A CORRESPONDENT in sending some editorial poetry asks if we charge anything for its insertion. We have repeatedly said such poetry must be paid for. We are very sorry sometimes to refuse, but unless a charge is made, we would be flooded with supposed poetry, some of which is utter nonsense.

A CONTEMPORARY call attention to the necessity of a war against the deadly House fly, now proven to be one of the active disseminators of disease. It seems early to give this advice. Yet it should not be forgotten that when garbage, the accumulation of the winter, is operated on for a week or two by a warm sun, it becomes the breeder of flies and injurious bacteria. The lesson is to get back yards cleaned up at the earliest possible date.

THESE lovely mornings are fine for a brisk walk and will make the blood tingle in a person's veins, for they breathe the very essence of awakened nature. There is no country in the world where the climate is more delightful than in Canada on certain days in the spring and fall, and especially in the mornings the air is chuck full of a purity and freshness that makes one feel another person altogether.

THE following significant item appeared in a prominent place in the Kingsville Reporter last week:—"The fellow who stops his paper because he becomes offended by some item that does not suit his fancy always imagines that he is getting even with the publisher, but he is never missed. This only happens occasionally for there are only a few people in any community who imagine a paper should contain nothing but what they approve of."

THE old building on the site where the new Sterling Bank will be erected, corner of Main and Ontario streets, was sold by Auctioneer Elliott on Saturday to the highest bidder. It was knocked down to Mr. Stumph for $31, who afterwards sold the front part to Mr. Stewart. The building is a relic of bygone days, being probably the oldest structure in town. From what we can learn it was erected in 1862 or 1863 by Arthur and Colburn Stickie, who on its completion occupied it as a drug store.

"WHAT is going to be done to improve Main street?" is a question agitating the brains of some of our ratepayers, and one that should be decided at an early date. The day is past for the dumping of inferior gravel on the road to be worked up into slush before the year is out. Crushed stone is spoken of, and is said to be reasonable in price, and when properly put down will last for many years. Our councillors have the matter under consideration and will be prepared shortly to submit several schemes. One thing is certain, there is nothing to be gained by putting the matter off from year to year. If the payments for a permanent improvement are extended over a term of years the cost will be little more each year than the amount now wasted on temporary work that does not improve. Enquiry of the Good Roads Department of the Ontario Government might result in furnishing information that would be of considerable value in making Main street a thoroughfare to be proud of instead of ashamed of.

THE domestic hen is a very useful bird. No one denies that. Properly fed and taken care of, chickens are money-makers. But people who keep chickens and profit thereby should not expect disinterested citizens to contribute to the up-keep of their hens, by allowing them to run wild. It's an unfair proposition to everyone, except the owner. Chickens are the cause of more hard feelings between neighbors than anything else, and simply because people do not keep their chickens penned up. Everyone knows how difficult it is to make even a modest attempt at a garden where chickens are allowed to run loose. There are few who have not been seized at one time or another with a frantic desire to transport some useful old "Biddy" to chicken-heaven with one mighty "swat" upon discovering some depredation or other in the flower beds or vegetable garden. As a matter of fact there is nothing more aggravating than to be put to the necessity of continually chasing somebody's chickens out of your garden or off your lawn. And in many cases one either has to be continually doing it, or else let things grow wild.

SWIFT BROS.' spring display on Friday evening attracted a large number of people who were well repaid for the time and trouble spent in inspecting it. On the ground floor all the latest dress materials were arranged in an artistic and attractive manner, also ladies' suits, coats, waists, and all the latest things that go to make up a fashionable wardrobe. On second floor summer coats and waterproofs occupied a conspicuous place, and curtains, rugs, carpets and other house furnishings were also prominently displayed. The store was brilliantly illuminated and the staff of attentive clerks willingly and cheerfully supplied all information desired by the admiring crowd.

WE have received a copy of the first year-end report of the Juvenile Court and Detention Home of Vancouver, B. C., an institution for dealing with children under 16 years of age who have been accused of a criminal offence of any kind. Mr. Herbert W. Collier, formerly of 2nd line, Warwick, is the Chief Probation Officer and Superintendent of the Detention Home, his wife being the Matron. The report contains excellent half-tone portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Collier. Judge A. E. Bull in his report says:—"The Probation Officer is the right arm of the Juvenile Court. He first comes in touch with the young delinquent, the parents and the home. After the case is disposed of by the Judge, and during the term of probation, upon the Probation Officer falls the duty of receiving the weekly reports of the probationer and his parents. The office is indeed a difficult one to fill, and Vancouver is fortunate in having such an able Chief Probation Officer as Mr. Collier, to whom is due a great part of the credit for the success and usefulness of the Juvenile Court here. Mr. Collier is ably assisted in his work in the Detention Home by his kind-hearted, child-loving, Christian wife. The sympathetic Christian influence that surrounds the children while detained in the Home has proved to be very beneficial, and many a child has gone from the Detention Home with a much higher and better idea of life."

LADIES' smart coats, sizes 34, 36, 38 to start the season. Easter sale price $5.00.—SWIFT'S.

MR. ISSAC Pickering, who for the past forty years has been one of the most active and successful farmers and drovers in this district, has rented all of his farms and will retire. Mr. Pickering's close attention to his business interests has resulted profitably to him, and he is now well deserving of a rest. He expects to take a three months' trip during the summer, but has not yet decided just where he will go. Messrs. Stan Rawlings and P. D. McCallum have rented the homestead 100 acres; Jas. O'Donnell, the Morningstar farm of 50 acres on the townline; Thos. Brand the Switzer farm of 150 acres, 12th con, of Plympton, and Robert Alexander 70 acres on the lake shore.—Standard.

