BLACK SQUIRREL open season closes today. Local hunters have captured good bags.

EVEN the Hydro system joined in the celebration and tried to illuminate the streets in broad daylight.

THERE were three names the Kaiser detected but he had to use them at last. The names were Ab Dick, Kate.

MR. CHARLES FITZGERALD, who has been ill for several weeks, was in a very critical condition at time of writing.

TALK ABOUT CONFETTI. Main street Tuesday morning looked as if there had been a thousand weddings the previous night.

THE size of the crowd that took part in the celebration in Watford on Monday is variously estimated at from two to three thousand.

FIRE destroyed a house in Forest belonging to Henry Barron, also loss of $200 on the contents belonging to the tenant, Mrs. Arthur Frayne.

IF YOU buy out of town and I buy out of town what will become of our town. Think this out next time you think of sending away for some article.

MRS. Wm. Doan who some weeks ago went to St. Joseph's Hospital, London, for an operation, is progressing nicely and it is expected she will be able to return home in about a week.

FRIENDS of Mrs. Ramsay, for many years resident in Watford, will regret to learn of her serious illness. Just over Spanish influenza she has had to undergo an operation for appendicitis and her recovery is hardly expected.

LADIES in need of Coats should see our stock this week.—SWIFT'S.

SECOND CROPS of strawberries, raspberries and potatoes are plentiful this year. The exceptionally fine fall has enabled late planted garden stuff to mature and add to the luxury of the table.

THERE will be a special Thanksgiving service in Trinity church on Sunday evening. The whole services will be in keeping with the thought of victory and peace which we ascribe unto God. Returned soldiers will be most welcome.

A LADY sleeping at a hotel on the Pacific coast rang the bell the first morning of her arrival and was very much surprised when a Japanese boy opened the door and came in. "I pushed the button three times for a maid," she said sternly as she dived under the bed covers, "es," the little fellow replied, "me she."

THE Board of Health held a meeting on Wednesday and raised the ban on the schools, churches, pool rooms and public gatherings to take effect on Saturday. The Board also passed an order prohibiting any person belonging to a family having a case of influenza attending school, church, service or the other place where people congregate.

WHAT is that which the postman, the clergyman, the fountains and the wild beasts, all alike say?

Letters, pray,
Let us pray,
Let us pray,
Let us pray.

OUR stock of shoes was never better than now. Any style for ladies and gents, also children's school shoes. These goods are the best obtainable and the price just a shade lower than elsewhere.—P. DODDS & SON.

IF proper response to the request to churches to hold united services to conserve fuel is not forthcoming, orders will be issued making necessary regulations, says a bulletin recently issued by the officials in Toronto in charge of the fuel administrations for Ontario.

THE VICTORY loan yields nearly twice the interest one receives from a banking account, and as to security—it is guaranteed by every bank and article of value in the country whether it belongs to an individual, a municipality, a province, or the Dominion Government. Buy a bond before Saturday night. This is likely the last chance you will have to buy government bonds.

MR. ROLSTON W. DODDS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dodds, and Miss Evva Pritchett, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Pritchett, all of Watford, were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony at London on Tuesday last. The Rev. H. Ashby, rector of the Church of the Redeemer, performed the ceremony. The Guide-Advocate joins with the young couple's many friends in wishing them much happiness.

IN COMMON with the rest of the country Watford celebrated on Thursday of last week when the unofficial report that Germany had capitulated was received. The buildings on Main street were decorated with flags, the town bell was rung and the small boys captured all the firecrackers to be had. Even after the report was officially contradicted the young people kept up the celebration just in order to get proficient for the big time was soon to come.

THE BAN IS OFF.

THE cowardly influenza germ is throwing up its hands and saying "Kamerad." If the cost of high living infuriates you, quit living so high and buy Victory bonds.

YOUNG FELLOWS' first long pant suits, smart styles.—SWIFT'S.

LAMBTON has raised $3,000,000 for the Victory Loan. Let Saturday night see another half million added.

MRS. Wm. WARD received word last week that a brother living in Biggar, Sask., has passed away. Pneumonia, following influenza, was the cause of death.

CHIEF ELLIOT is prosecuting about twenty young men for disorderly conduct and obstructing the highway on the night of Thursday Nov. 9th. The trial will be held early next week.

THE directors of the Lambton Farmers' Insurance Co. met in Watford on Tuesday and paid two claims for loss by fire, $1250 to Wm. Galloway of Ennisville, loss of barn, and $300 to Wm. Leeson of Dawn, loss on dwelling house.

RING UP "GARMENT" care of SWIFT'S Tailoring Dept. Clothing called for and delivered.

MRS. MEAD, of Thamesville, has received a letter from the nurse in charge of George's case. She says he is doing fine, and is now able to be up. They are hopeful of saving his eyesight, although he cannot stand the bandages off for more than a few seconds at a time as yet. PREPARE for the wet weather by buying rubbers now. We can supply you with any kind desired. Also rubber boots, guaranteed the best made.—P. DODDS & SON.

THE Methodist church services will be held at the regular hours next Sunday. The morning service will be a service of special Thanksgiving because of the Declaration of Peace. The subject in the evening will be: "The Triumph of Righteousness." The pastor Rev. A. C. Tiffin will be in charge of both services and especially urges all loyal and grateful Methodists to attend if possible. All others are invited and welcome. Special music at both services.

A CORRESPONDENT of a Forest paper writing on the churchless Sundays expresses a feeling that many have felt during the past two Sundays when he says: "Two Sundays at home have enabled many to appreciate as never before the value of attendance at the house of God once or twice a Sunday. Something was lacking which their bodies, minds and spirits needed to thoroughly furnish them for the common tasks and exigencies of the coming week. This positive factor is provided by regular and thoughtful attendance with one's fellow-men in God's house."

7-4 SHEETING for Red Cross purposes 40c.—SWIFT'S.

THE FARMER who fails to take a weekly paper that is devoted to his interests, surely is not farming with a view to profit. You cannot make the farm pay all it can pay without a paper that takes a lively interest in your welfare. One reason why other branches of industry are united more closely than the farmer, is because they support the publication of their respective businesses. So should you. One dollar sent direct to The Weekly Sun, Toronto, will pay your subscription for that paper for the full year of 1919 with the balance of 1918 free. You will find The Sun a very great help to you and well worth the price. Every reader of The Sun is a Sun booster.

