INCUBATOR BABY

New York, Aug. 10.—Marie Dressler has an incubator baby. It's a girl—one of the prettiest and tiniest of the lot in the incubators at Coney Island. Miss Dressler, in standing sponsor, has given the infant her own name and has adopted it. "This is the very thing I have been wanting to do for years," said Miss Dressler, for I simply adore babies. What am I going to do with it? Why, raise it, of course. I've called it Marie, and if the dear little cherub survives the christening, I'll do everything on earth to insure its welfare. I have opened a bank account for her, too. Whose baby was it? That's a secret. I won't reveal the name of her parents, but I'll say this, she's a New Yorker, a Harlemite at that, and her mother is American born.

Miss Dressler is Lella Herber, a former Maple City girl.

No man can be provident of his time who is not prudent in the choice of his company.

RUSSIANS FLEEING JAPS PURSUING

An Open Sea Battle Expected Between Opposing Fleets.

Kuropatkin Escaping North, and It is Averred That Japs Have Delayed Too Long For a Decisive Battle—Russian Army Now at Chutsu—Discretion Better Part of Valor Thinks Russian General.

Che Foo, Aug. 11, 7.30 a.m.—A Russian torpedo boat destroyer entered Che Foo harbor at 5.30 o'clock this morning and reported that six Russian battleships, four cruisers and half of the torpedo boats escaped from Port Arthur yesterday morning. The torpedo boat destroyer left Port Arthur last night, bringing in five passengers, who stated that the Japanese fleet is pursuing the Russian and that a battle on the open sea is expected.

Results Unknown. Tokio, Aug. 11.—The Russian fleet emerged from Port Arthur Wednesday, and a severe engagement with the Japanese fleet, lasting all day followed. The Japanese destroyers attacked the Russians. The results of the engagements are unknown. The Russian battleships Retziva and Pobieda were seen outside Port Arthur this (Thursday) morning.

A Land Fight Also. St. Petersburg, Aug. 11.—(3.30 a.m.)—A despatch from Liaoyang, dated Aug. 7, reports that there was a fighting Aug. 6 and 7 at Houtsiatze, but gives no details. The despatch adds that a battle was expected at Aisyadzkan.

KUROPATKIN ESCAPING.

Have Japs Delayed Too Long For a Decisive Battle?

St. Petersburg, Aug. 11.—Again the chance of a decisive battle between Gen. Kuropatkin and the commander of the Japanese armies seems to be disappearing. According to a statement issued by the general staff last night rains are again falling over a wide area in Manchuria, with the prospect of impeding operations, but even more important is the information reaching the Associated Press from an exceptional source that the Japanese once more have delayed too long.

Gen. Kuropatkin has now withdrawn the bulk of his army safely north of Liaoyang, leaving only a strong rear guard line southeast of Liaoyang to contest the advance when it comes. According to this information the Japanese have about 300,000 men in the armies operating against Gen. Kuropatkin, rendering it too hazardous for him to risk a general engagement.

The general staff has no information bearing on the reported presence of a large force of Japanese at Pathuho, a place that cannot be located on available maps. The report agrees with the general tenor of the information received by the Associated Press and here given that Gen. Kuropatkin is already retreating north of Liaoyang.

Back to Chutsu. London, Aug. 11.—A correspondent of The Daily Mail, who visited Simintin, which is on neutral Chinese territory, about 30 miles west of Mukden, cables the following, under date of Aug. 10:

"There is an enormous garrison at Mukden, reinforcements having arrived rapidly.

"There are no Japanese north of the city. A force of some strength lies 25 miles to the south, and there is another Japanese army five miles east of Liaoyang.

"I learn from a reliable source that the main Russian army has fallen back on Chutsu."

Firing at Port Arthur.

Che Foo, Aug. 11.—Admiral Sah of the Chinese Imperial navy arrived here last night from the Miaotao Islands. He says the firing of Monday night was at Port Arthur and was heavy all night long. Further firing, according to the admiral, was heard yesterday afternoon.

The steamer Kashing reports having seen a Japanese warship Tuesday night thirty miles northwest of Che Foo. The warship was patrolling the vicinity where firing was heard last Monday.

Chinese With Japs. St. Petersburg, Aug. 11.—An alarming feature of the situation in connection with the Japanese western column is the report that it includes many Chinese, who are Japanese subjects from the Island of Formosa, whose influence on the local Chinese and the soldiers of Gen. Ma and Viceroy Yuanshikai is feared.

Nervousness at St. Petersburg. St. Petersburg, Aug. 11.—Nervousness over the situation at the front seems to be increasing since the occupation by the Japanese of the Wolf Hills, before Port Arthur. It is admitted that the besiegers have an elevated position, whence equipped guns can command the fortress.

Pressing on Liaoyang. St. Petersburg, Aug. 11.—The news received the War Office yesterday indicates the concentration of the Japanese armies east of Simoucheng, which is interpreted as showing the intention to press direct on Liaoyang in an attempt to cut off Anshanshan (half way between Hatching and Liaoyang). No confirmation has reached the admiralty at this hour of the repulse with heavy loss of the Japanese at Port Arthur Aug. 8.

Reserve Men With Japs.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 11.—Emperor Nicholas has received despatches from Gen. Kuropatkin, dated Aug. 8 and Aug. 9, mentioning a few minor reconnaissance, but saying that there has been no particular change in the positions of either the east or south fronts. On the south the Japanese advance posts are nine miles north of Hatching. Daily fusillades occur between the Russian and Japanese outposts. Gen. Kuropatkin points out the fact that the Japanese are using bullets of different calibre, some with nickel, and others with copper coverings, showing that their reserve men are now in the fighting line.

Cruiser Ural Sails.

Lisbon, Portugal, Aug. 11.—The Russian auxiliary cruiser Ural, which was off this port Tuesday, has proceeded. It is supposed that she is bound for the Mediterranean. Presumably the Ural is the vessel which recently held up the British steamer Manora off Cape Finistere.

Russia Satisfies the Porte.

Constantinople, Aug. 11.—The Porte has definitely accepted the assurances of Russia as to the character of the volunteer fleet vessels seeking to traverse the Dardanelles.

Steamer Thus Condemned.

Valdivostok, Aug. 11.—The prize court yesterday condemned the German steamer Thea, which was sunk by the Vladivostok squadron off the coast of Japan, July 24, and declared that the Russian cruisers were justified in sinking the vessels. Evidence was produced that they were chartered by a Japanese company and that on March 25 she had been engaged exclusively in the Japanese trade between Japanese ports. On this ground the court declared that she had lost all rights as the vessel of a neutral nation, especially as her cargo, which consisted of fish, was intended for the use of the Japanese.

Has Appointed Maraceff.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 11.—There is a persistent rumor that the Emperor has signed the appointment of Minister of Justice Maraceff as Minister of the Interior, in succession to the late M. von Plehve.

THRESHER'S AWFUL DEATH.

Fell Off a Brace in the Barn Into the Rapidly Revolving Cylinder and Was Instantly Killed.

Killed at Threshing.

Aurora, Aug. 11.—George Stafford, farm-hand employed by E. C. Welton, was killed at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at a threshing on the farm of Levi T. Walton, near the village of Kettleby. He was climbing into a mow to start to pitch, and was pulling himself up by a brace of the barn framework, and near the top of the barn when the brace gave way, and he fell head first into the cylinder of the threshing machine, which was running at full speed. He was instantly killed, the cylinder lacerating his head and shoulders. He has been out from Ireland a few years, and has always worked with farmers in this location.