BOWLERS' CONCERT CALLED OFF.

Owing to serious illness, the Kellogg Concert Company were forced to cancel their engagement with the Bowlers for Thursday evening. Word to this effect was received by wire Wednesday.

As the Company have left for their homes in St. Louis, all engagements are cancelled, but the Bowlers have the assurance of the management of a date early in the fall when the Company expect to continue their tour of Ontario.

The committee are disappointed and regret very much any inconvenience to the large number who have bought tickets. Money will be refunded for all tickets on presentation.

The Millinery Openings.

Spring is never complete without the millinery openings. The three millinery shops in town opened on Friday last with a beautiful showing of all the latest ideas in hat creations, and all afternoon until late in the evening crowds of ladies filled the different establishments and admired the many beautiful and original hats displayed. The window displays were very pretty and attractive, and it would be hard to imagine a more fascinating show of head gear than appeared there. The weather was somewhat chilly for spring openings, but that little matter did not seem to cool the ardor of the fair sex in their enthusiasm. The specimens shown included all the most popular shapes, helmet and collapsible probably predominating, but Napoleon and picture hats were also there in abundance. The hats were trimmed in all the clever and beautiful designs known to the milliners' art. The color effects this season are Helen pink, coration blue, coral shade, tan, brown, black, white and navy, and among the trimmings flowers and many different kinds of lace, plumes, beads and silk are used. As nearly every lady in the district attended the openings any detailed description we could give would be superfluous.

Congregational Church Destroyed By Fire.

The Watford Congregational Church was completely destroyed by fire during the early hours of Tuesday morning.

The fire was discovered about 1 o'clock by Mr. W. S. Fuller, but before it had gained considerable headway and the roof was in flames shortly after the alarm was given. The origin of the fire is a mystery, as the building had not been occupied since Sunday night, and the caretaker was in the building on Monday afternoon, when everything seemed alright. The building was a brick veneer and with the furnishings was worth at least $3000. Originally it was a frame building situated on Victoria St. and was built in 1875. About the year 1888 the structure was moved to Main St. and brick veneered, and an addition built on the rear. The church was a neat building, well finished, artistically decorated and comfortably furnished. Everything was consumed, including two organs and a quantity of new music books which had just been purchased. There was an insurance of $1300 in the Royal Insurance Co. on the building and contents. The blaze was a fierce one, and luckily there was little wind, and but for that fact, combined with the good work done by the Fire Brigade and citizens, some of the nearby buildings would also have been consumed. The congregation has the sincere sympathy of the entire community.

What's In It For Me?

A business man received a letter some time ago from a gentleman who asked for a little information which would have required only a few minutes of the business man's time to give by dictating to his stenographer a courteous reply. Instead of doing this, says Onward, he returned the letter, adding at the end of it the words, "What is there in it for me?"

This business man is a type of character of which unfortunately

Used in Canada for over half a century—used in every corner of the world where people suffer from Constipation and its resulting troubles—stand higher in public estimation than any others, and their ever-increasing sales prove their merit. Physicians prescribe them.

there are many others. This question has in it the essence of selfishness, and if acted on by everyone would send our world back into the dark ages very soon. It is responsible for the graft, bribery and betrayal of trust, which have so sadly stained the records of many public men. It is also the cause of the unpopularity of many young people, who are constantly thinking of how everything they do will react in benefits to themselves. Imagine Florence Nightingale or David Livingstone asking the question, "What is there in it for me?"

Society is a partnership in which each member is supposed to work, not only for his own interests, but for the good of the firm. Nothing tends to disintegrate social life like the element of selfishness. When Rome was at its pinnacle of glory every Roman citizen lived and died for his country. When Rome became selfish and developed an individual existence rather than a social one, she fell.

Crops That Will Pay.

Rural Canada is strawn with neglected opportunities, declares the Farmers' Advocate. Crops which might be grown with large profit are ignored, or produced under small acreage, on account of the excuse that they make too much work. This point is very much overwrought. In determining what lines of agriculture to engage in, the question should be not what crop will make the least work, but what will repay the most ample wages for the labor that is employed. The answer, of course, will vary with conditions and circumstances, but, taking the representatives average farm, a studious farmer of our acquaintance contends it is within the mark to say that one-tenth of the arable acreage should be in alfalfa, one-sixth to one-fifth in corn, and one-quarter to one-third in clover. These crops make work, but they make the money that liberally rewards the work. If one of these estimates is decided too low, it is the estimate allowed for alfalfa. Remember that alfalfa and clover increase the capital or producing value of the land.

Forgiven With Proviso.

A good story of deathbed reconciliation was told at a Glasgow dinner recently. An old farmer, who had accumulated a large sheaf of grudges against his neighbors, was persuaded by his minister to forgive those who had trespassed against him. They were received in the exact ratio that the gravity of their supposed offences bore to the increasing seriousness of the farmer's condition. But even after some days of this spiritual discipline it was only under sustained persuasion by the minister that the sick man consented to receive the chief offender. He was admitted upon the doctor's assurance that the sick man's days were numbered. He wanted to qualify his words of pardon, but the minister would not permit this. "Ah, weel, then John," the farmer said, stretching his hand to his old enemy, "I suppose it maun be. Yer forgiven . . . but mind this, gin I get better this disna hand."

