RAIN BOMBS AROUND HOSPITALS,
With the American Army in France, Thursday, May 30.—By the Associated Press.—German airmen made a pretentious raid on the area behind the American lines in Picardy last night. Bombs were dropped on all sides of one of the largest hospitals in a town many miles to the rear of the front. German and French wounded soldiers were carried to cellars and caves by American nurses and members of the American Pod Cross of the American Red Cross.

Only a few persons were injured by tlying glass, as most of the

Only a few persons were injured by rlying glass, as most of the windows in the hospital had been shattered by bombs dropped the previous night. Several private houses were wrecked, and a number of civilians, including several bables, were killed and injured.

In some instances the bombs fell within 30 and 40 feet of a hospital building but, fortunately, there were no direct hits. A French nurse, her mother and two little sisters were killed in a house a short distance from a hospital. Another nurse was standing on the upper floor of the hospital ministering to patients, when a piece of bombs struck her, piercing her lung. Five American nurses were in the same hospital. While the raid was in progress the nurses went about cheering the patients.

Three American ambulances were caught in the raid. The patients in one were all hurled out, but escaped with a few scratches. The second car apparently received the full force of the explosion, and was

AMERICANS ROUT TANKS

With the American Army in France, May 30.—In one of the counter-attacks launched against Cantigny, the Germans tried to use tanks. The enemy infantry had no more than shown itself when the Ameri-can artillery opened a heavy fire. Both the foot soldiers and the tanks driven back in disorder. The new American positions in Cantigny are being improved constantly.

German airmen, flying at a great height, penetrated many miles to the rear of the American lines today. They were driven off by anti-aircraft guns and were unable to drop any bombs.

During the voyage several rats were killed by the storekeeper, and other dead rats were found in the storem. The ship is now moored off Gravesend. It will be disinfected and the rats destroyed.

Woodstock, May 31.—Charles Wilson, Oxford County failer, died suddenly this morning from heart failure. He was born in Woodstock 69 years ago, and had been jailer of the county for ten years. Until his appointment, he took an active part in municipal and provincial politics. He was a staunch Conservative, and at one time opposed unsuccessfully the late Sir Oliver Mowat in the Conservative interest for North Oxford legislative seat.

RETREAT ACROSS THE AISNE WAS A BRILLIANT FEAT

Correspondents emphasize that the retreat over the Alsne was a most brilliant feat of warfare, both as regards calm generalship and the courage of the troops. The ground was repeatedly fended to the last man. Officers were seen holding the bridges to the last moment, and then killed when they blew them up. The outstanding episode was the defence of Craonne by a British and a French colonial division against double the number of Germans, whose initial gas attack was followed by an attack of tanks en masse.

COMPLETELY CRUSH FRENCH ARMY OBJECT OF THE GERMAN THRUST

Amsterdam, May 31.—Political motives, including the defeat of the French army are responsible for the German thrust on the Alsne, according to a suggestion in the Rheinische Westae-lische Zeitung of Essen.

"We are on the right road," it says, with this attack, for all political considerations imperatively demand that we should show the French our strong arm. Well considered strategic plans were at the bottom of our blow at strong timent."

NOTHING SACRED TO BARBARIANS

Paris, May 30.—A shell from a German long-range gun struck a Paris church today. An official statement making this anouncement adds:

"The fact should be compared with Cardinal von Hartmann's request to the British Government that Cologne not be bombarded today—the Feast of Corpus Christi. This is another example of German bad faith. The least that could have been expected is that Germany would have had the same forbearance for Paris as was asked for Cologne."

THE WAR SITUATION

Keeping the tide of their advance in the centre flowing strongly, although seemingly less swiftly toward the Marne the Germans simultaneously have executed a stroke on the Allied left flank that has extended the battle tide westward and virtually linked up the present battlefield with that on the Somme. Attacked Along Allette.

The attack was delivered along the Sweeping forward in the salient that projected between the Somme and the Alsne battlefields, the Germans drove northwestward from the vicinity of Soissons, through Epagny and Blerancourt to the Oise River, apparently at its point of Junction with the Oise Canal, about eight miles east of Noyon.

NEARING The Noyon area was included within the field of the German offensive in March, when the French established new lines along the Oise and the Oise Canal to the east and southwest of that town after being driven back below St. Quentin. The German drive down the Oise Valley toward Parls was then St. Quentin. The German drive down the Oise Valley toward Parls was then checked. Although the German sallent is about eighteen miles deep in the centre, Paris is not much nearer nor has the enemy advance yet affected the Allied lines eastward from Montdidier. In fact the eastward from Montdidier. In fact the Germans would be in a dangerous position should General Foch strike eastward along the Alsne from Solssons. This may be the purpose of the Allied strategy in holding strongly on the flanks as the Germans get deeper and deeper into the pocket toward the Marne.

French defence on the west around Solssons the Germans are unable to gain. In the region of Rheims the same story is true as the British and French divisions there stand firm.

By penetrating to the Marne or southward from Fere-en-Tardenois, 7 miles north of the river, which they now hold, the Germans apparently hope to spread out eastward and westward, as they falled to do further north, and thus outflank the strong Allied positions at Solssons and at Rheims. LIVELY GUNFIRE IN FLANDERS

London, May 31 .- Activity of the German artillery in the Villers-Bretonneux sector east of Amiens and in the Albert region to the north, is reported today by the war office. There has also been lively gunfrom the enemy line on the Flanders front, between Festubert and the Clarence River. The text of the statement reads:
RUSHED GERMAN POST.

"A party of our troops rushed a German post southeast of Arras during the night and captured a few prisoners. A few prisoners and a a machine gun were captured by us also in patrol encounters east of Ypres. The enemy raided one of our posts northeast of Robecq. A few of our men are missing.

"The hostile artillery was active in the Villers-Bretonneux and Albert sectors, and between Festubert and the Clarence River." RHEIMS MAY BE ABANDONED.

London, May 31 .- Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency .- In accordance with precedent established by previous offensives, the German advance yesterday slackened considerably on both the centre and wings. An encouraging feature as compared with the March drive is that slackening occurred after four days, but anxiety is not diminished. The abandonment of Rheims seems inevitable. The Germans are nearing the Marne and the Paris-Chalons Rail-

RIGID ENFORCEMENT HERE

Head of Dominion Police Issues Warning of What Will Be Done.

That the military service branch of the department of justice desires to warn all men subject to service as to requirements with respect to documents to be carried after June 1, is evidenced by large posters being sent out all over the Dominion. Copies of these have been received by the deputy registrar here, the Dominion and city police officials and the military authorities, with requests to post them up in conspicuous places.

In view of the heavy penalties attached for violation of the order-incouncil of April 20 last, it devolves upon every man subject to this order to secure the necessary papers and keep them in his possession or an premises where he may be.

