Rev. G. Leichliter, in Sermon, Denounces Leading of Irresponsible Existence.

Points Out Necessity of Being True to Christ and Self.

Refore a large audience on Sunday Rev. G. A. Leichliter, pastor of Adelaide Street Baptist Church, addressed the congregation on the subject "Rich and Well Dressed, but Disgusted," choosing as his text Matthew xix, 22: "But when the young man heard this saying he went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions." One word rises in the midst of this peremptory demand that attracts our attention. This is one instance in which our interest shifts from the person of Jesus to the subject to whom he addresses his words," said the

"There has been a lot of sentimental "There has been a lot of sentimental speculation about this young man. Some have even contended that the Master asked too much. What more need we in this world than to live a lite of moral precision, alike satisfactory to the credal statement, church regulation and current morality. To all these this young man gave a complete and satisfying assent. To the law he turned with an adoration worthy of a noble cause. his expectation.
"Why should one of larger spiritual stature ask for easier tasks? Why not face the hardest, resolved that whatever of difficulty may come, we shall be true to Christ in the doing of our tasks? Let us consider this fellow who was rich, well dressed, but disgusted with the policies of life which Christ declared should bring spiritual perfec-tion. Let us consider him from the viewpoint of his real value."

Used Flattery.

Continuing, the speaker pointed out that the young man used flattery to establish himself in the good graces of the Christ, but failed to find any response from the Master. The minister sponse from the Master. The minister declared there are some men, and more women, whom flattery, idle and senseless, will lead anywhere at any time. The Master was not one such. SKETCHES WORK OF MISSIONS

Professor Anderson Preaches Inspiring Sermon at Cronyn Memorial Church.

Tells of Christian Progress in India, China and Africa.

"I should like to say a few words personally this morning before commencing the sermon, to show the pleasure I have felt for the interest the congregation has shown in my effort to reveal the great victory of political machine that is attempting Christianity over Paganism during my sermons in this church," stated The Bon Ton gambling hall and Prof. Frank Anderson, at the opening of an inspiring sermon Sunday morning at the Cronyn Memorial Church. "I want to call your attention to the fact that the Church's efforts toward the spreading of the Christian faith are now world-wide. I myself have had the opportunity to witness this during my fifteen years of missionary work in India."

The text of Professor Anderson's sermon was "Blessed are the eyes that see things which ye see, for I tell you that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen, and to hear those things which ye hear and have not heard them. -St. Luke, x.:23-24. BELIEVES DESKS COST TOO MUCH

Trustee Finds Chairs For School Can Be Had For $4.30.

Board Paid $8.30 For Same Class of Desk in Past.

Information just to hand respecting the cost of schoolroom equip-ment would lead the average citizen to conclude, perhaps, that members of the London board of education in past years have been unnecessarily paying top-notch prices for chairs, desks and the like.

W. A. Tanner, secretary of the hoard of education, explained Mon-day that he has learned that chairs can be purchased for the South Lon-don high school for about $4.30 each, identical with the chairs that have been in use at the London technical and art school for a considerable period, and which cost the citizens the sum of about $8.30, including freight from the factory.

The secretary voiced the opinion that the vast difference in the price of the commodity, nearly 100 per cent, is not occasioned by any preipitate and recent drop in the cost of construction.

"The chair itself is an exact duplicate," he commented, "and I believe the former price remained as high as it was because the manufacturers did not think the same furniture could be obtained elsewhere. As a' matter of fact, the company from wnom the trustees purchased the chairs, that have been in use for a considerable period in the technical chool, have since been lowered in price.

This drop in the price followed the trustees now believe, as a natural sequence, once the company discovered, as they did themselves, that the same article could be obtained at almost half the price.

Secretary Tanner states that the more expensive chair was purchased direct from the factory, while the chairs for the South London school can be obtained through a local agent, who also must reap his commission, and placed in the school for $4.30, all freight charges included. In addition to this, it is further stated that the latter firm is situated in a town many miles nearer this city than the former. School authorities as well as the ratepayers cannot but help feel that quite substantial profits were accrued in past years in this manner.

