A NEW CORONER APPOINTED FOR HAMILTON MURDER INQUEST

Dr. McNichol a Witness and Therefore Cannot Act.

ETHEL KINRADE'S BODY EXHUMED

Act Made Necessary by Empaneling of New Jury and Doctors Make Fresh Autopsy.

Hamilton Ont., March 9.—A big bungle in the handling of the inquest on the murder of Ethel Kinrade was exposed this afternoon, when the authorities did some faint fumbling to cover up the slip. It was suddenly discovered that Coroner McNichol, who had charge of the investigation, was one of the chief witnesses and as such could not preside at the inquest. The result was that a substitute had to be appointed, a new jury empanelled and the body viewed again.

Coroner Anderson was deputed to take charge of the inquest, and the same jurors, after being discharged, were summoned again and sworn in. The exhumation of the body was merely a matter of form, but it provided a mild sensation and resulted in another autopsy being performed on the body tonight.

Provincial Detective Miller did not come to the city this morning, but he arrived post haste from Toronto this afternoon with the information from the attorney-general's department that the proceedings were being continued and that they would have to be patched up right away. The result was that within an hour after his arrival the body had been exhumed and taken to the city morgue.

Will Dissect Head.

Tonight the jury viewed the remains again and adjourned until tomorrow night. Dr. McNichol has been deputed to assist Drs. Edgar and Bagnall on the post-mortem examination, and on account of the body having been exhumed, it was necessary for the coroner to make a thorough examination of the body to find which direction the bullets in the head took.

Young Trespassers Sang in the Cells

And Even the Police Magistrate and Chief Paused to Listen.

Those who attended the police court this morning were treated to something that is very seldom heard in these precincts, a concert. For some time before court opened, singing could be heard, and now again snatches of popular airs, very well rendered, came floating up from the corridors and caused the onlookers to pause for a moment in their effort to find out what it was all about.

A Singing Trio.

When 10 o'clock struck, Ben Kolber, Lewis Brennan, Eugene Brennan, and John Brennan were ushered in and the singing mystery was explained. The Brennan trio are well-known singers, having at different times filled engagements in various nickel theatres. Their musical propensities were not to be dampened by their surroundings, and while they were waiting for court to open they continued humming.

Charge of Trespass.

The Brennans, together with Kolber last night were arrested last week for trespassing on the C. P. R. property. They had built a big bonfire in the yards and were all sitting about it singing and having a big time. They passed the night at the police station and practically without intermission sang popular songs.

Smash Fine.

Magistrate Love informed the five that as they were trespassers they would have to pay $1 each as a fine, and $20 costs, or else spend a week in jail.

Warning.

"You have been here, though, Mrs. De Miller," said the court, and I am going to remind you for a week. You used to live here some time ago, and I warn you that if you live as you did then you will be dealt with accordingly."

The Late Mrs. Fowler.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret A. Fowler took place at 2:30 this afternoon from the family residence, 342 Princess avenue. The services were conducted by Rev. W. M. Claris, pastor of the Southern Congregational. The pallbearers were Mr. Francis Love, Mr. Gilbert Coombs, Mr. J. Holman, Mr. A. E. Cooper, Mr. Ashton and Mr. D. H. Howden. Interment was made at Woodland cemetery.

HEPBURN DID NOT ATTEND INQUIRY

Too Busy Out West to Attend Orwell Case. STORY TOLD BY WOMEN

Depositions Taken in Michigan Allowed In—Lawyers Not Allowed To Act.

[By Our Own Man.] St. Thomas, March 9.—The pseudo investigation into the now famous Orwell scandal commenced this morning in St. Thomas, with Mr. Eudo Saunders, chief license inspector of Ontario, presiding. Several witnesses were examined during the day. The session adjourned this afternoon until the morning, when further evidence will be heard. It is only fair to state that all the testimony tendered today went to prove that Mr. David Marshall, M. P., and Mr. C. A. Brewer, M. P. T., were not involved in a conspiracy to blackmail Mr. Hepburn's character, and turn the tide of the pending election in favor of Mr. Marshall.

Mr. Hepburn was not represented by counsel, although both the Government and License Inspector W. R. Andrews were.

When the session opened there was quite a representation from the riding, although there was not the interest manifested that was anticipated. Mr. W. K. Cameron, of St. Thomas, represented the crown, and Mr. A. H. Backus, of Aylmer, represented Mr. Hepburn. Mr. J. B. Davidson declined to appear on behalf of Dr. Miller, of Aylmer, whose name might be connected with the case, but this was not allowed unless there was some evidence against him.

Mr. Saunders pointed out that the investigation was primarily to inquire into the conduct of License Inspector Andrews, in connection with the prosecution of David Butler, who was charged with keeping a disorderly house, in which Mr. Hepburn was living at the time. Mr. Andrews formed part of a conspiracy to ruin the reputation of Mr. Hepburn. His honor ruled that Mr. Andrews was not allowed to follow any legal procedure. He was present to get at the facts of the case, and the character of any witness was not to be attacked. He did not desire to have a political squabble, and he had no intention of introducing any political matter into the case.

Garbage in Alleysways.

Inspector McCallum stated that a number of persons were throwing garbage in alleysways about the city, and asked that he be allowed to send them a printed notice that such a proceeding was against the law. The request was considered a good one and granted.

Operation on Harold Keys.

Pin Was Soon Found and Removed by Dr. Ferguson.

The life of Harold Keys, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Keys, of Grand avenue, was saved this morning at Victoria Hospital in a critical operation, in which the new X-ray machine proved of the greatest value to the physicians.

Orwell Probe Adjourned.

Mr. Hepburn Given an Opportunity to Attend and Testify.

St. Thomas, Ont., March 10.—After a short session today the Orwell probe investigation was adjourned until Tuesday, March 23, to give Mr. Hepburn an opportunity to attend and testify.

There was nothing sensational in this morning's evidence. Mr. Hammond, of the East Elgin license board, said he obtained from the inclusion in the throat to heal, but the physicians do not anticipate any further trouble.

NAPOLEON'S ARCH OF TRIUMPH—ONE OF THE SIGHT ON THE ADVERTISER'S TRIP-TO-EUROPE.

The Arc de Triomphe, built by the order of Napoleon in 1806 to commemorate the victory of the French army at Marengo. It stands at the head of the finest avenues of the beautiful French capital. Among the most important of these are the Bois de Boulogne, and the Avenue de la Grande Armee. When the Prussian army entered Paris in 1870, their general profaned two thousand children herring his way and refusing to move, even to ride around, instead of through, the arch on that occasion.

BIG THRILL TO THIS RUNAWAY

Smashes Gates and Stops on the Track.

WITH FAST EXPRESS BEARING DOWN

Nerve-Racking Episode at Talbot Street Crossing of the Grand Trunk This Morning.

Great excitement was created on Talbot street this morning by a runaway horse belonging to W. A. Wyatt, of the Walnut Grove Dairy. The driver was delivering milk at a Talbot street house, near Horton, when the horse suddenly dashed north on Talbot. The gates at the G. T. R. crossing were lowered for No. 6, which was approaching, and the happenings realized what might happen. The engine blew its whistle, and the horse dashed headlong into the south gate, and snapped it off like a pipe stem. The shock evidently stunned the horse, for it halted in the middle of the track.

Mr. Pavey was removed to Victoria Hospital, where Dr. H. A. Kingsmill attended him.

POLICE WORKING ON THE CASE

Approach of Others Compelled the Robber to Release His Victim.

It was reported to the police late last night that a young man, the son of a Dundas street business man, had been held up on Lorne avenue. Upon investigation, the detectives found that while the young fellow was returning to his home, which is downtown, he was met in a secluded spot by a man, who stopped him and demanded any loose change that he had. The young fellow said he had none. The stranger told him that story would not go, and that he had better turn over any money he had on him as soon as he could.

If London Is To Have Them, Says Whitney

PREMIER AGAINST PARKS' SERVICE

Put Himself on Record Regarding Springbank—Deputation Day.

[Special to The Advertiser.] James Whitney's reply today to a deputation of demand for Sunday cars will be permitted to run outside of London, and the Premier received a letter from the Premier received after a 1 o'clock today.

