

U. S. CABINET AND JAPANESE COLONIZATION

A Third Attempt Will be Made Shortly to Settle Differences Between California and Japan.

JAPS OBJECT TO MORE STRINGENT LEGISLATION

Claim Proposed Laws Are Discriminating and Confiscatory and Would Not be Acceptable.

Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co. Washington, July 7.—The Wilson administration, it has become known, will make no effort for the third time in its career to prevent tension in American-Japanese relations over the question of Asiatic colonization on the Pacific coast.

Theoretically, the first step by the government was the receipt of the letter from Governor Stephens of California, which was made public on June 22, yet officials actually have begun to prepare the case to be presented to the people of California from an international standpoint.

The seeming mystery in the failure of the letter of the California governor to reach the State Department has been explained by the intimation that Governor Stephens held it in order to take up the matter personally with Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of State, during the latter's presence in San Francisco for the Democratic National Convention.

The meeting between Mr. Colby and Governor Stephens, although it may serve to clarify the situation, by enabling the Secretary of State to get the viewpoint of the citizens of the Pacific coast while imparting the obstacles which stand in the way as Washington sees it, cannot result in any decision as to this government's attitude.

Decision in the matter rests ultimately in the hands of the President and his cabinet, and officials so far have hesitated to even discuss the possibilities of the situation because it has never been broached at a cabinet meeting.

The California viewpoint as it will be presented to Secretary Colby, and members of the House immigration committee, who are to give hearings on the subject along the coast, will be that the Japanese have consistently found ways and means of evading the present immigration laws, and that the increase of Japanese population in California is becoming a menace to the life of the state. The apparent desire for legislation in California, in fact, goes beyond the question of the law but before the voters and calls for additional restrictive action by the government to prevent the entry of any Japanese in the future.

The position of Japan, as learned in diplomatic circles here, is that the Japanese, while willing to recognize the exclusion act, cannot without protest sanction additional legislation regarded in Japan as discriminatory and confiscatory. The letter of Governor Stephens has created a storm in Japan that finds reflection in all of the press. Comment varies in tone, but is unanimous in condemning the contemplated action of the citizens of California. The Yozasu, one of the most violent, is quoted in cable advice as saying that "the anti-Japanese fever in America is rising more and more and the pressure of tyranny and persecution is daily increasing."

The Tokio Nichi Nichi says: "Despite the efforts of non-mindful Americans like Mr. Vanderbilt and his company, who recently visited this country, to promote Anglo-American friendship, the anti-Japanese agitation in California is gathering more force than ever. The Californians would do anything if only to shut out the Japanese, and the fever is spreading to Washington and the Pacific coast states, although the malady is nowhere so virulent as in the state just named. California would ignore treaties and agreements and rob Japanese of everything. The state is putting a blot on the good name of America and forcing a serious development between America and Japan. If California is to pass the bill now being promoted by anti-Japanese leaders to rob Japanese of everything, life would become impossible in California for Japanese. Cannot California be persuaded to respect treaties and how to dictate of reason and justice?"

The Chou, in an editorial, says: "The anti-Japanese agitation is a calendar affair in California. Only it may be more violent this year than at other times, owing to the fact that it may be dragged into the presidential and congressional election campaign."

RECORD IN ATLANTIC STEAMSHIP TRAVEL

Four Stowaways Found in Coal Bunkers of C. P. O. S. Liner Tunisian.

EIGHT BRIDESMAIDS WORE CRINOLINES

Montreal, July 7.—What is regarded as a record in the history of Atlantic steamship travel has just been achieved by four stowaways on board the C. P. O. S. liner Tunisian, which docked here today. They were not discovered until after the ship had left Quebec, fifteen days out from London and La Havre. They were two Frenchmen and two Poles who admitted boarding the ship at La Havre. Their hiding place was in the coal bunkers, and the men presented a fearsome appearance when they finally came out. Stowage passengers kept the men supplied with food during the passage.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

London, July 7.—Official accounts reaching here from Melbourne, Australia, telling of the escape of the Prince of Wales in his recent railway accident, say that the heir to the throne had an extremely narrow escape from serious injury or death. Only the bed clothes broke the Prince's fall when his coach was overturned. An adjoining car caught fire, and the Prince crawled through the window—the calmest man in the entourage.

NEW GLASGOW HAD SERIOUS FIRE YESTERDAY

Plant of Maritime Bridge Company, Leading Industry of Place, Wiped Out by Flames.

TWO HUNDRED OUT OF WORK

Extent of Financial Setback Not Known at Present—May Not be Rebuilt.

New Glasgow, N. S., July 7.—At eight o'clock tonight New Glasgow had one of the most serious industrial fires of years when, in a few minutes, flames swept the main workshop of the Maritime Bridge Company into a mass of ruins. The fire started in the northern end of the large building where the riveting shop is located in a wooden annex. A strong wind was blowing from the south and the flames, with incredible rapidity, worked back against the wind through the long shop. The roof of the whole structure was of wood but the walls, for the greater part, were concrete. So quick did the flames spread that almost before the alarm had ceased sounding the main building was doomed.

When the fire fighters reached the scene, which they did with commendable speed there was no possible hope of saving in any way the larger building, and all efforts were then bent towards saving the power house, carpenter shop and offices. As a consequence the damage to these was not great, but the main building, down the plant is but a skeleton of what it was prior to the fire. Just what damage was done to the machinery in the plant cannot be ascertained until the place cools out, and at midnight it was still a mass of seething flames.

Origin a Mystery

There is no idea as to how the fire originated, as the men had all gone home, and the plant was in charge of the night watchman. However, one man or a hundred would have been powerless to save the property. A large picnic was in progress a couple of hundred yards away, and while the men there gave every assistance with the fire equipment of the plant the flames beat them to it.

The fire was a very spectacular one and thousands of people flocked to the scene. Industrially the fire is indeed a serious one, as the Maritime Bridge Works was one of the most important employment agencies in the district. It has been a busy shop and had a large volume of work on hand. At present there were only about one hundred men on the job, the staff being temporarily reduced owing to the shortage in stock. The usual staff numbers over two hundred and it was expected to have had this number at work on the arrival of structural steel.

Martin Burrell, minister of customs, is to become librarian of parliament. The two retirements, it is said, are not due to the change in leadership. Mr. Burrell has for some time expressed a desire to return to private life. GERMAN PLAN NOT AGREEABLE TO THE ALLIES

Their Plan, However, Opens the Way to Discussion and Diplomats Are Hopeful of Agreement.

LLOYD GEORGE GETS SCRAPPY

Curt Retort Given Him by Head of the German Delegation Yesterday.

Spa, Belgium, July 7.—(By The Associated Press)—The German plan for progressive demobilization to 100,000 men in fifteen months was presented to the representatives of the Allied governments here this afternoon and was declared unsatisfactory to the Allies. The Associated Press is informed by a prominent member of the conference, it will be examined seriously, however, and acted upon after the experts report tomorrow.

The impression in Allied circles tonight is far more favorable than yesterday, the presentation of the German plan opening the way for discussion and removing the danger of a rupture.

Dr. Simons, the German foreign minister, gave it as his opinion that the crisis had not yet passed. The only moment when there was any bitterness shown at this afternoon's session was when Premier Lloyd George said rather emphatically: "You only have to make a law to reduce your army and execute it."

To this Simons replied: "I wish to remind the honorable gentlemen that there are parts of the British Empire in which there are laws concerning the keeping of arms by subjects, which the British Empire is unable to enforce."

The Allied demand is for immediate destruction of the cannon which the Allied commissioners in Germany have under guarantee, together with 50,000 machine guns. Germany desired to destroy the guns at the rate of one a month. The Allies hold that this is not sufficiently rapid and express fear that the machine guns will fall into the hands of insurrectionists. The military experts of both Germany and the Allies began an examination of the German plan immediately after adjournment of the conference at seven o'clock this evening.

Official Communique

The official communique issued after the session of the conference today says that General Von Zeck, German chief of staff, submitted a detailed note on Germany's position regarding war material and asked for a delay of fifteen months to comply with the treaty requirements.

Premier Lloyd George, on behalf of the Allies, declared this impossible since it was known that thousands of guns, machine guns and rifles were in the hands of the German population and a million men were under arms under various pretexts.

The communique says that the experts would meet tonight to verify General Von Zeck's figures and that the Allies would announce their final decision tomorrow.

The German minister of defence, Herr Gessler, during a recess of the conference, said to the thousands of the press men: "If we are compelled to disarm them it must be done, but we will not be responsible for internal order in Germany."

JAPAN TAKES POSSESSION OF SIBERIAN PORT

In Reprisal for Massacre of Japanese Subjects by Bolsheviks Have Seized Nikolaievsk.

CHINA DECIDES TO TRADE WITH RUSSIA

Will Appoint Consul General at Moscow and Send Delegation to Siberia.

By ROGER A. BURR. Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co. Peking, July 7.—Japanese forces have seized the Siberian port of Nikolaievsk in reprisal for the massacre there of Japanese troops and civilians by Bolsheviks. The Chinese Government, in accordance with its general policy of promoting relations with Russia, has decided to establish a consular general at Moscow and a commercial delegation at Verkhneudinsk, Siberia.

By GLENN BABB.

Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co. Tokyo, July 7.—Japan's new Siberian policy was announced in the Diet yesterday, when Premier Hara and Foreign Minister Uchida made statements. In view of the massacre of 700 Japanese at Nikolaievsk in the period from March to June, Japan has decided to occupy Nikolaievsk and such points in the province of Saghalien as may seem necessary pending restoration of a legitimate government from which an indemnity can be collected. Transbaikalia, having been completely evacuated by the Czechs, Japan announces her intention to withdraw all troops from those provinces. No mention is made of Semenov, the reactionary leader, now supported in this region by the Japanese. Japan will continue to occupy the Vladivostok and Habarovsk districts until the menace to Korea of unrest in this region, also owing to the presence of Japanese residents there and because Habarovsk is of strategic importance, being on the line of communications with Saghalien. In view of these conditions, Japan is compelled to maintain troops there until opened to maintain troops. M. Uchida's speech placed the blame for failure to reach a settlement on Tsingtao, on China's refusal to open negotiations, repeating that Japan was ready at any time to negotiate. He reviewed at length the Japanese consortium situation, emphasizing that Great Britain, France and America had acknowledged Japan's special position vis-a-vis China for securing her own national defense and safeguarding her economic interests. Uchida's statement appears to confirm the belief that Japan and America differ in their interpretations of the consortium agreement reached by Mr. Lamont here in April.

