GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

SHERLOCK HOLMES SOLVES MYSTERY OF 'MARY PAGE'

The world's greatest detective solved "The Strange Case of Mary Page," Esanay's solution-defying mystery in fifteen episodes which puzzled millions.

William Gillette, who was filming "Sherlock Holmes" in seven reels, was asked lightly if he could solve "The Strange Case of Mary Page," then a picture completed and still a puzzle to motion picture patrons.

"I have been asked, Watson," he said, "to find the answer to this mystery. A 'strange case' truly describes it."

"Yes, my dear Holmes; quite puzzling. Whereupon Sherlock Holmes read the story of the photograph and saw several of the late episodes to acquaint himself with the characters. An evening of study and he submitted the solution. "Right!" agreed Henry R. Wallhall, Edna Mayo and Director Hayden, the only persons other than the author who at that time knew the answer.

Directly below this is a photo of No. 7 battery, and below this again a photo of No. 9 Siege Battery, now garrisoned here and which is in need of recruits. Immediately upon this battery, reaching full strength, it will proceed overseas, and it all depends upon the time spent in securing the required number. ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 21, 1916.

SEVENTY-THREE DAYS

This is the seventy-third day since Hon. P. G. Mahoney was appointed Minister of Public Works. He is still Minister of Public Works—the big spending department—though rejected by the people. How much longer will Lieut. Gov. Wood permit this gross violation of the principles of responsible government to continue?

PROGRESSIVE LIBERALISM

The Liberal leaders in Canada will go to the people, whenever the federal elections are held, with a constructive and reconstructive policy worthy of universal support. While it is obvious that the people have lost confidence in the present administration, and desire a change, the Liberal leaders rightly hold that a new government should have a sound and progressive policy, and not merely content itself with sending the grafters about their business.

Since December last reports of these committees have been giving careful consideration to various planks of a definite programme of progressive legislation, and the reports of these committees have been considered and approved by the national advisory council which met this week in Montreal. There were nine committees, each brought to the study of its particular subject a keen and intelligent, a broad knowledge of public affairs, and a desire to find a solution of the grave problems that will confront the people of Canada after the war.

A summary of the reports of these committees is printed in the Times today, and will repay a careful study by the readers of this paper. Great national problems are dealt with in a practical way. Special attention is very properly given to the case of returned soldiers, for this, at the close of the war will be a very serious question, and even at the present time is not receiving from the government the attention it deserves. Technical education, rural life and agricultural development, rural credits and banking, good roads, old age and mother's pensions, taxation, finance and fiscal policy, railways and transportation and other subjects were made the subject of study, and a general policy based on the conclusions of the committees was tentatively agreed upon; although there will be of course further discussions, changes and additions before the general elections are held.

The people of Canada cannot but appreciate the labors of these Liberal committees and the evident determination to present well-considered plans for the better government of the country. The present administration has not fulfilled its pledges. When the time comes the people will be the more willing to restore a Liberal government to power because it will have a broad, definite and progressive national policy to be carried into effect.

THE PEOPLE MUST RULE

Mending the roads in portions of St. John county is expected to make the electors forget about the hold-up of the lumbermen, the Southamptown Railway graft, the Valley Railway graft, the hold-up of the liquor dealers, and all the long record of plunder that has marked the provincial administration in recent years. The people are expected to forget the reports of royal commissions, the waste of public money, the violation of the principles of responsible government and with an eye on the road machine deliver their votes to the government candidates. Is not this expecting too much? Is it not a reflection upon the intelligence and public spirit of the people? It is true the government party leaders are silent, but is there not a "my opponents" in the platform philosophy of Sir Sam Hughes, K.C.B. "My opponents are principally the Canadian soldiers at the front, the soldiers encamped in the British Isles, the soldiers in the preparation camps of Canada, and the relatives of these soldiers."

"My opponents" will take away thirty Ontario seats from the Borden government at the next election, if Sir Robert Borden dooms the candidates of his government to face the resentment which Sir Sam Hughes has aroused among the men at the front, on their way to the front, or among the soldiers' friends at home.

"It is the duty of the Borden government to follow the line of action which is good patriotism, even should that line of action prove to be bad politics. It would not matter if the Borden government lost every seat in Ontario if Sir Robert Borden suffered the loss in the courageous pursuit of efficiency and his government perishes gloriously as a martyr to the vanity of Sir Sam Hughes."

Prayer Meetings at the War Office The writer of Church Notes in the Northern Daily Mail, West Hartlepool, says:—"A clergyman of this town was at the War Office last year talking to the chaplain-general, who told him that they had prayer meetings at the War Office every day at twelve o'clock, and as often as not Lord Kitchener turned in. I asked to be allowed to mention that fact at the time, but the answer was 'No; Kitchener would hate to be talked about.'"

THE WAR NEWS

The French are squeezing the Germans out of Romania, and the British are making progress at Longueval. Even under the eye of the Kaiser, the Germans were unable yesterday to withstand the impetuous but carefully planned and brilliantly executed forward movement of the French toward Peronne, whose defenses one after another are falling into French hands. Both British and French appear now to have the ascendancy in guns and munitions, and defenses which the Germans believed could never be overcome are no longer in German hands. The reports from the whole western front continue to be highly satisfactory. Even more encouraging are the reports from the east, where the Russians continue their great offensive with what are reported to be overwhelming forces. The Central Powers are everywhere on the defensive, and military critics express belief that they must soon shorten their lines, both east and west, by retiring to new positions. The Italians in the face of tremendous obstacles are slowly making gains. Everywhere the outlook for the Allies grows brighter.

THE ROAD POLICY

Mr. E. S. Carter's analysis of the situation regarding the roads of the province, in the interview printed in today's Times, disposes very effectively of the Clarke and Baxter interviews in the Standard. There is no man in or out of the legislature more thoroughly informed on provincial matters than Mr. Carter. His activities at Fredericton during sessions of the legislature, and the information gleaned in the performance of his duties as opposition organizer, have made him the man most feared and hated by the government and the rank-and-file men. They find him possessed of information which they fondly believed they had concealed, and because he is continually exposing some new deal, he is made the subject of rather coarse abuse. Unfortunately for his opponents, Mr. Carter has the facts, and when he presents them they speak more loudly than the most violent rhetoric. His review today of the record of the government since 1908 in regard to the roads of the province is conclusive. He makes it perfectly clear that we need not expect good roads until the roads are taken out of politics. The opposition party, when placed in power by the people, will take the roads out of politics.

SIR SAM'S 'OPONENTS'

Sir Sam Hughes has been criticizing "my opponents," and in order to make the meaning of the phrase more clear the Toronto Telegram, Conservative, goes into particulars as follows: "My opponents are a more numerous class than was ever dreamed of in the platform philosophy of Sir Sam Hughes, K.C.B. "My opponents are principally the Canadian soldiers at the front, the soldiers encamped in the British Isles, the soldiers in the preparation camps of Canada, and the relatives of these soldiers."