"Well, gentlemen," he said, after listening to their arguments, "there are many points of view. I may say you need not worry any further about the traction matter—the cars from London to Port Stanley, through St. Thomas. There has been no demand or suggestion of demand from the public with reference to the traction scheme, and it will not be considered at all.

THE ARGUMENTS.

"As to the other, it will have to be considered in a general way. As far as preserving one day of rest is concerned, it is certain that the arguments against Sunday labor far outweigh anything that can be said for it. As to Sunday cars, the size and necessities of the population must be taken into consideration. I am told that London is in area about 1,000 square miles, but I suppose that does not include Springbank.

"The fact that they are to go to Springbank necessitates going more deeply into the question. The question for the Legislature and the Government is whether London, with a population of 50,000, could have Sunday cars on a vote of the people, and I may say that neither London or any other place will get Sunday cars without a vote of the people, and it will not be a past vote, but a future one."

The deputation went away happy. It was introduced by Hon. Adam Beck, secretary of the London, St. Thomas and Port Stanley, and included Rev. E. B. Lancelotti, secretary; Canon Haggart, Rev. J. L. Lancelotti, Rev. Mr. Stevens, of the China Inland Mission.

THE WRONG MAN WAS PUNISHED

Dying Confession Clears Man Serving a Long Term for Murder.

Ottawa, March 9.—The deathbed confession of a man named Baxter, who died in St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, some days ago, stating that he was guilty of a crime committed in Manchester six years ago, for which Wm. Carey, an ex-soldier of the Royal Rifle Brigade, is now serving a term of fourteen years in prison, will be laid before the Minister of Justice tomorrow by E. E. Gagnon, of Toronto, a former fellow-soldier with Carey. Gagnon comes to Ottawa at the request of Carey's mother, who became helpless from paralysis when her son was sentenced, and who is now living in Toronto.

The deathbed confession of Baxter will be placed before Hon. Mr. Aylesworth by Gagnon. In order that proper representation may be sent to England to secure Carey's release.

It will be remembered that Carey, who originally hailed from Toronto, while awaiting sentence in Manchester, sought to get back to Canada again by pretending that he was the murderer of Little Glory Whelan near Toronto in 1903, a crime which brutality shocked the whole Dominion. It was proven, however, that Carey's confession was a bogus one.

A few hours before his death in St. Michael's Hospital last week Baxter confessed to Archbishop McEvoy and Rev. Father McCann that he was guilty of the crime for which Carey was spending a fourteen year sentence in Manchester. He signed a written confession embodying the facts, and with the proofs of Carey's innocence in his possession. Mr. Gagnon reached the capital today.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 10

THE BISHOP AND THE WEST END

The Bishop of London has put his ecclesiastical foot in it by deprecating what he termed the "catty" spirit of women in high social circles. He had found it prevalent, he said, in the drawing-rooms of the West End of London. By "cattiness" he evidently meant a propensity among women to be spiteful towards one another, and to indulge in scandal and backbiting.

Lady Dorothy Nevill takes up the cudgels on behalf of her sex. She says she has known very few "cattish" girls in her large circle of acquaintances who are habitués of West End drawing-rooms. The girls of today, she claims, compare very favorably with those of fifty years ago. The different life they lead tends to improve them bodily and mentally, and they are becoming more manlike. Today they are almost as free as their brothers, adds Lady Nevill, and have so many outdoor interests that they have not the same excuse for backbiting as the girls of a former generation, who were brought up in strict seclusion at home, and found time hanging heavily on their hands.

The good bishop is as familiar with the East End of London as with the West End, and there is constantly before him the hideous contrast, the extremes of luxury and poverty. Like every earnest man in the same circumstances, he must feel a noble rage at the frivolous, empty lives of so many votaries of fashion, while there is such a mass of human misery at the very doors of Mayfair calling for human service. Much of the chatter of West End drawing-rooms would be anything but music in his ears. At the same time, one does not need to know these select circles to agree with Lady Nevill that the girls of today in the upper classes in Great Britain have made some advance on those of the past. To realize this we have only to think of the type portrayed by Jane Austen with such delightful fidelity. The girl of a hundred years ago, born in a certain social station, was a languishing creature, a drawing-room exhibit, with one idea, one aim, and one outlook—matrimony. Even on that subject her mind was made up for her by her family. Her "accomplishments" were a smattering of French and music; her work was embroidering; and the notion of any career outside of marriage, was shockingly bad form. The girl of the early and mid-Victorian eras was much the same as the girl of a century ago, who lives in Jane Austen's pages—a creature of convention, who was supposed to have no mind, will, or initiative, and to be accomplished only in the arts of pianoforte-playing and "setting her cap." Her role was to slumber in the drawing-room until the right man came along and claimed her. If the girl who was not claimed became somewhat "cattish" in such an atmosphere, was it any wonder?

A revolution in woman's condition has been effected within the past generation. The girl of today has a degree of freedom and of opportunity to realize herself, unapproached 50 years ago. She may go into politics, philanthropy, social endeavor, religious work and a hundred other activities outside of matrimony, to say nothing of the occupations now open to women who are obliged to earn money. Then there is the cult of physical exercise, which was tabooed in the age when the masculine idea of the fair sex was associated with fainting and smelling-salts. Even if high-born ladies in these days of their emancipation occasionally go so far as to "rush" the House of Commons, shout down cabinet ministers, and break through police lines, the girls with all the modern improvements ought to be better developed in mind and body than those of the Georgian or early Victorian periods.

LAW REFORM IN TITLES TO LAND.

The Toronto Globe, in discussing this subject, points out that a proposal was made that "after a discharge of a mortgage had been registered for ten years, the registrar of deeds should be required to mark the mortgages and discharges of the abstract." The Globe adds: "An ideal system would clear the title of each parcel of land up to the date of the transfer. This is aimed at in the Torrens system."

The Advertiser has discussed this question on previous occasions, and believes the existing act can be amended to suit the needs of this Province even better than the Torrens system. The latter, in Manitoba and other provinces, is not less expensive than our registry act. It has faults our act has not, principally faults of delay. Encumbrances are indorsed on the certificate and partial sales also.

Instead of introducing the Torrens system into this Province, the following changes would be more satisfactory. Let there be appointed in each county and city one or more registrars. If the registrar at present in office is a lawyer, or one who is qualified by experience to do the work, he could continue to act in that capacity, and the certificate of title of such registrar should be final down to such certificate. This process could be repeated at each transfer, and an accurate record kept up to date of each transfer or encumbrance as made. The great majority of the transfers in the province of Ontario are good, and except in a comparatively few cases they are still short.

The suggestion in the Globe to strike off the mortgage and discharge when the discharge is ten years old, is good so far as it goes. The proposition which we have outlined above goes further, and strikes off the mortgage as soon as the discharge is registered. It gives all the benefits of the Torrens system, without its delay or expense.

The registrar, at some points, such as the Church Society lands, east of Adelaide street, in this city, would require to have a plan made and lots numbered, according to ownership, and this in a greater or less degree would require to be done at several points in the Province. Once done, the work would not need to be done over again, but only to be kept up to date by a competent registrar. The registrars of Western Ontario, on the whole, are good men, some of them extra good, and quite safe and competent to carry out these proposals, which in the end would be found to be more satisfactory and less expensive than the Torrens system.

CONDITIONS IN IRELAND.

Coercion is still the Irish policy of the Unionist party. Mr. Balfour and his followers continue to insist that the enforcement of the crimes act is the only effectual means of stamping out lawlessness in the Emerald Isle. The Government's answer is: "We are not going to repeat coercion, because experience has taught us that it is one of those curses which are worse than the disease, because they aggravate the symptoms without touching the cause."

Though last year there was an increase of agrarian crime in its serious forms, reports show that crime as a whole in Ireland has diminished steadily in the three years, 1905-07. In the course of a recent debate in the House of Commons, Mr. Asquith showed that in those three years there had been but one agrarian murder, whereas in the three years, 1880-82, there were no fewer than 51. Of the 575 crimes in Ireland in 1908 (as compared with 1,056 in 1886), a very large proportion of them were trifling, 233 being the sending of threatening letters, which were treated with contempt by the people who received them, and led to nothing.