The onus of proof that the man himself is not liable to service in the militia lies with the individual and not with those officials whose duty it is to enforce the act.

Caut. Asa Minard, inspector of the those officials whose duty it is to enforce the act.

Capt. Asa Minard, inspector of the Dominion police for Military District No. 1, stated today that the regulations would be rigidly enforced after June 1, and it was up to all men to be fortified with proof as to their status with respect to military service.

Men from 20 to 34 inclusive, and unmarried or widowers, must show exemption certificates or discharge papers as returned soldiers who have served in an actual theatre of war.

Single men beyond 34, but whose appearance might lead the authorities to suspect that they were not over that age, are advised for their own protection to carry birth certificates. Many single men of 35 and 36 look younger than some others of 32 or 33.

The wisest course for these unmarried men or widowers who have just passed 34, is to carry birth certificates.

Marriage certificates of men from 20 to 34 years must be carried in order to prove their status. Official certificates or papers signed by two reputable citizens certifying to certain facts. or papers signed by two reputable citi-zens certifying to certain facts are

3. Yes.

4. No.

FARMER JONES. Q.—1. What is meant by category C1, also C2?

2. Would a man married between July 6, 1917, and April 20, 1918, 25 years of age, still be considered unmarried, or would he be in the second class?

A.—1. Category C indicates that a man is fit for service in Canada. They should be free from serious organic disease and able to stand service conditions. If classified C1, they should be free from serious organic disease and able to stand service conditions. If classified C1, they should be free from work a distance not exceeding five miles. It classified C2 they should be fit for ordinary duties not involving marching or continuous heavy labor.

2. As the regulations now stand, any man who had attained the age of 20 no October 13, 1917, and who was married after July 6, 1917, is classed unmarried.

April 20, 1918, is the dead-line for men who were too young for the draft last fall, as far as marriage is concerned.

Further regulations may be made to provide for such cases as that mentioned, though as it stands now, he is a Certificate and to be a defaulter or described to perform military service and to be a defaulter or described to perform military service and upon conviction fined $50 or one month in jall or both. In addition to this, the man may be taken into military service and punishable upon conviction by a fine of $500 or six months in jall. It is believed all men will carefully observe the requirements with reference to certificates, as the penalties are too great to justify indifference.

HALF LOAF OF BREAD PER DAY IS EQUIVALENT OF OPERATORS' RAISE

Great rejoicing is reported from the Springbank pumping station. The operators employed there have recently had an increase in salary. It was a good fat increase, amounting to $20 per year, or $1.66 per month. When the first check for mental. When the first check for the half year is received it is said that the men will have it framed and presented to the commission as a token of their esteem, not forget-ting to mention that one of the other employees of the commission received an increase amounting to fifty times as much as theirs, or The operators have not had an advance in pay for some time. Or rather, yes they had. It is incorrect to say they have had no advance since 1913. They were given a raise of $15 a month last year. But before that time they had been feceiving free housing, and after the "increase" came they were able to pay rent, so the commission arranged that they should pay the $15 increase in rent. The operators were given the pleasure of handling the money, and perhaps catching two-steenths of a cent in interest as it flitted past them.

The letest increase of $1.66 per month has overwhelmed them with joy. The high cost of living is a serious thing, and $1.66 a month will buy one-half loaf of bread a day. And a half a loaf is better than no bread—also the commission no doubt book into consideration the fact that the carp fishing is fine just below the pumphouse. A good sized German carp, a half a loaf of bread, and good friends beside them in the woodsy wilderness side them in the woods wilderness—golly, isn't that paradise for any man who works with his hands? Anyone who has ever tasted a carp sandwich will envy the lot of the pumpinghouse operator.

No Railway Statement.

"No statement can be given out until the terms of the agreement have been made public by the minister of labor," replied Manager C. B. King to a question today as to how the company would be financially affected by the new scale of wages. In any event, he intimated, it would be some time before a statement could be compiled.

That there are no new developments in connection with increased fares, Manager King also affirmed.

What steps will be taken, if any, in an effort to secure higher fares were not intimated.

JOSEPH SANDERS. Mr. Sanders' heart rejoice is the fact that up and down the length and breadth of this continent and overseas are just such cases of young people for whom lives of happiness and usefulness have been made possible by the Children's Aid under his regime.

Forty of his "boys" have donned the khaki in defence of King, country and the principles of justice and right country.

the principles of justice and righteousness. Many of the wards of the earlier days are married and happy in their own homes. The business of making crooked places straight for little feet has been crowned with wonderful success. Of all the wards who have been crowned for and placed in feature been. cared for and placed in foster homes it would be difficult to count up a number worth mentioning who have not turned out a credit to themselves, their foster parents and the Children's id, not to mention the venerable and methods. He knows about every ward who has passed through the Shelter and been placed in a foster home since he accepted the inspectorship in 1894, with the inauguration of the work here. If he hasn't the information right in his head he can get it in a few minutes from the careful records that have been kept of every single case. To be sure, many have been "transients" in the Shelter, hundreds and hundreds of them, whose whereabouts is not known. These have stayed a period of greater or lesser length because of sickness in the family, which made it impossible to be cared for at home until claimed by relatives, or because of delinquency.

*Regard It as Home. Regard It as Home,.

The fine thing about the Shelter is that the real wards look upon it with a home feeling, and their regard for Mr. Sanders is not diminished as the years go by. The letters which pour into his office testify to this. Sometimes the letters are written in an times the letters are written in an awkward, childish hand, mis-spelt and most ingenuous in construction. Sometimes they come direct from a field postoffice in France, and these always awaken a special thrill in the heart of Father Sanders. Wouldn't he just awaken a special thrill in the heart of Father Sanders. Wouldn't he just be there with the boys if he were young enough! And many of them might envy his soldierly bearing, his quick movements, his unfailing fastidiousness in regard to attire that belie the fact he is in his 84th year.

Sometimes the letters are a business scrawl, or in the chirography of the student. Among all these foster sons and daughters are numbers who have taken a high standing in high schools and passed on to the universities. Others have fitted themselves for teachers. Occasionally a letter comes along in rhyme, whereat the face of the worthy inspector beams with pride. The poetic person is a journalist who has received wide recognition, but the journalist person never forgets the sum of indetedness to Levester.

nas received wide recognition, but the journalist person never forge's the sum of indebtedness to Inspector Sanders.

The journalist persons, by the way, has a very tender feeling for fellow wards of the Children's Aid, especially the boys sawing the color. the boys serving the colors. The journalist person writes letters in rhyme to the boys in khaki and the boys like it immensely. They clamor for more.

