previous season of 48 per cent. These figures comprise pelts of animals taken by trappers and pelts of ranch-bred animals.

Tests of ceramic clay resources in British Columbia are being planned this summer by the British Columbia Government. The tests will be made under the auspices of the Department of Education and the Department of Industries. There are many varieties of clays in British Columbia and some are reported to be particularly suited to the manufacture of high class pottery ware.

A reduction of express rates on westward moving business between Europe and Canada was announced by the Foreign Department of the Dominion Express Company recently. This reduction on westbound shipments follows a similar cut on shipments from Europe to Canada made a little while ago, and amounts to a reduction of approximately twenty per cent. on the trans-ocean trip. The rates came into effect on July 9 between all points in Canada and Europe.

The Banff-Windermere highway, the last link in the 5,000-mile chain of good roads which extend from the heart of the Canadian Rockies to California and return in new open to motor traffic, having been officially opened on June 30th by the cutting of a ribbon at Kootenay crossing in the presence of a number of Federal and Provincial Government officials, and a host of automobile tourists. The completion of this road will render accessible the most beautiful scenic country on the continent.

In the course of his address the Belgian Minister for the Interior said "Let us remember, gentlemen, the sacrifice of these men of every trade and profession, who came from the valley of St. Lawrence, from the big central provinces, from the mines and the farms, from the northern forests, from the immense prairies, from the majestic mountains, and from the great western coast—from all corners of the Dominion, to Belgian soil in answer to the call of the mother country, to fight in the defence of right; they suffered and they died. To these men is rightly given the name of heroes."

speaking nations all over the world rallied around the mother country and the French-Canadians played a noble part in coming to the succor of the French, as well as the side of their adopted country."

In conclusion he said that what Canada had done at Ypres would never be forgotten and would go down in the world's history.

As a final compliment to the British "Tommy" the detachment of the Third Regiment of Chasseurs, which also tended as a guard of honor, marched away to the strains of "Tipperary."

An impressive feature of the pilgrimage from London to Ypres and St. Julien was the vivid impression of the virility and hard work of the Belgians in restoring the towns and country-side ravaged by the war. With the exception of sacred stumps of trees and a few shell battered houses in Ypres itself as well as the ruins of the famous Cloth Hall from Froyer onward has been restored to almost normal. Naturally the rawness of the new buildings, with their flaming red tiled roofs and yellow brick walls is something of a blot compared with the ancient homes they replace. Nevertheless they are proof, that, like a patient giant, Belgium is stubbornly climbing back to normal. The people have apparently recovered fully from the war depression and are busy everywhere and everywhere English language is heard.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON FORESTRY

Q.—A lot has been said about the forests of the Eastern and Middle United States having been stripped or destroyed by commercial interests or by bad fires. It has also been declared that the American consumer has turned to Canada for his lumber supply. Can you tell me briefly how much lumber is being shipped to the States? J. K. H.

A.—Five-sixths of all lumber made in Canada is sold to United States consumers and the exports are steadily growing. This is excellent business for Canada but it shows the extreme urgency for conservation of our timber supply and protection against fire.

Q.—How much does Canada spend in a year on forest research and how much for agricultural research? What area do the forests occupy in Canada? A. B. L.

A.—Canada spends about $800,000 a year on agricultural research, and only about $55,000 on forest research. The forests of the Dominion occupy about 80 per cent of the habitable area.

Q.—What are the most causes of forest fires that have been destroying so much timber in Canada? L.O.G.

A.—Nine-tenths are due to human recklessness. One of the worst sources is unextinguished camp fires. These fires usually are made too large or too close to trees, grass, shrubbery, or moss. Lighted matches and tobacco are also great destroyers. Many deliberate fires are set by prospectors to uncover rocks where minerals may or may not be found. Fires are set by settlers to clear ground or to burn slash are also proving costly to Canadian public-owned timber assets.

Q.—Is there any record of bad forest fires in European countries in recent years, outside of the destruction of wooded land in the war zone? P. F. R.

