F. L. Barrett Is in City After Spending Over a Year in Chelmsford Basin.

ON /INVESTIGATION

London and Toronto Interests Are Confident of Large Coal Supply in North.

There is anthracite coal in the Chelmsford Basin, near Sudbury, outrivalling the product of the famous mines of Pennsylvania. It is coal testing $8.45 per cent fixed carbon and only 4.5 per cent ash, and which already shows promise of being better than any other anthracite mined in the Dominion, and equal to, if not better, than any coal now being mined in this country.

These are some of the predictions made by F. L. Barrett of this city. who has just returned from the Chelmsford Basin and who for the past year and a half has been in vestigating the possibilities, of developing an anthracite area in Northern Ontario.

Twenty-six years ago, government engineers drilled one hole in the Chelmsford region, using a slush and not a diamond drill, and reported that the coal was not anthracite and ould never be used for heating purposes. But residents in and around Sudbury tell of the manner in which made, they declare, to determine whether or not the coal area, suposed to be in that district, could be eveloped. #### The Recompense of Age.

"I shuddered the day I turned forty years old." That is the way a well-known Londoner started his story. He was requested to go on, and he proceeded: "It did not take very long to get used to being in the forty class. The recompense came in thinking of the who were in the fifty class. In ten years I passed into the fifty class myself, and the shudder was not so great, and since then I have gone well in with milestones count me out.

and no, mostly no. There comes a stray thought to what you say about the weather. most of us sometimes, especially when we see children at play, and watch the surplus energy they have to work off. Yes, we'd like to feel that jumping-jack sensation in our limbs again; we'd like to run, because walking is too slow; we'd like to yell at some fellow across the block.

"But age has its compensations, and they are large. I hear men say that if they had a chance to go over their lives again they could make a better job of it. I are much in evidence. have never reached that stage. No; I can hardly bring myself to believe that my observation has been so keen, and my sense of error so acute, that were I going across to call, sending down eight men. the trip a second time I would make no mistakes. I could hardly bring my own mature judgment to place any such wreath upon my own head. Were I to make the journey again I might make worse mistakes than I have made.

"As I go on from forty to fifty, from fifty to sixty, and start to make my way toward the spot that will be marked three score years and ten, my ways have changed. Perhaps I have given up the fire of youth, but in its place I have the broad vision of a matured mind. Friendships are not quite so easily made, but somehow many of them are more precious than any of the passing fancies of youth. I have learned in a measure to easily separate the things worth while from the things that are not of value. I can appreciate youth, because it does not seem so very far when I turn and look back to the day when I was so classed; middle age problems I have met and dealt with, and can even appreciate the anxieties and the worries of those who are bowed down with the weight of years, and to whom life has served out its best.

"No. It has been a good and a fair journey. I am at the point now where poets say my feet have turned toward the sunset of life. Beyond me stretch the slopes. the autumn leaves, but not until we get there do we see the glorious colorings of autumnal grandeur. Not until we turn toward the west do we see the sun in all the riot of heaven-born coloring going down to its rest. So it is with life. In the natural course of events I shall soon turn to the avenues of autumn and the hours of sunset. It is not the end of all-it is but the beginning of a life more abundant and more wonderful. No, I do not desire to have my youth back again, not even if I had a choice in the matter. I have lived through the bright hours of the morning; in the heated hours of the noon-day. I was with the toilers at their tasks, and now as I approach the quiet hours of twilight I will not hold back, but gladly enter in."

The Rate on Alberta Coal.

A correspondent, writing to The Advertiser suggests that coal should be brought from Alberta by fuel here. The argument is that if the roads lose money the people put it up, and they may as well have some benefit at the same time.

It would be a nice thing, no doubt, if we could run the road this way and still keep our national credit sweet. It is not to be wondered that people think at times that they are entitled to something in the way of benefit for the money they have put up in the past.

But the thing cannot be run that way. The people of Canada have decided that the National Railway must be run as a business proposition. It must get to the point where it pays its own way, otherwise we are going to be in for a long spell of nursing a lame duck.

We would hardly go to the C. P. R. and suggest that it should bring a lot of Alberta coal to this part of the the dice are loaded the element of chance is removed. country at less than it costs. The National lines must look at it from the same angle.

There is nothing in this, though, to prevent a very careful study of schedules and costs being made to see if there is not some way in which a better rate could be secured by the National lines. It is too dangerous, though, to ask that coal be carried at a loss in order that Ontario should get the benefit in the way of cheaper fuel.

The Joys of Using Sulphur.

The Wingham Times tells of a druggist in that town who was asked for a supply of sulphur and molasses by a certain mother, and found it necessary to tell the person in question how the things should be mixed together to give the proper results. When sulphur and molasses are mixed it produces stuff. There is no other word that seems to describe the result

Sulphur is also an excellent thing to blow down the hroat when it is sore, or when there are spots that should be chased off before the school nurse sees them or the neighbors hear about them. A piece of paper is rolled into a tube-like contraption; it is filled with enough sulphur to strangle the youngster. The victim opens up his mouth wide and says "Awh." At the precise moment the family director heaves a great breath into the tube, and away the sulphur goes, all over in general, on the chance that some of it may light on the affected parts. It is a great game, and it will be a long time before any child will admit again that he or she has a sore throat.