In the Premier's opinion, the real evil is that the people as a whole are indifferent to the enforcement of the criminal law, but he is convinced that this condition cannot be cured by coercion. The aim of the Government is to impress upon the people that the criminal law is their friend, and not their enemy, and the only way it can be done is by administering the law firmly and justly.

A comparison of the condition of Ireland when Mr. Balfour was responsible for the administration with the present state of affairs is interesting. On Jan. 1, 1900, the number of persons under police protection was 591, and in 1901, 401, while in 1908 the number was 281, and in 1909, 344. Yet in 1900 and 1901 Mr. Balfour made no attempt to put the crimes act into operation, which shows the insincerity of his present demand for the enforcement of coercion.

Chief Secretary Birrell declares that all the difficulty which exists at the present time is connected with untenanted land. Hopes have been excited, and all the greed, land-hunger, land-grabbing, selfishness, and vindictiveness have sprung from the passionate desire of the people to avail themselves of the privileges offered them and the boon conferred on them by the land act of 1903. So far, however, as that act has for its object to turn a sitting tenant into a proprietor, it has been the greatest possible success, and a boon to Ireland; but Mr. Birrell recognizes the impossibility of introducing such a measure as the act of 1903 without disturbance, intimidation, and it might be, crime. At the same time, he is confident that had he pursued the course urged upon him by the Unionists, the state of Ireland would be worse than it is.

The Senate has become Liberal, but some of the speeches there have a high Tory flavor.

The City Council has ratified the Niagara power contract upon faith, and now all the ratepayers can do is to hope.

The United States tariff bill is said to contain an offer to Canada of reciprocity in coal. The Province of Ontario will hold up both hands for it.

The Unionists complain of the vast amount of British capital invested abroad in recent years. But where do the Britishers get the money to invest?

A correspondent who knew the composer of the air of "O Canada" informs us that his name was Calixa Lavallée, not Francis Lavallée, as it is usually printed. When a mere youth, living in Montreal, he was chosen as a delegate to a great musical convention in France over 25 years ago. His early death was a distinct loss to this country.

FRENCH NATIONAL CRISIS. Despite the recent slight increase in the French birth and marriage rates, reported recently, the crisis in the marriage market continues to engage the attention of some of the foremost writers in the French press. Paul Marguerite, the woman's champion, has an interesting article in Le Journal.

He is a strong advocate of a freer womanhood in France. Mr. Marguerite's article does not deal with woman's legal status so much as with her helplessness in the matter of matrimony.

He lays it down as a general axiom that the French girl wishes to be married, while the young man wishes to remain single. The phenomenon of a woman preferring to remain a spinster hardly exists in France. The young man will not marry, or he defers marriage until comparatively late in life, because he fears the responsibilities of a household.

Living has become increasingly dear in Paris. The old simple ways of the economical French are changing in the large towns for greater luxury and display. It is becoming increasingly difficult for the man of a small fixed income to make both ends meet.

A SURGICAL DISCOVERY.

[New York Sun.] A remarkable operation on a dog was made the subject of a scientific demonstration at a meeting of the Medical Society last week. Dr. Unger, a Berlin surgeon, showed how ten days before he had removed the dog's kidneys, substituting those of another dog. The dog seemed to have completely recovered.

If, as the demonstrator believes, the operation may be performed with equal success on humans suffering from diseased kidneys, a further important step in modern surgery will have been made.

PROGRESSIVE CONTENTMENT.

[T. A. Daly, in Catholic Standard.] I have no desire for riches. More money is laid to me. From all the annoyance of millions I'm glad to be perfectly free. Of course, I'm in a little bit of a bind. I can't say "I don't owe a cent." But were these few debts of mine settled I'm sure I'd be really content.

A hundred or so would be ample to pay every penny of debt. If I only had that I'd be certain I'd be in my glory, and yet I wouldn't mind one or two thousand. You see I am still paying rent. And if I could be my own landlord I'm sure I'd be really content. It's nice to be quite independent. And not have to work like a slave. My tastes are the tastes of refinement: It isn't my nature to be a millionaire. If I had a cool hundred thousand I could draw, say, seven per cent. Or possibly six and three-quarters. I'm sure I'd be really content.

WHERE HIS LUCK CAME IN.

[Lippincott's.] Whenever physicians' fees seem extortionate it is comforting to recall a certain famous eye specialist, one of whose patients coming to pay his bill, remarked: "Doctor, it seems to me that $50 is a big charge for that operation of mine. It didn't take you over half a minute." "My dear sir," the doctor answered, "in learning to perform that operation in half a minute I have spoiled over eleven pairs of such eyes as yours."

THE QUICK AND THE DEAD.

[S. E. Kiser, in Chicago Record-Herald.] Caesar's dead and turned to clay. Alexander's drifts and blows away. Let us hope King Arthur may be at present with the just. They were great and they were grand. Fame they gained which will not die. Splendidly wrought and planned. Still we praise them, you and I. But behold you are not dead. He may never win applause—Yet he lives, while they, alas! Are but parts of all that was.

Gallio is no more; Ferdinand and Isabel. On some far celestial shore. May with sainted Colon dwell; Never shall their glory fade. Never can the mighty dead. Which we owe to them be paid—But Jim Jones is living yet. You have never heard of James; He is humble, but he is great. Still he eats and drinks and claims Joys which dead ones cannot know.

Dante, Shakespeare, Tennyson. All have gone the common way. Each with living nobly won. Fame that shall be his and ours; At their graves men humbly bow. Praise to them we gladly give—Ah, but do you know it or live? Who would not their lives give? As an Alfred Austin, 'em. Than to be a Shakespeare dead? Luckier than a million dead. Is a housewife baking bread.

ANOTHER INSOMNIA CURE.

[Harper's Bazar.] For sleeplessness, hot water bottles and place it under the ankles; it works better than all the soles of the feet. Put a rather small amount of very cold water in another bottle and lay it on the head. The cold water is more comfortable than ice, which seems exciting rather than soothing.

At first, says a woman who has tried this cure, I would get to sleep in about an hour and wake again as the water cooled. The cold water would have to be changed four or five times during the night; then once changing was enough, and now I can sleep as long as I lay down for sleep I put on the cold water bottle and am asleep soon for the whole night.

HER LOVE.

[Tit-Bits.] "You tell me she married for love, but I happen to be aware that the man she married is worth a million." "Precisely—it is the million she loves."

GETTING READY TO PROPOSE.

[London Standard.] A train stopped abruptly a few miles outside the little station of Hergatz, in Bohemia, and the passengers alighted to ascertain what had happened. They found the guard engaged in shaving the engine driver, who apologized for the delay, and explained that he was about to propose to the young woman in the refreshment room at the next station, and he had no time to complete his toilet before starting.

TOO PREVIOUS.

[La Touche Haecce.] Winter is over—spring is beginning! That's what the hackneyed bards are now singing. But I fancy that all these postasters are far from excellent weather forecasters. Of being, doubtless, they know a lot. But their lines on climate are simple rot! They always begin to rush into rhyme. Quite a month or so before the right time. And were we to listen to what they say, there'd be the deuce and the doctor to pay!

SUBMARINE BALL IN VIENNA.

[Throne and Country.] A submarine ball is the latest attraction devised by the Princess Metetrach. Every year the princess opens the Vienna season with a ball at her palace. This year she sought the assistance of well-known artists, and the result was a scene rivaling in splendor and magnificence the most gorgeous scene at a pantomime. Every guest in devising their costumes had to rival the artists from the land and fauna of the sea. The salons represented a gigantic aquarium, or, more correctly, the domain of the sea. There were enchanted groves, strange rocks, peculiar plants and beds of coral. The dancers appeared in costumes decorated with sea roses, corals of the most delicate shades, and all sorts of shellfish, including lobsters.

