

IS NOW ABLE TO GO DOWN TOWN

Mrs. Hoffman Makes the Trip First Time This Year

"I had to live on milk for five months before I found Tanlac and now I can eat me t. potatoes or anything else I want and am building up every day," said Mrs. Mary Hoffman who resides at 736 Clough Avenue, Superior, Wis.

"Nearly a year ago I began to have trouble with my stomach," she continued. "After every meal, gas would form and start terrible pains in my stomach. I just suffered agonies and would bite my lips to keep from crying out with pain at times. I just couldn't digest anything but milk and a little beef tea once in a while. Then my nerves began to give way and even the rustle of a paper on the floor would make me tremble like a leaf. I couldn't do any of my housework and at night I was so nervous and in such pain that I couldn't sleep and finally got so weak and run down that I could hardly walk. Then I read about Tanlac and persuaded my husband to get it for me.

"I honestly believe that if I hadn't taken Tanlac when I did, I wouldn't have been here now to tell the story. I began to build up right away after I had taken one bottle. My stomach was relieved, the gas stopped forming and I began to eat and enjoy it. Now I can eat three good meals every day and never have a bit of trouble, I came uptown the other day for the first time this year and enjoyed the walk. I can get around and do all my housework, am getting stronger every day and think it is just wonderful that I found a medicine that would do all this for me. Everybody ought to now about Tanlac and what it will do for a person who suffers like I did, and I am glad to tell how it helped me."

Tanlac is sold in Hartland by Estey & Curtis Co., in Bristol by Dr. G. W. Somerville, in Centreville by Stevens Bros., in Woodstock by E. W. Mair, in Benton by W. E. Porter, in River de Chute by Daniel B. Baird, and in Florenceville by A. B. Lovely, and in Bath by Bath Drug Co.

Grading of Pure Bred Rams in New Brunswick

The services of professor Sackville of Ontario Agricultural College, have been secured to visit each pure bred breeder in the province and classify the rams offered for sale into three grades, superior—average and common. By purchasing your rams in the province, farmers can write any breeder of pure bred sheep and be sure of getting the class of ram he supplies for. New Brunswick is the first province to adopt this classification system. Breeders and Purchasers stand to gain by it. The number of rams for sale together with the price and grade will be listed with the local Live Stock Division.

In order to create a deeper interest among our farm boys and girls in the business of sheep raising, arrangements have been completed to organize Sheep Clubs in the province. Members can get credit from any bank for purchase price of sheep for one year at 6 per cent interest. The Department will arrange a fair at which prizes will be given. The Department will loan a pure bred ram to any club with twenty ewes.

Finally they paid their bills and the first man tore his license into fragments, the second put his in his pocket, the third man went away leaving his lying on the table. We wonder how many of them got married.

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

The fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day is warm, the next is wet and cold and unless the mother is on her guard the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose will prevent colds or if it does come on suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will quickly relieve it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PROFITS IN PAINTINGS.

Value of Famous Canvases Will Almost Stagger Millionaires.

If the figures given out by Horace Townsend, the well-known art critic, in his article on "Art as an Asset," in the Century, can be credited, investors will do well to put their money in modern paintings. Paintings, according to Mr. Townsend, who supports his contention with an imposing array of figures, are speculative risks of the highest grade, in as much as they give pleasure as long as they are in the investor's possession, and, if they are well chosen, will sell in a few years for many times their purchase price.

He quotes from Henry Ford's celebrated remark, "I would not give five cents for all the art in the world," not because the remark reveals an ignorant prejudice on the part of Mr. Ford, but because "it is not likely that he realized the unspoken thoughts of many millions of his fellow-countrymen. The man in the street is wont to regard the artist as a sort of fifth wheel to the economic coach." But this point of view, Mr. Townsend thinks, can be easily altered. "One may point out that here in New York are many young men who, if they had taken to 'business,' would be accounted fortunate if they were earning three or four thousand dollars a year, but who, as illustrators, are easily making three or four times as much."

