Ottawa, Jan. 8.-Nine British Colum bia braves, representing the Indians of that province, made a call on Premier Borden this morning, and like the many deputations of white men that have been in Ottawa since the change of Government, presented a request. However, there was a difference, for while most of the white men have asked for favors the aborigines claimed their demand was for a right. They asked for an absolute title to lands on which to live, and through their representative, J. M. Clarke, K.C., they stated that the Government of the province had refused to acknowledge

All Advantageously Priced in This White Sale Event of 1912

It seemed almost impossible last January to improve our White Sale of 1911. But we have done it!

Long before the time for this sale, preparations were being made. White Sale merchandise was gone over and scrutinized by experts, and every garment accepted stood the test when compared with the highest standard.

Thousands of women with a keen sense of values, plan, as a matter of course, to buy all their underclothes supplies during the January event. They know they will have to wait until another White Sale comes around before they can get anything nearly so good for so little money. Look at the gown pictured here, which is only one of scores of the garments specialized for

New York, Jan. 7. - The Atlantic fleet, now bound for Cuba, was more or less damaged by the storm on the Atlantic coast Friday. So far only two lives have been reported lost, and both of these were from the cruiser Salem, which is now creeping along the coast on her way to Norfolk navy yard. She was within 18 miles of Cape Henry at 6 o'clock this afternoon. and is expected to arrive in the roads before daybreak. The two men who lost their lives on the Salem were Taylor Bagwell, of Bellhaven, Va., and Herman Goldstein, of New York city. Ten other men who were caught by the same wave that washed their less fortunate shipmates overboard were picked up from the deck by comrades. These men, it is said, fell face downward on the deck and managed to remain on the ship by grabbing hold of chains and the railing. They were nearly frozen when picked up, and their clothing was covered with ice,

THE INJUSTICE TO THE WESTERN In a very strong letter Capt. T. J

Murphy has set forth a capital instance of injustice done by the Ontario Department of Education to the Western University and to one of its graduates. Insult and injury could hardly go further. Miss Jean Dearness, a graduate o 1906, with first-class honors in modern languages, went to the Normal College at Hamilton the following year and was permitted to take the specialist training course there for high school teaching. She was admitted also to examination at the close of the year. Since then she has never been able to get from the de partment a statement of the marks she obtained and was refused a spe cialist's certificate in moderns and history. A course of shuffling and quibbling was followed by the department in answer to inquiries from her and from the Western University. Can Sir James Whitney himself, who takes pride in his straightforwardness, give any countenance to "politic" man oeuvrings of such scurvy sort? Does he know about them? It is time he did, at any rate. Such "government" is not in the interests of education.

Since Miss Dearness' time no grad uate, however, qualified of Western University, has been allowed to take the specialist's examination at the Faculty of Education. Hers is, theretore, the only case in which the quality of the university's work on the highest plane has been tested; and cipal Thompson's letter to her it is pretty clear that she was successful. Other Western students who have pursued the general courses at the Faculty have acquitted themselves well. One of the graduates at present in attendance says that Dean Packenham who have been under him in the last few years. All the evidence, then, available to the department of the real standard of work done at the Western is in the university's favor. The department should be challenged to show a report by the dean of the Faculty of Education adverse to the Western University. If by its fruits it is to be known, the Western is entitled to full recognition by the department. Miss Dearness, in particular, who did the work and did it well, has been shamefully wronged. By the continued refusal of recognition of honor degrees from the Western University, Western Ontario is wronged, the province at large is wronged, in being de prived of specialists of approved

It should be the business of the Department of Education to encourage talent. That is what it does in centrial and eastern Ontario: it is pursuing a policy of repressing and coercing educational talent in Western Ontario. Here talent is thrown away and is driven to the United States. An honor graduate in classics of Western University last year is now teaching in the State of Maine two others have good positions in Arizona, another in moderns is a travelling fellow of Harvard University, and so on. This is how our Department of Education keeps teachers at home. There are none too many specialists in Ontario.

If Miss Dearness showed herself compétent, why did she not get the credit? Why did the department persistently refuse to give out her marks? Why did they not send her record to the Western University Senate? It surely has a right to know. The province has a right to know. This is no insignificant or merely personal or local matter, to be settled or not settled in hole and corner fashion. The cause of education and of securing an adequate supply of first-class teachers is a provincial cause.

UNIVERSITY CASE

Quibbling Reply Sent by Education Department to Senate of Western.

In his letter on injustice to the Western University, Mr. Murphy says that when the university senate asked the department of education for Miss Dearness' marks, "the marks were not forthcoming." On inquiry of the registrar it is ascertained that the department answered something like this, in March, 1907: "The examinations in question are in the hands of the Nornal College staff (i. e., Faculty of Education), and the department has no ecord of the marks." This is the same sort of answer as

Mr. Murphy says the department sent Miss Dearness herself.

When this answer was read to the senate, the minutes record a suggestion made that the Minister Education be requested to authorize the Normal College staff to furnish the marks. But, as Mr. Hodgins, then M. P. ## SUCCESS MEANS WORK

[By Cynthia Grey.]