A Brave Canadian Woman.

In an interesting article written for The Advertiser by Mr. J. B. McLachlan, now of Toronto, but a former resident of West Williams, the story of Abigail Becker is recounted. Mr. McLachlan made the acquaintance of her father and mother when he was teaching school on the tenth concession of West Williams, and had often heard them tell of the storm on Lake Erie, when fire door to get out of public life. through her efforts the crew of the schooner Conductor were brought safely to land.

In our search after heroism and stories now we go far afield.

It is well that we should stop now and then, specially when a man like Mr. McLachlan comes along and tells anew the story of Abigail Becker, a heroine in every sense of the word, who, when reward came in after years, simply said:

"I have not done a thing more than I ought to do."

meet on the street that it's a nice day.

Bonar Law's government apparently intends to force Canadian millers to send along offals with flour shipped to that country. In other words, if wheat or flour is placed on the free list, bran, shorts, and such byproducts of flour must also be shipped. If 100 pounds of flour is shipped there must go forward 33 pounds of bran, shorts or middlings. In milling, that is pretty close to the amount of offal obtained in making that much flour. If a larger export trade in flour were built up it would mean that Canada would be robbed of its supply of bran, shorts, etc. That would be about as hard a blow as any country could aim at the live stock or dairy industry in Canada. These branches of our agricultural work need cheaper mill feed for their cattle, and they need a greater and more continuous

There should be some more workable plan to find out where these new regulations of the British government are going to hit before they are made effective. The farmers in Canada who are raising cattle or bacon, or producing dairy products, are seriously interested in this matter. They cannot pay more for feed and sell To WRITE anything new about a was one of my large scholars. The their output at present prices.

Your Rheumatism —its origin

You would not have rheumatism if your kidneys performed their proper function of expelling uric acid from your system. Uric acid causes rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica and kindred ailments. What you need is Gin Pills. They act directly on the kidneys-the source of all the trouble. They neutralize the uric acid, relieve the congestion and cause the kidneys to resume their work. Thou-sands have found quick and permanent relief from rheumatism by using Gin Pills. NATIONAL DRUG & CHEMICAL CO. OF CANADA, LIMITED, TORONTO.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get slug-gish and clogged, and need a flush-ing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic winges, torpid liver, acid stomach, its convenant involves. sleeplessness, and all sorts of bladder

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you fel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here. take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine. #### CURED HIS RHEUMATISM!

"I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheamatism ever since I came out of the army, over 50 years ago. Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called 'curres,' and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not bleep nights or walk without pain; my hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change," You might just as well attempt to put out af fire with ofl as try to get rid of your rheumatism, neuritis, and like complaints by taking treatment supposed to drive Uric Acid out of your blood and body. It took Mr. Ashelman fifty years to find out the truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders, and recover his strength from 'The Inner Mysteries,'' now being distributed free by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of The Advertiser wishes "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism" overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a post card or letter to H. P. Clearwater. No. 56th Street, Hallowell, Maine. Send now, lest you forget! If not a sufferer, cut out this notice and hand this good news and opportunity to some afflicted friend. From the Aging Face

It should be possible for a woman of to make herself look not a day over 25. Almost any woman of 30 can look 20. Modern science has achieved in ordinary mercolized wax a medium that accomplishes the seemingly impossible. Just as a withering rose can be made to look young and beautiful again by peeling off the faded outer petals, so the face will retain its youthful appearance if the dead cuticle is removed as fast as it appears, allowing the new, fresh skin underneath to develop like a bud breaking into flower. And that is what mercolized wax actually does—peels off the aging surface skin—gently, gradually, harmlessly. If you've never tried this remarkable substance, get an ounce from your druggist, use like cold cream at night, washing it off mornings—and watch the years peel off.—Advt.

"Notice," she said, "those beautiful turnings, the graceful curves, the combination of lightness and strength and the beautiful finish of the walnut. I always have admired so much the rounding of the corners of the oblong tables.
"Talking of antiques, my sister is quite mad about them, and she has been beautifully deceived, too, worm holes and all. I buy things that are honestly modern, unless I am very, very sure. Now that the Ontario manufacturers are giving such attention to durability as well as line and finish, I cannot see the advantage in paying fancy prices just because things are labeled old. With some people, whatever's old becomes religion. I like old styles only when they appeal to me as genuinely artistic." Just at that moment, her eye was caught by one of the very up-to-the moment china cabinets standing near, mount to hobnob with the Italian issance table. Special to The Advertiser.

Montreal, April 14.—The wit of a little girl at dawn today foiled a gang of safe-blowers who were within 10 minutes of piercing a safe in the premises of the Banque de Hochelaga, 2701 Papineau avenue, containing thousands of dollars to be distributed today to employees of the C. P. R. Angus shops. Disturbed in C. P. R. Angus shops. Disturbed in their work, the yeggs fled from the bank, abandoning a complete oxy-acetylene outfit, but getting nothing for their hours of work.

