WAS THIS INGERSOLL MAN MURDERED? FIVE OF THAT TOWN ARE UNDER ARREST

Coroner Refuses to Divulge Result of Post Mortem Examination on Body of Isaiah Wright, But Says It Warrants Detention of Prisoners.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Woodstock, Sept. 29.—Coroner Neff will not divulge the result of his post-mortem examination on Isaiah Wright yet. He admits that it warrants the detention of the prisoners under arrest.

Scents Foul Play.

Ingersoll, Sept. 28.—The town of Ingersoll is excited over developments in the finding of the body of Isaiah Wright, colored, floating in the River Thames this morning.

Chief Police Wright scents foul play and this afternoon caused the arrest of George Hartsell, George Dennis, George Bowers, Thomas Watson, and John Campbell, all of whom were drinking with the deceased when he was last seen alive on Friday night last.

The accused were brought before Magistrate Morrison this evening and were all remanded for a week, pending the result of a post-mortem examination to see what caused Wright's death.

All were taken to Woodstock jail for safe keeping.

The post-mortem is being conducted tonight by Drs. McKay and Coleridge, but the result will not be made known until tomorrow. There were no marks on the body to indicate foul play, but several mysterious statements, relative to the disappearance of Wright, are reported to have originated from the men under arrest which would justify their detention pending a clearing up of things.

Dr. Neff, coroner for North Oxford County, was present at the inquest. He intimated that there was no evidence of Wright having been murdered, but the whole affair is shrouded in mystery.

Still, while murder is talked of, accidental death is a plausible enough solution of Wright's end.

Not Asked to Plead.

The six prisoners appeared before Police Magistrate Morrison this evening and were remanded to Woodstock jail until Oct. 6. They were not asked to plead.

Shortly after the body was taken out of the river the coroner decided to hold an inquest, and a jury was empaneled.

After viewing the remains the inquest was adjourned to Oct. 5.

Tonight a post-mortem was conducted by Coroner McKay and Dr. Coleridge, the result of which is not yet known.

The arrests have caused considerable excitement, and large crowds gathered around the town hall, where the prisoners were confined, and discussed the affairs.

Many theories are being discussed. At first it was thought that Wright fell in the river or committed suicide, but during the afternoon facts have come to light which lead the authorities to believe that there had been foul play.

All the prisoners are well-known young men about town. Dennis is bartender at the Daly House, and the others are of the laboring class. Bower was formerly a bartender at St. Thomas.

The dead body of Wright was taken from the Thames River shortly after 9 o'clock this morning.

Finding of the Body.

When Mr. McMullen, commonly known as "Pointer" McMullen, was going to his work in the pork factory, he discovered the body of Wright in the water in a hole about 60 feet west of the Wonham street bridge. The hole is one of many "pike holes" in the neighborhood, and is of considerable depth. The body was standing erect, and was completely covered by water. On removal it was found to be that of Isaiah Wright. The face was somewhat swollen, but otherwise the body was almost in a normal condition. It was removed to Tremeear's undertaking establishment.

Inquiry among Wright's friends revealed the fact that he had been missing since Friday of last week. How long he had been in the water or how he got there is not known. He was about 40 years of age, and leaves a wife and one child.

Friends of the deceased will not entertain the suicide theory.

Inquires elicited the information that Wright had been missing since Friday last.

On Friday afternoon he did the scrubbing at the store of Peter Sherry, finishing his task about 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Wright is employed at the McMurray House, and about a quarter to 5 on Friday afternoon she was talking to her husband.

That is the last time she saw him alive.

Mrs. Wright says her husband was not intoxicated when she last saw him alive.

His work completed at Sherry's store, Wright proceeded to the Grand Union, where he was in the habit of doing some chores. He was also at the Grand Union for dinner, and, from what could be learned, he was not intoxicated on either occasion. As to his movements later in the evening little or nothing is known.

The deceased was 40 years of age and had been a familiar figure in Ingersoll for a number of years. He possessed more than an ordinary amount of wit, and strong drink was his only enemy.

Had Been at Central.

Isaiah Wright was quite well known to the jail authorities here. Sixteen times he was committed to jail on charges of drunkenness, theft and vagrancy, and he served one term in the Central Prison at Toronto in addition to those in the county jail here. He was never a troublesome prisoner, but was inexpressibly lazy, and had to be driven at every little chore required of him while an inmate of the county bastile. On one occasion he was allowed to go to Ingersoll as a "trusty," but the confidence was misplaced, for Isaiah got gloriously drunk, and Turnkey Forbes had to go after him.

AN UNKNOWN MAN FOUND DEAD ON C. P. R. TRACKS NEAR CRUMLIN

The Body Found So Disposed as to Indicate a Case of Suicide.

The remains of a well-dressed man were found about 9 o'clock this morning on the C. P. R. tracks near Crumlin village, five miles east of this city.

The discovery was made by Engineer Roddick, of the passenger train, which leaves here for the east at 8:40. The head was lying between the rails, while the trunk was on the south side, clear of the track.

When Engineer Roddick first noticed the body the train was so close that it could not be brought to a stop before reaching it. The train was backed down, and an examination showed that the man had been dead for some hours, as the body was quite cold. Trainmaster Henshaw was a passenger on the accommodation, and he immediately ordered a sectionman, who happened to be going over the road at the time, to come to London and report the matter to Agent Houston. The latter in time notified Coroner McLaren, who will hold an inquest. The remains were left at Crumlin in charge of some of the railway employes, pending the order of the coroner.

May Be a Suicide.

It was at first supposed that the dead man was a tramp who had fallen from a freight train, but it may prove to be that of a resident of the neighborhood. Suicide is hinted at. The head was between the rails, while the condition of the clothing indicated that the man had deliberately laid down and placed his neck across the rail. The clothing was not soiled, whereas the opposite would have been the case if the victim had fallen from a train and been dragged along the roadbed.

Up to 3 o'clock the name of the dead man had not been ascertained by the coroner.

CITY'S APPEAL ALLOWED

Ruling of High Court in the Case of Bucke vs. the City of London.

In the high court, Toronto, a decision was given re Bucke vs. City of London. Judgment (H.) on appeal by defendants from judgment of county court at Carleton, dated March 25, 1905, in favor of plaintiff, a superannuated civil servant of the Dominion Government, for $114 and costs, in an action brought to recover certain taxes paid the city upon income thus derived.

The judge held that such income was exempt, and that the Legislature had no authority under section 91 of the B. N. A. act to impose the assessment. Held, that the doctrine of Leprohon vs. City of Ottawa, 2 A. R., 522, cannot be extended so as to justify the exemption of the income of a retired public officer from the annual tax levied by the municipality, where he lives.

Appeal allowed and action dismissed. No costs. T. G. Meredith, K. C., for defendants; R. V. Sinclair, Ottawa, for plaintiff.

Cyclone in Cape Colony.

Cape Town, Cape Colony, Sept. 29.—A cyclone last night struck Malmesbury, a town of 3,000 inhabitants 35 miles from here, and reduced it to ruins. A number of persons were killed.

MURDERED MOTHER AND 4 CHILDREN

Atrocious Crime in Texas—All But Baby Butchered by Assaulters.

Edna, Texas, Sept. 28. — Mrs. A. J. Conditt and four children a daughter of 13 and three boys from 6 to 10 years of age, were murdered in cold blood at their home near here today.

The mother and daughter were assaulted and their bodies brutally disfigured.

A baby about 2 years old was the only one left alive.

PEACE AT BAKU

Armenians and Tartars Unite and Celebrate End of Massacres.

Baku, Caucasia, Sept. 28.—With the formal ratification of peace between the Tartars and Armenians here, street traffic is being resumed.

Masses of Armenians and Tartars are thronging the cathedral and mosques and are joining in processions to celebrate their reconciliation.

An investigation of the damage done showed that 1,996 out of 3,412 derricks were burned.

Generous Helen Gould.

St. Louis, Sept. 29. — Miss Helen Miller Gould has agreed to give $150,000 for a Railroad Young Men's Christian Association building at St. Louis, Mo.

Tobacco in the North.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 29. — Hon. Mr. Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, said this morning that it was his intention to have experiments in tobacco growing made in the more northerly parts of the Province.

De Brazza's Body Home.

Marseilles, Sept. 29.—The body of Count De Brazza, the explorer, who died at Dakar, Senegambia, arrived here today on the steamer Alpes and was landed with impressive military honors. The funeral will take place in Paris on Monday.

HUNDREDS PERISH IN GREAT TYPHOON

Later Reports From the Philippines Add to the Catastrophe.

Manila, Sept. 29.—Reports now coming in from places along the track of the recent typhoon in the Island of Luzon and the southern islands indicate great loss of life and property. In the waters surrounding Samar and other islands many coasting vessels and island transports have been wrecked. The coastguard cutter Leyte is a complete wreck, and eleven Americans and 24 natives were drowned.

At the town of Sorsogon fifteen natives were drowned.

The loss on hemp plantations is estimated at $1,000,000.

The army transport Juan Rodriguez is ashore at Legaspi.

In the interior of the Island of Samar thousands of natives are homeless, and the same report comes from many of the other small islands.

The army posts in the southern islands have been destroyed.

The civil and military authorities are rushing aid to the sufferers in the form of supplies of food and shelter.

Owing to the destruction of the telegraph system, reports received from other points are very meager.

Temperance Conference.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 29. — Local option and license reduction will be the topics for discussion at an important conference of temperance workers to be held in Toronto on Oct. 12. The circular calling the meeting has been sent out by the Ontario Alliance, and is signed by President Marter and Secretary Spence.

BANKS MAY AMALGAMATE

Bank of New Brunswick May Be Absorbed by Bank of Montreal.

St. John, N. B., Sept. 28. — It is understood here that an agreement, contingent on the approval of the shareholders of the Bank of New Brunswick, has been made by directors of that bank for amalgamation with the Bank of Montreal.

For many years the bank of New Brunswick has paid 12 per cent to its shareholders, and the stock has been quoted around $300 per share. At present it is worth $285, or about the same as Bank of Montreal stock.

The reserve is $800,000, and net earnings last year were equal to 10 per cent of the paid-up capital.

THE GAYNOR GREENE CASE

Minister Finds Papers, Corrects and Forwards Them for Signiture.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Sept. 29.—Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick, Minister of Justice, along with his deputy, looked over the papers in the Gaynor and Green extradition case this afternoon and forwarded them to the Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, who is charged with the administration of justice in that province. All that the Minister of Justice has to do is to see that the papers are regular. He has done so and will sign the warrant in time to have it sent by the afternoon mail.

THE STRENUOUS LIFE

How a Windsor Motorman Broke Up a Race Track Fight.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 29. — Two colored men employed at the race track quarreled last night. One drew a knife and the other a revolver. The latter fired three shots, one of which struck a man named Ballentine, who was attracted by the row, in the hand. Another shot grazed his head. At this point Victor Baillergend, a motorman, who had just arrived with his car, seized the shooter and dragged him to his car; threw him under the seat, and with one of the horsemen started for the city, where the man, who says his name is Washington, was turned over to the police and locked up. Ballentine was taken to the Hotel Dieu.

NOW IT'S TURN OF U. S.

Demands Release of American Citizen Imprisoned by Morocco.

New York, Sept. 29. — A Madrid dispatch to the Sun says:

A dispatch from Tangier announces that an official of the United States legation at Tangier has gone to Fez under instruction from Washington to demand immediate reparation from the Sultan for the refusal of Mohammed El Torres, commissioner for foreign affairs at Tangier, to release an imprisoned man, who is under American protection

AWFUL HARDSHIPS IN AFGHANISTAN

Suffered by the British Boundary Commission.

ATTACKED BY MAD WOLVES

Spent Two Years Amid Arctic-Like Weather—Many Men and Thousands of Animal Died.

London, Sept. 29. — The story told by members of the British mission who spent two and a half years in marking the boundary between Persia and Afghanistan in the Seistan region, shows that they encountered terrible hardships. Fifty of the members died from various causes and nearly 5,000 camels and 120 horses succumbed. The mission consisted of eleven British officers under Col. Arthur Henry Macmahon, with survey and irrigation staffs, and 200 native infantry and a transport service, embracing altogether some 1,500 men. The base was situated at Quelta, whence all supplies were brought to Seistan, 500 miles distant, over a waterless and uninhabited desert. During the summer several persons died from sunstroke or thirst, while during the winter others were frozen. Last winter numbers of jackals and wolves, which abound in Seistan, went mad for some unexplained reason, and in large packs, attacked the men and animals belonging to the mission. Many of the men, camels and horses were bitten, and died of hydrophobia.

On March 29 of this year the temperature fell to zero, accompanied by a blizzard, and during this storm 600 camels were killed.

The members of the mission tell many stories of fearful privations and of the heroism of individuals during periods when suplies ran out, and could not be renewed owing to the difficulties of transportation.

WHEAT TRAIN PILES UP

Traffic Tied Up by Bad Wreck on the C. P. R.

Fort William, Sept. 28.—An extra wheat train of 30 cars was wrecked late yesterday afternoon at Karlstead, 100 miles west of here, piling 23 cars of grain on the track. No one was seriously hurt. Passenger traffic was delayed fourteen hours.

The wreck was caused by a broken axle.

Isaiah Wright Well-Known Character About This City

Married on Labor Day in Queen's Park Some Years Ago.

Left London for Ingersoll But a Few Months Since.

Had a Failing for Liquor, But Was Not a Bad Sort of Fellow, Generally Speaking.

Isaiah Wright, the colored man who is believed to have been murdered in Ingersoll, was a well-known character about London for many years. Though born in Ingersoll, he made London his home, only leaving this city last June. While here he boarded with Mrs. Phoenix, at 24 Campbell street, East London.

Wright was a married man, and the ceremony which made him a benedict was performed in the limelight at a Emancipation Day picnic in Queen's Park six or seven years ago.

He was a member of the Bethemanuel Church, as was also his bride, and the two, with their friends, assembled there and were driven to Queen's Park, where the ceremony took place in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Wright were rewarded with a prize of a handsome bedroom set.

Mrs. Wright was formerly a Miss Preston, of Maitland street south. She was employed as a maid in the family of Mayor Campbell for some years. After their marriage she and her husband did not get along very well together, and they frequently had spats, several of which were aired in the local police court. Liquor was generally at the bottom of Wright's troubles. Outside of this failing, he had no bad habits, as far as known, and he was generally respected by those who knew him.

Wright has a sister-in-law living in London, in a little brick cottage at 12 High street, London South. Her husband, from whom she has a deed of separation or with whom she has mutually agreed to separate, lives in Detroit. He was for a long time employed at McClarys.

Nearly every colored person approached about the matter knew Isaiah well.

Very few knew of the death of Isaiah Wright and they expressed the utmost astonishment upon learning the fact. Several showed visibly signs of sorrow upon hearing of his untimely end.

TRAVELING MAN TENDERS ADVICE

Says London Must Cease To Be a Great Gawk of a Country Town.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Since you have been good enough to offer some good advice to traveling men, let me reciprocate.

Get after your city council and have them get after the Grand Trunk Railway and start the latter digging subways at Richmond and Wellington streets. Do something to improve the deplorable situation at the Grand Trunk station. If you are going to have a city, try to have it long enough at least to hold a standard passenger train. I pant down to the station with my grips to board the Limited, and find that the town won't hold the train, that the sleepers have been cut off and dragged back behind the Tecumseh House, that I must tumble in over the rails and ties and turnip tops and find my way over foot-grabbing frogs to the sleeper.

Close Clarence street, in the name of improvement if you must, but get space enough to hold a train, so that a traveling man may not be compelled to ramble all up and down the yards to find the particular section of the train he wants to take. I see the argument advanced that the closing of Clarence street would damage the property south of the station. A prominent real estate man tells me that the moment this new station is completed, the property south of the lines that now look out upon tumbling shacks and sheds and blackened shanties will increase in value a hundred per cent; but even if it did not increase at all, so long as it did not decrease, there is no reason why London should stand still and mark time. If she is going to be a city, she must cease being a flag station, a great gawk of a country town. She must let down her skirts and do up her hair, for, unless she does something, she won't be as big as Brantford in ten years from today. Yours truly,

A TRAVELER.