ALL THREE DROWNED.

William Marace, Wife and Child Lost in Deseronto Bay.

Deseronto, Aug. 11.—A drowning accident occurred about five miles off the bay from here on Saturday last, in which three people, Wm. Marace, his wife and child, lost their lives. An empty skiff, with a couple of hats in it, was picked up on Monday morning, this being the first indication that such an accident had occurred. Inquiries were made, and it was learned that the Maraces were missing. Yesterday morning the child's body came ashore, but the other two are still unrecovered.

Boy Found Drowned.

Sarnia, Aug. 11.—Word was received at noon yesterday to the effect that the body of a drowned boy had been found floating in the St. Clair River, near Marine City, Michigan. The lad was clothed in a bathing suit, and was apparently about 11 or 12 years of age. The description given leads to the supposition that the body is that of Chas. Forkin, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Forkin, who was drowned in the river here last Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Forkin and Undertaker L. N. Phippin left yesterday afternoon for Marine City to view the body and remove it to Sarnia if it proves to be his son.

No Water For 11 Days.

North Sydney, N.S., Aug. 11.—Their throats parched for eleven days, which they spent without food or water, exhausted, emaciated and nearly dead, Peter Gradley and Chas. Conley, picked up from their dory by the schooner Hydrangea, were brought in yesterday. When found they were forty miles off Miquelon. Lost in a fog while fishing near their smack, the Indiana, the men drifted for nearly two weeks, and when found they were unable to lift their hands.

Waived Extradition.

Hamilton, Aug. 11.—A. L. Ball, Buffalo, the man arrested on the charge of forging the name of W. H. Brace on a $65 cheque, consented to go back to Buffalo yesterday afternoon with Sheriff Clark and Mr. Brace. He came from Toronto late last night.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC

Construction Work Not to Be Started This Year.

President C. M. Hays Says the Company Awaits Completed Surveys Before Locating the Line—Pacific Terminus Not Announced—Road Will Be Completed Within Time Specified—Organization Meeting of the New Company.

Montreal, Aug. 11.—The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company was organized yesterday at the first meeting of the shareholders and directors at the general offices of the Grand Trunk. C. M. Hays, general manager of the G.T.P., was elected president, and Frank W. Morse, third vice-president of the G.T.P., first vice-president and general manager.

The other officers are: Wm. Wainwright, second vice-president; Henry Phillips, secretary; Frank Scott, treasurer, and H. W. Walker, general auditor. These are also officials of the G.T.P., Mr. Wainwright being comptroller, Mr. Phillips secretary to Mr. Hays, Mr. Scott treasurer, and Mr. Walker general auditor.

Members of the executive committee are: Messrs. C. M. Hays, Hon. George L. Cox, F. W. Morse and W. Wainwright. The following are the directors who were elected: C. M. Hays, F. W. Morse, W. Wainwright, W. H. Biggar, Hugh A. Allan, and E. B. Greenshields of Montreal; Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, Lord Welby, Col. Fred Firebrace, Alfred W. Smithers and John Alan Clutton Brock, of London, Eng.; Hon. Geo. A. Cox and E. R. Woods of Toronto; John R. Booth of Ottawa, and John Bell of Belleville.

The law firm of Messrs. Davidson & Wainwright, Montreal, were appointed local consulting counsel to the board.

President Hays Speaks.

C. M. Hays, when seen after the meeting, said that surveys for the new road would be pushed vigorously through from now until the completion.

"Surveys are now being made rapidly on that section of the road between Winnipeg and the Pacific Coast. They will be continued, and as soon as all the required information regarding grades, practicable routes and terminal points is prepared, a definite route will be chosen and construction work will be commenced. It will take considerable time yet for these surveys to be completed. There is no probability of any construction work starting this year."

"What about the section from Winnipeg to Moncton?"

"Oh, well, the Government will have to decide about that. As soon as the Government is ready for us to go ahead we will be in a position to start."

"Have you any idea as to what route will be chosen through the Northwest?" was asked.

"We will wait until all the data needed are collected by the engineers. On this data we will decide largely as to what route is most desirable. Before that time I could not say where the road may go."

Terminus Not Announced.

Mr. Hays said further that he could not state as to what place on the Pacific Coast might be decided upon as a terminal. Engineers would also prepare reports on the possible points, and when these reports were submitted the company would visit them, and taking into consideration the visits of the engineers, would reach a conclusion when necessary.

"Will you go West soon to visit points along the Pacific Coast, where it is likely that the road may terminate?"

"I will probably go out either this week or next to look over the ground."

"Where will the head offices of the new company be?" Mr. Hays was next asked.

"They will be in the general office of the Grand Trunk at Montreal," he replied.

Mr. Hays added that the road would be completed within the number of years specified by the Government.

There have been several deputations in Montreal this last two or three weeks from Port Arthur, Port William and other places waiting on Mr. Hays and offering inducements to the Grand Trunk Pacific to extend lines to the places they represent. One was present yesterday afternoon.

WILL LIKELY RETURN.

Private Ferry is Still Undecided As to His Future Residence.

Toronto, Aug. 11.—Private Perry spent yesterday in comparative quiet. He will go West in a few days, to keep faith, but as the fact that he intends to leave his presents here would show an uncertainty as his future. The Grenadiers want him to stay in Toronto and a new ammunition factory at Ottawa may make him an offer. He is the guest of his uncle, Joseph Price, at Kew Beach.

The cabinet of silver escaped without a scratch and the clock suffered only in broken cords as a result of the platform collapse. Examination of the wreck yesterday morning showed the heavy four-inch wire nails badly twisted, indicating a tremendous pressure.

A sudden fit of anger may have an influence in many directions.

A SENSIBLE OPINION.

Commander Booth Tucker, of the Salvation Army, after stating that Bishop Potter's subway tavern would grove more of an evil than a blessing, said:

"The Salvation Army teaches teetotalism from the start, and that is the only system in which it believes. There is enough drinking in private among both men and women without putting the temptation before them in public. The whole idea is abhorrent to me, and I cannot conceive that anyone who is sincere in his purpose of wrestling with the drink problem can place his endorsement on it.

"Women and all are tempted sufficiently without putting temptation before them with the endorsement of religion upon it. No church, no sect, no religion should permit any of its members to put the stamp of approval upon any such project."

DUNDONALD.

The Ottawa Citizen, which is well informed in respect to Lord Dundonald's intentions, so far as Canada is concerned, gives us this information: Now that Lord Dundonald has left Canada, the Liberal press is assiduously spreading the report that he proposes to return to Canada and run for parliament.

As a matter of fact Lord Dundonald has not the slightest intention of entering Canadian politics, or of accepting a nomination for parliament. He made that perfectly clear before he left, and will give the report an emphatic denial as soon as the fact that his name is being used in that connection reaches him. The intention of the government press in spreading the report is obvious. It is desired to create the impression that Lord Dundonald is a partisan in Canadian politics, whereas his interest in Canada and in the militia of this country is of a purely imperial and patriotic character.

The probabilities are good that the imperial government will exhibit its confidence in and appreciation of the general by appointing him to a high command under the new army council scheme which is now going into effect. Premier Balfour has already announced that such was the government's intention prior to the trouble arising here between Lord Dundonald and the Canadian government, and we are satisfied that when the entire facts are in the possession of the imperial authorities the result will be to still further convince them of the general's fitness for a high command.

WILL THE UNITED STATES SUBMIT?