Just as the sun was lifting this morning, detectives at headquarters got a flash from the corner of Papi-neau avenue and Rosemount boulevard that men had broken into the Banque de Hochelaga nearby and were working on the safe. Detec-tives D'Aoust and French rushed to the place and found that the gang had already disappeared.

They learned that toward 5 o'clock little girl in the family of Henri Prenault, the caretaker, heard a hissing sound from downstairs. Anticipating that something must be wrong, she awoke her father. rushed to the front window of bedroom and threw up the sash. As he did so, a guard outside the bank fired one shot into the air. Evidently he hoped to scare the care taker. He then ran out of sight Going into the bank, Mr. Prenault saw that the men who had been working inside had escaped by a window

The large double door safe bore bluish rings around the combination. On the floor lay two gas tanks, 50 feet of hose, one oxyacetylene burner, a large square of carpet, and a com-plete outfit for handling tumblers, etc., as soon as the burning was finished. From the look of the safe, detectives estimate that within a short time sufficient impression would have been made for the yeggs to be able to open it.

FACTS. His Play: A woman would rather face a grizzly bear—any day—than some small plain fact which to her some small plain fact which to her mind presents a disagreeable truth. Yes, sir, women certainly are afraid of facts. I don't know whether you'd call it superstitition or cowardice or what-not. But it is certainly true that whenever a fact pokes its head Power of will and speech failed her. From that moment she realized only vaguely what was happening. The passage was left behind; she stood by Philip's side before a desk in a dark drab room. The man standing on the curb, and thought she heard what he said. "Hullo!" she said "witho's this?"

THE HUSTLER'S WOOING.

By H. IRVING KING. Cornelius Hinton was the richest town council. His fortune was made fore, he was not only the richest man in town, but the most important one.

Into Cornelius' well-ordered life burst Sanford Burton as suitor for his daughter's hand. Matilda favored him, and it was a peculiarlity of this happy family that while Matilda always deferred to her father's wishes, his wishes and hers coincided—eventually at least. Sanford Burton was a young man who had recently opened a real estate office in the town, and carried things by storm. He had bought a neglected piece of land called The Neck, a tract covered with briars, and sand, inclosed by two shallow creeks, and transformed it into a flourishing "seaside" colony. Burton was a "hustler." The town's people called him a "rising young man," and the air was full of rumors of the wonderful things he was to accomplish for the community. Burton looked upon Matilda Hinton and saw that she was fair. He also looked up her father's financial standing and found it fairer still—it that were possible. To Burton it must be owned it had a greater appeal than Matilda's bright eyes even. Hinton's political prominence and political future also stood greatly in ed The Neck, a tract covered with the fact that to accomplish this involved the marrying of Matilda detracted nothing from the satisfaction

To a small-town girl there is always a glamor about a young man from "somewhere else." A local youth may be just as else." A local youth may be just as intelligent, just as good looking, just as everything else; but behind the newcomer is a hazy background with appeals to the imagination, and the spice of novelty is his also. ### Glencoe Church Enjoys Growth After Long Effort

Present Congregation Supersedes Four Previous Ones of Vicinity.

EARLY MISSION WORK

Glencoe Presbyterian congregation is the successor of four earlier bodies organized in the village and vicinity: Knox Church, Ekfrid; Burns, Glencoe; St. Andrew's, Glencoe; and St. John's, Dunwich. Two other stations, associated with it from the first, were eventually disjoined to form a separate pastoral charge. The history of Knox Church, Ekfrid, has already been summarized. Some de-talls gleaned in regard to the other three named are included in this

In 1857 Rev. W. R. Sutherland, minister of the Ekfrid and Mosa congregations, began services in a school-house in Glencoe. The people in and around this centre urged a weekly Andrew's, Glencoe, before they could appoint him as a Gaelic catechist to take up mission work among the people he had visited. He began services at Glencoè, Appin, Tait's Corners, and at some point in Dunwich. He traveled long distances on lorseback and over roads at times.

With the exception of the notice of Rev. W. R. Sutherland's jubilee the presbytery records after 1890 scarce-ly do more than note the settlements and demissions of the ministers. In 1893 Mr. Currie accepted a call to Know church Perth. He was such horseback, and over roads, at times, almost impassable. He was remarkalmost impassable. He was remarkably successful, both as a preacher and organizer. In 1861 a site for a church was secured at Glencoe, and a neat brick building erected. This was St. Andrew's, the first Presbyterian church in the village. It was opened for services early in 1862 by Rev. Lachlan McPherson and Rev. James MeEwen. Organization was completed by the ordination of elders in October, 1862.

About this time Mr. Strachan resigned his appointment, but owing to repeated failures to obtain a settled minister, he seems to have been continued in charge at intervals until 1864. He resumed teaching for a time, but was summoned to give supply at Hillsburg, and after taking the theological course in college returned and became minister there.

Some years before this (1870) the congregation in Glencoe, under Mr. Sutherland's care, had erected a church known as Burns' Church, Glencoe, but after the church union of 1875, both St. Andrew's and Burns' were a part of our "Presby-terian Church of Canada," and soon the people in both congregations be-gan to look forward in the direction of an eventual local union of forces.