AMERICAN BISHOP IN ST. PAUL'S

Dr. Rhinelander Preaches on July 4th to English Congregation—Church Crowded to Hear Him.

MADE ELOQUENT PLEA FOR ANGLI-SAXON UNITY

Declared Secession in 1776 Was Only Manifestation of True English Spirit.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Company.)

By CARL W. ACKERMAN.

London, July 7.—The sermon at the morning service Sunday in St. Paul's Cathedral was delivered by Bishop Rhinelander, of Philadelphia. It dealt in a large, sympathetic, cosmopolitan, and calm manner with the Anglo-American situation.

"The world's need for food and rest, peace and order bind us unbreakably together for the sake of liberty," was the bishop's keynote. "An American bishop," he said, "speaking on this day had in this cathedral at a time so critical in our common history, cannot but be moved by strong emotions. Liberty has been the dominant ideal of our race, of both our nations. We may have had in our history, however, but we have never had a more noble ideal of our race, of both our nations. We may have had in our history, however, but we have never had a more noble ideal of our race, of both our nations."

"America Ran True to Form." "I may be interpreted as the American day of independence with our confidence in an English congregation, for in the great war just over is found the unshakable trust of it. We may have been late in coming to it, but we have seemed inexorably slow in taking the place at your side which properly belonged to us, but we did come in at last and not too late, and we came as a unit, with our whole strength, our heterogeneous, multi-colored mass of us came in, made up of pigments of nearly every race, color and creed which the earth knows. The nation as a whole responded when the call came quite clear and unmistakable. America ran true to form."

"This proves, does it not, that with us as with you, though there may be a stagnation and distraction, though corrupt politics may poison public life and greedy ambitions dull men's consciences, the soul of the nation is still set on liberty, is still ready to defend it at all costs, still recognizes it as the cornerstone of true prosperity and righteous peace. And this common faithfulness of our two nations to the ideal of liberty is much more than a distinctive mark of our past history; it is our common burden of responsibility for days to come."

Anglo-Saxon Unity as World Hope. "It is difficult to see how secure guarantees of freedom are to be given smaller, weaker nations unless we together give them. The League of Nations can hardly be more than a general plan, a visionary dream of reconstruction unless the British empire and the United States together pledge to secure it, through practical effectiveness. God help us to do it, and the doing of it will be no easy task. There are no lacking signs that present-day democracy is losing hold of that idealism which alone can keep it safe from mob rule on the one hand and creeping influence on the other. May the pressure of the world's need and our sense of the world's dependence upon us bind us together even more closely to perpetuate our common heritage than the threat of the great war brought us together to defend it."

Few U. S. Colors Displayed.

Its route from Kensington to St. Paul's your correspondent was surprised by the small number of American flags displayed. Aside from a few large hotels, the American Club and one or two American firms, the Stars and Stripes were conspicuous by their absence, probably because of Sunday, which is always a very quiet day in London. A second surprise came when your correspondent asked an usher in St. Paul's for the program. He handed you to a poster on the bulletin board which read "the bishop of Pennsylvania," and then remarked innocently: "All the bishops from the colonies are here for the Lambeth conference."

MARINELLI CASE ENDED YESTERDAY

Sydney, N. S., July 6.—At exactly 10 minutes past five this afternoon the jury which for the past four days has been sitting at the trial of Mrs. Alice Marinelli, accused as an accomplice to the murder of her husband, returned a verdict of not guilty. The case has been one of the longest and most sensational in the history of Cape Breton Supreme Court annals. After the removal of Mike Koyal, on a similar charge on Wednesday last, the case of Mrs. Marinelli was opened on Thursday morning. At ten minutes past four, the four-day trial was completed.

WHY THE VESPER ENTRIES WERE BARRED BY ENGLISH STEWARDS

An Expense Account Turned in by Late Oscar Thorne, Manager of Vesper Crew Which Raced at Henley in 1905, is Responsible for the Trouble Which Has Barred Jack Kelly from the Diamond Sculls in England.

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL.

(Sports Editor Evening Public Ledger.)

An expense account turned in by the late Oscar Thorne, manager of the Vesper crew which raced at Henley in 1905, is responsible for the trouble which has barred Jack Kelly from the Diamond Sculls in England. This expense account was closely scrutinized, and because there was some doubt about a row of the Henley members of the crew were suspended for one year. When the English stewards heard about this they naturally supposed that a professional crew had been sent over, because poor and adopted a resolution barring all Vesper entries in the future.

Although this happened fourteen years ago, the real story of this trip never has been published, according to H. B. Hoffman. It was Mr. Hoffman who first conceived the idea of sending the crew to England. His individual efforts were aided, through subscriptions, to pay the expenses of sixteen men for six weeks.

The Vesper crew had made a wonderful record, winning the world's championship in Paris in 1900 at the Olympic games and repeating four years later at the Olympics in St. Louis. This never had been done before or since—no crew winning the championship twice in succession.

"We were barred from the Henley regatta," said Mr. Hoffman. "The eligibility of every man was proved and we even went so far as to submit sworn affidavits regarding the amateur status. The Stuyvesant Navy Boat Club, first from Christ College by several lengths, but on the second day we drew Leicester. That was a great race. I made a mistake in rowing to the starting point and waiting in the hot sun for an hour while our opponents arrived."

"The two crews rowed the entire mile and 550 yards and necked and necked until the very end. The English crew was a professional crew, he is a professional for life. Therefore, there was some doubt or the time would not have been limited to one year."

BASEBALL CROWN SLIPPING AWAY FROM GREAT TYRUS COBB

The Detroit Star is on the Down Grade — Looked on as World's Greatest Ball Player — "Babe" Ruth is Now Looked on as Most Wonderful All Round Man on the Diamond.

New York, July 7.—The Cobb era that has been lighting the ways of baseball for fifteen years seems to be setting behind the clouds. Slowly but surely he is getting started on his annual achievements of the greatest in the national pastime, the Detroit Star has been so lately in getting under way this season that baseball is leaning for his valiantcy. Cobb has justly been considered the greatest of all players. His feats have so far overshadowed his nearest rivals that random observers of ever seeing a youngster from the new school rise up and take his place.

"Who will fill the shoes of Cobb when he steps out?" has been the million of an argument for years. The question has gone without answer until this year. A great record has been made, but the Babe has a record himself. Considering Ruth not as the greatest homerun hitter of all times, not as the greatest attraction in the history of the game and the highest priced bit of baseball flesh in the major leagues, but as an all-around ball player, and he is almost there.

SIR ROBERT'S MANTLE FALLS UPON MEIGHEN

Rowell's Position.

The position which Mr. Rowell takes is outlined in the following official statement also issued tonight: "About four months ago Mr. Rowell announced to the prime minister that, at the close of the recent session, he would retire from the government. This announcement was communicated to caucus on Thursday last, but at the urgent and insistent request of the Liberal-Unionists in parliament, Mr. Rowell was prevailed upon to continue in office until a decision should be reached as to the formation of a new party."

"The races there last three days and are run in heats. We won the first from Christ College by several lengths, but on the second day we drew Leicester. That was a great race. I made a mistake in rowing to the starting point and waiting in the hot sun for an hour while our opponents arrived."

Others Stand by Meighen

PARIS IS VERY PESSIMISTIC ON SPA CONFERENCE

They Are Afraid That Revision of Treaty of Versailles Will be Result.

BELIEVE MILLERAND MADE BIG MISTAKE

Paris, July 7.—To the French the Spa conference is mud deep in the mire of the Versailles conference. They have very little hope of a settlement and much fear of an entanglement. Reading between the lines of the French press reports and editorials on the subject, two facts are perfectly apparent: Firstly, the French realize now that a terrific error, Premier Millerand committed at San Remo in consenting to a conversation with the Germans and, secondly, by very natural sequence, the French fear that the outcome of the conversations now beginning at Spa will be disastrous. All the optimism—"we are content"—that the French minister so liberally displayed round the Hythe conference, has vanished. Sadly, Poincaré—admirer of the bitter critic of England, and America—admits in the Echo de Paris that from the French standpoint France is at the mercy of Lloyd George, and France is dependent on the trickiest English politician.

"Millerand is like a man who missed a street car at San Remo," said one of the shrewdest political judges to me today. "Since then he has been running after it at the different conferences. At Boulogne he got a foot on the step and he thought he had caught it, but at Brussels he dropped back again into the street."

In other words the French Premier conceded at San Remo the principle of a discussion with Germany. He failed to perceive at the time that his concession was really equivalent to conceding the principle of revision of the treaty of Versailles. Later—too late—he perceived his mistake and has been trying vainly to correct it. Now, at Spa, he is liable to pay the penalty for that weakness.

Since San Remo, French diplomacy has been fighting for one thing and one thought, presented in various forms, a measure of coercion round the front to the Germans. The French wanted to have the programme drawn up—the disarmament plan, reparations or the financial plan, a measure of coercion round the front to the Germans. Grand Circuit Racing Yesterday

North Randall, Cleveland, July 7.—Voltage, owned by U. D. Welsh, Kaa's City, Mo., and driven by Fred Egan, Memphis, Tenn., won the Fasig sweepstakes purse of $2,000, the feature event of today's grand circuit racing.

The Prince Volo out took the event from five great juvenile trotters in straight heats. Worth Ellsworth went lame while scoring and was withdrawn.

Voltage led from the start in the first heat and had enough in reserve to withstand Great Britton's belated sprint, Natalie the Great, and Day Star competed in the betting and heavy favorites were never prominent in the first heat.

Egan laid back with Voltage in the second heat, letting Day Star set the pace to the stretch, where Voltage passed the other heroes drive won by a length, with Great Britton at most overtaking Day Star for second place. The time, 2:11.34 for this mile, was remarkable considering the heavy track.

Continued rains this morning put the track in such condition that the horses were not called to the post for the first event until 3:30 p.m. and as a result it was impossible to finish today's programme of six races, the 2:18 class trot and the 2:14 class pace going over until tomorrow, weather permitting.

