The Senate Again Blocks the The Company Training People

The measure to amend the Trade Mark and Design Act, which was introduced into the House of Commons by Mr. Bertram, M.P., for Center Toronto, is, to our mind, a fair and simple piece of legislation. Such the members of the House of Commons last year, and again this year, held it to be. It passed the House of Commons without opposition, and was sent to the Senate, which this year, as last year, lost no time in throwing it out, the Chamber-As Mr. Bertram, the introducer of the measure, pointed out, there is really no ground for this hostility to the bill. It simply enables an association or union of workmen, who have a mark in connection with their union, to register that mark, and be the proprietor of it, as is now the case with the label or trade mark used by any though it had the support of the Min-Ister of Justice, Government leader in trader, manufacturer or merchant. Exception was taken to the bill in the Senate last year, and it was then thrown out, on the ground that a measure of its nature gave workmen power to mark the goods of any manufacturer or tradesman who employed them. The measure did not give that power to anyone, and its promoters never intended that it should; but that there might not be the slightest misapprehension in that regard, when the bill was before the Senate last year, the Minister of Justice said that if it were allowed to go into committee, he was quite willing that these words should be added: "Provided always that no mark shall be put upon the goods without the consent of the

This year the Minister of Justice again gave his support to the bill, but the Senate Committee killed it. They had a new excuse for sacrificing it, and that was that so far similar legislation has not been passed in Great Britain. Why should that be held to be an unsurmountable objection? In many respects, Canada has led the Mother Country in the carrying out of progressive legislation, and here was at 11:30 tomorrow morning, and in the meantime it is understood the common opportunity where the Dominion might again have taken somewhat adtype of our workers, and inflicting no injury on anyone. This was the view taken by the House of Commons, but it does not meet with the approbation of the Senators, a majority of whom have once more shown how far behind they are in responding to the needs of the age.

It would puzzle any of the opponents of the legislation of the union label to give one valid reason in support of their objections. Instead of opposing in this regard, the workmen using the label or mark to designate the product of their skill should receive every encouragement, as contemplated by the introducers of the measure. The fact of the goods they manufacture bearing such a label or mark would be an incentive to them to produce a higher and better class of article; otherwise the label would be # to Walk.

The story is told of a young dude from the east who found himself in a far-west locality, at a dance. He was sympathetically attracted to a handsome wall-flower, almost statuesque in classic loneliness, from whom, late in the evening, he ventured to ask if he might have the pleasure of her company in a two-step. Whereupon the statuesque maiden, finding her tongue, replied: "Yes, sirree, mister; for I've sot, and sot, and sot, until I've almost

THE COMPANY

Council's Strike Committee Gets a Definite Proposition.

Street Railway Directors Willing to Take Back 30 Strikers.

And Reaffirm Their Offer to Arbitrate All Individual Grievances-Some Appearance of Stage Thunder.

Directors of the London Street Railway Company met the strike committee of the city council at the city hall this morning. An official proposition was made by the former with a view to the settlement of the difficulty with the men. It was to the effect that the company is willing to take back 25 to 30 of the strikers, and give the council an undertaking to submit any individual grievances to arbitration. The discussion lasted about an hour. Subsequently the committee conferred with the strikers. Another meeting with the directors will be held pany will refrain from engaging new President T. H. Smallman, Manager to a very large number of the best Spencer, and Solicitor Hellmuth repre-Broderick and sented the company. The members of the committee present were Ald Par-nell (chairman), Mayor Wilson, Ald. Wilkey, Carrothers, Graham, Rumball and Douglass. The chairman explained the object in view in the organization of the committee, and said the aldermen desired to meet the company on the most friendly terms. Their desire was simply to bring to a close the existing state of affairs. Things could not go on as they were. No matter whether the fault was the company's or the strikers, it was a fact that the cars were not running so that the citizens could use them as they should. It was a vexed question, and one that was a damage to the city of London. ("Hear, hear!" from the directors.) Mr. I F. Hellmuth, the company's solicitor, was then heard. The company could re-echo one statement the chairman had made, he said. It was deplorable that the present state of affairs existed. But they must take exception in a friendly way to the statement that the public could not use the cars, at all events during the hours they run.

Ald. Parnell said he did not mean it in that way. But there was something which made it so that the public would not use them.

Mr. Hellmuth, continuing, said the company would say, without vindictiveness, that under no circumstances would they displace the men who had come into their employ since the strike. Feeling that, the company had refrained from engaging any new men since the negotiations with members of the council during the past few days. The company was prepared to take back those of the strikers for whom they had room, provided their conduct had not been objectionable to the directors or the management. There were 70 odd men at present engaged, and the company would need from 25 to 30 more. The full strength of the service was from 95 to 110 men.

To Ald. Rumball, Mr. Hellmuth said that 23 of the present men employed on the railway are old employes; so that 47 are new men. Mr. Carr, in reply to a question, said that all of these were motormen or conductors. None were barn-men.

Mr. Hellmuth went on: "The company will raise no objection to any of the men joining a union or any other organization, but they are absolutely determined that they will not oblige any employe to become a member of some association. There can be no happy outcome of any negotiations, which have in view the compelling of the men to become members of a un-ion. It is to be distinctly understood also that each one of the men shall have a right regarding any grievance they may have against the management; if it cannot be settled by the management or the directors, to refer it to arbitration. We will give a letter to the council to that effect. The arbitration to be according to the Ontario act. The employes to appoint an arbiter, the company to appoint one, and the county judge a third. He thought it much better to deal with the city council, as the company were to be here for 25 years yet. It was better for the company that such a policy of arbitration be adopted. In offering such they were not conceding anything.

To Ald. Parnell—Yes, so far as any grievances between an employe and DOMINION DAY, the company are concerned, we admit the principle of arbitration. That was offered from the start. We were willing to arbitrate all grievances, past, present and future. Speaking of wages, Mr. Hellmuth said the present wage of 151/2 cents an hour was considered sufficient. This figure was reached after one year's service. In Montreal the men were increased after two years' service to 15 cents an hour, and are now getting less than the men here. In several other places in Canada the wages were less than paid here.

Ald. Wilkey wanted the company to increase the pay to $9 a week on a nine-hour day basis. Mr. Carr said the men were all getting 151/3 cents now. There was no grading at all. Ald. Parnell—Is it your intention to continue that? Mr. Carr said he could not speak for the future intentions of the com-pany. He could say, however, that it would be continued until the ranks were filled up.

The reduction of the time from ten hours per day to nine hours was men-tioned, and Mr. Smallman said the men had voluntarily made the reductioned,

Ald. Parnell pressed his question as to the company's intention regarding the men they might take back now.