London, Sept. 28.

ALICE GOES TO JAPAN

Miss Roosevelt Will Decline All Public Recognition While There.

Seoul, Sept. 29.—Miss Alice Roosevelt and party left Seoul today by special train for Fusan. Owing to the damage done by the recent rains the trip to Fusan will take two days. The party will stop tonight at the Presbyterian Mission at Taikua, and tomorrow will reach Fusan, whence they will go to Shimonoseki and Yokohama. The visit to Japan will be entirely private. Miss Roosevelt will decline any public recognition or hospitality. The Emperor of Korea yesterday received Miss Roosevelt in farewell audience, and presented her with his photograph, to which he had affixed his autograph.

The Koreans made every effort to make Miss Roosevelt's ten-days' visit pleasant.

Engineer Murdered.

Nogales, Arizona, Sept. 29.—American Consul Morawetz, at Nogales and Sefora, yesterday received a telegram from Choix, a town near Fuertes in Sinalo, Mexico, announcing the assassination by a Mexican of William V. O'Daly, a prominent civil and mining engineer, of this section. No particulars have been learned. The murderer was captured.

FELLOW-WORKMEN IN HOT SCRAP

One Gets Worst of Rough-and-Tumble Row and Victor Is Haled to Court.

Thomas Doidge, a laborer, who lives on the Hamilton road, near Egerton street, East London, was an occupant of the police court cage this morning, the charge against him being assault, occasioning actual bodily harm. The victim of his alleged attack is William Whitehead, unmarried, of Florence street. Both men are employed at the Canadian Packing Company's plant, London Junction.

Whitehead, Doidge and another man, according to the story furnished the police, met on Wednesday evening at the corner of Egerton and Florence streets, and Whitehead and Doidge became involved in a quarrel. The upshot was that the men went at each other, "hammer and tongs," Whitehead coming out second best. In fact, Whitehead was so badly used up that he was unable to come to the police station to lodge an information, and this was done by his sister.

When the case was called today, postponement was made, and as it was understood that Whitehead was very seriously injured, bail for Doidge was refused.

Dr. Hogg examined Whitehead today, and he found him suffering from a broken nose. His face and head were badly bruised, and he also complained of pains in the chest and shoulder. Dr. Hogg said Whitehead would be able so leave the house in a few days, if no unforeseen complications developed.

HIS WORSHIP BACK

Mayor Campbell Returns From Vacation in Eastern Cities.

Mayor Campbell returned last evening from Philadelphia, after a two weeks' vacation, with Mrs. Campbell, in eastern cities. His worship laughed about the story which appeared in a Philadelphia paper, to the effect that he had been taken for the lord mayor of London.

"The story originated in the reporter's head," said the mayor. "A number of my friends took some amusement out of calling me the lord mayor, and the reporter's fertile brain did the rest."

The mayor also stated that in Plainfield, N. J., he saw some very fine macadam roads, maintained after the manner which he proposed some time time ago. The moment a hole is noticed in the roadway, a man with a wheelbarrow comes along and fills it with broken stone. Thus the pavement is kept constantly in repair, and his worship thinks that for residential streets such pavements cannot be beaten.

France Will Attend.

Paris, Sept. 29.—The officials here say that it is practically assured that France will accept an invitation to the second peace conference at The Hague, owing to the united efforts of Emperor Nicholas and President Roosevelt, but official action awaits Russia's communication.

Kaiser Eyes the Balkans.

Rome, Sept. 29.—The reports received here relative to the meeting yesterday between Chancellor Von Buelow and Italian foreign minister, Signor Titoni, at Baden-Baden, say that Morocco or the Franco-German agreement were not discussed, the subjects considered being the Hungarian crisis and affairs in the Balkans.

Artist Beard Dead.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Frank Beard, a well-known illustrator, died at his home in this city last night of cerebral hemorrhage. He was widely known as the originator of "Chalk Talks," and for many years has been connected with the Ram's Horn, a religious publication. Mr. Beard was born in Cincinnati 63 years ago.

Black Hand Assassins Wreck New York Tenement

Inmates Hurled From Their Beds By Dynamite Bomb and Building Fired.

New York, Sept. 29. — A bomb filled with both dynamite and a quantity of inflammable oil was thrown at the rear of a crowded five-story tenement house at One Hundred and Forty-third street and Eighth avenue today. Over twenty persons, who were sleeping at the time, were hurled from their beds by the explosion, and two of them were carried from the house unconscious. Within a minute after the explosion flames had nearly enveloped the rear walls of the building. The police believe that Italian Black Hand assassins threw the bomb. The object of the attack was the door of an Italian barber shop on the ground floor.

The fire was extinguished with slight damage.

VIGILANT SCORES AGAIN

Poacher Gets Away, But Leaves 86 Nets Behind.

Dunkirk, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The Vigilant, the Canadian cruiser, today captured 86 nets belonging to Capt. Hanson, of the tug Arrow.

Capt. Hanson saw the cruiser coming and ran south into American waters.

No shots were fired.

The fishermen are becoming scared of the Vigilant, and take no chances of allowing her to get to close quarters when they are north of the boundary line.

REMAINS A MYSTERY

The Inquest Into the Charivari Fatality Is Postponed.

Tavistock, Ont., Sept. 29. — As no instructions have been received from Crown Attorney Ball, the inquest into the death of young Hauch at the charivari was not held yesterday.

Companions still assert that there was no shooting other than done by the youth himself, but Dr. Steele says it would be impossible for him to have shot himself as the wound indicates.

It is thought that the shooting may have been done by some late comer, who stole away silently when he found that the young man had been shot.

A Wall Street Forger Cleans Up $360,000

New York, Sept. 29. — The details of a scheme whereby the City National Bank was recently victimized by a clever forger, came out yesterday. The forger presented a bogus check bearing the name of a well-known stock exchange firm, and received in return securities valued at about $360,000.

Pearl & Co., stock brokers, at 27 William street, recently negotiated a one-day loan for $300,000 with this unnamed institution. On Wednesday a check for the amount of the loan, plus $37 50 for the one day's interest, was presented at the bank by a stranger, who received the security deposited by Pearl & Co. for their loan.

The bank on which the brokers' check was drawn is one with which Pearl & Co. never had an account, so the forgery was not discovered until the check had passed through the clearing house exchange, when it was promptly branded as fictitious.

The securities offered by Pearl & Co. for their loan and surrendered by the bank for a piece of worthless paper, include 1,000 shares of United States Steel common, 1,000 shares Rock Island common, 1,000 shares Metropolitan Street Railway, 700 shares Missouri Pacific, 200 shares North American Company 47 American Tobacco Company, 6 per cent bonds, and some Wabash debenture B bonds.

BENGALIS SWEAR BEFORE GODDESS TO BOYCOTT BRITISH MERCHANDISE

ENRAGED AT PARTITIONING OF COUNTRY 50,000 TAKE OATH OF REVENGE

Calcutta, Sept. 29.—Fifty thousand Bengalis, assembled at the temple of Kalighat, have sworn by the goddess Kali to boycott British goods, as a protest against the partition of the Province of Bengal. The administrative work of the province, according to the views of the home and Indian governments, had grown to such unwieldy proportions as to necessitate a division of the labor, hence the partition of the province into two lieutenant-governorships. The Bengalis are intensely resentful at what they characterize as an attempt to split the population and impair the Bengali nationality. At scores of meetings throughout Bengal the people have pledged themselves to support the boycott, which has now received the sanction of the priests.

The scene at the temple of Kalighat, the greatest in Bengal, was striking when the immense assembly took the oath in the holy presence of the goddess, not to use foreign goods, not to buy articles in foreign shops when available in native shops, not to employ foreigners. The high priest then placed a mystic vermillion symbol on the forehead of each of those who took the oath.

The foreign firms are already feeling seriously the effect of the boycott.

WORKING WOMEN

Their Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting Statements by a Young Lady in Quebec and One in Beauport, Que.

All women work; some in their homes, some in church, and some in the whirl of society. And in stores, mills and shops tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.

All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, ovarian troubles, ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb, leucorrhœa, or perhaps irregularity or suppression of "monthly periods," causing backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.

Women who stand on their feet all day are more susceptible to these troubles than others.

They especially require an invigorating, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful.

How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching, she is so tired she can hardly drag about or stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female organism.

Mlle. Alma Robitaille of 78 rue St. Francois, Quebec, Que., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Overwork and long hours at the office, together with a neglected cold, brought on a very serious female trouble until finally I was unable to go to work. I then thought of a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when her health was in the same condition that mine was, and straightway sent out for a bottle. I finished that and took two more before I really began to improve, but after that my recovery was very rapid, and I was soon well and able to go back to work again. I certainly think your medicine for sick women worthy of praise, and am indeed glad to indorse it."

Miss Clara Beaubien of Beauport, Quebec, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For several years I have suffered with Leucorrhœa, which has been a serious drain on my vitality, sapping my strength and causing severe headaches, bearing down pains and a general worn out feeling, until I really had no desire to live. I tried many medicines, but did not get permanent relief until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In two months I was very much better and stronger, and in four months I was well, no more disagreeable discharge, no more pain. So I have every reason to praise the Vegetable Compound, and I consider it without equal for the ills of women."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and displacement with all its horrors will no more crush you.

Backache, dizziness, fainting, bearing down pains, disordered stomach, moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled, and it will make you strong and well.

You can tell the story of your sufferings to a woman, and receive helpful advice free of cost. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

A NEW STORY

The last installment of "A Shining Mark," which has been running in The Advertiser for several weeks, appears today.

Tomorrow a new story, "A Heavy Penalty," will be commenced, and continue daily until completed. "A Heavy Penalty" will be found to be full of interest throughout—in fact, a much more interesting story than the one just ended.

A SHINING MARK

CHAPTER XXXVI.

It was a very quiet wedding; so quiet, and so soon after their meeting, that the world had not got over its astonishment at the announcement of their engagement before it was thrown into amazement by the news that they were married.

"Went off, arm-in-arm, as one may say, like a plowman and dairymaid, my dear, and got married at some old church near that place of his—Caresford—you know! And no one knew anything about it! I really and truly believe that there were no bridesmaids—I do, indeed!" said one fashionable lady to another. But although it was not quite so criminally private as this, it was very quiet indeed, and the society papers were kept quite as much in the dark as to the whereabouts of the honeymoon as they had been as to the wedding itself.

It was only known that the Earl and Countess of Carr-Lyon were "on the Continent," which, considering the size of the Continent, must be pronounced an extremely vague address!

In due course—that is to say, in the beginning of the autumn—a movement of preparation stirred in the huge ancestral home of the Carr-Lyons, and it was known that the earl and countess were coming to Caresford.

The country was just blazing out into its autumn splendor when they arrived, and the big place, with its deep-mullioned windows and castellated turrets, looked at its best; but its lord and master did not seem to pay it much attention. All his thoughts were centered upon the beautiful girl who sat beside him in the carriage, and whose hand nestled, with a lover's content, in his strong palm.

"Home, dearest!" he said. "Home at last!"

She turned her eyes from the big place, and let them rest upon his with a deep and tender happiness.

"How huge it is!" she said in a low voice.

He smiled, then he looked at her quickly.

"You think you will be dull, Kate. We can fill it with people, you know. The shooting ought to be rather good ..."

"Oh, no, no, no!" she murmured, nestling closer and closer to him with a piteous little entreaty. "Not this first autumn. Let us—let us have it all to ourselves this year, Desmond!"

His face cleared and he looked relieved.

"Of course!" he responded, with profound satisfaction. "Why, we are going to spend our honeymoon here, aren't we?"

"Honeymoon, you silly boy! Why, what have we been doing for the last two months?"

"Only rehearsing," he answered, as he pressed her to him.

So they two together spent the autumn in the big place; and, big as it was, did not find it too large or too dull.

"Home," he had said, and for the first time in her life Kate learnt the full meaning of the word. Long before winter had come—and yet it came so quickly, ah, so quickly!—she had grown to love every room and nook of the old place; to know every cottage and man and woman and child on the estate; had become so completely and entirely Lady Carr-Lyon of Caresford, that Desmond remarked one day with a laugh:

"Why, Kate, sometimes I am more than half-persuaded that you have lived here all your life, and that it is I who only came to it three months ago; and I'm sure," he added, eyeing her with that loving pride which always shone in his eyes when they rested on her, "that the people have that conviction. Wherever I go, and to whomsoever I speak, it is all 'Lady Carr-Lyon.' 'Will you ask the countess if she'll do this, my lord?' and 'The countess promised me so-and-so,' and 'If you please, my lord, will you remind her ladyship that she said as how we was to have a new roof to the cottage?' or 'The countess was so good as to say she'd send our Tommy to school.' Why, Kate, there hasn't been such a mistress of Caresford since my great - great - grandmother Matilda's time!" and he nodded at the portrait of the old lady alluded to.

"I can't help it," said Kate, with a suspicious moisture in her eyes. "How can I help loving them all when they are so good to me!"

"I see!" he said, leaning over her chair and turning her beautiful, girlish face up to him. "I see! Well, don't spend all my money and all your love on them. Save a little of the latter for one who needs it just as badly as they do!"

And for answer she twined her white arms round his neck and kissed him.

They filled the house at Christmas, and the society papers "ramped" — as Desmond called their enthusiasm — about the splendor of the place and the beauty and popularity of its mistress; but before the first of the guests came, the earl and countess paid a visit to Sandford.

They went by themselves, and were only an hour and a half in the place. They did not go to inspect the convalescent hospital at Lydcote, nor did they make a single call. But they walked from the station by a narrow path that led to the stone quarry. In silence they both stood and looked down at it, then turned and made their way to the town.

Passing through the street, they halted for a moment at a confectioner's shop, where, on a cold, bleak evening a certain homeless wanderer had shared his last coppers with a still poorer tramp and her little ones. Then they made their way to the churchyard and stood beside a grave.

It was not a monumental pile of granite, but a simple, little grave, upon which a single snow-drop was blooming: a type of the pure, white-souled girl who slept beneath. A marble slab at the head of the modest grave, and on it were inscribed the words:

"NELLIE.

"Faithful unto Death."

That was all.

Lady Carr-Lyon knelt down, and gently and reverently laid a wreath of Christmas roses beside the snow-drop; then, still in silence, and hand-in-hand they left the church-yard.

With remarkable regularity, at intervals of a month, Desmond received a letter bearing the Boulogne postmark.

It was never a long epistle, and its purport was always the same. It came from Major Meguon, and it never failed to remind Desmond that he was his son-in-law, and always contained a request that Desmond would send his poor father-in-law sometimes ten pounds, sometimes twenty, sometimes a hundred.

And as unfailingly the money was sent. What the major did with it remained unknown, until one month the usual letter did not arrive, but in its place a note from one of the major's "friends," stating that the gallant old gentleman had fallen a victim to — "a severe cold," which was the writer's polite phrase for "Drank himself to death."

Desmond went over to attend the funeral, and as he stood beside the grave and watched the men throw in the last spadeful of earth, he drew a long sigh, for he felt that with the old men who lay there was buried the last remnant of the bitter past; that the last shadow in his darling's life had passed away, and that nothing was left to darken the future which, with heaven's help, he would make bright for her as the noonday sun.

In due course came a young — a very young—guest to Caresford; one who was made very welcome: for indeed he was the son and heir.

"I suppose you'll call him Desmond, my dear!" said Lady Warner. "He's a beautiful boy, and wonderfully like his father!" which was scarcely complimentary to the earl, who stood looking with a half-smile of suppressed pride and joy at his first-born.

"Thank you, Lady Warner, but I've always noticed that a baby only continues to resemble his father while he is in all the splendid ugliness of his first youth; when he gets presentable, people exclaim at his wonderful likeness to his mamma. Oh, yes; we'll call him Desmond, eh, Kate?"