Announcement was made that it will be necessary to race on Saturday to complete the week's programme, instead of winding up on Friday.

Foxy Ann and Wood Patch were the only favorites to win today.

The Swimming Team Strong For Olympics

Montreal, July 7.—Quebec province swimmers, with George Vernot as the particularly bright star of the constellation, will be in the ascendant on Canada's team which will meet the world's mermen at the Olympic water sports in Antwerp.

In the trials which concluded here Saturday, swimmers from this province scored five firsts, eight seconds and seven thirds, and set four new Canadian marks. Three of these are to the credit of Vernot, and one goes to George Flak. Vernot was a double winner Saturday, winning the furlong and quarter mile, while Flak defeated him in the 100 yards back-stroke in record time.

That Canada will be strongly represented in the Olympic swimming events, both by male and female swimmers, is evidenced in the new records set at the trials here as follows:

100 yards—George Vernot, 1:09 1/5. 200 yards—George Vernot, 2:33. One mile—George Vernot—36 mins. 12 3/5.

440 breast stroke—G. H. Flak, 5:07 1/5. 100 yards—Miss Grimshaw, Winnipeg, 1:36 3/5. 220 yards—Miss Keiser, Winnipeg, 3:35 1/5.

300 yards—Miss Grimshaw, Winnipeg, 5:07 1/5. Clayton Bourne, the sixteen-year-old swimmer, took the place honor Saturday and also took the measure of several of the out of town swimmers, acquitting himself in a highly creditable manner. He was second to Vernot in the latter's two winning events.

Several records were lowered, the greatest feat being in the 220 yards event when the previous record of 3:04 1/5, held by Ritter of the New York Athletic Club was smashed by Vernot, the latter clipping 35 1/5 seconds off, bringing the record down to 2:33.

G. Harold Flak in swimming the 100 yards back stroke in 1:33 2/5 smashed the previous record, also held by Ritter, 5:07 1/5.

Although George Hodgson, the former champion, was beaten in the mile race on Saturday, and withdrew from the competitions on Saturday, he is still eligible for the Olympic games at Antwerp by virtue of being a former champion.

BUCKINGHAMSHIRE REGIMENT WON

London, July 7.—(By Canadian Associated Press)—Lord Cotzeles, of the Buckinghamshire Regiment, was the winner of the Halford Memorial Cup at Bisley, today, with Colonel Epton, of the Highland Light Infantry, second; and Major Bennett, of the Ulster Regiment, third.

Big Yachts Are Being Measured

New York, July 7.—Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV, challenger for the America's Cup and Resolute, the defending craft of the New York Yacht Club, were hauled out of the water at the Morse Drydock and Repair Company in Brooklyn today for measurement in anticipation of the international races of Sandy Hook beginning Thursday, July 15.

The yachts are being measured by Professor Harold W. Webb, Columbia University who has a corps of assistants.

Measuring the cup yachts is an exceedingly difficult proposition this year as the rule required that the craft be weighed for displacement. This was not done in former cup races. It will require at least 600 separate measurements being drawn out on each craft. At the rate of progress made today it is doubtful whether the work will be finished before Saturday. The figures then will have to be checked with those of the designers of the crafts.

The yachts were measured with full crews on board. Shamrock carries thirty-five hands and five in the after guard, including Mrs. W. P. Burton, wife of the amateur skipper of the craft, Resolute carried thirty paid hands and an after guard of five.

It was stated that H. L. Garrett would represent the Royal Ulster Yacht Club on board Resolute during the race and that Sherman Hoyt, a member of the after guard of Vanitie, would be the American representative on board Shamrock IV.

CHALLENGER AND DEFENDER TOGETHER

New York, July 7.—For the first time in the history of the America's cup races, challenger and defender lay today in the same drydock, awaiting official measurement.

The Resolute, American yacht, was pulled out this morning after being towed to South Brooklyn from Glen Cove. The Shamrock IV, was docked yesterday, after being brought from Sandy Hook.

CHALLENGER SHAMROCK IV. LOOKS LIKE A REAL WINNER

Commodore Aemilius Jarvis, Well Known Canadian Yachtsman, Who Was at Trials, Gives Details of Both Yachts—Shamrock Designer Has Outbuilt Americans—Wonderful Speed Shown by Challenger and Her Description Given.

Toronto, Ont., July 7.—In response to the request of the Canadian Press Limited, for an interview of the prospects of Shamrock IV in the approaching America's Cup contest, Commodore Aemilius Jarvis the well known Canadian yachtsman, who has taken part in the trial, has been good enough to prepare the following:

"The Shamrock IV, the challenger, and the Resolute, are so different in type as it is possible to be imagined. Yachtsmen will be interested to know that the reason for this is that the conditions for the race for the America's Cup are not similar to the racing rules in which all other American yachts take part. Yachtsmen will understand what I say that in this race classification is governed by water-line length, whereas time allowance is governed by rating, whereas in the racing rules for all clubs in Canada and the United States classification and time allowance is given for rating.

Heretofore, Americans have always outbuilt their opponents, being prepared to pay in time allowance for their excess rating and experience has shown that it paid. In this case, Mr. Charles Nicholson, the designer of the Shamrock IV has outbuilt them and proposes to pay for his excess power and sail area.

In the matter of lightness of construction the Shamrock has an advantage of probably ten to twelve per cent, thus lowering her centre of gravity and giving her greater ability to carry sail (which she has taken full advantage of), and as her sailing lines are very much longer, she should be much faster through the water.

"The whole question is—will her rig stand up to her enormous power? The difficulty that the Resolute has been experiencing has been weakness of hull, necessitating constant repairs and re-rigging. She is built of bronze, whilst the Shamrock is of wood on the new principle of construction, very few sectional frames, the strength being found by very light longitudinal frames, and her planking in three-ply, what one might call cross-crossed and running fore and aft. Her decks are but five eighths of an inch thick, being five plys of one-eighth inch each. Most of her spars are built on what is known as the McCruer patent, which is practically light one-eighth inch veneering on top of moulds, one laid on top of the other until the requisite thickness and strength is obtained. They are not much lighter than the usual method of hollow spars, but they are infinitely stronger as you get grains of wood from timber of altogether different trees.

"The topmast that has been so much discussed was really a telescope club topmast yard, which housed into the weight of the doobings of a yard. A man was sent aloft to enter the luff of the sail onto the jacks along the after side of the spars. The head had no haliards but had a wire stop which went over the shoulder of the topmast. The whole spar was then hoisted from the deck and fitted like an ordinary topmast. The luff of the sails was kept tight by heavy downward pressure of the tack purchase. This top-sail yard having no doobings was kept in position by rigging and had a separate forestay and backstay and shrouds, the latter being led out to the main spreaders and thence to the deck. These shrouds were so long—nearly 175 feet—that it was found that wire of sufficient strength for the strain was too elastic, owing to their great length and could not be kept tight. To put wire of sufficient size not to stretch would have added too much weight. Undoubtedly the topmast and rig would have worked if there was sufficient time left before the race to properly rig it and try it out but as the yacht is to be measured Wednesday and raced next Thursday, it was found more prudent to go back to the topmast that she had in England with the same topmast spars set in the ordinary way.

"Some idea of the speed of these modern craft can be gained when I tell you that the Victoria, Sir Thomas Lipton's steam yacht, was logging ten and one half knots an hour and she could not keep up to the Shamrock when sailing close by the wind. The great gain in speed has been made in the race to properly rig it and try it out but as the yacht is to be measured Wednesday and raced next Thursday, it was found more prudent to go back to the topmast that she had in England with the same topmast spars set in the ordinary way.

"It took only six seconds longer to beat the ten and one half knots—this is a fairly good breeze."

ST. PETER'S, JR. WON. With a score of 10 to 7 the St. Peter's Juniors last evening defeated the Wolves. A home run by Creamy and two double plays were features of the game.

THE NEW LEADER.

The mantle of Prime Minister of Canada and leader of the Liberal-Conservative party, which has just been doffed by Sir Robert Borden, was yesterday placed upon the shoulders of the Hon. Arthur Meighen, and she choice of the party thus made will unquestionably be most cordially endorsed by the vast majority of the people of this country. It is no reflection whatever upon the capabilities of any of the other gentlemen whose names had been suggested that they should have been passed over; any one of them would no doubt have filled the position with credit to themselves and to the advantage of the country; but Mr. Meighen possesses perhaps more peculiarly than the others those qualifications which are most essential to the successful carrying out of the onerous duties pertaining to the office of first Minister.

In the first place, Mr. Meighen has youth on his side. He is now in the heyday of his manhood, the age when the mental and physical faculties are at their best. He has been long enough in public life to acquire a thorough knowledge of affairs, and he has had, in addition, a practical experience in the work of administration which will stand him in good stead. His speeches show him to be a master orator, and as a debater he has no superior in Parliament—or out of it for matter of that. He is progressive in his views, and possesses a thoroughly sound knowledge of the many economic problems that will have to be faced in the near future. In this respect he is in striking contrast to Mr. Mackenzie King, the leader of the Opposition, who also aspires to be Premier some time, but who so far has shown himself to be a politician entirely devoid of any proper appreciation of the weighty present-day questions. It has been Mr. Meighen's good fortune in the last few years to be placed in positions that call for the exercise of tact and good judgment, and it is nothing but the truth to say that he has "made good" every time. He enjoyed the full confidence and regard of his late leader, and that this feeling was shared by his colleagues events have now proved; that he will equally make good in his new position may be accepted without question. He will be the youngest statesman ever called to assume the duties of Prime Minister of Canada, and his future career will be watched not only with the deepest interest, but also with the fullest confidence, by the people of this Dominion.

GERMAN SHUFFLING.

It is becoming increasingly evident from the reports of the proceedings of the Allied Conference at Spa that Germany does not intend to carry out her obligations as undertaken by the Peace Treaty. A great many people who have been following the trend of affairs came to this conclusion a good while ago, and they were confirmed in their views by the deliberate announcement of Hindenburg that Germany could not possibly carry out the terms of the Treaty, "and had no intention of doing so if she could." The conduct of the German delegates at Spa, and the statements they have made, have now apparently brought Mr. Lloyd George to a similar conclusion; the only matter for surprise is that he never seemed to realize it before. It is not the fault of the French people that he has not done so; they and their public men have lost no opportunity of trying to make the fact plain.

