FOUND DAUGHTER

And Also a Fortune—She Had Been Searching for the Former for a Period of Over Twenty Years.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Jan. 28.—After a search lasting more than 20 years, Mrs. T. P. Fisher of Joplin, Mo., discovered through reading a newspaper story, not only that Mrs. Jansy Ellen Lesh of Los Angeles, recently acquitted at Sedalia, Mo., of poisoning two women, was her long lost daughter, but also that she (Mrs. Lesh) was one of the heirs to the large estate left by an uncle, W. T. Lumrell of this (Morgan) county. The newspaper story telling of the death of Mr. Lumrell and the estate left by him made mention of the fact that his niece, Mrs. Fisher, whose whereabouts was then unknown, was one of the heirs and also knew the relationship between Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Lesh. Mrs. Fisher will come here to claim her share of the inheritance. Mrs. Lesh had not been heard from by any of her relatives since she was a child six years old, until she appeared as the central figure in the trial at Sedalia. Through Mrs. Fisher read accounts of the trial she did not know that the defendant was her lost daughter and only learned her identity when Mrs. Lesh was mentioned in connection with the trial in the article telling of the Lumrell estate.

PLUCKY CLERK

Stood Off Two Robbers of the Nova Scotia Bank in Edmonton—Most Daring Affair Reported in That Place.

(Courier Leased Wire). EDMONTON, Alta., Jan. 28.—The most daring bank robbery in the history of this city was pulled off at half past twelve this morning in the most thickly populated part of the city. Two unknown masked men carrying a coil of rope entered the Bank of Nova Scotia and at the point of the gun demanded of the only person in the building, a ledger-keeper, named Clare West, that he throw up his hands. West refused to comply and a desperate struggle ensued while many late pedestrians passed by totally unaware of what was going on inside the bank. Eventually the robbers managed to bind West and hurriedly proceeded to the outer safe which they rifled of a hundred dollars. While they were continuing the search West managed to secure his revolver which was lying nearby and fired four shots at the men. They returned the fire, hitting him in the forearm, then they made their escape through the rear, while those on the outside, who heard the shots were unable to get in the front door which the robbers had locked after them. The police were soon on the spot and made a hurried search, but no trace could be found of the men. West was badly used up by the loss of blood. He is now resting easy at the hospital. No trace of the robbers has yet been secured.

"Votes For Women" Demand Pasted on Thousands of Eggs

(Courier Leased Wire). NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—A new scheme whereby the "votes for women" will be inaugurated to-day by ardent leaders of the cause. Headed by Mrs. Perry Hasbrouck, president of the Interborough Storage Club and Women's Exchange, Mrs. Sophia Kreamer, vice-president of the organization, enthusiastic workers spent last night pasting notes for "womem" slips on 12,000 eggs. These eggs, which the women are fresh from the farm, are to be placed on sale to-day. The men behind the project believe that the missionary service will be performed through placing the fresh eggs with their novel inscription in the hands of consumers. "We can get all the fresh eggs we want," Mrs. Kreamer explained. "They come from farmers in New York and New Jersey, and we intend to sell them at prices that will do away with the middleman." Two dozen of the eggs will not be sold. They are to be sent by parcel to Governor Wilson and Gov. Sulzer.

TWO APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED.

The fact that since the change of government the Minister of Customs is determined to have the Brantford branch properly manned, is again demonstrated by the appointment of Mr. P. Farnsworth as an addition to the staff. He is an Englishman and a highly respected resident of West Brantford. Without doubt he will make good. H. Lloyd, a youth, whose parents reside in Eagle Place has been named as a messenger. This also is a new post.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO A FORMER BRANTFORD MAN.

Edward Gimby, aged 23, of the 20 Ingersoll Avenue, Woodstock, engaged by the Sheldon Heating Company, Galt, was fatally injured yesterday at the plant of the National Steel Car Company, Hamilton, when a coil fell upon him. He died a short time after being admitted to the hospital. Coroner Rennie will open an inquest in Hamilton. The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gimby of Woodstock and grandson of Mrs. Gimby, who resides at 128 William street, and nephew of Mrs. J. Schultz, Albion street. He was well known in Brantford, having worked here up until New years. He was employed by Messrs. Turnbull, Cutcliffe, and later by Messrs. Howie and Feely. In January he was offered and accepted a position with the Sheldon Heating Co. of Galt, as foreman and was in Hamilton directing some work in that capacity. The remains will be taken to the family residence in Woodstock and laid to rest in the cemetery there. Deceased made many friends during his stay in Brantford who will sympathize with the bereaved parents and family, and deeply regret to learn of his death.

Discoverer of an Alleged Cure For Tuberculosis to Visit the States

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—According to a letter received by Charles E. Finlay, President of the Aetna National Bank of this city, Dr. P. E. Friedman the German scientist who claims to have discovered a cure for tuberculosis, will arrive here on February 5th to put his discovery to a test. Mr. Finlay has offered the doctor $1,000,000 if the treatment proves successful. The condition of the award is that the cure must be demonstrated on several patients. One of these is to be Rex Lee Paris, Mr. Finlay's son-in-law, who has suffered from the disease for some time. Dr. Friedman's letter, Mr. Finlay says, was of a purely private nature and he did not feel at liberty to make it public. He added that it dissipated all doubts as to the scientist's willingness to prove the value of his cure.

Militant Suffragettes are Getting Very Busy

(Courier Leased Wire). LONDON, Jan. 28.—The suffragettes have lost no time in opening their militant campaign. According to the "Daily Mail," Dublin, they made a concerted attack at noon to-day on the windows of Dublin Castle, a number of which were smashed. Three suffragettes were arrested. In London, too, the Suffragettes are displaying great vigor. "General" Mrs. Drummond sent an ultimatum to-day to David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the Exchequer, when he refused to grant a request to receive a deputation of women on the ground that he had other engagements. She "I and other members of the deputation intend to wait upon you in the House of Commons at 8 o'clock this evening. We trust you will make the necessary arrangements to meet us." Hard Labor. (Courier Leased Wire). DUBLIN, Ireland, Jan. 28.—Three suffragettes, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Cousins and Mrs. Conery, who were arrested this morning on the charge of breaking fifteen panes of glass in the windows of Dublin Castle, were sentenced to one month's hard labor by the police magistrate this afternoon.