Mr. Hellmuth—Those men will all be getting 15½ cents an hour. There will not be any grading among them, certainly. We don't intend to put a man back after he has been on six months. Mr. Hellmuth went on to say that if anything was to be done, it would only be fair to the company and the men that it be done as rapidly as possible.

The company was deliberately refusing from engaging men. Ald. Rumball figured that there were 77 men out on strike at present. Of these the company were willing to take back about 30.

He asked if some of the men now on did not understand that their work was only temporary? Mr. Carr said they all had permanent jobs, and had put up with the unpleasantness of the past five weeks for that reward ahead of them.

To Ald. Graham, Mr. Carr said that only two detectives acted as motormen or conductors, and they received 3½c an hour less than the others.

Ald. Rumball—I see no chance of a settlement if you won't take back more than 30 of the strikers. Ald. Parnell thanked the directors for the hearing and urged them to look at the situation from the standpoint of dealing with the men in as broad and liberal a way as possible.

Mr. Smallman said that had been their policy for the past five weeks. They had made a careful selection of the new men, most of whom were just as good citizens as the old men. He read the company's offer of May 22, the day of the strike, and claimed that they had then offered arbitration. They had done all that any business men could do. They had shown by their actions all through that they ready to take back some of the men. "But," he said, "if the management turn down any of the men they have employed since the strike, I'll go down with them. ("Hear, hear," said the other directors. The strikers had us We didn't have them tied. But notwithstanding the bad treatment they had received, they were willing to take back some of the strikers. However, the doors are closing fast. By the end of the week they will be blocked tight."

Ald. Rumball-If the company had hired citizens in the first place, they would not have had all this trouble." Mr. Carr—We have 46 citizens now.

Ald. Rumball said it would be in the

THE RIOTING AT SARAGOSSA. Saragossa, June 29.-The anti-budget riot, which began here Monday, were continued yesterday, and all the shops were closed in consequence. The troops on the mob in the Plaza de la construct a line direct from Klachta Constitution, killing one person and to Pekin, following the old caravan seriously wounding two others. The populace continues turbulent, and fresh troops have been stationed at strategic points in the city. Many of the wounded have been hidden, so it Yamen that any delay in granting this is difficult to determine the number of injured. Quiet has been restored at Seville and Valencia.

The disturbances at Saragossa were excitedly discussed in the Spanish Chamber of Deputies. Lieut.-Gen. Polavieja, minister of war, read the latest dispatches, showing that two generals, one aide-de-camp, several officers and four soldiers had been injured, the soldiers seriously.

In 1891, Mr. Goschen, then chancellor of the exchequer, expressed a strong opinion on this matter, but the relation between the Bank of England and the money market has been greatly changed by the rise of the great private joint stock banks. To arrange this reserve so as to meet the requirements of foreign countries and of the banks that have deposited with the Bank of England, will be the great object of my office, though the mat-ter need not cause any alarm."

EXIT ST. THOMAS.

St. Thomas, Ont., June 28 .- The St. Thomas baseball club has withdrawn from the Canadian League. The team has been disbanded, and the players all have been paid off. The Woodstock club was here today, but there was no game. The local club has not been playing in its usual form of late, and about half of the men are laid up with injuries. Then the attendance has been small and the management has been losing money.

President Cal Davis has this to say of the expulsion of the St. Thomas club from the Canadian League: 'A crisis was reached in the affairs of the Canadian League yesterday (Tuesday). The St. Thomas club has been deliberately salling under false colors all season. The club never put up its guarantee deposit, and the people connected with it simply would not pay any attention to letters written

Abscess Under the Arm.

Another permanent cure to the credit of B.B.B.

"In the beginning of the year 1897 I had a very severe attack of chair.

When I got better of that a large abscess formed under my arm and caused me a great deal of suffering as well as made me very weak. I had also sores in various parts of my body. Being advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, I thought I would do so, and after taking it the abscess and sores all went away and have never come back on me since. I think B.B.B. a wonderful blood purifier and healer and write this that other sufferers may know of its great worth." Mrs. Philip S. Rice, Villa Nova, Ont.

The Club Disbanded and Paid them on the subject. On Saturday night when the league met at London, it was decided by a unanimous vote, St. Thomas being unrepresented, to expel the club from membership unless the amount due, $170, was paid to the president before 6 o'clock on Tuesday evening. The president was also instructed to notify the Chatham club to withhold the game guarantees on Monday and Tuesday and forward the amount to be applied upon the $170 due. This was done. The St. Thomas people, as usual, made good promises, but made no attempt to fulfill them, and when 6 o'clock yesterday arrived no money had been put up. At Chatham the guarantee for Monday's game was withheld, but the St. Thomas team refused to play the second game unless both days' guarantees were paid. Manager Pears and the players were notified by wire to play, under penalty of being disciplined, but had left the grounds before the message arrived.

"The whole movement is one to put St. Thomas on a proper footing. It Lace was freely reported in St. Thomas ran. that the management intended to 'bluff' the league until it got all the big money that the 1st and 3rd of July games would bring, and drop out without paying a cent to the league; and the board of directors felt called upon to protect itself.

"There are other people in St. Thomas, good, responsible men, who claim to be ready and anxious to take over the team there and put it upon a proper footing. As the old lot have forfeited their franchise and all rights, It is up to the new men to say what they will do."

A ST. THOMAS VIEW.

St. Thomas Journal (Wednesday): The directors of the St. Thomas baseball club this afternoon finally decided to disband the club and have nothing more to do with the league.

league undoubtedly owns the franchise, but when it comes to apportioning the players it is altogether different matter. In the first place, they will have to pay the back salaries due to them, and besides the players have signed no contract with the Canadian League, but with St. Thomas, and the league cannot hold them if they object. It is said that the St. Thomas management will enter an action against the Chatham directors and the league to recover the guarantees for the Chatham games, and against the league for damages by reason of the action taken by President Davis. Directors of the street railway company were seen in regard to the telerheumatism. Sometimes I could graphed report from Chatham that not walk and had to be drawn in a they wanted and would get the franchise. They all said it was the first they ever heard of it, and were not in the baseball business. HAMILTON WINS.

The day was miser-able, a little rain falling, and the weather being cold enough for November. Kostal was easy for Hamilton, and the Guelph fielders made rungetting no task. Samuel Kernohan's Story Was First Made Known.

He Is Still of the Same Mind-Living at His Old Home in Gelert, Ont .-His Recent Letter.