FROM some rural districts come reports that the farmers, still expressing resentment over conscription, are refusing to buy Victory Bonds. To assume such an attitude is utterly unwarranted. It is the worst kind of folly, and it is disloyal. The Victory Loan has nothing to do with conscription, with Union Government, or any other kind of Government. It would have been launched, no matter what party or leader had been in office. The heavy war expenditure has made it necessary. The farmer who refuses to buy Victory Bonds stands in his own light. He strikes a blow at himself. In his business he needs the help that the Victory Loan makes it possible for the Government to give. What would he do with his grain, beef, pork or dairy products, if the money to finance our exports of these products were not forthcoming? For the farmer the Victory Loan is a sound business proposition, safer than a mortgage and solid as wheat. BUY VICTORY BONDS.

2 PIECES Indigo Serge, fast dye, for Ladies Suits. Correct weight.—SWIFT'S.

WARWICK

The churches of Warwick will open for divine service on Sunday next, Nov. 17th.

Fred H. Thompson who is attending the Dental College, Toronto, spent Thanksgiving at his home, on 18 Innes road, and returned to Toronto last week.

Miss Anabel McKenzie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McKenzie, died in Winnipeg on Monday last. The remains were brought home on Wednesday and the funeral took place on Thursday afternoon to Bethel cemetery.

The Women's Patriotic League of Warwick Village sent the following bale to Hyman Hall, Oct. 29th:—40 shirts, 16 suits pyjamas, 42 pillow slips, the total value of the bale being $138.50. The collection for Oct. 15th was $10.10 and for Oct. 29th $23.65. The meeting at Mrs. Carroll's did not take place owing to so much sickness prevailing.

The Collector (R. McKenzie) will visit Watford on Saturday, Nov. 23rd, Forest Monday Nov. 25, and Arkona on Wednesday, Nov. 27th, to receive taxes from the ratepayers. There will also be a date in Dec. at each of the above mentioned places. The exact date to be given later.—ROBT. MCKENZIE.

The annual meeting of the Invincible R. C. S. was held in the Forester's Hall on Wednesday, October 30th. After the election of officers, a good program of solos and recitations was given by local talent. A dainty lunch followed. The work completed during the year and sent to headquarters is—day socks 301 pair, grey flannel shirts 78, pyjama suits 104, trench towels 52, hospital towels 30, helpless shirts 50, pillows 7, Quilts 1, handkerchiefs 19. The officers for the ensuing year are:—President—Mrs. Russell Hayward; Vice Pres.—Mrs. Archie Wiley; Treasurer—Mrs. Robt. King; Secretary—Mrs. Joseph Acton.

A BIG TIME IN THE OLD TOWN

The Dawn of Peace Celebrated in Watford in Royal Style

SEVERAL THOUSAND ENTHUSIASTIC BRITONS PRAY, GIVE THANKS AND REJOICE

A happier throng never gathered together within the limits of our loyal little town than assembled on Monday afternoon and evening. The news of the signing of the armistice by Germany had been looked forward to for some days and when the glad tidings were officially announced on Monday morning the enthusiasm of the citizens was unrestrained. In a very short time flags were flying from almost every building in town and arrangements being made for a celebration later on in the day. Reeve Fitzgerald at once issued a proclamation for a public half-holiday.

At three o'clock a service of prayer, praise and thanksgiving was held around the bandstand and practically the entire population, augmented by several hundred people from the adjoining townships, joined in the outpour of thankfulness and gratitude to God that the world had been set free and the religion of hatred and brutality banished forever. The Reeve presided at this service and all the ministers of the town took part. At the conclusion of the religious service a procession was formed which included about fifty elaborately decorated autos. A feature of the parade was the Penian Raid Veterans, whose conveyance—a bay rack—looked somewhat grotesque among a lot of expensive motor cars. As there were no buzz wagons in the sixties the veterans, however, felt quite at home in their vehicle. Another feature was one representing a German soldier surrendering, with his hands upraised in "Kamerad" style.

After an adjournment for supper the celebration resumed, commencing with a torchlight procession followed by lighting a monster bonfire on the government lot west of the armory. This thirty-foot construction was topped by an effigy of the Kaiser hanging by the neck. While the large crowd watched the burning of the late Kaiser, the booming of anvils, the illumination of fireworks and the noise of the jubilation made the scene one never to be forgotten. The celebration had the pep and punch that has been pent up for four years awaiting occasion for an outlet. The Kerwood band, assisted by several Watford players, gave a program of patriotic airs during the celebration, which was kept up until a late hour.

MARRIED

In London, on Tuesday, Nov. 12th, 1918, by the Rev. H. Ashby, Evva Agnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Pritchett, to Rolston W. Dodds, both of Watford.

DIED

In St. Boniface Hospital, Winnipeg, Saturday, November 9th, 1918, Anabel McKenzie, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. MacKenzie, aged 27 years, 1 month, 29 days.

PTE. CHARLES LAWRENCE

72nd. Canadian Infantry Battalion B. E. F., killed in action September 29th, 1918. Pte. Lawrence is a son of Mrs. Harry Durstan, of Watford.

Lambton and the Victory Loan

G. H. Wood, chairman of the Victory Loan Campaign Committee for Lambton, urges a supreme effort during the next two days.

Without the Victory Loan our brave boys in France and Flanders would be deserted. Without the Victory Loan our binders would be idle, our factories silent and our streets filled with unemployed. If we value our prosperity; if we are to stand true to our brothers overseas, the next few days will be the most strenuous we have known. Make no mistake; the citizen who subscribes liberally to this Loan will bring a double blessing upon himself. First because he helps his country in time of need, and next because he obtains an investment which the coming of peace will make more valuable, as the high rate of interest now offered will probably never be offered again by the Dominion Government in our time.

Let Warwick district do its utmost and pass the objective by a substantial amount.

Graham—Scoffin

On Tuesday, November 12th, 1918, Frederic Peter Graham, of Warwick, was united in marriage to Miss Edna Irene Scoffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scoffin of Essex. The ceremony was performed at the Methodist parsonage, Watford, by Rev. A. C. Tiffin. The contracting parties were unattended. They left immediately on a motor trip to London and other points east. On their return they will live on the groom's farm on the 4th line north, Warwick. Congratulations and good wishes are extended to them.

World War Is Over!

Armistice Was Signed Monday Morning. The Kaiser Abdicates and Flees to Holland. Canadians in Last Scene of World Drama. Terms of Armistice.