Union Garment Workers to Call a General Strike

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Leaders of the Union Garment Workers of America in this city to-day continued their preparations to call a general strike should the controversy in New York be not ended within a day or two. It was stated in labor circles early to-day that more than 50,000 organized garment workers in Chicago probably would walk out in the event of an unsatisfactory culmination of the negotiations for peace now pending in the east. A special meeting is scheduled to be held this evening at which time arrangements for raising funds to finance the proposed strike will be made. George H. Alexander, chairman of the strike committee of the locals affiliated with the Union Garment Workers of America, said that the workers might leave the shops sometime to-morrow. The situation with reference to

FOURTEEN DAYS

The Sentence Passed Upon Three Suffragettes—Leader Says She Will Repeat Offence When Released.

(Courier Leased Wire).

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Despard, one of the most prominent leaders of the militant suffragettes, and two of her companions, were sentenced to fourteen days' imprisonment to-day on the charge of resisting the police in the execution of their duty when they dispersed a meeting in Trafalgar Square last evening. Mrs. Despard, who is a sister of the famous cavalry general, Sir John French, was offered the option of paying a fine of $10, but refused to accept this and was sent to jail.

A fourth suffragette, who was also among those arrested last night, was sent to prison for seven days. Mrs. Despard, addressing the magistrate, after being sentenced, stated that she would repeat her offence when she was released. Some sympathizers in court, who made a demonstration when sentence was pronounced, were ejected by attendants.

Ocean Vessel to go Through the Panama Canal Before the End of the Year

(Courier Leased Wire).

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—An ocean-going ship will pass from one ocean to the other through the Panama Canal before the end of the year 1913. This was the promise that Col. George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama Canal, made at a dinner in his honor given by the Lehigh University Club last night. "The question of the completion of the canal," said Col. Goethals, "is a question of the completion of the Culebra cut and lock gates. There was some delay in the matter of the gates, but the contractors have assured me that the Gatun gates will be ready by April 1st and those at Miraflores by June of this year. This will enable us to admit the water. "If a ship is to pass through the canal this year Culebra must be flooded in the present wet season. I expect to put a ship through in the latter part of 1913.

(Courier Leased Wire).

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Even the fingerprint method of obtaining evidence against criminals has been excelled by the police in establishing a burglar's identity from the tooth marks he left in a pat of butter. Pierre Bassaud, the alleged burglar broke into his former employer's premises at Montrouil-Sous-Bois. Failing to discover any valuables he went to the kitchen and had a feast.

When arrested he denied the charge but the police found the marks of his teeth including one which was broken, exactly reproduced in a lump of butter into which he had probably bitten by mistake in the dark. Gasaud still protested innocence, but when the magistrate before whom he was arraigned, sent for some butter and made the prisoner bite into it the same irregular impression was obtained.

Took Trip Across the Continent While Unconscious

(Courier Leased Wire).

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 28.—A remarkable story of a trip across the continent while unconscious, was told last night by a man who says he is Alexander Chambers, mine owner of Newton, Pa., who disappeared January 10, from the Broad St. station in Philadelphia. According to his narrative he lost consciousness at that time and when he came to his senses last Friday he found himself on a lonely island off the Lower California coast. He was taken ashore by Mexican fishermen and made his way to this city. Chambers says he had $1,500 on January 10, which now is missing but that he still has $5,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry which he had with him on that date. He expresses the belief that he was drugged in Philadelphia.

United States Team Had a Professional at the Olympic Amateur Sports

(Courier Leased Wire).

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Although the United States still leads all nations as a point winner at the Olympic games notwithstanding the confessed professionalism of James Thorpe (Indian) and the consequent loss of points made by him, the American Olympic committee feels today the unhappy duty of returning to Sweden the handsome trophies awarded the Indian, while the amateur athletic union must revise all its records. By virtue of these changes Martin Sheridan, a New York policeman, automatically resumes his title as champion all-around athlete of America. Thorpe took the honor from him while competing in New York last Labor Day. All his records must go, however, and the trophies for first place that day will be awarded to J. Bredemus, a Princeton athlete who finished second.

Sheridan said to-day that he found no comfort in a title restored under such circumstances. Like all amateur athletes he feels keenly the blow that Thorpe's indiscretion in playing professional baseball brought about. The amateur athletic union regards it as an object lesson to all amateurs and it is not improbable that others will suffer. In his letter of yesterday Thorpe said other college men were playing baseball for money on the team of which he was a member and it was said to-day that an investigation of these charges would be made. Just when Thorpe's Olympic trophies will be shipped to Sweden was not announced to-day. They are at Carlisle, but will probably be turned over to the American Olympic committee within a few days, together with hundreds of other prizes he has won. A special meeting of the committee may be called to go over the situation.

FINALLY DRAFTED. (Courier Leased Wire).

LONDON, Jan. 28.—What may be the last note delivered by the peace delegates of the allied Balkan nations to the Turkish plenipotentiaries was finally drafted and signed to-day by all the representatives of the Balkan League, but no date was fixed for its presentation.

St. Andrew's Guild. The weekly meeting of St. Andrew's young people was in charge of the Missionary Committee. Interesting papers were given by Misses Helen Crawford and Mabelle Cook. Miss Hilda Hurler rendered a solo in a very pleasing manner, after which the meeting was closed with hymn and prayer. Give a small boy a piece of chalk and he will proceed to make his mark in the world.

GOOD WORK.

When the Liberals went out of office it was ascertained that the Post Office Department and the Customs department in Brantford were both grossly undermanned.

The Courier year after year called attention to that fact, and it is to be presumed that those in charge made representations, but nothing was done.

The two Liberal members who represented the riding for some years, either didn't make any effort to remedy matters or if they did, got the frozen look and the marble heart on the basis that the seat was safe and that any old treatment was good enough for Brantford.

Within a few months all this has been changed under Conservative auspices.

Not one Liberal has been touched as such, in fact, some have had an increase in salary, while at the same time the congested conditions in both departments named have been adequately removed to the great advantage and satisfaction of the general public.

