Capt. John MacNeill Brings Thrilling Message From Canadians at the Front, in Launching Great Y. M. C. A. Drive in Massey Hall for Funds to Carry on the Work.

Associated Press War Summary. Australian and Canadian troops are in action along the British lines, along the vital sectors of the battle front in France.

French report quite heavy artillery engagement on both banks of the Avre. Bolsheviks declare that Germans and Ukrainians must accept peace or fight them.

Canadians take over sector from Neuville-Vitasse to St. Marc, south of the Scarpe River. Allies in Macedonia repulse Bulgarian reconnaissance on Dobropole and in the Deval Valley.

The Canadians have appeared in the Arras sector, further south than they have been since the battles in this region began on March 21. This is the most important, as part of the line is the southwest, and includes localities such as Neuville-Vitasse, Mercatel and Boisieux.

German cannot renew battle until they replace their battered divisions with fresh ones. Situation for allies on western front has considerably improved since April 24 in Flanders.

King of Hedjaz's Arabs inflict losses on Turks and damage Wadi Jerdan junction, north of Maan, Palestine, in successful raid.

A Storm of Shells. American troops Montdidier, have been under a storm of shells for the past couple of days, projectiles containing high explosive and poisonous gas being fired into the lines held by General Pershing's men.

French Paper Publishes an Apology and Admits It Broke the Law. Montreal, May 6.—Under the heading of "A Disavowal and an Excuse" Le Canada here this morning says:

There will be a greater Rosedale up the hill if you can get under the tracks and on to Dundas street. To the east Danforth avenue must be extended thru Scarborough to the Kingston road. Avenue road must be extended across the Belt Line ravine up to Eglinton avenue. St. Clair avenue car line must be taken east over the Reservoir Park ravine and on to Dundas street.

Along the rest of the front in France there have been no engagements of an unusual character, nor has the Italian front been attacked as yet by the Austrians who have gathered there.

Double street car fares are another great impediment. Other things follow close on their heels, blocked by a physical obstruction, or two car tickets, is made a thoroughfare with one ticket. Bathurst street came ought to go up the hill and to the north, a new diagonal street from the corner of College and Yonge northwesterly to the Rosedale viaduct.

The British forces which have been holding the town of Es-Salt, east of the Jordan and northeast of Jericho for about three weeks have been compelled again to abandon the place before superior forces of Turkish and German troops. The British, however, are still maintaining their control of the crossings of the Jordan further south.

Canadians take over sector from Neuville-Vitasse to St. Marc, south of the Scarpe River. Allies in Macedonia repulse Bulgarian reconnaissance on Dobropole and in the Deval Valley.

From the official reports and special dispatches filed by correspondents at the front, there come intimations that heavy fighting may be resumed at any moment. The fact that a great deal to do with the delay in the German drive, but the allies hold high ground from which they can observe the German positions, which are generally in the lowlands, and have kept up a heavy artillery fire in sectors where the Germans have been gathering or have been at work bringing up guns for the battle which is virtually certain to come.

There is a feeling along the French front that the Germans will attack in the Ypres, Arras and Amiens sectors at the same time. These blows, really carried out as a new attempt to cut thru the lines in the Somme sector, eliminate the Arras sector and carry the high ground to the southwest of Ypres.

It has been pointed out by observers that an attack on the Arras sector, either on the apex between Arras and Lens, or on the slopes of the allied lines as they stretch back from those cities, must come before the Germans can hope to carry their advance in either Flanders or Picardy much further. It is reported that heavy forces are being gathered before Arras for the expected attack.

The Summit of War Conditions.

People are feeling better in regard to the war; Germany is not winning on the west front; and prices of staples are beginning to go down. FRENCH FRONT QUIET.

Paris, May 6.—The war office announcement tonight says: "The opposing armies were quite heavily engaged north and south of the Avre, but there was no infantry action. Eastern theatre: Reciprocal artillery actions took place on different sectors. Enemy reconnaissances were repulsed on Dobropole and Deval valley."

Services Are Necessary.

Col. H. C. Bickford, M.D., No. 2, says the audience that the services of the Y.M.C.A. were most necessary, and Mayor Church added a brilliant tribute to the devotion and service which carried this organization as worthy of all the support which could be given to it.

AN IMPORTANT SERVICE.

Sir William Hearst reminded the audience that there had been many appeals made, none were of more importance than the one now being made. It was an appeal for the men who were bearing the brunt of the war, and that was due in no small degree to the work done by the Y.M.C.A. Association.

Mayor Church announced that the city had decided to make a grant of $75,000 towards the funds, because of the excellent services rendered at home, in the camp and on the battle line in Europe.

Capt. MacNeill welcomed Capt. John MacNeill's introduction, began Sir William, as he called upon the speaker of the evening, but he got no further for a moment, owing to the great applause which greeted the mention of the name.

Renewed applause came when he rose to speak. "I accept the welcome on behalf of the brave men at the front," he said.

"That part of Canada that is living France, thinking of you at home, and that part of Canada living at home is thinking of the men in France."

"Their minds have been drawn again to Toronto, its streets, its homes. But," he added, "they will not flinch when the trial comes."

He then turned to the Red Cross Society, the Army Medical Corps, the stretcher-bearers, the nurses, the chaplains, the service. When the story of the war came to be written it would be seen that the men had proven glorious in war.

"I tell them to hurry those reinforcements," he said, "and let the audience applaud enthusiastically."

"Be Good to Our Women." "I tell them to be good to our women at home," he said, "as the men become more serious, more anxious, more homesick, but the gist of them was: 'Tell them if they'll stand by us we'll see this thing through.'"

"The men who say that have a right to be listened to," said Capt. MacNeill. "The Y.M.C.A. has given him the chance to do his bit and he said of the organization that it was 'like a river in a dry place—rock in a stream.'"

"I touched upon the work of the Y.M.C.A. in England, where there were 76 places in operation. Sixteen were in hospitals, 25 in the forestry battalions."

"The Canadians had proven the best railway builders and the best forestry workers and in both cases the Y. M. C. A. was ably represented."

Keen, Alert Men. The speaker said of the Y.M.C.A. organization at the front, "It is composed of keen, alert, young business men, who had consecrated their lives to the work."

"It was the duty of an army to recuperate and for that reason recreation had to be provided. Last year the Y.M.C.A. spent $70,000 on athletic alone. Next year $150,000 would be spent the same way. Some 10,000,000 feet of film had passed through the motion picture machines; $5,000 was spent in concerts. That were 15 or 16 concert parties on the road all the time. A brigadier-general had said: 'The war will be won by concert—because the men relaxed and forgot the duties of the first line.'"

"No man came into the big cities today without stepping into a great zone of danger," said Captain MacNeill, as he emphatically told of the possibilities of a loving hand on the men, in London, the International League of Hostesses was composed of the women of the world, their homes to the boys on leave, and provided every comfort in order that the men might feel at home and find congenial surroundings."

In Paris there was a body of Canadian girls, who arranged everything in possible order that the men might be properly cared for while in that city. There, too, were the John Turners who organized the Medicine Hat. Having been rendered unfit for further service in the trenches, he was rendering a mighty service. And after night he was seen on the Paris streets warning the men on leave, helping them, and rescuing them from the human sharks, both male and female. His work is worth the $10,000 he has given to the parents of Canada," said Capt. MacNeill.

"Our work in the past has been of incalculable value," said the speaker to the Christian churches and homes of Canada. "Our work would be useless if it were not for that."