Invitations Bring Up Memorles.
Outs frequently a wedding invite ton

Quite frequently a wedding invitation comes to the inspector, which revives old memories. The inspector has a vein of romance which makes him glad to see his wards, "happily settled in homes of their own." He recalls the circumstances from which the groom-to-be or bride-to-be was taken and his heart swells with thankfulness that all has turned out so well. At the insistent wish of foster parents and the young person about to be married. he has on more than one occasion "given the bride away."

Often the letters that come in are from foster parents, who have found the children adopted by them veritable sunbeams in their homes. It has been a case of "twice blessed," the measure many times running over.

When the Children's Aid Society work was first inaugurated in London in 1893, there was no place to take children rescued from destitution, unsuitable environment delignment. uitable environment, delinquency, Arsuitable environment, delinquency. Arrangements were made for accommodation at the Protestant Orphans' Home, which served until the rapid growth of the work demanded larger quarters. A Shelter was then equipped on Fullarton street, thanks to the generosity of friends who saw the need. In 1899 the society was again confronted by the necessity for expansion, and at a most nominal price the house and grounds on Wharncliffe road, which became Thomas Alway Hall, were purgrounds on Wharncliffe road, which became Thomas Alway Hall, were purchased from Malcolm Kent. Further, Mr. Kent made a contribution of $500. Each of the members of the Children's Aid board of that year rose heroically to the occasion, giving $100 apiece to the good cause, with the result that cash was paid for the property.

Doubled Since War.

The next lift was the securing of

The next lift was the securing of generous financial aid from the Blair estate through the sympathetic interest taken by T. H. Purdom, K. C. This meant a building adequate for the needs at the time. Since the outbreak of war the work Since the outbreak of war the work and demand for accommodation in the Shelter have doubled. This has been due in a large measure to the number of children of soldiers looked after during the illness of the mother, or when the mother has died leaving helpless a little brood at the time daddy is fighting for them overseas. Several legacies and the interest awakened in the "365 Club Fund" have helped to make necessary enlargements and remake necessary enlargements and re-arrangements, and to keep the good arrangements, and to keep the good work going.

Much of Mr. Sanders' thought and attention have been given to delinquent boys and girls, children who some way have made a bad start, or been led astray by companions, and who have ended up in the police court. In his experience as inspector, Mr. Sanders has been associated with four police magistrates, the late P. M. Parke, the late P. M. Francis Love, Judge J. C. Judd and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon.

Co-Operation of Police.
Always the finest spirit of cition has prevailed, and Mr.

has received the assistance in every possible way of the magistrates who have had entire confidence in him.

This confidence since the earliest days of the Children's Aid Society work has been extended to Mr. Sanders by the chief of police. The inspector has been extended to Mr. Sanders by the chief of police. The inspector has had the chief's authority to take policemen off their beats to raid houses in connection with which suspicions were well founded. The extent of the clean-up work of the aid, both in the city and county, has been evidenced by the growing infrequency of such raids at the instigation of the phildren's Aid.

So far as delinquency among young people is concerned, Mr. Sanders for years has strongly advocated that seventeen, and not sixteen, be the age limit for committent of young people to the charge of the Children's Aid While London has not experienced much difficulty with 17-year-old girls and boys who up to that time have kept straight, though cases have come under the attention of the inspector to make him feel the desirability of a change in regulations.

With his benevolent face, kindly voice, silver white hair and beard, Inspector Sanders must be an ideal grandfather kind of a man to the boy and firl wards. In any case they aren't the least bit afraid of him. Before the reporter left his office the other day a foster mother and father entered to pay a visit, accompanied by their own bonny child and an attractive looking little one whom they had recently adopted. For one reason, they had evidently picked the adopted child because she bore a striking resemblance to them, not only in features, color of eyes and hair, but in expression. They liad been shopping for her, and no child could have been more smartly or becomingly fitted for a summer's day. They wanted Mr. Sanders to see While the others in the room chatted by the window the inspector took the society's small ward apart for a little talk with has received the assistance in every possible way of the magistrates who have had entire confidence in him.

The Canadian Bankers' Association

Invites the Co-Operation of the Public on Behalf of the Banks

Staffs Heavily Reduced by War

MORE than half the men in the banks of Canada are now on military service, and the number which remains is being steadily reduced.

Women clerks have been employed in thousands and have done splendidly, but they have not the experience of the men they replace. It would be out of the question to expect them to work as rapidly or with the same knowledge of banking as officers of many years training in the profession.

The drain upon the number of experienced officers has new reached a point where it is necessary to ask the public to take into consideration this decrease in efficiency, and to lighten, as far as they can, the burden thus thrown upon those left to run the business. Canada was never so busy as now and the volume of banking business is greater than ever before.

How the Public Can Help

Transact your banking business in the morning as far as possible. and as early as possible. Try to avoid a rush at closing time.

Do not draw any more cheques than are absolutely necessary. Instead of paying small accounts by cheque, draw the money in one amount and pay in cash.

Change in Banking Hours June 1st.

On and after June 1st banking hours will be: 9.30 to 2.30; Saturdays 9.30 to 12.00.

This arrangement will give the staff more time to complete the large amount of work which cannot be taken up until after the office is closed to the public.

Special Services Discontinued July 1st.

Certain services must of necessity be discontinued, for a time at least.

On July 1st banks will discontinue receiving payments for tax bills and the bills of gas, electric and other public service corporations.

The banks desire to render all essential services including many special ones arising out of the war. In order to do this they make this appeal for co-operation in the manner suggested above

Maude Allan figured in the affair for the reason that she had been engaged to play the part of Salome, in a play called "Salome," originally written by the late Oscar Wilde. The play, which included a dance, was to be put on at the Independent Theatre under J. T. Grein's management. The dance did not pretend to be that danced by Salome, but was supposed to represent a vision seen by Salome after she had given the dance for which the head of John the Baptist was the reward.

In the early stages of the trial, Mr. Grein, who was born in Amsterdam, but is a British subject by naturalization, said he had founded "the German fair" in London, and that he held the Fourth Class of the Order of the German Eagle and the Order of the Prussian Crown. Miss Allan had no German associations, to his knowledge.

PARIS, May 30.—Some airplanes crossed the line in the direction of Paris tonight. The alarm was sounded at 11 o'clock and the "all-clear" signal was given at midnight. London, Ont., Friday, May 31. CENTRE HURON LIBERALS.