HEPBURN DID NOT ATTEND

Shortly after, circulars were sent out by Mr. Granville Haight and Mr. Hephburn, charging Mr. David Marshall and other Conservatives with a conspiracy to defame Mr. Hephburn. Mr. Andrews' name was connected with the conspiracy. He declared that he was only attacked by motives of justice. He denied absolutely that any influence or pressure had been brought upon him to lay the charge. The information had come to him in a regular way, and he was compelled to take action. He had not given Mrs. Stinger money to lay the charge.

Mr. David H. Price, publisher of the Aylmer Express, gave evidence as to letters appearing in his paper signed by Mr. Haight and Mr. Hephburn, and declared that they had been sent in by Dr. Miller and Mr. G. A. Bingham, of Aylmer.

Mr. A. C. Brower, M. P. P., Yarmouth Centre, gave evidence to the effect that Mr. Hephburn was false. For this charge he was called to give evidence. Mr. Hephburn admitted that the charge was correct, and that he had sworn falsely at the trial. If the perjury charge were proved he would have to either go to jail or make a clean breast of the whole affair. Mr. Brower denied that he had anything to do with laying the charge, and stated that he was not present at the trial. He had known Mr. Hephburn a long time, and desired his private respect his own family.

Mr. George F. Brower corroborated his father's testimony in every particular, stating that Hephburn admitted that he was guilty of perjury. He was true, Mr. Brower denied that his father had preferred the charges or had some person prefer them for political purposes.

The Hostler's Evidence.

Charles Dickenson, the hostler at the Butler House, gave interesting evidence. He told of the proceedings at the hotel on the night in question, and swore positively that Mr. Hephburn and the women were in the house, and that they had left in the night, coming back the next morning. He also testified that at the instance of Mr. George Tutthill, of Aylmer, he had taken two affidavits stating that his former employer, Mr. Hephburn, was false. For this Tutthill gave him $15. The affidavits were made before Mr. W. E. Stevens, Mr. Dickenson frankly admitted that he had made them, because he was urged to do so, and because of the money offered.

Tutthill followed, and admitted that he had given the money to Dickenson for the affidavits. The money was his own. He had not obtained the money from Mr. Hephburn, but for his own private business. He stated that Dickenson offered to give the information for a consideration, and as he thought it might be useful at some future time he gave him the money. He had not seen Dickenson since the affidavits, but Mr. Stevens had. His object in getting Dickenson's affidavits was to show that Mr. Marshall and Dr. Augustine, of Aylmer, had gone to Mahlon Bougainer's on several occasions at night, and he suspected it was in connection with the Orwell affair.

A lengthy argument took place between the witnesses and the counsel. He refused to answer the question as to what he wanted the affidavit for. Mr. Saunders would not compel him to answer, and the lawyers gave up after many attempts.

There will be many witnesses called, and the investigation may last a couple of days. It is expected of a burlesque so far, and nothing better is expected from it.

CORONER HAS BEEN APPOINTED

that the dead girl was not coming down stairs at the time she was shot, and that she was probably sitting in the room removing her rubbers or was about to go upstairs.

Hamilton, March 9.—An entirely new aspect is given this morning in the story of the shooting of Ethel Kinrade by the evidence of Charles Hossack, 149 Helmcken street. It tends to show that the shooting took place after Ethel came in from her walk, and not, as she was going out, which was the story told by Florence Kinrade.

Mr. Hossack, who will give evidence at the inquest tonight, stated that between 2 o'clock and 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the murder he was standing in the bay window of his home, and he saw Ethel Kinrade walking along the street in a westerly direction. He did not see her come back, although he was there for about an hour afterward, but thinks she may have gone home by going along Caroline street.

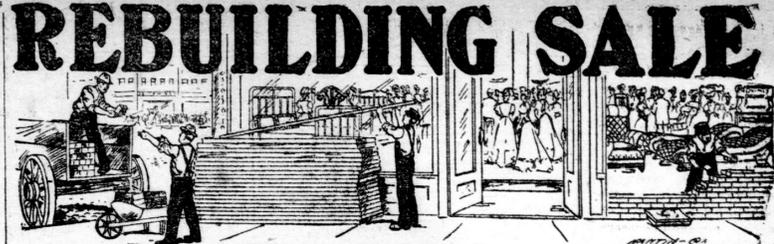

Mr. Hossack's story introduces features into the case which open up all sorts of possibilities, and makes the case more mysterious than ever. This is the first time it has been learned that Ethel was out of the house on the afternoon of the murder.

Mr. Hossack's daughter, Erie also saw Miss Kinrade, and at the inquest will describe the dress she wore. It answers in every particular the description of the dress worn by Miss Kinrade when she was murdered.

Throws Out One Theory. One feature of this story is that it entirely throws out the theories that the shooting took place about two o'clock, as Mr. Hossack saw the girl on the street at that time.

Miss Phyllis Hossack will give evidence at the inquest. She saw Miss Florence Kinrade and Mr. Montrose Wright on the street two days after the shooting.

between himself and his father or sisters. It was rumored that Ethel, who was murdered, had been at the home of Ernest Kinrade the night before the tragedy or on the morning of the day on which the murder happened, to collect rents which, it was said, were due to her father from him. The story was that no money had been forthcoming, and that Ethel thereupon demanded what there was in the house. Ernest was away at the time. When he came home, so the story went, he was very angry. Mr. Kinrade, however, denies all this.

BRUSSELS BYLAW FAILED TO CARRY Proposition to Bonus London Men Did Not Get Necessary Vote.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Brussels, Ont., March 9.—The bylaw presented to the ratepayers here Monday to loan $2,500 to Messrs. Walter J. Garside and William James, both of London, providing they erect a plant here for the manufacture of chemical fire extinguishers, stood 152 to 19. It was 10 short of the necessary total. It is thought that the bylaw will be submitted again.

The bylaw provided that Messrs. James and Garside should be given $2,500 for a term of ten years, and that they should execute a first mortgage on the plant, factory, machinery and site, and a first mortgage on the residence of Walter J. Garside, in London, in favor of the village of Brussels. Both the loan and mortgage and loan to bear interest at 5 per cent per annum. The mortgage further provided that the property should be insured to the full insurable value, payable to the village.

As the majority of the ratepayers favor the bylaw, it will probably be submitted again in the near future.

SEALERS CARRY WIRELESS OUTFIT The Grand Banks Sealing Fleet Are Right Up to Date.

St. Johns, Nfld., March 10.—Equipped with a wireless telegraph outfit and manned by 1,000 men, the Newfoundland sealing fleet of 23 steamers sailed today on its annual cruise among the dangerous ice floes of the North Atlantic. Seventeen of the steamers will go to the Grand Banks and the remaining six will enter the Gulf of St. Lawrence. In this year's fleet are five new steamers, four of which cost $150,000.

The fifth, the Florizel, cost $200,000. This vessel is equipped with a wireless outfit, and it is expected that much of the anxiety of past years will be absent this year, as almost daily reports from the sealers is anticipated.

A ROYAL WARD

By Percy J. Brebner, author of "Princess Maritza," "Vayenne," etc.

There were many others, however, to claim her, and since she was there to play a part, to show how really un-concerned she was except, of course, that she rejoiced as others did that the attempt had proved futile, she played her part thoroughly. None of her part had ever found her so gracious, and could not guess that at heart she was troubled and disappointed.

she gave way, remembering she had not very definitely refused, sometimes she denied the promise and would not have her favors cheapened in this fashion. The she pleaded fatigue, and some im-portunate suitor would look so dis-believing that she laughed.

Severe Cold Cured

BY CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

MISS ETHEL ROCHE

It was a happy thought that prompted Miss Ethel Roche of 227 Florida Ave., Jacksonville, Fla., to ask her druggist's opinion when looking for something to cure her cold.

Sister Was Also Cured

Miss Roche had a neglected cold about three years ago and was so hoarse she could hardly speak. She says: "The druggist told me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and in three days I was greatly relieved; within a week I was cured.

THINK TURKEY ON VERGE OF REVOLT Predict That Empire Will Return to Old Regime Within Short Time.

London, March 9.—European statesmen who honestly want Turkey liberally governed are showing the liveliest fear, and those who prefer a despotism the very poorly-concealed hope that the recent cabinet shake-up at Constantinople foreshadows a return to the old regime, either in their original or in only a little different form.