After reciting numerous incidents of gallantry, accuracy and heroism, Capt. MacNeill said it lay within the power of the people at home to back up the men in their detestable and noble work, and that by helping the Y.M.C.A. a tremendous applause showed unmitigatedly that the audience was in accord with the sentiments so ably expressed. The meeting was held in the Y.M.C.A. where $225,000 will be raised, was read.

of sympathy. The Duke of Devonshire, governor-general, was introduced as the patron of the Y.M.C.A. He said he esteemed it a great privilege to be associated with such an organization. He spoke of the services rendered by it in Halifax at the time of the disaster, and then alluded upon the greater service overseas.

However efficient a state organization may be, it is not sufficient to supply the same things the Y.M.C.A. supplies, there was a bond of sympathy which that body extended, without which success could not be obtained. It was the personal touch which was of such great value.

"I regard the Y.M.C.A. as a great trust which the people have taken upon themselves," said his excellency. "Great is the work of the Y.M.C.A. in the future, and we can look further ahead and the work of the Y. M. C. A. will prove one of the greatest assets of our future generations."

The meeting opened and closed with the singing of the national anthem.

FOR TRIANGLE WORK DURING THE WAR. Paris, May 6.—An international Y.M.C.A. conference was held in Paris today for the purpose of discussing methods for the best possible operation of "triangle" work during the war. More than fifty Y.M.C.A. officials attended, headed by Sir Arthur Yapp, director of food economy in England, and John S. Mott, of the Y.M.C.A. war work council. Representatives of France, Great Britain, Canada, Japan, China, Australia, New Zealand, India and America attended, and there were also representatives of the Y.M.C.A. forces at work among the Portuguese, Thaitian, Russian, Polish, African and Belgian troops.

The ground was canvassed thoroughly and reports from various fields were read, and it was decided, in addition to some matters of policy, to hold more frequent conferences.

The German submarine UC99 was sunk in the North Sea in March, 1917.

The UC99 was commanded by Otto Ehrentraut, who was a close friend of Prince Henry of Prussia and a frequent visitor to Prince Henry's castle at Kiel. Before Ehrentraut left Kiel in command of the new mine-laying submarine 99, Prince Henry came to the pier to wish the boat bon voyage.

The submarine left its base at midnight carrying several torpedoes and was on a quiet voyage. It was not long before it was sighted by a British destroyer. The submarine was sunk by a single torpedo, and the crew were killed.

The submarine secured her first victim by sinking the Norwegian steamship Hansknok (formerly the American Satilla), the crew of which escaped in boats. Next midnight the 39 sighted the British steamer Hanna Hansen, which was sunk by bombs after her captain and chief engineer were taken aboard the submarine as prisoners.

The next morning the Norwegian steamship Ida was sighted, and also the Ida stopped immediately. Ehrentraut gave personal orders to continue firing. When the German gun layer saw that the ship had stopped and several direct hits had already been made, according to this account, he asked if he could open fire on the steamer. Twenty-five rounds in all were fired, the last few at a range of less than 500 yards.

When the Germans finally ceased firing, one of the Ida's boats came alongside and announced that two men were on board. The submarine commander sent a boat over and found that both men were already dead, having been killed while lowering the boat. The Germans left the bodies where they lay and proceeded to sink the ship by bombs.

Two hours later the 39 opened fire on a steamer and trawler, but on diving lost them in the mist. About 1 p.m. the 39 came to the surface again and sighted a steamer. The mist had opened fire, but was answered almost immediately by a salvo from a British destroyer. The 39 had evidently met a stern end of things and she dived, but too late.

A depth charge struck her, causing a leak in the conning tower. Water poured into the control room and the crew became panic-stricken. The submarine rose sharply to the surface, only to receive a volley of shells from the destroyer. Ehrentraut and six others of the crew were killed. The destroyer halted the submarine and ordered her to halt. This being done, fire ceased, and seventeen survivors were taken off, as well as the two British prisoners, who were uninjured.

Nikolai Lenin and Leon Trotsky, in a joint declaration, have ordered single detachments in the southern republic to be disbanded immediately they pass the frontier of the Russian Soviet Republic, and that the advancing German-Haldamack troops be informed of this disarmament, and that there is no justification for the continuance of the fighting into the Russian Republic. They propose that an agreement shall be concluded for the immediate cessation of hostilities and the signing of the sound line. And in the German-Haldamack detachments "decline our offer and trample underfoot the conditions of the Brest-Litovsk treaty, we must declare our readiness to fight to the last drop of blood, mobilizing and arming the whole adult population of the menaced regions."

German disorganization from defeats both south of the Somme, and of Ypres is proving much worse than even the more sanguine of the allies first supposed. The enemy has had to replace all his battered divisions with fresh troops and he is sending his defeated forces to the rear. Some have taken over the positions before the Americans in Lorraine and these are making their presence known by sending up of constant flare alarms. Their extreme nervousness originates in their recent rough usage by the allies. The enemy means to become entangled in a losing venture, has to go on with his offensive. The Kaiser and his generals abhor the admission of defeat, it would destroy their credit at home and might even prove their undoing, for disillusionment comes after disaster and then the catastrophe.

Canadian divisions have taken up the guarding of a sector south of the River Scarpe. This is in addition to holding the front before Lens, and so upon the men of this country devolves the high honor of protecting the most important part of the British line. The Canadians are defending the right and left flanks of Vimy Ridge. Last year three divisions carried this ridge and the positions about Arras; this year ten German divisions failed to recover what they had lost after twelve months. The Canadian troops are fresh troops, not having been heavily engaged hitherto, and their presence in the new line marks the expectation of the allied supreme command that a strong German attack may come in this region. Von Below, who commanded the German troops which broke thru in Italy, is commanding the German troops in front of the Canadians.

Having accomplished his purpose of drawing the attention of the Germans and the Turks to their danger, General Allenby has withdrawn the Australians from Es-Salt to the banks of the Jordan. The British have disposed of the bulk of their forces on the western bank and left strong guards for the bridgehead established on the eastern bank. In their foray into Gilead the Australians captured 1000 Germans and Turks. They also inflicted heavy losses, killed and wounded. By displaying this activity General Allenby is plainly acting as a decoy, probably to permit the effecting of a surprise elsewhere.

Wadi Jerudun station marks the present limit of the Arab advance from Arabia to join up with the British. These fought a smart little action in this region and captured the line of the Hejaz Railway. Wadi Jerudun Junction lies north of Maan and Maan lies over 100 miles southeast of Jerusalem. The Arabs thus have still a considerable distance to traverse in order to come abreast of the British on the Jordan.

The food supply of Germany and Austria-Hungary is running shorter and shorter, so that, instead of being able to inflict casualties, the German politicians are only hopeful. They have broken their agreement with Austria-Hungary for provisioning from the Ukraine, and, in the usual German manner, they have diverted the supplies to Berlin. Austria had stipulated for these supplies first, but the more urgent needs of the German population. Windschreitz's fight broke out and there was bloodshed. Another clash at St. Jean also resulted in casualties. The events are bringing the empire closer to bankruptcy, civil war and revolution.

Berlin, London, May 6.—The statement issued by the war office today reads as follows: "In the Flanders fighting area we carried out successful operations. A local attack by the enemy south of Loos failed. Early this morning there was a temporary violent artillery duel between the British and the enemy. The day only the village of Kemmel was subjected to the strongest fire. On the northern bank of the Lys, at the La Bassee canal and in some sectors of the battlefield on both sides of the Somme artillery activity revived in the evening. Reconnoitering engagements and advances into the enemy's lines near Hangard and to the southwest of Brimont brought in some prisoners."