Won By Wit

In the reign of Francis I. of France quickness of wit was often more promptly rewarded than actual merit. The monk, Regner Malus, did not lack merit, but he owed his first advancement, nevertheless, to a clever remark. Francis, who was very fond of the game of tennis, was playing a match one day with Malus. The monk finally ended the hard-fought game with a brilliant stroke. The King was somewhat out of humor on account of his defeat. "Remarkable!" he exclaimed, sarcastically. "To think that such a stroke should be made by a mere monk!" "But, sire," replied the monk, who was as quick with his wit as he was with his racket, "it is your Majesty's own fault that the stroke was not made by an abbot."

Where Has the Road Money Gone To?

Stella called on her newly married friend Bella and found her sitting in a formal room in the city. The room was full of fashion papers and cookery books. "Hello!" she exclaimed. "What are you going to make?" "Some cakes," replied the young wife proudly. "But why have you got out those fashion papers, as well as the cookery books?" "You see," confessed Bella, rather shamefacedly, "I'm a bit of a novice at cooking. Tell me, do you make cakes from a recipe or a pattern?" Jones' opinion of himself as a golfer was very much greater than his skill when he presents them they speak more loudly than the most violent rhetoric. His review today of the record of the government since 1908 in regard to the roads of the province is conclusive. He makes it perfectly clear that we need not expect good roads until the roads are taken out of politics. "Premier Clarke was surely not in a serious mood when he gave his road policy announcement to the Standard," said Organizer E. S. Carter yesterday. "When he made the statements that 'From year to year since the present government has been in power there has been a progressive improvement in the condition of the provincial roads,' and 'As the whole the improvement has been steady and in many instances of such character as to provide practically permanent roads,' he surely did not expect to deceive the people of New Brunswick. They know more about the roads than Premier Clarke who has but little personal knowledge of how desperate is the condition of the highways. "The policy of road making he announces," continued Mr. Carter, "is but a continuation of the highway improvement policies the people have been listening to since this government went into power in 1908. A bill to amend the highway act was the first measure introduced into the new legislature by Mr. Hazen. That bill became law, but it was never acted upon. Instead the county councils were asked to express their opinions of it and the vigorous criticism of the $2 poll tax road reformers took office, they increased the taxes of 70,000 ratepayers from a $1 poll to $1.50 and all property owners were called upon to pay twenty cents on $100 valuation instead of twelve and a half cents or an increase of seven and a half cents, or seventy-five cents on every $1,000.

Men Collected Funds For Wooden Legs For Maimed Soldiers of the Allies

(Boston Globe, Tuesday) Many a humane Bostonian adherent of the Allied cause will be grieved to learn of the sudden departure from Boston, after a fruitful fortnight, of "Lieut." William M. Stewart and Joseph Lewis Rosenberg, and the collapse of British, Belgian, French Soldiers' Funds, which was to provide wooden legs for the men crippled in war.

One report has it that they are planning to sail for England; another that they will go to Philadelphia, and "swear" the city, to prevent which the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce has been warned.

At 92 Westland avenue a few days later they submit a three-room apartment, engaging it for the month and—fortunately—paying for the first month in advance.

Then the front room blossomed out into an office, with flags and pictures of the allies' rulers and generals on the wall. "Lieut." Stewart was a man of about twenty-five, with a limp which he said was due to his wooden leg, replacing one lost in the war. His partner, also professing to be a British war veteran, told of four silver ribs put in when German shrapnel had torn away the bit of shell. He dropped the Rosenberg, he said frankly, because of its German sound.

Rosenberg was apparently twenty-two years old. "Lieut." Stewart was a well-set-up, alert-looking man, with pleasing personality and delightful powers of speech.

Their stationery name Stewart as president of the fund and Rosenberg as secretary, with Mary Dunlap Leighton of Lowell, treasurer, and Capt. David Dow, R. N. R. vice president. The last, former commander of the Lusitania and now in the British district command in New York, has repudiated the use of his name. Mrs. Leighton told a reporter she, although treasurer, had received no money for the organization and no salary.

Opinion of Lord Haldane; French-Canadian School Question Before Privy Council; Judgment This Month

London, July 21.—Argument of counsel in the Ottawa school case has come to a conclusion, and judgment by the Privy Council may be expected about the end of the month. From those concerned in the French-Canadian side of the dispute, it is learned that they believe there is a fair prospect of success for their cause. The argument, which was worked over several days, was too complicated to attract any audience, in fact, this case of vital and historic importance.

The Lord Chancellor laid stress upon the point as to whether the Ontario law was ultra vires. Lord Haldane expressed the opinion that the appellants, by their defiance of the law, had put themselves in danger of forfeiting the rights and privileges which they claimed were disregarded.

Party Conventions WILL ADMIT WOMEN Conservatives of Manitoba Decide to Accord Them Equal Representation

Winnipeg, July 21.—Women will be given equal representation in Conservative party conventions over the province, Manitoba with the masculine electors. This was decided as the definite policy of the province, which included the annual convention in Winnipeg. Two hundred and fourteen delegates presented themselves to the convention, and the majority of the province, and there was no opposition to giving women equal status with men.

Germany's Fading Credit

When the present war broke out, many rash prophecies were made about its probable economic consequences. Now that the contest has lasted well into its second year, it is possible to judge not only of these prophecies, but of the actual economic position.

The greatest enemy of the forest is fire. It has been estimated that the average annual loss in this country is sufficient to pay the interest on the recent Dominion loan of $100,000,000. To reduce this loss it is necessary not only to grant larger appropriations for fire-rangering, but also to re-organize such services in a number of cases, with a view of securing a dollar's worth of protection for every dollar spent.

The importance of the forest in the internal economy of Canada is shown by the fact that the average total value of forest products in Canada is in the neighborhood of $180,000,000, or an average wealth production of about $28 per head of population. Nearly $8,000,000 in direct revenue is received annually by the federal and provincial governments from the sale or lease of cutting rights to publicly-owned timber lands and from royalty and stampage payments made upon timber so cut.

Some 2,000 wood-using industries in Canada are directly dependent upon the supply of timber cut from non-agricultural lands. The importance of preventing the continued destruction of this great resource can scarcely be over-emphasized.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Dean-Gilkinson. On July 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Gilkinson, Calgary (Alta.), their only daughter, Hazel Thayer, was married by Rev. H. Dean, of Winnipeg, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Dean, St. John, Rev. Mr. Shearer officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Dean left for Detroit later and thence to Winnipeg, where they will make their home.