"Clifford Desmond," she said, in a low voice.

"Clifford Desmond," she said, in a low voice.

Later on came a little girl to keep my young Lord Clifford company, and again Lady Warner suggested the name.

"Of course, you'll call this angel, Kate!" she said, hugging the little morsel with all an old lady's effusiveness over the last-born.

"Of course!" said Desmond, and he glanced at his wife.

A faint shade passed over her pale, sweet face as she took the mite in her arms and bent over it.

"I only knew one angel," she said in a tremulous voice; "she shall be called after her."

No one spoke or inquired what that name was, for they knew she would answer—"Nellie."

HICKS PREDICTS FOR GRAY OCTOBER

Autumnal Storms, Thunder, Lightning, Some Frost

AND A SNOW FLURRY OR TWO

Fine Sunshiny Weather Sandwiched Between, and the Month Will Go Out Like a Lamb.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks, of St. Louis, predicts October weather as follows:

A regular Vulcan storm period is central on the 2nd, extending from the 1st to the 5th. The meteorological elements of our globe are still under the perturbing power of the autumnal equinox, and the moon passes quadrature, or first quarter to earth and sun, on the 5th. Change to warmer, with falling barometer and growing cloudiness, will appear in western parts as early as the 1st and 2nd. During Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the 3rd, 4th and 5th, these conditions will advance eastwardly across the country, causing rains and autumnal storminess over most parts lying along and near the paths of storm centers.

As a rule a series of active, if not severe, boreal storms, from the northwest over the great lakes, and from the northeast over the central and northern Atlantic, set in during the first storm periods in October. Such results should not be expected from the 2nd to the 5th of this month. Northwesterly gales, rapid rise of the barometer, clearing weather, with frosts, and some freezing northward, will follow close upon the rear of these storms.

Saturday, Sunday and Monday, the 7th, 8th and 9th, are reactionary storm dates. On these days there will be a decided return to storm conditions. Let it be clearly understood what is meant by storm conditions. Anti-storm conditions are a rising and high barometer, westerly to northerly winds, clearing and colder weather. Storm conditions are falling and low barometer, easterly to southerly winds, rising temperature and growing cloudiness. The reactionary storm conditions on the 7th, 8th and 9th will result in more rain and storminess, moving in storm centers like vast trains from west to east over the country. This reactionary period is in the oncoming Mercury disturbance, shown by the Mercury brace in the storm chart, and is apt to be attended and followed by thick cloudiness, mist and spurts of snow toward the north. Change to much cooler will follow these disturbances.

The next regular storm period is central on the 14th, covering the 13th to the 17th. This period is at the center of the Mercury disturbance, with moon at full on the 13th and in apogee on the 14th. Marked depressions of the barometer and other evidences of gathering storms will appear to the westward as early as the 13th, and during the days next following up to the 16th or 17th very decided autumnal storms will visit most parts of this and other continents. The great lakes, the Atlantic Ocean and high seas, generally along northern latitudes, will have a touch of boreal storms and weather, especially at the wind-up of this period. Autumnal lightning and thunder may come with the first stages of the storms, but gales out of the north, with severe dashes of sleet and snow, northward, may reasonably be counted on at this time. Navigators and shippers on the lakes should have an eye on the possibilities of this period. We predict that a sweeping high barometer and cold northerly gales, followed by frosts, will come out of the north and reach far southward at the close of this period.

The reactionary storm period, central on the 19th, 20th and 21st, coming as it does near the close of the Mercury period, will most likely take up the Mercury characteristics by prolonging the tendency to cloudiness, cold rains and sleet. About the 20th and 21st, naturally we should expect increased storm tendencies, followed very promptly by revulsions to rising barometer, westerly winds and change to much colder.

The last regular Vulcan storm period for October extends from the 24th to the 29th, being central on the 25th. The moon will be an active factor in the disturbances of this period. It passes across the celestial equator, going southward on the 26th, while on the 28th it is at its conjunction with earth and sun, or at new moon, being on the same day at its perigee, or nearest point to the earth. Change to much warmer, with a decided fall of the barometer, will be noted in western sections by the 24th and 25th.

REMEMBERED BY FRIENDS

Farewell Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. H. Tomlinson, East Nissouri.

On Thursday evening, Sept. 21, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tomlinson, East Nissouri, was the scene of a splendid gathering of neighbors and friends, who assembled to spend a pleasant evening with them before their removal to the far west. That they have won the good-will of the people of this district was clearly shown by the number of guests present, and their many expressions of good-will and their regret at the departure of such worthy citizens. The visitors voted Mr. W. W. Day to the chair, a position which he filled with his accustomed gracefulness and good humor.

The chairman then called Mr. and Mrs. Tomlison forward, and Mr. W. W. Day read a kindly-worded address, while the committee presented Mr. Tomlinson with a beautiful mantel clock, carving set and a cabinet of silver knives, forks and spoons, and a purse of $25; while the officers of the Ladies' Aid gave Mrs. Tomlinson a beautiful and costly comforter, as a slight token of esteem and as gentle reminders of the days spent in East Nissouri.

The address expressed the regret felt by Mr. and Mrs. Tomlinson's neighbors and associates that they had decided to leave their present home, though it was probable they had made a wise choice. It also voiced the company's best wishes for the happiness and prosperity of their hostess in the land to which they were going. The address was signed on behalf of the Ladies' Aid by Mrs. L. Payne, president; Mrs. W. Thurlow, treasurer; Miss Bele Payne, secretary; also by the following committee: W. Williamson, John George, Wallace Thurlow, William C. Namings and W. W. Day.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH RUBE?

Philadelphia's Great Pitcher Unable to "Get Them Over."

Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—Manager Connie Mack, of the Philadelphia American League baseball club, is considerably worried over the loss of the services of "Rube" Waddell, his big left-handed pitcher. Though the other pitchers of the team are doing excellent work, Manager Mack believes the championship pennant would certainly be his club's if Waddell could go into the box and pitch in the great form that he has maintained the last few years. Weddell retired from the game at Boston on Sept. 8, in the third inning, complaining of a sore arm, and he has not since been in a game, except for a few minutes. Yesterday he found he could not get the ball over the plate, and retired.

The club's physicians have thus far been unable to determine the exact nature of the ailment of the pitcher. Yesterday they took an X-ray photograph of Waddell's left arm and shoulder, and will make a close study of the case. They entertain a hope that they may bring about an improvement, and thus enable the pitcher to participate in the world's championship series, should Philadelphia win the American League pennant.

Signing of Peace Treaty.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 28.—The Russo-Japanese treaty will be signed early next week.

M. Witte had a long interview and lunched with Foreign Minister Lamsdorff today.

He will be received at Peterhoff and give the Emperor a report on the conference, but the treaty itself will be taken to Peterhoff by Count Lamsdorff, whose counter signature will complete the execution of the instrument.

The atmosphere is so clear in Zululand that objects can be seen by starlight at a distance of seven miles.

THE WEATHER TODAY—Fine and warm.

Millinery of Bewitching Beauty

Millinery Opening Continues Today and Tomorrow

It's really nothing short of marvelous how felts, velvets, silks, ribbons, flowers, birds, feathers, plumes, buckles, etc, can be fashioned into the wonderfully unique and beautiful hats—New York and Paris hats, and artistic creations of our own corps of experienced milliners—on exhibition in our Millinery Show Rooms. A display of bewitching beauty, reflecting in the various shades of the dull wood browns, the smoke grays, the olive greens, and the exquisite wine shades, the lovely autumnal coloring of the frost kissed foliage—a collection depicting the correct styles for this autumn and winter season—Our Fall Opening surpasses all previous showings, and everybody should make it a point to visit this fascinating center of attraction, either today or tomorrow. If you have already paid us a visit, come again and bring your friends, and stay as long as you like.

Time to Think of Blankets!

The last few nights have just been cool enough to make blankets very desirable additions to the bed coverings. But these few cool nights are merely hints of the cold, nippy nights to come, when "Winter is King" and the land is in his icy grip, when the freezing North Wind penetrates to the very marrow of your bones, when blankets are not merely desirable, but absolutely necessary—if you value your health at all. Our blankets are comfort producers—clean, soft, warm, woolly blankets, free from that disagreeable greasy odor possessed by many kinds. They were bought last spring before wool started climbing up in price—and it is still advancing. But we have no desire to take advantage of the present market quotations and make extra profits. Our Blankets are marked at before the advance prices. Compare them in quality, finish and price with others, and we are sure your verdict will be in our favor.

ST. MARY'S FAIR BETTER THAN EVER

A Large Attendance, Splendid Weather and Many and High-Class Exhibits.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Marys, Sept. 28. — The fall fair which closed here today was in every way the most successful exhibition ever held in St. Marys.

The weather was ideal, and as a result the attendance was large, some three thousand people passing the turnstiles.

In the number of exhibits the fair also made a new mark this year. The horse exhibit was particularly good, some very fine specimens of horseflesh being shown. The cattle exhibit was also well above the mark.

A special feature this year was the attention given to horse-racing. Several splendid events were pulled off. The track was in good shape, and the time in all the events was fairly good.

Old Tom Appleby, who has figured in racing events in Ontario for a number of years, was favorite in the 2:20 trot, but could do no better than second. A 3-year-old daughter of the veteran races succeeded in landing second in the 2:30 trot.

The gentleman's road race was keenly contested, and was a feature which was immensely enjoyed by the crowd.

2:30 trot:

Lena, Byron McCarthy, Thamesford	1	1	1
Miss Appleby, Thos. Porter, Stratford	2	2	2
Molly H., D. McLarty & Son, St. Marys	3	3	3
Lillie Ferguson, Smith Bros., Stratford	4	4	4
Tom Green	5	5	dr.

Time—2:33¼, 2:33¼, 2:33½.

2:20 trot:

Wilhelmina, S. Dunseith, St. Marys	1	1	1
Tom Appleby, Thos. Porter, Stratford	2	2	2
Young Corn	3	3	3

Time—2:33¼, 2:29¼, 2:29¼.

Gentlemen's road race, half-mile heats; best 2 in 3:

Florodora, J. Murray, Stratford	3	1	1
Bell of Chimes, Sam Dunseith	1	2	2
Gypsy Maid, R. McCarthy, Stratford	2	3	3

Time—1:33, 1:33, 1:20½.

High jumping race—1, entry of Jos. Walsh, Stratford; 2, entry of Mr. Petrie, Stratford; 3, entry of Mr. Petrie, Stratford. Best jump, 5 feet 6 inches.

Novelty race—Horses to be hitched to cart by driver and one assistant; walk first quarter mile, and go any way the last half-mile—1, S. Dunseith's entry; 2, A. Sheldon's entry.

Judges—Dr. Routledge, ex-M. P. P., of Lambeth; Christopher Walker, Alisa Craig, and W. F. Sanderson, of Rannoch.

The credit for the success of the fair is largely due to the efforts of Secretary Carman, who has been a most indefatigable worker. The hearty co-operation of President Meyhen, Mr. T. O. Robson, P. S. Armstrong and others of the directors have assisted him in making the fair one of the best agricultural exhibitions in Western Ontario.

TOO MANY FAIRS, SAYS MONTEITH

Minister of Agriculture Thinks That There Should Be More Consolidation.

Chatham, Sept. 28. — West Kent's Fair is over and the promoters, management, exhibitors and visitors have every reason to congratulate themselves. The closing day was highly successful, how ever one viewed it. The big event, of course, was the visit of the Provincial Ministers of Agriculture and Public Works.

The former, who arrived from the west on the 10:30 o'clock train this morning, was hailed with enthusiastic approval.

Hon. Mr. Reaume's French wit and grace stood him in good stead, and when he declared that he fully appreciated the necessity of good drains in Kent and Essex, and assured his hearers that he was willing to see that the garden of the west got its share, their enthusiasm knew no bounds.

Hon. Nelson Monteith stated that, though interest in county fairs appears to have waned to a certain extent, he was of the opinion that a revival of interest in these important exhibits could be instituted, and it was urgent that it should be, for such fairs had been the most potent agents in placing Ontario where it now is, in the front rank of the provinces.

"I believe there are too many fairs," said the speaker. "We should consolidate; take several centers in a county, and at each build up a good fair; then let them compete at the great fairs, and in this way build up their ideals. The young man who exhibits a colt may not get the first prize, but it stimulates him to emulate the example set him."

SWEET CAPORAL

CIGARETTES

STANDARD OF THE WORLD

THE SIGHT OF SIGHTS

Nothing to Equal Western Wheat Fields, Says Londoner.

Dr. and Mrs. R. Ferguson, of this city, have returned from a trip to the Pacific coast. They left home a month ago with a party of Londoners billed for Portland, Oregon. At Salt Lake City, Dr. and Mrs. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Elliott, of this city, and Mrs. Ballantyne, of Brantford, parted from the rest of the company, and took the new San Pedro route across Utah and Nevada to Los Angeles. After spending some days at this point, they returned through California by San Francisco, thence to Portland, Oregon, and the cities of the Sound.

The last two weeks were spent on the return trip from Victoria and Vancouver, via C. P. R. and lake steamers. Dr. Ferguson thinks the trip is well worth the fatigue incidental to it. The features which strike the tourist are the immensity of the mountain ranges, the weary stretches of intervening desert, the enormous areas occupied by the prairies and the wonderful engineering difficulties overcome in railway construction.

But in that journey of over 6,000 miles there is one sight which overshadows all others, and one impression deeper than all else, viz., the sight of the boundless prairies of the Canadian West and the enormity of their products. Day after day one saw only endless wheatfields, reaching out to the horizon on every side and literally studded with shocks of grain, among which the ceaseless hum of the thresher was heard on every hand. For the last three weeks an average of half a millions bushels of grain has been threshed daily in the west. A total crop of 100,000,000 bushels, it is estimated, will be safely garnered in a few days.

Dr. Ferguson thinks the Canadian West is bound to become the wheat granary of the world. There are homes for millions of people on its broad acres. The fertile prairies of the west will doubtless prove a main factor in contributing to the magnificent destiny which in the not distant future certainly awaits this young country. He says that much as he enjoyed his trip, the home-coming is the most agreeable part of it, and that in all his travels, he found no place quite as homelike and as desirable a place to live as our own Forest City.

STRONG DEFENSE OF JOE BENNETT

Witnesses Say He Was Miles From Scene of Murder

WHEN CRIME WAS COMMITTED

Braut Squaw Says She Was Offered Money to Testify in Bennett's Behalf.

Brantford, Sept. 28. — Three distinctly sensational features developed in the Bennett murder trial here today.

The defense brought out evidence from two witnesses to the effect that the accused man was with them a few miles from the scene of the tragedy between one o'clock and a quarter past two in the morning of the crime, and when it is supposed to have been committed.

Another witness, Sophie Peterson, an Indian woman, swore that she had been offered $5 by one Isaac Douglas to give evidence in Joe Bennett's behalf.

Just before the adjournment, Bennett himself took the stand, telling a story that agreed in almost every particular with the rest of the witnesses for the defense.

The proceedings lasted all day.

The crown traced the movements of the prisoner till 1 o'clock on the morning of the crime.

At half-past one, a man named Hotridge heard the shrill cries of Betsy Jacobs at the time she is supposed to have been killed. At 3 o'clock witness swore to seeing Bennett at the Rockstader home, near the Jacobs homestead. Bennett then was apparently drunk.

The story of the prisoner's flight was also told. The evidence for the crown closed about 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Elijah Kick and the woman who lives with him testified that the accused man was at the place of the woman's grandfather between 1 o'clock and a quarter past two, or the time when another witness heard the woman's cries. Bennett had made an appointment with Kick, according to the evidence. Both Kick and his woman had to have the assistance of an interpreter.