HOW A U-BOAT MET HER DOOM

Story of Destruction of Submarine by a British Destroyer.

WAS AFTER STEAMER In the Mist, Mistook British War Vessel for Her Prey.

London, May 6.—In connection with the German unrestricted submarine warfare, of which the sinking of the Lusitania is one of the most striking examples, an account has just reached London from a Dutch correspondent of the destruction of the German submarine UC99 by a British destroyer.

The German submarine UC99 was sunk in the North Sea in March, 1917.

The UC99 was commanded by Otto Ehrentraut, who was a close friend of Prince Henry of Prussia and a frequent visitor to Prince Henry's castle at Kiel. Before Ehrentraut left Kiel in command of the new mine-laying submarine 99, Prince Henry came to the pier to wish the boat bon voyage.

The submarine rose sharply to the surface, only to receive a volley of shells from the destroyer. Ehrentraut and six others of the crew were killed. The destroyer halted the submarine and ordered her to halt. This being done, fire ceased, and seventeen survivors were taken off, as well as the two British prisoners, who were uninjured.

Nikolai Lenin and Leon Trotsky, in a joint declaration, have ordered single detachments in the southern republic to be disbanded immediately they pass the frontier of the Russian Soviet Republic, and that the advancing German-Haldamack troops be informed of this disarmament, and that there is no justification for the continuance of the fighting into the Russian Republic. They propose that an agreement shall be concluded for the immediate cessation of hostilities and the signing of the sound line. And in the German-Haldamack detachments "decline our offer and trample underfoot the conditions of the Brest-Litovsk treaty, we must declare our readiness to fight to the last drop of blood, mobilizing and arming the whole adult population of the menaced regions."

German disorganization from defeats both south of the Somme, and of Ypres is proving much worse than even the more sanguine of the allies first supposed. The enemy has had to replace all his battered divisions with fresh troops and he is sending his defeated forces to the rear. Some have taken over the positions before the Americans in Lorraine and these are making their presence known by sending up of constant flare alarms. Their extreme nervousness originates in their recent rough usage by the allies. The enemy means to become entangled in a losing venture, has to go on with his offensive. The Kaiser and his generals abhor the admission of defeat, it would destroy their credit at home and might even prove their undoing, for disillusionment comes after disaster and then the catastrophe.

Canadian divisions have taken up the guarding of a sector south of the River Scarpe. This is in addition to holding the front before Lens, and so upon the men of this country devolves the high honor of protecting the most important part of the British line. The Canadians are defending the right and left flanks of Vimy Ridge. Last year three divisions carried this ridge and the positions about Arras; this year ten German divisions failed to recover what they had lost after twelve months. The Canadian troops are fresh troops, not having been heavily engaged hitherto, and their presence in the new line marks the expectation of the allied supreme command that a strong German attack may come in this region. Von Below, who commanded the German troops which broke thru in Italy, is commanding the German troops in front of the Canadians.

Having accomplished his purpose of drawing the attention of the Germans and the Turks to their danger, General Allenby has withdrawn the Australians from Es-Salt to the banks of the Jordan. The British have disposed of the bulk of their forces on the western bank and left strong guards for the bridgehead established on the eastern bank. In their foray into Gilead the Australians captured 1000 Germans and Turks. They also inflicted heavy losses, killed and wounded. By displaying this activity General Allenby is plainly acting as a decoy, probably to permit the effecting of a surprise elsewhere.

Wadi Jerudun station marks the present limit of the Arab advance from Arabia to join up with the British. These fought a smart little action in this region and captured the line of the Hejaz Railway. Wadi Jerudun Junction lies north of Maan and Maan lies over 100 miles southeast of Jerusalem. The Arabs thus have still a considerable distance to traverse in order to come abreast of the British on the Jordan.

GERMAN THREATS DRIVE EDITOR FROM MEXICO

New York, May 6.—Felix P. Palavicini, former owner and editor of El Universal, a prominent Mexican City newspaper, has returned today with his wife and family. Senor Palavicini said his departure from the Mexican capital was due to fears for his life and the safety of his family at the hands of German propagandists.

El Universal has been a consistent pro-ally journal, and according to the report the pro-Germans were raised to such a pitch against him that his life was repeatedly threatened. It was asserted by Senor Palavicini that the German propagandists are expending large sums of money in Mexico to influence opinion against the entente allies.

Senor Palavicini up to a year ago held the portfolio of the minister of instruction and fine arts in President Carranza's cabinet.

The Hague Reports a Neutral Emissary Offering Certain Conditions in England.

London, May 6.—The proposals made by Jonkheer Cohn, Germany's peace emissary to England, a despatch from The Hague reports, are said there to have been as follows:

1. Germany to renounce all claims in the west.

2. Alsace-Lorraine to be autonomous, within the German Federation.

3. The status in the east to remain as at present.

4. Austria to make certain concessions to Italy in the Trentino.

5. Balkan questions to be solved by a conference of all the belligerents.

6. All colonial questions affecting Africa and Asia Minor to be settled by a conference of all the belligerents.

7. Germany to renounce her protectorate of Kiaochow, but in exchange to receive certain economic concessions in China.

What Washington Says. Washington, May 6.—Ambassador Page at London reported the points of this latest peace offer to the state department by cable, but it was said that the communication was regarded by the department as news rather than as something requiring official attention. As a matter of course, however, it probably will be the subject of private consultation between the entente governments and America.

It is known that from time to time the state department has been informed thru unofficial sources that influential persons in Holland were in position whenever the American Government cared to discuss the subject, to submit outlines of possible peace plan which would correctly represent the extent of the concessions which Germany would be willing to make.

MOTHER BY ADOPTION TO SEND MAN TO WAR. New York, May 6.—The desire to send a mother's soldier to the front with the parting memory of a mother's smile was one of the motives that led Mrs. Jessie May Burgoyne, a widow of this city, to take up the pen and write a letter to the military authorities that ought to curb the desire of any desiring to take "French leave."

McCrue, who is 24 years of age, and whose home is in the west, stated that he had deserted from Halifax, by getting thru a port hole a few hours before the transport sailed. He managed to get rid of his uniform and fear of the police made him leave and cover up his trail. Every time he would get a position, he would have to leave. Finally he reached Hamilton, but had hardly got used to the ambitious city when the military police located him in an east-end factory that he had just left.

Plans for continuing their strike were made at a meeting of the molders and coremakers this morning. The men were enrolled and strike pay amounting to $960, to be augmented by other benefits, will commence after the first workless week.

Between 200 and 300 men are out and the following shops are affected: Brown-Boggs, Sawyer-Massey Co., Garthore-Thompson Co., Otis Fensom Elevator Co., Canada Iron Corporation, Hamilton Foundry Co., Kerr and Coombs Co. and Garland Stove Co.

Statute Labor Tax. As a result of the statute labor tax, the busiest place at the city hall is the wicket where those obligated under the new tax are lined up. The hundreds who slip their five-spot across to the cashier. When the "doing business" sign was hung out this morning there were already over a hundred in line, the majority being foreigners. In fact, the rush continued so heavy during the day that arrangements had to be made with the market branch of the Bank to handle the water rate taxes. Up to the present over $10,000 has been taken in thru the new tax.

Red Triangle Fund. Prominent business men of this city who will put the Red Triangle fund for $75,000 over the top commencing tomorrow, completed their organization at a meeting in Robinson's tonight. Rev. Dr. Kirtle, British army chaplain, compared the British army in the field today to the Ironsides of Cromwell in morals, discipline and spirit.