London, Nov. 11.—It is officially announced that the armistice between the Allies and Germany has been signed. The announcement was made by Premier Lloyd George, who said: "The armistice was signed at 5 o'clock this morning, and hostilities are to cease on all fronts at 11 o'clock to-day."

London, Nov. 11.—(1.13 a.m.)—The former German emperor's party, which is believed to include Field Marshal von Hindenburg, arrived at Eysden, on the Dutch frontier at 7.30 o'clock Sunday morning, according to Daily Mail advices.

Practically the whole German general staff accompanied the former emperor, and ten automobiles carried the party. The autos were bristling with rifles and all the fugitives were armed. The ex-kaiser was in uniform. He alighted at the Eysden station and paced the platform, smoking a cigarette.

London, Nov. 10.—Germany is in the throes of a revolution. Her emperor, Wilhelm II., has abdicated and the Crown Prince has renounced his succession to the throne. The Hohenzollern dynasty has been overthrown. In its place has been set up a "People's Government." Ex-emperor Wilhelm has fled to Holland. The Times correspondent at The Hague telegraphs that the kaiser arrived at Middachten, Gelderland, Holland, at the castle of an old friend, Count Benintin. The revolution is spreading everywhere.

Before placing his signature to the document an urgent message from Philip Scheidemann, who was a Socialist member without portfolio in the Imperial Cabinet, was handed to the kaiser. He read it with a shiver. Then he signed the paper, saying, "It may be for the good of Germany." The kaiser was deeply moved. He consented to sign the document only when he got the news of the latest events in the empire.

London, Nov. 11.—Mons. the Belgian town near where British troops engaged in bitter fighting with the Germans at the beginning of the war, was captured early this morning by Canadian troops under General Horne, according to Field Marshal Haig's announcement to-day.

Austria-Hungary began hostilities on July 27th, 1914, by attacking Serbia, and within a week Germany had joined her, while France, Britain and Russia had thrown their forces against Germany and Austria. As the war went on the number of nations involved increased until the conflict became the greatest in the history of the world. Declaring war on France, Germany on August 1st, 1914, threw her armies toward France by way of Belgium. Fighting for the maintenance of their neutrality, the Belgians checked the oncoming horde for a time; but within two months the Prussian armies were within a few miles of Paris, from which the French Government had fled.

THIS WEEK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2242 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, back-ache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to M. J. Worthline.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Frankfort Zeitung says that Germany's most serious hour seems to have struck. Wait a while. The clock will strike again soon.—St. Louis Star.

It is not true that the Kaiser has reached the end of his rope. When he does that, his feet will lack four or five feet of reaching the ground.—Houston Post.

The New York-Chicago aerial mail will get under way about December 1st. If the postal airplanes are not equipped with limousine bodies, how'd you like to be the ice man?

New York Sun:—British casualties for only one week exceed 37,000, yet to read some of our news one might get the idea that Americans are doing all the fighting!

When the Kaiser says he will only extend his hand in honorable peace he misses the point. What he will have to do is to hold hands up until he can be searched for concealed weapons.—Philadelphia Press.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrh deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. H. H.'s Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surface of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrh Deafness that cannot be cured by H. H.'s Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.
F. J. CHERNEY & Co., Toledo O.

"I will not abandon my sorely tried people," declared the Kaiser, but The Woodstock Sentinel-Review points out that he overlooks the fact that one reason why his people are so sorely tried is that he has not abandoned them.

"We have got to finish this thing now," is the sentence from a Vancouver boy's letter from Somewhere in Belgium, quoted in The Daily Province. "We live 6,000 miles from here, and cannot be coming back every ten years or so."

The war news is knocking the speculative element out of commodity values, many of which may decline from now on; but foodstuffs and other articles of general use will remain where they are for a long while yet, or make only a gradual decline. The world is short of supplies, and it takes a long course of months to grow wool and beef, and even wheat. Farmers will get good prices for their products for a good many years yet.

And now the milk dealers have boosted the price again. There's something decidedly wrong with this crazy old world. If the butcher and baker and candlestick maker and the lady who does the family washing weren't so darn "uppish," and could walk to the back of the lot instead of calling for their "flivvers"; if the thousand and one useless extravagances of a pampered and ease-worshipping people were cut off, the H. C. of L. will soon disappear.—Dispatch.

The Brandon churches being closed owing to the influenza, the ministers sent little messages to their congregations through the Brandon Sun. Rev. J. G. Miller of St. Paul's sent the following.—"In the midst of our rejoicing and thanksgiving for the continued success of our fighting men, let us not be unmindful that the outstanding fact in connection with human life in this present day is the vast number of broken hearts on all sides. May our daily supplication dispose our hearts to soothe their affliction and relieve their necessities. May every one who has found the grace of Christ become a bearer of that consolation and cheer to others."

Asthma can be Cured. Its suffering is as needless as it is terrible to endure. After its many years of relief of the most stubborn cures no sufferer can doubt the perfect effectiveness of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Comfort of body and peace of mind return with its use and nights of sound sleep come back for good. Ask your druggist; he can supply you.

EVERYBODY'S DUTY.

Canada expects every Canadian to do his or her duty in this campaign. Half a billion dollars must be raised and there are only ten days more to do it in. The money can and must be raised. Thought of failure cannot be tolerated. The least that those who stay at home can do is to buy all the Victory Bonds they can and induce others to do so.

BACK UP THE BOYS.

"Double" is now the popular slogan is the campaign. Throughout the Dominion it is sweeping in a way that bids fair to accomplish surprising things. It is the spirit that wins, for it is the spirit that characterizes the boys at the front. Double up! The cause is a good one. It is worth every dollar we can lend.

BANKS WILL LEND.

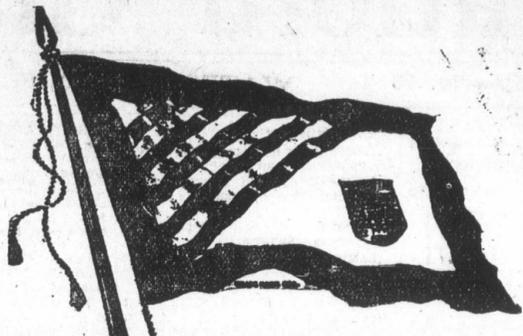

In order to help out small subscribers to the Victory Loan the banks will lend subscribers, on the probable certainty of repayment within a year, up to 90 per cent. of the amount of the investment in the Loan. The rate of interest charged by the banks is 5 1/2 per cent. Repayment is to be made monthly and quarterly. These are much better terms than were granted last year.