The Common Clay.

"My mother was a seamstress, cook and washlady," said Andrew Carnegie to an audience of working-women, and it was fine of him to say it, especially when he added, "And yet she was a cultivated woman, keeping up with the good literature of the day."

The mother at the needle, the stove and the tub, the son with his hundreds of millions, his shops, palaces and tens of thousands of workmen dependent on his favor—it's a speaking contrast and reminds us that all are made of common clay. Moreover, it deepens the wonder that all must feel at times, that among millions of human beings who have so much in common there should be such startling differences in the one matter of personal estate.

An ex-mayor of Regina declares that four hundred people walked the street the other night in that city, for want of hotel accommodation. Wonderful as is the building record of the West, it has difficulty in keeping pace with the influx of population.

From information furnished by the directors of the Royal Opera, Covent Garden, it appears that the prices to be charged for the Coronation gala performance range from 100 guineas ($525) for grand tier boxes to 1 guinea (about $5.25) for a single seat in the gallery.

BABIES SORES

Every mother should realize that the skin of her baby is so tender that the secretions of the body often lead to rashes, eruptions, etc., all of which may be removed by Zam-Buk and the use of Zam-Buk Soap. Scores of restless, crying babies, upon examination are found to be suffering from some form of skin irritation or "heat." Use Zam-Buk Soap for the bath and apply Zam-Buk Balm to the sores, and the trouble will soon vanish.

Mrs. L. Hood, of 415 Alexander Ave., Winnipeg, says: "Some nasty sore broke out around my baby's mouth, and despite all the preparations used, they refused to heal. I took him to St. Boniface Hospital and he remained there for two weeks. At the end of that time he was no better, and we again took him home. I was then advised to try Zam-Buk and obtained a supply. The effect of the first few applications was very gratifying and I continued with the use of the balm. A little perseverance resulted in a complete cure."

Zam-Buk Soap is sold by all Druggists at 25c per tablet and Zam-Buk Balm at 25c per tin. The Zam-Buk treatment quickly cures eczema, ulcers, sores, ringworm, eruptions, pimples, heat, rashes, bites, cuts, burns and all skin injuries and diseases.

The population of greater London last year was 7,537,196. That is an increase of 107,436 in one year.

There are now 7,229 national banks in the United States; their combined authorized capital being $1,019,282,135.

The world is full of women sighing and sobbing over breaches of promise; but they are rarely of the kind that need adjusting at any court save that where the heart is judge. When a girl's best young man promises solemnly and before witnesses to call on a certain evening, and fails to put in an appearance, he is plainly guilty of a breach of promise, but can he be sued with a reasonable hope for damages? Hardly!

People living along the shore of Lake Champlain were astonished to see a house running away across the ice. The owner of Willsborough Point, a peninsula opposite Burlington, wished to move a house about half a mile over the ice. While the workmen were arranging the skids a great gust of wind struck the house and it started at a lively gait up the lake. It was soon traveling at a forty-mile clip. The sight of the forty-foot two-story building as it twisted, tumbled, twirled and turned terrified the fish and colony. The house finally banged diagonally on a ridge and came to a standstill after a twelve-mile run.

The Bald Headed Man may Look Wise

But if He Had Been He Would Have Hair Now

You do not want a scientific treatise on the hair follicle—you are not particularly interested in the name of the German scientist who isolated the bug that is said to cause baldness. What you do want to know is how to save the hair you have and make it strong and lustrous. Nyal's Hirsutone will do it better than anything else. It is not claimed that Hirsutone is a wonderful scientific secret—but it is the concrete result of all that is proven in the scientific treatment of sick and diseased hair and scalp. It is a happy combination and you will notice a prompt improvement in the feeling of the scalp and the look of the hair. Hirsutone loosens and removes all scaly and matted deposit on the scalp—stimulates the hair bulbs and gives new life and vigor to the hair itself. Nyal's Hirsutone gives back to the hair and scalp just what it has been robbed of by your neglect and abuse. It is time to start right. Use Hirsutone. It is one of the Nyal remedies and no higher recommendation can be given. They are all good. Ask your Nyal Druggist. He recommends it.

A black hand bomb was exploded the other day, almost beneath the coat-tails of a New York policeman. The blue-coat, making his regular rounds, was standing at the door of a tenement house on First Avenue, and the bomb was in the cellarway of a building not a rod from his feet. He was uninjured, although the front of the building was damaged and doors and windows blown in.

The third death in New York city during a fortnight from excessive rope skipping by school girls is being investigated by the Coroner's office. May Tempin, 8 years old, is the latest victim. She died after engaging with several of her fellow pupils in a rope skipping contest for the championship of the school. She won the honors, hurdling the rope 695 times, but was taken to her home almost unconscious from exhaustion.

Lovely Woman.

O woman! If we fail to please, Think how we work to buy you cheese And bread and cake and soup and pie. We have to put soft graces by. Our everlasting daily task, Is still to purchase what you ask. Thus we forget sunshine and youth And overlook your charms in truth. But yet we love you. Yes we do! The work we do is all for you. For you we delve deep in the mines, For you we buy the valentines, For you the cow-boy chases steers, For you the actor sheds his tears, For you we rise at early morn, And turn the wheel and plow the corn For you we sail the raging main, For you we hustle home again. For you we rush from place to place, And care grave wrinkles in our face, And we grow stooped. Till, seeing you, The crowds we sometimes lead you through, Say—sizing up your gown and hat— "How could she ever marry that."