And your Maple Leaf boys are as good as any, and it is for them that this work is being done. No charity, but a thank offering for what your boys are doing. May you go over to victory!" he said.

Tu hundred and fifty men will work the city, which will be divided into six districts under the following captains: W. E. Goring, objective, $15,000; R. L. Smith, $11,000; Ralph Ripley, $8,600; A. L. Thompson, $6,000; E. Enlow, $15,000; J. W. King, $3,000.

Meets the Situation. For the purpose of discussing the firm labor situation that has occurred thru the order-in-council calling out men from 22 to 23 years, Warden Mahoney, chairman of the agricultural section of the Hamilton Board of Trade, has called a special meeting for Thursday night.

"The new draft will be hard on some farmers, and we will have to make extraordinary efforts to recruit help," said the warden.

Chicago Cabarets End Existence. Chicago, May 6.—With scarcely a flicker of the white lights to mark their passing, every cabaret in the city officially ended its existence at 12.01 o'clock tonight.

At that hour the new ordinance divorcing intoxicating liquor and entertainment, and barring dancing and practically all forms of amusement in places where intoxicating liquors are sold, went into effect.

Of the five hundred cabarets affected, a few closed their doors for good, more decided to serve soft drinks and retain dancing and amusement programs, and the remainder will continue serving intoxicating liquor and provide only orchestral music, which is permitted by law.

No Sign of Peace, Germans Bewail. Letters From Home to Enemy Soldiers Breathe People's Resignation. With the British Army in France, May 6.—Interesting comments by German civilians have been furnished from an enemy mail bag captured by the British before it was delivered to the soldiers along a section of the Flanders front. Almost without exception, references are made in letters to the stoppage of leave and the parcel post from the front. The tone is resigned rather than recalcitrant. One letter from Berlin, dated April 25, said: "Peace does not seem to be coming along as we fondly hoped. All this the west is too wicked, for anything. Four years of it now and the sign of the end. We hope every day it will come to a decision and that the British will be driven into the North Sea, but they stand firm."

"We have such a scarcity of abuses in Ettingen it is impossible to get them. If there are any in Belgium please send me a postcard, a letter dated in Ettingen on April 26. "Are you not coming home on leave soon? How much longer is it going to last?" reads the letter. A note from Rhumeltinge, dated April 23, says: "The mustering of the 1920 class took place here last Friday. Most of them were accepted."

U.S. INVESTIGATE AIRPLANE INDUSTRY

President Wilson Orders Enquiry to Search for Graft and Mismanagement.

TO CLEAR INNOCENT MEN Sculptor Blames Expenditure of Funds and German Intrigue For Delays.

Washington, May 6.—Talk of graft and mismanagement in the national airplane construction campaign heard for months in senate debate and capital lobby gossip, culminated today in a presidential order for an investigation into the expenditure of funds and German intrigue for delays.

The White House, in announcing President Wilson's action, made public a telegram dated Saturday from Howard Coffin, former chairman of the aircraft board, urging an official inquiry "that reputations of innocent letters and telegrams exchanged between the president and Gáston Borgium, the sculptor, to whom is attributed responsibility for statements that corruption in the expenditure of funds and pro-German intrigue has hindered airplane production. There also was a letter written by the president today to Senator Thomas of Colorado, a member of the senate military committee, assuring him that every instrumentality of the department of justice will be used to pursue charges of dishonesty or malversation of any kind if Mr. Borgium's allegations are found worthy of serious consideration. Senator Thomas laid before the president last week a memorandum to members of the committee by the sculptor.

Hamilton News. Deserter Dodges Police for Weeks. Trooper McCrae Left Job After Job, Fearing He Was Known.

Hamilton, May 6.—When Trooper Stanley McCrae of the Seventh Canadian Mounted Rifles was taken in charge by the Dominion Police this afternoon on a charge of deserting from his unit in October, 1917, he told a story of dodging the military authorities that ought to curb the desire of any desiring to take "French leave."

McCrue, who is 24 years of age, and whose home is in the west, stated that he had deserted from Halifax, by getting thru a port hole a few hours before the transport sailed. ## OVERSEAS MINISTER VISITS CANADIANS

Sir Edward Kemp Expresses Appreciation of High Spirit Shown.

(By W. S. Willison.)
Canadian Army Headquarters, May 6.—Visiting the Canadians who they hold their hard won positions in front of Vimy Ridge Sir Edward Kemp, minister overseas for the military forces of Canada, has been the guest for a few days of Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian army at the battle front. Sir Edward dined with the Canadians last night, meeting the senior officers at headquarters. Today he was the guest of Sir Douglas Haig, returning to the Canadian headquarters afterwards. No official reviews or inspections have marred the informal nature, which, while official, has been of an informal nature.
Interviewed by your correspondent, Sir Edward expressed the highest appreciation of the splendid work of the Canadian forces during the recent great battle weeks, when, while nec-

GERMAN AVIATORS SHUN AIR COMBATS

British Squadron Has One Wounded in Six Weeks' Fighting.

London, May 6.—Wounded British aviators back from France report that the squadron operating in an important sector on the Aemlens front has probably established a record by bringing down 106 enemy machines in six weeks, including twenty-one on one day.
The only member of the squadron known to have been wounded up to the time, this man returned to London said it was hard work getting the German aviators to fight. "Practically the only times they would come out," he said, "were about 9 o'clock in the morning, when the glare of the sun would be in our faces, and in the evening. Even then they would slip away if they had half a chance."
"The supreme confidence of our fellows is half the battle. During the German offensive they have been doing four 'shows' a day, returning only for ammunition and an occa-

COLORED MEN IN DINING CARS.

Winnipeg, May 6.—With the object of releasing men for more important work elsewhere, the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. has decided to place colored men upon its dining cars in the positions of waiters and cooks. The change will be made as soon as the men are secured.

On Parliament Hill

BY TOM KING

Ottawa, May 6.—Sir Sam Hughes resumed the budget debate this afternoon. He was suffering from a severe cold and explained to the house that his deliberation on that account must be brief.

"We have two ministers of militia," said Sir Sam amid cheers and applause from the opposition. "and this one in Ottawa is a mighty good fellow, but we have hundreds and hundreds of officers in England doing the work that in my time was done by 27 men."

Then he proceeded to remove the halo which he thought wrongly encircled the head of the minister of finance. He believed that Sir Thomas had paid entirely too much interest on his $45,000,000 loan in New York, and had permitted gamblers and speculators to make money out of the last Victory Loan.

There had been a great waste of time and money in passing the Military Service Act. If the Militia Act had been brought into force by order-in-council a year ago we would have secured 200,000 men and have had them overseas by this time.

Beaches

belonged to the C.N.R. absolutely. The Electrical Development Company had a right of way running parallel to the Toronto, Niagara and Western Railway Company.

Col. Currie moved that the bill be referred back to committee so that opportunity would be given for a discussion on this point. Speaker Rhodes, however, would not allow this on the third reading, and the bill was carried.

There was first, he said, the national service commission, a costly white elephant, which had accomplished nothing useful for the country. Then there was the home defence corps, an organization which was just a paper charge of his old-time enemy, M. E. Nicholls, as director of public information.

They were asked if they would like to cable their folks and say they were on their way home. Of course, they were all anxious to do so and 1500 cablegrams were accordingly despatched.

HELPING FARMERS GET GOOD WATER

Pure Water Campaign About to Be Started by the Province.

