Airship Ran Wild

Each Man Thought the Other Was Trying Some Lively Stunts

North Wood, Texas, Aug. 20.—(Associated Press correspondence)—An airplane running wild in mid-air and cutting all the daring capers that such a machine is capable of performing...

Then for eight minutes the airplane gave a performance that has never before been seen by the spectators...

Suddenly the plane crashed downward and burst its nose in the earth. The aviators stepped calmly from under the detouring plane and faced each other.

"What do you think you are doing anyway, trying to scare me, eh?" said Le Matre.

"What was I trying to do?" echoed Soulier. "What were you trying to do to me?"

Then it developed that during the eight minutes they had been in the air neither aviator had touched the controls. Soulier had been merely adjusting his helmet when Le Matre saw the movement and mistook it for a signal that Soulier intended to take control of the airplane.

"I thought the same thing," said Soulier.

THREATEN WHOLE HUNTS ARMY IN PICARDY

One of Greatest Battles of the War Has Developed on Front Where British Are Pounding the Enemy

New York, Aug. 23.—The Associated Press this afternoon carries the following: Along the front in northern Picardy a battle which seems to be one of the greatest of the war has developed.

Disaster is reported to be threatening the whole German army on this front and the Germans are throwing great masses of men into the struggle, in the hope of checking the tide of battle, which despatches from British headquarters say is setting against them.

London, Aug. 23.—Allied troops on the Usuri River front, north of Vladivostok, outnumbered by the enemy, have been forced to withdraw after heavy fighting, says a despatch to the Daily Mail from Harbin dated Wednesday.

British and French troops were in the battle, but the brunt of the fighting fell on the Cossack and Czech-Slovak troops. Japanese troops aided in the retreat.

Bolshevik monitors, operating on Lake Hanka, are harassing the Allied fleet and have detained additional Czech troops. Commands are being given the Bolsheviks in German.

C. P. R. ON RISE IN WALL STREET MARKET. New York, Aug. 23.—(Wall street)—Specialties were the only features of interest at the dull opening of today's stock market. Hide and leather preferred mounted to the new record of 94 on its further advance of one and a half points, the common also gaining a point.

Changes among the lower grades were trivial, advances and declines being about equally divided. The list hardened later, Canadian Pacific gaining one and a half points and St. Paul one point. Liberty bonds manifested none of their recent activity, only a few transactions occurring in the noon report.

Authoritative assurances regarding local monetary conditions afforded a better foundation for the further dealings of the forenoon. Canadian Pacific made an extreme advance of 4-8/4 points, St. Paul preferred and common 1 1/2 to 2 points respectively, Reading 1/4 and New York Central 1 point.

Among prominent industrials, United States Steel gained a point with Bethlehem and Crucible steels. Fertilizers, motor subsidiaries and industrial stocks gained one to two points. Liberty 3 1/2's approximated their maximum at 102 1/2 and 4 1/2's and 4 3/4's were more active.

"I was on the other side of the Atlantic just ten weeks, and I return with the conviction that never was the spirit of the Allied nations more steadfast or more resolute than at present.

"The greater portion of my time was spent in England, where I arrived just after the Germans had conducted a successful offensive, first against the British, and then against the French during the spring. The effect of that success has been completely dissipated by the recent defeat of the Austrians in Italy and of the Germans in France."

In referring to the arrival of the large American forces overseas, Sir Robert said there was most efficient co-operation between the armies of the United States and Great Britain, as well as the navies.

"The Canadian army, welcome the opportunity to fight by its side with their kinsmen of this commonwealth," said the premier. "The citizen soldiers of both countries are determined to be of the same type, and the Germans have already found them equally formidable.

During the German offensive in the early spring, nearly 10,000 prisoners and more than 150 cannon, their supplies numbered considerably less than their prisoners. And they held all the ground that was captured."

German Savagery "The men from both countries have learned to realize most vividly the savage malignity of Germany's purpose and methods. They are determined that this war shall be fought to a finish, and that there shall be no repetition of its horrors. The devils by which they are surrounded are possessed must be cast out; the spell with which they have bound the German people must be broken. Until the German people become regenerate, it may be a hard lesson, but the German people must learn it.

"As the mastery of the air passes more and more completely to the Allies, the German people will more and more realize, through war carried to their own territories, the martyrdom to which they are subjected by the other nations. It may be a hard lesson, but they cannot be saved from themselves unless they are compelled to learn it. An assault on the German people is an assault on the peace of the world, to safeguard liberty and to maintain public right."

"Canada fights for the peace of the world, to safeguard liberty and to maintain public right. It is the duty of the Canadian people to stand with the Allied nations, and especially upon the British and the American commonwealths which are united in purpose and action to command the world's peace and to determine the future of the world."

"I trust that these two mighty democracies, united by strong ties of kinship, language and ideal may inspire each other with complete confidence and sympathy in earnest and unselfish purpose and action to command the world's peace and to secure safety and equality of opportunity for the smaller nationalities and for the backward races of the world. The supreme result would indeed crown all our sacrifice and would give us much to hope from a wider league of nations."

J. L. STEWART AND BRUCE CALDWELL MEET.

J. L. Stewart, editor of the Chatham World, who is representing New Brunswick with the party of Canadian newspaper men who have been visiting Great Britain and France, in the course of a letter to the World telling of his experiences, relates this incident:

"Just as I was stepping into a taxi to go to the lord mayor's banquet Bruce Caldwell, formerly a postal clerk on the Intercolonial and now in some war postal service here, rushed up to me with so warm a greeting that I was tempted to shake hands with him. COURTENAY BAY To Work There

A correspondent writes to The Times: "As a resident of St. John for a life time (more than seventy years) and living for nearly forty years overlooking Courtenay Bay, I am very much interested in the developments attempted there, and it is really enough to make me feel like leaving my old town and going to some more progressive city or town with real life in it."