Brantfordites made no mistake in 1911 when they such an emphatic manner they fell in line behind a progressive and up-to-date administration.

MISREPRESENTING MR. COCKSHUTT.

Even the Conservative press sounds a note of revolt against Mr. Cockshutt's policy of a permanent contribution to the British navy instead of the inauguration of a Canadian naval defence force. If Mr. Cockshutt can carry his leader with the policy of contribution will be a permanent and not merely an emergency policy. — Toronto Globe.

There can be no misunderstanding of Mr. Cockshutt's speech now. He argued and argued for the naval contribution plan of giving $3,000,000. Whether as an annual gift or as a contribution to end the whole business, Mr. Cockshutt could not go to any greater length than his leader. In other words, the Brantford member doesn't know the outcome any more than Mr. Borden. In the face of the alliance with the National element in Quebec, it wouldn't be 'emergency' politics to go any further. — Brantford Expositor.

The above excerpts from editorials in the two papers named, contradict each other, but they are at one in this—gross and unfair desire to misrepresent the member for Brantford.

SO NERVOUS, HE COULD NOT SLEEP

Three Months Treatment of "Fruit-a-Lives" Cured Him

KINCARDINE, ONT., SEPT. 12th 1910
"The effects of 'Fruit-a-Lives' on Sleeplessness, Nervousness and Disturbed condition of the Body, is simply marvellous."

I have taken "Fruit-a-Lives" for three months—and am now perfectly well and have gained ten pounds in weight. I have found "Fruit-a-Lives" is the one medicine that will purify the blood, quiet the nerves and restore the whole system to its natural condition."

R. G. SMITH.
"Fruit-a-Lives" cures nervousness and Sleeplessness because this fruit medicine keeps the blood pure, the stomach sweet, the bowels regular and the skin active."

which alleged that the gentleman in question had announced that the $35,000,000 contribution was the first vote of a permanent plan on the same basis.

A close perusal of the Hansard (verbatim) report of the utterances of Mr. Cockshutt, demonstrates that he did not utter one word capable of such an interpretation.

What he did do was to call attention to the circumstance that when in Australia in 1909, at the Chambers of Commerce Congress, he used this language:

"There is no subject attracting more attention than this one at the present time within the Empire. Little short of a crisis has suddenly arisen. What is to be done to adequately meet the emergency? It is, I think, evident to all that the Overseas Dominions must shoulder their share. This they are all ready to do, at least to some extent. Without adequate defence nothing is secure, and no part is so remote as to be exempt from danger. It has been made evident that all our dominions are ready to answer to the call. The fabric of our Empire rests solely on the strength of the British navy. Let the British navy be wiped out, and the Empire will fade away like mown grass under a tropical sun. It is, therefore, imperative, that the fleet on which our Empire depends should be invincible under any probable or even possible condition. This load has become too heavy for the Mother Country. How will the Overseas Dominions assist? The proposition that each unit should build a small navy to defend its own shores seems to me quite insufficient to meet the crisis. Small and widely scattered fleets will be of little use, as before they could possibly mobilize, the great fight would be over, and the transcendent issues of the struggle would be past the possibility of recall. It is therefore evident, in my opinion, that each dominion or estate must contribute money or ships. The Empire navy must speak with the voice and power of the Empire. Should the main fleet be too weak or inefficient to cope with the enemy, it would be a fatal mistake that could never be rectified. The main and almost sole objection to this contribution is that we cannot have a voice in the expenditure and control. This is a very serious objection, and brings to the forefront the question of Empire organization, a great problem, too, that must be grappled with and solved."

As far back as 1909, it will thus be seen that Mr. Cockshutt sensed the likelihood of an emergency, which a Liberal Government in the Old Land told Premier Borden last year existed.

Now we have the Toronto Globe making the assertion that Mr. Cockshutt has a "Policy of a permanent contribution to the British navy."

And as against this, the statement of the Brantford Expositor, that as to permanent contributions "Mr. Cockshutt could not go to any greater length than his leader."

—And said leader, be it noted, has never once stated that there was to be anything more than the one straight gift, with the matter of a Canadian navy to be taken up later and the three Dreadnoughts to be a part of that, if established.

As to the case of the Globe and Expositor, it is not an instance of falsehood in one instance, but both.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

If those suffragettes simply stick to notices on eggs and do not start throwing 'em it'll be all right.

MAP WENT WRONG.

How the Beavers Played Tricks With Mon. Col. Hughes, L. A. The constant necessity of revision of military maps in a country infested by a hostile army is recognized by every military man. The blowing up of a bridge or the burning of a stream from its course may create a changed topography, as the result of which an army may very well be demoralized. There is no hostile army in Canada at the present time; and yet Col. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, had this same necessity of revision of his military maps very forcibly impressed upon him quite recently when on an expedition to the big camp at Petawawa. The colonel placed his reliance upon the most recently compiled map in his department, and as a consequence landed up in an impenetrable swamp, from which he extricated himself and his forces with some difficulty, and a heap of annoyances.

What appeared on the map as a "well-defined" road led the colonel into a muskeg. Where good marching country was indicated there was nothing but squidgy mud, and waste of water. Why did the map deceive the Minister of Militia and lead a good soldier astray? There was no hostile army in the country, and there had not been since long before the colonel attained his present position.

"Sappers" who had in this case turned a stream from its course, submerged a road, and swamped a large tract of manoeuvrable ground, were Government sappers, and "Canadian" sappers, under Canadian supervision ever since Canada had a national emblem. Beavers, nothing more or less than beavers, who, increasing for many years under Government protection, constructed their dams, forced back the stream—and almost accomplished in disaster the military representative of the Government from whose hand they have practically fled. Most ungrateful creatures to be sure.

It happened this way. Col. Hughes, who is as strenuous in his play as he is in his work, organized a party of shooting expedition to Petawawa a few weeks ago, his guests being several members of the Parliamentary Press Gallery, with whom the colonel is a prime favorite. It was a pleasure expedition, but the colonel had them out of bed before sunrise—a real campaign reveille hour. The rest of the party were content to carry out the work, but the colonel sallied forth with two—a ten-pounder Winchester repeating shot gun, and his own favorite Ross sporting rifle—there always being the chance of a stray deer in the district. Armed thus, and with a companion, the colonel picked out a "well-defined" road which was marked on the map, and which led across a gully and to the deep woods beyond, and they started out.