"It was in 1910," says Mr. Townsend, "that the Yarkes sale broke all records in this country. The entire haul brought $2,155,575, of which the 198 pictures accounted for $1,695,550. To equal this we have to journey to Paris, where two years later Jacques Doucet realized the tremendous sum of $2,776,500, or an average of $7,778 for each one. Large as the total seems, however, it is not to be wondered at when it is remembered that a pastel portrait of Duval de l'Epiney by Le Tour, which Mr. Doucet bought in 1903 for $10,000, brought $120,000, a wonderful nine years' investment; that Mme. Vigee Lebrun's 'Princess Talleyrand,' bought a few years earlier for $1,300, sold for $50,000, and that J. Fragonard's 'Sacrifice au Minotaure,' which in 1830 brought only $1,000, was knocked down for $73,000."

However, these were not the only high prices brought in London and Paris about this time. There was the Roussat sale in Paris, for instance, at which Degas, an old man by this time, had the doubtful pleasure of seeing a picture, the 'Danceuse a la Barre,' which he himself had sold for $100, realize the huge sum of $87,000. It was in 1913 that Rembrandt's 'Salome,' sold by the painter in 1870 for $800, brought $26,000, and now forms one of the treasures of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. It was in 1913, too, that Turner's 'Rain, Steam, and Great Bridge,' a picture bought by Ruskin for $400, sold for $21,500; that an Hungarian collector paid $26,000 for Rembrandt's 'Portrait of the Artist's Father,' which sold in 1811 for $1,050, and that at the Weber sale in Berlin, Mantegna's 'Madonna and Child,' bought for $20,000 in 1905, brought no less than $147,500.

"Many collectors play for safety and buy old masters for huge sums, but they buy in much the same way that they would buy city real estate; that is, after it has an assured commercial value. But it must be remembered that at one time these same old masters were modern painters, and had it not been for patrons during their own lifetime, these works would never have seen the light of day. The men alive now will in their turn become old masters, and it is the bounden duty of their contemporaries to preserve their work for future generations. Prof. C. J. Holmes has given some useful hints to private collectors: (1) Collect the very best things of their class; (2) Be generously systematic; (3) Buy what is strongly felt and emphatic, and not what is merely clever; (4) If you must buy sentiment, buy it clever and engrained."

Literary Recognition.

Authors, as well as other people, have their fetters and superstitions. It has often been known to happen that an author's anxiety to see his publication date with that of the date of some important occurrence in their family, one author well known both here and in Europe, insisting on publishing his book on the 12th of September. A curious coincidence took place the other day with one of the Harper books. Philip Curtis, whose new book, 'Crater's Gold,' has just been published, in writing to a friend made the following amusing statement: "By a strange coincidence, the new member of the Curtis family appeared on my birthday, April 10th. If it will live as long as I have I shall have nothing to complain of." Mr. Curtis, in 'Crater's Gold,' lays his mise en scene in a little New England village and the story centres round a strange old house, owned by a young newspaper man who hears many peculiar stories about his property. Other members of the literary family of Mr. Curtis are 'Between Two Worlds' and 'The Ladder.'

Firecrackers.

China invented gunpowder and popularized firecrackers. The cheapest kind of firecracker is made of gunpowder rolled up in coarse bamboo paper with a covering of red paper, red being regarded by the Chinese as bringing good luck. Alum is used to neutralize the smoke. The Canton district is the centre of this industry. The Chinese seem to use firecrackers upon every occasion—to speed a parting guest, in wedding celebrations, on festivals and birthdays and to dispel evil and bring good omens. China exports about $3,000,000 worth a year.

Soy Bean.

Of the more than 500 known varieties of the soy bean which have been grown on the Government testing farms, at present only about fifteen are handled commercially by seed men.

MARJORIE'S ONE HUNDRED.

Marjorie, aged 9, had not been having very satisfactory reports from school. Her father finally said: "Marjorie, for the first 100 you get I'll give you a quarter." Time went on, and the reward could not be claimed. One day the child was taken violently ill. Her mother sent for the doctor. When he had gone Marjorie said: "Mamma, am I very ill?"

"No, dear; your temperature is a little over 100, but the doctor thinks you will be better in a day or so."

Smiles broke through Marjorie's tears.

"Now, mamma, I can have my quarter. Papa said he would give it to me if I could get 100 on anything."—Christian Advocate.

More What?

Mrs. Junebride—"The larder is about empty. We'll have to make out luncheon on bread and cheese and eggs."

Her Hubby—"All right! If there isn't enough I'll run out to the Widow Sweetleigh's delicatessen and get some more."

But He Knew Most of 'Em.

Mr. Up-Towne—"I saw you coming out of the employment agency."

Mr. Down-Towne—"Yes, been hiring a new cook."