A.—There was a recent report of a forest fire in the South of France which destroyed only 600 acres of timber. This was considered a terrible disaster and an irreparable loss by the people of France. Many forest fires covering five million acres occur in Canada and usually through rank carelessness.

Waste and Waste

He was a young lawyer who had just started practicing in a small town, and he hung his sign outside his office door. It read: "A Swindler."

A stranger who called to consult him saw the sign and said: "My goodness, man look at that sign! Don't you see how it reads? Put in your first name—Alexander, Ambrose or what ever it is."

"Oh, yes, I know," said the lawyer resignedly, "but I don't like to do it." "Why not?" asked the client. "It looks bad as it is. What is your first name?" "Adam."

LLOYD-GEORGE MOST ANXIOUS TO VISIT CANADA THIS YEAR

The Former British Premier Can Make No Definite Plans as to Whether He Will Visit Canada in the Autumn or the Spring.

London, July 14.—Lloyd-George, for many years, is out of town, but his secretary informed the Canadian Press that while he is most anxious to visit Canada in the autumn, he can at present make no definite arrangements.

He was a young lawyer who had just started practicing in a small town, and he hung his sign outside his office door. It read: "A Swindler."

A stranger who called to consult him saw the sign and said: "My goodness, man look at that sign! Don't you see how it reads? Put in your first name—Alexander, Ambrose or what ever it is."

"Oh, yes, I know," said the lawyer resignedly, "but I don't like to do it." "Why not?" asked the client. "It looks bad as it is. What is your first name?" "Adam."

I was starting to work in the garden, and it needed it badly enough. For the soil was beginning to harden, and the weeds were untidy and tough.

I made a big you introduced me. "What did you do?" "Nothing." "I listened"—Boston to St. Lawrence.

LLOYD-GEORGE MOST ANXIOUS TO VISIT CANADA THIS AUTUMN

The Former British Premier Can Make No Definite Arrangements, as Everything Depends on the Outcome of Political Matters During Next Month or Two

London, July 14.—Lloyd-George, former Premier, is out of town, but his secretary informed the Canadian Press that while he is most anxious to visit Canada in the autumn, he can at present make no definite arrangements.

Everything depends on the outcome of political and other matters during the next month or two. He is receiving hundreds of invitations from Canadian politicians, but, his secretary says, he regrets that at present he is unable to reply definitely.

In Her Good Graces, I made a big hit with that woman you introduced me to. "What did you say to her?" "Nothing." I just kept still and listened.—Boston Transcript.

IS PLEASED WITH S. M. HOSPITAL

Sir Vincent Meredith, President of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, accompanied by Lady Meredith, paid a visit to the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital here last Sunday afternoon.

Sir Vincent explained that he had heard so much about the hospital which had been erected here as a monument to the War Heroes of Restigouche and the Belle de Chaleur district, that he was anxious to visit it and get acquainted at first hand with its work.

On being conducted through the hospital the distinguished visitor expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the completeness and modernity of the hospital's equipment and spoke in flattering terms of the institution as a whole.

Both Sir Vincent and Lady Meredith were enthusiastically over the splendid view to be had from the hospital and grounds and spoke of the site as an ideal location.

His keeper looked on at first in amazement, for chimpanzees are not usually afflicted with the Terpsichorean mania. Then he began to whistle a rag-time which Joey appeared fully to recognize.

Even when perched on his pole, Joey cannot keep still for long. The gentlest suggestion of music will start him beating time, and in a few seconds the pole is swaying to the rhythm of a thrilling simian jazz.

TAKE AWAY MATCHES FROM FOREST VISITORS

The Quebec Provincial forest permits, which every visitor to the forests of the Province is required to take out before they are allowed to enter the wooded country, does not entitle a person to carry matches as a portion of personal equipment, according to the latest interpretation of the regulations imposed by the Provincial Department of Lands and Forests.

Fire Rangers in the vicinity of Lac La Pêche and Lac des Cinq and near the St. Maurice River are calling upon all sportsmen, guides, tourists and others to give up matches and smokes before they proceed further, even though they have the required forest permit.