McGowan-McManus. John McGowan, of the inland revenue department, was on Wednesday morning married in the Catholic cathedral in Portland (Me.) to Miss Margaret McManus, daughter of the late Joseph and Alice McManus, of St. John. A wedding breakfast was served at the Congress Square Hotel, and Mr. and Mrs. McGowan left for their wedding tour. Many will extend hearty congratulations.

MEETING OF TRAVELERS.

An innovation has been introduced this year by T. S. Simms & Co., Ltd., in gathering together at the home office and factory their travelers and representatives from all parts of the Dominion, at the same time. It has been the custom for each of the outside representatives to visit St. John at least once a year and this year it was decided to bring them in at the same time in order that they might exchange views on trade conditions, methods, etc.

The representatives from the maritime province, Quebec, Ontario, northern Ontario, Manitoba and the west arrived in the city early this week and are remaining until the end of the week, and the time is being devoted, among other matters, to the planning of the fall and winter campaign of this progressive company. On Wednesday evening the visitors, with the executive members of the staff and the factory foremen, were the guests of the company at an enjoyable banquet in Bond's restaurant.

THE FORESTS OF CANADA AND THE WAR

Much Timber Will be Required for Reconstruction Work in Europe (Conservation.)

The economic importance of the forest resources of this continent will be greatly enhanced as a result of the war. Enormous quantities of timber are necessary for military purposes, in addition to what is unavoidably destroyed in the fighting zone.

The shortage of tonnage has made it impracticable for the needed supplies of timber to be furnished on any large scale from Canada or the United States, and as a result, heavy cutting has become necessary in the belligerent countries. While England is not generally regarded as a forest country, and has made relatively little progress in public forestry, there is still in England and Scotland a considerable amount of timber, mostly on royal and private estates. The imperative necessity for utilizing this timber has resulted in the despatch of a battalion of Canadian woodmen to cut it for war purposes. Very large quantities have also been cut in France and in Russia. In Belgium, the Germans have cut a large proportion of the forest and have used it in military operations or shipped it to Germany.

The result of all this over-cutting will mean a heavy shortage of timber for reconstruction purposes after the war, when it should be possible to make large shipments from this continent. This will mean a largely increased drain upon Canadian forests, and serves to emphasize the necessity for still more complete conservation of this tremendously valuable asset, if Canada is to take full advantage of her opportunities for world-service in this direction.

The greatest enemy of the forest is fire. It has been estimated that the average annual loss in this country is sufficient to pay the interest on the recent Dominion loan of $100,000,000. To reduce this loss it is necessary not only to grant larger appropriations for fire-rangering, but also to re-organize such services in a number of cases, with a view of securing a dollar's worth of protection for every dollar spent.

Some 2,000 wood-using industries in Canada are directly dependent upon the supply of timber cut from non-agricultural lands. The importance of preventing the continued destruction of this great resource can scarcely be over-emphasized.

CROPS ARE LARGE. Sussex Record—Haying has been commenced in many parts of the county, and the reports are most encouraging. The heavy rains of last month insured a more than average crop and the outlook is that one of the largest hay crops in the history of Kings will be put into the barns. There is a marked shortage of labor, but with good weather this drawback will probably be overcome. The grain crop is also at its best, and the Record's advice, after careful inquiry, is that there will be a big yield all round.

THE LOGS CAME OUT. Sussex Record—A large percentage of lumber which was hung up this spring on streams in this district is now either at the mills or in safe waters. The heavy rains of June made good driving after all hope of getting down the logs had been abandoned. The good luck was general, and as a result mills which were expected to close down for want of material are running full blast and employing a large number of men.

FARMERS BUY AUTOS. Sussex Record—Sunset and vicinity now has bought 75 automobiles this season. The majority of these have been sold to farmers, who are rapidly beginning to realize the advantage of the automobile from their standpoint. A number of large dairy farmers are now talking of using autos for bringing their milk to town, and the next few years will see a great change in the rapid transport of dairy products.

A Wonderful Food—Grape-Nuts

Not only delicious—but there's "life" in Grape-Nuts. Try this experiment yourself. Take some Grape-Nuts direct from the package. Hold the granules in the palm of your hand under sunlight or an electric bulb. You will notice tiny shining particles of light on the granules—the starch of the grains transformed. Then do the same with some other prepared food—any other prepared food. You don't see these glistening particles.

"There's a Reason" The wonderful taste—the wonderful nourishment in this great food is due to the fact that in addition to the sweetness of the whole wheat is combined the delicate flavor and food value of malted barley. This gives Grape-Nuts two great factors that no mere wheat food can possess. The delicious zest of malted barley imparts a savor that is universally liked; and beyond that, the barley contains a digestive (not in wheat) which, with long baking, transforms the starch of these full grains into a form of sugar which shows on the golden-brown granules.

ALLIES JOINED IN CELEBRATION

How Paris Remembered Fall of the Bastille Soldiers In Great Parade

French, British, Belgians and Russians March Through Streets Filled With Cheering Multitudes

Paris, July 20.—The grand army of the French republic—a tiny portion drawn from the trenches—supported by detachments of troops of the Allies, marched down the Avenue des Champs Elysees last Friday and paraded the boulevards of her capital in triumph. Paris had her eyes set on the anniversary of the fall of the Bastille. The morning beginning with rain, a crowd began gathering at Les Invalides and the Place de la Concorde as early as 4 o'clock. By 9 o'clock it was estimated that a million and a quarter persons packed every available space along the four-mile route of march, from Le Petit Palais to the Place de la Republique. The crowd was probably different in its faith. It was not the weather for flags, nevertheless they flapped about dimly, the crowd did not heed or care. The flags were a patriotic symbol, of course, but they themselves did not matter, nor the weather. The crowds simply typified the two years' trial, during which Paris has had to be grim and black and gray.

Although enthusiastic and often wildly so, not once today was Paris gay. This was a war parade, not a peace one. The weather was gray, the multitude, three fourths of it in mourning, was solemn. The marchers wore the garb of the trenches, not of dress parade. The drab and khaki of the allies, with the more dominant horizon-blue of the Russians, harmonized perfectly into the general ensemble and made a note of grimness dominate the parade. Gladness and gaiety will still wait for the exit of the Germans from French soil.

Leading the procession was a detachment of the Queen's Guard, their polished helmets not responding to the light furnished by the weather. Following, but really leading the procession, was the British band. Next in line were the Russians, who aroused the greatest enthusiasm accorded to any detachment except the French. They were magnificent—all picked soldiers over six feet tall. Carrying long French bayonets on their rifles, they loomed gigantesquely far along the line of march, typifying in every way the bigness of their Empire. Although walking at exactly the same speed as the other troops, they seemed to stride and bring their feet down heavily. The lines of their company formed a sharp angle straight across the width of the boulevard the entire route. They sang a slow war-chant, and one thought of many things, including heavy and steam rollers, as they swayed ponderously along.

