NO VOUCHER FOR $15,000

Clear Steal of That Amount in Mr. Murphy's Department--Mr. Parmelee Scurvily Treated by Minister.

Ottawa, July 1.—The inquiry into the affairs at the printing bureau shows that almost other irregularities, there is a voucher for $15,000 worth of supplies which cannot be accounted for...

One aspect of the printing bureau scandal which is arousing increasing comment, is the manner in which the King's Printer, Mr. Chas. Parmelee, has been thrust aside by Mr. Charles Murphy...

ADMITS THE PASSING OF FORGED CHECKS

Haverhill, Mass., July 1.—The local police today apprehended a man whom they say has confessed to passing nearly $1,000 worth of forged checks in Boston, Concord, Laconia, Nashua, Dover and Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

SIX DIE FROM HEAT. Philadelphia, July 2.—Six deaths were reported as due to heat here today. Ninety degrees were registered at three o'clock this afternoon.

CONNOLLY IN ALBERT JAIL ON MURDER CHARGE

Alleged Slayer of James Power Taken from Moncton Lockup on Warrant Charging Murder --Removed to Hopewell Cape

Special to The Standard. Hopewell Cape, July 1.—Another stage in the sad tragedy connected with the death of James Power, was reached today when Thomas Connolly was placed behind the barred doors of Albert county jail...

On Friday morning an investigation preliminary to the issuing of the warrant against Connolly was begun. Depositions of Frank B. Milton, an eye witness of the tragedy at the Beecham residence, and of Dr. L. H. Price, who made the autopsy, were taken.

Murder, the Charge.

George Rideout, chief of police of Moncton, laid the formal information under oath charging Thomas Connolly with the crime of murder. A warrant was then issued by the magistrate and placed in the hands of Provincial Constable Smith who immediately went across to Moncton and had his warrant endorsed by Police Magistrate Kay after which the magistrate proceeded to the lockup in Moncton and made the formal arrest of Prisoner Connolly.

After communicating with the Crown officer, the magistrate fixed the date for commencement of the preliminary examination of Thursday, July 7th, at 1 o'clock, in the sheriff's office at Hopewell Cape. Mayor Relyly and Geo. W. Fowler, K. C., will defend the prisoner. It is understood that Allan W. Bray, clerk of the peace for the County of Albert, will act for the prosecution and he will likely have some assistance from an attorney outside of the county. The prisoner is in good spirits, although the experiences of the last 48 hours seems to be deeply impressed upon him.

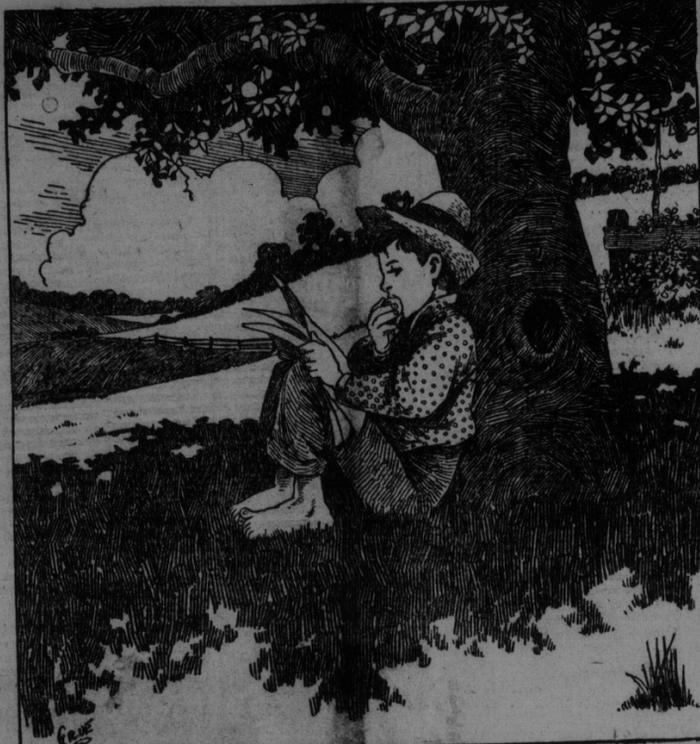

WOMAN INSPECTOR MAKES HER REPORT

Boston, Mass., July 1.—"I found the conditions reasonably good the factored in the manner in which I have worked for the past few weeks," declared Miss Edith Reeves, A. M., of Radcliffe college, whose home is in Vermont, S. D., today before the commission recently appointed by the governor to investigate the inspection of factories, workshops, mercantile establishments and other buildings. She has worked for some weeks in various factories in the state seeking information to present to the commission.

WESTWARD WON EMPEROR'S CUP

Travemuende, Germany, July 1.—The American yacht Westward won the emperor's cup in the schooner race from Kiel to Travemuende today. The German's was second and Hamburg third. The emperor's yacht Meteor, was towed in.

TOWN AND COUNTRY JOIN IN LOYAL OBSERVANCE OF NATIONAL HOLIDAY

DOMINION DAY IN THE COUNTRY

Yesterday was an ideal one for a holiday and it is doubtful if any holiday in recent years was more generally enjoyed. There was not an accident to mar the pleasure of the day and make it an occasion of sad memories in succeeding years.

While there were an unusually large number of attractions in the city and vicinity and while the report is that they were all well attended, there seemed to be a larger number of picnic parties afield than usual and the excursions were all largely patronized. The beaches also had their devotees and in the afternoon the crowds at Seaside were very large.

Across the Bay. Digby, July 1.—Glorious weather, a fine programme of field and aquatic sports and three bands of music made happy today Digby's regular population, the summer colony and the three thousand visitors who came from the north, south, east and west, to spend Dominion Day in Nova Scotia's leading summer resort.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, N. B., July 1.—Dominion Day was generally but quietly observed as a public holiday in this city.

This morning in the baseball game the Clippers defeated the Palmer club by a score of 4 to 3. In the third game of the series for the city championship, the feature of the game was Dick Malloy's pitching for the Clippers. He struck out 15 men.

The Railway City. Moncton, N. B., July 1.—Ideal holiday weather prevailed here today and a large number went out of town by train, auto and other conveyances.

MR. HANSON'S LINE IS NOT ACCEPTED

Fredericton, July 1.—The jury in the case of Martin Kennedy vs. Margaret Gorham before the Kings Bench division of the supreme court, brought in a verdict for the defendant. The case developed into a question of accepting the line run by A. E. Hanson on some property at Oak Settlement upon which the plaintiff brought action for trespassing and opposed to which was line by C. L. Tracey, showing a difference of eight rods or 2 1/2 acres and upon which the defendant's case rested. The jury accepted Mr. Tracey's line as the correct one and brought in a verdict for the defendant, who was represented by O. S. Crockett, M. F., while P. J. Hughes appeared for the plaintiff.

TORONTO LOST TO NATIONALS

Toronto, Ont., July 1.—Nationals, 5; Toronto 3. This was the final score in the N. L. U. championship game this afternoon at Scarborough Reach. The result was a stunning blow to Jimmy Murphy's nets and to most of the 6000 people who gathered to see the game in fond anticipation of Toronto taking another step towards the championship.

Wonderland for the tourist season. The best of order prevailed, only one arrest being made, that for drunkenness. The various summer hotels selling judiciously up and down the inner man despite the enormous crowd, and the managers and help are a tired lot of people tonight.

Yarmouth Celebrates. Yarmouth, N. S., July 1.—The national holiday passed off quietly here. Although no programme had been arranged numerous baseball matches were held in the town and in the neighboring villages.

At Bridgewater. Bridgewater, N. S., July 1.—Dominion day was well observed here. The town was gay with flags and business was suspended. In the afternoon a baseball match was held on the Exhibition grounds between the Lunenburg and Bridgewater teams, resulting in a victory for the visitors by a score of 12 to 6.

FOREST FIRES DO $10,000,000 DAMAGE IN WEST

Winipeg, July 1.—Bush fires are burning fiercely for hundreds of miles along the U. S. boundary, east of Fort Frances. The towns of Lavale and Devlin are partially destroyed, hundreds of settlers are homeless and many mills and construction camps destroyed. If rain does not come the entire country will be laid waste. The loss will be $10,000,000.

SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES FOR CIVIL SERVICE

Ottawa, July 1.—The Civil Service Commission announces that the following competitors have secured places: Paleontologist, Geological Survey, P. E. Raymond, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mining Engineer, Dept. of Mines, H. S. De Schmidt, Honiton, Eng.; Analytical Chemist, Dept. of Mines, E. Stansfield, Montreal; Assistant Agricultural, Ottawa Experimental Farm, O. C. White, Brooklyn, Ont.; Assistant Horticulturalist, Ottawa Experimental Farm, T. G. Bunting, St. Catherine, Ont.; Assistant Cerealist, Ottawa Experimental Farm, H. Sirett, Carp, Ont.

BOSTON IMMIGRATION FIGURES SHOW GAIN

Boston, Mass., July 1.—Immigration figures at the port of Boston for the fiscal year ending June 30, show a big increase over the preceding year. The number of aliens landed the past year was 62,729 or 14,585 more than during the preceding year and 7989 greater than the yearly average of the past ten years.

CASHIER IS ARRESTED

George W. Tufts of Rockport National Bank, Staff, Charged With Misappropriation of $15,000. Boston, July 1.—George W. Tufts for 28 years cashier of the Rockport National Bank, at Rockport, was arrested at his home in Rockport to night by United States Marshal Ruhl, charged with misapplication of the funds of the bank. He was given a hearing and placed in Charles street jail in default of $15,000 bail.

NO ANNEXATION SAYS ADMIRAL

London, July 1.—Admiral Sir Archibald Lucius Douglas, retired, who is aboard ship returning to England from Canada, in a wireless despatch received tonight, disclaims an alleged interview with him published in a Montreal paper. The interview quoted the admiral as having said that many Canadians favored the annexation of Canada by the United States.

OFFICIALS HAVE BEEN APPOINTED

ROBLIN MEETS WITH SUCCESS ON HIS TOUR

Manitoba Premier Predicts That There Will Not be Eight Opposition Members in Next House--Traducers Answered

Special to The Standard. Winnipeg, July 1.—Premier Roblin's tour through the province has been a veritable triumphal procession. Everywhere it has been the same story of confidence in the Roblin government and assurance of support in the future. Today Premier Roblin was at Melita to support the candidature of A. M. Lyle, who it is believed, will redeem Arthur. In front of the platform was the motto, "Welcome to our Premier" while on the wall at the sides were others "Vote for Lyle" and "Government Elevators" and "Imperialism, not British Exclusionism."