Because of heavy fire losses in June, the rangers throughout this section are making this stipulation until August 1, it has been announced.

RESCUE WORK ON SINKING LINER HALTED TO FIND DOLL

"I want my dollie."

This pathetic wail of a little girl rose above the noise and bustle of the passengers during their rescue from the sinking Liverpool-to-Belfast steamer Graphic, which was rammed by the United States Shipping Board Cargo steamer Balsam in Belfast Lough, says "The London Daily Press."

All the 168 passengers were rescued. The marchioness and the party in Ava, who, with her maid, was returning to her beautiful home at Clarendon, County Down, and was one of the calmest and most self-possessed of those on board, tried hard to comfort the little girl as they sat together in a lifeboat, but the cry persisted.

A passenger then gallantly left the deck and went below in quest of the doll, which he was fortunate in finding. The doll was thrown down into the lifeboat. A smile shown through the tears on the child's countenance as she pressed her precious doll to her.

The marchioness and the party in this lifeboat were taken on board the Heysham steamer Duchess of Devonshire.

His Explanation. Phrenologist to boy client—"You have a remarkably large bump of filial affection, my lad."

Boy—"Please don't press it so hard, sir. It's where father clouted me over the head."

GIRL RUNS 56-MILE RACE AND BEATS FORTY MEN

Stenographer Proves Her Metal in Marathon Race Against Male Entries—Was Twenty-Seventh—Was Cheered By Spectators.

Johannesburg, July 5.—A girl employed as a typist in the office of a Durban accountant has taken part in a Marathon race from Durban to Maritzburg, completing the fifty-six miles in just under twelve hours.

When arrangements were first made for the race Miss E. E. Hayward entered her name officially, but when the athletic association expressed doubts she announced, "Then I will run unofficially."

She did run, covering the desperately trying court in 11 hours, 43 minutes and ending twenty-seventh of sixty-eight runners. She ran in a gymnasium costume and leather bottomed shoes with suede uppers.

A fair-haired, blue-eyed girl of slight build, she weighed only ninety-eight pounds, and sat up in bed the morning after the race to tell an interviewer that she felt no ill effects from her long run.

"I am going to the theatre tomorrow night. Of course my legs are a bit tired, but I had very little trouble on my journey. I ran practically all the way, but went at a walking pace down hill. I should have been content if I had beaten only one man."

Miss Hayward was awaited in Maritzburg by thousands of people, although the man winner of the race arrived nearly six hours in front of her. She had to run the last stage through lines of cheering people.

DESCRIBES TOUR OF NORTH SHORE

Member of Newspaper Party Which Visited Inch Arran Writes Series of Articles

Dalhousie, July 17th.—In June 1920 the members of the National Editorial Association of the United States, numbering about 180 made a tour through New England and Canada. Among the ladies who were members of the party was Mrs. H. E. Hogue, of Eaton, Colorado, who wrote letters describing the trip for the Eaton Herald. The letters were later printed in pamphlet form, making a book of sixty five pages. We have found them to be a most interesting series of articles.

Your correspondent was fortunate in having been sent a copy of Mrs. Hogue's letters, which appear in the Phamlet as chapters to the number of eleven, with different headings according to the places visited. The chapter which refers to the visit that was made to Campbellton and Dalhousie by the members of The National Editorial Association, begins by describing the trip from Fredericton to Newcastle, then Campbellton, where the citizens who owned automobiles drove the visiting party to the Inch Arran House, at Dalhousie. From Campbellton the members went to Riviere du Loup and Quebec, and many readers of the Graphic will enjoy reading the description given by Mrs. Hogue about her visit to the old city of Champlain.

The chapter referring to the trip through the North Shore of New Brunswick and Eastern Quebec is entitled "WHERE WE FELL OFF THE WATER WAGON."

