MILLIONS PEOPLE

Physicians Cornered!

I SUPPOSE there is not in the whole of a physician's experience, anything in b amor suffering which calls forth his sympath, and pity, to such an extent, as to witness the exeruciating prins of a poor mortal, sunering from that fearful discore. RHEUMATISM:

DIAMOND

RHEUMATIC CURE : 6 " Men's Felt Hats; is a wonderful medical discovery. MR. ISAACSON'S ENDORSATION.

Mostreal, 21st March. 15 74.

Mossrs. Devins & Bolton,
Deur Sirs, I, with pleasure, consette to the agent's wish that I give my enforcation to the immediate relief I experienced from a few do es of the Diamond Rheumatic Cure, having been a sufferer from the effects of Rheumatism, I in now, after taking two bottles of this medicine, entirely free from pain. You are at liberty to use this letter, if you deem it advisable to ac so, lam, sirs, yours respectfully. I am, sirs, yours respectfully, JOHN HELDER ISAACSON, N. P. FURTHER PROOF.

I AM ANOTHER MAN St. John, N. B., Sept, 29, 1874. A. CHIPMAN SMITH.
Dear Sir,—I have suffered for fifteen montus with Chronic Rheumatism, and could not find any relief, after try ng every medicine that I saw advertised to cure it, until I was told about the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have used three bottles of this valuable remedy, and now can say that I am another man to what I was. I would advise anybody suffering with this terrible disease to try it, and see if it does not? of the same for them that it did for me.

Yours.

James L. Eagler,
Indiantown.

BARNES' HOTEL, St. John, N. B., wert. 29, 1673. A. Chipman Smith,
Dear Sir,—I have great pleasure in stating that I put every confidence in your Dismonate Rheumatic Cure. I have suffered for the saftwo years with Rheumatic Pains, during which time I have had the advise of some of the most prominent medical men in the Prevince, as prominent medical men in the Prevince, as the suffered no relief, until I tried the I invend Rheumatic Cure. I have now taken three best confident of a permanent cure.

Yours truly,

James O'Brien.

JAMES O'BRIEN. There is no medicine which so promptly re-ieves the depressed vital action, restores the eneral and local circulation, allays the pain, dissipates the congestion, prevents inflamma-tion, and restores the healthy action as the PHII ADELPHIA, Dec. 26.—Chas. Wynne, driver of a huckster cart, was shot by driver of a huckster cart, was shot by Gussie Straussler, wife of the keeper of a lager beer saloon in Camden, N. J., at 1 o'clock this morning. There had been a fight in the barroom, and Wynne and other loughs had been put out of doors, but they scaled the back fence, kicked the kitchen door open, and were entering when the woman fired. The shot entered Wynne's head, killing him instantly. Mrs. Straussler is but 18 years old, and has been married five weeks only. All those engaged in the affray have been arrested.

The physicians of Rutherford Co., Tenn., having long enjoyed large but unremunerating practices, have resolved as follows: 'That hereafter, before giving our professional attention to that class who have not heretofore paid their bills, or who are not clearly cases of charity or in some way extreme cases, we shall require of their either the cash in advance or an order from a responsible employer for the payment of the bill, or to have it otherwise secured.'

Moult Dec. 26. The deal between county va utions of Property, for the purpose of Local Taxation and assessing, levying and collecting Rates and Taxes, and dealing generally with the principles which would secure equitable taxation, in reference to income an property for local purposes, will be received at the Office of the Provincial Secretary, up to list January next.

The Journal Officiel announces that the President will be attended by the marshals and generals on duty, and also by Mgr. Guibert, Archbishop of Paris, who will stand beside the President. This is the first time since the reign of Charles X. that the Prelate of Paris has been so placed, and the fact of the leader of French Ultramontanes holding the post of honor causes great sensation. Marshal MacMahon thus inflicts indirectly a slight on the prerogative of the National Assembly.

A flash of lighthing darted into the enrich, and in the sudden blaze of light he saw strange faces appear and disappear, and then a white form which he sarted to his feet, and strove to trace the sequence of events which had led him into these dark woods, into this mentachars. Memory returned to him gradually, and then he knew, by the burning of his limbs, by the dreadful sickness in his heart, that he was ill and weak, and that it behooved him to find a spetter. Whither should he direct his steps?

His mind wandered again. Dark shapes, and forms melted line one another, melted suddenly into the picture of a church-yard, with three small fiddlers playing over a grave. This picture came to him in another yivid fash of lightning; and, impelied partly by delirium, partly by reason, which was struggling vainly to reagin its sway, he walked mechanically toward the house in which his young friends lived. The rain beat down upon him; he did not know that he had dropped his cap, and he raised his hand and placed it, as he thought, upon his still uncovered head; the lightning played about him; the thunder whiled in his mind. Still he struggled on, directing his steps aright. But his progress was slow; he had to feel his way, and it is doubtful whether he would not have been compelled to give up the attempt in despairing the struggled on, directing his steps aright. BRIGHT We Have R ceived wings sighs and moans of human suffering. A hull in the storm took place. It is was not, like her sisters, a sound and deep sleeper; she had too many cares. Generally in the middle of night she awoke and thought of things, reckoning up mentally how much money they had, and scheming and planning. She awoke on this night, and as she lay thinking, a groan fell upon her cars—fell heedlessly and without meaning at first, for she was not fully conscious; but when it was repeated, she sat up in bed quickly, and listened, not sure even then that it was not a trick of her fancy. Again she heard the sound of suffering. What should she do? The question was asked and answered in a breath. Our little maid d not know what fear was; she knew waat suffering was, for she had nursed her mother through a long sickness; she had been acquainted with it from her carllest years. Up she rose bravely, and went to the door. She heard the groans plainly now, and moonnected words in which her own name, and the names of Daisy and Lucerne, occurred. She lit the candle, and after assuring herself that Daisy and Lucerne were still sleeping, she opened the street-door softly.

"Who is there?" she asked.
A moan answered her. The wind rushed in and extinguished the light. Iris shivered with cold. Her warm bare feet were chilled when she advanced upon the door step. She stretched out her hand and felt about in the darkness. It came to a human face, and a hot hand strove to grasp her feebly.

"Who is it?" asked the little maid, with a palpitating heart. "Who are you?"

She closed the street door when he was safely inside, and re-lit the candle. Then she saw that it was indeed her friend, and with compassionate cries she knelt by his side, and raised his head upon her lar. He was wet to the skin, and the water was oozing away all around him. She questioned him, and wild words answered her; but he opened his eyes, and for a moment they rested tenderly upon her face; then he relapsed into delirium.