THE LIBERALS of Centre Huron held a meeting the other day. No man or newspaper has yet disputed their right to call themsolves Liberals. They constituted the regularlyorganized gathering known as a Liberal convention, and without fear or favor they spoke right up and told what was on their minds. They passed a resolution of censure upon Mr. William Proudfoot, M.P.P., for his remarks supporting Union Government, and in which inferat the same time they placed themselves on record trips made to the old country by ships bearing as supporters of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. They have troops from the Dominion not one life has been received mild rebukes from newspapers that supported the Union Government, but they will not be inclined to shed any tears over the attempts could no longer claim to be Liberal leader, and military upstarts, according to German logic? that all true Liberals had flocked over with Mr. Rowell, et al. This tendency is not so marked at may be the logical answer to the safety of Canthe present time. The Liberal Opposition, led ada's soldiers on the high seas and in the subby Sir Wilfrid, made a good showing at the last marine zone. Then to this is added the element session. It was a good thing for the country that of good luck, instanced as when the Hesperian this opposition was there; more nefarious acts was torpedoed on a return voyage, the net result than those perpetrated would have been carried being to restore the sight and hearing of a returnout but for fear of the undaunted few who faced ing Canadian soldier. the power-swollen majority. The swallowing of that "abomination" called the war times election act has made a good many former Liberals just a trifle ill. It does not seem to be wholesome food to them.

"These are matters regarding which there will naturally be a difference of opinion among Liberals, and as to which, if the party is to be speedily reunited. there must be a good deal of forbearance and toleration.

Liberals who stood with the Laurier party will be surprised that there should be a tendency graciously to condescend to receive them back again in the fold. Those who have been rebuked so frequently by the Liberals who went into the Unionist party will find this attitude rather difficult to understand. One of the questions that is certain to be debated sooner or later is as to Wilfrid Laurier would be the one man to achieve it. No other has appeared with a shadow of the unifying influence of the old chieftain of his party. Borden Government allows such license.

results have not been too encouraging since he summoned his nation to the cause, but all the vicissitudes and all the trials have been shared by the president and his people. They are in for the hard times of the war. They are in it, with us, to the death.

It is an inspiring thing to all peoples to see this man, who gives infrequent displays of summoning the Almighty to his assistance, call upon his people to prostrate themselves before the Power that controls the universe, to admit their need for Divine guidance and to throw their petitions upon the throne of mercy. On the surface there may have been much superficial gayety on the American holiday, but in the homes and in the hearts of all those who proudly bear their nationality must have struck that same sense of dedication to a noble purpose as inspired Lincoln in his immortal Gettsyburg address. "Humble yourselves before your Maker" was the command of Woodrow Wilson. Even while the Germans surged over Soissons and slaughtered thousands, the Allied cause was winning a great moral victory through the declared devotion of the American people to the Christian principles that animate the soldiers of the western front. Canadians may well go forward with a prayer in their hearts for such men as Wilson, Lloyd George, for our own leaders who are called to carry on the crusade for righteousness in the spirit of Coeur de Lion.

Our Big Removal Sale

Now In Full Swing!

JUST ONE MORE DAY TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS BIG REMOVAL CLEARANCE SALE CLOSES SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 1st

The people of London and vicinity are to have an opportunity of buying Musical Instruments of all kinds such as have never been offered in London before. This sale is not to be like many so-called removal or fire sales. It is not merely an effort to dispose of a lot of old shopworn stock. We are changing from our ware rooms to another, at 265 Dundas Street, owing to the tremendous increase in our business during the past 12 months, and before doing so are going to make a CLEAN SWEEP OF ALL STOCK in our present warerooms. This is not to be a long-drawn-out removal sale for months, such as is sometimes put on with a view to keeping people calling for bargains indefinitely, but will last for THREE DAYS ONLY, being Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, as we are obliged to be out of our present store on June 1.

We have over 400 phonographs in stock as well as 10,000 records, and a large stock of Pianos, Players, Organs, Benches, Stools, Record Albums, Etc.

Phonographs from $10 to $400 --- Records from 85c to $8 --- Organs from $10 to $85 Stools and Benches from $2.50 to $10 --- Pianos and Player Pianos from $72.50 to $850

Everything Will Be Sold Regardless of Cost!!

STARR PHONOGRAPHS

Are famous for their beautiful singing musical quality of tone, and attractive designs. This is the phonograph with the wonderful singing throat and horn of silver grain spruce. This is an exclusive feature in the Starr, and perhaps the best proof of its superiority is found in the fact that there were 40,000 Starr Phonographs sold last year, and our sales in Canada increased 700 per cent on a monthly basis during the past 12 months. A year ago the Starr was not well known in London, owing to the fact that Canada had not been developed, although 30,000 phonographs had been sold in the U.S. A. the preceding year. The last 12 months, however, has seen hundreds of Starr Phonographs find a place in the homes of the best people and best musicians in Canada.. People critical in musical tastes have exchanged their former phonographs for a Starr.

The Starr includes many exclusive features. It is a genuine Universal machine, playing all makes of records perfectly, including the Starr, Victor, Edison, Columbia, Pathe and any others. It not only plays the different makes of records, but plays them better and with a quality not found in any other phonograph on the market, due to the peculiar quality of the silver-

Spruce is recognized the world over as the ideal musical instrument wood. It has been used by the Old Masters in making the finest violins. It is used in all piano sounding boards, harps, 'cellos and guitars. In fact, it is the recognized wood for any sound-producing instrument calling for soft, sweet, full, round, tone, eliminating entirely the nasal effect found in phonographs where the metal horn is used.

Gourlay Pianos and Player-Pianos

Are so well known in London and recognized as a high quality instrument that it requires little introduction. It is now in the homes of some of the best musical people in London and throughout Canada, also in many schools, churches, conservatories of music, colleges, etc., which demand a strictly high grade instrument.

After the business session a unique program given by all the old knitters, that is, by all those who had knit from their early girlhood days, their ages ranging from 40 to nearly 80 years. These ladies rendered two patriotic choruses, and readings were given by Mesdames Ed Laird, Alfred Laird, John Webster and Osborne. A whistling solo by Mrs. Thomas Dobbyn, and a trio by Mrs. Lindsay, Mrs. Drew and Mrs. Beatty, were greatly enjoyed.

Letter Paper and Acid Drops. Conce more an appeal comes from C.W.C.A. headquarters for stationery. Mrs. McLaren Brown writes:

"All the Y.M.C.A., Church Army and English Comforts Associations are hunting for stationery. Naturally the men like to take with them as they go to the front line something where with to write final letters to their people, and stationery such as they use is now practically unprocurable."

We really must respond to that appeal. It is pitiful to think of a lad longing to send a message home before going into battle and being compelled to leave the tender word unsaid, because we did not send him paper upon which to write.

cause we did not send him paper upon which to write.

And then there is something else the boys want. "You cannot send us too many acid drops," says Mrs. McLaren Brown. All sweet things are very expensive and scarce in England these hard days, and we must just do without this little luxury and send to the boys what the English people cannot send, no matter how generous they may be. Who will give the first donations?

QUESTIONS FOR TODAY.

16. Verses 32-37.—Amid the confusion of theories concerning the time of Christ's second coming, what is the only safe thing for us to do?

17. Chapter 14:1-9.—Who was the woman at Bethany that poured the very precious ointment upon the head of Jesus, and what record have we of her in the New Testament?