The first page of the pamphlet contains a very attractive picture of Mrs. Hogue. The second page an article of introduction signed by the talented lady. On the last page of the Book is found a short article written by Mrs. Hogue's husband explaining to his editorial friends the reason why he is not accompanying his good wife on the journey. The following is an exact copy of articles which have been published in The Eaton Herald I have tried to show in some small measure my appreciation of the efforts of the people we travelled among this summer, for our comfort and happiness and the many wonderful sights we were shown and the wealth and beauty of the various cities and country through which we travelled. Both in the United States and Canada the trip was one continuous round of pleasure and everywhere the people showed the party the most unfailing courtesy. Never shall their kindness be forgotten and long shall I remember and appreciate the untiring efforts of the places visited to make the trip a success. This, the second journey which I have taken with the editorial party, shows me more plainly than before how remarkable is Canada and her people and the wonderful opportunities for development there are within her domains. The Canadian people are alike from east to west in unbounded hospitality. May the good fortune and growth which Canada deserves come on apace. Those of the cities of our own country which we visited were not excelled by our sister country, for everywhere was the same attention shown the party.

To all our friends, in Canada and this country, who contributed to the success of the trip I extend greetings and try to show my appreciation in this little book. May the fates be kind and bring us all together again." (signed) MRS. H. E. HOGUE.

Why the Old Man Stayed At Home
"Many of my editor friends have asked why I permit the Missus to take in these editorial trips alone. As ladies and are susceptible to their presence or at least if they are not know where they get that "Permit" stuff. For the past two years the Missus has simply announced: "I'm going to the National Editorial Association meetin'." You look after th' kid an' the dog an' don't chase no chicken while I'm gone." So that's the way it is. But my time comes every winter when I hit out all alone to view the scenery at the California bathing beaches and leave her to run the dump and build the fire."

More Side Walks To Be Laid Soon

Mr. John Dickie, of Pt. la Nim, who returned recently from an extensive western trip, was in town last week consulting with Mayor Andrew Barbarie, about the further building of permanent sidewalks in the town of Dalhousie. It is understood that work will be started soon to build a concrete sidewalk from the corner of School lane and Adelaide St., to the south corner of Adelaide and Brunswick Streets. Further, that the east side of Brunswick St., starting from William St., to Adelaide St. opposite St. John's Presbyterian Church will have a concrete sidewalk also.

(Sgd.) H. E. HOGUE.
Where We Fell Off the Water Wagon.

Leaving Fredericton the route to Newcastle, the next place to visit was a distance of a little over one hundred and thirteen miles and largely follows first the valley of the Nashua and then crosses over to the famous Miramichi river, one of the largest in New Brunswick. In India Nomenclature Miramichi means "Happy Retreat" and that aptly describes its character. The scenery along the valley is varied, but always possesses the quality of beauty and is never uninteresting. Several other interesting rivers and streams are encountered during the journey, while the picturesque little hamlets which dot the country impart a human touch to the scenery. For a considerable distance the railway follows what in pre-railway days was a port-road from Fredericton to Newcastle, which is situated on the north shore of the Miramichi river at a point where the latter is practically an arm of the sea. Miramichi means more than a river, for it comprehends a district where the land and water have alike been a source of wealth for generations past and will be for generations to come.

Newcastle is one of the oldest towns in the district, and in the forest congregation of 1825, where six thousand square miles of territory was swept by fire, was for the time being swept out of existence. This town, with others in that district, are important shipping centres and are noted for their connection with the great lumber industry of the province, vessels being loaded here for the different parts of the world. Here is also situated the largest wireless station in Canada, which has a very important part to do during the war.

As we rode across the bridge over the river we saw many ships waiting for their loads and some ready for where an operation was successfully performed, on the twins, for tonsils and adenoids.

Miss Jennetta Norton, of Campbellton, is the guest of Miss Margaret Duncan.

Social and Personal News

ELECTRIC CAR MET WITH ACCIDENT

Journal of One of the Wheels Broke Near Eel River Friday.