"To read the papers one would think that each successive day the dry dock was receiving its finishing touches, and for the last two months it has been tireless to read of the doings of the new company, and the various reports stating that thousands of men would be working (a month ago) and dry docks, dredging and other parts of the contract would rapidly go on to completion, and we would soon see great shipbuilding yards employing hundreds of men; but alas, we find that some plant on the site of work for two years, will be halted and that actually the operations would probably be commenced in November next."

"If there was ever a time in the history of St. John when some real live men in board of trade, common council, rotary club, prominent citizens and last but not least, newspaper editors, would get to work and insist that these contractors get to work quick, it is now. Why it is said that at the Royal Hotel some three weeks ago men in almost all classes of life were tumbling over each other to see the contractors, to get jobs."

"This is the third time the contractors have been here and now they are to be here again. Why are they permitted to hold back from starting the work? To think that while the whole world around us is racing, almost mad to see who can build ships the faster, and here, not a stone blasted, not a spoonful of mud lifted, not a block laid for a keel, nothing, absolutely nothing, and as I look out my window these beautiful days on the placid waters of the bay, to think the work in the dredging line might be accomplished during the fine weather when the long days and favorable winds for the next four months compare with the rough waters and fogs of the spring and early summer."

"Go to Boston, and there a short distance from the South station you see scores of dredges and pile drivers, also concrete mixers and thousands of men hustling night and day, dredging and building docks, while a little distance away there are 16,000 men building ships of various kinds. This is the state of affairs all over the United States and a great part of Canada. Go to Halifax, and you will find the greatest bustle and bustle in getting ready for building four 10,000 ton ships at one time, and it is the intention to launch ten of these ships each year. Think of it, and in St. John, my home town, the once celebrated shipping industry of the world, one thing is being done, one thing is being done, although the government of Canada has arranged with a great company to carry out the work to completion in record time. Why? Again why? Reliable people say dredges are here, lots of them, men looking for work are here, materials in abundance are here. Why? Another year wasted and the war is on. Oh that I could see from my window the bay covered with dredges and other plant, all working for the creation of ships and more ships."

PRINCE ARTHUR'S VISIT.

For many reasons St. John extends a hearty welcome to His Royal Highness Prince Arthur of Connaught. The first is personal to the Prince himself. Both a soldier and diplomat he has long since earned public honors, and he possesses also the qualities of a statesman. Withal he is kindly and approachable, and possesses that democratic quality Canadians admire so much in the members of the reigning British house, His relation to that house is another reason for extending to him a hearty and a loyal welcome. The throne of Britain is secure because the reigning family possesses the true democratic spirit, of which proof has been given over and over again during the present war. Nothing has more surprised and delighted the American soldiers in England than to learn that their traditional conception of kings was as far as possible removed from the reality, as applied to the King of England.

Prince Arthur of Connaught has rendered distinguished service to the Empire, and may look forward to a splendid career of usefulness in years to come. Canadians are not strong on titles, as recent protests against hereditary titles in this country and much acid comment on the bestowal of such honors in large number without any too much discrimination have clearly shown; but titled Englishmen have shown for generations that if the system in the mother country has its defects it has also produced some of the nation's greatest men, and men who in the hour of national peril deem their lives a sacrifice, not too great to save the honor of their race.

The people of St. John cordially welcome also the distinguished men who surround the Prince. Those who have a notable military record are peculiarly welcome at this time, when the war absorbs attention and so many sons of New Brunswick are in the fighting forces overseas, or in hospital, or in training for service at the front.

Our guests may be assured that Premier Foster in St. John and Lieut.-Gov. Pugsley at Rothesay give expression today to sentiments shared by the whole people.

THE WAR SITUATION.

"The cavalry is advancing in the open field continually at a gallop, exploring woods and farms. Tanks are following everywhere, reducing machine gun nests. Batteries of artillery are coming up at full trot and taking up new positions."

This description of the advance of the French army under Gen. Mangin in the Ailette River region reveals the fact that there is now much open field fighting in which cavalry and light artillery can operate with great effect. It reveals also the eagerness of the enemy to get away to a position where he can rally his forces and put up a stronger defence. The French have been so hot on his heels, however, that he had not time to destroy bridges, and he has been compelled to abandon large quantities of guns and other material and suffer the loss of many men taken prisoner by the swiftly advancing foe. From Sunday until Tuesday the French took ten thousand prisoners, and on Wednesday and Thursday five thousand more. As they crossed the Oise on bridges the enemy did not take time to destroy, long lines of German wagon trains could be seen hurrying northward. The French have taken at least two hundred guns. The advance continues. The fall of Noyon is regarded as certain. Roye is in the same position. The British are in Albert and are so close to Bapaume that its early capture seems assured. The British have also taken prisoners and much war material, and are still strongly on the aggressive. One report says: "In the north and in the south the Allies are dashing upon the Germans and snapping up prisoners and booty, sometimes getting into the main enemy defence positions."

Of course it is a long way to the German border, and present success must not be permitted to give rise to extravagant hopes. The gains made are still costly, and there are still great German armies to be overcome. There is great cause for confidence, but not for any relaxation of war effort. The German press has at last been unumuzzed to the extent that it has been permitted to admit the real number of Americans in France. There must be some explanation to the people of continued reverses, and this method has been chosen. The people will doubtless realize also that more Americans are coming, and the general effect of the knowledge will certainly not strengthen the German morale.

The British are fighting a battle southwest of Arras, and making progress. They have also advanced on the Lys front.

The list of Canadian casualties is heavy, and reminds us very forcibly of our part and our duty in the war.

An unnamed correspondent writes to The Times to tell of the immense activity in construction work in Boston and Halifax harbors and asks why immediate active work is not to be the condition at Courtenay Bay.