The first rule for the attainment of success is application. Nothing is accomplished without work. If it should happen that by some freak of good fortune or circumstance a fleeting success is thrust upon one, it is more harmful than beneficial in the long run, as it often means undoing all gerie frock is made with a long waist, that has been done, and harder work and more trouble is necessary to reach a position from which you can again advance logically. Our real education begins with our first success.

Women have often said to me when I have explained to them the continuous regime they must pursue to reduce themselves or take on flesh by exercise and diet, or to become singers or actresses, "Oh, but will I have to keep up the work always?" Yes, you will have to work always if you amount to anything above

To keep beautiful you must work to find the proper food for yourself; you must work at the exercises that will bring health and heauty; you must work to keep yourself in splendid health and a state of immaculate grooming; you must work to put aside the petty annoyances of everyday life; you must not let them linger in your brain beyond the moment; you must work to keep your heart open to sympathy and love. You must work unceasingly to keep your body, heart and brain exercised in the proper-way.

If you are a singer or an actress the importance of your work begins when you arrive at your first success. The history of the stage is full of the names of players who have made one success in their profession and never repeated it. These people are called "one part actors," because they put aside all thought of continuing to work when the word "success" had been coupled with their names.

Each success must have its complement of work, and each individual success means a greater amount of labor than the one before it. The famous actors and actresses of the past never ceased to observe all phases and conditions of life and character. They worked continuously. Singers who are successful also work always. Most of the famous ones spend their vacation studying with the great teachers, learning new operas and absorbing new ideas to help them on to future successes. These are the people who are always visible. They stand above their fellows, and whatever God-given genius may be theirs it is nothing but hard work that places them on the pedestal.

Those men and women who rest upon one laurel will find the stem that nolds them so frail that the slightest contact with a real successful worker

Dressing the Child

Some children do not lend themselves to any sort of artistic dressing. But, on the other hand, there are a great many who do, the arrangement of the hair having a large say in the consummation of a picturesque appearance.

Instance after instance can be recalled where a child with no real claim to beauty has been rendered of most attractive appearance, thanks to a dis-creet arrangement of the hair. But it seems to those who have the dressing of children very close to heart that we have come to a sort of standstill. The lack of any really fresh departure is very marked. The same ground is worked year after year, and anything more deplorable than the spectacle of a little girl dressed in a tight skirt, a travesty of her mother's is nowhere to be found. The stage may, perchance, essay scintillation of any fashionable foible,

For this he was ment, in sums varying from two to five hundred dollars. Imprisonments of editors are, in deed, so frequent that all the more important newspapers have a system of so called "straw" editors. The straw editor does the work of the office, whilst the responsible editor goes to prison. The responsible editors are always changing, as the government does not allow a man or woman who has been punished by fine or imprisonment to be "responsible" any more. or to have his or her name put at the end of the newspaper as such. So the editor who has served his term or paid some of the bigger vessels. his fine often goes back to the office anxiety is felt for the torpedo flotilla as a "straw" has his name at the end of the news- sion of the Atlantic fleet. ## THE WORLD'S WORK DEPENDS ON THE WORLD'S DIGESTION

From the captain of industry to the hod carrier-from milady in the auto to the woman with the scrubbing brushthe accomplishments of every one of us depend absolutely on the accomplishments of our stomachs. Backed by a good digestion, a man can give the best that is in him. When his stomach fails, he becomes a weakling. To this loss of power no one need submit. Right habits of eating, drinking, sleeping and exercise, aided by Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, will restore and maintain the full efficiency of the human mind and body.

Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets contain the active principles needed for the digestion of every kind of food. They go to the assistance of the weakened stomach, and enable the sufferer, right from the start, to assimilate and get the benefit of the food caten. LOSE IN LAST HALF Paddlers Nearly Score a Shutout Over the Classic City Seven-Score Was 8 to 2.

Toronto, Jan. 8.—Parkdale opened the enjor O. H. A. series at the Ravina Winnipeg, Jan. 6.—By a score of 11 feated Stratford by the score of 3 to 2. The Classic City outfit were only a skele-ton of their former team, and the Padllers had it on them at every stage, leading at the half by 4 to 0, and making it 7 to 0 in the second half before the visitors managed to break the ice.
Stratford had good combination, but when in close were bad shots—something not new for them. Rankin, in goal for the visitors, was given a busy night of it, and it was only through his good work that the score was not larger. Bartlett, who played with the Rowing lined up with the Pad-Beulah Davidson was at point for the locals, and he and Lawson certainly made a fast defence.

The visitors were beaten at every angle, and after half-time the result was never in doubt. Only a fair-sized crowd turned out, but they were very enthusiastic over the size of the new rink. The teams: the size of the new rink. The teams:

WANDERERS WIN FROM SENATORS

Champion Ottawas, Once Invincible, Are Swept Off Their Feet.