Speaking of the E.H. Sand Company with which Liberals are almost exclusively running the campaign, Mr. Roblin said Liberals cannot furnish one jot or tittle of evidence in support of what they say. The man who makes the statement is Mr. Donald A. Ross, a confessed boodler, who sold his vote while a member of the park's board for the sum of $500. Liberals have never submitted that I used my influence for position in any way that was not just and proper. In Chicago and Pittsburg men who have done as Mr. Ross has done are today in jail.

Men Who Will Handle the Big Fight are on the Ground With One Exception.

Rickard to Go Into Ring for Sure--Fighters are Now Quietly Resting --Twin Sullivan Arrives.

Reno, Nev., July 1.—With the appointment today of the time keeper the list of the ringside officers was completed for the fourth of July fight between James J. Jeffries and John A. Johnson, on which rests the heavyweight championship of the world. The officers are: Referee—Tex Rickard of Nevada. Alternate Referee—Charles White of New York. Time keeper—George F. Harting of San Francisco. Announcer—Billy Jordan of San Francisco. Stakeholder—"Tim" Sullivan of New York. Betting Commissioner—Tom Corbett of San Francisco.

Big "Tim" Arrives.

Of the light officers named above, all except Jordan are on the ground. Harting and Sullivan arrived today. "I have $50,000 of the purse money now in my hands," said Sullivan, "and the rest will be turned over to me tomorrow." Rickard was at the station to meet Sullivan. After a brief conference, the pair entered an automobile and went to Jeff's camp. Five members of the Sullivan party accompanied them. When the machine drew up in front of Jeffries cottage the fighter came forward. "Hello, Tim," Jeff said, extending his hand. "Hello," replied Sullivan, "I wish you all kinds of luck boy."

Many Rumors Afloat.

Another of the flock of rumors that kept reporters trotting, was one that Sam Langford would box with Jim Jeffries today. That particular rumor kept the correspondents hopping around in circles. About five o'clock it became known that Langford had come in from the camp to his hotel, taken a large and spacious looking grip that fairly bulged with suggestions of boxing gloves and hastened to Moana. The station at Reno was a scene of excitement all day. Every train from the coast, unloaded fighters and fight followers at every gangway. From the gambling halls that lurk behind no closed doors in this land of license, the click of roulette wheels, droning calls of the krap dealers and clink of coin floated out into the summer evening. The visitors began to move about the city during the evening, in a way that suggested the big west. They drove and thrives and tens with their keps and down the streets. In one gambling hall door and out the next the procession wound along. Everybody halted before the pool room boards, but few seemed inclined to bet.

U. S. CLAIM RIGHTS IN HUDSON BAY

Washington Notifies Masters of Ships That They Need Not Pay for Licenses—Issue Not Yet Raised.

New York, July 1.—A special to the Times from Ottawa says: It is the intention of the United States to contest at the very first opportunity the claim of Canada that Hudson Bay is an inland sea to which the Dominion has exclusive rights, and over which the government of this country has complete jurisdiction and control. For over a year the authorities here have been aware that the time is rapidly approaching when Canada will be called upon either to defend her rights to that valuable sheet of water or allow them to be alienated from her. It is probable, of course, that when that time arrives the matter will be dealt with by arbitration, but if the arbitration proceedings are unfruitful the question will be laid before the Hague Tribunal for settlement.

The action taken by the authorities at Washington to bring about a situation which will open up the whole question and make it an international affair is direct and unmistakable. The owners and masters of sealing vessels and whalers who proceed to these latitudes have been officially notified from Washington that they need no longer recognize Hudson Bay as an inland sea in the possession of Canada. The method of refusal to recognize this will, of course, be by declining to pay the license and other dues demanded by the Canadian government. This is suggested by Washington.

So far, during all the years that have gone by, no owner of an American vessel trading or fishing in these waters has ever ventured to contest the right of Canada to complete jurisdiction over Hudson Bay. Indeed, the dues have been paid gladly by traders, if for no other reason than that the benefits they derive far outweigh the small sums charged. For instance, they obtain all facilities for replenishing their necessary supplies of fuel from the immense coalfields which are located in the lands to the northwest of the bay.

Friendly Relations. Above and beyond this, however, is the complete harmony that exists between the Canadian Government and its officials and the traders themselves. The traders are engaged in a most lucrative business. Their security for the future depends very largely on a continuance of these pleasant relations. In their turn whalers and traders have done many kind and thoughtful acts towards Canadian Government officials and others in the far north. Therefore, up to now, not one of them has taken any action on the suggestion of Washington.

Capt. Cromer is one of the best known of the American traders who go to Hudson Bay. He has just paid a visit to Ottawa to consult with the authorities here upon some matters affecting his business and in conversation regarding the question of jurisdiction over Hudson Bay he stated that he had no intention of availing himself of the authority he has received to refuse to pay the dues imposed by the Canadian Government. There are merely nominal, but the underlying principle is vital. Capt. Cromer was to sail yesterday or today for Hudson Bay from New Bedford, Mass., in his schooner the A. T. Gifford.

When the first refusal to recognize Canada will be made is merely a matter of conjecture, but it is safe to say that it will not be long before a crisis is reached. Last season was the first during which American traders were armed with this authority from the United States government. The second season has just begun, and possibly before its close Canada will be the throes of another international impasse. However, precedent plays a large part in such controversies, and the authorities here have no fear of the issue. American citizens themselves have for long recognized without dispute, Canada's right to water which is almost landlocked with Canadian territory.

BRUTAL TREATMENT OF WOMAN IN MOROCCO

London, July 1.—Details of fieldish atrocities perpetrated by order of the Sultan of Morocco are given by the Times correspondent in Tangier. In the following terms: "I have refrained from sending the following information until absolute confirmation was forthcoming. After the imprisonment of Haj Benassiss, the Governor of Fez, who was arrested by the Sultan's orders a few weeks ago, his womankind were all seized. As the Sultan's agents failed to discover the governor's supposed hidden treasure, his wife was tortured in order to make her disclose its whereabouts, which, as it did not exist, she was unable to do. Her hands were sewn up in a damp raw hide, which contracts and causes extreme pain; her breasts were crushed between bars of wood closed by screws, and she was suspended by her wrists from a beam of wood. She died.

Letters from Fez state that her son is undergoing torture, and that Haj Benassiss himself is at the point of death from the cruelties perpetrated upon him. It is about a fortnight since the European representatives at Tangier received a voluntary and explicit understanding from the Sultan to abolish all cruel punishments. One is perhaps justified in asking how much longer the European governments intend to continue ordinary courteous methods of diplomacy with this demoralized inhuman potentate. He has been known for some time past to be addicted to the use of drugs, and letters from Fez state that the Viziers have difficulty in dissuading him from wholesale murders. The state of affairs at Fez is critical, and a general impression reigns here that the occupation of the native population will shortly find an outlet. I am requested by many influential Moors here to express publicly their horror and abhorrence of the Sultan's barbarities."

GOOD TIME AT CAMP SUSSEX

Infantry Brigade Lined Up to Hear Royal Salute Fired at Noon—Many Visitors Were Present.

Continued from Page 1. When reveille sounded this morning and the brave defenders of the camp piled out to their various duties, it looked as if the "Birthday of the Dominion" would be anything but pleasant. By 8 o'clock however, it had cleared off and the weather man handed out one of his best productions in the way of a scorcher. As early as 9 o'clock in the morning the visitors began to arrive and by 12 o'clock when the Royal Salute boomed out the civilians almost outnumbered the militia on duty.

The greater part of the day was spent up till 4 o'clock in drill. Before practice commenced at about 9 o'clock, men of the artillery squadrons and army service corps were especially "shining up" for expected reviews in the morning.

Inspector Pleased. Major Winter, assistant artillery inspector of Canada, inspected the artillery and seemed very pleased with the rapidity and regularity of the motions of the heavy guns over the rough ground. With Major Winter was Major Plinck, of the 8th Mounted Infantry Guard, of Australia, who is on a tour of inspection of Canadian military camps for the Commonwealth government, sending in a confidential report every month in the form of a diary.

Col. Biggar missed the morning train from St. John and did not arrive until the 2:15 train came in, when it was somewhat late to hold a review. The bakers and helpers of the C. A. C. had climbed out of bed at 3 in order to get the work done in the morning "and have some fun with the girls in the afternoon" which they certainly seemed to do.

The A. M. C. from St. John had a hot three mile tramp to Ryans Corners in the afternoon to erect a "dress ing tent" which in war is erected near the fighting columns and some distance from the main line. Three more soldiers were put on the sick list today and were sent to the A. M. C. hospital tent. Pte. Cyr, of the 71st Regiment, was moved from the hospital to the isolation tent because of an attack of pleurisy which, however, is said not to be very serious. Invitations have been issued to the staff officers to attend a dinner given by the combined mess of the officers of the 5th Field Ambulance, Corps of Guides and Engineers on Tuesday, July 5th.

General Otter is expected in camp tomorrow morning on the 9 o'clock train from Quebec. Gen. Sir Percy Lake will probably review the Royal Canadian Engineers next week and they will also be reviewed by Col. Weatherly, head of the five corps of the Royal Canadian Engineers.

74th Picket Active. The picket of the 74th are distinguishing themselves and so far have a bag of twelve or more prisoners of war to their credit. The offenders for the most part being guilty of not wearing the King's uniform in a proper soldierly manner and objecting to being gently reproved thereupon for the matter. None of the offences so far are of a serious nature and the prisoners will probably be allowed their liberty in the morning but will have to spend tonight in the darkest dungeon of the guard house.

The song service in the Y. M. C. A. tent tonight at 8 o'clock was a decided success. The musical part of the programme, was in the hands of the 73rd regiment. Rev. Mr. Clarke, pastor of the Sussex Corner Reformed Episcopal church gave the men a good straight talk on religion and their duty as Christians. When the speaker closed, the quartette of the 73rd rendered several good old hymns in which the men joined, the singing although not very musical was certainly sincere and hearty and thoroughly enjoyed by the men who took part.