Bennett's story lasted for an hour and a half, and is still unfinished. He said he had thrown away the tell-tale letter found beside the body of the murdered woman. He also stated that he had been with Elijah Kick and his woman at the time mentioned. Bennett denied having passed the Jacobs homestead, but admitted it was likely he had been seen at 3 o'clock, but he was too drunk to tell anything then.

In the course of his testimony Bennett said he had served four terms for drunkenness and brawling.

He accounted for his flight by stating that he was going after some clothes, though when he saw the constables he thought they wanted him for fighting. It is thought that a verdict may be reached by tomorrow night.

PERKINS PLAYS A DOUBLE ROLE

Represents Both Buyer and Seller of Bonds.

J. P. MORGAN'S BOOKS WANTED

Chairman of Life Insurance Investigation Would Delve Into Great Financier's Business.

New York, Sept. 28.—George W. Perkins, vice-president of the New York Life Insurance Company, and a member of the banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., created a stir before the legislative investigation committee today when he objected to a request that he produce certain books of J. P. Morgan & Co., to explain some of that firm's dealings with the New York Life Insurance Company, in connection with the sale of Navigation Syndicate bonds to the life insurance company.

He said he would furnish copies of entries referring to the transactions in question, but preferred not to bring the books.

Mr. Hughes, counsel to the legislative committee, said loudly: "I shall have to require that those books be produced."

"All right," replied Mr. Perkins.

Testifying to the purchase of $4,000,000 of Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis bonds from J. P. Morgan & Co. by the New York Life Insurance Company, Mr. Perkins said he obtained the bonds at $40,000 less than the price stipulated by the life insurance company's finance committee.

Questioned by Mr. Hughes, Mr. Perkins said that in this purchase and sale, he himself represented both the New York Life Insurance Company as purchaser, and the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. as seller.

Testimony was given by Henry Rogers Winthrope, financial manager of the Equitable Life Insurance Society, to the effect that when the Navigation Syndicate, which turned out to be unprofitable, made calls for money on the George H. Squire trustee account for payments on account of syndicate participation, the money for the payments was obtained by borrowing $25,000 from the Equitable Trust Company. Of this amount, $27,500 has been repaid.

Mr. Winthrope said, in his opinion, the money advanced to the George H Squire trust account on this transaction was really the money out of the Equitable Life Insurance Society.

Another entry in the Squire trustee account, under date of May 2, 1902 was the first payment of $62,500 on a Navigation Syndicate call by James H. Hyde.

This money was borrowed from the Equitable Trust Company by James H. Hyde, on May 5, on the participation certificate.

Witness knew nothing of this, merely making the entries at the direction of Mr. Squire.

On Oct. 8, 1902, another loan of $75,000 was made from the Equitable Trust to cover another call on the

and on April 18, 1904, another for $7,500, to reduce the loan from the Equitable Trust Company, on account of the Navigation Syndicate, but when the dividends came in they were not credited to the George H. Squire trustee account.

This syndicate account is still running, and is carried on the books of the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

The John H. Squire trustee account loan is carried as a loan for the Equitable Trust Company, in the name of L. M. Bailey, the trustee.

Mr. Winthrope said the Equitable Trust Company holds the Equitable Life Assurance Society responsible for the loan, and that the account will be taken up in the name of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. The total sum borrowed on account of the Navigation Syndicate was $250,000, and on this $27,500 has been paid.

HUNGARIANS ON VERGE OF REVOLT

Austrian Army Held in Readiness for Instant Action—Crisis Is Serious.

Budapest, Sept. 28. — There is no abatement of the popular unrest. The Socialists gathered tonight in front of the Imperial Club, but the police prevented disorder.

Reports from the provinces show increasing support for the coalition parties.

The coalition leaders realizing the decided anti-Magyarian tendency of many influential persons, are losing no opportunity to strengthen their position.

Francis Kossuth demands the union of all Hungarian parties "for the defense of the Hungarian constitution," and it is believed that a private meeting of the deputies which has been called for Oct. 2, the day before the great convention, may formulate plans to secure such a union.

Vienna, Sept. 28.—Emperor Francis Joseph today received in audience Baron Fejervary, the former Hungarian Premier, and Count Golochowski.

Baron Fejervary's audience with the Emperor proved a failure, according to an Austrian authority close to the court.

The baron insisted upon a plan to defeat the Hungarian coalition by the introduction of universal suffrage, but his majesty was not willing to accept such a radical measure.

Baron Fejervary returned to Budapest this evening.

It is expected that the Emperor will call another statesman to form a cabinet and carry out his programme.

The next steps of the Emperor are awaited anxiously.

M. Polovi, vice-president of the Hungarian independent party, in an interview in the Freie Presse today attributed to German influence the opposition of the Emperor-King to the demands of the Hungarian coalition party.

He concluded with the threat that if Hungary can no longer find support among the Germans she must look in the direction of the Slavs.

It is learned that the position of Count Goluchowski, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, is so shaken that he will resign within a few weeks. Commanding officers of regiments in various sections of the country have refused leave of absence to officers until the situation becomes clearer.

FULFORD FLED

Member of Fire Department Proved To Be a Deserter.

Fire Chief Clark lost one of his men in a decided hurry this week.

About a month ago a man named William Fulford applied to the chief for a position. He explained that he had lived two years in London and was at the time working on a sidewalk gang for William Anthistle. The chief took him on, as he liked his looks. Fulford turned out to be a very good man. He was faithful and attentive to his duties, and was always ready to learn.

This week he handed his clothes to the chief and told him London was not large enough for himself and several other persons. The other persons turned out to be the military authorities. It appears that Fulford year term at Stanley Barracks, in Toronto, but grew tired of soldiering shortly afterward and deserted. The authorities did not know he was in the city until a week or so ago, and they at once got after him. Then Fulford heard of what was on, and he "flew the coop." He is said to be a married man, but his wife did not reside in London.

LONDON, FRIDAY, SEPT. 30.

The Hungarian Crisis.

The crisis in Hungary is becoming acute. Riots are occurring daily in Buda-Pesth, and the unrest is increasing in the provinces. The Fejervay cabinet, which attempted, with the sanction of the Emperor, to govern against a parliamentary majority, was obliged to give way, and a state of anarchy now exists. Francis Kossuth, the leader of the Hungarian Independence party, has joined with other leaders in a coalition which represents the aspirations of the Magyars, or Hungarians proper. The Magyars, though the largest race element in Hungary, are not a majority of the population, in which Slavs and Germans number several millions. The Fejervay cabinet proposed to introduce universal suffrage as a means of destroying Magyar domination. The Magyars were infuriated by this policy, and it is said the Emperor, who is also the King of Hungary, has hesitated to approve so drastic a measure.

The leaders of the coalition party demand, among other things, that Magyar shall be the language of command in the Hungarian army. A few days ago they made this request of the Emperor, who gave them an audience, but he flatly replied in the negative. Under the articles of partnership between Austria and Hungary, each country is autonomous, with the exception that foreign affairs, the navy, the army, customs and currency are administered in common. The Magyars aim at complete independence under the Austrian crown, though they do not at present ask for a severance of the commercial ties. The popularity of the Emperor has been hitherto the strongest tie in holding the discordant elements of the empire together, and it is by no means certain that the Magyars can rally the majority of the people of Hungary against him. The Magyars will probably think twice before they invite for their country the fate of Poland, for the alliance of Hungary and Austria is a bulwark against German and Russian aggression. The disruption of the Austrian Empire, which it is feared will follow the death of the Emperor Francis Joseph, would destroy the equilibrium of Europe, and the hopes of peace are fastened upon the maintenance of the status quo.

About Mr. Bennett

The leader of the Alberta Conservatives in the first provincial elections is Mr. R. B. Bennett, the young Lochinvar who came out of the west to give the effete east a thrill during the London and North Oxford elections. Those who mistook his barbaric yawp for the Voice of the West will have some interest in his public career which is now unfolding on the broad prairies. They will expect a man of such strong language to be a man of strong deeds when the opportunity offers to suit the action to the word. Mr. Bennett now has his opportunity. Occasion has taken him by the hand and made him the leader of a party. Is he carrying the fiery cross up and down the country, calling upon the wheat growers and the cattle punchers to rise in rebellion against a tyrannical government at Ottawa? Apparently not. According to the Edmonton Bulletin, the young lion is now roaring as gently as any sucking dove. Says the Bulletin:

"The fastest train which could carry him throughout the west reached Strathcona yesterday, four months out from Woodstock, Ont., and according to programme Mr. R. B. Bennett delivered an address in Ross Hall, Strathcona, last evening.

"Mr. Bennett's speech was probably the most politic of his life. Compared to the inflammatory language which floated up from North Oxford it was as the odor laden zephyr which plays among the clover blossoms, to the devastating 'twirler' which sweeps across the plains of Texas. His argument was as mild as the cooing of a turtle dove; his denunciations of the 'outrage which had been perpetrated upon the west by the hierarchy of Quebec,' became merely a violation of the 'intention of the framers of the constitution that the provinces of the Dominion should have co-equal and co-extensive powers'; his appeals to the Protestants of North Oxford to resent the encroachments of the Church of Rome had simmered down to a mild mannered protest against the 'Attempt on the part of the Dominion Parliament to project its mind' upon the people of Alberta, couched in words from which his customary virulent adjectives had been carefully weeded; while his references to the political misfortune of himself and his party were accompanied by an unwonted smile and made in a spirit of forgiveness to the perverse and erring electorate.

"It was apparent that Mr. Bennett had taken knowledge of himself and his circumstances and his speech was void of offense to his most ardent opponent. He sought the sympathy of his hearers by telling them he had been suffering from hay fever though the symptoms were those of a serious attack of 'cold feet.'"

Nowhere has Mr. Bennett declared what he would do with regard to the school system if he were given the reins of power. Apparently the canned rhetoric which he opened in London and Woodstock was not intended for home consumption.

Moving the Crops.

The movement of the western crop plays a large part in the economy of the country. There are four links in the chain: first, the rail route to the head of Lake Superior; second, by water to the Lake Huron and St. Lawrence river ports; third, by rail to tidewater; fourth, ocean transportation. In years of heavy yield, the chief difficulty has been encountered west of Lake [illegible] sometimes by the Northern has provided another outlet to the great lakes. The problem will be more serious east of Fort William. A correspondent of the Globe estimates that 20,000,000 bushels of wheat will reach the elevators at the head of Lake Superior before navigation closes on Dec. 5. The Canadian lake vessels can remove 2,000,000 bushels per week, but it is probable that several million bushels will go to Buffalo in American bottoms. The elevators at Depot Harbor, Owen Sound, Midland, Collingwood, Meaford, Goderich, Point Edward, Sarnia, Kingston and Prescott, have a capacity of about six million bushels, and this is considered adequate if the railways can supply the cars for transportation to Montreal and the seaboard. The ability of the railways to relieve the lake elevators is determined to some extent by the elevator capacity and the ocean steamship service at Montreal. Navigation closes at that port on Nov 20, and after that the wheat goes to St. John or Portland. Vesselmen estimate that Montreal can move out 7,000,000 bushels before the season closes.

The Canadian lake vesselmen, who last year carried grain for 1¾ cents per bushel, have raised the rate to 2 cents until Oct. 15, and 2½ cents after that. The result may be to drive a larger quantity of Canadian grain to Buffalo. This will relieve any congestion on the Canadian route, but it is desirable from every point of view that Canadian grain should go through Canadian channels. If this year's enormous crop can be handled successfully, it will prove that Canada is rapidly solving her transportation problems. With the addition of the Grand Trunk Pacific, there will be no necessity for reliance upon non-Canadian routes.

Hon. Frank Oliver recently judged a baby show, and has raised some doubts as to his ability as a politician.

The head of the fish trust at Erie, Pa., claims that he has tried to discourage poaching in Canadian waters. This is one of the season's prize fish stories.

The Doukhobors have taken a contract for the construction of a section of the Grand Trunk Pacific. The Douks are catching up with the country.

Lord Dundonald's assertion that entire regiments of Canadian volunteers would hold themselves in readiness for foreign service if paid a bonus, reveals an abysmal ignorance of militia conditions in Canada. But this isn't his first offense.

The million-dollar increase in the city's assessment this year comes on top of a million-dollar raise the year before. A great portion of the increase in the previous year was levied on old properties. This year it is largely caused by the building boom.

The Toronto News justly remarks: "It was well that the people should be educated in the knowledge that the disease (consumption) is contagious, but the process of education has overshot the mark, and has apparently produced an impression that the disease can be communicated by looking at a hospital building or a consumptive patient."

A large order for electric locomotives has been given by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway Company. They are to be used between New York and Stamford, Conn., with the general expectation that before long they will run to Boston. This means the elimination of the locomotive from New York city. Already the New York Central is putting in its electric system to extend some forty miles from the city. The Long Island Railroad is being converted to electric power as rapidly as possible, while the tunnel lines of the Pensylvania will be similarly equipped.

Dying in Harness.

[John Boyle O'Reily.]

Only a fallen horse stretched out there on the road,
Stretched in the broken shafts and crushed by the heavy load;
Only a fallen horse, and a circle of wondering eyes
Watching the 'frighted teamster goading the beast to rise.

Hold! for his toil is over—no more labor for him;
See the poor neck outstretched, and the patient eyes grow dim;
See on the friendly stones how peacefully rests the head—
Thinking, if dumb beasts think, how good it is to be dead;
After the weary journey, how restful it is to lie
With the broken shafts and the cruel load—waiting only to die.

Watchers, he died in harness—died in the shafts and straps—
Fell, and the burden killed him; one of the day's mishaps—
One of the passing wonders, marking the city road—
A toiler dying in harness, heedless of call or goad.

Passers, crowding the pathway, staying your steps awhile,
What is the symbol? Only death—why should we cease to smile
At death for a beast of burden? On through the busy street
That is ever and ever echoing the tread of the hurrying feet.

What was the sign? A symbol to touch the tireless will?
Does He who taught in parables speak in parables still?
The seed on the rock is wasted—on heedless hearts of men,
That gather and sow and grasp and lose—labor and sleep—and then—
Then for the prize!—A crowd in the street of ever-echoing tread—
The toiler, crushed by the heavy load, is there in the harness—dead!

Some of John Bull's Expenses.

[Leslie's Weekly.]

An idea of the cost of running a great nation may be gained from the statement that England's balance sheet for the last fiscal year shows an expenditure of considerably more than three-quarters of a billion dollars. The exact amount was £151,769,000. To meet this revenue were raised amount- "stationery and printing," and shows that three-quarters of a million pounds was expended on this item alone during the past year.

The Lazy Men.

[Pittsburg Dispatch.]

The men in New York no longer dance. Most of them have not learned the art and the rest don't care. The girls are simply frantic over the situation. When a youth is invited to attend a social affair of any kind he makes careful inquiries about the dancing end of the game. When he finds out that this is to be a feature he says "Good-bye!" He is willing to cut up a goose or sit out in the open air and sing songs or even go to the show, but he'll be dog-goned if he will dance with anybody. He is fast becoming so selfish that he will not even play cards with amateurs. There must be something new developed or the number of bachelors and old maids will increase.

Why Some Fools Succeed.

[New York Sun.]

Smart man, scorn not the woodenhead.
But stop a bit and think:
The vessel with a lumber load
Is never known to sink.

Rhymeless Words.

[Exchange.]

There are about 60 words in English that have no rhyme. As given in The Rhymers' Lexicon, by Andrew Loring, they are as follows: Aitch, alb, amongst, avenge, bilge, borne, breadth, brusque, bulb, coif, conch, culm, cusp, depth, doth, eight, fifth, film, forge, forth, fugue, gulf, hemp, lounge, mauve, month, morgue, mourned, ninth, oblige, of, peart, pint, porch, pork, poulp, prestige, puss, recumb, sauce, scarce, scarf, sixth, spoilt swoln, sylph, tenth, torsk, twelfth, unplagued, volt, warmth, wasp, wharves, width, with, wolf, wolves.

Inoring to Fraud.

[Wentworth Light.]