SOLDIERS OF THE SOIL.

The presentation today of medals to the soldiers of the soil, the lads who have helped in the campaign of greater production, was a very interesting event, and will long be remembered by the recipients of these tokens of the country's appreciation. The possession of one of these medals in years to come will be a legitimate source of pride, for it is a recognition of a worthy national service rendered when most needed. What one boy might be able to do would not perhaps count for much, but what all the boys who answered the call have done is of very real and appreciable value. Nor was the benefit alone to the farm. The boys have had an experience not to be overlooked. They have had an adventure in self-reliance that will do them a world of good. If some of them have developed such a liking for agriculture as will prompt them to make their studies tend in that direction, with a view to embracing that vocation, the province is the gainer thereby, for there will never be an excess of farmers, and there will always be a competence for the young farmer who knows how to carry on the work and steadily pursue the most independent of all occupations. There is need of closer sympathy and co-operation between city and country. The soldiers of the soil movement will tend toward that end, and so confer a further benefit.

THOSE BY-ELECTIONS.

Commenting on the two by-elections in Ontario the other day the Standard intimated that the opposition candidates were nominated as part of "a Liberal movement" to defeat the two ministers. This was as near the truth as the Standard ever gets in politics but the story is still wide. There was no Liberal attempt to defeat the ministers. If there had been, the Liberal press of Toronto would have heard of it. Neither the Globe nor the Star supported the opposition candidates, in one case perhaps with good reason, as the candidate was an independent Conservative. The Globe points out that the people are not concerning themselves with politics, and the truth of the statement is proved by the fact that though the electorate had been numerically doubled by giving women the franchise the total vote, both in Northeast Toronto and East York was far below the normal total before women voted. The Globe says further:

"The return of Hon. Dr. H. J. Cody, Minister of Education, and of Hon. George S. Henry, Minister of Agriculture, was anticipated. Provincial Liberalism rightly interpreted public sentiment when it declined to be a party to the bringing on of war-time contests in which there was no vital war or provincial issue at stake, and hundreds of Liberals in both ridings in consequence refrained from any participation in the elections. Mr. William Varley, the Soldier-Labor candidate in Northeast Toronto, conducted a good campaign, but found himself handicapped by the absence of any fundamental issue important enough to warrant general public interest in the face of the call for national carrying on in war endeavor. Mr. John Galbraith, the Independent Conservative candidate in East York, was never conceded to have any chance of success."

The Globe says further and it may not be out of place to suggest that the Standard take it to heart:

"There is but one issue at present for the vast majority of Canadians—the issue of the war. The voting yesterday should go far to convince parties and politicians that the citizen electors, men and women, recognize that they have something much more important than politics to deal with at the present time, and that there is no general public demand for unnecessary war-time elections."

The Bangor Commercial says: "Milwaukee has just taken another step toward becoming a real American city, the school board having ordered that the teaching of all foreign languages in the grade schools shall be stopped after June, 1919, although why the school board should delay the results of its action for a year we do not know. A year ago the teaching of all languages except English was stopped in the first grade and the ruling will after the date mentioned be extended to all the grade schools. Of course the ruling is particularly intended for the German language and the action of the school board was only taken after strong opposition had been manifested."

SHORTAGE OF ENGINEERS IN MERCHANT SHIP SERVICE

Washington, Aug. 23—Chairman Hurley of the shipping board has authorized the board's sea service bureau to take such measures as they regard necessary to meet the shortage of engineers for merchant ships. He telegraphed this authority in answer to a suggestion from the agents that marine engineers now employed on land be called on for sea service and that engineers now holding licenses for lower grades be asked to try for higher licenses.

TREASURED CANE GIFT TO COLONEL STURDEE FOR NAVY LEAGUE WORK

Dr. Alfred Hall, dominion commissioner of the Navy League of Canada who has been in the city for the last few days in the interests of the navy league appeal for sailors' week, September 2 to 7, concluded his labors here last night when he addressed audiences in the Imperial Opera House, Lyric and Unique theatres. An interesting incident took place during the evening when Dr. Hall presented to Colonel E. T. Sturdee, president of the provincial branch of the league, a cane encircled with a band of copper from the H. M. S. Victory, Nelson's flagship in the famous battle of Trafalgar, embossed with a bust of Lord Nelson and his famous motto delivered on the day of the battle.

Dr. Hall said Canada should have 100,000 members alone and if this number would come forward there would then be no necessity for any special appeal. He urged all to join as associate or regular members.

The presentation to Colonel Sturdee took place at the Lyric theatre. In his address Dr. Hall made reference to the memorable British victory at the Falkland Islands, obtained under Admiral Sir Doveton Sturdee, C. B., and he congratulated the navy league of the province that it had as its president a cousin of the admiral, Colonel Sturdee. The speaker pointed out how this victory had saved Canada as had the German fleet not been destroyed the intention was that the ships should come to the north Atlantic and demoralize Canadian and British trade. He also referred to Nelson, a famous victory at Trafalgar and then presented to Colonel Sturdee the walking stick decorated with copper bring them into a warm cellar in the early autumn. I know better this year. I'm going to put mine in piles in the garden and cover them with dry leaves. Then early in the winter I'll take 'em in and pile them in the bins or on shelves. It's all right to tie them in bunches of three and suspend them from the ceiling, or another method is to stack and cover them with a larger quantity of leaves. The pitting method is also all right, but I'm not going to try it this year. Well, so long. I must be going. My wife will appreciate those tomatoes. We didn't have any this year."

The Yukon's Silver.

Dawson City, July 21.—A. P. Correspondence)—The Yukon is turning from gold to silver mining. While the value of the former, or its purchasing power, has decreased, that of silver has been doubled. There is great activity in two silver bearing areas tributary to Dawson, the Mayo district on the upper Stewart River and along the Twelve Mile Creek. These fields are 160 miles apart. Silver was discovered in these areas years ago, but no work was ever done.