Toronto, June 28.—Last week the Canadian papers printed a dispatch, giving a short account of a novel scrap-book which a Toronto man has compiled. In it, in the shape of newspaper clippings are thousands of the cures affected by Dodd's published Kidney Pills over diseases of the kid-neys, like Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Rheumatism, Heart Failure, Female Complaints, Nervous Troubles and Disorders of the Bladder and Urinary Organs. The owner of the book has received a large number of replies to the inquiries he sent out to determine whether cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills were lasting or not. Samuel Kernohan, Gelert, Ont., is one of these.

In 1895 Mr. Kernohan's case was published. He had been sick since December of 1893. He was attended by five doctors; three of them pronounced them Spinal Disease. All five agreed that it was incurable. When his money was nearly all gone, as a last hope Mr. Kernohan tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes put him on his feet, and a continued treatment cured him entirely. Here is his recent letter:

Gelert P. O., Ont., May 27, 1899. Dear Sir,-In answer to your request I now write. I am much pleased to be able to say that I have been as sound as I ever was until about two weeks ago, since when I have been a little under the weather, but not with the old complaint. I got another letter from London, Canada, from a woman to ask if the cure was as advertised, and I answered it as I do this one. have never ceased to thank Dodd's Kid-ney Pills for my cure. I saw my old doctor the other day and he said my case was something wonderful.
Yours truly,

SAMUEL KERNOHAN. Dodd's Kidney Pills are for sale at all druggists, fifty cents a box, or will be sent on receipt of price, by the Dodds Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto, Boyd was shot in the left leg and right arm. George Lovicke and W. H. Gordman, who were on their way home from the government fortifications, where they are employed, were hit by stray bullets. LIFE SAVED-Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good.

London, Thursday, June 29, 1899.

funneling the Irish Channel. The project of a tunnel between Great Britein and Ireland seems to be taking shape at last. Among the romoters are Lord Londonderry, ord Rosse, and a number of members of Parliament. Government aid has already been asked to supplement private capital. The proposed route of the tunnel is from Wigtonshire, Bootland, to county Antrim. The length would be almost 35 miles, 25 miles under the sea and ten miles of approaches. The cost is estimated at $50,000,000 It is a tremendous underaking, and if accomplished, the tunnel would be the greatest engineering feat in the world. The famous St. Gothard tunnel through the Alps is only nine miles long, and when commenced, in 1872, the maximum rate of progress was 21/2 yards per day, which was improved in 1880 to 10 yards per day. It may be expected that greater difficulties will be met in boring under the ocean than in piercing a mountain.

The proposed tunnel would work a social as well as a material benefit. The Irish channel, usually rough and squally, is a physical barrier, which, to a large degree, restricts intercourse between the people of Great Britain and of Ireland; but as the tunnel would practically annihilate the water passage, more neighborly relations would spring up. As England is the great market for Irish goods, an allail route, especially for perishable products, requiring rapid transit, would be invaluable to Ireland; but the wider advantages to the whole United Kingdom would arise from the part the tunnel would play in trans-'Atlantic travel. The London Spectator puts it thus:

"Nature has decreed that the shortest route between Europe and America should lie through Ireland. It is between Western Ireland and Eastern America that the Atlantic Ocean is parrowest. This natural advantage is at present valueless for traveling pur-No one would land in Galway Bay in order to cross Ireland and re-embark for England. But if land-ing in Galway Bay meant the end of the sea passage, if to disembark there meant to step into a railway carriage which need not be left until the arrival in London-the difference in the Irish gauge is a very small obstacle and could very easily be overcome—the case would be altogether different. The saving of the additional time needed for the voyage to Liverpool or Southampton would then be all gain. The Irish tunnel would revolutionize the Atlantic passenger trade. With the competition now existing between rival Atlantic passenger trade. lines of steamers, Liverpool and Southampton must always have an uncer-tain hold on the steamers bound for Europe. But the superiority of Galway, in point of shortness of time at sea, would be too well assured resistance to it possible. There would be so many hours saved on every crossing, and to a large number of people this one fact would be enough to determine them in favor of particular line of steamers. the passenger traffic between England and North America in English hands is in itself an object for which it is worth our while to make sacrifices." The turn affairs have taken must be source of satisfaction to Principal Grant, of Queen's University, who has been an untiring advocate of the tunnel scheme for a considerable time, and has frequently urged in the British press the advantages of a short Atlantic passage.

Canadian Trade With the United States.

The Toronto Mail compiles a table of imports and exports for the ten months from July 1, 1898, to April 30, compared with previous similar periods, as fol-

Imported from the Unite	d States—
Tan months of 1896-7	$52,831,784

man months of 1891-8	40,000,40
Ten months of 1898-9	25,550,53

It is gratifying to find this steady Increase in our imports from the United States, though the Mail hardly takes that view of it. Most of our American purchases consist of raw materials, which are at the base of Canadian manufactures. This class of imports will continue to grow with the development of our industries.

It is not so satisfactory to note our leclining exports to the United States, but that is no fault of Canada's, and no great cause for alarm, since we are able to pay for our imports by exports to Great Britain. Because the Americans choose to shut out our goods by a high tariff, is no reason why we should further tax ourselves to spite them. At the same time, it is natural that, Canadians should feel some resentment at the present lop-sided course of trade. Canada is so excellent a customer of the United States that our neighbors, In their own interests, should reciprocate. Their present policy of exclusion s driving Great Britain by degrees to transfer her purchases of cattle and breadstuffs from the United States to the Argentine Republic, because the latter country puts less restraint on British trade. In time the same principle of exchange will operate in expelling American goods from the Canadian market by making it more profitable for us to deal with those who deal with us.

The Dominion Iron and Steel Company, with a capital of $20,000,000, will erect a blast furnace, steel works and ship building yards at Sydney, Cape Breton, in proximity to both the coal and iron ore. This is all the more gratifying because it proves that the reduction of the iron bounties, announced by the Government, is no deterrent to the growth of this industry. It will be able to stand on its own feet and challenge competition with the world.

Our Growing Assets.

[Morrisburg Courier.] Some of our Canadians are not aware of how 'great Canada really is. For example, Canada has a forest area estimated at 1,250,000 square miles, or 800,000,000 acres, the largest forest area, so far as the woods of commerce are concerned, of any country in the

A Hanging Year.

[Montreal Gazette.] This is likely to be remembered as the hanging year in Canada. > Elect Corruption. [Toronto Globe.]