The only kind of German that any dependence can be placed in is a dead German, one can always be sure of his capabilities; a live German can never be trusted one way or the other; but it seems to be taking some British statesmen a long time to grasp this fact. There has been a disposition on the part of British statesmen to mitigate to some extent the penalties imposed on Germany, on the ground that it was too hard to deal with, she will not be able to recover herself sufficiently to discharge her obligations. The policy of vae victis has never appealed to the British nation, who have always pursued a most magnanimous course towards those who have been worsted in a fight. This attitude is very noble no doubt, but in the case of the German nation it is also foolish. They are not a people who can appreciate sentiments of this kind; more's the pity. France has a better idea of the situation; she knows her neighbors' little idiosyncrasies and what may be expected of them. Britain knows them too, but for some reason or other does not treat them as seriously as they should be treated.

One can readily appreciate Marshal Foch's position when the armistice was signed. It is a well-known fact that at that time he had the German armies so situated that he could have wiped them out altogether in a few days, but to do so would have entailed the sacrifice of many more lives. It is just a question now whether it would not have been better in the long run to have made the sacrifice. Germany should have been utterly crushed when the opportunity was at hand, crushed beyond redemption. She would then have been put in her proper place under the sun. As matters stand now she will "come back" at the first chance, and the same bloody programme will have to be carried out over again. The German makes was merely scotched, whereas it should have been killed and cut into pieces. Germany as a nation is not as important as some of her political leaders are so anxious to make it appear she is; there still remain the elements for the creation of a whole lot of trouble, and they are growing in size and capacity every day. These elements are receiving a good deal of encouragement from the fact that the United States refused to join the League of Nations, which it was hoped and intended would have considerable weight in influencing Germany in the matter of shaping her future course. Much of the weight that the League would otherwise have had is lost, and Germany is taking advantage of the fact. Later on, somebody else will have to pay.

SOLDIERS' VOTES.

An announcement made yesterday by the Provincial Government clears the situation as regards soldiers' votes in the plebiscite on Saturday. The Elections Act provides that any soldier can vote at an election, whether his name is on the list of voters or not, the only requisite being that he must make an affidavit to the effect that he was domiciled before enlistment in the constituency in which he wished to vote. This was not quite the idea that the framers of the Act had in view, as the Act does not require this residence; it is only the affidavit that does this. However, no soldier can vote without making the affidavit, so that the intention of the Act is somewhat nullified. In view of the fact that the question of prohibition or not is the same all over the province, it is immaterial what district a soldier votes in, and the Government has now ordered that a soldier may vote wherever he happens to be, provided he is otherwise qualified as a bona fide resident of the province, and is either a returned man or still in khaki. It will not be necessary for him to go to "his old home town."

BRITAIN AND THE "YANKS."

Probably the greatest setback yet experienced by the Hearst and other varieties of anti-British propaganda in the United States was administered, quite incidentally, through the visit to the British Isles of hundreds of thousands of American troops enlisted for the great war. Although the "doughboys" crossed the ocean only toward the close of the struggle, and Great Britain had been under great strain since 1914, with consequent disadvantages to ordinary business, even the least observant must have been impressed by the efficiency exhibited in matters which most concerned them, such as transportation.

No United States soldier—or Canadian either—will ever quite forget the thrill that came with the sudden appearance over the horizon of the Atlantic of the convoy of swift destroyers, "cavalry" of the world's greatest navy, which accompanied his troopship through Hun-infested waters to the port of landing. He and his comrades crossed England in a night, on a fast, non-stop train, over double-tracked lines, innocent of unguarded level crossings. From training camp he could reach London in twenty minutes to two hours, according to distance, and in the metropolis moved wherever he chose by means of the homely but highly efficient motor "bus, at one penny upward, according to the journey, or was whisked from one end of the city to another by the tube railway, underground, at a similar fare. In the suburbs, or in other British cities, he travelled in double-deck trams, with seats for every person allowed on board. All this in war-time, with large numbers of motor buses in use in France, and women replacing men to a large extent as crews of buses, tubes and trams. Although no conductor called out the stations on the railway lines, the name was plainly visible to passengers, night or day, on signs well out from the station, not nailed up on the building, as in America. Eventually our United States friends crossed the Channel safely, thanks again to the British navy, and travelled up from the base in trains hauled by British locomotives manned by the railway ordnance department. The air forces which kept the highly-efficient Hun squadrons from bombing the life out of them were British and French planes to the last of the war, even though many United States aviators got into the game before their country declared war. The United States Government had not produced an effective war plane, according to the press of that country. And naturally enough the instructors who imparted to the American expeditionary force the latest wrinkles in the war game were borrowed from the British army.

All very wholesome medicine for those who had acquired ideas about decadent England from the Hearst papers. It is unlikely that officers and men of the A. E. F. will ever partake with any enthusiasm in the once popular sport of twisting the Lion's tail, for they have seen his teeth, heard him roar in anger and watched him move swiftly against a common enemy.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

There's a Reason. (London Opinion.) Parent—"What is your reason for wishing to marry my daughter?" Young Man—"I have no reason, sir, I am in love."

M. P's More Pay? (Kingston Standard.) The question arises as to whether the seasonal indemnities should be regarded as salaries upon which the members can live for a year. Surely not. The words clearly show that.

Wait and See. (Calgary Herald.) Members of the Dominion House will not get an increased indemnity this year not so much because they are not entitled to it in view of the high cost of living, but because in these days of thrift agitation an increase would set a bad example to the people in general. In other words, members of parliament who have been telling the people to practice economy must, for good form's sake, take a dose of their own medicine.

MAILS FOR SOUTH AFRICA

To the Editor of The Standard: It is well for the public to note that arrangements have been made by the government for a direct exchange of parcels by post between Canada and the Union of South Africa in addition to the present service via the United Kingdom. The rate of postage will be 18c. for each pound or fraction thereof and the limit of weight 11 pounds. The service is to be monthly and will go into effect with the first sailing in July, which will be that of the steamship "New Brooklyn," sailing from Montreal on or about the 15th of July. When St. John is the port of sailing for the Elder Dempster steamers plying between Canada and South Africa, St. John will be the exchange office for the receipt and despatch of parcels and to make up and despatch outgoing parcel mails and to open and distribute incoming parcel mails. Some More Truths.

WOULD you use a steam shovel to move a pebble? Certainly not. Implements are built according to the work they have to do.

Would you use a grown-up's remedy for your baby's ills? Certainly not. Remedies are prepared according to the work THEY have to do.

All this is preliminary to reminding you that Fletcher's Castoria was sought out, found and is prepared solely as a remedy for Infants and Children. And let this be a warning against Substitutes, Counterfeits and the Just-as-good stuff that may be all right for you in all your strength, but dangerous for the little babe.

All the mother-love that lies within your heart cries out to you: Be true to Baby. And being true to Baby you will keep in the house remedies specially prepared for babies as you would a baby's food, hairbrush, toothbrush or sponge.

Your Friend, the Physician.

The history of all medicines carries with it the story of battles against popular beliefs; fights against prejudice; even differences of opinion among scientists and men devoting their lives to research work; laboring always for the betterment of mankind. CHIEF FINLEY'S TESTIMONY

To the Editor of The Standard: Sir:—The publication of photos and portions of a letter addressed by William H. Finley, Chief of Police, Fredericton, to Donald Fraser, in both morning and evening papers of this date, must have caused no small amusement to their readers.

I am not disposed to inflict my personal opinions upon those who are to participate in deciding what is to be on the 10th inst. but I am disposed to resent any attempt to foster the opinion or evidence of Mr. Finley upon the public with the idea that the same is of any value in assisting us to render an honest decision on the 10th.

The photograph stimulates the memory and the statement affords an opportunity for analyzing Mr. Finley's capacity for assisting anyone in arriving at an honest decision. If we are to be accountable before the judgment bar of God, for the manner in which we vote on the 10th, as we will no doubt be held for our every action on earth, it appears to me that Mr. Finley was expressing himself to someone who was not thoroughly acquainted with Mr. Finley's idea of responsibility.

Mr. Finley will be no more accountable than he was when testifying before Commissioner Chandler under oath in the case of investigation ordered by the Provincial Government.

Referring to what, did his evidence weigh at that time? This and other slight remembrances of Mr. Finley's capacity for doing things, does not impress the writer at least, with the idea that he is at all qualified to teach anyone how to render an honest decision on the 10th.

I say with this knowledge still and let the voters act according to their own and sufficiently intelligent ideas, in deciding what they want, as they are the ones who will be responsible for their acts. Why did Finley leave the St. John Police Force?

Yours Respectfully,
H. R. McEILLAN,
Ex-Comm. Public Safety.

PROHIBITION AND BEER AND WINES

The Editor of The Standard: Dear Sir:—In your paper today are two letters, the writers of which claim to be Temperance men, and yet both are opposed to the Prohibition Act and are going to vote for Wines and Beers, so they write.

One of them says it is not the principle of Prohibition to which he is opposed and yet he advocates the sale of Ales, Porter and Port Wine, all intoxicating drinks. Surely that is a violation of all the principles of Prohibition.

The other says if we can have Prohibition which will stop the manufacture and importation he would vote for it and yet he says he will vote for Beers and Wines. That is hardly a consistent position for any believer in total Prohibition to take, especially in view of the steps necessary before the goal of total Prohibition can be reached. If the vote for Beers and Wines should be carried then the way to total Prohibition would be barred against us and would effectively prevent us from getting what he says he reached. Under the Dominion Law we must have Prohibition for the Province, then on the request of our Legislature we may vote on total Prohibition until we had decided in favor of our present law.

The clear issue in the present referendum is shall Prohibition continue to be the Law of this Province or are we to take a retrograde step and go back to the licentious and legalized sale of intoxicating drinks under the name of Wines and Beers, which our Premier tells us means Ales, Porter, Port Wine, etc.? That is the question the electors have to decide on Saturday by their vote for the Prohibition Act and against the sale of light Wines and Beers.

Any defects found in the present law can easily be remedied. Some have already been proposed for and only await an Order-in-Council by the Government to bring into force legislation now on the statute book providing for the sale of liquors and wines for medicinal, manufacturing and sacramental purposes, and asking the sale of private control and profit.