ATTENTION, Q. E. E.

Dear Miss Grey,-The Advertiser has been coming to our home for such a long time that it really seems like an old and valued friend. As I was reading partment, the thought came to me, what a lot of good people there are in the world vet, people with great, loving hearts, ready and willing to help share other people's burdens, and there are so many who have such heavy burdens to bear; and then the thought came, surely it pays to live the unselfish life, thinking and doing for others.

Don't you think Miss Grey that such a life beautifies the face as well as the soul. The goodness shines through on the counterance, and is better, far better, than all the (shall I say) paints and powders that can be applied, but as this is my first appearance in your Mail-Box I will not take up too much time. Inclosed find mite for S. C. H., and I should like to hear from Q. E. E. I will sign myself, which at the present time I am, A SHUT IN Your letter is so bright and cheer; Shut In. Certainly you may write to us as often as you wish. We will be more than pleased to hear from you at all times. Thank you for remembering our hospital fund with a mite. I like what you say about unselfishness: "Our eyes are the windows of our soul," and what we are shows in our faces, no matter how we try to camouflage ourselves. I am sure if Q. E. E. sees your letter she will write to you. Thank you for the hospital mite for our fund.

Now I see where Forgotten wants the recipe for baker's ginger snaps and will send it in. I was particularly interested in that recipe. When I was about 13 years old I used to stay with my grandma, and many times helped her make them and as numbers of folks asked for the recipe I used to often write it out. Of course, at that age I did not think of needing a cook book for myself and never saved one. Later on when I began keeping house, I so often wished for it, but my grandmother had been dead for years and I didn't know where to get it—but the Mail-Box published it and I have Entomologists Plan Novel Means To Save Crops From Corn Pest.

Find Field Where 1,000 Insects Freed, Entirely Disappear.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 10 .- Added to the many mysteries that surround the corn-borer is the story from the Dominion laboratory at Strathroy that 1,000 of the insects which were introduced into a small patch of grain have completely disappeared.

While at an immediate loss to account for this peculiar happening, the entomologists think they will be able to make deductions from it that will help them considerably in fighting the dread pest. It has now been ascertained that the insect has only nine natural enemies in this countr. whereas in Austria, which is its native land, and from where it is thought it was introduced to Canada, it has 200. Although known in the former land for many years, it has never been a serious menace or destroyed much of the corn crop, and the reason given for this is because of its large number of enemies.

Experiments are now being made with certain types of wasps and ants which prey upon the borer, and if successful they may be imported in large quantities to combat the little insect that in some districts of West ern Ontario is destroying 100 pe say, however, not all the corn in dis tricts affected is attacked, one field may be 100 per cent destroyed, while the next is intact and perfect.

The first the police here knew about the affair was when a son of Mr. Walker came to town this morn-ing in search of the team and Wil-Chief of Police Walter Fentor soon found the hungry and thirsty horses, they having stood in the shed for about 24 hours without food or

It seemed that Walker had been delivering wheat to the Kent Farmers' Company, and while he was busy threshing at a neighbors he sent Wilson, alias Adair, with the load of wheat. Western Fair Teaches Public To Use Intelligence In Making Purchases Instead of Acquiring Articles Because of Pressing Need.

THE WESTERN FAIR is a success! No clear judgment questions that. It is an economic success in that it displays to an interested public modern ways and means in the accomplishent of a thousand tasks.

It is an educational success, be y seeking to create that condition pon which all commercial life rests the demand for his goods.

It is a hopeless economic waste if an acre of land, capable of the production of 50 bushels of grain, is only bringing 35 bushels to the markets. The Fair is making the contribution of lightenment to those who till the land, in that ways and means of combating the enemies of production are yearly set before the agriculturalist.

Departmental Conferences.