Here's a tip for the girls. It is said that by tying sandpaper around the ankle, a girl can produce the same effect as by buying an expensive silk skirt. The pieces of sandpaper rub together and sound like a $20 skirt.

The Massachusetts Mosquito.

[Roxbury Gazette.]

Ye lovers dejected
Because once rejected—
Unmanned by one veto,
Grown tired of existence,
Go—learn persistence
From the humble mosquito.

What marvelous nerve is Always at his service!
No obstacle fearing,
Unawed by fine laces,
Bright eyes or sour faces—
To his purpose adhering.

If the Japs were as daring,
As fierce and unsparing,
What foe could withstand them?
Not all the blamed Russians,
Turks, Britons and Prussians,
Though old Jove did command them.

For he brings to the combat
More lives than the tomcat,
The scent of the beagle,
A bulldog's endurance,
A giant's assurance,
And the beak of an eagle.

A Rural Romance.

[Lititz (Pa.) Record.]

In the woods near Kissel Hill, Henry Franke's cow was discovered with a tree as thick as a man's arm attached to her tail, or, rather, the cow's tail attached to the tree. From all accounts the cow must have been switching flies from her body when the tail happened to encircle the tree and the tail knotted. The cow pulled and pulled, and finally drew the tree out of the ground. She dragged it some distance, when it wedged among some bushes, and she was faster than ever. When found she was lying down and almost dead from exhaustion.

The Arrogance of Poverty.

[Washington Star.]

"I can remember when I was poor as you are," said Mr. Dustin Stax, patronizingly.

"Yes," answered the impecunious man who has been reading about tainted money. "But that is no reason for assuming that you are now my social equal."

How Cholera Operates.

[New York Post.]

The appalling rapidity of its progress has been one of the peculiar terrors of this disease. It is "a disease of hours, not of days." The pulse disappears, the face shrinks, the voice grows strange and husky, the skin becomes bluish, and the sweat cold, but after six to twenty-four hours, if the sufferer still lives, the temperature rises, the pulse returns, he sleeps. There is no specific. The treatment consists in keeping up the heart action, and trying to carry the patient past the crisis. The death rate has varied in past epidemics from 15 to 90 per cent. It is not, however, the ability to cure, but the ability to prevent, which has made the cholera no longer "worse than forty fights."

Cash Is Cold

[Emporia Gazette.]

Here is a good-fellowship story that is going the rounds: Give a man a 10-cent cigar and he will beam all over and love you for six hours; offer him the 10 cents with which to buy it for himself and he will throw it in your face. Give a man a pass to a show and he will call you a good fellow in all the languages at his disposal; offer him the money to buy a ticket and he will call you a fool. Ask a man to your home to take "pot luck" and he will jump at the chance; give him $2 and tell him to get a good meal at a cafe with your compliments, and he will knock you down. The dollar is mighty, but it isn't warm. Nothing chills hospitality and good-fellowship more than a touch of cold metal.

"I cannot speak too highly in praise of Smith's Buchu Lithia Pills, as they have done me a vast amount of good. For several weeks I suffered terribly from Lumbago, and expended a great deal of money in experimenting on a cure, but failed to find anything of merit until I commenced taking your pills. THE AUTOCRAT OF THE BREAKFAST TABLE.

Now, kindly mark me well, my friends, in what I have to say
Anent the coffee of this morn and that of yesterday.
That coffee served us yesterday was slaty-gray and flat,
And I who know the coffee plant know what is meant by that.
The berry grew indifferent from out impoverished soil,
Nor had the richness at its roots from which to draw the oil.
Or, if a bit of oil were stored, the roasting was not well,
And being charred the oil escaped from out each tiny cell.
And so 'twas tasteless, flat and tame, and I put in my kick;
And I am pleased that Mrs. Brown has changed her brand so quick.
This coffee has a brilliant brown, its body, too, you'll note;
Those little bubbles mark the oil—observe them where they float.
That means the berry had the best that sun and soil can lend—
'Tis CHASE & SANBORN'S growth, you know—a firm that's proud to spend
Its time and money on its plants. Care, curing, roasting, too,
Are just the best that expert hands, experienced long, can do.
And when this richness is unlocked by Nature's charm of heat,
You have the best that Nature gives,—a draught of cheer, complete
In every coffee attribute. Thus speaks your Autocrat,
And he, you know, was never caught a-talking through his hat.

THE SECOND DAY OF PARKHILL FAIR

Another Splendid Turnout to View the Fine Exhibits—Results of Racing.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Parkhill, Sept. 29.—The second day of the Parkhill and West Williams Fall Fair was held yesterday in the town of Parkhill, and to say that it was a success would hardly do the fair justice. The weather man was certainly in a very pleasant mood, the day being one of the finest of the season, which no doubt accounted to some extent for the large crowd present. All through the forenoon there was a constant stream of horses, cattle, sheep and poultry, pouring into the grounds, and when the hour for the judges to start work had arrived there were a very large number of entries.

It was not until the afternoon that the crowds came, and about 3 o'clock there was the largest gathering on the grounds ever seen at a Parkhill Fair. Everyone seemed to be in a happy mood and enjoying themselves. A rough estimate of the crowd present placed it at 4,000.

In horses there was a fine exhibit, especially in the heavy draft class.

Cattle were fewer in number, but of good quality

Sheep made a large class, and some choice animals were exhibited.

Hogs and poultry were choice, especially the poultry. G. and J. Bogue, of Strathroy, were the heaviest exhibitors, and carried off some 40 prizes. Wm. McNeil, of London, the veteran poultry judge, placed the awards. A. C. Hallman, of Breslau, was judge on dairy cattle and hogs, and J. Gibson, of Denfield, on beef cattle and sheep.

The usual variety of attractions were on hand, and all did a good business.

In the palace, the display would have looked better in a smaller building. Roots were not so numerous as at some fairs, but of good quality.

Apples and fruit of all kinds were not up to former years, as this an off-year in fruit.

In ladies' work, some exhibits were excellent, and some rather poor.

A very nice display of flags, painted by school children only, the Union Jack, Dominion flag, and Ontario coat of arms, were exhibited in the fine arts department, and were very creditable indeed.

The races were hotly contested, especially the free-for-all, which resulted as below:

Free-for-all, best 3 in 5—

Hazel Hal	1	1	1
Col. Hunter	2	2	2
Sydney Pointer	3	3	3

Time, 2:29¼, 2:30, 2:29¼.

Col. Hunter was beaten only by a neck in all three heats.

Green race—

Prince Edna	1	1	1
Ivanhoe	2	2	2
Russian	3	3	3

Pony running race, under 13 hands—

Randal	1	1
Cochrane	2	2
Atmore	3	3
Shaddoch	4	4

J. J. Donohue was starter, and Wm Jamieson and Charles Wilson judges.

The Forest Fife and Drum Band and the Musical Society Band, of Parkhill, furnished the musical part of the programme.

In the evening a splendid concert was given in the town hall to a large and appreciative audience, which no doubt swelled the receipts of the fair considerably.

The men behind the fair are: Wm. Boyce, honorary president; S. N. Allen, president; John Donohue, first vice-president; C. H. Wilson, second vice-president; T. L. Rogers, treasurer; John H. Laughton, secretary. Directors—R. Hutchinson, A. E. Taylor, P. Hord, S. Loomis, George Dignan, Edwin James, George Murch, John Barrett and W. F. Ross.

All were well pleased with the success of the fair and promise greater and bigger things in store for 1906.

ISLE OF SPICE CHARMS AS OF OLD

The Ever-Pleasing Musical Comedy Again Presented at the Grand.

"The Isle of Spice," B. C. Whitney's standard musical production, was treated shabbily by the people of London last night at the Grand. The audience was not one-half what it should have been, the only redeeming feature being that those who were present were lavish in their applause, and rewarded merit by enthusiastic recognition.

The cast was practically the same as when the piece was presented a year ago. In fact, quite a few were members of the original company.

From the rise of the curtain until the fall on the final act, there was not a dull moment, and those who witnessed the production had the satisfaction of going away with nothing to regret.

The music was the same as of yore, always catchy and sweet, and the lyrics, sung splendidly by capable vocalists, earned repeated encores.

Dainty Leslie Leigh, beautiful and winning, again sung the audience into a state of uproarious delight by her rendition of the ever-popular song, "Peggy Brady." The ballet work in connection with this number is away ahead of anything ever seen in London in any other company, and the hits of the past years were repeated last night. Nine encores were accorded Miss Leigh, and, indeed, she would have been singing the song until this minute if the audience had had their way. "The Goo Goo Man" again made a tremendous hit, the audience demanding repeated encores.

The production suffers none at the hands of time, and those who missed it last night missed a rare musical and scenic treat.

Bennett's Vaudeville again drew a fair house last night, and, as usual, the mind-reading act of Alfine and La Brant greatly pleased the people. The bill is an excellent one, and is worthy of the patronage of the best class of theatergoers in London.

Winnipeg, Sept. 29. — Miss Roselle Knott, the actress, who, in a courageous effort to keep faith with the public, had risen from a sick bed, utterly collapsed on the stage of the Winnipeg Theater last night and was carried unconscious to her dressing-room. Miss Knott was taken ill several days ago in Duluth, and has been resting ever since in order that she might be able to play here, where she has so many warm friends and admirers. Though feeling very weak when she reached the theater last evening, she pluckily went on, and for a time the charming performance of "When Knighthood Was in Flower," moved along smoothly to the delight of a very large audience. It was near the close of the second act when Miss Knott collapsed. She fell to the floor in a faint and the curtain was quickly rung down. Miss Anna Day, her understudy, continued the play.

"DOWN BY THE SEA."

"Down by the Sea" is the attraction that will be given at the Grand Opera House tomorrow. In engaging the company, Manager Hunt was careful to select actors especially adapted to the requirements of the characters, and the remarkable success this attraction has achieved is due to the liberal and elaborate manner in which the play has been staged. There are no individual stars in the make-up of the cast, but each actor contributes his share in the interpretation of the story. It will be seen at popular prices in the evening, and at the matinee bargain prices, namely, 15 and 25 cents.

This city is again included in the itinerary of the famous Pollard Australian Juvenile Opera Company. This clever troupe of 40 highly-trained youngsters is just now making its first tour of Canada, after a triumphant season in the great cities of Asia, in all of which the engagements had to be extended again and again to accommodate the crowds who wanted to witness the laughable and novel entertainments given by these diminutive artists. The same conditions prevail in this country, return engagements are now being played in all the Canadian cities. As a laughing show a Pollard performance is hard to beat. The company returns here on Monday next for five nights at the Grand Opera House. The opening play will be "The Belle of New York." The engagement is at prices ranging from 15 to 75 cents, including a bargain matinee on Wednesday.

BUSINESS MEN WILL LIKE THIS

Changes in Grand Trunk Timetable to Greatly Benefit Them.

The new timetable which goes into effect on the Grand Trunk at midnight on Saturday, brings a number of changes in the passenger train service, so far as London is concerned.

The changes are largely due to the placing of Brantford on the main line.

In the westbound service, No. 7 express will arrive from the Bridge at 4 a.m. and leave at 4:15.

No. 1 express from Montreal will arrive at 11 a.m. and departs ten minutes later.

No. 3 express (Lehigh Valley), will not arrive until 11:20 a.m., leaving at 11:32.

No. 5, Pacific Express, will arrive at 6:35 p.m., twenty minutes later than under the present timecard, and it will remain here until 8:10. The delay of the express is made to enable Port Huron and Chicago passengers on the International Limited to make direct connections, the Limited going via Windsor.

The Detroit Express, which has heretofore left at 11:17 a.m., will not leave until 11:25. This will still enable passengers on Nos. 1 and 3 expresses to make direct connections for Glencoe, Chatham and Windsor.

The International Limited leaves for Windsor at the same time as at present, 7:50 p.m. The afternoon accommodation will also leave on the present time, 2:20 o'clock.

In the eastbound service, several of the trains leave from ten to fifteen minutes earlier, owing to the additional mileage occasioned by going around via Brantford.

No. 8 express, for New York, now leaving London at 12:30 a.m., will arrive at 12:20 and depart at 12:25.

No. 4 express will leave at 3:25 a.m., instead of 3:35 a.m.

The morning accommodation, which since the last timecard was introduced has left London at 8 o'clock, will leave at 8:10, its old time.

No. 6 express for Buffalo and Toronto, will leave at 11:20 a.m.

The afternoon accommodation, No. 12, will leave at 2:05 o'clock, fifteen minutes earlier than at present. This train arrives from Windsor at 10:40 a.m.

No. 2 express will arrive at 4:10 p.m., leaving at 4:25. Passengers on No. 22 which arrives from Windsor at 4 o'clock, can make connections for the east on No. 2.

The Eastern Flyer will leave at 6:55 p.m., five minutes earlier.

The only change on the Stratford branch is in the time of No. 8, which now leaves London at 6:25 a.m. Under the new card the train will leave five minutes earlier.

Most important changes — changes which the business men of London will greatly appreciate—are announced for the local trains on the Sarnia branch. The branch will be worked from the Sarnia end, instead of from London. At present, a train for all points leaves London for Sarnia at 7:40 a.m., returning at 1:40 p.m. The afternoon train for Sarnia leaves at present at 1:55, returning at 6:25 p.m. Under the new card, the first train from the Tunnel and intermediate points will reach London at 7:55 a.m., returning to Sarnia at 8:30 a.m. The evening train from the Tunnel will arrive at 6:25, the same as now, but instead of laying here over night, it will return to Sarnia, leaving at 7 p.m. These changes will enable merchants along the Sarnia branch to spend the whole day in London on business. Should they desire a shorter time in the city, they can come on the trains reaching here at 11:10 a.m. or 4:10 p.m. These, however, only stop at Wyoming, Watford and Strathroy.

TWO CALLS ACCEPTED

At Special Meeting of London Presbytery—An Induction.

Rev. James Malcolm, formerly of Teeswater, was formally inducted pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Dutton yesterday. The Presbytery of London held a special session, during which several other matters were disposed of.

The session was well attended by members, and a very large audience was present to witness the induction. Addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Courtenay, of Port Stanley, and Rev. J. F. Scott, of Rodney. Rev. A. J. MacGillivray presided, and Rev. George Weir delivered the induction sermon.

Rev. A. H. Kippen, of West Lorne, received and accepted a call from Knox Church, Harrington. Mr. Kippen's term at his present station will expire Oct. 1.

Rev. Mr. Atkinson, a young licentiate of Wardsville, received the call to the pastorate of Appin and North Ekfrid, left vacant by the retirement of Rev. Alex Henderson, clerk of the Presbytery. Mr. Atkinson accepted the call, and the date for his ordination and induction was set for Tuesday, Oct. 31.

The session was brought to a happy close by refreshments being served by the ladies of the congregation.

BEER—McWATERS

Pretty Wedding Celebrated at Balmy Beach, Toronto.

A very happy event occurred on Wednesday at Avilion, Balmy Beach, Toronto, the summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McWaters, when their only daughter, Eleanor Tweed, was married to Edwin Charles Beer, M.D., of Brandon, Man., son of Rev. W. E. Beer, of this city.

Appropriate floral decorations for the autumn season were profusely in evidence, including a beautiful floral arch, directly under which the ceremony took place. The very charming young bride was given away by her father. The groom's father officiated. The bride was very prettily attired in white silk crepe de chine over taffeta, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses with lilies of the valley.

Lohengrin's Wedding March was played by Miss Wilson, of this city. Miss Wilson also sang "Calm as the Night" immediately after the ceremony. The wedding breakfast followed.

Dr. and Mrs. Beer will reside in Brandon, Man., and will take with them the very best wishes of a host of friends. They left Wednesday evening for their new home. Mrs. (Dr.) Beer wore an olive-green tailored costume, with velvet hat to match.

Guests were present from London,

DIOCESAN DEBT IS WIPED OUT

Pleasing Statement in Report Made at Synod Executive.