The theory seems to be that, having formed the habit of revolution, the Turks are going to keep on having them until someone comes to the surface with sufficient strength to restrain power by main strength—and then the establishment of a fresh despotism is anticipated.

On the whole, Abdul Hamid's chances of regaining his former power are not considered very dark. In spite of former Grand Vizier Kiamil Pasha's denials, it is generally believed in the European chancelleries, that affairs were drifting, under his guidance, back toward despotism.

His successor, Hilmi Pasha, was an official of the old order, though an exceptionally high type of the class, and is not even now regarded as a very ardent Liberal.

An attempt by Kiamil to get into office again is thought more than likely and there are numerous indications that he is at the right moment he will succeed.

The young Turks, who deposed Kiamil and elevated Hilmi, have deteriorated, it is agreed in Constantinople, since the revolution. The original organization of pure patriots has been to a great extent supplanted by survivors from the old regime, who ostensibly converted to the doctrine of Liberalism, have entered the young Turkish ranks and are being gradually accustomed to methods of blackmail and corruption.

The result, Turkey's friends fear and its enemies hope, will be the substitution for the old "Yildiz Camariyah" of a period of tyranny by an anonymous and irresponsible "committee" another overture when this condition becomes intolerable and then more and still more overtures until the series ends with the establishment of a stable government under some individual whose rule, in the very nature of the case, must be to the last degree autocratic.

If the run has luck in all in his favor, most western statesmen think this individual will be Abdul Hamid.

STOP PUBLIC EXECUTIONS

France Finds It Best to Hold Them Privately.

Paris, March 9.—It is suggested today that henceforth executions will take place within the Sante prison. Since the guillotine has arrived there have been protests against public executions. The conduct of the crowds at Bethune, Capentras and Marseilles made it clear that it was not desirable to execute murderers in full view of the public.

Several municipal councillors are in favor of the guillotine being removed to the entrance yard of the Sante prison until Parliament deals with the question of public executions. Here criminals would have the time very short journey from their cells to the instrument of death; the crowd could be easily handled, and the lamentable spectacle of a dramatic appeal to the fear of death would be avoided.

It seems that M. Deblier has already consulted with the government on this subject, and it is taken for granted that, so far as executions in Paris are concerned, the question of avoiding deplorable scenes has been settled.

POPE MUCH BETTER.

Rome, March 9.—The Pope, who has been suffering from a cold, is much better today. The beautiful spring-like weather has had a good effect on the patient. He has not yet been allowed to come to the state apartments, but as he insists upon resuming his audience, he today received in his private apartments Cardinal Richelieu, Archbishop of Turin, and Monsignor Trobec, Bishop of St. Cloud, who came to Rome for the purpose.

Both visitors expressed the opinion that the Pope looked comparatively well and vigorous considering the fact that he has been confined in his room for more than a week. The pontiff expressed the desire to descend soon to the throne room to receive Cardinal Mercuri, Archbishop of Mechlin, who is here with five Belgian bishops and a Belgian pilgrimage.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS CURE ANAEMIA

PALE FACES, DIZZY SPELLS, PALPITATING HEART, HEADACHES AND SHORTNESS OF BREATH ARE SYMPTOMS OF ANAEMIA.

Watery blood is an open invitation to disease to take possession of your system. Watery blood is responsible for nearly all the headaches and bankaches and siccaches that afflict womankind. Watery blood is responsible for the dull eyes, sallow cheeks and the listless dragged-out feeling that is found in so many growing girls. Good blood means good health, and good blood actually comes through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Weak, ailing, despondent women who use this medicine are made active and strong. Listless, pale-faced girls are given new health, rosy cheeks, bright eyes and a new sense of happiness and security. Mrs. E. S. Nightingale, Chesley, Ont., says: "My daughter was ill for a long time with anaemia and would often be confined to bed for three or four days at a time, and we feared she was going into a decline. A lady friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I got a half dozen boxes. By the time these were used there was a marked improvement, and I got a further supply for her. The change these pills have wrought in her condition is so great that you would not think that she was the same girl. I will always have a kindly feeling for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

HOT AFTER GANG

Provincial Detectives on Heels of a Band of Swindlers.

Toronto, March 10.—The provincial officers of the Attorney-General's department are investigating the recent operations in this Province of a gang of sharpers, some of whom are alleged to hail from Hamilton, and their American confederates from New York City.

Inspector Joseph E. Rogers is in charge of the inquiry and co-operating with him is Mr. F. Cosgrove, of New York, general manager of the Cosgrove detective agency. The Ontario operations of the gang are being hatched in Ottawa and involve an alleged attempt to swindle a young man named Wadsworth out of $30,000. Wadsworth was warned in time, but his would-be fleecers got away.

OFF AGAIN, ON AGAIN

Niagara Powers Play Tag With Toronto to Everybody's Discomfort.

Toronto, March 9.—Just how dependent the whole city of Toronto is upon the six heavy copper wires that carry the power for its street cars, its lights and machines, in home, streets and factories, with the great generators at Niagara Falls, was made very clearly at 2:55 o'clock this afternoon, when street cars, lights and motors were paralyzed for fully twenty minutes because a short-circuit at Burlington saw fit to play with the six copper wires before mentioned.

The evening newspapers were just going to press when the current dropped off, and they were so delayed as to cause some editions to lose the trains which carry them throughout the country.

The Toronto Electric Company stated that they could have started up their steam-generating plants, but that the power from Niagara kept coming on and off, so that they were not sure but that the service would be resumed any moment.

IN COOPERS' DEFENCE

Counsel Tells Jury the Killing of Carmack Was Justifiable.

Nashville, March 9.—The unwritten law of the press is to cover editors who attack private or public men by General Meeks, of counsel for defence in the trial of Colonel Duncan Cooper, the editor of the Nashville Tennessean, and John D. Sharp for the murder of former United States Senator E. W. Carmack. The innovation was sprung during General Meeks' speech to the jury. Previously he had expressly disclaimed the belief that any editorial attack justified killing the writer. The general was wound up his subject, with a burst of eloquence, saying:

"You talk on the liberty of the press, why, gentlemen, no man lives who believes more firmly in the liberty of the press than I do. But when a man in an editorial position turns the liberty of the press into license and undertakes to defame and defile your family, what are you going to do? The prosecution will tell you you have a right to go to court. Yes, and you get a judgment for $25,000 against a man not worth the price of a plug of tobacco. Is that satisfaction?"

"Oh, gentlemen, I tell you that the streets of this, our city, have run red before with the blood of men who have used other men's names in public prints."

General Meeks devoted five hours to the speech. He painted the defendant as a man of fine talents, of aristocracy and breeding, declared no crime had been committed when Mr. Carmack was shot to death and closed with a dramatic appeal to the jury to "Turn loose this gallant old soldier, Colonel Cooper."

THE MUELLER MYSTERY

Frances Admits Killing Girl But Declares It Was Accidental.

Baltimore, March 9.—A part of the shooting of the young woman who died of Miss Jennie Reed at Mount Washington, a residence suburb, last night, was cleared up today, when Joseph Mueller, her murderer, confessed to the police that he himself killed her. He avows, however, that it was accidental, but the police believe a case of deliberate murder.

The shooting of the young woman occurred while the pair, who were said to have been engaged to be married, were walking along a path leading through a piece of woods. Mueller last night told a circumstantial story of highway robbery with the shooting of Miss Reed by the footpad as a climax.

He made a confession in which he says that while they were walking along the path with the girl in front he saw a shadow in the woods which frightened him, and he fired twice, the shot striking Miss Reed. Mueller said last night that he and the girl to whom he was to be married, were on the way to visit friends at Mount Washington, and left their car at South avenue. When they had walked half a block and were in a lonely place they were stopped by a man leveling a pistol, called for their valuables.

Mueller says he gave up what money he had, and then the highwayman demanded a necklace worth $100. Miss Reed, her reply was a slap in the face, upon receiving which the man fired, the bullet striking the girl behind the left ear. She was carried into a nearby house, but death had been almost instantaneous. The highwayman disappeared and is being diligently sought by the police.