There are over 425,000 Canadians overseas who will have to be kept for at least a year, even if peace were to come this month.

No one who looks at the casualty lists can do otherwise than subscribe every dollar possible to the Victory Loan.

The Canadians in France have set a high standard for those at home to reach in the Victory Loan campaign.

Canada must put every ounce of effort into the Victory Loan drive. Oversubscribing to the Victory Loan would have a wonderful effect on the Canadian Corps in France. It would be the best thing that Canada could possibly do.

How Many Crowns for Your Honor Flag?

Of course every city, town and district will earn its Honor Flag.

But how about the crowns?

For every twenty-five per cent. in excess of its quota, each city, town and district will be entitled to add a crown to its flag.

Can you do fifty per cent. better than your quota—that means two crowns for your Honor Flag.

But double your quota and it means four crowns.

Hang a Flag in your hall, that for years to come will show that your city, town or district did better than well—

That it was a real factor in the huge success of CANADA'S VICTORY LOAN 1918.

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada

Your Thousand Dollar Victory Bond Will;

- Buy 200 gas masks, or
- 200 pairs of soldiers' boots, or
- 450 bushels of wheat, or
- 500 steel helmets, or
- 1,000 pairs of soldiers' socks, or
- 2,000 lbs. of high explosives, or
- 4,200 lbs. of cheese, or
- 25,000 rifles cartridge, or
- 56,000 revolver cartridges.

Everything Canada has depends on the success of the Victory Loan. The $500,000,000 wanted must be subscribed. The responsibility rests upon all to see that the money is raised.

Inventions Used In War.

The chief inventions used in the present war as distinguished from the Napoleonic wars are: Steamship, submarine, aircraft, high-power guns, smokeless powder, breech-loading gun, rapid-fire gun, revolver, automatic pistol, telephone, wireless telegraphy, automobile, poisonous gas.

Doubling the Output.

Australian women have discovered a plan whereby they knit two socks at once, and thus increased their output from 50,000 pairs a month to 76,000 pairs a month. The Red Cross women of Glencoe, Ill., have learned the trick and it is spreading.

Complete in itself, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator does not require the assistance of any other medicine to make it effective. It does not fail to do its work.

Warts will render the prettiest hands unsightly. Clear the excrescences away by using Holloway's corn cure which acts thoroughly and painlessly.

Negotiations which have been carried on by the Canadian Government for the past two months with Belgium, Greece and other countries which will lead to the signing of slacker's treaties, are now said to be so near completion that steps have already been taken by the authorities to secure a list of the names of citizens of allied countries now resident in Canada who will be called upon to join the colors. No exact data as to the number of new fighting men to be available, but it is believed that they will be sufficiently numerous to increase the fighting forces of the allies by more than one army division.

Farmers of Canada Have Much at Stake In the Victory Loan

Money From Loan Needed to Finance Exports of Farm Products to Britain.

The Canadian farmer stands to gain or lose much through the success or failure of the Victory Loan. He is much more dependent on it for the ready sale of his products than has generally been realized. Some there are, even to-day, who fail to grasp the facts of the situation. It is a mistaken idea that all a farmer has to do these days is to raise grain, cattle, hogs; or produce cheese, butter or eggs and he is sure to find a ready market at high cash prices. A keen demand for these products, of course, exists, and Great Britain will take all of them that Canada has to spare; but the demands of the war have been so heavy that she cannot pay cash for all these things. She must have credit. It is here that the Dominion Government steps in, and provides the cash, obtaining the necessary funds through the Victory Loan.

The farmers should be as enthusiastic over the Victory Loan campaign as any other class. If it is not a decided success they stand to lose heavily. But if they subscribe to it liberally and endeavor to get others to do so, its complete success is assured.

BUY MORE VICTORY BONDS.

PRAIRIE FARMERS' EXAMPLE.

Saskatchewan, which is almost a purely agricultural province, has given a splendid lead to the rest of the Dominion. Owing to the crop failure in several of the districts, the allotment for the Province in the Victory Loan drive was placed at $15,000,000. Recently those in charge of the provincial organization said that they would not think of getting less than $22,000,000.

BONDS OR BONDAGE.

The Sugar Question.

In a statement on the sugar distribution difficulty, the Chairman of the Canada Food Board, Mr. Henry B. Thomson, says:

"Since last May, when the use of sugar in Canada was rigidly cut down by manufacturers, candymakers, public eating places and large users have played the game fairly, and have abided by the rulings of the Canada Food Board.

Approximately 300,000 tons of sugar will be required in Canada for 1918. Only 12,000 tons of this will be used in the confectionary industry. If the Food Board issued an Order absolutely closing down the factories, we should disorganize the industry and throw hundreds of people out of work.

If the people in the homes would not put the "second spoonful" of sugar in their tea and coffee it would save 50,000 tons of sugar a year. This amount is more than four times the sugar allotment to the confectionary manufacturers. It could be done with a little good will.

Notwithstanding the Order issued on September 15th, there is reason to believe that a large number of people hoard sugar in the homes. It is only a little, possibly, in some cases, but when multiplied by the number of homes in Canada, it is a huge quantity in the aggregate. There is possibly also a good deal of waste

A COLD PREVENTIVE

Have you ever come out of a theatre, or church or over-heated room and felt, immediately the cold night air caught your throat and breathing passages, that you were going to catch cold? That is the time to take Peps. Two or three Peps taken at once will prove an unfailing preventive. A cold developed means needless suffering and expense. Safeguard yourself by always keeping a box of Peps on hand.

They are also best for coughs, sore throat and bronchitis. All dealers, 50c. box.

Christmas Overseas Boxes

Sixty-one Christmas overseas boxes were packed by Lambton's 149, I.O.D.E. at the home of Mrs. Adams on Wednesday afternoon of last week. The boxes were especially fine this year and presented a very Christmas and dainty appearance, a personal touch being given by Xmas cards, notes, bright ribbon and seals. Each box contained 2 chocolate bars, 2 packages gum, 1 box ozo, 1 cake soap, 1 can sardines, 1 can meat, 1 package figs, 1 trench candle, 1 lb. homemade Christmas cake, 2 cakes maple sugar, package of tea, loaf sugar, peppermints, pipes, tobacco and handknit socks. The Chapter wish to thank all those who so generously contributed to this cause and made it possible to send such splendid boxes. Twenty comfort bags for sailors are being made to be sent for distribution at Halifax. These will contain sweets, pipe and tobacco, writing pad, kerchief and sock. A box of Christmas decorations, also gifts, for distribution among the patients will be sent to a Canadian base hospital in France, value $12. The next regular meeting of the Chapter will be held at the home of Mrs. Mathews.