Last of all came the Frenchmen. They also typified in every way the characteristics of their race. With quick, short steps and alert, vigorous gestures, they kept time perfectly to the sharp clatter of their bayonets. The crowd was genuinely enthusiastic for the allies, but for their own, they were very quiet. They were during the forty minutes it took the regiments to pass. But beyond the cheers one noted the seriousness of faces, one saw many eyes filled with tears. For scarcely a person there but had some one belonging to them who wears a similar uniform—or had some one. So when the last line of bayonets had passed along triumphantly beating out the "Marseillaise" and the "Sambre et Meuse" songs that are indeed battle cries of triumph such as no other nation has, the crowd quietly melted away. In a quarter of an hour the boulevards were almost deserted.

The sun came out to shed a gentle benediction upon the city, throughout the afternoon as if to show that the heart of the nation never beat more hopefully than that of France on this 14th of July. The chief interest centred in the review by President Poincare and the presentation of government testimonials to families of men who had fallen in battle. The delivery of the testimonials was the occasion of an impressive spectacle, the background of which was furnished by an assemblage of black-dressed widows, orphans and parents entitled under a recent law to documents signed by the President of the Republic, a testimonial being due each family affected. The testimonials were on parchment with an ornamental design executed by Charles Copper, a leading French artist, and bore the name of the soldier, the date of his death and the legend: "Died for France: Homage of the nation."

"The Central Empires can be under no illusion as to the possibility of reducing the Allies to a position of defeat," said President Poincare in an address today, "and of winning from their weariness a peace which for Prussian militarism would be only a stratagem for hiding preparations for fresh aggression. They know well that the seas are closed to them, that they have lost their colonies, and they know equally well that the Allies rely less on the geographical positions of their trenches than on the condition of their troops and their reserves, their capacity for resistance and offensive, and the moral temperament of their peoples and their armies. We are fighting not for honor alone, but for honor and life. To be or not to be—that is the painful problem imposed on the conscience of the great European nations. We are seeking entire restitution of our invaded provinces and those seized forty-six years ago, for reparation for the violation of rights at the expense of France or her Allies, and for the guarantees necessary for a definitive safeguard of our national independence. He said the holiday this year was the occasion of an expression of the nation's gratitude to its sons who had died to save it. Turning toward the families of the dead soldiers, he said: "To you ladies especially, I address the deep and respectful thanks of the

Liberals Prepare To Deal With National Problems

Forward Policy Adopted by Advisory Council, Relating to Finance, Taxation, Rural Life and Credits, Returned Soldiers, Technical Education and Social Reform

Ottawa, July 20—A forward policy of constructive legislation meeting national needs both for the present and for the reconstructive period after the war, is the keynote of the National Liberal Advisory Council meeting, which concluded this afternoon. The forty representative Liberals from all parts of the dominion who were present had three days in very careful consideration of the various problems of statesmanship views confronting the dominion and which they believe Liberalism will soon be called upon to deal with even more directly through the responsibility of office.

The council is doing the spade work of study and investigation, drawing from the experience of progressive legislation in other countries and considering how best to meet the many pressing problems of national politics which are now going either unsolved or being referred by the present administration to the more or less fruitless expedient of royal commissions. A definite programme.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his followers do not wish to come back into power merely through the loss of public confidence in the present administration. Liberalism has a definite and constructive programme of administrative reform on which to seek the renewed confidence of the electorate of all classes. It was with a view to advising with the Liberal League as to what principles and what definite legislative programme could be of benefit to the Liberal party that the present meetings of the advisory council have been held.

The subjects which have been considered by the council were dealt with by the special committees appointed at the December meeting. A committee under the chairmanship of Hon. W. S. Fielding reported on problems of finance and taxation, urging a thorough review of the whole system of national expenditures, with a view to cutting down waste and extravagance and distributing taxation, both fiscal and otherwise, in such the enemy. It was agreed that the present conditions developing whereby Germany, through her merchant submarines, can take nickel cargoes out of the United States, demand much more effective safeguards than the government has provided. The whole question will be further studied, and an adequate national policy in regard to nickel will be announced later on by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The resolution adopted with regard to rural credits and banking pointed out that there were three practical ways of solving the problem of giving greater supervision to rural credits and banking for securing capital for settlement and development purposes. In the first place, there could be strictly co-operative companies or associations with unlimited or limited liability.

On the subject of taxation, finance and fiscal policy, the members of the council were agreed that the stand taken by the party in parliament during the last two sessions was along the right line. The council expressed itself as wholly opposed to the doctrine of high protection, especially under the guise of "War Taxation," imposed on most wares and commodities for domestic purposes.

A committee on technical education, under the chairmanship of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, presented a strong resolution which was adopted by the council recommending a comprehensive national plan of industrial training and technical education under provincial and federal co-operation, including the distribution and reabsorption into industry of returned soldiers after the close of the war.

A committee on the welfare of returned soldiers, under the chairmanship of H. B. McGovern, ex-M. P., Ottawa, recommended a federal board of capable men with agents at various centres throughout the dominion, having power to administer the provisions of the pension act, and with supervision over the suitable re-employment of soldiers after the war is over, also that special preference should be given to returned soldiers in filling positions in the civil service, and also for free industrial and technical training for the returned men anxious to re-enter the industrial life of the country.

SIMULTANEOUS ATTACKS ON ALL FRONTS MAY FORCE ENEMY TO SHORTEN THINLY HELD LINES

London, July 20—While a strong but unsuccessful German counter offensive is still being fought out on the British front, the Teutonic armies find themselves again the object of a simultaneous attack on both eastern and western fronts. The recent successful advance having brought the British into line with the French at Hardecourt, the French offensive, which has been for some time in preparation, has been renewed energetically on both sides of the Somme, on a front of about five miles, thus far successfully.

Official despatches from the British and French headquarters tonight show a further advance by both armies. The British pushed forward their line about 1,000 yards north of the Basentin-Longueval sector, and are still fighting fiercely with the Germans in the outskirts of Longueval and in the Delville Wood.

The French, having renewed their offensive, captured a considerable stretch of German trenches in the neighbourhood of Estrees, and in engagements on both sides of the river have taken nearly 3,000 additional prisoners.

At the same time, according to Rome reports, the violent Russian offensive has been resumed in the Carpathians, at Kovel, Vladimir-Volynski and in the Riga sector. Unofficial despatches from Petrograd say that the second stage of the battle for the possession of Kovel is continuing with extreme violence. General Brusiloff has brought up crushing forces from the Stokhod to the Lipsa to attack the Austro-Germans, and anxiety as to their ability to withstand a continuance of the pressure is beginning to be reflected in the Berlin comments on the situation.