Last December Mueller received a threatening anonymous letter, in which he was warned that if he did not cease his attentions to Miss Reed he would be made to suffer. Some time thereafter there came to him by mail a box of candy, the contents of which were found to have contained poison. The sender of the package has never been discovered.

FELL FIVE FLOORS.

New York, March 9.—While delirious from illness Walter H. Merriam either jumped or fell from the window of his room on the fifth floor of the apartment house at Sixty-eighth street and Central Park West today, and was instantly killed.

He had been suffering from nervous troubles for several weeks and was under the care of a physician and a nurse. The nurse had left the room a few minutes ago and on her return found it vacant, and the patient's body on the ground beneath the window.

Relatives of Mr. Merriam said they knew of no reason why Merriam would want to take his life. He was a graduate of Columbia Law School, and was associated for several years with the firm of Alexander & Oolby in this city. He was 41 years of age.

Skin Diseases.

A diseased or disfigured skin will always leave its stamp on the mind of the individual. Many people suffering from disfiguring skin diseases avoid society and lose all pride in their personal appearance. When the skin breaks out in eruptions and sores it is due entirely to an impure condition of the blood.

In all such cases Burdock Blood Bitters will quickly purify the blood and drive all the impurities out of the system.

Mrs. J. J. Magee, Jr., Kinnmont, Ont., writes: "In the spring of 1906 I was troubled with a Rash that broke out all over me. It was the worst on my face and head, had a dry, scaly top, and when I would get warm it would become very itchy. I tried the doctor's medicine but it did me no good, so I then got one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and before it was all used the Rash was entirely gone."

Mrs. Harvey Park-bone, Gold River, N. S., writes: "I was greatly troubled with Sores on my face and finally became so bad I had to go to the doctor about it, but he could do nothing to help me. I thought about Burdock Blood Bitters and decided to try a bottle. I cannot recommend B.B.B. enough, as I had not taken all the bottle before my face was cured."

For sale by all druggists and dealers.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Dr. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got The New Method of Cure for Varicocele. It was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months and the longer and was rewarded with complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all in distress knew of your valuable treatment." HENRY C. LOCUST.

So many remedies failed that the doctor was completely puzzled. As for symptoms—I had bushels of them, in the morning a sort of nausea. TARIFF CHANGES GAIN $350,000,000

Despite Heavy Cuts--New U. S. Bill Will Give Increase.

Washington, D. C., March 10.—Portions of the new tariff bill were sent to the Government printing office tonight, and it is expected that the entire measure will be in type by Wednesday. While nothing was officially given out as to the recommendations of the tariff commission, Washington tonight heard many of the changes they are said to have asked.

President Taft is seeking to have a copy of the bill delivered to the Senate committee on finance before the special session begins in order that the members may begin work on it at once, believing that much time will be saved.

He conferred with Secretary MacVeagh, Speaker Cannon and Senator Aldrich on the tariff changes today. It is reported among other things, that despite the great cuts to be made on certain classes of goods the new measure will provide additional revenue of at least $350,000,000 annually. Fifty millions of this increase, it is said, will come from the advance on coffee, on which a duty of 4 cents will be levied. This is a compromise with the Porto Ricans, who asked a 6-cent levy.

Act of 1898 To Be Revived?

Another radical change said to have been asked by the framers of the revenue act of 1898, placing a tax on telegrams, bank checks, playing cards, and all stocks bought and sold. That feature of the war revenue act is incorporated in the measure as drafted. It is rumored around the capital that the duties on steel rails, tools, and similar products have been submitted to a substantial reduction.

It also has been learned on good authority that the committee has recommended that hides be placed on the reduction in the duties on shoes. There will be a hard fight over this section when the bill comes up for passage. The effort to obtain free hides is being made by the New England shoe and leather manufacturers, and is strongly opposed by the cattlemen of the west. An impression prevails that the plan is to have the hide and leather schedule fixed in conference after the questions have been thoroughly thrashed out on the floor of the House and Senate.

Lumber Duty Cut One-Half.

A cut of one-half in the duties on lumber and manufactures of lumber is understood to be another one of the changes provided. During the hearings of the lumber schedule it was said the forests of the country could only be conserved by admitting foreign lumber free of duty.

It is understood that Gifford Pinchot, chief forester, is preparing figures for the committee in a further effort to have lumber placed on the free list. Chauncey Clark declared at the hearings that the profits of the lumber interests were unduly large.

Representative E. F. Murphy of Michigan, a member of the committee, has championed the cause of the lumbermen, and the latter have been working energetically to prevent the free entry of lumber. They contend that the rates of duty should be increased in order that the American industry may compete with the cheaper labor employed in Canada and because of the better facilities for transportation afforded by the proximity of the Canadian lumber camps to waterways. Whisky and beer will remain as they are at present, if the sub-committee recommendations are enacted into law. It was felt that whisky was already carrying all the tax it could stand, while in the case of beer the prohibition movement throughout the country, it was explained, had cut down the consumption of beer, and it was felt that it would be a hardship to impose any further tax.

AERONAUT DROWNED

Parachute Drops Into Pacific and He Is Carried to Death.

San Pedro, Cal., March 10.—While hundreds watched his frantic efforts to control a great balloon, which was swiftly bearing him 4,000 feet high over the Pacific Ocean, Lester Elkins, an amateur aeronaut, 20 years old, yesterday, cut loose his parachute and dropped into the waters of the outer harbor to his death. As a stiff wind carried him out to sea, boatmen hastily left the inner harbor in launches to rescue him, but their efforts were useless.

As the huge bag rose it creased, and was carried rapidly out over the water. Elkins tried desperately to guide it back over the land by swinging from the bar below, but soon the balloon was far out to sea. The parachute filled after he had fallen a short distance, but it was caught by the wind and carried still further out, and fell into the ocean, a mile beyond Deadman's Island. Elkins came to California a few months ago from San Antonio, Texas, where his mother now lives. His body was not recovered.

THREE CRUISERS RACE TO AZORES

The U. S. Scout Boat to Test Different Types of Engine.

Newport, R. I., March 9.—When the scout cruisers Salem, Birmingham and Chester, of the United States Navy, set out on their race to the Azores what will be in some ways the most interesting trans-atlantic race on record will have begun. In naval circles the event will attract scarcely less attention than the round-the-world cruise of the battleship fleet, which ended in Hampton Roads a short time ago.

It is a 5,000-mile race and the deck crew of each ship is confident of winning. They start with a feeling of intense rivalry and keyed up to highest tension. Down in the stoke hole of every cruiser, the coal passers and the firemen and engineers will work as they never did before. They have got to produce the speed, and the jockies on deck will spur them on to the limit.

The object of the race is to determine the relative value of different types of engines which are being used in the navy. Like the Chester nor the Birmingham will admit anything of the kind. Like the Chester has four Parsons turbines and the Salem has two of the Curtis pattern. Wireless telegraphy will keep the vessels in touch every mile of the distance. Each crew will know whether the other boats are behind or ahead, and if they are behind the work which will be done to keep steam up will be the equal of anything ever known below decks, even during battle.

The course will be to Porto Del Gada, on the west coast of the island of San Miguel, which is about 400 miles east of the coast of Portugal, and return. The start will be made next week.

The Salem is the favorite in the betting. It is believed by navy experts that she is the fastest of the three, but neither the crews of the Chester nor the Birmingham will admit anything of the kind. Like the Chester was built at Bath. The Salem has a remarkable record. She developed speed at the rate of 26.88 knots an hour when on a trial trip. She is 420 feet long, 47 feet 1 inch beam, trial displacement 3,745 tons, horsepower 16,000. For armament she carries three 5-inch, six 3-inch guns and two 21-inch torpedoes.

There have been races across the Atlantic between yachts and clipper ships, and between great passenger steamships, but this is the first time in the history of the American navy, or any other, that three of its fastest boats have been pitted against each other in a supreme speed test.

SALARY WAS FIXED AT $1,300

Board Recommends Increase for M. H. O.

SMALLPOX NURSE PAID $4 A DAY

Statement of the Cost of Patients Was Presented by Dr. Hutchinson.