Sun-Dials and Roses.

Canadian Home Journal for April is a splendid example of the up-to-date magazine. Each season has its special interests and naturally at this time of the year it is gardening. Although other departments are not neglected, there are many artistic and thoroughly practical garden articles, written by authorities; "Shade Trees for Lawns," "Hardy Plants for Borders," "Roses Worth Growing," "Plans for Gardens," "Vegetable Garden for 1911," "Quality Strawberries." Mr. Acton has woven together historical notes, descriptions and local color into a most interesting and readable article. "Holy Week in the Eternal City," Household Decoration in April is very suggestive for summer preparations, out-of-doors and porch furniture, carpets, and cushions, with most original and attractive stencil and embroidery designs.

Beyond the Stars.

There is a land of light, we're told, Where sorrow ne'er intrudes; Where souls that long for rest may come, And naught but sin excludes. No carping cares disturb the breast, No joy, which sorrow mars, Will e'er be known, or felt in that Blest land beyond the stars. Each dweller in that glorious clime robes of white display. The righteousness of One who is The Christ, the living way. And saints of earth, who still remain Resist the ill that bars. Their gaining through Him, fitness for The land beyond the stars. 'This home of the redeemed, we oft With yearning long to see; And wonder if the friends are there Who cared for you and me. But, scanning the blue vault of heaven, Our load of flesh debars, The spirits' sight from viewing that 'Bright land beyond the stars.

SOMETHING THAT SHOULD BE RUBBED IN—Whenever pain is felt in the limbs or back, take Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil; pour a little in the hand, and applying it to the surface beneath which the pain lies, rub briskly. If the first application does not afford relief, which is not usually the case, keep rubbing. The Oil will gradually penetrate to the affected part and relief will come.

Law and the Kitchen Fire.

A Nebraska man and his wife disagreed so seriously about the division of the work on the farm that they took the matter to court. The judge listened patiently to both sides, then decided to this effect:

"It is the man's duty to perform all outdoor work on the farm. Milking cows is no part of a woman's household duties, and any work of that kind by the woman must be a voluntary act and she must have the proceeds therefrom. The man must not be expected to build the kitchen fire mornings, do family washing, sew on buttons, darn socks or any other household work."

It is said this is the first time a rule of law has been laid down to cover this subject of age-long dispute. The decision seems to be made on sensible lines. The man does the work outside; the woman the work within the home. Still there will be, to the end of time, husbands who are gentlemen enough to get up and build the kitchen fire on cold mornings. When it comes to domestic felicity there are higher laws than the courts.

The Farmer.

An exchange says: "Banks may fail and factories close, workmen strike and mines suspend, merchants fail and towns burn, times may be panicky and even crops may be short but the farmer who owns his acres will get along. He will live in comfort and quiet, with plenty to eat and drink and wear. He is the most independent man on earth." We think there is a world of truth in this; and yet we have noticed that it is usually the townsman that praises the independence of the farmer. The man on the farm is more apt to see the advantages of city life, and the city dweller can see better the beauty of life on the farm. Human nature, isn't it? And yet it might be an improvement if each would try harder to see his own blessings, says the Christian Guardian. And perhaps there is no man more less likely to see this than the farmer.

Glencoe Old Boy in Mexico Scrap

Glencoe, March 30.—Dr. John McAlpine, an old Glencoe boy, who has become a prominent practitioner in Mexico, is kept more than busy these days looking after the welfare of those attacked and wounded by rebels. Among the large number he has attended were no less than five of his personal friends, Henry Driscoll, member of a Detroit family, was wounded five times and left for dead by about 100 rebels, who surrounded him and demanded $1,000. He defied them and gave them a hot battle. At the fifth wound he fell and by playing 'possum was left alone. He made his way to Durango, where he was attended to by Dr. McAlpine. It is reported that Americans are being treated worse since the troops camped on the border.

Coughs, Colds Bronchitis

If there is an ailment in the throat or chest, it is surely essential that the remedy be conveyed direct to the affected part. It is because the healing vapor of Catarrhazone is breathed into the sore, irritated throat and bronchial tubes, because its balsamic fumes kill the germs and destroy the cause of the trouble. These are the reasons why Catarrhazone never yet failed to cure a genuine case of Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, or Throat Trouble. The wonderfully soothing vapor of Catarrhazone instantly reaches the furthest recesses of the lungs, produces a healing, curative effect that is impossible with a tablet or liquid, which goes merely to the stomach, and falls entirely to help the throat or lungs. To permanently cure your winter ills, your coughs, sneezing and Catarrh, by all means use a tried and proven remedy like Catarrhazone. But beware of the substitute and imitator. Look for Catarrhazone only. 50c and $1. at all dealers.

BROOKE.

Meetings will be continued in the school house of S. S. No. 11, Brooke, commencing on Sunday, April 9. Service each Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Everybody welcome.