When a thousand free men vote on one side and a thousand on the other, and the issue is decided by the money spent in debauching a hundred, it is a farce to dignify such a proceeding with the name of a popular election. To describe it we ought not to use the word democracy, the rule of the people, nor aristocracy, the rule of the best, but to coin some new phrase to signify the rule of the worst elements of the community. It is difficult to be-lieve that public men, either Liberals or Conservatives, are desirous that that condition of things should exist. For while at strikes at good government and at popular government, it strikes also at honorable ambition for public service. Eloquent speech, faithful and skillful administration, count for nothing where the election is decided by the margin of corruption. It is in the interest of Canada, not of either party alone, that the post of a public man in this country should depend upon his knowledge of public affairs, his skill in administration and his power of appealing to human reason. Corruption, tending as it does to exalt the boss and the heeler over the tribune and the statesman, is the common enemy of both parties, and they should unite against it as against a pestilence.

The Spirit of Charity.

[Rev. John Hunt, in Torontot Globe.] A few years ago I was introduced by Sir Frank Smith to the late Archbishop Walsh. In doing so he said: "Your Grace, though Mr. Hunt and myself have been intimate friends for more than half a century, he has not been able to make a Methodist of me yet." Thinking I must say something, too, I said: "Your Grace, though Sir Frank and myself have known each other so long, we have each respected the other's opinions, and shall continue to do so, as he has not succeeded in making a Catholic of me." The archbishop, shaking hands with us both at the same time in his own genial and kind-ly manner, said; "God bless you both, you are both right; go on, you'll meet in the same place in the end." Well, Sir Frank, dearly beloved old friend, I am an octogenarian now, you are fol-lowing hard after. God has greatly blessed us both, you with worldly wealth and honors and me in being the instrument of bringing many souls to the Saviour's feet. We'll neither of us be long here. I pray that we may recognize each other in the better and brighter world above.'

CATHOLIC UNION

Speech by Archbishop Ireland in Old

London. London, June 29 .- The Duke of Norfolk, Premier Duke, Hereditary Mar-shal and Chief Butler of England, presided at a special meeting of the Catholic Union Society of Great Britain, convened to hear an address by Archbishop Ireland. Baron Clifford, of Chudleigh, Count of the Holy Roman Empire, and all the Catholic nobility in England were present. A letter was read from Cardinal Herbert Vaughan, Archbishop of Westminster, expressing the hope that the Catholic Church in England would become more closely allied to the Catholics of the United States. He referred to the generosity of the American people who had founded the Catholic mission at Mill Hill, and said that American first received missionaries from there to the negro race. The future, in his judgment seemed to indicate even a more intimate friendship between the two nations than had existed in the past Monsignore Ireland expressed pleasure at having an opportunity to address some of the great hereditary families of England, who had distinguished themselves in science, art and The liberty granted by literature. England to Roman Catholicism would, he believed, greatly influence the na-tions of the world, he would imitate her actions on this question, and her example would thus be the means of extending the Church of Rome throughout the world. Referring to the cordial relations between Great Britain and the United States, the archbishop said he hoped this friendship would increase as the years passed, a sentiment which was received with

One-sixth of all deaths are from consumption. But the man goes along with his eyes bulging to watch cholera and yellow fever. He disdains to cure the cold or check the little cough, and consumption trips him up.

Don't neglect little ailments. Keep the system up to the point of effectual resistance against disease. This is best done by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, increases the action of the blood-making glands, cures all disorders of the organs of digestion and nutrition, except cancer of the stomach, purifies the blood, increases the vital energy and so enables the body to resist and throw off disease. Even when there is emaciation, weakness, hectic, cough, bleeding at the lungs and other alarming symptoms, "Golden Medical Discovery" can be counted on to help every time and to heal 98 times out of every hundred. Sick people can consult Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y., by letter, without fee or charge. Every letter is read in private, and treated as a sacred confidence. All

"Last spring I was taken with severe pains in my chest, and was so weak I could hardly walk about the house," says Mrs. G. E. Kerr, of Fort Dodge. Webster Co., Iowa. "I tried several physicians and they told me I had consumption, I heard of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and I thought I would try some of it. Before I had taken the first bottle I was very much better; I took five bottles of it and have not yet had any return of the trouble."

THE SNEEZERS

Convention of Hay Fever Victims at Marquette, Mich.

Marquette, Mich., June 29.—The Western Hay Fever Association will make this city its headquarters in August and September, when fully 1,000 sneezers will gather for the purpose of seeking immunity from the disease. The Western Association was organized in 1880 at Petoskey, Mich., which till last summer continued to be the headquarters. It was first known as the Old Guard of the Jolly Sneezers, and continued under that name till 1882, when it was organized more substantially as the Western Hay Fever Association of the United States.

The officers of the association are anxious to have insignia for the society, but they are unable to get either a word or a pictorial representation of the distinctive sneeze which every "hay" says is the one emblem which should be embossed upon a pin or chain, to be worn by members of the organization. The association has a standing offer of $50 for a design that Newfoundland.

St. Johns, Nfld., June 29.—In consequence of the French attitude and the attempts to make trouble for the colony along the treaty shore, the Colonial Government yesterday decided to absolutely prohibit the French from obtaining bait at ports along the Newfoundland coast. This policy meets with general approval.

Yesterday the Colonial Legislature voted additional sums to help enforce the bait laws. A stormy meeting is ex-pected between the French commodore and the colonial authorities when the former arrives on Saturday.

CHICAGO, June 28 .- Domestic crop damage reports became the dominant factor in the wheat market today. Trade was small, however, and the market closed only 1/sc higher. Corn declines %c to %c under heavy re-ceipts. Oats advanced %c on bullish foreign advices, and provisions advanced 21/2c to 71/2c with the advance in hogs. Minneapolls and Duluth reported 491 cars, compared with 713 last week and 32 a year ago. Chicago re-ceipts were 152 cars, 21 of contract grade. The chief element of strength came from that part of the country which has been responsible for most of the weakness of late. Crop advices from all sections of the spring wheat country told of the damage from rust and wet weather, followed by extreme heat. The Illinois State report estimated 51 per cent of the crop lost, and the condition of the rest only 38 per cent. Aggregate primary receipts were 227,000 bushels, against 82,000 a year ago. Sir Hibbert Tupper Finishes His Yukon Speech.

Questions Asked the Government-Post Office Amendments.

Ottawa, June 29 .- The motion submitted Tuesday night by Sir Hibbert Tupper, requesting the governor-gen-eral to issue a royal commission to two or more judges for the investigation of Yukon affairs, contains about 15,000 words; it would fill from ten to twelve columns of an ordinary newspaper. Sir Hibbert, in the motion, goes into all sorts of questions, suggestions and charges concerning the state of things in the Yukon, and deals with the whole subject so minutely that it is impossubject so minutely that it is impossible to follow him in detail in a newspaper summary. Yesterday he brought to a conclusion his speech in support of the resolution. It was 6 o'clock when he concluded his speech, which covered about nine hours in the two days. ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS.

