DON'T be caught this way.—A very slick swindler is operating in Ontario. Upon entering a town he lays in a supply of glasses, costing 10 cents each. These he fills with earth into which he places any other plant and then anoints the earth with attar of roses. He is now prepared to furnish confiding purchasers with shoots from the celebrated "Ceylon Rose" at $1.50 each, and does it as fast as he can handle them. Those who do not read their own local paper are generally the first to get bitten.

Buy Watson's underwear for women and children. None better, few as good.—SWIFTS.

THE Watford Flour Mill property is still on the market. The building and machinery of this 80 barrel mill are in a fair state of repair and would prove a good investment for some practical man with a little capital. A live business man, thoroughly practical, would be given every opportunity for credit and easy payments should he take hold of this property and operate it, as the mill being closed is not only a great detriment to the farming community but also a drawback to the town. Practical millers should look into the matter and enquire from Cowan Towers & Cowan, the solicitors having charge of the sale, as to the terms it can be purchased on.

DOUBLE PROTESTS were entered at the East Lambton fair against the decisions in the heavy draft sucking colt class. The directors of the Society being desirous that the decision should be just have engaged Mr. J. Guardhouse, departmental judge for the Ontario Government, to pass judgement on the colts. For this purpose Mr. Guardhouse will be in Watford on Saturday next, Oct. 17th, at 11.30 o'clock, when the owners of the colts will bring the animals here for inspection and Mr. Guardhouse will pass judgement and explain the points on which his decision is made. We have no doubt that the course decided on by the directors in this matter will give entire satisfaction and meet with the approval of all concerned.

Garson—Fowler

On Wednesday evening last, Oct. 7th, the home of Mrs. Wm. Fowler, of Watford, was the scene of a joyous occasion, when her youngest daughter, Pearl Marjorie, became the bride of Mr. Peter Garson, of Watford. The ceremony took place at 6 p.m., the Rev. R. Stevenson officiating. The company, which consisted chiefly of the bride's immediate relatives, afterwards sat down to a sumptuous repast, and a very pleasant evening was spent by all until the time of the train going west. The young couple had a most hearty send-off as they boarded the train, and if good wishes and congratulations count for anything, they ought certainly to know what true joy and happiness means during the remainder of their lives. Not many young ladies who have taken the matrimonial step in Watford have been more respected than Miss Pearl Fowler. She will be missed at her accustomed place in the post office by those who have proved her to be diligent and competent in business, and ever faithful to a task which is so responsible in the eyes of the public. The post office employees showed their esteem by presenting her with a handsome bridal rose-leaf. Miss Fowler was also the recipient of many valuable presents. The Guide-Advocate joins the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Garson in wishing them long life, joy and prosperity.

Moved by Mr. McBean, seconded by Mr. Bailey, that the central committee to dispose of the grants voted at this session for purchasing of produce be composed of the Warden, Clerk, and Councillors Anderson, Woodhall and Stapleford, and that the Reeves of all municipalities act in concert with the said committee as an executive, and report to them any information which may tend to assist.—Carried.

DOCTORS DID NOT HELP HER

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Bradley's Health—Her Own Statement.

Winnipeg, Canada.—"Eleven years ago I went to the Victoria Hospital, Montreal, suffering with a growth. The doctors said it was a tumor and could not be removed as it would cause instant death. They found that my organs were affected, and said I could not live more than six months in the condition I was in. "After I came home I saw your advertisement in the paper, and commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it constantly for two years, and still take it at times, and both my husband and myself claim that it was the means of saving my life. I highly recommend it to suffering women."—Mrs. ORILLA BRADLEY, 284 Johnson Ave., Winnipeg, Manitoba, Can.

Why will women take chances or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Austria may be ready to sue for peace, but she must remember that in joining with Germany in this affair she went in with eyes open and burned all bridges behind her.

If it is true that the German armies in France are running short of ammunition, the beginning of the end for the Kaiser's forces there is not far distant. But the story sounds too good to be true.

There is an attitude of seriousness abroad, which reveals a determination to win a fight for a cause fully appreciated and fully understood. It is well to regard war not gladly or in a spirit of alarm, but with the deepest seriousness.