18. Why, or why not, is money wisely used when spent solely as an expression of love?

Laird, Alfred Laird, John Webster and Osborne. A whistling solo by Mrs. Thomas Dobbyn, and a trio by Mrs. Lindsay, Mrs. Drew and Mrs. Beatty, were greatly enjoyed.

The meeting was for the purpose of paying a tribute of honor to Mrs. Frank Brock, who is leaving for the west. Tickets were drawn for the crock of butter, the lucky number falling to Charles Elsom. A lunch was served at the close of the program. The proceeds of the lunch and butter, amounting to over $40, will be used for patriotic purposes.

MOUNT BRYDGES.—A special meeting of the Mount Brydges Institute was held in the clubrooms. Miss Graydon of Streetsville, who was present, gave a talk which was enjoyed very much by all. Then followed a chorus by three girls. Mrs. Monger, who has been a faithful member to the institute and also its first president, is money wisely used when spent solely as an expression of love?

Golden Text: He that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved.—Mary, 13:13.

DO NOT BE ENTICED NOR DIS-COURAGED.

Perhaps the two chief enemies which we have to overcome are first, that of yielding to the seductive enticements of sin. These enticements appeal, in a very subtle way, to our physical and spiritual natures, to our desire for gain, to our love of popularity, and we need to be on the lookout to watch and pray lest we fall. The other enemy which we have to defeat is discouraged with ourselves because, in spite of our besolve because, in spite of our besolve of som any things that we ought not to do, and leave undone to so many things that we ought not to do, and leave undone to so many things that we ought not to do, and leave undone to so many things that we ought not to do, and leave undone to so many things that we ought not to do, and leave undone to so many things that we ought not to do, and leave undone to so many things that we ought not to do, and leave undone to so many things that we ought not to do, and leave undone to so many things that we ought of the mount of the mount of the mount of the mount of the mount

Both victories were achieved over a track covered with water, and both were, run in fast time. The palm in this respect, however, rested with Effin Queen, as the daughter of Disguise-Sprite skimmed lightly over the soft surface and established a new record of .59 3-5 for the event, displaying the figures of .59 made by Lena Mesha in 1915, and last year by Lucullite. The holiday card was the most attractive presented this season, and included a steeplechase handicap which resulted in a popular victory for Al Reeves, owned by the Greentree stable. Elfin was at all times mistress of the situation and scurried through the five furlongs, throwing mud in the faces of the sturdy colts which strained every effort in trying to follow her giddy pace. The purple and gold squares of the Oneck stable were ahead by a good three lengths as soon as the horses could be distinguished by the thousands in the stands. The filly was moving freely

FOE'S RUSH SLOWING

FROM ALLIES' RESISTANCE LONDON, May 30.—Slowly but surely the plunge of the German crown prince's armies is being halted by the French and British armies. While the momentum of the German masses has not as yet spent itself, there has been a notable slackening in its advance during the last day. The efforts of the Germans now seem to be devoted to the widening of the gap they have torn into the positions of the Allies between Pinon and Brimont. This work seems to be progressing slowly against seems to be progressing slowly against the desperate resistance of the Allied the desperate resistance of the Allied forces.

The French, having fallen back from the limits of the city of Soissons, have stood their ground against the attacks of the enemy, and the German official statement fails to show material advances there during the day's fighting. The French are here fighting on familiar ground, which has been made historic by numerous battles, some of which are named among the decisive combats of history.

On the eastern end of the fighting line some of the forts northwest of Rhems are said to have fallen, which was to be expected, from the fact that they have been outflanked by the tide of invasion that has swept far to the south of the city.

of invasion that has swept far to the south of the city.

The fighting has taken on the familiar aspect of the first invasion of France in 1914, the advance of von Mackensen along the Dunajec, and the fighting in Picardy in March. After breaking the French and British defensive positions, but not breaking the Allied line, the Germans are again moving their forces out in a fan-shaped figure, fighting hardest on the flanks of the extreme front of their advance. The situation, while apparently extremely serious, has not assumed the critical aspect of the fighting late in March.

ALLIES ARE HOLDING LINES AT SOISSONS.

PARIS, May 30.—"We have prevented enemy progress in the western outskirts of Soissons." says the official report from French headquarters tonight.
"To the south we solidly hold the left bank of the Crise River. The Germans are multiplying their efforts in the direction of Ville-en-Tardenois (southwest of Rheims). west of Rheims). "In the centre the fighting has not diminished in intensity. The Germans ave occupied Fere-en-Tardenois and

HUNS TRY DESPERATELY TO REACH THE MARNE.

LONDON, May 30.—A dispatch from Reuter's correspondent at French head-quarters in France says that, being held on the flanks at Soissons and Rheims, the Germans are throwing their entire strength southwards, obviously with the Marne for their goal. It is probable that the Germans hope to establish themselves on the Marne, with a view to turning the directions of their resin serior treatment.

Teutons probably is to secure a position enabling them to turn to the westward with the bulk of their attacking armies. The efforts of the Germans since their first rapid advance appear to take a fan-like movement. The principal column of the Teuton divisions seems to be thrusting in the direction of Fere-en-Tardenois, which now is under a heavy fire. On both flanks also strong forces are engaged. The first strong forces are engaged. The first of these captured Soissons, while on the western flank they threaten Rheims. In the latter region, however, they are meeting with the sternest defence from the Franco-British forces which, never-theless, have been obliged to realign in order to keep the front straight.

HOW BATTLE LINE RUNS
Paris, May 31.—The extreme point of the German advance is Le Charmel, about two miles north of the River Marne, according to an outline of the battle front as marked out by newspaper correspondents, the Havas agency says. The fighting front, it is declared, runs as follows:

"From Chavigny, north of Soissons, it describes a circle west of that city, and rejoins the River Crise south of Soissons. Then it goes to Barzy, follows the Soissons-Chateau Thierry road until near Hartenneo, where it bends southeast to Grand Rozoy. Thence southward, leaving Mutchy-le-Chateau, it passes Nanteuil-Dotre Dame, and advances toward the Marne to Courcy, Brecy, Courpoil and Le Charmel, which marks its extreme southern point.

It is the resistance of the two wings of the allied force which inspires the confidence of all military critics. "FIVE CENTS FOR BELGIAN CHILDREN" INDORSED.

The members of the executive committee of the Denfield Red Cross Circle wish to express their hearty approval of the suggestion offered re the raising of money on registration day for the benefit of Belgian children, and sincerely hope the scheme meets with the success which

Signed on behalf of the executive:

MISS AGNES GIBSON, MRS. E. HODGINS. MRS. P. B. WADE, Cor. Sec., Denfield Red Cross Circle.