A letter from Mrs. J. C. Boyd, of Petrolia but later of St. Albions, England, to her sister, Mrs. John Zavitz, of Brooke, will prove interesting to their many friends who will be pleased to hear of Mrs. Boyd's safe arrival on New Year's Day to join her husband at Pank Brandon, Sumatra, O.K. — We left Southamton on the 22nd of Nov. We sailed through the Straits of Messina. We also had a sight of where the great earthquake was but we saw very little of Mount Etna. The steamer stopped one and a half days at Marseilles. We went ashore but it simply poured rain all the time which prevented us a great deal from sight seeing. It is a very busy city, such a number of big steamers get coaled up here. We got off at Lisbon and secured a guide who could speak English to show us around. We went to the royal palace which was the residence of King Emmanuel and his mother. The workmen were repairing the palace that had been shattered by the attack against the King's life. They are going to turn it into a national museum. Portugal wished no king to run the country. The royal carriages that we saw were simply beautiful, some of them four hundred years old. The seats of some of them were of ivory and gold. We then saw Belem, an old monastery. It is too beautiful to describe, the carving in solid stone. The whole monastery is held up by one large pillar, the altar being of solid gold. We are at Port Said and then we pass through the Red Sea through Egypt. I expect it will be pretty warm there. The sun is nice and warm now, but cool at nights. Oliver is just fine and I have the company of a lady friend, a Mrs. Porter.

The High Standard
The World's Standard,
DE LAVAL
CREAM SEPARATOR.

Should not be confused with any other kind or standard in Cream Separators.

Port Rowan, Ont., Jan. 17, 1911.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I, Arthur Cridland, of Port Rowan, Ontario, in the County of Norfolk, do conscientiously and truly make statement and say that the De Laval Separator and the Standard Separator were placed on my farm on December 14th, 1910, for a comparative test as to the merits of the two machines.

I knew absolutely nothing about the Babcock Test or the ability of the person chosen to make the reading, and was over-persuaded by the representative of the Standard machine to accept his separator in the face of what was fully explained to me at the time to be superior skimming on the part of the De Laval Separator.

The representatives of the De Laval Separator, both men of experience and who knew the Babcock Test, made the reading of the skim milk, .025 for the De Laval machine and .075 for the Standard, with cream at 37% in each case.

No one else among those who came to the test appeared to be competent to make the reading, including the cheesemaker who was chosen to perform that part.

I have this day thrown out the Standard Separator in favor of the De Laval No. 12, which I have purchased and paid for, and I am absolutely satisfied that I have done a wise thing, as under similar conditions, I have found the Standard to clog at different times when the DeLaval did not clog at all.

(Signed) ARTHUR CRIDLAND.

The above letter from Mr. Arthur Cridland, of Port Rowan, Ontario, answers various effervescent matter issued by a concern having certain ambitions in a Separator way. As this matter has been given more or less publicity in such a way as to indicate a victory over the De Laval, we deviate from our usual rule of leaving the reputation of the De Laval Separator with those qualified to know, just to set right any who may have been misled in this instance. In the De Laval Separator only High Standards obtain in construction and selling.

On Saturday afternoon last while John McPhedra and his assistants were engaged pulling pump on the 12th line west, Plympton, one of the party discovered the heads of four good sized garter snakes protruding from a hole in the earth. After the trio had become properly armed an advance was made on the ravenous of the reptiles, which were basking in the sun. So stealthily was the march made that the entire quartette of wiggles were soon captured.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

CURE CONSTIPATION.

Few other troubles afflict the little ones as does constipation. Every change of diet seems to bring this trouble on and baby suffers from headaches, fever, disturbed sleep and often vomiting. No baby who suffers from constipation can thrive well. Constipated babies are cross all the time and give mothers constant worry. The one sure relief for baby constipation is Baby's Own Tablets—they never fail to cure this trouble and can be given to the little one with absolute safety. Concerning them Mrs. W. S. McKenzie, Prairie Grange, Alta., writes: "I used Baby's Own Tablets for my baby who was constipated from birth and they rapidly helped her and left her bowels in a natural condition." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Marvelous Recovery"

No more convincing evidence was ever put on paper than the following letter from one of Montreal's well-known citizens, Mr. D. R. Larose, of 333 Joliette street.

Railway Passes.

There is a member of the Quebec House who believes that riding on railways free of charge is the legitimate right of all members of the Legislature, and with this in view Mr. Bissonette, who sits for Standstead, recently introduced a bill to that effect. He doesn't want to ride by "courtesy" of the railway, but by right of his occupying the position he does. He explains in his measure that the Legislative councillors and members of the Legislature no longer receive a mileage allowance, and in lieu of this he wants the railways operating within the province to make good the deficiency. This same question was brought up some years ago in the Federal House by the member for South York, Mr. Maclean's argument being that when railways now issue passes to members it is a species of bribery, whereas if it was a matter of law or rather custom, the bribing feature would cease to exist. As it now stands, members of the Federal House may utilize a railway pass and then charge up their mileage, which the Government pays. They collect from the railways on the one hand and from the Government on the other. As a matter of fact, there appears only one way out, and that is to pass laws which will prevent the railways giving passes to members of the Legislatures, the Federal House, the Senate, or to any one connected with the Governmental services, either Provincial or Federal. It is a low, cheap, species of bribery on the part of the railways, and pilfering and petty larceny on the part of our Governmental bodies that should cease.—Saturday Night.