Military critics here discuss the new situation which has arisen, pointing out that Germany is now compelled to act on the defensive, and they speculate as to how soon Germany may find herself obliged to make retirements in an attempt to shorten her extensive, but supposedly thinly held lines, especially on the eastern front.

cerning the welfare of returned soldiers, their families and dependents, acting always in sympathy but without interference with provincial, municipal and voluntary organizations.

3. That a federal board should be appointed by the crown composed of capable leading men having agents at each provincial capital and in the other chief cities of Canada with power to administer the provisions of the pension act and to deal with all questions concerning the welfare of returned soldiers, their families and dependents, acting always in sympathy but without interference with provincial, municipal and voluntary organizations.

4. That this board should make the fullest possible census of all enlistments of the exact movements of all men who have joined the colors with full particulars of each man's former occupation and method of life and of life end of his condition upon his return, so that his fitness or unfitness for any particular occupation could readily be passed upon and the proper assistance or direction be accordingly given to him, and that this census should include and cover the like particulars of each man's family and dependents.

5. That special consideration be given to returned soldiers in filling positions in the civil service of Canada both inside and outside, due regard being had to the nature of the employment and the qualifications necessary for the carrying out of technical or other special work, and the federal board should keep in touch and co-operate with provincial, municipal and other publicly organized institutions employing men, looking always to the employment of returned soldiers.

6. That the federal board should arrange with provincial technical schools and any board or commission constituted to further industrial and technical education in Canada for the free training of all such men as are anxious to be engaged in any part of the industrial life of the country.

The far-reaching importance and the need of further study of the subjects considered by the council will necessitate further work by the committee between now and the next meeting. What has already been accomplished, however, has convinced both the parliamentary and lay members of the immense practical value of such a body. There is no doubt that it will continue as a permanent auxiliary of the parliamentary group.

NATIONAL CONVENTION A. O. H. FACES DELICATE PROBLEM. Boston, July 20—Delegates to the National Convention of Ancient Order of Hibernians, in session here, indicate tonight that the resolutions offered yesterday condemning the British government's attitude with regard to Sir Roger Casement and other leaders of the Irish rebellion were likely to cause a spirited discussion before they were adopted. Canadian members of the order who are represented by a delegation of fifty, said that the resolutions were not given final passage at yesterday's private session as was reported, and that these would be debated tomorrow, when Canadian delegates would take the lead in opposition. It was announced that today's sessions of both the Hibernians and the Ladies' Auxiliary were devoted largely to routine matters.

Democracy and the Individual

By Rev Robert B. B. Foote

Beginning a series of sermons in the Church of the Holy Trinity, New York, the Rev. Robert B. B. Foote, associate rector, preached last night on "Democracy and the Individual."

Four ideals of Christian citizenship are here set forth by St. Peter. They are ideals of fundamental importance alike for the Christian citizen of the Roman Empire and for us who live in this Twentieth Century under quite a different form of government we call a democracy.

These four ideals I propose to discuss with you on Sunday evenings. "Democracy and the Individual." "Honor all men," says St. Peter. Respect the individual, every individual in his rights, his responsibilities, his worth as a human being.

There the government, the state, its integrity and continuance and place in the sun is the great end for which the individual citizen exists. His life, liberty and pursuit of happiness are as nothing compared with that of the state.

The ideal for which our democracy exists is just the reverse. It is that the state, the government, exists for the people, not the people for the state.

This Democratic ideal is essentially Christian. It is rooted in the teaching of Jesus, in His idea of humanity. He came to bring life, liberty and happiness to all men.

Our Democratic ideal is, as Lincoln so happily phrased it, "a government of the people, by the people and for the people."

WHAT THIN FOLKS SHOULD DO TO GAIN WEIGHT

Good Advice for Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat.

A few weeks systematic use of Sargol should go far to produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying nourishing fats to the blood.

But by His words and His acts He expressed His moral indignation at the assumed rights of the people. Bitterly He upbraided the religious leaders who lay heavy burdens on the consciences of the unlearned, who shut out from their fellowship the poor and the sinful, and who robbed the widow.

Jesus claimed these rights and responsibilities for man as a man. They were not the prerogatives of the few, but belonged to all equally as children of one Heavenly Father.

He did in many of His favors and rebukes to the poor as well as to the rich, to the sinner as well as to the Jew, to the Greek of the supreme value of the worth and dignity of the individual as such, irrespective of race, sex or condition of life.

He honored man as man, as a child of God. He found often even more to honor in the poor, shrinking widow in the criminal outcast, in the despised Samaritan, in the hated Roman Centurion or foreigner of Tyre and Sidon than He did in many of His favored and respected fellow Jews.

At the beginning of our nation's history the right of suffrage was limited to property holders and tax-payers. It was only a few years, however, that this qualification was removed and all white men allowed to vote, even those of foreign birth who were willing to take out naturalization papers as citizens.

When we learn to honor the criminal as a man, condemning the crime but respecting the individual manhood still left, our prisons will become hospitals for the morally sick where a man is deprived of just so much life, liberty and pursuit of happiness as he fully deserves.

True democracy stands for the rights and responsibilities of every individual. It rests on Christ's conception of all men as inheritors of the divine nature. It is an ideal to which we as a people are pledged, and toward which we are slowly working.

The ideal of honoring man as man, the individual in our midst as a human being, a child of a common Father, irrespective of his race, color, money, or moral attainments, we have still to work out in other respects to make this a true democracy.

We have honored men of nearly all races by allowing them to settle in our midst and to become naturalized citizens. We still discriminate, however, against the Japanese, Chinese and others, who naturally resent and which is a cause of friction with this intelligent and industrious people.

Then there is the negro, whom we brought to our shores, and the Indian, whose land we took. We have taught the Indian to look to the great White Father in Washington to take care of him, but have done little to prepare him for citizenship.

The negro we have nominally set free, but too often he is denied his rights and looked down on as an inferior being. The way is made as hard as possible for him to enter and advance in many professions.

There is room for much growth before we become truly democratic in our treatment of the copper-colored and the black man.

Equally honor is due to the poor and the rich in our courts of justice. But too often it is not given. The man of money can carry his case from court to court if he feels injustice has been done him in the decision of the lower courts, an opportunity for justice denied the poor man. Then in meeting out of justice, a poor man who steals a loaf of bread to feed his hungry family, is often

Skipper of Deutschland is Quite Confident

Talks of His Chances

Could Not Say What He Would do if Threatened by Destroyer With No Time to Submerge

(Toronto Mail and Empire)

Having secured her cargo of nickel and rubber, the Deutschland is now preparing for her return voyage to Germany. Her skipper says that he has no doubt about safely arriving at a home port.