DEMENTED INDIAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE
Moncton, July 1.—A demented Indian boy, name unknown, attempted to drown himself in Halls Creek near this city last evening. Some men nearby rescued him and he was taken to the police station. Today he attempted to hang himself with bunk chains in his cell and later was taken to the hospital. He is said to have escaped from the reformatory in Nova Scotia.

DOMINION DAY SPORT ENJOYED IN P. E. ISLAND

Michael Thomas Won the Patriot's Marathon for Second Time—Horse Races Furnish Some Excitement.

Charlottetown, July 1.—The Patriots' annual Marathon was run off in the morning under almost ideal conditions for record racing. The event was won in beautiful style by Michael Thomas, the Indian last year's champion, in this race, who finished in beautiful form, clipping two minutes of the previous best time and establishing a record for this race of one hour one and twenty minutes. The horse races on the Summerside driving park were attended by about 1400 people and hotly contested. Following is the summary:

- Free For All—Purse $500. Quincey A. Daniel Steele, Summerside, 1 1 1 Meadowvale, J. A. Henderson, Charlottetown, 2 3 2 Queen Marie, J. P. Irving, Cape Traverse, 3 2 3 Best time—2:22.
- 2:35 Trot Half Mile Heats—Purse $100 Commodore Epaullet, D. Steele, Summerside, 4 1 1 Miss Kale, Hammond Kelly, Charlottetown, 1 2 2 2 Doctor Jack, Malcolm Steele, Summerside, 2 3 5 5 Baby Logan, P. J. Conroy, Charlottetown, 3 4 4 4 Tignish, 5 5 5 dr Chiefside, H. J. Hooper, Charlottetown, 5 5 3 3 Time—1:15, 1:12 1/2, 1:10 1/2.
- 2:35 Pace—Purse $100. Longboat, H. Kelly, Charlottetown, 1 1 3 3 Bonanza Princaon, D. Steele, Summerside, 2 2 4 2 Yankee, Princaon, P. J., Summerside, 3 1 2 3 Conroy, Tignish, 3 1 2 3 Hilda S., Alfred Stewart, Summerside, 4 4 2 4 Jerry, Jas. Sheenan, Kensington, 5 5 5 dr Best time—1:10.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., July 1.—The Abegweit sports at their grounds in this city today were a decided success from almost every point. The interest was manifested by the spectators. The entries were well filled and each event was warmly contested. A feature of the athletic meet was the splendid performance of W. H. Turner of the Amherst Ramblers who did the 220 yards dash for boys under 16 in the time of 25.45 seconds.

THIS BOY IS SOME SWIMMER

RICHARD FRIZELLE. Swimming enthusiasts are watching with interest the work of Richard Frizelle, a young Chicagoan now in Idaho, who is picked by the experts as the man to succeed the great Daniels, the world's fastest swimmer. Frizelle recently made 100 yards in 56.15 seconds, which makes him the second best man in this country. The youngster was taught by Frank Sullivan formerly swimming instructor at the Illinois A. C. Sullivan evolved a new phase of the Australian crawl stroke and this is the style Frizelle now uses. Frizelle is going to the coast and many believe he will break a good many records before he returns east.

CLARA MORRIS IN POVERTY. New York, July 1.—While Clara Morris lies dying the house was sold over her head. Mrs. Morris has been in poor circumstances for some years. Only a few years ago a monster benefit was given in New York city and the money used to pay off an indebtedness which threatened to cost the great actress her home.

LACROSSE RESULTS. Cornwall, July 1.—The home team defeated the Tecumsehs here today by 3 to 2 in an exciting game which required an overtime quarter to reach a result.

Wife—Really, George, I get to weigh more every week now!
Husband—True; I've long seen that I married you on the installment plan.—Shore and Country.

TREASURES FOUND IN SCARBOROUGH

Spanish Gold is Unearthed and Finder is $500 Richer—A Ghost Who Scrubs Bones—Well-Preserved Body.

Annapolis Royal, N. S., July 1.—A remarkable discovery was made last week at Twin Bridges where the grave yard was being removed in order to allow the railway to pass through it. Some hundred and twenty coffins had been removed, the majority of them in a fair state of preservation, when what is known as the "old lot" in the cemetery was struck. This was the first cemetery in the place and burials took place there over a hundred and fifty years. Here a coffin was discovered, which when the pickers struck it, crumbled to pieces. Instead of finding dust or bones the surprised workers, saw before them the body of a man in a perfect condition, except for the fact that the features were drawn and darkened. Doctors were called, and upon examination they pronounced the man to have been dead for at least a hundred years and that the body had perished in the cemetery by large percentage of lime in the soil, which acts as a preservative. Exposure to the air had apparently not effected on the body, which was as hard as stone, and very light. The following day it was reinterred in the new cemetery. Nobody seems to have any idea regarding the identity of the corpse.

Buried Treasure
The treasure seekers who have been working in the old cave discovered two weeks at Grompton were rewarded for their persistence when on Saturday three of them came across an iron chest or box, which, after they had pried open, they found to contain about eight pieces of gold. The money bore the date of 1762 and was about the size of our five dollar gold bit. The mint was Spanish. It is estimated that the find of Saturday will net the lucky men over five hundred dollars. This has greatly encouraged the inhabitants of the village who to a man, still continue the quest of the hidden gold. Several minor finds were made during the past week. On Thursday morning a woman unearthed, this time a woman's hand before the following day the bones of an infant were dug up near the mouth of the pit. Several bits of chain, odd pieces of money and old nails have been found from time to time. The business life of the village still stands dormant, nothing is being done but digging for gold. Even Sunday was not a day of rest. The churches were closed, the Sunday schools did not open. Every body; man, woman and child was to be found at the cave. Each day someone is remembering a new story that has been in the same family for many years. The late Gen. Sir Percy father told them that his grandfather died, concerning the hidden treasure. At the latest accounts the money that is buried in the mysterious cave far exceeds that of the late Gen. Sir Percy buried in Oak Island, and for the recovery of which thousands upon thousands of dollars have been expended.

Real Live Ghost Story.
A real, live ghost story comes from Hillcrest, this county, and is verified by several absolutely creditable persons, who have witnessed the appearance. There is an old house at Hillcrest that has been in the same family for about 18 years of age. In it a ghost has been accredited to a few besides the family had ever seen it. The apparition takes the form of a woman scrubbing human bones. The appearance usually takes place about midnight and is proceeded by groans and weeping, coming from the direction of the front part of the house. In a few minutes the form of a woman is seen gliding toward the kitchen, arrived there she noiselessly glides to a trunk and opening it removes a bundle of bones. These she takes to the sink and after scrubbing them, disappears as mysteriously as she came. Several persons have seen this with in the past few months, and vouch for its truth.

The explanation is even more uncanny than the appearance itself. About 60 years ago a distant connection of the family who now occupy the house, lived in the United States, with her daughter, a young girl of about 18 years of age. In fit of anger the mother murdered her child. Fearing detection she burned the body the flames consuming everything excepting the larger bones. These the mother placed in a trunk and brought back to her Nova Scotian home. Here remorse overtook her, and as penance she used to daily scrub the bones of her murdered child. She too, died years ago but to this day she continues to haunt the house where she lived and perform her act of penance. So excited have the family become over this apparition, which until the present had not appeared for three years, that they have determined to sell the place. The neighbors also have a horror of the ghost, and refuse to buy the place, even at the ridiculously low figure at which it is offered.

After having watched the hungry flames devour her home and all that she possessed in the world, Mrs. Henry Heighmoreton, of Tauntonville, attempted to end it all by suicide. She is an old woman, a widow of over seventy years of age, but in some way she managed to climb to the top of one of the stoves in town, and after tying a rope to the chimney, placed it round her neck and threw herself over the side. As it happened she was noticed by a young man and he, with the assistance of a boy, managed to cut her down before she strangled. As it is she will probably succumb, so severe was the shock. It is believed that the firing of her little home was the work of incendiaries. Mrs. Heighmoreton always had a great distrust of banks, and refused to deposit her savings, preferring to keep them with her in the house. She had about eleven hundred dollars in bills, all she possessed in the world. Friends are taking care of her at present.

Where Blissy Overplayed

I'd just got home the other afternoon, out at Rockhurst on the Sound, and had only finished greening the roof of the house rolls a coffee colored gent, all got up in white ducks with an open front blouse and wearin' a cap that says "Tootsie" on the front of it. Also he's carryin' a market basket.

"Hello!" says I. "Who's landin' marines now? Where did the yo-ho chorus hand come from?" "Why, that must be Blissy's steward," says Sadie. "Here with his new yacht, you know."

"Blissy with a yacht!" says I. "Then Auntie must have loosened." "For good," says she. "Didn't I tell you? It happened out in California over two months ago, and the estate was settled last week. Blissy is on his first cruise."

"Gee! He ain't losin' any time, is he?" says I. "Well, it was expected, you know," says Sadie, "and he's been waiting long enough, goodness knows!" "There was no denyin' that part of the proposition, for ever since I've known anything about him, waitin' for a telegram has been Blissy's steady occupation. But maybe you've noticed how healthy these rich aunts can be sometimes."

I must say for Blissy, though, that he stood the strain well. He managed to worry along on the two hundred a month she doled out to him, kept up his club dues, stood off his tailor noble, and accepted all the week-end invites that come his way. Course, everyone knew he was to be handed a big bundle sooner or later; so he was treated just like he belonged.

Not only that, but they let him ring in his particular chum, J. Cushing Talte, who makes his entrance into the smart push about as well indorsed as the kid who slides in with the team carryin' the bat bag, or leadin' the goat mascot. I forgot what was the whole of the pet name they has for Mr. Talte, something like Fidus Achates; but most everyone shortens it to Fido, which describes him a heap better.

I never got his pedigree exact, either, but I always understood he was a third cousin to some one who really counted and that his excuse for dodgin' actual work was the fact that he holds one of these chinch jobs connected with the runnin' of some estate.

Anyhow, him and Blissy made a great pair, and folks seemed to find their brother act useful as well as amusing, especially at house parties, where faithful bridge players and good dancin' men were apt to be scarce.

Besides that, they was more or less ornamental, specially this Blissy gent. He's a big, well padded party, with a chest on him like a circus strong man, and if he hadn't been some forty pounds overweight he might have posed as a Venus Apollonarius. All but his face, I don't know what was wrong with it, but it looked like it had been made of putty by an amateur who was in a hurry to finish his job. You know—one of these big, round, flabby faces that has about as much expression as the front elevation of a custard pie.