SHOWS WHERE TO DRILL

Electrical Device Saves Unnecessary Expense in Sinking Wells.

Ontario's water supply in the rural sections is receiving the attention of the department of agriculture, and a campaign is about to be waged which will have as its object the bettering of conditions in this regard. From recent tests it has been found that much of the well water is impure, and realizing that the water is so important as food of the people it is to be healthy, it has been decided to launch an educative movement. Any farmer in Ontario may have an analysis made of the water on his farm by sending to the Agricultural College, Guelph. In reply he will be told the state of the water and what to do to purify it. Only when the water is found to be impure will the department be asked to secure plans and specifications for installing a hydraulic ram or other forms of water supplies, and information will be furnished as to the proper method of drilling. In the past the farmers have had great difficulty in locating water, and thousands of dollars have been spent in drilling without result. There is now an electrical device at the Agricultural College which any farmer may use, and which will show definitely the proper place to drill. It has been used successfully in India and New Zealand, locating as many as 27 wells without a miss. This device will be loaned on application, and may be purchased at very moderate cost.

RED TRIANGLE CAMPAIGN GETS COUNCIL GRANT

A large deputation of prominent business men and Y.M.C.A. workers met the board of control yesterday prior to the session of the city council, and asked the council to consider the appeal for $75,000 asked of the city in behalf of the Red Triangle Club. Among those who spoke were R. G. Wood, Major Kirkpatrick, Colonel McKendrick, and others. The amount was decidedly small in view of the needs of the soldiers. R. J. Wood pointed out that the legislature had donated $100,000 this year, and that Renfrew, York and Middlesex Counties had given anywhere from $15,000 to $30,000 toward the cause. The council later granted the $75,000 asked for, Aldermen Blackburn, Weir and Birdsell being the only opponents of the grant. Seventeen councilmen took the vote. Among the deputation were the following: G. H. Wood, chairman of the executive, Toronto campaign; A. B. Ames, chairman of the provincial committee; G. A. Warburton, organizer for Canada; W. K. McNaught, Thomas Findley, W. A. Kemp, J. L. Chase, S. J. Moore, James Ryle, F. M. Murphy, J. W. Corcoran, A. T. Reid, Albert Brown, Major Kilpatrick, Col. W. B. McKendrick, D.S.O.; Col. F. H. Kidney Disease and Swelling

Of a Dropsical Nature Caused Much Suffering and Anxiety, But Complete Cure Was Effected by This Well-Known Treatment.

Egerton, Ont., May 6.—This letter not only proves the effectiveness of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the cure of serious derangements of the kidneys, but also shows that such troubles result from constipation and sluggish liver action. It is in complicated cases of this kind that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills show their superiority over ordinary kidney medicines, and this is due to their combined action on kidneys, liver and bowels. Miss Lizzie E. Gibson, Egerton, Ont., writes: "I was a great sufferer from kidney disease, headache and constipation. The trouble was of a dropsical nature, as my legs would swell up and I could scarcely walk. The doctor did not seem to help me, so I started to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. It took about five boxes to cure me, but I am now completely cured. I have no headache or swelling now. The doctor said I do not have to get up in the night now, and am satisfied that the cure is thorough. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25c a box, $1.00, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Be sure to see the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., on the box you buy. All others are imitations and substitutes."

Godfrey, superintendent of registration for central Ontario in the following words: "You are to be congratulated on successful registration. Cooperation of teachers in Toronto is deeply appreciated."

MANY NATIONALITIES OBSERVE THEIR EASTER

On Sunday the Greek Orthodox Church observed its Easter. The Slav community, Russians, Bulgarians, Serbians and Montenegrins, in the little church to celebrate the Rising of the Lord.

Altho the countries representing the nations at war with each other, perfect harmony prevailed amongst the worshippers. Serb greeted Bulgaria with "Christos vos creant" (Christ is arisen), to which the reply was "Istani vos creant" (Certainly He is arisen).

There friendly greetings were a happy augury of the good spirit which will rise triumphant out of the pain and sorrow of the crucifixion of Serbia and a Bulgaria sold for thirty pieces of silver. This theme was expatiated upon by Bishop Theophilus in his discourse.

The bishop, who is a Bulgarian, is a well educated man and quite up-to-date in his views. He is a leader of the Jug-Slav movement which aims at uniting all the southern Slav nations in one solid state for the purpose of protection against the aggression of the central empires and a German coalition.

In the course of his address he reminded his flock of the liberty they enjoyed under the British flag. "You came here, you were not asked for your every movement, you received the privileges of British citizenship and the protection of British laws. Only when Bulgaria took sides with Germany were you Bulgars restricted in any way and that with the least possible annoyance and with no disaster."

T.S.R. TO SUPPLY RAILS FOR VIADUCT

Enough to Complete Pape Avenue Extension Cannot Be Secured.

The city council at yesterday's session passed favorably upon the recommendation of R. C. Harris, commissioner of works, to buy from the Toronto Street Railway sufficient amount of 90-pound rails to build a street railway line from Danforth to Broadview, along the viaduct to Sherbourne street without a dissentient vote. It was understood that work would proceed as fast as circumstances would permit. In his letter Mr. Harris had pointed out that the Toronto Street Railway had received orders from the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board to get sufficient rails to construct a line from Gerrard and Carlaw to the corner of Danforth and Pape via Langley avenue. Owing to the exigencies of the war it has been impossible to get sufficient steel to carry out this order. There were, however, sufficient 90-pound rails to construct the line along the viaduct from Danforth to Parliament and R. J. Fleming, on behalf of the Toronto Street Railway, had offered to sell them to the city for the purpose, provided the city council would authorize the purchase by the city.

LARGE DEPUTATION WAITS ON COUNCIL

Representatives of Many Organizations Protest Reducing Health Estimates.

A large deputation comprising representatives from almost thirty organizations of all classes, and headed by Dr. Wishart, Professor Wrong, of Toronto University; R. G. Amos, of the Greater Toronto Labor Party, and Rev. Dr. Bryce, of Eastcourt, waited upon the city council yesterday afternoon to request that that body grant an overdraft of $22,000 to be used by the health department of the city, to re-instate the nurses and doctors who had been laid off from the staff because the council at its last session had cut down the estimates and therefore prevented the department from continuing the offices held by these doctors and nurses. By a motion of 11 to 8 the council refused to suspend the rules to discuss the motion presented by the deputation along the lines stated above. The motion was therefore made a notice of motion, and will be presented at the next session of the city council.

Among those present on behalf of the deputation were Dr. Gordon Bates, Mrs. A. M. Huestis, Professor Wrong, Mrs. Hodgson, Mrs. Prenter, Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, B. Amos, Neighbourhood House, the labor unions, the Y.M.C.A., the Salvation Army, the Local Council of Women, representing 75 different organizations, and the Big Sister Association.

All the speakers paid their tribute to the efficiency of the medical officer of health, Dr. C. J. O. Hastings, and one of them pointed out that while the death rate for infants under one year of age in Montreal during 1917 was 3,488 per hundred thousand, only 1,110 had been recorded in Toronto during the same period. During 1909 there had been 182 deaths per 1,000 among infants of one year, as against only 89 deaths during 1917. It was pointed out that 216 cases of typhoid fever per hundred thousand population, as against only 20 in 1917. All these facts, the speakers said, pointed to the efficiency of the system guided by Dr. C. J. O. Hastings, who had considerably improved the system of notification. The speakers emphasized their opinion that the system of reducing the expenditure economy of the health department by $22,000 was the most foolish sort of misjudgment on the part of the city council.