Beginning in February last, regular fortnightly conferences between the heads of all the branches of the postheads of all the branches of the postoffice department were established for the first time in the history of the department. The purpose of these semimonthly meetings, as explained in a circular issued to the branch chiefs, was to promote co-operation within the department itself and to insure continuous efficiency in all the postal services throughout the Dominion. Attendance at these meetings is not confixed to nostal officials, as the officials fined to postal officials, as the officials of other government departments may also attend whenever any matters in which they are interested are under

At each meeting a synopsis is made of decisions arrived at, and of suggest-ed lines of policy, and this synopsis is at once forwarded to the postmastergeneral for such further action as, in his opinion or in that of the govern-ment, may be deemed necessary or

WORLD'S BEST PIANOS

PRIGHT Pianos in styles and finishes to suit any home and fulfil any requirement.

HEN WE OPENED our doors for business some years ago, our object even then was to eventually ally ourselves with such firms as would permit us to offer the people of London and vicinity the best piano made. We have now reached that position, indisputably! A survey of the following paragraphs will convince.

The Willis Piano is made by one of the oldest and most reliable piano concerns in Canada, at Montreal. This piano, admittedly, has attained a position in musical circles in Canada which might well be the envy of any manufacturer of high-grade pianos. Institutions for musical education, as well as churches, societies and many prominent families, have been quick to recognize the merits of the Willis Piano.

In the Knabe Piano will be recognized an instrument supreme in quality and possessing musical possibilities obtainable only in pianos which have been the creation of master craftsmen for more than two decades. This favorite instrument comes in all styles and finishes.

To mention Chickering Pianos in exclusive musical centers and in the concert world is to at once gain respect for musicianly discernment. The Chickering Piano stands alone, the envy of many, but second to no other piano yet created. Its present position of supremacy is due to two outstanding features-the wonderful durability and superbly beautiful tone.

Surely this is a group of which any firm may be proud. These pianos, in all styles and finishes, may be seen at our warerooms any time.

Here is an automobile distributor so confident, so proud, of the ability of his car to give superlative performance, not one but every day in the year, as to incorporate into the sales contract a six months' service guarantee!

This is a real guarantee; it provides for all repairs, all parts and all service such as cleaning carbon, grinding valves, relining brakes, repairs to front and rear axles, transmission, clutch—in short—all repairs, serious or otherwise-which the car may require for the first half year of ownership-absolutely without cost.

A real guarantee because back of it, fairly and squarely, bound to carry it out to the letter, stands the entire resources of one of the largest and best known distributors of automobiles in this district

Hupmobile Proves Over Again A Well Known Business Maxim

Ever since buyers began to demand real and greater value for their money, the Hupmobile has been winning an everwidening circle of new owners.

This is the natural result of a human tendency well known to all merchants and manufacturers—that when people really seek out sound value for their money, they turn instinctively to that which is known to be good.

Everyone knows that it pays to own the Hupmobile-that its service is more reliable, its costs lower, its life longer, and that its value as an investment is higher.

We honestly believe that no motor car buyer who fully understood how little the Hupmobile costs to keep, and how finely it performs, ever allowed himself to buy anything that would give him less satisfaction in service and in costs.

PRESENT PLAN FOR SETTLERS

The Colonization Association Works to Bring Selected Men to Canada.

Believes Prosperity of Country Depends on Immigration Scheme.

The Western Canada Colonization Association, in close co-operation with the federal and imperial governments and the Canadian railways, have worked out a well-matured land settlement policy, which is to be put into effect forthwith.

The outstanding features of today's communication from the Western Canada Colonization Association may be summarized as follows:

1. The problem is the restoration of national prosperity.

2. The solution lies in an extensive land settlement movement.

3. The settlers are available in Great Britain, in the United States, in other approved countries, and in Canadian urban centers.

4. Millions of acres of fertile, wellsituated lands are available close to existing railway lines.

5. The movement will include none but carefully selected settlers, who will be conducted directly to the land and be so looked after that they will not drift to the cities.

6. The full amount of working capital originally contemplated by the Colonization Association, viz., $1,500,000, has been over-subscribed.