The foregoing declaration explains itself in regard to the plan suggested n this page a couple of weeks ago, to the effect that a substantial sum might be raised in London and Western Ontario for the starving, destitute and orphaned children of Belgium, if, on registration day, each person eligible to register, that is, over 16 years of age, would give the small sum of 5 cents, and each young person under 16, one single cent. Last week, readers commenting upon the plan raised the question if collection boxes might not be placed at each registration centre. It has been stated to the editor of this department that so far as East Middlesex is concerned, the registrar, Mr. W. C. Fitzgerald, is in sympathy with the plan, provided it does not entail any extra work for the deputy registrars and their assistants, and provided permission can be obtained from the Government. Concerning this point, the president of the Bryanston Red Cross Circle, Miss Langford says:

TO LOOK AFTER BOXES.

"I haven't been able to call a meeting of our circle, but I want to express my own entire approval of the plan. So far as there being any objection on the ground that it would make more work for the deputy registrars and their assistants is concerned. I have been wondering if we couldn't have a Red Cross Circle member at each of the centres to look after the collection-I'm sure everyone would be gad to give 5 cents to help save a Belgian

In addition to the expression of approval from the executive of the Denfield Red Cross Circle, the president, Miss Ethel Robson, has written as follows: Denfield, May 28, 1918.

Dear Miss Armstrong,—Your suggestion for raising money for Belgian children, given in The Advertiser of May 17, has been brought to my attention by Miss Grant, our township clerk. As our Red Cross Circle will not meet for some time, it is not easy to bring the matter to their attention. However, personally, I feel that I can highly indorse it. to their attention. However, personally, I feel that I can highly middle it. If some slimple arrangement can only be made I am sure that everyone would respond to the appeal, as is nearly always the case when an appeal reaches people. MOREOVER, IT WOULD TEND TO GIVE A NEW MEANING TO REGISTRATION DAY, THAT OF SERVICE. If I can be of any assistance to bring the matter to a head I shall be very glad, and I feel sure I can assure you of the co-operation of the women of this district. I shall ask some of the other officers to add their names to this, also any suggestion they might have.

Yours sincerely, ETHEL ROBSON, President Denfield Red Cross Circle

EVERY LITTLE BIT HELPS.

"I'm only one, but I am one. I cannot do everything, but I can do something, and what I can do, that, by the grace of God, I will do." The foregoing was the motto chosen by one of London's first boys' clubs organized a number of years ago. "What difference does it make the little bit of food I can conserve?" is a ment frequently heard. It was an exceedingly well-known and level-headed Western Ontario farmer who said this very thing about conserving food to the editor of this department just a few days ago. "After all," he said, "production is the big, important thing. For example, in my family, if the whole seven of us cut down our consumption of white flour, beef and bacon, we wouldn't save any more than enough for one person. But on the farm, my boy and I can raise enough to feed fifty people. In the meantime, we need plenty of nourishing food to strengthen us for our work." Granted. The soldier of the soil who is raising the "bread builets" with which to fight the enemy, is entitled to his strength-giving meat, just as the men who are holding the battle line. Is it possible, though, that there might be substitution even on his table, in order that the men actually under shell fire may not lack of their beef and bacon, that the Allies who have borne the real brunt of the battle may be saved from famine? This is just a question, not a criticism. Far be it from a mere writer person who simply has to sit at a typewriter and pound out theories to undertake to criticize people who are actually doing the work of raising food for fifty people. Production, assuredly, is the big end entitled to all support and consider (Whether it is getting this support and consideration in view of the more food" cry is another story.)

But to get back to that argument, "Conserve as they would, my family couldn't release more wheat, beef and bacon than would be enough for one Even so, if every group of seven people in Canada released that much of the food required for shipping, that would be sufficient to feed an army of 500,000 and about as many again. The woman who is conscientiously doing her own part is in a much better position to criticize the Government and food profiteers and any others who are failing to do the part possible to them to end the war with honors on the right a box of candy from home and offered some to an English woman. She looked longingly at it. "I love it," she said, "but I cannot touch it during the war." One Canadian, after another who has heard the story, has had a little twinge of conscience over something that had been left undone in the way of self-denial or substitution, while an English woman, who had given up almost everything else for the war, is consistently refusing to touch sweets, while they may bring a certain amount of comfort to the boys in the trenches.

There is one person for whose conduct in regard to the food situation each of us is first of all responsible. We are each of us first of all responsible for what we do ourselves. Then, having each done our part, we can go out and talk to others with a clear conscience.

THRIFT IN CANNING.

Trust a wide-awake businessman or businesswoman to apply science and common sense to the solving of household economy problems. That innocent statement is going to rouse the ire, doubtless, of many thrifty, experienced housewife readers of this department. But it is true, nevertheless, and one shining example is that of a prominent Hamilton businessman who directs the Red Cross canning kitchen there. Thousands of pounds of fruit have been sent over in the past few years to give variety to the diet, and tempt the appetites of sick and wounded soldiers. Mr. Macbeth, the businessman in question, was in the city recently during a trip to Parkhill in connection with the Community and Red Cross Canning Centre established there a year ago. Starting with the question of conservation of sugar he gave some illuminating information con-cerning conservation in other directions.

"This year," he said. "instead of making jam, we purpose canning the fruit in a sufficiently heavy syrup. We expect by so doing to save about 75 per cent of the sugar formerly required. Then we expect to effect a saving of about 65 per cent on the packing cost by the use of tin cans instead of glass jars as containers. Finally, and a most important item, four-sevenths of the shipping space will be saved by putting up the fruit in tin containers instead of glass With all the details worked out with scientific accuracy, the Hamilton Red Cross canning kitchen is ready for the fruit season. Anything the housewives can learn from these suggestions from the big patriotic canning plant? Talking of canning plants, the Parkhill Community Centre proved such a triumphant success last year that similar centres are being opened at various other points in Ontario. Last year 1,200 cans of chicken, as well as hundreds of jars of fruit, canned vegetables and canned soups, went to the Red Cross overseas from the ambitious little Parkhill centre that started out to be a community canning centre to help along food conservation, and ended up by having the tail wag the dog. In other words, the Red Cross service end greatly overshadowed the putting up of supplies for home consumption. This year, those closely associated with the work are talking of 10,000 cans of chickens for the boys in the overseas hospitals, and out through the country, more chickens are being raised by many, many people to help along the good cause. Apart from the manner in which the Red Cross is going to benefit, the centre will be used by groups of women for miles around for their own canning. Arrangements will be made to obtain the use of the canning centre on certain days by certain organizations. The work of canning for the home shelves will be done as a part of an afternoon's outing, with no muss in the home kitchen, and with much less expenditure of energy. Moreover, Mr. Macbeth states, "I am very much in favor of the community canning centres for the reason that so much better results can be achieved. In the first place housekeepers cannot possibly have the equipment a home which insures the highest degree of success. By the use of the steam jacket kettles being installed in the centres, not a particle of the flavor is lost, or the product either, through evaporation. The process of cooking at low pressure is too long at home to give the best results. Then, the work can be accom-

Now, if the purpose of the bath were simply to cleanse the body, it would be perfectly correct to give it the soap treatment daily, just as you treat your floors or chinaware. But we must remember that the skin, which is the body's cloak, is something delicate, something which nature intended to be beautiful. MR. SUN PLAYS A JOKE ON MISTRESS DAY.