Anti-Union Element. In St. John's, Dunwich, there seems to have been a strong anti-union ele-ment, and instead of going forward with the other congregations they appear to have dwindled away and before long ceased to exist as a separate congregation. In 1878 St. Andrew's petitioned to be disjoined from St. John's in order to have morning and evening service in Glencoe, and afternoon service alternately at Appin and Tait's Corners. St. John's paid no heed to the notice sent them by the presbytery to appear for their interests, and in response to a second notice they merely sent word of their "entire willingness to be separated from St. Andrew's."

A committee was appointed to visit them and arrange for services, but before long ceased to exist as a sep-

Sutherland resigned his charge of Knox and Burns' signed his charge of Knox and Burns' churches, after a long pastorate of over thirty-five years. Both congregations and presbytery paid tender tribute to the venerated servant of God who had so long and so faith-fully carried on his Christian work, and wielded such great influence for good throughout the whole community.

Nothing is said as to supply for his people after his retirement, but active negotiations were begun with a view to uniting the two pastoral charges. Congregations and presby-tery patiently worked together throughout 1884 to reach a satisfactory basis.

Meantime Rev. Mr. Cameron accepted a call to Watford, and the whole field was without a pastor. At length an agreement was reached. The name "Glencoe Presbyterian congregation" was agreed upon, and the union came into effect at the begin-union came into effect at the beginning of 1885.

During the negotiations Knox church came to be less and less frequently mentioned, and the discussions were more and more between Burns and St. Andrew's, and in the agreement reached services were to be held a: St. Andrew's in the morning and Eurns' church in the evening, with afternoon services at Appin and Tait's Corners on alternate Sabbaths. Services were no longer continued in the old pioneer church and Knox church, Ekfrid, ceased to exist as a separate congregation, the membership being transferred to Glencoe.

It was a change keenly felt especially by the older people, but Tait's Corners was only about a mile and a half from their old church home, and when in two or three years a new congregation was organized there, many of them including their former pastor, Rev. W. R. Sutherland, withdrew from Glencoe and cast in their lot with the new congregation.

Call Rev. John Robbins.

Soon after the union in Glencoe, a call was extended to Rev. John Robbins, a minister just received from the Methodist church. There was strong opposition and a petition for delay was largely signed, but the presbytery saw fit to sustain the call, Mr. Robbins accepted, and induction took place-July 29, 1885. It was an unfortunate settlement, both for the minister new to Presbyterians, and unfortunate settlement, both for the minister new to Presbyterians, and for the people who at this stage specially needed to be linked together in cooperation in Christian service. A minister familar with Presbyterian "calls" would have declined in face of such opposition. The presbytery could have guided more sagaciously in the unusual situation, and they soon found themselves unable to stem the current of determined opposition. the current of determined opposition. Details need not be given, but even synod counsel was invoked before the matter was settled. Soon after an agreement was reached, Mr. Robbins ccepted a call to Truro, Nova Scotia. The next minister was Rev. Dugald

Currie, inducted May 18, 1887. Mr. Currie was a Crinan boy, had been baptized in childhood by Rev. W. R. house in Glencoe. This, however, was not carried out, and in 1861 he resigned because of ill-health, and continued as minister in Ekfrid and Glencoe.

Start Misson Work.

Meantime, other work was being undertaken throughout the locality. Donald Strachan, a teacher in Westminster Township, was sent in the summer of 1859 by the Presbytery of London (Church of Scotland), to explore Ekfrid and Mosa, with a view to carring for those retaining connection with the Church of Scotland. ### Can Blowouts Be Prevented?

Practically, yes! You rarely experience or even hear of a blowout with Firestone

For in Firestone Cords blowouts are insured against by a construction that is peculiarly Firestone's.

Firestone blending of the different varieties of rubber assures the combination best adapted to tread, sidewall and the other elements of the tire.

Tempering, as carried on by Firestone, has an effect on the crude rubber comparable to the heat treating of steel.

Firestone air bag cure provides equal tension on the cords by placing them in smooth parallel lines and accurately drawing them into a position where they are vulcanized into a permanently balanced tire mechanism.

These are the tested methods that in Canada's newest and most modern tire plant are giving car owners a product whose value is a challenge to quality tire builders everywhere.

Each month this year has marked a steadily increasing demand for Firestone Cords that has already necessitated manufacturing in double shifts.

Equip all tour wheels with Firestone Cords and end tire worries.

Yesterday Squad Chased Back Into Gym By Chill Weather-Had Hard Two-Hour Work-Out- Display

Lee Mackey had a date with his squad yesterday morning at Tecumseh Fark, but when the sun falled to day noticeable shining and a thin raw wind whipped around the street corners, the London pilot decided to keep on with the hothouse schedule, and sent the crew hot-foot over to the "Y" gym. Here a small bunch of enthusiasts watched the outfit go through a strenucus two-hour workout at basketball, indoor baseball and abbrevlated maratahons around the old gym floor.