After half a mile the "well defined" road lost itself in black ooze slime and water, from which stray hummocks projected themselves here and there. It didn't look right somehow, but the map was of recent origin, and surely could not get wrong. It would no doubt, thought the Minister, take them into good territory beyond. But it didn't. The hapless expedition lost the road entirely and splashed through swamp and muskeg for hours. Mud hens flapped among the bushes; muskrats swam about, and beaver ripped the water as they sank in sight. The stream had been entirely dammed back, and the country had been flooded for miles around. For hours they tramped, not so much as finding a place where a party could place its foot on dry ground, and late in the afternoon returned to the car.

It is worth noting that Col. Hughes, who is a man of three score years, had toted two weapons, weighing in the aggregate twenty pounds, with ammunition to correspond, and had tramped through country which would have frightened an Indian guide, and yet when he reached the car he was as fresh as when he started out. But he returned with the realization that military maps, even in a peaceful land, cannot long be relied upon, and it is since rumored, contemplates adding hydro-aeroplanes to the equipment of Canada's big military training ground—Saturday Night.

Surprised Politician.

Dr. T. J. Macnamara, the Canadian who is a British M.P., keeps adding to his collection of child stories of the amusement of a grateful world. His latest batch, which he has obtained from teachers in various parts of the old country, he made known when speaking recently at a meeting.

Here are a few which betray the working of the child mind: "Why would David rather be a doorkeeper in the house of the Lord?" "Because he could walk outside while the sermon was being preached."

"How do you know the earth is round?" "Because it says in the Bible, 'World without end.'"

When Dr. Macnamara once asked a London class of girls what they would say if he told them he saw the sun rise in the west, he got the reply that it was impossible.

"But," he persevered, "supposing I still declared I had seen the sun rise in the west?" "Well," a little girl replied, "I should think you must have got up rather late."

OGILVIE, LOCHEAD & CO.

ONTARIO'S "CLAY BELT."

Seven Years Ago Men Called It "Dead Man's Land."

Two men were returning from the West seven years ago by way of North Bay. As the train ran through the eastern section of Northern Ontario, they sat silent for several hours gazing out of the window at the endless grey rock, with its covering of scraggly pine and blackened timber, standing gaunt and bare against the line of the sky.

"Dead Man's Land," exclaimed one at last. "It will never be a country," replied the other. "It is a stone desert." Let those men go without delay to the towns of Cochrane and Porcupine, communities which were overtaken by the disastrous fire of July, 1911, and were reduced to ruins. Let him stand on the clay hill above Lake Commando and look down on Cochrane, rising from its ashes. Hundreds of new buildings have been erected since the fire.

"Third Street" and "Fifth Avenue." The hundred men toiling in that trench are putting in water works and sewers. The Government employes are cutting a mile swath about the boundary to stem another tide of fire. Twenty years from now "The Clay Belt" will look like a section of the Western part of Ontario. Most people have heard of this tract of fine farming land in a vague sort of way, but few are aware that it contains 20,000 acres of land which lies south of Winnipeg, 300 miles south of Edmonton, and 400 miles south of the famous Peace River country. The soil is good. It is covered with light timber, a mere corn crop in comparison with the growth which confronted Old Ontario settlers fifty years ago.

The strength of "The Clay Belt" is the fertility of the soil. It is grey clay, sandy loam and occasionally homely black muck. The proof of fertility is the abundance of clover, which never lifts its leaves except amid affluence; it grows there luxuriously on lawns, in the fields, in the swamps and on the roadsides. Timothy stands six feet high, and crops of wheat, oats and barley compare favorably this year with those of Old Ontario. Pasture is going to waste in quantities sufficient to fatten all the best lines of Canada, and already the frontier farmers are stocking with thoroughbreds. Naturally, the stock men are those who have been in the country long enough to amass some capital. The pioneer in his cabin is thankful if he has a single cow.

A certain guide to the progress of the country is its architecture. It shows a gradation and struggle of advancement. There is the "four square" log cabin of the pioneer, with its flat roof and single window. In the older farming districts log cabins have been replaced by frame houses or more substantial dwellings of brick and stone. In the towns the types are legion. Earlscourt, Toronto, in its early days could not, in variety or design, surpass the efforts of these northern home builders. But go into the centre of the town and look at the buildings. The banks, the stores, and offices are brick and stone, constructed not to weather a boom, but to last generations.

Canadian Holly. Christmas holly grown on Vancouver Island was last Christmas shipped to all parts of the continent, and an industry has been inaugurated which promises to become more and more important in ensuing Yuletide seasons. Orders were received from as far as Los Angeles—even in one case as far as the City of Mexico—north to Dawson City, and east to Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, while New York, Boston and Chicago received big consignments.

The industry was started some years ago by private citizens in Victoria sending sprigs of holly with the beautiful scarlet berries to friends in the east. At once there grew up a demand for more. Florida and Georgia are the other sources of supply for the American market, but these states do not produce the evergreen in the same beautiful color as does Vancouver Island, which has the natural qualifications to produce holly in even a greater state of perfection than England.

Two Old Stand-bys. Two of the old stand-bys of the House of Commons staff have gone with the passing of Lucien Dube, and old "General" Williams, on the eve of the opening of the session. Dube was housekeeper for a term which stretched back to the days of Sir John Macdonald, and "General" Williams was the outer guard at the Chamber door. The old and kindly fellow was a Crimean veteran and could cover his breast with even more medals than Col. Harry Smith, the Sergeant-at-arms. It was Williams who stopped Rodolphe (now Sir Rodolphe) Forget from entering the Chamber on one occasion. The financier was paying one of his rare visits to the House and was passing through the swinging door when the "General" nabbed him. "You can't go in there," he whispered, "no one but a member can enter the Chamber." And it was not until Robert Bickersdike identified his fellow Montrealer that old Williams relented.