The Canadian government has dispatched a party of geologists to investigate the prospects of developing the silver mining industry in this section.

Soldier Prince in St. John Today Says Canada Has Reason to be Proud of Her Men Overseas

In view of the visit of Prince Arthur of Connaught to St. John, the following from the Toronto Star, will be read with interest:—

"Having served eighteen months with the Canadians and seen some of the desperately heavy fighting last year at Vimy Ridge, Hill 70 and Passchendaele, I would like to say that in my opinion there is no more formidable fighting force in all Europe at the present day than the Canadian Army Corps," said His Royal Highness Prince Arthur of Connaught in an interview with The Star, en route to Toronto.

"I was on the staff of No. 4 Divisional Headquarters and saw much of the fighting," he continued. "I had to admire the peculiarly aggressive temperament of the Canadians which showed itself, particularly in trench raids and such enterprises. And from my point of view I was delighted to observe that wonderful spirit of good fellowship which exists between the Canadian soldiers and their British comrades. Fighting side by side the British soldiers formed an opinion of admiration for the Canadians which must have far-reaching results."

"Canada has every reason in the world to be proud of her soldiers, and as one who fought with them I know whereof I speak," he said.

Prince Arthur is the possessor of a charming personality and a finely democratic manner which manifested itself frequently during the interview in his personal reminiscences of his visit to Japan and the United States. He was wearing the uniform of the famous Scots Greys, of which he is a major, and he spoke of the work of the Canadians in the war with glowing enthusiasm as of a man praising the work of his closest friends.

Canada in the air also moved him to express admiration, and he said he was pleased to hear that Canada is to have an air force of her own.

"Canadians make fine airmen," he said, "all their national qualities of grit and individual enterprise find scope there, for it is really only in the air there can be any individual enterprise nowadays. Anyone who has been at the front cannot say too much for the flying men and their courage and steadiness, incentive and dash. I saw one airman shot down three times in one day by the enemy, and after coming down the third time he got up smiling, ready for another try. The air force is the only corps for a young man with ambition and dash."

Commenting on his trip to the United States which preceded the three weeks' visit to Japan, Prince Arthur spoke with enthusiasm of the war spirit manifest there. "I was impressed with the fact that from the president downwards everyone I met was in the war with both feet. I got a glimpse of the ship building which is going on in the Delaware River, and I was impressed with the earnest effort which was being made."

Prince Arthur himself is no fit and proper soldier. He was at the front with his regiment within three weeks of the declaration of war and remained there through all the trying days until the last Hun advance was brought to a close last April.

"This war news today is splendid," he said. "It is what we have been waiting for. Using cavalry on the western front seems very fine to me."

"The Canadian news system is wonderful," he went on. "Here, away in the front, I have actually got the news of the day hours before I could have got it at headquarters in France."

"Going some, all right," he replied with a smile.

Asked as to the work of the women in the war, His Royal Highness declared that women have won a place in England in all walks of life which they are never going to lose. "We simply could not get on without them, and then the 'Waves' as the W. A. A. C. used to be called, they are simply splendid. They call them the 'Quacks' now that they are Queen Mary's Women's Auxiliary Corps," he added.

Referring to his visit to Toronto where he will visit the Royal Air Force schools of instruction, he said, "I am especially interested in the Canadian air force, for the Canadian pilots have fought with such gallantry at the front."

In regard to his visit to Japan, Prince Arthur declared that the war efforts of the Japanese, where both shells and guns are being made for the British, are admirable. The highest order in the gift of the Emperor of Japan, that of the Chrysanthemum, was bestowed by the emperor on Prince Arthur in 1915, but that and other orders were conferred on all the other members of the party. The prince himself received a present from the emperor and from the first lord of the admiralty of Japan—a present of several of the wonderful dwarf trees for which Japan is famous. These trees which are all over 100 years old, are planted in ordinary flower pots and the gnarled stem which is the old normal tree in faithful miniature is not above one inch in thickness.

"The people of Japan are most keenly alive to the advantages which they get from the alliance with Great Britain, and they, one and all, appeared to desire that the bonds of friendship should be drawn tighter and the Entente even more closely cemented than it is at the present time."

Of Canada, which he has not visited for six years, Prince Arthur says he finds a rich country now. "The country is very evidently most prosperous, and I would never recognize some of your cities, so changed are they," he said.

"How do you regard the attitude of labor towards the war?" asked the Star.

"I don't think that a political question," was the reply. "You know we are not allowed to talk politics. Generally speaking, I consider that labor has stood the test of war well and has taken its share of the burdens."

"I like the idea very greatly of your cabinet ministers going to England," he said, in reference to the visit to England of Premier Borden and his colleagues. "I consider their visit of the utmost importance that they may get in touch with the Mother Country and give their views on the empire."

Developing his theme, he said that it appeared to him too much cannot be done to bring together the statesmen of Canada and Australia and South Africa in order that the idea of a united empire might be realized. "We are such a widely scattered family," he said.

Britain will be slow to resume friendly relations with Germany after this war is over, according to Prince Arthur, the soldier, who said that "had Germany fought fairly things would have been different, but as she has fought and sunk to such depths in the sinking of hospital ships and the use of poison gas, the Hun is outside the pale of civilization and must be treated accordingly."

One of the things which much impressed the royal visitor to Japan, was an exhibition of German made goods, very similar to that recently held in Canada to show manufacturers all German makes.

"I am delighted to hear that such exhibitions were held in Canada," he said. "It will have such an effect on the after-war conditions."

Prince Arthur expressed his pleasure in the arrangements for the treatment of wounded and invalids in Canada which he has been shown. "I have been very much impressed by the whole medical arrangements in Canada," he said. "These really wonderful and efficient schools for teaching disabled and returned soldiers new trades are fine. What I most appreciate in this is that it is going to get the returned soldiers jobs at which they can earn money and support themselves and their families."