6 YEAR OLD GIRL Cured of Kidney Trouble

Mrs. Alex. Moore, of James St., Oxford, N. S., says: "Booth's Kidney Pills cured our little daughter, Christian, aged six years, of many symptoms of kidney weakness. She complained of a sore back, the kidney secretions were frequent and uncontrollable, especially at night. Her stomach was weak and her appetite poor. This caused her to have frequent headaches, and the least exertion would tire her. We had tried many remedies but she did not improve. Finally we learned of Booth's Kidney Pills and procured a box. A short time she was well and does not now complain about her back, the kidney secretions have become normal, and she plays around the house with no apparent fatigue. We always recommend Booth's Kidney Pills." Booth's Kidney Pills carry a guarantee that if you derive no benefit your money will be refunded. Booth's Kidney Pills are a specific for all diseases of the kidneys and bladder. Sold by all druggists, 50c. a box, or postpaid from the R. T. Booth Co., Fort Erie, Ont. Sold and guaranteed by T. B. Taylor & Sons.

PLYMPTON.

A happy event took place on Wednesday of last week at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Fisher, 8th con., being the marriage of their brother and sister, Mr. W. C. Fisher to Miss Bertha Watson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. H. Currie, of Forest, in the presence of only a few immediate friends, the happy couple being unattended. In the evening a reception was held at their new home, the R. Switzer farm, which the groom recently purchased.

The death of Walter Core, which occurred Tuesday morning, has cast a gloom over the community. Deceased met with an accident on the 19th inst., falling from the mow of his barn to the floor, sustaining internal injuries that resulted in his death, aged 62 years, 9 months and 29 days. He was born at Stoney Creek, but has been a resident of Boscawen for over 30 years, and was considered one of the very best tillers of soil in the township. His close attention to proper cultivation and raising of the different crops has been crowned with success, and he ranks among the progressive and successful farmers of the township. His sudden calling leaves a vacancy in our midst, and the deepest sympathy goes out to his bereaved widow. Deceased was married thirty years ago to Ellen Gray, daughter of the late Geo. Gray, of Boscawen. There were no children. Three brothers and one sister also survive, namely, Edward of Milton; William, of Grand Travis, Mich.; George of Plympton, and Mrs. A. Wilton of Mt. Brydges. The funeral took place from the family residence, lot 8, con. 6, to Beechwood cemetery, and after interment a memorial service was held in the Baptist church, Forest, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. S. Leckie.

Society is full of people who would be perfectly delighted if they could only remember what they meant to say. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant to take, sure and effectual in destroying worms. Many have tried it with best results.

If you are sick or run down your Druggist will give you FREE a 50c. bottle of Psychine and we will pay him.

Read this:

We are receiving many thousands of requests from every part of Canada for the 50-cent bottle of Psychine, which we buy from the druggist and give away.

Unprecedented interest is being taken in Psychine.

And it is doing some very remarkable things, making some very extraordinary cures.

Not more than we anticipated however.

With our third of a century's experience with Psychine.

With our knowledge of the hundreds of thousands it has already cured, in mind.

We have the most absolute confidence in what it can and will do.

Since scientists know now all about the white corpuscles of the blood, or the phagocytes, the scavengers which devour every germ of disease that enters the body.

Since they also tell us that certain herbs—nature's remedies—help and build up these white corpuscles.

And since these herbs are compounded in Psychine, we know why Psychine is so phenomenally successful in treating disease.

Brooke Swamp.

The once despised Brooke swamp is now the equal of any place on God's green earth, and to be convinced, just take a drive down the 12th line from the 12th sideroad to the townline of Ennisville. There you will see palatial brick residences, with bank barns, having any where from 40 to 70 head of cattle, together with other stock, the barn ends bursting out with the fullness therein and the happy contented farmer strutting about with all the ease and grace of an Oriental Nabob. No wonder Jim Davis wears the smile that won't come off as few are privileged to do business in such a prosperous community. You may talk about your banana belt and your wheat farms and cattle ranches of the west, but for genuine peace, progress, plenty and prosperity, give us Sutorville forever and the old Brooke swamp.—Free Press.

Bishop Dumoulin.

Something like half a century ago three eloquent young Irishmen crossed the Atlantic to serve the Church of England in Canada. Strong men they early became influential forces in the new country. Two of them served in the rectorship of St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, and all three attained the rank of Bishop. The Right Rev. John Phillip DuMoulin, Bishop of Niagara, died Wednesday morning, Bishop Sullivan and Bishop Carmichael having preceded him some years.

Bishop DuMoulin was one of the most logical and powerful preachers this country has heard. Absolutely fearless in the pulpit, he never hesitated to condemn the sins and extravagances of the day. As Canon of St. James', he drew people of other denominations and his Lenten services were listened to by large mid-day congregations of many persuasions. Into the wider field of the See of Niagara he carried the same convincing eloquence, and the same energy and fearlessness. A grand old man, he was a fervent patriot. Always he loved God, honored the King, and served the State through the Church.—News.

A LOVER'S CONSPIRACY

The Father of a Girl Falls into a Trap

By F. A. MITCHELL

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

In the Pitti gallery at Florence, Italy, is a celebrated portrait before which is always a crowd of gazers. It is the likeness of a Mme. Le Brun and was painted by herself during the eighteenth century. She is represented sitting beside her easel with her head turned toward those before her, and it seems that real eyes are looking from the canvas and real lips are parted, showing real teeth.

One morning Lina King, the daughter of a wealthy American banker and member of that set which claims to be the cream of New York society, being in Florence and in the Pitti gallery, stopped before this portrait. A young artist was copying it. His clothes were shabby, but there was an ideal look in his face that at once drew one's attention. His eyes were large and lustrous, reminding one of those of the Christ child of Raphael in the celebrated painting of the Sistine Madonna.