There was a decidedly lively discussion at the meeting of the board of health yesterday afternoon, when Chairman Niven mentioned that he thought it would be advisable to raise the salary of Medical Health Officer Hutchinson from $1,200 to $1,500. "You can rest assured it won't pass the council," said Mayor Stevely; "I would leave his salary just where it is," said Mr. J. H. McMechan. "I won't stand for raising Dr. Hutchinson's salary," said Mr. Clarke. "For my part, I think we must ginger the medical health officer's department up a bit."

Against the Increase.

"I would not favor any such increase," Mr. A. Carrothers said, "particularly after what the mayor has told us. Some years ago the salary was made $1,000, and Dr. Hutchinson was allowed $200 extra for treating patients."

Dr. Niven pointed out that Dr. Hutchinson had had more work to do than usual in treating patients this year.

Mr. McMechan said he was paid $200 for doing it.

Dr. Hutchinson finally decided to give Dr. Hutchinson $1,300, but the council has yet to deal with the matter.

Dr. Hutchinson submitted the following report of the cost of the smallpox patients to March 1:

Smallpox Cases.
A. E. Mitchell, groceries.....	$15 17
Hunt & Son, ambulance.....	12 00
Hunt & Son, ambulance.....	45 00

Mrs. Vatcher, nurse, 35 days at $4 per day.....	350 00
Total.....	$585 10

Patients' Stay in Hospital.

Miss Crosby.....	20 days at $2 25 per day.....	45 00
Mr. Nelles.....	37 days at $2 25 per day.....	83 25
Mr. McFayden.....	33 days at $2 25 per day.....	74 25

Flynn.....	2 days at $2 25 per day.....	4 50
Total.....	303 days.....	$684 75

Report Criticized.

A great deal of fault was found with the report of the medical health officer to bring in a proper one, as the chairman pointed out that several patients' names were omitted in the list.

Several members asked why these names did not appear, but Dr. Hutchinson gave no explanation, beyond saying that he must have forgotten them.

City Being Held Up.

Mr. Clarke and Mayor Stevely both expressed the opinion that according to the statement the city was most deeply being held up in being charged $10 for the conveyance of patients to the ambulance hospital.

LIVELY BLAZE ON RICHMOND STREET

A lively blaze that for a few minutes looked as though it might prove serious, broke out last night about 8:30 in the Roberts Engraving Company plant on the top floor of the building. It completely gutted the front part of the building, seriously threatening the safety of the Free Press plant, which adjoins.

Cause a Mystery.

The fire must have been smoldering for some time before it finally burst into flame. It is thought to have started in the developing room, but what the cause was is a mystery.

The fire was a difficult one to handle, as the explosions of the nitric acid, used in the electrotyping work, filled the building with smoking fumes that seriously handicapped the firemen in their work.

Claims Paragraphs Are Justified

Objects to Motion to Strike Out Part of Editor Macdonald's Defense.

Toronto, March 10.—Mr. N. W. Rowell, K. C., replied yesterday morning before the master in chambers to the arguments of Mr. J. F. Bellmouth, K. C., last week, on the motion to strike out certain paragraphs in the statement of defense of J. A. Macdonald, editor of the Globe, in the action brought against him by Hon. George E. Foster for slander.

Mr. Rowell maintained that the paragraphs complained of were justified in the circumstances, and that if they had not done so the plaintiff might have moved for further particulars or to have the defense struck out. He said that if defendant could not give evidence in support of these allegations at the trial, then plaintiff would have the right to ask to have them struck out.

ALL GOING SLOW WATCHING TARIFF

Mr. Ballin Says Revision Will Not Be Settled in a Hurry--Financial Crisis Over.

Hamburg, March 10.—Albert Ballin, director general of the Hamburg-American Steamship Company, was interviewed regarding the passing by the company of this year's dividend announced yesterday. He expressed the conviction that economic crisis in the United States with its incidental accompanying effects was entirely over.

The money which in November of 1907, was withdrawn from the banks had now been fully returned to their coffers, but its useful employment was difficult because of the lack of a spirit of enterprise. The hopes for betterment as a result of the presidential election in the United States had not been fulfilled, Herr Ballin went on to say, to the extent that had been expected.

The idea of tariff revision was a disturbing one, he said, as great producers were compelled to be cautious owing to the danger of a reduction in American duties. Herr Ballin does not believe the tariff question will be settled as soon as President Taft and the banks think, yet the cropping up of tariff revision is not to be regretted as such talk avoids the danger of precipitate changes in American economic conditions and gives time for further consolidation. In conclusion, Herr Ballin said that the increase of emigration was a sign of growing prosperity.

THE CHOIR BACK

Dundas Singers Had Delightful Time and Made Fast Runs.

The Dundas Centre Methodist Choir gave a concert in Chalmers Baptist Church, at Toronto, last evening. They travelled by a special G. T. R. train, and made splendid runs, going and coming. The train was in charge of Conductor Wm. Ball and Engineer Hennessey.

About 250 members and their friends made the trip. An enjoyable time was spent while en route. Refreshments were served by the ladies, shortly after leaving the city. Chalmers Church was taxed to its capacity, and the choir added another success to their long list of triumphs. They left Toronto at 11:30 p.m., and arrived here at 3:30 a.m.

BOUGHT ISLE ROYALE

United States Steel Corporation Purchased It From British Corporation.

Detroit, Mich., March 9.—A News special from Houghton, Mich., says: The largest island in fresh water in the world has reverted to American ownership through the agency of business and without probably the knowledge of Washington, Isle Royale in Lake Superior in almost its entirety has just been bought by the American interests from the English syndicate which owned it for many years. The deal was concluded in London by Dr. W. Nichols, of Houghton, and Oscar J. Larson, of Duluth, the latter an attorney for the United States Steel Corporation. In the copper country it is believed that the Steel Corporation intends to cut the timber from the island and probably to exploit anew its abandoned copper workings.

The company making the sale is the Isle Royale Land Corporation, Limited, with an office in Liverpool. It was organized in 1880 as the Isle Royale Land Company, Limited, but the name was changed to the present title in 1891.

A SMUGGLING PLOT

Informers Tells How the Officers on Frontier Were Outwitted.

Montreal, March 9.—In the exchequer court here today Judge Casels, of Toronto, opened an investigation into a case of an alleged extensive smuggling conspiracy involving large amounts, the people implicated being mostly Syrian merchants. The case was laid on the evidence of a man named Richard Candor, who claimed that he had been the active agent in doing the smuggling, but had turned informer and laid the facts before the crown officers. This led to action being taken against the Damascus and agents Nargi Lavande also of Montreal, for $20,000 on a similar charge.

Candor was examined at length on the matter, and declared that in 1898 he had been employed by the Damascus Jewelry Company, which did business in both Ontario and Quebec, to smuggle goods into Canada for them. His modus operandi, he said, was to have the goods sent to him at an address at Lisbon, New York State, across the water from Toronto, Ont., where he was living. He would then row across to Lisbon, get the goods, and row them back by night, and secrete them in his house, later shipping them to the firm at Montreal. Owing to absence of witnesses, no evidence has yet been put in for the defense, and the case against the Lavande firm will go on tomorrow.

PRIEST WOUNDED

Newark, N. J., March 10.—The Rev. Father Erasim, of St. Stanislaus Church, was killed and a domestic was shot and wounded today by three men, as the result of a dispute over church matters.

AT ROCK-BOTTOM.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 10.—E. A. S. Clarke, president of the American Steel Company, who came up from New York today to attend the annual meeting of that corporation, thinks steel prices are at rock-bottom.

"The cut in prices has brought out some additional orders, but not any great amount," said Mr. Clarke, when asked about the situation. "In my opinion, the situation will remain as it is for a few months, probably until it is known what will be done in the way of tariff legislation. As soon as the tariff is settled upon, I look for better business."

"Prices now are as low as they will go, I think. We now have the lowest price for steel we ever had, all things considered."

"A reduction in the tariff will not bring lower prices. It may, however, keep them down there they are."

CARRIES OWN GRIP

Rich Mrs. Wilks is as Economical as Her Famous Mother.