The indoor baseball game was a comedy in two acts and rivers of perspiration. Mackey himself hurled for one side; and Buck Boyle Isadora Duncaned for the other side, and the fest went on for over a stiff hour. The indoor experts of the city could have picked up a pointer here and there, even at that, although some of the game was specifier than it was scientific. Mackey kept the opposing runners anchored right to first with a deoptive peg between his legs to the first sack. That was about the only place the runners had a chance to get a breather; otherwise the game was on the run all the way through. All the batters got off some stinging drives that aimost dinted the walls, but nobody was hurt. Stimpson and McCallum, Thursday arrivals, were on hand. Stimpson has taken on about ten pounds extra weight though some of a before he starts regular work.

The indoor baseball game was a comedy in two acts and rivers of perspiration. Mackey himself the boys over, went away with pleased grins of anticipation.

Today, if it's fine, the squad will try the rough outdoor stuff at the park. A cold norther that had the Yukon trade-mark on it was sweeping the city last night, making the trek over the river highly speculative.

That doesn't affect the Giants much; what they are after is the best team.  The team has been cited as the best in the history of New York in the National League. That is an overestimate. It is a good cam, but not the, best. There aren't, however, any facts to show that the Giants can't win the pennant this year.  Their pitching is no worse than in 1922, and it is likely to be better. It is opportune at this time to state that junior secretaries must make themselves acquainted with the usual bylaws governing the calling of games. Each visiting club must receive forty-eight hours' notice as to time and place of game, and all such notices must be sent by registered mail. #### WALL STREET GOSSIP

New York, April 13.

The U. S. Steel Corporation directors will hold their quarterly meeting on Monday, April 16, and Wall Street is tonsiderably interested in the showing made during the first three months of the year. During the first month of the past quarter estimates were made by people in very close touch with Steel Corporation's probabilities of an average and the period. Since then, however, the unfilled tonnage statements issued at the end of each month have indicated that directors of the corporation were not inclined to accept any substantial proportion of the enormous volume of business which it is believed has been offered. This unwillingness might be ascribed to the fact that higher wase levels in the steel industry were almost certain, with higher prices following as a matural consequence. Therefore, it would be only logical to assume that directors would limit acceptance of orders as much as was consistent with courtesy to regular customers, in order that the corporation might not be booked too heavily when the higher Retail Stores 8214 4276 8248 8276 New York, April 13. would be only logical to assume that directors would limit acceptance of orders as much as was consistent with courtesy to regular customers, in order that the corporation might not be booked too heavily when the higher prices were announced. Call rates in the London markets are considerably below those prevailing here, and it is not illogical to believe that capital in London might be seeking employment at the higher be seeking employment at the higher rate in the New York market. This operation entails an initial loss through rate in the New York market. This operation entails an initial loss through the sale of sterling at the prevailing discount, but there is no reason to believe that sterling is due for any substantial advance in the near future, and it is probable that any sellers in London who may be running this operation figure on repurchases of sterling at approximately the same average price as sales were made.

The coincidence of a Friday on the 13th of the month brought to light con-as sales were made.

The coincidence of a Friday on the 13th of the month brought to light considerable superstition in Wall Street today, and served to curtail operations in commission-house boardrooms. This was manifested by a disincinations to enter new commitments, but it is hardly likely that there was any considerable movement of established trades because of superstitious fears.

The sharp rally of Crucible Steel, which today rose more than four points above yesterday's low, was generally assumed to be due to short covering. There was a rumor, apparently well-founded, to the effect that interests associated with Crucible Steel have been very heavy buyers of late, and that their stock combined with the total number of shares owned by shorts exceeds the entire common capitalization by the company. Directors of the company are due to meet next week, out it is hardly likely there will be any move made to resume the dividend on tion by the company. Directors to the company are due to meet next week, out it is hardly likely there will be any move made to resume the dividend on the common stock.

WEEKLY TRADE REPORT

Reports to Bradstreet's say that business at wholesale and retail stores in London is becoming more active as the weather improves. The public is showing a greater desire to buy lighter coothing, and seasonable goods of kinds are moving better. The grocery markets are fairly active. Crop conditions in this district are mostly favorable, with fall-sown grains showing up well for the backward season. Makers of steel products are busy, and there is a good demand for automobile accessories and parts. Collections are fair.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE

Toronto, April 13.—At the after-noon session of Standard Mining Stronger Tone Is Seen to Pre-Exchange prices on the whole held fairly steady, with somewhat more firmness apparent in the major issues of the Porcupine camp, following re-ports from the north indicating that Montreal, April 14.—Trading was moderately brisk during the first hour on the local stock exchange this mornpossibly wage disputes might not prove so grave as had been feared. Sales for the day approximated 353,-000 shares.

Argonaut was the feature of the afternoon session, advancing from the noon price of 67 to 70½ for a net gain of nearly four points. Vipond also rallied a point to an unchanged price of 67. Teck Hughes firmed 1 to $1.13, but was still off 1.

Everything the Farmer Trades In # Oil Stocks Steady With Up- MAPLE SYRUP FEATURE

Sells at $2.75 per Gallon.