He has to do is to submerge when he sights a hostile ship, and either lie on the bottom of the ocean, if that is practicable, or continue his course under water until all danger is past. He points out that a submarine sees a destroyer before the destroyer sights the submarine, and this is generally true.

The Industrial Relations Commission presents a dozen different ways in which the courts and the laws of the land too often discriminate against the working man. Equal honor to rich and poor, to man of brain and capital and to man of muscle and brawn, is the ideal of a true democracy.

Finally, in our treatment of the prisoner, the man who has been convicted of crime against society, the democratic ideal has not yet been realized. By that crime he has not lost all his manhood. He still has within him something of the divine that is worthy of honor.

When we learn to honor the criminal as a man, condemning the crime but respecting the individual manhood still left, our prisons will become hospitals for the morally sick where a man is deprived of just so much life, liberty and pursuit of happiness as he fully deserves.

True democracy stands for the rights and responsibilities of every individual. It rests on Christ's conception of all men as inheritors of the divine nature. It is an ideal to which we as a people are pledged, and toward which we are slowly working.

The ideal of honoring man as man, the individual in our midst as a human being, a child of a common Father, irrespective of his race, color, money, or moral attainments, we have still to work out in other respects to make this a true democracy.

Do you really know how to shave?

Make this striking test and see.

SO many men do not know how, that this is not intended as a joke. Most men take twice the time necessary and undergo unnecessary torture. A simple test will show whether you are among them.

Shave one side of your face with the preparation you now use. Then shave the other side with Mennen's, following the directions contained within every tube. You will be astounded at the difference—not only in the way your razor acts and how the two sides of your face feel, but in the shorter time it takes you to shave with Mennen's.

The reason is that Mennen's is absolutely different in composition from every other preparation. It took three years' experimenting to perfect it. It requires no "rubbing in"—no relathering—no lotion.

MENNE'S SHAVING CREAM

MENNE'S "TALCUM" FOR MEN

Delightful after-shave—natural tint—non-irritating—protective. Has the distinctive perfume and package that you know with the Mennen's name.

Send 10c. for Trial Tube

Wrap a dime in a piece of paper, and send it with the coupon for a trial tube of Mennen's to make this striking experiment. With it, we will send, free, a trial can of the Mennen's Talcum for Men, very desirable for after-shaving, because it is so soft and so white on the face. At out this coupon now, to remind you to write.

that the Deutschland will leave Baltimore and make her attempt to cross the Bay. It is a vital necessity to Germany, and every day's delay will injure the cause of the Central Powers. Therefore, the effort will be made without delay. The odds that the Deutschland will make a clean get-away are greatly in favor of the submarine. From Baltimore it has about 175 miles to go before it reaches the spot where a prowling British destroyer would be allowed to attack. Until the three-mile limit is reached the Deutschland can proceed on the surface of the water if that is desirable, or it can make the whole trip submerged if the captain chooses. Once the three-mile limit is reached between Cape Henry and Cape Charles, the Deutschland will have to submerge if there are hostile ships in the neighborhood.

A Large Gateway

It will not have to pass through any narrow channel, but will have a lateral space wider than Lake Ontario in which to manoeuvre. It may sink, and proceed toward Germany; it may sink and remain on the bed of the ocean; it may sink and turn to the right or the left and even go back. To pick it up, especially if, as is extremely probable, the attempt to reach the ocean is made such a moment, would be like hunting a needle in a bundle of hay.

Suppose that when you got outside the protecting waters of the United States a destroyer came at you so quickly that you could not submerge? What would you do? Surrender? "I don't know," he replied. He flushed, hesitated, seemed even flustered, that the question should be raised. Then he added, "I cannot discuss that. The moment would bring its own decision." It would have to be an extremely tense moment, too.

Was Ship Conveyed? Captain Koenig asserts that for only ninety miles of the trip across the ocean did the Deutschland submerge. For the rest of the journey she travelled on the surface of the water. There is in some quarters, however, a tendency to disparage his performance, since it is believed that he was conveyed and shielded most of the way across by a neutral vessel. It will be impossible for him to get such an escort on the way back, for we may be sure that every neutral vessel that sails while the Deutschland is in the Atlantic will be carefully watched.

Something May Go Wrong

It is asserted that the Deutschland ran on the bottom of the ocean. It is definitely, or can remain suspended below the surface for four days without rising to the surface. These engines are of 500 horse-power each, and it is said that tucked away in the submarine is a duplicate for every part of her delicate mechanism that might get out of order. Probably the danger of something going wrong with the machinery and forcing the Deutschland to rise to the surface is one of the greatest that menaces the vessel.

BLUE CLOUD A SUICIDE

Actress of Indian Descent Kills Herself by Gas in Her Rooms in New York

New York, July 21.—Mrs. Mae Linnie Taylor, thirty, an actress whose grand-natural father was Blue Cloud, a war chief of the Cheerokees, was found dead in her rooms, West 88th street, where she kills herself by gas.

She was a daughter of Col. R. Clay Crawford, commander of a negro regiment in the Civil War. Her husband's name was Blue Cloud. Her husband, Ralph Taylor, found a letter written by his wife, in which she told of the depressing effect of a long illness and begged for vivens. Taylor is employed at the Polytechnic Hospital.

TWO MILLION DOLLAR HOTEL WITH NO BAR
Fine New Structure Planned For Toronto in Defiance of Theory That Hotels Need Bar Business to Make Profits
Toronto, July 21.—The contention that the government's temperance legislation will "kill" Toronto's tourist trade, as it is argued, tourists and conventions will not go to a city where there are no bars in the hotels, is about to receive a powerful contradiction, according to a well-founded rumor. This is no less than the effect that a party of capitalists, among whom are to be found prominent Toronto men, are completing plans for the erection of a magnificent hotel in the city which will equal in structure and appointment the Chateau Laurier at Ottawa or the Chateau Frontenac at Quebec.
The new structure will be designed for the express purpose of cultivating a first-class tourist trade. As the plans now stand it will cost close on to two million dollars. The money, it is said, is already secured, and the success of the venture is as good as assured.
No provision is being made for a bar, according to well-informed sources. The possibility of a bar trade will not be taken into consideration in making the plans. As it will take some two years to erect the building and furnish it, it is felt that there is too much uncertainty regarding conditions at that time to count upon a bar trade.

NEWS OF BOY SCOUTS
"Once you are a scout you should always remain a scout." Such advice coming from the lips of one so great and noble as the late Lord Kitchener commands the attention of all. Not long before he went to his watery grave, he addressed a gathering of Boy Scouts when he made the above statement and said, always being a scout meant making oneself efficient, doing one's best, helping other people and serving one's country. "But," he said, "don't merely do."