A DIOCESAN AGENT APPOINTED

Archdeacon Young Chosen for New Position at a Salary of $1,200 a Year.

His Lordship Bishop Williams presided at the September meeting of the executive committee of the Synod of Huron, which was held yesterday.

After the opening prayer by Rev. Canon Craig, the first business proceeded with was the election of a missions committee. Rev. W. Lowe and Mr. C. C. Hodgins were appointed scrutineers, and the following were elected: Rev. Canons Craig, Farthing and Brown, Messrs. Ransford, Bayly, and Henderson. The bishop subsequently added the following: Dean Davis and Rural Dean Ridley, Messrs. H. Macklin and F. Metcalfe.

The report of the finance committee showed all accounts paid and approved, and was adopted.

The missions committee recommended (1) that Mount Brydges, Melbourne and Christina be placed under the charge of the rector of Delaware, who should have the assistance of a student; (2) that action be again deferred regarding Ilderton, Glanworth and Belmont mission; (3) that no action be taken in regard to Hensall and Staffa; (4) that no action be taken regarding Watford and Brooke, except that $100 be taken from the assessment of Brooke and placed upon the congregation of Sutorville; that the assessment on Tilbury be $400, and that of Comber $300; that the loss sustained by the incumbent of Heathcote by the removal of Ravenna be made good from May 1, 1905, as the canon permits; that Point Edward be assessed at $200, and Clarke's Station at $75; that Euphrasia and Beaverdale and other stations be left in the bishop's hands to supply; that assessments beginning May, 1906, be left in the hands of the archdeacons.

The land and investment committee stated that the funds were inspected and found in a very satisfactory state. The amounts received and invested were also shown.

The report also showed that the diocesan debt had been practically wiped out, and the greatest satisfaction was consequently occasioned. The small remaining debt was more than covered by subscriptions as yet uncollected. The committee had, with the sanction of the bishop, appointed Archdeacon Young as diocesan agent, at a salary of $1,200 a year and necessary expenses. The report was adopted.

The committee on Indian affairs, and that on the pamphlet, explaining diocesan funds, reported progress, and were continued.

At the afternoon session, the report of Archdeacon Hill, bishop's commissioner, regarding the boundary lines between the two points of Windsor, was adopted.

Archdeacon Young, as diocesan agent, presented his report, showing marked increase in the amounts subscribed towards clerical incomes as the results of personal canvas. The archdeacon recommended the formation of a new mission at Hardy, Kelvin and parts adjacent, and that Otterville be reattached to Norwich. The report was adopted.

Canon Brown moved that the jubilee of the formation of the diocese, which would be 1907, be celebrated by the collection of a fund to increase the Episcopal fund, and asked for a committee. Carried.

Rev. J. Ridley moved that collections on the bishop's visits, when made for diocesan purposes, be credited to the parishes visited. The motion was adopted.

Rev. C. R. Gunne and three others asked for a committee to inquire into the case of a clergyman who was unable to discharge his duties owing to severe family affliction, with a view to affording relief. Carried.

A committee was appointed in accordance with a request, to look into the redistribution of the London surplus rectory funds. The committee was sought by All Saints' Church, of this city.

The vestry accepted the assessment, and asked permission to mortgage the parsonage at Southampton for $450, in order to consolidate the debt. Granted.

The report of the auditors, Messrs. Jewell and Booker, certified that the secretary-treasurer's books and ac-

THROWN AGAINST SAW

Serious Accident to Mr. Archie McTaggart, of Aylmer.

Aylmer, Sept. 28.—A serious accident befell Archie McTaggart, who was working at his mill here yesterday.

While employed on his saws, something gave way, and he was thrown against one of them with such force that internal injury is feared.

He was struck across the abdomen and since has had some hemorrhages. It is feared that the accident may be fatal.

PARIS GREEN IN THE CREAM

Girl Confesses to Putting Poison on Potato—Mother's Food.

Walkerton, Ont, Sept. 28. — Priscilla Beesau is in jail charged with trying to poison Mrs. Philip Strauss, of the B line, Carrick township.

Priscilla is a daughter of Peter Beesau, of Glamis. She is 14, and was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Strauss six years ago.

Recently Mrs Strauss, who is an old woman, fell sick, and a daughter was sent to look after her until she got better.

A few days ago this daughter told the Beesau girl to spread some cream on a slice of bread for her mother.

The girl did so, and the daughter was about to hand it to her mother, when, happening to glance at the piece of bread, she thought it looked dirty.

It was getting dark and she could not see very plainly, but becoming suspicious, decided not to give the bread to her mother, and soon after sent for Dr. McGue, of Formosa.

On examination the doctor discovered that paris green had been mixed with the cream. The girl, on being accused, confessed that she had put paris green in the cream.

Priscilla was arrested and brought before Judge Barrett. She pleaded guilty.

"I did not intend to poison Mrs. Strauss," she said. "I intended only to make her sick."

If someone does not come forward to take care of the girl, she will be sent to the Mercer Reformatory, Toronto.

STOCK MARKETS.

H. C. Begher, stock broker, next Free Press building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington today:

New York, Sept. 29.—Noon.—The money situation has now become definitely and directly the dominating factor in the stock market. Loans so far have been made at 5½ and 6 per cent. The market has been chilled, and there has been some liquidation. So far, however, the liquidation has not been heavy nor have the declines been serious. Commission houses as a rule are not extended. Speculation has been conducted to a large extent by rich people, who are confident that the country is now so prosperous that in the long run very much higher prices will prevail. A temporary stringency in the money market would not induce speculators of that character to part with their holdings. Belief is that money may rule for three weeks, and while prices may work somewhat lower, there will be nothing like a serious decline. Sales to noon, 219,600.

NEW RECTOR NAMED

Rev. S. P. Irwin, B. A. to Succeed Canon Downie at Watford.

Rev. S. P. Irwin, B.A., rector of the Anglican church at Waterloo, has been appointed by the Bishop of Huron to succeed Rev. Canon Downie as rector of Trinity Church, Watford.

Mr. Irwin will commence his work at Watford about the middle of November. He is a graduate of Huron College, and is among the youngest of the clergy in Huron diocese. His successor at Waterloo has not yet been named.

DOG TAX DELINQUENTS

Fourteen In Court—Warning for Future—Costly Fun on Ball Field.

A long list of offenders' names appeared on the police court blotter this morning. Fourteen delinquents were summoned for non-payment of their dog tax, nearly all of whom paid the assessment, and were thus let down gently. But future offenders of this kind will not get off so easily, as an additional amount will have to be paid in the form of a fine, to say nothing of the costs of court.

Four drunks were in the dock. Two were discharged; one, Josef Choquette, was remanded for a week, and another, Mike O'Brien, was fined $5 or 20 days. Joseph McGinnis was charged with assault by Harry Rollins.

Preston Beasly and David Mason, black and white, were the principals in a disorderly conduct case—the former as prisoner, the latter as witness. Preston's alleged offense took place in Tecumseh Park on June 24, when, in the excitement of the ball game, he and Mason got mixed up in a fight in which much strong language was used. Mason had his glad rags on at that game, and they suffered much in the melee. This was especially the case with his new hat, which was completely destroyed. Beasly came off with a black eye, as he called it, but as Beasly's are always of a dusky hue, the damage

NO "KNOCKING" GOING ON HERE

Hamilton Might Well Take a Pointer From London in Fire Matters.

Hamilton appears to be doing its best to wreck the efficiency of its fire department. Almost every day one of the papers tries to stir up strife and set the men against the chief, and strange to say, several of the aldermen appear to be hand-in-glove with the scheme of wrecking. The Herald, which is fighting for the efficiency of the department, says:

"Anyone who thinks that Chief Ten-Eyck would let Ald. Macleod or any other alderman or outsider run the fire department has another guess coming. He is chief, and recently he referred the firemen to certain of the rules without consulting the chairman of the committee. The chief has asked nothing that was exacting, humiliating or unreasonable of the men. All he wants them to do is to hitch up the horses twice a day, or often enough to keep them trained; to seek out a quiet corner when they want to snooze in the day time, instead of lying on the station floors or on the seats of the apparatus, in full view of the public; to acknowledge the greeting of an officer of the department, an alderman, or any other visitor. The statement that he expects the men to hitch up every time he enters a station is manufactured out of whole cloth. He simply told the men that instead of notifying them when he wanted a hitch-up he would press the button."

The Hamiltonians who are criticising their fire chief should come to London and see how Chief Clark manages the department. Every man is known by a number, so that when the chief wants anyone, all he does is press the button so many times. The men are not permitted to sit in front of the halls or around the front entrances. On Sundays the doors of all stations must be closed. No lounging on wagons is allowed. The men may smoke in the station, but not on the street, if they are in uniform. They must not enter saloons at any time.

And the men appear satisfied. Since he came to London the chief has had the wages of the firemen increased, they get more clothes from the city than formerly, and are better treated all around. But in matters of discipline, the chief is inflexible. A man might as well send in his resignation as fail to be on a wagon when it leaves the station for a fire. And the wagons wait for no man.

STAND BY CLAUSE SAYS SOLICITOR

Only Protection Council Has in Making New Agreement With St. Ry. Co.

Today Ald. Stevely and the other members of the committee appointed for the purpose waited on City Solicitor Meredith and asked his advice as to the clause in the Edward street bylaw to which the London Street Railway Company takes objection. Mr. Meredith's answer was brief and to the point.

"If the company is in earnest and intends to build the line, the clause will not affect it one whit," Mr. Meredith said. "It should remain in the bylaw, as it is the only protection the city has."

This means that when the city council meets tonight the mayor and aldermen will stand by the city solicitor's advice.

The company has so far evinced no disposition to change its attitude, and so unless something unforeseen happens, the construction of the Edward street line is indefinitely blocked.

The claim of the company is that it cannot in justice to its bondholders agree to forfeit all its rights in London if it fails to construct the Edward street line.

In case the company refuses to accept the bylaw, it will be called upon to build the Wortley road stub, in accordance with its agreement with the city.

This would be a bitter disappointment to the people of South London who have worked very hard to secure the new belt. But they are not so anxious for the belt that they are prepared to make an agreement with the company which they feel will not be binding. They are fully aware of the fact that if the city releases the company from building the Wortley road stub, there must be some penalty in the new bylaw to compel the company to build the Edward street line. All talk of the city compelling the company to build the line by resorting to law is laughed at. The people know that the law is very slow, and the best way to get the line is to place a severe penalty clause in the new bylaw. Then there will be no need for resorting to the courts, as Mr. Ivey suggests the city might do if the company refused to build the line.

London's New Lord Mayor.

London, Sept. 29.—Alderman Walter Vaughan Morgan today was elected Lord Mayor of London for the ensuing year. Mr. Morgan is a septuagenarian, a banker and a bachelor. He is a prominent Free Mason.

GEORGE DONNELLY GETS HIS DOSE

Two Months for Assault and Six for Vagrancy—A Liquor Case Fails.

George Donnelly will not assault anyone for some time to come. Extreme penalties on two different charges were meted out to him at the police court this morning—two months or $30 fine for assault, and six months in the Central Prison for vagrancy.

"If you suspend sentence this time you'll never be bothered by me again," said Donnelly.

"You have never done any good in London," said the court. "I've been lenient with you on former occasions, and do not intend to be so this time."

Donnelly served a sentence in the Central in May last, and since that time it was shown that he had no regular place of abode, and to the officers' knowledge he never worked. Booze seemed to be the cause of his indiscretions, as he was quite drunk when he assaulted Lewis Ludwig in the City Hotel.

"Will that two months run concurrently, your honor?" Donnelly asked, his familiarity with court expressions tending to show previous appearances in the dock.

In the case against Brammer Harrison, of the Boswell House, for selling liquor out of hours, Magistrate Love found insufficient evidence to convict the accused, although the officers were justified in bringing the defendant into court, because of the suspicious circumstances in the case. On the night of Aug. 6, which fell on a Sunday, P. C. Thompson and Sergt. Crawford heard a noise which they thought came from Harrison's bar. A light was shining in the bar, which in itself is contrary to the regulations. The bartender happened to be standing across the street at the time, and when hailed by the officers they demanded his assistance in entering the bar. The bartender opened the door, slid in himself and, according to the officers' statements, slammed the door shut after him. Though these were suspicious circumstances they were insufficient for a conviction, so the case was dropped. Mr. E. Meredith acted for Harrison. In disposing of the case the magistrate said that the bartender's action was entirely wrong, unless the defendant's explanation of the closing of the door was correct. This was to the effect that the door was pulled closed by a heavy weight attached to a chain on the inside.

PROGRESS OF ASSESSMENT.

The assessment of No. 3 ward was completed last night, this finishing the entire city as far as the outside work is concerned. The figures for No. 4 ward will be made public in a day or so.

CHINA INLAND MISSION.

The series of Bible studies given by Mr. J. H. McConkey under the auspices of the C. I. M., will reach its close with this (Friday) evening's meeting. This will be held in the Y. M. C. A. lecture-room at 8 p.m.

MONEY COMING IN.

The city today received a check for $2,500 for one-quarter's rental of the L. and P. S. R. to the L. E. and D. R. R., and also the sum of $649 15, for interest on the debenture issue some years ago to repair the road.

PRECOCIOUS SMOKERS WATCHED.

Complaint has been made to the police that a number of boys are in the habit of smoking cigarettes and cigars in Gerry's lumber yard on York street, and a special officer has been detailed to watch the place and arrest the offenders, as a dangerous fire is feared by the authorities.

SUIT AGAINST THE CITY.

Notice of an action for damages has been served on the city by John Watson, who claims he was injured through a defective walk on the east side of Colborne street, between Bathurst and Horton streets. Mr. Watson's claim was last night filed by the board of works, the engineer having reported that the city is not liable.

WOULD LICENSE BARTENDERS.

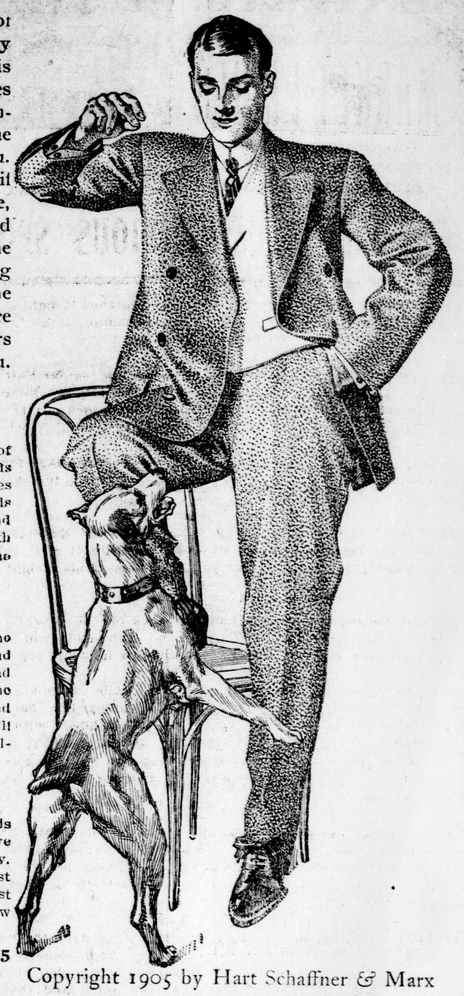

The Hamilton Herald says: License Commissioner Ex-Ald. Frank E. Walker has a new scheme. It is to license bartenders. He has remarked that nearly every time a hotelman is summoned for violating the license act, the blame is placed on the bartender. In order to keep a check on bartenders, Mr. Walker thinks that they should be compelled to take out a license, which could be revoked if they are found guilty of selling liquor after hours.

SOME FINE WHEAT

What was probably the finest specimen of wheat to arrive in London this season was purchased by Hunt Bros. this morning. It was grown by Mr. James Cook, of Littlewood, Westminster township. The brand is Niagara red and runs 64 pounds to the bushel. Mr. Cook sold at 73 cents, an advance of 4 cents on the regular price for

The Smartest Clothes at Popular Prices....