Maple Syrup was the outstanding feature of today's market. It was offered in such quantity that the price dropped right at the outset, and the bulk of the sales called for $2.75 per gallon. At 12 o'clock buyers had made but little impression on the total amount of syrup offered, and it is not unlikely that a further drop in price will take place as their is little incentive to take the syrup back to the farm while the sap is still running. The quality of the syrup offered was splendid, and the legal weight in most cases was more than forthcoming.

There were no changes in either the tyegetable or dairy sections, although take place to some proposed and the syrup offered was splendid, and the legal the syrup offered was splendid, and the legal through the syrup offered was splendid, and the legal through the cash markets. Both wheat and coarse grains were quiet, with only a carlot trade reported. Spreads were unchanged to fractionally higher. Cash prices:

Wheat No. 123% for May and $1.24% for July.

Seaboard advices were not very encouraging, although the export sales on Thursday were reported to be about 760,000 bushels, which was largely Manitobas. The advance is curtalling trade, and British interests, taking advantage of the strength on this side, are showing a desire to resell. The coarse grains were prices, but trading is not large. The sale was recorded early in the session, but this was not maintained. May closed at a 3c advance. Very little interest was shown in the cash markets. side before dealings had been in progress an hour.

As the day approached an end, however, news that showers were falling at several points in the drought section of Kansas tended somewhat to weaken the confidence of wheat bulls. The late break in the corn market was likewise responsible for more or less selling on the part of holders of wheat. Persistent selling ascribed to leading longs depressed the corn market after an advance, in sympathy with wheat had lifted September delivery to a new high price record for the season. market displayed a strong tone, and rices made substantial gains during Received During Latter Part of Week. Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, April 13 .- The market pened on Monday with about 4,000 cattle offering. This number seemed to give the packers time to look around, and for the first hour or two there was little else doing. Trade was very slow, and when the cattle began to move prices had settled the previous week. Trade was more active in the afternoon, but at the close there were still five or six hundred cattle left over. Tuesday's marwith a better clean-up. Wednesday's market was good, with prices a shade firmer, practically all offerings cleaned up, and the general tone of the market improving. Thursday's market was good and steady, and the light offering of fresh cattle soon cleared out at a little better prices than at the week's open ing. The demand for choice handy weight butcher stuff for the local trade is quite active, and prices were easily maintained around $7 and $7.25 for the right quality. Good medium steady around $6.25 to $6.75, with medium and common inclined to drag from $4.50 to $5.50. Fat butcher cows strong and in good market all through the week at $5 to $5.50 for the best, Heavy bulls were not much in demand, and were weak at $3.50 to $4. a few going later at $4.25 to $4.50 for export.

In the small meats' section very heavy receipts of calves, mostly of poor quality, forced this market down couple of dollars for the week. Receipts of sheep were very light, the market generally holding steady to strong. In the export cattle section there was a fair demand, but the trade on the whole, was quiet as compared with former weeks. Prices held about steady all through, from $7.50 to $8. One or two extra sales at $8.15 to $8.25. There was little demand for store cattle for export the early part of the week, but the latter part of the week brought quite a few cars of western store down from Winnipeg. cattle were shipped by the United Grain Growers of Manitoba through the firm of H. P. Kennedy & Co. The shipment comprised about 350 cattle, all graded at Winnipeg, and sold here at Winnipeg freight to an English firm for transit direct through to the old country.

It is freely predicted that this trade will assume quite extensive proportions during the coming months. Union stock yards total receipts this week: 460 cars, 6,888 cattle, 2,882

Captain W. Parry Gives Evidence Before Pensions Commission.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, April 14 .- "I do not think that the public of Canada realize that the blinded soldiers have to appear before a commission to ask that their $60 a month be made permanent. Even if their pension was doubled and they were on easy street for the rest of their lives the country would still be in their debt. They have been deprived of the most valuable possession of their lives. It is a shame they should have to imperil their lives by not having enough to live on," said Captain W. stabilization of pensions.

The life of the blinded soldier was outlined by Captain Baker, who said that the employments followed were, generally speaking, only for provid-ing occupation and not an adequate living income. In answer to a ques-tion Captain Baker said that blind typists were the first to be laid off when the work at the D. S. C. R., where they were employed, grew

Mr. MacDougall, speaking on behalf of the blind said: "The average man without disability takes his normal place in industry, and normally advances with increasing income. The blinded men are for the great part in handicraft industries, and have no prospect of advancement. Experience is that already the market for the goods they make has become smaller, in 15 years it will be smaller still, and the men must depend on their income from pensions. Therefore the present pension plus a bonus must be assured for the future.

"You, yourself, undoubtedly have seen from the mourning ceremony attended by representatives of the whole German nation at the Reichstag-how all Germany has been blind, most deeply stirred up through this newest terroristic act of brutal militarism committed in the midst of No Provocation.

"A report of the Krupp factory council, in which Christian Unions and Free Unions as well as Communand Free Unions as well as Communists are represented, has proven incontrovertibly to every unprejudiced and open minded person before the whole world that there cannot be any talk of provocaation by the workers against French troops.

"On the contrary, on the part of the Germans—workers and directors as well as laborers—averything bu-as well as laborers—everything hu-manely possible occurred to bring about a peaceful solution of the conflict at the Krupp works.