Useful War Souvenir

The War Album issued by the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal is to hand and is a credit to the Publishers. A copy is sent free to all who order that paper for 1919. The Album contains a mine of valuable information and the color work could not be improved on. It is just such a book as one would like to have close by at all times. Every school child in Canada should have it. In after years when the war is over it will be a valuable book of reference. The Family Herald costs only $1.25 a year and with the Album is certainly big value.

There will be service in St. James' church on Sunday morning at 10.45, which will take the form of Thanksgiving to God for victory granted.

Mr. W. J. Bourne reports that from a field of twelve acres of oats he recently threshed 1001 bushels, an average of about 105 bushels to the acre. This was sure some crop and Mr. Bourne is to be congratulated.

The sympathy of the neighborhood goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Powell, 13th con., in the loss of their five day's old son, John Franklin, which occurred on Saturday, Nov. 9th. The funeral was held on Monday to the Watford cemetery, the Rev. J. F. Fortner conducting the service.

Word was received by Mrs. Wallace Watson of the death of Richard Johnston's daughter May, aged 26 years, and son Frank aged 23 years, at Qu'Appelle, Sask., on Tuesday, Nov. 5th. The funeral, private, took place on Wednesday, Nov. 6th, to Qu'Appelle cemetery. This is one of the many sad instances, where Spanish Influenza has made great changes in a home. The eldest and youngest sons have been in France since the beginning of the war.

The Bank will trust you

Perhaps you never had an account in a bank—maybe you've never done business in a bank—hardly even cashed a cheque in one. But—that is no reason why you cannot go to a bank and borrow money to buy Victory Bonds.

If you are a steady, industrious, thrifty citizen, working and saving a part of your income, you are just the kind of person Canada's chartered banks stand ready to help to-day.

Any bank will lend you as much money as you can save during the next twelve months, with which to buy Victory Bonds.

All you have to do is to pay ten per cent. of the amount you want to buy and deposit the receipt for that ten per cent. in the bank.

The bank will lend you the 90 per cent. balance at 5 1/2 per cent. interest and will give you a year to repay it, the interest you get on your bond being just the same as the bank charges you.

This is a fine opportunity for you to begin a real savings account, to make a first class investment and to help your country at the same time.

Why not see a banker to-day—he will tell you all about it and you will be glad of the advice and help he can give you.

A Roman Scarf

By EMILY S. WINDSOR

(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)
 Miss Minerva's knitting fell to the floor, as, rising hastily, she adjusted her spectacles, and peered out of the window.
 The door leading into the kitchen was open, and Elizabeth Ann had seen Miss Minerva's agitation. "I wonder what it is this time," she muttered, as she poured hot water into a pan, preparatory to washing the dinner dishes. "Yes'm," she answered in response to Miss Minerva's excited call of "Elizabeth Ann!"

"That horrid dog from the next place is chasing Peter. Run and put the little beast out!"
 As Elizabeth Ann crossed the yard, a large black cat, closely followed by a Scotch terrier, whisked past her and in at the kitchen door. The dog wagged its tail, and frisked around Elizabeth Ann.

"Oh, Flip, why do you worry poor, old Peter so? Go home, sir," she said severely. The terrier trotted after her to a remote corner of the yard, where he submissively crept through a gap in the fence which separated Miss Minerva's property from the adjoining place.

A man at work on the other side threw down his hoe, and came up. He was tall and spare and was clad in blue jean trousers and checkered shirt. "Flip tresspassin' again?" he asked. "He was chasin' Peter," said Elizabeth Ann. "It was the chickens this morning, Mr. Dobbs."

"Keeps you pretty busy, doesn't it?" Elizabeth Ann laughed. "I don't mind it, it's fun," she said.

"She always did set great store by Peter, but Flip can't abide him. Still he wouldn't hurt the critter."

"Miss Minerva doesn't like dogs," said Elizabeth Ann laughing again. Mr. Dobbs chuckled. "I reckon it's more the dog's owner that she doesn't like," he said.

"I must go back," said Elizabeth Ann in a regretful tone. "Good-bye, for now, Mr. Dobbs."
 "Mighty interestin' child for only bein' eleven, too," said Mr. Dobbs, reflectively, stroking his grizzled beard, as he looked after Elizabeth Ann. "Wonder what Minerva Collins'd say if she knew me and her is such friends."

As he resumed his hoeing his thoughts went back to the years when the relations between him and Miss Minerva had not been in their present strained condition; to that unlucky evening when a discussion arose as to the proper mode of baptism. He had contended that sprinkling was sufficient, and Miss Minerva had held out for immersion. That was long before Elizabeth Ann had come to live with her aunt. Mr. Dobbs had often told her about the quarrels.

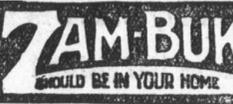

"And she's never taken any notice of me since. I tried once to make it up. And it was strange about that, too," he had added thoughtfully. Elizabeth Ann had wondered how he had tried to make it up, but had not liked to ask.

"Did you see him on his own side before you came back?" asked Miss Minerva when Elizabeth Ann went back to her interrupted dish washing. "Yes'm," answered Elizabeth Ann. "Nasty little beast!" ejaculated Miss Minerva. When the last dish had been placed in the closet, and the kitchen put in spotless order, Elizabeth Ann went into the sitting room.

"If everything's done you may have the afternoon to yourself," said Miss Minerva, who was now tranquilly knitting, and Peter curled up on a cushion near her.

Elizabeth Ann stood awhile looking out of the window. She was undecided whether to go down to the fence and talk with Mr. Dobbs, or to go up to the attic. But she saw that it was beginning to rain, and reflected that Mr. Dobbs would not continue hoeing, for he had been having rheumatic twinges lately. So with some regret, she decided in favor of the attic, for, great as were the charms which the latter place had for her, Mr. Dobbs' society possessed a stronger attraction. He told her such interesting stories, and listened to all of her confidences so attentively, and he never told her not to be foolish, as Miss Minerva had done when she had ventured to communicate her thoughts to her.