Belgians resident in Canada are to be allowed to join the Canadian forces for foreign service. With Russians, Italians, Belgians, Japs, Frenchmen, the Red Indian, British reservists and native Canadians in our forces, we shall be a cosmopolitan lot.

Cheer up! The war did not bring hard times, says the Edmonton Bulletin. They were here before the war. The war brought war prices for wheat the farmer has to sell. That is the big hope of immediate relief from hard times.

The Union Jack is the emblem of the highest civilization, from which our own sprang, and with which it holds priceless blood-fought heritage in common. Chief among these heritages is the blessing of liberty, the rights of the common man. Nowhere in the world—our own great republic not excepted—does naked manhood count for more than in the British Isles.—Pittsburg Press.

Almost before we know it winter will have closed down about us. Already many of the trees are bare, while the leaves of the hardier varieties are putting on their splendid autumn colorings. Soon the coal man will begin to smile and the rest of us will grimace about the high cost of keeping warm in winter time. Every season brings with it some cause of complaint—or rather the human mind is so constituted that it finds excuses for complaint in every season. But with all our complaining of the weather who would have our seasons otherwise? What true-born Canadian would like to give up the riotous glory of the woods in fall or their diamond sparkling beauty when their limbs are covered with snow and the thermometer registers twenty below? After all it is the winter that makes us the hardy men of the north that we are and we would not exchange it for all the luxuries and fruitfulness of the tropics.—Ailsa Craig Banner.

Boston Transcript—"Aeroplanes and the information they have brought, are credited with the saving of the British army at a time when safety depended on evading the German enveloping movement. When the current turned, the aircraft were quite as valuable both in spying out the points of concentration by the Germans and apprising the Allies of the movements of other parts of their own line. The dirigibles have not cashed in to anything like the same degree of expectation. They have proceeded on the bomb-dropping theory, and without any very permanent contribution to German success they have killed numerous non-combatants and demolished private property in spots of no special significance. Compared to the efficiency of the thirty-six British machines, organized in three squads of a dozen, which flew across the Channel to their positions and have averaged nine flights daily of 100 miles each, the dirigibles with their pot-shooting at innocent citizens have been all but failures."

From one end of the Dominion to the other the press and public men of the country are emphasizing the necessity of providing employment for those who have been deprived of their usual means of making a livelihood through conditions arising out of the war. The Dominion and some of the provincial governments have already taken action, but much remains to be done. A long and hard winter is approaching and it is absolutely essential that every possible method be tried of giving the working men and working women of the country a chance to maintain themselves until the dark clouds pass by. They do not ask for more. The situation lies largely in the hands of the manufacturers and large employers of labor. To their credit, be it said, many of them are rising to the occasion and are keeping the wheels of industry moving. They had many fat years and ought to be able to tide over one lean year without inviting bankruptcy. Practical patriotism has its merits as well as the more spectacular on the field of battle.—Vancouver Sun.

SUMMER FOOD COMBINATIONS.

One of the difficult problems in housekeeping is to combine foods which properly go together. Here are some healthful combinations of uncooked foods which will help you to solve summer problems: Prepared wheat or rice with nuts, dates and cream, or wheat with nuts, honey, milk and cream. Starch, sugar and fats are fuel, and nuts, cheese and eggs are muscle builders. Apples, oranges, grapes, plums, peaches, pineapples or berries are both foods and germicides. One meal each day of uncooked food or a part of two meals will be a considerable saving of time and fuel. It is always best to make any change in the diet gradually.

UNCOOKED FOODS.

Desirable For Summer Use Since They Are Digested Easily. To preserve the health in summer make the simple foods your first choice. In selecting fruit always give preference to that which has ripened on the parent stalk. Bananas, for instance, should never be cut from the stalk as long as a speck of green remains. You can often buy bananas at half price because they are black. If they are not decayed they are much better food than yellow bananas. Dates, figs and raisins are all good foods and can be used to good advantage as a summer food which requires no cooking. The unpressed figs are considered to be much cleaner than the pressed, and the seeded raisins are more desirable than the unseeded. When buying apples pick the bright red ones which have ripened in the sunshine. Other desirable foods for summer which require no cooking are ripe olives, nuts, peanut butter, milk, honey, fruits, celery, cabbage, lettuce, cucumbers, radishes, onions, tomatoes, cress, chives, cheese, berries, pears and plums.

HANDSOME HAND BAGS.