New York, March 10.—Matthew Astor, Jacob Astor, and his bride, who was Miss Sylvia Green, the daughter of Betty Green, the richest woman in the world, are back in New York from their honeymoon trip in the south.

When they arrived in Jersey City from Philadelphia they first called on Mrs. Green at her home in Bloomfield street, Hoboken. They then came to the home of Mr. Wilks in New York. When Mr. and Mrs. Wilks arrived at Philadelphia they rode in a trolley car to the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, where they departed they scorned the handsome taxicab and even the trolley, walking to the Broad street depot.

Mrs. Wilks wore a gown of broadcloth, heavily braided. As she walked to the Broad street depot with her husband she held up the skirt of her travelling gown with one hand, while in the other she carried a travelling bag.

GRIEF KILLS ARTIST

Disappointment Over Reception of His Work Too Much.

Pittsburg, March 10.—George Hetzel, practically died of a broken heart because of his treatment at the hands of the hanging committee of the Pittsburg Carnegie Institute.

In low tones, but none the less intense and full of feeling, H. S. Hetzel, the prominent Pittsburg artist, made this statement, when asked to give some of the details of the case, to the exhibition of Hetzel's paintings, which he is greatly interested.

"Appropos of the exhibition," he continued, "all I have to say is that sometimes get me out to turn out to this man justice. George Hetzel, who at this late day is being so honored was one of the very best artists of Pittsburg ever produced."

"He won recognition in the most critical cities of the United States honor everywhere but in his own. I think he practically died of a broken heart because of the treatment he received from the hanging committee here. His work, work that was valued everywhere, was with enthusiasm, was coldly turned down here and by men, some of whom he helped to make."

"At the present time there are 165 patients in Victoria Hospital," said Superintendent Heard to The Advertiser this afternoon.

The majority of the cases are surgical. There are a number of cases of pneumonia also. The large number of patients shows that the hospital buildings are not a bit too big.

"It is a long time since we had so many patients," said one of the authorities. "Our capacity is only 80 beds."

Local Items. ACTION OVER AN INSURANCE POLICY. Enlarged for High Court--Workman Wants $5,000 Damages. Two more cases are entered for hearing at the high court, which opens its sittings under Chief Justice Falconbridge on Monday next. The first is an action for $5,000 damages, brought by Ellen C. McNeven, of this city, who has entered action against U. A. Buchner, a barber, to recover the balance of an insurance policy, which was forfeited by Daniel McNeven, her late husband. Some time ago Mr. Buchner loaned $225 to the plaintiff, who gave the policy for $1,000, as she claims, as a security. It appears that an assignment was made out, whereby the policy was sold for the amount. The plaintiff now claims that she did not understand the condition. The defendant, as well as the amount paid to the plaintiff, paid one premium on the policy, amounting to $40 45, and drew the insurance from the company on the death of Daniel McNeven. The plaintiff sues for the remainder of the policy, less the amounts paid and the interest on these amounts to date. The claim is for $592. The case is heard by Mr. J. Meredith, and Mr. John M. Gunn for the defendant. Wants $5,000. Walter Bell, who was injured while working on the Smallman & Ingram building last fall, has taken action against Edward Martin, the contractor for $5,000 damages. The plaintiff claims that a derelict on the second floor, when he fell to the ground, a distance of about forty feet. He claims that the defendant and his foreman, John Banks, were guilty of negligence in not covering the joints of each floor with boards, as is provided by the city bylaw. The plaintiff is a permanent invalid, and is disabled and crippled. Mr. J. F. Faulds acts for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Meredith, Fisher & McDonald for the defence.

"The attitude of London citizens," said a member today, "shows conclusively that any effort to stay the work on the monument has failed. The work will be completed by the end of the year. Mr. George C. Gibbons, K.C., is looking after the interests of the ladies who favor the accepted design of the monument, and Mr. Murray Clerk is acting for the National Chapter. Local Items. ACTION OVER AN INSURANCE POLICY. Enlarged for High Court--Workman Wants $5,000 Damages. Two more cases are entered for hearing at the high court, which opens its sittings under Chief Justice Falconbridge on Monday next. The first is an action for $5,000 damages, brought by Ellen C. McNeven, of this city, who has entered action against U. A. Buchner, a barber, to recover the balance of an insurance policy, which was forfeited by Daniel McNeven, her late husband. Some time ago Mr. Buchner loaned $225 to the plaintiff, who gave the policy for $1,000, as she claims, as a security. It appears that an assignment was made out, whereby the policy was sold for the amount. The plaintiff now claims that she did not understand the condition. The defendant, as well as the amount paid to the plaintiff, paid one premium on the policy, amounting to $40 45, and drew the insurance from the company on the death of Daniel McNeven. The plaintiff sues for the remainder of the policy, less the amounts paid and the interest on these amounts to date. The claim is for $592. The case is heard by Mr. J. Meredith, and Mr. John M. Gunn for the defendant. Wants $5,000. Walter Bell, who was injured while working on the Smallman & Ingram building last fall, has taken action against Edward Martin, the contractor for $5,000 damages. So far, however, no legal action has been taken, and no sisters and friends of the London ladies, unless they are definitely compelled to defend their position.

JAIL FOR ILLEGAL SALE
Albany, N. Y., March 6.—James Garfield was today sentenced to four months in jail for selling eye-glasses, not being a legitimate physical eye specialist, as required by the New York Optometry Board. This indicates the care taken to protect the public from the illegal practices of fake opticians. Managers will do well to profit by example, and intrust the care of their eyes to none but legitimate specialists.

The members are not personally responsible unless they are proven to have acted fraudulently in passing this bylaw, in which case they would be liable to indemnify the town.

Only those who have been tortured with kidney trouble can appreciate how Mr. Trumper suffered. Being a railroad man, he was called upon to do all kinds of heavy work. The constant strain of lifting, weakened the kidneys. I received the sample box of Gin Pills and was greatly benefited by them. My kidneys were in such bad condition I could not lift or stoop without pain. In fact, they pained me nearly all the time. I have taken three boxes of Gin Pills, working all the time at heavy work on the railroad and did not lose a day. FRANK TRUMPER, Napanee, Ont.

More Trouble for Devine.
Thomas Devine, of Lambeth is a bright and shining example of the fact that troubles never come singly. Some time ago someone ran off with his wife, and now he is in trouble over a piano. Added to this the company ask for 6 per cent interest from Feb. 20, 1909, and $20 in addition to cover their expenses. If these various sums are forthcoming the action will be dropped. J. M. A ROAST FOR COURTHOUSE
Health Officer Says It Is Insanitary.
"PENNY WISE AND POUND FOOLISH"

Dr. Hutchinson Says of the County Council—Ventilation Very Bad.
The following report, brought in by Dr. Hutchinson, on conditions at the courthouse, was considered at yesterday's meeting of the board of health, and the members were unanimous that it should be sent to the county council for their consideration. Possibly another copy may be sent to the provincial board of health.

The report is as follows: "To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Health: 'Gentlemen—Many complaints have been received regarding the insanitary condition of the courthouse. I beg to state that I have made a careful inspection, and during the same ventilation throughout the building is most defective. This condition is intensified by the system of heating by hot-air furnaces, and the 'penny wise and pound foolish' policy usually pursued by the county council, the heating apparatus is wholly unsuited. For what it cost to put in these three hot-air furnaces, a hot-water or steam-heating system could have been installed, not only being more sanitary, but also more economical. The ventilation of each room, besides doing away with the hot air, which is a public health risk to health, and by reason of the drafts are seldom resorted to. There is a slight in the roof, sections of which can be removed, and the same objection prevails. There is in each of the four corners of the chambers a gas burner is protected, but they are altogether inadequate to carry off the great volume of foul, vitiated air which is obtained by the windows. In cold weather these can only be opened at the public places are receptacles for so much filth. The janitor no doubt does all he can, but in a public building of this size, visited by all sorts and conditions of men, it is obviously impossible for one man to attend to three furnaces and keep the courthouse in the cleanly condition in which it should be; yet a parsimonious county council expects the janitor to do this and perform the duties of his constable as well.