The Russian prize court at Vladivostok has given a decision in the case of the steamer Arabia, captured by the Russian cruiser Gromoboi. The Arabia is a British ship, but carried a cargo of flour consigned by Americans to Japanese ports. The prize court orders the confiscation of the flour, laying down a principle which no other nation has affirmed in recent times, namely, that provisions are contraband of war. The United States cannot consistently submit to this ruling. In 1793, when war was being waged in Europe, she resisted the attempt to make foodstuffs contraband, except when consigned to a blockaded port, or obviously for military use. She has never receded from that position, but has continually asserted it. In the Boer war when a British cruiser seized a cargo of American foodstuffs in Delagoa Bay, the United States demanded and was at once awarded damages.

Great Britain is in accordance with the United States on this question. Their interests are mutual. Last year the United States shipped to the British market $160,000,000 worth of provisions. If Great Britain were at war with any European power, this enormous commerce would be imperiled if the Russian doctrine prevailed. Every vessel under an American or any neutral flag, carrying foodstuffs to Great Britain for consumption by the British people, would be liable to confiscation of cargo. It is plain, therefore, that neither the United States nor Great Britain can afford to allow the decision of the Vladivostok prize court to pass into international law. The confiscation would have been regular had it been shown that the cargo of the Arabia was intended for the troops in Manchuria and Korea, but the Russians seem to have acted on the assumption that the destination of the cargo to a Japanese port was in itself sufficient ground for confiscation. The United States last year shipped $12,000,000 worth of wheat and flour to Japan, so that her Pacific commerce will be paralyzed during the continuance of the war, if the Russian decision holds. Great Britain has already entered a protest against the seizure of the Arabia. The United States, to be consistent, cannot allow the confiscation of the cargo to go unchallenged. In declaring coal to be contraband of war Russia stands alone, but the inclusion of provisions in the list of contraband is even more intolerable. No action can be a law unto itself in such matters. This war has shown the necessity for a convention of the powers to frame laws regarding contraband of war, which shall be binding upon every country.

A BAD DREAM

"Say, I had a dream last night," said a prominent city automobilist this morning to a friend at the market, "that makes Frank Tschirhart's dream look like the end of a hard winter. It was all owing to one of those Welsh rabbit chafing dish suppers, which put so many to the bad. No sooner had I turned in and turned over, than it seemed as if I were standing in front of the Garner House. There were two automobiles—one red and one black—standing side by side on King street, and they were apparently talking to each other. 'Having much fun these days?' asked the red auto. 'Sure,' answered the black auto. 'Why, only yesterday I ran my master off the road by Charing Cross and then broke my chain. Say, but he was sore. He got out and looked me over, but couldn't find out the trouble. Then he got under me on the dusty road, lying on his back, and whacked away at the bearings. At last, after perching and swearing in a most ungentlemanly manner, he found the broken chain. My friend filled his eyes, for he had an extra one. Coming back I got a feeling of devilment in me and ran him into a ditch. Then there was fun to burn. It took three farmers with their teams to haul me out, and of all the cursing and bitter language I ever heard those farmers certainly took the cake. But oh fudge, those things are not in it with knocking people down and killing dogs and chickens. I like to hear the people yell, and the dogs howl, and to feel the chicken's crunch. Say, Reddy, if you want to get the best out of your three thousand dollar life, just let your sparker get put out of business, grind your bearings up, break your chain, and do it all when your about ten miles from nowhere, also when the weather's hot and the road dusty. I must say, the horses all give us the horse laugh, but to hear all the swearing and fuming that goes on makes up for it. Well, Reddy, here comes my master, and I think he is going to challenge your master for one of those races down Queen street. Say Red, the cops are a dead cinch in this town, aren't they? I guess we've got 'em all fixed, all right, all right.'"

"Just at this juncture I awoke in a cold sweat, but remembering that chafing dish suppers and too much buttermilk cause dreams, I sank into a peaceful and undisturbed slumber."

SACHEL OF THE SATELLITE

The Council strike the rate and then the people berate the aldermen.

Combining the worship of Bacchus and Terpsichore—dancing on the bar.

I suppose the Americans couldn't bear to take the cup. At least they couldn't induce the White Bear to bear it away.

If the aldermanic baseball outfit could only strike the ball like they strike the rate, their batting average would be a thousand per cent.

"We are going to raise the rate and thereby raise money," remarked Finance Minister Marshall as he boosted the rate a couple more notches. "We're going to pay our way."

The young man who dances at the Driftwood Club's hop next Saturday night may rest secure in the conviction that he is not the first young man who has been caught dancing on the bar.

Those close races for the Seawanhaka cup were all right, because all's well that ends well. Come again Mr. Yankee and play the Lipton role.

ECHOES FROM ERIEAU

Mrs. S. M. Glenn is spending the day in Chatham.

Last night T. J. Rutley caught the largest speckled bass that has been caught this year.

Miss Hattie Northwood, has returned to the city, after a pleasant visit with Mrs. E. B. Northwood.

E. B. Jones and A. E. Jones went dragging for their anchor last night and found it with scarcely any trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harper, of Sandalwood Cottage, spent last night at Erie Beach, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Holmes.

Miss Jessie Harper went to Chatham to-day and took the train for St. Thomas on an extended visit with friends and relatives.

Rev. T. Beverley Smith and H. J. Stevens established a new troling record yesterday. In a little less than half an hour's troling they caught four fine large pike.

There was a strike among the men who unload the coal boats at Erieau.

THE official tests by the Inland Revenue Department of the Canadian Government show the Royal to be a pure baking powder, superior to all others in leavening strength. It therefore makes purer, more wholesome and economical food than any other baking powder or leavening agent. Royal Baking Powder is more convenient for use than cream of tartar and soda and makes finer-flavored food. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Erasing Tattoo Marks. Many persons who desire to get rid of india ink marks on the skin will be interested in the method recommended by a correspondent in a contemporary. He says: "After making the site of operation aseptic retattoo the part with needles (secundum artem), using the following solution: Chloride of zinc, thirty grams; sterilized water, forty grams. At the time of operation the tattooing becomes rather pale, and the needle pricks appear surrounded with white. At the border of the tattooed surface a raised white edge forms, caused by the raising of the epidermis, and the neighboring parts become slightly reddened. This, however, soon disappears, and with proper attention to cleanliness there is no intense reaction. In a day or two after the operation the tattooing becomes darker, the white area becomes yellowish, and a crusty, superficial eschar forms, which separates on the fifth to the tenth day. It is not in any way painful, and the results, remote as well as immediate, are excellent."

Among birds the females do not sing, and although many species have musical call notes and agreeable tones in conversation which are shared in by both sexes still the true song is only rendered by the male bird. I am sincere in saying that the lady bird talks more than her mate about the house, but I will admit that when away from home she is very discreet in this respect. In attending to her duties of incubation she is very quiet, and it is seldom that a note is heard from her while on the nest. It has even been said that all birds are silent when incubating, so as to avoid observation. However, although most species are quiet when sitting, there are a few which chirp loudly when so engaged, and some even burst into exuberant song.—Science.

All the Bargains Were Gone. An American of hitherto undoubted veracity tells this story of a restaurant in Berlin to which he and a friend went one evening: The fare and the music were so good and the people about them so amusing that they lingered on and on. When at last they rose to go the American's hat was not to be found. "What sort of hat was it, mein herr?" inquired the stolid person in charge. "It was a new top hat," said the American briskly. "Ach, but, mein herr, all the new hats have been gone for half an hour!" said the German placidly.