Fabrics and Leather Combined to Make Popular Accessories to the Toilet. The smartest and newest hand bag is not a hand bag at all. It might better be called a hand box or a hand trunk, for it is a tiny square box of leather. Indeed, it is like a miniature jewel box. On the top of the box, which opens with two flaplike covers that meet under the handle, is the owner's monogram in gold and silver. The box is very tiny, but its square shape makes it possible to stow in its depths a surprising number of articles. To begin with, the box is fitted with a coin case for twenty-five cent pieces and a pocket for bills, a receptacle for lip salve, a powder box, a tiny mirror, a file and manicure scissors and several other dainty fittings that make its exploration interesting. Besides these, there is room for various other belongings. The hand bags illustrated here are modish affairs of moire. They are simple in style and of colors to harmonize with the gown.

An Always Ready Pill.-To those of a gular habit medicine is of little concern, but the great majority of men are not of regular habit. The worry and care of business prevent it, and out of the irregularity of life comes dyspepsia, indigestion, liver and kidney troubles as a protest. The run-down system demands a corrective and there is none better than Parlee's Vegetable Pills. They are simple in their composition and can be taken by the most delicately constituted.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

exactly meet the need which so often arises in every family for a medicine to open up and regulate the bowels. Not only are they effective in all cases of Constipation, but they help greatly in breaking up a Cold or La Grippe by cleaning out the system and purifying the blood.

The Fall Weather

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day it is warm and bright and the next wet and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, cramps and colic, and unless baby's little stomach is kept right the result may be serious. There is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets in keeping the little ones well. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BRIGHT, HEALTHY, ATTRACTIVE GIRLS

This Condition Can Only Be Maintained Through Rich, Red Blood.

It makes all the difference in the world to a girl whether she develops into a bright, healthy attractive woman or sinks into a sickly, unhappy, suffering semi-invalid. The girl whose blood is poor and scanty—who is anemic as the doctor terms it—starts life under too great a handicap. She is weaker and more frail than her companions who have rich, red blood. She is more easily fatigued in body and mind, and work of any kind exhausts her. In time her health breaks down. She becomes pale, looks worn out, is languid, irritable and nervous. Her heart palpitates violently at the least exertion, and she falls behind other girls in looks, health and a capacity for enjoying life. Abundant rich, red blood is the only thing that can restore good health to the many thousands of such girls. This rich, red blood can only be obtained through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They have given thousands of weak, white-faced, bloodless girls, robust, vigorous health and high spirits. Here is a bit of proof. Miss Olive Gauvreau, St. Jerome, Que., says: "I have reason to be more than grateful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for they restored me to health after more than one doctor and many medicines had failed. I suffered as so many girls do from anaemia. I was all run down, tortured with headaches, could not stand any exertion, and had no appetite, though of course I had to force myself to eat. I was in this condition for nearly two years, and although doctoring continually, seemed to be steadily growing worse, and I was very much discouraged and despondent. Finally a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I discontinued all other medicines and did so. In the course of a few weeks there was no room to doubt that I had at last found the right medicine. My appetite returned, the headaches began to come less frequently, and color was returning to my face. The continued use of the Pills for a little longer fully restored my health, and I have since been as healthy and active as anyone could wish. I cannot too strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to other weak and ailing girls." You can get these Pills through your medicine dealer or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NEW NECKWEAR FOR FALL.

Winged Effects to Be Prominent and Hand Embroidered Designs to Retain Their Vogue—Rolling and High Backed Novelties Are to Make a Hit.

Tailored gowns of silk and linen are cut on lines that make marked demands on the ingenuity of designers of neckwear. Collars of all styles are worn over the little coats. Those who buy in the midseason or late in the season should do so with an eye to the fall fashions. Discussing fall styles in neckwear, the Dry Goods Economist says:

"Among the clever ideas in the tailored lines are the wing effects, constructed along the lines of the wing collars worn by men.

"New rolling and high backed novelties are being prepared, many of which hug the throat more closely than here before, although leaving it somewhat exposed in front. Individuality is given to these styles by the shaping, some having scallops and others novel points. One of the newest of the high backed styles is almost perfectly square and does not extend along the sides of the neck at all.