7. The activities of the Colonization Association are to extend beyoud the three prairie provinces originally included, so as to embrace every province of the Dominion,

8. The organization will function under a board of directors thoroughly national in character, which will delegate large powers to one small operating committee for Western Canada, and to a second small operating committee for Eastern Canada.

9. The head office for Eastern Canada will be located at Ottawa, and that for Western Canada at

10. The plan published today has been approved by the Imperial government, the Dominion government the Canadian railways and the joint boards of the Colonization Association.

11. The plan co-ordinates the immigration activities of the Imperial government, the Dominion govern-ment, the Provincial governments, the Canadian railways, private land agencies and the Colonization Asso-

12. It is estimated that the working out of the plan will involve the expenditure by the Canada Colonization Association alone of $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 within the next five or ten years. The major portion of this fund will be available from commissions earned on the sale of privatelyowned lands.

13. It is calculated that a minimum of ten million acres of vacant land will be settled within the next five to ten years.

14. Incoming settlers will be located only in carefully-selected, fertile districts. 15. Land in the Western Provinces is to be sold on a 32-year payment basis, and in the Eastern Provinces on terms which will be governed by local conditions and other considerations. 16. Owners of vacant land through. out the country will at once be invited to list their lands with the Colonization Association for sale on a long-term basis.

17. Local land men in Canada and the United States will be paid reasonable commissions as a commercial incentive to put all their energies behind an extensive immigration movement 18. Canadian land agents, all over the country will be employed in showing lands to prospective settlers and in closing or assisting to close

19. By the time snow files sev eral hundred American land agents will be engaged in drumming up settlers for the Western Provinces. The Canadian machinery in the British Isles and other European countries, will be greatly expanded and gingered up, so as to obtain a largely-increased share of British and other European agriculturists suitable for settlement in this country. 21. Hon. Duncan Marshall, federal commissioner of agriculture, and for merly minister of agriculture for Alerta, will shortly tour the British Isles, speaking in support of British agricultural migration to the land in Canada, and explaining the welfare work to be carried on on behalf of British settlers in Canada.

24. The imperial government will assume a liberal share of the cost of Canada on behalf of incoming set-

25. The Dominion government

(a) Rejuvenate and extend the immigration agencies abroad, in order to stimulate the flow of qualified agricultural settlers to Canada. (b) Employ a large number of acceptive field men abroad, and (c) Carry on a widespread public-ity campaign with this end in view. 26. The provincial governments are asked to:

(a) Assisit the Colonization Association in selecting suitable districts for settlement. (b) Assist in directing settlers through the instrumentality of the district agricultural representatives during the initial period of their pibneer carrers, and (c) Provide the Colonization Assoclation with literature regarding the agricultural attractions of the respective provinces. Canadian railways are to co-ordinate their colonization acsities with those of the Coloniza-

The National Land Settlement Plan

THE PROBLEM AND THE SOLUTION.

The British and Canadian Governments have joined with the Canada Colonization Association and the Canadian Railways in a co-ordinated land settlement plan covering all the Provinces. An efficient colonization machine is being set up and will begin to operate forthwith. Colonization in Canada has been at a comparative standstill ever since 1913. Yet nothing is clearer than that effective land settlement on a comprehensive scale is the only available solution of the country's pressing economic and financial problems. By increasing the farming population and agricultural production throughout Canada, we shall lower freight rates, stimulate business, lighten the burden of the national debt to every individual family, lessen Federal, Provincial, and Municipal taxation, and go far to eliminate the serious annual deficit on the National Railways.

The Western Canada Col-BRITISH AND onization Association has EUROPEAN made a thorough study of the SETTLERS. situation and is, therefore, in a position to speak with authority. According to first-hand information gathered by representatives of the Western Canada Colonization Association, who have just returned from the British Isles, it will be possible to draw from England, Scotland and Ireland a steady flow of the splendid British stock, which has been the back-bone of Canadian development in the past, and which is essential to future Canadian development on the soundest lines. A considerable number of hardy settlers is also available in approved Northern European countries. Thousands of people in Switzerland, Denmark, Norway, Iceland and other countries, who are forced by economic conditions to seek new homes, and carve out new careers in distant lands, can be induced to migrate to Canada.