To vote for Wines and Beers because the Prohibition Act is not as good as it ought to be does not show any great wisdom. The true wisdom is to cling to what we have, imperfect though we may believe it to be, and to seek at the same time to so strengthen and amend as to lead on to our goal of Prohibition. To ensure prohibition, manufacture and sale of all intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes.

The men and women with the best interests of their fellowmen at heart are who are willing to make sacrifice of money, inclination and of personal gratification for the good of others will surely cast their ballot on July 10th for Prohibition and against the sale of Porter, Ales and Port Wines, etc.

Yours truly,
THOMAS MARSHALL,
Fairville, N. B.
July 7th, 1920.

To the Editor of The Standard: Dear Sir:—In reply to the letters published in your columns stating that prohibition had failed, kindly permit me to say that so far as many homes in our city are concerned, it has not only proved an unequalled success, but an unanticipated blessing. If the gentleman who wrote these letters could have entered these homes with me, looked into the faces, lined with care, heard the stories of suffering, misery, child neglect, and cruelties endured for years; then how prohibition had come had changed all this, how that now they were rejoicing in reconstructed homes, cared for, well nourished children, happy firesides, they would, I am sure, never make the grave blunder of writing as they did; but would have gone away to work and vote to secure and make permanent to these women and children, their belated happiness.

Along with this gratitude and happiness of these women there was a deep note of anxiety as to the future. What will it bring to them? You and I decide. On the 10th of July every voter must show that they "stand on guard" to protect these homes, and also to safeguard the men who in many cases have fought bravely and well to regain their lost manhood and make homes sweet & should be.

Voter—before casting your ballot please stop and ask: 1st, Is there anything of self in this act? 2nd, Can it possibly result in pain or sorrow to any heart to any home?

Thanking you for above space, I am,
Yours very truly,
A HOME-MAKER.

Fredericton, N. B.
July 6th, 1920.
Editor St. John Standard, St. John, N. B.

Dear Sir:—Below is a quotation from an interview with Principal Hibben of Princeton University by a representative of the press bearing upon a subject of great interest to the public at the present time.

"As for Prohibition, one of the first signs of a decadent society is that it tries to make itself moral by law instead of a healthy and vigorous public opinion."

The writer would think it timely that some one at the head of the "Bone Dry" movement should give his views upon the opinion of Principal Hibben, who holds an important position in connection with the education of the young.

Trusting you will find space for this,
Yours truly,
SANITY.

The Editor of The Standard: Dear Sir:—Very many contemptible reports have and are being circulated through the Province concerning the Chief Inspector under the Prohibition Act. It is said that he has become wealthy through the operation of the Act and that he has built houses at St. Stephen and Fredericton, that he is a stockholder in the Wilson and Canadian Drug Companies and that the Canadian Drug Company gave him a cheque for three thousand dollars ($3000.00) for protecting their interests.

Other equally ludicrous and untrue stories are being industriously circulated with the evident intention of prejudicing voting for the Prohibition Act.

Whilst these things are being circulated for campaign purposes no one is willing to be responsible for them, but only say "I've heard them."

I wish to say on behalf of the Alliance Committee, who have carefully examined into each statement, that each and every one of these assertions are absolutely untrue with no foundation whatever, except in the evil minds of those starting them. I am on behalf of the Alliance,
Yours truly,
THOMAS MARSHALL,
Fairville, N. B.
July 7th, 1920.

(We publish the foregoing as a matter of course, but it must surely be evident to Mr. Marshall and his colleagues that a denial of the truth of these reports would carry a good deal more weight if made by Mr. Wilson himself, as the only person who can really say whether they are true or not.—Ed.)

IS THE MODERN GIRL INSINCERE?

Where is the Desirable Woman of Former Days Asks English Writer.

(By C. Franklyn Burghes, in The Daily Express.)

Once on a time the ardent lover handed his fair lady a daisy, and as the falling petals dropped gently from her tapering fingers asked himself with palpitating heart, "She loves me—she loves me not?"

Nowadays the ardent self-lover hands himself many bouquets, and when a passing beauty attracts his servant fancy, asks himself with much analysis of the lady's charms and cold speculation on their effect on him, "I love her—I love her not?"

Where comes this change? It is indisputable that the sentimental lover of Victorian days is as extinct as the valentine that each year would proclaim his undying devotion. Faithfulness went out of fashion with mittens and auto-mechanics. Not the least conspicuous feature of modern love affairs is the understanding that almost invariably exists between the lovers that they must of necessity be ephemeral. The war undoubtedly is one cause of this universal endorsement of Carmen's challenging song: "Love is a Bohemian child."

That knows no law, is free as air, If you don't love me, I love you, But if I love you, then beware." In those strenuous days, that already seem so far away, every girl wore her heart upon her sleeve, and feminine heart strings were eagerly thrust into the careless hands of the young subaltern whose uniform was irresistible incentive to flirtation.

The New Order. But after one year and a half of peace one asks oneself whether the general frivolity still so greatly in evidence is but the aftermath of war, or one of the many permanent signs of the new order which is so rapidly succeeding the old.

The old-fashioned fogies who will not move with the times, and whose minds have not advanced beyond those distant pre-war days, will tell you that the morals of today are as insincere as its manners are martistic.

The fogies will say that the modern girl deserves nothing better than she receives at the hands of the modern man; that she has thrown away woman's greatest asset, eternal mystery, and by so doing has for ever given man the mastery in affairs of the heart.

A careful observer must admit that there is some truth in the words of the fogies. It is a commonplace that men are scarce nowadays, but the wise woman is she who has realized that the scarcest thing in all the world is the desirable woman. She who is not desirous, but desirable, will conquer the last man of all in an exclusively feminine world.

A Sickly Lot. "So your daughter wants to be an actress, does she? Don't let her; it's an unhealthy business."

"Unhealthy?" "Certainly." Don't you always see their names in the papers telling how they've been taking tonics and patent medicines?"—Boston Transcript.

QUEEN MARIE OF RUMANIA

Tells of Visiting Among the Numerous Nationalists in Her Country.

Bucharest, July 7.—(The Associated Press)—Among the addition of the provinces of Bessarabia, Bukovina, Transylvania, the Banat and Dobruja, is now a country of at least five distinct nationalities. In its population are seen peoples with white kirtle and embroidered vests and longings reminiscent of the red Indian, sitting peacefully side by side, Bulgarians, Turks, Tartars, Russians, and in places even Germans.

"I have been to a village in the Dobruja which was part Rumanian, part German and part Turkish. I went from one side to another, visiting many a cottage, entering a church, ending my round in the tiny mosque hung with faded carpets, and there in a crowd of lovely Turks I listened to their curious service, of which I understood naught. A woman who is not veiled has no right to enter the holy precinct; but a royal name opens many a door, and many a severe rule is broken in the joy of receiving a monarch's guest."

"On a burning summer day I came to a tiny town almost entirely inhabited by Turks. I was distributing money among the poor and forsaken, and had been moving from place to place. Now it was the turn of the Musselman population, therefore, I visited the most wretched quarters, my hands filled with many a coin."

"Such was their joy at coming that the real object of my visit was almost forgotten. I found myself surrounded by a swarm of excited women in strange attire, prattling a language I could not understand."

"They called me Sultana, and each one wanted to touch me; they fingered my clothes, patted me on the back, one old hag even chucked me under the chin. They drew me with them from hut to hut, from court to court. I found myself separated from my companions, wandering in a world of tiny mud-built huts, of ridiculously small gardens, of hidden little courts, they dragged me with them, making me enter their hovels, put my hands on their children and sit down."

"The poorer Musselman women are not really veiled. They wear wide cotton trousers, and over these a sort of mantle which they hold together under the nose. The shape of these mantles gives them that indescribable line so agreeable to the eye, and which alone belongs to the East. Also the colors they choose are always harmonious; they are toned down to their surroundings by sun and dust. They wear attractive dull blues and navies—every black they are not really black, but have taken rusty tints that mingle pleasantly with the mud-colored environment in which they dwell."

"When stirred for longer excursions, their gars is generally black, with a snow-white cloth on their heads wrapped in such manner that it conceals the entire face, except the eyes."

WOMEN APPEAL FOR CAMPAIGN FUND

Want $10,000 to Spend in Suffrage Fight in State of Tennessee.

(Copyright 1920 by Public Ledger Company.)

Washington, July 7.—Members of the National Women's party have issued a call for a campaign fund of $10,000 for the prosecution of the suffrage fight in Tennessee where preliminary investigation has developed the presence of considerable opposition, according to a statement issued today by the leaders of the party.

The vast number of suffragists is almost empty, due to the expenditure of $116,247.75 during the fight to obtain ratification in the thirty-five states that have given favorable action. The National Women's party today called upon its 50,000 members for contributions to make up the $10,000 fund, which will be used for intensive and steady organization in Tennessee between now and August 9, the date set for the special session there.

Miss Sue White, chairman for Tennessee, stressed the difficulties of the campaign in her state in the following letter:

"The more I look into the Tennessee situation the more I realize that we face a terrific fight. The anti-suffragists have already begun work, appealing to deeply rooted prejudices and pouring vitriol into old wounds. We are being fought persistently through daily editorials and antagonistic news policies, by two of the most important daily papers and numerous smaller ones are following their lead."

WEDDING LASTS THREE DAYS. An invitation to a wedding in Castro is an important event, because, instead of inviting the guests for a ten-minute church ceremony or a brief reception, the invitation reads: "For three days." There is feasting during all this time, and the house and streets are liberally decorated with flags and lanterns.

Indescribably picturesque and mysterious are these dusky figures, generally carrying a heavy staff in their hands; there is something biblical about them, something that takes one back to far-away times.

Has Returned From Convention

R. H. Parson Reached the City Yesterday from Toronto, Where He Attended the International Convention of Baptist Young People's Union.

R. H. Parsons of Laddow Street Baptist Church and President of the Baptist Young People's Union returned yesterday from Toronto where he attended the International Convention of the Baptist Young People's Union.

Questioned about the meeting by the Standard last evening Mr. Parsons spoke in most enthusiastic terms of the great success of this convention and the wonderful spirit of comradeship and concentration shown by all.