"From all present indications the strong position now occupied by hand embroidered collars and vests will be maintained for fall. Pique, organdie and batiste novelties will be shown. Smart, plain linen styles will be prominent. One of the newest of the vests now being featured is a plain linen with patch pockets on either side and big round sailor collar. The simulated vest effect also promises well in girdles for the early fall."

The combined collars and vests pictured here are useful for wear with the tailored taffeta or the linen tub suit. The vest with the winged collar was of fine linen with all over embroideries. The other vest was of lace. The advantage of the linen vest and collar lies in the fact that it launders so satisfactorily.

Bungalow Lamps.

The pagoda lamp, which is just what its name suggests, has a narrow supporting stand with a shade made of wicker tiers that are modeled exactly upon the pagoda motif. There are futuristic lamps, too, giving just the suggestion of an outline, the skeleton, as it were, of the lamp, in wicker. These ought to be lined with silks of heavy futuristic colors.

When Cream is Sour.

When the thunderstorm has unexpectedly turned the cream for the coffee so that the sweet flavor is gone pour it into a bowl, add a pinch of soda and beat a moment or two with an egg beater. Then the cream will be frothy and will not curdle in the coffee, and the bit of soda will not taste.

Farm and Garden

THE STUDY OF INSECTS.

In Recent Years It Has Been Brought to the Farmer's Aid.

[Prepared by United States Department of Agriculture.]

It is only within comparatively recent years that entomology, or the study of insects, has been brought to the practical aid of the farmer. In the old days the scientist specializing in this branch were almost wholly absorbed in obtaining specimens of insects and describing them. In the meantime the farmer knew as little about "entomology" as the scientist knew about agriculture. Misconceptions among farmers regarding the occurrence of destructive insects were widespread, and the only men who really knew anything about the insects causing the destruction kept their knowledge to themselves.

"During the first hundred years of agriculture in America we have only fragmentary records of the ravages of insects. They chronicled, however, certain very disastrous outbreaks, and much of the vast amount of injury caused by pests went unnoticed because the farmers were often unacquainted with the reason for their losses.

By this time ordinary insect outbreaks appear to have become so common as to be thought unworthy of record, and we have nothing more until the year 1748, when it is stated that "millions of devouring worms in armies threatened to cut off every green thing. Hay very scarce; £7 to £8 a load." While this particular record applies to New England, it certainly does not cover the entire area of devastation, as John Bartram, during July of that year, made a journey from Philadelphia to Oswego, N. Y., and records the occurrence of worms, which he says have done much mischief "by destroying the grass and even corn for two summers." He also observes that the worms ate off the blades not only of corn, but also of long white grass, so that the stems of both stood naked four feet high. He observes that they seem to be periodical, like the locust and caterpillar.

During the year 1749 we are told that in July grasshoppers appeared in myriads. The observer stated: "I reckon my poultry, about a hundred, eat 10,000 grasshoppers every day. The inhabitants of Nahant, Mass., formed a line and with bushes drove the grasshoppers into the sea by millions." In 1762 a terrible drought appears to have occurred, and, owing to a very late spring, corn could not be planted at the proper season. Statement is made that "when at last the corn was planted millions of worms appeared to eat it up."

For upward of a hundred years our records are very incomplete, although there are indefinite references in existence to show that this is not owing to a lack of insect depredations in the fields of the farmer.

In 1770 there appears to have been a widespread outbreak of our common army worm, which, it is stated, extended from Langston, N. H., to Northfield, Mass. These ate wheat and corn and disappeared as if by magic, leaving nothing but the bare stalks of these crops. It seems that the farmers in order to protect their fields drew ropes over them, brushing the worms from the stalks, which expedient, we are told, only retarded the devastation, the crops being finally doomed to destruction. Trenches were dug in the fields in advance of the moving armies of worms, but the worms soon filled the ditches, and the millions that were in the rear went over on the backs of their fellows in the trenches and took possession of the interdicted food. Holes were sometimes made in the bottoms of these ditches, one every two or three feet, into which the worms fell and were then killed by the farmers going over the fields and plunging bars or sticks of wood into these holes. It seems, however, that only a few farmers were able to save enough corn for seed the following year. Just eleven years afterward, in 1781, the same pest is again recorded. It seems also to have reappeared in 1790. Trapping by means of ditches and holes is used in present day methods of control, but the worms are killed by pouring kerosene into the holes.