An Odd Escape. Perhaps the strangest escape from death after being swallowed up by an earthquake is that which is recorded on a Jamaican gravestone. "Here lieth the body of Lewis Gaidy, Esq., who died on the 22d of September, 1787, aged eighty. He was born at Montpellier, in France, which place he left for his religion, and settled on this island, where, in the great earthquake, 1672, he was swallowed up and, by the wonderful providence of God, by a second shock was thrown out into the sea, where he continued swimming until he was taken up by a boat and thus miraculously preserved."

PRACTICAL IMPERIALISM.

Canadian Children's Correspondence with London and Australia - Interesting Letters From Distant Fellow Britons.

A valuable and interesting medium for diffusing Imperial sentiment is being conducted by Mr. R. W. Hicks, Principal of the Queen Victoria School, Close Avenue, Toronto.

Mr. Hicks meantime found the scheme working so well that he desired to extend it to Australia.

From the Canadian side the correspondence has proved beneficial in spreading a knowledge of this country, the Canadian boys' descriptions of their holidays inspiring a keen desire among London boys to come and share their enjoyment.

The correspondence has a broadening influence, as it presents the children's view of events from the standpoint of other worlds.

A letter from Holman Arndt of Mylor, South Australia, said in part: "In answer to your teacher's letter which I saw in 'The Children's Hour,' a special book printed for the use of schools, I am going to write you a few lines about South Australia."

South Australia is a very pretty country, at least the part where I live is very pretty, but the north is dry, for it does not have enough rain.

An Imperial touch is given by William J. Wade of Yunta, South Australia, who says: "I started going to school the day the Queen died."

"The South Australia people are very much like the English," writes Miss Dolly Byrne of Warooka, South Australia.

One of the English correspondents asks an early reply, "as we are thinking of emigrating."

A Sailor Boy's Recollection. Amusing was the effort of the lad who, on being requested to write down what he could remember of the teacher's lesson on the Sermon on the Mount, reproduced one precept as follows: "If thy brother cometh thee go with him one mile, go with him."

HAPPY EVENT

A very happy wedding was celebrated in this city last evening when Miss Lena Burton, a popular young Chatham lady was united in marriage to Chas. Timbers, a prosperous young farmer of Buxton. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burton, in the presence of a large number of guests. Rev. J. C. Richards, pastor of the B. M. E. Church, tied the nuptial knot, Miss Eva Grinage acted as bridesmaid, and Samuel Boswell was best man. The happy young couple were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents. They will reside in their new home in Buxton.

FAMILY RE-UNION

The annual gathering of the McCooig clan was held at Government Park, Round Bay, yesterday afternoon. There were about 50 or 60 McCooigs present at the gathering everyone related to each other either through family or marriage ties. A good time was spent together and the picnic was a decided success in every particular.

Former re-unions of this popular Kent family have been held but the one yesterday eclipsed all former attempts at a family gathering. It is intended to make the picnic an annual affair. There were present McCooigs from all over Kent principally Harwich. At the next re-union it is expected that there will be members of the family present from all quarters of the universe.

Those from Chatham who were present to join in the festivities were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Urquhart, Mr. and Mrs. William Stone, Mr. and Mrs. John M. McCooig, and A. J. and Mrs. Archie McCooig.

Russian Fleet Abandons the Fortress and all but two Ships Escape

Driven from Refuge by the Japanese Land Batteries and Attacked at Sea by Togo

(Special to The Planet.)

Tokio, Aug. 11.—Evidently driven to sea by the fire of the Japanese land batteries, the Russian fleet emerged from Port Arthur yesterday morning. Admiral Togo immediately closed in and opened a severe engagement which lasted until nightfall. Afterwards the Japanese destroyers and torpedo flotillas delivered a series of attacks.

The Japanese fleet withdrew during the night. A guardship stationed off the harbor reported that she saw at dawn to-day the battleships Retvizan and Pobeda steaming toward the harbor of Port Arthur.

Admiral Togo has not yet reported the results of the engagements. It is thought here that the Russians attempted to escape seaward, from a base which is no longer tenable, but that they again refused to attempt to force Admiral Togo's line. Details are expected hourly.

London, Aug. 11.—A despatch to a news agency from Tokio announces that Admiral Togo has frustrated the attempt of the Port Arthur squadron to escape and adds that the Port Arthur forts participated with the warships in the engagement, indicating, if true, that the fighting occurred close to the port.

The large vessels of the Russian Port Arthur fleet consists of six battleships and four armored cruisers.

Lawn social will be given this Thursday evening on the lawn of Mrs. S. T. Hecklin, Murray street. Music, dancing and refreshments. Come and enjoy yourself. No admission to grounds. Detective James McGregor, Humane Officer, is constantly in receipt of anonymous letters and post cards pointing out horses that are being abused. Mr. McGregor says that he cannot pay any attention to such anonymous contributions, but he is perfectly willing to act if the writer will only sign his or her name. An old man who has been in the county jail for some time on a charge of vagrancy, was discharged yesterday. He declared his intention of going to Chatham, where he has friends. He had only sixty-five cents in his pocket, so he could not go by railway. He seemed confident, however, of reaching his destination. Probably he will do the distance on foot and trust to getting food from farmers on the way.—London Free Press.

Trudell & Tobey have received a post card from one of the business houses in Park's France, with which they do business, addressed to Chatham, Ontario, U. S. A. They think it funny that this Paris firm does not know that Chatham, one of the principal cities of Canada is not situated in the United States. Everyone should know that the U. S. is in Chatham, Ontario, Canada.

"You would scarcely think that in Ontario you could make snowballs and eat berries with a circle of twenty feet," remarked Tancrede Doyle, secretary of the Blonde Lumber Co. "Within the past two weeks I was in Collingwood and drove to the mountains as they call it. There are caves, and in these is the snow. In some places the piles of snow are exposed to the sun, but this seems to have little effect. I was making snowballs and eating wild raspberries all within a distance of twenty feet. Rather a novel August experience."

FORESTERS' PIONIO

The Independent Foresters, of Raleigh, held a grand picnic in the Broadbent bush between the 10th and 11th concessions, Raleigh, yesterday afternoon. There was an excellent attendance and the affair was a grand success in every way. The rain in the early part of the afternoon stopped the proceedings for a short time, but otherwise there was nothing to prevent the pleasure-seekers from having a splendid time.

H. S. Clements, the Conservative candidate for the House of Commons, was present and delivered an excellent and entertaining address. R. A. Harrington and Geo. Wands, of the local Order of Foresters, were also present and delivered addresses. R. G. Robinson, of Fletcher, was chairman and presided over an excellent musical program. The Jubilee Singers, of Raleigh, gave a number of selections which were much enjoyed. Geo. Stephens, M. P., arrived late and gave a very exhaustive address, explaining his position in Parliament to the assembled crowd.

This picnic is an annual affair and the managers of the entertainment have great reason to feel gratified at the success to which they have attained this year.