Wolves Plentiful. Wolves are very plentiful in northern Manitoba this winter and are roaming around in packs of from thirty to forty, according to T. H. P. Lamb, the Moose Lake trader. Mr. Lamb interviewed the provincial authorities last spring to suggest a special bounty for the destruction of wolves and is now again urging the importance of such a measure, which he declares is required immediately for the protection of the moose, which forms the greater part of the Indians' supply of meat, and for the protection of travelers in the district.

Want More Police Protection. A petition is on file at the City Hall signed by a large number of ratepayers in the vicinity of Bruce, Elgin, Campbell, Alice, Curtis and Murray Streets asking that more and efficient police protection be given the residents of that section of the city as they want to call the attention of the police commissioners and City Council to the questionable characters who loiter around the Murray street subway and in that section of the city back of Ham and Nott's factory.

REASON FOR EXODUS.

Farmer Should Treat His Boy as Well as the Hired Man.

It is all very well for Senator Campbell, in Parliament, to lament the exodus of our young men from the drudgery of farm life to the so-called gentlemanly occupation of the city, and to advocate that the Government should do more to make farming life so attractive to the sons of our agriculturists that they will, in choosing a life occupation, decide to remain on the homestead. The greatest hindrance to keeping young men on farms rests more with their fathers than with any paternal Government. At home, when the lad is spending part of his time at school, it is a pleasant relaxation to him to fill up his spare hours doing chores, and looking after the horses and stock in a boyish fashion, but when the time arrives for him to leave school altogether, and he takes a regular place on the farm as a helper, after the first gloss of novelty has worn off, and he loses its fascination, and he yearns for some employment that will not only be less laborious, but more remunerative, to himself. He sees the hired man receiving wages, and working only a limited number of hours per day; but he sees himself, save in very exceptional cases, the recipient of a miserable allowance of pocket money, doled out, often unwillingly, at uncertain times, compelled to do all the drudgery which the hired man neglects or refuses to perform. His working hours have no limit, and his recreational periods are spoiled for him, because he is too tired to participate in any enjoyment after his long day's work. The charms of his childhood aspirations must be made a continuous living feature of his every-day life. Then, but not until then, the exodus from the land will be no longer accepted as a necessary evil.—Calgary News-Telegram.

Luminous Fish Found.

The commissioners of fisheries have just received a number of specimens of a remarkable little fish never before found in Canada, although rare specimens have been caught in the United States and Europe. It is a small silvery fish, not unlike a small herring, but it has two rows of pearl organs along the side of the body. The fish was caught by fishermen on Grand Manan and they are scientifically valuable and interesting. The most wonderful feature is the fact that each of the pearl organs gives out a brilliant light, similar to a small electric lamp. The fish is called the "pearl sides" and belongs to a group of very rare fish that are luminous. Very little is known about the life history of these small fish, but scientific authorities are of the opinion that they inhabit the deepest waters of the ocean and that the light they give out enables them to procure their food, and may also protect them by frightening away their enemies. Prof. Price is handing these specimens over to the biological department, of which he is chairman, but is preparing a technical report for the Royal Society of Canada. It may be added that no specimens of this luminous fish have ever been recorded in Canada.

Descendants of Champlain.

In the centre of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the small group of Magdalen Islands are populated by three or four thousand lineal descendants of the Acadians under Champlain and De Monts, who were driven out of New France, Nova Scotia, by the English. Since the first settlement in 1783, generations of the same families have raised scanty crops in the valleys and fed sheep and cattle on the high conical hills which constitute a prominent feature of an insular landscape. Year after year men have gone out on the waters of the gulf in search of cod, mackerel, and lobsters on which a livelihood depends. They are simple, primitive people, these natives of the Magdalens, laboring all the while under circumstances that are most discouraging. The archipelago contains twelve or thirteen distinct islands, including several grim rocks which are not inhabited and never will be.

Hen. Frank's Joke.

It has been said that certain institutions generally vote with the Government, but that has nothing to do with this story. It was shortly after the Whitney Government had been returned to power that a deputation representing the Salvation Army, composed of Commissioner Coombs and other leading officers, waited on the Hon. Mr. Cochrane to arrange matters in connection with immigration and taking up land in New Ontario. When negotiations were concluded, and the party well satisfied with their visit, were leaving, Mr. Cochrane turned to the commissioner and said: "There is one thing about religious organizations that I could never understand." "And what is that?" asked the commissioner. "Well, it is this," replied Mr. Cochrane, "I never could understand how it was that a man could be a Christian and vote Grit!"

Woman Seeks Office.

Miss Wilson, of Halifax, who has been, since her father's death, performing with perfect efficiency the duties of his former office as secretary of the Board of School Commissioners, has applied for that office permanently. Well-known Halifax men strongly favor the innovation. The appointment of women to the school boards is also being discussed — the Local Council of Women as agitators.

THE FUNERAL

Of the Late Hon. Mr. Matheson—Impressive Burial of a Most Honorable Public Man.

(Courier Leased Wire).
PERTH, Ont., Jan. 28.—Amid evidences of the respect which he had in life commanded and of the deep and sincere regret aroused by his death, the remains of the late Col. the Hon. A. J. Matheson, provincial treasurer of Ontario, and Perth's most prominent man, were laid to rest with military honors in Elmwood Cemetery here today. Ministers of the Crown, his colleagues in the provincial cabinet and co-workers in the treasury department fell in with members of the Perth town council, bar, 42nd Regiment, and citizens of every creed and class as the long cortege wound its way from the house to St. James Church and thence to the grave.

Flags were flown at half mast and business was practically suspended during the last obsequies. Military honors were accorded the deceased by the members of the 42nd Regiment of Perth of whom Col. Matheson had formerly been lieutenant-colonel, having commanded it at the time of the Fenian Raids and has been connected in one way or another with the local militia for the last forty years. At 10:30 the hour fixed for the funeral, an assemblage of mourners, which filled the street in front of the late Col. Matheson's residence was present. Drawn up facing the house was the military escort which when the casket wreathed with magnificent floral offerings was borne from the residence, presented arms, reversed them and then marched off in slow procession at the head of the cortege. The military party was some 150 strong and included the regimental band and a detachment of members of the Veterans Association from the local district. Following the military men came carriages containing members of the Dominion and Provincial cabinets, officials of the treasury department and others. Ontario Cabinet Ministers present were: Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary; W. H. Hearst, Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines; James Duff, Minister of Agriculture; I. B. Lucas, Minister without portfolio; J. L. Englehart, Chairman of the T. and N. O. Commission, was also present, as was Col. Caldwell,

A Mayor is Arrested for Defacing a Highway

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 28.—Mayor Lew Shank was arrested last night on a warrant charging that he had defaced the public highway of Lawrence township by driving a heavily laden automobile over it. The Mayor's chauffeur also was arrested and a warrant was issued for Sergeant of Police Joseph Steiner. John Bolander, superintendent of roads for the township, swore to the affidavits which were filed in the court of a justice of the peace. Last week Mr. Shank was acquitted of a charge for speeding, that resulted from his crusade against "speeders."