Not only is the American farmer now receiving assistance through the information of scientists regarding cereal and forage insects, but those affecting fruits and truck crops are also receiving attention. That the United States is in advance of other nations in the practical application of the study of insects to the needs of the farmer is most shown by the fact that students and experts are coming from all over the world to study our system and methods.

DEVELOPING THE NECK.

To fill up the "saltcellars" and soften hard outlines of neck and chest try deep breathing. Stand at an open window three times a day and slowly inhale the fresh air through the nostrils. Hold the breath while you count ten and then slowly expire. Shrugging the shoulders is an excellent exercise for rounding the neck and filling up "saltcellars." Swinging the arms in circles in all directions for ten minutes will develop the neck, shoulders and chest.

TIME SAVERS.

Simple Devices That Will Simplify the Summer's Work.

There are simple devices that will be required for the easiest handling of the summer fruits and vegetables. Among these may be mentioned asparagus clamps, berry hullers and pineapple snips.

Berry hullers can be bought for a nickel apiece in some shops, and one of these little, tongue-like implements will not only save considerable time during the berry season, but will prevent stained fingers and much scrubbing to remove stains.

Pineapple snips, which are made like scissors, but have blades especially designed to cut out the pineapple eyes, cost 25 cents. A pair will last for years if one takes pains to prevent rust accumulation. There is a knack in using this inexpensive appliance which one very quickly learns.

It may not be amiss to suggest that when several "pines" are cut up at once it is well to save the parings and the suiped out eyes (the fruit having first been washed with a brush), since a well flavored sirup can be made therefrom. This sirup can be used for sauces, in ices and sponges, or it can be bottled for use next winter as a flavoring extract.

Asparagus clamps come in two sizes. They consist of two semicircular pieces of perforated tin, held together in circular form and designed to clamp around a bunch of asparagus and to hold it while cooking. The halves can be pressed open by means of the spring. When the asparagus is cooked the clamps let it drop out easily without breaking.

A different kind of asparagus cooker is a perforated tray having sides, but no end pieces, which rests inside a long, narrow cooking pan. The object of both these designs is to prevent the asparagus from getting broken and so looking ragged and carelessly dressed.

A kitchen device which will be found very convenient during the berry season is a wire draining basket. Now that housekeepers are so universally awake to the necessity of carefully washing all fruit there are few women who would think of putting unwashed berries on the table. To wash them in an ordinary bowl or dish is not satisfactory, and nothing seems quite so good for this purpose as the wire basket.

A BETTER REMEDY THAN NASTY SALTS

Few people like to take physic, especially salts, because they are so disagreeable and because of the griping and purging they cause. Recall Orderlies enable you to take less physic, and all without griping and purging or excessive looseness. Salts and harsh physics usually give only temporary relief and often leave the bowels worse off than before.

Recall Orderlies move the bowels promptly, and soothe, tone and strengthen the intestinal muscles, leaving them healthy and regular in action. They taste like candy, and the movement they cause is as easy and natural as though your bowels were in perfect health and you never had to take any physic at all. We have so much to tell you about the understanding that we do to try them with the understanding that if they do not satisfy you in every way, all you have to do to get your money back is to tell us. We honestly believe them to be the best bowel remedy made. In your pocket tin boxes, 10c, 25c, 50c.

You can buy Recall Orderlies only at The Rexall Stores, and in this town only at the

JEWELER ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES

There are over 20,000 unemployed in Toronto, according to an estimate by the Trades and Labor Council.

A GREAT WHEAT CROP.

The government's July report estimates the wheat crop at 930,000,000 bushels. Since the spring wheat has not yet matured these figures may be revised later, but it is very clear that the yield exceeds all previous records. Fortunately for American producers, the needs of the world are large. Europe must buy a great deal of wheat during the current crop year. How much is unknown and will be until next summer. France, for instance is not a large importer when its crop is normal, but this year its needs are estimated at 80,000,000 bushels. With such a surplus as we have and such a deficiency as exists abroad the price will depend to an unusual degree on the foreign market. The greatest danger now is a rush to ship wheat. While no good is likely to come from a movement to hold for a dollar or any other fixed price, it is wise to be in no hurry to get all of the crop to the elevator. If each man with a surplus can keep part of it until it is required all producers are likely to fare best.—National Stockman and Farmer.