Add to that combination a minein' walk which made him act like he was doin' a continuous minuet, and a fine, lady-like voice, and maybe you can get some idea of Blissy's style. Playin' a pipe organ was his special stunt; but, as musical instruments like that ain't common in country houses, he didn't often get a chance to perform.

As for Mr. Talte, he's as slim and dapper as Blissy is thick and lanky. He's one of these nervous, fussy little chaps, quick and keen about most things, and an all round sport. He can jump a long-legged hunter over five bars before luncheon, and spend the afternoon nursin' billiard balls game on the cushion. He plays a snappy game of tennis, and when it comes to doin' contortion stunts on the ballroom floor, he's right there with the goods.

In general form I should say he had Blissy outclassed at every point; but around in the bunch where they circulate he's on a par with Blissy, who along just because he's one of a team.

"I expect he's aboard with Blissy," says I to Sadie. "Oh, you're right," says she. "And there are eight or ten others. They must be somewhat crowded, for the Tootsie isn't very big; but, you see, Blissy made up his party before he chartered his yacht. They're going to cruise up as far as Newport."

"Sounds swell, don't it?" says I. "But why are they layin' up here?" "Well, it seems Blissy wants to give a little moonlight dinner party on the deck for some of our crowd. The Purdy-Pells and Pickney are invited, and, as he usin' our waterfront for a landin' place, of course we're on the list too. He'd planned to pull it off the next night; but as there was some hitch about gettin' 'em all together, and as it's convenient bein' anchored near so many friends, he puts it off until Thursday."

"That's how it happens we see so much of this cruisin' party and gets revelations concernin' this affair of Mrs. Trisxie De Graw. And, say, whenever you find a frisky young widow along, nine chances out of ten there's bound to be something worth reportin' in."

Sadie, she cops out the situation durin' the first evenin' the Tootsie was at anchor off our back yard, while we was bein' shown over the boat. "Ah, ha!" she whispers to me, passin' me the nudge at the same time, and pointin' to the trio that drifts along together. "It's Blissy on one side, Fido on the other, and Mrs. DeGraw in the middle. "That looks like a match."

"Gwan!" says I. "Do you think she could separate them two old bachelors permanent? And if she could, which do you think she'd pick?" "Not bein' any expert along that line and hearin' how everyone else had framed it up the same way, I lets her get away with it without any debate. And it ain't long before the signs bein' gun developin' accordin' to their specifications."

She's rather a cute, buncy little party, Trisxie is, one of the coolin', gushy kind that's always rayin' over something or other; and the first thing we know she's dug up this four-year-old yarn about how Blissy rescued Fido from bein' crisped up that time the Agawasset Comedy Club burned. Seems she's been pumpin' the pair for the story of their past lives, and this musty old stunt had come out.

As a matter of fact, nobody had ever thrown much of a fit over it at the time, seein' as how it was partly by accident Blissy had discovered Fido smoozin' away in his room, while the roof over him was ablaze. Blissy, to state it bald, had rushed up after his suitcase; but he stops long enough to yank J. Cushing off the mattress, and when he finds Fido has breathed in too much smoke to navigate alone he lugs him down, Mrs. DeGraw, though, gets a lot more out of it than that.

"Why, do you know," says she, "I never heard of anything so perfectly splendid! Just think! Mr. Blissy dashin' up into that burning building, fightin' his way through smoke and flame, and savin' Mr. Talte's life single handed! Wasn't that truly heroic, though?" "Aw—er—I see," Mrs. DeGraw stammers Blissy, turnin' pink and gettin' embarrassed.

"But you did it, you know you did!" insists the widow. "Didn't he, Mr. Talte?" "Certainly he did," says Fido, "and I have never forgotten it. I shouldn't be here now I suppose, if he hadn't."

That was J. Cushing's line—for the first three or four times. He answers right up, prompt and hearty. Also Blissy tries at first to deny bein' any hero at that. No her! Every new arrival had to be made tale, and when she'd run out of adjectives she'd turn to Blissy and remark:

"Oh, you brave, noble man!" says she, givin' him the high tackle and pattin' him in the middle of the back. "It was fine, splendid, heroic!" "Eh? What's that?" says Blissy, recognizin' a familiar word, and shakin' off the first aid helpers as he rolls over and sits up. "That brings him facin' the tableau just forward of the companionway, where the widow and friend Talte is just breakin' away from their second clinch."

"Oh, fudge!" says Mr. Blissy. "Was it you who did that Cushey? Thanks awfully. And I say, old chap, now we're quits, aret we?" "I hope so," says Talte. "And all leaky as they was they stood up there and shook hands on it, and waited while the steward cut the wire on three more bottles and filled up everybody's glass."

"Says Sadie, 'I next day as we were down on the shore wavin' goodbye to the Tootsie, 'did you notice who it was holdin' the widow's hand? From where I stood it looked like faithful Fido was in on the gentile clasp.' "Pooh!" says Sadie. "I suspected it would be he, all along."

Gaynor's Daughter and Wife Pedestrians

MISS RUTH GAYNOR AND HER MOTHER, MRS. W. M. GAYNOR.

Mayor Gaynor of New York is an enthusiastic believer in walking as the best exercise. His wife and daughter share his views upon that subject, and are often to be seen tramping through the parks. Miss Gaynor usually wears one of the latest of wide hats with out of doors. She thinks that the broad-brimmed hat is a sure preventative of freckles and tan, and besides it gives the prominence in the public eye which probably is due a mayor's daughter.

"Now you tell them, Bates, just how you saved your fur!" "For awhile he needn'te urgin'; but after the first few days it seemed to come easier. Yes, Blissy wasn't exactly used to havin' the center of the stage; but understood it's a thing you can brook into easy, they say the hair grows on you, too."

Anyway, it did on us. First thing you know he waserin' the talk around and ringin' the yarn all on his own hook. He real expert at it, too; and when our or so, would pass without him of his rescue act, you'd see a shiftin' around kind of uneasy, then pretty soon he'd get his c.

WENT TO THE BOTTOM IN SHIP AND LIVED TO TELL THE TALE AT SHERBROOKE

St. John Pilots Recall Story of Brigantine Severn and Miraculous Escape of Second Mate--After Shaking Her Cargo Floats Again and is Towed to Digby.

The St. John pilots are mostly men of burly build, men whose strong faces, steady eyes, and resolute mien suggest efficiency, awaken the ideas of aid and guidance, of trust and dependence of welcome, clear-eyed help that brings relief and certitude to the commander of a ship, groping blindly in the fog, feeling her way in the thick weather of gales, that filling the air with the salt mist of the sea, restrict the range of sight to a horizon within reach of the land.

A Tale of the Sea. Schooled by long service to the burden of heavy responsibilities pilots are essentially quiet men, but now and then they unbend and spin tales of ships and of the sea. And here is one of their yarns, the story of a second mate who went down with his ship to Davy Jones' locker and lived to tell about it.

"The black foggy night while the brigantine Severn was beating up the Bay of Fundy on her way to St. John, a steamer ran into her, sheering off her bows as if with a knife; and being deep laden with coal, she dug up her heels and went down head foremost. Aboard the steamer they heard a few frightened cries--then silence.

"When the collision occurred the second mate was asleep in his berth, and the first thing he knew he was sprawling on the floor. Getting to his feet, he heard a ball rattling excitedly, and voices crying out violently, and realizing what had happened, he rushed up the companion--only to find that it was closed and fastened from the outside.

"So presently, finding that his shouts brought no answer, he turned about, jumped over the mass of flaming clinkers spilt over the floor by the collapsed bogey and clambered upon the cabin table, intending to crawl through the skylight. But it was too late.

"Even as he reached up, the ship started to go down by the head, and he went sprawling against the bulk head. And ere he could recover his feet, there was a crash, a roar of surf, the bulk head bulged beneath him, and he was struggling in water up to his neck and thinking the end had come. But supporting himself on the wreckage, he managed to keep his head clear, and presently he scrambled up alongside the transom,

FAVORITES WIN AT SHERBROOKE

Pick the Likely Ones Now for the Running Races at St. John Week After Next-- Mile Race Good.

Sherbrooke, July 1.--A large crowd attended the second day's racing here today and enjoyed a card of seven races, the management having added an extra distance of four and a half furlongs.

Three favorites won, Fleece Pleasing and John Marrs. The best race of the afternoon was the mile. Tangle beat Autumn King by a neck after the latter had led the way.

Quite a stir was caused by two drunken men driving on the track and running down a jockey who was crossing the track. Both were immediately arrested.

The following is the summary: First race, selling 6 furlongs, three year olds--Bright Star, 1st; Johnny Wise, 2nd; Jack Blinn, 3rd. Time, 1:18.

Second race, six furlongs, three olds--Virginia Maid, 1st; List, 2nd; John Garner, 3rd. Time, 1:17.

Third race, five furlongs, three year olds and upwards--John Marrs, 1st; Dr. Cook, 2nd; Haymarket, 3rd. Time, 1:03 1/2.

Fourth race, four and a half furlongs, two year olds--Fleece, 1st; Maurice Reed, 2nd; Eliso, 3rd. Time, 57 1/2.

Fifth race selling, four year olds, four and a half furlongs--Pleasing, 1st; Laura A., 2nd; Miss Caesar, 3rd. Time, 56 1/2.

Sixth race, four and a half furlongs, special--Sabo Blen, 1st; May, 2nd; Irwin P. Diggs, 3rd. Time, 57 1/2.

Seventh race, one mile--Annie, 1st; Autumn King, 2nd.

CRICKET CLUB FROM OTTAWA PLAYS IN U.S.

The Ottawa Cricket Club is showing a fine spirit of pluck in arranging a United States tour for its team, says the Montreal Star, and sportsmen throughout the Dominion will sincerely wish it luck. In a number of the United States cities, and particularly in Philadelphia and New York, there are a large number of excellent cricketers, and the clubs there have a wide field of players from which to select their teams. It is against these teams that Ottawa will have to play wickets and it is, therefore, setting itself a difficult task.

BROOKINS IN AIR FOR 45 MINUTES

Montreal, July 1.--The holiday crowd of 20,000 people who attended the aviation meet at Lakeside today, saw eleven flights. None of them were out of the ordinary with the exception of one made by Walter Brookins in his Wright biplane, which lasted 45 minutes and during which he attained an officially certified height of 3150 feet. The day was marked by one accident, Ralph John, one of the Wright aviators, smashing his machine beyond repair, while making a landing.