Uncle Terry
 BY CHARLES CLARK MUNN
 Copyright, 1900, by LEE & SHEPARD

CHAPTER XXXVI.
Will you go in my boat," said Telly the next afternoon when she and Albert were ready to start on their trip to the cove, and, unlocking a small annex to Uncle Terry's boathouse, she showed him a dainty cedar craft, cushioned and carpeted. "You may help me launch the Sea Shell," she added smiling, "and then you may steer."
 "No, that is the lady's privilege in all voyages," he answered, "and we must begin this one right."
 It was a good four mile pull to the mouth of the inlet, and when he helped his fair passenger out he said: "Do you mean to say you rowed up here alone every day to work on that picture, Telly? You will let me call you Telly now, won't you?"
 "Why not? All my friends do, and I feel you are my friend." Then she added: "Now I am going to have my revenge and make you pose while I sketch this time. It was the other way before."
 "I am glad it is," he said, "for my arms are too tired to use for an hour. How do you want me, flat on the rock fast asleep, the way I was when my boat drifted away?"
 "Oh, no, that would look as if you were dead, and as this is to be my reminder of you I want you very much alive." As for the pose she wanted Albert to assume, she could not determine which she liked the best.
 "I want to sketch you in the position most natural to you here," she said finally, "and must ask you to choose that yourself."
 "Let us trim the boat the way mine was that day, and I will sit beside it and smoke while you work."
 The idea was adopted, and while Telly sketched he smoked, contented to watch the winsome face, so oblivious to his admiring glances.
 "There," she observed, after a half hour of active penciling, "please lay your cigar aside and look pleasant. I want to catch the expression of your face."
 When the sketch was completed she asked if he had any suggestions to make.
 "Only one. I would like you in the picture and sitting beside me."
 "I would rather not be in it," she replied soberly. "I only want to see you as you are here today. It may be a long time before you come to the Cape again."
 "Would you like me to come often?"
 "Of course," she answered, turning away her face. "It is so lonesome here, and there is no one I care to talk with except father and mother and Aunt Leach and Mandy Oaks."
 Albert's heart began to beat with unusual speed. Never in his life before had he felt the impulse to utter words of love to any woman. "Telly," he said, "I promised to tell you a little story here today, but it's all said in a few words. I love you, and I want you to share my life and all that I can do to make you happy." A trifle incoherent, but expressive.
 For a moment, while the tide of feeling surged through that queen's heart and into her cheeks, even to the tips of her ears, she was silent, and then, as both her hands went to her face, she almost whispered: "Oh, no, no; I cannot! I can never leave father and mother alone here! It would break my heart!"
 "But you do care a little for me, don't you, Telly?" he begged, trying to draw her hands away from her blushing face. "Just a little, Telly; only say a little to give me hope."
 And then, as one of the hands he was trying to gain was yielded and as he softly stroked and then raised it to his lips, she turned her pleading eyes to him and said: "You won't be angry, will you? And you will come and see me once in awhile, won't you? And let me paint a picture to give you when you come?"
 It may have been the pain in his face, added to her own desolation, that overcame all else, for now she bowed her head, and the tears came.
 "I thank you for so much, Telly," he answered tenderly, "and God bless you for it. I do not give you up and shall not if I have to wait all my life for you. I can be patient if I only have hope." He brushed his face with one hand and, still holding hers, arose and drew her up. Then Albert slyly put his arms around her waist, and as he drew her to him he whispered, "Just one, Telly, my sweetheart, to make this spot seem more sacred."
 It was not refused.
 "Come out on the point, dear," he said as she tried to draw herself away, "so we can see the ocean better. I will tell you the story I promised last evening." He still held her a half prisoner, and when they were seated where the waves were beating almost at their feet he began his recital. When he came to that portion in which Frye played a part, and ending in such a ghastly denouement, she shuddered.

 "That is the one horrible part of taking your own life," she said, "to think how you will look and what those who find you will say. If I were to do such a thing I should first make sure no one would ever find me."
 The remark startled him. "Telly," he said soberly, "do not ever think of such a thing. Would you, whose heart is so loving and tender, burden all those who know you with a lifelong sorrow?"
 "No, no, not that way. Only if those who love me were taken I should want to follow them. That is all. Please forget I said it." Then she told him her own brief history, and at last, after much coaxing, a little of the one sorrow of her life.
 "Now I know," he said, "why you avoided speaking about the picture of the wreck the first time I came here." Then in a moment he added: "Telly, I want you to give it to me and let me take it away. I want it for two reasons. One is, it gave me the first hint of your life's history. And then I do not want you to look at it any more."
 "You may have it," she answered, smiling sadly. "It was foolish of me to paint it."
 When the sun was low and they were ready to return he said, "Promise me, sweetheart, that you will try to forget all of your past that is sad and think only of us who love you and to whom your life is a blessing."
 That evening he noticed Uncle Terry occasionally watched her with wistful

"Oh, no, no; I cannot!"
 eyes, and, as on the evening before, both he and Aunt Lissy retired early.
 "They wish me well," Albert thought. The next day Uncle Terry proposed that Telly should drive to the head of the island in his place.
 "I'm sorry ye must leave us, Mr. Page," he said when Albert was ready to bid the old folks goodbye. "I wish ye could stay longer, but cum ag'in soon, an' remember our latchstring's allus out fer ye."
 When the old carryall had made half its daily journey Albert pointed to a low rock and said, "There is a spot I shall always be glad to see, for it was there Uncle Terry first found me."
 Telly made no answer. In fact, she had said but little since they started. When they reached the little landing no one else was there. No house was in sight of it, and the solitude was broken only by the tide that softly creased the barnacled piles of the wharf and the weed covered rocks on either side. No boat was visible adown the wide reach that separates Southport island from the mainland, and up it came a light sea breeze that barely rippled the flowing tide and whispered through the brown and scarlet leaved thicket back of them. Over all shone the lazy sunlight of October. Telly stood listening and hoping that the boat would be late. A look of sadness came over her face and a more than usually plaintive appeal in her expressive eyes. "I am sorry you are going," she said. "It is so lonesome here, and it will seem more so now." Then, as if that was a confession he might think unavailingly, she added, "I dread to have the summer end, for when winter comes the rocks all around seem like so many tombstones."
 Albert put out his hand as if that would aid his appeal, and as his fingers closed over hers he said: "I am going away with a heavy heart, Telly, and when I can come back is hard to say. Will you not promise me that some time, no matter when, you will be my own good and true wife? Let me go away with that hope to comfort me while I work and save for a home for us both. Will you, Telly?"
 But the plaintive face was turned away, perhaps to hide the tears. Then an arm stole around her waist, and as he drew her close she whispered, "When I am no longer needed here, if you want me then I will come to you."
 She was sobbing, her head resting on his shoulder, and as he kissed her unconscious lips a boat's sharp whistle broke the sacred spell.

 "Go a little way back, my darling," he whispered, "until the boat is gone. I do not want any one to see you have been crying."
 When her misty eyes could no longer see the boat that bore her heart away, she turned, and all the long, lonely way back love's tears lingered on her lashes.