 There was an old-fashioned trunk of odds and ends which Miss Minerva had told her she could have to play with provided "she kept them tidily." Elizabeth Ann had not yet explored to the bottom of the trunk. She would do so today. There were pieces of ribbons and lace, ends of embroidery, some bunches of artificial flowers and various other articles of last-of-its-kind. Under all, on the bottom of the trunk something was folded in white tissue paper. Elizabeth Ann opened it, and a long Roman striped silk scarf fell out in glistening folds. It was soft and fine, and of beautiful coloring, the ends deeply fringed. Elizabeth Ann gave an exclamation of delight. She had a passion for rich colors, and this was the most beautiful thing she had ever seen. Severe plainness of dress was part of Miss Minerva's creed.

Elizabeth Ann smoothed out the soft folds again and again. It would make such a lovely sash, she thought. How had her aunt ever thrown it aside? She passed it about her waist and tied it in a bow with loops that fell to the bottom of her skirt. A ray of sunlight flashed through the attic window. Why, it had not rained much after all. She would run down to the orchard, and see if Mr. Dobbs were out. She must show that scarf. Mr. Dobbs liked pretty things, too. So she crept quietly downstairs, and avoiding the sitting room, went out of a side door. If Miss Minerva saw her with the scarf on, she would tell her not to be foolish.

Miss Minerva was still knitting placidly, and Peter purred at her feet, when, chancing to glance out of the window, she beheld a sight which made her suddenly sit up stiff and erect in her chair. Mr. Dobbs crossing her yard! He came on with a long, rapid stride that in a few moments brought him to her sitting room door, which he opened after a warning knock. Miss Minerva turned her stern gray eyes upon him in cold inquiry. He held a gay-colored silk scarf in his hand.

"Minerva, why didn't you send it back as I asked you, and then I'd know—and not waited and waited as I did for months?" he asked reproachfully, as he looked alternately at the scarf and Miss Minerva.

The latter made no answer, and Mr. Dobbs went on: "Our not agrestin' on sprinklin' or 'merision made no difference. When a man asks a woman to marry him, he naturally looks for an answer."

Miss Minerva now found voice. "Jonathan Dobbs will you tell me what all this means?" she asked frigidly.

He held out the scarf. "Why didn't you send it back, if you didn't want me?"

Miss Minerva stared at him in ever-growing astonishment. "I don't know what you are talking about. Send it back? I never saw the thing before."

"Is that really so, Minerva?" he asked eagerly.

"It's not my habit to lie," replied Miss Minerva, icily.

"I've often had misgivings that there was some mistake. I never had the courage to ask you about it, for you know how you treated me when we met. Turned away your head and—"

Miss Minerva rose impatiently. "What are you talking about? What have I to do with that silk thing?"

"Well, Minerva, I'll go over the whole thing. I s'pose you remember our argument about baptism. I talked the way I did just to tease you, but you took it all for earnest. Now, I had had it in mind for a long time to ask you a certain question, and a day or two after our misunderstanding I was down to the city on business and saw a lot of silk things like this in a shop window, and the ladies was wearin' them around their necks—so I just thought I'd buy one and send it to you, and at the same time ask you that question. I writ a little note and sent with it. It was tellin' you if you was willin' to be Mrs. Dobbs to wear it to meetin' the next Sunday, and if not to send it back. But you didn't wear it to meetin', and you didn't send it back."

As Miss Minerva listened, her stern face relaxed and a softened light shone in her eyes. Before Mr. Dobbs had finished, she turned her gaze to the window, and there was a little flush in her cheeks.

"I never had a note from you, and I never saw that scarf before," she said quickly.

"I sent them by the hired man."
 "That was the summer Consta Mabtie Simmons was with me. Likely I was out, and he left them with her. You know what a scatter-brain she is. The color had deepened in Miss Minerva's cheeks, and there was none of her accustomed severity of manner.

She looked down at the scarf in Mr. Dobbs' hand. "But where did you get it now?" she asked suddenly.

"Elizabeth Ann found it in your attic, and—"
 "Elizabeth Ann!" repeated Miss Minerva.

"Never mind about her, Minerva—Will you take it? You know the conditions."

Miss Minerva took the scarf and looked at it closely.

"It is a good quality of silk," she said quietly. "But you know, Jonathan, I'm too old to wear such gay colors."

Mr. Dobbs laughed contentedly. "Please yourself, Minerva, so long as you take it."

More's Capable Daughter.
 The demand that women shall be paid men's wages for men's work may represent a desire for justice rather than a desire for gain; but money fairly earned is sweet to the hand and heart.

"An open field, an even start, no handicap, no favor, and the same goal for all." Which reminds us that Sir Thomas More had a clearer perception of the value of woman's work and a finer sense of justice than some of his sex possess. "My Meg is better unto me than ten sons," he said, "and it maketh no difference at harvest time whether the corn were put into the ground by a man or a woman."—Agnes Repplier in Atlantic Monthly.

Condor Largest Bird of Prey.
 The eagle is commonly spoken of as the largest of the birds of prey. This is wrong. The largest is the condor, a South American vulture. The condor is a native of the great mountain chain of the Andes, especially in Peru and Chile. It lives in a region of perpetual snow, from 9,000 to 16,000 feet above sea level. The length of the male condor is about 48 inches, and the span of wings when extended is nine to ten feet. The plumage of the male is glossy black, with gray on the wings and white on the margins of the wing covers.

Useful in Camp.—Explorers, surveyors prospectors and hunters will find Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil very useful in camp. When the feet and legs are wet and cold it is well to rub them freely with the Oil and the result will be the prevention of pains in the muscles, and should a cut, or contusion, or sprain be sustained, nothing could be better as a dressing or lotion.

HOW TO FIGHT SPANISH INFLUENZA

BY DR. L. W. DOWERS.