IS THE YOUNG MAN ABSALOM SAFE?

This question comes close to the parents of today. The young man of today faces many dangers; some like and some unlike those of Scriptural times. One of the greatest is the curse of drink. Is the young man Absalom safe? Is YOUR boy safe?

Nothing is appropriated to a man which he only thinks, except he at the same time wills it to such a degree that when opportunity is given he does it.--Swedenborg.

King Arion Breaks Record to Win 2.25 Race at Fredericton

New Mark for Trotting Stallions in Maritime Provinces Established Yesterday--Frank Patch and Son of Montrose Other Winners--Leonard Wilton in Straight Heats at Moncton.

Fredericton, July 1.--A fine warm day and the holiday brought out a large crowd for the second and closing day of the curtain raising meeting of the Maritime Circuit and the Fredericton Park Association's holiday card of three races furnished some grand racing.

The feature of the day's sport was the wonderful performance of Arion, who reduced his record from 2:27 1/2 to 2:17 3/4, incidentally establishing a new record for trotting stallions in the Maritime Provinces on tracks in the Maritime Provinces.

Walter H., the winner of the 2:30 trot is the first of the get of Montrose to enter the 2:30 list. He was bred here by Dennis Hanlon, the veteran local horseman.

In the 2:18 pace there was nothing to it but Frank Patch after the opening heat, which was taken by Helen Gould, a bad acting mare driven by Tom Holmes.

Mary Cromwell, the richly bred Halifax owned mare, proved a big favorite in the 2:25 pace, but while she had lots of speed in stretches she could not negotiate turns of a half-mile track.

The betting was light and so was attendance from outside points. The complete summaries follow:

2:18 Pace and 2:15 Trot Class. Purse $300. Frank Patch, br. s., by the Patcheson Boy (Wolverton) 1:11

Moncton, July 1.--At the races on the local speedway today Leonard Wilton, Guy Norval and Princess Belle were the winners in the 2:17 class. Crescent, the speedy little mare failed and the best she could do was fourth.

R.K.Y.C. DAY REMEMBERED

TENNIS DRAW AT FREDERICTON WITH ROTHESAY

Chinook and Dreadnought Winners of Two Important Races--Boat Parade and Illumination.

Member's day at the R.K.Y.C. might very well have been termed ladies day. Trim maidens, lithe and fine of line, as racing yachts, with their chaperons constructed on the more opulent plan of house boats, were more in evidence than the mere male.

The first race was started at 2:30. It was a contest between the salmon boats, Class B, for the Gregory cup. Three boats, the Mona, the Chinook and the Canana were entered. They got away in good style and went flying down the wind wing and wing at the start.

The Chinook held the lead throughout the race, though on the first turn of the course she only gained a minute or so on the Mona. In the second round she slightly increased her lead, passing the Chinook a little less than three minutes ahead of the Mona.

The dingy sailing race was the new one on the programme. After a good deal of jockeying, three boats got away on a half-mile course thwart the wind. The boats were rather cleverly handled, and the finish was somewhat exciting.

After supper there was a swimming contest, and a tender race. For the swimming race Fred Lawson, Ray Virtue, Harry Virtue, Percy McAvity, and Howard Holder had entered, but Howard Holder was easily overthrown by Frank Likard and John Kimball.

The Clippers put up a great fight in the afternoon and were in the game every minute. It was a grand pitchers' battle all through, and neither man seemed to have the advantage.

PROVINCIAL CENTRES SEE GOOD SPORT

St. Stephen Defeats Calais at Baseball and Moncton Wins Two from Halifax Crescents--At Woodstock.

St. Stephen, July 1.--Dominion Day has been pretty much given over to sport in the border towns. A lot of street sports occupied the attention of Milltown in the morning. The 100 yard dash was won by Tarbox, of Calais; 220 yards by Hill, of Calais, and five mile by a Pleasant Point Indian. This afternoon 2500 people, a record attendance, were at the St. Stephen driving park to witness two horse trots and a ball game.

The named race had four starters, S. E. Simpson's Louise (Clayton); H. R. Haley's Druggist; Bert McBride's Est. Mac, and A. Reid's Panay B. Etta Mac won in straight heats, best time 2:24 1/2; Druggist, second; Panay B. third, and Clayton, fourth.

The ball game was the best St. Stephen has witnessed for at least a third of a century. The St. Stephen Thistles played against the Calais Stars, a team that has a long record of successes and defeated them by a score of two to nothing. It was semi-professional ball on both sides, in straight heats. Best time 2:03 1/2. St. Peter, second, and Royal Scion, third.

Woodstock, July 1.--Many of our people were out of town today for the holiday, and the baseball game at Fredericton by auto to see the races. This afternoon the Bankers and Druggists played ball, the former winning by a score of 23 to 14. Batteries, Bankers, Artundell and McKee; Druggists, Long, Tompkins and Drysdale. Umpire, Hughes.

IN THE WORLD OF BOOKS & AUTHORS

Arnold Haultain will Write Authorized Biography of Goldwin Smith---Winston Churchill Talks on the Ballot---Mr. Alfred Austin's Appreciation of Dante---Dr. MacPhail's Essays.

The biography of the late Goldwin Smith will be written by Mr. Arnold Haultain, who for the last eighteen years has been his private secretary. Shortly before his death Professor Smith signed an agreement making him his sole literary executor, and put into his hands all of the necessary manuscripts. Among these, it appears, is a collection of reminiscences covering the whole of the author's lifetime and containing descriptions and anecdotes of many eminent men.

Mr. Alfred Austin was recently elected president of the Dante Society in succession to Sir Theodore Martin. He gave an address on "Byron in Italy," in the course of which he said that of all English poets Byron was the most cosmopolitan, recalling that Goethe—a supreme judge on that point—had declared that no poet could be accepted as a poet of the highest rank who had not that "characteristic and mischievous habit of depicting the less admirable side of his own character, the impression of a good many people concerning him, and especially of his life in Italy, was that he was exceptionally dissolute. It must be allowed that at the time he was in that country Italy and Venice especially presented abundant temptation to one of his temperament. Byron arrived in Italy under a sense of personal wrong, and this caused him—never very careful of his own reputation—to be more than usually reckless. As an emotional and intellectual poet he had left admirable and ample testimony to the character of the Italian race. In some of his Italian poetry there was a sublimity, a breadth, a depth and a height that could not be surpassed, and had never since been equalled. It had been said that Byron was "not sufficiently intellectual," but as was proper, he merged his intellect in his poetry—unlike some modern writers who had put intellect into verse and asked us to accept it as poetry.

In United Empire for June there is a fine review of Dr. Andrew MacPhail's "Essays in Politics," from the pen of Professor H. E. Egerton, "Professor MacPhail, of McGill University, is already," says Professor Egerton, "known to many in England through his admirable 'University Magazine,' which is bringing to the front a new school of brilliant Canadian writers. If there is any reader of United Empire who has not yet come across the small volume of 'Essays in Politics,' in which he gives utterance to the faith that is in him, let him be assured," continues Professor Egerton, "that he has missed a great deal." Although, having been written at different times and often repeating the same note, the Oxford Professor finds this emphasis of passionate conviction as impressive as the recurring motive music in a Wagnerian opera. Some of the essays, he thinks, appeal rather to Canadians than to Englishmen. Even where an Englishman is especially interested, Professor Egerton finds the book difficult for an Englishman to review, dealing as it does for the most part with "the attitude of a Canadian towards the opinions and proceedings of other Canadians." One thing is clear, however, and that is that Professor MacPhail, though seeing his fellow-countrymen's mistakes, is himself a genuine Canadian patriot, while at the same time his devotion to Canada detracts in no wise from his wider imperial patriotism. What Professor Egerton finds most excellent in Dr. MacPhail is his independence of party. He recognizes in him a certain "largeness of outlook and generosity of temper" which overcomes narrow prejudices. Professor Egerton has headed his criticism with the words: "A Canadian 'Religio Medici'"; because he considers such a title appropriate for essays that disclose the writer's social and political faith. "Sir MacPhail," he proceeds to say, "belongs to the order of the prophets (with whatever interval you chose to allow for differences of genius and environment), to the Isaiah and Carlyles of history, and with a prophet he has first to find out what there is of wisdom in his message before inquiring too curiously into the particular facts on which it is based." This is high praise and those who have appreciated this commitment from an Oxford constitutional historian to one of our certainly not least prized Canadian writers will gladly read Professor Egerton's article from beginning to end. As our readers are aware, Dr. MacPhail was recently admitted to the first section (English Literature, History and Archaeology) of the Royal Society of Canada, a distinction which his friends will assuredly not grudge him. We await with interest the third volume of Dr. MacPhail's essays which has been announced to appear at an early date.

Madam Melba is coming to St. John this season, and on the same tour will appear in the largest cities on the continent. Andreas Dippel, Director of the Chicago Opera Company, has announced that he had arranged with C. A. Ellis, manager of Mme. Melba, for her appearance in Chicago and in New York at the Metropolitan for the coming season. Mme. Melba will be heard as Mimi in "La Boheme," as Gilda in "Rigoletto," as Violetta in "La Traviata," and as Desdemona in "Otello."

Mme. Melba has not been heard in New York for two seasons. She is at present singing at Covent Garden, in London, where she is appearing in the above mentioned parts. While no statement has been issued to this effect by Mr. Dippel, nevertheless it is true that contracts have been signed between the Chicago Opera Company and a manager in St. Louis for the appearance of the company there some time next season. The policy of expansion which was exemplified this commitment from an Oxford constitutional historian to one of our certainly not least prized Canadian writers will gladly read Professor Egerton's article from beginning to end. As our readers are aware, Dr. MacPhail was recently admitted to the first section (English Literature, History and Archaeology) of the Royal Society of Canada, a distinction which his friends will assuredly not grudge him. We await with interest the third volume of Dr. MacPhail's essays which has been announced to appear at an early date.

Nine Scene Stage Setting Is Latest Theatrical Thriller

VIEW OF THE STAGE OF BROADWAY THEATRE IN LEW FIELD'S PLAY, "THE SUMMER WIDOWERS."