Mr. Up-Towne—"Finally decided to recognize the Cooke Union, eh?"

Mr. Down-Towne—"Not entirely, old chap. There are still a few strange faces."

POOR CAT

Mrs. Newwood—"While I was out this afternoon, a cat got in and ate everything in the pantry but that cake I baked yesterday."

Mr. Newwood—"I always claimed that the cat was one of the wisest of animals."

Away With Him!

I do not care for Mrs. Grimes, I think she is a very disagreeable woman. No man, it seems, is known to him for whom he has a word of praise.

The Expenditure of $610,000,000

How the last Victory Loan was spent

For Demobilization

For Trade Extension

BEFORE buying Victory Bonds again you may want to know how Canada used the money you loaned her last year

Canada borrowed the money to carry on the war and to provide credits for Great Britain and our Allies

CONSIDERABLY more than one-half of the Victory Loan 1918 was spent on our soldiers. This included $312,900,000 for paying them feeding them bringing them home separation allowances to their dependents maintenance of medical services and vocational training schools

$59,000,000 of the Victory Loan 1918 was paid on account of authorized Soldiers' gratuities

$9,000,000 was spent at Halifax for relief and reconstruction after the disaster

Other disbursements were not strictly speaking expenditures, but National Re-investments

To Great Britain for example

$173,500,000 was loaned for the purchase of our wheat and cereals

$9,000,000 for our fish

$30,000,000 for other Foodstuffs

$2,900,000 for Canadian-built ships

$5,500,000 to pay other British obligations in Canada.

Making in all $220,900,000 advanced to Great Britain

To our Allies, we loaned $8,200,000 for the purchase of Canadian foodstuffs raw material and manufactured products

The Re-investments will be paid back to Canada in due time, with interest

These credits were absolutely necessary to secure the orders for Canada because cash purchases were impossible

They have had the effect of tremendously helping agricultural and industrial workers to tide over the depression that would have followed the Armistice, had we not made these credit loans

As far as money is concerned, 1919 has been, and is still—just as much a war year as 1918. Our main expenditures for war cannot be completed until well on into 1920. Thus another Victory Loan is necessary—Get ready to buy.

RHEUMATIC PEOPLE

Can Only Find Relief by Enriching the Blood

Rheumatism is a disorder of the blood. It attacks people when the blood is overcharged with acid and impurities, thus setting up inflammation in the muscles and joints. Wet weather or cold weather of autumn may start the tortures of rheumatism, but is not the cause. The cause is in the blood and the blood only. Victims of this malady have every reason to fear the first dull ache in the limbs and joints, followed by sharp pains through the flesh and muscles; these are the symptoms of poison in the blood which may shortly leave the victim racked and helpless.

There is only one way to cure rheumatism, and that is through the blood. Liniments, hot applications, and rubbing may give temporary ease, but cannot possibly root the trouble out of the system. That can only be done by the rich, red blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. This new blood drives out the poisonous acids and impurities and the rheumatism disappears. If you are a sufferer from this painful malady begin curing your-self today by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and see how soon the pains and stiffness of the joint fade away, leaving behind new energy and new health.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ACCLAMATION?

It is stated that Mrs. Adney will be unable to qualify for a candidate and therefore if neither Liberal or Conservative offers friend Caldwell goes up by acclamation. It would appear absurd for the Liberals to contest this election, for the Farmer's platform, except for its extreme sectionalism, is as far as it goes, identical with the Liberal policy. But where are the Conservatives? Is it the doughty Hon. B. Franklin Smith we see shivering on the brink, afraid to make the plunge?

PARISH ELECTIONS

Never in the history of parish elections has so little interest been taken. Elections will be held next week. From what can be learned at the present moment it would appear that most of the old councillors will be returned by acclamation. It is said there will be a contest in Aberdeen.

Big Racing Event at Woodstock

The Woodstock Driving Club is arranging the biggest two-days race meet ever pulled off in the Maritime Provinces. There will be a free-for-all for $1000; 2.12 and 2.14, $500 each, 2.16, 2.18 and 2.22, $400 each, making purses aggregating $3,200 for the two days meet. The dates are Oct. 14 and 15. Probably every horseman in New Brunswick and Maine will be present, and many from Nova Scotia and all parts of the eastern states.