CHAPTER XXXVII.
THE mountains around Sandgate were aflame with the scarlet and gold of autumn before life seemed quite as usual to Alice Page. The summer idyl had passed, and though it left a scar on her heart she had resolutely determined to put the sweet illusion out of her mind. "I was very foolish to let him see that I cared," she thought, "for it can never be, and by and by he will forget me, or if he does think of me it will be to recall me as one of his summer girls who had a fit of silliness."
 Her heart ached at times, and in spite of all resolution her fingers would once in awhile stray to the chords of "Ben Bolt." She answered her letters in a cool, matter of fact way. Occasionally, when he referred to his heart hunger and how hard he was studying in hopes that she might think better of him, she wished that he had no purse proud and haughty mother to stand between him and a poor girl, and her next letter would be more chilly than ever. What perhaps was a bitter sweet thought was the fact that the colder she answered him the warmer his next letter would be. He happened to mention once that his mother had spoken of a certain young lady, who belonged to the cream of Boston society, as an eligible match and advised him to show her a little attention. It did not help his cause.
 How grateful she was all through those melancholy autumn days that she had a large school to absorb her thoughts. She was having a long and hard fight with her own feelings, and imagined she had conquered them when Thanksgiving time drew near and her brother announced he would run up and spend the day with her. She almost cried for joy at the news, for proud spirited Alice Page was feeling very heart hungry when the letter came. Albert was just a little surprised at her vehement welcome.
 "Oh, I have been so lonesome, Bertie," she said when they were alone, "and the evenings drag by so slowly! Then you do not write me as often or such nice letters as formerly, and Aunt Susan never seems to notice that I am blue. If it were not for my school I should go crazy, I think."
 "I am very busy these days, sis," Albert replied, "and my mind is all taken up with work. Mr. Nason's business is increasing, and I have many clients besides him." Then he added, "How did you like Nason?"
 "Oh, she was very nice," replied Alice coolly, "and if she were a poor girl and lived here I could easily learn to love her. As it is, it is useless for me to think of her as a friend. It was good of her to pay me a visit, though, and I enjoyed every minute of it."
 "And what about Frank? Did he not say a lot of sweet things to you?"
 Alice colored.
 "Oh, he is nice enough," she answered, "and tried to make me believe he had fallen in love with me, but it won't do any good. I am sure his managing mamma will marry him to some thin girl with a fat purse."
 "So that is the way the wind blows, my sweet sister, is it? And yet my possible future law partner has been humming 'Ben Bolt' nearly every day for the past two months! You must have smiled on him very sweetly when he was here."

Turn Time Backward. Be Young Again.
 At last there is hope for the army of young, old and middle-aged men who suffer through early self-indulgence, later excesses or exposure and themselves lacking in virile power. How many of you are now reaping the harvest of your folly! At last you are face to face with the realization that nature cannot be deceived, neither does it forget the wrong done it, whether through ignorance or otherwise; and the punishment always corresponds with the amount of abuse committed. Do not, however, lose hope, as there is a cure, thanks to Dr. Goidberg, the noted specialist, who can give you what is rightfully yours—vigor, manhood. If you suffer from trouble, sexual weakness, varicocele, lost manhood, blood poison, hydrocele, emaciation, impotence, rheumatism, bladder or kidney trouble, heart disease, nervous debility, etc., write at once to Dr. Goidberg, and he will send you his method of curing these diseases free of charge. The doctor has received fourteen diplomas, certificates of medical examiners, which should convince you as to his standing and abilities. His acceptance of a case for treatment is equivalent to a cure, as he never accepts an incurable one without treatment, and should you decide to doctor with him you may:
Pay When You Are Cured.
 The doctor realizes that it is one thing to make claims and another thing to back them up, so he has made it a rule not to ask for money unless he cures you, and when you are cured he will send you a bill for a small amount, and you will willingly pay him a small amount, because, that it is to the best interest of every man who suffers in this way to write to the doctor at once and confidentially lay your case before him. He sends the method, how to write booklet on the subject, containing the 14 diplomas and certificates, entirely free. Write him plenty of letters, and he will all immediately be sent you. Free, in a plain, sealed envelope.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed by a running, rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

American Boat Won Tuesday.

Montreal, Aug. 10.—The fourth race for the Seawanhaka Cup, which took place on Lake St. Louis yesterday afternoon, resulted in another triumph for the American boat, the White Bear of St. Paul, Minn. She crossed the finish line 1 minute and 2 seconds ahead of the Noona. The final race will be sailed to-day.

VERY REMARKABLE CURE OF DIARRHOEA.

"About six years ago, for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment, without avail. Finally we moved to Bosque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine costing but a few cents, cured me." For sale by All Druggists.

Premier's Daughter Weds.

Toronto, Aug. 10.—The wedding took place yesterday at the residence of Hon. G. W. Ross of his daughter, Miss Florence Ross, and P. Ernest Gunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Gunn, Rosedale. The service was performed by Rev. E. W. Mackay, B.A., of Madoc, and Rev. Dr. Neil of Westminster Presbyterian Church. Miss Mabel Ross was bridesmaid, and Norma Smallpiece was best man. Only relatives and a few friends were present. The gifts were numerous and handsome.

CATARRE, PNEUMONIA, CONSUMPTION.

Death's fatal trinity they are often called. Catarrh is the first stage, pneumonia often follows, and consumption finally exacts the full penalty. This can all be averted by using healing, balsamic Catarrhose, an antiseptic that penetrates the remotest air cells of the lungs. Catarrhose reaches the entire mucous surface of the throat and breathing apparatus; it carries health wherever it goes, brings instant relief and is absolutely certain to cure. Don't delay, get Catarrhose to-day. It means health, certain cure. Two months' treatment $1.00, trial size 25c. Catarrhose is guaranteed.

Why Were They Fired?

Ottawa, Aug. 10.—Corporals Swallow, Zimmerman and Worrel of the 13th of Hamilton, and Corporals Bindon and Mitchell of the 43rd D.C.O.R., have been dismissed from the Canadian School of Musketry according to Lieut.-Col. Cartwright, the commanding officer, because they did not give enough time to study, but in the opinion of many people simply because they made themselves conspicuous in the Dundonald demonstration.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

This has long been regarded as one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases to which infants are subject. It can be cured, however, when properly treated. All that is necessary is to give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, as directed with each bottle, and a cure is certain. For sale by All Druggists.

Metal Worker Killed.

Hamilton, Aug. 10.—Austin Kane, a metal worker employed by Ald. Finlay, was killed some time during Monday night by a T. H. & B. train, near Ainslie woods. "BEST MAN" IS SCOTCH GROOMSMAN'S DUTIES IN THE OLDEN TIMES WERE ONEROUS.

He Gave the Bride Away After Having Lifted the Bride Over the Threshold—Ancient and Widespread Custom Which Has Caused Much Shedding of Ink—He Also Passed the Cake and Cups.

It may be a surprise to some people to know, says The London Globe, that the phrase "best man"—the bridegroom's nearest attendant—is of Scottish origin. In the North, also, the principal bridesmaid used to be called the "best maid." Neither expression has much to recommend it. It is a great pity, indeed, that "best man," an inelegant and in itself meaningless phrase, should have so completely ousted from our common everyday speech the good old English name of "bridesman" or "bridesmaid." Another old name is "groomsman," and in days gone by the bridegroom was attended, not by one friend, but by several, who were known as the bridesmen or groomsmen.

The term "best man" came into use, presumably, to indicate the one of these who took the lead in performing the various duties and was in closest attendance on the bridegroom. In recent years the custom of having groomsmen has been occasionally revived, but it has not become general. At a fashionable wedding, four or five years ago, the bride was escorted by the bridesmaids and two pages, whereas the bridegrooms was supported by no fewer than nine groomsmen.

But at the present time such an array has by no means the same meaning, nor are those attendant friends of so much use, as in days of old. The forerunner of the bridesmaid was the brideleader, whose duty it was to bring the bride to the bridegroom. In most countries where the real or pretended capture of the bride was an essential part of the ceremony, and wherever traces of the very ancient custom of bride capture existed, the friend or friends of the bridegroom had the important office of capturing the lady and bringing her to her lord.

In one of Dryden's plays there is the line: "Betwixt her guards she seemed by bridesmen led," and Brand tells us that at many old English weddings the bridegroom was led to the church between two maids, and the bride by two young men, holding her by the arms as if unwilling. This was evidently a survival of the idea of capture.