New York, July 1.—The three-act play is hard enough to keep an eye on. But the job is easy compared with watching the nine-scene setting of the Broadway theatre, where Lew Fields is presenting "The Summer Widowers."

The cross-section of an apartment house is shown, three stories high, with three rooms in each floor and something doing in each room. A bachelor disturbed by the noise; a pillow fight between pajama girls; a policeman flirting with the cook; a poker game; young men in a conference over beer; a drunken man asleep in a slink and clogging up the water supply of the apartments; a photographer taking a party group; a wine party and three young society men trying to prepare a luncheon in the kitchen, are the nine things that are under way all at once.

These varied scenes together by running from one apartment to another. In every room there is fun going on. Lew Fields doubles the humor when he appears on each scene. The funniest scene comes when, after his work is over, he tries to shave before the mirror in a folding bed, in which a drunken man has been caught. "The Summer Widowers" is as big a hit as "The Midnight Sons," which was the leader of the summer season shows at the same theatre in 1909.

What the Noted Prima Donna will Sing on Her American Tour --- Dippel Makes Arrangements for Appearance

APPOINTMENT IS POPULAR

London, July 1.—The news of the Right Hon. Sir Charles Hardinge's appointment as Viceroy of India has been received with general satisfaction. Sir Charles may be said to have an hereditary interest in the Viceroyalty of India, since his grandfather, the first Viscount Hardinge of Lahore, who distinguished himself in the Peninsular war and at Lagos, was

SIR CHARLES HARDINGE.

Governor General of India from 1844 to 1848. Sir Charles himself has studied the foreign politics of India from various points of view. He served successively at Constantinople, Berlin, Washington, Paris, Teheran and St. Petersburg. He was a close friend of King Edward, whom he accompanied on his foreign visits. Since 1896 he has been Permanent Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs.

The news of his appointment has been warmly welcomed in India, where it is a special cause of satisfaction that there is also a Vicerine, Lady Hardinge was the Hon. Winifred Sturt, daughter of the first Lord Arlington, and Woman of the Bedchamber to Queen Alexandra. Her two sons, Edward and Alexander, were named after the late King and the Queen Mother, and her daughter, Diamond Jubilee, which had just won the Derby when she was born.

Sir Charles was born in 1853. He is the second son of the second Viscount Hardinge. The Daily Mail says: "Great gifts and great opportunities count for little without the talent for employing them. Sir Charles Hardinge has the three qualifications. His experience is wide as his temper is serene. He has imagination enough to conceive great projects and combinations and solid judgment and unflinching penetration to give them more than visionary splendor. His courage is not mere contempt for ceasure, and he cannot be accused of that precipitancy which the vulgar mistake for the precision of genius. What he sees, he sees clearly and without the bias of prejudice, and what he holds he holds with tenacity."

"He is cool and resourceful in success as in difficulties, and has a talent or discretion may count as a weakness. To these qualities he adds the attraction of a distinguished appearance and of charming manners, and while discovering enough of them to command respect for his judgment and sympathy with his purpose. To say this is to acknowledge that he has in no common measure that useful and perhaps indispensable adjunct of statesmanship—the art of managing men."

Klaw and Erlanger Produce New Musical Play at the Adelphi to Delect the British Play Goer.

London, June 28.—Marc Klaw, before sailing on the Hamburg-American New York Times correspondent that on behalf of Klaw & Erlanger he had entered upon an agreement with Charles Frohman and George Edwards to take over the Adelphi Theatre, the famous home of melodrama in the Strand, with possession in the early autumn.

The Paris theatrical season of 1909-10 has closed with what is nearly a record year. About $10,000,000 has been spent by playgoers, a sum only once exceeded, in the exhibition year of 1900, when the receipts reached $11,600,000.

At the four theatres that receive Government subsidies the receipts have been: At the Opera, $629,800; Opera Comique, $531,300; Comedie Francaise, $459,000, and Odéon, $164,000. The Folies Bergere heads the list of music halls with $326,200 and the Alhambra, $189,600.

The theatre is to be extensively altered and redecorated, making it one of the most luxurious of London theatres. It will open with a new musical play by Lionel Monckton and John L. Tanner, with Gertie Millar and Joseph Coyne as the principal stars. Later on the combination purposes to produce, under the management of Mr. Edwards, a season of opera comique, arrangements having been made to transport the operas, players and scenery at the conclusion of the season to New York, where they will appear at the New Amsterdam.

Besides the engagement of Fred Terry, who, as I have already mentioned in previous despatches, appears in New York next autumn for an eight weeks' season, Mr. Klaw has succeeded in inducing Julia Neilson to accompany her husband on the trip, which ought to strengthen the company considerably. They will rely on "Henry of Navarre" and "The Scarlet Pimpernel" to attract American playgoers and dollars.

Mr. Klaw has also announced that Oswald Stoll, the head of the well-known variety combination here, has practically concluded arrangements with Klaw & Erlanger to produce in London all the latter's big American spectacular plays like "Ben Hur." At present Mr. Stoll is looking over a number of promising theatres big enough for the venture.

With Mr. Klaw returning his son Alonzo, who has won some fame as a landscape painter. Young Klaw, who is 22 years old, has been on a trip through Italy, Germany, and Spain, doing the art galleries, and returns with a high opinion of his countrymen's position in the world of art.

RISE OF STAGE STARS.

Maude Adams began as a child, and for years played small parts, gradually working up to leads.

Maxine Elliott began with training with a small part in the Frawley stock company.

Margaret Anglin was graduated from a dramatic school in New York; Nazimova from one in Russia.

Ethel Barrymore made her first appearance in her uncle, John Drew's company.

Frances Starr made her debut in a one side part in a stock company in Albany, N. Y.

Billie Burke began as a chorus girl in London.

Helen Ware only a few years ago made her debut as a supernumerary in Maude Adams's company.

INJECTIONS OF RADIUM CURED

French Physicians Report Patients Suffering from Lupus and Cancers Have Been Helped---Census of Fruit Microbes Taken --- Remedy Suggested for Increasing Birth Rates in France.

Several European physicians and surgeons have been experimenting with injections of solutions of radium as a curative measure. Dr. L. Wichham and Dr. M. Degrais have written an article on the subject for the London Lancet. The Medical Record says of it:

"They allude to a paper presented at the Lisbon Congress by several French authors, the conclusions of which are as follows: "When introduced into the animal body the emanation diffuses itself through the structures and may in this manner reach deep-seated parts. It has a predilection for the glands which form an internal secretion and especially for the suprarenal capsules. It is eliminated by the lungs and the skin, and to a small extent to the kidneys."

"The authors then pass on to relate their own experience with this mode of therapy. In a case of lupus vulgaris of the neck, a curative change was produced by injections of (1) water rendered radioactive in the proportion of one milligram of pure sulphate of radium per litre, or (2) water impregnated with radium in the proportion of one milligram of pure bromide of radium per litre. In this case forty injections of each kind and of from one to two cubic centimetres were given in the course of two months."

"They have also presented a case of lupus erythematosus, treating for comparison the lesions on the left side by the application of the radium apparatus and those on the right side by injections. On the left side there was a sharp reaction with destruction of the lupus and a subsequent process of repair. Later there seemed to be a strong cicatrix, but still later there was recurrence of the lesion at the margin of the tissues of repair. On the right side there was no visible inflammatory reaction, but there was first a diminution and then a disappearance of the erythema of the lupus, the part assuming a whitish cicatricial aspect."

"At the time the recurrence was found on the left side the recovery on the right side was maintained, and there has been no reappearance of lupus since that time. In these two cases the doses of radium were extremely small, but they contained the emanation, an element which is not present in the rays emitted by the radium apparatus."

"The injection of certain insoluble salts of radium suspended in an emulsion into structures of small absorbent power prolongs the contact of the salt with the diseased tissues and intensifies the action of the radiations and of the emanation. This plan was followed in treating a large cancerous nodule of the breast, an emulsion of radium being made in a mixture of paraffin and vaseline. The object was to inject this preparation beneath the nodule, so as to prepare a stratum underlying the whole of the diseased part. Thus the nodule was exposed to a cross fire, as it were, diminished in size and rapidly disappeared. There was no ulceration and there has been no recurrence."

"It must be understood that soluble radium when injected in a free state in the animal body and carries with it gaseous emanations which give rise to the phenomenon of radio-activity. The salt in a radium apparatus does not supply emanation for therapeutic purposes, for this gas does not pass through any solid body, being in this respect unlike the extremely penetrating radium ray.

"The authors believe that these experiments offer much hope for the future."

A microbe census has just been completed at the Pasteur Institute in Paris under the direction of Professor Metchnikoff, the noted bacteriologist. The particular field investigated was the surface of fruits exposed for sale in handcars and open stalls. An immense number of individuals were found tenanted the samples of strawberries, grapes and currants examined.

While admitting that the microbe population was mostly of the innocuous variety, the professor reiterates the old warning, "Do not eat uncooked fruits or vegetables." The latest census was undertaken by Professor Pflanzler and Professor Sartory, who took samples of fruit in the afternoon from the places where they were exposed for sale. This was in streets frequented by automobiles and consequently dusty. Each sample was washed in three changes of water which had been previously sterilized and the microbes in one cubic centimetre of water (27 fluid dram) were then counted.

The sample of large strawberries examined yielded on the first washing 1,500,000 bacteria, 74,000 on the second and 18,000 on the third. The first washing of the sample currants produced 851,000 microbes, the second 41,000 and the third 8,500. In the first washing of the sample grapes 3,200,000 microbes were found, in the second 129,000 and in the third 27,000.

"Simple muslin cloth," said Professor Sartory, in commenting on the results of the investigation, "will protect fruits and vegetables from innumerable microbes, and especially the noxious ones."

Dr. Jacques Bertillon, writing about the decline in the French birth rate, points out that in 1907 for the first time in French history the births and deaths during the year were practically equal. The figures were: Births, 770,000, and deaths, 756,500. He asserts that if it had not been that last summer was exceptionally cool and therefore more healthful than usual the death rate would have exceeded that of the births.

For years the number of births has been steadily increasing. Before the Franco-German war the annual total varied around a million. Until 1886 the figure always began with a nine. Then for twenty years they began with an eight and now for three years they have begun with a seven. "And," Dr. Bertillon adds, "that will continue until the total extinction of the nation."