LATER DESPATCHES

assertions of the Baptist minister in a sermon about Catholicism is so intense that he offered to bet the $100 against $50 which he asks the Baptist minister to deposit. The wager is laid in a letter directed by Father July to Rev. A. H. Ballard, which has just become public and which has created a furor in religious circles. Rev. A. H. Ballard has not indicated whether he will take the bet. The subject of the sermon to which Father July took exception was "Medievalism and modernism in the Catholic Church." Father July charges that Rev. A. H. Ballard does not know what the word "modernism" means. He asks the Baptist minister to preach the gospel and leave other churches alone and feels sorry that he must tell him to mind his own business.

TASMANIAN ELECTIONS.

(Courier Leased Wire).
HOBART, Tasmania, Jan. 28.—The Tasmanian general election which was caused by the uncompromising attitude of Norman Cameron, an independent member, among an equal number of Liberals and Laborites has resulted in a victory for the Liberals, who have come back with 16 members as against 14 Labor men. The seat formerly held by Cameron was won by a Liberal.

SHARP FIGHTING

(Courier Leased Wire).
MANILA, Jan. 28.—Further sharp fighting between United States troops and the Moros is reported this morning, when, as the result of an engagement near the city of Jolo, the American troops lost one man killed and six wounded. A large force of Moro men made a sudden onslaught and succeeded in rushing two troops of cavalry and a detachment of Philippine constabulary. After a severe fight the Moros were beaten off, it is believed with heavy loss, but the number of their casualties has not yet been ascertained.

Being right on the spot, and knowing at all times just what sort of plots are wanted by the producers, our SALES DEPARTMENT has a tremendous advantage over agencies situated in distant cities.

We have received many letters from the big film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUBIN, SOLAX, IMP. REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, COMET, MELIES, ETC., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for Publication."

Perhaps we can do the same for you. If you can think of only one good idea every week, and will write it out as directed by us, and it sells for only $25, a low figure

A cablegram says—Sylvia Pankhurst, younger daughter of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, chief of the militant Suffragettes, was arrested last night in the act of throwing a stone at a large painting in St. Stephen's Hall, leading to the House of Commons. Application was made for her release on bail last night, but it was refused. Sylvia is the younger and favorite daughter of the "Votes for Women" leader, and recently made a tour of Canada, lecturing to secure funds for the cause.

It seems that the Suffragettes had agreed that in case they were arrested they would pose as wives of members of the Cabinet. One woman taken into custody last night gave her name as Lady Crew, the wife of the Marquis of Crew.

There is a rumor—of course, unconfirmed—that the Prince of Wales will marry Princess Elizabeth of Roumania, who was born on Sept.

NEW YEAR'S BAG. It is impossible to Lose This Shopping Necessity.

WEDDING RING LORE.

Interesting Facts About This Golden Circle of Sentiment. In the Isle of Man the wedding ring was formerly used as an instrument of torture.

The wedding ring was anathema to the early Puritans, who regarded personal adornment as one of the many snares of Satan. In the old English marriage service it was the custom for the bridegroom to put the ring on the thumb of the bride, saying, "In the name of the Father," then on the next finger, saying, "and of the Son," and then on the second finger, saying, "and of the Holy Ghost," finally on the third finger, with the word "amen."

Little brocade coats are mounted over softly draped skirts of satin or cloth. The charming costume seen in the illustration shows such a coat.

Treatment of Finger Nails. To keep the finger nails clean the nailbrush and soap and warm water should be used daily, and every time the hands are washed and while they are still soft and warm the free edges of the scarf skin, which it is understood, is apt to grow upward over the nails, should be gently loosened and pressed back in a neatly rounded form, by which the occurrence of cracks, hangnails, etc., about the roots of the nails will be prevented, and a graceful oval form and the display of a crescent-like space of white will be assured. This scarf skin, as a rule, should never be torn or picked off, as is commonly done. The less it is meddled with, other than in the way recommended, the better.

Your False Hair or Switch. If it has lost its luster and looks dry and dull wash it just as you would your own hair, rising well and afterward hanging it up so that it dries thoroughly.

A Wire Clothingline. A wire clothingline which becomes rusty can be renewed by painting it with a coat of white paint, and when dry paint it again. These two applications will keep the line in good shape for a long time.

Dr. de Van's Female Pills A reliable French regulator. These pills are exceedingly powerful in regulating the reproductive portion of the female system. They are all cheap imitations. Dr. de Van's are sold in a box, or three boxes, at the Cobalt Drug Co., St. Catharines, Ont.

Milady's Mirror

How to Get Thin. "I have often thought," says Mme. Jeanne de Place in a recent number of Woman's World, "that the world is divided into two classes of people—those that want to get fat and those that want to get thin."

Why He Wept. He was a hardened looking ruffian, and in the opinion of the spectators in the law courts, he didn't stand much of a chance.

A Warm Tribute. It was in a little country town in the west of England, says the Bristol Mirror, and Mr. Goodman, excellent citizen and kind hearted man, allowed himself to be chosen mayor for the fourth time.

What She Meant. "So you think I smoke too much?" he asked, just to keep up a conversation that seemed to be languishing.

Why He Didn't. "Did you suggest to him, as I told you to do, that he had never asked me to sing?"

Inaugurating. Old Skinkint (who while giving his guest a big sign has saved a good one himself)—Now then, my boy, light up. You've let your cigar out.

Tempting Party. Guest—Delicious party you are having tonight, old fellow. Host—Yes, I am giving it to my wife. It is the twelfth anniversary of her thirtieth birthday.