Large numbers of American AMERICAN SETTLERS. farmers who purchased or rented land at high prices during the boom period of the past five years, find themselves embarrassed by the recent declines in the quotations on farm products. Many of them who are unable to carry on in their present field still possess their farming equipment and sufficient money to assist them in starting afresh in a new country. The existence of such conditions over large areas in the United States has presented this country with a remarkable opportunity to obtain a considerable body of high-class settlers accustomed to agricultural DIRECTION FOR The situation demands a vigorous, sustained and in-NEW-COMERS. telligently directed effort to revive the stream of immigration, and to foster and nurse the new arrivals until they take root under changed conditions. Under the plan now announced, the Canada Colonization Association hereinfter defined, will take over these newcomers on arrival, assist them in the selection of land, and look after them during the initial period of their pioneer venture. The Association will be in a position, impartially, to advise set-tlers as to the land and the locality for which their previous training, and their financial standing, best fit them, and to guide those entirely unfamiliar with Canadian methods of farming. The Association will, in fact, bridge the gulf between a miscellaneous collection of settlers, and a miscellaneous collection of would-be vendors, utilizing the local land agents as far as possible, but co-ordinating their work instead of having a multiplicity of efforts working at cross purposes.

One of the most seri-FARM LABOURERS ous difficulties faced by the Canadian farmer to-AVAILABLE. day is the scarcity-in many cases the entire absence-of help in the farm house and on the land. Thousands of married farm labourers can be secured in England, Scotland and Ireland for Canadian farmers, who will provide them with a small house and garden plot, and permit them to keep a cow, pigs and some poultry. The British farm labourer, thoroughly trained in intensive Old Country methods, will thus have the opportunity of familiarizing himself with agricultural practice in this country. Thrifty in their habits, he and his wife will probably be able to lay aside a little money, and in the course of a few years set up for themselves as proprietary farmers on a farm of their own. The Association will prepare lists of farmers who wish to secure help on this basis, and put them in touch with British farm labourers desirous of coming to Canada.

It will also be possible to URBAN inaugurate a considerable SOURCES OF movement "back to the land" SETTLEMENT. of experienced farmers now resident in the cities of Canada. Hundreds of urban workers trained on the land have put aside a little money, and will be glad, with assistance, to resume their former agricultural activities. The fact is, that the majority of Continental Europeans, now resident in Canadian cities, migrated to the Dominion with a view of tilling the soil. By force of circumstances they have drifted to the urban centers, and many of them would gladly return to the occupation from whence they sprung, if they only knew how. The Association is to aid in the availability in large numbers of the right kind of settlers. The land also is available. Thousands of absentee owners of unoccupied lands along the railways are tired of paying heavy taxes and super taxes on these unproductive holdings, and would gladly dispose of their property at prices and on terms which would facilitate purchase by incoming settlers. This assertion is based on actual consultation with experienced land agents and with land owners who have expressed their readiness to list their properties on the long-term payment plan embodied in this Nationalized Land Settlement Scheme. The thousands of private individuals who own the unoccupied lands along the railways are unorganized, and therefore helpless to dispose of their holdings. The community is equally helpless in face of an unsolved problem. The nation suffers because many millions of acres of the most fertile and best-situated land in the country remains out of production. The immediate task is to bring these idle areas under the plough—to bring land owners and areas under the plough—to bring land owners and settlers together by means of a workable plan which will operate to their mutual advantage, and to the advantage of the whole Dominion.

Prairie homesteads accessible to Prairie homesteads accessible to transportation facilities are no longer available as an inducement to settlers willing to buy adjacent privately-owned lands, and as a magnet to draw experienced farmers from other parts of the world. Large blocks of land were orce held by private speculators, who bent every endeavour to bring about their settlement. These extensive holdings have disappeared, together with the land companies which were largely responsible for Western Canadian settlement in the past. Public spirit must now take the place of profits. The incentive in these days must be furnished by a vigorous organization, which because of its soundness and public service, can command the support of the community and Governments. JOINT

NEEDED TO
HOMESTEADS.