THERE'S a something about the cut of this clothing of ours that's pretty hard to describe in print, but that is in splendid evidence when a man tries a garment on. It's got a smartness, an individuality, about it that's lacking in the machine-cut clothes so generally offered you. It's a something that makes a man feel as if that garment had been made for him alone, that it wasn't just merely one of a thousand the same. You see that difference in the splendidly made shoulders, in perfect lying collar, in the smart new lapels, and in the general drape of the coat. It's a difference that's daily coaxing other stores' customers here; it's something we'd like to show you. Isn't it worth your while?

$15 SUITS.

Choose at this price from a magnificent range of fine imported fabrics in worsteds, cheviots, tweeds and cassimeres. The newest patterns and shades as well as special qualities in black clay worsteds and cheviots. These come in latest single and double breasted styles in 29 to 32 inch lengths, with center or side vents. Truly marvelous values at the price.

$12 SUITS.

In this range we show as many designs as some stores show altogether. The cloths are imported and domestic fabrics in the very newest designs and colorings. The coat styles are identically the same as in the highest-priced suits, both single and double breasted models in the correct lengths. You'll see suits at this price you'd willingly give fifteen dollars for.

$10 SUITS.

Never before have we shown as good suits at this figure. It's one of our most popular prices and we've outdone the best you've ever seen at this money. Splendid imported and domestic cloths in the latest designs in stripes and overplaids, etc., and the newest shades of brown, olive, gray, etc. Handsome new single and double-breasted coat styles.

In Young Men's Suits we've a range of 75 patterns, ranging from $5.95 to $20 the suit.

NEWSBOYS ARE HAPPY.

Groups of newsboys were heard yesterday discussing the complimentary performance to be given them by Manager Turton, of the Grand, and Mr. Joseph Muller, business manager of the Pollard Juvenile Opera Company, on Monday night next. The boys will receive their tickets from both local newspaper offices. They will enjoy the "Bello of New York," which is to be produced Monday night.

DEATH OF J. C. BURGESS.

The death is announced of Mr. John C. Burgess, of this city, who passed away yesterday at Mount Brydges, in his 53rd year. Mr. Burgess was a native of Mount Brydges, where he spent the earlier years of his life. He subsequently went to Burford, residing there until four years ago, when he moved to this city. Deceased leaves a wife and one brother, and two sisters, the latter being Mrs. Charlee Tilden, of Mount Brydges; Mrs. John Terryberry, of Woodstock, and Ed Burgess, of this city. The funeral takes place on Sunday at 1 p.m. from the residence of his father-in-law, Mr. George Simpson. The remains will be interred at Mount Brydges.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONCERT.

The Owen Sound Sun of the 26th inst. says: "Perhaps the most pretentious Sunday School entertainment ever carried out in Owen Sound was that given by 100 scholars of West Street Methodist Church in the town hall last evening. The production was under the direction of Miss Amy L. Doty, of London, Ont., and that such an elaborate entertainment should be gotten up with only two weeks practice, is a matter of some surprise. Fully 600 persons crowded the hall and many were compelled to stand. The programme was a success from every standpoint and each number had some novel feature that called forth applause. The chorus of 100 young voices was very effective. * * * Financially the concert exceeded the highest expectations of those interested, upwards of $80 being cleared over all expenses. Miss Doty leaves today to take charge of a similar entertainment at Listowel. She has engagements of this kind booked ahead up to next

BARRACKS FORCE GOES TO HALIFAX

Entire Company To Report There for Garrison Duty on October 10.

The authorities at Wolseley Barracks received orders from the militia department this afternoon to have the entire force of No. 1 Company report for duty on the 10th of October.

A natural theater, that is to say, a theater in the open air, will be established at Champigny, near Paris. It will be remembered that the ancient amphitheaters at Arles, Benziers and Nimes have been reopened, and the plays are attended by large crowds. In to bring gifts of fruit and flowers, which will be presented and received at the church chancel, afterwards distributed to the sick, the hospitals and various institutions of the city, the rector and Mr. Carlisle giving addresses. In the evening the rector is to take up a great question and its results in the daily life.

AMOR—BATTENSBY.

Very many attended the Memorial Church on Wednesday evening to witness the marriage of Mr. William J. Amor, to Miss Harriett (Dollie) Battensby, both of this city. Rev. Dyson Hague officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, Mr. William Battensby, looked beautiful in a suit of navy blue broadcloth, with a white picture hat. Mr. William Battensby, jun., brother of the bride, acted as best man, while the bride was supported by Miss Mamie Brodison. After the ceremony the party adjourned to the home of the bride, 843 Lorne avenue, where the wedding breakfast was served. The number of handsome and useful presents went to show the high esteem in which the happy couple are held.

SNAP-SHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS.

Young Corbett and Mike Ward have been matched to fight at Detroit soon. They are fighting for the "dead ones'" championship. Mike looks a little the better for the clash.

Sep Dumoulin and McKeand have been doing a regular Patti farewell act, and have once more donned the padded garments for the final performance. Some one must have told them that they were needed pretty badly by the Tigers. Hamilton papers are rejoicing somewhat over the fact.

McClarys play the Irish Nine at Lucan on Saturday for the county championship. The foundrymen will have to go some to beat the Irishmen, as they play fast ball.

Joe Walcott threatens to defend the welterweight championship with one hand, the other being put out of business by a pistol shot some time ago. When he was right, no pugilist within 10 pounds of his weight could handle him

They are betting even money in New York on the world's championship series between the Giants and the Athletics. The odds will be slightly in favor of McGraw's Mugs, providing that the Sox land the rag.

Jockey Arthur Redfern met with an automobile accident, which means his retirement as a rider for the year. While rolling his car along Kings Highway, en route to the race track, Redfern collided with a motorcycle and sustained a fracture of the right arm. He was removed to his home. He was one of the best riders on the eastern tracks. He might have stayed with the runners, and not monkeyed with a benzine buggy. The former are dangerous enough.

Herman Long, the great shortston of the Boston Nationals, when they were champions, has been offered the position of captain of the Boston crowd for next year, and will likely accept. The Dutchman has been with Des Moines all season. Guess they can't expect the National League pennant in Boston next year.

The Tiger executive are working overtime these days throwing the harpoon into the O. R. F. U., of which one of their most esteemed members is president. The Tigers are trying to create the impression that they are always getting the short end of it from the union and that the Toronto teams are sitting up nights devising schemes by which they can cheat Hamilton out of the championship. The Tigers had two representatives at the meeting which adopted the schedule of the senior series, and they were quite satisfied with the arrangement of dates. The Hamilton delegates had their say and their wishes were acceded to in many respects. Instead of threatening to withdraw from the series—which practically denotes a lack of confidence in their own representatives—the Tigers, as senior champions, should turn in and lend every assistance in their power to the union and its capable president, so as to make the season a success. As for the Toronto clubs, it might be said that they at least respect the rulings of the committee. Any kicking they have to do is done on the field.—Toronto Star.

It is just possible that Stansbury, the champion sculler, will row Eddie Durnan in Toronto next July for the world's championship. It is to be hoped it comes off, as the sculling game would boom in Canada if it were so.

The Eastern League had a good season this year, and every team but Toronto quite money ahead. Toronto ought to lose more on that outfit. It was a shame to entice people to the park to attend a ball game when such a team was performing.

The Toronto papers are still talking about the fast time made at the matinee last week, when a half was covered in 1:08½. They ought to come up here, where we have real fast horses. They step in 1:06 every day or so around here, and there are several that can beat that, too.

A calm prevails over the east since Artful and Sysonby have not been matched for two days. The space-fillers will have to get busy or they will lose their last remaining chance. There will be no race this year.

The Pittsburg Pirates lost what little chance they had to land the National pennant when they fell down hard with the New York Giants for three games. They did not look like champions in that series.

Some day this week Al Kaufmann, the heavy-weight pugilistic phenom from the west, hooks up with a professional named Foley. A line on his ability will be given in this go, and it will then be seen whether he is of championship caliber or not.

No-hit games are quite the fashion in the American League this year. Henley, of the Athletics, shut the St. Louis team out without a hit. Smith, of the White Sox, did the same thing to Detroit, and now Bill Dineen hands the same dose to the Chicago bunch. Not a man reached first after the second inning, and not a man saw second after the first. Two bases on balls in the first inning caused that.

They are betting very freely in some quarters that the White Sox will land the American League pennant. The chances are against them, although they are living down their reputation as a poor road team. However, Connie Mack's row is somewhat hard to hoe at present, as the Rube is not in good shape, as shown by his attempt to pitch Wednesday against Detroit. Even at that the Athletics look the best.

At a meeting of the game commission of Ontario, held yesterday afternoon at Windsor, it was decided to abandon the open season for quail in the Province of Ontario for the present year. The action was a substantiation of an order-in-council passed a couple of weeks ago at Toronto. Later a petition was presented by certain sportsmen to have the order-in-council reconsidered.

The game commission consists of H. S. Osler, chairman; S. Buchanan, Marshall Graydon, J. E. Thompson, and W. H. Casement, as well as Game Wardens Chief Tinsley, J. H. Wilymont, J. A. Gill and D. W. Doyle, all of whom were at yesterday's meeting. Plans were discussed for the protection and preservation of game, and it is likely that the meeting will result in a number of suggestions to the Legislature next year. A number of prominent sportsmen of Essex and Kent counties attended the meeting.—Detroit Free Press.

Audubon Boy tried to beat the world's pacing record at Belmont Driving Park, but failed very badly. He drew up lame after the effort. Sweet Marie tried to break Cresceus' track record of 2:04½. The best she could do was 2:05. She does not appear able to clip much off her record.

COVERPOINT.

TO SHOOT FOR CUT GLASS AT SPRINGWOOD

The semi-monthly shoot of the Springwood Gun Club will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock sharp. There are four events on the programme, including three events of fifteen targets each, one prize to be given in each. The prizes are cut-glass olive dishes. The other event is the La Fama trophy shoot, and is the last chance for those who have not competed for the trophy this month. The race for this event is very close between eight or ten of the members and it is hoped that a large number will be present on Saturday.

IT RETAINS OLD AND MAKES NEW FRIENDS.—Time was when Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil had but a small field of distribution, but now its territory is widespread. Those who first recognized its curative qualities still value it as a specific, and while it retains its old friends it is ever making new. It is certain that whoever once uses it will not be without

THE FAST ROOKER HAD NO TROUBLE

Won the 2:08 Pace at Cincinnati in Straight Heats, With McEwen Up.

Cincinnati, Sept. 28.—The free-for-all trot was the feature at Oakley Park today. In the first heat Dr. Strong broke badly at the half mile. Wentworth and Snyder McGregor fought it out all the way around, the latter winning by a neck. Dr. Strong finished third, ten lengths behind. In the second heat the three horses raced together until the stretch turn, where Dr. Strong again broke. Snyder McGregor came with a rush at the end and won by half a length from Wentworth.

Main Sheet, the favorite, won the 2:18 trot in straight heats from Maud Maxine.

Texas Rooker, the heavily-played favorite in the 2:08 pace, had no trouble winning in straight heats.

Yesterday's unfinished 2:15 pace went to Kruger, the favorite. Track fast. Summary:

THE JUNIOR TEAM IS VERY STRONG

"Billy" Rowlands Will Have Good Bunch Behind Him at Sarnia.

The juniors are out to win on Saturday at Sarnia. The lineup, which is given below, looks formidable, and compared to last year, when the team made such a splendid showing, it shows a decided improvement. Thomson, Whetter and Towe are unable to get away, but their places have been taken by good men. The wing line is particularly strong, not containing a single weak point. The back division will give a good account of themselves. It is expected that a large number of enthusiasts will follow the boys to Sarnia. Wear the black and white and carry a fog horn. The train leaves the Grand Trunk at 11:10 a.m.

The lineup of the juniors will in all probability be as follows:

Full back	Jackson
Left Half	Canfield
Right half	Alexander
Center half	Willis
Center snap	Morrison
Quarter	Macgregor
Wings, Rau, Carmichael, Tierney, Watson, Vining, Rowlands (captain).

TEN TO ONE SHOT TOOK TRIUMPH STAKES

New York, Sept. 28.—The Triumph stakes, for 2-year-olds, 1 mile, the first of its kind to be run in the east, was won in a drive by the 10 to 1 shot, Lotus Eater, in 1:40 at Brighton Beach today. Anodyne was second and Hamilcar third. The Whitney entry, Battle Axe and Midas, was favorite at 7 to 10. Inquisitor was next at 3 to 1, while 10 to 20 to 1 was laid against the other starters.

The start was good and O'Neill at once sent Midas to the front, followed by Battle Axe and Lotus Eater third. In the run down the back stretch Midas was leading by two lengths from Oaklawn, who raced into second place a head before Battle Axe. Three-eighths of a mile from the finish it looked as if the stable would run one, two, but at the turn into the stretch all the leaders stopped and the trailers closed, and in a hard drive Burns landed Lotus Eater a winner by one and a half lengths before Hamilcar, who in turn was four lengths in front of Battle Axe.

Jockey Diggins was suspended by the stewards for the rest of the meeting for his ride on Toots Mook several days ago. Kiamesha was the only winning favorite.

MARLBOROS LOSE POINT; CHARLTON FOR BERLIN

Toronto, Sept. 28.—Toronto will lose one of the best hockey players it has known for some time in the removal of Pete Charlton to Berlin.

Mr. Charlton has played point for the champion Marlboros for the past two seasons, and next winter will throw in his lot with the Berlin team.

He will likely play coverpoint for this aggregation, which will, it is said, play senior this year.

Charlton will be an acquisition to the team. He is without exception one of the best defense men playing the game at the persent time, and his place will be hard to fill on the Marlboro lineup.

Charlton was responsible in more than one match for the majority of the goals scored by the champions, his rushes from end to end telling against the opposing teams.

He will make his home in Berlin, and will join the staff of a shoe company.

Young Men's Swagger Clothes.

OUR STOCK of Young Men's Clothes is larger this year than ever before; the styles are the nobbiest that we ever received from our factory. The new "Goodwood Sack" for young men that our designers have been perfecting for the past eight months, is now ready for your inspection. The styles differ from that shown last season--the coats are longer, the collars wider, the shoulders broader; some are shown in the form-fitting style, others are the straight back.

The styles are identical with the very latest New York creations and the fabrics used are the celebrated woolens imported by us from the largest manufacturers in the world, such markets as Leeds, Huddersfield and Scotland.

YOUNG MEN'S SWAGGER SUITS, $7.95.

They come in single and double-breasted sacks, 29 to 31 inches long, with broad shoulders, form-fitting backs, with side or center vents. The shades come in fancy brown, olive and gray mixtures. Special..... $7.95

ANOTHER GOOD DAY AT WINDSOR

Fields Large and Well Balanced—Finishes Close—Two Favorites Won.

Windsor, Sept. 28. — A good programme and another large crowd was on hand at the race track today. The fields were larger than usual, were well balanced, and close and exciting finishes the order of the day. It was a poor day for favorites, but two landing the money. These were put over in the third and fourth races. Don Domo, that made such a strong finish for place Tuesday, winning easily, and Jungle Imp winning in sensational fashion in the fourth. Summaries:

First race, maiden 3-year-olds and up, allowances, 7 furlongs—Chanida, 112 (Obert), 6 to 1, 5 to 2 and 6 to 5, won by a neck; Parnasa, 112 (W. Doyle), 3 to 1, 6 to 5 and 3 to 5, 2; mond, Hawtry, Hindoo Prince, Judge Nolan, Buck Knott, Wabana, Gemini and White Oakes also ran.

Second race, 5 furlongs, 2-year-olds, selling—Miss Anxious, 110 (M. Preston), 2 to 1 and 7 to 10, won by a neck; Daring, 97 (Obert), even and 10 to 3, 2; Chief Archibald, 93 (Swain), 5 to 2, 4 to 5 and 2 to 5, 3. Time, 1:13 3-5. Dalzar, Little Mike, Little Rose China Alley Orpen Honest Dick and Sweet Flavia also ran.