Avoid crowds, coughs and cowers, but fear neither germs nor Germans! Keep the system in good order, take plenty of exercise in the fresh air and practice cleanliness. Remember a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels are a protecting armour against disease. To keep the liver and bowels regular and to carry away the poisons within, it is best to take a vegetable pill every other day, made up of May-apple, aloes, jalap, and sugar-coated, to be had at most drug stores, known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If there is a sudden onset of what appears like a hard cold, one should go to bed, wrap warm, take a hot mustard foot-bath and drink copiously of hot lemonade. If pain develops in head or back, ask the druggist for Anurie (anti-uric) tablets. These will flush the bladder and kidneys and carry off poisonous germs. To control the pains and aches take one Anurie tablet every two hours, with frequent drinks of lemonade. The pneumonia appears in a most treacherous way, when the influenza victim is apparently recovering and anxious to leave his bed. In recovering from a bad attack of influenza or pneumonia the system should be built up with a good herbal tonic, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made without alcohol from the roots and barks of American forest trees, or his Ironie (iron tonic) tablets, which can be obtained at most drug stores, or send 10c. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

 WATFORD

As a matter of business, what do you think of the plan?

You are a farmer.
Canada is a farming country.
Canada grows more food than the people of Canada need.

To prosper she must sell that surplus food.

Great Britain is our best customer for grain, pork, beef, cheese and other farm products.

Every practical man must see how important it is to hold the British trade. Canada wants not only the profit on this trade, she wishes to create a goodwill in Britain towards Canadian products and thus assure our export business for the future.

At the moment Great Britain asks for credit, asks Canada to sell her the products of the farm, "on time." To hold her trade, it is necessary to give this credit.

This takes capital—immense capital. For Britain's purchases from Canada are huge, and these purchases must be paid for in cash.

In these times, it is not easy even for a nation as wealthy as Canada to procure money. Certainly, no other country can lend us money. The only way now open for Canada to secure money is to borrow from the people of Canada.

This is the reason for selling Victory Bonds.

Can anyone deny the sound business sense of this plan of protecting our valuable market?

From the standpoint of the man who lends, what better security could he get for his money? Where else could he get a five and a half per cent. return on such security? Where would he find an investment to pay interest so regularly and with so little trouble to the lender? Certainly Canadians have an opportunity to benefit very directly from this borrowing plan.

And the money Canada borrows is spent entirely in Canada—a very large part of it for the very crops the farmer has to sell.

Therefore, if the Victory Loan is a success, business in Canada must be good, the nation must prosper and so be able to carry on a vigorous war effort in France and Flanders.

As a practical man you must approve of the Victory Loan plan.

Then help it along. Put your own money into Victory Bonds; urge your friends to buy; work hard among your loyal neighbors to make the Victory Loan 1918 an overwhelming success.

Buy VICTORY BONDS

—all you can pay for in cash and all you can carry on instalments.

TO SAVE SEED CORN

Straw May be Used Much More Freely for Idle Horses.

Vegetable and Root Crops Grown This Summer Must Be Carefully Stored to Prevent Loss—Proper Temperature Checks Decay—Sand Will Ensure Firm Vegetables.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

THE year 1917 provided, both in the United States and in Ontario, conditions very unfavorable for the production of good seed corn. Excess of moisture in the crop was followed by freezing and these conditions resulted in one of the worst seed corn years in a generation. As a result of this, much of the seed corn sown in Ontario in 1918 was, to say the least, of varieties that were late in maturing. A very high percentage of this corn which will be used for seed next year, now contains a large amount of moisture. To make this corn of the greatest value for seed purposes, it should be harvested, if possible, before heavy frost and thoroughly dried. Maturity is one of the essentials in producing good seed corn, but no less important is the thorough drying of the seed.

It is not even necessary for corn to be frozen to lose some of its vitality, it will deteriorate at ordinary temperatures if not well dried. When freezing occurs, greater loss in vitality is experienced. Corn which is harvested with an excess of moisture should be dried as rapidly as possible as this removes the danger of injury from moulding, fermenting and freezing. In the process of drying, a free circulation of air should be provided and, if necessary, artificial heat used. Seed corn can be most readily dried when stored in the ear.

Where the corn is well matured and is grown in large quantities, the corn-crib provides one of the most satisfactory drying mediums, as it supplies the best of air circulation along with protection against storms and vermin.

A post in which a number of nails are driven at an angle of forty-five degrees, and the ears stuck on the protruding ends, provides a good medium for drying seed corn ears. These posts with a platform at the base may be readily removed to places where artificial heat can be used if necessary.

Where relatively small amounts of seed corn are used, selected ears may be hung up to dry in the attic, kitchen or furnace room.

Corn which has been thoroughly matured and thoroughly dried gives the highest percentage and most vigorous germination, but seed corn which has reached the dough or firm dough stage of maturity, when harvested, if well dried, usually makes good seed. When thoroughly dried and surrounded by a dry atmosphere, even zero weather will not injure the germination of seed corn.—Prof. W. J. Squirell, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Straw for Idle Horses.

Straw is a feed very high in fibre and the horse's digestive system is not suited to the liberal use of this roughage. It is not a suitable feed for horses at hard work, but during the winter months may be used to advantage where hay is scarce, and particularly if a little grain is fed along with it. It is just a question whether it is more economical to feed good hay and no grain than it is to feed a percentage of bright straw and a ration of crushed oats. Only clean, bright straw should be used for horses and one or two feeds per day, replacing hay should be found advantageous under certain circumstances. We have seen horses wintered in good condition on oat straw and a light grain ration. If hay were available for a light feed once a day the other two feeds could be composed of straw, and less grain would be required than where the entire roughage ration was straw. Oat straw makes the best feed, barley straw coming second and wheat and rye straw last. A few roots may be used to good advantage with the straw, and under no circumstances is it good policy to winter horses on straw without supplementing it with at least one or two light feeds of oats per day.—Prof. Wade Toole, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Hints on Harvesting Root Crops.

Root crops should be taken up before the weather becomes too wet and disagreeable in the fall if in any quantity. It is slow work at any time and becomes much more so under cold damp conditions. Lift the roots with a digging fork and twist off the tops, putting them in piles and covering with the tops. If a large area is to be lifted and one is expert with a sharp hoe he can very quickly remove the tops, but they will not keep quite as well. The roots should be ploughed out, throwing them as much as possible on the top. Bins with slatted sides and bottom should be used for storage where possible, as this gives the roots a chance to sweat. If the storage room temperature is above 40 degrees F. cover them with sand. Carrots should not be deeper than two feet in a bin, others may be four feet. Where cellar storage is not available use pits. These should be three feet wide, two or three feet high and of any length. Run the pits north and south where possible, and have them on well drained ground. Put a layer of straw on the ground and cover first with straw six inches deep, then six inches earth, and as frost gets harder cover with fresh straw manure. Have ventilations every 15 or 20 feet as all roots sweat in storage. These may be filled with straw during cold periods.