The electric car which passes through the junction on its way up and down the line between Campbellton and Bathurst, met with an accident on Friday morning about 11 a. m. when the journal of one of the front wheels broke and fell on the rail. This happened two miles east of Eel River Station. The car managed to crawl along, by fits and starts, until the station was reached, where the Ocean Limited was waiting to pass. In spite of the strenuous efforts of experienced trainmen and engineers, the car could not proceed on its journey. A phone message was sent to Campbellton for the auxiliary car, which arrived about 2:30 p. m. While waiting for the auxiliary, a west-bound freight train came along and picked up the twenty or more passengers who were delayed here on Tuesday evening next. No doubt many theatre-goers were disappointed last week when the engagement was postponed, but however it was thought advisable owing to the Bazaar opening on the 17th inst, the Dramatic Company did not wish to interfere in any way with any local attractions and it is hoped that their thoroughness in this connection will be rewarded by a bumper house. Those taking part in the play have put considerable extra work on their parts since their opening performance in Campbellton some time ago and there is little doubt but what their work on Tuesday will but much nearer perfection than in their previous engagement. "Triss" is a strong western drama full of big moments and well spiced with comedy designed to please the average theatre audience. It is hoped that a large crowd will be on hand on Tuesday next. A real treat is in store for them.

"Triss" Coming Here

Tuesday, July 24th

According to late word the Campbellton Dramatic Company will stage their three act drama "Triss, or Beyond the Rockies" at the Opera House here on Tuesday evening next. No doubt many theatre-goers were disappointed last week when the engagement was postponed, but however it was thought advisable owing to the Bazaar opening on the 17th inst, the Dramatic Company did not wish to interfere in any way with any local attractions and it is hoped that their thoroughness in this connection will be rewarded by a bumper house. Those taking part in the play have put considerable extra work on their parts since their opening performance in Campbellton some time ago and there is little doubt but what their work on Tuesday will but much nearer perfection than in their previous engagement. ## OBITUARY

John B. Francoeur
A gloom was cast over the parish of Nouvelle, P. Q., last week, when the news came that young John B. Francoeur had accidentally lost his life by drowning. He had joined several other young men about five weeks ago to go to work at L'Abitibi, P. Q. His body arrived in Dalhousie by Limited on Sunday and was taken over to his home in St. John L'Evangéliste, where the funeral took place on Monday morning. He was a son of Mr. John Francoeur and was very much esteemed by all those who knew him.

Much needed rains have fallen lately. Roots and grain will greatly benefit as a result, but the hay crop is too far advanced to be helped materially by these showers.

ly delighted that there turned out to be ladies along. They always said

We drove to the country and a fair smiling country it was, thickly wooded with substantial farms. We stopped and the driver produced, to wit and namely, one large and interesting looking bottle and divers smaller ones and glasses and there was the time of popping and then various contented sighs and then we rode on again and then we stopped another

Oh, well, repetitions become tiresome, but at every stop more loudly did our hosts proclaim that they had chosen to place the average theatre audience. It is hoped that a large crowd will be on hand on Tuesday next. A real treat is in store for them.

came aboard with us and bespoken unto us as a free will offering and a token of good fellowship all that we, manned of the divers bottles and there after we were held in high esteem upon that train until such a time as the bottles were no more but were gathered to their fathers as is the way of bottles.

Yes, it was a ride long to be remembered and we only hope those hospitable Canadians were not speaking when they said it was the close of a perfect day. How sad it was when we found so many desirable acquaintances along the way we had to be rude to them—I mean from them—by the untimely departure of the train. But while we could not be with these new friends in the flesh we were in spirit, anyway for so long as it lasted.

The next visit was to Campbellton, which stands at the head of the navigable water of the Chaleur Bay.

"The Bay of Heat" and is beautifully situated. It is noted as a prosperous business center as well as an attractive summer resort. From the business standpoint its chief interests lie in the lumber industry, the annual output of which is about ninety million feet a year, while the total value of the manufactured products of the town is in excess of two million dollars. It is also an important shipping centre, for which it is well equipped with substantial wharves. As a center for fishing, hunting and canoeing Campbellton is famous. And it is equally so as a district in which campers can find much to entertain them.