There were 2807 registered delegates present of whom 855 were from the United States. Thirty-eight States and Provinces from coast to coast were represented. Twelve delegates were in the Maritime Provinces Party which was led by Rev. Waldo C. Machum of South Devon, General Secretary of Sunday School and Young People's work. In the election of officers, R. A. Parsons of St. John was elected one of the vice-presidents for Canada and Mr. Machum was made a member of the Board of Management.

Meetings were held at the Walmer Road Church which seats three thousand people, and which was filled at every session. Rev. Dr. D. J. Evans, President of Williams College, Montana, and President of the B. Y. P. U. presided, and gave several very fine addresses.

The opening session was on July 1 and the subject for the day was "Fratricide" chief speaker being Professor E. M. Kierstead of McMaster University, who took the place of Sir George E. Foster who was unable to attend. Professor Kierstead spoke upon "Our Dominion" in an inspiring oration. Mayor Church of Toronto gave the address of welcome.

The Americans present joined most heartily in the Canadian celebration of Dominion Day. Subjects for other days were: "Idealism" and "Citizenship." Among the splendid speakers present were: Dr. F. F. Gibson, of Louisville, Ky.; Dr. John McNeil, pastor of Walmer Road Baptist Church, who made a fine speech upon "Our Citizenship," and Dr. James A. White of Chicago, a brilliant speaker who may be heard in St. John next April.

During each morning session a quiet half hour was conducted by Rev. H. Bingham, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Calgary, a very eloquent preacher. On Sunday morning a prayer meeting was conducted by Mr. Bingham at seven a. m., which was attended by 700 persons.

Afternoon sessions took the form of conferences led by many noted workers. Subjects taken up were: Missions, Philanthropy, Daily Bible Reading, City and Association Organization, Stewardship, Fishing, Junior Work and Social Services.

A stirring appeal to young people to give themselves to a definite form of Christian work, either to missions or other work was made by Rev. F. K. Singler of Bangor, Bangor, an answer to this plea 315 delegates offered themselves. This was a most impressive occasion.

The B. Y. P. U. has two great objectives to be realized, it is, by 1922. They are One Million pledges to devote one half hour to daily Bible reading and prayer, and one million pledges to the Fishing League—that is to give one-tenth of their income to some form of Christian work.

Beautiful solos were given at each session by A. E. Greenlaw a colored singer from Detroit, Mich., who possesses a fine bass voice. The united singing of the delegates was magnificent.

This is the first time in fifteen years that the convention has been held in Canada and a Canadian elected president. W. F. Reynolds of Brockville, Ontario, was elected president of his election two large flags were presented to him, Canadian and American and a great demonstration held with much enthusiasm shown.

The Americans celebrated July 4th on the following Monday, opening the proceedings with the singing of "God Save the King," followed by the Star Spangled Banner. The chairman then asked the American delegates to choose a song in which all would join and they called loudly for "Rule Britannia" which was sung most heartily.

The City of Toronto and the City Union of the Baptist Young People gave a delightful picnic for the delegates on Saturday afternoon at Exhibition Park. Street cars were taken to two bands were in attendance, refreshments were served and everything done to give the visitors a good time. A game of baseball between Canadians and Americans resulted in a victory for the Canadians.

The Canadian delegates were tendered a banquet on evening. Through-out the entire visit Toronto citizens gave a royal welcome to the guests in their city. The weather was good. Official pictures were taken of each delegation. The Maritime Province delegation had a yell which went as follows:

MARITIME N. B. the Island and N. S. Out to Conquer. Out to Climb, Maritime Provinces Maritime.

This was given on many occasions and attracted a number of persons from the province who were then, make themselves known to the delegates.

Gagetown

Gagetown, N. B., July 2.—The holiday passed off quietly here. There were no local attractions, and as soon as the weather showed signs of clearing, a considerable number betook themselves by auto or motor boat to Fredericton to attend the horse races, which were pronounced well worth the trip. A few others went down river to the water sports.

The adjourned sittings of the Queens County Circuit Court, presided over by His Honor Mr. Justice Chandler were concluded on Monday evening, court having been open for about a week. The greater part of the time was occupied with the case of Anna G. McIntosh versus Jason and Noah Corey, being an action for trespass to land. The defendants alleged that they received authority from Miss McIntosh to cut timber off her land from her agent. The plaintiff denied that the alleged agent had authority from her. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, and Miss Honor Mr. Chandler directed that judgment be entered for the plaintiff for $600, and costs. Geo. H. V. Belyea, K. C., and J. F. H. Teed appeared for the plaintiff and R. St. J. Freeze for the defendants.

The case of James Boyd et al versus the E. C. Atkinson Lumber Company, Ltd., was not brought into court, the plaintiffs and defendant company having reached an agreement previous to their case being brought up. This case was an action for money claimed to be owing plaintiffs by the defendant company on logging operations. R. B. Hanson, K. C., was for the plaintiffs, and Peter Hughes for the company.

Fraser versus McEachern, an action regarding title to land situated near Chipman, was not concluded on Monday, but will be taken up in St. John.

Fred S. McAllister met with a severe loss on Tuesday evening, when his house and nearby buildings were burned down. The fire originated, it is thought, in the woodhouse, and owing to the dry weather and high wind, burned rapidly. Mr. McAllister, who is getting out pulpwood, was in the woods, at the time, and although the house is some distance from others, as soon as the alarm was given, the crowd gathered rapidly and although about a hundred men were on the ground, only a small amount of furniture was saved. A large barn, however, at a little distance, was saved. There was $500 insurance. Nothing daunted by his misfortune, Mr. McAllister already has carpenters at work on a new house, which is being built on the same foundation. Meanwhile Mr. and Mrs. McAllister are staying with Mrs. Henry Osborne. The subject of the coming plebiscite with regard to the liquor question at present. The supporters of Prohibition have for some time been organized, a committee having been appointed early in May at the meeting addressed by Rev. E. E. Boothroyd, consisting of the following: President, David Moore; vice-president, T. W. Gilbert; secretary, G. W. Dineage; executive, Mrs. H. B. Bridges, Mrs. J. L. Alingham, Mrs. J. W. McLaughlin (Upper Gagetown); Rev. L. H. Jewett, Mrs. Chas. L. Marshall, Miss Helen Hunter. At a meeting of the committee held on Tuesday evening, the following additional members of the executive were appointed: Mrs. Donald A. Adamson, Mrs. Geo. E. McBermet, Miss Mary Dineage, Miss Ethel Boyd, Miss Annie Dickie, Miss Laurie Law, Miss Molly Otty. As the voters' list contains the names of nearly as many women as men, the executive committee aims to assist them as much as possible in recording their vote, transportation being arranged for all women voters and others who may require it.

On Thursday afternoon the Women's Institute held their fortnightly meeting at the home of the Misses Peters, where the members spent a delightful afternoon on the wide porch facing the garden. During the first part of the meeting there was an informal programme on the subject of Prohibition. Interesting and convincing papers were read by Mrs. H. B. Bridges and Mrs. D. A. Adamson, while each member contributed some argument in support of the cause. Mrs. Geo. E. McBermet gave a very fine reading, which was heard with much interest. During the social part of the meeting an original contest provoked much mirth, Miss Molly Otty being the winner of the dainty prize. Delicious strawberries and cream were served by Miss L. M. Peters.

Miss Annie Graham, of the Milford hospital staff, Milford, Mass., is spending some weeks at Lawfield, with Mr. and Mrs. William Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Corbett and little son, of St. John, who are cruising on the river in their motor boat, have been spending the week here. Mrs. Robert MacIntyre and Miss Edith MacIntyre came up from St. John on Saturday and were at Hotel Dineage for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Belyea motored to St. John on Monday.

Has Returned From Convention

R. H. Parson Reached the City Yesterday from Toronto, Where He Attended the International Convention of Baptist Young People's Union.

R. H. Parsons of Laddow Street Baptist Church and President of the Baptist Young People's Union returned yesterday from Toronto where he attended the International Convention of the Baptist Young People's Union.

Questioned about the meeting by the Standard last evening Mr. Parsons spoke in most enthusiastic terms of the great success of this convention and the wonderful spirit of comradeship and concentration shown by all.

There were 2807 registered delegates present of whom 855 were from the United States. Thirty-eight States and Provinces from coast to coast were represented. Twelve delegates were in the Maritime Provinces Party which was led by Rev. Waldo C. Machum of South Devon, General Secretary of Sunday School and Young People's work. In the election of officers, R. A. Parsons of St. John was elected one of the vice-presidents for Canada and Mr. Machum was made a member of the Board of Management.

Meetings were held at the Walmer Road Church which seats three thousand people, and which was filled at every session. Rev. Dr. D. J. Evans, President of Williams College, Montana, and President of the B. Y. P. U. presided, and gave several very fine addresses.

The opening session was on July 1 and the subject for the day was "Fratricide" chief speaker being Professor E. M. Kierstead of McMaster University, who took the place of Sir George E. Foster who was unable to attend. Professor Kierstead spoke upon "Our Dominion" in an inspiring oration. Mayor Church of Toronto gave the address of welcome.

The Americans present joined most heartily in the Canadian celebration of Dominion Day. Subjects for other days were: "Idealism" and "Citizenship." Among the splendid speakers present were: Dr. F. F. Gibson, of Louisville, Ky.; Dr. John McNeil, pastor of Walmer Road Baptist Church, who made a fine speech upon "Our Citizenship," and Dr. James A. White of Chicago, a brilliant speaker who may be heard in St. John next April.

During each morning session a quiet half hour was conducted by Rev. H. Bingham, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Calgary, a very eloquent preacher. On Sunday morning a prayer meeting was conducted by Mr. Bingham at seven a. m., which was attended by 700 persons.

Afternoon sessions took the form of conferences led by many noted workers. Subjects taken up were: Missions, Philanthropy, Daily Bible Reading, City and Association Organization, Stewardship, Fishing, Junior Work and Social Services.

A stirring appeal to young people to give themselves to a definite form of Christian work, either to missions or other work was made by Rev. F. K. Singler of Bangor, Bangor, an answer to this plea 315 delegates offered themselves. This was a most impressive occasion.

The B. Y. P. U. has two great objectives to be realized, it is, by 1922. They are One Million pledges to devote one half hour to daily Bible reading and prayer, and one million pledges to the Fishing League—that is to give one-tenth of their income to some form of Christian work.