EVIDENTLY A FOREIGNER.

The Talkative Barber Couldn't Understand Higher English. "How will you have your hair cut, sir?" said the talkative barber to the man in the chair.

"Why do you weep?" asked the judge.

"Because I didn't see the pocketbook there," replied the prisoner in heart-broken accents.

"I am right sorry, Mr. Mayor," said the worthy man, "they've putten on you the trouble of officiating for another term, with all your many calls and worries of business. A far worse man would have suited us—but that was just the trouble. We couldn't find him—and it's my opinion as he ain't to be found."—Fouth's Companion.

Lady Marjorie's Love

Lord Marlingford, at that time very seldom left his own rooms until dinner time, and not always then. Fenella would object to rough hair, and object to a generally tumbled appearance, but then, Fenella objected to so many things. Marjorie sent her hat flying on to a table with a dexterous flourish, and turned towards the one of three draped archways which led to the dining room—an archway at the top of a few wide steps whose heavy carved and few balustrades were nearly broad enough for ordinary staircases, and she never advanced a pace when the curtain was pulled aside by a white hand and the Countess herself appeared, looking down at her.

"Did you not hear the bell, Marjorie? Where have you been?" Her clear voice was not at all angry, never was, but it was a little cold, a little imperious, and decidedly the voice of one who expected that her question should at once receive an answer. With the easy docility of habit and the brevity of carriage, she said: "I've been out with Jack in the wood. And I didn't hear the bell. Am I late then?"

"So late that luncheon is finished. It was earlier than usual that I might offer some to Mrs. Chadburn, the gentleman who has been with your father." "Oh! The girl's saucy red upper lip gave its favorite little disdainful little twitch—a twitch in this case at once slightly expressive and perfectly understood. Marjorie had no acquaintance with Fenella's ideas and Fenella's facts, and she never pretended to have any. She had long ago made up her mind that they were appropriate ideas—ideas to be expected from a woman who in cold blood had actually suggested such a horror as the pulling down of Castle Marlingford."

As for the title, which her marriage gave her, she did not value it. Miss Bray had early absorbed some ideas generally regarded as excellent, and strong contempt for her own rank and class, at times somewhat ostentatiously insisted upon, and declared—had been foremost and strongest among them. As for reconciling the consequent manifold incongruities of her existence, it is possible that the Countess had never troubled herself to try—a woman, inconsistency did not trouble her. As for her other qualities, she was always admirably kind to the poor, who thanked and rather resented her, an excellent mistress to her servants who found nothing to say against but nearly all liked her, and attentive wife to her husband, who was attached to but no longer in love with her, and a very good step-mother to Lady Marjorie, who had never loved her at all though naturally the most fond and clinging of affectionate little creatures. A handsome, cold, fair woman, always marvelously even-tempered and by no means unkindly, filling so meritoriously all these various relations of life, it was surely rather odd that no one did love the Countess but the Countess herself.

As for the Dowager Lady Marlingford, a very terrible and venomous-tongued old lady, resident for the greater part of the year in Ireland, she hated her daughter-in-law naturally. There had never been even the pretence of cordiality upon her part since it had been accepted that the Earl's second marriage would be childless—a disappointment almost as bitter to her as to her son. Marjorie did not know. It had never occurred to her how ardently and intensely her grandmother and father had longed for the birth of an heir to Castle Marlingford. Certainly the faintest idea that anything could possibly happen to prevent it had never assailed her.

Marjorie strolled across to the foot of the great shallow oaken stairs that led to the shadowy gallery above, and paused there doubtfully. She was tired and when she was quite a little walk to her room. Should she take the trouble to go, or should she present herself just as she was, leaving her hair tidied on the reverse just as it happened? It could not matter; there could be no one but Fenella or her father, and Fenella was so delicate she would never see her.

Stratford Juniors Win Group STRATFORD, Jan. 28.—The local juniors clinched O. H. A. group No. 8 last night by defeating St. Mary's 13 to 10 in a lightning fast game. The score does not indicate the play. Roffey's phenomenal work in goal accounting for St. Mary's poor showing. Tuer was the star for the visitors, while Botes, Vivian and Tobin found the nets for the homesters. This was the sixth unbroken victory for Stratford.

Two Bad Accidents at Galt GALT, Jan. 28.—Galt saw its first game of O. H. Clayton of the visitors hurt his arm and had to leave the ice for the rest of the game. George going off to even up. Another of the visitors was hurt, his toe being nearly severed by a skate going through his shoe, and another Galt man went off to even up, thus leaving five men aside. Gravelle in goal, starred for the locals.

OLD STEAMER PASSES.

Last Stern-Wheeler on the Skeena Disappears With 1912. Before the eyes of western Canada there is taking place to-day a development of civilization no less revolutionary or suggestive to the imagination than the passing of the stage coach before the rumbling wheels of the railroad. As settlers pushed their way ever farther north in the Province of British Columbia, the need of communication between the interior and the coast asserted itself, and for years the shallow, fast-flowing streams between the Rocky Mountains and the Pacific have served this line ways for the picturesque stern-wheeler steamers with their no less interesting passengers—pioneers and prospectors, for the most part, who have history on the walls the unexplored. Gone, however, are the days of the stern-wheeler on the Skeena River. The old order changes and its knell, as in the case of the stage coach, has been sounded by the steel horse now puffing along the northern bank of that great artery which runs for two hundred miles through the fertile interior of northern British Columbia to the coast. The year of 1912 is the last that the Skeena will see of the river steamer. Owing to the expense of sending a steambank up the river and the time consumed in making the voyage, competition with the railroad will be impossible. The day of high passenger rates is over, and the settler should have his supplies shipped in at a reasonable rate, for the latest transportation facilities have now appeared in this new world.

While the old-timer welcomes the advent of the locomotive into that country, it is with a sigh that he bids farewell to the little craft and the great trunk Pacific Railway operating passenger trains on regular schedules from Prince Rupert to Hazelton, and from Hazelton to Hazelton River Crossing, a distance of about 165 miles, the great northern country will develop at an amazing pace. Three trains are despatched each way over the line, and the number of passengers carried in the few months since the service was inaugurated is surprising. The fine steel cantilever bridge spans the Skeena River daily. The rails are 173 feet above the water, while two massive concrete piers, resting on the river bottom, rear themselves to the height of a little over 100 feet, so that steamers could pass under the bridge without difficulty.