Mr. Sun was a very mischievous fellow. He loved to tease his sister, Mistress Day, and not get up promptly when she called him.

"Folks set their clocks an hour ahead on purpose to get the most out of my light," cried Mistress Day one morning, when her brother declared he wasn't going to get up any earlier just because folks saw fit to turn up the clock.

"But that's why they did it!" exclaimed his sister. "However, if you won't get up I guess they won't miss you."

"Is that so " laurched Mr. Sun

"Is that so," laughed Mr. Sun, tumbling out of bed. "I guess they would miss me. You couldn't do without me and you know it."

"I certainly could get along without you," replied his sister. "It's queer how some folks seem to think the world couldn't move without them."

Mr. Sun never replied, but that night when he slid behind the hills there was a merry twinkle in his eye.

After a night of peaceful dreams, Mistress Day arose and shaking out her fleecy clouds opened her window and gazed down at the world below.

She had made up her mind in the night that if lazy Mr. Sun didn't waken of his own accord she would just let him lie abed and prove that she could do without him.

Mr. Sun kissed his sister merrily. "The world isn't happy without your cheery smile and neither am I, brother dear. You may lie in bed that extra hour if you want to, but please don't play such a joke on me again."

Fearing he might be ill, Mistress Day stole softly into her brother's room and discovered that his bed hadn't been disturbed; he hadn't returned home the night before.

"Where could he have gone?" orled his sister. "He never stays away all night. He may be lost!" and she orled so loudly that North Wind heard her and came hurrying to learn the cause of the weeping.

"I'm quite sure he must be lost!" cried Mistress Day to North Wind. The mount of their cloud coaches and sailed across the sky, flashing their electric lanterns this way and that, calling until they were hoarse, in the hope of finding Mr. Sun. Mistress Day sat in her room and her tears rained down

HOW FOCH WILL WIN THE VICTORY

In the whole history of war, as one journal remarks, one can find no individual responsibility equal to that of Gen. Ferdinand Foch, "called to the head of six millions of soldiers to achieve victory for human liberty and civilization." Four great nations have unreservedly entrusted their armies and their destinies to this French general. More than six millions, in fact, may be under his supreme command, for the Italian premier says that the Allied conference "recognized a united front from the North Sea to the Adriatic as an effective reality"; and some estimates place the Allied troops in France and Belgium alone at not less than six million. What, ask our military critics of the press, is the plan of this leader in whose genius the Allied nations have such faith?

It is to answer this question that the leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for June 1st has been prepared. The article includes the opinions of the war experts and presents all available information. This number of "The Digest" might justly be termed a "Foch Number," because the cover shows a strikingly handsome reproduction in colors of an authentic picture of the great French commander-in-

"The Digest" Prevents a One-Angled View

These are anxious days in Flanders and Northern France and those of us who look only at the heroic struggle the British are making against heavy odds may be perhaps the least bit fearful of the outcome. But this is only a partial view, after all. What we should do is to survey the Allied lines as a whole-French, American, Italian and English, and then we realize at once that the pressure at the north is only a part of the great struggle, and that southward hope and help are still to be had in generous measure. So, too, the reading of but one morning or evening paper gives one a merely partial view of this great world-crisis. What is needed is a reasoned analysis of the whole situation, drawn from all possible sources, and quoting the views of many periodicals. This you have every week in THE LITERARY DIGEST, the greatest of newsmagazines. Buy a copy and be convinced.

To the inspiration of such surroundings, perhaps, as well as her own zeal for stirring achievement, Mrs. Howe owed the immortal hymn. It is the one thing she ever wrote that has survived, for the occasional other bits of drama or verse that she penned have long since been forgotten. But this one work stands out as a big, worth-while achievement in a long life that was singularly useful in many other ways. Mrs. Howe died at the age of 91, but at the age of 90 she was still working actively on committees, speaking before legislatures, and reading "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" at meetings which she addressed. Freak newspapers have afforded a good deal of entertainment in their day. One of the most remarkable was the Luminara, published some years ago in Madrid. It was printed with ink containing phosphorus, so that the paper could be read in the dark.

OTTAWA, May 30.—Efforts are being made to provide jobs for three French-Canadian members of the old Borden Government, who ran and were so disastrously defeated at the last election.
In the case of one in particular, Hon, Albert Sevigny, former minister of inland revenue, the matter is urgent. Albert Sevigity, former minister of in-land revenue, the matter is urgent, since Mr. Sevigny is here himself doing the urging. Wants His Reward.

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfect, harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which is the clean of the stomach, liver and bowels.

isters deceased during the previous year.

"Men are dying by thousands," he said, "and yet we adhere to the old custom of spending time sayings." It was all very well for our forefathers when they were a little band of warriors fighting together against heavy odds, but it does not belong to the present day."

The discussion arose out of the fact that the late Dr. J. E. McVittie of this city left a written request that no eulogy be pronounced after the reading of his obituary. It was finally resolved by the meeting to respect his wish, but to pronounce the eulogy in other cases.

FURNESS LINE STEAMER SUNK; 25 OF CREW LOST

BOSTON, May 30.—News of the sinking of the Furness line steamer Cheviot Range and the loss of 25 of her crew was received here today. The vessel was bound from a port in the Mediterranean to England when she was attacked by a submarine off Fastnet and went down in a few minutes.

The entire crew took to the boats, but only ten men were saved. One of the boats disappeared suddenly and the survivors believe she was deliberately run down by the submarine and all hands left to drown.

Captain J. W. Manning, commander of the freighter, was lost and most of the other officers were among the victims.

RUSSIA FIRMLY TELLS CHINA TO OUST SEMENOFF

ssociated Press.)-Foreign Minister Tchitcheric has sent another protest to China, charging the Chinese Government with officially protecting General Semenoff, the anti-Bolsheviki leader in Siberia, in his activities against the soviet power. The note requests that China either prevent General Semenoff from using Manchuria as a base for his operations, or to permit soviet troops operations, or to permit soviet troops to cross into the Chinese territory and quell General Semenoff, if China considers herself too weak to do so.

Russia, the foreign minister's communication states, has determined once and for all to and the conditions to the conditions to the conditions of the conditions to the and for all to end the unendurable situation on the Manchurian border. Friendliness to China, however, is expressed in the note, which states that Russia "makes this urgent friendly request".