Beautiful solos were given at each session by A. E. Greenlaw a colored singer from Detroit, Mich., who possesses a fine bass voice. The united singing of the delegates was magnificent.

This is the first time in fifteen years that the convention has been held in Canada and a Canadian elected president. W. F. Reynolds of Brockville, Ontario, was elected president of his election two large flags were presented to him, Canadian and American and a great demonstration held with much enthusiasm shown.

The Americans celebrated July 4th on the following Monday, opening the proceedings with the singing of "God Save the King," followed by the Star Spangled Banner. The chairman then asked the American delegates to choose a song in which all would join and they called loudly for "Rule Britannia" which was sung most heartily.

The City of Toronto and the City Union of the Baptist Young People gave a delightful picnic for the delegates on Saturday afternoon at Exhibition Park. Street cars were taken to two bands were in attendance, refreshments were served and everything done to give the visitors a good time. A game of baseball between Canadians and Americans resulted in a victory for the Canadians.

The Canadian delegates were tendered a banquet on evening. Through-out the entire visit Toronto citizens gave a royal welcome to the guests in their city. The weather was good. Official pictures were taken of each delegation. The Maritime Province delegation had a yell which went as follows:

MARITIME N. B. the Island and N. S. Out to Conquer. Out to Climb, Maritime Provinces Maritime.

This was given on many occasions and attracted a number of persons from the province who were then, make themselves known to the delegates.

Gagetown

Gagetown, N. B., July 2.—The holiday passed off quietly here. There were no local attractions, and as soon as the weather showed signs of clearing, a considerable number betook themselves by auto or motor boat to Fredericton to attend the horse races, which were pronounced well worth the trip. A few others went down river to the water sports.

The adjourned sittings of the Queens County Circuit Court, presided over by His Honor Mr. Justice Chandler were concluded on Monday evening, court having been open for about a week. The greater part of the time was occupied with the case of Anna G. McIntosh versus Jason and Noah Corey, being an action for trespass to land. The defendants alleged that they received authority from Miss McIntosh to cut timber off her land from her agent. The plaintiff denied that the alleged agent had authority from her. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, and Miss Honor Mr. Chandler directed that judgment be entered for the plaintiff for $600, and costs. Geo. H. V. Belyea, K. C., and J. F. H. Teed appeared for the plaintiff and R. St. J. Freeze for the defendants.

The case of James Boyd et al versus the E. C. Atkinson Lumber Company, Ltd., was not brought into court, the plaintiffs and defendant company having reached an agreement previous to their case being brought up. This case was an action for money claimed to be owing plaintiffs by the defendant company on logging operations. R. B. Hanson, K. C., was for the plaintiffs, and Peter Hughes for the company.

Fraser versus McEachern, an action regarding title to land situated near Chipman, was not concluded on Monday, but will be taken up in St. John.

Fred S. McAllister met with a severe loss on Tuesday evening, when his house and nearby buildings were burned down. The fire originated, it is thought, in the woodhouse, and owing to the dry weather and high wind, burned rapidly. Mr. McAllister, who is getting out pulpwood, was in the woods, at the time, and although the house is some distance from others, as soon as the alarm was given, the crowd gathered rapidly and although about a hundred men were on the ground, only a small amount of furniture was saved. A large barn, however, at a little distance, was saved. There was $500 insurance. Nothing daunted by his misfortune, Mr. McAllister already has carpenters at work on a new house, which is being built on the same foundation. Meanwhile Mr. and Mrs. McAllister are staying with Mrs. Henry Osborne. The subject of the coming plebiscite with regard to the liquor question at present. The supporters of Prohibition have for some time been organized, a committee having been appointed early in May at the meeting addressed by Rev. E. E. At a meeting of the committee held on Tuesday evening, the following additional members of the executive were appointed: Mrs. Donald A. Adamson, Mrs. Geo. E. Miss Annie Graham, of the Milford hospital staff, Milford, Mass., is spending some weeks at Lawfield, with Mr. and Mrs. William Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Corbett and little son, of St. John, who are cruising on the river in their motor boat, have been spending the week here. Mrs. Robert MacIntyre and Miss Edith MacIntyre came up from St. John on Saturday and were at Hotel Dineage for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Belyea motored to St. John on Monday.

INDIAN POETESS GAVE MESSAGE

When women from England, France, India, Iceland and Japan met on the same platform at the Kingsway Hall, London, prior to the convention of the International Women's Suffrage Alliance meeting at Geneva, the most remarkable speech of the evening was made by the Indian poetess, Mrs. Sarani Naidu. A picturesque figure in beautiful native dress of blue and gold, she carried the audience away by means of her wonderful eloquence. Her dark eyes glowing with emotion, she declaimed with faultless command

Moderation and Temperance

The Problem of BEER and the Problem of PROHIBITION

Why should the sale of Beer be permitted in this Province?

BECAUSE more than 75 per cent. of the adult population want it.

BECAUSE it promotes true temperance.

BECAUSE it is right and proper that the people should enjoy such a wholesome, nutritious beverage.

Total Prohibition Is Not Temperance

Temperance is moderation. Webster defines it as "habitual moderation of the appetites and passions." As to this we all are agreed.

Total Prohibition, remember, has not been adopted by a vote of the people in New Brunswick, but the actual plebiscite allows the people of this province to decide the BEER and WINE temperance question for themselves.

It is up to you and your friends to say whether or not you want the government to permit the manufacture and sale of clean, wholesome BEER and lighter WINES in the Province of New Brunswick.

Now is the Time to Act. Vote for BEER and WINE July 10, and Whiskey Will Never Come Back

INDIAN POETESS GAVE MESSAGE

When women from England, France, India, Ireland and Japan met on the same platform at the Kingsway Hall, London, prior to the convention of the International Women's Suffrage Alliance meeting at Geneva, the most remarkable speech of the evening was made by the Indian poetess, Mrs. Sarojini Naidu. A picturesque figure in beautiful native dress of blue and gold, she carried the audience away by means of her wonderful eloquence. Her dark eyes glowing with emotion, she declaimed with faultless polished

English the message of the women of the East to the Western world. "We women, she said, have proved how shallow and how shortsighted was the dictum of the English imperialistic poet, who predicted that "East is East and West is West, and never the twain shall meet." In building the future, the veiled woman of the East, about whom Western civilization had known and cared so little, had her part to contribute. The Indian ideal of womanhood, which had been handed down from the centuries was one of her gifts. Another was her realization that comradeship between the sexes, not competition, was the need of the future. Their contribution to progress, said the Indian poetess, was their ideal of woman as mother, not woman as worker merely, and mother in the spiritual sense. Rumors persistently circulated that Mary Miles Minter is 26 or 27 or any of a dozen ages that found a credible listener were definitely set at rest in

Los Angeles when a recent federal court decision put on record that the Reckardist reached her eighteenth birthday on April 1, 1920. The question of whether or not Miss Minter was a minor at the time of signing a contract with the American Film Company was a pivotal one in the suit by which Miss Minter sought to recover $4,125 in back salary. She was awarded $4,000 by the jury.—Moving Picture World.

QUEBEC RAILWAY RULED MARKET

Other Listed Stocks Contributed to Share in Day's Honors.

Montreal, July 7.—Quebec Railway continued to dominate a strong and active market today, although not to the extent of yesterday. About 15,000 shares changed hands and the best price in over two years was reached. It closed at 34 3/4, a gain of 1 1/4 points. There appears to be strong faith in the rumors that the Public Service Corporation of Quebec City will come to a favorable arrangement with Quebec Railway. Spanish River issues were a good second and the common gained 3 1/2 points and the preferred 3 1/4 both making new highs at 115 and 120.

In the balance of the list Breweries was most active and meeting with poor support sagged off 4 3/4 points to 61 in early trading recovering to 64 at the close with a net loss of 1 1/2 points. The decline was attributed to rumors that action in the courts was against beer dispensers for their liquor having more than the legal percentage and to the fact that any such action would react upon the Breweries.

In the paper stocks outside Spanish, Abitibi reached a new high for the movement at 82 and closed a net gain of 2 1/2 points at 84 1/2. Laurentide touched 115 and fell back to 114. Brompton netted a small fraction at the close of 147 1/2. Wayagmack moved up to a new high at 135 and retained two points at 134.

Asbestos, common, added a fraction and the preferred 1 1/2 points. Steamships down 1 1/2 points at 76. Iron down a point at 65 and Sherwin Williams down 1/2 point at 117. Total trading listed, 55,821; bonds, 448,000.

ALL CANDIDATES ARE FAVORABLE

Financial Interests Regard Either Ticket as One Assuring a Business-like Administration.

(F. B. McCurdy and Co.)
New York, June 7.—The Democratic ticket of Cox and Roosevelt is receiving favorable recognition as a strong nomination, and one that should, unless Wall Street predictions go astray and the Republican candidates be beaten, give promise of providing a safe, businesslike administration. Generally speaking, therefore, the result of the two conventions has been satisfactory to business and financial interests and, as far as the political influence goes, it should be reassuring and favorable to stock market improvement.

The way in which money rates eased off yesterday was in keeping with predictions that a decline from the recent high levels would be witnessed this week and this is another basis for the better action of the market which now seems to be underway.

Opinions may differ as to the soundness and the permanence of any rise in view of present industrial conditions but the technical status of the market and the long transition period of dullness and resistance to further declines give reason to feel that an upward movement of moderate proportions at least is in prospect.

N. Y. MARKET SWINGS MERRILY

Speculative Shares Were the Outstanding Feature—Large Turnover in Business.

New York, July 7.—The recovery in the stock market which had its inception at the beginning of the month, was carried to greater lengths today on the broader sweep of operations, although speculative shares were again the outstanding feature.

Buying of these issues was of a more varied and confident character and originated at interior points, mainly Western and South Western centres, while New England furnished a moderate demand for Metals. Rails and Shippings shared in the movement to a greater degree than at any recent period. High grade trans-Continental and coalers contributed their proportions to the largest turnover since the first week of June, probably as a result of the better transportation situation.

More than half the day's business converged around the usual favorites, however, such as Steels, Equipments, Oils, Motors and kindred specialties. Extreme advances, as represented by leaders of these divisions, ran from 2 to 5 points with considerable impairment on profit-taking at the close.