ALDERMEN UNANIMOUS TO ABOLISH SENATE

The vote of the city council was unanimous in favor of the abolition of the senate, proposed by Ald. H. H. Ball and seconded by Controller McBride to request the Dominion Government to have the British North America Act amended so as to abolish the senate once and for all. However only twelve voted upon the question, and, like the vote upon the alien conscription, altho there was an unanimous vote of the council, the senate was not abolished at the time the vote was taken, and there was some doubt as to whether or not either resolution carried. The resolution was an unanimous one, and also included the order to have the resolution sent out to every municipality in the Dominion. Alderman Ball stated that he knew of no country where the higher body was so unnecessary in touch with public needs and desires as that of Canada. He felt that the resolution would appeal to the council with emphasis, and in this juncture, when every municipality in Canada had been treated disgracefully by this body of men voted into office by the profiteers and vested interests of the country. This body of pseudo-legislators, Mr. Ball said, had given the rights of the municipalities over to the power companies; it had in the years gone by vetoed the desired wishes of the electorates to have three drearoughts built for the nation, and no single instance could be cited in which the senate had proved its need today.

CITY COUNCIL FAVORS CONSCRIPTION OF ALIENS

By a vote of eight to one the city council yesterday afternoon passed a resolution proposed by Alderman Plewman to have the council place itself on record as being in favor of the conscription of the enemy alien along the lines suggested by the G. W. V. A. at a recent meeting held in the City Hall. This vote signified the approval of the city council of the plan to industrially conscript the enemy alien at the rate of pay enjoyed by the soldier at the front, and to have him paid by the factory at current wages, all moneys remaining to be turned over into a fund or to any fund supervised by the government for the purpose of carrying on the war. The enemy alien, the alderman said, should be placed upon the farms and where they could do little damage. Friendly aliens should be conscripted for the field of battle under terms of agreement with their respective governments which were now being seriously considered by all the allied governments except the possible exception of Russia.

Alderman Joe Gibbons was out against the resolution because it would in his estimation tend largely to lower the standard of both wages and living, and having this fact in mind would prove especially injurious to the returned soldier, who in most cases had come back less fitted to fight the battle of the workshop than when he had gone over to the front. This man, said the alderman, would be expected to compete against the alien ready to accept any wage going, and would therefore become a prey to the rapacity of the profiteer.

MILLING COMPANY LOSES STABLES AND HORSES

Fire of unknown origin breaking out in the stables of the Peerless Milling Co., near of 462 Dufferin street, on Oct. 2 last, and completely destroyed the building and burned two horses locked in the stable. The estimated value of the property was about $900, altho no definite estimate could be given by the officials of the company. It was entirely covered by insurance.

Twenty-five tons of hay and a large quantity of oats and flour were in the stables, which rapidly consumed the building. The stable was a two-story structure. The water pressure was good, however, and the firemen soon had the flames under control. The two horses which were burned to death were used for delivery purposes. It was impossible to save them owing to the rapidity with which the flames consumed the entire structure. The building was owned by W. D. Adams, of Toronto. This is the second milling company in Toronto to suffer the loss of its stables within the last few weeks.

HUNS SHELL Y.M.C.A's

Germans Realize Immense Value to Our Morale—Trail of the Painted Posts

"THE Germans realize the strengthening of morale that has grown out of the work of the Y.M.C.A. Secretaries, and German guns are now trained upon the Y.M.C.A. huts, and every effort is being made to smash them out of existence."—Literary Digest.

The above report by Rev. Allan McRossie, a member of an American commission sent over to France, is a supreme demonstration of the value of the Y.M.C.A. to the cause of the Allies.

German Prisoner Speaks

A German prisoner declared, "The reason you fellows show such fight is easily understood. Your officers, cantens and Y.M.C.A.'s and padres are backing you up. You have every reason to fight with such support close behind you."

Trail of the Painted Posts

Writes Bruce Barton in the "Boston Transcript":

"On the day before the big push, the engineers plant a line of painted white posts a few yards apart, leading from the rear straight to the borders of No Man's Land."

"They are to guide the walking wounded. Eyes blurred with blood and suffering that might lose the road can follow the trail of those painted posts; bodies too weak from shell shock or gas to stand alone can find there a momentary support."

Over the Top

"Just before they reach the front trench—at the very front, under the fire of the big guns themselves—each man pauses for just a second at a dugout."

"From it a hand reaches out: in the hand a piece of chocolate for each man, to be eaten in case he falls wounded in No Man's Land. Hearty 'Good Luck, and God bless you.' It is with this, the voice of the Y.M.C.A. Secretary, ringing in their ears, that men go 'over the top.'"

"An hour passes; two hours. And slowly, painfully, draggingly they come back. Bleeding, staggering men, following the trail of the painted posts."

"And they stop at the Y.M.C.A. dugout first. It lies nearest the guns. Nearer than the doctor or hospital. There every man gets a cup of hot tea if he wants it."

Giving Their Lives

"Sometimes the dugout is shelled, and a Y.M.C.A. Secretary loses his life; two went out together on one day recently."

"It is part of the game; they ask for no sympathy; they ask not even for pay; many of them are working for nothing at all."

"All they ask is for money to 'carry on.'"

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

"THE LAND OF PROMISE" HAS CANADIAN SITTING For her second offering in Toronto this season, Phyllis Nelson-Terray, whose popularity with local theatre-goers dates back to the days of "Trilby," is starred in a play from the pen of W. Somerset Maugham, the well-known English playwright. The new vehicle, "The Land of Promise," being presented at the Princess, is a play in four acts dealing with life in the Canadian prairie as seen thru the eyes of a cultured English girl arriving direct from a cathedral town in England.

Norah Marah (Miss Terry) has been companion to crochety old Mr. Wickham, who committed the common sin of good intentions postponed in her will with devoted companionship in his full years of service. Norah makes up her mind to turn her back on the land of promise—Canada, where her husband has been a pioneer and out, and whose sharp practical temperance is hopelessly at variance with that of the English girl. In a suspension of fury and outrage, Norah turns to Frank (John McParlane), who has announced himself as on the lookout for a wife, whose chief virtue shall be her practicality rather than beauty (barring aught else, gump!) who has been the butt of Norah's ridicule and jibes. Taylor accuses her of being a practical rather than a woman who has proved intolerable to her. His shack first on the prairie is a small comfortable abode which she accepts at first with resignation, but when she discovers that her acceptance of it includes that of Taylor as her husband, she turns and goes, and only when she has the opportunity of going back to England does she realize that she has been working for the future of the prairie.

Another husband has taken up the challenge of the real life, and with his way thru to victory, and, filled with that great vision, she realizes that she loves him and that her life lies with him in that future.

RUTH CLIFFORD TAKES LEAD AT HIPPODROME "Hungry Eyes" the big film in which Ruth Clifford takes the leading role, and shown at Sheas Hippodrome this week, is a tale of the western cattle lands in which the pistol is used rather freely. When all rivals are out of the way the girl marries the man she has learned to love. Miss Clifford plays her part in her usual finished style.

Another film, "The Adventures of Anne and the Children of Peace," offers a chance for a laugh, as it deals with two men of the same name stopping at a summer hotel, when their affairs get mixed up.

In the vaudeville section Laddie Lamont does some wonderful balancing on his ladder. The Duquesne Comedy Four sing well and provide a little new music. Presenting features, and some clever work is done by a child magician, Weber and Barton, in their "New Magic" presentation, bordering on the burlesque. Treeferry and Minor have a piano and singing turn which is fair, and Gates and Finley in songs and jokes complete a good bill.