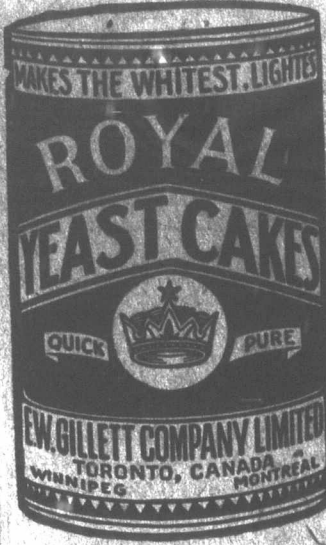

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to friends for their kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement, the death of our mother, Mrs. Blanche Caldwell; especially those at Florenceville who helped with the music and church decoration.

Mr. and Mrs. Burrell Campbell

B. H. Kimball

Birdin Hannibal Kimball, one of the large farmers of Fort Fairfield and one of its most respected and much loved citizens, died Monday afternoon.

Mr. Kimball was born in Jacksontown, July 5, 1863, and was therefore not much over 56 years of age at his death. He was the son of the late Jedediah and Eliza Kimball.

December 19, 1888, Mr. Kimball married Miss Minnie Savage of Jacksontown, going to Fort Fairfield with his family the following year and buying a farm on the Centre Limestone road, which he owned at the time of his death and upon which he had made a great deal of honest money.

DR. RANKIN TORY CANDIDATE

At a caucus at Florenceville last evening Dr. W. D. Rankin consented to run as an "Independent" Conservative - whatever that may be - in opposition to T. W. Caldwell, the Farmer's candidate for election to Parliament.

This is a genuine surprise to most people. B. F. Smith acknowledges that he can not be elected - and the genial doctor has yielded to the importunities of his friends. The Conservatives might search forever and not find a wiser head than that on the shoulders of W. D. Rankine. He is easily the brightest luminary in the Tory firmament, but he has hundreds of friends - among them The Observer - who will deeply regret the doctor's entry into politics.

Getting in Practice.
Joseph Rufus Eastman, Jr., was digging in his sandpile the other day. "You will get the dirt mixed with the sand digging so deep," cautioned his governess.

"But I want to dig deep," explained young Eastman. "I'm not going to be a doctor, I'm going to be a grave digger, and I've got to learn how."

Advantage of Large Words.
"Did you call me a bonehead?" asked the big man.

"No," answered the little fellow. "I merely referred to you as an example of cerebral ossification."

"H'm. Would you mind waiting here a minute till I go and look in the dictionary?"

By no means. I've known him to make one suit last for several years.

Election Card

To the Electors of the Federal Constituency of Carleton-Victoria:
Having been nominated by a Convention of the UNITED FARMERS OF NEW BRUNSWICK, which was held in Woodstock on September 2nd, to contest the coming By-Election in the above Constituency to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Dominion Minister of Public Works, and as the Election is to be held on October 27th and the time being so short, it will be impossible for me to personally call on all the Electors in the two Counties. I, therefore, take this opportunity to state to you what the aims of the UNITED FARMERS are.

They are, in brief, as follows:
THE UNITED FARMERS are strictly independent of both the old Political Parties, and their representatives will be perfectly free to support any measure that is for the best interests of the Farmers of Canada, and just as free to oppose any measure that they feel is not in the interests of the Farmers.

And Canada, being an Agricultural Country, we believe that any legislation that is beneficial to Agriculture is indirectly beneficial to every citizen of Canada.

THE UNITED FARMERS also stand for PURITY in elections, as they believe that the lack of this is the starting point of all the Political Craft and Corruption which is so much in evidence in Canada to-day.

We would therefore appeal to every loyal citizen of Canada to support the FARMERS PARTY, and to the Electors of Carleton-Victoria, to support me as the UNITED FARMERS Candidate in the coming By-Election.

"Minnie Stevens" Became Aristocratic Lady Paget.

Leader of London Society

LADY PAGET, wife of Gen. Sir Arthur Henry Paget, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Parson Stevens, died of pneumonia in Paris on May 18th.

Her life story, observed the New York Sun, reads "like a leaf from a romance of another age." Never again, the writer thinks, "will the world have room for the sort of society in which Lady Paget so long reigned—though, grande dame as she was, she adjusted herself to the changes which the war brought and was as active in work for the soldiers as her ill health would permit." The account continues:

"The Pagets were of England's best fighting blood—the grandfather of Sir Arthur, the first Marquis of Anglesey, lost a leg at Waterloo and got his title for his gallantry—and when Sir Arthur married beautiful

Minnie Stevens, of New York, he wedded an American as dauntless as any Paget that ever breathed.