A Benevolent Innovation. Just at the present time when everybody in Western Canada is courting the big profits he has made in 1912 Sir Donald Mann's typical story may well be told. He relates how a man from British Columbia met a man from Alberta and the two fell into conversation on the usual topics. It is said that there are only two subjects of conversation in the West, when an Alberta man and a British Columbian man are together. However, this particular talk became more general and turned on the relative merits of the two provinces.

The man from British Columbia dilated upon the wonderful natural resources of that province. Any man who could work was sure to become rich in a very short time. Any man with a little capital could become a millionaire with equal rapidity. The Alberta man admitted that British Columbia was a fine province, but he was bound to maintain the superiority of his own.

"Yes," he said, "men get rich in Alberta without working."

"But what's farming if it isn't work?"

"No," he persisted, "the farmers have very little real work to do. It began to be middling easy when the gasoline engine came in. But the gasoline engine—"

He paused to see if the British Columbian was "getting him."

"Yes?"

"The gasoline engine has made plowing, seeding and harvesting a real recreation."

"Go on, you're doing well."

"What about the big farms they're building gymnastiums so that the hired men may be able to get exercise?"

The "Last House." An effort is to be made to preserve an historic old structure known as "the last house in the world," and which is located at Edmonton, Alta. This building, or group of buildings, is known as Fort Edmonton and for years was the only structure in this northern outpost of civilization. It was formerly owned by the Hudson Bay Co. and the original fort standing on the spot was built in the latter part of the 18th century. It was named Fort Edmonton by one of the leading men in the Hudson Bay Co., after his birthplace in England.

The leader in the movement to preserve the old fort is a prominent club woman of Edmonton, Mrs. Arthur Murphy. She will bring a proposition before the Provincial Legislature next spring to restore the historic structure by using original materials. The fort occupies a prominent place on Parliament Hill at Edmonton.

Didn't Get Her Wish. Each with fingers tightly clutching the end of a washbone, the residue of a meal served at the Grand Trunk restaurant at London recently, two ladies bethought themselves of what they most desired. With all the due formalities of an ancient superstition, they each drew a slip of paper from the washbasin and the result was that the wish was to be gratified.

Crack went the omelette. Five tiny fragments flew into the eye of one of the participants and Dr. Parkes Bucke was summoned to remove them. The old superstition was justified to this extent that it was the young lady who drew the omelette from the washbasin who got what she decidedly didn't want.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

FOR THE WOMAN WHO THINKS AND FEELS.

Some women complain that they periodically suffer from dull and heavy feelings, or dizziness in the head, nervousness, pain and bearing-down feelings which should not occur to the normal healthy woman. But most every woman is subject to these pains at some time in her life, due to abnormal conditions in life, such as over-exertion, over-zeal, bad air, poor or improper food, wet feet, sluggish liver, etc. A regulator and female tonic made from active medicinal roots with pure glycerin, and without the use of alcohol, called

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION, has proven its value in thousands of cases, like the following:

Miss Dora M. Martin, of Auburn, N.Y., Route 1, Box 84, says: "I thought I would write you in regard to what your medicine has done for me. I have used them for three years for female trouble and general weakness with the very best results, and they have saved me hundreds of dollars in doctors' bills. I buy the 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' and take them together. I never was disappointed in your remedies and take pleasure in recommending them to my suffering lady. I am now almost fifty years old; at forty-five I took your medicine, both kinds, and I passed that period very easily and left me fat and healthy. I feel like a young girl. If any lady cares to write me, I will gladly tell her more about the good work of your medicines."

Dr. Pierce's Great Family Doctor Book, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition—of 1008 pages, answers hosts of delicate questions which every woman, single or married, ought to know. MR. V. Presents Holmed. Proposals to

W. A. Hollinake, Esq., K. C., and Members of the Railway Committee, City.

In order to be explicit in regard to the matters referred to in the report of the Committee presented to the Council as to my duty as one of the City Solicitors, I have to say:

1. That the arbitration proceedings to determine the value of the Holmedale property were and necessarily had to be between the Railway Company as expropriator and myself as owner, and the City had no locus standi, notwithstanding the fact that the City had agreed to furnish or pay for the right-of-way under an agreement as to which I was never consulted.

2. That, as I was an interested party, I did not and could not act for the City in any way in respect to the Arbitration nor was it my duty to communicate with the City as to the Arbitration. Any lawyer will appreciate the position that it is impossible for a Counsel or Solicitor to act for any client where he has a conflicting interest.

3. That Mr. Brewster, K. C., Counsel, conducted the proceeding for me in the regular way and had the usual appointment to proceed served upon the Grand Trunk Railway Company's Solicitors.

4. The Grand Trunk Railway was represented on the arbitration by D. L. McCarthy, K.C. of Toronto and by Mr. Donald of the Grand Trunk and all witnesses including myself were thoroughly cross-examined by the above mentioned Counsel, and City Assessor Ludlow and City Engineer Jones were present and were examined as witnesses on behalf of the Grand Trunk Railway. City Assessor Ludlow being in attendance during the arbitration, which leads to the assumption that the Grand Trunk must have notified some of the City officials that the arbitration was being proceeded with on the day.

5. Except that certain false rumors have reached my ears to the effect that I had asked the Grand Trunk Railway not to notify the City as to the date of the arbitration, would not have thought it necessary to deny such a statement, more especially after forty-four years of good standing in my profession. This falsehood is slanderous, and I would be very glad if the Committee would investigate and find out the originator of this rumor, and I would be forced to prove its truth, as the Courts or, be branded as a slanderer. As a matter of fact I did not make any suggestions to the Grand Trunk as to who should or who should not be notified, or as to the manner in which that Company should conduct the proceedings, and it would have been nothing short of impertinence on my part to have made any suggestions as to the duty of the Grand Trunk as between the Company and the City or as to how that Company or its Solicitors should conduct its business.

The above is an answer to any delusion of duty on my part as one of the City Solicitors.