In reply to a question by Mr. N. Clarke Wallace, Mr. Paterson stated that a basis of valuation has been fixed by the department of customs on the importation of binders, mowers and horse-rakes from the United States, and that in fixing the values the department had taken into account the price of the articles in the country of export and the terms and conditions of sale. Sir Louis Davies, replying to a question by Mr. Britton, said that the government has the question of the formation of a naval reserve or a naval brigade or a naval militia in Canada under consideration, but that it would not be in a position to deal with the matter at this session. There had, he added, been communication with the imperial naval authorities on the subject, but being of a confidential nature he could not bring it down.

Replying to an inquiry by Mr. Fraser (Lambton), Mr. Kirkpatrick stated that an action for $300,000 for breach of contract against the British-American Bank Note Company had been entered by the government. The government claimed that the stamps supplied had been lithographed from stone instead of from steel plates, according to contract, and that the stamps had, therefore, been inferior. The company pleaded that the stamps had been accepted by the proper officials at the time.

Speaking to a motion to adjourn, Col. Prior, after referring to an article in a Victoria paper, denied that he had ever opposed the construction of an all-Canadian telegraph line, but admitted that he did oppose the government building the telegraph line until the Northern Commercial Telegraph Company had been given an opportunity to carry out the work, for which they hold a charter, and which provided for a line which, it was true, passed through

American territory. THE POSTOFFICE ACT. Mr. Mulock's bill to amend the postoffice act was read a second time. He explained that it provides for the carrying of late mail to the trains on payment of a fee, and for the establishment of a system of indemnity for losses of registered mail matter, such indemnity in no case to exceed $25 per article. Another section repeals the provision that no one can be appointed superintendent of mail clerks who has not traveled in a mail car for ten years. This is to meet the case of men who have been taken from the mail service and put in the superintendent's office, and who now could not succeed the superintendent, although specially suited to do so. The act also permits newspapers to send out in sample copies the same notices, etc., as they can send to their regular subscribers. Mr. Mulock, in further explanation of the proposed guarantee of registered postal matter, stated that the existing fee for registration is pretty high, and after consultation with the accountant of the department he thought the minimum extra insurance fee for anything under $5 need not be more than one or two cents, perhaps.

Mr. Mulock accepted the suggestion of Dr. Sproule that at least half of the qualifying period of service should be passed as a railway mail clerk, and the clause, as amended, was adopted, Mr. E. F. Clarke asked whether the government had taken any steps to-wards insuring the lives of railway mail clerks, who ran considerable risk Mr. Mulock, in reply, pointed out that this step by the government might result to the advantage of the railway companies, who had been compelled in some cases to pay large sums to rail-way mail clerks injured in the service.

ter-general was then given a third reading and passed. GOVERNMENT WILL GAIN TIME. The first minister gives notice of motion that henceforth, until the end of the session, Mondays, which are now devoted to private members' business, shall be taken by the government. It is also the intention of the government to ask the House of Commons to sit on Saturdays, beginning a week from Dominion Day. The is that the work of the session may be at an end by the end of July

FREE OF DUTY

Belongings That May Be Taken Into the United States by Immigrants Crossing the Canadian Border.

Washington, June 29 .- The treasury department has made an important series of rulings regarding the character of belongings that may brought into the United States free of duty by immigrants crossing the Canadian boundary. In reply to a letter from a collector at a frontier port, Acting Secretary Spaulding says: "You state that bonafide settlers in Canada are allowed to enter free of duty into that country sixteen head of cattle, and that applications have been made to you for definite ruling as to the privilege in this regard accorded to settlers or immigrants coming to the United States. In reply, I have to state that such animals without regard to the number as are in actual use for the purpose of immigration are entitled to free entry under paragraph 474, there being no general provision of law for the free entry of immigrants' effects as such. Household effects which include horses and carriages used in the household economy and not those used in farming or agriculture are entitled to free duty. This would exclude, cows, pigs, dogs, etc., and also oxen not actually used for the purpose of immigration, the department having decided that there is no provision of law for the free entry of animals imported by immigrants other than those used in the transportation of themselves and families. The number of horses and carriages to be admitted free as household effects would depend upon the station in life of the owner. Provision is found in paragraph 645 for the free entry of tools of trade, etc., of immigrants, but farm animals could not be imported

SOME PRETTY JUNE WEDDINGS

Well-Known Quebec Journalist Marries a Popular London Township Lady-Other Pleasing Events.

Miss Bessie A. Jackson, youngest daughter of the late Thomas Jackson, of London township, was yesterday united in marriage to Mr. J. E. Middleton, son of the Rev. Eli Middleton, now of Weston, but formerly pastor of the King Street Methodist Church, and president of the London Conference. The ceremony was performed by the groom's father at 2 p.m., at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Homer Jackson, con. 7, of London. The bridesmaids were the Misses Jennie Steele, Florence Munro and Miss Maude McDonald-the latter a cousin of the bride. Mr. J. F. Atkinson supported the groom. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Homer Jackson. The bride was beautifully attired in white organdie, with bridal veil, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and maiden-hair fern. The bridesmaids looked extremely pretty in pink, white and blue, respectively, and carried carnations.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served on the lawn. About 60 guests were present, many of them coming from Montreal. Peterboro, Toronto, London and other places. The young couple received many beautiful and valuable tokens of esteem. Mr. and Mrs. Middleton left the city via the C. P. Met by Mr. Sifton in the House-Vote To Be Taken Today.

[Special to The Advertiser per C.P.R.] Ottawa, June 29.-Mr. Sifton will reply to Sir Hibbert Tupper this afternoon, and it is understood that a vote will be reached before the house adjourns. While it is not known what course the government will take on the debate, there can be none as to the fate which awaits Sir Hibbert's resolution. He must have known that when he framed it in the first place the resolution is wholly unconstitutional. It asks parliament to relegate to a couple of judges the responsibility of trying ministers of the crown for neglect of duty in a matter which exclusively belongs to parliament itself, and therefore should be referred to a parliamentary committee. Again it asks that Judge Dugas should be tried by two judges, when Sir Hibbert knows that a judge can only be tried by impeachment after he has been put in possession of all the charges against him. As to the insufficience or otherwise of Commissioner Ogilvie's report. the evidence has only just been printed, and Sir Charles was speaking from advanced proof sheets. If it is found after the members have had a chance of perusing it to be lacking, then a fuller and a more complete inquiry may be ordered, but as yet this is not known. The government has already promised parliament the fullest investigation into the whole matter, and the public may rest satisfied that this course will be pursued apart altogether from whatever Mr. Tupper may say A TORONTO WITNESS.