A copy of the decree was brought to San Francisco by Frank Forest, a British engineer, who obtained it before salling from Vladivostok. The proclamation, as drawn by the Free Association of Anarchists of Saratov, Russia, sets forth proposals and restrictions that are almost unbelievable.

Remove "Injustices."

"The private possession of women is hereby abolished," are the first startling words of the document. The right of man to possess a woman between the ages of 17 and 32 is abolished, the decree declares, and then tells why, in these words: "Since the most beautiful specimens of the fair sex have in the past been limited by marriage to the possession of the bourgeois men, the correct continuation of the human race has been greatly impeded and great injustice and inequalities have resulted."

According to other articles of the proclamation, of which there are fifteen, the former husband shall release his wife from personal ownership but may What dyspeptics need is not dieting, or artificial digestants, but something that will put their stomach right so it will 'manufacture its own digestive ferments.

Removing Children From Paris Owing To Long Range Gun

One Effect of Frightfulness To Gladden the Hun Heart.

PARIS, May 30.—The removal of children from Paris was begun this morning, when 1,000 children from the Mont Mart district of the city were placed on board a special train bound or a vacation colony in the department of Allier, in Central France.

This is the first action taken under a plan for removing Paris children from the possibility of harm from a longrange gun shell striking a school filled with pupils, as a church where worship was in progress was struck on Good Friday last.

The boundardment of Paris by the longrange gun, which was interrupted early in the day, was resumed at sunset.

Tip Top Tailors One Price Clothes

Have the Stamp of Public Approval

With the first four months of 1918 (ending May 1) even with the war on, and the fact that we had to announce a new price, Tip Top Tailors have done by far the largest volume of business of any four months in their successful history. All of which is more evidence that our sensible, economical, direct-towearer, one-price tailoring policy has the stamp of public approval. It also proves that men are discovering the superiority of our value in ever increasing numbers.

And after all it doesn't take a Pinkerton detective or a Sherlock Holmes to find out why our plan saves our customers AT LEAST $10 on a suit or topcoat. Plain facts best tell the story.

MEN TO STRIKE TUESDAY

33 Employees Ready to Walk Out If Council Turns Down Request.

The city will not pay the garbage men $3 a day. If men cannot be secured to collect the garbage at $2.85 a day the garbage collection will be discontinued. This was the decision of a joint meeting of the board of control and No. 2 committee (the board of works), this morning, and resulted from the garbage making 32c an hour who would have to help pay the increase. He also feared that if this request were granted it would prove the forerunner of The Canadian Garrison Ald. O. G. Keene said that the work-

Ald. O. G. Keene said that the workers at the incinerator had a much harder task. If the collectors were raised those at the incinerator would have to be raised also. They had to stay on top of the "old stink-pot" all day. They were worth more money. He suggested that if the men quit that the part should be closed up and at the plant should be closed up, and at the end of a couple of months the city would know whether or not the people appreciate the service or whether they can get along without it. He also feared that the increase wage clamor would spread.

Controller J. H. Saunders said that the work of the collectors was much easier than that of the engineers at the incinerator, and they only received $3 a day. The collectors only worked with the diam their wagens and rode. $3 a day. The collectors only worked while loading their wagons and rode the rest of the time. Smiled as They Went In.

"It would do you good to see the way those boys swung along marching behind their regimental bands." Lieut. Col. Ware continued, "with smiles on their faces, the day before that action at Vimy. You would have thought that they were marching down Dundas street, though they knew that the next morning they were going into action."

The secret of their success was careful preparation and training, added to their wonderful spirit, he said. Wonderful work was done with the wounded, and by noon the division with the heaviest casualties, had all its ground cleared of wounded. Those at home should be grateful that their boys are so well looked after when wounded.

Marvellous work was done by the Canadian Engineers, railway troops, tunneling companies, etc., in restoring water systems, roads, and dugouts, wrecked by the Germans before retiring.

Secondary Cause.

The discovery of the case of smallpox at the collegiate, making the eleventh found in London in the past few weeks, is proof positive, says Dr. Hill, that there is a secondary cause of the disease. The other ten cases have all been centred at one factory, the patients being either employees of this plant or members of employees of this plant or members of employees.

"The discovery of this case means another source of infection," says Dr. Hill. "It means that there is some hidden cause and that some one who has had the disease has gone out before being entirely recovered. Out of respect for themselves as well as others, everyone in the city who has not been vaccinated within the past seven years and whose vaccination, if in that time, has not taken, should be vaccinated at once. With this second source unknowr, there is no telling where smallpox will be encountered, and it is up to the citizens to be vaccinated.

POOR CHILDREN

All Who Grasp a Knowledge of the Need Will Give Cash Generously.

What is so fair as a day in June, especially when the month of roses is ushered in by a bevy of fair maids and matrons, selling the Alexandra rose, "made in England," by crippled children of the John Goome Crippleage, to support their home, and sold in London to bring back health and roses into the cheeks of London's tubercular poor?

Mr. Crizen and Madam Citizen, do you realize what your contribution on Saturday means to the poor, suffering victim of the great white plague? It means the rent paid, coal in the bin for the coming winter, warm clothing and nourishing food for the helpless little ones and the stricken parents. Could you but spend one day with our visiting nurses, as they wend their way into these homes, where disease and poverty are fighting for supremacy, your contributions would be large, indeed. In some of these homes there are often two or three victims afflicted from a common cause.

The knowledge of the need is the most heartfelt aspect of 'the least of these."

There would be no better use for time, money and enthusiasm than the service to "the least of these."

We have many small children victims of these afflicted people.

ANOTHER DRAFT FROM CANADIAN ENGINEERS

A draft of the Canadian Engineers, numbering 92, left London vesterday at 4:30 p.m. via the Grand Trunk for St. Johns, Que., where they will continue their training before proceeding overseas. The party was in charge of Capt. Roy Garratt, who will accompany the men to St. Johns.

The men paraded from Carling Heights shortly after 4 o'clock, and headed by the A.M.C. pipe band, marched to the G.T.R. station, where a large crowd was gathered to give the boys a send-off.

Visualizing Is Secret of Whole Thing, Says Speaker.

Interest in his methods was aroused to such an pitch that a class of over thirty members of the Advertising Club and Board of Trade members immediately formed to take the course. The first lesson will be given to the newly-formed class on Tuesday next.

The speaker stated that during his boyhood days at school he had some difficulty in remembering certain things.

"You have perhaps noticed that children of from 4 to 6 years have remarkable memories. You will perhaps also notice that after you left school that your memory grew less retentive. Many can remember faces, but not names. Man is possessed of two memories, the sensory and the motor or muscular, but for some reason educators have failed to draw the lines of distinction. The sensory memory s made up of the five sensors. Repetition has been advocated for making the sensory memory perfect. This system has been all wrong.

"Repetition actually drives a fact that you desire to recall from the mind."