The same idea, somewhat more disguised, can be traced in the custom which is not unknown at fashionable weddings less than a century ago, in the North of England, and in the West of Scotland, of the bridegroom's "best man" escorting the bride to the church. It has been disputed, naturally, whether the groom's nearest friend was chosen as escort with the idea of protecting the lady from seizure by others, or whether he might be regarded as the leader in the act of capture.

But whichever idea lay at the back of the practice, it was clearly a survival connected with the custom of marriage by capture. Later, the bridesman had various functions to perform which have now become obsolete. There was still a trace of the capture idea in the old duty at one time assigned to the bridesman of giving the bride away. He led her to the church and then acted the part now filled by the lady's father or other near male relative.

In the old Scotch century ballad of the "Golden Glove," which used to be a great favorite at rural gatherings in all parts of the country in the old, unsophisticated days, before the melancholy monstrosities of the modern music hall had driven the genuine old English ballads and songs out of use and memory—in this ballad he is the lines which allude to the custom named:

"I thought you had been at the wedding," "To wait on the squire and give him his bride."

And it has been pointed out that the same custom may be hinted at in the marriage service rubric—"The minister receiving the woman at her father's or friend's hand."

Among the Shropshire peasantry in quite recent years something of the old custom seems to have prevailed. Miss Burns, in her delightful book on "Shropshire Folklore," says that at weddings in humble life the bride's father is seldom and her mother never present. As a rule the only companions to carry off the bride and groom are the best man and the bridesmaid. In such circumstances it is obvious that the lady must be given away by her lover's friend, on whose arm she has walked to church.

A still more curious thing is that it is considered lucky, Miss Burke tells us, for either the best man or the bridesmaid to be already married. "I have really seen," she writes, "a married woman acting as 'bridesmaid'!" Less than twenty years ago a Newport newspaper, describing a village wedding, said that Mr. and Mrs. So-and-so, of "accompanied the happy couple and performed the offices of best man and bridesmaid, respectively."

Another old function of the bridesman, or bridesquires, as they were sometimes called, was to carry round the cake and the bride bowl. The bride bowl, or cup, was handed round at a wedding, so that the friends might drink the health of the newly married pair—a kind of loving-cup ceremony.

But before the proceedings had reached this pleasant point, it had been the duty of the bridesman to lift the bride over the threshold. This is an ancient and widespread custom, the meaning of which has caused much shedding of ink. In the west of Scotland, of old, says Mr. Napier, his book on the folklores of that region, "the threshold of the house was disenchanted by charms, and by anointing it with certain unctuous perfumes, but as it was considered unlucky for the wife to tread upon the threshold on first entering her house, she was lifted over it and seated upon a piece of wood, a symbol of domestic industry."

The custom is not confined to European peoples, for a somewhat analogous practice exists in China, where the bride is carried into the house by a matron, and at the door is lifted over a pan of charcoal. Apart from marriage, even in this country, there are folk who are careful on entering a house to step over and not on the threshold. There is a world of lore, indeed, surrounding the subject of the threshold into which we cannot here enter.

The modern "best man" may feel thankful that his duties are not so onerous as those of his predecessors of long ago; nor need he trouble to be on his guard against unlucky omens, or on the watch to propitiate the uncertain goddess, Fate.

CAN'T SAY ENOUGH IN THEIR FAVOR

Why Miss Gusty V. Campbell Recommends Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets to all her Friends who have Stomach Troubles.

"I cannot say enough in favor of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," so says Miss Gusty V. Campbell, Little Shippegan, Gloucester Co., N. B. Of course Miss Campbell has reasons for making a statement like this and here they are: "I suffered from Dyspepsia for two months and was always getting worse till advertisements led me to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. One box cured me and I can honestly recommend them to anyone suffering from Dyspepsia."

The moral of this is that if you take your stomach trouble before it gets too firm a grip it is easily cured by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. One box cured Miss Campbell.

But as in Miss Campbell's case, stomach trouble if neglected always grows worse. In its worst stages it takes time to cure it. But Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will do it.

VICTIMS NUMBER 100.

Several Persons Lose Their Minds Following the Shock.

Pueblo, Colo., Aug. 10.—Because of the railroad horror which cost 100 or more lives, many business houses were closed yesterday, and more than forty homes are in mourning. Several persons have lost their minds, following the shock of the deaths of loved ones.

The search for bodies was kept up all night. Bodies have been recovered more than ten miles from the scene of the disaster. The death list shows a total of sixty-six identified dead, twenty-eight missing and six unidentified bodies, making an even 100 victims of the wreck.

Senator Gibson Married.

London, Aug. 10.—Senator Gibson was married yesterday to Margaret Mackie, second daughter of the late Alexander Mackie of Peterhead, north of Aberdeen. D. McKeller was best man. J. Grey, brother-in-law of the bride, gave her away. Miss Gibson, cousin of the Senator, was bridesmaid. The reception was at the house of Mr. Grey. Among the guests present were Wm. German, M. P., and Mr. Murray, Canadian Government agent, Cardiff. Mr. and Mrs. Gibson leave this evening for the continent.

NOTICE

To the Editor of The Planet:

Dear Sir,—To you and the numerous subscribers of The Planet I extend the compliments of the season, and take this opportunity of giving you some idea of my dealings with the public. While many dentists in speaking of specialties, or things their hands can specially, will point you to gold crowns, and such like, as their ideals of perfection. I have only to say that my specialties are comfort-fitting sets of teeth that give the appearance possessed by the face ten or fifteen years ago, before any teeth were lost, and the natural ones carefully filled. With respect to the former, in no other dental office in Ontario is this obtainable. When ordering a set of teeth a wax plate is made, with the assistance of the patient, I decide for the length of the teeth, and the future appearance of the cheeks and lips. A set of teeth in my office never takes but a few minutes to insert, as no whitening or cutting the tips of the teeth to make a fit is ever necessary by me. With fillings, no cheap materials that would discolor the teeth ever used by me. Crowns, bridge work and gold, or other plating at reasonable rates and proportionate to size. Euclidean, a German discovery, has been in use by me for a little more than ten years, so after results follow its use, as with cocaine and other anaesthetics used in America which at the best are but modifications of cocaine. Mournful bands, or the blackest teeth, by the use of Stephens' Boston Process, are cleared in twenty minutes at a cost of 25 cents. A fifty dollar guarantee goes with each set of teeth I send out to the effect that they are America's strongest and costliest. With respect to my dental education, I graduated, successively, in Ontario College, Haskell's School of High Class, or esthetic dentistry, Chicago, and from Ohio's State Board of Dental Examiners.

Yours truly, DR. R. S. LUDLOW, Advt.

NO FISCAL CONFERENCE.

Premier Balfour Makes Announcement in British House.

London, Aug. 11.—In the House of Commons yesterday, Premier Balfour, replying to Sir H. Vincent and Charles McArthur, said the House was aware that, twice during the course of the past few years, there had been conferences held in this country with representatives of the self-governing colonies. In his opinion, that was one of the greatest additions to the machinery of the Empire ever made, and he hoped the conferences would be repeated. He did not, however, propose at the present moment to call an Imperial conference to thoroughly examine the fiscal situation of the Empire, nor to institute an enquiry by royal commission.

Took Carbolic Acid.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 11.—George A. Maller, a C. N. Railway employe, took carbolic acid in mistake for cough mixture yesterday morning with fatal results. He was married only a year.