Miss King had stopped to have a look at the portrait, but remained to feast her eyes on the copyist. She spoke some Italian and asked him a few questions as to the original of the portrait. He replied in the same language, but not getting on very well, supplied certain Italian words with English ones. Miss King laughed and replied in first rate New York English, whereupon the artist confessed that he was an American art student.

Miss King artfully drew from him how long he was engaged on the copy and at what hours he would work on it. He was as artful as she, telling her that he might be several weeks in completing the copy and he worked every morning from 11 to 12 o'clock. He was making it for an English lord who would pay him enough for it to enable him to pursue his studies in Florence for a whole year.

Edwin Winston possessed great artistic talents. Miss King frequently visited the Pitti gallery between 11 and 12 o'clock and usually found him at work there. She was a lovely girl, and Winston was very much attracted to her. She told him among other things that her mother had recently died and her father had since been trying to find an artist who could paint from photographs, miniatures and other likenesses a portrait that would represent his wife as he wished to remember her; but, though a number of prominent artists had made the attempt, none had pleased him.

Those who are natural mates recognize each other very quickly. There was nothing like a courtship between these two. They loved from the moment they met before the Le Brun portrait. Miss King, who was traveling with an aunt, occupied apartments on the Arno, and the artist would stroll by on the quay when the evening glow mingled with the artificial lights lining both sides of the river, while Lina was sitting on a balcony. In this way the twin secured a coveted sight of each other after their usual meeting in the morning. The aunt had been commissioned to keep away from her charge all persons with whom Lina might fall in love who were not desirable parties, thus meaning that she should not be permitted to drift into a love affair with any one unless, perhaps, a nobleman with estates as well as title; consequently Lina did not feel at liberty to ask her lover to see her at her hotel.

But those stolen meetings! How much more delicious than a free access. One day it would be in the Boboli gardens, with landscape gardening of a couple of centuries ago; another in the great Duomo cathedral, with its

What Has Dandruff Got To Do With Baldness?

You see, the statement every day that the one cause of baldness is dandruff, is a very common error. Dandruff precedes the departure of the hair. It is equally true that you know it is dandruff when you see a man with a comb through, who has carried about a dandruff laden collar as long as you have known them. You have also seen men whose scalp was kept as clean as a baby's whose hair was surely departing. That dandruff talk sounds well and convinces a good many of us, but let us not fool ourselves. It is not dandruff that is a good thing to carry around, but it is only an indication.

The same trouble that causes the hair to fall out, usually causes dandruff, so you get at the cause and arrest the loss of hair, you will stop dandruff too. Those who use Nyal's Hairtreatment find it the most satisfactory hair healer and hair dressing they have ever used. It does stop the hair from falling out. It will also stop dandruff. Your Nyal Druggist cheerfully recommends it—$1.00 and 50c in sprinker bottles.

One for each everyday ailment bell tower built by the famous artist Giotto, and again on the hill above the city where stands the statue of David, by Michelangelo. Florence is a city for artists and for lovers. One of these two was an artist and both were lovers. In such an atmosphere the little god had all his own way, and while the duenna was carefully guarding, as she supposed, her charge from an alliance not in accord with her social position, Lina and her lover were engaged with each other.

Probably the most inventive genius is Cupid. The adage "Love laughs at locksmiths," is a verification of this. When Mr. Benjamin King at New York received a letter from his daughter in Florence suggesting that that city was the place—the only place—where he might have a picture painted of her mother which would suit him he did not dream that the suggestion was a lovers' trap. He straightway packed all the photographs and other pictures of his wife and, boarding a steamer for Naples, in a couple of weeks was in Florence.

Then when, the day after his arrival, his daughter took him to the Pitti gallery and showed him the portrait of Mme. Le Brun he was not aware that it was a second link in the chain which was to lead him into the trap. "Now, papa," said the girl, "if you could only have a picture of mamma to look out at us as that does wouldn't it be nice?" Mr. King declared that he would give half his fortune, if not the whole of it, for such a picture.

"Would you kindly move aside a little, sir," said a voice behind them. Turning, the banker saw a young man looking at him through Raphael eyes, who had come in with an easel and a canvas and had planted the one with the other on it before the Le Brun portrait. The artist was Winston and on his easel was his finished copy of the portrait. He had been watching for the father and daughter and soon after their appearance had set up his easel and pretended to be putting finishing touches on the canvas. Mr. King turned and saw a duplicate of the Le Brun portrait, the copy having the same living attributes as the original. Indeed, it would have been impossible for him to tell the original from the copy.

What To Do FOR Sickly Children

Letters from Mothers

"I wish I could induce every mother, who has a delicate, sickly child, to try our delicious Cod Liver and Iron Tonic VINOL. It restored our little daughter to health and strength after everything else had failed."—Mrs. C. W. STUMP, Canton, Ohio.

Mrs. F. P. Skonnard, of Minneapolis, Minn., writes, "I want to recommend VINOL to every mother who has a weak or sickly child. My little boy was sickly, pale, and had no appetite for two years. I tried different medicines and doctors without benefit, but thanks to VINOL, he is a well and healthy boy to-day."

C. Allen, of New Bedford, Mass., writes, "My two puny children regained rapidly in flesh and strength in a very short time after taking VINOL."

We positively know VINOL will build up little ones and make them healthy, strong and robust. Try one bottle, and if you are not satisfied, we will return your money.