By a list of comparative statistics he puts the case even more strikingly. In France last year the excess of births over deaths was only 13,500. For the previous year the excess in Germany was 880,000, in Austria 553,000, in Great Britain and Italy about the same, and even in Holland the births exceeded the deaths by 33,000. The chief remedy which he proposes to improve this state of affairs is to lighten the lot of poor people.

THIS MACHINE MONEY MAKER

Washington, July 1.—This machine is one of the greatest little money makers on earth. Also it is a money saver. It is such a money saver that when it was installed in the United States treasury building the other day—the first of its kind to be installed anywhere—43 threw 75 men and women out of jobs.

The machine literally makes money. The single attendant feeds into it the printed silver certificates, government notes that come from the bureau of engraving, and the machine numbers each note consecutively, puts the official red or blue seal on each one and ties them up into packages. The bills are fed into it in sheets and the machine cuts the bills apart.

This work was formerly done by hand, and it took over 75 government employes to do the work.

Dr. Jacques Bertillon, the French scientist, believes that there is a close connection between alcohol and tuberculosis and that the most important factor that favors the development of tuberculosis in France is the alcohol in beer and spirits.

The foe of tuberculosis, he declares, is wine. In the twenty-eight departments which form the northern part of France and in which cider, beer and spirits are standard drinks the deaths caused by consumption were 230 to 100,000 inhabitants in 1900, while in the other departments where wine is the favorite drink the proportion was 140.

After the age of 30, he says, consumption is two or three times more frequent among men than women, undoubtedly because the drinking of alcohol is more common with the former than with the latter.

Dr. Jacques Bertillon, the French scientist, believes that there is a close connection between alcohol and tuberculosis and that the most important factor that favors the development of tuberculosis in France is the alcohol in beer and spirits. The foe of tuberculosis, he declares, is wine. In the twenty-eight departments which form the northern part of France and in which cider, beer

Appointments of the Week

The society column seems to grow less every week. So few people remain in the city that the gaily and entertaining take place in the more fortunate suburbs. It would not do however to omit the few happenings which do take place. The average person grows accustomed to the variety in the Saturday paper and would, I am sure, wonder what was lacking without the doings of the gay people. To keep up with the times then one must keep the society news. The students are all at home and are making arrangements for a very jolly summer before they return to their studies. In the afternoon parties are being arranged. An unusually jolly one is to have a ten days' outing at Ononette.

The closing of the public schools was very successful. The High school and St. Vincent's were especially good. Lovers of good opera will be pleased to hear that the "Merry Widow" will be in St. John for a few nights the first week in August. Rumor has it that the new Theodore Bird's new play, "Friends," will eclipse anything previously given. Mr. Douglas McLeod, of the Bank of New Brunswick, Fredericton, spent Sunday in St. John.

Mr. H. H. McLean, Jr., arrived home on Saturday. Mr. McLean has finished his freshman year at Yale. Miss Marion Magee arrived home on Saturday. She was attending Strachan school in Toronto. Miss Eva MacLaren returns to the city today from Halifax, where she has been visiting friends.

Mrs. (Dr.) Kelly and Mr. Victor Crosby left on Saturday for Boston. Mr. Bernard Fuller is visiting in Naragansett Pier. Archibald Waller and Mrs. Waller of England, who have been the guests of Archdeacon and Mrs. Raymond, Waterloo street, left on Tuesday for England. Those who had the privilege of hearing Archdeacon Waller experienced a rare treat.

Master Ian and Miss Elsie MacLaren are in Sussex visiting the Rectory. Miss Frances Hazen is expected home this week from Toronto. A camping party left on Friday for a ten days' outing at Ononette. Mrs. J. Pope Barnes is to chaperone the party. Among the chaperones are Miss Jean Trueman, Miss Nettie Bridges, Miss Kathleen Trueman, Miss Mary MacLaren, Miss Jean White, Miss Catherine McAvity, Miss Lillie Raymond, Miss Vivian Barnes and Mr. Donald Skinner. Mr. Carson Flood, Mr. Hugh H. McLean, Jr., Mr. Percy McAvity, Mr. Arthur Rankine, Mr. Douglas McLeod, Mr. Seymour Barnes. Providing the weather is favorable nothing more is to be desired that this trip be a success.

Mr. Donald Fisher and Mr. Maurice Fisher are at home. They are students at the Royal Military College, Kingston. Miss Winnifred Raymond leaves today for Bridgetown, Nova Scotia, and other parts in the Annapolis Valley. Mrs. George McAvity and Mr. Clifford McAvity returned from New York on Saturday. Miss Clara Schofield and Miss Adele McAvity. Miss Mary MacLaren and Miss Edith Schofield. Miss Nettie Bridges and Miss Margaret McAvity and Miss Bertie Hegon. Mrs. Percy Thomson and Miss E. Kimball.

Prizes were won by Miss Bertha Macaulay and Miss Elizabeth Miller. The tournament was an exciting one making the competition keen. The players had lunch on the courts. In the afternoon the usual tea was given. Miss Eunice Macaulay, Miss Hegon and Miss Rainnie being the hostesses. Those in attendance were Miss Margaret Lee, Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. Fred Foster, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Simcox, Miss Vera MacLaren, Miss Lou Girvan and Mr. Percy Thomson, Mr. Andrew Merkel, Mr. Carson Flood, Mr. Jim Peters, Mr. Fred Taylor, Mr. Norman Rodgers, Mr. Cyrus Inches, Mr. Gordon Slaughter, Mr. Hugh Dobie, Mr. Bishop, Mr. Horace Porter. Miss Jean White returned on Thursday from the States where she has been visiting in Boston and Pennsylvania for two months.

Mrs. Roy Carlette has been visiting her parents in Halifax. Miss Daphne Crosby returned to St. John next week. Miss Hope Strachan will accompany her. A wedding of interest to many St. John people was solemnized in the Catholic church at Georgetown, P. E. I., on June 29th, when Miss Catherine McDonald, daughter of Hon. A. J. McDonald, was united in marriage to Mr. Henry O. McInerney of this city. The bride wore a gown of exquisite white duchesse satin. Miss Marion McDonald, bridesmaid, wore a becoming gown of blue crepe de chene and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Blake McInerney acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. McInerney left for a two weeks trip to Toronto and upper Canadian cities. Mrs. James Robertson who attending the Robertson-Nichols wedding at Rothesay returned to her home in Digby on Thursday.

MONCTON

June Brides in Other Countries

MISS CHRYSANTHEMUM OF JAPAN PREPARES FOR THE WEDDING

After the preliminaries had been arranged by the parents of the bride and groom, the slant-eyed maiden of fair Japan is carried to her future mother-in-law's house, where she will live after the marriage, that is, if she doesn't run away afterwards. The wedding dress must be of pure white silk, the sleeves of the kimono being 17 inches long, the sash 11 feet long and 8 inches wide. The bride veil resembles a big half balloon, from under which she may peep at her future lord from time to time—if he isn't looking. The ceremony takes place at the house of the groom's father, and in the evening never in the morning.

SHEDIAC

Shediac, N. B., June 28.—The closing of the schools took place last week. A highly entertaining and interesting program took place in the Central school, Sackville street, when the pupils met in their assembly hall, on Friday afternoon last. The most important feature of the afternoon was the presenting of the diploma to the graduates of the eleventh grade. The scholars to carry off the honors were the Misses Irene Bateman, Edith Stuart, Annie Roberts, and Allen Harper. The latter read a very original paper on the history of the country; and the early months of this year exhibited continuous improvement.

After reporting on the realization of Marshal da Fonseca's scheme of army reorganization and recommending the employment of European military instructors in preference to the present system of sending Brazilian officers to Europe to learn the art of war, President Pecanha passes to the new Brazilian navy. The first of its three Dreadnoughts has already arrived at Rio de Janeiro. It is perhaps the most formidable warship now afloat in commission. The second, the São Paulo, is to be ready for service in October. The third is expected next year. Naval bases and coaling sta-

Paris and the Department of the Seine have been almost completely cleared from rabies, writes Dr. Martel in a French medical paper. In 1909 only thirteen cases were reported with a registration of 185,000 dogs, compared with 846 cases and 140,000 dogs registered as recently as eight years ago.

In the last six years only four cases came under notice among 68,109 ownerless dogs taken charge of by the police, as compared with 65 cases among 78,708 dogs in the previous six years. The records of the Pasteur Institute also justify the belief that rabies is all but stamped out in Paris and its vicinity.

BRAZIL HAS NEW PRESIDENT

Fonseca Is Most Distinguished Figure in Country Since Don Pedro—Facts On The Powerful Republic.

New York, June 29.—The visit which is announced of Marshal Hermes da Fonseca, the leading soldier and the President-elect of Brazil, may be regarded as a step toward more intimate relations between this country and the great South American Republic. Since his election last March the Marshal has been visiting the capitals of Europe, palpably though not avowedly with political intent.

His arrival here is set for July 30, which is to stay a month. This will leave him some time to make a call on President Diaz of Mexico, and to visit one or two of the leading South American republics on his way home, should he so desire, for his inauguration as President does not occur until November 15.

He is by far the most distinguished representative of Brazil who has appeared in this country since the Emperor Dom Pedro made his visit in 1876. He has a marvelous popularity among his own people, as was shown in his election to the Presidency despite the anti-military feeling which prevails in Brazil. He has real services to his credit, and the reform of the military system of the country, including the establishment of compulsory service for all citizens on a plan modeled after that of Germany, with a strong organization of active units backed by a reserve, a national guard and a national guard reserve, is not only of his formulation, but was also enacted into law in 1908 largely through his influence. He has also met with high success abroad. He attended the army manoeuvres in Germany in 1908 and the Kaiser then singled him out for special attentions and honors.

The national ambitions of Brazil, for which Marshal da Fonseca is so typical a spokesman, are by no means unjustified by her recent history. The admirable maintenance of domestic peace and order for the last twenty years and the enterprise and foresight shown in the development of the country's resources point to absolute greatness for her in the near future if the present fortunate conditions continue. The annual message presented to the Congress last month by the retiring President, Dr. Nilo Pecanha, who as Vice-President acceded upon the death of President Afonso de Moriera Penna on June 14 of last year, shows that 1909 was one of the most prosperous and progressive years in the history of the country; and the early months of this year exhibited continuous improvement.