"In Winnipeg I saw one man who has been taught a new trade and who is FINE WORK OF THE AIRMEN IN BRITISH DRIVE In Many Ways Assisted The Advancing Troops Twenty Nine Enemy Machines and a Balloon Put Out of Fight on Wednesday—Much Damage to Enemy Work London, Aug. 22—"The thick mist which prevailed during the early morning of August 21 prevented our airplanes from taking part in the battle at the opening of the attack north of the Ancre. As the morning advanced the sky grew clearer and for the rest of the day our airmen were actively engaged. Some machines devoted themselves to the work of contact patrol and reported the positions of our advancing troops to their headquarters from time to time. Other machines attacked hostile troops and transports from low altitudes, with bombs and machine gun fire, scattering ammunition wagons and columns on the march. In several cases German guns firing at our tanks were silenced by bombs and machine gun fire from the air. A great deal of work was done also in reporting active hostile batteries to our artillery, as well as in reconnaissance and observation of our artillery fire. Twelve tons of bombs were dropped by us during the day. In air fighting twenty-one hostile machines were destroyed and eight others were driven down out of control. One German plane was shot down in flames. Eight of our machines are missing. On the night of August 21-22 there was bright moonlight with a clear sky. Our night bombing airplanes dropped twenty-five and a half tons of bombs. The Cambrai and Marconing stations were heavily attacked, as well as railway bridges and lines, air-dromes and billets. The bridge at Aubigny-Au-Bac, on the road connecting Douai and Cambrai, was broken down. All our machines returned safely. One of our night flying machines brought down in flames on this side of the line a large enemy night bombing airplane. The machine reported yesterday as missing has returned.

FRUIT OF RECENT VICTORIES NOW BEING REAPED
Effect of Fighting of July 18 and Aug. 8 on Present Conflict

VON EBEN'S PREDICAMENT
Must Halt General Mangin or Fall Back to Chemin des Dames—British Pressing Enemy and Fall of Bapaume Would Be Disaster

Paris, Aug. 23.—The Allies are reaping the fruits of the victories of July 18 and August 8, in the present critical situation in which the Germans command finds itself. The German retreat around Novion, it is held here, is the logical sequence of these victories.

The French and British are pressing the enemy so close that he is obliged to throw in his best troops to save himself from disaster. In the north and in the south the Allies are dashing upon the Germans and snapping up prisoners and booty, sometimes getting into the main enemy defence position.

General Mangin's pressure between August 18 and 20 resulted in the capture of more than 10,000 prisoners, and on the 22nd he forced the enemy to beyond the Ailette. The army of General Von Eben is in such a predicament, it is believed, that he is bound to make a formidable counter-attack to halt General Mangin or be obliged to withdraw from the Aisne and Nesle to the Chemin des Dames.

If the enemy does not counter-attack along the Ailette it probably will mean that General Von Eben is in a sadder plight than is thought here.

In the north the British third army has pushed the Germans so dangerously near Bapaume that the German command has found it necessary to counter-attack in force. Opinion here is that the loss of Bapaume in the present smash would amount to a disaster.

The front from Lassigny to the Somme remains stationary. The expected fall of Roye has not occurred, but there is no hurry about that as Roye has lost its importance now that all the roads leading to it are under the fire of the French artillery which is shelling the enemy.

Paris, Aug. 23.—Havas Agency.—Between the Oise and the Aisne during the advance of Wednesday and Thursday, General Mangin's army took 5,000 prisoners.

Of these probably the most important is his razor—it must "stand up" under all conditions—it must be ready at all times so that he can get a clean, velvety, comfortable shave in the shortest time. ACROSS AILETTE VALLEY ON FRONT OF SEVERAL MILES
General Mangin In Hot Pursuit of the Enemy
STOUT FIGHTING AT ROYE
Cavalry Doing Excellent Work—Germans Leave Many Guns as They Move Backward—French Co-ordination Remarkable

With the French Army on the Oise, Aug. 22—(11 p. m., by the Associated Press)—General Mangin now has driven the Germans across the valley of the Ailette on a front of several miles. The enemy's forces on the right wing on the battle line are on the plateau between the Ailette and Soissons and between the Ailette and the Oise.

To the left of Bretigny the Germans are north of the Oise, except those that are hiding in fields and thickets, dead or prisoners. It is impossible to estimate the number of captives. Only a partial count has been made of the booty which includes at least 200 guns, many of them of large calibre.

The Germans still are stoutly resisting the first French army north of the Oise. General Debeney's men, however, fought ahead again today both north and south of that town.

Good Work of Cavalry.
Cavalry is rendering marked service in the pursuit of the enemy. Aviators preceded the cavalry. They are dispersing enemy rear guards who attempt to make a stand and with machine gun fire are breaking up and scattering convoys on the crowded roads.

Batteries of guns and ammunition wagons with the horses at the gallop were pushing north today through an immense dust cloud over the fields where yesterday the German rear guard fought desperately to save part of their artillery. Many of the guns had to be left behind, as well as a great number of machine guns.

The devil himself could not hold out against all that," said one captured German subaltern. "We did not know which way to turn."

The excellent co-ordination of the different branches of the French army is proving most effective in the present pursuit. It has been the manner in which the infantry, artillery, cavalry and aerial arms have worked together that has made it so difficult for the Germans to get away.