CIRCUS DAY

The Big Show Pretty Nearly Owns the Town.

Imposing Pageant - Interesting Scenes at the Depot and on the Street.

The old circus grounds on Richmond street north, near Cheapside street, are crowded today with some 30 tents, the property of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells' great show.

The procession this morning was one of the finest that ever passed along the streets of London, and was witnessed by thousands of citizens and visitors The procession was booked to move off at 9:30, but did not start from the grounds until 10:15. It came down The Saints' Chance-Thomas Donley Richmond street to the V, and then continued down Park avenue to Dundas, east on Dundas to Weilington, south on Wellington to King, west to Park avenue Park avenue to Dundas, Dundas to Richmond, Richmond to York, York to Talbot, Talbot to Dundas. Dundas to Richmond, and up Richmond to the grounds. The entire route along which the procession pass-ed was crowded with spectators. The crowd was so dense at the corner of Richmond and Dundas streets, that traffic was completely blocked for some Little groups started to gather on the street corners as early as nine o'clock, and they waited patiently two hours to see the pageant. Windows along the line of march were at a premium. Every point of vantage was quickly taken. The glitter of the gold on the wagons, the playing of the bands, and the fine display of handsome and spirited horses made the sight a very pleasing one. The ele-phants and a number of wild beasts in the cages tickled the little folks immensely, and they laughed in great glee when a cage of monkeys hove in sight. The steam organ (no circus would be complete without one) played all the popular airs of the day. The procession was about a mile in length.

The first train carrying the effects of the circus arrived before daylight this morning, and for some three hours a procession of circus attaches, wagons and various animals kept the attention of the hundreds of persons who went down to witness the debarkation, which took place at the G. T. R. crossing at Maitland street. The labor-saving devices employed in unloading the three trains proved of great interest to the crowd. The droves of elephants, which were the most attractive feature to the small boy, assisted greatly in the work, being made to shove the heavy wagons around. Shortly after 12 o'clock crowds began to move toward the show-grounds. There was considerable cheering of the union 'busses, which left the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, crowded with passengers, while the empty cars were hailed with derisive cheers.

Ald. Douglass-Is it the intention of the company to take back all of the married men now out?

Mr. Carr-Absolutely impossible. Adjourned. NOTES.

The Montreal Street Railway Company was fined $2 and costs yesterday in two cases of overcrowding its cars. The London Street Railway pany are not apprehensive of any fines for overcrowding during the strike. An amusing incident occurred at the corner of Richmond and Dundas streets. A party of ladies were stepping on to a street car when a stranger approached them. He spoke to them, and they immediately re-cognized a friend. At his request they left the car and boarded the union bus, amid the loud cheers of the crowd of bystanders.

The 27 union 'busses were kept constantly crowded the greater part of the day. The horses were changed every hour, so that good time was made in conveying passengers to the circus grounds. A number of the conveyances in use were voluntarily loaned to the union by citizens. The crowd at the corner of Rich mond and Dundas streets made the street resound with the cry of "scab!"

Hamilton Herald, Wednesday: The trouble at Chatham yesterday was the outcome of an attempt on the part of the league directorate to put the St. Thomas team on a business basis. At present, it appears, the club is in the hands of a number of adventurers, who have caused no end of dissatisfaction among the baseball enthusiasts of the Saintly City. These people have apparently had but little baseball experience, and the club at once took to the toboggan. The patronage dwindled away to nothing at all, and there were loud cries for a change. Some weeks ago Tom Donley, a St. Tho-mas hotel man and all-round sport. made application for the franchise, and the application was granted providing Mr. Donley could make satisfactory arrangements with the then owners of the club. In this Mr. Donley was unsuccessful, and the anvil chorus at once began its work. Matters were getting serious with the Saints, and the disbandment of the club seemed imminent. The league believed that with Mr. Donley and the St. Thomas Street Railway Company in charge of the team, the situation would be greatly improved, and its step in demanding the immediate payment of due the league was taken largely with a view to bringing about this change. It is not known, however, whether Mr. Donley is still anxious to become a magnate, but if he at Highgate. is not, there would seem to be but little Mr. Joseph hope of the continuance of a team in the Saintly City.

By Closing Down of United States Tin Plate Mills.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 29.-As a result of the failure to settle the tin-plate wage scale at Chicago conference, all the tin-plate mills in the country are preparing to close down, and tomorrow at midnight there will be a general suspension. Nearly 50,000 men will be thrown idle by the shut down. How long it will last is a matter of speculation. Circulars have been sent out to all the lodges notifying them of the non-success of the Chicago conference, and it is expected that the sentiment of the men on the question will reach the local officials' office about next Monday. There are rumors of a mass meeting to be held Saturday, but the local officials would not talk on the subject.

Interesting Incident at the Good Templars' Convention.

Toronto, June 29 .- There was an interesting flag incident at the Normal School last evening in connection with the public reception tendered the delegates to the grand lodge of the International Order of Good Templars by the Ontario Grand Lodge. While the grand worthy chief of Ontario, George Spence, was delivering an address of welcome, a delegate rose and drew attention to the fact that there was no United States flag among the decorations, although the delegates were chiefly American. Mr. Spence apologized for the omission, remarking that the flags had been borrowed from the parliament buildings, and it had not been observed until too late that they did not include an American flag. A few minutes later Mrs. Wait, a delegate from Cleveland, Ohio, produced a small United States flag, and hung it over the balcony near where she sat. # STRAIGHT TALK TO THE COMPANY

Aldermen Determined to Have a Settlement of the Strike.

Things Must Not Go On as They Are-The People Evidently Against the Company-Getting Down to Work,

The strike committee of the city council got to work last night. The avowed intention of the members is to become thoroughly familiar with the differences existing between the street railway company and the employes, and use every effort to effect a settlement as speedily as possible. A chairman was chosen, the documents in the case studied, and an official meeting with the local directors of the company arranged. Those present were the mayor, Ald. Parnell, Rumball, Wilkey, Graham and Douglass.

The mayor moved Ald. Parnell to the Ald. Parnell demurred, and moved that Ald. Graham be chairman. The mayor's motion was carried. Ald. Parnell asked the mayor to re-

The mayor reported, as he had done and talked matters over in a very Mr. Smallman told the men he thought some of the men would be taken back if they made application. Ald. Rumball — True, but we can make it so uncomfortable for those

Ald. Graham emphasized the fact that the council had a great deal to do with the matter, despite what some of the aldermen might say. "There was much to do, and it couldn't be done too quick," he said. "We must give the company to understand that they have to do something. Things cannot go on as they are. When after conferring more by coaxing than by force. Ald. Rumball agreed that they should use their persuasive powers first, but if they failed, some other method should be tried. He suggested a discussion with the company.