"No weapon was raised on the German side.
"Peaceful, unarmed workers did nothing more than protest the illegal penetration of armed French troops

"Not a single hair of the French was harmed. "Where, then, was any threat? Ebert, waxing warmer, declared, "The mass murder of laborers at Krupps' on Easter Saturday is symbolical of the whole Ruhr district."

Here again Ebert referred to "Black "And this occurs in the midst of socalled peace. Force everywhere; excastically declared: "All that oc-curred in the name of a peaceful, purely economic engineer mission, were pursuing their work and desire which had the purpose of speeding up Germany's deliveries.

WANT AD TIPS-

Several Plans for Used Cars

There are many proved good Want Ad plans for used cars. wished to vary it. So he adopted and advertised a selling stunt His Want Ad ran:

"We will sell to the highest bidder, a fine 6-eylinder touring car of a make and model now selling used around $800. "This car has new paint, new top, good tires, and an exceptionally smooth-running motor. It's a dandy! It will be displayed in our used-car department until Monday morning.

"You examine it and submit a sealed bid of what you are willing to pay for it. Bids will be opened at 9 a.m. Monday. Highest bidder gets the car.'

who is very anxious to sell his car at once, and is willing to take what he can get. One highly successful concern consistently features in Want Ads its "$250 department." A typical Want Ad reads:

A dealer whose advertising had been along conventional lines which in used-car experience has often been very successful.

The same possibility that draws individuals in crowds to country auction sales-the chance that one may pick up a big bargain-makes this selling plan produce excellent results. On occasions, to put variety into a dealer's advertising, it is an excellent plan. It is good, too, for the private car owner

"Tell your friends and neighbors that we will furnish at all times a good touring or good runabout for $250 cash. OR ON TERMS: $145 cash and $10 per month. Tourings and in the Want Ad only the down payment-very low. Others eater carefully to the customer's convenience-he is urged to phone and make an appointment for evenings or Saturdays. Another plan is to list a large number of cars in the same Want Ad, on the principle that nearly every reader actually in the market will find something he will wish to investigate.

in your blood that takes up oxygen from your lungs. The food you eat contains carbon. As digested food is absorbed into the blood, the carbon in the food unites with the oxygenated iron in your blood, and by so doing gives off tremendous power and
by so doing gives off tremendous power and energy, thereby giving you great force, physical and mental vigor, and producing the material which becomes active, living cells, fiesh, nuscle, bone and tissue, thus performing one of the most remarkable miracles of life. Without iron, even three big meals a day will not do you any good—you do not get any strength out of your food—it is like putting coal into a stove without a fire."

Blood examinations by physicians all over

Blood examinations by physicians all over the country show that three people out of every four you meet lack 100% iron in their blood, often due to modern methods of cooking and modern diet. For centuries scientists tried in vain to produce iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. At last the problem was solved, so that you can now obtain this newerform of iron from any druggist under the name of "Nurated Iron," which is ready for immediate absorption by the blood the moment it enters the system. A single daily dose of this newer form of iron gives your blood the opportunity of assimilating in concentrated form, iron like the iron that you could get by eating raisins, apples or spinach. It is often remarkable what a tremendous amount of peptigor, force and enerry a little more iron will give a person whose blood is deficient in this magic-like substance. Nurated Iron often in Principal Voaden Complains of Ventilation In G. W. V. A. Building.

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, April 14.—Heavy wire netting is to be placed over the windows of the public schools which might inquire into the sanity of the face on the play-grounds, so that the youth of the city may enjoy the baseball season without fear of breaking any glass.

On account of the number of brokwindows the building and grounds' committee of the Board of Education decided upon this course of action, at its metting tonight.

Secretary Newton, reported two complaints from residents near schools. Mrs. Williams who lives next to the Myrtle Street School presented a bill for $2.00 to cover the Hospitality of cost of glass for a window and stated that it was not the first time windows in her home had been broken.

Mrs. Oxford, 73 Curtis street, also as they jumped into her yard, doing damage to her garden. Upon the motion of Trustee Harvey the committee decided to pay the bill.

The charm and pleasure which comes of an early development of cultured musical tastes cannot be too strongly emphasized. And the work of the South London Collegiate in fostering an appreciation of classical composition, revealing the delights of musical understanding, was well indicated in the performance given by Quantz's pupils.

The mixed voices proved eminently harmonious and blended admirably with the creditable efforts of a juvenile orchestra. Eric Chapman in a vocal solo, "If Winter Comes," sang with good tonal quality and his num-ber was roundly applauded. Maxine Richardson and Elsie Currie, for their age, revealed an ability to give expression in close fidelity to the exactions of their compositions. The former's "Hilarity," and Miss Currie's "Sans Bois," were really numbers of excellence, when the inexperience and youth of the performers are consid-

The Lions' orchestra is something apart when amateur orchestras are under discussion, and their "jazz" is flawless. They received rounds of applause after each selection, and it there was anything lacking in the program it was the brevity of their turns. The playlet, "The Trysting Place," by Booth Tarkington, which formed the latter half of the program, was a scream. The setting was the lounge of a fashionable hotel, and the olot, a cumulative one, started with the attempt of the youngest male member of the family at falling hopelessly in love with a charming young widow. As their tete a tete is interrupted, the young hopeful concealed himself behind a settee, and the first lovers are replaced by the youth's sister and her swain.