Tired Nervous Mothers

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I am the mother of four children, and for nearly three years I suffered from a female trouble with pains in my back and side, and a general weakness. I had professional attendance most of that time but did not seem to get well. As a last resort I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which I had seen advertised in the newspapers, and in two weeks noticed a marked improvement. I continued its use and am now free from pain and able to do all my household work."—Mrs. B. B. ZIELINSKA, 202 Weiss Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Portland, Ind.—"I had a displacement and suffered so badly from it at times I could not be on my feet at all. I was all run down and so weak I could not do my household work, was nervous and could not lie down at night. I took treatments from a physician but they did not help me. My Aunt recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tried it and now I am strong and well again and do my own work and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound the credit."—Mrs. J. GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

MAMAY'S FAMOUS JUVENILE REVUE, ONE OF THE FEATURES OF THE OPERA HOUSE VAUDEVILLE PROGRAMME OPENING TONIGHT

One of the leading features of the new Opera House vaudeville programme, opening tonight, is an extraordinary attraction in Mamay's famous Juvenile Revue, an organization of clever children, some fifteen altogether, whose ages run from four to fourteen, in a merry potpourri of music, songs and dances, with special scenic settings and costuming. This juvenile troupe has been quite a sensation in the big vaudeville theatres in the States, and has just completed a long engagement in one of the New York city theatres before coming this way.

Other good acts on the programme include Alanson, in a sensational balancing novelty; Peterson, Kennedy and Murray, the three harmony boys, in a bright musical comedy skit; Archeless and Verna, in a painting and posing feature de luxe; Sid Stewart, a chimp who sings a little, plays a little, and tells a funny story now and then. Also the eleventh chapter of 'The Lion's Claw' serial drama.

Tonight and all evenings at 7.30 and 9; afternoons at 2.30. Same little popular prices.

Travelling Some.
London, July 28—A three weeks' trip up the Congo river by a steamer is in store for Harry A. McBride, of Detroit, United States consul in London, who left here recently on a government mission which will take him to Central Africa. Mr. McBride, who was formerly United States consul in Belgian Congo, expects to spend four or five months in Central Africa on business for the United States government.

Before departing for the Belgian Congo, Mr. McBride is to go to Monrovia, the capital of Liberia, having lately been appointed temporary receiver-general and financial adviser of the Liberian government.

SEVERAL MISSING AFTER OVERTURNING OF FLEET OF CANOES

New York, Aug. 22—Fourteen persons are missing following the upsetting last night of a fleet of canoes in tow of a motor boat off Rockaway Point, on the Long Island shore. Vincent Russa, who was rescued from a buoy, said that he had been on the buoy for ten hours. He said that five other persons on the buoy with him had become exhausted and fell into the water. Four airplanes from Fort Tilden were sent out today to scout the water for survivors and boats, while submarine chasers also combed the waters for any survivors.

PARIS ORCHESTRA TO TOUR UNITED STATES

Boston, Aug. 23—The Paris symphony orchestra, under the auspices of the French government, will give concerts in prominent American cities next fall. Arrangements for the trip were made by the French high commissioner and the United States government, acting on a suggestion by the French commission for musical art of New York, which will supervise the tour.

The orchestral society will arrive in New York in October and will give the first performance at the Metropolitan Opera House and the second at Symphony Hall, Boston, Oct. 9. The tour will end late in December and all profits will be turned over for war relief purposes.

Pat Harrison Wins.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 22—With returns available early today from all of the eighty-two counties in Mississippi, the nomination of Congressman Pat Harrison, of Gulfport, as the Democratic candidate for United States senator over James K. Vardaman, the incumbent, and former Governor K. F. Noel, was considered certain. Harrison's majority on the basis of the returns thus far is 7,283.

Y. W. P. A. ACTIVITIES

The regular meeting of the Young Women's Patriotic Association, which was held last evening was a very busy one. The president, Miss Jessie Church, presided and amongst the new work which the association made plans for were the holding of a concert on Partridge Island for the soldiers' quartered there; the helping with the Navy League Tag Day and the holding of stalls at the Labor Day Fair. The members were asked to collect and bring to the association meetings all the old gloves which they could obtain. These gloves will be used to make into vests for soldiers.

A request was received from the Great War Veterans' Association for flowers with which to decorate the graves of their fallen comrades on Saturday, Aug. 31, and it was decided most heartily to comply with it. The report from the new work of checking gravel workers on the Rothersey Road was given and was considered very satisfactory.

A large amount of Red Cross work was given out and seven new members were enrolled.

The Y.W.P.A. intends holding a jam and pickle shower for the military hospitals in the city some time about the middle of October and the members were asked to prepare for it.

Two donations were voted at the meeting, one of $20 to the Young Women's Christian Association for the good work of which a splendid account was given at the meeting by Miss Alice Fairweather; the second donation was of $25 and was made to Capt. Rising's fund for convalescent Canadian soldiers in England.

The work of the women who are employed in the munition factories in the city was spoken of at the meeting and a committee was appointed to go and inspect the factories with a view to some of the members taking up employment there.

A returned soldier presented himself at the meeting to ask the association to help him pay for one year's tuition at McGill University by subscribing for a magazine for which he had the agency.

The Y.W.P.A. agreed to take four subscriptions and will send the magazines to the military hospitals in the city.

The treasurer's report showed the association to be in good financial standing with $70.85 in the general fund, $106.10 in the reserve fund and $47.57 in the returned soldiers' fund.

NEW SYSTEM IN RECORDING 'QUAKES'

Honolulu, T. H., July 1—Professor T. A. Jaggard, Jr., director of the Hawaiian Volcano Research Association's observatory at Kilauea volcano, on the island of Hawaii, assisted by Dr. Arnold Romberg, a physicist of the College of Hawaii, has perfected a device for the recording of earthquakes and earth vibrations which, it is expected, will greatly change existing methods.

Professor Jaggard's invention, which will shortly be given to the world through scientific publications, employs the principle of photography in recording earth movements. It is said to be much more accurate than seismographs now used and to record vibrations which are not recorded by them.

So delicate is the new instrument, that it registers the surf beats upon the Kuu coast, twenty miles from the observatory.