Ald. Douglass moved that they try to get Mr. Smallman there at once. Ald. Parnell telephoned Mr. Smallman, and the latter said he would communicate with the other local directors with a view to meeting the committee

While Ald. Parnell was at the 'phone some interesting comments on the strike situation at present were made. Ald. Douglass-It was a caution to see the people walking in the rain tonight Ald. Wilkey-It's quite evident the people are against the company. Ald. Graham-There is a good deal more sympathy with the men than people think. I have been surprised on talking with a number of people who come into the store. "Well, now do you like riding on the cars?" I ask. The reply is usually. "I've got too much principle to do that at the present time." The other aldermen agreed that the people would not ride committee concluded that 1t would be useless to meet the men until the company had been met. The agreement made with the men last fall, their proposed new agreement, and the new Cleveland agreement were read and the differences noted.

The mayor and Ald. Douglass did not think the Cleveland agreement was as good as the old agreement here. Ald. Graham-They have arbitration there. The Mayor-Not as much as they had here. There it is only on dismissal. He added in a tone denoting an abandoned hope: "If the men here could get the old agreement again. That was a very fair agreement if there had been provision for adjusting their grievances.

Ald. Douglass-It seems to me that was a very fair agreement. Ald. Graham said the agreement might have been all right, company had found ways of avoiding Mr. Carr had admitted that although he did not ask men to sign an agreement not to join the union, he would not employ men whom he knew would join. Such a thing as that was

Ald. Douglass said it would be in the interests of the company to take back all the old men.

The Mayor-If we could get employment for the men who are objectionable to the company. He thought that about ten per cent were in that class. Ald. Parnell thought that if 90 per cent were back at work the others could be arranged for. [These figures did not come before the committee of ficially, and so far as was known no definite statement had been made by the company that they were ready to Adjourned till 11:30 this morning.

THE FEATS OF A TIRELESS MAN

Of Such Wonderful Strength and Enduarnce That He Is Called the Human Engine.

McMinnville, June 29.-There is little doubt that if Eugene Leoper, a characteristic but unassuming woodsawyer and man-of-all-work of this city, would proclaim himself a world-beater as a ong-distance pedestrian against time, as well as a champion at almost any class of manual labor like wood-sawing, grubbing, spading and such work, his fortune would be made as soon as the wagers could be secured and the tests applied. Eugene Leoper is a spare-built man,

5 feet 8 inches high, 37 years old, and weighs 170 pounds. For many years he has been in this city, and the stories of his walking, wood-sawing, garden-spading, etc., have been told and re-told, few doubting and many marveling; yet, strange to say, they have scarcely ever been published, even in the local papers. This is owing as much as anything to the trivial significance given them by Mr. Leoper him-self, who is in no sense a sporting man, but who will walk, saw, grub or spade any time for 20 cents an hour. The remarkable records he has made have in no sense been under test or on wager, but purely as matters of business. One day he found it necessary to go to Corvallis, which is 48 miles from here. He left the Southern Pacito the council, that Mr. Smallman and fic depot at 7 a.m., and arrived at Corthe men had met in an unofficial way vallis eight minutes before 12 m. He ran every step of the way at a gait friendly manner. No offers had been very nearly ten miles an hour. Leoper made by either side, further than that says when he is in a hurry he never waits for a train. On this same occasion he went on to Albany, twelve miles, remained there until the next morning at 7 o'cock, reaching employed for 24 hours at least. This he home, via Salem, where he stopped briefly, at 3 p.m. The distance covered was nearly 70 miles, and he made it in Salem is 25 miles from here. Leoper pointed he decided that through it went to that city, transacted business, alone could any negotiations be carried and was back in nine hours. Tillamook is likewise about 50 miles away, the road being by no means a level one. Leoper left this place at 7 a.m., stopped an hour at Mountain House for dinner, and arrived in Tillamook at 4 p.m. Leoper desired to see a man living near Newberg, about sixteen miles distant. On arriving at the man's home he was disappointed to hear that he had just left on horseback for this city. Leoper started back, and arrived here ahead of his man,

It sounds incredible to hear Leoper say that he can travel further in a day than any livery team in the place, but he has made that statement, and the liverymen all know he has money to back it. A prominent man of this place had a tree in his dooryard, and, desiring to have it removed, he asked Leoper what he would charge to grub up the tree, reduce it to stovewood, burn the brush and refill the hole. "Twenty cents an hour," was the reply, to which Mr. stated that he would not pay such wages for that kind of work. A little later he summoned Leoper and told him he would give him $15 to do the job. Leoper sized up the tree and accepted the offer. On the following morning he set to work, and in just fifteen hours the job was completed, and he had made $15 instead of 20 cents per hour.

Another old resident had a piece of ground he wished to have spaded. He asked Leoper what he would charge to the answer, but the old gentleman spading." If Leoper wanted to do the job for $4 he might do it. He accepted, the work in twelve and completed hours, doubling his 20 cents an hour. Neither of the two gentlemen men tioned has since given Leoper a stroke of work, the only reason stated being that they cannot afford to pay such wages. These are not the only ones who have no work for Leoper for the same reason; but Leoper is never out of work, there being plenty who patronize him for the very reason that a few have for not doing so.

On another occasion Leoper left here at 6 a.m. by train for St. Joe, walked the remaining distance of over two miles to Lafayette, sawed two cords of ordinary cordwood into stove lengths, sawing each stick twice, walked the entire distance of five miles home, arriving before 3 p.m. These are but a few of the phenome mal accomplishments of this man. Every day adds more of the same kind. He will tell you at any time that one very aggravating feature of his work for certain ones is that he has to do a part of the job and then go to another in order to make the work string out and save himself from the common complaint that he has made too much money-that such wages are too large for the class of work he follows. Leoper is not a fairy, nor is this a He is here, and any man can fable. see him for the pains of coming to McMinnville, or he would, no doubt, be glad to vindicate his record as a pedestrian in quickly coming to him is positively assured of his "20 cents an hour.'

He who would pass his declining years with honor and comfort should, when young, remember that he may one day become old; and remember when he is old, that he has once been young.-Addison.

SUMMER COMPLAINT

One of the Commonest and Most Dangerous Diseases.

Everyone Should Be Prepared for It With a Bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Very few people escape an attack of Summer Complaint. It may be slight, or it may be severe, but nearly everyone is liable to it.

You cannot tell when it seizes on you how it may end. Let it go for a day only and see how weak and prostrated it will leave you. Your only path of safety lies in providing yourself with a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It's the only remedy known that can be relied on to cure you. It settles the stomach, has a soothing influence on the irritated bowels, a stimulated action on the weakened system, and is a powerful disinfectant of whole intestinal tract.