Disturbed Lovers.

These are in turn disturbed, and the man in this case goes to earth behind a screen, and the boy's wid-owed mother takes her turn in entertaining a suitor of her school days. In the general denouement which followed, the hiding lovers are greatly mbarrassed to find that the widow nas also concealed the man nearest nas also concealed the man nearest to her heart, and this unseen guest makes it very clear that in eaves-dropping he has prior claim. Hon. G. P. Graham Gives Information During Debate On Estimates.

CHANGE IS URGED

Hon. Jacques Bureau Favors Excise Payments In Excise Stamps.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, April 14.—When the House resterday resumed discussion of the postoffice department estimates on a vote of $1,271,448 for salaries and contingencies of civil government, Sir Henry Drayton asked how much money credited to the postoffice department for the sale of stamps was really due to war taxes. Hon. Jacques Bureau, minister of customs and excise, said the question was hard to answer. The present system had been carried down from the last government. Personally, he would like nothing better than to amend the law so that excise payments should be made with excise stamps only. He did not know whether the public would like being required to carry both excise and postage stamps and use the former for checks and receipts, but he would be tempted to take the risk and amend the law.

Mr. Graham said that the approximate amount received from war taxes last year by the postal department was about $7,400,000.

R. B. Hanson (Conservative, York-Sunbury) asserted that the postmaster-general had been getting inspired items in the press calling at

Push Sale of Stamps. Right-Hon. Arthur Meighen claimed that as a matter of fact the post-office department was costing more instead of less. The only thing one could infer was that the increased revenue shown by the postoffice department, amounting to $2,900,000 for nine months, or at a rate of $4,000,000 for the entire year was taken from the people in the form of extra taxes. Mr. Graham said last year the stamp tax receipts totalled $28,000,000 and the increase this year was ex-pected to be one and three quarters millions.

A. W. Neill (Independent, Comox-Alberni) raised the point of rural postmasters being paid thirty to forty per cent of their sales of ordinary stamps, and thus pushing the sales of these stamps rather than the sales Trio Identified As Men Who Stanting, and thus passing the sales of those stamps rather than the sales of revenue stamps on which the commission was only one per cent. He thought the use of revenue stamps on checks should have been made compulsory from the start.

Mr. Graham said that in towns and Mr. Graham said that in towns and cities vendors selling stamps got only one or two per cent. Before rising for the supper recess the item of $9,271,448 for postoffice Detroit, April 14.-Three men, under arrest in connection with the der arrest in connection with the salaries and contingencies was ap-slaying of John McMath, were identi-proved, and small supplementary

The police refuse to reveal the name of the man who can be commercial intelligence service. Hon. J. A. Robb, minister of trade and commerce, stated that Canada had 23 trade commissioners evening in committee of the House and five commercial agents in various parts of the world seeking opportunities for Canadian trade

Mr. Robb gave a striking comparison to illustrate the growth of the trade in Canada since 1890. In that year, he said, the exports of Canada totaled $85,000,000, of which 6 per cent were manufactured products. For the year ending February, 1923, the exports of Canada were $928,000,-000, of which 42 per cent were finished products. The minister analyzed United States and Canadian trade—for the year ending March, 1922, to show that of the United States exports 39 per cent were raw materials, 11 per cent partly-manufactured and 49 per cent manufactured, while of Canadian exports 44 per cent were raw materials, 14 per cent partly-manufactured and 41 per cent manufactured. Canada, he said, was second in the list of exporting business on per capita basis. New Zealand came first with per capita exports of $154.54 and Canada second with $100.63.

DEBATE LIVING COSTS.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, April 13.—The cost of living and the government's record upon it came up for discusison in the house of commons this afternoon in connection with an item of $5,500,000 for payment of the civil service by R. B. Hanson (Conservative. York-Sunbury) when the government proposed to revise salaries. To this premier replied that the matter vould come up for consideration next session. Owing to exceptional circumstances this year, the bonus was being continued.

"Then the government had no policy," said Mr. Hanson.

"It has a policy," replied Mr King.

"Would it not be better," asked Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, "to reduce the cost of living and thus get rid of the living, and thus get rid of the

Mr. Meighen argued that government and other statistics indicated that the cost of living in Canada had gone up 1% points since the finance minister brought down his oudget a year ago. the minister's attention to the fact that wholesale commodities had also isen in price. The government had abandoned the unemployed last year, with the result that they had gone to the United States. Now the people of Canada were unable to build houses to cope with rising rents.

He went on to refer to the complaint of the minister of labor in 1921, that because he had only a "wooden gun" he was unable to bring down prices. Mr. Murdock had made that omplaint at a time when prices were falling, and Mr. Meighen expressed adesire to know what kind of a gun he had now when prices were rising.

The ment took office were due to causes under the regime of its predecessor.

Mr. Meighen said the budget of last year, with the budget of last year was the main cause, and the present high cost of living the effect.