All roots should be as free from dirt as possible when put in storage. It is often advisable to leave a few days in small piles so that at the second lifting any adhering will be removed.—A. H. MacLennan, B.S.A., Ontario Vegetable Specialist.

Pills for Nervous Troubles.—The stomach is the centre of the nervous system, and when the stomach suspends healthy action the result is manifest in disturbances of the nerves. If allowed to persist, nervous debility, a dangerous ailment, may ensue. The first consideration is to restore the stomach to proper action, and there is no readier remedy for this than Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Thousands can attest the virtue of these pills in curing nervous disorders. m

Burn Water Instead of Coal

Temperature recommended by the Ontario Fuel Administration for working and living-rooms, 64 F.

(64 is the "optimum" temperature, or the degree of heat, at which science agrees man is at his best).

Temperature recommended for sleeping-rooms, 50 F. or less.

"Make water warm you instead of burning an excessive amount of coal to do it," is the advice of the Ontario Fuel Administration in urging the importance of properly moistening the air in the home.

Dry air at 70 or 72 may feel cooler than moist air at 60 degrees, the Administration declares. Moist air holds the heat longer and saves coal.

There are ten per cent more deaths at a given temperature if the relative humidity is below 40 per cent than if it is above 70 per cent.

Give the air a drink out of a pan instead of off your skin. Evaporation from the skin renders one susceptible to colds, catarrh and other diseases of the respiratory organs.

As much if not more, attention should be paid to the humidity reading as to thermometer reading. A hydrometer, as well as a thermometer, should be in the home.

The Department urges every householder to follow these simple rules for humidifying air in their homes:—

When the house is heated by stove have a pan of water or a boiling kettle always on top.

If by warm air, see that the water retainer in the hot air jacket of the furnace is always well filled. Place open pans of water near the registers.

In cases where steam or hot water systems are employed, provide humidifiers, or pans of water for every radiator.

The average room may require a quart of water per day. Change water frequently.

KERWOOD

The Women's Institute forwarded the following to Hyman Hall recently:—75 prs socks, 31 flannel shirts, 59 suits pyjamas, 32 towels, 2 face clothes, 64 head bandages. They also sent twenty four boxes of Christmas cheer valued at $59 to our boys overseas. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Mills on November 20th. A good attendance is requested.

The Methodist church which has been closed for the past two Sundays will be opened Sunday, Nov. 17th, and thanksgiving services held.

Kerwood business places were all closed Monday afternoon and the majority went to larger towns to celebrate while the kiddies did their part by having a tin pan and kettle parade.

A very sad death occurred in Glencoe, when Eva, daughter of Mr. Jno. Richardson died with the Spanish influenza. She went to visit her sister Mrs. Earnest Tidball and contracted the disease and died after three days illness. Eva was a bright amiable little girl of eighteen and will be greatly missed in the Sunday school and community.

ARKONA

A couple of motor parties from Forest visited Arkona Thursday afternoon to join in the Victory celebration and others from here motored to London to celebrate there, which celebration did not come off.

Very good congregations were in attendance at the church services last Sunday. All services and Sunday Schools, as well as the public schools will be in session this coming week. There is a distinct improvement in this district, so far as the epidemic is concerned.

Arkona celebrated the close of the war both in London and in Arkona. Almost every car in and around this place took its load to the Forest City on Monday, so that plans laid for a local celebration were completely upset. But Tuesday evening Arkona citizens in a well attended Union Thanksgiving Service at the Methodist church celebrated in good form. Revs. J. Ball, G. B. Ratcliffe and C. W. King and Messrs. A. A. Barnes and Thos. Lampman in brief addresses presented the outstanding war and peace conditions as reasons for thanksgiving. Messrs. King, Percy and Lamb offered the thanksgiving prayer, and Messrs. T. Grogan, Bartlett and Utter assisted in the music of the evening.

Corporal Beaumont F. Plack, recently returned from the firing line somewhere in France, was tendered a reception by the people of Arkona and district last Friday evening in the Baptist Church. Reeve Logan occupied the chair. Revs. C. W. King, G. B. Ratcliffe and J. Ball spoke words of warm welcome and appreciation of the heroism of the guest of the evening, after which J. F. Dickison was called upon and read an address, following it with the presentation on behalf of the citizens of Arkona of a fine open-face gold watch. Corporal Plack, who is wounded in the thigh and is still suffering from German gas which put him on his back for months, was obliged to remain seated while replying to the welcome and telling his experiences around Kammel Hill and other notable battlefields where Canadians distinguished themselves. The deepest interest was evidenced by the audience in the questions, not a few, put to the speaker, to which he replied with first hand information. He stated, among other things, that the Canadians were regarded as regular terrors by the Huns when it came to a bayonet action and that the military authorities, recognizing their skill and dash in such service often gave them the place of honor when a difficult piece of work was in hand. There are no more popular men in either France or England than the boys from our Dominion, he affirmed. Corporal Plack, as both a sapper and trench fighter, knows the straining effects of both the enemies shrapnel and gas shells, and told his hearers some thrilling experiences. He also told of some thrillers his unit had for the Hun the result of their sapping and high explosive operations. He was among the first to volunteer with the Canadian Overseas forces and has spent, after some months in training, three years and three days of continuous service on the firing line. He has six months to spend, including an operation, in the Queen Alexandria Sanitarium, London.

NERVOUS AILMENTS

Few people realize that nervous ailments often arise from digestive troubles. The stomach fails, for some reason, to digest food properly. Then the system languishes and the nerves become exhausted in striving to continue their work. Impure blood also causes nerve troubles, but frequently it is in the stomach where the mischief starts. As the nourishment is carried to the nerves by the blood, it will be seen what an important connection exists between the stomach, the nerves and the blood, and how such troubles as nervous headaches, nervous dyspepsia and insomnia may begin.

In such cases relief is easily obtainable by means of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills replenish the blood with the food elements on which the nerves thrive; at the same time they exercise a tonic influence on the digestive organs, enabling the system to derive nourishment from the food taken. By this perfectly natural process nervous ills are steadily dispelled by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. If you are suffering from nerves, or require a blood-making tonic, give these pills a fair trial, and see how speedily the best of health will be yours.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cent a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