ELSIIE FERGUSON AT ALLEN THEATRE In "The Lie" which is the film feature at the Allen Theatre this week, Elsie Ferguson is seen in a problem play which shows a sacrificing sister in a truly heroic light. The acting of Miss Ferguson is excellent, and that of Percy Marmont as "No Doubt," is particularly good. The uselessness of indulging in sin is clearly revealed, and the play may serve a useful purpose.

Willie Hopkins and his talking act are shown, and "Whose Baby are You?" is the comedy. The Allen Screen Telegraph and beautiful musical numbers complete the program.

THEDA BARA SEEN IN "GREATEST LOVE" Theda Bara, known to all film patrons as one of the greatest of stars, is seen at the Strand Theatre for the first half of this week in "Her Greatest Love." As can be imagined from the title, the play is one which was written especially for Miss Bara, and the absorbing love scenes give her emotional play large scope. It is based on Ouida's novel, "Moths."

"FOLLIES OF THE DAY" REALLY SOMETHING NEW For some time burlesque agents have been promising something new, and at last it can be said that in one case, at least, they have come across in Barney Gerard's "Follies of the Day," which opened at the Gayety Theatre yesterday for the usual period.

The management, in an endeavor to provide the public with the "something new" they have been demanding, are presenting "Oh, You Shakespeare," which embraces a show of things new in the burlesque and burlesque acts are the order of the day, and are seen to best advantage in this stupendous burlesque production. All of the latest New York stage success are cleverly burlesqued, and their funny side brought out by the staff of clever comedians with the show.

Gratitude Hayes, that magnetic star, who is the feature of the bill, has a clever dancing company. Chester Nelson and Frank Massey, as well as many others, help balance a good cast.

AT THE MADISON. Madge Kennedy is always delightful in the Goldwyn picture, "The Danger Game," which is being shown at the Madison Theatre the first half of this week. She shows that she is an actress of some versatility. For in the role of a society girl who becomes an amateur burglar she achieves such a distinct success as in any quite a new "little white" part. The bill also includes the ever-popular "Fatty" Arbuckle in "The Bell Boy," a very diverting comedy.

PRIVATE PEAT TONIGHT. Like all war lectures—and it is about his only point in common with them—Private Peat is asked "When will the war end?" "Can the Germans break thru?" He doesn't pretend to know the former, but he is very emphatic on the latter point. "If the Hun couldn't break thru in 1914-15, when we held that line with raw recruits, mess-boys, transport men and cooks, when the odds were ten to one, what chance have they now? None. Why in those early days we had practically no big guns. The Hun could strike us all he wanted to, and we had no answer but to reply, the only answer we got was 'Aw, how could you do that?'"

Private Peat is coming to Toronto today, and will speak at Massey Hall under the auspices of the Great War Veterans.

"HERE COMES THE BRIDE" IS SCREAMINGLY FUNNY There was an hilarious time at the Royal Alexandra last night when "Here Comes the Bride," the screamingly funny farce comedy by Max Marlin and Roy Atwell, was produced for the first time by a stock company. There was a perfect riot of laughter during the second act, and the curtain calls were innumerable, afterwards the whole company being called twice, and then every member individually twice over, and finally Mr. Robins for a speech, in which he promised other good things for the future. The company is playing up to its talents to a greater degree than before, and the good points were made with greater spontaneity and wit. The various members of the cast fit into each other's play more considerably and altogether the piece went with the smoothness that we expect from the company later in the season, but which Mr. Robins has this year achieved earlier than might have been expected. Highly painstaking work was done by Lynn Pratt, Jack Amory, Mortimer H. Weidon, John Maurice Sullivan and Thomas E. Jacobs. Miss Helen Travers once again distinguished herself in an eccentric comedy part with a freak make-up. Her scene with Edward H. Robins was so funny that the man in the audience, who had been on the stage, Miss Elsie Bartlett and Miss Bertha J. Blake took the ingenue part with charm and vivacity. Mr. Robins has gathered around him the best company of his career, and with pieces like "Here Comes the Bride" he should be crowded over every performance.

"SEVEN DAYS' LEAVE" OPENS SECOND WEEK "Seven Days' Leave," the massive naval-military melodrama which last night entered upon its second week at the Grand, bids fair to lose nothing in point of popularity by its three weeks' appeal to the national sentiment of the Canadian people. Last night the popular playhouse was filled to capacity by an audience that sat spellbound by the vivid portraiture of naval and military scenes, realistic in the extreme. The play throut is singularly free from anything of an objectionable nature, and the company is more than ordinarily capable and well balanced. "Seven Days' Leave" will be at the Grand all this week and next, and Torontonians who want to see something of surpassing interest and depicting with the spirit of the times, ought not to miss this opportunity.

WORKING OF SYSTEM OF GERMAN AGENTS "An Alien Enemy," the feature film which forms a part of the attractions this week at Loew's Grand Street Theatre and Winter Garden, is a photoplay of great interest and excellence. Captivity audiences greeted the opening performances at Loew's yesterday. The photoplay features talented Louise Glaum as Neysa von Igel, an American orphan girl, educated in Germany, but later brought to the United States to participate in the working out of Hun schemes for the frustration of America giving full aid to the allies. At last, when the scene is shifted to France, Neysa von Igel realizes the United States soldiers are there to aid in bringing about freedom for humanity, and refuses to obey the demands of the German dictators. Several pictures showing United States troops marching thru French villages are quite impressive. Loew's yesterday. "JOAN OF PLATTSBURG" THIS WEEK AT REGENT The Regent is showing this week one of the best war films yet produced. Madge Kennedy as "Joan of Plattsburg," plays the part of an orphan girl who lives and works close by the great United States military camp of Plattsburg, where she has grown up. She craves her desire to "also serve." An accidental acquaintance with an officer results in her ownership of the story of "Joan of Arc," and soon she is provided with an opportunity to emulate her heroine in the thrilling capture of enemy spies and the saving to her country of five planes. The acquaintance, of course, ripens into love; and the departure and homecoming of "the boys," including her own, makes the picture a sentimental one of the audience to a high level.

Arthur George is heard in "For You Alone," and orchestral numbers with a comedy film called "On the Jump" make up an excellent program.

STAR SHOULD PLEASE EVERYONE THIS WEEK The Star Theatre patrons were out in full force last night to pay tribute to that great and exceptional production which features the one and only Irish comedian, Pat White, who has made his mark as a comedian with his "Gaiety Girls."

While it has been said in theatrical circles that the name "Pat White" would draw a crowd regardless of the rest of the company, the management have not taken advantage of this famous star's name and have a production with a cast that certainly in next Monday evening, and all indications point to a capacity audience for that occasion. The artists appearing will be Madam Alda, soprano; Miss Lazari, contralto; Mr. Martinelli, tenor; and Mr. De Luca, baritone. These four vocal stars will be supplemented by Gennaro Papi, conductor of the Metropolitan Opera House, who will be the accompanist. Such a combination of famous singers has not been seen in Toronto for several years.

STAR SHOULD PLEASE EVERYONE THIS WEEK The Star Theatre patrons were out in full force last night to pay tribute to that great and exceptional production which features the one and only Irish comedian, Pat White, who has made his mark as a comedian with his "Gaiety Girls."