T. B. TAYLOR & SONS, WATFORD.

possible for him to tell the original from the copy. Within half an hour the artist was commissioned to paint the picture upon which the widower had set his heart. One thing puzzled Mr. King—the artist would not set a price on his work, declaring that the painter might not be satisfied with it. But as the banker could stand, a pretty stiff charge this did not trouble him. Besides, from the moment he saw the specimen of the artist's work no amount of money would stand in the way of having the portrait executed by one possessing such powers.

While this bargaining was going on the girl who had brought it about was looking at other pictures with apparent indifference. When her father announced that Winston was to paint a portrait of her mother she found it difficult to restrain her excitement. Her father had walked into the trap. Would the lovers be able to spring the lid?

The artist was invited to call at the Kings' apartments that afternoon, where the material for the portrait was shown him. "I see," he said to Mr. King, "a remarkable likeness between your daughter and her mother. That life which is in the Le Brun portrait cannot be obtained from these photographs." But it is fortunate that Miss King is the image of her mother, for, while I shall get the features from these pictures, I shall endeavor to draw the vital spark from your daughter."

And so the preliminary features of this conspiracy were established. The artist was to have the girl he loved sit for her mother's portrait. For hours during successive days he would be permitted to gaze on her beloved features. This was but a temporary pleasure. Winston intended to make the effort of his life to instill the face of a living girl into the painted features of one who was dead.

Every day Miss King visited the studio of the artist, accompanied either by her father or her aunt. Usually her father was her chaperon, for he was watching the face and figure of his wife slowly grow upon the canvas. When Miss King did not present Winston worked upon details he found in the material furnished him, but as soon as Lina appeared with the love light in her eye he began to transfer it to the canvas. He did not need to call it forth by his own lover's glances. Two love stories were being intertwined. The picture growing up on the canvas was rather a creature of the past than of the recent present. It was rather the girl that had loved and been loved a quarter of a century ago than the mother of a grown daughter. Yet so skillfully did the artist blend the two that he produced both.

When the portrait was finished, to the bereaved husband it was priceless. He drew his check for a sum so large that he believed the artist would be surprised. To his own astonishment it was returned with a message stating that the portrait could not be bought with money.

Now came the most delicate part of this lover's plot. Would all be lost in passing from what had been accomplished to the ultimate object? The artist left all to the girl. Her father showed her Winston's note and asked her what it meant. She was prepared for what was to come and responded: "He wants me, papa."

"Yes. And, what is more, I want him." The banker looked at his daughter with a greater surprise than ever. "May I ask," he said, "how long this affair has been going on?" "Since soon after my coming to Florence." The matter could not be settled in a moment. The banker held it in abeyance, desiring to discover how far his daughter's life happiness was concerned, and he loved her too well to wreck it.

Two forces prevailed—the husband's desire to have his wife always with him as Winston had depleted her and the fact that Lina's heart was irrevocably given. Besides, the portrait, having been hung for a time in a private gallery, gave evidence that if seen by the world it would make the artist who executed it famous.

SOUR RISINGS FROM STOMACH

Those Who Experience Fullness and Pain After Meals, Stomach Disorders, and Indigestion, Should Read Below.

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins, of Fort Richmond. "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels, for I had to use salts or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour, and always after eating there was pain and fullness, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Instead of hurting, like other pills, they acted very mildly, and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. Today I am well—no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it." The Literary Society met in the town hall on Friday evening, March 31st. The President, Mr. Graham, occupied the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Dr. Sawers, and adopted. The Napier "Literary Chronicle" was read by the reporter of the Society. An open debate on "Resolved—That money is more powerful than brains" followed. Speakers on the affirmative side were Mr. A. Fisher, Misses Elva McIntyre, Christie McLean, Reta Field and Miss S. Logan; on negative, Messrs. A. Clothier, A. Field and M. McMcIntyre. Excellent points were set forth by the contestants who all proved themselves able debaters. The judges, Messrs. J. Sutherland, F. McPhail and Miss B. Hay decided in favor of the affirmative side by one point. Selections were given by the Napier Orchestra and the meeting closed by singing the National Anthem. Next meeting will be held in the town hall Wednesday, April 12th, when a "Book Contest" will be held, following which will be program and lunch.

NEW STRENGTH IN THE SPRING

Nature Needs Aid in Making New, Health Giving Blood.

In the spring the system needs toning up. To be healthy and strong you must have new blood, just as the trees must have new sap to renew their vitality. Nature demands it, and without this new blood you will feel weak and languid—you may have twinges of rheumatism or the sharp stabbing pains of neuralgia. Often there are disgusting pimples or eruptions on the skin. In other cases there is merely a feeling of tiredness and a variable appetite. Any of these are signs that the blood is out of order—the indoor life of winter has lessened your vitality. What is needed to put you right is a tonic, and in all the world of medicine there is no tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills actually make new, rich, red blood—your greatest need in the spring. This new blood drives out disease, clears the skin and makes weak, easily tired men, women and children, bright, active and strong. You can prove this by your neighbors for there is not a nook or corner in this great land where some weak, ailing man or woman has not been made well and strong by this great medicine. Mr. H. Wilson, Stonewall, Man., says: "Some years ago I was run down, languid and depressed and felt as though I was only fitted for life's scrap heap. A friend who had great faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills gave me a box. Before they were all used I felt some better, and thus encouraged got a further supply, and it was not many weeks until I was again enjoying my former good health. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a boon to every weak person." Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

facts between ready-made Clothing and the FINE CUSTOM TAILORING turned out of our work-rooms are radically different. By our made-to-measure system every suit gains in distinction and individuality.