It Looks as Though the Wanderers

Have the Best Team in N. H. A. This Season. Montreal Jan. 7.—It did not take packed arena that they had the best team in the association last night, for, sweeping the champion Ottawas fairly off their feet, the locals scored three goals in the first twelve minutes of play and maintained the superiority so well that at the end of the hour they were victors over the one-time invincibles by the decisive score of 9 to 5 Wanderers did not have much on the champions in the matter of speed; in fact, the Senators travelled a trifle faster than the locals, but in every other department of the game the Wanderers had the edge. From goal to centre they showed better form, especially in their combined efforts. In the first first quarter they out-scored the Senators, 3 to 2, and in the second they overwhelmed them by 4 to 1, and even in the last without the services of Ernie Russell at centre, they scored goal for goal with the visitors. Odie Cleghorn proved himself to be the best man on the ice. He scored four of the nine goals tallied by the Wanderers and was in several other lays that resulted in tallies. One the opposing wing, was, perhaps. best, but he did not have much on either Ronan or S. Cleghorn. divided the scoring honors with his right wing, Shore, getting the odd in In the matter of zig-zag running, Art Ross was there with several choice samples, and while the big defence man did not shoot any goals himself, he could be counted on to bring the rubber into Ottawa territory every few noments, and it was on a pass from his stick that Roberts scored in the first period. Only one major foul was committed.

Ernie Russell being compelled to retire in the last period for taking a crack at Kerr when the latter bodied him against the boards. Bernier replaced Russell and was in turn replaced by Russell and was in turn replaced by McGregor, but both were apparently out of their class. The teams and offidals and summary:

The Umpire Question

Much has been said on the way the Canadian League umpires were treated by the players last year. President Fitzgerald has announced that he will not tolerate umpire balting in any shape or form, and the fans can be assured that he will carry out his promise. That he will have the support of all clean lovers of the game goes without saying. Here is a letter that was mailed to the Sporting Editor by one of the fans in regard to umpiring in the Canadian League:

London Advertiser, Sporting Editor: Dear Sir-While reading over your Sporting Page, I noticed a little criticism bestowed upon the "Umpires" of our new Canadian League: As an ardent baseball fan I wish to express my views in that respect. Ex-President Ferguson has said much which is true concerning the umpire's position. I have witnessed many games in the Canadian League circuit, and feel justified in saying that the umpires have been treated shamefully. Umpire Brichter was a good man, and was driven from the league. Umpire Fitzmaurice, who proved to be capable of holding the position, was let out for why? No one seems to know. Umpire Smith was also a good man, but refused work any longer. Now these men, I have seen work in five or seven games, and I must say they produced their proofs of being reliable, consistent umpires. I have also witnessed several games in the National and American Leagues, but have never seen so much illtreatment displayed the "Umps" as has been shown the past season.

President-Elect Fitzgerald would do well were he to follow President Ban Johnston's system, and give the umpires the controlling hand. Thanking you for your valnable space, I remain sincerely AN ENTHUSIASTIC FAN.

Straight Talks to Live People

Our Mid-Winter Reduction Sale started nicely. We met a lot of wise, shrewd buyers on Saturday, and they certainly appreciated the big cut in prices.

Now, listen. Do not expect to find a complete range in ANY style. It's simply this: After our remarkable selling season EVERY line is clean busted. We have hundreds of elegant Suits and Overcoats for men and boys, thrown on sale because we have only one, two or three of a kind left. All sizes to be found in the combined lots. The sale price of every Suit and Coat in the store is marked plainly on each garment.

In fairness to your pocketbook drop in and see them. You'll not be met by a pack of ravenous wolves of salesmen, eager and hungry for your dollar. Every salesman in this store is a gentleman, trained in his line, and will show you the goods as

BRITISH ACTORS IN A DICKENS BENEFIT

Famous Thespians Paid a Tribute to Genius of the Great Novelist.

London, Jan. 7.—The actors and actresses of London this evening paid a tribute to the genius of Charles Dickens, when at the Coliseum Theatre hey gave a performance of the great ovelist's works in aid of a fund which s being raised for his grandchildren. The presentation was made up chiefly of Dickens' plays and tableaux pertraying familiar scenes and incidents rom the books of Dickens.

Practically all of those who took part were stars. Seymour Hicks and company gave the one-act play "Scrooge," E. S. Willard and Miss Alexander Carlisle an excerpt from "Martin Chuzzlewit," Cyril Maude and company a humorous scene entitled "Mrs. Sairey Gamp," while the Follies presented "The Follies Edition of Dickens' Works.

Later there entered some of the contemporaries of Dickens: Thacker ay, John Forster, Gladstone, D'Israeli, Macready, and others, about 150 actors and actresses taking part. For the finale the performers grouped themselves around a figure of the

TY COBB'S RULES FOR COMING STARS

The successful players are those who use their brains sheer physical power never put one at the top nor kept him

Good habits are as essential in baseball as they are in any other vocation in life. Overindulgence spells a brief career on the diamond.

Two meals a day are plenty. Coffee is bad; so are eigarettes. Buttermilk is an ideal beverage and never befuddles the senses

Regular sleepe for the embryo player is a necessity. Make up for the loss of several hours of one night by going to bed earlier the next two.

Don't chew gum. It's bad for the optic nerves, and if there is one thing a player, needs, next to nerve, it is good eyesight.