Washington, Aug. 23—Prominent shoe manufacturers from New England, Chicago, St. Louis, and other sections of the country have begun a series of conferences with Chairman Baruch and other officials of the war industries board relative to limiting the manufacture of shoes to the more essential styles and grades.

It is understood plans under consideration contemplate stamping retail prices on the shoe.

To The Man Who Is Paying $35. To $50. For Ready-Made Clothes

YOU will admit that you would rather have a custom-tailored garment, carefully made to your exact measurements, out of a pattern of your own selection—in other words, an individual garment.

You are right—but when you think that you cannot get high grade custom tailoring and imported fabrics at a price that is considerably less than you are paying for ready-made clothes, you are all wrong. It is a known fact that most custom tailoring as well as ready-made clothes have advanced in price, but our standard prices remain the same as last year.

We are making to measure garments of fabrics that we cannot replace for less than two or three times their cost. This is only one of the several ways in which we have managed to keep down our price. Ready-made clothing and the average custom tailor's prices are not exorbitant under present conditions. It simply happens that our prices have been kept down by our inside mill connections, and by shrewd management, our prices are unusually low. To you this means a chance to save money or to have made-to-measure garments that are made to fit your personality.

The following is this week's schedule of games on the new south end diamond:

Tuesday—Franklins vs. Victorias.
Wednesday—Pirates vs. Buffaloes.
Thursday—Turtles vs. Victorias.
Friday—Turtles vs. Franklins.
Saturday afternoon—Turtles vs. Buffaloes.

The standing of the teams is as follows in the contest for the Potts trophy:

| Team | Won | Lost | Post. |
|-----------|-----|------|-------|
| Franklins | 3 | 0 | 1 |
| Buffaloes | 2 | 1 | 1 |
| Pirates | 1 | 2 | 1 |
| Victorias | 0 | 3 | 1 |

The game credited to the Pirates has been protested by the Victorias, and if the protest is allowed it will of course change the relative standing.

The game on Wednesday night between the Franklins and Buffaloes was the last of the series to date and was checked by the largest crowd. The Franklins won, 6 to 4.

Last night the Pirates defeated the Buffaloes, 6 to 4, but the latter protested the game, charging that one of the Pirate players does not live in the south end. This will be investigated.

Perhaps it was the fog, which wore webs of grey gauze on the clothing of the onlookers. Some said it was the umpire. Others said it was the full moon. Whatever it was, there is no denying that last night's game was not quite up to the mark. There were disputes in which the teams did not leave their captains to do the disputing. There was too much gratuitous advice from members of teams not playing, and from small boys. There was too much crowding up to the base line near the home plate. Aside from these features, however, the teams played a good five-

LEAKING PIPES.
 Commissioner Hilyard received word this morning that two service pipes in King street, West St. John, had started to leak and he sent men to make repairs.

ON PRINCE'S TRAIN.
 Government Railway Police Inspector J. J. Dunphy of Moncton was in town today to take charge of Prince Arthur's outgoing special. He had several railway policemen with him.

DION-BRADLEY.
 Announcement of the marriage of Miss Elsie K. Bradley, daughter of Mrs. T. Bradley of this city, to John B. Dion of Pawketuck, R. I. is made. The ceremony was performed in Pawketuck on Aug. 12.

STORE BROKEN INTO.
 The store of Gowen Crown's corner Charlotte and St. James streets, was broken into last night, the till rifled of a few dollars in small change and some jewelry and confectionery. The pane of glass in the shop door was broken and the door unhooked from the inside. It looks like boys' work.

MUST GET AT IT.
 A cave-in of an old sewer in Paradise row is causing Commissioner Hilyard some worry. He says it is in very bad condition and if he had money enough he would replace it. The break unfortunately is at a place where permanent pavement was laid, and the commissioner says he regrets that he cannot get through it, but it is absolutely essential.

AT DRY LAKE.
 R. W. Wigmore, M. P., who is supervising the installation of the new forty-two inch water main at Dry Lake, said this morning that the work on the pipe has already been laid and that about 800 feet of pipe has been constructed. A crew of forty men are working day and night on the trench and satisfactory progress is being made.

THAT EXTENSION OF TIME.
 A military officer, whose duties take him roundabout the rural districts, on returning to town today said that there is a very urgent request from farmers that their soldiers now on six weeks' leave of absence for the haying season, be given a further extension of a fortnight. The haying season will be a little late in finishing this year and nearly all the farms who have their boys back temporarily feel it would be a hardship to let them go at this juncture.

DIED IN ROXBURY.
 Mrs. Albert Banks, a former well-known resident of this city, passed away yesterday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Murphy, in Roxbury, Mass. She had been in St. John visiting her son for three months and had returned to the coast only a few days ago. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Oliver Ferris of Fredericton, one sister, Mrs. Joseph Murdoch of Fredericton, one brother, Alfred of Douglas, York Co.; one daughter, Mrs. Murphy, and four sons, Manzer of Hamilton, Me.; Wallace of Cape Tormentine, Charles of Boston and Edgar of this city.

DEATH OF WM. CHITTIK.
 St. John friends will be sorry to learn of the death of William Chittick, a former resident of this city, who passed away at his home in Meductic on Wednesday. His death was sudden, following upon a weak spell. He had recently moved to Meductic about two years ago. He was about sixty-nine years old and leaves his wife and one son, William, who is a resident of West St. John. There also are three sisters—Mrs. M. Corbett of St. John, Mrs. Lizzie Boyne of Little Lepreau and Mrs. Margaret Sharpe of Bentons, and two brothers, Edward of New River and Thomas of St. John. The funeral was held at Meductic this afternoon and all the St. John relatives went to attend.