THE HOUSE PROROGUED

Sir William Mulock Withdrew His Alien Labor Bill.

His Excellency Lord Minto Relieves Members From Their Parliamentary Labors For the Last Time—Says Good-Bye to Canada—Review of Measures Passed During the Session in the Speech From the Throne.

Ottawa, Aug. 11.—The fourth session of the ninth Parliament was brought to a formal conclusion at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Lord Minto (having previously given the royal assent to 39 bills) performed his final official function in the Senate by delivering the following speech from the throne:

Hon. Gentlemen of the Senate, Gentlemen of the House of Commons,—I am glad to relieve you from further attendance in Parliament, after a session that has been protracted to a longer period than I had anticipated when addressing you on the 11th of last March.

The terms and conditions upon which the national Transcontinental Railway will be built and operated, having been finally adjusted and agreed upon, the work of construction will proceed as rapidly as the surveys of the line and the location of the road will permit.

The consensus of opinion expressed on the changes in the tariff affords very gratifying evidence that the alterations have met with general approval.

Our Foreign Trade. The arrangements made by my Ministers with the Government of Mexico for lines of steamers between that Republic and Canada on the Atlantic and Pacific, will, I hope, add materially to our foreign trade.

The steadily increasing revenue has amply justified the liberal aid granted towards the improvements of our rivers and harbors and the construction of new public works materially benefitting the trade and commerce of our country.

The changes made in the act respecting the militia and defences of Canada, providing for the increased strength and efficiency of the force will, I do not doubt, meet with general approval.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons: I thank you for the liberal provision you have made for the public service.

Good-bye to Canada.

Hon. Gentlemen of the Senate, Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

My official connection with the Dominion of Canada is drawing to a close. Be assured, I shall watch its future progress and development with deep and abiding interest, and pray that the peace and prosperity with which this favored land is now being blessed may under God's providence long continue.

HIS EXCELLENCY'S FAREWELL.

Reply of Lord Minto to the Farewell Address of Both Houses.

Mr. Speaker Power declared that it was His Excellency's pleasure to prorogue Parliament till September 19, and the fourth session would accordingly prorogue.

Then followed the presenting to Lord Minto of the farewell address that had been adopted by both Houses. Lady Minto ascended the dais and stood beside His Excellency. It was read by Mr. Speaker Power, and His Excellency made the following reply:

Lord Minto's Reply.

"Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate, Gentlemen of the House of Commons,—I am deeply sensible of the honor the Parliament of the Dominion has to-day conferred upon me. I assure you, I shall always treasure the spirit in which the leaders of both Houses have alluded to my services, and I thank you from my heart for the appreciative words of your address now that I am leaving Canada, at the close of a term of office which I believe has somewhat exceeded the usual period of administration of my distinguished predecessors.

"I look back upon a past full of stirring incidents in the history of the Dominion, but marked with an ever-increasing prosperity. I look back upon it with a pleasure full of admiration for those magnificent resources which the world is now beginning to recognize, and the development of which my sojourn amongst you has given me the privilege of witnessing, and though bidding farewell to you in my official connection, I know that you will believe that I shall always continue to share in the hopes and aspirations of this great country.

"In delivering up to the King the charge Queen Victoria committed to me, I look forward not only to assuring His Majesty of the loyal devotion of the people of Canada, but also to the growing strength they are every day contributing to His Majesty's vast Empire.

"Gentlemen, Lady Minto is much touched by your kindly expression towards her. Her work in Canada has been very welcome to her. She hopes that, in the discharge of her social duties, she has made many friends, and she will always remember the encouraging assistance she has received in the furtherance of those organizations which she has so much at heart, and the future success of which she will always hear of with affectionate interest.

"In bidding you farewell, gentlemen, and in thanking you again for the kind words of your address, Lady Minto and I can but feel that we are not only severing official ties, but that our residence in Canada has brought us into very close touch with the daily life of the people of the Dominion. We shall carry away with us the warmest recollections of a happy home amongst them, and we assure them, through you, of our constant interest in their future prosperity and happiness."

Senator Edwards here called for three cheers for their Excellencies, and the Ministers and members present heartily responded.

Winding Up Business.

The House had concluded its business at 1 p.m., but the Senate would not allow the Alien Labor Bill to be put through without discussion.

After three hours wrestling with its author by two members of the Cabinet Sir William Mulock consented to its withdrawal this session. The dose was a bitter one, but its acceptance paved the way for the dissolution yesterday.

CANADIAN HORTICULTURISTS.

Meet Officers and Ask For Some Tariff Changes.

Ottawa, Aug. 11.—In session last evening the Canadian Horticulturists' Society elected the following officers for the coming year: President, George Robinson, of Montreal; first vice-president, W. Suckling, Truro, N. S.; second vice-president, O. J. Johnson, Kingston; H. Summers of Toronto and A. H. Ewing of Woodstock were re-elected treasurer and secretary respectively. A. Pinoteau and J. Walsh of Montreal and A. Annandale of Toronto were elected to the executive council. The society adopted a resolution that the duty be taken off azelaes or cuttings of new varieties of plants and that a duty of 25 per cent., with preference to Great Britain, be placed upon ferns, pot chondrodendrons and liliacs, also other plants that can be grown by Canadian florists.

My Stomach "It feels so uncomfortable. Food distresses me. I get blue and despondent. My doctor says it's my stomach." And what did your doctor tell you to take? Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Blake Protests.

London, Aug. 11.—(C.A.P.)—In the House of Commons last night Edward Blake, M.P., (Nationalist), strongly protested against the course which had been followed during the session with respect to the Irish development grant. In the revised estimates that vote which was half the original vote had been withdrawn and a sum equal to the original estimate introduced without any explanation from the minister in charge.

May Have Been Murdered.

Toronto, Aug. 11.—A letter received in the city yesterday from Clan William, B.C., says that James Anderson, once of Toronto, and who was latterly bookkeeper for a railway contractor in the West, disappeared during the night of July 16 and next morning a lantern carried by him, letter and personal papers were found in the lake. Foul play is suspected, and the police are investigating.

Not Known in Ottawa.

Ottawa, Aug. 11.—The Government knows nothing at all to substantiate the rumor emanating from Detroit to the effect that the proceedings for the deportation of Mr. Bacon, harbor engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific, are to be dropped.

In Stratford Jail.

Stratford, Aug. 11.—At noon yesterday Daniel Schneider was arrested, at his home on con. 14, Ellice, by Constable Hartmeier of Milverton, and taken to Milverton. He was arraigned there in the afternoon before Magistrate Weir on serious charges, alleged to have been committed at the home of and on the person of Mrs. Bahn, a widow living on con. 14, Logan. He pleaded not guilty and was given his preliminary hearing at once. The evidence of Mrs. Bahn was taken, and the prisoner was sent up for trial at Stratford before Judge Barron. He is now in the Stratford jail.

Liberals Gain a Seat.

London, Aug. 11.—In the northeast division of Lanarkshire, Scotland, yesterday the Liberals won another election victory, the poll resulting in the return of Provost Findlay, the official Opposition candidate. The figures were: Findlay 5,619 votes, G. A. Touch (Unionist) 4,667, Robertson (Labor) 3,984. A comparison of the result shows that the Liberal and Unionist candidates have practically reversed the figures of 1901, while the labor vote has increased by upwards of 1,000. This is a Liberal gain and reduces Premier Balfour's majority by two votes, counting on a division.