Third race, 7 furlongs, 3-year-olds and up, allowances—Don Domo, 103 (M. Preston), 2 to 1, 4 to 5 and 2 to 5, won by four lengths; Ora Viva, 102 (Lee), 3 to 1, 6 to 5 and 3 to 5, 2; Peter Paul, 11 (Freeman), 3 to 1, even, and 10 to 2, 3. Time, 1:26 1-5. Christine A., Ruby Ring, Pipe and Brushton also ran.

Fourth race, 1 1-8 miles, 3-year-olds, selling—Jungle Imp, 97 (Swain), 5 to 2, even and 1 to 2, won by a length; Jehane, 106 (Munroe), 4 to 1, 7 to 5 and 3 to 5, 2; Little Giant, 107 (Jenkins), 7 to 2, 7 to 5 and 7 to 10, 3. Time, 1:55 1-5. Colonist, Bernie Creamer, Watermelon, Lee King and Trepan also ran.

Fifth race, 6 furlongs, 3-year-olds and up, selling—Blumenthal, 98 (J. Barrett), 4 to 1, 8 to 5 and 4 to 5, won by a neck; Highland Fling, 95 (Obert), 2 to 1 and 7 to 10, 2; Capitano, 97 (Swain), 3 to 2 and 1 to 2, 3. Time, 1:14. Annie Davis, Miss Cornet, Sarner, Mon Amour, William Wright, Any Way and Kings Co. also ran.

1, 2 to 1 and even, won by a head; King of Valley, 107 (Foley), 2 to 1 and even, 2; Lord Hermence, 105 (Munro), 11 to 5, even and 1 to 2, 3. Time, 1:41 3-5. Girl From Dixie, Ink, Brry Wadell, No Trumper, Morendo, Lady Mistake, Benckart, Reveille, Ericula and Molo B. also ran.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL MEETING ON MONDAY

The annual meeting of the City Association Football League will be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening at 7:30. The schedule for the fall season will be arranged and all organizations desirous of entering a team to compete for the McCutcheon trophy are requested to send a delegate to this meeting. The trophy was won last year by the city team, who will doubtless be prepared to defend it against all eligible competitors during the present season. It is expected that teams from the Medical College, Barracks, Y. M. C. A., city, Collegiate Institute and other institutions will compete in this season's games.

GAME WITH THE "GIRLS" SOMEWHAT OF BURLESQUE

The Boston Bloomer Girls defeated McClarys yesterday by a score of 6 to 3. The game was somewhat of a burlesque, only a few plays of any account being made. The team consists of six "girls" and three men. The latter are a catcher, shortstop and a third baseman. The latter pitched the last half of the game. The men are fair ball players, the catcher being worthy of special mention. His throwing to second was fast and very accurate. Maud Nelson, the girl pitcher, is good. She handles herself like a real ball player. She has good speed, and a fine curve ball. McClarys did not make many hits off her delivery. "Fat" Earley made a three-base hit and Steel a two-sacker.

At the first of the game McClarys shifted their team, with Jackson pitching. The Bloomer Girls ran up four runs in the four innings, and then Phillips pitched. They made two runs off the southpaw in the sixth. Miss Day, on first, put up a fine game in the field. The girls could not bat a little bit. One man batted at least twice every inning. A good crowd witnessed the game. The "girls" carry a band with them. This band murdered music at intervals all afternoon. The crowd spent most of the day trying to figure out which were girls. They all looked alike.

ACTION DISMISSED

Defense Wins in Action of Baltram vs. Royal Arcanum.

The action brought by Mr. W. H. Bartram, of this city, to restrain the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum from "enforcing increased contributions" has been dismissed by Justice Street, at Toronto, who holds that the changes made were necessary and within the power of defendants properly effected, and therefore binding on the members of the order.

Mr. Bartram stated to The Advertiser today that he could not say anything as to whether the case would be carried to a higher court until he has seen the judgment.

"The whole matter will be threshed out in the United States courts, anyway," he said, "no matter what is done in Canada."

Subsequently a very pleasant programme of songs and music was carried out. Supper was served during the evening.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN DEAD.

Col. Frank Noble, a veteran of the civil war, and manager of the London Foundry Company, passed away at the family residence, 261 Talbot street, on Wednesday evening. The late Col. Noble was born in Ohio over 60 years ago. As a young man he enlisted in one of the Union regiments, when war broke out, and he saw much active service. His enterprise advanced him to the rank of colonel. For some time subsequent to the war the deceased resided in Rockford, Ill., and in 1883 came to this city, where he was in the employ of the Wortman & Ward Company for several years, as bookkeeper. Messrs. David Cowan, Whittier and Col. Noble in 1888 formed the London Foundry Company, and the latter was connected with this firm as manager, until his death from Bright's disease

RAILWAY CLAIMS AGENT IS DEAD

Oldest Official of the London Street Railway Company Passes Away.

The death occurred at his late residence, 588 Dufferin avenue, last evening, of Mr. Harry T. Smith, claims agent of the London Street Railway Company, and former superintendent of the road. He had been ill since Sept. 12, and was confined to his bed for a week.

The late Mr. Smith was born in London, Eng., 66 years ago, coming to Canada, together with Mrs. Smith, when he was 24 years of age. The couple settled in St. John, N. B., and a few years later they removed to London. They had resided 36 years continually in the Forest City.

Mr. Smith had a varied and honorable career. In 1866 he served his country in the Fenian raid. When he came to London he drove the first street car ever run in the city, later working up to the position of superintendent, which he held for very many years. He was a consistent member of the Memorial Church congregation ever since the inception of the church. He was also prominent in the Sons of England, the A. O. F. and St. George's Society. He is survived by a brother in the old country, a widow and the following children: Henry Thomas, of Toronto; William J. and Edwin, of this city; Mrs. Frank Plant, of Ottawa; Mrs. W. H. Robinson, of London, and Miss Minnie at home.

The funeral will be held on Sunday to Woodland Cemetery.

BOARD TO VISIT FRONT STREET

Will See If Mr. Wills' Plan to Divert River Course Is Feasible.

The board of works met last night, and after hearing Mr. Wills, of Front street, outline his plan for the protection of the people of that street from the ravages of the river, as outlined in last evening's Advertiser, decided to visit the locality on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock to see what can be done in the matter. Mr. Wills' plan is for the city to buy the strip of land which lies between the river and Trafalgar street, and between the Port Stanley Railway bridge and the bend in the river on the west, and to divert the course of the Thames.

The tender of Fred T. Harding for the construction of a sewer on St. George street, from St. James to Sydenham streets, was accepted at $620, and 38 cents a foot for side drains.

The board accepted the recommendation of the city engineer, and decided that it is inadvisable to construct this year a sidewalk on the south side of Grosvenor street, between Waterloo and Wellington streets. The walk had been petitioned for, and the bylaw has been passed, but the city has found it imperative to call a halt in the making of permanent improvements.

The claim for damages presented by a man named Watson was filed on the engineer's recommendation. Mr. Graydon stated that the walk on Colborne street, where Mr. Lee claims he was injured is not in a dangerous condition.

The board complimented Harry Merritt on the condition of the city hall boilers, the inspector having reported them to be in first-class shape.

The committee will visit Egerton street near the Hamilton road on Saturday afternoon, with a view to seeing what can be done toward putting down a sidewalk for the congregation of Egerton Street Baptist Church.

Chairman Forristal, Acting Mayor Stevely, Alds. Gerry, Garratt, Wyatt and Secretary Bell were present.

Company and City Split on Forfeiture Clause

Railway Will Not Agree to It in the Edward Street Bylaw.

Accusation Made That Company Does Not Want to Build the Line.

If what certain aldermen said at the council meeting is true, and if what they said among themselves after the meeting is warranted, then the London Street Railway Company does not want to build the Edward street belt in South London, and the company's solicitor, Mr. C. H. Ivey, is deliberately raising objections on mere technicalities for the purpose of knocking out the proposed line. At the meeting last night a snag was struck, which put all chance of passing the bylaw out of the running for the present.

A bylaw had been prepared by the city solicitor, and as City Clerk Baker read it, it was evident to the unobserving layman that it gave the company no loophole to get out of what the city wants the company to do. After the first reading a proposal to allow the company to use "T" rails on the new line was knocked out, the council preferring to wait for the completion of the belt rather than have the cars run a few months earlier on "T" rails.

The Wrecker.

Then the rock upon which the city and the company split was struck. Mr. Ivey, who was present, with Engineer Ross, in the interests of the company, pointed out that before the bylaw was read a second time he had some objections to its wording, which he would like to lay before the council. Then he read a clause which says that in case the company does not build the Edward street line, the company will forfeit all its rights in London, granted them under the original bylaw, 916, and succeeding bylaws. Mr. Ivey refused absolutely to agree to bind the company in this manner, and the city just as absolutely refused to remove the clause.

The deadlock continued for the better part of two hours, and then it was decided to have a committee wait upon the city solicitor today, and ask his opinion as to what should be done, the council to meet again tonight to attempt to deal with the matter.

In a nutshell, the difference between the city and the company lies in the fact that the city wants a penalty imposed on the company if the Edward street line is not built, whereas the company refuses to agree to anything further than the forfeiture of the right to build the extension, which in reality is no penalty at all.

Class of Rail.

After the bylaw had been read a first time, Ald. Cooper drew attention to the fact that the bylaw does not mention the class of rail to be used, but Acting Mayor Stevely pointed out that the original bylaw, which gave the company a charter, covered the question of the class of rail to be used, unless the city decided to make a change.

Mr. Ivey then stated bluntly that if the city did not agree to a "T" rail, the company could not bind itself to have the line in operation before Dec. 1, 1906. If a "T" rail is accepted, then the company would have the cars running by July 1, 1906.

"But if the bylaw is not satisfactory to us," he concluded, "we will fall back upon the Wortley road stub.

Engineer Ross, of the comany, said the "T" rail is as good as a groove rail, but he did not feel like asking the city to take his word for it. If the city wanted a groove rail, and is willing to wait for it, well and good.

Ald. Matthews wanted to know why the comany had not brought up the matter of the use of the "T" rail before.

"When your company was negotiating with the people you knew you could not get the groove rail," he said.

Mr. Ivey said Mr. Smallman did not know that it was impossible to get groove rails when he met the people of South London. It was not until Engineer Ross reached London that the shortage in rails was known by the company.

Mr. Ross pointed out that the tread of a wagon would be within the rails, that is, the tires would run inside the rails instead of in the grooves, as is now the case on groove rails.

Mr. Ivey declared that all of the recent negotiations for the building of the line by July next were conducted on the ground that a "T" rail would be used.

Acting Mayor Stevely read a letter from the company to show that a few weeks ago nothing was said of a "T" rail.

Danger Pointed Out.

Tr Ald. Saunders, Mr. Ross admitted that the wheels of a wagon would be very liable to get wedged in the grooves alongside the rails, which would be sure to be worn in a short time after the rails were laid. The width between the "T" rails would be 4 feet 8½ inches.

Ald. Wyatt declared he believed the "T" rail to be satisfactory.

Ald. Gerry said it would be better to wait for the line until next fall, than to put down a "T" rail, which might result in suits for damages against the city from owners of vehicles, and which Mr. Ross admits would have to be taken up if a permanent pavement should be laid on the streets.

Ex-Ald. Judd, speaking for the people of South London, said the people do not care what class of rail is laid, but they do want the new line as soon as they can get it. They want the line by June next if they can get it. If the company is permitted to use the "T" rail it may be that the company will lay the line and have it in operation by Dec. 1 of this year.

Ald. Matthews drew attention to the fact that a year ago the company proposed to lay a "T" rail on the Wortley road and Hamilton road extensions, but the city chose a groove rail. He would favor the groove rail, and extend the time to Aug. 1, 1906.

"I" Rail Killed.

Ald. Greenlees then moved that the company be allowed to use a "T" rail, on condition that the line be built as soon as possible. Ald. Forristal seconded.

Ald. Gillean moved in amendment that the groove rail be used. He declared a month or so in securing the line made no difference to the people.

Acting Mayor Stevely pointed out that if the "T" rail is agreed to, the bylaw could only be read a second time, as it would have to go back to the city solicitor.

Ald. Garratt wanted an amendment made to the effect that if at any time a permanent pavement is laid, the "T" rails will be replaced with groove rails, but Mr. Ivey objected.

"Supposing fifteen years from now a pavement is laid on any of those streets, is it likely that with our franchise only five years to run we will replace the rails? Would it be fair to ask us to do so?" he asked.

The motion to allow the company to use a "T" rail was then defeated on the following vote:

Yeas—Ald. Cooper, Greenlees, Wyatt and Forristal—4.

Nays — Ald. Carson, Matthews, Abram, Saunders, Gillean, Gerry and Garratt—7.

The Sticking Point.

Before the third reading of the bylaw was proceeded with, Mr. Ivey stated that he wished to take exception to certain clauses in the new bylaw.

"Perhaps we won't take notice of your objections," Ald. Greenlees said.

"If you don't then we may as well stop right here. You are only taking said. The solicitor then objected to the clause which stated that if the Edward street belt line is not completed and the company did not carry out its agreement, the company would forfeit all its rights contained in bylaw 916.

"In justice to our bondholders we cannot and will not agree to this," he continued. "We have never agreed to such a thing in the past in any bylaw which was passed to amend bylaw 916."

"What penalty are you under if this clause is struck out, and you do not build the line?" Ald. Greenlees asked.

"Well, you could get some other company to build it, and take it out of our hands," Mr. Ivey said.

"That's no penalty at all," Ald. Greenlees said.

City Solicitor Right.

Ex-Ald. Judd said that Mr. Meredith knew what he was doing when he inserted the clause. The reason for it is that the company is not compelled by a show of increased population to build the road, and Mr. Meredith inserted the clause to protect the people."

"You can issue a mandamus and compel the company to build the line. You always have the law to resort to," Mr. Ivey said.

"We know how much good that will do us," said Ald. Matthews.

"This objection of the company shows that the street railway does not want to build the Edward street line, and it is an evidence of insincerity on the part of the company," Ald. Greenlees said.

"It is nothing of the sort," Mr. Ivey retorted. "We are willing to build the line, but we will not accept any bylaw which contains a clause which cripples bylaw 916. And I tell you, gentlemen, that I have advised the company not to accept the clause, and the company will accept my advice. If bylaw No. 2,424, under which the South street belt was built, was good enough for the city in 1904, why is not the same sort of bylaw good enough now? If you had no hold on us in the past it is not likely you are going to suffer now."

Right to the Point.

Ex-Ald. Judd once again explained that the circumstances under which the Edward street line is being built are altogether different to those under which the South street belt and the Hamilton road line were built. Those lines were [illegible] by the city, as the city was entitled to them, by virtue of its increase in population, admitted by the company, but the city is not entitled to the Edward street line in the same way. Bylaw 916, section 21, protected the city in the case of South street, the Hamilton road and the Wortley road. But it does not protect the city now, and for this reason Mr. Meredith inserted the clause to which Mr. Ivey objects.

"I have always found that it is better to have things in black and white when dealing with the company," Mr. Judd said, "and I would rather see the bylaw go by the board than have Mr. Meredith's clause struck out. If it is struck out, if the company does not build the line, the city can only whistle."

"I tell you this, we are not going to agree to forfeit our entire system, where we have $1,000,000 invested, simply because we fail to build the Edward street line," Mr. Ivey said.

"Then what you want is this," said Mr. Judd: "If you fail to build the Edward street line, the penalty is that you forfeit the right to build it." (Laughter.)

Ald. Forristal then moved that a committee composed of Acting Mayor Stevely, Matthews and Greenlees be named to interview Mr. Meredith with a view to having the tangle straightened out, and that the council adjourn until tonight.

The motion was adopted.