Mrs. Daniel Smith, Lunenburg, N S., writes: "Last summer my little boy was dangerously ill with diarrhea. He grew very weak, so that he could hardly stand. I concluded to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and very soon after he began taking it he sarted to mend, so that in a short time he was as well as ever. I shall never be without it in my house." Price, 35c; all dealers.

A WOMAN'S PLUCK WINS

How a Drunken Husband Was Made a Sober Man by a Determined Wife. She writes: "I had for a long time been thinking of trying the Samaria Prescription treatment on my husband for his drinking habits, but I was afraid that he would discover that I was giving him medicine, and thought unnerved me. I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very much intoxicated, and his week's salary nearly all spent, I threw off all fear and determined to make an effort to save our home from the ruin I saw coming, at all hazards I sent for your Samaria Prescription and put it in his coffee as directed next morning and watched and prayed for the result. At noon I gave him more and also at supper. He never suspected a thing, and I then boldly kept on giving it regularly, as I had discovered something that set every nerve in my was body tingling with hope and happiness, and I could see a bright future before me - a peaceful happy home, a share in the good things of life, an attentive, loving husband comforts, and everything else dear to a woman's heart, for my husband had told me that whisky was vile stuff, and he was taking a dislike to it. It was only too true, for before I had given him the full course he had stopped drinking altogether, but I kept giving the medicine till it was gone, and then sent for another lot to have on hand if he should relapse, as he had done from his promises before. He never has, and I am writing you this letter to tell you how thankful I am. I honestly believe it will cure the worst cases.

We will send our pamphlet free, giving testimonials and full information with directions how to take or administer Samaria Prescription. Correspondence considered sacredly confidential Address The Samaria Remedy Company, Jordan street, Toronto, Ont.

John Jones, 76, Turned Both Over to Jessie Cressor, a Maiden of 18.

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 29. - Johnnie W. Jones is a youth of 76 summers, plus an equal number of winters. He formed a strong attachmen for Miss Jessie C. Cressor, a matured matron of 18, and his fervent love seemed to be more than reciprocated by the sweet young maiden. They decided to get married, and in order that the event might pass off quietly they hied themselves away to White Pigeon. But the fates were against them - they could find no minister. Nothing daunted, the gay swain secured a livery rig and drove to Constantine, where the nuptial knot was tied by the Methodist parson. The happy couple then returned to Kalamazoo.

Jones has amassed a considerable fortune, which consists of real estate in this city and county, besides many farm mortgages, the whole footing up to $300,000. It is said that prior to the wedding he willed all his property to his bride-to-be, and as he has no blood relations the will is likely to stand uncontested. 69 and 18.

Why Commissioner Evangeline Booth Was Clad in Rags.

Thrilling Stories of a Devoted Woman's Work in the Slums of London.

The announcement that Commissioner Evangeline Booth would speak at the Dundas Street Center Methodist Church last evening drew an audience that completely filled the large church, many persons standing throughout the evening. Commissioner Booth, who is a daughter of Gen. Booth, is the head of the Salvation Army in Canada, New-foundland and the Northwestern States. She is making a tour of Western Ontario, and travels on horseback. She is accompanied by the splendid staff band from Toronto, in charge of Staff-Capt. Morris. The band travels on bicycles. The lecture in this city last evening was Commissioner Booth's first appearance in Canada in the costume worn by her in her work among the poor of London, England. She wore a ragged plaid shawl over her shoulders, and crossed in front, and her fingers toyed with the frayed ends as she spoke. A torn white apron half con-cealed a tattered gray calico dress, from beneath which peeped coarse broken shoes laced with twine. She wore no hat, and her hair was fastened loosely in a knot at the back of her head. Aside from its immaculate cleanness, the makeup was perfect, and would pass unchallenged in the most squalid court in Old London. On the platform with the commis-sioner were Major and Mrs. Southall, Ensign Welch and Wille and Pea two pretty little mites, charges of Miss Booth's, from the Rescue Home in London. Rev. Dr. Saunders, the pastor, opened the meeting with vears ago. Miss Booth came forward and sang sweetly an old familiar Salvation Army hymn, accompanying herself on an accordion. Then in a low, pleasant voice she began to speak. Her work was so well known that she needed no apology for appearing in that peculiar garb. Many people wanted to know how she was able to go into the black-est, foulest haunts of vice and crime and poverty in the world and win the confidence of the unhappy people who lived there. Those people hated with a hot, bitter hatred all whose condition was happier or more prosperous than their own, and it was only by means of such a disguise that they could be approached. As a foreign singing girl or a water cress girl, Com-missioner Booth was wont to go among them. The vital part of Miss Booth's lecture was in the narration of incidents of her work in the London slums. It would be impossible to reproduce Miss Booth's stories. She lived them over again as she told them. And the audience saw them as if portrayed by some great tragedienne. The sickening brutality, the woeful want, the bitter, burning shame and black despair of those lives came home to the listeners with fearful reality. then the magic transformation wrought by the love and sympathy of one devoted woman was shown. At times Miss Booth's words came in a torrent of passion and they seemed to choke and burn her; again her speech was filled with poetic fire, as she turned for a moment from the black foulness of sin to contemplate the beauties of nature with a poet's passionate love. There were flashes of playful humor, too, as sunny and careless as a child's laughter. But through it all shone a beautiful, intense, devoted love and sympathy for the poor and the suffering. Love, sympathy, sacrifice and action—these were the keys, she said, which had opened to her the hearts of the crimthe poor and the inal.

sorrowful. The entire lecture was intensely interesting, powerful and dramatic, and the audience listened with almost breathless attention for two hours.

HARD DRINKERS.

Three Little Iowa Children.

I was a great coffee drinker for years, and tried often to stop its use, but could not until I found Postum Food Coffee. The change was perfecteasy, for when I had the Postum boiled long enough, it gave me as delicious a cup of coffee as I ever tasted in my life, and I could drink all I wanted of it without the heart trouble and dizzy headaches that had followed me for years. I was always tired when using coffee, and many times have I been told that if I quit coffee I could get well, but how could I quit? I am wiser and healthier now, and would not go back to the use of the old-fash-ioned coffee, for I enjoy life too well when I am healthy.

I came pretty near being driven away from Postum the first time I tried it, but I was determined to see that it was made right the next time, and I found out that it must be boiled, and there is to it. We have three little children, and they can have all the Postum Coffee to drink they all the Postum Coffee to drink they still-born and subsequently died withwant, and they never fail to want it. out regaining consciousness.