"Mrs. Stevens was wealthy for those times, and the education of her two children, Harry and Minnie—Mr. Stevens died while they were quite small—was the object of her greatest care. Minnie was reared in every luxury, taught every accomplishment a fashionable young lady is expected to have, and at seventeen, when she was graduated from Mme. Reed's exclusive school in New York, her mother took her to Europe to be 'finished' in music and the languages. After three years in Paris and Berlin they returned home, and Miss Minnie, in the language of the newspapers of the day, 'burst like a beautiful meteor on New York society.'

"Then Capt. Paget visited New York, saw Miss Stevens posing as 'Europe' in some tableaux for a charity of that day and promptly fell at her feet. It is said that the boy-quiet and attentions with which he showered her were the envy of her friends; but Miss Stevens was not easily won. He had to follow her to Newport and ask her more than once before she agreed to marry him.

"A grand wedding it was, with more than a thousand guests, and the American girl's toilette, costing $5,000, was the talk of the town, as was her dowry of $250,000, a fabulous sum then. So, showered with pink roses, she sailed away to England with her proud husband, where she quickly became a queen in London society."

Marriage an Eye Opener.

Wife (complainingly)—You used to say before we were married that I was a dream.

Hub—You were. A dream is something that one wakes up from and discovers that it wasn't so.

Just a Toy.

"What did your wife say, if anything, when she struck you?"

"She said, 'Woman is a plaything, just a toy.' And then she slapped me over, judge."

Greatest Rule of Health

And How it May be Carried Out With Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

You sometimes hear it said that the most important Rules of Health is "Daily movement of the Bowels." Constipation begins with the bowels but it does not end there.

You must also consider the way it affects the liver, the kidneys, the digestive system, and in fact the whole human body.

Headaches, backaches, aching limbs, indigestion, biliousness, kidney derangements, appendicitis, and the most serious diseases imaginable often have their beginning with constipation of the bowels.

There is one treatment which has a direct and combined action on the bowels, the liver and the kidneys and gets these organs into good working order in remarkably quick time, and that is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

They afford relief quickly, but they do more than that. They positively cure constipation, and insure lasting regularity of the bowels by setting the liver right.

Mr. M. Locke, 39 Home Street, Brookville, Ont., writes: "For many years I have been troubled with constipation and have tried a number of remedies, but without obtaining much benefit. About a year ago I started using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and have found them to be the best medicine for constipation that I have ever used. I would strongly advise anyone troubled with this complaint to try the same remedy."

Mrs. R. Childs, Harriston, Ont., writes: "I suffered from constipation and kidney trouble for some time. One day I bought some of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to see if they would help me, and to my delight, I received great benefit from them in a short time. They are a splendid medicine, and I always keep them on hand as a household remedy."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so universally used as a treatment for constipation and liver and kidney troubles that you can obtain them at any store where medicines are on sale. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Do not suffer from itching, bleeding, hemorrhoids, piles, no surgical operation required.

Rally Day Service at Bath

The Bath Baptist congregation observed Sunday as Rally Day with excellent satisfaction. For several evenings previous the pastor was assisted by Rev. C. W. Walden in special Gospel meetings. On Sunday, the Sunday school with about one hundred present had an excellent session. Mr. Walden preached to a well filled house at 11 and also at 2. At 4.30 the pastor officiated in the baptism of three happy converts. In the evening Mr. Walden again preached a splendid sermon and the pastor conducted a most enthusiastic evangelistic service. The regular program of the day was also carried out on the other parts of the circuit, the pastor preaching at Kilburn at 11 and at Upper Kent at 2 p.m. The good work is still going on this week. Rev. A. E. Koobaly assisting the pastor in at least two of the evening meetings.

For Baby's Tender Skin

A child's skin is tender as well as beautiful and eczema may be caused by chafing of clothing, the use of poor soap, exposure to cold or sudden change of temperature. Probably no treatment for eczema has ever proven so successful as Dr. Chase's Ointment, and this applies particularly to baby eczema. This ointment is delightfully soothing, stops the itching and consequently prevents scratching. Gradually the sores are healed up and the skin is left soft and velvety.