There must be, in addition, a new magnet to inaugurate a fresh flow of settlers from every available source.
Such a lure will be provided by our offer of fertile lands close to railways, offer of fertile lands close to railways, schools, churches, and other facilities on astonishingly easy terms. We can submit to the agriculturists of other countries a more attractive opportunity than was open to them under the old homestead conditions. In short, it is YEAR PAYMENT proposed to place the immigrant in immediate possession of a productive farm on terms which will give him the aprion of taking thirty-two years to pay give him the option of taking thirty-two years to pay for it, if he so desires.

In the Western Provinces alone upwards of twenty million acres of first-class agricultural land are available within ten miles of transportation. In the Eastern Provinces—particularly in Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia—is also to be found an extensive acreage of good, unbroken land. In the older settled areas of all the Eastern Provinces there is still ample room for closer settlement and intensive farming. A certain number of improved farms are to be had on reasonable terms in old-established communities.

These agencies must be offered inducements which will enlist their services in re-establishing a movement of population to Canada's vacant lands, similar to that which prevailed prior to the war.

THE AMERICAN LAND MAN.

In the judgment of colonization experts who know the American field, it will be impossible without the assistance of these land men, to inaugurate a fresh flow of farmers to Canada. Years have passed since the American land agent withdrew his attention from this country, partly because of the practical disappearance of large corporations dealing in Canadian lands, and partly because the Canadian railways cut off his special transportation facilities. For a long time he has devoted his energies to the settlement of vacant areas in Texas and other Southern States. In the Canada Colonication Association there has been provided a machine ization Association there has been provided a machine which will draw the American land agent back into the Canadian field on a commercial basis.

The gross revenue of the Canada Colonization Association will consist of the $2.00 per acre commission on land sales, and a 1% interest for 8 years in land contracts. The payment of $1.00 per acre to the American land agent and 50c to the local agent will leave 50c per acre, together with the revenue received from the 1% interest charge for overhead administration expenditures.

for inclusion in the land settlement plan.

The Canada Colonization Association will, moreover, act as an intermediary between the Vendor and the settler. It will protect the interests of both. Its inspectors will keep a watchful eye on the Vendor's property in the hands of the settlers. It will endeavour to assist the settler in tiding over lean years by getting the Vendor to consent to postponements of principal for inclusion in the land settlement plan.

and interest payments. On the other hand, in cases where the settler wholly and finally fails to live up to his agreement, the Association will turn back the land to the Vendor. In such cases, however, the Association will exert its utmost efforts to secure a new and satisfactory settler for the property thus vacated. These activities on the part of the Association's inspectors will tend to impart a sense of security to the private owners who have sold their land, so that other property owners will be encouraged to dispose of their vacant holdings through the same channel.

At the outset the Association will endeavour to settle a number of carefully-selected, well-situated districts—the area thus covered to be gradually expanded as the rising number of incoming settlers warrants.

The Western Canada Colonization Association will finance the Canada Colonization Association for the initial period of its operation and until its own activities bring in sufficient revenue to meet selling and administrative costs.

THE It will be greatly to the advantage of the Canadian Railways to grant radically reduced transportation rates for settlers and settlers' effects bound for Canadian farms. The and settlers' effects bound for Canadian farms. The railways will be the first interest to benefit from a new influx of farmers, a single one of whom, according to a high authority, is worth $734.00 per annum to the transportation companies. If the vast idle areas close to the companies' lines are brought under cultivation the railways will greatly increase their earnings, and so be able to carry out necessary maintenance work, and generally recover the ground lost since 1913, largely through the stoppage of immigration by the war. It should not be forgotten that but for the war the population of Canada would be two or three millions larger than it is today. In the light of such considerations the railways are to (1) Co-ordinate their immigration activities with those of the Association: (2) Provide special transportation rates for settlers, settlers' special transportation rates for settlers, settlers' effects and colonization agents; and (3) Place representatives on the Board of the Association.

THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT.

The Dominion Government is vitally interested in the development of a progressive colonization policy. Several months ago, the Rt. Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King appointed Hon. Charles Stewart, Senator Dandurand, Senator Bostock, and Hon. T. A. Low a committee of the Cabinet on Immigration. Mr. Stewart and his colleagues have given much study to the subject and have held numerous conferences with their Departmental experts and the officials of the Canada Colonization Association, with a view to formulating a coordinated land settlement policy which would solve the vacant land problem and meet the needs of the whole country. As a result of those conferences the Federal Government will take the leading part in the present Government will take the leading part in the present co-ordinated land settlement plan, and will (1) Maintain and extend its agencies in Great Britain, the United States and other countries to promote an increasing flow of selected settlers to Canadian farms, and (2) Carry on an effective advertising campaign for agricultural settlers in Great Britain, the United States and other approved countries.

THE PROVINCIAL The Provincial Governments GOVERNMENTS. The Provincial Governments stand to benefit materially from such a movement of population as it is proposed to inaugurate. From the standpoint of revenue alone they are naturally desirous of increased population. The greater the number of producing farmers, the easier it will be to finance improved roads, rural ers, the easier it will be to finance improved roads, rural telephones, schools, churches, and other instruments of civilization. Legislators have long deplored the burden imposed upon their Provinces by the millions of acres of privately owned land along the railways held out of production by absentee owners. The Provincial Governments recognize the need of some such national plan as that herein outlined to bring the idle areas under the plough. For these reasons it is proposed that the Provincial Governments (1) Assist in selecting suitable districts for settlements, and (2) Use their District Agricultural Representatives in giving expert advice to new settlers. new settlers.

THE IMPERIAL The Imperial Government, acting GOVERNMENT. The Imperial Government, acting through the Oversea Settlement Board, will financially assist the Canada Colonization Association in caring for British settlers until they become thoroughly established as successful farmers.

The Canada Colonization Associa-COLONIZATION tion was created to meet a need of the times. Business men in the West and the East alike realized the necessity of a largely increased population on the land as a direct means of solving the country's economic problems. They recognized that there were some aspects of colonization work which could not be dealt with by Governments and that a national organization, financed by private contributions and non-profit sharing in char-acter, was required to co-ordinate all available immigration forces. The originally contemplated working capital of $1,500,000 has been largely over-subscribed. The revenue to be derived from commissions and collections to be paid by land owners on the sale of their land will in the next ten years, it is estimated, provide the Association with between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000 —an income which will enable it to carry on the business of actual land settlement and welfare work on behalf of the settlers on a scale commensurate with the of the country. The Association will immediately establish a national welfare organization for the benefit of incoming settlers. The cost of this particular branch of the work will be borne jointly by the Imperial Government, the Federal Government and the Association. Immigrants will be received at ports of entry, and community clubs will be established throughout the several provinces, with one General Supervisor for the West, one General Supervisor for the East, Provincial Supervisors and Local Secretaries. Each of these local

(a) Prepare a chart of its particular district which will indicate occupied and unoccupied farms, together with their proximity to highways, railway stations, churches, schools, telephone lines, and other sources of civilization. The chart will also show the number of settlers in the district, their nationality, and their location in regard to each listed vacant farm. Assist the officials of the Canada Colonization Association in ing listings of land.

(c) Report on vacant lands and land valuations in each district. (d) Induce local farmers to write their friends "back home," advising them of the advantageous opportunities for land settlement in their neighborhoods.

(e) Welcome incoming settlers on their arrival, provide them, where necessary, with temporary accommodation, and generally lend them a helping hose until they get established.

(f) Organize barn-raising and plowing bees amongst local farms to assist newly-arrived settlers.

(g) Report on settlers desirous of "moving out" with a view to directing them into districts more adapted to their requirements, and thus retaining them in the country. (h) Assist the Canada Colonization Association in studying local gricultural conditions.