HORSES FOR THE FARM.

Kansas Farmers Are Advised to Raise Horses and Sell the Surplus. Maintaining a big bunch of horses to carry on the work of the farm is quite an item of expense, says the Kansas Farmer. Many farmers do not realize how much it amounts to until they begin to make some effort to keep a record of the cost of maintaining horses through the year. It is almost incumbent upon the man requiring a great deal of horsepower in his farming operations to follow the practice, to some extent at least, of raising horses and selling the surplus on the market. In this way the horsepower of the farm becomes in a measure self supporting. There is no place in Kansas more favorable to the raising of good horses than the central and western portions. There are numerous instances all through this territory where farmers have to some extent specialized in the growing of horses and aules and made good money in it. Really good horses are bringing good prices on the market, and the farmer who will pay serious attention to the producing of a few good animals each year will not only keep himself equipped with good horses, but will have some money coming in from time to time as a result of sales of surplus.

The great losses from the horse disease which prevailed through the state so extensively two years ago has caused many to hold back from engaging in the raising of horses for fear of another epidemic of this kind. It is true there are risks involved, but these risks are no greater than those of many other lines of production. They are not as great as the risks which the exclusive wheat grower must take.

The Summer Silo.

For a summer silo for, say, twenty cows the diameter should not exceed ten feet. The surface silage spoils very quickly in hot weather, and so, if one gets down to sweet silage, one will have to take off about two inches a day, which will be the necessary amount for twenty cows. When the farmer has tried it out he will find that the silo is less expensive in every way and much handier than siling his cows in summer. Besides, he will find that cows prefer the silage to any green stuff he may cut and cart in before them.

Influence of the Dairy Sire.

A poultry breeder writing about laying hens says: "A hen is a good layer or a poor one, not because her mother or any of her (the mother's) ancestors were high or low producers, but because her father came from a superior laying hen."

There you have the importance of the sire in a word, and, what is more, it is true. It applies to cows just as well as to hens, but thousands of farmers don't see it, and so they go stumbling along trying to get good cows from poor, cheap bulls.

The Cow and Her Feed.

The more a cow relishes her feed the more she will eat, and that means the more she will produce at the pail. That's the idea of palatability in the ration, increasing the cow's desire for food, stimulating her appetite and catering to her taste. Of course all this presupposes a good, profitable cow.

SUSPENDER FROCKS.

They May Have Adjusted Waists of White to Prolong Their Freshness. The suspender gown is a very attractive style for the little girl. The white waist worn with it may be changed for another when soiled and have its freshness prolonged in this way. The straps and skirt do not soil so quickly as the white of the waist. Illustrated here is a pretty frock of this kind suitable for the small girl of about ten years of age. It is carried out in green linen, with the waist in white linen.

Freshening Rolls.

If you have biscuits or rolls left from one day to the next and want to warm them up place in a pan and cover tightly. Two pans the same size do beautifully. They can then be placed in a hot oven for a few minutes, just long enough to heat them thoroughly, and when taken out they will be like fresh baked ones, much more delicious than when dampened before putting into the oven.

Nothing as Good for Asthma. Asthma remedies come and go but every year the sales of the original Dr. J. D. Kellogg Asthma Remedy grow greater and greater. No further evidence could be asked of its remarkable merit. It relieves. It is always of the same unvarying quality which the sufferer from asthma learns to know. Do not suffer another attack, but get this splendid remedy to-day.

In Japan nearly 200,000 women earn their livelihood outside their homes. Many of them work in the fields and some at the docks.

In France and Russia thousands of women are replacing the men who have been called to arms in factories and as house porters. They are even acting as tram conductors.

No child should be allowed to suffer an hour from worms when prompt relief can be got in a simple but strong remedy—Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

Arthur Kasner was shot and killed near Shelbrook, Sask., by N. Ploff, who was lately turned back at Regina when trying to make his way to Germany.

The coroner's jury at St. Catharines returned a verdict charging Private Frank Hartley with wilfully murdering Private Burgoyne on the Welland Canal Wednesday night.

Miller's Worm Powders are sweet and palatable to children, who show no hesitancy in taking them. They will certainly bring all worm troubles to an end. They are a strengthening and stimulating medicine, correcting the disorders of digestion that the worms cause and imparting a healthy tone to the system most beneficial to development.