RAILWAY BUILDING

In 1909 there was an extension of 19,649 kilometers (roughly 12,000 miles) in the Brazilian railway system. In a few months more 2,388 kilometers or about 1,480 miles additional will be open to traffic. The central railroad has already penetrated as far as Rio de Janeiro, establishing connection with the State of Bahia. In a short time the Sao Paulo-Rio Grande Railroad will connect the important southern state with the capital. President Pecanha points out that existing laws are unfavorable to the development of the coasting trade, which should be a great wealth producer. He recommends legislation to encourage regular and frequent service between the leading ports by swift steamships.

In 1909 85,470 immigrants landed in Brazil. Of these 61,162 paid their own expenses; 23,983 of them were agriculturists. At present thirty-one colonies are in process of development, of which thirteen are backed by the States, the Federal Government merely guaranteeing to supply the colonists. The enterprising State of Sao Paulo is backing six colonies out of its own resources.

The weak spot so far in the national life is its finances. The last financial year left a deficit of nearly 16,000,000 Brazilian dollars (about 54 cents to the dollar); they have an extraordinary system of keeping separate accounts of receipts and expenditures in the two media. These figures look alarming, but President Pecanha hopes to see the gap soon closed up. The first quarter of 1910 showed a net increase of 23,329,000 receipts over the same period of 1909, and the growth of population, wealth and trade provides a further expansion of the national income. The President also gives some details of refunding operations of the national debt, negotiations for which were in favorable progress when he wrote. A reduction in interest from 5 or 4 1/2 to 4 per cent. is the advantage aimed at.

In 1909 the export trade of the republic amounted to £67,724,440 (about $218,000,000). This was an increase of £9,547,542, or about 17 per cent, over the exports of 1907, the highest previous year. The imports, however, showed a decline of 8.4 per cent, aggregating only £27,139,554, against £40,527,603 in 1907. Imports of gold in 1909 amounted to £8,851,619, and in the first quarter of this year £1,065,198 in billion was imported.

The message produced a very good impression throughout Brazil and it is said to have been favorably received in financial circles in Europe. The colossal natural wealth of the vast Brazilian territory is of course indisputable. The country is receiving immigrants mainly from Germany, Italy and the Siberian peninsula. The policy of forced development which the Governments both of the federation and of the States have adopted, seems to be blended with no small degree of prudence and foresight. Altogether it would take a pessimistic spirit of no slight violence to doubt that the high career which this fine people and its statesmen have conceived for their land will be realized in bounteous measure.

Sproul Out of the Game.

The injury which Sproul, the Clipper's popular catcher received on the fingers of his right hand in yesterday's game, was of a painful nature, and will keep him out of the game for some weeks.

Break in the Water Main.

There was a break in a ten-inch water main at the corner of Prince William and Duke street yesterday morning. A gang of men were set to work at noon and by nine o'clock the pipe had been fixed and the water turned on again.

Borden Club Excursion.

The moonlight excursion under the auspices of the Borden club promises to be one of the biggest of its kind this season. Already a large number of tickets have been disposed of for the 20th. Those wishing to attend had better obtain the limited number left on hand.

Inquest Opens Today.

The inquiry under Dr. D. E. Berryman into the death of Diego Siracusa, the Italian shopkeeper, opens this afternoon in the court house at 2:30 o'clock. As more than fifteen witnesses may be examined a second session will be held in the evening beginning at 7:30.

Narrow Escape from Drowning.

John Craig had a narrow escape from drowning in Lower Cove slip yesterday morning. While launching a small boat he lost his balance and fell back in the water. In falling his head came in contact with a stone which rendered him unconscious. Several persons who happened to notice the accident quickly rescued him, and it was found that the injury to his head was slight.

Tuesday, Date of Joy Ride.

The King's Daughters Guild will give the children who were unable to take advantage of the trip to the country a "joy ride" and it is probable that it will be keenly enjoyed by the little ones who are fortunate enough to be partakers of it. The party will take street cars and will spend a pleasant day at the seaside. The date set for the trip is Tuesday next, July 5th, and it will be a red letter day to the little ones.

Intersociety League.

In the Intersociety League series yesterday the St. Peters defeated the A. O. H. in a loose game by the score of 15-9. The game advertised between St. Peters and St. Josephs did not materialize, owing to the latter refusing to play the green and white with Harrington on their pitching staff. This afternoon the St. Peters and A. O. H. will meet again. It is said that a movement is on foot to completely reorganize the league. Several of the St. Josephs best men are now playing with the St. Johns and Clippers.

Gypsy "Hikers" Start Today.

Eighteen of the Y. M. C. A. boys will leave this morning for a week's trip to Fredericton during which time they will live close to nature. They will make the trip in gypsy fashion travelling in large caravans. They will reach Westfield tonight and remain there over Sunday. On Monday night they will be at Welsford and will make the trip to the capital by easy stages arriving at the capital on Saturday. The return trip will be made by canoes on the river and the boys will camp at night wherever they happen to be. On the trip they will entertain the people of Westfield, Welsford and Fredericton Junction with concerts. The trip is expected to be a very pleasant one.

PIONEER WRITER OF ARTICLES ON CANADA TO ENGLISH PRESS

Beckles Willson, Well-Known Author in City, Says English Readers Today Have More General Knowledge of Dominion Than Canadians—Was Here 14 Years Ago for Daily Mail.

Beckles Willson, a well known writer on Canada and Canadian subjects, arrived in the city yesterday and will leave today for Nova Scotia to gather material for a book dealing with the historical features of Annapolis, Grand Pre, Cape Breton and other places. Mr. Willson was last in St. John 14 years ago as a representative of the London Daily Mail, which was then starting publication. His articles on Canada which appeared in the new London daily were the first systematic effort made by an English newspaper to give publicity to the affairs of the Dominion. Speaking to a Standard representative of the spread of information in England on all matters relating to Canada, Mr. Willson said the reading class in the old Country today probably knew more about the Dominion as a whole than Canadians did themselves. Canadians while well acquainted with their own province frequently had very hazy ideas of other parts of Canada. So much had appeared in the British press in recent years that a knowledge of Canada was much more general. Discussing Canadian authors Mr. Willson remarked on the fact that "Canadians were not sufficiently generous to their own writers, whether living in the Dominion or elsewhere, and instanced Roberts and Sir Gilbert Parker who obtained recognition in the states and in England some years before their own countrymen came to appreciate them. Although now a resident in England Mr. Willson was born in Montreal and acquired his journalistic experience in Canada and the states. He is the author of numerous publications on Canadian subjects, the best known of which is the Great Company published in 1899 and now regarded as a classic. He is not now an active journalistic work, but is a frequent contributor to magazines.

REV. THOMAS PIERCE MADE GOOD RECORD

Former Pastor of Zion Church Completes Four Years at Florenceville --- Parsonage Built and Receipts Increased

Rev. Thomas Pierce, who was formerly a pastor of Zion church, has just closed a four years' pastorate on the Florenceville circuit. At the last meeting of the quarterly board the affairs of the circuit were found in a most satisfactory condition. All the funds of the church were in advance of any previous year. During the present pastorate a parsonage has been built at a cost of upwards of $3,200. After the balance from the parsonage aid fund is received there will be a remaining indebtedness of a little over $800. In addition over $200 worth of furnishings, etc., has been put in the parsonage. The estimated receipts of the circuit have been advanced one hundred dollars during the four years. Eight persons have been received into the membership of the church during the past year. The Wicklow branch of the W. M. Society recently spent a pleasant evening at the parsonage, and at the close presented Mrs. Pierce with a gold piece, as a token of appreciation of her valuable aid, after which ice cream and other refreshments were served.

HUNDREDS ENJOYED RIVER EXCURSIONS

Several Societies and Picnic Parties Out for a Good Time Yesterday—Strawberry Festival at Hampton.

Excursions on the river were the order of the day yesterday. The A. O. H. excursionists who went up on the Sincennes, were numerous, and they enjoyed the fine weather and the trip. The boat stopped at several places on its way up the river to take on parties and landed them at the Narrows where the young people of the party played games and indulged in dancing. On the way back the boat stopped at the same places to discharge the passengers, and reached St. John at a late hour. Another party which went up the river under the auspices of the I. O. G. T., held a picnic at the Narrows. There was an excursion of the I. O. F. to Watter's Landing on the Majestic, and another excursion under the auspices of St. Mary's Band on the May Queen.

Another party went to Hampton where a strawberry festival was held and the Portland Methodist Y. M. A. went up on the Champlain to Jemseg. The Renforth Outing Association, held an excursion on the river, sailing or rather being towed, on the Mary Louise, a two masted schooner, chartered for outing purposes.

PEJEPSCOT RAISED AND TOWED TO PORT

Tasco's Labors Were Successful Yesterday and Big Tow Boat Now Lies Beached on Navy Island.

The tugboat Pejepsco, owned by the Pejepsco Lumber Company, which has been lying at the bottom of the Bay at Cape Spencer was raised yesterday by the wrecking steamer Tasco, which was brought from New Haven for the purpose. Although the Tasco has been several days on the job, yesterday was the first time she had a fair chance to get to work, and when she did she made a quick finish of it. Hoisting screws were placed at either side of the sunken boat, and after a hard pull the Tasco got the Pejepsco off. The sunken steamer was towed to this port with only the top of her house above water and was beached at Navy Island and properly lighted, until she can be repaired sufficiently to float. It is likely that the Pejepsco will be taken to Bath for extensive repairs. It is also stated that the company owning the Tasco will receive $12,000 as their remuneration for raising the sunken steamer, a contract to this effect having been made.

Artillery. Good scores were made at the shoot-off of the 3rd Regt. C. A. match. In the morning Capt. F. C. Magee came highest in B. Class and J. T. McRobbie in Class A. The winners made 46 and 49 points respectively. Capt. F. C. Magee again led in the afternoon shoot, with 73 points and the winner in A. Class was Leonard Coates with 84 points. The attendance both morning and afternoon was small.

Clippers Cheerful.

Great interest is being attached to the afternoon game between the Clippers and St. Johns. Many believe the Clippers have first struck their winning streak and will win today. McBride's team is undoubtedly much strengthened by the addition of two new men in the infield. Callaghan who pitched winning ball last Wednesday will be in the box with Mills behind the bat. The St. John lineup will also be slightly changed. Boward will pitch, Riley will play center and Lynch will tend to left, while Cribbs will officiate at right. This is one of the fastest possible lineups that could be got together in the city and a great game is looked forward to.