While it has been said in theatrical circles that the name "Pat White" would draw a crowd regardless of the rest of the company, the management have not taken advantage of this famous star's name and have a production with a cast that certainly in next Monday evening, and all indications point to a capacity audience for that occasion. The artists appearing will be Madam Alda, soprano; Miss Lazari, contralto; Mr. Martinelli, tenor; and Mr. De Luca, baritone. These four vocal stars will be supplemented by Gennaro Papi, conductor of the Metropolitan Opera House, who will be the accompanist. Such a combination of famous singers has not been seen in Toronto for several years.

"SEVEN DAYS' LEAVE" OPENS SECOND WEEK "Seven Days' Leave," the massive naval-military melodrama which last night entered upon its second week at the Grand, bids fair to lose nothing in point of popularity by its three weeks' appeal to the national sentiment of the Canadian people. Last night the popular playhouse was filled to capacity by an audience that sat spellbound by the vivid portraiture of naval and military scenes, realistic in the extreme. The play throut is singularly free from anything of an objectionable nature, and the company is more than ordinarily capable and well balanced. "Seven Days' Leave" will be at the Grand all this week and next, and Torontonians who want to see something of surpassing interest and depicting with the spirit of the times, ought not to miss this opportunity.

WORKING OF SYSTEM OF GERMAN AGENTS "An Alien Enemy," the feature film which forms a part of the attractions this week at Loew's Grand Street Theatre and Winter Garden, is a photoplay of great interest and excellence. Captivity audiences greeted the opening performances at Loew's yesterday. The photoplay features talented Louise Glaum as Neysa von Igel, an American orphan girl, educated in Germany, but later brought to the United States to participate in the working out of Hun schemes for the frustration of America giving full aid to the allies. At last, when the scene is shifted to France, Neysa von Igel realizes the United States soldiers are there to aid in bringing about freedom for humanity, and refuses to obey the demands of the German dictators. Several pictures showing United States troops marching thru French villages are quite impressive. Loew's yesterday. "JOAN OF PLATTSBURG" THIS WEEK AT REGENT The Regent is showing this week one of the best war films yet produced. Madge Kennedy as "Joan of Plattsburg," plays the part of an orphan girl who lives and works close by the great United States military camp of Plattsburg, where she has grown up. She craves her desire to "also serve." An accidental acquaintance with an officer results in her ownership of the story of "Joan of Arc," and soon she is provided with an opportunity to emulate her heroine in the thrilling capture of enemy spies and the saving to her country of five planes. The acquaintance, of course, ripens into love; and the departure and homecoming of "the boys," including her own, makes the picture a sentimental one of the audience to a high level.

Arthur George is heard in "For You Alone," and orchestral numbers with a comedy film called "On the Jump" make up an excellent program.

WILD FLOWERS

BY Rachael R. Todd, M.D.

THE MAY APPLE—THE MANDRAKE. Podophyllum peltatum.

Oh there are spirits in the air, And gentle ghosts, with eyes as fair As star beams among twilight trees.

This week and next should find the forest floors well-strewn with the old familiar May apple, just beginning to show amid the matting of hundreds of leaves, and above the moist ground of slopes creeping out of bogs and swamps.

The early upspringing leaf and flower stalk offers to the observer the oddest of all the spring sights. No one, on first seeing the early stalk of the May apple, can do other but stop and look. You will remember that Sary Gamp had an umbrella—and surely her umbrella must have been a descendant of one of these quaint May apples.

The great leaf, and it is a big leaf, a very big leaf, when compared with other wild flower leaves, coarse, deeply toothed, of a sticky but rather vivid green, is loosely strapped around the thick stem, and truly does remind one of a carelessly furled, very old and very much faded umbrella of extreme age.

The blossom appears, saucer-shaped, cream white, bending, borne in the fork between two leaves, and is from one to one and a half inches across. There is a peculiar, sickening, pungent odor to the blossom, and it is not a favorite with children for this reason. After the flower disappears the seed vessel quickly develops, which in time becomes the queer fruit that children call the May apple and love to eat it.

This May apple is the old mandrake of Shakspeare's fame. "Would curses kill as doth the mandrake's groan," he writes; and again: "And strikes like mandrakes torn out of the earth." "That living mortals, hearing them, run mad," Shakspeare, together with some of his contemporaries, make frequent reference to the unholy power supposed to be possessed by this wild thing of the forest.

War Garden Bulletin

PRACTICAL DAILY GUIDE FOR VACANT LOT AND BACKYARD GARDENERS ENLISTED IN GREATER PRODUCTION CAMPAIGN.

Issued by the Canada Food Board in collaboration with experts on the staff of the Dominion Experimental Farm.

CHOOSE YOUR SEED. Discrimination in the purchase of seed is very important. There is a scarcity this year, and for that reason none must be wasted. In the following list, based on tests made at the Experimental Farms and stations in Canada, several varieties of potatoes are suggested, so that if it is not possible to get one kind the other may be obtainable.

Potatoes.—Irish Cobbler or Eureka; Extra Early; Green Mountain, Gold Coin, Wee MacGregor, Farman No. 1, Early Ohio.

Beets.—Crosby Egyptian, Detroit Dark Red and Early Model.

Carrots.—Chantonay, Danvers Half Long, Early Scarlet Horn, Corn.—Extra early; Early Malcolm, Malakoff, Peep O'Day, Golden Bantam, Early Evergreen or Black Mexican, Country Gentleman and Stowells Evergreen.

Peas.—Gregory Surprise, Thorpe Laxton, Gradus, Nott, Excelsior, American Wonder, Sutton Early Giant, Telephone, Champion of England, Quite Content, McLean Advancer, Sutton Excelsior and Premier Gem.

Beans.—(Round Pod Wax) Round Pod Kidney Wax, Pencil Pod and Brittle Wax, Warwell Kidney Wax, Rodon Wax; (Green Pod) Stringless Green Pod and Early Red Valentine, Refugee or 1000 to 1 (late), Lima and Pole beans are not very satisfactory except where the season is long and warm. Scarlet Runner is the most reliable Pole bean, but Kentucky Wonder is one of the best in quality.

Cabbage.—Early Jersey Wakefield, Copenhagen Market, early; Succession, medium; Danish Ballhead and Drumhead Savory, late; Red Dutch.

"WE'RE FROM CANADA."

At a large meeting held in the Hippodrome, New York, Sunday evening, under the auspices of the Canadian Club, Miss Irene Humble sang her own composition, "We're From Canada," the song that has become very popular and which was more than usually appropriate when sung to an audience of Canadians gathered away from their own home.

"The cruel Huns under Attila swept across Europe leaving death and desolation in their path."

SAVAGE WARFARE

THE savagery of the Huns fourteen hundred years ago has been outdone by the German atrocities. The German hordes are rightly called Barbarians and Huns.

Our heroes Overseas need all the help we at home can give them to preserve that splendid "Morale" which has been maintained at all times, even against the most fearful odds.

The Y.M.C.A. has been a wonderful force in strengthening the spirits of our troops. Lord Northcliffe said, "The war cannot be fought without the Y.M.C.A."

The German Huns have given a supreme demonstration of the immense value of the Y.M.C.A. to the Allies. German guns are now trained upon Y.M.C.A. huts, and every effort is being made to smash them out of existence.

But the Y.M.C.A. will "carry on" the war as long as they have the funds to support the work. Canadians at home will never let our boys lack for any comfort or aid to "Morale" that the Y.M.C.A. can furnish them. No matter how generously you contribute you cannot do enough to balance up for the sacrifices and perils our boys are meeting.

Be Generous! Give with a big heart!!