Changes in the money market were mostly towards further easement. Call loans opened at 8 per cent, the lowest initial rate of the month and some relaxation of time funds was reported, albeit quotations, remained unaltered.

Mixed conditions prevailed in the foreign exchange market. Sterling exchange was firm. The successful flotation of $20,000,000 Swiss loan, with was readily absorbed, featured the bond market. Anglo-French five also strengthening. Domestic issues including the Liberty group, were irregular. Sales (par value) aggregated $75,400,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CURB STOCK.

Montreal, July 7.—Trading in curb stocks from house to house was modestly active following sales being reported: N. A. Pulp, 150 at 8 1/2; Whalen 116 at 50 1/2 to 61; Whalen Pfd 25 at 75 1/2; W. Tram Power 15 at 17 1/2; Ambs Tire 25 at 4 1/2.

But so far they, and we, have only gone along the path. The broad highway is still before us.

"My only regret is that Tanlac had come my way years ago, for it would have saved me from worlds of suffering," declared Mrs. C. J. Phillips, of Tutts Cove, Dartmouth, Nova Scotia, while at Kinley's Drug Store in Halifax the other day.

"For seven years," said Mrs. Phillips, "I suffered from a bad case of stomach trouble, and when I found Tanlac I had reached the point where I never expected to be well again. Everything I ate disagreed with me and I had to diet myself continually, never being able to eat any heavy food at all. I lived on bread and milk alone for weeks at a time, for if I ate anything else gas would form on my stomach, bloating me up terribly. The gas would press up through my chest until I couldn't get a good breath, and I had heartburn something awful. I had dreadful headaches, which were

PEACE IN MEXICO IS NOW ASSURED
Do La Huerta Notifies United States That Stable Government Has Been Established.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Company.)
Washington, July 7.—Assurances which the United States can accept that this government will be maintained in Mexico under the regime set up since the death of Carranza have, it is understood, been presented to this government by Don Fernando Iglesias Calderon, commissioner of the De la Huerta provisional government.

The report of conditions in Mexico made by Senator Iglesias at his conference with Norman H. Davis, undersecretary of state, last week was presented to the President at last Friday's cabinet meeting, and the Mexican diplomat has been invited to return to the State Department this week for explanation of some of the points which officials of this government believe must be cleared up before the question of recognition by the United States can be finally determined.

A point upon which this government has not been satisfied, it was learned, was whether or not the transference of power to the provisional government has agreed only a veneer over the old Carranza regime through the appointment of Sen. like Senator Iglesias, Miguel Carrubias and De la Huerta and left in office all of the Carranza officials of a minor sort, who formed the actual working machinery of the government.

General reports, however, continue to indicate that the outlook for reformation in Mexico is good. George

Mrs. Phillips Was Confined to Her Bed Most of the Time and Thought Her Case Was Hopeless — Tanlac Again Proves Merit.

Followed by such terrible spells of nausea that I couldn't retain a thing on my stomach. I had no appetite at all. My sleep was so restless that it did me scarcely any good, and I had such little strength or energy that my housework was simply a burden. I fell off to a hundred and fourteen pounds in weight, and although I tried everything I knew of, was confined to my bed most of the time, and thought my case was hopeless.

(F. B. McCurdy and Co.)

Montreal, July 7.—The local market has experienced another session of tremendous activity, with total transactions of 48,000 shares for the forenoon session. Quebec Railway was the most active stock on the list. The Pulp and Paper stocks were the feature of strength, new high records being made by Spanish Common and Preferred and Waynamack.

The activity of the market in the face of prevailing tightness of money has been causing a good deal of comment on the street.

The $200 fine has not been paid by any of the eight wholesale grocers who were charged with selling intoxicating liquor, to wit, lemon extract, were adjudged guilty and each fined $200 or six months in jail by Magistrate Ritchie in the police court some three weeks ago. The Standard has been informed that M. G. Toed, K. C. has been secured by the grocers to defend their interests and an order for a stay of proceedings had been secured from His Honor Chief Justice McKewen. Mr. Toed, accompanied by A. H. Westmore, of Puddington, Westmore & Morrison, Ltd., wholesale grocers, appeared before the government at Fredericton yesterday and urged that action be taken that would protect the wholesale grocers against further prosecution. Premier Foster informed them that the matter was under consideration by the Government.

Judge Ritchie For Prohibition

After Presiding Over St. John Court for Thirty Years, Surely None Can be in a Better Position to Intelligently Compare Present and Past Conditions, and Safely and Sanely Advise the Electorate as to the Best Way to Vote Saturday.

Doubtless Judge Ritchie could write volumes concerning local police court happenings during the last thirty years, the great majority because of liquor, the curse of which can be greatly lessened Saturday. In an interview yesterday the venerable Judge said: "You cannot quote me too strongly as in favor of Prohibition, and naturally this means that I am opposed to light wines and beers, which, if successful in securing the majority of Saturday's vote, would of course defeat Prohibition. The closer the Election Day approaches the greater my desire that the present law be retained, and that we go on from point to point better. The Province must first declare for Prohibition, then declare against the importation of liquor, which can be done probably in the course of a few months. That accomplished, and the vendition for medical and church purposes taken over by the Government, which is not at all difficult, as such a law is now on the statute, we will then have a real dry province. But if by the majority vote in favor of light wines and beers the present act is repealed, we will be retrograding—going backwards, and the results I would not answer for. Notwithstanding any assertion to the contrary, I know that conditions are infinitely better than in pre-prohibition days. One must remember that under the old law I instructed the police to assist a man, if he were not too drunk, but now any-one showing the slightest indication of having been drinking must of course be brought before me. Even under these conditions, the arrests have been fewer. I will vote for Prohibition and against light wines and beers, and if my example and influence will help others, who may at the present moment be wavering, to take a similar stand, I will feel that at the age of seventy-seven I will have accomplished something really worth while.—Adv't.

Prohibition A Weakening Force

Inter-Church Forward Movement a Failure in "Bone-Dry" States—Government Established Moral Right to Vote Against Prohibition.

In men whom men condemn as ill; I find so much of goodness still; In men whom men pronounce divine; I find so much of sin and blot; I hesitate to draw the line between the two, where God has not.—Joachim Miller.

The Prohibitionists do not live in the spirit of this poem. They deny the citizens of New Brunswick the MORAL RIGHT to vote against Prohibition and for light wine and beer on Saturday, forgetting that if it were a sin so to vote that the provincial government would certainly never have granted the plebiscite. The Daily Telegraph editorial of yesterday was very much to the point. It set out a question of what is "Right"; it is a question of what the people want. If the people say they do not want Prohibition and they do want Wine and Beer, that will be the law of the land and the sin will come in violating the law, Not in Framing it.

The Prohibitionists draw their campaign material from the United States. Let us also look there as to the moral effect of Prohibition. Our friends would have us believe that "bone-dry" legislation goes a long way towards producing the millennium. What are the facts of the case? Take the Inter-church Forward Movement. An effort was made this year in the United States to raise a fund of $46,000,000 from the "Friendly Citizen" class; the total actually raised to date, and it seems likely to be the final total is $4,000,000 or less than one-tenth of the objective. In the churches themselves the original aggregate of denominational objectives was $336,000,000, and of the amount exactly 50 per cent. has been raised. Is it possible that the "dull" dozing of legislators by an "hysterical" shrieking minority has weakened the hands of those whose hearts are real-ly in the work of moral and spiritual

Visitor Here From Venezuela

Karl P. Fletcher, Former Resident of Charlottetown, Here to Interest Canadians in Possibilities Afforded by That Country for Trade Expansion.

Among the passengers on the R. S. M. P. Caraquez Tuesday was Karl P. Fletcher, a former Charlottetown boy, who has been located for the past two years in Venezuela. Mr. Fletcher served overseas with the Canadian Artillery and was also connected on his return from Europe with the British-Canadian Recruiting Mission in the United States.

Since his discharge from the army he has been representing his firm in Venezuela. His present mission is to interest Canadians in the exceptional possibilities afforded by that country for trade expansion and to establish connections with Canadian manufacturers. Besides having extensive personal business interests in Venezuela he has been buying coffee, cocoa, hides, etc. for his firm principally for export to United States. Speaking about the possibilities for trade there Mr. Fletcher said there was no country in the world richer in latent wealth than South America and Venezuela was one of its richest provinces. It is practically undeveloped. Foreign capital has already realized its possibilities and foreign money is pouring in there rapidly. The Germans, never slow in seizing opportunities, have invested millions there. The principal exports of the country are coffee, cocoa, hides and all kinds of valuable hardwood. Asked if he considered the trade possibilities offered by Venezuela better than those of the British West Indies, Mr. Fletcher said undoubtedly they were. The West Indies have already received considerable development and Canadian, American and European firms have had connections established there for years. On the other hand Venezuela is practically untouched; it is a virgin field. Being a Canadian Mr. Fletcher said he would like to see business connections established with Canada and Canadian money invested there.

Mr. Fletcher has travelled all over the country, visited all its principal cities and has gone up to the magnificent Orinoco river to its headwaters to ascending better. The language is Spanish, and he speaks it fluently. He expects to be in Canada for some time, and he said that it was his hope that by the time he was ready to return the Canadian Merchant Marine would have established a regular service between Canadian and South American ports.

In the first game the score was 10 to 2, and the batteries were as follows: For the Married Men, Gillard and Stewart; Hunt and Ellison for the Single Men. In the second game the score was 9 to 7. The batteries: Dunlap, Nelson and Nichols for the Married Men; and Hunt, Sidley and Stewart for the Single Men. Arthur Thompson was the umpire. How To Vote Saturday

FOR Prohibition and Dry. AGAINST Prohibition and Dry. FOR Sale of Light Wine and Beers under Government Control. AGAINST Sale of Light Wine and Beers.

Mrs. Walter Lutz and Mrs. M. H. Hillier of Sussex, are visiting Mrs. P. P. Gregory, Charlotte street. Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley came in from Fredericton on the Boston train last night. It would seem at least to imply that these national movements have brought their own share of an overwhelming majority would be united up against prohibition in the United States. It is possible that the "dull" dozing of legislators by an "hysterical" shrieking minority has weakened the hands of those whose hearts are real-ly in the work of moral and spiritual