Great Game Between Tigers and Red Sox
Yankees Have Hard Luck
Washington Wins a Double-Header From Chicago; Alexander Shuts Out Cincinnati; Philadelphia Breaks Losing Streak
Penny Park must have been agog with excitement yesterday when the Tigers and Red Sox had a battle royal for thirteen innings. Philadelphia at last broke its losing streak when Bush administered a coat of white wash to the Cleveland Indians. The Yankees must have a hoodoo in their ranks, judging from the number of accidents to their star players. Baker Gilhoul, Malsb, Cullop, High, Caldwell are on the injured list and will be out of the game for some time. If the team can hold its own until they get back into the game it stands a good chance to win the pennant. Washington stopped Chicago by taking a double header yesterday. The White Sox are being picked by many to win the championship. Alexander pitched another shut-out game yesterday, if the Phillies had another pitcher in his class they would soon go out in front and remain there.

Yankees May Recall Shocker
New York, July 19.—Nick Cullop, the Yankees' most successful pitcher, collapsed in the box yesterday in the game with Detroit after delivering a ball to Burns, and was left off the field. According to the club's physician he pulled a muscle under his ribs and will be out of the game ten days at least.
Manager Bill Donovan of the Yankees is more than having his share of trouble. With Cullop and Caldwell added to the injured list it would not be surprising if Bill recalled Shocker from the Maples.
Shocker has only one real rival for the pitching honors of the International in Sherman, of Baltimore, who has won 14 games and lost 5. Shocker's record up to date is 12 wins and 2 losses.
New York, July 19.—A double advantage will accrue to the Giants when Harry Salter joins the team. He will not only win many games for them, but will be relieved of the task of batting against him in the future series with the Cardinals—and this means a lot to them.
Salter has always been able to beat the Giants in a majority of the games he pitched against them, and they were always glad to get by him. With him on their team they ought to have little to fear in games with the Cards. Among those who are delighted with the addition of Salter to the Giants is Pol Perritt, who was "Slim's" room mate when both were with the Mount City team.

Hitch Causes Deadlock in Big Baseball Deal
Mathewson May Not Leave Giants. According to Latest Report
Chicago, July 20.—Pres. Hempstead of the New York National League club, who joined the team here on Wednesday said he expected later to discuss with Manager McGraw the possible purchase of Charles Herzog, manager and shortstop of the Cincinnati club.
It is understood that the proposed Mathewson-Herzog deal was satisfactory to both Cincinnati and New York except for minor points involved which have resulted in a deadlock.
President Weegman of the Chicago Nationals who returned from Cincinnati on Wednesday intimated that a decision as to which of the clubs bidding for Herzog would get him probably would be made in a day or two in Cincinnati.
Cincinnati, July 20.—Chicago is fast forging ahead in the deal for the services of Charles Herzog, manager of Cincinnati club. President Weegman's offer of $250,000 and $25,000 in the most acceptable of any of these that have been made, according to President Herrmann of the club. Herrmann has decided to allow Hal Chase to manage the team for the remainder of the season and for this reason he does not want Mathewson.
Manager McGraw of the Giants is expected to arrive here Thursday and present a new offer. President Ebbets of the Brooklyn club arrived here Wednesday and conferred with Mr. Herrmann. It was said that he made an offer for Herzog which was refused.
Herzog is willing to go with either New York or Chicago, it is said, both teams having offered him near the same amount. According to Herzog, the Weegman offer was $100,000 a year, the amount he is now receiving, and a bonus of $50,000 for signing the contract.

SYMPATHY OF U. S. IS WITH THE ALLIES
Chicago Minister Tells of the Feeling Existing in His Congregation; Attitude is General.
(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
Rev. Dr. Covert, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Chicago, who is spending the summer in Muskoka, is also taking the services in the Deer Park Presbyterian church for the next six weeks.
Before delivering a powerful sermon yesterday morning he made the following statement:
"Before I announce my text to you, permit me to say I deeply appreciate the honor of being invited to the pulpit of the Deer Park Presbyterian church, and also I wish to say I bring to you the greetings of the old First Presbyterian church of Chicago, organized in that part of Fort Dearborn before the city was organized, and that the elders of that church at their last meeting agreed to follow with prayer the message which I am permitted to deliver here from Sunday to Sunday for the next few weeks.
"From recent interviews with thoughtful men and women of Canada I have felt some regard with suspicion the attitude of the United States towards the struggle in which your wonderful country is now engaged.
"I wish to state I owe it to the thinking people of the United States to say what I can, as earnestly as I can, to assure you, our courageous and self-sacrificing neighbors, that our deepest sympathy and prayers are with you.
"By my congregation of more than fifteen hundred people I do not know of a single person who is not sympathetic towards the great cause of the Dominion of Canada for which she is so courageously giving her life and property. I do not know one that is not feeling, honestly feeling, that the cause of liberty and Christian civilization rests with the victory of the allies.
"One-third of all relief to the poor of devastated Northern France came from the city of Chicago alone, and it was only in April that the Jews of Chicago raised $500,000 towards the relief of the poor of Poland, so you have our personal sympathy in this great trouble.
"I thought I ought to make this little simple statement of the actual situation as I see it among the American citizens in the adjoining sections of this great continent. I feel, perhaps, this statement will bring comfort to you to know that millions of people across the line are praying and praying that an honorable and speedy peace may crown the heroic efforts of your sons and thereby that the cause of liberty may be advanced.

SAM CRAWFORD MAY BE SHERIFF OF DETROIT
Detroit, Mich., July 19.—The Democrats of Detroit are preparing to nominate Sam Crawford, the famous Tiger outfielder, as their candidate for sheriff of Wayne county.
The Democrats have figured that "Wahoo Sam" would be a popular choice for them to put against Edward Stein, former great pitcher of the Brooklyn Nationals, who is the leading candidate on the Republican ticket and thus make a ball player race out of the shirerally contest in November. Crawford is in a receptive mood. When the subject was put up to him in New York yesterday he wired that he would want time to think it over before giving a definite answer.

LARGE INCREASE

The St. John bank clearings for the week ended July 20 were $1,792,169; clearings for corresponding week last year, $1,568,202.

ST. JOHN MAN INVENTS TOY

In these days of the urging of Canadians to take up the work of toy-making, hitherto principally engaged in by the Germans, it is interesting to note that a St. John man has invented a toy that promises to catch the quickly. Robert J. Logan is the inventor and the toy is a sword of tin about a foot long, the blade is grooved in Y shape providing a runway for a metal top which is spun from the handle. It gives a long spin and at the end glides into a little cup. Nicely painted, it is very attractive. Mr. Logan will show it at the Toronto exhibition on Aug. 28.

PRIZE WINNERS.