The contributions of Berlin and Waterloo citizens, less than 25,000 in number, are likely to amount to $140,000.

Arthur J. Leach was electrocuted at St. Catharines by taking hold of the cord of an incandescent lamp while repairing a valve in his bathroom.

An Oil That is Famous.—Though Canada was not the birth-place of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, it is the home of that famous compound. From here its good name was spread to Central and South America, the West Indies, Australia and New Zealand. That is far afield enough to attest its excellence, for in all these countries it is on sale and in demand.

CARE OF PETS.

How to Keep Pussy and Her Family Healthy and Handsome.

One of the early afflictions of kittens is sore eyes. The kittens should be kept out of the light until they begin to run about; then, as a rule, eye troubles need not be feared.

If in spite of precaution and care the eyes become affected, bathe them frequently with a weak, warm boracic lotion applied on absorbent cotton, dry thoroughly with a soft rag and then apply a little vaseline.

At three weeks old the kittens may begin to lap a little milk. To commence each should have a tablespoonful twice a day—not pure milk; a little warm water and sugar should be added. This can gradually be increased and thickened with barley meal. Then bread and milk may be given, and a little mashed potato and gravy.

Olive oil is splendid for their coats and checks constipation. Give a small dose twice a week. Begin with a quarter of a teaspoonful, gradually increasing to a teaspoonful.

At eight weeks the kittens should be weaned. Give them four meals a day. Sweetened and slightly diluted milk should be served for breakfast. Another saucerful should be given at 11 a. m. Mashed vegetables, breadcrumbs and gravy, with a few tiny scraps of meat—no bones or gristle—are suitable for dinner, and at 8 p. m. a saucerful of bread and milk will be sufficient. Before leaving them for the night place a little diluted milk within reach.

When administering medicine coating is the best plan. Get the teaspoon between the kitten's teeth with the right hand while stroking the head and ears with the left. Pussy loves to be fondled and is seldom too ill to appreciate it.

GIRLS' GOWNS.

Simple and Graceful Styles For Summer Vacation Wear.

In the matter of the waist line—whether it is up under the armpits or down below the normal waist line or right at the waist line—there seems to be no fixed rule this season. Some of the very little girls' frocks are made with a high waist line and a round yoke that drops off the shoulders with very small puff sleeves that remind one of the delightful children on Lawrence's canvases or some old daguerrotype. These dresses are, many of them, made up with a combination of Irish lace and hand embroidery.

Many of the new lingerie dresses are finished around the hem with a trimming of lace, sometimes narrow and sometimes several inches wide, but there is something prettier, daintier, in better taste about the plain hem. The simplicity of a straight line around the bottom of the frock is more suitable for the little girl. A row of Irish lace insertion at the head of the hem is much more effective than a row of edging at the bottom.

Colored linen—pink, blue, green and yellow—is seen in some of the new frocks of a more substantial sort. The newest development of these frocks is in the separate overlapping waist portion—a sort of sleeveless bolero that slips on over the skirt, which is fastened to a lining body which also holds the sleeves. Often in these frocks the sleeves and collars are made of white muslin or linen. Buttons of white crochet are the most acceptable trimmings for this sort of frock.

SILVER LIKE NEW.

Put a Piece of Aluminum in the Water In Which It is Cleaned.

If you want to clean your silver try this plan:

Get a piece of aluminum—you can buy it at any shop where metals are sold—or a few scraps of aluminum from a repairing motor garage will do. Put the aluminum into an enamel bowl or saucerpan (don't use an iron one on any account); add two quarts of boiling water and two heaped table-spoonfuls of washing soda.

Put the silver in, being careful that some of it touches the aluminum, and let it stay from three to five minutes, or, if you can manage it, boil it in the water for a minute or two.

Rinse in warm water and dry with a clean cloth, and your silver will look like new.

The piece of aluminum should be taken out of the water, dried and saved for use again till it gradually wears away.

A Picnic Dainty.

A cooling addition to the picnic lunch box is a cucumber. This can be carried easily and when pared and cut into sections and eaten with the salt and pepper brought for the hard boiled eggs is very refreshing. Even the skin may be utilized, for if no water is available the face and hands may be cooled by rubbing with the inside of the rind.