ON COMPENSATION ACT MIS-SION.
 James L. Scurie and John A. Sinclair, recently appointed by the local government to act as commissioners in the operation of the Workmen's Compensation Act, were returned from Halifax, where they conferred with the Nova Scotia commissioners, Messrs. Paten, Joy and Armstrong. The Nova Scotia commissioners are at present in the same time and the New Brunswick commissioners were seeking information for their guidance when our law comes into effect. On the way back to St. John Mr. Scurie stopped off in Moncton to talk with the railway trainmen who come within the scope of the New Brunswick Workmen's Compensation Act. Mr. Sinclair reached home last night.

A GRACEFUL ACT.
 The S. O. S. boys who were decorated with their federal government food board medals this afternoon on the King square platform, which was later used for the prince's reception, have also received rosettes in patriotic colors. These rosettes are a distinguishing badge for the lads who have helped king and country by their farm work, so that during the remainder of their festivities in the theatres and roundabout town this afternoon and evening they may have what credit is due them. Their food board badges, while very rich and highly prized, do not distinguish the boys enough in a crowd—at least Imperial Theatre people thought so—so they ordered the rosettes and handed over to the people in charge of the S. O. S.

A. M. E. CONVENTION AT ST. PHILLIP'S CHURCH

A convention is being held in St. Phillip's A. M. E. church and visiting clergymen are present from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Bishop C. S. Smith of Duluth, Minnesota, is presiding. Last evening Rev. Mr. Pinkett, pastor of St. Phillip's, acted as chairman, and gave an address of welcome to the visitors on behalf of the congregation. Addresses were also given by Messrs. Jackson and McIntyre, Rev. C. A. Stewart of Amherst, N. S., Rev. Mr. Hine of Yarmouth and Bishop Smith. The latter dwelt upon the church and the present war.

Addressing those who had enlisted, he said that they had gone on a glorious mission, that of righteousness and for the cause of freedom. The convention is being continued today.

SOLDIERS OF SOIL RECEIVE MEDALS

Interesting Event on Stand in King Square

Premier and Mayor Make Addresses; General Macdonnell Presents Medals — Hon. Mr. Foster's Appreciative Words

Seventy-one boys and youths, Soldiers of the Soil, lined up at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon in front of the Great War Veterans' Club in Wellington Row to receive certificates which entitled them to receive the S. O. S. medal. From the Veterans' Club the boys marched to King square and at 2 p. m. Mayor Hayes took the chair on the grandstand and addressed the boys, after which Hon. W. E. Foster, premier of the province, spoke to them. Following the premier's address Brigadier-General Macdonnell, C. M. G., D. S. O., made the presentation of medals.

After the medals had been presented the boys formed up near the grandstand and there awaited the arrival of Prince Arthur. The names of the boys are published elsewhere.

Premier's Address.
 Hon. Mr. Foster, addressing the recipients of the medals, said:
 We are assembled here, before the arrival of His Royal Highness Prince Arthur of Connaught, to perform a pleasant duty to those who are gathered about in the person of the soldiers of the soil. These young men are performing a patriotic duty and are worthy of supplying them with medals or buttons which we are about to present. It is fitting that I should, by reason of the position I occupy with a few words and within the short time at my disposal, express my appreciation of the services which have been so well rendered.

Early in the year, you will remember, the premiers of the provinces of the dominion assembled at Ottawa to hear and discuss not only special features of the war situation, but to ascertain what assistance each province could specifically give and in what way materially assist in the great cause. We were informed that with respect to the supply of foodstuffs, not only for the civil population but for the men at the front, was a grave one indeed and in order that the matter might be expertly and send to the men at the front all the available supplies possible we were asked, and in fact implored, to make extraordinary efforts, because we were told that our soldiers' lives were actually at stake, to increase the production of foodstuffs so that we might assist in accomplishing the object in view.

At this moment, would not permit of my going into detail of the various means adopted to accomplish that end, and at the same time to testify to the whole-hearted manner in which the people of this province responded and the sacrifices that have been made, the long hours of toil that have been put forth and how the farmers of this country have worked to meet the wishes of the government. Unfortunately, just at the time or thereabout when the need was in its midst, the war situation became so acute that those in authority considered it necessary that many of those engaged in this occupation should be called to the colors, young men many of them who, in their opinion, were performing patriotic service by the tilling of the soil. Nevertheless we have, and notwithstanding the drawbacks, the finest and most promising crops that New Brunswick has ever known in its history.

That result has been obtained by the industry of the farmers, some of them left altogether alone, even their only and last son responding to the call for reinforcements. No doubt many of you young men here assembled, had you been old enough, would have been anxious to enlist in the service for the front, but which we are, but without the mobilization of the forces for production the soldiers could not go on and so you boys or young men occupy an important position in the service of the country. The men at the front is given to those who are engaged in the occupation of production, be it munitions or food. There is nothing more great and glorious in service to one's country, no matter in what sphere it is applied, and no sphere of service is more important than that in which you have served and assisted, in the production of food.

I have told you of the great results obtained and in which you have assisted, and when the great struggle is over you can look back, as all must look back, and review their lives during that period, and you will be able to say "I am glad I did my small part to bring victory to the Allies." As I say to you, service to one's country is a happy part in one's life. I hope the service you are rendering on this occasion will be the means of directing your attention in after years to this side of life. We have in Canada, yes, in New Brunswick, a wonderful and great country, a country of wonderful resources, but the great struggle that is going on will produce great problems which will take the best of the nation to solve, and as the war will educate people and assist, in the production of food.

THEATRICAL MATTERS.
 L. R. Acker, manager of two theatres in Halifax and one in Sydney, and J. M. Franklin, lessee of the St. John Opera House and the Strand Theatre, Halifax, arrived today from Boston, where they had been in conference with the United Booking offices to fill and winter programmes of vaudeville. Mr. Franklin will soon open another theatre located in Sydney.