The drawing in a lottery in connection with a tea held in the Knights of Columbus rooms some time ago, in aid of the Infants' Home, took place this week. The lottery was conducted by the Ladies of St. Vincent De Paul Society. A separate lottery was for a beautiful K. of C. sofa cushion, and the lucky winner was Miss Flood of Castle street. The general lottery, for which tickets were sold only during the tea and sale, was also drawn and the first prize, a gold watch, was won by Lieutenant Milson, of the 204th Battalion; the 2nd prize by Mrs. Mary Chisholm, 8rd prize, by Mr. Osborne of 206 Sydney street, and the 4th prize by John Ritchie of Silver Falls.

MRS. C. B. DEVER

With deep regret the news of the death of Margaret Dever, wife of Cornelius B. Dever, which occurred at her home, 55 High street, at an early hour this morning, will be learned by her many friends. Mrs. Dever was one of the best known residents of the North End. She was a daughter of the late William and Mary Carson. While she had been ailing for some months and the end was not looked for, the sincere sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved ones. Besides her husband, she is survived by one son, J. Harry Dever of this city, and three daughters, Mrs. Thos. Kylin, Genevieve of St. Peter's teaching staff, and Alice at home.

TELLS OF THE GREAT FIGHTING AT HOOGUE

Interesting Letter Comes From Pte. Lewis of Sackville

The following very interesting letter telling of the fighting about Ypres, has been forwarded to his sister in Sackville by Pte. Cecil R. Lewis, who is now in hospital in England, recovering from wounds received in the course of that fighting. The letter is dated from the Royal Berks Hospital at Reading, England. Pte. Lewis was wounded in the arm and the head but at the time of writing was well on the way to recovery and may be back in the trenches by this time. He writes:

"Believe me, it was a warm corner around Ypres. I got wounded at Hooghe, we had just come out of the Slaughter woods—we were up there sixteen days, four in the front and four in the supports and eight in the trenches. The C. M. R. relieved us on Wednesday night. They were late getting in and it was about daylight when we started. We had to go on a forced march all along the road, but we got through all right. They shelled us very heavy. My feet were all in when we got there. We got one night's sleep and the C. M. R. lost their trenches and had to go up again on Friday. Every Canadian battalion was on the move—it was hell. Fritz sent over every kind of shell he had. We came under shell fire about dusk. I don't know how we got through. We were to go up and make an attack that morning at three but got another order just before daylight. We made the old wall just after daybreak. The observation balloons spotted us and they didn't do anything to us only cut us to ribbons. I can thank my steel helmet for my life, a piece of shell went through it. Between the linings a little piece went in my head. It was sore but it is all right now. I had quite a time to get to the dressing station. I felt almost crazy for something to eat; I had nothing for two days. I was just wondering how Henry Dixon made out and the other Sackville boys. I guess they were all in it. We come out of the gas and it was awful. I could hardly see."

DISTRICT LODGE I. O. G. T.

St. John District Lodge, I. O. G. T., met last evening with No Surrender Lodge in their hall in Fairville and with a large attendance. There were several additions to the membership of the lodge. Reports of the most favorable kind were received from all points in the district. E. N. Stockford, G. C. T., referred to the coming grand lodge session in Hampton, opening on August 15, to which there are expected representatives from practically all the lodges in the province.

The following programme was carried out—Duet, Misses Edith and Mabel Beardsley; recitations, Miss Inez Boyd; solo, H. McEachern; reading, Mrs. B. L. Kirkpatrick; duet, Misses Louise Clark and Marian Corkum; speech, D. C. Fisher; solo, John Magee; speech; W. H. Blair; solo, Mrs. Sweet; monologue, Harry Straight; solo, John McEachern; speech, William Arbo; speeches, H. W. Roberts, J. Olsen and Mrs. Crandall; selection, Fairville girls; recitation, Miss Sadie Dunn. After refreshments were served by the members of No Surrender Lodge, a most enjoyable evening was brought to a close with the singing of the national anthem. The next meeting of the district lodge will be held with Salmon Rock Lodge at Nepcis.

Mr. Sproul was in Germany when the war broke out and spent several days on military trains, and learned a good deal about German preparedness. "And, believe me," he said to the Times this morning, "they were prepared." Mr. Sproul and party will remain in the city for about a week. His native place is Ansohaga, Kings county.

Sad News Comes to H. Champ, Here on Visit From West

Mr. Champ, who is one of the western representatives of the company, with headquarters in Winnipeg, was in the city on a visit and, during his absence, his wife had been visiting her sister at her former home in St. Paul, Minn. ### NEARLY PAID THE DEATH PENALTY FOR RASHNESS

Almost Fatality at Paradise Row Junction Point

A young man very nearly paid the death penalty for rashness in Main street last evening. He was coming towards the city in a north end car and, when the car approached the corner of Mill street and Paradise row, without waiting for the car to stop, and without making sure that the way was clear, he jumped from the car to the street.

He had not waited to notice that a big touring car was coming along at a rapid rate, just in the rear of the street car, as he landed on the street, the automobile struck him.

Women screamed and men shuddered when they saw the accident and waited to witness the young man crushed to death beneath the heavy car. Almost miraculously, he managed to keep to his feet, as he was buffeted forward by the auto. The driver of the car, with great presence of mind, had thrown on the emergency brakes and stopped the engine almost as soon as the young man had jumped, and the car stopped within its own length. For that distance the prospective victim dodged death in an agile manner; as the car struck him he jumped, another bump by the car and another hop by the man, and so, between bumps, he slipped along until the car came to a stop.

When the car came to a standstill, the driver, with ashen face betokening the severity of the nervous strain, stared at the man who had tempted fate so recklessly. The latter turned around, raised his hat, bowed politely, gave assurance that no damage had been done and went on his way, while the driver murmured what he thought of the people who rely too much on that special Providence which is said to watch over children, drunken men and one other species of the race.

F. RIMER NEWFOUNDLAND MINISTER OF FINANCE IS DEAD IN MONTREAL

Montreal, June 21.—Hon. E. M. Jackman of St. John's, Nfld., for nine years minister of finance in the Liberal government of Sir Robert Bond, died last night in the Homopathic hospital here. He was forty-nine years of age, and was born in St. John's, Nfld. Hon. Mr. Jackman came to Montreal eight weeks ago on business, and was removed from his hotel to the hospital suffering from a severe attack of jaundice. Four weeks ago he seemed to be recovering, but peritonitis developed, and an operation for gall stones was performed. A strong constitution stood him in such good stead that he was on the road to recovery, but the excessive heat caused a sudden heart weakness on Wednesday afternoon, and he did not rally from this.

The funeral will take place from the residence of Frank J. Jackman, a brother, here on Friday afternoon to Bonaventure station. The interment will be at St. John's, Nfld.
